THE SUBMISSION BALLOT

The "Submission" ballot which is to be voted on at the general primary on July 23, is rather a new idea voted on by the state committee on June 13, and because of its unex-pectedness, will be generally understood possibly. This is the way it will read on the ballot:

"For the submission by the 73rd Congress of the question of retaining or repealing the 18th Amendment of the Constitution of the United States to the people through conventions especially elected in the separate states to consider that issue by itself, as provided in Article 5 of the Constitution of the United States."

"Against the submission by the 73rd Congress of the question of retaining or repealing the 18th Amendment of the Constitution of the United States to the people through
conventions especially elected in the
separate states to consider that
issue by itself, as provided in Article 5 of the Constitution of the United

You may be interested in refreshing your minds as to the provisions of "Article 5 of the Constitution of the United States." If so, it reads as follows:

UNCLE SAM HARD

COMPETITOR

Uncle Sam may print envelopes in competition with local printers, do dental work in competition with dentists, he can loan money, run banks, conduct commercial shipping, handle railroads, buy wheat, sell groceries, and operate mills, and there is one thing that he cannot do, he cannot make any money or pay any dividends in conducting all this business.
The taxpayer, who is called upon to meet all deficits, is going out.
Just as the government is going into business, thousands of people are going out. In the meantime, taxes have increased by 730 per cent, and those who still have a "going business" find it hard to pay this increase in taxes, much less meet Uncle Sam's competition, according to officials of the Minnesota Taxpayers Association.

America's greatness is built, not upon political officiousness, but upon the industry and the thrift of the rank and file of the American people.
When the government eventually finds its way back to its proper sphere, when it quits competing with its own taxpayers, when it commences again to deal successfully with crime, with taxes, and other functions, and when the individual learns over again that individual responsibility represents opportunity, we will again enjoy the fruits of our labor and our inventive genius, and we will get back to our normal prosperous condition. — Journal-Press, Buffalo, Minnesota.

TEXANS AT CHICAGO

Some people never will be en-vined by his fellow Texans did not sacrifice John Garner upon the altar of Franklin D. Roosevelt's ambition for the presidency.
With naught save the newspapers and radio to connect us with the Chicago convention, it did appear that a staunch stand through two or three more ballots might have turned the tide toward Garner. Upon the other hand we were not permitted to see what happened in the "smoke-filled" rooms where the "million dollar" minds really determined who should be the standard bearer. The stampede from Roosevelt, had it come, might have been to Richie, Byrd, Baker, or Traylor. By trading when they did, the Texas delegates may have named a vice-president instead of nothing at all.

Since we do not have the facts, and probably never will have them, it is not fitting that we be too critical of the men and women who represented Texas democracy at Chicago.
They may have opened doors which some day shall lead John Garner to the higher place and larger responsibility for which he is so eminently fitted.

HERE IS RESUME OF ERRONEOUS STATEMENTS AND ACTUAL FACTS

"Many of the erroneous statements which have been made recently concerning government expenditures on account of veterans should be corrected when opportunity arises", R. O.
Stark, Commander of the Fort Allen Post of the American Legion here said.

One of the most frequently quoted figures to expenditures of World war veterans is General Hines' statement that up to December 13, 1931, the sum of $14,950,000,000 had been disbursed on account of veterans.
Opponents generally assume that this represents the sum spent on World war veterans, when the facts are that this is the sum expended on account of the veterans of all wars, their dependents or beneficiaries, since 1790.
For instance, included in this total of veterans' expenditures is the sum of $8,521,580,579 (or a considerably more than half of the total) in Army and Navy pensions. Also included in the sum is $251,554,429 spent on the maintenance of the Soldiers' Home at Fort Bliss.

Then there is the sum of $947,- 003,581 which is included in the total but which can not be charged to expenditure for veterans by any stretch of imagination—it is simply included in order to swell the total of the figures. This figure is the combination of two sums, the first of which represents the insurance premiums paid by the soldiers upon their War Risk Insurance. (Which, in compiling the total referred to, the Veterans' Administration has failed to credit to the veterans.) The second item in this total is made up of the extra pay received by soldiers on account of dependents. This sum was paid to them in the form of family allowances but was only paid while in the military service, and bears no more relation to payments to veterans than the dollar a day pay of the soldiers.

As a matter of fact, according to General Hines' statement, the total sum which has been paid to World war veterans on account of compensation for death, disability, dependency, disability allowance, and emergency office officers' retirement pay, up to December 31, 1931 (the latest available figures) is $2,048,733,392. This is a far cry indeed from the often quoted statement that fifteen billion dollars has been paid out to World war veterans!

Another statement, often heard, but also often difficult to refute, is that the World War veterans are now costing a billion dollars a year. This is far from true. The amounts which will be paid to World war veterans in the fiscal year 1933 (the latest available figures for this item) for service connected with disability is $204,620,000, or about one-fifth of the amount claimed. It is to be recalled, however, that this is the sum for the veterans, widows, and orphans of all wars which cost a billion dollars a year.

A breakdown of the sums appropriated for the maintenance of the Veterans' Administration for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, illustrates these expenditures on account of the veterans of all wars, subdivided according to their various purposes.

Administration costs of Veterans' Administration for veterans of all wars, including medical and hospital services, soldiers' homes to $118,528,- 795.

Printing and binding, $160,000.
Compensation for disability incurred as a result of service in the World War, $204,620,000.

Disability allowances for World war veterans suffering from disabilities not connected with the service, $104,277,000.

Disabled emergency officers of the World War, retirement pay, $11,046,- 000.

Compensation for service connected World War death paid to widows, orphans and dependent parents, $56,- 248,000.

Army and Navy pensions for death and disability not necessarily connected with the service: Civil war, $97,221,000; Spanish war, $116,- 306,000; Regular Establishment, $7,- 127,000; or a total of $225,850,000.

Military and Naval insurance (a government debt for which the veterans paid nearly $500,000,000 in insurance premiums) of their own pockets, $117,000,000.

Hospital and soldiers' homes contribution for the veterans of all wars, $12,877,000.

State and territorial homes for disabled soldiers (Federal contribution), $722,000.

Adjusted service certificates fund (annual government payment on the adjusted compensation), $100,000,- 000.

The above expenditures represent a total of $228,387,795.

The foregoing table therefore illustrates that the "billion dollar veterans' cost" actually goes. For 1933 (as shown above) the sum is less than a billion, although at the beginning of the present session, the director announced publicly his estimate that it would exceed a billion dollars.

Sam Sanford of Tahoka was in O'Donnell Thursday in the interest of his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Lynn county.

The tragic thing about so many political hope chests this year is that they are filled only with hope.

THE PASSOVER

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 11:1-12:36.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our Passover is sacrificed for us.—1 Corinthians 5:7."

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Saving His People.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The First Passover.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Memorial Feast.

TOPIC FOR YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULTS—Leader, Liberator and Saver.

1. The Passover Instituted (vs. 1-23).

1. The date (v. 2). With the institution of the Passover came a change in the order of time. The common year was rolling on as usual, but reference to God's chosen people, the order was interrupted and everything was made to date from this event. The time of one's salvation is the real beginning of time and life for the one redeemed.

2. The lamb set apart (vs. 3-5).
This lamb must be a male without blemish, indicating that it must be good representative of the people.
The lamb was killed by the whole congregation (v. 6). This shows that it was not for the individual only, but for the entire assembly. The setting apart of the lamb was not sufficient—it must be killed, for "without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sins."

3. The blood of the slain lamb was to be placed upon the side posts and lintels of the door (v. 7). When the destroying angel went through the land he passed over the houses where the door posts were sprinkled with blood (v. 8). The blood on the posts and lintels was the ground of peace.

4. Israel feeding upon the lamb (vs. 8-10). The double fellowship Judgment preceded feasting. The lamb roasted signified the action of fire in God's judgment at the cross.
The head, the neck and purtenance thereof showed that in the substitue-tionary sacrifice the understanding, the will, and all that pertains thereto are involved. This shows that the atonement of Jesus Christ involved his obedience to law as well as his suffering in the stead of his own. The eating of unleavened bread signifies that no sin can enter into fellowship with Christ. It indicates the corruption (1 Cor. 5:7, 8). The bitter herbs suggest the bitterness of Christ's sufferings. His sufferings were not mainly physical, but moral and spiritual.

6. They ate the passover ready for action (v. 11). They went forth with a staff in hand, shoes on their feet, and with grinded loins. The grinding of the loins betokened separation from sin and preparation and readiness for service. The fact of being shod indicated their willingness and readiness to march out of Egypt. The staff in hand indicated their nature as pilgrims, leaning upon a support outside of themselves. They were to leave behind them the place of death and darkness and march to the promised land.

7. The uncircumcised denied participation in the feast (vs. 43-49). Circumcision was typical of regeneration.
The significance of the requirement is that only those who have become new creatures by the power of the cross have a right to sit at the Passover feast. Only the regenerated have fellowship with Christ.

II. The Significance of the Passover (vs. 24-28).

It was a memorial institution calling to mind the deliverance of the Israelites from Egyptian bondage.

III. The Awful Judgment (vs.
28, 30).

At midnight the Lord smote all the firstborn in the land from the first-born of Pharaoh that sat on his throne unto the firstborn of the captive that was in bondage, even the firstborn of the cattle. There was death that night in every home throughout Egypt where the blood was not found. A great and awful cry went up from the Egyptians. This is typical of the coming day of God's wrath when all who are not resting under the shadow of the blood of Christ shall perish.

IV. The Great Deliverance (vs.
31-33).

So mighty was this stroke that Pharaoh called for Moses in the night and requested him to be gone with his flocks and herds. The Israelites made ready for their journey. They demanded of the Egyptians jewels of silver, and gold, and raiment. The word "burden" in verse 35 means "donkey." The Israelites were to use it which we use it today. It was just on the part of the Israelites, who had served the Egyptians so long, to demand now some compensation.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY PRICE QUOTES HIS RECORD:

My record as District Attorney is before the people and upon this record I submit my candidacy.
During my tenure of office as District Attorney, there has been disposed of in the District Courts of this District 294 Felony cases, including pleas of guilty, and of this number as your official I have secured convictions in 278 of these cases and lost only 16. In each of these cases I personally directed the prosecution for the State.

In cases appealed, the Court of Criminal Appeals has upheld 85 per cent of these cases. I have prepared briefs and made oral argument before the Higher Courts in all of the heavier cases without additional cost to the Tax Payers of this District.
This work is not required of a District Attorney as a part of his duties but I have done so that there might be less opportunity of a reversal, thereby saving the tax payer this expense.

If you approve of this record and believe that I am in a better position, by reason of this experience, and by reason of my knowledge of the records of this District, to serve you more efficiently and economically than another man who has not had a similar experience, then I ask your support for re-election July 25.
T. L. PRICE.

MRS. McLAURIN HOSTESS TO S. S. CLASS

Mrs. Waldo McLaurin was the hostess Monday afternoon to members of the Loyal Workmen class of the Methodist Sunday school, entertaining with an informal party at her lovely home.

Games and contests of all kinds were enjoyed, the last one ending in a pleasant surprise for Mrs. W. E. McLaurin, teacher of the class. In following the strands of a mimic spider web, the lady found a nice array of pretty supplies, ranging from fresh and canned vegetables to other kitchen necessities.

The cream and angel cake were served to Meses. Burnett, Ed. Jones, Bowlin, Stark, Estes, Garner, Jones, McGill, Ramey, Robinson, Johnson, Yandell, Curtis, Melton, Jones, and Guy Bohannon of Slalom.

METHODIST LADIES HOLD GUEST DAY MONDAY

Members of the Missionary Society are hostesses Monday afternoon to other ladies of the church when they held an informal open house at the church.

Mrs. Belle Knight opened the interesting program with an appropriate devotional, after which Miss Alice By Bowlin sang. Mrs. Don Edwards gave a thoughtful and interesting talk on "Spiritual Power," and Miss Kitty May Garner gave a delightful reading, and Rev. Burnett made a short talk. Closing the program, Mrs. Carey Shook and T. M. Garner favored the assembly with a duet, which was greatly appreciated. Mrs. J. P. Bowlin accompanied at the piano.

At the end of a pleasant social hour, tea and cookies were served to twenty-five guests.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO ENTERTAIN INTERMEDIATE CLASSES

The Comrades Class of the Methodist Sunday School will sponsor a picnic Friday evening for the classes of younger boys and girls who are meeting with the music for the revival now under way. It was announced Sunday.

Children will meet at the church and go from there to the picnic spot.

VERNA STREET HOSTESS AT PARTY MONDAY

Little Miss J. Verna Street, better known as Tootsie, was the charming hostess Monday afternoon to a number of friends when she entertained with an informal party at her home in Oak street.

Rummy, bunco, and a number of outdoor games were played during the afternoon, after which dainty refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

Those enjoying the pleasant occasion were Meses Merle Miles, Leona Helman, Betty Lynn Middleton, Jennie and Billie B. McConal.

A NICE, CLEAN LOOKING TOWN

"Here's a nice, clean looking town." How often have you heard this expression when on a trip you pass through a bright, clean, good looking town? There are many settlements which might have, but not give quite as quick an insight into the character of the town and the people as the fact that it is nice and clean and well kept. The houses may or may not be all new, or of the latest design of architecture, but if they are well taken care of, the streets are clean, the vacant lots are clear of weeds, and at once set it down as a good town in which to live.

Such a town invites business and attracts trade. Property in such a town is usually worth more. The secret of such a town is what is known as town pride or civic pride. No town can get along without it and no town can have too much of it.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT FOUR:

As will be unable to canvass the precinct again before the primary, I take this means of thanking my friends for the support heretofore, and in asking the vote and influence of other taxpayers of this section in making a public weicher for this precinct.

BORDEN COUNTY, SPARSELY POPULATED, TAKES POLITICS SERIOUSLY

GAIL, BORDEN COUNTY, July 9 This town of less than 200 population, seat of government for a county whose average population is less than two persons per square mile, is taking its politics seriously this year.

Twenty-one candidates are seeking to fill the nine holes in Borden county's officialdom, in contrast to little more than half that number in an average year.

The usual campaign spiel concerning "impossible to see all voters personally" or "remember me whether I give you a card or not" has little effect on Borden County voters, for there are less than 400 persons qualified to cast a ballot in 1932 elections.

Most of these voters come to Gail on Saturday, or when rain gives them an excuse to rest for a day; so candidates don't worry much about traveling expenses.

Someone has suggested that if that Texas pioneer, Gail Borden, could stalk the cattle-ranges of the town and county that bear his names, he would smile in his grave, for he was some sort of a politician in his day.

Sterling Williams, county democratic chairman, certifies the following county candidates: Sheriff and tax collector—J. R. Jenkins, D. R. Covey, and Roy E. Reeder; county and district clerk—Maggie Williams, and W. A. Clark; county treasurer—George E. Martin, and W. M. Stephenson; assessor—T. A. Holler, S. C. Keen, and M. J. Taylor; precinct No. 1 commissioner—T. C. Smith, J. B. Moore, Dick Simpson, Charles Nunnally, J. V. Burdett; precinct No. 2—Bert E. Massingill, H. D. Beal; precinct No. 4—H. F. Ainsworth, W. R. Drum, L. A. Pearce; county judge, and J. L. Weathers, precinct No. 3 commissioners, are unopposed.

relatives in Colorado. To make matters worse, their decrepit model-T Ford coupe had refused to go any further.

A small sum of money was raised to buy medicine for the woman, a few parts for the motor were procured at Brock's wrecking yard, and the sorry-looking party got out of town late Wednesday afternoon.

Whether or not their story was true (and it seems that several versions of a hard luck story were told) the people were pitiful examples of the evils of drifting about over the country among strangers. They seemed to have no definite idea as to where they were headed, and the relatives they claimed to be trying to reach must have been very distant relatives indeed, as sometimes they were brothers and again uncles or cousins.

At any rate, they were ragged, dirty, hungry, penniless sick and among strangers and we strangers are hardly able to care for our own families, to say nothing of transients. Personally, we felt like telling the folks that they should have stayed where they at least had shelter, rather than pitch camp in the lee of a signboard. Not that we are heartless or unfeeling at the privations of others, but rather that we are advocates of the idea that it is almost foolish to drift around over the country during times like these. If the depression were sectional instead of nationwide, there would be every reason to try to find work, but, as one of our citizens replied to the remark that it looks like a good time to leave. Where are you going?"

This Man Had Faith Lost 24 Pounds

"Last November I weighed 192 lbs. Today, (February 5th, 1932) I am down to 168 lbs. and full of pep all day long—since using Kruschen I have not had to use the laxative that was customary."—Theo. A. C. LaFleur, Providence, R. I.

What do you think of this—you men who doubt—you stay fat—because you want to think that nature made you that way.

You're all wrong—most fat men were made fat because of their ability to handle a knife and fork in a business like manner.

Be frank with yourself. Are you too timid to take a safe, harmless conditioner that not only takes off surplus fat but is so helpful that it makes you feel years younger?

To reduce safely take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets. Kruschen is sold by druggists the world over. A jar that costs but a trifle will last four weeks—but be sure you get Kruschen—your health comes first.

LOYALTY

Loyalty is one of the most essential of the virtues; likewise one of the rarest. Just now we have in mind community loyalty—or the lack of it. In the building and growth of towns, and countries and cities, or their failure to grow as they should, loyalty or disloyalty is often the determining factor.

There is one city in this region that has been pushed ahead by the loyalty of its inhabitants, nearly all of whom are constant boosters. To declare that it is the best city in all the land because a habit with the citizens there many years ago. The children of the last two or three generations have been "raised" on this brand of yeast. They are all puffed up with the idea that it is the best city in existence and they couldn't believe otherwise if they tried. They do not look elsewhere for what they want, believing it can be bought in their own city. The spirit of loyalty is a passion with most of them. There may be others who practice patronizing home enterprises with only a selfish object in view, but they also are helping to build their town. No great mental capacity is required to realize that all money spent in our community helps everybody in it.

sooner or later, directly or indirectly. In the smaller towns the complaint is sometimes heard that the local merchants do not carry what the people want. Again, we hear that prices are lower somewhere else (at special sales probably) and some people make the trip to get something at a slight reduction, not counting the cost of the trip and the time. A saturation of community loyalty would change all this and the merchants would have in stock what the people want. Nothing would please the merchants better than to know the home people would buy from them the same things they order by mail or make trips to purchase in other towns.

The merchants need to do their part also. Oftentimes they have in stock the identical articles that people want, and go elsewhere because they do not know it. We were asked have them in stock and could not recently where a certain line of articles could be found. We did not know because we had never had occasion to inquire at any of several stores that might be expected to recall having noticed them on display. They had not been advertised.

If the merchants can find out what the people want they will keep it in stock. If the people can learn without too much waste of time and energy what the merchants have, for sale they will buy from them more and oftener than they otherwise do. The habit of patronizing home people may be acquired in this way, along with a development of the spirit of loyalty to home.

TEXAS RAILROADS PAY SUBSTANTIAL PART OF STATE'S TAX BURDEN

● Taxes is one of the large fixed charges connected with the operation of Texas railroads. From the standpoint of the welfare of state, counties and communities, railroad taxes are of much importance. This annual obligation must be met from the earning capacity of the rail carriers.

In 1931 the railroads of Texas paid a total of $8,303,108.47 in federal, state, county, municipal and miscellaneous taxes. The distribution of this amount to the various tax funds is shown below:

	Amount Paid	Per Cent of Total Tax Paid
U. S. Government	$ 61,270.13	.74
State	1,954,435.47	23.54
County	1,146,669.97	13.81
Roads	1,699,764.15	20.47
Improvement Districts	175,606.87	2.12
Schools	1,437,152.74	17.31
Cities	1,792,994.61	21.59
Miscellaneous	35,214.59	.42
Total	$8,303,108.47	100.00

It can thus be seen that railroad taxes represent an important and indispensable factor in the economic life of our state. They help in a large measure to pay the expense of our state, county and municipal government, build and maintain highways, pay the cost of drainage and other improvements, and support our schools and educational institutions.

It is the desire of Texas railroads to extend this helpfulness to Texas counties and communities in carrying this heavy burden. However, their ability to meet these obligations as they become due depends upon their ability to earn sufficient revenue with which to pay this and other heavy expenses connected with their operation.

● RAILROADS HAVE ALWAYS SHOULDERS THEIR SHARE OF RESPONSIBILITIES TO THE NATION, THE STATE, AND THE CITIES AND COMMUNITIES THEY SERVE, AND WILL CONTINUE TO DO SO TO THE EXTENT OF THEIR ABILITY.
