The needle became embedded in the fleshy part of her hand several weeks ago when she was laundering some recently completed handwork. The needle hash been overlooked before the article was placed in the laundry, and as Mrs. Jordan rubbad it between her hands, it buried itself in her right hand. She said that she felt very little pain, and was for some time doubtful that the needle was really in her hand. However, when soreness and swelling began to develop to such an extent that it was inconvenient, the minor operation revealed the presence of nearly all of the sewing implement. Only the externe tip was missing. An incision some two inches in length was made.

Rv. L. S. Jenkins, pastor of the church, authorized us to announce that due to these repairs, there will be no more baptizing in the church—

All services will be held Sunday weather, return to their homes earlier in the afternoon. The new ruling was tried out Tuesday and Wededay of this week and was found to be satisfactory to both teachers and patrons.

The reason for this change, Mr. McAfee said, was to make it possible for parents of students who live in the country to come in for their children in plenty of time to do up afternoon chores before dark, and also serves the added purpose of keeping the children off the play-ground when it might endanger their health to be out.

High school students and teachers alike enjoyed an old-fashioned snow halling Tuesday at noon, taking advantage of the first snow fall of the season, and at the same time working off surplus—and superfluous—steam.

Parents and students are asked to bear this new custom in mind, and to take it for granted hereafter that on, bad days classes will be dismissed with the state of the mind of the season, and at the same time working off surplus—and superfluous—steam.

The coach with its observation platform, lounge, bath and electric lights, had the appearance in all of a twenty century limited in miniature The coach was also equipped with bath, radio, bridge table and lamp. It was, indeed, a novel advertising scheme, but we wonder if it got the results. At any rate, had only a portion of the cost of operation been spent in newspaper advertising in this town, about 100 times as many people would now know what was being advertised.

Economists, industrialists, manufacturers, bankers, many many of them are firm in the conviction that one good way to start getting out of the present depression is to reduce some of the excessive duties in our present tariff monstrocity. Reducing these duties will tend to make other nations reduce some of their duties and this, generally applied, will mean an increase in the trade between nations. Plenty of trade means prosperity. The Democrats are in an unusually strong position means prosperity. The Democrats are in an unusually strong position in their old-time attitude for a re-duction in tariff duties, for they now have for the first time in history big bankers, industrialists, at many our connects, incustriaises, and business me sustaining their position. President Hoover will undoubtedly be against the Democrats on this, because he never seems to learn. Do you remember how the administration drove this Grundy bill through against the most vigorressure ever exerted against a bill? Democrats now have an unity for helping our country, ey can't do much of it by fightthey can't do much among themselves.

It is remarkable how we go blundering along with the most disastrons depression within he experience of men now living, and nobody seems to know the cause of it with any degree of certainty. And further about all there seems to be done about it is talk.

Congress will soon be in session again—on the first Monday of next month, December, as the Constitution provides. It will be a mixed upmess, with the Democrate barely in control in the House and with the Republicans less in control in the Republicans less in control in the Senate, and with President Hoover at odds with many of them, irrespective of party. All we can do is hope for the best.

OLD BUFFALO GUN OF INTEREST HERE

Known to only a select few is the fact that Mr. Jim Cathey, well-known it the custodian or an old buffale gun, the property of his brother, Mr. John Cathey of Arizona.

Though much of the history of the old rifle is a mystery, enough of it is known to prove that the gun is fully sixty or seventy years old. It is a weather-heaten old piece, of the breech loading type, and used to shoot a cartridge approximately six inches in length. Its weight is eath wheat and firmty pounds.

inches in length. Its weight is estimated at between twenty-five and thirty pounds.

According to the known history, the gun was originally the property of J. K. Epperson, a pioneer and frontiersman known in this part of the country as Dad Epperson. Uncled Jim Cathey first saw the gun in 1881, when he met Mr. Epperson at Abiliene, which was then the frontier town. Mr. Epperson stated that he had obtained the gun from a man who was one of those who took part in the Battle of Adobe Walls, and that this man claimed that it was a shot from this gun which won the battle. According to his story, the defenders of the Walls were arguing or the work of th

Mr. Epperson and the Cathey family grew to be fast friends, and at his death in 1908, the gun was given to Mr. John Cathey. It is a grim relie of dangerous days on the frontier, one which is seldom heard of now. Mr. Cathey has been asked to bring it in to the bank, where the public especially school boys and girls, may view and examine it. He was much pleased at the flought that anyone would be interested in it, and promewould be interested in it, and prome would be interested in it, and prom-ised to bring it in at the first oppor-

SIDELIGHTS

The world's speed record for airplanes, held by the British, is 408 by miles an hour, while the best American record is only 266. To overcome this humiliating situation it is proposed to raise $16,000,000 among the Masons of the United States to promote faster flying. In 1906, when aviation was young, the London Mail offered a price of $50,000 to the first person to fly from London to Manchester, about 165 miles in one day.

In 1929, when Charles Wetala & Mining store.

In 1929, when Charles V. Bob's Metal & Mining stock was selling for $23 a share, he contributed $100,000 to Admiral Byrd's Antarctic expedition. Recently these shares were down to 50 cents, and Bob was undown their promotion. Byrd manded an Antarctic mountain range for Bob in recognition of his generation of the serious transport of the serious of the
