

First O'Donnell Tri-County Picnic Successful

3000 Visitors Attend Two-Day Event

As they came to the picnic! From the south and the east, the south and west folks from Borden, Dawson, Lynn counties poured into O'Donnell Tuesday morning to attend the annual O'Donnell Tri-County picnic. While no accurate count of the crowd could be made, it was estimated that fully 3,000 persons in O'Donnell on the opening day.

Divergent Attractions

Initially, the crowd was divided, and boys were at the rodeo and, watching the antics of the goats, and many of the men were grooming their horses for the morning. During the afternoon, these diversions were the only attractions offered. However, however, found the ball and the baseball grounds, while still others moved through the woods and business houses.

O'Donnell Wins Game

The game between Wolfarth and O'Donnell was well attended, and the O'Donnell team suffered plenty of thrills for the score was rather one-sided, 3 to 1 in favor of O'Donnell. The game itself was really more hotly contested than would be indicated by the safe margin for the home team.

Candidates Speak

Tuesday evening had been set for the use of candidates for district offices, and the program was completely filled. The speaker was set up on the stand and was placed in the street to be viewed by several hundred persons and the school superintendent E. E. Gilbreath officiated, welcoming the speakers to O'Donnell. The speakers that their messages were heartily appreciated, and the microphone was turned to the candidates for Governor might be here in person would have representatives of these plans could not be carried. In any event, the evening program was well attended and the crowd so late that the program would have been somewhat disrupted.

Parker Asks Support In Sheriff's Race

B. L. Parker, sheriff of Lynn county and a candidate for re-election to that office, asks that we publish a final statement to our readers before the primary Saturday. His statement follows: TO LYNN COUNTY VOTERS: I have tried to see each of you individually to again solicit your vote and your influence, but, through press of official duties and the demands made by my work upon my time, I have not been able to make a house-to-house canvass of the county. If I have failed to see you, please know that it was only through lack of time that I missed talking to you in person, and take this as my request for your vote and your friendship, and your influence in the election.

Town Residents Asked To Vote Early Saturday

Judges in charge of the election Saturday are asking that all voters who live in town or near town make an effort to cast their votes early Saturday, before noon if possible. This is being done so that a tabulation of the results may be announced as soon as possible after the polls close. If everyone sits until five o'clock to vote, practically all the day's work will be left undone until the last hour, according to W. L. Gardener, presiding judge.

Dances Well Attended

The dances were open during the week, and both halls were filled with people. Mrs. A. G. Barnard of the town to play in a building on the side of the square, and the band brought an orchestra from the dance was held on the west side of the square.

Political Campaigns Nearing Finish

Before another Index is in the hands of readers, the 1934 Democratic primary will have passed into history, and the fortunate winners of the first campaign will be girding themselves for the run-off campaign. The Republican primary will also have been held, this having been necessary because the Republican candidate for governor in 1932 polled more than 100,000 votes. Competition in Republican ranks, however, was hardly as spirited or as lengthy as in the Democratic circles, but complete state Republican ticket is in the field.

Run-Off August 25

Those candidates who do not receive a majority in Saturday's primary election will be forced into the run-off on August 25, with the next high man. So far, most of our county races are "just anybody's." Campaigning in several of the races has been hot and heavy for the past two weeks, and every man is driving far and fast, talking earnestly and talking a lot as the last week passes.

Negroes Barred

The question of the negro vote in the primaries has been of little importance or interest in West Texas, and most of our hometown colored population think the white race rather silly. As one of them expressed it: "Why good Lawd, Miss, us niggers wouldn't know how to vote if we had a ballot stakin' us right in de face." However, the decision handed down Friday by the Texas Supreme court ruling that the party is clothed with full authority to bar negroes from the primary elections was of considerable interest and importance in the southern and eastern portions of the state where the colored population is greater and where colored property owners are not a rarity.

Candidates Speak Here

Most of the state, district, and county candidates got in their last word to O'Donnell folks Tuesday and Wednesday evening when they addressed the crowds gathered for the picnic. Well folks, it won't be long now, and may the best man win.

Mrs. T. A. Harris Buried Thursday

Mrs. T. A. Harris, sister of A. W. Gibbs, and well-known resident of this territory for many years, passed away shortly before noon last Wednesday at Lubbock Sanitarium. Funeral services were conducted at the Church of Christ at Tahoka at ten o'clock Thursday morning, with Elder R. P. Drennon officiating. Remains were laid to rest in the cemetery there.

It will be remembered by the many friends of the family that Mrs. Harris has been in poor health since a fall last winter, when her hip was broken. A long stay in the hospital then, and continued ill-health had resulted in a complication of diseases. She was taken back to the sanitarium a week before her death, for an operation, but was too weak to stand the shock.

Mrs. Harris was born in Nolan county on January 8, 1893. Later her parents came to Lynn county, and here she was married to T. A. Harris in 1908, so that she and her family have been closely identified with the entire growth and development of our county.

She had for many years been a faithful member of the Church of Christ, and as a loving and intelligent wife and mother, a thoughtful and considerate neighbor, and a useful and worthy member of her community, she had no superior. Her death was a genuine loss and grief to the community at large as well as to her immediate family.

Surviving here are the husband, T. A. Harris; one son, Valton Harris, and his wife, of the Joe Bailey community; one daughter, Miss Velma Harris; two brothers, A. W. Gibbs of this place and Frank Gibbs of California; and two sisters, Mmes. Pearl and Ella Gleastine of Hermleigh.

The index joins with the community in extending deepest sympathy to the family on the loss of this wonderful wife and mother.

559 Poll Taxes Paid; Town Folks Urged To Vote Early

Lynn county as a whole will probably cast one of the largest votes in her history when the candidates for office are thinned out Saturday in the Democratic primary.

O'Donnell with 559 paid poll taxes is one of the largest boxes in the county this year. North Tahoka is second with 434 votes, and South Tahoka third with 411.

Vote Early

W. L. Gardener and Ed Cook, appointed judges for the election in the O'Donnell precinct, are urging asking that everyone make an effort to cast their ballots early, so that tabulations for the box may be ready for publication soon after the polls close at seven o'clock.

Especially are residents of the town asked to cooperate, the more leaving the afternoon voting for those who come in from surrounding communities. Through this cooperation, results of the voting here can be announced before nine o'clock, the judges believe.

NRWR Project Is Delayed Through Shortage of Funds

R. P. Maddox of Tahoka, chairman of the Lynn county Relief Board, received a telegram Tuesday from J. B. Keely, assistant engineer at Austin, stating that road work in this county has been delayed because of lack of funds.

Mr. Keely did not say when it was expected that those funds will be available, nor was Judge Maddox in a position to make a statement in this regard. However, it is hoped that some money will be on hand before many more days.

Mr. Keely's telegram was as follows: Lynn County Relief Board, R. P. Maddox, Tahoka, Texas.

Delegates To Short Course Charter Bus

A Greyhound bus has been chartered by Miss Sylvia Robb, county home demonstration agent, to convey the Lynn county delegation to the annual Short Course at A & M from July 30 to August 3.

The round trip fee charged by the bus company will be $5 per capita. Miss Robb reports that twenty-one had signed up last Wednesday, and that she is confident that at least 35 club women and 4-H girls will make the trip.

The party will leave Tahoka on Saturday, July 28, it is planned now, so as to be at A & M in plenty of time for the first of the program.

Club work under the direction of Miss Robb has made a wonderful advance with more interest and more enthusiasm displayed than has been for several years.

Clovis L. Vaughn
Makes Statement

In this final word to the people of Lynn county, I wish to say that I have tried to make a clean, fair fight for the office of County Superintendent. I have not knowingly or unwittingly sold nor written anything to injure the character or reputations of my opponents. I am not a politician. I have not promised special favors to any individual or group in exchange for support. Nothing but a fair, square deal to all. Rumors of a promise that I would not run for the place, or that I was put out by a certain group, or that I favor "busting up the little schools are ridiculous, invented for political purposes and without a foundation of fact.

Whatever education or ability I may have I owe to honest, hard-working parents, and to the fact that I was not raised in idleness but had to work hard for what I got. I lived on a farm until I was 24 (except for a year in the Army), and helped make a living for a family of six children on an 80-acre farm. For five years we ran a hay-baler and hauled hay for the public during the hay-by season to help pay the member's I chopped and sold post- oak wood to help pay my expenses at Decatur College where I did my high school work. I have been here on the South Plains since 1920. I have had 14 years of experience as a superintendent of that time as school superintendent I have been for the last three years head of the school at Now Home.

I completed work for a college degree several years ago, doing work at West Texas Teachers' College, Near Mexico Normal University, and at Texas Tech. I specialized in History and Public Education. I have had the new State required courses in School Administration and Supervision. I have been for several years a member of the National Education Association and of the State Education Association. I am a church member, lodge member, and a member of the Lynn County Club.

First Time For Public Office

This is the first time I have ever asked for a public office. I am asking for it now because I want to serve you as your County Superintendent and have an active part in helping to make the schools of Lynn county better. I need the office and feel qualified to meet its responsibilities in such a manner that no one will ever be the wiser. I believe we should give full support and encouragement to the Women's H. D. Clubs and 4-H Clubs. I have in the past cooperated in this work and shall continue to do so. I do not only appreciate the many assurances of support I have received, and the good words my friends are speaking for me in this campaign.

CLOVIS L. VAUGHN
Candidate for County Superintendent.

CONSUMERS SHARE PROCESSING TAX PROPORTIONATELY

That processing taxes on farm products included in the Agricultural Adjustment program are collected at the point of processing does not mean that the tax is levied proportionately on states where manufacturing plants are concentrated. Tax collections are heaviest in the large processing centers but the tax is spread over the entire crop of the product paid by consumers regardless of the location of the plant; where the tax is collected.

About 19 per cent of the total wheat processing tax has been collected in Minnesota, but Minnesota consumers pay no more than their share of the processing tax. Minneapolis is an important milling center and a large share of the tax, eventually paid by the buyers throughout the country, is collected at that point.

Similarly, Chicago is a processing center for hogs. Up to June 1 of this year, nearly 22 million dollars in processing taxes were collected in Illinois out of a total of 47 million dollars in hog taxes collected. North Carolina is a processing center for textiles and tobacco, so more than 12 million dollars of processing taxes of 128 million dollars on cotton, and 14 million dollars on tobacco processing taxes were collected in that state.

Processing taxes, shared proportionately by consumers over the entire country, add but a small fraction to the retail price, but bring a large percentage increase to the farmer. For instance the average price of bread that is attributable to the processing tax is only half a cent but the price for wheat including rental payments that is received by wheat farmers who share contracts has totaled. The cotton tax raises the price of a shirt only a nickel but, as a result of the tax, the price received by the noncontract cotton farmer has more than doubled.

Cards received this week from Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cabool state that they are in El Paso, on their way home. They have their vacation there. They have visited a number of western states, including Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and California. They expect to be at home the last of the week.

Manifold Ways in Which the Banks Are Serving the Nation

Handling Millions of Transactions Daily for Individuals, Corporations and State and National Governments—The Structure Strengthened and Deserving of Public Faith.

By FRANCIS MARION LAW, President American BANKERS ASSOCIATION

THE banks of the nation provide the machinery through which are daily many millions of checks and drafts, aggregating hundreds of millions of dollars. The banks are largely financing the Federal Government in its Recovery Program, involving the greatest peace-time expenditures ever known.

Likewise, the banks are largely financing the curricula needs of states, counties, cities, schools and other political subdivisions, all of which are continually to do with the daily affairs of all the people.

Each day banks throughout the country are making thousands of new loans and they are extending old loans for the accommodation of a vast number of borrowers, these borrowers being individuals, corporations and enterprises. Most of their loans being incident to agriculture, industry and trade in every community in the land.

The banks, through their trust departments, are continuing the work which they have faithfully carried on throughout the depression and are protecting trust funds placed in their care against the worst shrinkage of values ever known. Their activity in this service the banks are performing in connection with administering the affairs of widows and orphans.

The banks, through the medium of their savings and thrift departments, are furnishing safety for the accumulations of many millions of people and on this class of deposits reasonable interest is paid.

Banks are providing a service for the safe-deposit and safe-keeping of the possessions, papers and securities of a very large number of people.

The officers of banks are unflinchingly and unselfishly giving advice and counsel to the people of their communities, thereby to a considerable extent guiding their daily financial and fiscal affairs in their most difficult periods of disturbance.

The Banking Structure Strengthened

The banking structure as it is today has been greatly strengthened and the process of strengthening still goes on. Plans to put the country on a new banking system which we have had was not good enough, and I earnestly believe that an able and non-partisan commission should be set up to make a study of our banking system with a view to the end that a properly correlated banking system might be worked out and submitted for consideration to the next Congress.

Agood system would include rigid requirements as to management, intelligent and impartial supervision and, in due time, unification of supervision. Such a system composed of banks adequately capitalized, capably managed and conscientiously supervised, would eliminate any possibility of a recurrence of what has happened in the past four years.

The temporary Federal deposit insurance plan under which deposits in banks up to $2,500 for each account are insured has been in effect for six months and has proven a potent factor in restoring confidence. Only two small banks out of over fourteen thousand holding membership in the fund have failed during the period of the plan. The temporary plan has been extended very wisely for a year, and the amount of the insured deposit has been increased to $5,000, thus insuring in full over 95 per cent of the deposits in the country's banks.

Heard money is returning to the banks and deposits are showing a vast increase. Banks everywhere are super liquid, meaning that they have an unusually heavy proportion of their deposits in cash. There are two kinds of unemployment in this country—unemployment of men and unemployment of dollars. These men and these dollars must be put to work. Banks in strong and highly liquid condition are prepared to do this and to help their part in putting money to work.

Requisites for Grants of Bank Credit

That brings me to the all important question of the granting of credit by banks. Two things are necessary to increase bank credit:

- 1st. The banks must be liquid and confident in their own strength.
- 2nd. Business men must further their faith and regain confidence to the point where they will dare to think and plan ahead.

The first requisite is accomplished. The second is in process. Bank credits will increase and money will go to work as soon as business men get over their disinclination to borrow and this will be when they begin to see profits within their reach.

In past depressions the real movement of the expansion in bank credit has always come after general business recovery got under way and not before. The number of good credit risks is in increasing daily. Not in my time have good borrowers been so warmly welcomed at banks as they are today. Now, before there has been such competition for good loans, nor has the interest rate ever been so low. Every citizen who has money in the country today can get what money he needs.

A Return of Normal Lending
Banks are badly needing loans for revenue purposes, and now that confidence in banks has been largely restored they are naturally returning to a more normal lending policy. Before the bank holiday the confidence of the people was shattered. The thought uppermost in the minds of depositors was the safety of their funds. Withdrawals from banks became increasingly heavy and general. Under such circumstances the banker, mindful of his primary responsibility to his depositors, was more concerned with the collection of loans than in the making new loans. The result was a severe contraction of credit. For this the banker should not be blamed. He simply performed his manifold duty as a banker.

Bankers at this time are very properly viewing the credit needs of business with serious and sympathetic consideration. Applicants for loans are not asked to pay the price of the government bank credit and constructive and interested help on the part of the banker will bring about the making of many additional loans, without doing violence to any principle of good banking.

Certainly no one would advocate the making of unsecured loans by banks. The creation of a large volume of unsecured loans would not only weaken the banks but would also bring about the government bank credit and constructive and interested help on the part of the banker will bring about the making of many additional loans, without doing violence to any principle of good banking.

There are many needs for credit of kinds which are not within the province of commercial banks to meet. Likewise there are many types of credit, but there are also many types of credit facilities available—enough, it would seem, to meet the requirements of all classes of worthy borrowers.

The Duty of Every Banker

It is clearly the duty of every banker in the country to perform certain services which are essential to the well-being of the community.

1. To afford perfect safety for deposits.
2. To grant credit to those who deserve it.

In the matter of credits the public must in fairness remember that commercial banks are not lending their own money, but the money of their depositors, represented very largely by the savings and savings of the people. The people who own these deposits have accumulated them through years of labor and sacrifice, and in many cases the deposit represents their life. These depositors have the right to call for their money at any time, or at most on short notice. Deposits constitute a sacred trust.

There are certain basic principles in sound banking that must be held onto even in this period of change, but the progressive banker must be responsive to changing conditions and must be active in seeking proper opportunities to meet the sound needs of his customers.

In a recent message to Congress, the President said: "I am greatly confident that repeated promises that private investment and private initiative to relieve the government in the immediate future of much of the burden which it has assumed will be fulfilled."

Repeated assurance has been given by the Administration that there is no desire on its part to continue government lending a moment longer than is necessary and that at the earliest possible time the government will gladly give way to banks and other lending institutions. This, of course, is as it should be and we are all earnestly looking forward to the time when private initiative and enterprise shall have recovered its vitality sufficiently to throw government crutches away.

Numerous bank failures have created in the minds of many a grossly exaggerated idea as to the losses of depositors in closed banks. The record indicates that depositors in banks which closed in the past three years will realize on an average about 65 per cent of the dollar. That would mean a loss of 35 per cent. It has been estimated that during the depression the average value of investments in stocks lost about 90 per cent; bonds similarly declined approximately 60 per cent and commodities 65 per cent.

Deposits in banks have continued to be worth 100 per cent throughout the depression and 90 per cent of the bank deposits of the country were not affected.

Bankers Deserve Confidence
The country can have full confidence in the honor and competence of the bankers of the country. Out of the lessons of the last few years have come experience that will be valuable to the banker and to his community. It can be counted on to show a proper appreciation of his responsibilities and obligations and to take his place among those who are making earnest and a selfish effort to promote recovery. It is not infallible, but with every power that lies within him I believe he may be depended upon to fulfill his duty as a custodian of the people's money, as a dispenser of credit and as a valuing American Citizen imbued with sincere regard for the common good.

Local Ladies Attend Edith Club Meeting

Mmes. S. M. Clayton, R. C. Carroll, Roy D. Smith, A. F. Edwards, T. R. Toney, Waldo McLaughlin and Miss Eva Dell Harris were guests last Wednesday afternoon of the Edith Home Demonstration Club when its members held their Guest Day.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Owens, who, with her daughter, Mrs. Christine, is one of the leaders of club work in the county.

A pleasant afternoon was spent in games and club talk, with refreshments of cinnamon buns at the close of the afternoon. The ladies attending from here report this one of the most enjoyable afternoons they had ever spent, and that the Edith ladies are gracious hostesses.

Edith's notes: We agree with our club ladies. We had the pleasure of meeting several of these ladies at the political rally there Tuesday evening of last week, and also of hearing the program rendered by the 4-H girls, and we believe that the work of the Edith community as a progressive and as friendly as can be found anywhere in the world. We heartily enjoyed our brief visit that evening.

CLIMATE CONTROL WILL BE STARTED

Associated Press dispatches Sunday stated that an immediate beginning of the experiment in climate control that will bisect the mid-western drought area with a belt of trees 1000 miles long and 100 miles wide has been definitely decided upon by the Federal government.

An executive order, signed by the President on July 11, set aside $15,000,000 of emergency funds for preliminary work on the project.

Federal authorities have had the project under consideration for some time. Meanwhile, the drought has been growing worse, and Secretary Wallace announced Sunday that now was the time to begin.

Mmes. B. L. Davis and Everett made a business trip to Lamesa Monday afternoon.

We do not need to tell you anything about George Mahon if you have met him. Those who know him have found him to be a plain, hard-working West Texan who has shown himself worthy of public trust. wife or sweetheart of a mail robber and traded Dillinger for the freedom of her man and the reward offered, $15,000.

That she was unearthed by Sergeant Martin Zarkovitch of the East Chicago police who had taken a fur-look especially to get Dillinger for the murder of his friend, Policeman William P. O'Malley, who was slain by some of the Dillinger gang in a bank robbery.

$7.80 in His Pocket

Whether the loot of dozens of bank robberies has been hidden or whether Dillinger had been forced to spend the entire amount for protection and hideout was still a mystery Tuesday. Only $7.80 was found in his pockets when they were emptied by authorities. His body was claimed by his father and brother.

Light Showers Saturday; Heavy Sandstorm Sunday

The headline on this article is a very fair description of weather enjoyed (?) by West Texas this year. O'Donnell and territory, along with other parts of the South Plains had a very light sprinkling late Saturday afternoon, sufficient rain falling to run off roofs of residences and business houses and to lay the dust for a few hours. Slaton and the south part of Lubbock county had the heaviest shower.

A welcome drop in temperature was the greatest benefit brought by the moisture.

The sandstorm that blew up from the southeast about five o'clock Sunday afternoon was one of the worst that had ever been seen, even by old time residents of Lynn county. The wind traveled at a terrific pace and the atmosphere was so laden with sand, dust, and small gravel that it was impossible to see more than a yard or two. Traffic was halted in town, car lights were turned on, and pedestrians scurried for any available shelter, as the vanguard of the storm struck town.

Fortunate was only a half-hours duration the dust cloud sweeping on westward.

Other Storms Recalled
Sunday afternoon's dust storm brought to mind several others which have come up in a very similar manner. One most frequently mentioned was that which came from the north one Sunday afternoon in June of 1930. On both occasions the advance of the storm could be clearly discerned, the sand making a plainly defined wall as it advanced.

Another one mentioned also was that of Thanksgiving Day, 1926, when the wind blew all day with alarming force, and most of the town turned out to fight fires in the gin yards.

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

I have just learned that there is being circulated the report that I prepared and had published the article in the Texarkana Press of the capture and killing of Blackie Wheelus and two other criminals wanted in De-Queen, Arkansas, for bank robbery.

I want to say that I had nothing whatever to do with this article in the Press, nor with the telegram that has been sent and circulated, nor with the affidavits which have been issued. And I further state that the above mentioned report is a black lie.

I further want to state that I have never solicited, accepted or given money to anyone in any campaign.

Signed: R. H. (Halt) ROBINSON
Adv. paid by B. H. Robinson

NOTICE

It has come to my attention that certain parties are telling it over Lynn county that I put Mr. McPherson out as a candidate for the sheriff's office. This is false as I did not know that the gentleman was going to run until after he had come out in the papers. And it is also being circulated that the reason I am against a certain party in the Sheriff's race is that I asked him for a job and he refused me. Now listen, I have never asked any officer of Lynn county for a job, and that report is a falsehood. If you want to know why I take the stand in this race that I do ask me and I will tell you. It won't be no Arkansas tale either.

Signed: George Lightfoot

O'Donnell Team Loses Championship Chance

Losing a hard fought game to Morton Saturday afternoon, the local team also lost out in the annual Avalanche-Journal invitation baseball tournament by the margin of one score.

The local boys however, made a name for themselves in baseball circles of the South Plains, a reputation as clean players and a team which will be a formidable contender for championship honors next year.

Morton had some anxious moments in the game Saturday, winning by a score of 11-10 in the ninth inning. The Avalanche sports writer had the following to say of the game:

Each side scored in the opening frame, McGee getting a pass to start and going down on Jack Green's sacrifice. Big Rutherford, who has been hitting them far and running them fast to be so fat, had his troubles. A left handed hitter, he couldn't get to work on O'Donnell's two southpaw twirlers and wound up with a blank. He struck out in the first. Buck Green singled to score McGee.

Louie White came in with O'Donnell's first score on Molton's single.

Morton batted around in the second, and McGee, starting pitcher for O'Donnell, went to the outfield. Stevens, another young hander, replaced him. Vaughn singled to start the inning. Alreede, who played a good game at second base, also singled. Douglas Howell, recruited along with his brother Durwood, from Enochs, drew a pass to lead the bases. McGee laid one down on the altar for a score. Jack Green walked and the bases were still congested. Rutherford was hit, forcing in a run. Sturdivant, who pitched O'Donnell to a Friday victory, muffed one at short and two runs came in. Durwood, Howell, whose playing in left field was a sensation of the tournament, being credited with five put-outs and an assist, including a double play hit, and Stevens mounted the mound. Two were out and Vaughn sent a high one to right with the bases still packed.

O'Donnell cut the lead to a single run in the same frame, Sturdivant and A. Fredway coming home on an and a hit. Morton scored one in the third. O'Donnell took the lead in the third scoring three runs. Karr hit a home run, Lemmons singled, and Sturdivant hit a home run, scoring Lemmons. Burke then replaced Jenkins on the mound, for Morton.

Until the eighth, O'Donnell was held scoreless, while Morton went ahead with a run in the sixth and four in the seventh. O'Donnell rallied for a score in the eighth.

For O'Donnell in the ninth, Wells walked. He was forced at second by Lemmons. Sturdivant singled, Wells batted for Stevens fanned. Ritchey singled to score Lemmons, and then played with Sturdivant in a double steal that saw Sturdivant come home. Reeves was safe when the ball took a bad hop at third. The crowd was tense. A hit would have meant a tie on extra base hit a possible victory. But Manager Cecil Fredway saw his error and picked up his bat, which he pegged to first for the final out.

Dr. Campbell Better; Operation Postponed

We are indeed happy to report that the condition of Dr. J. F. Campbell has considerably improved since he was published last week, and that it now appears that an operation will not be necessary.

The physician was taken to a Lubbock sanitarium early last Wednesday morning for examination and treatment, and at that time it was feared that an immediate operation would be necessary.

The Index joins with other friends in extending best wishes for still more decided improvement, as well as congratulation on the slight recovery.

Mrs. G. W. Kyle of the Joe Bailey committee was contacted by Lamesa Monday afternoon by the news of the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Buck Churchwell. Mrs. Kyle will probably be away several days.

Littlepage Garage Burned Thursday

Fire from a blaze around a wash pot totally destroyed the garage, chicken house, and other out-buildings at the Robert Littlepage farm home in the Midway community early last Thursday morning.

A new gasoline-power washing machine, three pressure cookers, an unutilized quantity of cured meats and canned vegetables, several barrels of tractor fuel, and something like 150 bay chicks were among the losses suffered.

Passers-by on the highway were attracted by the smoke, and rushed to the assistance of Mrs. Littlepage, who as almost frantic with excitement. Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Clayton were among the first to reach the scene, and neighbors came in from all directions. The tractor had been left near the garage, and flames were blowing toward it to such an extent that no one could drive it away. Sheriff B. L. Parker, who had been out in the community, appeared on the scene just as it appeared the tractor was lost, and promptly tied on with his car, pulling the tractor out of danger.

While no accurate estimate as to the exact loss could be given, it is estimated at around $500.00.

The Index joins with other friends in extending sympathy.
