Aldermen reject plea to lower peddler fee

The Iowa Park city council Monday evening rejected an appeal to lower its peddler's fee, and tabled for at least 60 days any further action on granting a cable television franchise.

Glen Snyder, representing a vacuum cleaner sales firm in Wichita Falls, complained about the city's ordinance requiring door-to-door peddlers to pay a $30 per day fee to do business in the city.

He said he would be more willing to pay a lower fee, suggesting $25 per year.

Snyder said he had been serving the community 20 years, selling vacuum cleaners, but had not experienced any problems until recently, when the ordinance was passed in 1972. The ordinance requires the fee be paid for each salesman, and he usually has five or six working the town at a time.

When aldermen understood Snyder to imply that he could not service customers who called him for parts and repairs without paying the fee, they said that was not so. But Snyder explained he could not make the trip here, without also soliciting new sales.

Bob Hamilton pointed out that the daily fee was still less than any of three businesses in Iowa Park selling vacuum cleaners could open their doors each day, and also added he did not believe Iowa Park was receiving its sales tax for units sold here, but instead Wichita Falls received the tax.

The council voted unanimously to continue operating under its present ordinance.

Eventhough the council had earlier indicated it would approve a franchise for CATV Systems to operate a cable tv business here, action was delayed when Mayor Johnny Crawford suggested one of the possible franchise receivers in Wichita Falls might offer more channels at less cost.

Ben Campbell, representing CATV, was not present when the council voted, but arrived later and told members he was disappointed. He said he had understood the ordinance would be approved, giving him a franchise, and he had already ordered equipment, based on that assumption.

City Administrator Gene Britton showed council members a map outlining the work schedule for the new trash collection system. He explained the schedule would provide for only two employees.

The containerized system equipment is to be arriving in April, it was pointed out.

He also explained where some alleys would need to be opened, which are already dedicated but not in use, that the containers could be utilized. Britton also suggested that residents who would have trash pickup in front of the house should use certain trash bags, which could be provided by the city, at about 50 cents per month.

In other business, the council took the following action:

* rejected a request to sell a portion of Saratoga street which has not been opened;

* voted to have former city attorney Mike Hubbard represent the city in intervention of a rate case hearing in Austin, concerning Lone Star Gas Company;

* held a public hearing on annexing city-owned land on Johnson Road where the water tower is located.

PEANUT POWER -- Brian Fulfer, left, and Darin Whitman, both Iowa Park students, made friends with an elephant during Tuesday afternoon's performance of a touring circus here. The two 11-year-olds were hanging around outside the big top when they cautiously accepted an invitation to meet the creature.

18 candidates enter races

With still a few hours before filing deadline last night, candidates had competition for every city and school opening in the April 1 election.

Candidates had, by law, until midnight last evening to file for either election.

Incumbent Mayor Johnny Crawford filed yesterday morning, and he will face former city secretary George Trammell and Gene Lowery.

All three aldermen have filed for re-election. They are Gregory Ross, Joe Singer and Lita Watson. They will be running against Luther Skinner, Johnny Lee, Billy Gilmore and Eldon Thompson Jr.

All aldermen run at-large, with the three receiving the most votes winning.

School trustee incumbents Roy Boutwell and Delbert Catlin will also be running at-large against Jerald Brown, Dan Nethery and Christy McKenzie, all seeking the two full three-year terms.

One year remains on the unexpired term vacated by Hoyt Watson, and three candidates have filed for that seat on the board.

Martha Dudley, who was appointed by trustees to serve until the April election, has filed, and will be opposed by John J. (Jerry) Hutchins and Margaret Soell.

Voting equipment is program topic

Wichita County's new voting equipment was demonstrated and explained to members of the Noon Lions Club Tuesday by Jerry Padgett, a 14-year employee of the county clerk's office.

Padgett explained the savings, both in printed ballots and counting help, the county expects after purchasing the voting equipment and a computer to handle the counting.

He said the equipment would be available to other governments, such as schools and cities, but at a fee, to offset the county's purchasing expense.

Chamber banquet is Saturday

Three Iowa Park persons will be honored Saturday night by the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce.

They will be recipients of plaques for the Outstanding Citizen, Outstanding Senior Citizen, and the newly created award for Outstanding Agriculturist.

The awards presentation will be but one of four highlights of the evening, however.

The others will be the keynote speaker, Dallas humorist Joe Griffith, reputed to be one of the most sought-after dinner speakers in the state; installation of new officers; and the dinner.

Bill Steger is to be installed as president, succeeding Keith Aulds, Richard Davis as first vice president and Bill Bates second vice president.

Catering the dinner for the second year will be the Iowa Park MuleSkinners, who will serve a steak, salad, baked potato, cobbler and all the trimmings.

MuleSkinner president Bud Mercer has assigned 46 members of the organization to areas of responsibility in preparation and serving of the meal, which drew high praise from those who attended last year.

Past Chamber president Charlie Lee is to serve as master of ceremonies. Iowa Park Garden Club members have made the decorations for the banquet tables.

More than 300 tickets had been sold by early this week, and over 400 are expected to attend. Advance ticket sales are important, according to Wayne House, ticket chairman, in order to allow the MuleSkinners to know how many steaks to prepare.

Some tickets are expected to be sold at the door Saturday evening, but House could not say how many.

Tickets, at $5 per person, are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office and Texas Electric Service office.

The event is to begin at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Weather affects building permits

Though weather apparently had a dramatic affect on construction in Iowa Park during February, the city's building permits are still running ahead of the same two-month period of the past two years.

Only one new home permit was issued during the past month, two others for additions, one for a mobile home move-in, and one for demolition.

But the month's permits still amounted to $40,000, as compared with $53,522 for the same month in 1977.

The two-month total now stands at $219,735, as compared with $137,122 last year and $67,336 the year before.

Permits issued at the city hall during February included: Billy R. Honeycutt, 306 E. Magnolia, demolition, no fee; Thomas E. Nolen, 1606 Waggon-wheel, new residence, $35,000; Phillip Butcher, 700 N. Bond, carport, $1,000; Rene Spreybroeck, 106 W. Chestnut, mobile home, no fee listed; Shamburger Building Center, 102 S. Victoria, add-on building, $4,000.

Traffic safety contract granted

The Office of Traffic Safety, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, has approved a traffic engineering survey contract for the City of Iowa Park, said St. Rep. Charles Finnell.

Week is slow for IP police

Iowa Park police enjoyed a relatively quiet week with a single criminal mischief report.

Ken Kukenbecker of No. 28 Surry told police Saturday that someone had scratched five X marks on the side of his automobile.

On Wednesday Cotton Fulfer of Kamay told police he had lost a billfold at a circus here. He said the billfold contained his driver license and about $140 in cash.

The $8,600 contract will enable city to develop a traffic safety plan which will provide priorities for improvement of immediate traffic hazardous improvements, Finell said.

The city also was notified Wednesday that it had been granted $2,000 from the Intergovernmental Personnel Act Program of the governor's office of community affairs.

The grant money could be used for several purposes, said City Administrator Gene Britton, including special training for municipal employees, and the updating of personnel policies, classification and compensation plans.

SETS NEW STANDARD - Senior pole vaulter Jim Dooley established a new Hawk Relays record in his specialty Saturday. He erased the old standard of 12-6 by clearing

Lioness Club hears educator at meeting

W.I. Johnson, principal of Holland School in Wichita Falls, gave the program for the Iowa Park Lioness Club Thursday evening. He was introduced by Mrs. Farris Nowell, program chairman.

Holland School, originally called Holland House, was established in 1969 for a small minority of students within the secondary level with learning and/or behavioral adjustment problems so severe they cannot function in a resource room on a regular school campus.

Johnson, a teacher in the Wichita Falls School system, became principal of the Holland School, which he described as an additional arrangement to meet the needs of secondary students.

The speaker stressed how the students receive individualized instructions and appropriate counseling within a highly structured environment designed to strengthen the student's weaknesses and improve behavioral self-control.

He stated that the overall goal of the program is to assist students in attaining a sufficient level of academic and behavioral competence to succeed in the community environment. The return of the student to mainstream education also receives continuing consideration.

Mrs. Sam Hill was hostess for the meeting.

Mrs. Sam Hunter used "Power of Faith" for the theme of her devotion.

Cook of the Week

It's NorCenTex Girl Scout Cookie time and these four girls are among the Girl Scouts in Iowa Park that are ready to start selling their six delicious kinds of cookies. The sale begins tomorrow and will continue through March 19.

Someone has said that those who purchase the cookies will get the best of a good deal because there is a lot more to the cookie than meets the eye.

Helen Corbitt, Dallas' own chef extraordinaire, has devised six extravagant desserts using the cookie. She said that the cookies could be used in any way that vanilla cookie crumbs are used: as a pie crust for an ice cream or custard pie, in a banana pudding, etc.

The Girls Scouts in Iowa Park used an assortment of dessert recipes in "Happy Mother's Day" cookbooks and they share some of the recipes with us this week.

CHOCOLATE MINT MOUSSE

1 box Girl Scout Peppermint Mint Cookies
2 cups whipping cream
1/2 cup sugar
2 T instant coffee (not crystals)
1 t vanilla
1/4 t lemon extract
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup sugar
3 egg yolks
1 T butter
1/2 t lemon extract

Crush cookies with a rolling pin into coarse crumbs. Whip cream, fold in 1/2 cup sugar, coffee, vanilla and 1/2 t lemon extract. Fold crumbs into stiffly beaten egg whites and combine with whipped cream mixture. Pour into a lightly buttered 1 1/2-quart mold or souffle dish. Cover and freeze.

Heat the milk in top of a double boiler. Add 1/2 cup sugar mixed with egg yolks. Cook until thickened. Add butter and lemon extract. Cool. Serve mousse with the soft custard.

Optimists pledge help for elderly

The Optimist Club members voted to do minor home repairs for the elderly on a volunteer basis at the meeting Wednesday night.

Where cookies are sold

The NorCenTex Girl Scouts will start their annual cookie sale tomorrow and it will run through March 19.

The six varieties include Samoas, Thin Mints, Do-Si-Do's (peanut butter sandwich), VanChos (vanilla and chocolate cremes), Trefoils (old fashioned shortbread) and Tagalongs (peanut butter sandwich). The cookies will sell for $1.25 per box.

Civilian job cut at SAFB

As a result of resource constraints imposed throughout the U.S. Air Force, a reduction in civilian jobs will occur at Sheppard AFB this fiscal year. Air Training Command (ATC) officials at Randolph AFB, Tex., estimate that approximately 1,200 jobs will be eliminated from ATC headquarters and its 12 bases.

The exact number of jobs to be eliminated and actual number of employees that might be involuntarily separated at Sheppard AFB will not be known until the reduction action is approved at Headquarters U.S. Air Force.

Employees involuntarily separated due to this reduction will be given priority in filling any vacancies arising throughout the Department of Defense for which they are qualified and available.

All reduction actions are scheduled to be completed by Sept. 30. However, 60-days advance notice of any separation action will be given to each affected employee.

"For every way to use electricity in the kitchen, there's a way to use it more efficiently."

"Keeping your heating and cooling costs down are the biggest ways to save electricity, but there are lots of little ways, too.

Part of my job is finding the most economical way to use your kitchen appliances. Here are some ideas I've found useful:

Use flat-bottomed pans. The flatter the pan the better its contact with the cooking unit. A tight-fitting lid on your pan will reduce cooking time.

Use less water. By cooking vegetables with the least amount of water possible, you'll improve their appearance, nutritive value, and save electricity.

Reduce cooking time. Thaw meats before cooking them. This will save cooking time and energy.

Use your oven timer. Opening your oven door unnecessarily causes heat loss and extended cooking time.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Irate Citizen:

Ordinarily I would toss an unsigned letter into the trash but after receiving your letter Wednesday, February 21, 1978, I would like to answer it in the paper because I feel you as well as others are genuinely concerned. Had you signed the letter or called me, I would have told you the following:

All programs are necessary if they can interest students enough to keep them in school. As far as the importance placed on football, the wise expenditure of local tax dollars is very essential. In the years of 1966 thru 1970, not one cent of your tax dollars were spent on the athletic program except for salaries. In 1971 thru 1974, from two to five thousand tax dollars were transferred to cover athletic deficits. In 1975 local tax dollars transferred totaled $16,700 and the 1976 amount was $32,000. I do not have a total for 1977 but since I was appointed to the board in November, $20,000 has been transferred. The football gate receipts make the difference. If people support football as in the earlier years, tax dollars will not be needed to support the athletic programs. As for salaries, the State pays the bulk of all foundation salaries. Mr. Watkins salary will be a little over $1,300 more than Mr. Tone's. If that amount can save even a part of the tax dollars being spent on athletics, we are ahead. I want a well rounded athletic program, with as little cost to the tax payer as possible so the local tax dollar can be spent on other programs for all students.

I do not understand your meaning of the third paragraph. The board did not add another year on to the contracts of the two you mentioned, and we are honoring the current contracts.

In answer to paragraph two and four, yes, I feel everything I have done is in the best interest of the students and tax payers of this school district and I am proud of my actions as a trustee.

If you have any questions, please give me an address or phone number or call me - no names mentioned if you like - and I'll tell you exactly how I feel on any issue.

March 3 is Alexander Graham Bell's birthday. That may not mean much to some people, but it might be worth a thought or two.

Just think - if it wasn't for Alex and his faithful hired hand, Mr. Watson, we might be trying to talk to each other with two soup cans and a piece of kite string. Or worse yet - we might be using damp wood and a wet blanket with monthly bills rendered by a subsidiary of ASS&T - the American Smoke Signals and Telegraph Company. There is not doubt about it - the invention of the telephone ranks among the "biggies" - like indoor plumbing and instant oatmeal.

The talking machine keeps teenagers off the streets and out of poolhalls while they talk to one another for hours. Of course it has its drawbacks. Because, while the kids are talking their fathers are probably on the verge of cardiac arrest since every time they call home, all they hear is the busy signal. Some parents have become so upset with their children's telephone habits they have arranged for long telephone cords that reach to the front porch. That way the kids can spend more time in the fresh air.

But, this is all a prelude to the point I want to make about A.G. Bell. According to historians, Mr. Bell's first words over the telephone were: "Mr. Watson, come here I want you!" The truth of the matter is Bell shouted those words just after he spilled a beaker of acid on his trousers. Chances are it ate right through the material and burned his leg. Any high school chemistry student can tell you that hurts worse than a place kicker's ingrown toenail.

Then add this point to the aforementioned facts - Mr. Bell was a Scotsman and that little boo-boo probably ruined his best pair of slacks. It just seems reasonable that he said something a lot more powerful than what historians recorded.

If you ask me, Bell said something like, "Ouch, oh, ouch, goldang, and what the heck," when the acid hit his leg. Watson came running in and said, "Guess what Boss, you just made the first phone call in history."

By this time Alex had jumped out of his acid-soaked pants, saw the damage, and replied: "Mr. Watson come here I want you - to tell me what Ma Bell will say when she sees this hole in my best Sunday britches!"

As I See It....

Though they are apparently doing a good job educating their students at Texas A&M, there are still some courses needed before a veterinarian should be able to graduate.

Local vet Thurman Reitz had a request to do a job yesterday morning, and he had to call his instructors for help. That just implies to me that the instructors either didn't cover all Thurman needed, or it was done during one of Thurman's naps.

It appears to me that an investigation should be launched into A&M's vet training program, because their graduates, being educated at a state school, should be able to handle any case that comes up.

However, Thurman swears not one of his instructors ever spent a minute on the subject: "How To Castrate a Camel."

Seems the circus here Tuesday had a problem with their camel, and wanted the surgery performed, prompting Thurman to search out his books, and finally phone A&M for helpful information.

If they were better educated, the Aggies wouldn't have so many jokes told on them.

I've mentioned from time to time how important it is to have volunteer help on community projects. Without volunteers projects would never get off the ground.

Last weekend was a good example.

Few people ever consider how much help is required to put on a good track and field meet. It's just one of those things taken for granted, it happens, but few consider the work and people required.

As many as 48 people worked at various areas of responsibility. And that does not include those who operated the concession stand, and luncheon personnel who fed more than 400 athletes, coaches and personnel.

Another example: 46 members and associate members of the MuleSkinners will be involved in feeding those who will attend the Chamber of Commerce banquet Saturday evening, and not one of them will receive a red cent.

A local sports fan was trying to relate the current high school situation with a few years ago, which if correct, would indicate Iowa Park was in for more winning football.

As he recalled, the Hawks had been very successful just before Tommy Watkins took over as football coach in 1963, and the rest was history.

He was commenting on the Hawks winning their division Saturday at the Hawk Relays.

Well, he was almost right, in his recalling. The Hawks won the Class A state championship in 1960, and then were runners up at the state meet in 1961, in Class AA. But they weren't in state title contention in 1962 or spring of '63.

Speaking of Watkins, I overlooked giving his six-year record at Andrews while writing last week's story about his being hired to return to Iowa Park.

His teams at Andrews have won 30, lost 30, and tied once. That gives him a lifetime head coach record (Rotan, Iowa Park and Andrews) of 162-56-6, from what I've been able to compile.

And speaking of coaches, I understand 1968 will be Gordon Wood's last football season (19th) at Brownwood. Seems that school has a policy of requiring retirement at the age of 65, and board members have refused to amend the policy for his benefit.

Spring turkey season opening in April

Hunters planning to participate in the spring turkey hunt should be well prepared to face one of the most elusive of all the game birds.

This spring the largest number of counties ever will participate, a total of 49, in far-flung areas of the state. Wildlife biologist Horace Gore, upland game program leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, says that generally, turkey are under-harvested in Texas and that we can take more gobblers and still maintain good brood stock ratios. Gore says the beautiful part of the spring hunt is that the turkey gobblers are more accessible at this time of year when they are moving into their breeding grounds.

The season will be April 15-23, with a one-gobbler limit.

SEASON DEBUT

Hawks win title

The Iowa Park Hawks showed individual and team depth Saturday in capturing their division of the annual Hawk Relays.

Iowa Park joined a pair of Oklahoma schools, Frederick in Division I and Norman in Division III, on the winners' stand, each unseating returning division champions from 1977.

Athletes representing 30 schools braved chilling winds to make their 1978 track debut, and proved their readiness by establishing six new overall meet records, nine other division records, and tying a 10th.

Hawk pole vaulter Jim Dooley established one of the new meet standards, when he exceeded the 12-6 mark by another foot, 13-6. His personal best was 14-0, set at Graham last year, but he had only one day practice before Saturday.

Another Div. II athlete, David Nix of Burkburnett, set a second meet record in the 880-yard run with a clocking of 1:58.4. The 440-yard relay division standard also fell.

Two meet standards were also set in the small school division, in the 100-yard dash and high jump. The Div. I sprint relay and 440-yard dash records were also set.

In Div. III, where AAA schools competed, two meet records, long jump and 440-yard dash, were shattered, and seven division records set.

Greg Seay of Ryan, Okla., held almost 100 fans at the high jump pit long after all other events were finished Friday afternoon.

His 6-9 jump broke the 6-6 standard. The crowd was on hand to see if he could go over the 7-foot mark, because he was the first Oklahoma schoolboy to set that record in his state, doing it last year as a junior. But Seay, who almost succeeded, was still playing basketball the weekend before, like Dooley, and his timing was still off somewhat.

Exhibition game re-set tonight

The exhibition basketball game, postponed because of bad weather, between personalities of Channel 6 in Wichita Falls and the Evening Lions Club, is on again, for tonight.

The game will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the junior high gymnasium.

Admission will be 50 cents for students and $1.25 for adults, and proceeds will be used for civic projects undertaken by the civic organization.

A citizen band radio is to be given away at halftime.

The Hawks established themselves as champion hopefuls by racking up 60 of their 117 points in the field events. Firsts were earned by Jeff Nolan in the high jump, Kip Fuller in the discus, and Dooley in the pole vault, and others took supporting points in the dramatic team effort.

Though none of the runners were able to capture a first place, their valuable placing points pushed the Hawks to 27 points over second-place Vernon.

Other Dist. 4-AAA teams competing besides Iowa Park and Vernon were Mineral Wells, last year's division winner, Burkburnett and Graham.

King sisters meet in finals

Only two Iowa Park athletes made it to the finals of the first annual Iowa Park Tennis Association junior high tennis tournament Saturday, and the IPTA president viewed that match with mixed emotions.

When the finals of the seventh grade girls' singles got underway, IPTA president Bob King couldn't pull for a winner. The finalists were both his daughters, Kelly and Toni.

Making the matchup even more interesting, however, was the fact that Kelly is only a fifth grader at the Valley View campus. She defeated the fourth seeded entry from Kirby and the fifth seeded from Burkburnett, to make her way to the finals.

Toni did win, however, 6-0, 6-2.

Semi-final and final results were:
 7th Grade Boys semi-finals - Palamatory (McNeil) def. Fudge (McNeil), 6-3, 6-2; Veitenheimer (McNeil) def. Hardin (Kirby), 4-7, 7-5, 6-1.
 Final - Veitenheimer def. Palamatory, 6-4, 6-3.

7th Grade Girls' semi-finals - K. King (IP) def. Chapa (Kirby), 6-0, 3-6, 7-5; T. King (IP) def. Shirley (Kirby), 6-1, 6-2.

Finals - T. King def. K. King, 6-0, 6-2.

8th Grade Boys' semi-finals - Patridge (McNeil) def. Deutsch (Burk), 6-2, 6-1;

Cotton (McNeil) def. Burks (Kirby), 6-2, 6-4.

Finals - Cotton def. Patridge, 6-2, 6-2.

8th Grade Boys' semi-finals - Walko (McNeil) def. Lueck (Kirby), 7-5, 6-0; Lewis (Burk) def. Lentz, (McNeil), 6-3, 6-4.

Finals - Walko def. Lewis, 7-5, 6-3.

Plans for another IPTA-sponsored junior high tournament are in the making, according to Phil Corless, club spokesman.

Minimizing salt problems for irrigation farming

By DON D. DECKER
County Agent

Landowners in the Wichita Valley have indicated their interest in irrigation water management for crop production and salinity (salt) control, according to participation in the recent irrigation meeting.

Dr. Cleve Gerard of the Research and Extension Center at Vernon outlined some basic techniques in irrigation water management to minimize salt problems in crop production. This meeting was a forerunner to an irrigation short-course scheduled for June. In-depth training will be provided to producers on crop and water management techniques to reduce the salinity hazard.

Salinity of water used for irrigation in the Wichita Valley from 1963 to present has been very high in salt, ranging from 1700 to 3800 ppm. "Management of these highly saline irrigation water requires four main principles", says Gerard. These include knowing the soils, knowing when and how much to irrigate, knowing if drainage problems exist, and knowing the effectiveness of rainfall in supply water needs and leaching requirements.

He goes on to say, "we are in a 30-inch rainfall area which can be used to help leach out the salts under proper management. Many irrigation errors are overcome by rainfall. However, the irrigation needs to be managed to take advantage of the normal rainfall pattern".

Growers should know the salinity hazard of their soils. For example, soils high in clay and/or having a compacted zone would tend to accumulate salt in the effective root zone. These soils, in contrast to permeable soils, require greater care in management.

Proper irrigation management requires knowing when and how much to irrigate. An irrigation should distribute water evenly over the land and replace the approximate amount of water used by crops since last irrigation.

On soils which tend to accumulate salts it is also important that additional water be applied for flushing or leaching of salts out of the effective root zone.

Under present cropping systems and irrigation water quality conditions, leaching requirements in Wichita Valley would be about 10 to 40 percent over the needs of the crop.

Soils with suspected salinity problems should be investigated for presence of perched (high) water tables. Presence of shallow perched water table means additional drainage, possibly tile or well-point drainage, is needed. Perched saline water tables above three feet will usually cause salting out of the land.

Keys to profitable cotton and grain sorghum production was outlined at the recent county R-PEP meeting to approximately 30 growers. The information was provided by Dr. Dale Lovace and Emory Boring, Extension specialists.

The key practices outlined in cotton production included application of preplant or preemergence herbicide, fertilization with 30 to 40 pounds of both nitrogen and phosphorous per acre, planting varieties with medium maturity dates, use of high quality seed.

Cotton should be seeded at the rate of 12-16 pounds per acre. Uniform cotton planting dates for Wichita County were established for May 20 through June 5. Bed planting was encouraged with flat planting acceptable. Furrow planting was discouraged. Eighty-five percent of the cotton carried to the gin comes from the bolls set the first three weeks of fruiting. For this reason, control of fleahoppers and weevils is essential. Key practices in grain sorghum production included 30 to 60 pounds of nitrogen and 20 to 40 pounds of phosphorous per acre, use of medium maturity greenbug hybrids, planting as early as soil temperature reaches 50 to 55 degrees with 7 a.m., seeding only 3-4 pounds per acre, apply preemergence herbicides at planting time, plant on beds or flat, place a chain in the spout for better seed distribution when planting with a grain drill, and controlling greenbugs and midge when needed.
