Trustees approve land purchase

Wheels put in motion to build new gymnasium

School trustees Monday evening approved purchase of a tract of land and started work with an architect toward construction of a second gymnasium at the high school.

The land purchased was the entire block south of Wood Convalescent Home. The 18-lot tract is bordered by Second and Third Streets and Clara on the south. On the north, Cornelia has been designated but not yet opened.

Pending inspection and approval by the school's attorney, the contract signed Monday at the called meeting called for a purchase price of $35,000 to owner Dub Crawford.

The land was purchased for future Building Trades class project homes. The class has used all the lots purchased five years ago a block south, on Texas.

Building Trades has been a self-supporting class since its second year of being offered. Homes built are sold, with all costs figured into the price, and no tax money is used now.

Architect Don Daugherty, with Killebrew-Rucker-Associates, met with the board members that evening, and again Tuesday afternoon at the high school campus.

Trustees explained to Daugherty that they wanted to talk with him to give their ideas as to price and location of the new gym, approximately how much money they have to spend, and have him draw plans for consideration.

Because of the cost of brick construction, board members indicated they would go with a steel building. Daugherty said to build a very plain gymnasium like was added to the junior high would cost approximately $186,000. That same size structure of masonry would cost $224,000.

During the discussions, trustees said they plan to go as far toward completing the gymnasium as available funds would permit. If they can't complete the building's interior, that would have to wait until the money was in hand.

The school had over $200,000 carry-over from last year's budget. Members each said they didn't feel a bond issue would stand a chance in being passed, eventhough the need for extra physical education space was so pressing and obvious. They cited the number of school and other type bond issues which have failed at referendums in the area during the past year.

A structure for additional physical education space at the high school was termed the district's most pressing need, in a recent study carried out by a committee of citizens and school personnel.

During some periods in a day, 100 pupils are scheduled for physical education, and when weather is unfavorable outside, they must all crowd into the one gym on the campus.

Present plans call for the new gym to be built south of the present gym. The space between the two gymnasiums would then be enclosed to house restrooms, concession stand and serve as a lobby.

The new space would thus serve as a central facility for both gymnasiums when competition basketball and volleyball games are being played, and the school building would not have to be opened to the public, as is now the case.

Once the new gym is completed and equipped, it will be possible to have ball games played at the same time in each gym. Since three and four games are played, the time would be cut in half.

Six basketball teams are now competing at the high school, including boys and girls varsity, junior varsity and freshman teams.

As one trustee explained, "Our aim right now is to have a structure available when school opens next fall. It may be a year or two before we can play basketball games in it, but at least we'll have a place for the PE students to work out."

Board considers replacing trees

The City Parks Board met Monday night in the City Council chambers with John Sibley, president, in charge. Oscar Park, Foley Park and the Boulevard Improvement Plan were the main topics of discussion.

Members of the board volunteered to excavate trees and plant them in Oscar Park to replace trees lost last summer during the drought. Completion of permanent barriers around Kiddie Park at Oscar Park in the near future, weather permitting, was considered. The need for four inch pipe and volunteers to weld the structure was brought to the board's attention.

Estimates for replacing trees and shrubbery on the city's boulevards were examined and a committee was appointed to further study the estimates and give a report at the next regular meeting which will be the third Monday night in February.

It was suggested that the board enlist the help of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission in drawing up plans for Foley Park and the Iowa Park Lake Development.

The decision was made to order one new playground unit for the Kiddie Park area in Oscar Park, and to present the need for equipment in the parks to the service clubs of the town anticipating their cooperation in raising funds.

City administrator, Steve Morath, and Mrs. Earl Watson, a member of the City Council, attended the meeting. Other board members present were James Owens, Mrs. Charlie Lee, Jimmy Alsop, Mrs. David Padgett, Virgil Woodfin, and Delbert Todd.

Chamber banquet tickets on sale

Tickets for the annual Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce banquet, to be held Feb. 10, went on sale at four locations this week.

With the price unchanged for the third consecutive year, still $5 per person, tickets are being sold at the Chamber of Commerce office, State National Bank, Iowa Park Leader and Texas Electric Service.

Featured will be humorist Gil Stricklin from Dallas as guest speaker, four award presentations and a steak dinner prepared for the second year by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners.

Stricklin, an executive for the two-million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas in Dallas says "I am a humorist, seriously." He explains "That means 80 percent humor and 20 percent serious."

A new award was added to the list of recognitions made each year by the Chamber. Those previously recognized were the "Outstanding Citizen of the Year," "Senior Citizen of the Year" and, added last year, "Agriculturist of the Year."

To be initiated this year is the "Educator of the Year," when a member of the Iowa Park school system will be recognized for his or her efforts.

Methodists slate note burning

Sunday's 10:40 a.m. service at the First United Methodist Church here will hold special significance for its parishioners who will witness the dedication and note burning of the new sanctuary.

Former pastors and parishioners who spearheaded the $150,000 project will take part in the services, said the Rev. Mike Jackson, pastor.

The Rev. Don Youngblood and the Rev. Boyd Sawyer, both former pastors, are slated to participate.

Note burning will be conducted by John Nixon, building program chairman, and Harold Cowley, chairman of trustees. Also instrumental in the project was deceased trustee chairman Bill Owens.

Original financing plans would have had the note paid off in 15 years, but it was retired in three years, according to Jackson. Half of the total cost, $75,000, was carried on the note and the remainder was raised by the congregation.

The project was in the planning stages in 1973 when Youngblood was pastor. The project continued through 1974 and the tenure of Sawyer.

In 1975 the remodeling project was finished while the Rev. Jim Connaster was pastor.

The note was paid off in December, said Jackson.

$164,000,000

Sheppard AFB operating costs for 1978 told

Costs of operating Sheppard Air Force Base during 1978 amounted to more than $164-million according to base officials.

In addition, contracts amounting to more than $3.6-million for construction projects were awarded during the year. More than $3-million went to Wichita Falls contractors. This construction figure was down from $5-million in 1977.

Payroll costs comprised a majority of the expenditures, or $134-million of the total for operating the base. Payroll costs of $107-million went to military members and $27-million, to civilian employees. Military pay was down $1-million and civilian pay, down $3-million from the previous year.

The base population is 12,000, down about 1,000 from last year. There are about 8,000 military and 4,000 civilians. Only 1,700 of the civilian employees are general schedule and wage grade employees who are paid from appropriated funds. The others work for such organizations as the Base Exchange, clubs and contractors. The military population is down 1,000. The civilians remained the same; however, a larger number are working for contractors.

Contract services include transportation, rentals, printing, facility projects, civil engineering services, educational training and maintenance of equipment. These services amounted to $18-million; communications and utilities, $3-million, and travel, $1-million.

Construction costs amounted to a little more than $3.6-million in comparison with $5-million in 1977.

One construction contract awarded in June amounted to more than one-third of the total construction costs for the year. It was for the base cold storage facility. The contract went to Reid-Ross Company of Wichita Falls for a low bid of $1,026,254.

Five of the 17 contracts awarded during the year were for upgrading family

Shook-Spruiell nuptials are exchanged Thursday

Miss Rhonda Kay Shook and James Duncan Spruiell recited their nuptial vows Thursday evening in an impressive ceremony at First United Methodist Church. Rev. Mike Jackson, pastor, was the officiant for the double-ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Pete) Shook of Lake Diversion, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spruiell.

The nuptial setting was richly illuminated with two spiral brass votive candelabra flanking the stained glass window above the choir loft, two heart-shaped votive candelabra on the upper altar and two candle trees in the lower altar. The aisle pews were decorated with single candles in brass holders accented with ivory silk bows.

The communion table, centered with a large Bible with ivory pages covered with burgundy leather, a gift to the couple from the groom's parents, had a special place in the setting. A long low bouquet of burgundy carnations, ivory cushion poms and baby's breath and a tall candle ringed with the chosen flowers were used with the Bible on the table. Palm trees on either side of the steps leading to the altar and the unity candlestick completed the decorative scheme.

Miss Karlene Eastman, organist, accompanied Mrs. Johnny Bernstein, vocalist, for her solo "The Wedding Song" as a prenuptial offering and Vern Horsky who sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The organist presented a concert of prelude selections which included "Colour My World," "If," "Nadia's Theme," "Let It Be Me," "A Time for Us," "Theme from Love Story," "Twelfth of Never," and "I Love You So." Her offerings also included Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

When the bride's father presented her in marriage for both parents, she was a charming picture in her formal gown of candlelight English net. The empire bodice featured a ruffle-trimmed bib yoke fashioned of Venice lace adorned with tiny self-covered buttons down the front, a light stand-up neckline and cuffed bishop sleeves. A dainty lace ruffle encircled the modified bell skirt and chapel train.

The bride's veil of imported illusion was chapel length and was attached to a Juliet cap of lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of all silk flowers composed of ivory roses and cherry blossoms and burgundy gypsophila.

In observing the bridal traditions, she chose a ruby and diamond-drop necklace belonging to Mrs. Marian Wood, her maternal grandmother, for "something old" and "something borrowed."

A touch of blue on her garter and the sixpence in her shoe carried out the other sentimental accessories. All feminine attendants wore identical gowns of burgundy Qiana. The empire waists were enhanced with ivory lace bib yokes, light stand-up necklines edged with lace. The cuffs of the long bishop sleeves were trimmed with lace and pearl buttons. Each carried a wicker basket filled with ivory silk cherry blossoms and burgundy silk and dried baby's breath. Ivory picot ribbons cascaded from the baskets.

Mrs. Johnny Spruiell served as matron of honor. A charming trio of bridesmaids consisted of Mrs. Gary Dippery of Kamay, Mrs. Marcus Jordan of Seymour and Mrs. Joe Owen.

Miss Debbie Smith and Miss Leisha Smith of Slidell,

La., cousins of the bride, were the flower girls. They wore frocks like the bride's attendants and carried flowers in smaller ruffled wicker baskets.

When the groom met his bride at the altar he was wearing an ivory tuxedo with an ivory shirt and a boutonniere formed of ivory silk roses and burgundy silk baby's breath.

All masculine participants and fathers of the couple wore burgundy tuxedos and ivory shirts.

Jerry Spruiell served as best man for his brother, Johnny Spruiell, cousin of the groom, Marcus Jordan of Seymour and Paul Bartow were groomsmen. Guests were ushered and seated by Bud Shook and Chuck Shook, brothers of the bride, and Ray Willingham.

The bride and groom consummated their wedding vows by lighting the unity candle in the candelabrum at the entrance to the aisle they used to exit from the church. As they started she said "I love you" to the groom's mother by presenting her with a red silk rose just as she had done for her mother as she walked the aisle to the altar on the arm of her father.

Following the wedding, the bride's parents were hosts for the reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the church where decorations were governed by ivory and burgundy, the bride's colors.

The registry table, covered with burgundy Qiana, held a bud vase of burgundy silk roses, a silver plate filled with ivory and burgundy net rice bags, the bride's book and ivory plume pen. Miss Misty Hicks presided at the table.

The beautifully-decorated bride's cake that centered her table, covered with ivory satin featuring a ruffled skirt, made the occasion more memorable.

The frosting designs on the four-tiered ivory-colored confection were highlighted with heavy scroll work and ivory roses with pale avocado green leaves. Two sets of Grecian pillars covered with lace filigree added lofty dignity. The top ornament was a dreamy creation formed with three ivory satin bells rimmed with pearls and arched with a single strand of flowers. The bells nestled in ivory silk cherry blossoms and burgundy baby's breath on top of a dais overlaid with lace.

The cake was flanked by silver epergnes holding ivory cushion mums and burgundy carnations. The table appointments were completed with the ivory napkins engraved with "Rhonda and Duncan, January 9, 1979" in burgundy. Serving at the table during the reception were Miss Linda Ayers, Mrs. Mack Shawver Jr. of Holliday, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Gary Crawford.

The groom's table was covered with ivory satin. The chocolate horseshoe-shaped cake was scrolled in chocolate and lettered with the names of the newlyweds in ivory. The centerpiece was a brass cuspidor holding burgundy carnations and ivory cushion poms. The cake was served with coffee from a silver service by Mrs. Raleigh Smith of Slidell, La., aunt of the bride, Mrs. Jerry Spruiell and Mrs. Randy Myers from Kamay.

Miss Wendy Hicks and Miss Dana Hicks served punch from a silver bowl at a table draped with ivory satin overlaid with lace.

Guests sat at quartet tables, some centered with wicker baskets filled with rice bags, others with candles in a ring of the novelties, to eat refreshments.

Houseparty members were Mmes. Dan Bales and Tommy Wilkerson of Burkburnett, Leon Morrow, Lake Diversion and Gene Owens.

The bride's mother wore a formal burgundy floral Qiana gown with blouse top and pleated skirt, and the groom's mother wore a formal mauve Qiana dress styled with long sleeves and pleated skirt. Each wore a corsage of ivory rosebuds and burgundy baby's breath.

On the eve of their wedding, the betrothed couple was honored at a rehearsal dinner given by the groom's parents at the Frontier Steak House. During the evening, they presented gifts of remembrance to their attendants. The bridal attendants were given their wicker baskets and flowers that they carried in the wedding and the groom's attendants received horseshoe money clips.

The bride and groom were both graduated from Iowa Park High School. She is employed by Iowa Park Florist and he works with Thompson Tool Co. They departed from the reception for a short wedding trip. For her traveling costume, she wore brown knit pants, a matching striped sweater and a corsage of ivory rosebuds and baby's breath. They are at home in Iowa, Park.

Out-of-state relatives at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Smith, Debbie and Leisha from Slidell, La.

CATHY BASTON and EDDIE KIERN JR.

Announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baston are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Catherine Ann, and Edward Hayden Kieren Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hayden Kieren of Wichita Falls.

The prospective bride and groom were both graduated from Iowa Park High School. She was on the volleyball and basketball teams and ran track. She is attending Midwestern State University on a volleyball scholarship and majoring in physical education.

He was on the football and track teams in high school and competed in track at the state meet one year. He attended MSU. He is presently president of North Texas Bronze & Aluminum Foundry and general manager of Wichita Falls Patterns & Works.

The couple will be married Mar. 16 at the First United Methodist Church in Iowa Park.

LOOK WHO'S NEW

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Raby announce the birth of Steven Patrick, Jan. 5. He weighed eight pounds and eight ounces.

The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J.I. Billingsley of Iowa Park and Mrs. Betty Raby of Wichita Falls.

Great-grandparents are E.P. Casteel of Horatio, Ark., A.A. Billingsley of Gillham, Ark., and Della Berry of Byers.

Cemetery group slates meeting

The Highland Cemetery Association will hold a business meeting Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church. The meeting had been scheduled for an earlier date but had to be postponed because of inclement weather.

Hoyt Watson will be the presiding officer. The meeting will be highlighted by the election of officers following a report of the nominating committee composed of W.B. Shook, Taylor George and Mrs. Homer Blalock.

Mrs. Smith hosts NBW

Eleven members of Night Baptist Women of First Baptist Church attended the meeting Monday in the home of Mrs. Roy B. Smith.

Mrs. Bill Curry conducted the prayer period for five missionaries on the birthday calendar for the day to open the meeting. Mrs. W.F. Booher directed the business.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson reviewed the last chapters of "Brazilian Obsession" by Wm. L.C. Richardson for the mission study program. The themes of the chapters were "To Further the Cause" and "To Reach the Uttermost Parts." Emphasis was placed on the nine different channels the Brazilian Baptists use in furthering the gospel.

Others attending were Miss Helen Reed, Mmes. Lee Smith, J. Louis Quick, V.I. Woodfin, C.L. McKinnon, D.O. James and Homer Blalock.

Cook of the Week

With Super Bowl Sunday just around the corner it will offer an excellent opportunity to try a new recipe on a captivated audience.

Debbe (Mrs. Eddie) White offers three snack recipes that can be prepared before the big game. Her picante sauce, cheese log and beef jerky ideas should score with the home team.

She also has main dish recipes that can cook while you watch the game.

Or if all the excitement gets to be too much to handle or the inclement weather has you itching with cabin fever her recipes for bread and sukiyake might be a good way to spend a respite in the kitchen.

Like many young families, both of the Whites work. He is employed at Cryovac, and she works at Settle Drug Store. They have a daughter, Kasey, who is 15 months old.

The family car is a sporty van which they enjoy driving on their camping excursions which often takes them to Lake Texoma.

When not at work or on a family outing, Mrs. White enjoys spending time with their daughter teaching her to color and play.

Mrs. White also enjoys tile painting, sewing and ceramics.

They came to Iowa Park from Lubbock in 1976.

Mrs. White was graduated from North Mesquite High School in Dallas and attended Tyler Junior College where she was a member of Tau Kappa and Phi Beta Epsilon.

In high school she was a member of the rodeo club and was a frequent participant in girls barrel racing at the weekend Mesquite rodeo.

She also played drums in her high school and college bands.

Donating of blood is program topic

The program for the Philia Study Club meeting Monday evening was planned and presented to highlight the Home Life Department of General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Donald Cook and Mrs. Robert Robinson were hostesses for the meeting in the home of the former.

Two guest speakers, Patty Tucka from the Red Cross Blood Center, and Donald Hill presented the program.

The first speaker stressed the needs as well as the benefits derived from giving blood and announced that the bloodmobile would be in Iowa Park Feb. 6.

Hill described the three types of life insurance and stressed the importance of carrying adequate insurance.

Mrs. Michie Compton was program leader.

Mrs. Harold Cowley used "Home" for the meditation topic and closed with Edgar A. Guest's well known poem, "It Takes a Heap of Living in a House to Make a Home."

Mrs. Deryl James directed the business. A nominating committee composed of Mmes. Jerry Padgett, Hoyt Lovelace and Cowley was named. Mrs. Thomas Johnson was appointed treasurer to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Glenn Phillips.

The next meeting will be Feb. 12 in the home of Mrs.

R.A. Tanner who will present the program.

Others members attending were Mmes. Vern

Horsky, Johnny Bernstein, Louis Sawyer, David Springer, Wilbert Wynn and Jimmy Howell.

Here's why it takes fuel to make electricity.

It takes fuel to make electricity. A lot of people don't understand that, but it's true.

Most of the power plants in this country require steam to generate electricity. To make steam you must boil water, and that requires a lot of heat. That's why we have to buy and burn large amounts of fuel, such as lignite coal and natural gas, every month. The steam we make with it turns the generators that make your electricity, which we distribute to you right when you need it.

The fuel we use costs money, more all the time, which is why we show it separately on your bill. At Texas Electric, we want you to know what you're paying for. And to remember: it takes fuel to make electricity.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

We can complain all we want about the bad, cold weather we experienced the three previous weeks, how inconvenient it was and possibly how business was slowed down. But the people down in the Rio Grande Valley were hit with millions upon millions of dollars in losses.

Dolores and I went to the McAllen area last weekend with Dan and Pat Spruiell, for the expressed purpose of getting out of the cold weather a couple of days.

Yes, it was extremely nice while we were there, especially when compared to what the weather was here. The temperature, when we left about noon Saturday, was 82 degrees. It wasn't that hot Friday, but almost as nice.

Citrus growers, and people who work in related fields, were hit by a hard freeze the weekend before we were there. Though temperatures varied over the area, caused by some heating fields and nature's quirk of wind directions, every orchard in the valley was affected to some degree.

Damage, to the untrained eye, was apparent as we drove in the rural areas. In some areas we saw fruit lying on the ground, almost hiding the dirt, but the trees still had their leaves. But in the orchards from Edinburg north, trees were almost totally defoliated.

I read one report by an official who said the freeze penetrated as deep as three inches into the tree wood. As I understand it, all that frozen wood will die and must be cut away. The tree will be affected in production until it can grow back to normal.

So, that means there will be a shortage of fruit from the valley area for months and even years in the future. The price doubtlessly will be affected.

Losses will be suffered not only by those who own the citrus orchards, but by companies and employees of all the allied industry, such as the processing plants, orchard management companies and employees, trucking industry (which is everything from truck and part sales and fuel sales to the drivers), and so on down the line.

There is one industry which will still do well down there, however. That is the business of serving the people who go down in that country during the winter to get away from the cold climates.

We saw about as many license plates on the streets from other states as there were from Texas. In the KOA camp where we stayed, only one other vehicle had a Texas plate. The rest were from as far away as Canada.

We had an unusual parking lot at the KOA. They had only recently enlarged the grounds to the north, which placed our row of lots in between grapefruit trees, as an orchard bounded the north side.

For breakfast, all we had to do was open the camper window, reach out, and pluck our breakfast. And we did just that.

There was a problem getting down there, since we left Iowa Park Wednesday night during the big snow. Roads were terrible, especially between Bowie and Decatur, where two inches of pure ice glazed the highway. At one point we had to use the four-wheel Jeep we were pulling to push the motorized mobile home up the hills. Trucks and other vehicles were stalled all along the way.

Other than slush, however, we had no problem southward from Fort Worth.

Of course, we had to try out a golf course while we were down there. We played a nine-hole course at Edinburg, and without any doubt, the average age of people on the course was about 65. They were among those I referred to from other states, there for the winter.

A tip to golfers who go down there in the winter: be sure to make your tee time appointment early, like the day before you want to play. It's extremely crowded on the courses in the winter.

But making an appointment is no problem to people who love to play golf. After all, we made a 1,300-mile-plus trip to get in 18 holes, hadn't we?

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

BRANDING IRONS
My dad, being a blacksmith, was called upon many times to make branding irons. A branding iron, if you don't know, is a heavy piece of iron with the configuration of a letter, letters, word, numbers, sign or mark. The iron is heated in a fire to very hot, then it is applied to the skins of cattle (the cattle are still in the skins, incidentally) to give them permanent marks of identification.

Branding was started, I suppose, by ranchers back when cattle grazed on open ranges, before "bob wire". In those days cattle roamed at will until roundup time when all were gathered in and sorted according to brands. It was a fair way, though not certain by any means, to prevent theft of cattle. Brands are still used today for the same reasons because, though we don't have open ranges, cattle sometimes manage to get loose. Also, theft of cattle is still a thing to contend with in some places.

If a rancher wants to use a certain configuration for his brand, he must first verify that no one else in the county is using the same thing. This is done by checking records in the office of the county clerk. In my state, brands must be registered with the clerk every ten years. A small fee is paid at the time of registration which entitles the person to use the brand and at the same time excludes anyone else from using it.

The rancher next gets a branding iron made. Some ranchers make their own but most hire the local blacksmith to make them.

Dad made most of the branding irons from worn-out go-devil blades. A go-devil is what we called a kind of plow used for knifing weeds in the fields. The edge of the iron that touches the skin must be thin to form a good clear mark while the back part must be thick to hold the heat. A worn go-devil blade was usually just the right shape and thickness to do the job.

The shape of the brand was first drawn with chalk on the iron workbench top to the exact size it was to be made. Pieces were cut from the go-devil blade and heated to red hot in the forge. Each letter or sign was formed by bending or hammering it into shape. It was checked for correct shape by placing it over the chalk layout.

When it was the right shape, a handle was welded to it. The handle was made from an iron rod about a half-inch in diameter. A discarded wagon rod worked pretty well for that. The end of the handle was sometimes bent for a hand hold but some preferred to leave them straight.

When the branding iron was completed it was tried out just to see how it looked. It was heated in the forge again then stuck to the wooden door of the shop. The owner could see how his brand was going to look before he took it home with him. There were a lot of different brands burned into the door of our old shop.

Bottle throwers break windows

Beer bottle throwing vandals damaged two Iowa Park businesses Saturday night, police here reported.

While on routine patrol Saturday night Iowa Park police discovered a large plate glass window had been broken out at the Iowa Park Leader, 112 W. Cash.

Police also discovered a glass entrance door at H&S Food Store at 400 W. Bank had been broken.

In both cases, the glass had been broken by a thrown beer bottle, police reports said.

City's sales tax takes big drop

Iowa Park businesses apparently were suffering a slump when 1979 made its entrance, according to the state comptroller's office.

This year's first sales tax rebate to the city was 10 per cent smaller than its payment a year ago.

Iowa Park's most recent payment was for $2,453.68 as compared to $2,744.17 received this time last year.

Whistle-Hopping The Texas Tracks: 1911

The first man who flew an airplane from coast to coast, Cal Rodgers, whistle-hopped his way through Texas en route to the Pacific. His technique of navigation was to follow his "iron compass," the system of railroad tracks which stretched out below to guide him from city to city.

Following the M-K-T ("Katy") tracks southward from McAlester, Okla., Rodgers reached Fort Worth on Oct. 17, 1911. From there he was led by the Texas and Pacific line to Dallas on the 18th. He landed safely on the State Fair Grounds despite an encounter with a curious and possibly belligerent eagle which flew up to investigate him as he passed. On Oct. 19 he flew south again over the "Katy" tracks which would guide him all the way to San Antonio.

When Rodgers arrived in Waco he circled the 22 story Amicable Building. He was treated, on landing, to a flight between a bulldog and a badger which had been arranged in his honor. The next day he flew to Austin, spent the night, and circled the capitol building - at an altitude of 2,000 feet - on his departure.

Shortly afterward a broken piston forced him to make a crash landing in a field near Kyle. He repaired his plane and, after a brief stop in San Marcos, flew on to San Antonio. Here he set down on the polo grounds at Ft. Sam Houston, called for a glass of milk, and took off again the same afternoon, bound for points west over the Southern Pacific tracks.

Rodgers originally began his flight on Sept. 7 from Sheepshead Bay, N.Y., as a contestant for the $50,000 prize offered by publisher William Randolph Hearst for the first successful transcontinental flight. He was sponsored by J. Ogden Armour, heir to Chicago's Armour and Co. food processing plant. To promote Armour's new brand of soft drink, Vin Fiz, Rodgers' plane was christened the "Vin Fiz Flyer."

The promotional aspects of the adventure were ignored by some newspaper reporters, however, and criticized by others as being in bad taste. The press and the public were in fact much more interested in Rodgers himself than in the brand of soda pop which had brought him to them. A handsome man who stood about six feet, four inches tall and weighing more than 200 muscular pounds, the flier indeed fulfilled all the qualifications of an American hero as he clambered out of his tiny Wright B biplane in city after city across the continent.

The daring young man in his flying machine was not left completely to his own devices as he followed the railroad lines, however. He was in turn followed on the ground by a special train which carried, in addition to his wife, his mother and an entourage of agents and publicists, his three mechanics and a boxcar filled with such essential spare parts as propellers, wings, wheels, canvas, and piano wire. Thus he was able, each time he touched down, to report on his problems and have them repaired before he took off on the next leg of his trip.

It was just as well that Rodgers' appearance alone was sufficient to satisfy the crowds of spectators who came to welcome him, as his responses to his admirers varied with his mood. The newspaperman who attempted to interview him in Dallas was compelled to report that "the famous birdman is rather a hard person to approach in a conversational way, and had little or nothing to say yesterday about his trip from Fort Worth."

In Waco he was cheerful enough to talk to the crowd and compliment the bulldog which was to fight the badger for his amusement, but in San Antonio, "paying no attention to the cheering of the thousands, he left his machine as soon as it was surrounded by a cordon of cavalry and went at once to the officers' club." His spirits were doubtless dampened not only by his own forced landing in Kyle earlier in the day, but also by news which had reached him in Waco. This was the report of the fatal crash in Georgia of his fellow flier Eugene Ely, the first pilot to land on and take off from the deck of a battleship.

On Nov. 5 Rodgers arrived in Pasadena, Calif., completing his trip to the Pacific and becoming America's first coast-to-coast flier. He arrived too late to qualify for the prize offered by Hearst, and, in any case, he would not have had long to enjoy it.

On April 3, 1912, less than six months after his visit to Texas, a seagull flew into his propeller during a demonstration flight over the Pacific Ocean. The plane crashed into the water virtually undamaged, but Rodgers' neck was broken and he died almost immediately.

The salvaged "Vin Fiz Flyer" made the trip by train back across the continent to the Smithsonian Institution, where it was exhibited beside the Wright brothers' "Kitty Hawk" and was later joined by Lindbergh's "Spirit of Saint Louis" and Wylie Post's "Winnie Mae."

Humor 'n Whimsey

Joe Riordan

She was old when we first met. I was young. She was a countess, a princess, a dowager queen, a grand old lady - all wrapped in one.

I was a would-be writer. A foot-loose youngster. A dreamer - a guy looking for a job. I hung around for several months and begged her to take me in. When my money ran out I bid her goodbye. But I never forgot her.

Her name is San Francisco. The Lifetime Helpmate and I went there, recently. She went for a vacation. I went to find my lost youth. Her wish came true. I found out you can't go home again.

The Bay City is still a grand dame. One who can recall the days of iron men and wooden ships, of gold-seekers and gold-finders, robber barons and vigilantes, a disastrous earthquake and World War II. She's known by every name in the book - from Scene Francisco to Bagdad by the Bay.

Columnist Herb Caen, of the San Francisco Chronicle, once said: "It's the only city in the world, where when a visiting fireman steps off a train and tells the awaiting crowd - 'this is my favorite city,' they really believe him."

The old girl has class and style all her own. But, the realization we had both changed - hit me like an overdue bill the week after payday. A pseudo-doctor called "Progress" is responsible for her plastic surgery. But the scars show through. She's bigger now, bolder now, brassier than ever before. One look at the Tenderloin section and you might suggest she change her name to Sin Francisco. Taking your wife there is like going hunting with the game warden. It looks to me like one of the few places in the world, where you could break everyone of God's Ten Commandments without even taking off your hat.

Despite all of that, she still has her sense of humor. San Franciscanos tell the story of the high school building which was closed because it was discovered to be on an earthquake line. A new school was built, students were moved, and the old high school was converted to school board offices.

A bartender nearby said business is brisk at 5 p.m. each day. "In fact," he said, "it's almost as good as when the students occupied that Building."

Worth quoting

During this period of bitter cold, when the city gas system is delivering gas at its maximum capacity of some 5 million cubic feet a day, those of us in Perryton with any kind of memory ought to tip our hat to Mayor Harold Courson for working out the deal more than a year ago to buy gas from a well south of town, get approval to transport it in Natural Gas pipelines and deliver it into the city system upon demand. This was a tricky bit of negotiation work, involving untangling a lot of government red tape, but it resulted in citizens of Perryton being able to live in relative comfort and have ample supplies of gas. Had Courson not taken this project to a successful conclusion, we would have been in trouble and there is little doubt but that the schools and other big users would have had to close for at least part of the time we have had the bitter cold.

It took somebody with a detailed knowledge of the gas business and somebody willing to battle red tape to get this gas acquisition project done.

Flanagan, Gwinn named to MSU Honors Program

Cindy Flanagan and Lee Gwinn of Iowa Park, freshmen at Midwestern State University, have been selected for the MSU Honors Program.

Each will receive an Honors Program scholarship of $150 per semester until they have completed their bachelors.

A drama major, Miss Flanagan is the daughter of Mrs. Georgia Flanagan. She also has received a drama scholarship and a general scholarship from MSU and another scholarship for studies at Vernon Regional Junior College.

She appeared in the MSU play, "Pieces," during the fall term, sang with the Wichita Falls Civic Chorus and will appear in the MSU Music Department production of the operetta, "The Gondoliers," Feb. 1-4.

Miss Flanagan is a member of MSU's A Cappella Choir and will tour with the group during April in Colorado.

She was assistant editor of the MSU yearbook during the fall semester and will serve as editor of the spring semester.

Miss Flanagan has been selected to Alpha Lambda

Delta, a national scholastic honorary society for freshmen students.

Lee, a criminal justice major at MSU, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gwinn. He has a 3.9 grade point average.

Gwinn is a member of the MSU A Cappella Choir, MSU Madrigal Singers and the Wichita Falls Civic Chorus. He will appear in

Church women plan dinner

Mrs. Charlie Lee, vice president of United Methodist Women, was in charge of the business meeting held Tuesday morning in the Wesley Bible classroom.

Following routine reports by officers and chairmen, a major part of the meeting was devoted to discussing the all-church fellowship dinner Sunday following the dedication service. The Rachel Circle led by Mrs. Larry Parks was named in charge of general arrangements.

The 1979 yearbooks were distributed.

Mrs. E.L. Gallop gave the meditation to conclude the meeting. Using "How Do Churches Grow?", she discussed in detail the following ways: belief, desire, expectation, empowered by the Holy Spirit, dynamic leadership and enthusiastic helpers.

"The Gondoliers" in February, also will tour with the choir in Colorado in April.

Quilt making service offered

The women of Friendly Door are interested in quilting quilts and their service is available by calling the center, according to the January Newsletter.

Myrna Robinson, site manager, stated that members desiring to attend the Southwestern Exposition and Stock Show at Ft. Worth Jan. 31 or the Lawrence Welk Show in Norman, Okla. Mar. 2, should contact her regarding reservations.

The Iowa Park Branch of Lucille Doran Dance Studio will perform for the group Jan. 26 at 11:30 a.m.

Those having birthdays during January are Sue McKinney, Noel McKinney, Lois Holloway, Ida Parker, Lula White and Nellie Rumble.

For further information and/or registration details, interested persons may contact Miss Anita Burchett

4-H CLUB

News

The Texas 4-H Center near Brownwood will host a weekend workshop for 4-H Clothing Project Leaders on Feb. 3 and 4. The theme of the weekend training is "A Carousel of Ideas," and Anita Burchett, Assistant County Extension Agent, invites all interested 4-H leaders who want to sharpen their knowledge and skills in clothing to participate.

Instructors for the training sessions include Beverly Rhoades and Nancy Brown, Extension clothing specialists from College Station; George McArthur, 4-H & Youth Specialist, College Station; Teri Debolt and Nancy Justice, both of Abilene.

Activities planned include a fashion show and fabric trends for 1979; makeup application hints, and exercise demonstrations to help compliment the new clothing ideas for '79.

For further information and/or registration details, interested persons may contact Miss Anita Burchett at the Wichita County Extension Office located at 1626 Midwestern Parkway, or phone 766-0131.

Former Iowa Parkan F-15 program leader

Robert Samuelson of Lake Saint Louis, Mo., a former Iowa Parkan, of McDonnell Aircraft Co., was recently awarded the "Kelly" Johnson Flight Test Engineer of the Year Award at the Ninth SFTE Symposium in Arlington, Tex.

He was recipient of the award as a result of his outstanding efforts and the leadership role he played in the successful F-15 flight test program.

In 1968 when McDonnell Aircraft Co. was participating in a design competition for the USAF future air superiority fighter, Samuelson was named Project Flight Test Engineer. He was responsible for the preparation of the contractual flight test program plan for development and qualification of the F/TF-15 aircraft.

In this capacity, according to a recent issue of the Lake

Tide Press, Samuelson was instrumental in the layout, construction, and customer coordination of the proposed flight test program that played an important role in the overall competition which led to the award of the F-15 contract to McDonnell Douglas in 1969.

At that time his responsibilities expanded to include test program execution, including the test team in all aspects of the flight test instrumentation and data system preparation, flight test program conduct and budgetary management. He was on site for the first F-15 flight at Edwards Air Force Base in 1972. His talents were used in the guidance and overall technical direction of F-15 flight test engineering and he remained at the site until late 1973.

Due to leadership efforts, such as Robert Samuelson's, the Air Force received its first operational F-15 in November 1974 where it was praised by President Ford as "a pioneer of peace - a superior weapon for the defense of freedom."

Mrs. Samuelson is the former Loretta Jackson, daughter of Mrs. Lois Jackson Morris, 304 E. Ruby. She was graduated from Iowa Park High School. The couple have two sons, Charles and Donnie, and a daughter, Becky.

Pledges entertain at ESA meeting

A business meeting conducted by Mrs. Bill Hrnecik and entertainment by the pledges highlighted the Tuesday evening meeting of Epsilon Eta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. Mrs. Terry Hayley and Mrs. Dalton Bleeker were hostesses for the meeting at the Woodbriar Room.

During the business, the president appointed Mrs. Carter Pirkle and Mrs. Jim Spears to serve on the project committee with Mrs. Bleeker, and members voted to continue improvement of Pace Park until the work was completed.

Mrs. Roy Johnson reported on plans for the ESA reunion in April.

Committees appointed included Mmes. Charles Dudley, Jim Dyer, Bob Hunt, nominating: Jean Proulx, Allen Gilstrap, Richard Hicks, youth award.

Members were reminded of their duties in assisting with visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Feb. 6.

Pledges responsible for the program were Mmes. Larry Hall, Jim Gossett, Terry Hayley, Richard Hicks, Phil McDonald, Carter Pirkle and Marty Maxwell.

Also attending were Mmes. R.B. Faulkner, Tom Compton, Jennie Jones and Bud Mercer.

The next meeting will be Feb. 6 in the home of Mrs. Proulx.

W-2 forms due Jan. 31

Employers must provide their employees with completed Wage and Tax Statements for 1978 by Wednesday, Jan. 31, the Internal Revenue Service said.

If a Wage and Tax Statement is not received by Jan. 31, an employee should contact his or her employer first, according to the IRS. After Feb. 15, the employee should contact a local IRS office.

By not issuing Wage and Tax Statements on time, employers may be penalizing employees who will have to wait until February or later to file their tax returns, possibly missing out on the quick refunds available to early filers.

Employees who do not receive their Wage and Tax Statements must still file by the tax deadline. These individuals should report all of their income and attach a statement explaining tax computations for the missing wage and tax statement information, the IRS said. These individuals may also use Form 4852, "Employee's Substitute Wage and Tax Statement," which can be obtained free from most IRS offices.

Additional information on the proper distribution and handling of Wage and Tax Statements are available in the IRS Publication 15, "Circular E-Employer's Tax Guide," obtained free from local IRS offices.

Birk Circle has meeting

The Lucy Birk Circle of First Presbyterian Church met with Mrs. Gwen Frazier Tuesday morning. Mrs. C.E. Birk was the presiding officer.

Miss Titia Belle Blanks gave the denominational emphasis stressing "we are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us."

Mrs. Birk was moderator of the Bible study. Her topic was "Titles of Jesus: Son of Man." She stated that Jesus adopted the phrase, Son of Man, as the most symbolic of himself. It is easy to see the appropriateness of the phrase for his own work and accomplishments. It stood for complete obedience to God which ultimately triumphs, not through killing and conquering, but by suffering and sacrifice, even to the extremity of the cross," she said.

A covered dish luncheon followed the program. Others present were Mrs. Edna Lemond and Mrs. Lois Holloway.

Eight plan meeting trip

Mrs. R.L. Redclift directed a business meeting to precede the Chinese auction held by Young Homemakers of Texas Monday evening.

Final plans were made for attendance at the state meeting Jan. 25-27. Members who plan to attend are Mmes. Redclift, Harrell Riggins, Jerry Hodges, Charles Barr, Mike Williams and Steve Catlin. Sponsors who will attend are Judy Jones and Cindy Mannas.

Program topics for the remainder of the year were discussed.

Refreshments were furnished by Linda Ayers and Mrs. Pat Kennedy. The door prize was furnished by Mrs. George Connor and won by Cindy Mannas.

Others present were Carolyn Evans, a guest, Miss Karlene Eastman and Mrs. Paul Callaway.

Farabee to chair senate committee

State Sen. Ray Farabee of the 30th Senatorial District was appointed today as chairman of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee. "I am pleased to be appointed to chair a major committee which will provide an opportunity for greater leadership in the State Senate and greater service to the people of our area," Farabee said. The Jurisprudence Committee considers the improvement of the judicial and court systems in Texas. As chairman of the committee, Sen. Farabee will be concerned with legislation dealing with law and order and the problems involved with the justice system.

Farabee was sworn in last week to begin serving his second term as senator for the 30th District which includes Wichita County.

Farabee was also appointed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby to serve again on the Natural Resources and Finance Committees.

The Natural Resources Committee monitors legislation dealing with agriculture and energy, both of which are essential to the economy of the District and the State. "This appointment will provide us in North and West Texas with an important voice in shaping the policies affecting the energy resources in our area," Farabee stated.

The Finance Committee appointment affords Sen. Farabee the opportunity to take an active role in setting the state budget and implementing tax relief. Farabee also serves on the Legislative Budget Board, comprised of four senators and four representatives, which sees that the State efficiently spends the taxpayers' dollars and keeps a lid on State spending.

Taxes, education two major issues

Taxes and education, according to State Rep. Charles Fennell of Holliday, will be the two major issues facing the 66th Legislature which convened in Austin on Tuesday.

Fennell, sworn into his sixth term as representative of the 53rd District, expects popular support of the recently passed tax relief amendment to be reflected in the actions of the Texas Legislature.

"I will continue to support adequate funding for those state agencies which provide vital services to the people of our district," Fennell stated. He mentioned that the most difficult task ahead for the legislators was to provide sufficient money for excellence in public education without overburdening the tax payers.

Fennell is currently awaiting the committee assignments by House Speaker Bill Clayton. Fennell supported the election of Clayton by open balloting "rather than any method which would conceal the voting from the people of this state."

The traditional two week gap between Jan. 1 and the inauguration of the new governor also concerns

Fennell. "We (the legislators) are ready and waiting, but we don't have the new administration until the inauguration on Jan. 16."

Fennell's office is on the third floor, west wing of the Capitol Bldg. Suggestions, questions, or comments may be addressed to Rep. Charles Fennell, P.O. Box 2910, Austin, Texas, 78769, or by calling (512) 475-5764.

What a difference three points

Iowa Park's Hawkettes will take a win any way they can get it, but they'd just as soon have a little more breathing room than three points, if you please.
The girls have now played three Dist. 4-AAA opponents. They beat all three. Each by three points.

They opened conference play with a 40-37 win over Hirschi, then came back with a 41-38 decision over Burkburnett.

Friday night the Hawkettes defeated the Lady Lions of Vernon by another three-pointer, 37-34.

After the first quarter ended in an 8-8 tie, Iowa Park jumped to a more comfortable 23-16 halftime lead. But Vernon got hot and the Hawkettes cold after the midway rest period and Vernon outscored the visitors 10-4 to pull to within a single point, 26-27. Vernon led by a point with two minutes remaining on the clock.

Jo Ann McClurg led scoring with 18 points, while Jill Watts canned 13.

GRAHAM TOMORROW

The Hawkettes will host Graham, a club which has never won a Dist. 4-AAA game, tomorrow night. Tuesday they will play host to Weatherford.

Feb. 26 will be a shootout between the Hawkettes and Mineral Wells to wind up the first half of district play. Both teams are undefeated so far.

Ross reaps more honor

Hawk tackle Tommy Ross made an impression on the Wichita Falls Times sports writers.

The 224-pound junior was named to the paper's first defensive team for players from large schools along the Red River.

Ross also impressed his own coaching staff, as he was the first underclassman to ever be named recipient of the coveted "Outstanding Hawk" award recently. Three other Hawks were named to the Times' "Best of the Rest" list. They were running back Troy Thompson, on the offensive team and linebacker Ron Taylor and back Robert Hastings on the defensive platoon.

Thompson and Taylor are juniors, Hastings is a sophomore.

Former Hawk assistant coach Don Flippin, who has taken his Haskell Indians deep into the state Class A playoffs both years he's been there, was named to the Times' small coach of the year.

Criminal justice grant approved

Governor Dolph Briscoe has approved a criminal justice grant affecting Wichita County.

It is $10,363 to Nortex Regional Planning Commission for additional law enforcement radio equipment in the police departments in Iowa Park, Jacksboro, and Vernon and the Clay County and Wilbarger County sheriffs' departments.

Hawks suffering in final periods

In their last two basketball games, the Hawks have been outscored in the fourth quarter 20-10 both times. They won one of them but lost the other.

They were leading 44-42 going into the fourth quarter Friday at Vernon and lost 42-54. Tuesday they were leading Lawton McArthur 44-34, were caught in the final period, and had to pull the game out of the fire in overtime to win, 62-60.

Foul troubles in the latter stages of the two games led to their problems, according to Coach Keith Barrick.

Randall Griffith and Dennis Dillard both fouled out in the fourth at Lawton. Griffith had 12 points at the time.

Andy Sitgreaves had to sink a pair of free shots just before the end of regulation play to tie the score and send the game into overtime.

A field goal with only two seconds on the scoreboard clock by center Jim Richardson gave the Hawks the victory.

Harry Hutchins had 16, and Richardson 14.

Lawton won the junior varsity game handily, 62-42.

VERNON LOSS
Vernon's Lions posted their first Dist. 4-AAA win after three straight losses Friday at the expense of the Hawks.

The Lions led 13-11 after the first period and 27-26 at halftime, but Iowa Park came back in the third to take a scant 44-42 lead.

Then in the fourth quarter, Griffith, Hutchins and Richardson all left the game via personal fouls, and Vernon won 62-54.

Dillard and Hutchins were the only Hawks in double figures, with 16 and 10 points, respectively.

GRAHAM FRIDAY

The Hawks will try to better the 1-3 conference record tomorrow when they host the Graham Steers. The boys' JV will play first at 5 p.m.

Tuesday, Iowa Park will get its first look at Weatherford. Their initial meeting was to have been Jan. 2, but was postponed because of bad roads.

Sports around District 4-AAA

FIGURES THROUGH JAN. 15

Mineral Wells won the first shootout of the season in the boys' race Friday with a hard fought 59-53 decision over Wichita Falls Hirschi. Both teams were 3-0 going into the contest.... Coach Frank Airington of Hirschi, who questioned the officiating, remarked after the game, "I can't wait to get Mineral Wells to our place"....Weatherford picked up a big road win Saturday with a 69-68 squeaker over Burkburnett....The Kangaroos began a five-game road trip Saturday and must face Iowa Park, Hirschi, Graham and Vernon over the next two weeks....According to Coach Tom Burks of the 'Roos, if Weatherford can take two of four of those games, he believes they can make a strong run for third place after being picked to finish last in both pre-season polls....Graham's Ken Donnell (6-4 Sr.) who missed three weeks prior to district due to an injury, has come on strong and is averaging 13.0 in league play.

Kelley Edwards of Hirschi continues to destroy opponents with his scoring performances. Edwards had 18 points in the first half against Mineral Wells and is scoring at a 29.3 clip in district play. Robert Sigman (6-4) of Weatherford had 34 points in the win over Burkburnett to raise his district average to 21.7, second best in 4-AAA.

The Mineral Wells Ramettes and the Iowa Park Hawkettes will meet Jan. 26th in a game that will be a big one for both teams. Iowa Park and Mineral Wells are both 3-0 on the year and the only remaining undefeated teams in the girls' 4-AAA race....It's a close race with Weatherford, Vernon and Hirschi with talented enough clubs to make a run at the district leaders.

Two brother and sister combinations are playing big rolls for their respective teams this season, Kelley Edwards (29.3) and Alice Edwards (7.8) play for Hirschi while Jesse Kimbrough (11.5) and Regina Kimbrough (20.0) are standouts for Mineral Wells.

Eight of the top nine girl scorers are underclassmen.... The Hawkettes are the league's best defensive team allowing only 36.3 points per game while Mineral Wells is the leading offensive team averaging 50.3 per game.... Hirschi boys are averaging 74.3 while Mineral Wells is the best defensive team at 50.0.

The seven 4-AAA boys teams ended the non-district schedule with a 61-50 record while the girls ended at 46.35.

The Mineral Wells Rams have a current 26-game district winning streak over the past three years. They were to face Burk Tuesday at Bulldog gym where they lost that only game.... Graham's Cowgirls have never won a district game. Their current losing streak is at 24 games.

Iowa Park at Weatherford and Weatherford at Burkburnett (girls only) are the only games that have not been made up after being cancelled due to the bad weather. The games have been rescheduled though, Iowa Park at Weatherford on Feb. 12 and Weatherford at Burk Feb. 15.

In the latest Texas Association of Basketball Coaches poll, Mineral Wells is ranked third in state and Hirschi 20th.

Ricky Foust of Vernon and Donnie King of Burkburnett, who were named the top two performers in 4-AAA during the football season, are off to good starts in basketball. Foust is averaging 14.0 in district play and King is scoring at a 9.0 clip. Of the top seven boys' district scorers, five are 6-4 or taller.... Mitchell Whiteside (5-8) of Vernon is making up for the little guy with a 17.0 average as the district's third leading scorer.

Weatherford's 'Roos and Iowa Park have had the biggest turn arounds this season. The Kangaroos were 11-19 last season and are 14-4 this year. Iowa Park had a super year in 1977-78 with a 26-5 mark, but the Anyone interested in taking the course should contact the Farm Bureau office at 592-2156.

April 16 deadline for IRA deposits

Qualified workers may make 1978 contributions to Individual Retirement Savings Arrangements (IRAs) until Monday, April 16, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Most taxpayers who have Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs) no longer will be required to file an annual information return or schedule supporting an IRA deduction on Form 1040, according to the new provisions in the Revenue Act of 1978. Only those individuals who owe excess contribution taxes, or taxes on certain accumulations in IRA accounts or annuities will file revised Form 5329, "Return for Individual Retirement Arrangement Taxes."

Since penalties are assessed for excessive contributions, this 3 1/2 month period allows taxpayers to closely calculate and contribute the correct percentage of income, and still be able to deduct it from their 1978 taxable income.

IRAs are taxpayer-initiated retirement plans set up by workers not covered by qualified pension or retirement plans where they are employed. IRAs also are available to non-working spouses of eligible workers. Many banks, insurance companies, credit unions, and other financial institutions can provide additional information on setting up and maintaining IRAs. In addition, the IRS has a free booklet, IRS Publication 590, "Tax Information on Individual Retirement Savings Programs," which can be ordered by filling out the coupon in the tax package.

EMGY THAT!

If all the gold owned by mankind was formed into a single block of gold, it would measure a mere 18 cubic yards on each side—though we've been digging for the precious metal for 6,000 years.

Experts estimate that about half that amount still remains in the ground. The United States, once the world's largest producer is now in fourth place. South Africa and Russia mine most of today's gold.

Take stock in America.

ABOUT HOLLIDAY SCHOOLS

Open meeting Monday to answer questions

Anyone with questions concerning the operation of Holliday school will have an opportunity to have the questions answered at a public panel discussion Monday night.

Sponsored by the Holliday PTA, the program will be styled, "Everything you always wanted to know about your school but haven't had the opportunity to ask."

It will begin at 7 p.m. Monday in the school cafeteria.

Members of the panel will include Tommy Mankins, school board president; Dan Owen, elementary principal; and Bill Crabbs, high school principal.

Panel moderator will be Jon Rivkin, Lakeside City mayor.

A nursery will be provided for those attending with small children.

Questions should be written and mailed to Mrs. Carlton Carr, Holliday PTA first vice president, at 83 Edgewater, Lakeside City, 75305.

Written questions also will be taken at the door Monday night, if time permits, some questions also may be taken from the floor.

"The purpose of the panel discussion is to give the public insight into the duties of school administrators and school board members and to give parents an opportunity to share their areas of concern and questions about the way our school functions," said Joyce Rasmussen, PTA publicity chairman.

She said the public is invited to attend the program and that PTA memberships for $1.50 will be available.

Graves-Parnell All-State picks

Two Holliday gridiron standouts were thrust into the limelight this week when they were named to All-State Class A football squads.

Gerry Graves was tapped as a first team All-State defensive back, and Steve Parnell was named a second team offensive guard.

Graves said he found out about the honor Saturday night after his father received a telephone call from a friend who is a coach in Houston.

"Dad woke me up. I thought I was still dreaming," the Holliday football and track standout said.

Parnell said he was "real surprised" when his name appeared among All-State selection in a Sunday newspaper.

During the interview and photography session in Eagle Fieldhouse, head Eagle coach Don Lucy was beaming with joy. He was quick to point out the fact that the Eagles were 26-6 during Parnell's three years on the varsity squad, and that his red birds were 17-5 during Graves' two years on the prime unit.

Graves is a senior and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Graves.

The 175 pound six-footer went both ways for the Eagles during the past season as quarterback and defensive back.

Undoubtedly Graves' seven pass interceptions and two fumble recoveries from his defensive secondary spot aided his bid to become an All-State choice.

From his quarterback slot Graves ran in one touchdown and completed eight of 17 passes for 136 yards.

Graves' family moved to Holliday from Iowa Park his sophomore year, thus prohibiting him from playing varsity ball that year because of UIL eligibility requirements.

His junior year Graves was named as an honorable mention defensive back in District 13-A.

Ironically, the all stater was picked this year for second teams as both defensive back and quarterback in the district. He also was named to the Red River Small School second team as a defensive back.

Additionally, Graves placed fourth in the regional intermediate hurdles last year.

Parnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Parnell, climaxed his three years on the varsity Eagles by being named to the All-State second team as an offensive guard.

This year he also pulled double duty for the Eagles as an offensive guard and defensive linebacker. From his linebacker spot he was credited with 109 tackles this year.

At 205 pounds, five-foot 11 inches, Parnell proved himself an asset to Holliday's gridiron effort the past three years.

During his sophomore year he was named honorable mention in District 13-A as a defensive tackle.

He was named a first team offensive guard and second team defensive linebacker in the district his junior year.

This year he took all district honors as a first team offensive guard and first team defensive linebacker. Parnell also was named as a first team offensive guard on the Red River Small School gridiron team.

Both youngsters expressed an interest in playing college football and it was no surprise to find out scouts from the University of Texas at Arlington and McMurry College already had been by the Holliday campus to make bids for the talents of Graves and Parnell.

City fathers fire water superintendent

For what Mayor Ben Ezzell said was a failure to work within prescribed guidelines, James Sellers was suspended Saturday from his post as Holliday's water superintendent.

Elvin Hoover was named as his replacement.

Sellers was placed on temporary suspension at noon last Wednesday.

With all members present except Councilmen Fred

Maier, the council met in special session Saturday morning.

On a motion by Councilman Mike Parker, the council voted to suspend Sellers permanently as water superintendent and offer him a job as a regular municipal maintenance employee.

On another motion by Parker, the council voted to hire city employee Elvin

Hoover as water superintendent at $700 a month.

Councilmen discussed with Sellers the salary requirements necessary to keep him as an employee, but no agreement was reached and Sellers did not report for work this week.

Ezzell said Sellers had been suspended for refusing to work within the guidelines laid out for him to follow. The guidelines, the mayor said, included duties, work outs, coffee breaks and responsibilities.

Monday night the council convened in regular session with Jim Virdell, Mary Denney, Mike Parker and Melvin Bills present.

They voted to table action on new employee policies.

Councilmen decided to hire Timmy Teafattler as a city maintenance employee for a three month probationary period at $3.50 an hour.

The council also approved purchase of additional equipment for the police cruiser as requested by officer Don Pennington.

The city election to elect four councilmen was set for April 7.

Cemetery funds meeting subject

Holliday Cemetery Association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 29 in the Community Building.

The public is invited to attend the meeting, said Jim Virdell. He said discussion will be on plans for ways to raise money for cemetery improvements.

16 bandsmen all-district

Sixteen Holliday band students were named to district band selected Saturday during competition in Iowa Park, according to Dwade Reinsch, Holliday band director.

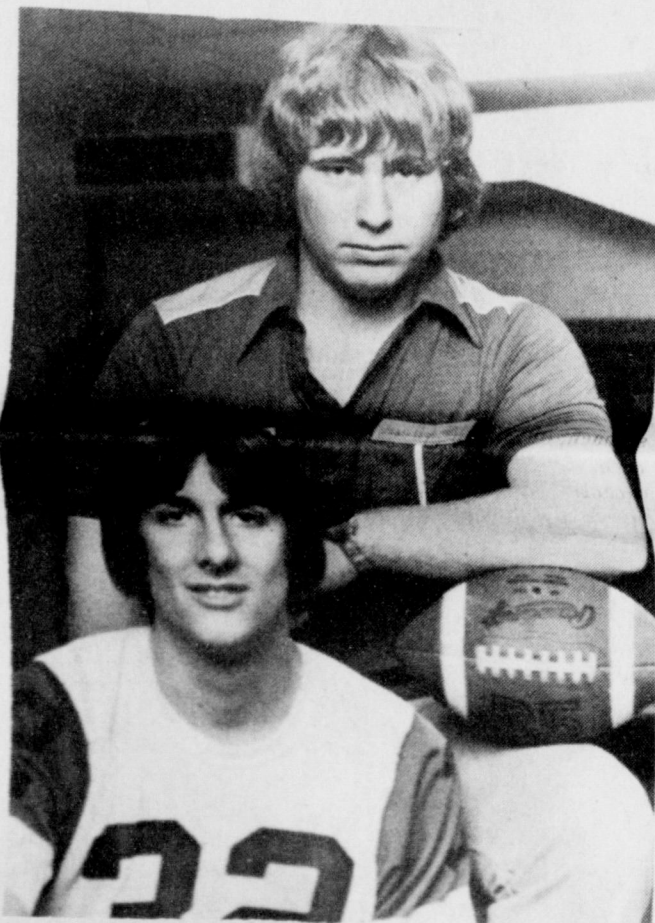

Holliday students selected and their position in the district band include Katie Williams, first chair clarinet; Carla Lear, fifth chair clarinet; Terry Moser, 12th chair clarinet; Kathy Halencak, 21st chair clarinet; Lucretia Halencak, first chair oboe; and Ellen Parker, sixth chair saxophone.

Others representing Holliday are Laura Holt, fifth chair bass clarinet; Joan Scales, first chair contra-bass clarinet; Kent Lilley, second chair French horn; and Steve Laukhuf, eighth chair French horn.

Others include Kyle Brown, fourth chair cornet; Bill Holton, fifth chair cornet; Clay Morgan, 13th chair cornet; Julie Baggett, 15th chair cornet; Jeff Coats, eighth chair trombone; and Larry Henry, 10th chair trombone.

The all district band will perform a concert Jan. 27 in Wilberger Auditorium in Vernon under the direction of Charlie Brown of Whitesboro, Reinsch said.

Teams start second round with Petrolia here Friday

Holliday's varsity roundballers, both teams sporting 42 district records, will start the second half of the loop season Friday night when Petrolia comes to town.

The double header with Petrolia will begin at 6:30 p.m. Friday in Eagle Fieldhouse. Holliday's varsity boys and girls both upended Petrolia teams in District 13-A openers.

Holliday will be on the road next Tuesday when they travel to meet Boyd. The Eagles defeated Boyd earlier in the year, but the Lady Eagles fell to the district foe.

Both varsity units ended the first half of district play on a winning streak.

They entertained the home crowd Tuesday night with wins over Chico, and last Thursday they teamed up to take two from Nocona. The Eagles defeated Chico 57-34 here Tuesday night with three red birds in double numbers. Barry Lawson led the way with 14 points, trailed by Greg Dillard with 12 and Kirk Styles with 10.

The guys upended Nocona 48-42 with Kent Lemons highpoint with 14. Styles and Dennis Holt each had 11. Kristi Lucy paced the Lady Eagles with 16 points in Holliday's 52-14 win over Chico.

The lady red birds upended Nocona 41-38 with Mindy Lowder turning in the best performance with 19 points.

Riding Club members are presented awards

Sales tax up

City sales tax figures indicate Holliday businesses started the new year on a prosperous note.

The city's first sales tax rebate check for 1979 was for $2,114.41 as compared to $1,529.01 received this time last year.

The payment represents a 38 per cent increase, according to the state comptroller's office.

Hard winter weather: some good, some bad

By DON D. DECKER
County Agent

The sleet, ice, and snow have been hard on livestock and the men doing the feeding. At the same time benefits include a heavy toll on overwintering boll weevils and a supply of badly needed moisture to wheat pastures and winter grasses. Cotton producers have enjoyed two years free of boll weevils. These weather conditions give promise to another year of very little damage from this pest. This hard winter coupled with grower cooperation on the uniform planting date means there will be a high mortality of overwintering weevils again this year.

Growers were asked to plant cotton after May 20 last year, which left emerging weevils with no squares to feed upon. The weevils died before there were any squares for feeding or egg laying.

The county field crops committee headed by Fred Dwyer has not set the uniform cotton planting date for this year. However, we can probably assume it will be close to May 20.

The winter feeding season is in full swing. Snow and ice cover has forced some additional livestock feeding. Range and pasture conditions are not the best.

Native range forage analysis indicates standing cured grasses contain about 6 percent protein, according to Dr. Whitney Rounds, Extension beef specialist.

This level would be sufficient to maintain a dry cow; however, the lactating cow and replacement heifer require additional nutrients.

Protein supplement is one of the largest out-of-pocket expenses in a cow-calf operation; however, it is the most necessary supplemental feed ingredient.

Cattle with low protein diets lose their appetite, become weak, and have lowered resistance to disease. The end result is reduced growth, reproduction, and calf weights. Cows in milk require twice as much crude protein per day as dry, pregnant cows and 26 percent more than replacement heifers.

Protein supplements are available in many types and forms. These include cubes, cakes, liquids, self-limiting meal products, cottonseed, and others to allow different feeding methods. A producer will want to calculate protein cost in each.

CARD OF THANKS

The love showered upon me by friends and acquaintances during my stay in the hospital brought about by a broken hip suffered during the ice storm will forever be remembered and appreciated. The love was shown through prayers, cards, calls, gifts and in so many ways, and I do not have command of words to express my sincere thanks. May God bless each of you in a very special way. My husband and family join me in saying "Thanks."
