Fire Destroys O & A Garage

One of the most threatening fires to the business district of Baird took place shortly after midnight Monday morning when the O & A Garage was almost completely destroyed by a fire of undetermined origin. The blaze was discovered about 12:15 a. m., and Baird Volunteer Fire Department worked diligently until 1:30 a. m. before the fire was extinguished. For a time it seemed that the entire block would burn, and Mayor B. H. Freeland made an attempt to get help from fire departments in neighboring cities, but was unable to do so because the local telephone switchboard was out of order. Three factors figured in the success of the fire fighters: first, the members of the local fire department performed an excellent job; second, there was plenty of water in the city's reservoir at that particular time; and third, the big fire engine had only recently been reconditioned and was able to throw a full stream of water on the burning building.

Damage was estimated to be about $25,000 by James Alexander and Buck Odom, who had the building leased from W. M. James. Ten cars valued at $8,000 which were stored in the building were destroyed. Loss of stock and fixtures was estimated at $15,000 and damage to the building about $7,000.

Wylie M. James, owner of the building, heard the fire alarm, but at his age he seldom comes down town, and it was almost noon Monday before he learned that the fire was in his own building. Mr. James built the building 32 years ago and operated an automobile storage business there for many years. There was no insurance on the building.

The splendid work on the part of the firemen kept the fire from spreading through the entire block. Business buildings on each side of the garage were not damaged. Caldwell Furniture store on the north side narrowly escaped the fire, and when the fire was extinguished the doors were forced open to prevent damage by smoke that filled the furniture display room.

The fire siren was sounded about 7:30 a. m. when smoldering timbers blazed up again, but they were quickly extinguished.

'Round About

As we walked up and down the street * * * We noticed how clean and orderly the city appeared and decided it had put on "that new look," but then we remembered that Madison Montgomery recently celebrated his fourth anniversary as a city employee * * * Tom Barton's open house party brought about fifteen representatives of the Humble Oil & Refining Company to Baird and some 360 local people. Many folks are driving by the new bulk station to see the fine installations * * * John Towler is getting plenty of exercise carrying the mail over 13 miles through the residential section of Baird daily. The first trip was through a downpour of rain, and Tee is now of the opinion that the rain has fallen on "the just and the unjust" all over town * * * A farmer on the streets before the rains came was saying that he would be satisfied if it would rain only on the sinners, because he was sure that he and the rest of the good people could get along with that much rain falling around about * * *

Home town boy makes good, should be a headline in the Star this week, because a Baird native son, Rupert Jackson, has passed the bar examination and will soon join his brother, Randall Jackson, in the practice of law here. Both young men of ability, the Jackson brothers have a bright future in the field of law * * * Caldwell Furniture store is sparkling like a diamond in the rough, but the big fire that destroyed O & A Garage next door, came close to putting the dimmers on the sparkler * * * Baird folks shudder to think of what might have been the result if the fire had happened at a time when there was no water to fight it with. Let us hope that fire does not strike the business district later this summer when there will be barely enough water for domestic use * * * It was not entirely luck that kept the whole block from going up in flames Monday morning. A well organized crew of firemen working with good equipment and plenty of water saved the town * * * We read where our state representative Billie Mac Jobe is letting the folks back at home know some of the inner workings of politics at the state capitol. When the governor and lieutenant governor are too busy with their political aspirations to attend to the state's business, the people ought to know it. Jobe went to Austin to represent the people of this district, and from what we have seen and heard, he is doing an excellent job. A multitude of people throughout this big state are watching his good work with admiration. It is unusual for a state representative to so manage his affairs that the big politician and big money interest cannot buy him off and silence him with pretty promises.

Storm Report Is False Alarm

A report went out Sunday evening that Baird had been struck by a tornado, and many people from surrounding cities rushed in to give a helping hand. A number of ambulances from neighboring towns arrived here first, and then people in private cars came. Telephone circuits were tied up and operators were flooded with calls from all parts of the country from people inquiring about the report of the storm. Calls continued to come from distant places Monday.

Mayor B. H. Freeland called on the Highway Police, newspapers and radio stations to assist in correcting the rumor.

Baird did get a good rain and quite a lot of hail. Some hailstones were as big as baseballs, and damage ran high to roofs of buildings, window glasses, as well as to crops. Fruits, especially in the Clyde area, were damaged severely. Wheat and oats, in the maturing stage, received serious damage.

A tornado did rip through the north side of Abilene, causing damage to 37 homes. Only three people were injured. The broadcast report that Baird was struck might have been confused with the Abilene tornado.

Many Baird people went to their storm cellars when the black cloud came over and a heavy rain and hail began to fall. After the hail storm, there was a calm and people came out only to go back underground when winds of tornadic intensity began to blow from several directions. The wind blew wildly for only a few minutes.

Callahan County has achieved 79 per cent of its quota in the Opportunity Drive for the sale of Series E Savings Bonds. B. H. Freeland, county chairman, announced today.

Several counties reached and exceeded their quotas during the first week of the drive and numerous others showed sales of 50 per cent or more of quotas, causing Nathan Adams of Dallas, state Savings Bonds chairman, to predict that Texas will far exceed its quota "in the most successful Savings Bonds campaign since the war." The drive will continue through June 30.

Denies Seeking Post For Jester

Eastland — Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers was accused Tuesday of trying to get Gov. Beauford Jester named ambassador to Mexico—so that he could slip into the governor's chair.

The report—promptly denied by both Shivers and Jester—came from State Legislator Billie Mac Jobe of Putnam.

Jobe is representative from the 107th Flatorial District comprising Eastland and Callahan Counties. Addressing the Eastland Lion's Club Tuesday, he said:

"Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers, when the Texas Senate was already two weeks behind with its work, left it for one and one-half weeks without anything to do, while he lobbied in Washington trying to get Gov. Jester appointed as ambassador to Mexico so that he (Shivers) would succeed to the governor's office before Jester's term expired."

In Austin, Shivers said he had made no such effort in Washington last week. He said his trip was of a personal nature with the Bureau of Reclamation and that Jester's ambassadorship possibilities were not discussed.

Jester himself said, "As far as I know, there's nothing to it."

Baird Park Board To Meet Monday

Members of the Baird park board are hereby notified to attend a meeting at the city hall Monday morning at 10 o'clock when plans for present and future development of the city's park will be discussed. The park board is composed of one member from each of the clubs in Baird. Whether a club has appointed their member to the park board or not, they are asked to send a representative to this meeting and take an active part in planning the park work. This is the only notice that will be given of the meeting, and all members of all clubs are asked to assist in any way they can to have a good representation at the meeting. All others are invited, also.

About two years ago the clubs were asked to elect park board members, which they did, and those members are still considered as the park board, with the city park commissioner as chairman. With warm spring days upon us, the park could be put to greater use. Many people already go to the park for picnics and outings, and there is a great deal that should be done to the grounds. The city recently had some work done there to construct another barbecue pit, under direction of W. L. Ray, councilman.

Remember the time and place, Monday at 10 a. m., at the city hall. Representatives of the clubs and all other interested persons are invited.

Contract Signed For Water Rate

At a meeting of the City Council and directors of the Callahan County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 on Tuesday night a contract was drawn whereby the city agrees to purchase water from the water district when accumulated at 4c per thousand gallons, with a minimum charge of $300 per month. This arrangement is believed to be sufficient for the water district and also to make it possible for the city to deliver water in abundance to water customers at a very low rate. The contract is on raw water at the lake. The city will construct its own pipe line, pump, filter, and maintain the distribution system. The water district will construct the dam and maintain records, etc., in the operation of its business, such as collection of taxes, keeping books, metering water from the lake, and other functions.

Before the contract between the city and water district becomes effective it will require the approval of the attorney general and be voted on by the citizens.

City officials have called an election for June 4, which notice is now appearing in The Baird Star, to vote a $110,000 bond issue for the construction of the pipe line, filter plant, etc. The outstanding $23,000 bonds against the present water and sewer system will be retired by the new issue.

BILL TO OPEN HOUSE MEETINGS TO PUBLIC

Austin — The citizens of Texas have the right to know what happens at meetings of state boards and bureaus which spend state money and establish state policy.

That is the contention of Representative Preston E. Smith of Lubbock, who pointed out today that the people now do not enjoy such a privilege.

Smith is author of a bill which would open the meetings to the press and public.

The bill passed the House of Representatives in March by a vote of 118 to 4. It has since awaited action in the Senate. Last week the Senate voted down a proposal to suspend the rules and take up the bill out of regular order.

"Time is getting away from us," Smith said, "and there are going to be a lot of bills which will die for want of action." He continued, "I hope that this bill, which opens the door of board meetings to the public, will not die."

"The people of this state put up the money for its operation, and when any group of officials get together to talk about spending that money, the people are entitled to know what the officials say."

Smith suggested that civic-minded Texans might wish to tell their Senators of their interest in the measure, which is House Bill 428.

"I do not see how secrecy can be justified," Smith declared, "when these boards are discussing public policy and public funds. Too many times, controversial issues have been decided behind closed doors. That's not the way democracy ought to work."

There are teeth in the bill, Smith asserted. It makes it mandatory upon the attorney general to inaugurate quo warranto proceedings against offenders.

The bill provides that the 140 state boards which it governs must give to the newspapers written notice in advance of the meetings.

"The House of Representatives has shown by its favorable vote of 118 to 4 what it thinks of this bill. Also, there has been widespread newspaper editorial comment for the legislation. This is a bill that ought to be passed," said added.

ENTERPRISE H. D. CLUB

1. Eggs take the center of the stage in the line-up of plentiful foods during May. Now is the time, therefore, to take advantage of those favorite egg recipes.
2. Irish potatoes are also on the list of plentiful. For a delightful new flavor add 2 1/2 tablespoons prepared mustard and 1 cup chopped water cress or parsley for each 2 cups white sauce used to cream the new potatoes.
3. For more color add strips of red pimiento to the asparagus which is fresh in the garden and vegetable markets now.
4. Variety lends enchantment. Try spiced crab apples, apricots of peaches with onion and green pepper rings for a colorful relish dish.

Is There a Carpenter in The House?

If the man of the house is handy with carpenter tools, he can do much to inspire an old, inconvenient kitchen.

Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of A. & M. College, says that often an improvement in storage facilities and work space of an old kitchen is just a matter of simple carpentry, requiring tools and materials familiar to a farm carpenter.

"Whether remodeling or building," she says, "plan on cabinets for food preparation utensils, materials and serving. Storage space for work clothes and cleaning supplies helps greatly in keeping the house more orderly."

Cabinet units can be grouped or built individually between doors and windows that so often break up wall space in an old-fashioned kitchen. The most difficult construction program in good cabinets may be the drawers; if the farm shop does not have a routing plane for cutting grooves for the drawers, Mrs. Claytor suggests that this work usually can be done at a local lumber yard.

"Sliding trays are more convenient for base cabinets than shelves," she says. "Such trays will save a great deal of tire-some stooping and reaching to the back of a space nearly two feet deep. Adjustable shelves are most essential if cabinets are to be of the service we expect them to be."

Many families in Texas have the problem of remodeling old farm houses, but the large number of new home which are being built means that a great deal of thought needs to be given to the planning for new kitchens, too, Mrs. Claytor concludes. Check your kitchen plans before the house is built to be sure that all time and work saving features are included.

Folk-dance games and play-party sing-songs highlighted the meeting. Later in the afternoon the Brownies were joined by the Girl Scout Troops 1 and 3, their leader, Mrs. D. C. Cox, and Assistant Jo Ann Newton. The troops combined meetings for a discussion of the "Court of Awards" to be held Thursday night in connection with P.T.A. meeting. Girl Scouts will be elevated from the present Tenderfoot Rank to Second Class, and Brownies will assist in the program with the ever impressive "Present Colors" ceremony.

LIQUID GARLIC EXTRACT BOTTLED BY COLD PROCESS

(Article from the Daily Index, Mineral Wells, Feb. 27, 1949)

Mineral Wells can boast of the only plant in the country that makes a liquid garlic extract for medicinal purposes, by a cold process, and which retains all the elements contained in the original garlic bulb. This is the Texas Liquid Garlic Company, located at Camp Wells, adjacent to Mineral Wells, and operated by Owain Roberts. Mr. Roberts father, W. S. Roberts, bottled garlic in the East and sold it throughout trade channels prior to coming to Mineral Wells — and has had some ten years experience in the garlic business.

In speaking of the garlic odor, he stated that this, no doubt, has discouraged its use or prejudiced it as a food, despite the fact that many entire nations, especially the Adriatic countries, are very fond of it and it is a most popular national food with them. The Bulgarians are noted as an energetic, vigorous and long-lived people.

Speaking of the odor, Mr. Roberts stated that when garlic extract is taken just before meals or when retiring, in tomato juice or in any other vegetable or fruit juice, it is pleasant to take and the odor is scarcely noticeable. He says after eating, there is very little, if any, breath odor at all.

In commenting on garlic, Mr. Roberts stated that it is one of, if not the best of vegetables whose great nutritive and therapeutic properties are little known and still less appreciated by most people and that just more recently its wonderful properties have become more scientifically established, and as a result, its use as a food and a curative agent, and also as a tonic is becoming more widespread among all classes of people.

Rich in vitamins B and C and with some traces of A, it is also high in Alkaline minerals, especially potassium and calcium and some iodine, which makes it valuable food for goitre trouble.

He stated that besides being used as a flavoring for various foods, including salads, it is also valuable as an internal antiseptic, blood cleanser, natural cathartic remedy, as well as used for asthma, high blood pressure, arthritis, rheumatism, colds, nervousness, worms, indigestion, arteriosclerosis, (hardening of arteries), and other ailments due to mineral deficiencies.

In commenting on the raw garlic manufactured here, which is being marketed through the regular drug channels throughout the country, Mr. Roberts stated:

To get its full benefits, either as a food or medicine, in the treatment of high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, arthritis and asthma, it should be eaten raw, or taken in liquid extract form, as heating or cooking destroys most of its value as a medicine. If eaten raw the fibrous part of the garlic bulb is hard to digest and leaves a strong odor on the breath, hence the Liquid Garlic Extract, made from the whole garlic bulb by a cold process, which retains all of the healthful properties of the raw garlic bulb and eliminates the fibrous part and thus reduces and minimizes the breath odor and still retains all of the valuable elements contained in the garlic bulb.

Garlic strongly stimulates the appetite and acid secretion of the gastric juices and so prevents flatulency or gas formation. This vegetable also promotes peristaltic action or the movement of the bowels and so tends to relieve inflammatory conditions of the intestines and also cramps. Garlic is frequently recommended for the eradication of intestinal parasites and recently has been prescribed by some doctors for cholera.

Besides this, garlic has a beneficial effect upon mucous membranes, especially in the upper air passage of the lungs, nose and throat and is, therefore, prescribed for singers and speakers.

Many physicians are said to have used it with good results in cases of pulmonary consumption. Garlic has a diuretic action.

When garlic is to be used for medicinal purposes, remember this, garlic pills, garlic tablets and garlic powder have little medicinal value for the reason that they have been previously dehydrated by heating, which has destroyed the medicinal properties of the raw garlic bulb in the preparation of them and they only retain an odor of garlic, which comes from the dehydrated fibrous part which is ground into a powder to produce the pill, the tablet or the powder. Garlic capsules contain a bland oil, such as cottonseed or olive oil, to which is added a very small quantity of garlic oil, a volatile substance which quickly evaporates and leaves only the odor of the garlic oil in the bland oil. Therefore, it is necessary to eat the raw garlic or take the odor-modified liquid garlic extract, prepared by a cold process, if one wants to get the medicinal value attributed to garlic.

CAMP TONKAWA TO OPEN JULY 3rd

George Swinney, Camping Chairman, announces that Camp Tonkawa, official Boy Scout Camp for the Chisholm Trail Council, located near Buffalo Gap, will open July 3rd for three weeks.

All facilities and equipment are ready for a large group. New equipment has been added to the mess hall so that 150 Scouts can be easily and efficiently fed. The swimming pool, which is one of the finest in West Texas, has been placed in tip-top shape. The adult staff has been selected and are already making plans for a very adventurous program of activities. Swimming, hiking, camping, cooking, handicraft, marksmanship, are just a few of the many interesting things a Scout can do.

Troops are already making plans to attend with their leaders. The first week starting July 3rd has Troop No. 31, Coleman; No. 34, Valera; and No. 86, Santa Anna having made reservations. Second week, July 10 has Troop No. 48, Paint Creek; No. 39, Stamford; No. 14, Abilene; No. 20, Merkel; No. 40, Stamford; No. 33, Abilene; and No. 15, Abilene. Third week starting July 17 shows No. 12, Abilene having made a reservation. The second week of July 10th to 16th, is almost filled and with two more troops making a reservation will be closed to future reservations as only 150 Scouts may attend each week.

All reservations must be made by June 11th.

TECHNICOLOR WESTERN A TRIUMPH FOR LADD

Alan Ladd, who has garnered more thrills, excitement and romance from various parts of the globe than half a dozen stars, goes West in the good, old U.S.A. for the first time in his screen career. As "Whispering Smith," soft-spoken, hard-shooting hero of Paramount's Technicolor Western of the same name, which comes to the Plaza Theatre Sunday and Monday, Ladd outdoes the action of "China," "Saigon," "Calcutta" and other points east he has put on the movie map.

The film, based on the famous novel by Frank H. Spearman, co-stars Ladd with Robert Preston, Brenda Marshall and Donald Crisp and features William Demarest, Fay Holden, Murvyn Vye and Frank Faylen. Together they bring to the screen a thrilling recreation of the old West in the days when the pioneering railroads were plagued by lawless elements intent on wrecking, looting and murdering.

Ladd is seen as the railroad's special agent whose job it is to track down the criminals. The role calls for quick thinking, fast riding and accurate shooting, a bill that the star fills to perfection.

The story of "Whispering Smith," set against the spectacular train wrecks and robberies, revolves around Ladd, his best friend, Preston, and the latter's wife, played by Miss Marshall, who is still in love with her former sweetheart, Ladd. Preston is a railroad foreman and friendlier than he should be with one of the town's richest citizens, Donald Crisp, whom Ladd suspects of being tied up with the train bandits. When Preston loses his job and Ladd falls in his efforts to get it back for him, he goes bad in a big way, alienating his wife completely, and making it impossible for Ladd to avoid the inevitable dramatic showdown.

The round-up of the bandits, the suspenseful chase in the mountains and the gun battle that ensues, with the face-to-face denouncement between the two friends, all contribute to making "Whispering Smith," a breathtakingly exciting and forceful western.

To meet your needs in 1959... we have to start now!

Most of the oil you are using today was found more than ten years ago. It takes about that long to explore and develop potential resources to their full, efficient capacity.

First, you have to find the oil. Geologists and geophysicists spend months of scientific study before they pronounce an area a "prospect." It takes more months to drill exploratory wells; and if they find oil, it takes years to drill the other wells that define the field, establish the amount of oil in it, and bring it into full production.

Today, this year, continuously, we must develop the oil resources we may need — without notice — on some future tomorrow. In spite of minor fluctuations in demand, the need for oil has increased steadily over the years; and every now and again, there is a sudden, heavy, unexpected need for additional supplies, like the demand for fuel oil on the Eastern seaboard during the cold winter of 1947-48. Furthermore, we must face the fact that in this atomic era, in this day of the jet airplane and the long-range submarine, the U. S. oil industry must prepare now to meet the needs of any future national emergency.

That's why the American oil industry is undertaking the heavy costs of exploring the Tidelands of the continental shelf in order to bring the oil fields that geologists think are there into full production now. Rest assured that the oil will not be wasted; on the contrary, it will be ready for instant use when you and the nation need it.

HUMBLE
HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

This is a Humble well in the Anahuac, Texas, field. The first well, drilled in 1935, found oil at 8728 feet. Geological and geophysical work which preceded drilling consumed 6 years. 427 wells have been drilled, of which 357 are now producing oil. Present production is 30,108 barrels daily. With the present knowledge of the field, it is possible that additional sands may be found at a greater depth.

This is Humble production in the Friendswood, Texas, field. Exploratory work was begun here in 1928, and the discovery well was drilled in 1927. By 1941, Humble had 211 producing wells in the field; these wells supplied 66,110,000 barrels of oil toward the winning of World War II.

This alkylate plant was placed in operation by Humble at Baytown refinery in 1938. Alkylate is an essential element in the manufacture of aviation gasoline, and by December 14, 1944, Baytown had provided a billion gallons of 100-octane gasoline for Allied airplanes.

GRASSHOPPERS

Grasshoppers have been reported to be very active around Putnam, Baird and Clyde and all over the county.

The new insecticides, chlordane and toxaphene, give quicker and better initial control and continue to kill longer than the old standard sodium fluosilicate bait. The new ones are particularly effective when applied as sprays or dusts on succulent growth along roadsides, railroad right-of-ways, canal banks, and field margins and fence rows. They are very good applied as sprays or dust to such crops as young cotton and corn, or rank growing alfalfa.

Chlordane and toxaphene applied as sprays give higher initial kills, and continue to kill over a longer period, than equal dosages of dusts. When using sprays, apply 1 pound of technical chlordane or 1 1/2 pounds of technical toxaphene per acre. When using dusts, apply 1 1/2 pounds of technical chlordane or toxaphene per acre.

These dosages have given high initial kills and residual action lasting 1 to 3 weeks under a wide variety of conditions and are recommended to farmers for general use. Slightly lower dosages are effective against newly hatched grasshoppers, but if some eggs are still unhatched and long-continued killing action is desired, the dosages recommended above should be used. A slight increase in the dosage of both sprays and dusts may be necessary late in the season, when most of the grasshoppers are adults and vegetation is maturing.

Chlordane and toxaphene are manufactured as emulsion concentrates, wettable powders, and dusts of various strengths of the technical material. Emulsion concentrates and wettable powders may be diluted with water to suit available spraying equipment. Whatever the formulation or dilution, the quantity of technical material applied per acre should conform to the stated recommendations.

Following are recommendations that can be used:

Chlordane — Use 1 quart 45 per cent emulsion or 2 pounds 50 per cent wettable powder per 50 to 100 gallons of water to spray one acre.

Toxaphene — Use 1 quart of 55 per cent emulsion or 2 1/2 lbs. 40 per cent wettable powder per 50 to 100 gallons of water to spray one acre.

When dusting you can use 15 to 20 pounds per acre of either a 10 per cent toxaphene or chlordane dust. This amounts to 1 1/2 pounds of the technical material as recommended above. 10 pounds of 20 per cent toxaphene would be the same amount of technical poison also.

Do not wait until the hoppers move into your fields. Get them while they are still on the edge of your fields in the hatching area.

These new insecticides are better in bait material also than the old ones. Chlordane at 1/2 pound and toxaphene at 1 pound have consistently given at least as good kill as 6 pounds of sodium fluosilicate per 100 pounds of dry bran and sawdust.

THRILLING 'SERGEANT YORK' RETURNS TO PLAZA SCREEN

"Sergeant York," hailed as one of the greatest films ever made by both press and public several years ago, returns to the Plaza Theatre Thursday and Friday for a return engagement. Gary Cooper plays the unforgettable role of the Tennessee mountaineer sharpshooter who became the nation's number one hero after World War I—it was for this role that the Warner Bros. star won the coveted Academy Award.

Called by Walter Winchell "one of the greatest entertainments of all time," "Sergeant York" is remembered as that rare film which contains at the same time all the elements that make for great motion picture fare, including excitement, romance and pathos. As a mountain boy who does not believe in war, Alvin York is called by his country in the draft. He cannot reconcile himself to fighting but when he takes time to think out the whole problem for himself, he concludes that sometimes one must fight to preserve freedom and he goes on to become one of the most widely acclaimed soldiers the country has ever known.

Popular Cooper was chosen for the role by Sgt. York himself when the latter learned that the movie star was also an excellent marksman.

High Blood Pressure

Hardening of Arteries, Pains In Left Arm And Side—

Elmer G. Johnson, President of Harlingen State Bank, Harlingen, Texas, writes on Feb. 20, 1948:

"Please send another bottle of Liquid Garlic, also send a bottle to my sister-in-law, Mrs. Hulda C. Dutton, 45 Atwater Terrace, Springfield, Mass.

"I have some good reports to make on the effectiveness of garlic used. Mr. Turner, Texaco dealer here has taken two bottles and is much better, his blood pressure down about 60 points. Mrs. W. F. Nelson, San Benito, who was in bad shape, is also very much better and her blood pressure down considerable. This garlic works, and your are doing a fine job of producing it for the benefit of those suffering from high blood pressure or heart trouble."
