NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN.—A quickening of interest in national Democratic politics was expected to follow the parade of Democratic leaders from all states scheduled for this week in Chicago, called by Jim Farley, national committee chairman. Texas was to be represented by E. B. Germany, Dallas lawyer-geologist, new chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, named at the instance of Gov. Elect W. Lee O'Daniel, and by Clara Driscoll, of Corpus Christi, Texas, national committeewoman, and other state leaders.

A possible contest between President Roosevelt for a third-term nomination, and Vice President John N. Garner, Texas conservative, has already received considerable speculation by Texas and national political writers. Jesse Jones of Houston, chairman of RFC, has also been mentioned as another Texan who may figure in the long-range contest for convention delegates, which will get under way in various states soon after the first of the year.

The heavy inroads which Republicans made in Democratic congressional and gubernatorial strength in the elections this month, however, were damaging to the prospects of all "Solid South" favorite son candidates, making it likely that a standard bearer from a doubtful state will be the choice of the Democracy in 1940.

Third Term Talk

Abolition of the two-thirds rule, under which Democratic candidates were nominated for nearly a century, which will take effect at the next national convention, is also regarded as lessening considerably the strength of Southern states and their candidates.

Little Red Wagon Saves Wear and Tear on Artist

A little red wagon takes the place of a "brown and yellow basket," so far as Daphne Parker, brunette senior at Texas State College for Women, is concerned, and she's not planning to lose it. Used for carrying the weighty supplies which have loaded down many a student in commercial art, the wagon serves its purpose admirably, according to Daphne, who has bestowed upon it the title "Cyclone." The wagon trails her all over the campus, with steps presenting the only real difficulty, but the little artist from Temple seems to have surmounted that obstacle.

CRA Rejects Power Offer

Max Starke, operations manager of Colorado River Authority, and representatives of Texas Power & Light Co., this week continued discussions of the offer of Texas Power & Light Co. to sell all of its distributing facilities in 16 Central Texas counties to CRA, following Starke's refusal to accept the price asked by TP&L. $7,398,016. TP&L claimed this was its actual investment in the properties. Starke claimed the could be duplicated for $2,000,000 less, and also objected to the TP&L proposal that CRA confine its operations to the 16-county area in the event the sale is made.

If negotiations finally collapse, cities and towns in the area which have voted bonds to build competitive municipal plants, will be confronted with the alternative of duplicating competitive power service. Neither party to the controversy wants this, because division of the volume of business in the area would tend to limit profits of both the private distributor and the municipal plants.

MEAT LOAF WITH A NEW MEANING
THERE are meat loaves and meat loaves. Some are obviously haphazard leftover affairs no one has considered worth trying to make interesting. Then there are others with real character and distinction, put together with a real knowledge of harmonious flavor-blending. It's this latter school of meat loaves that are up for discussion now. Or rather it might be better to say that we are considering how the haphazard meat loaves can be promoted into the company of the aristocratic ones.

Here are a few helps. Serve mushroom sauce with a garnish of parsley in place of the usual tomato sauce sometime. Or you might try mixing a cupful of chopped mushrooms or liver with the bread crumbs—when you happen to have the liver or mushrooms on hand. Baking a meat loaf with onion halves and bacon strips over the top not only helps to keep them moist, but also adds an agreeable flavorfulness. A tablespoon of Worcestershire sauce and a tablespoon of horseradish will put new life and spirit into an otherwise "just so-so" meat loaf. And you'll find that any of the following hot fruit garnishes will lift an ordinary ham loaf into the realm of swanky, party meat dishes:

- Hot Fruit Garnishes for Ham Loaf
Pineapple: Line a baking pan or ring mold with pineapple slices, and pack the meat on top of them. Pour a little pineapple juice over the loaf. Rub the top with 2 tsp. brown sugar and 2 tsp. mustard before baking.
Peaches: Heat peach halves under the broiler for a few minutes. All the centers with green jelly and serve them as a garnish around the meat loaf.
Cinnamon Apple Rings: Core 4 apples and cut in 1/4 inch rings or slices. Cook until tender in syrup made of 2 cups sugar, 1 cup water, 1/2 cup cinnamon candies and a drop or two of red vegetable coloring.
Plums: Heat green gage or large blue Italian plums and serve them around the loaf.
Ham and Wheat Flakes Loaf
1/2 lb. ground fresh pork
3 cups whole wheat flakes (prepared breakfast cereal)
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup tomato juice
2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
Mix all ingredients together thoroughly. Pack tightly into ungreased pan, and bake 1 1/2 hours in a moderate oven, 350° F. If a bread loaf pan is used it should be baked in a ring mold 10 inches in diameter. The center of the ham ring should be filled with vegetable of contrasting color when ready to serve. Green beans or peas, or Brussels sprouts or cauliflower would be good.
Here's a meat loaf that will not require a sauce with it because it is baked and basted with its own sauce.

Most of the average politician is in politics because he was a failure in everything else. They do not believe in a balanced budget because they never had one. They do not understand finance, because they never made a dollar. Their currency is votes, not dollars, and their balance sheets are election returns, not book accounts, and their stock in trade is nostrums for people afflicted with a disease known as gullibility. It is bad enough that they must run the government. Pray heaven business may escape them.

Politicians who figure that the best way to attract votes is to turn, not hook accounts, and their stock in trade is nostrums for people afflicted with a disease known as gullibility. It is bad enough that they must run the government. Pray heaven business may escape them.

ALL AMERICA TEAMS ARE BUNK!

Press box selections are products of mere guess-work or absurd choice, says Henry McManroe in Look. You might as well pick the best wave in the Atlantic Ocean, he asserts, because the number of games played during one season makes it impossible for any one man to get a fair idea. Photo shows Dutch Clark, perhaps the greatest player of all time, who made few "All" teams.

Nation's Loneliest Man—

Those to whom President Roosevelt confesses his loneliness say he is staying away from a third term because he wants to get back to the intimate relationships of his family life, declares the current issue of Look magazine in a picture story revealing new details of the president's private life.

Jean Harlow Lives On—

Her continued popularity 17 months after her death is a phenomenon Hollywood cannot explain. Her studio gets 35,000 requests a year for her pictures—almost as many as top ranking current stars receive.

Attention, Drivers!

This girl is having her vision tested for driving. Five out of every eight new babies will be killed or injured in auto accidents before the age of 50, says the current issue of Look magazine, presenting a series of pictures showing how to avoid accidents and what accidents are most frequent.

Want a Date!

A couple of young men at the University of Nebraska, have formed a date bureau and find to their surprise, that the girls use the bureau as readily as boys, and that boys like to be pursued as well as pursue.

protruding abdomen, and crooked legs furnish a poor foundation on which a woman must hang her clothes, so stand tall, walk tall, think tall. We are most like the pictures we carry around in our minds.

Five or 10 minutes of daily exercise, Mrs. Barnes thinks, will do wonders to correct the posture caused by a neglected or misused spine. "Daily physical exercises designed to stretch and straighten the spine and the wearing of the correct kind of foundation garments and shoes will correct self-inflicted deformities and help in the regaining of a beautifully poised figure."

THE FARMER SAVES HIMSELF

A small newspaper recently made this wise comment: "One of the questions which is most frequently asked these days is 'Can the government help business?' For the best answer to that we must look to agriculture. For as long as we can remember, politicians have been rushing to the aid of the farmer. For as long as we can remember, the farmer, if he was saved from recurring difficulties, has had to save himself."

The history of farm relief, as this intimates, is very largely a history of costly political failure. Farmers have made definite progress through their own efforts, using such tools as the marketing cooperatives. When they have depended upon political panaceas, they have usually found that they have followed a will-o'-the-wisp.

"While it is the distinct duty of government to control and regulate all public business, it is equally true that government must pursue a policy of hands off so far as private business is concerned." —Charles R. Eckert, U. S. Representative from Pennsylvania.

Death Toll From Accidents In the Home Arouses Nation

A potential victim is the housewife who uses cleaning fluid near the open flame of her kitchen stove.

Other causes 4,800 dead. In addition about 4,700,000 persons were injured.

All of these deaths were preventable, according to the American Red Cross, which urges every family in the home and on the farm to check each October a list of hazards issued by the Red Cross, and to follow simple precautionary rules.

Falls claim the lives of aged people in a ratio of 60 per cent to the total annual death toll from this cause; two-thirds of fatal burns occur in the home; children are the chief victims of accidental poisonings in the home. These startling facts should make every householder look into the safety of his home, the Red Cross warns.

DEPARTMENT STORE SALES

AUSTIN.—Department and specialty store sales in Texas, as measured in dollars, during October were slightly below those of the preceding month and substantially under those of the like month last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Normally sales rise about 13 per cent from September to October. Reports from 105 representative Texas department and men's and women's specialty stores indicate a decline in dollar sales of 1.7 per cent from September to October and a drop of 11.1 per cent from October, 1937. For the year-to-date the decline in aggregate sales was 1.9 per cent.

Credit sales were relatively greater than during October last year, while collections of outstanding accounts showed a relative decline.

Highly Resistant Milo Needed

COLLEGE STATION.—Bright yellow milo seed will entirely replace the old strain in Texas within the next two years, E. A. Blair, agronomist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, has predicted. About a million pounds of the new strain will be available for growers next spring and another million pounds will come from 600 farmers in 52 counties who grew the milo this year through the cooperation of county agricultural agents and vocational teachers.

Milo blight, or milo root rot, appeared in Texas fields a few years ago and spread rapidly until the disease cut yields by upwards of 10 million bushels annually. A selection process, carried out by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station under the direction of R. E. Karper, resulted in the finding of the blight resistant strain.

Demonstrations in the field and at substations at Lubbock, Chillicothe, and Spur produced large, fine heads and a heavy crop while adjacent fields of the old strain returned poor yields of light, chaffy heads, Miller said.

'Slouch' In Feminine Posture Is Thing of Past

COLLEGE STATION.—The feminine posture, popularized under the term "the debauche slouch," is a thing of the past, and has been replaced by an erect, graceful carriage that stresses health and self-confidence.

"You can't be smart and have a careless, haphazard posture," Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, tells 4-H club girls and home demonstration club women.

The most expensive gowns are wasted when the posture is poor, while a woman or girl blessed with erect carriage can lend grace to the simplest clothing, Mrs. Barnes points out.

"The woman who slumps will never look well no matter how handsomely she is groomed," she says. "Good figure and good posture are not questions of size, weight, or age, but of health and carriage."

For some of weakness in myself
That caused my soul to feel
The need of Thine own potter's
To shape me by Thy wheel
I thank Thee, Father.

you can think of any other and not be thankful that you live in America whose people are praying for peace, and for their neighbors,

Jews, that you need a big dose of something because your mind has a bad case of indigestion.

I stepped out to dine
With the folks of the Plains
I'm telling you now
They've no growing pains
It was only two million years ago
That this dry land had an overflow.
And I learned, too, why this land
is so flat
But believe me, it's a swell place,
at that.

Indeed I did step out as Miss Laura Hamner's guest. You know her of course, in fact I believe everybody does. It was a big banquet and portrayal of the Panhandle History through W. P. A. Projects held over at Cousin's Hall at Canyon. We feel very indebted to A. A. Meredith who was the instigator of the invitations, for the both of us. Mr. Meredith seems to be the big Poppa of the set-up out here in the Panhandle.
Miss Hamner had such a stag line about her all the time it was great fun to be in her reflected glory.
Big, little, young and old seemed delighted that she made the party.
Geeez, I found out more things in the five plus my supper partner was an old cow-hand from Hereford which was a fine start, then I found out that these folks
out here know this country.
From the time forty-ton lizards crawled about up to tomorrow's television. In fact, I bet that's what made this place flat, all those 40 ton lizards and preposterous elephants walking around.

It was a thrilling time to listen to the actual facts, read from books, from relics uncovered in the canyons and beneath the soil, and many other sources that will preserve the rich and colorful background of this great table land.
An old horn was presented to the Historical society by Mrs. Sue Hedley. It was the one used by her father who was the first mail carrier from Childers to Mata-dow. The constitution of the Choctaw Nation was another gift to the society, from Mrs. Jim Wright, wife of an old-time cowboy. The letter presentation was made by Judge Goff who was one of the most interesting folk I met. He is the author of "Spur Jungles and Saddle Songs" and told me that right on the very spot where the Cousins Hall now stands in September of 1882, he cooked up a big Mulligan stew for the T Anchor outfit when they had their first reunion.

Did I have fun? Whatta you think? Besides I have a date for the next Cowboy reunion, come August... Hatcha and Hi-Yippi!

Yes sir, we grind your chicken feed to suit, according to the formula you wish, and we have the necessary ingredients to mix it.—

Everyone is invited to attend this conference.

BERRY FLAT

The teachers and pupils of the Berry Flat school were hosts to about one hundred twenty-five people at a Thanksgiving feast Wednesday night, November 23rd at the school house. The guests included only members of the local community.

The reception committee was composed of the older girls of the school, dressed as Puritan maidens in black and white costumes. They greeted the guests and ushered them into a room where music was

This was followed by the entire audience singing "Count Your Blessings," and a prayer service led by Bro. Harding Isaacs.

The program continued with a series of numbers leading to the opening of the rolling doors which revealed an unusual and remarkable scene. Three long, dainty tables laden with glistening china and sparkling silverware to serve the guests.

The tables groaned with their burden of toothsome roast turkey and savory trimmings, luscious salads and delicious pumpkin pie with coffee.

After the guests were seated at the marvellous table so bountifully

The credit for the blithe inger in the heaped table should be given the accomplished, skilful and expert cook responsible for the palatable food.

The benediction was pronounced by Bro. Billy Brewer.

It is through such splendid and untimorous cooperation as shown on this occasion that a community as a whole may continue to count its many blessings.

Miss Letta Merle Koneninger has returned to London where she attends school.

Getting down to business, for the best egg production, we say use "Bryant's Mash." If you don't think so, just try it on our recommendation.

The most obvious observation is that the election results are a notable popular victory for the long-dormant Republicans.

There is no denying that, excitedly they would win more seats — and they did.

A YEAR 'ROUND FAVORITE

Pink rhubarb pie in the spring and fresh berry pie in mid-winter. Autumn finds us serving grape or pumpkin pies, and in winter we specialize on mince pies. But Lemon Pie is as delightful in January as it is in June, and just as easy to make. I mean we get lemons the year around—so lemon pie knows no season. In winter it seems like a promise of summer sunshine, and in summer it's the ideal refreshing and cool and not too hearty dessert that we find ourselves wanting. There are several versions of lemon pie. For instance—the popular of all in the cool lemon meringue pie with its crest of foamy white meringue as light as a summer cloud. And here's about as gorgeous a lemon pie as you could want to serve. The filling is soft, but not too runny. You know what an abomination a stiff, rubbery lemon pie is. Well, this one will never be that. Here is how it's made:

- | | |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 cooled baked 9-inch pie shell | 4 tsp. lemon juice |
| 1½ cups sugar | 1½ tsp. grated lemon rind |
| 6 tbs. cornstarch | Meringue |
| 1½ cups boiling water | 3 egg whites |
| 3 egg yolks | ¼ tsp. cream of tartar |
| ¼ tsp. butter | 6 tsp. sugar |
- Mix the sugar and cornstarch together, thoroughly in the top of a double boiler. Blend in the boiling water, and cook over direct heat (stirring constantly) until mixture thickens and boils. Then set over boiling water, and cook for 10 minutes longer (stirring constantly). Beat the egg yolks lightly, and blend into them some of the hot thickened mixture. Blend the egg yolk mixture into your cornstarch mixture in the double boiler. Blend in the butter, lemon juice, and lemon rind. Cool. Pour the cooled lemon filling into the cooled baked pie shell. Mix the egg whites with cream of tartar until stiff enough to hold a point, then gradually beating in the sugar (6 tbs.), continuing beating until mixture is stiff and glossy. Pipe lightly on the pie filling, being sure that it just barely covers the filling. Bake for 15 to 20 minutes in a slow oven, 300° F.

- | Pie Crust | |
|-------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1 cup all-purpose flour | ½ cup shortening |
| ½ tsp. salt | Ice water (2 to 3 tbs.) |
- Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour and salt together. Cut in the shortening with 2 knives or a pastry blender, leaving some of the shortening in lumps the size of grape seeds. Add the ice water. (Sprinkle the water lightly—a little at a time—over the flour and beat with a fork. The egg yolk mixture into your cornstarch mixture in the double boiler. Blend in the butter, lemon juice, and lemon rind. Cool. Pour the cooled lemon filling into the cooled baked pie shell. Mix the egg whites with cream of tartar until stiff enough to hold a point, then gradually beating in the sugar (6 tbs.), continuing beating until mixture is stiff and glossy. Pipe lightly on the pie filling, being sure that it just barely covers the filling. Bake for 15 to 20 minutes in a slow oven, 300° F. Send your request to Betty Crocker in care of this newspaper.

LOOKING TOWARD CHRISTMAS EVE

It's not amiss to begin thinking about our Christmas Eve Supper menu or perhaps some Sunday Supper party we've scheduled for the holiday season. So here's a menu that fits the occasion:

- Menu For Christmas Eve Supper—or When You Will
- Red Cinnamon Apples with Tiny Pork Sausages
 - Rice Timbales with Cheese Sauce
 - Tiny Hot Rolls
 - Crisp Garden Salad
 - Fruit Cake
 - Nuts and Raisins
 - Jelly
 - Coffee
- Red Cinnamon Apples With Tiny Pork Sausages
- | | |
|---------------|---|
| 1 cup sugar | ½ cup small red cinnamon candies ("red hots") |
| 1 cup water | "18 little pork sausages" |
| 6 firm apples | |
- Boil sugar, water and cinnamon candies together to a thick syrup consistency (about 5 minutes). Core apples, and remove peeling from top half. Place apples peeled side down in hot syrup. Cook 5 minutes. In the meantime, brown sausages in frying pan (5 to 10 minutes). Remove apples from syrup, and place them (peeled side up) in individual custard or muffin cups (or in one large baking pan). Place 3 sausages in center of each apple, and place them (peeled side up) in a moderate oven, Bake 30 minutes (or until apples are tender) in a moderate oven, 350° F. Serve in a leafy green wreath of watercress, endive or lettuce, if 6 servings. "If tiny pork sausages are not available, fill center hole of apple with bulk sausage."

- Rice Timbales With Cheese Sauce
- | | |
|---------------------|--------------|
| ½ cup rice | 1 tsp. salt |
| 3 qt. boiling water | Cheese sauce |
- Wash rice in cold water. Cook in boiling salted water until tender (about 15 minutes). Drain, rinse with cold water to stiff up, and place in moderate oven, 350° F., to dry (about 10 minutes). Pack lightly in hot buttered custard cups or in a ring mold or casserole (1 qt. size). Keep in warm place until ready to serve. Unmold, and serve hot with Cheese Sauce Garnish with paprika and sprigs of parsley. Amount: 6 servings.
- Cheese Sauce
- | | |
|--------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 3 tbs. butter | ¼ tsp. mustard |
| 2 tbs. all-purpose flour | ½ tsp. cayenne pepper |
| ½ tsp. salt | 2 cup milk |
| ¼ tsp. pepper | 1½ cups grated yellow American cheese |
- Make a White Sauce by melting butter in saucepan, blending in flour and seasonings, and slowly adding milk. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. (Cook about 10 minutes over direct heat or 20 minutes over hot water.) Blend in grated cheese, and continue cooking until cheese is melted. Amount: 2 cups.

President will take them as an indication that he would be heading for almost certain defeat. On the other hand, a school of experts think that the opposite result may follow—that the Democrats may be forced to draft Mr. Roosevelt, on the theory that no other candidate would have a chance of winning. It seems to be a fact, as many surveys indicate, that an army of voters still like and support Mr. Roosevelt personally, though they oppose most of his policies, and tend to vote for Republicans for other offices.

From the purely political point of view, Democratic losses of Governorships are even more important than their losses in Congress. It is from state capitals that the bulk of patronage, life-blood of any party, flows. Few Congressmen control more than a score or so of jobs — Governors control thousands in the big states.

Major blows to the Administration were the losses of Governorships in Michigan and Pennsylvania. If the Democrats had likewise lost New York, it would have been a staggering blow. But Governor Lehman got through, though by an extremely small margin. Yet even this victory was not unmitigated.

Mr. Lehman is known to disagree with many New Deal policies — and he broke openly with the President on the Supreme Court "packing" issue.

California was about the only non-Southern state where everything went just as the White House desired. The new Senator, Mr. Romney, describes himself as a "110 per cent New Dealer." The new Governor, who defeated the Republican incumbent, has similar views.

70,000 CHILDREN! — Seventy thousand children are alive today because back in 1922 a few citizens with courage and vision determined that the dangers of the machine age must be met by education.

This good news comes from the Center for Safety Education of New York City. What is new is that it comes another bit of information that should provoke real thought. In a publication entitled, "A New Milestone in Safety Education," the Center says:

"Traffic accident statistics reveal two age levels on which special stress in safety must now be laid. In the period from 1922 to 1937, the death rate for children of school age decreased by 13 per cent, the rate for adult groups increased by an average of 160 per cent, and for pre-school children increased by 35 per cent. This indicates that these two age levels—adult and pre-school—are vitally important and will be considered in studies conducted by the Center."

What has been accomplished in the school classroom through safety education can and will be repeated in the home, on the streets and highways, in shop and factory, while the good work goes on with increased momentum and scope in our elementary and high schools. Such is the goal of the Center for Safety Education, which was established last July under a grant by one of the pioneers in the organized safety movement, the National Conservation Bureau of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives.

While the scope of the project extends over the whole field of safety education, the primary purpose is to train teachers to teach safely, understandably, practically, thoroughly and effectively. Shortly after the nation's accident prevention forces will be reinforced by increasing battalions of men and women who have been trained to teach safe living.

This America brings into play new and more effective weapons against that most ruthless of all

JUNIOR ENGLISH CLUB
The Junior English club met November 28, 1938, for the purpose of organizing an English Club.

The following officers were elected: President, Anne Brewer; vice-president, Lena Rushing; secretary and treasurer, Yvonne Westmoreland; reporter, Loise Haney; Fire Chief, Norman Ferguson.

The president appointed a program committee and a social committee. It was voted to have a meeting twice a month and each time have a program by the class. A name for the club was not decided upon but it will be named later. The committee has a number of suggestions it is working on.

Sophomores
The Sophomores presented their program last Wednesday and it was a huge success. Everyone enjoyed it very much, including the Freshmen. First we had songs and poems by the Sophomore talent, then Lay Alice Baum gave a talk on "Why We Have Thanksgiving."

Then last but not least came the smash hit of the century, the play "Cranberry Sauce." The play was a howling success and the actors, Hilman Maxwell, J. W. Curtis and Joyce Hines, received many compliments on their presentation of it.

THINGS WE CAN'T DO WITHOUT—
John writing "love" notes to "Buddy."
Blewett chasing Jone to ask her for a date.
Christine Daffern's Spanish songs.

SPOTLITE—!

The chewing gum Hilman and the cat chewing cat.
Are alike, yet different, somehow. What is the difference?
Oh! I see it now—
It's the intelligent look on the face of the cow.

What would happen IF—
Max and Katherine didn't go together?
Back didn't flirt?
Helen Bolch wasn't plump and jolly?

Melba and Shan should "bust-up."
John Garner made A's in Spanish.
Blewett ever studied his English?
J. W. ever got to school on time?
Ed Williams liked turkey?

We Hope So—
C. K. What do you do with your pants when you wear them out?
Max: Wear them home again, I hope!

Her First Air Ride
Martha (meeting aviator): I was up in the air once myself, but I forgot how it feels.
Mrs. Drennon: Why, Martha, you were never in the air in your life!
Martha: Mother, have you forgotten that the stork brought me here?

Mr. Johnson: Ed, how many feet make a yard?
Ed: Two of Hilman Maxwell's!

Ode to the Freshmen
A woodpecker lit on a Freshman's head and settled down to drill, he drilled away for a half a day and finally broke his bill, which just goes to show you how thick a Freshman's really is.
A Freshman was taking a test in Jr. Bus. What is a bank draft? He was asked. He wrote down: When the window of a bank is opened.
Another put for the question, "What is a clearing house?" "A clearing house is when you clean house."

ADVICE TO THE FORLORN
Hilman Maxwell had certainly better keep an eye on this "one man wave of destruction" —Loretta Owens—if he wants to keep his stronghold on Jo Ann Whitely.

Did You Know—?
Thelma & H. M. have up quite a case, it seems he asked her to the Letter "O's" football party, and she just couldn't go and they were both broken-hearted.
The other day Ed Williams went up to the Millicens. They sent him after some banana-nut ice cream and Ed asked the clerk for cherry-banana-nut ice cream.
He spent the whole evening with them and the only way they could get him home was by Jerry kissing him.
P.S.—He wasn't able to come to school the next day. Why, Ed, can't you take it!
It seems Christine Daffern won't come out for basketball because she knows the other girls wouldn't have a chance with her coming out for guard. Oh, yeah, Christine, you wouldn't have a chance if you play like you did last year.
Mrs. Groce sure has a time with her English class, it seems that they just won't be quiet. Maybe they would if had the other class wasn't there, Lena Mae for instance.
(A note from Nila Rae to Hilman: "Hilman, you give me such good advice you seem like a father to me." Why, Hilman, how does it feel to be the father of a baby-girl like Nila Rae?)
Guess when we saw "wearing Blewitt's cap the other day?" —Christine Sutton Blewitt, do you affection that way?

The Snooper nose (knows) all, sees all (sees all), and tails all (tells all).

I see where they are making wool out of milk. Just think how funny it would seem to slip on your breakfast right quick and run down to eat your pants.
It seems like the New Deal tax program aims to prime the pump by pumping the primer.
Maybe one big thing we need right now is more relief check and fewer relief checks.
You can't help but believe in a Superior Being, when you see our country still doing party work in spite of all that has been done to it in the last 50 years.

A typing party the other day had the sentence, "We fill our days with little duties." It was supposed to have been, "We fill our days with little duties." "We fill our days with little duties."

HARMONY NEWS

Everyone here enjoyed the Thanksgiving holidays very much. Our school was dismissed Thursday and Friday.
Mrs. Herman Dorsey entertained her Sunday school class with a party Thursday night. There were 29 present. Many games were played. Lunch was served to the guests. Everyone reported an enjoyable time.
Mrs. Spradling's room entertained the other rooms with a chapel program Wednesday morning. They also entertained their mothers with a party at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. They served hot chocolate, cake, fruit, peanuts and popcorn. The mothers had a nice time and found that their children made fine hostesses.
Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dickey had Thanksgiving dinner with friends at Wells.
Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Spradling spent Thanksgiving Day with friends in Brownfield.
Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Smith and family spent Thursday with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Isaacs of the Berry Flat community.
Mr. and Mrs. Lavoie O'Conner and children had Thanksgiving dinner in Lamesa.
Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Waggoner and children spent Sunday in Tahoka.
Mr. John Dorsey and children, Anna Jean and J. L., moved to Gail Saturday. We regret losing them from our community.
Football season is now over and we are proud to say it was a very successful season for our school. We were not defeated but by one school, and played every school in the entire conference. Our boys

COTTON PLANTING—
major items in a cotton policy for Texas and a general agricultural and industrial policy to go with it. Texas farmers can do much to raise the price of their cotton by improving the quality of it. Texas farmers can increase their margin of profit by increasing the yield per acre of their cotton through better farm management practice.

"Texas farmers as well as the Nation as a whole must come to a realization that the United States has lost annually between three and four million bales of its foreign markets for cotton, that these were mainly Texas markets, and that very important changes must be made in Texas agricultural production and marketing. New sources of farm cash income of major proportions must be discovered and developed if farm income in Texas is to be restored to pre-depression levels. Much of the response to emergency calls at all times and personally sees to it that a visit to their store is worth while, and sees to it that you feel at home while there. They are well known boosters for Dawson County and well liked by all. It's a pleasure for them to serve you in this line."
