IRRIGATION FIELD DEMONSTRATION--Located in the center of this picture is Mike Risinger, Soil Scientist, Soil Conservation Service, Lubbock, demonstrating soil moisture measuring equipment to local farmers. Risinger is a former resident of the Bula community.

"Farmers can save money and reduce energy cost," said Ken Carver, assistant manager of Lubbock High Plains Water District, in reference to test stops set up Thursday morning on the Don Seales farm, seven and a half miles west of Muleshoe.

"The purpose of this Irrigation Field Day was to demonstrate better water management methods and techniques. Each stop on the tour can save farmers a large sum of money by showing where improvements can be made to reduce energy cost."

At the first stop, Pump Efficiency Testing, farmer's wells may be checked for efficiency. It also determines if the pump needs to be repaired. The test locates problems so they can be zeroed in on. In most instances, fuel bills may be cut in half. "Electric pump fuel bills are usually cut by 35 percent, and the average cut in fuel cost for gas pumps is 45 percent."

At the Rainfall Simulator Stop, Carver explained that the rainfall simulator is designed to test plowing practices which can capture rainfall more efficiently.

The Mobile Field Lab is used by the Soil Conservation Service in Bailey County to evaluate individual farmer's irrigation systems. The SCS technicians have the capability to evaluate irrigation pumping plants, meter gallons/minute of water pumped, measure well draw down as well as make total system evaluations on sprinkler furrow systems.

The Soil Moisture Stop was set up to demonstrate different types of equipment on the market to determine the amount of moisture in the soil. Knowing the soil moisture and scheduling their irrigation could save one irrigation per year, thus making a big difference in the cost of crop production, he continued.

Carver explained that the field day test stops were a cooperative effort of the Extension Service, Soil Conservation Service, The Water District and the Blackwater Valley Soil and Water Conservation District in Bailey County.

Each agency is available to provide assistance to any Bailey County farmer upon request.

Muleshoe Pony League Team Continues Winning Streak

A large, enthusiastic crowd watched the Muleshoe Pony League All-Stars defeat the Friona All-Stars in District action and take their 13th straight victory Thursday night at Hereford. Pony League team manager Sam Gonzales, said that on the way to the 9-6 victory, it remained a close game until the sixth inning, when both teams burst forth with four runs each. Running very close in the first five innings, this is the way the scoring went:

In the first, each team scored one run, with neither team scoring in the second or the third. Muleshoe came back in the fourth with three runs to one for Friona. In the fifth, Muleshoe had another run, holding the Friona All-Stars. Then in the sixth, both teams exploded with four runs, and neither team scored in the seventh.

Winning pitcher was Larry Gonzales, with Beto Diaz, relief pitcher.

Outstanding hitters were Larry Gonzales, Beto Diaz, Rodney Reynolds, Hector Flores and Ricky Diaz.

"The Muleshoe defense played very well," said Mgr. Gonzales; Evaristo Sanchez and Henry Ogas, both coaches, "except for the sixth inning when Friona scored four runs."

"But, most of all, we are very proud of the whole team."

If Muleshoe wins the best-two-out-of-three series, they will advance to the West Texas Sectional Tournament next week, and will play Tuesday, July 21, at 6:30 p.m. against the

ASCS Gives Warning On Weeds On CRP

Several important reminders have been released for farmers and ranchers this month, according to the monthly report from Danny Noble, County Executive Director of the Bailey County ASCS office.

FINAL CERTIFICATION
The final date to request aerial measurement service or certify to all spring seeded crops, conservation use acreage, and ACR, has been extended to August 1, 1987.

A complete acreage report must be filed including all program crops, sunflowers, soybeans, alfalfa, vegetables, etc, by this deadline.

Noble says an accurate certification is very important, so don't guess. The reported acreage cannot differ from the measured acreage by more than the larger of 1.0 acre or five percent, or the farm could be ineligible for the program benefits.

FAILED ACREAGE

Any program crop that has failed due to excess rain, hail, (Disaster Application) filed before the crop is disturbed and/or replanted to a different commodity. All required ACR must be maintained for the failed acres throughout the calendar year to be eligible for program benefits.

MAINTENANCE OF ACR
The ASCS office has received several complaints about the maintenance on ACR land. Noble said, "We are aware of the recent rains, hail, planting, and replanting. There is a lot of

In District Play

Tuesday night, it was a thriller for the 10-year-old Muleshoe Youth Baseball All-Stars when they were tied 18-18 in the seventh inning, and the game was called for rain.

On Wednesday night, the Muleshoe All-Stars lost the game by a narrow 22-21.

Farwell, who defeated Muleshoe, then lost out to Friona, who advanced to meet Bovina, who defeated Friona.

Thursday night, the Bovina and Friona teams played again -- and played again in the rain for the championship. Bovina defeated Friona, 18-14, to become the district champions.

Crops Begin To Feel Water Stress Effect

Cotton producers should watch their crop for signs of water stress and should prepare to irrigate if these signs arise, a Texas Tech crop physiology professor warns.

Dr. Dan Krieg of Tech's Plant and Soil Science department advises farmers to recent hot and dry conditions are causing each cotton plant to consume between one-tenth and fifteen hundredths of an inch of water daily. He added that there needs to be an ample supply of

Sudan Man Loses Life In Accident

Lubbock police are conducting an investigation into a vehicle-pedestrian accident that left a 24-year-old Sudan man dead on a Lubbock street.

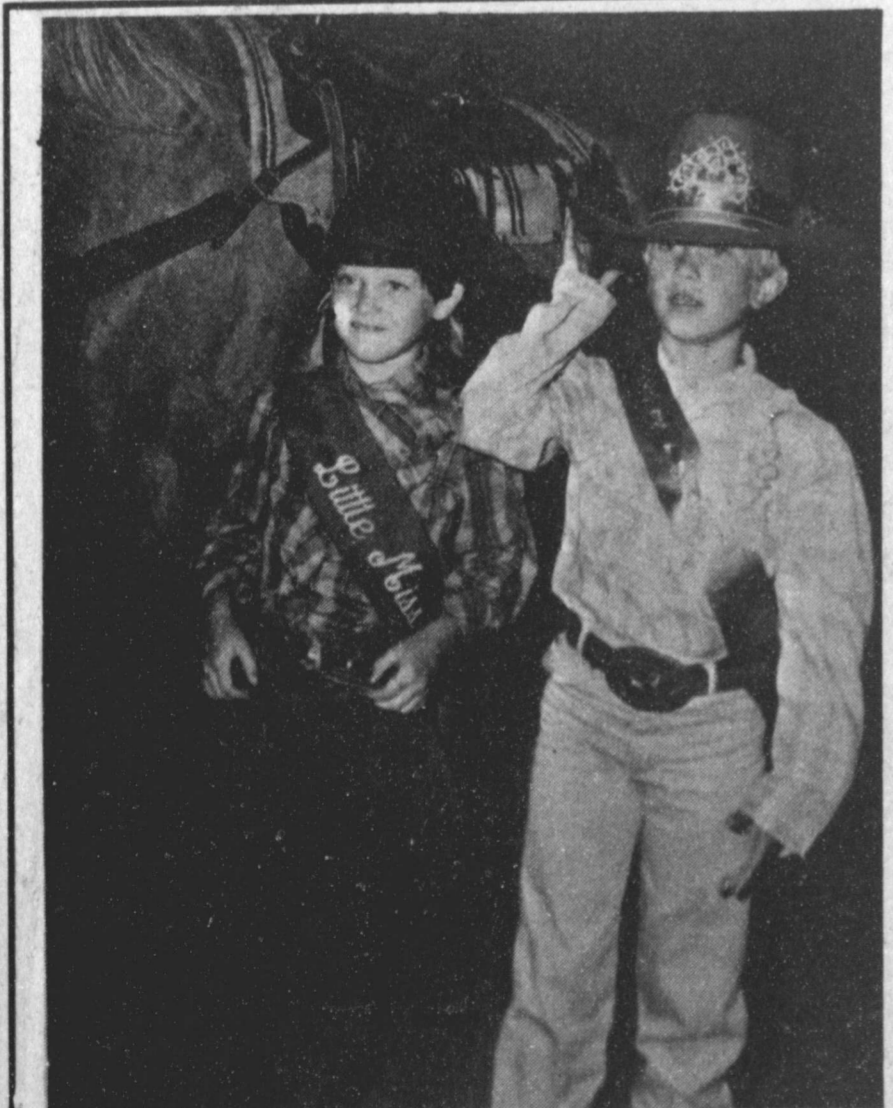

Bill Morgan, police spokesman, said the dead man, Ricky Ulys King, was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident in the 3600 Block on Avenue Q, after he apparently ran into the street, stumbled forward, landing on his hands and knees in the street.

He was pronounced dead at the accident scene at 2:30 a.m. by Lubbock Justice of the Peace L.J. Blalack. Morgan said King was running from a man when he ran into the traffic and fell down.

King was struck by a northbound vehicle, who despite evasive actions, could not avoid running over the man, according to investigating officers. The man who was chasing King was questioned and released by authorities. Officers said the man was from Dallas.

Both men had been inside a nightclub before the club closed at 2 a.m., and an argument apparently broke out after the men were outside. Witnesses said the man chased King for approximately a block before King ran into the street.

At presstime, services were pending for King with Hammonds Funeral Home in Littlefield.

LITTLE MISS COWGIRL--Christie Pederson right, daughter of Sam Pederson of Amarillo and Randal and Dawn Long of Earth was named Little Miss Cowgirl during the opening night festivities of the Earth Rodeo. She also received the Miss Personality award. First runner up was Sarah Templeton, who was also named Miss Sportsmanship; and Velvet O'Hair. Also pictured 1986 Little Miss Cowgirl, Lashon Lewis.

THIS ONE WAS FOR REAL--Friday morning, an emergency call was made from Dr. Bruce Purdy's Family Medicine Clinic to the St. Mary's Hospital Flight For Life helicopter in Lubbock. Pictured here, EMT's and paramedics from Bailey County Ambulance Service and the Flight For Life are shown loading a local woman into the helicopter. The 'copter landed at the softball field on West Ninth Street, utilizing the parking lot as a landing pad, moved the woman quickly into the helicopter and took off for a Lubbock hospital. The landing brought a crowd to the perimeter to watch the action that concluded around 12:15 p.m. Friday.

Looking For Cool Fabric Try Linen

If you're looking for a cool fabric to wear this summer, try linen. Its fast absorbency makes it a cool and comfortable choice for summer clothing.

"Linen is a durable and attractive fabric," says Dr. Ann Beard, a clothing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service. "It absorbs moisture, and dries fast, which makes it popular for women's suits, blouses, and jackets.

"Its appearance is deceiving," she says. "It's really a tough, long lasting fabric. Linen is a bit more expensive than some other fabrics, like cotton, but is durability makes it a good investment."

Linen also wrinkles very easily, the specialist remarks. To some extent, the wrinkling could be considered fashionable, but some people may not care for it. There are linens with durable press finishes and linen blends available that don't wrinkle as easily. Blends are less expensive, yet are still cool and comfortable.

According to Beard, "You need to be very careful in caring for your linens. If the fabric is not preshrunk, the garment may shrink considerably after washing. There also may be some type of finish on the garment which is not meant for home laundering. Because of this, it's important to follow the manufacturer's care labels and washing instructions carefully."

"If the garment can be laundered at home, which most blouses can, wash them as you normally would, and take them out of the dryer while still damp. Linen garments are easier to iron while damp, and should be ironed at a hot setting," Beard adds.

The sheen of linens depends upon the ironing. If the garment is ironed on the wrong side, it will have a low sheen. If ironed on the right side, it will have a very high sheen, which many people find attractive, she remarks.

"It's a very brittle fabric, so linen garments are designed without and hard creases. This may be why it's not widely used in men's fashions, especially in trousers. Hard creases will break the fabric and it will crack open," says Beard.

The specialist cautions consumers to read the garment label first and be aware of the fiber content before a purchase is made. There are linen look-alikes on the market, such as ramie. This fabric is less expensive, and wears comparably, but it's a little more brittle and a little less durable.

Beard adds, "Linen is absorbent, comfortable, and lightweight, and would make a great addition to any summer wardrobe."

Local Firemen To Attend Training School

J.O. Parker, volunteer fireman of the Muleshoe Volunteer Fire Department of Muleshoe, is attending the 58th Annual Texas Firemen's Training School, July 19-24. The school, attended by nearly 2,000 students representing about 750 cities more than 25 states, is being held on the Texas A&M University campus.

Fireman J.O. Parker is being sponsored by Bailey County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies by contributing toward the cost of the school.

"The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies believe Volunteer Fire Departments have been very effective in reducing the amount of loss involved by fire in rural areas," said President S.M. True, Jr., of Plainview. "It is our hope in sponsoring this program that the fireman will help the Muleshoe Volunteer Department to better serve the residents of Bailey County."

vided the producers do not let it suffer from early season water stress," he said.

Krieg noted that water stress will restrict the number of fruiting sites as well as cause young squares to shed. Loss of these first squares is the same as losing 14 days of the growing season and a large portion of the potential yield, he said.

"There is a myth in the area that the farmer should hold off irrigating until the first flowering. If water stress occurs before the first flowering, then the young growth will shed when irrigation does occur. The plant will set new fruit, but we will have a late crop. There just isn't enough heat units and radiation in late September and early October to bring the late-setting crop to maturity. We need to hold the first sets if possible," he said.

Proper irrigation and the addition of nitrogen to the soil may help eliminate stress to the developing cotton plant.

Krieg suggests that furrow irrigators water every other row and push the water fast in order to get the surface foot wet. Those individuals with center pivot systems need to give their crops a one and a half inch application, he said. "If the cotton hasn't received one and a half inches of rain within the past 10 days, the producer probably need to irrigate now," he said.

Also, he noted that 10 pounds of nitrogen should be applied for every inch of water distributed. The young growth will shed if adequate nitrogen is not available.

mum yield, contact the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 at 2930 Avenue Q in Lubbock or call 762-0181.

CRP WEED CONTROL

Since the recent rains, a lot of CRP ground appears to have a severe weed problem, continued the County Executive Director. He reminds: It is the responsibility of the producer to control the weeds on their CRP contracts.

Failure to control weeds is a violation of the contract and will result in contracts being terminated. If a stand of grass is lost due to a weed problem, you as a producer, will be held responsible for planting the grass over at your own expense.

Don't let this happen to you, warned Noble. Also be aware that there was a July 15 deadline for planting a dead litter on CRP ground. If you have any questions, concerning weeds or a dead litter cover, call the SCS office at 272-5124.

Immigration Law Updated

by Richard A. Edwards
Economist-Marketing
Texas Agricultural Extension Service

Texas A&M University College Station, Texas

Due to various circumstances, the Immigration Service has amended several portions of the Immigration Reform and Control Act passed last November. The latest changes announced last week concern the eligibility provisions of the special agricultural workers (SAW) program, and clarification of the policy which will guide INS while imposing sanctions against employers.

Under previous SAW rules, illegal farm workers were ineligible to apply for legal status in this country if they had arrived after May 1 of this year. That date has been changed to June 26. The workers still must prove that they worked in the perishable-agriculture industry at least 90 man-days during the year ending May 1, 1986.

For those workers who are eligible for legalization under the SAW program, but are not presently in this country, they have to present all documentation to an authorized center within their country. Thus a "catch 22" situation, they had to have documents from employers, etc., showing eligibility but they could not come back to this country to gather the documents.

The new rules allow SAW applicants to complete the application form, pay their fee and give "reasonable statements" about their work that qualifies them as a SAW employee. They will be issued an employment authorization card which allows them to come into this country legally. The worker must promise to provide the needed documents within 90 days. If this is not done, the illegal alien is subject to removal from this country.

The changes affecting employers concern the INS investigations and enforcement of sanctions. Initially, sanctions were to be enforced on June 1. This was officially moved back to July 1 and could be delayed until September 1 if a congressional compromise is reached. This has not been done at this time, so the official date of the start of sanctions is July 1.

GLEN HOLT
Son, Brother
Of Area Residents
Gets Presidency

The Texas Retail Grocers Association (TRGA), a statewide trade association named Glen Holt of Rotan, president for the year 1987-88. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F.D. Holt, who reside east of Muleshoe, and brother of Ronnie Holt of Muleshoe. His father, F.D. Holt, was in the grocery business for 35 years.

Holt has been a member of TRGA since 1951. He has served on the board for three years and as an officer for four years. Over the past several years, he had served on numerous committees. Holt was chairman of TRGA's 60th Annual Convention in San Antonio June 6-10, 1987, where history was made with the largest exhibition.

In addition to serving as president of TRGA, Holt is presently serving as president of the Abilene Retail Grocers Association. Holt owns and operates Thriftway super markets in Rotan, Snyder and Tahoka.

The Texas Retail Grocers Association has over 2,500 retail and associate members. The retail members own and operate approximately 8,000 food outlets in Texas, and employ more than 160,000 people. The sizes of these outlets run from supermarkets to convenience stores to mom and pop stores.

The INS previously announced that any violations found on the part of the employer would be cited, but no fines would be levied for a one year period after the start of the sanctions. Fines could be imposed if subsequent violations were found during that one year period. The INS now has stated that the first visits will be to provide information and consultation about the employee's responsibilities under the law. After the initial visit, a citation would be issued if the employer was still out of compliance. Fines would be made only on the third visit rather than the second visit as was previous policy.

One final item, there has been a lot written about the commodities which are considered as perishable under the SAW provisions of the Act. The general categories are fruits and vegetables of all types and other perishable commodities. The list of published "other perishable commodities," as determined by the USDA, includes Christmas trees, hops, spices, herbs, cut flowers, horticultural specialties, sugar beets, tobacco and spanish reeds.

Also included in the "other perishable" list, but not so widely known, are wheat, corn, rice, soybeans, mushrooms, rice, oats, and peanuts.

If you are a grower of any product on the latter list, and illegal aliens worked for you for 90 man-days during the year ending May 1, 1986, they are eligible for legalization under the SAW program.

Such a predicament! Stuck in mud a foot deep!
What to do? Just sit in despair? Wring your hands?
Of course not! There is a solution. Obviously, this is a simple predicament. But what about the enormity of some of life's problems? There is an answer. There is help. God is "a very present help in time of trouble," the scriptures say. Try Him — try Jesus. Feel His presence and let Him speak to you in church

THERE IS A SOLUTION

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Cotton Growers Grasp For Alternate Crops

Summer storms with hail and driving winds have dealt a heavy blow to thousands of acres of cotton across the Texas South Plains, forcing farmers to seek an alternate crop.

It's too late to replant cotton, said Dr. James Supak, cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. There isn't time for even short season varieties to mature adequately, he said.

"This means that producers who suffered this damage must consider such crops as sunflowers, grain sorghum or vegetables if they have to replant," he said.

But he cautioned that cotton producers who incorporated Treflan or Prowl preplant herbicides have generally eliminated the possibility of growing sorghum on that land this year, unless they are able to get under the treated soil with buster type planters.

Sorghum seed must be planted below the herbicide treated zone, the agronomist cautioned. The depth of the herbicide can be determined by examining the root system of the damaged cotton plants, he said. "The point at which feeder roots are found typically indicates the end of the herbicide treated zone," Supak explained.

Wide ranging storms Monday night (June 29) saw hail cut a swath about three miles wide across portions of Bailey County and wreak heavy damage on fields in Crosby, Floyd, Briscoe, Swisher, Lynn, Dawson and adjacent counties. From one to two inches of rain fell across much of the area.

"Except for, possibly, Lynn and Dawson Counties, the rains will be beneficial to the (remaining) cotton, Supak said. "It would have been nice had it been delayed for another week, but we'll take the rain when we get it."

The Extension agronomist urged farmers to carefully evaluate the condition of their crops before making the critical decision to plant something else.

"As we've said many times, don't make your final decision the morning after a storm," Supak cautioned. "Wait at least two or three days to evaluate the prospects recover. Run a sandfighter or rotary hoe as soon as possible to prevent further damage from blowing sand."

Check the plants carefully, Supak urged. If portions of leaves remain on the plants and the stems aren't badly damaged, the plants may recover quickly, he noted. "even if lead defoliation is nearly complete, as long as the bark on the stems is intact below the functional buds, the plants will recover," he said.

Research studies conducted on the High Plains have shown that nearly optimum yields can be obtained from plant populations ranging from about 25,000 to 60,000 plants an acre. This corresponds to approximately two to 4.5 plants per foot on 40-inch rows.

"As a general rule, if a stand averages two or more plants a foot of row and is fairly uniform, without too many long skips, replanting isn't warranted," the Extension specialist said.

When considering alternate crops to replace the hailed out cotton, consider potential markets for the new crop, urged Dr. Roland E. Roberts, Extension vegetable specialist. A firm contract should be secured before planting an alternate crop, Dr. Jackie Smith, Extension economist and marketing specialist, stressed.

Cow-Calf Operators Handbook Prepared

A new "Cow-Calf Management Handbook" has been developed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with two livestock industry groups to assist Texas ranchers in increasing their competitiveness and profitability under current economic conditions.

Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural System, notes that most successful cow-calf operations depend on a high percent calf crop weaned, high total pounds of beef produced by the herd, and a competitive market price for quality calves. All of these factors must be balanced against a reasonable and competitive cost of production, Tanksley says.

To succeed, ranchers today must study all technological financial and marketing tools carefully in an attempt to optimize return to an operation, Tanksley says.

Tanksley notes that cow-calf producers have many opportunities to cut production costs and increase returns by accessing research-based technology and applying financial management and marketing information included in the handbook.

The handbook, which contains over 100 topics divided into seven major sections for convenient reference, is designed to serve ranchers who operate under Texas conditions. The materials are assembled in a three-ring binder for ease of updating by producers.

Grants for development and publication of the book were contributed by the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo and Hoechst-Roussel Agri-Vet. Co., which is headquartered in Somerville, N.J.

An office copy of the handbook has been placed for reference in each county Extension office, Tanksley says. Producers who wish to inspect the book, secure order forms, and place orders for the book--which is priced at $40 per copy--may do so by going by their local Extension offices.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

by Edward Thorlund

With the stock market at record highs, the gloomsters are confounded again. For two years now some of the pessimistic forecasters have been predicting a major market decline.

The surprising feature of the present, aging bull market is that many technical signs at mid-year are still bullish. Some are very bullish. There is a feeling—whether justified or not—that the Reagan Administration won't let next year's election arrive in an economic downturn.

That means a recession, which seems inevitable at some time in the future, isn't likely until 1989. If that's true, it might explain the continued flow of money into U.S. stocks.

Also, foreign money continues to pour into the U.S. market, and this affects stock prices. Many of the major newsletters are now predicting a major rise in the U.S. stock market this fall. Some which looked to 2700 as the likely Dow high have raised their sights in recent weeks, as corporate earnings improved.

There is now speculation about 3000, 3100 and 3200—by 1988!
