Looking Demonstration Today

Ladies Of Area Invited To Attend Looking Event

Afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Mary Alice Crosson, home secretary of the West Texas Gas Company, will open the O'Donnell looking demonstration at the building east of the Cicero Lumber Yard.

Women who can attend are invited to be present for the special demonstration. Everything is free, no person will be asked to buy anything.

Mrs. Crosson, one of the real home directors of the Southwest, plans to demonstrate many new things and hints. No one can get better than she that O'Donnell is blessed with good cooks, but all women like to swap recipes and find new ways of fixing meals and dishes.

The demonstration is sponsored by the Press, but made possible through the co-operation of the Texas Gas Company and several O'Donnell's merchants — especially in the grocery line. Cicero Lumber Company and the Orin Crush Bottling Company of Waco will also have displays. Walter Teeter, owner of O'Donnell's ownery, is also co-operating.

The demonstration is not a money raising scheme, ladies, so come and among those meeting with Miss Crosson this afternoon.

SMITH KICKED BY HORSE
Ed Smith, farmer living in the quiet community, was seriously injured Tuesday morning when he was kicked in the face by a horse.

Mrs. D. J. Bolch, Mr. and Mrs. J. Phipps attended the funeral of Walter Bolch's brother, Walter Hagard, at Fort Worth Saturday.

Bill Autry To Leave Saturday For Army

W. M. (Bill) Autry, popular watch repairer at Whittett's Drug, will leave Saturday to enter the armed services. He will be placed in a special service branch.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Autry of Redwine, and is about a fourth cousin to the Western movie star, Gene Autry.

Four Bowlers To Team Is New Plan

The O'Donnell Bowling League was revamped Tuesday night and only four players placed on each team due to exodus of players to the armed services.

The teams as revamped find the following players on the teams: Cicero Smith — Caldwell, Applewhite, Wimberley, Teeter; Corner Drug — Hunt, Williams, Allen, Schooler; All Stars — Hancock, Brock, Howard, Cook; Whittett — Bubany, Brewer, Smith, Forgy.

Cicero Smith and Whittett will tangle tonight for the first go-round, while the other two teams will meet Monday night.

Ladies desiring to bowl are to be given a break by C. N. Hoffman, lanes manager, by the permission to play on Tuesday afternoons for only ten cents per line.

TAHOCA GROCERY STORES TO CLOSE AT 8 P. M.

TAHOCA, Feb. 26—Grocerymen of Tahoka have agreed to close their stores at 8 p. m. on each day except Saturday when an 11 p. m. closing will be observed.

The move was made in order to cut down unnecessary expenses in line as urged by the Government's war leaders.

Other business places are already closing early.

25 Per Cent Fire Rating For City

An approximate saving of $2,895 and a 25 per cent credit rating was the fire rating just given O'Donnell for 1941 by Marvin Hall, state fire insurance commissioner.

The rating was complimented by Hall, and praise given the carefulness of O'Donnell's citizens and work of the local fire department.

O'Donnell's rating was among the highest in the state for towns of a similar size.

Ex-Service Men's Meeting Called

A meeting of all ex-service men at the Legion building on Thursday night, March 5, at 8 o'clock, has been called by Cliff Lambert, local legion commander.

All ex-service men are urged to attend this meeting, which will deal with the nation's defense work.

NAZARENE MISSIONARY

The Nazarene Missionary Society met this week with Mrs. J. A. Flemmings.

Members spent the day in quilting a quilt. Mrs. Vandiner gave the devotional. Mrs. M. E. Herman gave the closing prayer.

Eight members and two visitors were present. The next meeting will be March 9th at the Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Noble Sr. of near Tahoka visited here in the home of their son Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Smith and children left this week for Waco after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Con Burns.

PROCLAMATION Designating March 1 Through March 6 As Texas Week

WHEREAS, the approach of Texas Independence Day and Alamo Day herald a week of deep significance and profound meaning in the minds and hearts of all Texans; and

WHEREAS, I am prompted by the patriotic members of the Forty-second Legislature, as expressed in Senate Concurrent Resolution Number Eight, and by my own feelings of love, loyalty, and patriotism toward my State;

NOW THEREFORE, I Stansell L. Jones, Mayor of the City of O'Donnell, Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of March 1 through March 6, 1942, as

TEXAS WEEK

I urge all citizens of this municipality and of Texas to observe Texas Week in an appropriate manner. No one of us will fail to cherish the rich heritage which our founders and forefathers prepared for us of this generation.

During this week let us make much of the spiritual values of our history and of our traditions. Let us dedicate our lives afresh to ideals of statesmanship, character, leadership, and service. Let us make it possible, as did our forebears, for our own and for future generations to enjoy liberty of conscience, of speech, of the press, of worship, of public assembly, and all the other liberties which we cherish.

In this critical hour when democracy, even civilization itself, is at stake, it is more than ever fitting to commemorate the glorious deeds of those who laid the cornerstone of the Texas Empire. Let us prove ourselves not unworthy of the incomparable heritage left us by the pioneers and martyrs.

What they fought for in the past we are determined to hold. Remember Goliath, Remember the Alamo, REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of my Office to be impressed hereon at O'Donnell, Texas, this 26th day of February, A. D., 1942.

Stansell L. Jones, Mayor of O'Donnell, Texas.

'Plant For Victory' Week March 1-7

Four Enlist In Armed Forces

James Preston Davis, son of P. A. Davis of O'Donnell, and Dorothea Reyes Rodriguez, a Mexican, filled the call for two men from Lynn County Wednesday to go into training in Uncle Sam's Army.

There were five registration places in the county, and the figures for the five places are given as follows: Tahoka, 354; O'Donnell, 212; New Home, 101; Wilson, 86 and Draw, 45.

It has been announced from Washington that the drawing will be held on March 17 to determine the order in which undrafted registrants will be inducted into the service.

County League Meet Dates Set

TAHOCA, February 26 (Special)—The Lynn County Interscholastic League meet will be held March 27-28. Mr. Hope Haynes stated that although other schools of Lynn County were not participating in the county meet this year, Tahoka would carry on as before.

O'Donnell, Wilson and New Home will not take part in literary events but they will in some athletic events. Supt. W. T. Hanes, in a speech to the student body said, "This year of all years the students should take advantage of all opportunities which our school offers."

News Briefs

OF NEWS YOU ALREADY KNEW
Jimmy Lee Shook, son of Jeff Shook, who recently enlisted in the army, has been transferred to Camp Berkeley in Texas.

Dean Schooler, a bowler who bowled them over in O'Donnell, and who has been working in California for several months, was entered in an 80-man bowling tournament recently—and came out next to the high man.

Jess Merrick, a very likeable farmer in the OK community, has keen eyes and is a keen fisherman. He recently pointed out some very interesting facts about the Boy Scout magazine to Naymon Everett, local scoutmaster, who said it was a magazine for boys and NEVER had pictures of girls in it.

Mrs. Charles Hoffman and Helen Jean and Mrs. William G. Forgy and Cynthia visited in Lamesa Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Phillips of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Bedford Caldwell and Philip Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hafer visited in Midland Sunday. Mrs. I. W. Pratt accompanied them home for a short visit.

The week of March 1-7 has been designated by the Texas U. S. D. A. War Board as "Plant for Victory Week" in Texas, reports John C. Key, Chairman of the Lynn County U. S. D. A. War Board. All counties are expected to have some kind of celebration designed to tell the story of agriculture's war effort and to re-emphasize the importance of achieving all Food - for - Freedom goals.

The Lynn County U. S. D. A. War Board will meet Thursday, February 26, to lay plans for the celebration in Lynn County, and as soon as the plans are made the public will be informed, Key said.

Arrangements have been made for a nation-wide radio broadcast to the farmers of the nation by President Roosevelt and Secretary of Agriculture Monday night, March 9, as the grand finale of "Plant for Victory Week," Key informed.

Farmers of America were called upon in November of last year to make pledges on their farms toward meeting the Food - for - Freedom Program. Now these goals have been raised and the American farmer must not only meet the pledge already made, but he must exceed these pledges in order to produce the required food and feed for victory, Key said.

ILL AT VERMILLION HOME

Mrs. J. A. Heath of Midland has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vermillion, both of her young daughters have had measles, and Barbara Harris has also been ill with them and bronchial trouble.

TO CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Gene Gardenhire left recently for California to join Mr. Gardenhire who is employed out there.

Little Miss Carol Ann Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thompson, is ill with measles this week.

Dr. Kent Speaks Here — Urges All To Buy More Bonds

Pulling no punches, Dr. Harry L. Kent of Texas Tech spoke to a half auditorium full of men, women, boys and girls Tuesday night in behalf of the "stay-at-homes" part in the war effort.

Dr. Kent was introduced by the Rev. H. H. Hollowell, Methodist pastor, who also spoke briefly on the part each member of a family can play in order to insure victory. And it had better be victory, if our type of civilization is to endure, so said the minister.

While pointing out the sacrifices confronting the American people, Dr. Kent also pointed out that the "stay-at-homes" owe to their own kin, their neighboring boys, the existence of their country to loan the Government as much money as they could, and do it through the purchase of Defense Bonds, in order that the youngsters having to fight will have something to fight with. Mass murder was committed by the American people in 1917-18 when U. S. soldiers had to fight, in many cases, with scant equipment.

Dr. Kent urged those that can — buy and buy regularly.

"I say to you that you may smile over the purchase of a few stamps by a lad, but that lad is more patriotic and is more deserving to be called a citizen than many who have money to buy bonds and won't just because they 'won't get enough interest out of their money. They are slackers and know it themselves."

Figures just released for towns of the county show Tahoka has purchased approximately $150,000 worth of bonds, Wilson over $50,000, and O'Donnell around $10,000.

Deen Nowlin, county chairman, also spoke and said America was in for a terrible war — a war in which this country could be beaten unless everyone does his part better.

Mrs. Roy W. Gibson has returned from Santa Anna.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Java Calls for Increased Aid From Australia as Japs Intensify Attack; First War Deaths on American Soil Caused by 'Dud' Torpedo at Aruba

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

JAVA:

Goal of Japs

The fall of Singapore represented the winning of a major victory for the Japanese, but tactically it was considered the moving of the western end of a Jap pincer movement directed not so much at India as at Java.

For the entire capture of the East Indies, and with it the enormous oil production vitally needed by Japan had, perforce, to be regarded as the major objective, with Java at its center.

This had been proved by the events that had followed the triumphal entry of the Malayan army into Singapore.

Intensified Japanese attacks had started on Bali and islands to the east of Java, as well as stronger movements to increase the Japanese hold on Sumatra, the invaders fanning out from Palembang, Sumatra's largest city.

Java's population of 40,000,000 had been told "the enemy is at our gates," and to prepare its defense "to the last ditch." At the same time Java called for increased aid from Australia, but it was not immediately apparent what Australia could or would do, embattled as it was in a belated effort to straighten out its own defenses.

Some commentators figured the Japanese occupation of Java, and with it control of all the Dutch East Indies as "a matter of days," while others thought it might be a long battle, and that substantial defense of the remainder of the East Indies was quite possible.

However that might be, Allied ranks would give a good deal to know which way the Nipponese cat was planning to jump if, as and when the East Indies had fallen to the enemy.

Was it going to be an all-out offensive against India or were the Japs, conscious that an eventually winning Allied naval, air and land attack could be launched against them from Australia, to turn their forces toward Cape York?

Movements of U. S. ships and troops seemed to indicate that this country viewed the latter possibility as a probability, and that as a base for our future operations, Australia and New Zealand seemed to offer the best chance for a supply life-line.

VIERECK:

Contemptuous Spy

As the Viereck trial had opened in Washington, the Nazi agent being tried for withholding information of his activities from the state department, he was painted as a "contemptuous spy" by William Power Maloney, prosecutor.

Maloney said Viereck had used the Congressional Record to propagandize the United States "according to orders from his Teutonic overlords" and stated that many long excerpts in the Record from the speeches of the late Senator Lundeen.

Testimony brought out that typical titles of books published by Flanders Hall in New Jersey (financed by Viereck) were "Lord Lothian Against Lord Lothian," "Seven Periods in Irish History" and "It Happened Again," all allegedly German propaganda.

"The 100 Families Who Rule the Empire," sensational book much used in propaganda, was published with funds from Munich, Maloney said the government would prove.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

London: Britain's revised war cabinet, reduced from nine to seven members, is a partial concession to popular demand. Sir Stafford Cripps, former ambassador to Moscow, was given a high place. He is lord privy seal and Churchill's deputy as leader of the house of commons.

Washington: Secretary Ickes said he was going to try a voluntary curtailment of the use of gasoline.

ARUBA:

History Made

The first war deaths on American soil occurred at the Dutch island of Aruba shortly after American troops had arrived there to take over its defenses.

Two days after the arrival of these troops had been announced, German submarines attacked the harbor, sank or damaged seven tankers with a loss of 59 seamen, and then shelled the big Standard Oil refinery on shore.

American planes took the air, spotted the subs and reported afterward that they had reason to believe at least one of them was sent to the bottom.

Two days later, after the damage had been checked up and gone over, a dud torpedo, 18 feet long, was found on the harbor sands.

Immediately identified as a German torpedo, four Dutch officers were assigned to the delicate task of taking it apart.

In the midst of their work it exploded, killing them all. They were the first casualties on land in the American hemisphere.

In the meantime the torpedoings in the Atlantic were continuing heavy, including the first sinking of a Brazilian ship in the present war.

This was the liner Buarque, a combination freight and passenger ship, sent to the bottom off the coast of Virginia. The sinking was not immediately announced in Brazil, as it was the annual carnival time, and the government was afraid that serious rioting against Axis nationals might occur. The ship carried 74 in the crew and 11 passengers. Two were lost, 83 saved.

RESULTS:

In Marshall Islands

When an assault force of U. S. cruisers, destroyers and aircraft carriers, commanded by Vice Admiral William F. Halsey, attacked

Vice Admiral William F. Halsey, commander of the U. S. naval force that carried out the brilliant raid on Japanese bases, as he looks over the charts on which he plotted the action against the Japs.

Japanese bases in the Gilbert and Marshall islands they caused substantial losses to the enemy: 38 airplanes, one converted aircraft carrier, one light cruiser, one destroyer, two submarines, two naval auxiliaries and three fleet oil tankers. Damaged "and perhaps destroyed" by U. S. attackers were three submarines, four auxiliary vessels and an old cruiser.

OIL:

Both Sides Lose

The destruction of oil installations in the East Indies, which had been carried out well by the Dutch as each more or less important spot fell to the Japs, had been terrific at Palembang, where the entire countryside was covered with a pall of smoke from the refineries were blown up and wells blasted.

Yet it was a two-edged sword, the Dutch admitting that in about six months, with good fortune, the Japs could manage to repair much of the damage and begin to resupply themselves with oil.

And in the meantime the oil was lost to the Allied fleets, which had been fueling from the Dutch supplies.

And as oil was the principal vital necessity for which the Japs originally had started the war, and as a supply of it would conceivably permit them to continue fighting indefinitely, or at least until a major defeat by the Allied forces, the extent of the disaster in the Indies might be seen.

Honolulu: The U. S. destroyer Shaw, reported destroyed by Japs at Pearl Harbor, was sufficiently repaired in two months to make the journey to a West Coast shipyard under her own power, and was being reconditioned there. Washington: Sale of light airplanes had been restricted by WPB only to the army, navy and a few other specified purchasers.

It's Not Such a Long Way to Tipperary Now

An historical occasion—the vanguard of the great American Expeditionary force promised to Britain by President Roosevelt, lands at a North Ireland port. At left is a general view as first troops land. Right: Men of the first A.E.F. of World War II march through the streets of the unidentified Ulster city at which they landed, after safe voyage across the Atlantic. Inset: The duke of Abercorn, governor of Northern Ireland raises his hand in salute as A.E.F. soldiers disembark.

It Blows Hot and Cold for Hitler's Hordes

South African troops of the British imperial forces make a close examination (left) of a huge German Mark 4 tank captured on the desert. Of especial interest is the huge short-barreled cannon mounted in the side of the tank. By way of contrast, picture at right gives some idea of the intense cold of the Russian-German battlefield. Red army machine gunners were photographed in the firing line as they slowly pressed the German hordes back.

Scanning Western Sky for Hostile Wings

For the first time since the days of the Civil War, the Pacific coast, the only part of the continental United States so designated, has become a theater of war. Throughout this district the armed forces are on a constant alert. Above photo, showing 155-mm. gun, illustrates the activity.

Forced Landing

Two marine fliers escaped injury when this low-wing monoplane buried its nose in the recreational area of Fairlawn park, Anacostia, Washington, D. C. The aviators were Maj. R. D. Salmon and Staff Sergt. Andrew Marshall.

Preparing for Second Attack on Hawaii

This approved picture shows U. S. army tanks maneuvering over the rough terrain of the Hawaiian islands, as troops in occupation prepare for future eventualities. A hot reception is assured for all comers—if and when.

Masking the Bushman

This photo, made in Australian territory, shows a native being introduced to that blessing of modern civilization, the gas mask. The rior seemed quite pleased with it.

Notes of an Innocent Bystander:

The Front Pages: Walter Ken sends good word from Moscow. The Reich is rushing its reserves to the front and won't have enough men and equipment to launch the spring drive the Fuehrer promised his liege ditty countrymen . . . Midget Goebbels confessed he's running out of tricks to bamboozle the Huns at home. He claims the Times' slogan, "All the News That's Fit to Print," is the U. S. order to muzzle the press. That's clumsy propaganda. It tells the Heinies nothing and it tells us plenty . . . All kinds of books and essays have been written on how to click as a newspaper man. But we think Mark Twain summed it up best when he urged newsmen to "gratify some and astound the rest."

Measles Epidemic State-Wide

JUSTIN, Feb. 25 — Measles in this area has reached a mild epidemic at present, with outbreaks following closely the main lines of travel across the State, according to information made public today by Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The peculiar pattern of this epidemic of measles re-emphasizes the fact that it is a contagious disease, spread from one person to another," Dr. Cox said. "Guard against measles by avoiding contact with measles patients."

Dr. Cox said that measles alone is not necessarily a dangerous disease, but dangerous complications, such as streptococcus, mastoiditis, pneumonia which frequently follow, make it a disease to be carefully nursed, with close attention given to a doctor.

Unskilled treatment of a plain case of measles can result in complications which often kill," Dr. Cox said, "and it is not to be regarded as simply another childhood disease."

Dr. Cox urged parents to carefully watch children exposed, and at the first sign of temperature, flushed face, sniffles, or watering eyes, advised that the child be put to bed immediately and placed under a doctor's care.

Singers Of Area Meet In O'Donnell

A district singing convention will be held in the First Baptist Church in O'Donnell next Sunday afternoon beginning at 3:00 o'clock, new time, according to announcement made by C. H. Mansell of that city.

Among the good singers expected to be present, is Odie Echols of the Echols Melody Boys, who sing over KFYO, Lubbock, each Sunday morning at 8:00 o'clock.

The people of Lynn County are extended a cordial invitation to be present, and especially are good singers urged to come.

Notice To Baptist Church Women

All women of the Baptist Church are urged to attend the all day meeting Monday, March 2nd, at the home of Mrs. J. T. Middleton Sr.

This will constitute the week of prayer program.

The meeting will open at 10 a. m. and a covered dish luncheon will be served at the noon hour.

FROM HOBBS

Guests in the C. J. Beach home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rodgers and sons, Tommie, Jimmie and Billie Wayne of Hobbs.

Revival In Progress At Assembly Of God

An old time religion revival began Sunday night at the Assembly of God, three blocks east of the bank in O'Donnell, according to Mrs. Clara Newton, pastor of the church. Rev. H. Paul Holdridge, district secretary-treasurer of the West Texas District Council of the Assemblies of God and pastor at Plainview, Texas, is the evangelist. He is being assisted by Rev. and Mrs. Randall Ball of Olton, Texas, special singers and musicians. Rev. Ball is also a licensed minister, and will be bringing a special message to the young people Saturday night.

Special singing, choir singing and music will be featured during this career of the service. Older men may plan on retirement at corresponding older ages, the recruiting officer in charge of the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station at Lubbock announced.

Enlistments in the Regular Navy are for service until 21st birthdate of those between 17 and 18 years of age. Those who have passed their 18th birthdate are enlisted to serve for a period of six years. Age limits for first enlistments in the Regular Navy are from 17 to 31 years. Parents' consent is required for those under 21 years of age.

Men who desire to serve in the naval service only during the period of war may still enlist in the Naval Reserve and will be released to inactive duty and returned to their homes as soon as their services can be spared. Age limits for enlistment in the Naval Reserve are from 17 to 50 years.

revival. The plain truths of the word of God will be brought out each evening in the gospel messages. Emphasis will be placed on the essentiality of a born again experience, the need of power from God to stand in the face of present day evils and holy living.

Services will begin promptly at 8:15 (Central War Time) nightly. Rev. Holdridge will be speaking Sunday night on "Blackouts in America." The "little church with a big welcome" cordially invites the entire public to attend this "old fashioned revival."

FROM TEXICO

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jarrell, of Texico, returned to their home Sunday after a short visit with Mrs. Harvey Line and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Wyatt of Tahoka joined the Jarrells and Lines at a family dinner in the B. B. Street home Sunday.

Mrs. Max Harris has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Allen, in Canyon.

SHE LOVED A SPY

by SYLVIA TAYLOR

THE STORY SO FAR: Joan Leland, secretary to importer Arthur Mulford, is discharged by him and refused any explanation. She takes a similar post with handsome Karl Miller, proprietor of a night club who pays her generously for unusual late hours of work. He gets her sister Sybil a new job and Joan falls in love with him. His club manager, Paul Sherman, warns her about Karl, but refuses to give any reason, and later rescues her from the unwanted love-making of Eric Strom, Karl's business partner. Sybil suspects Karl's motives but Joan defends him. They board a freighter-ship, apparently as a lark, and as they leave, Joan notices that Paul Sherman had followed them. She remains silent about this. Later Karl sends Joan with a package to the freighter captain. Paul follows, again warns her. One night before Christmas Eric arrives suddenly and Karl asks Joan to leave the office.

But it was Eric Strom who lay upon the floor. There was a gun beside his hand.

CHAPTER VIII

The club was crowded with a gay holiday group. Joan went into the bar and took her place on a tall stool.

"Something to drink, Miss Leland?" one of the attendants asked. "No, thank you," Joan said. "I'm waiting for Mr. Miller." She looked at her watch. Exactly ten o'clock. She hoped Karl would not be long. She was jealous of each moment he spent with anyone else.

She was so deep in her own thoughts that she did not hear Paul Sherman until he spoke a second time.

"Fancy finding you here," he was saying as he caught her attention. "I'm waiting for Karl."

Paul smiled ruefully, "I might have known it."

"Are we going through this again?" Joan asked. "It's Christmas time, Paul. I'm happy and I don't want to quarrel with anyone."

Paul's brown eyes twinkled. "Even me?" she said firmly. "Let's call a truce, shall we?"

"It's a deal. And to prove it, how about a dance with me?" She hesitated, but Paul pulled her to her feet.

"I won't take no for an answer. Even Karl can't begrudge me one dance."

Paul was an excellent dancer and Joan was relieved that he seemed resigned to the situation. She really wanted to be friends with everyone, to share her happiness with the whole world.

There was pity in Paul Sherman's brown eyes but Joan did not see it. As light as a feather, she danced in his arms. Over her head Paul's serious face belied his gay attempt at bantering conversation.

"You have the cutest turned-up nose," he informed her. "But it doesn't suit the rest of you."

"That's a dubious compliment," Joan smiled.

"Your nose gives you away for just what you are, a cute kid! Paul laughed and so did she. Cute kid! Karl called her beautiful, glamorous, exciting—Paul Sherman thought she was just a cute kid. It proved how much more sophisticated Karl was. Yet if she had never met Karl she would have been fond of Paul. He was young, good-looking and intelligent. Karl, however, had so much more to offer. He had lived. He was experienced. There was a mystery about him that set him apart from all others. There was even a subtle fascination about his guttural accent. Karl represented power and strength. Karl . . .

"I'm still here," Paul reminded her, breaking into her dream.

"Sorry," Joan admitted. "I'd almost forgotten."

The orchestra fled out for an intermission.

"I think I'll go back to the office," Joan said. "Karl said he'd send for me in ten minutes and it's been much longer than that. Eric Strom is there."

"Eric Strom!"

"That's right. And Karl didn't seem too pleased about it."

"I wouldn't advise you to go back then," Paul said, frowning. "I'm worried," she confessed, "about Karl."

"Karl can take care of himself," Paul said, lighting a cigarette.

But Joan felt a sudden inner compulsion. "I'm going anyway," she told Paul. He made a step as if to detain her, then apparently reversing his decision, walked to the bar.

Joan hurried down the long corridor exactly as she had done so many times before. But fast hastened her footsteps, fear for Karl. She did not trust Eric Strom. She had been alarmed by his expression.

"If anything happens to Karl . . . she thought.

As she reached the door she heard the two men arguing violently. Then there was a shot followed by a crash.

"Karl!" Joan screamed, flinging open the door.

But it was Eric Strom who lay upon the floor. There was a gun beside his hand.

Her eyes sought Karl's fearfully. "He killed himself?" she faltered.

Karl shut the door. "Pick up that gun!" he commanded.

Shuddering, Joan obeyed, placing it upon the desk.

"Karl!" She ran to him, seizing his arm, staring into his face, which had no glint of emotion in it. "Darling, you didn't kill him?"

Her green eyes were pleading from a chalk-white face. "Karl! Karl! Answer me! You didn't . . . You couldn't . . . Why that would be . . . Murder!"

Karl Miller smiled grimly as he took a cigarette from the silver box on his desk. "Some people might call it that," he said without a trace of excitement.

Joan leaned weakly against the desk. She was beyond fear, beyond tears. There was a terrible silence in the office, a heavy dreadful silence. A silence intensified by Karl Miller's face, narrowed eyes, hard mouth. A silence made more tense by the stillness of Eric Strom's body upon the floor. Joan's mind slowly tried to put together the pieces of this horrible picture. Karl had shot Eric—killed him. Beyond that she knew nothing.

Her hand reached for the telephone. "I'm going to call the police!"

Karl seized her arm with a violence that almost jerked it from its socket. "You will do nothing of the kind!"

She stared at him. Was this the Karl Miller she knew? Was this hard-faced man the one who had held her tenderly and murmured "liebchen"?

Someone was pounding at the office door. Karl had locked it. Paul Sherman's voice came distinctly through the opaque glass panel. "Joan! What's going on in there? Let me in!"

Karl walked to the door and opened it. "There has been an unfortunate accident," he said calmly. Paul's expression did not change. "What happened?"

Karl Miller smiled a little as he regarded his white-faced manager. "Joan was perfectly justified. Eric has tried to annoy her before. You can testify to that yourself."

"Just what are you driving at?" Paul demanded.

Joan tried to speak but her lips would not move. What was Karl saying? What did he mean?

"Joan shot Eric," Karl Miller stated.

His words were like an electric shock. "I didn't! Karl, you know I didn't! You did it yourself! You shot him!"

She ran to Paul and clutched his arm. "Paul, you believe me, don't you?"

Paul Sherman did not answer. He did not even look at her.

"Your fingerprints are on the gun," Karl said.

"But you told me to pick it up." She could not believe her ears. Karl, the man she loved and trusted, had turned against her, accusing her of a murder he had committed. It was like some fantastic nightmare.

"I have no wish to turn you over to the police, Joan. We will forget about this little matter. No one need know what has happened."

Rage blazed in her green eyes. "But I haven't done anything. I'm not afraid to go to the police! And I'm going to tell them the whole story."

She was not speaking to the Karl Miller she had loved. This man was a stranger.

"You will not go to the police!" His voice cut like a whip.

Paul Sherman stared straight ahead of him, seeming to see or hear nothing.

"I will!" Joan cried hysterically, turning towards the door.

Karl's powerful arm stopped her and forced her roughly into a chair. "There are two reasons why you will not. The first—if you do I will testify that you shot Eric, and Paul will back me up."

Her pleading eyes turned to Paul. He would not fail her.

But he said coolly, "I'm afraid that's right."

"But you can't! It isn't true! Karl, why are you doing this? Paul! Help me! I don't understand."

"Eric," Karl went on, "tried to double-cross me. You may observe for yourself what has happened to him. That is the second reason that you will do nothing."

Joan clutched the arms of her chair for support. She compressed her lips in a desperate attempt to control her emotions.

Karl Miller advanced towards her. "And if you double-cross me, you know what to expect. Now do you understand?"

"You wouldn't dare!" Joan said but the sightless eyes of Eric Strom refuted the statement.

She covered her face with her hands and wept.

It couldn't be true. That wasn't Karl, her Karl! He must be driven by desperation to turn against her. It was some horrible mistake. In a moment it would be over. He would explain everything and hold her in his arms again.

But Karl was saying, "You know nothing! You will tell no one what has occurred here tonight. We will go on as if nothing has happened."

She wanted to laugh wildly, hysterically. "Go on as if nothing had happened?"

Karl wrapped the pistol in a handkerchief, put it in the safe, then motioned to Paul. "Give me a hand." Together they carried the lifeless Eric Strom from the office. Joan could hear them descending the fire escape, outside the back of the building. What would they do with Eric? The noise from the orchestra must have prevented the sound of the shot from disturbing the Club guests.

Joan stared at the telephone. She was alone. It would be easy to call the police—but she was afraid. She was afraid of the look in Karl Miller's eyes. There had been ruthless determination in those eyes. And in the safe lay the gun that had killed Eric. A gun bearing her fingerprints. Paul had said he would testify in support of Karl. What chance would Joan Leland have? The evidence was conclusively against her. What was behind this murder? Why Karl's attitude, Paul's sudden change of front?

She had no idea how long it was before Karl returned. He was alone.

"Let us understand each other," he said, sitting down at his desk. "It would be most unfortunate if I were to become involved with the police. I am not an American citizen."

"You are a German?" Joan asked dully.

"Naturally, as is everyone else associated with me here at the club."

"Paul, too?"

"Of course, Paul, too," Karl Miller smiled as he leaned towards her. "You see we are engaged in certain activities which are necessarily very private."

Then at last Joan knew the truth. This was a spy ring. It must be. That explained everything—those mysterious letters to Mexico, Karl's reticence. The Club Elite was only a blind. But why was Karl telling her this?"

"I trust you now," Karl said with a wry smile. "You are in much too deep to get out. Not only would you be held for murder, but you are implicated just as much as the rest of us. You recall the portfolio you delivered to the freighter?"

She stared at him without answering.

"That envelope contained very valuable information. Information enough to convict you on many counts. You were seen delivering that envelope by several people. One of them happened to be Paul Sherman."

Little by little Joan Leland's confused brain began to see the picture. And she knew that what Karl said was true. She was in too deep to get out. But she must get out! She could not, would not continue to have anything to do with Karl Miller now that she knew the truth. A spy! So this was the mystery that she had once considered romantic and attractive! She looked at him now with loathing.

But Karl put a hand over hers. "Be sensible, Joan. You're hysterical at the moment but you'll be all right. You have nothing to worry about. I'm very fond of you. Is there any reason we should not go on?"

The girl leaped to her feet. "I hate you, Karl Miller! And no matter what you say, I'm not afraid of you!"

His hands were on her shoulders. "You don't mean that, liebchen!"

THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA—
HOW TO RESPECT AND DISPLAY IT

- 1—When flags of states or cities or pennants of societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States of America, the latter should always be at the peak. When flown from adjacent staffs the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last.
- 2—When displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, the Flag of the United States should be on the right (the flag's own right), and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.
- 3—When used on a speaker's platform, whether indoors or out, the flag should never be reduced to the role of a mere decoration by being tied into knots or draped over the stand. For this purpose bunting should be used. The flag, if displayed, should be either on a staff or secured to the wall or back curtain behind the speaker with the union to the flag's right.
- 4—When flags of two or more nations are displayed together they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags should be of approximately equal size.
- 5—When the flag is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is, to the observer's left.
- 6—Whenever a number of flags of states or cities or pennants of societies are to be arranged in a group and displayed from staffs with the flag of the United States the latter should be placed at the center of that group and on a staff slightly higher than any of the others.
- 7—When the flag is displayed in the body of the church, it should be from a staff placed in the position of honor at the congregation's right as they face the clergyman. The service flag, the state flag or other flag should be at the left of the congregation. If in the chancel or on the platform, the flag of the United States should be placed on the clergyman's right as he faces the congregation and the other flags at his left.
- 8—When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony or front of a building, the union of the flag should go to the peak of the staff (unless the flag is to be displayed at half-staff).
- 9—Whenever the flag of the United States is carried in a procession in company with other flags, it should occupy a position in front of the center of the line of flags or on the right of the marching line.

March 1-7 Is "Plant For Victory" Week

The week of March 1-7 has been designated by the Texas U. S. D. A. War Board as "Plant for Victory Week" in Texas, reports John C. Key, Chairman of the Lynn County U. S. D. A. War Board. All counties are expected to have some kind of celebration designed to tell the story of agriculture's war effort and to re-emphasize the importance of achieving all Food - for - Freedom goals.

The Lynn County U. S. D. A. War Board will meet Thursday, February 26, to lay plans for the celebration in Lynn County, and as soon as the plans are made the public will be informed, Key said.

Arrangements have been made for a nation-wide radio broadcast to the farmers of the nation by President Roosevelt and Secretary of Agriculture Monday night, March 9, as the grand finale of "Plant for Victory Week," Key informed.

Farmers of America were called upon in November of last year to make pledges on their farms toward meeting the Food - for - Freedom Program. Now these goals have been raised and the American farmer must not only meet the pledge already made, but he must exceed these pledges in order to produce the required food and feed for victory, Key said.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given Laxative-Senna in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna at your druggist today. Try one laxative combined with Syrup Pepsin for ease to your stomach, too.

Watch Your Kidneys!
Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your druggist.

'CONTRIBUTIONS'
I went one night to speak at a patriotic rally held in one of the large churches in Washington. Those present reiterated again their willingness to fight and die for the United States, and recounted the part that the colored people had played in the history of our country during every war.

I never like to have us remember only our contributions as military contributions, because there are so many things which people have given in times of peace which are just as important to the development of the country, even when these horrible days of war are upon us.

All of our racial groups have made a vast contribution to the development of the United States. Many of them have worked in our fields and have developed our agriculture. Without them the cotton fields of the South would never have been tilled and the wheat fields of the West would not have produced their abundance.

Our mines would not have been developed. Our factories would not have operated without the labor of the countless people who, once upon a time, came to these shores from Africa, Europe, the Near East and the Far East.

It is not only in these material ways that people have contributed to the development of this country. Think of what has been given by writers, painters, actors, dancers and musicians to the general culture of the nation. No country is fully civilized which can not appreciate its artists. They make a contribution not just to the entertainment side of life, but to the educational, economic and spiritual sides.

BAD NEWS
Everyone I met seemed depressed over the news from Singapore. We have been told that we must expect reverses at the start, and yet we want victory at once. The Axis nations prepared their people for many years, physically and mentally, for this struggle. They built up huge reserves of war materials.

They laid their plans well in advance. The people who did not want war, tried to plan for a peaceful world. They conditioned their people to peace. Those who foresaw, that, whether we wanted it or not, we might be attacked, had a hard time getting a hearing. No one wanted to spend money on things which might never be needed, and for that reason our preparation had, of necessity, to be slower.

We should remember now, however, that day by day the opposition in the Pacific and in the Atlantic, in Europe, Africa and Asia, is wearing itself out far more rapidly than we are. Some day, when we have reached the full power of our production, the day of victory for those who love peace, will come. Then we shall have to remember St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans: "Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord."

NAVAL HOSPITAL
You might be interested to hear a little about the boys in the Brooklyn Naval hospital. Nearly a whole ward was filled with boys from the Normandie, who had been overcome by smoke or burned. They all seemed to be recovering, but the experience must have been a very unpleasant one.

I also had an opportunity to talk for a little while with a boy who was very seriously injured on the destroyer Kearney. He is getting well and will be able to be about again, but his remark was that he wanted to "get back at them."

That is a wonderful spirit when your disabilities would free you from active service, but it is the kind of spirit which we may expect to find in all these young men.

As I walked through the hospital, I told the doctors that I had a particular interest in the destroyers because my boy is on one. I noticed a smile on the faces of the boys nearest me, so evidently they have a feeling, too, for destroyer duty. I imagine there is greater opportunity for contact between men and officers on a destroyer and, therefore, a greater feeling of belonging to one big family.

YOUNG VISITOR

We have a perfectly lovely baby spending a few days with us in the White House. She is 3½ months old, the daughter of my cousins, Mr. and Mrs. W. Forbes Morgan Jr., and seemed completely engrossed in the President so long as he held her in his arms.

WOODEN PAIS

The governor of New Hampshire, the Honorable Robert O. Blood, has sent me two wonderful wooden pails. They are called "Granite State Bombs." and he says: "We of New Hampshire are pleased to contribute in a small way to the national defense program by furnishing a substitute which will conserve scarce material, such as metal, using our hurricane lumber and using labor of an average of 60 years of age as is found in our pail factories."

THE PARABLES BY THE SEA

LESSON TEXT—Mark 4:26-32; Matthew 13:44-50.
GOLDEN TEXT—Never man spake like this man.—John 7:46.

Parables as a means of conveying truth reached perfection in the hands of the Master Teacher, Jesus. Taking short stories of well-known events or facts from daily life, He presented profound truth in the most simple and attractive form.

Except for the parable of the four kinds of seed which He interpreted (Matt. 13:18-23), He left it to His listeners to make their own application. This has led to some difference of opinion, but in general the parables are received as excellent and helpful portions of God's Word.

In the two passages of Scripture assigned for our lesson, we have five parables, each with a distinctive message, yet together pointing out that there is a time of growth leading to harvest and judgment, and that our gracious God has at great cost provided a way of redemption.

I. Normal Growth Is Blessed (Mark 4:26-29).

God is patient. He awaits the normal, healthy, steady growth of the seed. Man is so impatient he must have forced growth, artificial stimulation, and even artificial ripening of the fruit.

The same attitude enters into his care of his children. They must get ahead in school beyond their years. They must get out and make a living long years before they have learned to make a life. Why not let them mature in the orderly, God-given way?

The same is true in the work of the church. There must be immediate "tangible" results or he will not give his support. Anyone with judgment knows that spiritual life takes time to develop, and that spiritual results cannot be judged by physical or tangible standards.

Seedtime, growing time, normal ripening, then harvest—that is God's order and it is a good one.

II. Abnormal Growth Is Dangerous (Mark 4:30-32).

Normally the mustard tree is a small plant, and when it grew into a great tree something abnormal had taken place. Birds (which always denote something unclean in Scripture) came to lodge in its branches.

Just so, Christianity was never intended to be made up of a nominally Christian world empire in which ungodly men (the dark birds of the evil one, Matt. 13:19) should find comfortable lodgment. Unfortunately, that is just what happened to Christianity in the so-called conquest of the Roman empire at the time of Constantine. The results were disastrous. The same principle is evident today in the control of much of the church by worldly men.

III. Redemption Is Costly (Matt. 13:44-46).

While it is true that our redemption is worth more than anything else in all the world and that the Christian would gladly set aside (or would he?) everything for Christ's sake, yet that does not fulfill the thought of this parable. After all, what has a sinner (whose own righteousness is described in Scripture as "filthy rags") to sell in order to obtain redemption? And is it for sale? (See Eph. 2:8.)

Obviously we here have the Saviour with His all-seeing eye and loving heart noting in fallen humanity the pearl of great price, His own Church. He then gives up all the glory He had with the Father, comes to the earth, and even becomes sin for us that He may bring us to God.

Salvation in Christ is no little thing, not something which was purchased with gold or silver, but with the precious blood of Christ. We ought to value it highly, and because we are bought with a price we ought always to glorify God (I Cor. 6:28).

IV. Judgment Is Certain (Matt. 13:47-50).

All kinds of fish were in the net, and until the cord was drawn and the net emptied they looked much alike and enjoyed much the same standing as "citizens" of the sea. But when they faced the fisherman there was a quick division, and a final judgment upon the bad ones.

It is true that in God's kingdom (as it is now manifested in "mystery" in the Church) there are many who have come in by false profession, through carelessness of pastors or church officials, etc. They go through the motions, they look and act much like Christians (although even here they create questions in the minds of true followers of Christ). The day is coming, however, when they shall stand in judgment before the Christ whom they profess to love and follow. How terrible shall be their doom! They need not wait in fear for that day. They may now, today, make right their relationship with God.
