-WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS-

U.S. Formosan Intervention Urged; Drive Is Launched to Trim Budget Group to Press for Child Welfare;

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

FORMOSA:

Shall We Intervene?

As the agitation for U.S. intervention in Formosa grows, many Americans will have a sharp flashback of memory to the days when Anthony Eden and others were urging boycotts against Mussolini and the Japs as campaigns of conquest were getting underway.

Now, there are many important U. S. officials and ex-leaders who argue that the United States must step in to keep Communist China from swallowing up Formosa. Use of armed force, if necessary, is recommended to stop that move-

LATEST TO JOIN with those advocating intervention in Formosa was Herbert Hoover, former president of the United States. He contended that such a policy was necessary to safeguard this country's own security.

Hoover argued the U. S. should use its naval power to protect not only the big island stronghold of Formosa but also lesser islands which Chiang Kai-shek's forces were seeking to defend along the south China coast.

He declared such a step would "erect a wall against communism in the Pacific" and offer a "con-tinued hope of some time turning China into the paths of freedom again.

HOWEVER, the decision was further complicated by a British stand that American China policy would strain Anglo-American relations. Indications were that Britain was just about ready to recognize the Chinese Communist regime.

Always the practical realist, Britain moves wherever her own best interests dictate, or where she thinks they dictate. Hence, for the U.S. to lash out at the Chinese Reds just when the British were trying to woo the Communist business apparently wasn't going to sit well with Great Britain.

BUDGET:

Drive for Balance

According to house Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts, United States government should be able to live within its income without raising taxes. That of course meant that the U.S. ought to be able to balance its budget.

MARTIN joined forces with Sen. Robert Taft, of Ohio, who is on record as saying he believes the federal budget could be balanced in fiscal 1951. The two lawmakers are united in a drive to attempt to force the government to live with-

The project obviously had more merit than chance for success, for with congress predominantly Democratic, there would be little probability of any great tax changes in the matter of reduced operating expenses.

All indications were that while there might not be any tax increases, there certainly would be little of tax reductions, despite administration claims that the government couldn't operate without more tax revenue. Where the balancing-up will come is problemat-

TAFT and Martin outlined their views as congress reconvened. Both declared they would oppose vigorously any administration request for increases either in corporation or high-bracket income Taft said he would not object to a deficit of about two billion dollars in 1951 if he were sure the government would get back into the black in fiscal 1952. The deficit this year is expected to run about 5.5 billion

BRITISH:

No, Thanks

Miffed because the world bank wanted to know too much about its operations, Great Britain's colonial development corporation withdrew its application to the international bank for a loan of five million dollars.

The 280-million-dollar government corporation, set up in 1948 to foster colonial development, said it wanted the loan to buy "indispensable" American-built land-clearing machinery

THE CORPORATION would have required to submit its detailed budget to the bank for some years ahead and would have had make quarterly statements showing total assets, liabilities and expenditures of each of its multiple operations.

Chairman Lord Trefargne told newsmen the corporation would buy the "second-best" machinery constructed in Britain and Italy. He declared the bank's terms were 'too onerous."

The corporation's projects now underway included:

Agricultural developments in Borneo, British Honduras, the Leeward islands, and Africa; forestry and mineral projects in British Guiana, and factory construction in northern Rhodesia, Kenya and

Atomic 'Advances'

David E. Lilienthal, atomic energy commission chief, told a news conference that there have been "several secret advances" in the development of atomic energy. He said these are comparable to the "breed-er design" in 1949.

EDUCATION:

Money & Health

The needs of education in the nation apparently were to be well looked after in Washington, as far as interest and stressing of necessity were concerned.

The American Parents' Committee announced a nine-point program in the child welfare field for consideration at the current congress session

THIS COMMITTEE was organized three years ago to work for national program to benefit children. Legislation the committee will press for will be:

COFFEE:

$11 More

The recent zoom in coffee prices. which jammed food stores with excited crowds of economy-conscious shoppers, will add a little over $11 to the average American household's coffee bill for 1950 unless fewer or thinner cups are drunk this year, says the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company. The retail rise in the United States, averaging around 22 cents a pound from mid-summer to mid-December, parallels an almost equal climb of approximately 21 cents a pound in Latin-American prices on green coffee, according to the bureau.

AMOUNTING to over 38 times the cost of the coffee price rise, or approximately $425 per year, is average U.S. family's share of the 20-billion-dollar increase since 1939 in our government's annual non-military expenditures, the bureau points out. A yearly saving of $86, directly and indirectly, would be the average family's share in the four billion dollars which it is estimated can be saved each year merely by modernizing and streamlining government operations; this saving would pay for the average house. hold's entire annual supply of 51 pounds of store-bought coffee even if the price went to $1 a pound, and still leave $35 for sugar and cream, the bureau calculates.

Sleep Habits Revealing

Since practically a third of one's entire lifetime is spent sleeping, this phenomenon properly engages the attention of scientists.

As witness the conclusions by Prof. Alfred Adler, psychologist, that the person who sleeps on his back, stretched out like a soldier ably lacks courage.

FOREIGN AID:

Appeal to Reason

It was impossible at the moment to evaluate its effect, but the fact that Sen. Tom Connally (D., Tex.) chairman of the senate foreign re lations committee was urging a reduction in foreign-aid spending was certain to carry some weight

CONNALLY forecast a "sizeable" cut in funds for the third year of the European recovery program, and explained that he meant 'anything up to a billion dollars.' Congress voted more than 3.75 billion for the program in 1949.

The most rabid supporter of the aid-to-Europe program would have to concede that there has been no little visionary treatment of the problem, with the top-drawer dogooders finding it hard to restrain themselves when it came to giving away the American taxpayers

There had been plenty warning and admonitions from men in government qualified to talk about the situation, but for the most part their authority wasn't sufficient to permit their interfering. However, with Senator Connally on the side of a reduction in the program, the situation took on a new aspect.

THERE WERE PLENTY servers who felt that unless the United States took a determined stand in insisting that Europe begin now to do something to rehabitate itself, the drain on American funds would not only continue indefinitely, but might even increase.

The Texas senator might have had some such idea in mind when he talked ERP fund reductions.

It was a little more difficult, however, to understand his position with regard to Spain. Connally urged that the United States exchange ambassadors with Spain immediately and to call off its diplomatic boycott of Generalissimo Francisco Franco. He wanted "strategic" Spain in the North Atlantic pact.

ECONOMICS:

Stability Urged

In the field of U.S. economics, there was pulling and hauling that would hold some measure amusement were it not for its basic grimness. With President Truman previously committed to a tax increase, and some of his cabinet members advising against it, the no-tax-hike group found important support in the President's council of economic advisers.

THIS GROUP, reporting to the President on the general economic situation, steered clear of any definite tax stand, but did not hold an olive branch to business. And it hinted that some changes in the present tax structure should be made in order to meet what it called a "need for more stability" in government actions affecting the nation's economic well-being. That word "stability" was the tip-off. It meant, anyone could reasonably assume, that the council felt U. S. business must have some assurance that it is not going to he confronted ever-shifting government tax policy. This coupled with Commerce Secretary Sawyer's suggestion that excise taxes be repealed, could be regarded as a definite switch in high-level thinking on tax matters. THE COUNCIL explained it this

While we should aim in the long run for reasonable stability in tax policy, the great changes in the tax structure over the most recent years and the double reversal of economic trends in 1949 may make it necessary to alter the tax structure somewhat before a basis of stability in future years will have been laid." This new course laurched the council on a course its former chairman, Edwin G. Nourse, repudiated-that of making recommendations directly to congress on matters of the administration's eco-

SECURITY:

A Plea to Wait

Bernard Baruch, elder statesman with an over-sufficiency of this world's goods, didn't think social security benefits should be paid when the recipient becomes 65 years of age. Himself a vigorous 79, Baruch said the retirement age should be raised beyond 65.

He suggested revision of social security laws to permit persons over 65 to go on working and accumulating larger payments.

First to Fall

Lesson for January 22, 1950

TROUBLE IN THE CHURCH can start anywhere. Sometimes it starts with the women. That was the way the early church found it. The experiment in fellowship which they tried ran into snags, for not even the first Christians were perfect. The church in Jerusalem was in sense inter -racial. Some were born and bred in Palestine, and there were others from outside, with Greek names, speaking Greek as their native tongue -Hellenists they were called. There was argument: Were the Hellenist widows getting their share of the church's help?

Committee Chairman

THE APOSTLES, being called on, refused to straighten the tangle themselves. Let the church elect a committee, they said. First on the list was a man named Stephen. He turned out to be most famous for being the first Christian martyr, but when he fell unconscious beneath that shower of stones, there died no ordinary man.

To begin with, he filled the bill as chairman of that Committee on Grievances. Not many men, then or now, could fill all three qualifications the Apostles required: reputation, spirituality, and wisdom.

It takes a very tactful man to settle a difficulty in which women are concerned; it takes tact to handle any committee; it takes tact to manage an inter-racial situation; it calls for wisdom to handle funds.

Debater

SOME MEN THINK themselves bigger than their jobs. Some men really are bigger, and Stephen was one of these. He spilled over, so to speak; he had even more energy and ability than the job called for. We hear of him debating around the synagogue circuit particularly in the synagogues which were used by Jews from other parts of the world

We have no details of those debates, but we know how they always came out; Stephen got the decision. We can guess, great speech in the hour of his death, what his general line must have been.

Many Christians in Jerusalem at that time had little or no idea that Christianity was actually a new religion; even the name "Christian" had not been thought of. They considered it a form of the Jewish religion.

STEPHEN'S SPEECH at his trial (Acts 7) may sound dull to some now, but it was not dull to the audience. No man makes a dull speech on the brink of death Further, it was that speech that got him killed. His listeners may not have liked it, but they certainly did not think it dull! The beauty of the speech is that it reveals Stephen's keen insight into the religious history of his people. Speaking without notes, he reviews the history of close to 2,000 years in a 10-minute talk, and yet brings out the main points. Only a real scholar can do that, a man who is both historian and prophet. The most important peaks in Israel's history were God's revelations to them; and Stephen shows that these revelations had never been tied to a house or a book.

No institutions and no place is indispensable to God. The same God who had wrought new things in the past had now wrought a new thing in Christ.

Martyr

STEPHEN'S AUDIENCE was not convinced. Seeing murder in their eyes, Stephen knew his time was short. In a few stinging last words he reminded them that murder was an old story in that Temple. They had killed prophets, they had killed Jesus the "Just One." And now—. Now they dragged Stephen out and stoned him till he

Well, you can stop a voice but you cannot stop an idea. Stephen was first to fall, but not the last. To this very year Christ has his martyrs, men and women who will die rather than deny him.

You can silence a man but you cannot silence truth. When the world goes against her, the Church should remember that now as then, "the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the Church.'

Family Living

THE VERY FIRST Christians lived literally like a big family. This is all the more extraordinary when you think of the variety of their backgrounds. (Look up the list of places mentioned in Acts 2:9,10 on a map of Asia, Africa and Europe.) A good family is a unit.

If little Willie comes down with appendicitis, his parents don't get out the family account book and figure out how much Willie has been worth to the family, in dollars and cents, in his eight years of life.

Suppose they calculated that his services, such as they are-carrying in the wood, feeding the chickens, or what not-had been worth about $23.75 since the last time he was sick, they wouldn't send little Willie to the hospital with the note to the doctor: "Please give our Willie $23.75 worth of operation. That's all he has put into the family budget and that's all we're going Add salt to rapidly boiling water and gradually add macaroni so that to let him take out!"

Not by any means. Little Willie is taken to the hospital and whatever operation he needs, that is the one his parents want him to have, even if it costs 20 times what Willie has been worth in cash. The family give Willie what he needs, and they also expect him to help out in all the ways he can.

Church Living

flour; blend well. Gradually stir in ONE TROUBLE with our churches today is that so many them have actually lost this fam ily-feeling. The early Christians, we are told, "Were of one heart and soul." Could you say of your church that all its members are of one heart and soul?

The early Christians, feeling thus close to one another, "had all things in common." What do the members of your church have in common? They meet in one place once a week. But what else? Do they even speak to one another? If one member of the congregation falls sick, do the others find out about it quickly, and when they find out, what do they do about it? If trouble comes to a member, do the other members rally around

Does the church say to its members, as the Salvation Army does of hard-pressed men, "You may be down but you're never out?" churches have a pastor's or deacon's fund, to be used in cases of need.

Contributors to the fund are as anonymous as are those who are helped by it. The idea is for those who are blessed with large income, those who may have special windfalls, bonuses, extra dividends, big crops, and so on, to chip in for the aid of all who may run into trouble. . . .

Not All Troubles Are Financial NATURALLY, not all troubles

are financial. Some of the most serious troubles have little or nothing to do with money. There are many other kinds of needs. For example, in any church there will be lonely people, and you can't cure loneliness with a check, no matter how big.

The minister is the key man, he can locate the needs, but he can't supply them all. Lonely people, those who have been through deep sorrow, men trying to find the right jobs, young folks in danger of serious temptation — a church which is like a family will not let these people fight their battles alone.

What we all need is the feeling that we belong. The church can make all the difference between despair and happiness simply by making every single person in it feel that no matter what happens to him, he still belongs; he is more than among friends, he is among

HEALTH BILL: Changes Planned

There was little likelihood that it would amount to anything in the long run-since the bill seems foredoomed to failure-but Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, let it be known he will recommend some changes in the administration's medical - insurance bill now before congress.

EWING'S conviction that the measure as drawn could stand some revision came after he obtained a personal insight into the socialized health program as practiced in England and other European countries

Ewing said his recommendations were not completely formulated, but indicated there would be a provision in the bill to reduce the opportunity for collusion between patients and doctors to augment medical fees.

The approach under consideration by the U.S. survey group is to require the patient to pay a part of the cost of the medical service -not to a doctor, but to an insurance fund.

AS THE U.S. BILL is now drafted, doctors would be compensated in any or all of three ways -a per capita payment irrespective of service, a straight salary, or a fee basis.

However, it might very well be much ado about nothing, as it seemed apparent neither the people of the U.S., the medical profession, or a sufficient number of congressmen are in the mood for installation of socialized medicine in the United States.

Off-Limits

The United States, irked and with patience worn thin, placed Communist-controlled Hungary off limits for Americans traveling

The action was taken because the Hungarian government has paid no attention to U.S. demands that Robert A. Vogeler, an official of the International Telephone & Telegraph corporation had not been released after his arrest on November 18. At that time, several other Americans were taken into custody by the Hungarians. The American note placing the travel-ban on Americans to Hungary again demanded Vogeler's release and reserved the right to claim damages for any injuries he may have suffered.

Although the U.S. protest rected only to the Vogeler case, state department spokesman said that it also applied to the arrest of Israel Jacobsen, head of the American joint distribution committee's Hungarian office.

It was a strong note and indi-cated the temper of the U.S. state department, but its effect could be determined only in the release or further detention of Vogeler and his imprisoned fellow-Americans.

CUPID:

Busy Fellow

Cupid was a very busy fellow indeed as the holiday season came and went. And most of his activity was centered in the upper brackets of U.S. celebrities.

Hardly had he sat down to rest after bringing Vice-President Alben W. Barkley and Mrs. Hadley together at the altar, when he was up and off again, this time to bring about the union of New York Mayor O'Dwyer and fashion stylist Elizabeth Sloan Simpson. This romance culminated with a wedding in Florida.

BUT the little fellow with the wings and the bow and arrows wasn't having any rest. With the ink barely dry on the press announcements of Mayor O'Dwyer's wedding, headlines carrying a really romantic wallop were scream-

And this time, Cupid had hit where it hurt. Thousands of moviestruck females across the nation, with a goodly number of them being Hollywood's own fair and famous, were shocked, then grieved as they learned that longtime movie idol Clark Gable had

Pierre, Great Hunter, Found Something He Could Not Kill

By BILLY ROSE-

From the province of Manitoba in Canada comes the strange tale of Pierre Montevilain, the hunter. Your acceptance or rejection of it will depend on the kind of pixies under your hat. For many years, Pierre, a man with the strength of a caribou, lived in almost medieval splendor in a chateau overlooking Lake Winnepeg. Only two things interested him-hunting and drinking, and the measure of the man was that he was more concerned with the potency than the taste of his liquor, and cared little what it was he shot as long as he made the kill.

When he was forty, he married Emilie d'Arbesine, a girl of good family from the Winnipegosis district, and when she presented him with a son a year later he toasted his heir in Hudson Bay rum and predicted that he, too, would some day be a great hunter.

His wife, how. ever, hated the continual killing, and as the child grew older she was happy that he

To encourage his love of wild life, she gave him a silver medallion of St. Francis of Assisi, patron saint of birds and beasts, and hung it around his neck on a thin gold chain. "I've heard it said that when people die their souls enter other living things, sometimes an animal," she told him.

A FEW MONTHS before the boy's ninth birthday, his father found a new-born fawn in the forest and presented it to his son. The lad named it Francois, bottle-fed it until the shakiness went out of its legs, and trained it until it followed him around like a puppy.

On his birthday a few weeks later, Pierre gave his son another present, a specially - constructed rifle, small enough for a boy to carry but in all other respects an efficient instrument of destruc-

"You told me that when people die their souls go into animals,' said the boy. "Wouldn't it be like killing a person?' "Your father thinks differently." "I won't shoot to hit anything," said the lad.

Pierre, who had been drinking on the porch, overheard the conversation. Addressing himself to his son, he said, "There will be no more women's talk. You will become a man and a hunter like your father. Tomorrow we go to the woods, but your first lesson will be tonight. Take your rifle and shoot the fawn.

Terrified, the boy nodded and went to the barn. He prodded the fawn with a stick and tried to frighten it into the forest, but the pet, thinking it was a new game, took a few playful leaps and then frisked back for more sport. Finally, the boy placed the medal-lion of St. Francis around the fawn's neck. It needed divine protection more than he.

HALF AN HOUR later, Pierre back on the porch, was roused from

Safety Precautions Urged in Cleaning Danger of Fire, Vapor Inhalations Are Cited

Housewives in rural areas som times find it inconvenient to sen clothes out to be dry cleaned and therefore do the work themselves. For this purpose, they may go to a nearby automobile service station and buy gasoline or to a hardware store or general store and buy "cleaning fluid."

Gasoline is intended to make motors operate and should never employed as a solvent because of its great flammability. There are some specially refined petroleum products available with cleaning and degreasing properties somewhat like those of gasoline but so vapors will be carried away from you, not towards you; do the work outwith considerably less fire hazard, although any petroleum product can burn if it is brought in contact with a source of ignition. When a small amount of solvent is to be used the work can be done indoors safely enough. If the fluid can burn, just be careful to use it where there are no nearby sources of ignition and don't smoke or light matches while you are handling the fluid.

However, when a large job is to be done, such as cleaning an entire dress or a pair of overalls or removing grease from a num-ber of tools which may require two or three quarts of solvent used over a period of perhaps half an hour. Do the work outdoors, stand so that vapors will be carried away from you, not towards you, and allow the cleaned articles to dry thoroughly before you bring them indoors. When you are finished, if your hands feel dry, wash with lukewarm water and rub a cream containing lanolin into the skin.

Corn belt farmers scattered thinly from Nebraska to Ohio are ex-perimenting with Brahmans and crosses of Brahmans on regular beef herds.

Do Brahman beef calves weigh 80 to 100 pounds more by weaning age and dress out two to four per cent higher than the usual run of cattle? Do they make economical feedlot and pasture gains and endure heat and insects better than other cattle? These are some of the questions to which it is hoped an swers will be found through the studies and experiments being

HEALTH BILL: Changes Planned

There was little likelihood that it would amount to anything in the long run-since the bill seems foredoomed to failure-but Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, let it be known he will recommend some changes in the administration's medical - insurance bill now before congress.

EWING'S conviction that the measure as drawn could stand some revision came after he obtained a personal insight into the socialized health program as prac-ticed in England and other European countries.

Ewing said his recommendations were not completely formulated, but indicated there would be a provision in the bill to reduce the opportunity for collusion between patients and doctors to augment medical fees.

The approach under consideration by the U.S. survey group is to require the patient to pay a part of the cost of the medical service -not to a doctor, but to an insurance fund.

AS THE U.S. BILL is now drafted, doctors would be compensated in any or all of three ways -a per capita payment irrespective of service, a straight salary, or a fee basis. However, it might very well be much ado about nothing, as it seemed apparent neither the people of the U.S., the medical profession, or a sufficient number of congressmen are in the mood for installation of socialized medicine in the United States.

HUNGARY: Off-Limits

The United States, irked and with patience worn thin, placed Communist-controlled Hungary off limits for Americans traveling abroad.

The action was taken because the Hungarian government has paid no attention to U.S. demands that Robert A. Vogeler, an official of the International Telephone & Telegraph corporation had not been released after his arrest on November 18. At that time, several other Americans were taken into custody by the Hungarians.

American note placing the travel-ban on Americans to Hungary again demanded Vogeler's tribute them. What it was all release and reserved the right to worth was anyone's guess, but cerclaim damages for any he may have suffered.

Although the U.S. protest was directed only to the Vogeler case, a state department spokesman said that it also applied to the arrest of Israel Jacobsen, head of the American joint distribution committee's Hungarian office.

It was a strong note and indicated the temper of the U. S. state department, but its effect could be determined only in the release or further detention of Vogeler and his imprisoned fellow-Americans.

CUPID: Busy Fellow

Cupid was a very busy fellow indeed as the holiday season came and went. And most of his activity was centered in the upper brackets of U.S. celebrities.

Hardly had he sat down to rest after bringing Vice-President Alben W. Barkley and Mrs. Hadley together at the altar, when he was up and off again, this time to bring about the union of New York Mayor O'Dwyer and fashion stylist Elizabeth Sloan Simpson. This romance culminated with a wedding in

And this time, Cupid had hit where it hurt. Thousands of movie-struck females across the nation, with a goodly number of them being Hollywood's own fair and famous, were shocked, then grieved as they learned that longtime movie idol Clark Gable had

From the province of Manitoba in Canada comes the strange tale of Pierre Montevilain, the hunter. Your acceptance or rejection of it will depend on the kind of pixies under your hat...

For many years, Pierre, a man with the strength of a caribou, lived in almost medieval splendor in a chateau overlooking Lake Winnepeg. Only two things interested him—hunting and drinking, and the measure of the man was that he was more concerned with the potency than the taste of his liquor, and cared little what it was he shot as long as he grew older was happy that he showed no inclina- Billy Rose tion for the hunt. To encourage his love of wild life, she gave him a silver medallion of St. Francis of Assisi, patron saint of birds and beasts, and hung it around his neck on a thin gold chain. "I've heard it said that when people die their souls enter other living things, some-times an animal," she told him.

A FEW MONTHS before the boy's ninth birthday, his father found a new-born fawn in the forest and presented it to his son. named it Francois, bottle-fed it until the shakiness went out of its legs, and trained it until it followed him around like a puppy.

On bis birthday a few weeks later, Pierre gave bis son another present, a specially - constructed rifle, small enough for a boy to carry but in all other respects an efficient instrument of destruc-

The youngster said nothing, but later asked his mother what he "You must go with your father," said Emilie. "You told me that when people die their souls go into animals," said the boy. "Wouldn't it be like killing a person?'

'Your father thinks differently.' "I won't shoot to hit anything,"

Pierre, who had been drinking on the porch, overheard the conversation. Addressing himself to his son, he said, "There will be no more women's talk. You will become a man and a hunter like your father. Tomorrow we go to the woods, but your first lesson will be tonight. Take your rifle and shoot the

Terrified, the boy nodded and went to the barn. He prodded the fawn with a stick and tried to frighten it into the forest, but the pet, thinking it was a new game, took a few playful leaps and then frisked back for more sport. Finally, the boy placed the medallion of St. Francis around the fawn's neck. It needed divine protection more than he.

HALF AN HOUR later, Pierre back on the porch, was roused from | bullets into the animal's heart. Then

Good Breakfasts Put Pep into Work (See Recipes Below)

Teen-Agers' Breakfast

N THE HUSTLE and bustle of school work and social activities. teen-agers are apt to short-change themselves on the food they eat. Their stomachs aren't going empy; but, considering between-meal snacks of candy bars and soft drinks, the kind of food they eat is apt to be off the track as far as good nutrition is concerned.

At this age, the phrase "You are what you eat" is all-important, for personality development, the capacity for work and play, as well as health, are dependent in considerable measure on good nutrition.

Also, this is the time when boys and girls are forming food habits that will follow them through life. Let's consider the first meal of the day-breakfast. By studying teen-age habits in this country, we have turned up the interesting fact that two-thirds of our teen-agers feel that everyone should have a good solid breakfast. But, in this same survey, it was discovered that thirty per cent of the boys and girls in this age group were skimping on breakfast. What causes the gap?

Consider the wide range of foods offered in this basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. Canned, dried, fresh or frozen fruits may be used at the breakfast meal.

dozen varieties of cooked and ready-to-eat cereals are available. The beverage might be cocoa, milk, or hot chocolate; the bread could be in the form of sweet rolls, hot muffins, biscuits, waffles, or pan-

FOR APPETITE APPEAL, a hot bread is a quick and easy treat for breakfast. This recipe for upside down oat muffins is doubly too, for it supplies extra nourishment in the rolled oats and the apricots. You might vary the fruit by substituting cooked peach slices, pitted prunes or apple slices for the apricots.

Upside Down Oat Muffins

- (Makes 1 dozen) 1 cup rolled oats
- 1 cup milk 2 tablespoons fat 1/4 cup sugar 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon salt 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 4 tablespoons honey 12 drained cooked apricot halves

Combine rolled oats and milk; let stand five minutes. Cream to-gether fat and sugar. Add egg and beat. Add oat mixture. Sift together flour, salt, and baking powder; add to first mixture. Stir only until mixed. In each well-greased muffin pan place one teaspoon honey and an apricot half with cut side up. Fill % full and bake in moderate oven (350-375°) 25 to 30 minutes. Turn out fruit side up. Serve hot.

Introduce Breakfast Variety With These Simple Tricks

Chopped, minced dried fruits, such as a combination of apricots, dates and prunes, make a colorful and tasty cereal topping. Or add these fruits to the cereal during cooking.
