The Trouble With Spring

The trouble with spring is that it is a season when most people's thoughts turn naturally to picnics and exploratory sojourns into the great outdoors.

At this time of year, such a turn of mind could, unless care is taken, mean exposure to the fever-laden bite of a tick with a big name.

In scientific circles, one of these pernicious little parasites goes by the name of Ornithodoros turicata. It will bite you without ever knowing it, so painless is his attack. He fills so quickly before releasing his hold and dropping off that most of his victims never know they have provided him with a blood meal.

He belongs to the soft shelled tick family, and is the most important transmitting agent of relapsing fever, a tropical disease well-known in Texas.

State Health Department laboratory specialists have added many new facts relating to relapsing fever. The relating to relapsing fever. The strange disease. It has been endemic in Venezuela for many years and has become all too prevalent in the United States in recent years.

There is as yet no serum known to be effective against relapsing fever. While it usually can be successfully treated when identified, its diagnosis is often difficult. Many cases run their full course without the miserable victim ever knowing what caused their distress.

Soft-shelled ticks usually inhabit caves, and old abandoned buildings, while their hard shelled counterparts stick to the woods and fields.

And so wherever you go on that picnic or whatever you do to commune with nature, have fun; but be careful of those ticks.

Joe Kirkpatrick left this week for San Antonio, Austin, Waco and other points visiting friends and relatives.

Veterans Questions And Answers

Q I meet all the eligibility requirements for training under the Korean GI Bill. However, I've recently gone back on active duty. May I take correspondence course under the program, even though I'm now in uniform?

A No. Even though you meet all the eligibility requirements, the law requires you to be a civilian when you take your training. Veterans back on active duty may not train under the law.

Q Is there any time limit I have to meet in starting training under the Korean GI Bill? I have just received my discharge.

A You must begin your training within two years of the date of your discharge. Veterans discharged before August 20, 1952, however must begin by August 20, 1954

Q I have quite a large number of bill I'm trying to pay. One of my creditors is getting impatient and has threatened to take over my disability compensation until his bill is paid off. Can he do this?

A No. Disability compensation payments as well as all other VA benefit payments are exempt from claims of creditors, under the law. Q Is a service connected disability incurred since Korea, enough in itself to entitle me to vocational training under Public Law 16? I have an honorable discharge.

A In addition you must have a need for training to overcome the handicap of your disability.

You Can't See It

"You can't see it- you can't smell it- you can't taste it and yet it can kill you," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, referring to carbon monoxide. A silent enemy, it strikes its victims in closed rooms, garages and cars where wood, coal, gasoline, or natural gas is burning.

Some victims of this silent poisoner knew their life was in danger. As others died, they may have realized that the killer was at hand but were helpless to do anything about it. They were so benumbed that they could not get out into the fresh air; they couldn't walk or even stand up.

Those who escape death, once this silent killer fills a closed room, garbage or automobile, are rescued by someone who discovers their plight.

Carbon monoxide is given off when wood, coal, gasoline or natural gas is burning, but not all the gas is burned. It's danger is greatest in cold weather because people tend to close their houses and cars so tight that no fresh air can circulate. When this happens, carbon monoxide accumulates to a dangerous concentration. It kills because it prevents the victim from getting enough oxygen.

To help prevent such deaths all stoves should be vented, kept heated rooms ventilated, do not leave gas heaters burning while you and your family are asleep, don't entirely close all the windows in your car and do not run your car in a closed garage.

Carl Sanders is home after having surgery on his appendix.

Oil Is Where You Find It

The greatest "treasure" hunt in history—one that overshadows the efforts of California's 49ers—is going on day and night. In America's deserts, mountains, plains, valleys—even its slimy sea bottoms—the search goes on ceaselessly at ever-increasing speed.

The "treasure" these prospectors seek is petroleum—oil to keep America's homes warm, the wheels of its vehicles and factories turning. Each year Americans demand additional vast quantities of oil, and each year an army of explorers toils to meet that demand, plus the additional quantities to build up the nation's proved reserves.

There is no magic formula for the discovery of petroleum. Like gold, it is "where you find it." Formulas that eliminate some of the guesswork have been developed, but it remains true that "only the drill can find oil." Four-fifths of all exploratory wells turn out to be dry holes. And only one well in 44 locates a profitable new field.

A whole host of scientists scour the countryside constantly for spots where oil is likely to be found. Geologists and other specialists make use of the most advanced scientific devices—such as the flying magnetometer and the seismograph — to chart underground rock structures.

Research goes on continually to refine the existing devices and to adapt the spectograph, X-rays, radar and atomic isotopes to underground exploration. Such things will be needed in the exploration of the newest frontier—the continental shelf that extends into the seas from a few to several hundred miles from the shores of the U. S. This area of ten million square miles may contain the greatest petroleum resources yet encountered.

Tidewater areas of the United States already are being developed. Extensive surveys have been carried out by plane, by boat, and even by diving bell off the coasts of Texas, Louisiana, Florida and California. Numerous wells, some as much as 30 miles off-shore, have been drilled from huge floating platforms. And the bays and swamps of Louisiana are being explored by crews in boats and in motorized marsh buggies having rubber tires half again as tall as a man.

So far, the U. S. has consumed almost two trillion gallons of oil. So far, explorers have located over a trillion gallons more and earmarked it for future use. Now, they are hunting for an additional two trillion gallons which lie somewhere beneath our soil.

SWAMPY JUNGLES present no barrier in the search for oil.

Sewing for a Child Can Be Profitable

While economists try to figure a way to control inflation, many mothers have already taken matters into their own hands to stretch the clothing dollar. With more than 18,000,000 pre-teen-age children in the country, ranks of home seamstresses are increasing daily.

There's creative satisfaction in converting fabric into dainty or practical garments for work and play. There is, also, better fit, sturdier construction in clothes that mothers make.

If you haven't hopped on the sewing bandwagon yet, remember that in making children's garments for your first projects, you'll eliminate many of the fitting problems which arise when you sew adult clothing.

Small garments require little fabric and you'll often find these on a remnant counter. Many find that leftover yardage from other projects can be enough for a little blouse, skirt or pinafore.

Make Pattern Adjustments

In selecting patterns for children, local sewing center experts advise gauging the size to use by the child's chest measurement rather than by the child's age. Then, too, as when sewing for child or adult, the pattern is to be fitted to the figure and adjustments made before cutting the pattern from the material.

Most patterns for children need shoulder, waist and length adjustment, even though the pattern fits fairly well as to size.

Achieve Growing Room

Fabric allowance for "growing girls" is easily achieved by placing tucks on the inside of the dress just above the waistline and again at the hemline. Stitches for the tucks should be long and loose so they can be removed easily when the time comes.

Old hemlines of let-down frocks can be hidden with decorative trim such as rick-rack.

Wanted: experienced farm hand, good wages for man who will work: if you do not want to work, don't apply. 2101 8th st. Lubbock, Phone 2-0516

 narily fine daylighting in all classroom and general areas, after Darien schoolmen reported they never were bothered with the kind of vandalism that makes it necessary to have 100 per cent replacement of window glass every two years in some metropolitan centers.
 As an added feature, the classroom windows have fixed metal louvers to cut out sky glare. The result is one of the most perfectly daylighted schools in the nation.

of the season!

The 1953 Ford leads all other cars in bringing you the car you've always wanted for the money you can afford to pay. It's America's "Worth More" car . . . worth more when you buy it, worth more when you sell it.

NEVER BEFORE has a car enjoyed such wide acclaim as Ford during the past few years. And this year, with a hull-tight Crestmark Body that's the style-setter, a new ride that's unbelievably smooth, a choice of high-compression V-8 and Six that's the envy of its field and a total of 41 "Worth More" features, the 1953 Ford steps even further out front to become the New Standard of the American Road. Ford keeps its value better than any other car, too. A check of used car dealers and owners will prove it. So join the swing to Ford. Take a Test Drive today.

All across America, the swing is to

MORE CHEVROLET TRUCKS IN USE THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

Recently published official registration figures for the last full year show that truck users in every single State bought more Chevrolets than any other make!

 Chevrolet trucks must be better, must enjoy solid advantages over other trucks. Such preference must rest on a firm foundation of good, sound value. And, of course, it does—as owners of Chevrolet trucks can testify.

 So before you buy any truck, see how much more Chevrolet trucks offer you. Stop in and see us soon. Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.

Work Hair Beauty Into Your Routine

When your hat comes off, and your hair is turned loose to bask in the warm, bright sunlight, it's important that your tresses be in top-notch condition for their Spring-time debut.

You say you have no time for hair glamour routine at a time when you're busy with a dozen housekeeping items like painting the closet, washing curtains and airing bedding. You can accomplish hair beauty while doing these other things if you use a system!

While you shampoo your locks or manicure your nails, think over the week's menus or shopping list. Then, while you do your other chores, a self-neutralizing home permanent can be processing.

Match Lotion to Hair

Select a self-neutralizing permanent which will give you a type of lotion to match your particular hair. There's a very gentle one for the easy-to-wave hair, or the color-treated or naturally curly hair. There's a super one for tresses which are resistant to waving and a regular lotion for normal hair.

On the day you plan to achieve hair beauty, set the alarm clock a little earlier for yourself so you can have a head start on the family. Include a shampoo with your shower or plan to wash the hair in basin or sink.

Starting the Wave

Now, lay out the supply of pin curlers, hair net and contents of your kit. Read the directions thoroughly. Next, block off the hair in the regular home permanent wave blocking pattern.

While the hair is still damp, start rolling the curls. Saturate each strand with waving lotion, slip on end papers and curlers. Once wound, you can forget about the hair for 30 minutes and get breakfast for the family.

Half an hour later finds you rinsing the curls briefly with clear water and towel blotting to out-law dripping. Slip a scarf on the head until your husband leaves, then substitute a hair net to hold the curls in place.
