Country Editor

Over the week end we attended the last rites of our last surviving paternal aunt in Ft. Worth.

And TRAFFIC. Ten years have made a lot of changes in Ft. Worth. We got on the Express-Way and it nearly took an act of the Governor to get us out of the middle lane of the three lane traffic with the regulated speed of 50 miles per hour. Then going into Dallas we were quite foxy and picked a dark street out of the traffic belt to have the street empty onto Elm street at 9 p. m. in the theatre district. Talk about traffic. Our hair turned another shade whiter. We felt like giving Big D back to the Indians.

Had quite a talk-feast with a maternal cousin who is the wife of a Baptist minister in a small Louisiana college town. We wanted her ideas on desegregation from the point of view of one living in the so-called "black-belt" of the Deep South. Her opinion was to use a plan of enrolling the first grade Negro students ONLY and follow thru with normal promotion.

In 12 years the first Negro non-segregated student would graduate. Current 2nd graders and up of Negro students would continue until graduation in the present Negro schools. Locally our very small Negro population offers no big problem (we hope) but South Texas and the Old South have a real humdinger social problem.

Yes, our cousin has a lively and dainty ten year old daughter but as a Christian she believes desegregation is in line with Christ's teachings.

Another interesting racial side-light is that the Board of Deacons of the above-mentioned Church in Louisiana voted to accept into membership any and all Negro members. To date no Negroes have united as that race have churches of their own. The next fifty years will prove very interesting... and here's a hope we'll be around at 94.

Mr and Mrs. Robt. Burdett and Mr and Mrs. Geo. Burdett returned from an extended fishing trip to Possum Kingdom. Bob said they caught all the fish they could eat during the trip. Bob told of a new fishing device—the Yo-Yo. The device can be tied to tree limb and when Mr. Fish takes the bait, the Yo-Yo will feed out or take in line until Mr. Catfish catches in his chips. In years gone by we used a floating syrup jug to get the same results.

CAR MISHAP FRIDAY
B. L. Davis escaped any serious injury Friday afternoon in a car mishap in the east part of town. His principle injury was a cut lower lip and bruises. Mr. Davis was driving a passenger car of C. N. Hoffman on a work call for H. and S. firm here. The other car was the property of Lester Parker driven by his teen-age son.

Both cars were insured.

Super - Jets

Two super-jets took off Sunday from the Nazarene airstrip. They expect to remain aloft for seven weeks, landing on Pentecost Sunday.

The captain of the first jet called the Star Gazer, is Mrs. Paulyne Eaker. She will fly with her crew of thirty-one.

The captain of the second jet, called the Strata-Cruiser, is Wendell McClendon. He also has a crew of thirty-one.

These jets will attempt to surpass each other in altitude. Points will be given for calls made, visitors attending Sunday School, and various other items. Each point amounts to several feet of altitude, and the jet that reaches the highest point will be the winner.

Come and watch our progress.

VA Quiz
 Q - I pay my GI insurance premiums once a year in advance. If I die, what will happen to the money that has not yet been applied to premiums?
 A - The money, earmarked for premiums beyond the month during which death occurred, will be refunded to your beneficiary in lump sum.
 Q - I understand that veterans disabled in service after January 31, 1955, may receive disability compensation at peacetime rates -- 80 percent of the wartime scale. Are there any conditions under which these veterans may get the full wartime rate?
 A - Yes. Disabilities resulting directly from armed conflict, or from extra hazardous service including service under conditions simulating war, may warrant compensation payments at the full war time rate.
