Former O'Donnell Girl Tahoka Football Queen

Last week's Lynn County News stated that Miss Doris LaVerne Lawler had been elected football queen for Tahoka High School, and that she would be crowned at the game between Tahoka and Post today (Wednesday). The young lady made her home here with her parents for a number of years and was one of the most popular girls in her set here. We join with other friends in congratulating her upon the honor which has been awarded her.

Girl Killed as Stove Explodes

Explosion of a gasoline heater in the home of Mrs. R. D. Spruiell of Tahoka was fatal Saturday to Miss Madeline Stiles of Southland, a guest in the home, and three members of the Spruiell family sustained burns of a serious nature.

Neighbors rushed the injured to the office of a Tahoka physician for emergency treatment, and a Harris & Applewhite ambulance from that place took the four on to a Lubbock sanitarium for further relief. The accident occurred between ten-thirty and eleven o'clock, Miss Stiles dying shortly after eight o'clock that evening. Others injured were Mrs. Spruiell and her infant son, Franklin D., and her daughter, Geneva Spruiell. The residence was completely destroyed.

Cotton Report of NOV. 1st Is Given

Texas ginned 2,203,251 bales of cotton this season prior to November 1, against 1,903,142 prior to November 1 last year, according to a report issued by the Bureau of Census recently. This shows an increase of more than 400,000 bales or nearly 20 per cent over last year. This does not necessarily mean that the crop this year will be 20 per cent larger than the crop last year, however, for possibly picking was further advanced on November 1 this year than it was last year.

South Plains counties are making a good showing for this stage of the harvesting. The crop is always from two to four weeks later than it is in Central and East Texas.

On the Plains, Lubbock county was again leading. Lynn county comes second with Dawson close third. Ginnings for counties in this section of the state are given below for both 1935 and 1936 up to November 1. Ginnings since the first of November has probably boosted these totals from 35 to 50 per cent at the present date.

Ginning reports by counties were:

County	1936	1935
Bailey	6,056	3,578
Briscoe	863	2,745

County Buys New Grader for Roads

The county has tentatively purchased a new grader for commissioners precinct No. 4. It was delivered Wednesday and Jim Izard is trying it out this week on his roads.

If the machine proves satisfactory, it will become the county's property.

Miss Susan Mae Laird of Lubbock has been the guest of Miss Ruth Roberts this week.

Miss Mary Harden of Slaton has been the guest of Mrs. William Cooper this week.

Buy Texas' First 1937 Ford V-8

When Faye Cotton, known as Texas Sweetheart No. 1 and star of the Fort Worth Casa Manana Revue, saw the new 1937 Ford V-8's, she became Texas Owner No. 1. In these photographs she is shown, above, in a close-up pointing proudly to her new Ford, and in the lower photograph she is shown about to take off on her first trip in the new model, a de luxe Ford touring sedan, delivered to her in Dallas.

Building Plans At Tech Are Prepared

Plans and specifications for a meats laboratory structure and bee culture house at Texas Technological college are being given to contractors and bids will be opened December 1, by 10 a. m. W. T. Gaston, college business manager, said Monday.

Both will be frame structures. The meats laboratory building will be 20 by 38 feet, containing cooler room, sales room, machinery and slaughter space. Bee house will be 18 by 20 feet with a basement 7 feet deep.

The board of directors authorized the construction at a meeting Sept. 20 at the college.

Rudy Lee Middleton Dies Wednesday

Rudy Lee, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Middleton, passed away in a Lubbock hospital about midnight Tuesday, bringing to an end several weeks of illness and suffering which all care and nursing had not been able to help. As we go to press, funeral services are being held at the home of Mrs. Middleton's brother, Roy Gibson, and interment will be made in the city cemetery. Rev. M. R. Pike is in charge of the rites. While only intimate friends are with the family, the business hours are closed during the funeral hour and the entire community has joined with the bereaved parents in mourning their great loss.

The baby, who was about five months old, became seriously ill some four weeks ago, and had been taken twice to Lubbock to the hospital for treatment. Because of his happy disposition and friendliness, the little fellow had become a favorite throughout the community, so that his passing is a personal sorrow to everyone who has known him.

With his parents, he is survived by a brother and sister, Buddy and Ruby Lois Shook, his maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gibson, and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Middleton, and a number of other relatives.

The Index joins with other friends in extending heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved parents and family.

Tasty Moore spent Sunday in Post.

Real Estate Showing Considerable Activity

C. J. Elach, local real estate dealer and representative of First Federal Building & Loan Association, reports quite a bit of activity in real estate circles during the past few weeks, with still more in the offing.

Charles Clemens has purchased the home quarter of the old Burleson farm just south of town, the deal having been closed within the week. This place has been occupied for the past three years by the McCrackens. We were unable to learn where they will locate this coming year, but sincerely hope that we are not to lose this splendid family.

T. B. Franklin purchased the other quarter of the same farm, and we understand plans to improve it so that he may make it the family home. Both the Clemens and Franklin families are long time residents of this territory, and we are indeed happy that they have bought permanent homes in our midst.

In city property, the former D. A. Edwards residence has been purchased recently by Mrs. Mary Blocker, and is now occupied by the Blocker family. This is an attractive and convenient small house, near enough to the business district and to school to make it their home. The Blockers have been in the grocery business here for the past two years and have tried on one or two previous occasions to buy a home here, but had not found just what they wanted until this place was put on the market.

COUNCIL MEETS

The Lynn county council held their regular meeting Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Officers to serve next year were elected as follows: Chairman, Mrs. M. O. Canaday; Vice Chairman, Mrs. J. H. Kuykendall; Secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Garland Pennington; Reporter, Mrs. M. C. Brandon; Parliamentarian, Mrs. Lloyd Edwards. Members present were: Mesdames J. H. Kuykendall, Paul J. Lawson, R. W. Barton, G. A. Edwards, Bud Draper, M. C. Brandon, S. G. Anthony, I. M. Draper, A. L. Dunagan, Garland Pennington, M. O. Canaday, Lloyd Edwards, J. B. Edwards and J. R. Strain. Mrs. Rufus Slover was a visitor.

Duck Season Opens In Texas Today

Texas hunters, along with those of other states, may officially go in pursuit of ducks from today (Thursday) until Christmas Day, according to the hunting regulations for the year.

Our local Nimrods are warned, however, to remember that there are a few changes in regulations this year. Canvas backs and redheads are not to be shot at under any circumstances. Any person hunting ducks must have a 'duck stamp' which may be purchased from your postmaster for the sum of $1.00. The bag limit is 10 a day, and the hunter must not use a rifle nor shoot with a shotgun with more than three shells.

We understand that rains during the fall, which filled a number of our small lakes, and the good feed crop as well, have been instrumental in luring several sizeable flocks (is that the correct term?) into Lynn and Dawson counties. However, due to the fact that wholesale slaughter of these birds during the past few years has led to a fear of their becoming as extinct as the proverbial dodo or roc, game wardens are preparing to patrol West Texas as never before.

So boys, when a duck-hunting you go, you go to remember the dues. We can remember one occasion when some quail cost approximately $15 each.

LaGrone Implement Moves To Tahoka

Announcement is made this week by Mr. Elmer LaGrone, owner and manager of LaGrone Implement, local Minneapolis-Moline tractor dealer, that office of this firm in this territory will be moved from here this week, and will hereafter be located in the Wells building at Tahoka.

For the past year this firm has operated here most successfully and harmoniously with other O'Donnell business houses, and the removal of the office on direct advices from the company itself will be much regretted here. Mr. and Mrs. LaGrone have lived in this section since 1930, and they have always been considered among the substantial folks of our community.

The Index extends best wishes to everyone connected with the firm for good business in both ends of the county during 1937. The O'Donnell territory will be served out of the Tahoka office. Mr. LaGrone states.

'Here Comes Arabella' Is Well Received

'Here Comes Arabella', with Miss Beverly Wells in the title role, was presented in the high school auditorium last Thursday evening under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, and was most enthusiastically received.

Luther Dodd played opposite Miss Wells in the leading male role, and reflected great credit upon himself and the coach, Miss Elyda Williams. All the speaking parts were well played, and the chorus groups were entered again and again. Indeed, 'Arabella' has been declared the best play ever staged here, in every respect. We could not secure an exact statement of proceeds, but understand that the ladies were more than pleased with the financial aspect of the project.

School Board Declares Holidays

At a regular meeting of the board of trustees Monday night it was voted to give Thursday and Friday for the Thanksgiving holiday and from December 18th through the 28th for the Christmas holidays.

Crop Insurance

Crop insurance was advocated in the recent campaign by both candidates for the Presidency, and seems destined to become the next interesting development in farm legislation. In the Progressive Farmer we find this explanation of the most favored plan as it would apply to cotton:—

"The plan most favorably regarded by Secretary Wallace calls for the payment of both premiums and losses in kind. That is, the cotton farmer would pay his premium in cotton and receive cotton to cover his losses.

"At present the plan calls for the payment to the farmer up to 75 per cent of his average yield over a six year period. For example—

"If a farmer made 120 bales of cotton during a six year period of an annual average of 20 bales, he would be insured against an annual loss of anything less than 75 per cent of 20 bales which is 15 bales.

"Skeptics say that 60 per cent of the average production is the highest protection that can be given without loss to the government. Others say that six years is too short a period upon which to base calculations. Secretary Wallace's answer to these objections is that even if the government does lose money on crop insurance, it will be cheaper than relief.

"Another objection is that crop insurance would discourage sound farm practices, the farmer depending on crop insurance rather than good seed, fertilizer, etc., to make an average yield. However, in as much as the farmer would be insured up to only 75 per cent of his average yield, there would still be the incentive to go ahead and make the best possible yield. A farmer would hardly be satisfied with 15 bales when good farming is likely to bring him 20 or even 25 bales."

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Baldrige spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miles, also visiting other relatives and friends.

Miss Estelle Black, member of the grade school faculty, has as her guest this week her sister, Fontella Carruth of Lubbock.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

Denton, Nov. 24.—Dresses have gone 'swing time'. Now that the country has wholeheartedly accepted the new rhythm in popular music, fashion has stepped in to follow suit, and the resulting swing frocks are just the answer to a young woman's request for something semi-dressy.

They are especially good for afternoon parties, teas, or informal gatherings of 'the crowd'. For the cocktail hour, you can add a lame blouse. In one shop I saw a gold lame blouse with squared shoulders accented by unusually large leg of mutton sleeves. The blouse buttoned down the front with self covered buttons, and a peplum effect was secured by a narrow gathered band at the front and back waistline. This blouse is worn on top of a six goared black file crepe skirt.

Girls at Texas State College for Women (TCW) are especially fond of a 20-goared skirt worn with a red velvet fitted jacket bound in black grosgrain ribbon. The jacket fastens with ribbon covered buttons.

Afternoon frocks in swing time are made of file crepe or taffeta. One model has a wide band of silk rick-rack braid around the circular skirt, and this solid work is also carried out in the fullness of the leg o' mutton sleeves. A tiny egg shell satin collar and six gold buttons down the waist front are used for trimming.

Elaborately appliqued yokes and sleeves of filmy marquisette glorify many swing frocks. The skirts are simple with not too much flare and smartness is achieved through the unusual waist designs.

NEW USES FOR COTTON SEEN IN HIGHWAY EXPERIMENTS

An experiment undertaken by the Texas Highway Department in an effort to reduce the cotton surplus that gutted the market several years ago is being adopted in many states as part of the program designed to utilize more fully the South's greatest agricultural crop. More than 500 miles of highways in 21 states are being constructed with cotton fabric reinforcement, according to a report to the Southern Chemurgic Conference.

What is believed to be the first piece of cotton reinforced asphalt paving in the nation was laid by the Texas Highway Department in Gonzalez county in 1931. Results of the experiment still are underway and effectiveness of the cotton fabric is being periodically observed by Highway Department engineers.

The experiment has spread to airports and cotton fabric is now being used in constructing runways. The Army field at McClellan, Ala., and the Newark, N. J., airports have taken the lead in the movement in this line. Highway engineers are also experimenting to ascertain the practicality of extending the use of cotton fabric to other items of road construction, notably to ditch work.

C. K. Everett, manager of the new uses section of the Cotton Textile Institute, estimated the potential outlet for cotton in road construction at between 5 and 6 million bales.

Important possibilities are recognized in the application of the cotton fabric principle to the construction of roadside ditches, terrace runoff ditches in soil erosion control projects, malaria control ditches and irrigation ditches, in all of which a reinforced asphalt lining is coming to be regarded as not only a necessity but highly economical. Cotton magazine eliminates the likelihood of ditch lining failures as a result of weeds forcing their way through. It minimizes, if it does not eliminate entirely, the cracking which speeds the breakdown of ordinary unreinforced asphalt ditch surface.

While experiments are going forward in the highway field, research in other enterprises also is being undertaken to find new cotton uses. Dr. A. B. Conner, director of the agricultural experiment station at Texas A. & M., has urged the establishment of a national research institute to intensify this study.

Dr. Conner visualizes the time when cotton stalks may be used for insulating material, wall board, paper articles of various kinds and rayon, while the lower fibers might be used in cordage and coarser textiles. The burs might be pressed into chemicals or fertilizers while there is strong probability of success for experiments being made to process cotton seed oil into an unsaturated or quick drying paint oil.

In Dr. Conner's opinion, the time may not be far off when research into the possibilities of cotton and its by-products will result in its being used as food for human consumption.

Twelve hundred performers—Boy Scouts and girls from the South Plains Area council—will be presented Friday and Saturday nights at Texas Tech Gym, Lubbock, in the first annual Boy Scout circus of the area.

Leading to the initial performance at 8 o'clock Friday night, scouts are to perfect their acts during the week and gather at the gym Friday morning at 10 o'clock for a final rehearsal.

Hundreds of general admission tickets at 25 cents each have been sold by scouts and adult committee members during the past three weeks.

Texas who purchase Christmas Seals this year will assist their state and local tuberculosis associations in a concerted drive planned for 1937 to reach more people between the ages of 15 and 45, where tuberculosis is still the number one cause of death.

HEALTH SAFEGUARDS CAUSE FOR THANKS

"A high standard of community health is the best asset that a state can possess," said Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, in speaking of the progress made in public health education since the first Thanksgiving Day was observed by our forefathers.

"The State of Texas has much to be thankful for in this Centennial year," he said, "in the steadily increasing interest and cooperation of the people of the State in matters pertaining to sanitation and control of communicable diseases."

"The control of water and milk supplies, sewage disposal, vaccination against smallpox, immunization against diphtheria, food inspection, housing regulations, and many other measures have been spectacularly successful in reducing the lethal power of a number of maladies that formerly took a terrific annual toll."

"Responsibility for success and advancement of a public health program lies not with the health department primarily, but with the people who support and encourage the communitarian effort put forth and who apply in their own individual lives the knowledge which they have acquired."

"It follows that the individual citizen, to reap the benefits of public health administration, must be more concerned about his well-being than he is today. His program should involve a conscientious effort to abide by the living rules prescribed by nature, as well as a clearer conception of the value of a physician's services from a disease prevention standpoint."

INVESTIGATORS BUSY RECHECKING APPLICANTS

Austin, Nov. 24.—Investigators were busy this week throughout the 254 Texas counties re-investigating present old age assistance recipients granted aid under the old pension law, reported Acting Director Orville S. Carpenter, of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission today.

"No one will be removed from the rolls until a thorough re-investigation of his case has been made," he said. Last week Carpenter explained that there would be no arbitrary or mechanical cut in the rolls but that each case would be studied and re-investigated upon its own merits before any action was taken.

"Re-investigations are now being made in each district of all people on the rolls who possess income or property."

BELIEVED TO BE ONLY WOMAN FOOTBALL COACH

El Paso, Nov. 23.—Miss Edith Schell, recent graduate of the College of Mines and Metallurgy here, a branch of The University of Texas, is believed to be the only woman football coach in the State.

"But out of a clear sky, I was told that if I didn't take over the football and playground work at Bailey, the boys would have no team this year, and in fact no football at all," she explained.

"So now she spends one-fourth of the school day teaching English, health and spelling, and the remainder of her time supervising playground work and coaching football."
