Winter storm cripples area

ICE LADEN - The limbs of two trees between the post office and fire station succumbed to the weight of ice in the wake of the New Year's storm. Overrun from the water tower behind the fire station spilled over the trees causing the damage.

FREEZING RAIN coated car windows, and everything else, Friday and Saturday nights. Joel Lovelady joined every driver in the area Saturday morning, scratching and chipping ice off his windshield so he could drive.

The crippling effects of a broken water line, sub zero temperatures and an ice storm began to melt away yesterday as Iowa Park and the surrounding area tried to resume normal activity in the wake of a New Year's storm.

Road conditions forced extension of the Christmas holidays for students an extra day.

Requests for voluntary conservation of water and electricity had been lifted by noon Wednesday.

Problems with Iowa Park's water supply system surfaced last Friday at the Cypress Street water treatment plant in southwest Wichita Falls near the origin of Iowa Park's transmission line.

While repairs were being made to the leak many Iowa Park water users experienced loss of service Saturday morning.

A second leak in the same vicinity was discovered Monday morning prompting Mayor Johnny Crawford to issue a request for emergency conservation. He asked residents to use water for drinking and cooking purposes only since the leak and repair efforts caused the transmission of water from Wichita Falls to be shut off.

Officials were able to prevent another service stoppage by processing water here from Lake Buffalo to meet the city's immediate needs.

Noon yesterday Crawford lifted the emergency water rationing condition when the second leak was finally repaired.

However, Crawford asked all Iowa Park water consumers to conserve water usage throughout the year, especially during extreme cold spells when line breaks become more likely.

The water shortage caused Iowa Park's major industry to halt operations four days, according to Cryovac plant manager Charlie Lee.

One of the plant's departments is a big water consumer and remains in operation around the clock.

When the water situation reached the critical stage, the plant was shut down Saturday and remained out of operation through Tuesday, Lee said.

Work at Cryovac resumed Wednesday morning.

"We cranked up this morning and have everything going," Lee said yesterday afternoon.

Due to power shortages in the Dallas area, Texas Electric Service Company also issued pleas Tuesday for consumers to reduce their use of that utility.

But by noon yesterday the strain on TESCO's producing systems had to court in its conservation request to be lifted, according to Wayne House, Iowa Park TESCO manager.

Water and power shortages compounded by icy street conditions also took a toll on enrollment in Iowa Park classrooms.

CLASSES RESUME
Schools here reported 13 percent absenteeism. A combined five campus total showed 247 students missed classes Wednesday from an enrollment of 1,899. Hardest hit was the Valley View campus with 71 of its 281 students absent.

Although classes here began Wednesday an hour and a half later than usual, officials reported tardiness due to slick road conditions affecting buses and private transportation.

Freezing temperatures also were blamed on a water line break in the small vocational building at the high school which caused flooding in the cosmetology and VOE classrooms. Damage was not extensive, according to school officials.

Although icy street conditions

Accidents keeping city police busy

Although the inclement weather apparently has kept vandalism and thefts to a minimum, Iowa Park police have been kept busy by icy road traffic mishaps.

Traffic conditions grew worse Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday as temperatures climbed causing sleet and snow covered streets to melt.

Busy intersections became the most treacherous as evidenced by numerous "fender benders" involving slow moving vehicles. The intersection of Johnson Road and West Highway and hilly locations kept police busy Wednesday morning as vehicles stalled on the slippery surfaces.

At other locations vehicles were seen nose-end or tail-end in bar ditches.

No injuries were reported as the result of any of the mishaps, police said.

Meanwhile, the bad weather has kept vandalism and thefts to a minimum.

Saturday police received a report of a car battery theft. The car was left parked in the 400 block of East Highway.

Tuesday police received a report from Robert Lee Boyd, 1218 S. Wall, that the paint had been chipped off his car door.

Leader's top stories of 1978 reviewed

Major news stories in the Iowa Park Leader during 1978 centered around a man's death, discovery that a man was alive, the return of a man, weather and a piece of equipment.

The death was that of Eldon Thompson Jr., 34-year-old member of the Iowa Park city council, killed in December in an accident in Wichita Falls.

The announcement by the FBI that positive identification of Bobby Johnson, who reportedly had drowned in January of 1976, confirmed he was alive and living in the northwestern part of the nation. That story was followed by Johnson's mother admitting she had visited with her son during the summer.

A short-lived controversy shrouded the return to Iowa Park of a new football coach, Tommy Watkins, who coached the Hawks to state prominence and then spent six years at Andrews, was hired to take the football team out of a three-year, 1-29 record slump. The team finished 4-6.

Rainfall measurements fell to the lowest level since 1970. Iowa Park's lakes all but dried up. Moisture recorded was 22.36 inches, well below the 29.41 average recorded over the past 51 years at the Research Station southeast of town.

And the year closed out with a sleet storm that glazed ground and streets alike, slowing movement in the city and area to a snail's pace. Members of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department undertook a major project to raise $5,400 to purchase a Jaws of Life. They were successful, and after manufacturer's delay, received the equipment.

JANUARY

Burglars opened the year with a break-in at Park Pharmacy, but due to the alarm system, only a few minor items like syringes were reported missing. The Hawk basketball team also sounded a note of things to come, when they blasted Quanah 102-40. Former Hawk assistant football coach Don Flippin was named Abilene area coach of the year for his work at Haskell. Virgil Hill announced he would seek his third term at Justice of the Peace. Local farmers, members of the American Agriculture movement, met in Wichita Falls with Attorney General John Hill. Richard Logan was named Fireman of the Year and Doug Davidson was honored for meritorious service at the annual Volunteer Fire Department banquet. Steve Davis, former Oklahoma Univ. standout quarterback, was speaker at the annual football banquet and he told the players "I hope you're sick about losing." State National Bank had two new directors named: Luther Shaw and Fred Dwyer. Jerry Padgett made it official, he would seek the post of Wichita County Clerk.

FEBRUARY

School trustees voted to reassign head coach Pat Tone for the remainder of his contract, and to seek a replacement. Open house for the Iowa Park Recreational Activity Center, formerly known as the "youth center" was held after it was recognized as a United Way funded organization. Three Iowa Park High vocalists, Lee Gwinn, Scott Fowler and Carrie Cole, were named to the all-state choir. Numerous vehicle accidents were investigated and schools were closed when an icy winter storm blanketed the area. The young and talented Hawkette basketball team finished north zone play with big wins over Burkburnett and Vernon to earn zone runners up and go into a playoff for the district title. The Hawks earned the north zone championship with a 96-77 win over Burkburnett. H.C. Johnson was sentenced to 16 years in federal prison for his conviction on eight counts of issuing false grain warehouse receipts to area farmers. School trustees were accused of violating the Texas open meetings law in their efforts to change the coaching situation at high school. The Hawkettes, after losing in a playoff with Stephenville, finished the season with a 17-14 record despite the fact most of the team leaders were freshmen. Tommy Watkins, who led Iowa Park football teams to state championships in 1969 and 1970, was re-hired as head coach at IPHS. James Cowley and Frank Johnson received the coveted Eagle Scout rank. The Hawks were defeated, 52-44, by Mineral Wells for the Dist. 4-AAA championship, finishing their first year under Coach Keith Barrick with a gaudy 26-5 record.

MARCH

Iowa Park, along with Frederick and Norman, captured their respective divisions in the annual Hawk Relays. Bert Williamson was named vice president at State National Bank. Honored at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet were Mrs. Charlie Lee, Outstanding Citizen of the Year; Arch Hughes, Outstanding Senior Citizen; and Virgil Woodfin, Agriculturist of the Year. Bill Steger assumed the post as president of the Chamber, following Keith Aulds. Anthony York, Jim Rowell and Sheryl Thornton were named first-team All District selections. Mrs. D.O. James was named "Texas Mother of the Year." Officials discounted foul play in the death of a South Carolina woman found at Lake Buffalo. Cindy Grace received the coveted herdsman award at the annual FFA Project Show. An estimated $2,000 was taken in a burglary at the high school where a hole was knocked through a wall to gain entry to a walk-in vault. School trustees voted to cut the career education program. Elected as officers of the Santa Rosa District of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs were Mrs. Earl Watson, president, Mrs. Deryl James, treasurer and Mrs. Joe Singer, secretary. Pat Tone resigned from the school faculty after being reassigned, and accepted a coaching position at Plainview. A 69-year-old Wichita Falls fisherman was found dead at Lake Buffalo.

APRIL

Three incumbents, two in the city election and one in the school rate, were unseated. Elected in the city election were Johnny Crawford, mayor, Johnny Lee, Eldon Thompson Jr. and Mrs. Earl Watson, aldermen. Trustees elected were Jerald Brown, Delbert Catlin and Mrs. Charles Dudley. Bill Spruiell was elected president of the school board by fellow trustees. Kathy Johnson and Billy Farmer were named Outstanding Girl and Boy by the 23 Study Club. Jose Ramirez of Holliday was killed in an accident at the intersection of FM 368 and 367. The Iowa Park city council decided to go to court in its dispute over proposed gas rates sought by Lone Star Gas Co. Three young Iowa Park men were arrested in connection with burglary of Paul's Stop and Shop. Iowa Park High's one-act play was a regional winner. The city's alleys took on a cleaner appearance when metal trash containers replaced the traditional individually-owned cans.

MAY

Lisa Bartow was named valedictorian and Tracie Siddle salutatorian of the IPHS senior class. A "Jaws of Life" apparatus was financed by contributions and purchased by the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department. The IPHS horticulture judging team of Jim Banks, Jeanna Dickerson, Jo Ann Melchiori and Judy Rusk placed second in the state contest. A second school safe, this time at the junior high, was burglarized, this time for some $250. Vida Albright, Buddy McLemore, Una Adams, E.E. Sargent and Mildred McLemore were recognized as outstanding workers at the Friendly Door. Jim Dooley and Kip Fuller competed in the state track meet at Austin. Rose Soell and Michelle Bamber were named top scholars at the junior high. When the Noon Lions Club celebrated its 50th anniversary, Lester Brooks, a member 49 years, was keynote speaker. Citizens were asked to curtail weekend lawn watering when drought conditions took toll on city

JUNE

Citizens were asked by city government to voluntarily reduce water consumption when the treatment plant was shut down for long-needed repairs and all water used was from Wichita Falls. Texas Electric Service Co. asked for a 23.6 percent rate hike. A street dance was held downtown, sponsored by the Volunteer Fire Department to raise funds for purchasing the Jaws of Life. Daryl Frazier, a student at Midwestern State Univ., was named to the NAIA all-star team which would tour countries in the Far East playing exhibition baseball games. Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority sponsored its annual 33-mile bike ride benefiting St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Jim Rowell signed a letter of intent to play basketball at San Angelo State. School trustees approved a record high athletic budget of $77,406. The city council approved a budget of $1,136,280, reflecting an increase in expenditures of $96,000. An oil field accident caused the loss of a leg to Deryl Walls, 19. IPHS Class of 1969 held its reunion, with 49 of its 81 graduates attending. Leader publisher Bob Hamilton ended his year as president of the Texas Press Association when the organization held its annual convention in Amarillo.

Frederick-Horton nuptials solemnized here Friday

The marriage of Miss Linda Kay Frederick and Tommie Blaine Horton was solemnized Friday evening in the First United Methodist Church. Elder J.A. Neatherlin, a close friend of the bride and her family, was the officiant for the double-ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John T. Frederick and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horton.

The focal point of interest in the altar area was the lighted picture of Christ high above the choir loft.

The traditional altar decorations presented beauty and simplicity in a most impressive fashion. Two arrangements of blue carnations, baby's breath, leather and emerald greenery complemented four seven-branched candelabra entwined with jade and emerald filled with graduated candles that provided the only illumination for the service. The extremities of the space were marked with baskets of blue silk mums, and the pews were designated with blue satin bows centered with tiny white flowers. Preceding the ceremony, attention was directed to the trinity candelabrum in the setting as parents of the couple walked to it together and the mothers lighted the two outer candles for the bride and groom to use when they lit the all-important candle in the center symbolizing their union.

Mrs. John Mixon, organist, played "Thou Ring Upon My Finger" by Schumann during the lighting of the candles by Miss Melody Begis of Duncan, Okla. and Miss Bridget Creech of Del City, Okla. She played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Chris Lester for his solo "Wedding Prayer" during the ceremony. Mrs. Mixon provided piano accompaniment for duet numbers by Miss Cindy Flanagan and Chris Lester who sang "Colour My World" and "You Light Up My Life" for prenuptial selections.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father who presented her in marriage. As they came to the pew where her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Glen Cipperley of Holstein, Iowa were seated, she expressed her appreciation to each with the presentation of a red silk rose, and she honored the groom's mother in the same manner as she exited from the church on the arm of the groom.

For her wedding, the bride chose a formal candlelight organza gown richly enhanced with Chantilly lace over peau de soie. The slightly raised bodice featured a sheer pointed yoke accented with the chosen lace and tiny self-covered buttons in the front. The lace was repeated in the wide cuffs ruffled with organza at the wrists of the long sheer sleeves and in an attractive design at the waistline. The long flowing skirt captured attention with the lace-trimmed hemline ruffle that flowed into a chapel train.

Her tiered blush veil of tulle lace cascaded from an organza tiara. The bridal Daisy Doll bouquet consisting of baby blue, royal blue miniature carnations, white roses, eucalyptus and gypsophila was carried on her mother's white Bible, the "something old" tradition. To complete the sentiments, she wore diamond earrings that belonged to her sister, Miss Cheryl Frederick, for "something borrowed", a garter for "something blue and new" and the sixpence in her shoe.

Miss Connie Justman of Benbrook, Texas participated in the wedding as maid of honor. She wore a long light blue princess style crepe gown topped with a light blue Chantilly lace capelet. She wore blue silk leaves centered with lilies of the valley in her hair. Her bouquet was fashioned of blue silk mums, white silk primroses and baby's breath tied with light blue and white streamers.

The bridesmaids were Miss Leora Copas, Miss Suzanne Davis of Wichita Falls and Miss Johanna Frederick, sister of the bride. They wore royal blue princess style crepe gowns with light blue Chantilly lace capelets. Their gowns and headpieces were styled identically to those of the maid of honor.

Their corsages consisted of all blue silk mums and baby's breath.

Miss Diane Brown, cousin of the bride, was her personal attendant.

Miss Lydia Brubaker, niece of the groom, had the role of flower girl in the wedding. She wore a light blue Chantilly lace frock styled with a lace ruffle collar and cuffs and covered belt. She carried blue silk petals in a dainty white basket. The candlelighters wore gowns like the flower girl.

The rings were carried by Dale Brown of Hubbard, Neb., cousin of the bride. He wore a baby blue tuxedo.

The groom selected a candlelight tuxedo and wore a light blue carnation centered with a white sweetheart rose for his boutonniere. The male participants and fathers wore baby blue tuxedos with royal blue trim.

Rusty Price served as best man. Groomsman were Bennie Jo Horton of Wichita Falls, brother of the groom, Donnie Taylor and Ronnie Taylor. Ushers were Billy Horton and Bobby Horton, brothers of the groom and Terry Wirmel, his brother-in-law.

Mrs. Frederick wore a white sweetheart rose with royal blue trim corsage to complement her heavenly blue Qiana blouson gown with an accordion pleated skirt and a narrow belt that tied in the front.

Mrs. Horton was attired in an aqua crepe gown designed with loose fitting sleeves and pleated skirt. Her corsage was a white sweetheart rose with turquoise trim.

As guests arrived at the church for the wedding, they were registered by Miss Karla Foster of Holstein, Iowa in the foyer. The table, covered with white lace, held a white pillar candle embedded with a picture of the bride and groom and William Begis of Duncan, Okla., Lloyd Brown of Hubbard, Neb. and Myron Cipperley of Storm Lake, Iowa.

The groom's table was laid with blue lace over blue and the centerpiece was a white bird cage filled with white turtle doves, blue buttercups and greenery. It also held the silver coffee service, chocolate cake iced in chocolate with darker trim and white gum paste roses. The first names of the newlyweds appeared on a white plaque to add further decorative cake interest.

Presiding at the table were Mmes. Richard Creech of Del City, Okla., David Lucas of Cherokee, Iowa, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Terry Wirmel, sister of the groom, and Miss Marcia Dove.

Houseparty members were Mmes. Allen Willis of Duncan, Okla., Roger Jensen of Cherokee, Iowa, aunt of the bride, Larry Norseworthy, Gene Owens, Miss Janet Cipperley of Holstein, Iowa, the bride's aunt, and Miss Kay Baca.

Miss Robin Horton, niece of the groom, distributed the blue silk rose rice bags from a lace-trimmed white net umbrella with a lace-covered handle.

The bride and groom were graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1978. She works for Texas Recreation Corp and Home Interior and Gifts. He is employed at Cryovac.

The couple went to San Antonio on their wedding trip. Her traveling ensemble was a navy blue skirt worn with a light blue loose knit sweater. They will live in Iowa Park.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner Thursday evening.

Out of town guests were Messrs. and Mmes. John Brooks and family of Pacific, Mo., Jimmy Scarbrough and family of Lawton, Okla., Glen Cipperley of Holstein, Iowa, David Lucas of Cherokee, Iowa, Myron Cipperley and family of Storm Lake, Iowa, Lloyd Brown and family of Hubbard, Neb., Alan Chittum and family of Haltom City, Tex.

Others were Messrs. and Mmes. Dennis Justman and family of Benbrook, Tex., Billy Ruck of Bedford, Norman Webb, Okla. City, Allen Willis, William Begis and family, Duncan, Okla.; Mrs. Ruth Stafford, Hopeville, Va., Mrs. Richard Creech and daughters, Del City, Okla., Miss Carla Fraser and Miss Janet and Stephen Cipperley of Holstein, Iowa.

The higher you set your thermostat, the higher your energy consumption.

"Try lowering the temperature in your home to 68° this winter. You'll save on your heating bill!"

"A setting of 68° during the winter is the one Texas Electric recommends for both comfort and energy efficiency. For each degree above 68° the energy used for heating your house is increased by approximately 4% per degree.

As shown by the chart the difference between the recommended thermostat setting and 74° is 24%. At 78° the increase in energy usage is 40% or more. Clearly, the lower you set your thermostat the lower your heating bill is going to be. And after last winter, one of the coldest on record, we think a lot of people are going to be trying their best to use less energy.

Remember to change the filter in your heating system regularly, too. A dirty filter causes your heating system to work longer and that costs you more. Check the filter at least once each month.

All forms of energy are costing more these days. If you're serious about saving energy and money, request a copy of our energy efficiency tips booklet on the comment portion of your electric service bill."

Wagner-Bentley wedding held recently in Waco

The sacredness of marriage characterized the ceremony, decorations and music, each phase lending itself to the general design to achieve a total effect of solemnity and beauty, for the Dec. 21 wedding of Miss Ann Renee Wagner and Charles Henry (Chuck) Bentley II. The Columbus Avenue Baptist Church in Waco was the setting for the wedding.

The Rev. Marshall Edwards, pastor, and the Rev. Shane McCardell of Fort Worth officiated the double-ring service uniting the daughter of Mrs. Karen Wagner of New Braunfels and the late William H. Wagner, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Bentley of Wichita Falls, formerly of Iowa Park. The couple recited their vows at three thirty o'clock in the afternoon.

Four-branched candelabra enwrapped with seasonal greenery held glowing cathedral candles to provide soft illumination. The choir loft was adorned with garlands of leather leaf and emerald and two huge poinsettia plants marked the extremities of the choir rail.

As guests assembled in the sanctuary for the wedding they were inspired by the prelude music presented by Miss Kathy Ford, organist, Jim Shuffield, pianist and Chris Wommack, vocalist. The latter sang, "That's The Way" by Pat Terry.

Miss Ford played "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" for the entrance of the mothers. Groomsmen and bridesmaids approached the nuptial area to "Trumpet Voluntaire", played by the organist and Barry Johnson, trumpeter. Miss Ford sounded the strains of Wagner's "Lohengrin" to herald the entrance of the bride.

During the ceremony Miss Karen Hearne and Chris

Wommack sang "No One Like You," an original song written by the latter. The solemnity of the ceremony was enhanced when the couple knelt on the V-shaped prayer bench during the singing of "The Lord's Prayer" by Chris Wommack.

The Rev. Edwards presented Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Bentley and asked the audience to stand and sing "Joy to the World" as the couple exited from the church.

The bride was escorted and presented in marriage by her brother, William Wagner. She was exquisitely beautiful and radiant in a formal gown of candlelight satin organza. The gown featured a molded natural waist bodice, high Victorian neck, and long slim sleeves richly enhanced with Alencon lace and seed pearls, the same ornamentation was repeated on the full skirt and attached chapel train.

She chose a floor length mantilla veil of English illusion outlined in Alencon lace studded with pearls and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and gypsophila.

The bridal attendants wore burgundy Qiana gowns pleated in both front and back fashioned with high necklines and long full sleeves trimmed in candlelight lace. They wore matching Juliet hats and carried long stem white roses.

Miss Mary Wagner of Denton attended her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses D'Ann Coconaugh, Mary Beth Herring, Cynthia Schmeltekopf and Colleen Hartwell, all Baylor University students.

John Bentley was best man for his brother. Groomsmen were David Waldrop, John Sloan, Kyle Rose and David Copeland of Wichita Falls. The groom and groomsmen wore gray pin-striped tuxedos trimmed in darker gray velvet.

Duties of ushering were assumed by Joe Panter, Larry Wayman, Randy Stewart and Kevin Cherry. This group, father of the groom, brother of the bride, and Shane Roberts of Bowie, nephew of the groom, the ring bearer, wore black tuxedos trimmed in black velvet with vests and white ruffled shirts.

Mrs. Wagner, mother of the bride, chose a gray Qiana gown with a round neckline, long full sleeves, blouson waist and flounce hemline. Mrs. Bentley, the groom's mother, wore a pink satin gown featuring a lace-covered bodice with angel wing sleeves and a skirt overlaid with chiffon. Both wore white cymbidium orchids to complement their gowns.

The bride's mother was hostess for the reception in Spencer Parlor following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white taffeta cloth and highlighted with the four-tiered all-white cake. Misses Susie Wagner and Janie Wagner, sisters of the bride, presided at the table and registered guests.

A green tailored linen cloth covered the groom's table which held a brass candelabrum, chocolate cake and brass coffee service. Miss Terri Commack and Miss Helen Tindell served refreshments at the table.

Houseparty members were Mmes. Edna Moser, Shirley Irion and Ruth Mendenhall.

The newlyweds departed for a skiing trip to New Mexico from the reception. She wore a gray two-piece tailored suit and white blouse. They will live in Waco.

The new Mrs. Bentley was graduated from high school in Carson City, Nev. where she was valedictorian of the senior class and a member of the All-American Band. She is a senior at Baylor University, a member of Tri Delta sorority and on Student Foundation.

The groom, a graduate of Iowa Park High School, is also a senior at Baylor University. At the university, he was a member of Student Congress his freshman year, Outstanding Sophomore and is presently serving as president of the Student Body. He is a member of Kappa Omega Tau fraternity. He is majoring in business administration and plans to enter law school.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Ridgewood Country Club in Waco.

Among the special out-of-town guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Moser of Fairbury, Ill., and the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatten of Electra and Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Petty of Bowie.

Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. Helen Collins and Paige of Dallas, Tony Petty, Tonya and Lyn of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Petty and Candy, Greg Dorman, Mr. and Mrs. Roy

Cook of the Week

Now that the holidays are over and people have eaten to the full of ham, turkey, fruit cake, pumpkin and mince meat pies, etc., they still have to eat.

Peggy (Mrs. L.S.) Whisnand realizes that people do have to cook and eat, and she went into her recipe file to find some recipes with taste and eye appeal for post holiday eating. She is sharing her very special Bar - B - Q sauce recipe with us this week; it is special because it is the only one that she has found that she can eat without suffering from indigestion. She feels that others who have the same problem might find that they can eat it without ill effects. Her Pecan Pie recipe is also different from most recipes for the popular dessert.

The sauce recipe calls for 1 T mustard, a popular spice for a long, long time. Both Greeks and Romans called it "sinapis". When the Duke of Burgundy entertained King Phillip of France, many gallons of mustard were used at a single meal.

Another big mustard eater was King Louis XI in the 15th century who carried his own pot of mustard when he made surprise visits to friends. Louis XIV was so fond of the nippy flavor of mustard that he granted a coat of arms to the spice.

Mrs. Whisnand, who is legal secretary for O.N. Newman, attorney, was graduated from Electra High School and took a refresher course in business at Midwestern State University.

She is a member of the Church of Christ and a former teacher of intermediate girls. She is on the youth board of the Recreational Activities Center. She is a former Camp Fire Girls leader and Cub Scout den mother. She served as room mother when the couple's children were in elementary school. Her hobbies are sports, especially golf, and cooking.

L.S. Whisnand, Peggy's husband, is broker for Whisnand Realtors. Their children are Cheryl (Mrs. David) Wright, a senior at Iowa Park High School, and Craig, a seventh grade student.

Leader's top stories of 1978

Wichita County delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar to be held in Waco. An antique car show was added to the Crazy Day promotion, sponsored annually by the Retail Merchants Association. City residents were asked by the city government to continue restraint of use of water for the balance of summer, due to extreme drouth conditions causing low lake levels. A five-year-old youth narrowly escaped serious injury when he was a hit and run victim on U.S. 287 near Johnson Road. School trustees held a called meeting to accept Dean Miller's resignation, he was curriculum coordinator, and also instructed the superintendent to begin immediately seeking a replacement for choir director Darrell Dick, who has resigned earlier. The Parks and Recreation Board had the road through Oscar Park closed to through traffic.

AUGUST

School trustees set a record budget of $3,239,048, but lowered the rate six cents from $1.80 to $1.74. Leo Fields was named Wichita County Farm Bureau Insurance Agency manager. A rash of vandalism with air rifles was reported to city police. Approximately 250 individuals received a portion of their claims against grain elevators operated by Robert Johnson, H.C. Johnson and Anita Johnson when grain was sold. Bill Steger was named to head the Iowa Park United Way campaign.

SEPTEMBER

Doug Arnold was named winner and Kelli Moore runner up in a month-long subscription campaign sponsored by the Iowa Park Leader. Jill Koonce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Koonce, was named Miss Teen America Dream of Texas and an automatic entrant in the national contest. First-day school enrollment was reported down 96, 1968, from the first day enrollment in 1976. Vandals caused wide spread damage at Oscar Park. Pilot H.L. "Duke" Abernathy was uninjured when he was forced to make an emergency landing in a field south of Bradford Elementary. Airplanes and hangers sustained heavy damage at Wichita Valley Airport when struck by a thunderstorm. Construction was started on a new apartment complex in the south part of town. City fathers approved purchase of a bulldozer for use at the sanitary landfill, as well as a building to house it. Brothers L.S. and Bobby Whisnand formed a new real estate office, Whisnand Realtors, to headquarter here. The Federal Bureau of Investigation announced it had positively identified Bobby Johnson, alive and well in Clarkson, Wash., but he had escaped capture before agents could close in on him. The Hawks defeated Decatur 12-0 in the second game of the season, breaking a 17-game losing streak. The annual Whoop-T-Do was considered most successful since its origin. Penny Baker was crowned Homecoming Queen. Iowa Park's first city administrator, Gene Britton, announced his resignation and acceptance of a similar position at Port Lavaca. After three months deliberation, the city council approved a 6.7 percent rate increase for Texas Electric. Eleven members of IPHS Class of '48 attended the Ex-students Association annual banquet, at which new officers were elected: Robert Wilcox, president, Danny Parkerson, first vice president, Jim Medlinger, second vice president, Josephine Ellis Patterson, corresponding secretary, Carolyn Mahler Richter, recording secretary, Ruth Dorris Gard, treasurer, and Olive White Blalock, reporter. Roy E. Childers Jr., a native Iowa Parkan, was named cotton ginning and mechanization specialist for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

OCTOBER

Rescue units from Electra and Wichita Falls were pressed into service to extract Earl Scheffe from his pickup following a head-on collision on FM 367. Maxine Hill became the first girl to win a trophy in the Punt, Pass and Kick competition sponsored here by Shaw Motor Co. Seventeen-year-old Laurie Tatom, driving alone in an automobile, was struck broadside by a freight train at the Victoria crossing, and remained in a comatose state through most of the balance of the year. Police reported an unsuccessful arson attempt at Bradford Elementary. Steve Morath was hired as city administrator. City councilmen approved an ordinance providing $500 reward for the arrest and conviction of persons committing an act of vandalism or destruction of public property in the city. Council members fired the water department superintendent they had hired earlier in the year, citing "lack of confidence." The Hawks defeated Weatherford 14-7, marking their first District 4-AAA victory since 1974.

NOVEMBER

Both the high school and junior high bands earned Division I ratings at the annual UIL marching contest. The city council was shaken by a report that Wichita Falls intended to increase its water rates for treated water purchased by Iowa Park some 30 percent. A young Iowa Park man was arrested and charged with assaulting a police officer. Both high school and junior high principals told the school board girls' volleyball appeared to be on the way out, due to lack of student participation. The Hawks finished the football season with a 4-6 record, best since 1974. Robert Hastings was named Sophomore of the Year by Dist. 4-AAA sportswriters. An Iowa Park man, David Loving, was shot and wounded while trying to retrieve stolen items in Montague County. Mrs. Sam Hunter was named recipient of the Outstanding Conservation Professional Businesswoman award. Robin Doan won the Nocona Miss Pecan Queen contest.

DECEMBER

The first annual Wichita County Christmas Parade, held here, attracted more than 80 entries and was declared largest parade in county's history. Wheeler defeated Italy in the Class B semi-final playoff game in Hawk Stadium. Russell Willingham escaped serious injury when an aluminum pipe he was holding came into contact with an overhead electrical wire at the high school. An estimated $3,000 in damages was inflicted by vandals at Shaw Motor Co. Quick action by the fire department reportedly saved Garden Valley homes when threatened by a large grassfire. The mother of Bobby Johnson admitted she had visited with her missing son earlier in the year. The Hawkettes won first place in the Byers tournament. Three athletes were honored at the annual football banquet: Tommy Ross, first team all district, Outstanding Hawk; Ray Willingham, Ball Hawker; and Gary Blackerby, Best Hustler. City Alderman Eldon Thompson Jr. was killed in a wreck in Wichita Falls. Less than two days later Edward Leonardi was also killed in an accident in the same city.

City, school agendas light

Both meetings next week of the city council and school board appear to be relatively light in length and subjects.

The city's meeting, to begin at 7 p.m. Monday, mainly will center around reviewing a traffic engineering plan and recommendations by the Citizen's Traffic Safety Board. Also slated for action will be consideration to award bids on a new police car and pickup truck.

Possible subjects of discussion are the city's water contract with Wichita Falls, the contract to sell water to the Wichita Valley Water Supply Corp., and filling the vacancy of the late Alderman Eldon Thompson Jr.

Other than reports by the two counselors, Tuesday's school board meeting will be "regular" topics such as paying bills and department reports, according to Supt. Faris Nowell. That meeting is set to begin at 7:30 p.m.

A 4-H project in beginning macrame skills will begin 1 p.m. Saturday at the County Extension Office located at 1626 Midwestern Parkway. This project is open to any youth 9-19 regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Registration fee will be for the supplies each youngster needs for the item they choose to make. There will be three meeting times: Saturday, 1:00-2:00 p.m.; Monday, Jan. 8, 7:00-8:00 p.m.; and Saturday, Jan. 13, 10:00 a.m.

For more information contact Anita Buchett, Assistant County Extension Agent, at 766-0131.

Wichita County food show winners will meet 7:30 p.m. today at the County Extension Office to receive information for the District Food Show. Please bring all records turned in at the county food show.

There are five keys to successful leadership. A good leader believes in people, encourages them and gives them responsibility. The leader also acts as a talent scout and develops a positive attitude toward getting things done.

Anyone who is willing to tackle a job that requires cooperating with others can learn to be an effective leader. This is where the 4-H program comes in -- it can help youth become effective leaders.

The national 4-H leadership program, supported by Reader's Digest, stimulates young people to become leaders through a variety of learn-by-doing activities. These activities help turn girls and boys 9-19 into the creative, inspiring individuals that others just naturally want to follow.

As a first step, 4-H members gain self-confidence by becoming experts at something, whether it's baking a cake, fixing a bike or playing a game. Then, they share their expertise with others through demonstrations, speeches and exhibits. Soon they are serving on committees and holding offices in their 4-H clubs. Or, as junior and teen leaders they are assisting younger 4-H'ers with their projects.

There will be a 4-H junior leader meeting 7:30 p.m. Jan. 16 at Texas Electric in Iowa Park. This month's training will be on "Share the Fun" acts. If you're over 14 and in 4-H contact Anita Buchett about being a junior leader.

HERE FRIDAY

Hawks, Hawkettes to host Hirschi

Iowa Park hosts Hirschi for a tripleheader Friday in the IPHS gymnasium in Dist. 4-AAA contests.

Following the girls' junior varsity game at 5 p.m. will be the Hawkettes and Hawks, in order.

The Hawks will be looking to even their district record at 1-1 after losing their opener to state-ranked Mineral Wells and then having Tuesday's game at Weatherford postponed.

It will be the district opener for the Hawkettes, who also were slated to play at Weatherford, but are not scheduled to play Mineral Wells until later in the season.

The Rams looked like they were going to blow the Hawks out of their gym Friday, when they broke from a 11-9 lead with seconds remaining in the first quarter to a 32-18 halftime lead.

"They just got after them and played a lot better," Coach Keith Barrick explained about the difference in the second half. Iowa Park matched the hosts 19-19 in the third period, and trailed 15-16 in the last period.

Randall Griffith led Hawk scoring with 18 points, and Harry Hutchins finished with 12.

Barrick is optimistic about his team's chances against the Huskies, who are back from AAAA this year. He said the Hawks have a good attitude, as indicated by their willingness to work. They held practice sessions through the Christmas holidays, missing only Christmas day.

The varsities will travel to Burkburnett Tuesday.

New tick control for cows

By DON D. DECKER
County Extension Agent

There is a new innovation available now for ear tick and fly control. The Rabon ear tag which is being manufactured by Shell can be placed into each ear of cattle, and this gives at least twelve weeks control of ear ticks and horn flies.

The ear tag is impregnated with stirofos which is released slowly over a period of about three months. I talked to Harold Shahan of Estes Chemical Company, and the availability and price is unknown at this time. The cost is probably in the range of 75 cents per tag.

The Tick Tag by Y-Tex Corporation is currently available for the control of ear ticks. The cost is 50 cents per tag for a total cost of $1 per animal. This gives at least three months protection against ear ticks.

The county livestock committee headed by Dr. Jim Barrington will be conducting some result demonstrations with these chemically impregnated ear tags this year. Stockmen interested in ear tagging their herd and leaving some check animals can give me a call. We will make arrangements for the ear tags to be furnished for demonstration purposes. Animals will be checked three months later for ear ticks and horn flies.

I'm getting a lot of requests for information on nitrification inhibitors. Nitrification inhibitors are added with fertilizer to the soil for one purpose. The purpose is to reduce nitrogen losses due to the leaching of the soil nitrate.

A nitrification inhibitor may or may not increase yields as a result of the nitrification inhibition. Several reasons exist for this situation.

First, the soil must lose sufficient nitrate by leaching to cause reduced crop yields. These losses are controlled by soil texture and available moisture.

Second, soil temperatures influence nitrification and cold soil temperatures (below 55 degrees) slow down nitrification to the extent that little or no nitrate is converted to become subject to leaching.

Second season set for doves

Scattergun enthusiasts wanting to put some dark meat on the table will have another crack at mourning doves when the second season opens Saturday.

The second half of the split season on mourning doves will continue through Jan. 14.

Although the doves won't be flying like they did in the early fall, hunters who have found concentrations may be able to bag their daily limit of 10 with 20 allowed in possession.

The only other season still open is on quail which continues through Feb. 18 in most North Texas counties. Limits are 12 daily and 30 in possession.

JULY

Voters in JP Precinct 2 voted 321-120 not to allow the sale of beer for off-premise consumption. Erma Barton, Holliday educator and civic leader, was killed in a two vehicle mishap on the Seymour Highway near her home. Twenty-six of the 58 surviving members of Holliday High School's Class of 1941 attended their reunion. Erma Barton was posthumously honored during the annual Holliday Art Festival which she instituted a quarter of a century ago. Former Holliday water superintendent James Sellers was re-hired to return to his old post. Texas Football magazine picked the Eagles to retain dominance in District 1-A.

NOVEMBER

The influence of Erma Barton was perpetuated when the new Holliday High School Auditorium was dedicated to her memory. The prospect of increasing prices for water purchased from Wichita Falls began receiving Holliday City Council attention. The Eagles were defeated by Celina 13-0 in the bi-district contest. Holliday landed a total of 32 spots on the District 13-A all-district gridiron squad. Supt. Ray Coe returned home to continue recovering from a heart attack he suffered in late October.

DECEMBER

Parker Square Savings and Loan Association filed an application for a branch office in Holliday. Holliday's new city policeman, Don Pennington, assumed duties here. Katie Williams was named 17th chair clarinet in the All-Region Band. Holliday's varsity Lady Eagles captured the championship in their division of the annual Holliday Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The top 1978 news story in Holliday?

No single event took runaway honors, however, several incidents shook the emotions of Holliday residents as new chapters to the town's history were lived.

Problems with the city police department continued to confront the Holliday City Council. Residents saw three different men -- Dennis Rees, Larry Zimbelman and Don Pennington -- sworn in as Holliday's patrolman.

Zimbelman caught the headlines again when he was suspended from the job after being indicted by an Archer County grand jury on two counts of indecency with a child.

Don Lucy and his varsity Eagles returned as District 13-A gridiron champions.

The community was shaken by the deaths of former teacher and civic leader Erma Barton and city councilman Red Denney.

Elections also made the news.

After his name was taken off the ballot for violations in Texas election filing laws, Ben Ezzell successfully staged a write-in campaign for mayor.

Holliday residents joined voters in JP Precinct 2 to nix a proposal that would have allowed the sale of beer for off-premise consumption.

The other top stories? You be the judge in this month-by-month review of the year past.

JANUARY

Bennie Ezzell and Amanda Woods were named Mr. and Miss Holliday High School during annual student body elections. Holliday school board renewed its contract with a legal firm which was instructed to increase its efforts to collect on delinquent accounts. Frank Douthitt of Henrietta was hired as the city attorney. Dr. Joe Wells was elected to his sixth term as president of the Wichita Valley Water Supply Corp. Fifteen Holliday bandmen earned all-district designation. The first two candidates in the coming city council election surfaced when Tom Hall and Charles Parker filed for the mayor's post.

FEBRUARY

Andy Borton, Holliday senior, was named to the second team defense All-State Class A football team. Icy road conditions were blamed on accidents that sent two persons to hospitals. Contracts for Holliday's entire coaching staff were renewed for the 1978-79 school year. Dennis Rees resigned as the city's policeman. Contested races developed in all the school board and city council up for election.

MARCH

Timmy Teafatiller escaped serious injury when he was struck by a car. With the exception of two resignations which were accepted, the Holliday school board approved extended contracts for all teachers and auxiliary personnel. Holliday band received Division II ratings in UIL concert and sight reading contests. An apparent violation of Texas election laws caused Ben Ezzell's name to be scratched off the ballot in the mayor's race, but he continued his bid for office with a write-in campaign. A group of individuals sponsored the first annual meet-the-candidates forum for school board hopefuls. Former Holliday resident Don Erwin received the Bridgeport Chamber of Commerce Outstanding Citizen Award for 1978.

Soldier's return: 1864

In 1861, at the age of about 30, John W. Stevens of Liberty County enlisted as a soldier in the Confederate Army. Taken prisoner after the Battle of Gettysburg in 1863, he was eventually freed in an exchange of prisoners between North and South. Granted a 30-day furlough in Savannah, Georgia on November 16, 1864, Stevens decided to return briefly to Texas to see his family.

Following the capture of the Vicksburg, Mississippi by the Union Army in 1863, however, regular transportation between the eastern and western portions of the Confederacy had become totally disrupted. Thus Stevens was obliged to travel the final four hundred miles of his trip on foot. Growing steadily wearier, but obsessed with the idea of seeing his wife and children, he trudged steadily on. On December 16 -- the date that his furlough expired -- he passed through the East Texas towns of Jasper and Woodville, and was at last within a day's travel of his home.

"I am now thirty-two miles from home. I am very tired and foot sore. I intend to measure the entire distance next day. At daylight I'm off, so stiff and sore, but as I move on I feel better; at five or six miles I stop and get some breakfast and on I go. About nine o'clock a heavy rain storm begins and for two hours the fountains of the great deep are broken up. Eight miles of the country now ahead of me is flat, level slashy pine woods. In places the steps I make for these eight miles is in the water over shoe-mouth deep, or more. The effect upon my sore feet is terrible. They are swelling and very hot."

"By noon I have made twenty miles. Reaching Smithfield in Polk County, I walked into the house of John F. Carr just as he and his wife are sitting down to dinner. His astonishment is indescribable to see me alive. Why, said he, you are reported dead, killed at Gettysburg -- your name is among the killed. I sit down and partake of a good dinner. We had much to talk about, his only son, Buck Carr, was in my company. His remains fill a soldier's grave in Virginia. In about half an hour my feet are so swollen I have to pull off my shoes. The sore feet, the twenty miles march in the forenoon, and the water has done its work."

"I am unable to proceed any further on foot. Captain Carr saddled a good horse for me, which I was to return next day. After I had somewhat dried my clothes, got a good dinner and had applied some soothing lotion to my hot, burning swollen feet, I mounted the horse and on I go through mud and water. At six or seven miles I began to pass my old neighbors. Now comes one of the hard trials of a returning soldier. As I pass the house of old man Wilson I see him in the front yard; he is dressing some home-tanned leather. His only son, Jim, went off to Virginia with me -- he sleeps beneath the soil of Virginia.

"The old man does not recognize me, and I am wanting in something. I don't know what to call it; I pass on without letting him know who I am -- on I pass toward home. I get to the last mile; only one person has recognized me as I pass along the big road. Soldiers are passing both ways all the time, hence I do not attract any special notice.

"At last I reach the mouth of a lane, my old home comes in full view. Old Patsy, the cook woman, observes me from the kitchen window; she notices me dismount -- nothing special in that, soldiers are dismounting at the gate every hour in the day, wanting something to eat, some milk, or it may be a feed of corn for a horse, or possibly to know if they can get shelter for the night. But Old Patsy detected something peculiar in my manner of dismounting from the horse. Quick as lightning she darted into the house. 'Miss Frony, there is a man at the gate and he got off his horse jes' like Mars' John.'

"My wife, knowing she would have to go to the front door in a moment anyhow, got up from her seat and walked to the door. Possibly she would not have moved until the answer to a 'knock' but for the old cook woman's suggestion.

At any rate, just as I latched the gate behind me, my poor wife appeared at the door with a very scrutinizing expression on her countenance. My younger child, whom I had left a three months' old infant, is standing just in front of her on the porch. My face is somewhat inclined toward the ground in front of me; my hat brim is pulled down somewhat in front, my physical appearance is so changed. No; that's not -- just then I raise my face in twenty feet of where she is standing and look into her face.

"Kind reader, here we will let the curtain drop. There are some things too sacred to be dished out to the curious reader. Such relies will be fully understood by the old soldiers still living, and will arouse in their minds some memories that are hid away in the heart's most sacred casket only to be viewed in the most private musings of the soul when silently reviewing the past.

"Next morning the news of my return home spread through the country, and then came the real trial of my life -- to meet the parents and loved ones of the boys who had gone with me to Virginia, and to deliver to each in turn some last incident or word from those boys: where they had died or where they were killed, and how nobly and bravely they fought and where they were buried. My wife's younger brother fell mortally wounded at Gettysburg, his remains now rest on that blood-drenched field.

"Once more I want to say to those who have never drunk the cup of war: 'You can have no conception of what war is.'"

As the term of his original furlough had expired even before he had reached his home, Stevens applied for and received an extension of his leave. Early in 1865, as the war began to draw to a close, he made arrangements to serve the remainder of his enlistment with a military unit which was stationed in Texas. He remained in the state until he was demobilized at the end of the war, and then returned to his family for good.
