Lions Roundup Set For Saturday

DATE IS RE-SET FROM LAST SATURDAY

Postponed last Saturday on account of rain, the big Lions Club rodeo and roundup will be held this Saturday, Sept. 24th. John Ellis said this week. The program includes events for young and old and will start at 5 p. m. with a big quiz program and entertainment on the streets. Prizes will be given. At 7 p. m. there will be a parade headed by Lions Bob Clark and Dee Bingham. All Lions and members of the Roping Club will be mounted and ride in the parade. At the Roundup, aside from the usual events such as bronco riding, jackpot calf riding, girls sponsor contest, bull riding, etc. there will be many events for all to enter. There will be a tow sack race, 3 legged race, cigar race, greased pig chase and many other fun events. Fun for all is the theme of the Lions big Roundup. All money from the Roundup is earmarked for the Lions Club's Underprivileged Children Fund. The program Saturday is for the sole purpose of helping our children who need help. The Lions are paying all expenses of this show from their own pocket. If Saturday's reception is good, the Lions hope to make this an annual event.

3 Arrests Made Over Week end

According to Deputy Sheriff Cleve Harrington and Justice Bill Brown three white men of O'Donnell were fined over the week end, two for being comfortably drunk and one for drunken driving. Otherwise the local court reported the week end as being so-so.

Dr. Lehman Opens Office

This week Dr. Joe Lehman opened his Clinic for the practice of medicine and surgery. Dr. Lehman invites the public to come in and inspect his clinic which includes two treatment rooms, several bed rooms, a lab, and other facilities for the practice of modern medicine. Dr. Lehman is a graduate of Baylor Medical College. Go by and meet the new resident doctor and see if you don't like him as well as the Country ed. does. Give him the hand of fellowship. O'Donnell's greatest need for years has been a resident doctor; one who likes us enough to live with us. Aint we right ???

Eagles To Meet Cats

BY J. BEN STONE

Head of School Publicity Dept. Littlefield can be defeated! Comes next Friday night at 8 p. m. O'Donnell Eagles will face the much touted Littlefield Wildcats. The Wildcats are reported to be in good condition and much heavier than the Eagles however they can be beaten although it will take 11 men in shape for 45 minutes and the proper know how to accomplish it. The Wildcats are large. They average about 180 pounds to the line and the back field average around 175 pounds. This means spotting them an advantage at the start. It has been rumored that they have one or two fast backs but don't forget that the Eagles have Gass, Davis, Jones, Vaughn and Shoemaker. Those that saw the Eagles play last Friday night were surprised at their show of improvement from the previous game with Morton. "It is a fact," said one spectator, "that the Eagles are inexperienced and rather young as compared to the others, but I feel confident that they will come thru this season with a good many wins. All that they need is a few games to iron out the ruffles. I am sure that this will be done as soon as possible." This seems to be the opinion of all fans. Littlefield played Morton last Friday and romped all over them. Everything that Littlefield used against Morton worked well. However, this does not mean that the Eagles are crying defeatism. This reporter does not believe that they will successfully over the Eagles as they did over Morton. The O'Donnell team is aware of the strength that faces them... but on the other hand, they think of the time that David faced Goliath and of the results of that battle. This reporter believes that if the Eagles will come out of their corner fighting with plenty of hustle, they will certainly surprise and shake up the opposition.

Let us all go out to Johnson Field Friday night with the intention of showing the Eagles that we are backing them win, lose or draw. Officials for Friday's game will be Earl Ince, J. R. Callahan and Bennie Williams.

Sundown Drops Eagles In Hard-fought Game

The O'Donnell Eagles lost a hard fought game Friday night to the Sundown Roughnecks. The score falls to tell the true story of the game as the score was 20 to 0 favoring Sundown. The Eagles put up a splendid fight all the way but missed "the best" at the score board. They played "heads-up" ball from the opening kick off until the closing minutes of the final whistle. Jack Houston received the kick off for O'Donnell and was promptly downed; Kellas Davis and Leroy Gass then worked the ball to Sundown's 24 stripe; failing to gain first down. Sundown took over and carried the ball on the first pass of 35 yards deep in the Eagle's territory. Bobby Clark, carrying the mail for Sundown, scored on successive plays. Try for extra point was good. The first quarter ended: Sundown 7, Eagles 0. The Eagles outplayed the Roughnecks during the second stanza but missed scoring. Gass and Davis once again showed offensive power but failed to tally or threaten the Sundown goal line. The Roughnecks came back in the third quarter with Buddy Clark leading them to a second tally. He was easily the star of Sundown's team. Try for extra point failed with score Sundown 13, Eagles 0. The fourth quarter was more or less a repetition of the third. The left side of the Eagle's line was weak and Clark blasted the weak spots. His plays around end and thru the Eagle's left side kept the locals playing deep in their own territory nearly all of the closing quarter. A long pass set up a first down for Sundown on O'Donnell's 29 yard line. Clark again went over for the final touchdown. Try for extra point was good; final score Sundown 20 Eagles 0. Sundown made 11 first downs to O'Donnell's 10. O'Donnell had four passes intercepted and intercepted two of Sundown's passes. Vaughn, Jones, Houston and Shoemaker were standouts in the O'Donnell defense. The boys played much better ball than they did against Morton. Quarterback Club Tuesday. Sport fans are invited to be out and join the Quarterback Club to meet next Tuesday night at 8 p. m. at the High School.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Plumps for Brannan Plan; Union of European Nations Urged; Publicity Asked in Dollar Parley

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

FARM AID: No "Setups"

Whatever else his critics might say of President Truman, they couldn't charge him with picking any "setups" when he sets out to do battle. The President has a faculty, it seems, for jumping quickest to the defense of measures and proposals that have the least public support.

THIS was the case in the President's latest taking-up-of-arms for controversial causes. He espoused the Brannan plan of farm price supports in a speech at Des Moines. He warned that the nation faces unmanageable and costly crop surpluses, and urged a "modernization" of the farm price support system on the basis of the Brannan production-subsidy program.

This is an issue which promises to be one of the liveliest in the 1950 congressional elections, and if the President was aiming to beat his opponents to the punch on the issue, he had succeeded.

The President's recommendation was made in the face of disagreement among his own congressional leaders as to the best farm price subsidy program to adopt and organized opposition by many farmer groups against the Brannan plan.

MR. TRUMAN called the Brannan plan the most "promising method yet suggested," but left open the possibility that some other system could be substituted.

The Brannan plan is one, briefly, wherein prices on practically every farm commodity would be left to find their own level on the market with the government paying a subsidy to farmers in the form of the difference in price between what farm products brought on the open market and the established parity price.

Opponents of the plan point out that while the consumer might appear to be saving money on cheaper market prices for farm products, he would, in reality, be saving nothing, inasmuch as it would be his money that would be paying for the subsidy to the farmer.

COMMANDER: Some Dispute

Amid charges that he was the candidate of the "kingmakers," and was under the domination of the old line leadership, George N. Craig, 40-year old Indiana attorney was elected commander of the American Legion. He was the first World War II veteran to be chosen for the post.

THE 3,344 delegates to the Legion's Philadelphia national convention gave Craig an overwhelming majority on the first vote. Craig's opponents took the rostrum at nominating time to label him the choice of those they claim always select the organization's national commander.

ELECTION of officers climaxed convention sessions in which the Legion urged continuation of aid to China, adopted a resolution asking the U.S. to curtail "as far as possible" any further immigration at the present time.

HIGHWAYS: Rough Going

Thirty-four of these United States need 20 billion dollars worth of work done on their roads.

This huge highway repair bill, forecast by Senator O'Mahoney (D., Wyo.) was disclosed after a nationwide survey of road needs. THE PICTURE was not as dark as it seemed. O'Mahoney pointed out the condition will serve as a backlog which "will afford an unmeasured market for business and industry."

He declared that everyone is aware of the depreciation of the American road system during and following the war, but added that "few, I am sure, appreciate the tremendous backlog of essential work which has piled up."

As chairman of the congressional joint economic committee, the senator recently sent inquiries to governors and highway authorities in every state to determine their highway construction and repair needs.

HE REPORTED 40 states had responded and that of those, 34 indicate an accumulation of highway deficiencies which would require the expenditure of 20 billion dollars or more.

The information obtained has been turned over to the U.S. bureau of public roads.

'DIVORCEES ANONYMOUS'

Women Organize to Slow U.S. Divorce Rate

Unhappy because they felt that in too many cases they rushed to the divorce courts too soon, a group of Chicago women have formed a group which they hope will have some effect in slowing down the accelerating U.S. divorce rate.

They call their group "Divorcees Anonymous" and their major aim is to salvage other marriages which are headed for divorce.

Tito's Envoy

With Russians reported to be massing troops at his borders, Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito sent Dr. Josa Vilfan (above) as his envoy to lay the Yugoslav-Moscow dispute before the United Nations.

EUROPE: Stronger Ties

At Strasbourg, France, the council of Europe's consultative assembly called for creation of a union of European countries with real power in a limited range over the governments of member nations.

There are many students of world problems who are convinced this procedure is the only one which may eventually do away with war; but being realists, they concede that man has not progressed in selfless thinking to a degree where governments will agree to overall control of any kind or degree.

THUS it appeared the idea broached at Strasbourg was doomed at its inception, but men of goodwill must keep trying, no matter how difficult the task, if world peace is ever to become more than an illusory goal.

It has not been too difficult to get the best minds committed to a problem to see the way to its solution; the obstacle always has been that the individuals to whom the procedure must be entrusted fall in the scope and breadth of the wisdom necessary for solution.

So, when the 12-nation assembly meeting in France voted by an overwhelming show of hands for federal authority for the council of Europe, it was a manifestation of hope and desire, rather than any real accomplishment.

THAT the delegates were on good, solid ground is indicated by this portion of the resolution for federal authority:

"The government should undertake systematic instruction of the great mass of the people, pointing out to them the undeniable advantages of union for Europe and at the same time the dangers inherent in national isolation."

DOLLAR PARLEY: Information, Please

Great Britain took the lead in stripping any secrecy from the progress of the critical conference on England's dollar crisis.

OFFICIAL SOURCES credited Sir Oliver Franks, the British ambassador, with a proposal that detailed daily reports be made in order to keep the American, British and Canadian people advised of developments.

This system of daily briefings has been followed at meeting of the Big Four council of foreign ministers in the past, although top-level international postwar financial conferences have been a bit more secretive.

The publicity problem was among the first which had to be ironed out by the principals in the monetary discussions, as decisions will have a vital bearing on reducing British dollar drain and bolstering her position.

THE PROPOSAL for daily briefings was said to have support from Dean Acheson, U.S. secretary of state, but the attitude of John Snyder, treasury boss, was unknown when the proposal was first broached.

The federal administration already had indicated congressional leaders would be kept informed on the progress of the conference.

The British proposed that officials of the three powers take turn-about in giving the briefings to the press.

WOMAN'S WORLD

When Cleaning Curtains Use Tested Means

By Ertta Haley

EVER HAD CURTAINS fall apart while laundering them? Ever had them look limp, faded, and not quite clean enough? These are things that happen when we give curtains and drapes strictly amateur treatment when it comes to cleaning.

On the other hand, there's pure joy in a woman's eyes when she surveys curtains that have been properly cleaned. Curtains like this have a spanking-clean look, they hang straight, and they have retained their color.

Dirt which creeps into the house via windows, as well as the sun which dries out the thread of curtain material work havoc with the best of window coverings. For these reasons, extra care is necessary to keep curtains looking nice and avoiding the expensive replacement cost which they would otherwise necessitate.

Too much cannot be said in favor of constant cleaning. This does not mean laundering every few weeks, but it does mean applying a vacuum attachment to them when you do your weekly cleaning to get rid of the surface dust which will otherwise clog the fibers, and make them more difficult to launder.

Curtains can be kept cleaner, too, when windows are cleaned weekly or bi-monthly, depending upon the dirt in different communities.

Campus Cloche

Vivid watermelon pink velveteen is used by Betmar for this smart new campus cloche that hugs the head snugly to avoid going whichever way the wind blows. The hat has a deep crown and a helmet-shaped brim that are distinctly new and fashion-wise.

It's important that you measure the curtains accurately before laundering. Then, keep the measurements so you won't have to go through all the measuring again when you launder.

If you use a curtain stretcher, wash all curtains which are the same size at the same time so you will not have to reset it for each pair.

For those of you who will iron curtains, it's a wise idea to mark the ironing board as to length and width so that you can avoid having the problems of too-short or too-narrow curtains. This is an especially good idea for those curtains which need frequent laundering.

Use vacuum attachment on drapes.

ing: kitchen, bathroom and playroom curtains. Before washing the curtains, dust them either with a vacuum attachment or shake them out before washing so that you will get none of the surface dirt into the water. In this way you can have your water for washing as clean as possible.

THE READER'S COURTROOM

Grouchy Iceman Not at Fault

By Will Bernard, LL.B.

May an Iceman Frighten Children Away from His Truck?

An iceman was in a very grouchy mood one morning while making his rounds. As he walked out of a customer's back yard, he noticed several children gathered around his truck — grabbing little pieces of ice. "Hey, you!" the iceman roared threateningly. One little boy was so frightened that he ran into the street — right in front of a passing car. The child was injured, and later a lawsuit was brought on his behalf against the iceman. However, the court decided that the man wasn't to blame for the mishap. The judge said the iceman had a right to warn the children away from the truck — and it wasn't his fault that one boy ran the wrong way.

A man went to a barber shop to have his shoes shined. As he was getting down from the stand, he lost his balance and tumbled to the floor. When he got home and counted his bruises, the man decided he had a damage claim against the barber. He filed suit — but the judge threw the case out of court. The judge decided that a barber can't guarantee his customers against any and all dangers — and, anyhow, a person ought to be able to climb down from a shoe shine stand by himself.

May a Trolley Conductor Punch A Quarrelsome Passenger?

A fat man got into an argument with a street car conductor over a lost nickel. The dispute waxed hotter and hotter, and finally the man called the conductor a liar. Promptly the latter doubled his fist and punched the hefty passenger in the stomach! Later, the man filed a damage suit for assault and battery. The conductor's defense was that the passenger had started the argument, but the court held him liable anyhow. The judge said that the conductor of a public conveyance must always "treat his passengers with respect" — and that didn't mean punching them in the stomach!

I've just finished reading an article on this subject by one Jack Harrison Pollack in a newspaper weekly. It describes what many modern public schools are doing along the line of "Life Adjustment." Many schools — not more than five per cent, it is true, but that means about ten million children — are allowing older pupils credits on part-time outside work, encouraging the development of character in human relations, personal contacts, individual ventures.

We all know that what our children need is strong, fine characters. If a boy or girl has that, little else matters. He is equipped by grammar school to go as far as he cares to go. So the question is: what college work can help to form strong characters, what type of training will guide young minds and souls to true self-development and self-control?

These modern schools are working actual miracles in saving

Curtains Need Special Care When Washed

Rinse curtains but do not soak them in water as a pre-washing procedure. You can get a lot of dirt out of curtains by giving them a brief cold water rinse. Soaking them, however, would tend to weaken the delicate fibers, which have frequently been sun-baked.

Filmy laces and delicate sheers should not be washed without some protection. In fact, if the curtains are very fragile, they had best be washed in lukewarm water with mild soap, by hand. Simply squeeze the suds in and out of them as you would a sweater or some woolen garment.

For the somewhat more durable types, but still fragile curtains, place each panel in a pillowcase and sew the top with basting stitches. In this way the rough action of the washing machine will be buffered by the case.

If you intend using a curtain stretcher for drying the fragile curtains, place a strip of muslin at top and bottom of the curtain with pins or basting stitches so that the pins of the stretcher will not tear the curtain.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Character Precedes Logarithms

IT HAS BEEN A PUZZLE to me, as it must be to many mothers and grandmothers, why they teach our children what they do teach them — or try to teach them — in public high schools and in all colleges.

In the past, the only men who had this higher education — no women had it — were preparing for the law, medicine, the church, or service to the state. They were destined to be the rulers, attorneys, doctors, clergymen, judges, colonels in the empire's far-flung posts, teachers and professors. Their studies, of course, included history, higher mathematics, international laws, Latin and living languages.

Today we trail along on the same course, dragging with us thousands of American boys and girls who will never need Latin or logarithms.

Awakened Interest

Correct speech is achieved because it is heard, read and thought about. Such mathematics as any man or woman needs beyond grammar school must be learned in the express and particular business to which he or she devotes himself. Any language can be mastered by a person of good intellect in the six months before he takes a post in Brazil or Russia. And similarly, enough history of any particular epoch will stay in your mind when you want it to stay there — and that desire is not apt to awaken until you have some reason to be interested in it.

Turn to any college man you know, unless he be yesterday's graduate, with the simplest Latin phrase, and he will look as blank as he did at 15 in the schoolroom. Present any problem in machinery or electronics to the average college graduate, and unless he majored in that subject and intends to follow it up, he'll know less than the unlettered lad in the garage, who can put his shock of hair into the engine hood of your car, mumble mysterious words, and have things righted in five minutes.

We don't teach them what they need. We don't help them find the glory of work they like to do, because we give them work they hate to do. We bore them to death all through their young years, and then are amazed they don't want to read Shakespeare or Homer. "Gosh, they gave us that stuff in school!"

Modern Conception

"We'd like to know who to get in touch with and all the details." Sadly, it was necessary to inform the lady that her description of the books indicated they were worthless.

Stories about rare and valuable first editions have been written for many years. Every time one sees print mail is heavy with letters from persons who are sure they possess copies of the described rarities.

Authors have received hundreds of such communications and yet never once did they produce a real bibliographical find. Invariably the correspondents had only the latest and cheapest reprints of books valuable only in first editions form.

The number of persons possessing "old family Bibles" is astounding. There seems to be a universal feeling that all old Bibles just have to be valuable.

Be Smart!

A clever designer, who has the gift of making a blouse stunning in beautiful detail so that it virtually becomes a costume in itself, turns to nylon, thus adding a new permanence to the beauty she achieves. At the left is a new sanded nylon, very soft, heavy and rich looking. At the right is a soft weave, lighter in weight but not sheer, hitherto associated only with the finest silk. It is trimmed with dainty lace insertion and tiny hand-sewn tucks.

Woman Elevator Operator Saves Scores During Fire

PITTSBURGH — A woman operator braved a $15,000 fire to carry scores of terrified persons from the upper floors of a burning office building.

The elevator operator, Sally Rahn, 22, made two trips until heat forced her to take over from another elevator. Then she made two more trips until smoke and heat caused her to abandon the car.

Rarest Object Is 'Rare Book'

Most 'finds' have No Actual Value

NEW YORK — The most valuable book printed in America is the Bay Psalm book, published in 1690. It has brought as high as $151,000 and certainly would be worth $50,000 upon the open market today.

Only 11 copies are known and it is unlikely that many more will come to light. There's always a sporting chance, however, that another may turn up.

There also is a chance that copies of other extremely scarce and valuable books will materialize out of the attic or Aunt Bertha's trunk. A lady wrote: "I recently wrote a news feature in our home town paper that old books are valuable. My parents have quite a few, such as . . . (here followed a list of titles)."

Stories about rare and valuable first editions have been written for many years. Every time one sees print mail is heavy with letters from persons who are sure they possess copies of the described rarities.

Authors have received hundreds of such communications and yet never once did they produce a real bibliographical find. Invariably the correspondents had only the latest and cheapest reprints of books valuable only in first editions form.

The number of persons possessing "old family Bibles" is astounding. There seems to be a universal feeling that all old Bibles just have to be valuable.

Renovating Clothes Aids Wardrobe Budget

By Ertia Haley

AS LONG as there has been no startling change in the fashion picture, many women will feel quite free about wearing their last year's clothes without any changes and few additions to the wardrobe. A bit of sharpening here and there on last year's clothes, however, will work wonders. The few hours spent on clothes and fitting can even work a miracle which all women can appreciate: deft remodeling can change last year's modeling on this year's.

Although skirts were somewhat shorter last year than during the previous season, they are now considerably shorter, with fourteen inches being the ideal length. However, as you may have noticed, many of last year's dresses were still quite long, especially in comparison with current new styles.

Pocket interest, too, was evident, but not nearly so marked as at present. The same is true of necklines. We had those which plunged and those which climbed high, but they were rather simple in their lines as well as without some of the current decorative features.

Pleats were present, too, but most of the types now being shown are the stitched down variety. Even with pleats, skirts have a clinging, graceful and slenderizing effect.

You don't have to be a genius with clothes to see the remodeling possibilities in these different situations. And wouldn't it be worth a few hours of fitting and sewing to convert last year's clothes into fashionable things for the current season? For those of you who say yes, we have some fashion tips that will work an amazing transformation in the wardrobe that you'll be proud to wear with a refreshing alertness and handsome pride.

Full skirts which were so popular last year are being used for evening only. Many of the full skirts can be cut according to a pattern so they carry the new look. On others it may be possible to employ stitch-down pleats or gathers, so they give the effect of slimmness.

Whatever is done to the full skirt should be done with consideration of the top, since the dress must be harmonious. Check new fashions and see what hints you can copy for your particular dress. For the skirt which is not quite so full, but which still has a swing and flare to it, here's a trick. Take a tuck, the size of which is indicated by the length, a few inches from the hem of the skirt. If this can be done properly, you'll find that it's a very new and easy way to shorten the skirt.

Incidentally, if your closet holds clothes from several seasons, you might look over those which could not be lengthened sufficiently for the last two years, and see if some fashion tricks wouldn't put them into use now.

Decorative Features Alter Many Dresses

Picturesque collars and cuffs are very much a part of the new fashion picture, and simple tricks may be employed for refreshing old clothes.

If you have enough material left over from shortening a dress, this might easily be used to make collars and possibly cuffs, or a pocket or two. Collars are big. They may have large points; they might be the coachman type that stand up in back and plunge low in front.

Some collars, especially on the classic type dress might be the small pointed type or Peter Pan variety and could easily be carried out in velvet or velveteen, and thus be exceedingly fashion-wise.

Time Will Requite Wife's Faith

THE VERY DIFFICULT position in which Anna van Marx finds herself is, like many another, only to be solved by the change of heart of the very persons whose weakness and selfishness are causing the trouble. And, as we all know, weakness and selfishness are hard things to cure.

The situation is this: Anna is 28; her husband, Orville, who was the family doctor for years before she married him, is 42. Anna has a half-sister, orphaned now, who is 17. Sheila lives with Anna and Orville, and Orville is her guardian, and trustee for her considerable estate. Of course, you see the rest. Sheila is lovely, affectionate, impressionable, and very much in love with her guardian.

"I could bear that," writes Anna. "For Orville is not only a fascinating man, but his tenderness to Sheila since my mother's death, his care for her interests and her dependence upon him, would naturally win any such sentimental girl. But now there is no question that Orville is attracted in his turn, and for the last two months I have been feeling that I have no part in the picture at all.

See Each Other
"They see each other continually, when I am not present. Sheila will tell me that she has something to discuss with Orv., and go down to his office to carry him off for lunch. They like long walks before supper and when they come in Sheila will be positively starry-eyed, and everyone comments upon Orville's youthful appearance.

"My family consists of a 10-year-old son of Orville's whose first wife died when Donny was born, and three small boys of my own. I have an untrained Indian girl in my kitchen as my only helper.

Be Smart!

For dancing youth that demands variety, and the busy social calendar of the college girl that does call for many wardrobe changes, behold the flame-colored cravat scarf as an accompaniment of black lace. Jeweled pins anchor the cravat to the ballet top of the dress. Other ideas presented for versatility include high color chiffon shirred into puffs of misty beauty, some seamed into an elbow length sleeve at the right, also mantilla-like lace scarves, all beautifully effective and capable of being worn with several different dresses.

"I've proposed a finishing school for her—she was not promoted from second year high school, but could enter one of the schools which train girls for social life. But he won't hear of it. She is taking dancing, French and skating now at a private school here, plays tennis, and gives two mornings a week to the nursery of Orville's hospital. She asks Orville innocently why Anna doesn't think that's enough for a girl to do?"

Don't do anything, Anna, is my advice. Sit tight. Both Orville and Sheila are acting very badly, but acting as almost any man and woman would, given the temptation of her idolatry and his age. He married a woman 14 years younger than himself, as a second wife, all of which made him feel old.

Now Sheila has shown him that his blood can still respond to the call of youth. Give them time. They won't go much further, and when she meets her real mate Orville will suffer enough to make you really sorry for him. As for her, with this selfish, vain start, and with her wealth, she is not apt to attract the right man. She'll pay the piper, too, some day. Keep yourself as amused and as busy and independent as you can, and be very sure the tide will turn your way.

Elephant's Friendship Unlikely to Immigrant

BUENOS AIRES.—Police broke up a fast friendship between an elephant and an Italian immigrant at Buenos Aires zoo.

The man, Eduardo Nissi, 45, stopped in front of the elephant's cage, and began stroking the pachyderm's trunk. The elephant, a female, liked her new friend so well she pulled the cage bars aside and lifted Nissi to her shoulders.

Build Restaurant For Blind Neighbor

LA CROSSE, Wis. — What would you do if you suddenly went blind? John Knebes had to find the answer to that question, because blindness came upon him last April.

His wife, Leona, had to go down to the Heilemann brewery, where he worked as cellar supervisor, and help him home. Diabetes had taken his sight. At 36, with a wife and two children to support, Knebes was helpless.

But before you pass the hat for John Knebes, hear out the story of a determined wife, a loyal bunch of in-laws and 35 pairs of helping hands.

The unemployment compensation checks ran out in five weeks. After that, the Knebes family had a choice of eking out an existence on state pensions or finding another way to make a living.

Leona and John talked it over. They discarded first one scheme and then another. They decided that they might be able to make a go of a drive-in restaurant. The matter might have ended right there if it hadn't been for encouragement from Leona's father, John Pretasky, and the urgings of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Fries. Fries is a fireman.

Before the Knebeses knew it, they had agreed to build and operate Knebes' Drive-In. Dad Pretasky, a hog farmer, bought four lots near the Knebes home, and $800 worth of fill was packed in. By the time the concrete floor was laid, there had been dozens of offers of free labor after regular working hours.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Self-Watering Plants
If you have to go off and leave them for a few days, plants can be made to water themselves. Set a pan of water next to the plant and place a strip of flannel with one end in the water, the other wrapped around the base of the plant. Through the principle of osmosis, enough moisture will be conveyed from the pan to the plant to keep it alive.

Cleaning Rings
Nearly any kind of ring is best cleaned with a toothbrush. Soap and water will do the job unless the ring is badly tarnished, in which case try using bicarbonate of soda. Just dip the damp brush in the bicarb and scrub the ring; rinse when finished.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

Cleaning A Copper Stand
QUESTION: Can you tell me of a safe way to clean a copper stand? It has floral designs on the legs. I would like to have something that wouldn't be too hard to get out of the grooves.

ANSWER: There are excellent metal polishes on general sale that you can use, and many brushes in a wide range of sizes that will get into the carvings of floral designs. A simple way to clean copper is by washing with ordinary vinegar in which has been dissolved as much salt as will be taken up, followed by rinsing with clear water. You can make the solution into a paste by the addition of flour. If not well rinsed off afterward, the salt will further discolor the copper.

Wife of Arsonist Is Innocent

By Will Bernard, LL.B.

May a Wife be Punished for Her Husband's Crime?

The wife of a druggist went to pick him up at his store late one night. While she waited for him at the counter, he went to the basement, poured kerosene on some rags, and started a fire. Then they left. The store burned almost to the ground. However, an investigator for the insurance company figured out what happened, and the couple were arrested for arson. The court decided that the druggist was indeed guilty — but his wife was not. The judge explained that, even though she was at the scene of the crime and probably knew what her husband was up to, she still hadn't actually lifted a finger to help him.

A man got on a train without a ticket, and when the conductor came along, flatly refused to pay for his passage. The conductor angrily dragged the man to the door and unceremoniously shoved him out — even though the train was already on its way. The man later had the conductor arrested on a charge of assault and battery. The conductor's excuse was that the train "wasn't going very fast," but the court held him guilty anyhow. The judge figured that the passenger deserved more courtesy!

A crotchety old bachelor became very angry whenever the children in the neighborhood got onto his property. One day he spied a boy climbing over the fence into his yard. As the boy dropped to the ground, the old man kicked his bulldog on the intruder. The boy was badly bitten, and later sued the bachelor for damages. The man insisted that the young "trespasser" had gotten only what he deserved but the court didn't see it that way. The judge held the man responsible.

If a Man Puts on a Disguise And Scares Somebody, Is He Legally Liable?

One evening, a mischievous young man decided to "have a little fun." He dressed himself in woman's clothing, donned a veil, picked up a parasol, and went tapping his way over to his neighbor's house. The lady next door, evidently sensing something peculiar in the approaching figure, ran screaming to her husband. But when the husband seized a baseball bat and rushed forward to do battle, the prankster hastily made his identity known. The woman was so upset by the incident that she sued the young man for assault. However, the court decided that no assault had been committed. The judge said that, far from being malicious, the young man was only trying to be playful!

Breakfasts are apt to be rather hectic times, and before Sheila and Orville come in for their late dinner I have seen three children and the baby through baths and suppers and got the house quiet for the night.

"But often—always, indeed, I am so tired and sleepy by that time that when dinner is over and Sheila and Orville begin to play gin rummy or backgammon, I simply have to collapse in bed. Sometimes I hear them laughing and murmuring for hours. Again, if I am weak enough to go halfway down the stairs and look in upon them, their chairs are empty, and they have gone out to the porch, or for a stroll.

What Can Wife Do?

"Don't think I've let things get this far," the letter goes on, "without talking sensibly and quietly to both. Both seemed deeply surprised and amused in a kindly way. Just Anna's foolishness. Orville asked me what I could do about it, even supposing it were the case.

"Well, what can I do? Even if Orville and I separated, Sheila would still be his ward. He could see her as often as he liked.

"Do you wonder that I find my position absolutely unbearable? The smiling, smug assurance of both sister and husband makes it worse. I believe they like things this way; themselves free for any amount of playing with fire, with me always here to preserve the conventions. Every look Orville gives Sheila is a sneer, and every look she gives

Proper Insulation Helps Poultrymen

Benefits From Practice Extend to All Animals

Farmers pay for 900,000 tons of chicken feed annually that they could save by properly insulating poultry houses.

That figure is reached by projecting results of tests conducted at Iowa state college, in which flocks living in insulated dwellings required 15 per cent less feed. The protected flocks laid more eggs, and fatalities were fewer.

Benefits from insulation extend to all farm animals. Hog house insulation, for example, makes possible earlier litters, increases hog production, and lower feed costs. Only through proper insulation can such results be accomplished. In recent years an insulating material capable of such results has gained wide acceptance among farmers. Known as Zonolite vermiculite, it is completely inorganic, unburnable, and easily used as a lightweight plaster or concrete aggregate, or as insulating fill. Zonolite, a mineral of the mica family, weighs only about one-sixteenth as much as sand.

Perhaps its most important benefit is that it keeps the farm building warm and dry, and enables the ventilating equipment to work more efficiently. Here's how it functions in a hen house:

When outside temperature drops to zero, the heat given off by the birds might keep the interior at about 35 degrees. Unfortunately, the chickens also contribute moisture to the air. At low temperatures, air cannot hold a great deal of moisture.

If the insulation is used to keep the inside temperature at 50 degrees, considerably more water will be removed. It is a fact that air at 50 degrees will hold six times as much moisture as air at 25 degrees and will take that amount with it when removed from the building by the ventilation system.

Ringold Lady Dora Is Champion Again

Raises Litter of 10
To 447 Pounds Weaned

Ninety-six pigs raised to weaning age is the remarkable new record of America's champion production sow. She is Ringold Lady Dora, a purebred Hampshire owned by Meadowlark Farms, Inc. of Sullivan, Indiana, and the only sow of any breed to qualify for an 8th star in production registry books.

The champion chalked up her new record this spring when she raised a litter of 10 pigs, nine of them eligible for registration, to weigh 447 pounds at weaning time, 56 days.

To qualify for production registry, conducted by the purebred associations, a sow must raise a litter of at least eight pigs to a minimum weight of 320 pounds within 56 days. They must be approved breed type, free from fault or defect and at least half of them eligible for registry. The sow gains a star in the production registry books each time she repeats the performance.

Here is Ringold Lady Dora with her litter of 10 pigs which qualified her as an 8-star sow, the only sow having such designation in registry sows of any breed. This litter weighed 447 pounds at 56 days of age. Ringold Lady was fed a ration of corn, oats, pelleted milk products and alfalfa pasture prior to farrowing and during the suckling period.

The champion has repeated it eight times, raising a total of 81 pigs to weigh a total of 3,183 pounds at the weaning age. Besides her eight litters which qualified for production registry, this sow has raised another 15 pigs in two litters which failed to qualify, or a total of 96 pigs since her first litter was farrowed in September, 1944.

A victim of the war, the first red rubber agricultural belting has been made available to farmers by a Pennsylvania manufacturer. Available since 1940 only as a higher-priced industrial belting, the red rubber belting was a pre-war favorite with America's farmers. This farmer's smiles as he gets his first roll indicates a big welcome on its return to the farm market. This belting is particularly popular because of its added flexibility and toughness.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

THE LEADERS of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

"... it is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act..."

Obviously the railroads cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referee.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

Proves Business-Getter Vending Machine Move

A. R. Geist hated to tear down the attractive little building which had been his office when his Traffic Circle service station at Still Valley, N. J., grew up and required larger quarters.

Instead, he moved all the vending machines he had put in over the course of years into one spot in the old building, and invited comfortable chairs, and invited weary patrons to use the building as a lounge.

The relocation did so well for both the vending machines and the service business that Geist is planning to add a frankfurter machine, a hot coffee machine selling coffee in paper cups, more cold drink machines, and an ice cream vendor so that he can offer motor-dispersed lunch. Attractive feature of the plan to Geist is that it requires no extra labor.

Crossbreeds Held Finer Type of Beef Animals

Experiments in breeding range cattle show that—animal for animal—crossbreeds are a finer type than the purebred stock from which they stem originally.

In making that assertion, a livestock specialist claims there is a definite advantage that could result from planned cross-breeding of beef animals, and lack of uniformity of color is not an indication of inferior market yield.

Corn in the form of silage is the solution for the extra crop—and a trench silo is the cheapest and easiest way to provide for making and storing of silage.

FISH do not swim in the ocean just to be eaten on Friday," says the old adage. If you've had the good fortune of eating fish prepared properly, then you certainly will adhere to the adage, for fish cooked to perfection is truly delicious.

But, there are other reasons for eating fish, too! You may have abundant body-building proteins, minerals and vitamins when you have a fish dinner.

Fish are modestly priced, whether you buy them fresh, quick-frozen or canned, so they'll help you with food budgeting problems. They're plentiful and amazingly versatile, if you'll just give them a chance.

If you don't particularly enjoy fish, try a new way of preparation. One of the recipes in today's column might start you on a new food adventure. Or, if you tend to get tired of fish, try other methods of preparation with a dash of spanking brand new flavor tricks. You'll be surprised at how many new ways there are for preparing the same foods.

Many have heard of "fish and chips" but have you ever tried them at home? Use filets of fish which have been cleaned, then season with salt and pepper. Roll them in flour and dip in a thin batter, and fry in deep fat (360°). Served with shoe string potatoes, also fried in deep fat until golden and crisp, a hearts of lettuce salad and a generous serving of lemon quarters, you'll have a really delicious dinner for any night of the week.

DO YOU OBJECT to the odor of fish? Fish which is not overcooked will not have that odor to which you may rightfully object. It's wise to remember that fish is delicate and does not need long cooking to make it tender.

Baked fish is popular, especially when it's stuffed with a nicely seasoned celery mixture, then served with a tangy lemon-butter sauce.

*Stuffed-Baked Fish (Serves 6)

- 2 to 4 pound whole fish
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 1 cup bacon drippings
- 4 cups dry bread cubes
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon sage, marjoram or thyme
- 4 slices bacon

Have fish cleaned but leave on head, tail and fins. Wipe dry. Rub inside and out with salt; let stand about 10 minutes. Cook onion, celery and parsley in drippings until golden brown. Combine with bread cubes and seasonings.

Toss lightly and stuff fish loosely. Fasten fish with skewers and lace with string. Place fish, seam side down in a shallow, well greased baking pan. Brush with melted fat or salad oil. Bake, uncovered, in a moderately hot oven (375°) for 40 to 50 minutes. Baste occasionally with fat or oil. During the last 15

These Tested Ways Help in Fish Cookery

When breading fish fillets, allow the fish to stand after breading for at least one half hour, so that the coating will not fall off when the fillets are fried.

Potato nests are a nice innovation for serving creamed fish. Make them by cutting raw potatoes into slender strips, and cook in hot fat for 2 minutes. Press the potatoes into muffin pans and brown in a hot oven.

minutes of baking time, lay strips of bacon on top of fish.

*Lemon-Butter Sauce: Combine 1/2 cup melted butter or substitute with two tablespoons lemon juice and one tablespoon chopped parsley. Serve over baked fish.

Fish goes to lunch just as nicely as to dinner, when it's tuna fish in golden brown and puffy sandwiches:

Tuna Fish Sandwiches (Serves 4-6)

- 1 cup grated tuna fish (canned)
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 tablespoon grated onion
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 cup salad dressing
- Salt, pepper and paprika
- 1/2 cup coarsely grated American cheese

Combine all ingredients except cheese and season to taste. Cut bread slice diagonally in half. Toast one side; spread other side with tuna mixture. Sprinkle with cheese and broil until golden brown and puffy.

HERE'S A RECIPE for the thin batter into which to dip the fish for deep fat frying:

- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1 tablespoon melted butter or salad oil

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs, add melted fat or oil and milk. Combine with dry ingredients. Beat until smooth and use for fish filets which have been seasoned and rolled in flour. Fry in deep fat until golden brown. Serve at once.

Oysters have a delicate flavor, but you can coax them into an even more appetite tempting dish as follows:

Savory Oyster Casserole (Serves 4)

- 2 dozen oysters
- 1 cup cooked, chopped spinach
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/4 teaspoon tabasco sauce
- 1 cup toasted bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon minced parsley
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 2 tablespoons minced celery
- Salt, pepper and cayenne pepper

Add seasonings to parsley, spinach, bay leaf, onion and celery. Brown flour in butter and add spinach mixture to it. Cook slowly for 15 minutes and then remove bay leaf. Drain and dry oysters and place in a buttered baking dish, or in individual casseroles. Mix oysters with bread crumbs, then top with vegetable mixture. Dress with lemon juice. Bake in a hot (450°) oven for about 12 minutes. Serve with additional lemon, if desired.

Chopped sweet pickles added to bread stuffing make a nice innovation when used with pike or other white fleshed fish.

Lemon browned butter is another fine idea for serving with fish. Brown but do not burn butter over a slow fire in a heavy skillet. Add to this a dash of Worcestershire sauce and lemon juice to season.

Fish filets are sometimes more interesting if dipped in bread dressing, rolled, fastened with string and baked or fried, than when served flat.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Union Sunday School Lessons
By DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

SCRIPTURE: Psalms 23: 42; 46: 90; 121: 148.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 63: 1-6.

The Psalms We Sing

Lesson for September 25, 1949

IT WOULD be a most unusual person who on his dying bed would turn to the 23rd chapter of I Chronicles and not to the 23rd Psalm. If the reader will think of his own favorite passage of Scripture, and then look them up in some edition which prints the Bible in a modern format, he will discover that his favorite passages are probably all poetry.

Dr. Foreman

Poetry's Power
WHY the appeal of poetry? For one thing, it is vivid. It is in colors, not severe black and white. It lives and breathes, at times it shouts, and it always sings.

It is true to say "The providential oversight of the Creator is continuous and unremitting;" but it is more effective to say, "The Lord is my shepherd." It would be true to say, "The evidences of creative and beneficent purpose can be seen throughout all the orders of nature;" but how much more vivid is the 148th Psalm, calling on hail and fire, sun and moon and stars of light, to praise the Lord!

Another secret of poetry's power is that it is the language of emotion. Professors and theologians may be saying the same things as the poet, and maybe even saying them more completely and accurately; but what they say is less easy to remember.

So these emotional Psalms will always appeal, even to the professor when off duty, because they make us feel religion and not merely think it.

Pictures of God

SO IT IS no wonder the Psalms have been loved and sung all over the world. We are perhaps the only religion that has made so much use of another religion's hymn book. Different though our faiths may be, Jews and Christians can sing from the Psalter with one voice and heart.

For centuries it was the hymnal of the Christian church. Indeed, up to recent years some large denominations would allow in public worship the singing of no other songs than the Psalms.

Many of our best hymns and popular gospel songs, as we have already seen, are based on Psalms. "Rock of Ages, cleft for me," "A Shelter in the Time of Storm," "Hiding in Thee," — they all go back to the Psalmist's picture of God as a Rock (Ps. 42:9). The Psalmist was not thinking of a little rock in a cornfield. He was thinking of some tall crag in the fierce hot landscape of his country.

A rock there is a landmark, it is a shelter against the blazing sun, people could live under its overhanging height.

So God is the landmark of life, he gives direction to our ways; he is the shelter on life's weary journey, he is our safe dwelling.

So with the many other pictures of God in the Psalms—he is light, he is shade, he is the guard on duty at night watching over the sleeping city (Ps. 121); he is a shepherd, he is water for the thirsting soul (Ps. 42).

A Model Hymnal

IT IS true that few Christians today can use in worship all of the Psalms, without omission or changes. It is also true that practically all Christian churches find that the Psalms, by themselves, are inadequate to express all there is in Christian experience, faith and ideals.

The Christian hymn, entirely independent of the Psalms, has long since come into its own. And yet the Psalms remain the model hymnal. For in them beauty and truth are blended.

This should be the ideal of all Christian hymn and song books. Some of our modern "hymns" as well as some older ones, are bad because they are no better than jingles. —doggerel, not poetry, and often sung to tunes better suited to a juke box; and some are bad because they convey either nonsense or downright falsehood.

But the great hymns, and the best hymnals, are those which like the Psalms of old, combine profound truths about God and man, duty and destiny, with safety, stirring and singable music, aglow with the beauty and power of words.

Malaria Still Regarded Greatest 'Mass' Killer

Although malaria, mankind's greatest killer, no longer claims its toll among the world's great as it did before discovery of quinine, the disease still remains the "most important in the world from the standpoint of prevalence."

The yearly number of cases throughout the world is estimated at 600 million with 3 million deaths.

Even in the United States, between one and five million cases occur annually with an estimated 1200 deaths.

By claiming such figures as Alexander the Great, Lord Byron, Oliver Cromwell, King James I of England, and a dozen or more popes among its victims, malaria through the ages has enormously influenced world history.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: We have just moved into our new home. We were told to stain our kitchen cabinets and then wax them. After living in the house a month we found that the cabinets were becoming stained and marred by the water splashing on the wood. We would like to remove the wax and restain and then varnish them. Is there anything we can use to remove the wax from the cabinets without harming the wood?

ANSWER: Turpentine is a solvent for wax; use it liberally to remove all traces of wax. The liquid is inflammable, so ventilate the room while working and shut off all pilot lights and refrigerator. If you wish to apply another stain of the same color, this can go right on over the old one, although the second staining will make the color still darker. If you wish to lighten the color, you can apply a wood bleach, on sale at large paint stores.

CHANGE of LIFE?

Are you going through the functional "middle age" period peculiar to women (38 to 52 yrs.)? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel so nervous, high-strung, tired? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Pinkham's Compound also has what Doctors call a "stomachic tonic effect!"

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well
24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess acids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be a better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.
