DO YOU?

This is a community in which each one of us is expected to do his share toward making it a better place in which to live. Each member of this community should take an active interest in all local affairs. Each member should vote on election day. Each member should turn out to every meeting where community developments are being discussed. It is only through such wholehearted cooperation that we can hope to build up and hold the future growth of this community at a mark of which we may all feel proud. If you have been shirking even a small part of your civic duty in the past, make up your mind right now for your own good as well as for the greater welfare of the community that will do you full share in the future. Elsewhere in this issue will be found a page message endorsed by the leading business institutions of O'Donnell pointing out the good points of our town. Read it.

WHALER TO TELL SCOUTS OF HIS EXPERIENCES

The Boy Scouts of the South Plains are in for a real treat at Summer Camp this year. H. H. Jones will be no hand to tell the scouts some of his wonderful experiences on the sea. Mr. Jones went to sea at the age of seventeen. He has made a complete circuit of the world. He can tell interesting experiences from his travels in Japan, England, South Africa, India, or China. One of his most interesting experiences was the eight months he spent on a whaling vessel on the Arctic. Life on a whaling vessel was very exciting and dangerous. Mr. Jones will show the boys how the whales are hunted the type of harpoons used, the bomb-guns and the way the whales are cut up and utilized. Mr. Jones' talks were very fascinating and exciting. Men and boys will sit by the hour to hear him tell of his adventures. Mr. Jones' experiences are only a small part of the summer program for the Boy Scouts of the South Plains. The Summer Program begins July 30th with the opening day of the Boy Scout Camp at Post.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cook and Mrs. R. S. Carpenter returned Sunday from a visit to their old home at Kerens, Texas, where they attended a family reunion, the first to be held in several years. They reported a splendid time. Mr. Cook stated the crop conditions were spotted in that section of the state and did not look so good here as the O'Donnell country.

Irrigation Project Is Future Development

Doubtless few people ever dreamed of irrigation on the South Plains and less thought has been given such a possibility in Lynn County. However, within the next few years many things will take place that would have been laughed at a few years ago. The next important step toward the future development of this great agricultural area will be irrigation. The big utilities corporations of the state and nation have their eyes on West Texas and the South Plains. They realize what the future holds for this section and are making plans to take advantage of the situation by developing irrigation. Yes, irrigation!

The question may arise, where the country would obtain its water supply with no rivers or streams on the Plains. That problem has already been tested which resulted entirely satisfactorily to the big utilities of the country. Irrigation from wells tapping the inexhaustible water supply that the country is blessed with is the plan being worked out.

The fertile soil of the South Plains will grow anything with irrigation. This fact was made more impressive the past two years when the country was found wanting with nothing but cotton for a money crop. Diversification is gradually taking its rightful place in this section and within another few years the country will be known as the greatest agricultural section in the United States.

The coming of natural gas to the South Plains will have much to do in hastening the development of irrigation in Lynn County. The gas company has already made extensive tests on a sandy plot of ground south of the city. The tests are demonstrating just what can be done with natural gas and the fertile acres of the South Plains. According to the Hub, official publication of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, hundreds of farmers have visited the irrigation project to get helpful information before starting a similar project. The gas company announce they are here to develop the country and to help every individual they can. Several small irrigation projects have already been started over the South Plains and others are to follow. Rumor has it that a power plant will be constructed near O'Donnell, possibly seven miles north, within the very near future of sufficient size to produce power for this section of the South Plains and an ample supply for the development of irrigation. When this is done Lynn County will be known as the upper Rio Grande Valley of the South Plains.

The South Plains of Texas which is known as the greatest cotton country in the United States with only fifty per cent of its fertile acres under the plow will be fully developed within the next few years. Every tillable acre will be cultivated. But in the opinion of the writer, the cotton acreage will be no greater than it is today. Dairying, poultry and hog raising has increased 100 per cent during the past two years and eventually will be on of the leading industries of the South Plains. The development of irrigation will be the South Plains of Texas among the leading truck farming sections of the state. Time will bring many changes that the pioneers of this section never dreamed of. Civilization is gradually moving westward as Horace Greeley advised and the undeveloped resources of Lynn County will be in the heart of the big play.

Alvaro Obregon, Mexican President Elect, Is Assassinated

MEXICO CITY, July 17 (AP)—General Alvaro Obregon, President-elect of Mexico, was shot down by an assassin known as Juan Escapular, who sat at a banquet in his honor at La Bombilla Restaurant at San Angel, twelve miles south of Mexico City, Tuesday. The assassin was captured and taken to jail. He is a young man somewhere in his twenties. Aron Saenz, Governor of the State of Nuevo Leon, who sat beside General Obregon at the banquet, was unhurt.

Several attempts have recently been made on the General's life. Bombs were hurled at him last November. He escaped unscathed, except for a few scratches on his face. The assassin was captured in Mexico City and hanged Tuesday. In the best informed circles it is thought that President Calles will retain strong control over whatever situation may arise as a result of the assassination.

New Water System Nears Completion; Work on Elevated Towers Started This Wednesday

TRADES DAY TO BE INAUGURATED HERE IN VERY NEAR FUTURE

If plans being worked out by the O'Donnell Luncheon Club are completed, O'Donnell will soon have a regular Trades Day, a day in which people throughout this territory can get together, exchange wares, ideas and enjoy a day of fellowship. The subject was brought up at a meeting of the directors of the O'Donnell Luncheon Club on Monday morning of this week and committees are now at work formulating plans for the celebration of first Monday in a month as Trades Day. The first regular trades day will probably be held first Monday in September and first Monday in each month thereafter. Merchants will make special prices on various articles for that day which will probably be below wholesale cost affording the customers an opportunity to save many dollars on their purchases. Every merchant to advertise different specials offering the public an opportunity to make a big saving in most any line.

According to the present plans the big attraction will be gold prizes which will be distributed absolutely free to visitors on Trades Day. At present arrangements are not complete, but there will possibly be $100 in gold given away on each trades day. The first prize to be $50.00 in gold; second $25.00 in gold; third $15.00 in gold; fourth $10.00 in gold. Merchants who are sponsoring the plan will give tickets with each one dollar purchase which will be allowed to participate in the distribution of gold prizes the following trades day. Information will be given by any of the merchants regarding the distribution of prizes. Further information will be published regarding first Monday Trades Day as plans are completed.

MACHINE RIDS HIGHWAY OF PUNCTURE METAL

ENID, Okla., July 17.—A state road sweeping magnet, one that picks up nails, tacks wires and all kinds of metal that takes the joy out of motoring by puncturing tires, will be purchased by the State Highway Department and placed in use in the Enid district as an experiment. John G. Parker, Jr., Enid member of the commission announced. The machine consists of rectangular magnets, seven feet long, suspended under the rear end of the truck, current for the magnets generated by a gasoline driven electric generator on the truck. These magnets will lift a five pound bar six inches long. The machine operates on dirt roads as well as on paved highways. "Similar outfits are now being used in various states," Parker said. "Idaho, Nevada, South Dakota, New Mexico and Louisiana, for instance."

"In New Mexico, on 802 miles of road, their magnet truck picked up 100 million nails, of which 90 per cent would puncture tires."

"In Nevada, 1,370 pounds of such metal were picked up on 100 miles of road, of which 90 per cent would puncture tires."

SANTA FE SURVEYORS ARRIVED WEDNESDAY

A crew of men, surveyors for the Santa Fe railroad, arrived in the city Wednesday of this week for the purpose of making surveys relative to sidings and team tracks to be built at some future date. We understand two or three additional sidings besides team tracks will be constructed by the Santa Fe in the near future.

SINGLETON STORE MOVES FIRST OF THIS WEEK

The Singleton Hardware Company store moved to temporary quarters first of the week in the Fritz Building next door south of Fritz Filling Station where they will be located until their new home is completed at their old stand.

Dr. C. T. Kibben, former Mayor of Dr. C. T. Kibben, who is now sojourning in the North Panhandle, near Hereford, was here the first of the week meeting old friends and attempting to business. The doctor stated he and family were doing well. Crops in his section were good and he hopes to have a bountiful harvest this fall. The doctor is still in the habit of seeing and claims "his" has increased 200 per cent since leaving O'Donnell.

Work on the new $40,000 water system of O'Donnell is being pushed forward, and within a very few days it will be completed, inspected and turned over to the Water Board and records strictly to information given us by authorities having the work in charge.

Reservoir About Completed

The new concrete reservoir, holding a reserve supply of 75,000 gallons of water, stands about 90 per cent of completion. Pumps are being installed at the present writing, and will begin pumping water from the five wells within a few days. This reservoir is one of the best of its kind on the entire South Plains, being substantially constructed and resting ten feet in the ground.

Tower Crew Arrives

Tuesday of this week the crew to erect the new one hundred and twenty foot water tower arrived in town. The tower arrived on Wednesday afternoon being unloaded on the location, construction was begun at once. It is expected that twelve to fifteen days will be all the work required for erecting the stand pipe. The capacity of the tank will be 50,000 gallons.

A Fine System

O'Donnell will have one of the best water systems on the Plains, if not in the entire West. With 75,000 gallons in the earthen reservoir, and 50,000 gallons in the elevated tower, a good supply of water is guaranteed for every purpose. One of the pumps is to be used in case of fire. It has a capacity of 500 gallons of water per minute and is capable of increasing the normal pressure of the mains 154 pounds, to the high pressure of 150 pounds, should the occasion arise for such a necessity. This gives ample insurance against such conflagrations similar to the one that razed one of our neighboring towns recently. A smaller booster pump will be employed in filling the elevated tank.

Water Will Be Turned On

By July 25th, it is thought, everything will be in readiness to fill the reservoir and turn water into the mains. The crisscross net of pipes will require a huge quantity of water to fill them—possibly a full reservoir, 75,000 gallons.

The work is being supervised by Jack Scott, resident engineer of Edward W. Gantt Engineering Company, who is staying here during the construction of the system, placing his O. K. on all the work. M. L. Friday, contractor of the system, is the architectural engineer, seeing the actual construction work.

H. L. BREWER TELLS STRANGE STORY YESTERDAY

H. L. Brewer who lives six miles east of town was here yesterday afternoon in index office for a friendly chat. While here Mr. Brewer told us a very strange story. If we had not known Mr. Brewer to be an honest man we probably would have doubted the story. He told of a sixteen months old Holstein Jersey heifer that has never been with calf that is now milking daily. The heifer will not be fresh until December 1st.

Many Interesting Topics on Home Improvement Will Be Discussed In Bryan July 30th

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, July 18.—Home improvement topics will feature the program for women at the nineteenth annual Farmers Short Course to be held at the A & M College of Texas July 30-August 4, numerous specialists being scheduled to discuss various phases of home beautification from improvement of the yard to accessories in furnishing and decorations.

That part of the program to be devoted to the improved living room contest is expected to hold special significance and interest. This contest was conducted during the past year by the Extension Service and the Semi-Weekly Farm News, of Dallas, and district winners will outline to the hundreds of Texas women in attendance how a little labor and money transformed scores of ordinary rooms into attractive living rooms. This program will be presented Wednesday morning, August 1st, and will reach its climax with the announcement of the state winners and the awarding of prizes. DeWitt McMurray editor of the Semi-Weekly Farm News, will present these prizes.

Among the home improvement subjects to be discussed are: The Yard Beautiful, by Fred W. Westcott; Accessories in Furnishings and Decorations, by Miss Mary Starr Taylor; The Improvement of the Home, by Mrs. O. B. Martin, and Lighting the Farm Home, by Miss Alice Schuetz.

Among the general topics selected for this year for special emphasis to the men are cotton, poultry, fruit raising, dairying and livestock. The cotton program is an unusually extensive one, covering subjects such as production of pure seed, disease control, cotton in crop rotations, modern harvesting methods, classing and marketing.

College authorities feel ample accommodations will be available for as large a crowd as attends, though it has been urged that room reservations be made in advance through county and home demonstration agents.

PANHANDLE-SOUTH PLAINS FAIR PREPARING BIG SHOW

LUBBOCK, Texas, July 19.—Officials of the Panhandle South Plains Fair are getting ready for the annual exposition which will be held in Lubbock, October 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6.

The exposition which has become known as the "Show Window of the Plains" will be the biggest this year of any exposition ever held on the Plains.

The fair was increased to a five day exposition last year and this year has been let out to a six day show. Agricultural and live stock exhibits last year rivalled the best regional fairs in the Southwest and assurance has been given that practically all the exhibitors will be back this fall with many others.

Fire works, free attractions, and other entertaining features will compare with the best offered by a Texas fair.

The association is making improvements that will benefit the annual exposition. Additions to the attractions and increase in exhibits will draw a better crowd. Last year's attendance ran over 100,000 and this year with an extra day and better features, the crowds are expected to be substantially increased.

PRESENT TAX RATE IS LOWERED THREE CENTS

AUSTIN, July 16.—The state ad valorem tax rate for general revenue purposes was fixed late Monday by the State Automatic Tax Board at 22 cents on the $100—three cents less than the present rate.

The new rate combined with last year's, making 47 cents, is the lowest figure for two years of any administration in the last 14 years, and is 11 cents lower than the combined rate of the Ferguson administration of 1925-26, the board noted in the statement.

School tax remains at the maximum of 35 cents and Confederate pension tax at 7 cents, making a total state tax of 64 cents. This will insure a continued $15 billion capita apportionment for the public schools, and all rural aid schools qualifying for rural aid will receive a six months' school term again.

An anticipated large increase in valuations failed to develop. Less than 5 per cent increase was found in the $3,375,409,266 total valuations which included all except eight counties. These counties were figured into the total on the basis of last year's assessment estimates. The eight include Wichita County and its last year valuation of $70,000,000. An estimate for this year had not been made Monday.

COOKING DEMONSTRATION DRAWS LARGE CROWDS

In spite of the intense heat, a big number of ladies wended their way to Singleton's Store on last Thursday and Friday afternoon to take advantage of the wonderful lectures on cooking, and see stove demonstration. Each lady felt amply repaid when she entered the one time hardware store now changed into a beautiful room with comfortable seats, nice rugs, electric fans, infact everything was done to make these occasions worth while. The ladies were supplied with pencil and paper so they might copy the recipes given out by Mrs. Longworth as she quickly made one beautiful cake after cake and covered each with the most wonderful icings imaginable. "We surely were glad we came when these lovely cakes were cut and we had the pleasure of sampling them. This surely was a treat to the O'Donnell ladies and all are profuse in thanking Singleton Brothers for this occasion.

Almanac Traced to the Ancient Saxons

In the early days of Greece it was customary to announce the first day of the month either through a herald or placards pasted on the city walls. These placards were known as talend, or kalendae from the Greek kalos, or kalendae from the Latin kalends, the book of accounts referring to the days of the year was known as a calendarium, hence the word calendar. Excavations at Pough-son discovered the square block of marble that served as a calendar, each side served as a record of three months. Each month was headed by the proper sign of the zodiac, and contained geographical, agricultural and astronomical information. Vestergaard, early lexicographer, tracing the origin of the word almanac, says: "Our ancient Saxon ancestors used to engrave on certain squared sticks about a foot in length, sometimes more, sometimes less, the courses of the moons of the whole year, where by they atwaince certainly tell what new moons, full moons and changes should happen, as we, their festival called almon-ig; that is to say, al-mon-heed to wit, the regard or observation of all the moons, and hence is derived the name almanac."—Detroit News.

Are Stevenson's Books to Stand Time's Test?

The bishop of Durham in his oration at the Stevenson commemoration has indirectly raised the question whether physical disabilities are a handicap to individual distinction in life. His observations suggest that weakness in one sense may be the path to greatness in another. Robert Louis Stevenson was an only son and a chronic invalid. His physical weakness, like Scott's lameness and Byron's club foot, the bishop remarked tended to induce in him an almost morbid cult of individuality.

The bishop wound up his address with a question to which Stevenson enthusiasts of the present day would admit of but one answer. When his books tend to stand boldly on their merits would they be able to hold their own against the rival claims of new works armed with all the subtle appeal of direct relevance to the present? When we think of the future were over the Waverley novels for long after they were published and of the apathy regarding Scott in the present generation, no one can answer the bishop's question dogmatically.—Week- ly Scotsman.

Bad but Usable

Vernine, the Frem a poet, once said a sonnet to Gil Blas Illustre. He took a cab to the offices of the paper to collect the money. It was one cent a line. Sixteen lines. Not that there are sixteen lines in a sonnet in Paris, but that the title and signature were paid for.

On another occasion he sold a poem to Art et Critique for 2 francs money.

Next day he returned to the editor and complained that he had been given a bad five-franc piece. The editor instantly gave him a fresh one, and then discreetly demanded the bad coin.

"Monseigneur," said Vernine, departing, "I have passed it; but I assure you I had considerable difficulty in doing so."

Counted Out

Jaqueline Spencer was told by an old-fashioned grandfather, who once followed the sea that she must walk to school herself every morning on her two legs and must rely on nobody else that to bank on being offered a lift in the motors of her neighbors and acquaintances was a cheap and unbecoming ploy for a Spencer.

"Rely on nobody else," finished the old man, an expert at weekday preaching.

"I can rely on two people," quoth Jaqueline.

"Who?"

"Oh God and myself."

"What about your parents?" asked he, fishing.

"Oh, they're 'else."

Schools in Old Prisons

School is being held in Old Spanish fortresses as the first step in Americanization processes being carried on by the United States in Porto Rico. Cells where once prisoners paced to and fro now contain desks. Many of the classes are conducted behind barred windows and heavily grated doors, installed more than 200 years ago, and the somber walls are decorated with modern blackboards. American officers are learning to speak Spanish and Porto Ricans, who are also enrolled in the Sixty-first infantry regiment at San Juan are learning the English language. The schools are maintained in El Morro and San Cristobal fortresses.

The Lorgnette Juggler

This concealer whose tall talents are recognized in the two-day and musical comedies, after making a bit in a show she suddenly went ritz and affected tall millinery. Her intimates gave her up, not being able to tolerate her poses and mood alterations while knowing that she was illiterate. At any rate, they say that her maid at the theater asked her: "Have you any idea where the pins are?"

"I regret very much," said the upstage one, "but I do not know where the pins is."—New York Graphic.

Principles of OPERATION

We believe that a bank should not only be a depository of funds, but indeed a haven where the rich and poor alike can confide their financial troubles, fears and doubts to the attentive ear of their mutual friend and counsellor the BANKER. The bank, the foundation of all saving, should be solid like the granite, standing the acid test of time, pursuing a conservative but friendly course.

This bank like the great Oak from a little acorn, of persistent effort and sound business principles has grown. It stands today like the Oak, its many services and ample resources like the limbs, cast their shadow of protection over those who seek its shelter, a mecca which invites the confidence and patronage of a public.

Bad but Usable

Vernine, the Frem a poet, once said a sonnet to Gil Blas Illustre. He took a cab to the offices of the paper to collect the money. It was one cent a line. Sixteen lines. Not that there are sixteen lines in a sonnet in Paris, but that the title and signature were paid for.

On another occasion he sold a poem to Art et Critique for 2 francs money.

Next day he returned to the editor and complained that he had been given a bad five-franc piece. The editor instantly gave him a fresh one, and then discreetly demanded the bad coin.

"Monseigneur," said Vernine, departing, "I have passed it; but I assure you I had considerable difficulty in doing so."

Counted Out

Jaqueline Spencer was told by an old-fashioned grandfather, who once followed the sea that she must walk to school herself every morning on her two legs and must rely on nobody else that to bank on being offered a lift in the motors of her neighbors and acquaintances was a cheap and unbecoming ploy for a Spencer.

"Rely on nobody else," finished the old man, an expert at weekday preaching.

"I can rely on two people," quoth Jaqueline.

"Who?"

"Oh God and myself."

"What about your parents?" asked he, fishing.

"Oh, they're 'else."

Schools in Old Prisons

School is being held in Old Spanish fortresses as the first step in Americanization processes being carried on by the United States in Porto Rico. Cells where once prisoners paced to and fro now contain desks. Many of the classes are conducted behind barred windows and heavily grated doors, installed more than 200 years ago, and the somber walls are decorated with modern blackboards. American officers are learning to speak Spanish and Porto Ricans, who are also enrolled in the Sixty-first infantry regiment at San Juan are learning the English language. The schools are maintained in El Morro and San Cristobal fortresses.

The Lorgnette Juggler

This concealer whose tall talents are recognized in the two-day and musical comedies, after making a bit in a show she suddenly went ritz and affected tall millinery. Her intimates gave her up, not being able to tolerate her poses and mood alterations while knowing that she was illiterate. At any rate, they say that her maid at the theater asked her: "Have you any idea where the pins are?"

"I regret very much," said the upstage one, "but I do not know where the pins is."—New York Graphic.

The Thursday Club had the pleasure of being entertained in the lovely home of Mrs. E. L. Sorrels on last Thursday afternoon.

The living room was made very pretty by the artistic arrangement of beautiful cut flowers, pot plants. In fact from the moment the guests entered the home they were made to feel that Mrs. Sorrels was indeed a charming hostess. As they came each guest was served a drink of lemonade which was indeed refreshing after a ride in the hot sun.

Then at first chance called Mrs. Stark and Miss Alta Rogers so these two ladies were more than delighted to plan a party which was indeed a great success. Mr. Harold Ellis was delighted to take Miss Christine for a short ride and the merry guests made their arrival before she returned to her home.

When Miss Christine entered the living room and these faces greeted her she was overjoyed. Four tables were at once arranged for 42 and soon every one was lost in the always interesting game. Home Demonstration Meet Thursday Afternoon.

The Home Demonstration Club which met with Mrs. W. L. Rogers on Thursday afternoon made their program short indeed as there was something very interesting awaiting.

Mr. Baker of Lubbock was there to demonstrate his Kelvinator, and this demonstration was a wonderful piece of furniture. We enjoyed his demonstration to the fullest, especially the lovely refreshments served from the Kelvinator, which consisted of punch and cake. A short time previous Mrs. Rogers had placed a huge bucket of punch in the Kelvinator and filled the little muffin pans with water and this little frozen into little cubes of ice.

Those enjoying this treat were Mesdames Baker of Lubbock, Goeh, Mesdames Baker of Lubbock, Fortner, Hohn, Campbell, Hancock, Fortner, Hohn, George, Vessey, Sutton, Kirkpatrick, Howard and Miss Milwee.

Not exactly a family reunion but a reunion of relatives in general happened at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Rogers on Wednesday of last week, when Mrs. Lula Floyd, sister-in-law of Mrs. Rogers, her son, Bernice, and two daughters, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Rogers, and Mrs. Redmond of Lubbock, and Mrs. Redmond of Amarillo, Miss Bera Wilson of Post, Mr. C. BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. Modesta Green was the honoree at a birthday dinner given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Sanderson on last Sunday. DEMOCRATS VOTING IN JULY
PRIMARIES NOT PLEDGED TO VOTE FOR AL SMITH

ARTICLE 3110, of the Revised Statutes of TEXAS, reads as follows:
"Test on ballot. No official ballot for primary election shall have on it any symbol or device or any printed matter, except a uniform primary test, reading as follows: 'I am a Democrat.' (inserting name of political party or organization of which the voter is a member, and pledge myself to support the nominee of this primary; and any ballot which shall not contain such printed test above the names of the candidates thereon, shall be void and shall not be counted."

This prescribes the test for the July primary, at which State and local officers are nominated and at which Presidential electors and candidates are not nominated. Therefore, it is plain that the law provides that every Democrat in Texas may vote in the July primary without pledging himself to vote for Al Smith for President at the November election.

Judge of Primary Election, July 28

Platinum's Value at First Not Recognized

At one time platinum was regarded as a nuisance. Today it is more valuable than gold.

Scientists have proved that it is the most permanent of all metals and that it resists the action of moisture or the elements for centuries. Platinum is of exceptional value in dental work because it is not affected by the acids and secretions of the mouth.

It was the Spaniards who brought this metal to the notice of the civilized world. When they were in Mexico and Panama in search of gold they regarded platinum as a nuisance and a dangerous metal because, being as heavy as gold, it was easily mistaken for gold when covered with a coating of yellow metal.

It was not long, however, before they realized its value for making jewelry, and used it for snuff-boxes, sword and dagger hilts, and other ornaments.

It now commands a higher price than gold. When it is in crude form it is like a coarse gravel that appears dull and uninteresting. After the first refining process the metal is spongy and porous. It is then pressed into round disks.

In ancient times the metal was hammered into very thin sheets and then worked up into endless varieties of ornaments, the best specimens of which have been found in Ecuador.

Old Paintings Throw Light on Indian Life

Six paintings of American Indians made in the 1730's and forgotten for 200 years have been given to the world in reproduction for the first time in a publication, released from the Smithsonian Institution. They are drawings of the life and culture of the Indians of Lower Louisiana, made between the years 1732-35, by A. DelZata, a Frenchman, presumably an architect or an engineer.

The drawings are the earliest known to have been made in Lower Louisi- ana, and they are likewise believed to be the oldest pictures existing of members of the Acolapissa, Atakapa, Choctaw, Fox, Illinois and Tunica tribes. The paper has turned yellow with age, but the colors remain clear and bright, and many details are shown with great exactness.

The sketches yield an astonishing quantity of information on the cloth- ing, habitations, temples, fighting ac- tivities, games and domestic animals of the Indians around the Mississippi. Though crude, they are very graphic and prove DelZata to have been a careful observer interested in the customs of the Indians.

Men Like Coffee Beans?

Life standardizes us. We are like so many coffee beans—the same size, the same color, the same smell. Cre- ators of convention! The very but- tons that hold our clothes together are sewed where they are by the dic- tates of convention. Every article of dress is prescribed by fashion and cus- tom; we cut what we do for the same reason, we get up in the morning, comb our hair, go to our offices, or cook breakfast, wash dishes, and per- form the thousand and one things that make up our daily lives, because con- vention so decides. Some fortunate ones succeed in pursuing more or less independent existences, but the whole tendency of our American life is to make us do the same thing, say the same thing, and think the same thing.

Just Another Container

In "Up the Years From Blooms- bury," the actor, George Arliss, tells of meeting in Boston a delighted old lady, Mrs. Bell, who was then eighty-four.

"I met her at many gatherings. No dinner party in which she was in- cluded was ever dull. She generally kept everyone in peals of laughter and I never heard her repeat herself. She lived in a small house with a small back garden. For a time she kept a pig in the yard and when asked why on earth she kept it, she said: "Well, we must have something to put things in."

Going Too Far

A city magnate the other day sum- moned his manager.

"Look here, Robinson," said he. "You'll have to talk to that new fel- low, Jones, you took on as shorthand typist."

"Why, what's the matter with him?" said Robinson. "I know he stutters rather badly, but you said—"

"I said I didn't mind that, but look at this." The magnate held out a letter which read: "In reference to yours of the eighth ult."

Then he continued: "Stuttering on the typewriter I simply won't stand."

The Electric Button

Stepping through countless generations, the mythical force which performed magical wonders for the hero of Arabian Nights is found in the wall switch of every modern American home, industrial establish- ment and business enterprise.

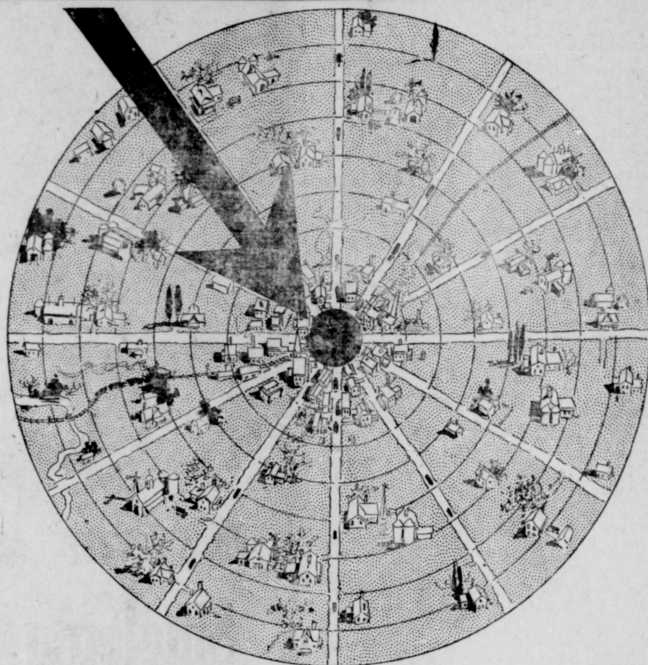

This power today moves mountains with the ease that it whips an egg. There is hardly a Physical task left but what can be fulfilled adequately, expeditiously and eco- nomically by the use of electric power.

From the energy controlled by the switch on your wall you can illuminate your home cook your meals, refrigerate your food sweep your rugs, wash and iron your cloth- es, pump your water and put a permanent in your hair

And this power, coming to you over cop- per wires, reflects the untiring energy that is maintained that you may have service.

Benediction.

The Junior Missionary Society met at the home of their superintendent Mrs. R. O. Stark on Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock.

They studied and talked of China. Thyra Painter and Hope Shook each told interesting stories of China.

Mrs. Stark read a story on China. The society closed with prayer to meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Stark who will plan a social. Every member is urged to be present.

The following attended last Tuesday: Alice Joy Bowlin, Frances Ramsey, Thyra Painter, Sammie McLauren, Anna Belle Estes, Lucile Martin, Lucille Grimmitte, Hope Shook and Mary V. Shook.

Bro. Horn is conducting a revival meeting at Bethel church, near Joe Bailey school house. Attendance is real good and prospects are bright for a good meeting.

Several months ago Mrs. B. M. Haynes noticed several small children in her neighborhood were not attending any Sunday school. She at once began trying to find a remedy. So this is what she decided to do. She invited these little children to her home for one hour on Monday afternoon and told them what little Bible stories. These children, only three or four in number, at first became so interested they asked to bring other little friends and Mrs. Haynes gladly gave her consent. On last Monday the children began coming thirty minutes before the appointed time, their little faces beaming with eagerness, and this small number has now reached seventeen. Seven of these boys and girls found their way to the Methodist Sunday School on Sunday morning and probably others of them went to other Sunday schools.

Now this is a worthy example. Are there not others who could look after these little folks? As a surprise to the little folks, Mrs. Haynes on last Monday served iced lemonade to the following: Aris Thompson, Patsy Redwine, Bobby Glass, David Glass, Evelyn Kirkland, Charlie Kirkland, Leo Schooler, Willie Kirkland, Dean Schooler, Iris Hodges, Willie McDaniels, Wayne McDaniels, Waldine Kirkland, Allie Joe Schooler, Jewel McDaniels, Ann Mae Frost and Gwendolyn Hodges.

FOURTH ANNUAL RANCHMENS ROUND UP AUGUST 14-15

A program has been sent out by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station announcing the Fourth Annual Ranchmen's Roundup which will be held at the Aanch Experiment Station near Sonora, Texas, August 14 and 15, 1928. Subjects of interest to the live stock industry and particularly sheep and goat raising will be discussed during both days of the session. A special program of interest to ranch women is also scheduled, and a judging contest for boys will be held. Barbecue will be served free each day and numerous recreational features are provided for. The program will be under the general supervision of W. H. Dameron, Superintendent of the Station, who states that he expects the attendance to exceed three thousand this year. The highways are in excellent condition and camping facilities at the Station are ample for all who may come. Those attending former sessions of the roundup have expressed joyable as having had a most enjoyable as well as a most profitable experience.

Inasmuch as more than 75 per cent of the area of the state of Texas is devoted principally to grazing, this annual roundup of those interested in livestock production is of interest to a large number of people. Texas exceeds all states in the number of sheep sheared and the amount of wool produced and is far in the lead than eleven million pounds annually in mohair production, producing more against 885,000 pounds for the nearest competitor. Texas is also far in the lead in beef cattle production.

Texas produces about seven per cent of the total raw materials of the United States and manufactures 1.5 per cent, valued at a billion dollars per annum.

COOKING SCHOOL HELD

Beginning Monday afternoon of this week, Mrs. Graves conducted a three days cooking school and gas stove demonstration at the West Texas Gas Co. This was a very helpful as well as enjoyable affair. Just to have a comfortable chair in pleasant room and watch a beautiful angel food cake made and iced, then have a generous slice with an ice cold drink. Folks, this is a wonderful treat and Oh! how anxious it makes us to go our stove.

RIVAL FOR EASTLAND HORNED TOAD FOUND

SAN ANTONIO, July 14.—Workmen tearing down a wall of the Gunter hotel here claim to have found a rival for the famous Eastland horned toad which is said to have spent 32 years in a court house corner stone. The toad was found in a wall that had been standing 15 years. D. I. Shepherd, construction superintendent, said that the toad, which has only three legs was flat as a pancake when found and that it was covered with a hard crust of mortar. The toad could barely move and is still unable to open its jaws. But the hotel management is trying to revive it by soaking it in water. Shepherd said that he could see no way in which the toad could have gotten into the wall except by being imprisoned there when the wall was built.

Reason enough why you should use Conoco Motor Oil—regularly. This tried and tested oil is of the same high quality whenever and wherever you buy it. Stands up under extreme engine heat. COLD DRINK RECIPES

Recipes for making cold drinks at home approved by Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas and given to our club for publication by our County Agent, Miss Halsey.

Ice Cream Sodas—May be made in a variety of flavors by the syrup of desired flavor. A small amount of ice cream and charged water, hot tied pop and ginger ale.

Chocolate Ice Cream Soda—Put two table spoons chocolate sauce in tall glass, add a portion of ice cream. Stir well while adding soda pop or charged water.

Oat Meal Frappe—Pour one quart boiling water over two table spoons oat meal. When cool, strain and sweeten to taste. Add juice of two lemons, one cup crushed fruit such as strawberries, one half cup crushed pineapple. Mix well then serve in tall glasses with plenty of crushed ice.

Spiced Tea—Make plain tea. Pour over crushed ice in glasses. Sweeten with spiced syrup instead of sugar. Lemon or fresh mint make pleasing additions.

Iced coffee has become a summer beverage and some like it with cream and sugar.

Cocoa—Which has been served so long as a hot drink is now used as a cold drink. Make in the usual way and when cool serve over crushed ice and top with whipped cream if liked.

Fruit Juice from any canned fruits that are tart will take the place of lemon juice at the rate of two table spoons to a glass of water melted in a little hot water. This is good as either hot or cold drink.

Tea makes a good foundation for punch or lemonade.

Punch may be made with a variety of fruits which should be crushed, strained out and served cold and sparkling.

Lemonade—Juice of six lemons, one cup plain syrup, two cups raspberries juice (any fresh berries may be crushed and added) 3 bottles of ginger ale. Mix well, pour over crushed ice and serve at once.

Egg Lemonade No. 1—Note recipe calls for no lemons. Beat one egg, add two spones plain syrup, one fourth cup of water, one half cup evaporated milk, two table spoons of chocolate syrup. Mix well and serve over crushed ice. This is very nourishing.

Egg Lemonade No. 2—Juice and grated rind of three lemons, one cup plain syrup, one cup water, two beaten eggs. Put in jar and shake until foamy. Fill glasses nearly full of crushed ice and pour this over. Serve at once.

Miss Leta Rogers who has been taking a special course in summer school at Tech, became very ill last Thursday. Miss Elizabeth Wyatt assisted her in getting home Friday. At this writing she is still confined to her bed though her condition is much improved.

LYNN COUNTY WOMEN STRONG FOR PARKS

The women of Lynn county have decided that one of the greatest needs of the towns in their county is municipal parks after due investigation, have determined to concentrate their energies upon securing sites for parks in each town in the county. Certainly the movement should have the active support of the citizens of Lynn county towns and without doubt will result in providing much needed places of recreation and rest for old and young. The Lynn county women have set a good example for the women of other counties to follow on the Panhandle Plains. Today many of our towns have ignored recreational features in their building program and no provision of either land or money has been made for such purposes.

The necessity for the recognition by municipalities of the recreational as well as the commercial, educational and spiritual activities of their citizens is now generally conceded and towns are laid off with due provision for parks and playgrounds as well as churches and school houses. A park supplied with tennis court grounds for baseball, and basketball, swimming and wading pools, sand equipment will keep the children from getting into much of the mischief of which their elders are always complaining. It is a pity that parks were not started in each town when the first few buildings were put up, but since they were not, the oversight should be corrected as soon as possible. It takes trees a good while to grow and trees are an essential in the making of park, so the sooner the work is begun, the sooner will the trees afford the shade and protection and attractiveness so desirable. We heartily commend the women of Lynn county and trust that they will allow no discouragement to thwart their good work. When reports begin to show up, their fellow citizens will be properly amazed, even though many of them may be discouragingly indifferent now.—Southwest Plainsman.

Mrs. E. T. Wells and daughters Beverly and Jim Ellen, left Tuesday for Lubbock in response to a message stating the former's aunt was very ill. Latest reports state the patient is dangerously low.

S. A. Billington, the shoe man, who has been confined to his home the past five weeks with a severe case of rheumatism, is again at his place of business ready to save your soles and heels.

Mrs. Ben L. Cowden and children accompanied by mother, Mrs. E. D. McAnelly of Midland, left Thursday last week for Corpus Christi where they will spend several weeks vacation enjoying the cool Gulf breeze.

Ben L. Cowden left Wednesday for Dallas where he expects to bring back two new Fords. One will be a four door sedan and the other a coupe. This in this country, and will go to G. C. Aten. Mr. Cowden says he does not know what the other model will be.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Gantt and children left Monday afternoon for Mineral Wells where they expect to attend a family reunion of Mr. Gantt's parents in Mineral Wells this Wednesday and Thursday. They will probably return first of the week.

Mrs. W. B. Fortner and children, found the climate of Brownwood too warm so they returned to O'Donnell where the breezes always blow. To Mrs. Fortner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rogers until the extreme hot weather is over.

Messrs W. H. Vezey and J. W. Campbell bought three cars of wheat last Thursday. The wheat crop in this vicinity is light on account of the dry weather and hot winds.

Mrs. J. C. Curry's mother, Mrs. Finley of Floydada is making her a visit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lines and daughter, Miss Aline and son, Alvin, left Tuesday morning for Hot Springs, New Mexico. Mr. Lines will return soon but Mrs. Lines, Miss Aline and Alvin will remain for awhile. It is hoped that this change will be a great benefit to her health.

Several months ago Mrs. E. M. Haynes noticed several small children in her neighborhood were not attending any Sunday school. She at once began trying to find a remedy. So this is what she decided to do. She lured these little children to her home for one hour on Monday afternoon and told them sweet little Bible stories. These children, only three or four in number, at first became interested in the stories. Mrs. Haynes' little friends and Mrs. Haynes gladly gave her consent. Now this is a worthy example. Are there not others who could look after these little folks? As a surprise to the little folks, Mrs. Haynes on the Monday served lunch for them to the following: Aris Thompson, Patsy Redwine, Bobby Glass, David Glass, Evelyn Kirkland, Charlie Kirkland, Leo Schuler, Willie Kirkland, Dean Schuler, Iris Hodges, Willie McDaniels, Wayne McDaniels, Waldine Kirkland, Allie Joe Schuler, Jewel McDaniels, Anna Mae Frost and Gwendolyn Hodges.

Mrs. Clara Weems, who went away with her son, Charley Weems and wife, has returned and is now visiting at Lubbock and Hale Center. The friends of Mrs. Charley Weems will be glad to know that she is rapidly regaining health in the mountains of New Mexico but will probably not return for some time.

Mrs. Hays visited her little daughter, Sybil, who is in the Masonic Hospital at Dallas. Sybil has been in the hospital for months for treatment of a dislocated hip which accident occurred when she was an infant. She has undergone some severe operations and the treatment is painful indeed but she is happy in the thought of coming home in a few months a well child. Mrs. Hays is lavish in her praise for this hospital for the wonderful doctors and the kind, efficient nurse.

Mrs. John Earls and Mrs. Singleton attended the meeting of the Home Education Club which met in the parlors of the Home Education Club on Thursday. A good attendance of members present. Each club will draw Lake on the eleven club. Lynn County will send a delegate to the Short Course at M., beginning July 26th.

Lynn County will send a delegate, our agent making about the same number. Draw Lake near Post on July 28. They will board the train at Post about the 10:00 a.m. plan to be in College Station after noon. This train has been arranged for by the Santa Fe. We hope to have an interesting port from our delegate, Mrs. Singleton.

Sovereign Commander Fraser also announced that the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Association now has $24,342,192.26 invested in municipal bonds in the state of Texas.
