SWEET N' SOUR

Happy firecrackers, merry heatwave 'n all other appropriate greeting for the 4th of July that queen of the summer holidays when people rush out and do their utmost to splatter themselves on the highways to celebrate.

with a large season.

Miss Jennie Harris is happy over her week end guests - Mrs. J. R. Harris and daughter, Pansy, of Lubbock were here and that's always a special occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arvin are celebrating too - Jo Ruth Warren and son, Tommy, are here from Arizona for a summer visit. Jo Ruth may come from a particularly lovely vacation land but we'd be willing to say that she's seen nothin prettier in the entire state of Arizona than her mother and dad's beautifully kept yards and gardens.

Mrs. Harry Ebert welcomed a visit frim a dear friend this week - Sallie Eastham came out from Fort Worth especially to spread a little cheer, and Mrs. Ebert, recovering from illness which had her hospitalized recently, can use that extra sunshine of good friends and good company.

Mrs. Ernest Hill marked this week on her calendar as a particularly happy one and the reason was a visit from her daughter, Mrs. Ira M. Goodrich and boys, Michael and David of Austin tin.

Glen and Maggie Green celebrated this week with a whole happy household of guests—Maggie's mother, Mrs. A. Schweining, George and Nita Schweining and children Georgann and Betsy, and another small niece, Daria Moore, all of Sonora spent the week end here.

This relates some happy high.

berta and children, and Mrs. Alice Warren had special guests this week when Dwight and Mary Mayes, Gary Stevie and Pattle, came down from Borger.

Good news to Baird and the surrounding community is the installation of Porter's Lone Star Rock Shop in beautiful new Gers just west of Baird on I. y 80. The Porters have constructed a fine modern biulding for their business and landscaping is already in progress. The Lone Star Rock Shop should soon be one of the most attractive of places - it is already one of the best stocked and equipped ahops in the state.

Dig that new star on T.V.?

Our very own Fred Foy, sharing the spotlight with his fine Hampshire lamb, made a guest appearance on the "On The Farm" program Tuesday night over Channel 9. Fred did an excellent job of showing his lamb and many an older guest could take a lesson from the youngster's un-ruffled and at-ease way before the cameras, Fred is beginning to be an old hand at these appearances - when he made his trip to Des Moines, Ia.

Let me tell you what my good neighbors did for us yesterday. Oille Burnam picked a mess of good ole blackeye peas and Gayle brought them to me, I shelled them and cooked them, they were real good, the first we have had this summer. Virgil Brown brought a nice cat fish dressed it for me and I cooked it for dinner, they were real good too. How can one live without neighbors like these, Annie Yarbrough sent a jar of pickled beets, so did the Mobley girls. So I have to get busy and be a good neighbor, there has been so many nice things did for me. Parties Honor Bride-Elect

Mary Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brown, was complimented at a pre-nuptial buffet supper at the home of Mrs. M. M. Caldwell Thursday night.

Miss Brown will be married July 2 to Ensign Donald Dix, U. S.N.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dix of Coleman.

The honoree was wearing a two-piece dress of aqua shantung with white accessories.

The center table was decorated with a silver container of white roses. Other tables were centered with crystal vases of shasta daisies.

An electric skillet was presented as hostess gift for the bride-

Other hostesses were Mrs. Sam Gilliland, Mrs. J. V. Thompson, Mrs. Clyde Latimer and Mrs. Lucille Tankersley.

Miss Brown was complimented Tuesday with a recipe party in the home of Mrs. Hugh Ross. Each guest gave her favorite recipe, and also a housthold hint.

Other hostesses were Mmes. Archie Nichols, Vernon Smith, Jimmy Roy Higgins.

On Saturday, Miss Brown was honored with a coke party by Mrs. H. A. Martin and Mrs. Martha Ann Upchurch of Abilene. The honoree was presented a hostess gift of pottery.

Mrs. W. C. Pruitt, Mrs. China Aliphin, Mrs. Ervin Pruitt and daughters, Tommy Sue and Lin-da Kay, attended the funeral services for Mrs. E. A. Long in Big Spring Sunday. Mrs. Long was an aunt of Mrs. W. C. Pruitt.

Jack White spent the week end at Brownsville with his brother, Eddie Bullock and wife.
