CARE OF EYES IS EXPLAINED

Though cataracts are considered a rather common affliction of older people, there is no longer any reason to fear them, declared Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. Many think that once cataracts appear they are doomed to either blindness or an ordeal of surgery which may destroy what sight is left. Such notions have no basis in fact.

An advancing cataract brings on a dimming of the vision, and, in some cases the individual sees spots a cataract is left to develop long enough, it will appear as a faint grayness in the pupil of the eye. With complete development, the grayness will turn to dead white. Cataract is not a disease but a clouding of the lens of the eye.

Cataract can be well under way before the patient notices any visual defect. In such cases, only a physician or eye surgeon can discover the condition in time to arrest the process. When the fogging moves to the center of the pupil, the individual becomes conscious of a reduction in vision. The cataract is now well on its way. Its growth may be hastened by ill health, focal infections, overwork or neglect of one's health. Another contributing factor is defective vision resulting from astigmatism, and neglecting to use properly fitted glasses to correct such defects. Eyestrain, conscious or unconscious, can play a major role in cataract formation.

Cataracts which are the result of some infection or injury can be prevented. Cataracts resulting from aging cannot as yet be prevented. The important thing to know about cataract is that doctors can keep

It from being incapacitating. Cataracts can be removed when they first appear. They need not interfere with a person's work, or embarrass him in any way—they can often be cured. Cataracts should be treated early, before important skills are lost or unnecessary years are spent in frustration. Without fear of blindness, disfigurement or unbearable discomfort, a person can put himself in the hands of a good eye surgeon, when cataract begins to cause trouble.

Artists Found Home In Mountain Town

LITTLETON, N. H. — Tucked away on a back country road in this White Mountains community, a group of artists have "found a home" for summer activity in New Hampshire and have named it Rock Pool. They have converted and rebuilt old farm buildings into studios and an art shop. During the season skilled instructors demonstrate the arts of ceramics, sculpturing, painting, wood-cutting, and silver-smithing. The visitor to Rock Pool can watch the entire process of creation. For instance, in ceramics the clay is mixed, shaped, baked in the kiln, glazed and decorated in an individual studio with the most modern and complete equipment.

Each artist also holds classes in his own medium and students can learn the art of jewelry making, or take a sketching class with a professional model, or "throw" a vase on the electric wheel.

A new idea in the art world, each of these artists is self-sufficient. Owner Bill Gordon has long been interested in arts and artists in Boston, and it was his idea to convert Rock Pool into an art center. He provided the lodgings and equipment and then turned the project over to the artists, who in return, give a percentage of their summer's intake back to make the project self-sufficient.

Of his project, Director Gordon declared, "It is inspiring to have this new colony here in New Hampshire, and there couldn't be a more logical spot for an art center than this peaceful and scenic countryside with its natural offerings of beauty to the artist."

Tennessee Bear Ruins Revenuers' Evidence

NASHVILLE—In the Tennessee hills there lives a bear which seems to know bad whisky when he tastes it. While Alcohol Tax Unit agents were waiting to trap the owner of a still they had just found, the bear lumbered out of the forest and decided to sample the product. He rolled it around his tongue and then smashed the still to pieces.

Small Town Anything But Slow and Quiet

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. — Some people can't reconcile the idea of a small town with the idea of speed. But when they visit Farmingdale, their conception of a small town as a place of horse-and-buggy slowness is likely to be blasted from their heads by the roar of man's latest symbol of speed—the jet airplane. This is the home of the Thunderjet.

And as the home of the Thunderjet, the community must keep pace with the speed of progress that is being made in jet plane performance.

Less than 10 years ago the first American-built jet got off the ground, and a 15-minute jet flight was quite a performance. But now Thunderjets are racking up records of more than a thousand combat hours in Korea, they are spanning the Atlantic and Pacific and making double coast-to-coast flights non-stop, carrying heavy loads.

Today's single-engine, single-seat Thunderjet can fly faster and farther than many of the multi-engine, multi-manned light bombers of World War II, and they pack as heavy a wallop.

That is the symbol of speed this home town, often confused as small towns are in public thinking with places of drowsy tranquility, must live up to.

AMISH CAPITAL

This Town Has More Buggies Than Autos

ARTHUR, Ill.—On the streets you'll find more horses and buggies than automobiles. The hitch-rack is used every day in the week except Sunday.

For this is the home of one of the larger sects of Amish people in the country. Approximately 1,500 Amish live on the farms nearby. They are prosperous, friendly. They've never gotten in trouble, and mind their own business.

But strangers stare at them because the men are whiskered, wear homemade clothing and flat black hats. The women dress just as severely, and keep their heads covered. They dislike the automobile, and use the horse exclusively.

Hitch Rack Rules

Arthur has entire streets where the hitch-rack reigns. Signs are posted, prohibiting autos to park in these areas. The highways near Arthur are filled with the black-topped buggies of the Amish farmers.

Strangely the Amish have preserved many Old World traits, and yet form a harmonious segment in the area surrounding them. For although Arthur is known as "Capital of Amishland," there has never been any friction between these people and their non-Amish neighbors. They are extreme pacifists.

Make Own Clothes

Mention of the word Amish generally brings to mind a vague mental picture of queer, Quaker-looking people who ride in horse-drawn vehicles and wear plain clothes of their own making.

For nearly a century the Amish lived happily in Pennsylvania, then land shortage drove some of them farther west. Following the Civil war new settlements were made in Canada, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Illinois. Since then, many of the sects have modernized and accepted present-day living standards.

But the Amish in the Arthur community are strictly "old order." Although Lancaster county in Pennsylvania still is considered the mother community of the Amish sect, the followers at Arthur are perhaps the purest Amish in existence, and stubbornly resist the inroads of modernization. Only adults are permitted to join the Amish church, for they believe that each person should be convinced in his own mind that he desires to accept the principles of faith, such a decision not being considered childish.

Colorful, non-skid coasters are now available in a diamond-patterned surface that catches and holds condensed moisture from glasses. Made of rubber, they protect table surfaces, while the ribbed underside clings firmly even to the slickest surfaces.

Builds Own Home; Beats Housing Shortage

BERLIN, N.H.—One way to beat the housing shortage—if you have the time and talent, backbone and brawn—is to go out in the woods and start building your own house with your own hands.

That's what Bob Hughes, Berlin artist and high school art instructor, decided to do about two years ago, and if all goes well, he hopes to move in with his wife and two children before long.

The 36-year-old jack-of-all-trades has been building the new house almost single-handed during summers, weekends, and any spare time he can find.

The front door will have 15 panels of thick pine, recessed and carved by the gifted young artist-teacher-marionette maker into the 12 signs of the zodiac, with three panels for another design. The front hall will be paneled in pine, some a foot and a half wide. The stairs are huge solid oak blocks.

Bob Hughes is his own architect, designing the house himself and working from his own set of blue-prints. It is a combination of modern and traditional. The living room has a large picture window, composed of twelve panes which saves the expense of a single sheet of plate glass, and has the advantage of individuality.

The kitchen will be done in white ash, and has a laundry shoot down into the basement.

Looking tanned and rugged, with a crew cut, dungarees and G.I. shoes, Bob didn't think he was doing anything particularly remarkable in building his own house. Although he was aboard the first landing craft to hit the coast of Normandie on D-Day, he knows he is not the first amateur to build a home for his family in this area. And he pointed out that he didn't dig the cellar-hole and has no intention of installing the furnace and plumbing.

Community Holds Kid's Traffic School

HARVEY, Ill.—The safety committee of this community held a children's traffic school recently on a downtown plot. Students were of pre-school age through the third grade, and they were taught how to be safer pedestrians.

A miniature traffic pattern was drawn on the pavement with lime and water, and small-sized pedal automobiles were used to simulate life-sized cars. Boys and girls took turns acting as pedestrians, motorists, and traffic officers.

They were aided in reading traffic lights, railroad crossing signs, and other warning signals by miniature reproductions of these signs.

Cotton Babies Throng In Goldsmith, Ind.

GOLDSMITH, Ind.—Dr. S. M. Cotton was given a big day recently in this town of 300 population. He celebrated his 50th year as a "country doctor" with the aid of more than 3,000 persons.

Fifteen hundred of the celebrators wore cards on their lapels proudly proclaiming "I Am a Cotton Baby."

The slender, blue-eyed doctor thought he must have delivered "between four and five thousand" babies. Tipton county records show Cotton's name on 4,467 birth certificates.

Cotton was honored at a big dinner in the Methodist Church. Afterwards, the Jefferson Township band led a parade down Main St. to the Old Settlers' Grounds, where the doctor, his sandy hair shot with gray, presided over a picnic.

In the low-price class, PLYMOUTH is

FIRST IN STYLE, FIRST IN SIZE, FIRST IN SAFETY FEATURES!

The thrill of pride you feel each time you drive your new Plymouth has several sources. There's the sleek smartness of its Forward Look styling. The eager power of the thriftest 6, or the most powerful standard V-8 in Plymouth's field. And there's the peace of mind that comes from knowing that you are protected by more safety features than offered by any other low-price car. You'll know what we mean when you drive a big new Plymouth—how about today?

BIGGEST LONGEST ROOMIEST

"AMERICA'S MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR"—that's what the nation's foremost artists' group, the Society of Illustrators, say about the 1955 Plymouth!

THE BIGGEST CAR OF ALL 3 is naturally the most comfortable inside, and Plymouth gives you the smooth, steady ride only a big car can give.

NO BLIND SPOT

NO EYE-LEVEL "BLIND SPOTS," thanks to this unique swept-back windshield design that gives you the greatest visibility in Plymouth's field.

SAFETY-RIM WHEELS have a special retaining ridge to help hold a tire straight on the rim in case of a blowout. Another Plymouth exclusive!

SURER, MORE PREDICTABLE STOPS come from two hydraulic brake cylinders in each Plymouth front wheel, where the other two low-price cars use only one.

SUMMER DISEASES ARE SERIOUS FOR CHILDREN

Austin. -- The summer season always brings an increase in the incidence of dysentery, diarrhea and enteritis, all of which are major menaces to the lives of small children, annually causing the death of illness of hundreds of Texas youngsters.

Dr. Henry Holle, Commissioner of Health, declares that the chief cause of these intestinal diseases are contaminated milk, water or food, allowing the child to get over heated or exhausted; excessive sugar in the infant's formula and foods that have been improperly refrigerated.

All foods should be clean and fresh and all leftovers should be refrigerated so as to avoid spoilage. The utmost care should be used in preparing the infant's formula which should, of course, be prescribed by a physician and his recommendations as to sanitation precautions and correct refrigeration should be implicitly followed.

The Commissioner of Health warned parents especially of the disease transmission by flies. Children in any home that is not free from flies are in danger of contracting dysentery or other intestinal diseases which may be fatal.

If dysentery or diarrhea symptoms appear in your child, call your doctor immediately. His treatment of the disease is your best insurance against fatal results, since such diseases are really a very serious threat to the child's life!

For rent: furnished house, 4 rooms and bath, H. L. Wood.
