1948 Campaign Maneuvers Started

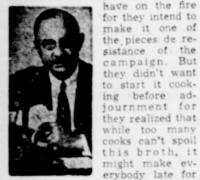

Top Republicans Are Angling For Presidential Candidacy

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON .- More than two weeks before congress adjourned, the last bit of fight went out of it and it looked very much as though it would glide rapidly but smoothly to an unperturbed finish

Then the Missouri scandal raised its ugly head. Sen. James P. Kem (Rep., Mo.), insisted that he was going to present his resolution, S. Res. 150, to investigate the justice department's handling of the alleged Kansas City vote frauds in 1946. This, despite the fact that the judiciary committee of the senate already had decided against such a probe.

The Democrats, of course, were set to fight it and some of the Republicans, rather than prolong the battle, wanted to forget it for the present.

It couldn't be entirely neglected for, despite violent digging on the part of the Republican and Democratic national committees, no really luscious campaign issue has been unearthed.

The Pendergast issue will be used but it cannot be depended upon as a major weapon in the battle of

At present the Republicans, although they are optimistic enough concerning the final victory, realize that it cannot be achieved without some heavy artillery capable of smashing the Democratic defensive. the strongest feature of which to date is the poll-the poll that showed in July that Harry Truman still had a 54 per cent popular majority. They may admit if you put them in a corner that they can't "win with Taft now," for they intend to make it one of the pieces de rebecause of the positive evidence reflected in the Truman poll and the negative evidence revealed in the Taft poll. But, they say, "Taft hasn't started to campaign. When he does he'll change all that."

How about Warren of California, toward whom those who like neither Taft's conservatism nor Stassen's liberalism nor Dewey's deweyism are looking hopefully? Well, there is one story that Warren couldn't possibly swing the No. 1 place and that he doesn't want the No. 2 jobthat what he does want is the attorney generalship.

At this writing nobody is afraid of the formation of a third party by the left-wingers who would follow Wallace in the hope of building him up for 1952 or merely to spite everybody else.

As to a "revenge" labor vote for the Taft-Hartley act, Taft's friends are going to insist that he was the man who saved it from being a really vicious anti-labor weapon. Shortly after the veto was overridden, he indicated that the clauses which muzzle the labor press and prevents them from expressing their political views should be amputated.

In fact, some people who are much farther to the left than Taft. in both parties, insist that this bill is going to lose its terrors with time. that familiarity will bring, not contempt, but the realization that it Poland. may be "used" by both manage- Next ment and labor to their advantage just as the railway labor act, muchbelabored in its early days, eventually became a useful all-around gadge

It is probably a safe surmise that Secretary of State George Marshall was shocked clear down to the bottom of his briefcase when a Gallup poll revealed that only about 49 per cent of America's voting population had heard or read of his cele-brated plan for repairing and rebuilding Europe's shattered economy.

On the other hand, he could take some consolation from the fact 57 per cent of those who were aware of the Marshall plan also approved of

Motive Behind Greek Revolt

ACCORDING to the diplomatic grapevine from Athens, the so-called Communist uprisings inside Greece were carefully timed-not by the Communists, but by the Tsaldaris. Maximos government-to coincide with the departure from the U. S. of former Gov. Dwight Griswold, Greek aid administrator for Athens.

The Greek government's motive is to convince Griswold that the Tsaldaris-Maximos regime is essential to the security of the country and must remain in power.

Actually, what happened was that the E.A.M., or so-called Communist group, was holding conferences with Prof. Alexander Svolos of Athens university just a few days previously with a view to a political compromise by which they could resume participation in Greek political affairs under U. S. protection, when, suddenly, about 4,000 of them were arrested.

U. S. diplomats are pretty well convinced that there can be no political stability in Greece and no success for the American aid program if the present reactionary Greek regime remains in power. Even patient Ambassador Lincoln MacVeagh is reported to have come to this conclusion. To counteract this, Tsaldaris is doing his best to convince Griswold that there would only be more chaos if the present Greek government resigned.

Out of 12,012 palcobolics treated there (between 1930 and '46) only 95 were newspaper men. The oth-ers were architects, brokers, bank-ers. THE political situation is shaping up like an unterminated pretzel. You can see the curves up to now plainly enough. But where the dough maze will wind up, nobody knows, words.

Dewey went out to make character in the West. From New York with 96 convention delegates, he went out to the six delegate states, not to gather party votes, as popularly supposed, but chiefly to gather a 10-gallon political disposition. Candidates often make the same trek for the same purpose at this stage.

If Dewey went after delegates, he should have come down to Washngton to see the Republicans in both houses of congress. This is where the delegates are. Senator Martin has the 76 or so from Pennsylvania in an inside pocket. Senators Taft and Bricker could tell Dewey about Ohio, and probably also Indiana and Illinois, although it might not be anything Dewey wants to hear. Speaker Martin could issue Massachusetts and probably all New England like script. Harold Stassen could tell him about Minnesota and perhaps Iowa; Wherry about Nebraska; Baldwin about Connecticut, and so on.

Dewey could take a pencil and paper, come to Washington at much less railroad fare and ascertain he lacks a majority of delegates without favorite son support. He might win a few primarles next spring and show some strength (this is what he is figuring on, they say) in which case the boys might come up to his backroom at Albany.

So while Dewey is supposed to be making a runaway race out of ft, no one will predict where he goes from here. Taft is going west himself, and will identify himself while there as the only

There is much about advertising I could loudly decry (and often do) at the risk of biting the hand I mentioned a paragraph or so back. But there are "hucksters" who are undertaking projects of a very decent sort of which you may not be aware.

Maybe in these past few months you've asked yourself: Why doesn't somebody DO something about a lot of things.

Something about the people killed or injured in automobile accidents every year.

Something about housing. The war ended two years ago. Yet the land of the free still isn't providing homes for the brave. Shame on all of us!

Something about the shortage of medical services. Patients are neglected, hospital wards closed because the nation desperately needs nurses. Training them is a longrange, national job.

Something about world trade. Our economic future depends on unhampered world trade. Yet pressure groups make our world trade a football for selfish interests.

Something about the nation's health. Between the ages of 15 and 34, tuberculosis is our greatest killer. At any given time, 500,000 people have it. But they don't know it. Alarming? You bet it is.

Something about our kids. Your children are getting a rough deal in school. Too few teachers. Too antiquated equipment, old textbooks or none at all. Make you mad? It should.

THE senate was about to convene for a political discussion of export controls. The Rev. Peter Marshall, chaplain, asked Divine Guidance and said:

"May freedom be seen not as the right to do as we please, but as the opportunity to please to do what is right. May it ever be understood that our liberty is under God and can be found nowhere else. Let us, as a nation, not be afraid of standing alone for the rights of men, since we were born that way, as the only nation on earth that came into being 'for the Glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith." "

And in answer to an objection by Senator Taft over continuing export controls on fats and oils as "illogical," Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin said:

"There is such a thing as the higher logic of the mind and soul. Our responsibility is to keep our own economy healthy and at the same time attempt to perform the function of the Good Samaritan in helping to make other peoples adequate." In debate over farm price supports, Sen. Milton Young of North Dakota said price of wheat in the Argentine without controls was between $5 and $6 per bushel. Arguing for continuing controls, Senator Young said American farmers would be tickled to sign a contract for five years at $1.50 a bushel rather than face the possibility of $5 wheat this year and probably 30-cent wheat in a couple of years.

WRIGHT PATTERSON Military Training Will Aid Youth

UNIVERSAL military training would instill in young men the two essentials of the soldier's life-two training temporarily, the physical hardening. We may not, we hope we do not, have to fight another war, military

NEW ULM, MINN .- Eighty-five years ago this month the Sioux Indians under command of Chief Little Crow struck out in a last desperate attempt to drive the white men from their rapidly shrinking empire in the Midwest states. Center of the attack, which occurred at a period when America was engaged in bitter civil war between the states, was New Ulm, early German settlement in Minnesota. The Indians struck with sudden, savage fury in what history has recorded as the New Ulm Massacre. Although the . Indians' cause was 'hopeless from [ the outset, it cost the lives of more than 700 men, women and children of Southwestern Minnesota.

The Indians were, in the end, badly defeated and driven from the state into Dakota territory. Many were captured and more than 300 were sentenced to hang. Intervention of President Lincoln spared the lives of the great majority of these. but 38 eventually died in the greatest mass hanging America ever has recorded.

There are different versions of the incident that touched off the trouble, conceded to have been one of the most serious of all American Indian uprisings. Accepted by many is the story that it was provoked by the craving of a renegade Indian, named One Who Kills Ghosts, for a mess of eggs for breakfast.

Early Day Painting

In the days when paint recipes were kept in the family cook book. our colonial ancestors knew about making paint out of skimmed milk. which is basicaly the same idea as the modern casein paint of today which has a milk base. Colonial dames mixed skimmed milk with salt, boiled rice, coffee and eggwhite when they wanted a batch of paint for freshening up their houses. And a painted house was a matter of social prestige. It was considered presumptuous for a tradesman to paint his dwelling. Gradually, though, as the idea of equality penetrated, the butcher and the baker and the candlestick naker decided they had as much right to paint their houses as the octor, lawyer and ship owner.

er number. Fighting co til noon of the following day, when the attackers withdrew. Of the New Ulm defenders, 34 had been killed, 60 wounded. Nearly 200 buildings had been destroyed.

During the same time the Indians also laid siege to Fort Ridgley, a United States military post established in 1853, 18 miles up the river from New Ulm. During the nineday siege, two formidable assaults were made and repulsed. The Indians then retreated into the Dakotas, taking with them many captives. Whatever it was that started the uprising, historians are agreed that it wasn't a mere sudden whim. The Indians were well prepared when they launched their attack. Their leaders knew well what they were doing when they chose Fort Ridgely and the settlement of New Ulm as their main objectives.

It is felt that the underlying cause goes back to 1851, before the state of Minnesota was founded, when treaties were negotiated with the upper and lower branches of the Sioux nation for the transfer of most of their vast lands in southern Minnesota and in Iowa to the government in return for specified payments. The Indians were to make list of fancy names compiled from records of the Alabama department their homes on a reservation consisting of a 10-mile strip on both sides of the Minnesota river, near

Fort Ridgely. The treaty was unpopular with many of the Indians, for they had fond mother's future hopes for her exchanged a big empire for a narrow strip of not very suitable land, and payments were not as large Ima Hogg. as they had, expected. Other facfeeling which was becoming more

Purity of Heart and Life

LESSON TEXT FOR AUGUST 10-Prov-trbs 2:1-5, 10-17; 4:14-27; 5:1-4; 31:10-12; James 1:13-15. MEMORY SELECTION-Keep thy heart* with all diligence; for out of it are the sues of life.-Proverbs 4:23.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Edu-cation; used by permission.

By WILLIAM CULBERTSON, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

T IS well for us to face squarely such a topic as the one assigned. It is particularly necessary to review the biblical standards with regard to holiness of life, since the day in which we live is one of lowered conceptions.

You will probably remember the story of the celebrated artist who was renowned because of his ability to put on canvas colors of accurate hue and great beauty. His secret was that he kept a number of valuable gems of all colors. He would turn frequently from his painting to study the color of these gems.

We need to spend time with the precious gems of the Word of God that we may clearly understand how he would have us live.

I. True Wisdom Involves the Fear of Jehovah (Prov. 2:1-5).

IN THE opening chapters of Proverbs, Wisdom is personified. Anyone who believes in Jesus Christ cannot help understanding something of his relationship to wisdom. In him "are hid all the treasof wisdom and knowledge" ures (Col. 2:3). To those of us who trust him, he has been made unto us wisdom (I Cor. 1:30).

In this passage in Proverbs the point is that if we observe his commandments, if we incline our ears unto wisdom, if we apply our hearts to understanding, if we long for discernment, as earnestly as we would seek for silver and hidden treasures, we shall understand the fear of the Lord and find the knowledge of God.

God will meet every individual who really wants to know him. Said our Lord, "If any man will-eth to do his will, he shall know..." (John 7:17).

II. True Wisdom Involves Holiness of Life (Prov. 2:10-17; 4:14-17; 5:1-4). To truly know God is, of course, to be spared the heartache which results from being deceived by sin and Satan. When wisdom enters the heart, the result is discretion and understanding (Prov. 2:10, 11). Thus God delivers us from the way of evil and from that speak evil things (v. men 12).

description of these evil men in verses 12-15: they speak perverse things; they forsake the paths of uprightness; they walk in the ways of darkness; they rejoice to do evil; they delight in the perverseness of evil; their paths are crooked and wayward.

Deliverance from the strange woman is likewise vouchsafed, as we have true wisdom. The description of these women is informative -flattering, forgetful of both friends and God; their lips drop honey, their mouths are smoother than oil. Notice the conclusion of the matter: In the end they are bitter as wormwood, sharp as a twoedged sword, their feet go down to death, and their steps take hold on Sheol. How much we need God's wisdom in this world. It is easy to be deceived.

III. True Wisdom Means Peace at the End (Prov. 4:18-27).

To walk with God, to walk in wisdom, is indeed as the dawning light, shining more and more unto the perfect day. If there were no other reward for living for God (and there are many, many others), the benediction at eventide would be enough to cause us to think seriously before we flout the ways of God.

IV. A Representative of True Wisdom (Prov. 31:10-12).

THIS passage describes the wise woman. She is indeed to be extolled. The worthy woman, the woman who loves God, the woman who is therefore wise, is in price far above rubies.

V. Sin's History (James 1:13-15). THE wise man, the man who will be pure in heart and life, ought to understand something of the history of sin in his individual life. Temptation here refers undoubtedly to a solicitation to evil. God does make trial of men (Gen. 22:1).

but he does not dangle before them that which is evil in itself. The history of personal evil is, that because of our lust we are entieed. Thus when lust has conceived (that is to say, we have succumbed to the enticement), sin is bern, and sin, when it is finished-but it is never finished; it goes on and on; no power on earth can arrest it - bringeth forth death
