IOWA PARK, TEXAS

Friday really is Crazy Day in Iowa Park

It's later than you think! According to last week's Leader, tomorrow is Aug. 30, which makes Friday one of the craziest Crazy Days in Iowa Park history.

In all seriousness, merchants of the town are offering some of the money-savingest bargains you've ever heard of, like $25 worth of merchandise for $1.

The Leader is even paying you to take out a classified ad!

But what makes the day even better, is that all the merchants and sales people have promised they will dress for the occasion. Based on past experience, they will live up to their part of the bargain, dress-wise and bargain-wise. Crazy Day in Iowa Park has become well known throughout the area, not only for its bargains but for the costumes. It all started in the summer of 1970, and has been building in merchant participation and crowd attraction each year.

Some shoppers have said "It's worth paying regular prices just to visit each of the stores and see how nutty the people are dressed. The bargains are a bonus."

But remember, eventhough the editor doesn't know what month it is, tomorrow, July 30, is in fact Crazy Day in Iowa Park.

'Drys' form organization; 'wet' petition nears goal

While one group of citizens is gathering forces to oppose a proposed off-premises consumption liquor sales election in justice precinct 3, those working for the proposition claim to already have one-third the signatures they need to have the election called.

An organizational meeting of the Committee of Concern was formed Monday at a meeting at the First Baptist Church, at which more than 100 persons were estimated to have attended.

Jim Miller, head of the Committee of Concern, conducted the meeting. He stated that those who were seeking to call an election to legalize the sale of alcoholic beverages in Iowa Park needed 406 signatures on their petition, which must be secured by Aug. 19.

Miller expressed hope that they

(the wets) would not be able to secure the necessary number of signatures, but warned that "We must not lose any time; we must start working now."

A spokesman for Spirit of '76, which has obtained the petitions to call the election, said Wednesday that at least one-third of the 406 signatures had already been secured.

Ten copies of the petition are being circulated, though the spokesman said "we haven't covered much of the town yet." He said the workers are making sure those who sign were registered to vote, and those who were not yet qualified to vote were being registered by the workers.

Those attending the Committee of Concern meeting represented almost every church in the city. A finance committee, composed of churches in the precinct, was elected, including: Robert Wilcox (First Baptist), Rollins Woodall (First Christian), Larry Latimer (Grace Baptist), Sandra Stone (Pleasant Valley Baptist), Mrs. Jimmy Bradberry (Church of Christ), Herb Adcock (Faith Baptist), E.E. Wallis (First United Methodist), J.V. Morton (Assembly of God), Steve Brown (Church of God) and George Richter (First Presbyterian).

Rev. Kenneth Flowers reminded the committee members that they could not accept any money from churches or non-profit organizations and that they could not accept any money from individuals until the organization was registered with the county clerk.

Russell Duvall of Burkburnett advised Mrs. Keith Aulds, committee treasurer, to keep a list of each donor, with address and amount of money contributed. He stated that there was no limit to the amount of money that one could contribute.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson from First Baptist and Lester Watson from the Church of God were elected co-chairmen of the telephone committee, which was described as one of the most important committees.

Mrs. D.O. James was elected chairman of the voter registration committee and she will be in close contact with the pastors of the city to secure names of the registered voters and to urge people who have not registered to vote, to do so.

Mrs. James said that one must register at least 30 days before an election to be able to vote. It was also brought out that any registered voter could be deputized to register people to vote. Chairman of the Spirit of '76 Committee is Leigh Holder, treasurer/spokesman is Paul Tucker Jr., Mrs. Leigh Holder is co-treasurer, Kyle Bernstein is operations chairman, and Steve Holder is a committeeman.

At the outset of Monday's meeting of the Committee of Concern, Rev. Flowers spoke briefly concerning the purpose of the meeting, when he advised "One word of caution - Let us do everything in the spirit of Jesus Christ because we do not want to hurt his name in any way. Remember that Christ indeed stood firm, but he loved the people even though he despised the issue, and we desire to have a Christian attitude as we unite our efforts to keep the legal sale of alcohol out of our precinct."

Chairman Miller told those in attendance, "Remember our first effort is to keep it (sale of alcohol beverages) out, and we need to start now requesting people not to sign the petition that is being circulated. If they have already signed, ask them if they really understood the wording of the petition and encourage them to have their names taken off."

Justice precinct 3 is not just the city of Iowa Park. The precinct extends south from the Red River to the Archer County line, between FM 369 and Harmony Road.

Minor thefts are reported

Two minor thefts and one unsuccessful home burglary were reported to Iowa Park police during the past week.

Sometime between noon and 8:30 p.m. Wednesday of last week, someone broke into the First Methodist Church's minister's desk, taking a key that opens the secretary's office door. From the secretary's desk was taken between $3 and $5 in change.

Other signs indicated attempts were made to open cabinets in the pastor's office.

A rubber treated tarp used to cover a storage pit was taken from the Texoma Fertilizer rail loading area sometime Thursday night. It was valued at less than $200.

An attempted burglary of the Woodrow Atkinson home at 1013 Van Horn sometime during the daylight hours Thursday was reported to police.

Atkinson said the screen from a bedroom window, and the sliding screen patio door were both ripped off the house in an apparent attempt to gain entry. Nothing was missing from inside or outside the home, however, Atkinson said.

Council lasts another marathon

Annexation of areas into the city, a one and a half hour executive session for discussion of personnel, and a report on operations of the water treatment plant highlighted a marathon meeting of the city council Monday night.

Ordinances annexing two Shiloh housing developments, homes along the west side of Johnson Road, and two youth athletic areas were approved and passed.

Numerous meetings, including the required public hearing on annexation, had been held in the past, leading to the annexations.

The passage of the ordinances not only lowers the city utility rates to the housing areas, but also opened the way to obtaining street lights in the areas.

There was some discussion about repaying Rip Smith and others for a water line which was extended from the alley behind Mary Drive. The agreement, which was never put in writing, reportedly calls for the developers to be repaid as much as $2,500 for the line.

Alderman Bud Adams stated he would not have voted for the annexation ordinances had he known passage included payment for the line.

Engineer Bill Wischmeyer, responding to a council request, repeated a report of his findings concerning the operations of the city's water treatment plant. He first gave the report before the council in early 1975, and observed that virtually none of the recommendations had ever been implemented.

Major recommendations included hiring, part time or full time, of a water chemist to oversee induction of chemicals in the water, and cleaning out the sands of the filtering system, which had not been done since the plant was built some 25 years ago.

Wischmeyer was particularly harsh on the appearance of the treatment plant, saying it should look as clean and tidy as the sewer treatment plant, and it could with some investment of money and people working instead of sitting.

CHANGES MADE

A number of changes were made following the lengthy executive session, which was closed to the public for discussion of personnel.

Police Chief Charles Beaver's salary was raised to $900, retroactive July 1, as per his agreement with the city council when he was hired last spring.

The two water meter readers were assigned directly under City Administrator Gene Britton, taking them out of the water department work pool. Britton is to assign them other duties when not reading meters, such as turning off and on meters when moves are noted.

Personnel in the city hall office were assigned to specific areas of work, such as a full-time cashier, one to handle all building permit issuing. Mrs. Ithama Jolly was given the dual title of tax assessor/collector and city secretary.

The city's police force will remain at eight, not filling the vacated position left by John Nail.

A full-time dog catcher was hired, starting immediately. The employee was budgeted in the new budget, as regular salary, at minimum wage. Previous catchers had been paid on a per-head basis. The new employee will be assigned to other tasks by the city administrator, during periods of slack.

Aldermen instructed Britton to draft a policy which requires council permission before any city structure can be altered.

The subject came up after Mayor Johnny Crawford said he had requested installation of an air conditioner in the firemen's meeting room be delayed until a study was made to see if it was necessary.

Crawford explained that he had learned from the architect and engineer who planned the building, which houses the fire station and police station, that the police department's air conditioner could serve the firemen's side, with installation of ducting.

But he said the next thing he knew was that the window type unit had been installed, improperly, venting exhaust into a small room and with dangerously poor wiring.

He also said the ducting could have cost less than the window unit air conditioner.

Discussion on this subject also led to a discussion that members of the fire department do not always abide by the city's purchasing policy.

Out of it all came a promise by Alderman Billy Gilmore that he would have the officers of the fire department at the next council meeting, that all the problems could be discussed and settled.

One member pointed out the major problem was lack of communications.

New local industry registers first output

The first unit of Iowa Park's new recreational vehicle manufacturing plant rolled off the assembly line this week.

The new manufacturing facility, Durango Industries, is owned by Alan Clore. The plant is located north of Iowa Park on Johnson Road.

Following two months of preparations to get the assembly line in operation, an over-cab pickup truck camper rolled out of the plant signifying the company's first finished product.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Lee of Iowa Park purchased the first unit, indicative of the Southwestern motif and mobile living comfort Clore strives to maintain in his product line.

While the pickup camper is the company's first unit, Durango Industries will move quickly into the manufacture of 18-foot and 24-foot trailers.

The trailers will be self-contained, and the interiors will reflect Spanish Mission, Ranch and Early American effects.

The pickup camper purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Lee features wood grain interior, and the exterior is white with gold trim.

Clore, who has been involved in the recreational vehicle business four years, said he strives to build vehicles with top quality and craftsmanship.

Clore designed the units to be produced, and maintained what comes off the production line at Durango Industries will be different from anything else on the market.

He is taking particular care in utilizing interior space, and a slant across the front of the models will cut down on wind resistance while being towed.

Clore said one of his main objectives is to make the units comfortable, "so you don't have to fold up the table before you go to sleep."

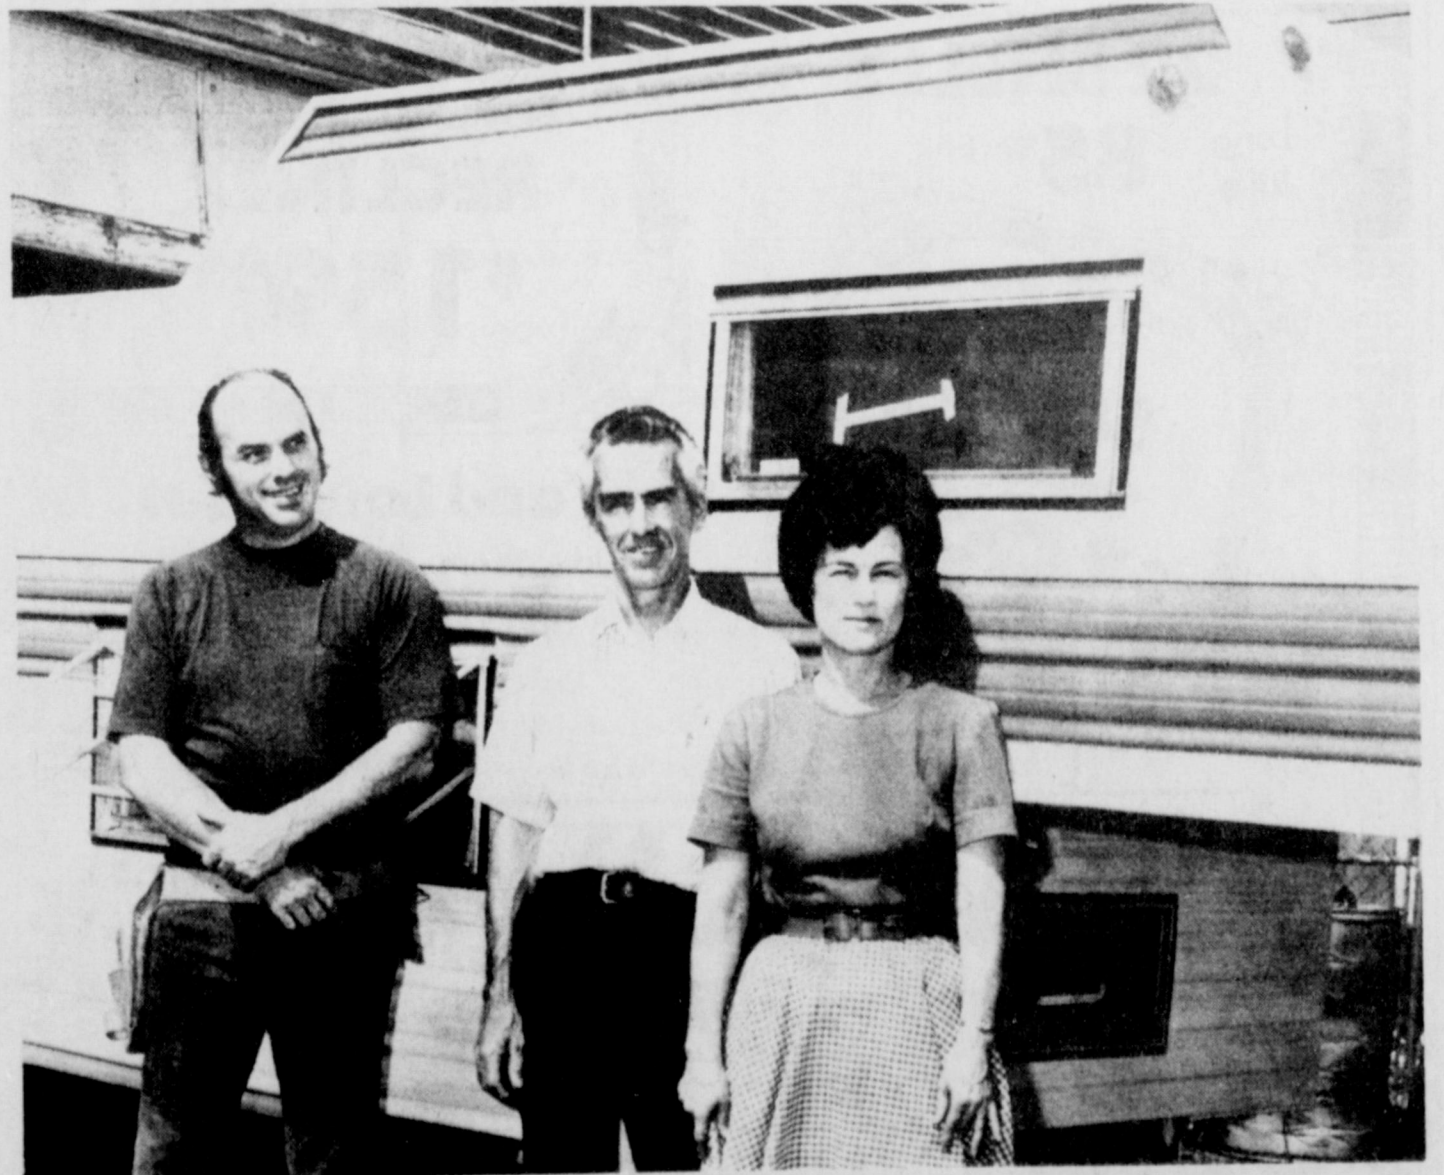

Clore, who praised the welcome he has received from Iowa Park, said one reason he selected Iowa Park was because all materials are easily available.

None of the materials to be used in production come from further than Dallas.

Statistics show, according to Clore, that Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico reflect the prime markets for recreational vehicles in the future.

Although Durango Industries is still in its infancy from the production standpoint, Clore has five trailers a week as his initial production goal.

Only employe of the plant at present is Curtis Foreman of Iowa Park; however, Clore anticipates a work force of eight or 10 persons when production moves into full swing.

Swim lessons offered at pool

Beginners swimming lessons, for children and adults, will begin here starting next week, according to George Taylor, manager of the Iowa Park Bicentennial Swimming Pool.

Instructors will be furnished by the American Red Cross of Wichita Falls.

Instruction period, to begin Monday, will be 10 days, one hour each day. For children, periods will be between 9 a.m. and noon, while adult instruction will be between 8 and 9 a.m., Taylor said.

Should sufficient interest be indicated, an advanced swimming course will also be offered.

There will be no charge for the swimming lessons, but a $5 fee for use of the pool must be paid, to cover the entire course.

Lessons for youths are offered to those six years of age and older.

Those wishing to register for courses may do so at the pool ticket office. Taylor requested that registration be completed prior to Monday, that adequate instructors might be obtained.

Lucy-Hughes wedding vows recited in Wichita Falls

Miss Patti Jeanette Lucy was radiant in a formal gown of candlelight Qiana for the wedding ceremony performed Saturday evening in the University United Methodist Church in Wichita Falls to unite her in marriage with Lynn A. Hughes of Commerce. The officiating ministers for the double-ring service were Rev. Don Waddell, pastor, and the Rev. Eldon H. Cole of Euless.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her cousin, Oliver N. Newman of Iowa Park, she wore an exquisite gown fashioned with an Empire bodice featuring a low square neckline and short sleeves of English net encrusted with Venise lace and pearls. The A-line skirt flowed into a chapel length Watteau train. Her chapel veil of imported bridal illusion drifted from a cap of lace and pearls.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white starburst pompons, baby's breath, pink roses and Hahn's ivy completed with striking pale pink and hot pink satin streamers. Hidden in the bouquet were a small white Bible belonging to her cousin, Miss Staci Anne Newman, the junior bridesmaid, and a miniature blue satin pouch embossed with a four-leaf clover containing a penny, a gift from her aunt, Mrs. A.F. Lucy at Holliday.

Remembering the importance of bridal tradition to a bride's costume, she wore her mother's gold Florentine spherical pendant set with diamonds for "something old and borrowed", a garter which was a high school graduation gift from Mrs. Oliver N. Newman for "something blue" and the lucky sixpence in her shoe.

Decorating the church for the occasion were candelabra trees accented with old-fashioned globes diffusing the light of pink candles. Emerald and lemon leaf greenery were highlighted in the setting to entwine the trees and in baskets on either side of the altar table and in the outer altar area. Church pews were marked with bows in shades of pink chosen by the bride for emphasis in her wedding.

The impressive musical setting was provided by Kerry Johnston, organist, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Donald Young of Vernon and Mrs. Blanche Donnell, vocalists. The organ prelude included "Aria" (Flor Peeters), "Claire de Lune" (Debussy) and "Prayer" (Paul Creston). The organist furnished accompaniment for a duet number, "Medley of Marriage" arranged and sung by Mr. and Mrs. Young. For the entrance of the bridal party, Mr. Johnston played "God of Our Fathers", then changed to "Trumpet Voluntary" by Henry Purcell for the bride to walk the path to the altar.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the congregation repeated The Lord's Prayer in unison followed by the Doxology, a solo sung by Mrs. Donnell. The wedding party exited from the church to the organ recessional "Prelude in Classic Style" by Gordon Young.

During the service, the bride bestowed special honor upon the mothers of the bride and groom and Mrs. Oliver N. Newman when she presented them with roses plucked from her bouquet.

The formal costumes and headpieces worn by a junior bridesmaid and seven bridesmaids emphasized a delicate theme of pale pink and hot pink. Their soft Qiana gowns were styled with Empire waists, V-necklines, cape sleeves and flowing A-line skirts. Each wore a cluster of baby's breath with satin streamers to match her dress in her hair.

Miss Staci Anne Newman, cousin of the bride, participated in the distinctive role of junior bridesmaid. She and a trio of bridesmaids composed of Miss Roxie Ann Nash of Wichita Falls, Miss Nancy Jan Wilson of Denton and Miss Karen Nunneley Young of Vernon wore light pink Qiana gowns and carried light pink baby's breath nosegays accented with hot pink satin bows and streamers.

The remaining quartet of bridesmaids wore hot pink Qiana gowns and carried hot pink baby's breath nosegays enhanced with light pink satin bows and trailing ribbons. Composing the group were Miss Marsha Gay Hughes of Dallas, sister of the groom, Mrs. John Charles Nelson of River-view, Michigan, Miss Criseld Iris Salinas of Dallas and Miss Cynthia Sonntag of Commerce.

When the groom met his bride at the altar, he was wearing a candlelight tuxedo complemented with a pink rose from the bride's bouquet. The masculine participants wore candlelight jackets with black pants and carnation boutonnières in shades of pink reflected in the attendants' gowns.

Scott D. Hogan of Peoria, Ill. was best man. Grooms-men, who also acted as ushers, were Larry Wayne Hughes of Denton, brother of the groom, George Leonard McCasland of Aubrey, Warren Donald Young of Vernon, Johnny Joe Lucy of Wichita Falls, O.N. Newman III of Lewisville and James Randal Newman of Dallas, the last three are the bride's cousins.

Mrs. Lucy, mother of the bride, wore a formal pink chiffon gown defined with a large Bertha collar extending over the shoulders forming cape sleeves and a slightly gathered skirt. Mrs. Hughes, mother of the groom, chose a lime green Empire gown overlaid with white chiffon embossed with white roses and green leaves to achieve a mint green effect. Both wore white glamellias.

The bride was an honor graduate of Wichita Falls High School. She attended Midwestern State University and North Texas State University and is currently a candidate for graduation at East Texas State University.

The groom, a graduate of Granbury High School, attended North Texas State University and Paris Junior College. He served in the U.S. Air Force and is currently a student at East Texas State University majoring in marine biology research. He is also engaged in construction at Commerce.

A reception was given by the bride's mother in the Octagon of the church to honor the newlyweds.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth featuring a swag drape graced with pink satin bows. One of the most outstanding appointments on the table was a silver Hungarian communion cup, a gift from the groom's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Starkey of Plano, from which the couple drank punch from the cut crystal punch bowl at one table extremity.

At the opposite side was the four-tiered cake decorated with shades of pink frosting arranged in waterfall style and elaborate scrolls and garlands. The fascinating top ornament was a pair of porcelain bisque kissing angels inside a lattice arbor interspersed with pink silk roses and delicate lilies of the valley.

The groom's table was laid with beige antique satin trimmed with ivy green roping. The appointments were antique candle holders with large green candles trimmed with green leaves and the interlocking rings chocolate cake topped with shades of green grapes.

The registry table, draped with white satin and a lace coverlet, held the dainty bride's book, pink feather pen and memory candle encircled with greenery.

Miss Teena Boyd of Wichita Falls distributed white satin rosebud-shaped rice bags from a cone-shaped white net tree standing by the table where guests registered. An occasional table held additional pink satin rosebud-shaped rice bags in a wicker basket belonging to Mrs. C.A. Nipper of Iowa Park.

The reception assistants complemented their formal frocks with pink satin rosebud corsages, the handiwork of the bride. Composing the list were Miss Elaine Ernzer of Columbus, Ohio and Miss Kim Madera of Wichita Falls, who presided at the bride's book, Mrs. Glen Whitley, Misses Tamara Jo Hart of Gladewater, Kay Scoggin of Dallas, Sheri Browning of Commerce, Marilyn McCall of Houston, Debbie Donnell and Gayle Phillips of Wichita Falls.

The groom's parents were hosts for the dinner held in connection with the rehearsal Friday evening in the Crystal Room at Underwood's. The place cards were small canvas oil paintings, the work of Sid Hughes, brother of the groom.

In connection with the dinner, Miss Staci Anne Newman was honored with a shower of gifts and a beautifully decorated cake to commemorate her birthday. Following the meal, guests assembled at the home of the bride's mother for an informal get together.

Mrs. Ralph Mathis and Mrs. Oliver N. Newman were hostesses at a luncheon honoring Miss Lucy and her attendants Saturday at The Village Square. The tables were laid with white lace doilies and centered with crystal brandy glasses containing pink chrysanthemums. Miniature artist's easels held the pretty "picture" place cards decorated with hand-painted pink flowers that framed the artist's theme "Patti-Lynn, July 26, 1976".

MRS. LYNN A. HUGHES

The couple will establish residence at Commerce when they return from a wedding trip to Mexico and points of interest in Texas including San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Galveston Island, Houston and Austin. The bride traveled in a Kelly green pants ensemble.

Out-of-town guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Cecil Payne of Seagraves, T.E. Moore of Teague, Jimmy Jolley of Shreveport, La., Charles Ernzer of Carnegie, Pa. J.O. Newman of Austin, John D. Freeman of Lukeville, Ariz., Gene Sharp of Dallas, formerly of Iowa Park, Earl Nunneley and family and Cecil Hulse, Rev. and Mrs. Leland Young, all from Nocona.

Also Messrs. and Mmes. Kenneth Ray Miller, Houston, Kenneth D. Hughes, Carsbad, N.M., Tom Starkey, Plano, Scott Evans, Earl Gooch, Simon Ferguson and Alvin and Mrs. John H. Jones, all from Stephenville. Guests from Odessa were Messrs. and Mmes. Jeff Chancellor, Bobby Riley, Stanley Chancellor and Jim Watson. Attending from Houston were Messrs. and Mmes. Harold G. Hughes, Joe Kelley and Alan Hughes.

Others attending were Messrs. and Mmes. L.G. Hughes and Bobby L.

Hughes from Midland, Burton Hughes, Comanche, Wayne Nauman, Garland, R.C. Chamber and Donald, Paradise, Hubert Jones, Waco, James Keith and Ronny Morris, Abilene, Charles Baker and Robert Starkey, Bangs, Mrs. Ella Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Marino from Fort Worth, W.C. Miller, San Antonio, Boyd and Elaine Ernzer, Columbus, Ohio, Mrs. H.L. Reynolds, Weatherford and Loyd L. Taylor of Freeport.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spikes, Route 1, announce the birth of Jimmy Allen, an eight and one half pound son, July 15 at Wichita General Hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spikes of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Simmons of Iowa Park. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C.P. Simmons of Iowa Park, Mr. and Mrs. R.R. Wilson of Harrold and B.G. Spikes of Bowie.

14 attend dinner event

Fourteen members of United Methodist Women attended a covered-dish dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Lee Tuesday. All fellowship circles were represented.

Miss Ethyle Kidwell presided during the business meeting when a memorial for Mrs. Gladys Robinson was planned. Mrs. Lee was leader for the program, using "Check the Stitches", a Bicentennial article taken from Decision magazine. "In this beautiful and thought-provoking script the United States is urged to think of our many blessings and to be proud of our good deeds as an American nation; and before it is too late and decadence sets in to "check our stitches," our morals, our responsibilities and to work to keep our cherished freedom as a Christian nation", Mrs. Lee stated. To conclude she used a verse of Finlandia, Song of Peace. Others present were Mmes. Riley Thompson, K.L. Jones, Otis Gay, L.L. Lindesmith, C.L. Thompson, J.W. Farmer, L.A. Thurlo, Kathleen Hatten, Miles Thompson, Sam Hunter, E.L. Gallop and Bertha McDonald.

E.F. Pfluger

Graveside service for E.F. Pfluger, 72, Rt. 3, Wichita Falls, was Saturday morning at Highland Cemetery under direction of Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home. The Rev. E.B. Compton Jr., minister of First Presbyterian Church in Iowa Park, officiated. Born May 3, 1904 at New York City, he had resided in Wichita County since 1945. He was a retired field engineer for National Supply Co., a member of First Presbyterian Church in Wichita Falls and a Mason. He is survived by his wife, Hazel.

was faithful in attendance until her health failed. She is survived by three daughters Mrs. C.E. Birk of Iowa Park, Mrs. L.S. Cooksey of Yazoo City, Miss. and Mrs. Carl M. Leggett of Memphis, Tenn.; two brothers, Carlyle and Ralph Reaves, both of Memphis; nine grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Homer M. Mulkey

Funeral services for Homer M. Mulkey, 83, who died Friday in a Wichita Falls hospital, were Sunday afternoon in Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home chapel. Carl Hecker, minister of the Church of Christ, officiated and was assisted by Glenn Gwinn. Burial was in Highland Cemetery. Pallbearers were Leon Willis, George Willis, Earle Denny, Barrett Young, Dan Griffith and Bobby Griffith. Honorary pallbearers were Wayland Jinkins, Loyd Bell, Dr. G.F. Swarts, W.A. MDA volunteers sought for show

Hundreds of volunteers are needed to help with the New Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon in Iowa Park. The call was issued by Jon Steele, President of the Northwest Texas Chapter of Muscular Dystrophy Associations. "We need men and women, young and old -- anyone who can answer a phone, tally a column of figures, or help out at all at any time during the 20-hour show," Mr. Steele said. The Telethon will be broadcast in the Iowa Park area by KSWO, Channel 7. Steele said that volunteers are needed to answer phones, take pledges, type.

WORTH QUOTING

When I first became aware of the world politics, I can remember grand-dad, while praising Franklin Roosevelt, explained to me that it's not the man... it's the party. I think I'm finally beginning to see the light.

Just about everybody is agreed that Jimmy Carter is a nice guy and comes across great on television. We do not worry about the man himself, it's the platform of his party that concerns us.

The Democratic platform states in strong terms that there should be national health insurance and free medical care for American, that the federal government should provide jobs for everyone who will work, that there should be a guaranteed annual income, that the Taft Hartley Act should be amended so that it is mandatory to join a union in order to get most jobs.

It is a platform that calls for more government spending and a stepped up "transfer payment" system which moves money from taxpayers to recipients who do not or cannot pay taxes. It may be that most Americans want this type of platform, but we are considerably disturbed about it.

There is a great difference in Democrats. The Texas Demos have long been controlled by conservatives and we feel comfortable with them. On the national level, however, the liberals are in command—in the party and in Congress, and we don't like the results. That doesn't necessarily mean we are Republican, either, because they may come up with a similar platform.

It appears that we are among those in the political minority, and we are going to be concerned about what happens this fall.

Bus Gordon wants to make sure that Hamilton County farmers get the safety message from a new series of 28 pamphlets issued recently by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA). He brought in a newspaper clipping about the project.

OSHA spent $347,220 for printing 1,550,000 copies of the farm safety booklets and paid Purdue University experts $119,500 for developing the material. Some of the material is well developed.

For instance, there is the philosophical gem, "You can make your work area safe by finding hazards and removing them." The average farmer never would have figured that out without the government to help him.

Apparently the government doesn't think the average farmer knows very much. Otherwise they wouldn't have put the following passage in the text: "When floors are wet and slippery with manure, you can have a bad fall."

Well, halleluiah! Bus is crazy if he thinks I'm going to write a column on that subject. I wouldn't touch it with a ten-foot pole. It's too hard to handle.

As I See It....

by BOB HAMILTON

After hearing pretty much all my life that Texas has the best highways in the nation, it comes as pretty much a shock when an outfit in Washington, D.C. tells us a good portion of our roads are lousy.

The Road Information Program (TRIP) is sponsored by road builders, construction equipment manufacturers and suppliers, and other businesses involved in highway engineering, construction and financing.

That, in itself, warrants a good portion of salt on anything pointed out by the organization.

TRIP estimates 11.6 percent of the 253,795 miles of roads and streets in Texas were designed and built for the lighter vehicles and smaller traffic volume of the 1920s and 1930s.

"These 29,398 miles of roads have not been modernized to eliminate safety hazards because of inadequate highway funding by the state, counties and municipalities," states the TRIP article.

What's funny is the part where it discloses "Of the total, 16,792 miles of roads and streets have lanes too narrow to allow for safe passing by large trucks, school buses, camper vans and other bulky vehicles."

Most of any city's streets in the residential areas are that way.

But what struck home with me was references to design and engineering of roadways.

I've noticed that large chunks of concrete are breaking loose, right in the middle of the roads, on 287 through Wichita Falls. Some has been patched, but other areas are just developing.

And I remember that the stretch of 287 in this area had to be coated with asphalt less than five years after construction completion, apparently because it wasn't holding up.

These concrete roads cost enough that they shouldn't require any repair for decades, to my thinking. I just wonder how much quality control on materials goes into the construction of our highways.

The state of New Mexico may have earned the worst record of quality control, several years ago.

A story came out of that state back in the 1950s about the commissioner of highways taking a vacation trip with his wife, just touring the country with the use of a state-published map.

Down near the southeast corner of the state their route took them over a lengthy stretch of unpaved, gravel road. But the state map clearly showed it as paved.

The commissioner made a mental note to check on that situation when he got back to his Santa Fe office. Somebody's head, like the map maker, was going to roll.

Problem was, his records showed the road had not only been paved, two years earlier, but all constructions completely paid for.

REMEMBERING...

LYE SOAP

I believe it was in the spring of the year when we made soap. Grease was saved from when we killed hogs in the winter. (It was the main ingredient for soap.)

My brother and I would go to the pasture and gather dead mesquite wood. We would make a big pile of it out near the old black wash pot. You had to have plenty of dry wood on hand when you made soap because the fire had to be real hot and stay that way for quite a while.

A good fire was built and mother would measure out the right amounts of everything to be put in the pot. Plain water and lye were put in first, so much water for each can of lye. We used store-bought lye but way back before then, folks made their own by dripping water through stove ashes.

While being heated the water and lye were stirred so they would mix good. Next the grease was added. How much grease you used depended on how much lye water you had. When the grease was added the mixture had to be stirred constantly for about an hour so we took turns stirring and putting more wood on the fire.

We would stir it with wooden paddles until mother would check it and say, "That's enough." I suppose there were a lot of different recipes for making soap but mother just kept hers in her head. She could tell if it was right just by looking at it. She would watch how it dripped off the paddle to judge if it was done or not.

We would let it set for a little while then we'd stir it a little more and let it set overnight right in the pot. Next day it would be fairly hard and mother would take a butcher knife and cut it into chunks, just the right size for rub board use. Some people poured the hot mixture into flat pans, let it harden and cut it into small square bars for hand and bathing soap but we used bought soap for that. Lye soap could also be made soft. If it was made this way it was sort of jelly-like and was stored in crock jars until used.

We made soap this way up until we got our wringer washing machine, a gasoline powered Maytag. It smoked and made a terrible noise but it put us up there in style with all our neighbors.

Cooking? When was it discovered? It is hard for people in the 20th century to believe that cooking has not been a part of man's existence since the beginning of time. Reay Tannahill in his book, Food In History, says that it was discovered between the taming of fire in about 500,000 B.C. and the appearance on the prehistoric scene of Neanderthal man.

The distinguished American anthropologist Carleton Coon said, "the introduction of cooking may well have been the decisive factor in leading man from a primarily animal existence into one that was more fully human." The know-how to cook, the modern facilities, utensils and conveniences should inspire both men and women to put forth their best efforts in the culinary department.

Mrs. Paul Callaway is one who likes to cook whether she is using an old culinary recipe or experimenting with a new one. Her Dried Apple Fruit Cake could very well be the first fruit cake recipe calling for dried apples that has been used in the Cook of the Week.

Apples have been a part of North American cookery since the 17th century when the first European colonists brought them to our shores. Some variety of apples flourished in each of the colonies and became a staple food, eaten fresh, cooked or dried.

Mrs. Callaway, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., finished high school there and worked in a drapery factory for several years. During World War II, she worked in a defense plant in Niagara Falls where she met her husband who was with the U.S. Army. The couple moved to Petrolia, Texas in 1945, later moved to Wichita Falls and then to Iowa Park in 1958.

She has worked at Scott's Level Best and Westex Seat Covers in Wichita Falls and is presently available to assist her husband when he needs her in his business, Paul's Stop and Swap Shop on Cash Street. She is a member of Faith Baptist Church and is president of the Fidelis Sunday School class. She is a member of TOPS Club. She is never happier than when she is doing something to generate happiness in the lives of others and she finds opportunities to render service to others through her church projects. She also enjoys swimming.

Mr. and Mrs. Callaway have three children, Billy of Norman, Okla., a teacher in Oscar Rose Junior College, Susan (Mrs. Charles) Barr of Iowa Park, a housewife and mother, who is now licensed to sell real estate, and Sam, a ministerial student at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene. They also have four grandchildren.

DRIED APPLE FRUIT CAKE
1 pkg. or 3 cups dried apples
1 cup water
3 cups sugar
3 eggs
1 cup butter or margarine
3 cups flour, plus:
1 level t soda

2 t cinnamon
1 1/2 t each cloves and allspice
1 lb. chopped nuts
1 box raisins
Cut apples into small pieces, cover and soak overnight. Drain next day. Add two cups sugar and 1 cup water. Cook slowly until apples are transparent and dry.

Cream butter, 1 cup sugar, add eggs and beat. Add spices and soda to 1 1/2 cup flour. Add to butter and eggs. Dredge raisins and nuts in remaining 1 1/2 cups flour and add to other ingredients. Bake in angel food pan at 300° for 1 1/2 hours.

MEXICAN SALAD

1 large head lettuce
10 oz. pkg. grated cheese
1 - 15 oz. can chilled Ranch Style beans
2 tomatoes
1/2 onion finely diced
1 pkg. Fritos
3/4 bottle Catalina dressing
Drain and wash chilled beans, add lettuce, tomatoes, onions and cheese. Chill 30 minutes. Add Fritos and dressing just before serving.

SPANISH OMELET

3 eggs
1 medium onion
1 medium potato
1/4 cup Crisco oil or shortening
Salt and pepper to taste
Chop onion and potato and stir into the eggs, add salt and pepper. Melt shortening or oil in large skillet. Fry covered for 10 minutes. Turn with pancake turner and fry golden brown (10 minutes) medium heat.

Enjoy a 10-minute call to Boston without shelling out a lot of clams.

For just $2.57 or less, you could take down these recipes by Long Distance.

We're printing these chowder recipes to make a point: a Long Distance call lets you say so much, for so little.

In a 10-minute call to Boston, between 5 p.m. and 11 p.m. tonight, you could easily take down the recipes below. And by dialing 1+, the most you pay is $2.57, plus tax.

So enjoy a pleasant visit tonight by Long Distance. Wherever you call, you can take the time to find out what's cookin'...without stirring up a big expense.

1. FISHERMEN'S CATCH CHOWDER

2 tbsps. butter or margarine
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped pared carrots
1/2 cup snipped parsley
1/2 tsp. crushed dried rosemary
1 can (16-oz.) whole tomatoes, drained (reserve liquid)
2 cups dry white wine
1 bottle (8-oz.) clam juice
1 tsp. salt
3 tbsps. flour
3 tbsps. softened butter or margarine
8 ozs. flounder or ocean perch
8 ozs. pike or rainbow trout
8 ozs. haddock or halibut
8 ozs. minced clams (opt.)
1/2 cup light cream

- Heat the first 6 ingredients in Dutch oven until bubbly; reduce heat and cover. Simmer 15 minutes.
- Chop tomatoes. Stir tomatoes, reserved liquid, wine, clam juice and salt into vegetables in Dutch oven. Heat to boiling; reduce heat and cover. Simmer 10 minutes.
- Mix flour and 3 tbsps. butter until smooth; stir into chowder. Cook and stir until slightly thickened.
- Cut fish into 1-inch pieces, and add to chowder. Heat to boiling; reduce heat. Simmer uncovered until fish flakes easily with fork, 8-10 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in cream.
- Ladle chowder over sliced, toasted French bread. Garnish with snipped parsley. (Makes six 1 1/2-cup servings).

2. SEAFOOD CHOWDER

3 cups water
2 cups chopped pared potatoes
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 tsp. ground allspice
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
2 cups milk
1 lb. cod filets.
1 tsp. dried dill weed
1 cup chopped unpared seeded cucumber
2 tbsps. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. paprika
1 hard-cooked egg, sliced

- Heat first 6 ingredients in saucepan to boiling; cover. Boil until vegetables are tender, 10-12 minutes. Drain vegetables, reserving 2 cups broth.
- Melt butter in Dutch oven; stir in flour. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture is smooth and bubbly. Remove from heat. Stir in milk and reserved broth. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Cut cod into 1/2-inch pieces, stir into mixture. Add dill. Heat to boiling; reduce heat. Simmer uncovered until fish flakes easily with fork, about 8 minutes.
- Stir cucumber, lemon juice, paprika and vegetables into chowder. Heat until hot. Garnish with egg slices. (Makes eight 3/4-cup servings).

Frazier listed as Tech starter

Iowa Park's Greg Frazier apparently will come into his own with the Texas Tech Red Raiders this fall, as the starting weak safety on the defensive platoon.

"I've never seen anybody tougher than Frazier," says Raider super-linebacker Thomas Howard.

Quoted in the newly released Texas Football magazine, Howard said of the former Hawk standout "He cracked some ribs very early in spring training, yet never missed a workout. He tackles like a demon and, golly, with cracked ribs, you can imagine the pain! I've seen him almost in tears, but it only seemed to make him more aggressive."

"I'm impressed by the job our coaching staff has done. They've helped by putting guys like Greg Frazier and Don Roberts - guys who have played as winners at quarterbacks - on defense. Both are natural leaders, and both are very talented."

Frazier, who got in some playing time in the playoffs as a freshman when they marched through their first undefeated season, 15-0, and earned the Class AA state championship in 1969, was recruited as a quarterback by Jess Stiles, Tech coach.

But as a sophomore he guided the Hawks to a share of the same state title in 1970. The Mean Green was 7-3 under his leadership the following season, their first in AAA, and then went 8-2 his senior year, which included a victory over Brownwood.

The other quarterback

Howard referred to was the AAA all-state quarterback his senior year at Seminole. Roberts shared the starting position with Tommy Duniven as a sophomore and was then moved to offensive end.

Information listed on Frazier in the new Tech press book, says he is 6-1 and weighs 196 pounds. "Moved from quarterback to safety in spring ... excellent athlete with potential to be solid starter ... listed as starter at weak safety following spring training ... redshirted last year because of depth at quarterback but coaches decided to move him to secondary because of lack of experience there this fall

... hampered by rib injury all spring ... coaches hope he will be bright spot in young secondary this fall ... injury should be cleared by fall ... saw limited action at quarterback two years ago when Tech went to Peach Bowl ... led 1973 junior varsity team in passing, hitting on 24 of 62 for 304 yards and four touchdowns ...

Besides his desire to excel as an athlete, Frazier is quoted in another section of Texas Football on whether he has ever considered quitting football, even when he wasn't in the playing picture: "No. Not ever. Architecture is my major and it's hell. I don't care if they run us through fire, I would stay and get my education paid for. Even though the program coach Sloan brought in is tough, I was surprised right from the start by their (the coaches) enthusiasm and I believe in what they were setting out to do."

Frazier must battle junior Larry Dupre of Dallas Highland Park and Russell Leopard of Brownfield, to hold onto his starting position.

Frazier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Frazier, 1003 Lincoln.

Football field work reported

Gordon Griffith gave a report on the work that has been done and work that must be done at the kid football field before it will be ready for the fall football season at the Evening Lions Club Tuesday.

He also reported that four new teams, all from Sheppard Field would participate in the games during the upcoming season with Iowa Park, also with four teams, Holliday, Electra, Henrietta and Seymour, each with two teams.

Mel Moulton was in charge of business. Some discussion was given to the club participating in the Wichita County Fair, sponsored by Lions Clubs in Wichita Falls. Sidney L. Grant was voted to membership in the club.

Magazine has no surprises

The District 4-AAA part of the current Texas Football magazine failed to provide any surprises.

Brownwood is picked to win not only the district, but the state championship (ho-hum).

Iowa Park, coming off its worst season record in almost 20 years (0-10) is picked as near to the cellar in the conference as you can get ... just above Burkburnett.

Says the book everybody (that likes Texas football) reads (but nobody believes) about Iowa Park:

"A good attitude and a willingness to work could pay off big at Iowa Park where the Hawks are searching for something much better than last year's 0-10 mark. The experience quotient is good with 14 lettermen back, but size could be a problem. Such people as TBs Jim Stevens, Robert Dillard and Charles Mattis, FB Johnny Bentley and QB Charles Franks make a promising backfield while tackles Ray Cook and Kevin Hamilton anchor the line nicely. Shane Kimbrow could be a standout at end."

Brownwood enters the season with 16 returning lettermen who remember being defeated in a last-minute showdown against Graham.

Committees appointed

Appointments of committee chairmen were made Tuesday at the weekly meeting of the Noon Lions Club by David Springer, president.

He named Lester Brooks to chair the attendance committee; T.C. Berry, Bill Steger and John Sibley, finance; Sibley, greeter; Bob Hamilton, information; Steger, membership; Bill Bates, programs; Buck Voyles, public relations; Richard Hill, sight conservation; and Carl Hecker, education.

Program for the meeting was a talk on drug abuse by Joe Singer, who stated "The drug problem in Iowa Park has been reduced to a dramatic degree", crediting education programs, law enforcement and parents for the reduction.

MERCHANTS TEAM IS WINNER
...Carmen Lozipone with proof.

Local team to state

The winningest team around Iowa Park for the past couple of years is a slow pitch ball club named the Iowa Park Merchants. Since it was organized in 1976, the team has won 13 trophies from 23 tournament entries, and this season still lasts until September.

In fact, the group will play in the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation (TAAF) state tournament at Corpus Christi Aug. 6-8 after having placed third in the District 9 playoffs.

This current season has produced four trophies thus far. The Merchants were second in the Wichita Falls City playoffs, and third in the Dist. 9 playoffs. They've played in 10 tourneys.

The top four teams in each of the district playoffs will participate in the state tourney.

J.W. Young is player-coach. With him are Jim Duggins, John Huff, Wally Grider, Gary Dorman, Greg and Daryl Frazier, Randy Townsend, Raymond Taylor, Robin Fox, Wayne Walker, Larry Armstrong and Carmen Lozipone.

"Mad as a March hare" comes from the fact that hares are unusually shy and wild in March, which is their rutting season.

Bowles plays tonight

Woody Bowles, 1976 graduate of Holliday High School, is scheduled to play in the Texas High School Coaches Association football classic tonight in Houston.

Bowles was picked to play on the North Team as it battles the south in the Astrodome.

Named best defensive secondary back and best offensive tight end in District 13-A this year, Bowles also was named to the district first team in basketball.

During his sophomore and junior years at Holliday High School, Bowles reigned as Class A state high jump champion.

Fort Worth man named principal

Following a brief executive session Monday night the Holliday school board unanimously voted to hire W.L. "Bill" Crabbs of Fort Worth as new principal at Holliday High School.

The board convened in private with Crabbs about 20 minutes before reopening the meeting to the public. The successful motion to hire Crabbs for one year at base salary was unanimously endorsed by the board. Crabbs, 41, is veteran of the U.S. Army and U.S. Navy. He is married, and the couple has a daughter, 2 1/2 years old. Crabbs received his bachelor's in elementary education and master's in education from North Texas State University in Denton. He has completed 21 semester hours toward his doctorate in educational administrative leadership, also at NTSU.

He is a Presbyterian and is certified as an elementary teacher, elementary principal and secondary school principal. Crabbs began his career in education as an elementary school teacher at Hurst from 1964 until 1967. From 1967 to 1971 he was elementary school principal at Grapevine, and from 1971 to 1972 he was elementary school principal at Commerce City, Colo.

He taught from 1974-1975 at West Elementary in Fort Worth. Crabbs' last assignment began in 1975 as assistant principal at Brewer High School in Fort Worth.

Crabbs was the only applicant present to be interviewed at Monday night's called session.

MR. AND MRS. CARL BOWMAN

Bowmans to observe golden anniversary

Saturday will mark the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bowman of Holliday.

They were married July 31, 1926, in Marlow, Okla.

The Bowmans have four children, Mrs. Joyce Bland of Farney, Mrs. Nelda Dearing of Cove, Ark., J.W. Bowman of Silsbee and Mrs. Helen Gilbert of Wichita Falls.

The couple will be honored with a reception Sunday at the home of one of their daughters, Mrs. Ted Gilbert of Turkey Ranch Road.

Bicentennial Art Show is slated this weekend

Holliday's Bicentennial Art Show will open at the high school cafeteria here Saturday and continue through Sunday, according to Erma Barton, show director.

Highlight of the two-day yearly cultural event will be a special bicentennial program slated for 3 p.m. Sunday.

State Rep.-elect Charles Finnell of Holliday will be guest speaker.

Artists and visitors for Sunday's festivities are encouraged to wear Early American attire in observance of the bicentennial motif, Mrs. Barton said.

Artists may begin entering their projects from 2-6 p.m. Friday at the high school cafeteria, Mrs. Barton explained.

Trophies, ribbons and cash will be awarded to contestants.

Judge for the show will be Bob Wyatt of Grandfield, Okla.

Announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Sanders of Route 3, Wichita Falls, announce the engagement of their daughter, Melissa Dianne, to Rickey Garlington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Garlington of Archer City.

A September wedding is planned.

The future bride is a graduate of Holliday High School where she was a member of the Eagle band for six years and a majorette for three years. Miss Sanders qualified for state in twirling her junior and senior years. She was named to Who's Who in band.

She was a member of the National Honor Society. Garlington is a graduate of Archer City High School and is employed by the L.T. Burns Estate in Archer City.

City charged not following guidelines to work youths

DIANE SANDERS

Holliday City Council held a "work session" type meeting Tuesday night, and it took no formal action on topics discussed including the budget, city judge and personnel.

A personnel controversy, which also developed into a discussion of the council's conformance with the Texas

Open Meetings Law, centered around two youths employed by the city through a federal youth work program.

Bobbie Blackburn and Margaret Williams, both with Nortex Regional Planning Commission, confronted the council in regard to supervision and treatment of the two youths employed through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

Blackburn and Mrs. Williams are charged with the responsibility of administering the CETA program in Holliday and a three-county area.

Charging that the two youths, both boys, have not been properly supervised, Mrs. Williams added, "I believe our youngsters were fussed and cussed at."

"I have been over here several times and I have never seen a supervisor with them," Blackburn added.

Mayor Leo Chappell countered that to his knowledge, the youths were always under supervision, adding, "They refused to do what they were told to do."

Mrs. Williams said the youths were covered by Civil Rights and guidelines set by the U.S. Department of Labor.

She also charged that the youths had been allowed to drive vehicles, which is prohibited by the program's guidelines.

During the course of the meeting it was disclosed Water Supt. Hurshel McDaniel called a meeting of the council July 22 to discuss personnel matters.

Alderman Fred Ford Maier said he did not attend the meeting because, "I don't have the money to pay for a fine for an illegal meeting... I'm not coming to any illegal meeting," Maier said.

Charging that the meeting had not been posted 72 hours in advance, Maier said, "I feel like we ought to stay within the law."

Alderman Gene Harmon indicated McDaniel was out of place by calling the meeting, and that it was the mayor's responsibility to call meetings.

There was some discussion concerning the legality of the meeting.

The mayor said no action was taken at the meeting. "This was not really a council meeting as far as I'm concerned," Chappell said.

Mrs. Williams presented councilmen copies of CETA guidelines, and it was indicated the youths would be supervised in conformance with the regulations.

The council also held a preliminary discussion of this year's municipal budget.

There were indications that the council might be forced to hike water rates this year in an effort to produce more revenue, but that ad valorem tax rates probably will remain stable. The budget was set for more discussion at the next meeting.

Also to appear on the agenda for the council's next meeting is appointment of a new city judge, a post currently filled by Red Slack.

PERSONALS

CARD OF THANKS

With gratitude and love we acknowledge the many acts of kindness we were the recipients of during the death of our loved one. The flowers, cards, visits, food and prayers helped to make our sorrow easier to bear. We want to extend special thanks to the ladies of First United Methodist Church and Order of Eastern Star for the delicious food they served us.

FOR YOUR FAVORITE FLOWER!
Help America Pick an Official National Flower

The United States is one of the few countries in the world that does not have an Official National Flower. To correct this, FTD Florists throughout the country are conducting a Bicentennial Flower Election during July, 1976, so you can vote for your floral favorites. The results will be presented to Congress, which must act to name a national flower. To vote, just visit our shop during July. There are 28 flower "candidates" on the ballot plus space for a write-in vote. Everyone is eligible and, of course, no purchase is necessary.
