Aldermen hire department head

City aldermen Monday night hired a new superintendent for the water and sewer departments, discussed changes in election procedures, heard a report on plans to renovate the city hall, and discussed water use at a housing development outside the city.

Donald Vines, a veteran of city utility work for more than 20 years, was hired to fill the vacant post of water and sewer department superintendent, starting this week.

Now a resident of Iowa Park, at 120 Westview, Vines was an employee of Wichita Falls some 17 years, and two years at Holliday. He has a "C" license for water treatment plant operations.

Vines explained he had quit his job with Wichita Falls after a misunderstanding about whether he could live here and work there. He said he had, upon advice from a superior, sold his home in Wichita Falls and moved here when he learned he was required to live in Wichita Falls to work for that city.

Since quitting his job he has been working as a mechanic, he said.

City Administrator Steve Morath told the council Vines "more than meets our qualifications" for employment. He will start at an $11,000 annual salary.

Mayor Johnny Crawford told Vines the council expects him to continue upgrading his license, as well as earning a waste water treatment license.

"I hope I can do you a good job, and I feel confident that I can," Vines said after the vote.

ELECTION CHANGE

A contact with the attorney for the Texas Municipal League by Morath produced information which would permit changing the numbers of council openings at each election.

For a number of years, no one can learn when it was started, two council positions are up for election, and on the following year three council seats as well as the mayor's position are voted on.

Council thinking was that the numbers of offices each year should be equal, with three council seats voted on one year and two council seats plus the mayor the other year.

Since the post vacated and left unfilled by the death of the late Eldon Thompson Jr., council members sought to learn if they could make the change this spring, when only two positions would normally be voted on.

Having learned there would be no violation of state law or city charter, Morath was instructed to draft an ordinance making the change. It is to be presented at the next meeting, at which time the council will probably call the April election.

RENOVATION

A list of work needed to improve the city hall was read by Alderman Johnny Lee, who served on a committee with Alderman C.A. Hicks on the study project.

Among the items were installation of insulation in the ceiling and storm windows, as well as considerable painting.

After some additional study is made, such as whether adequate room exists in the attic to allow for insulation without having to drop the ceiling, the council expects to advertise for bids on the project at the next meeting.

HOUSING PROJECT

Three representatives of a corporation which has purchased the Horseshoe Lake land and are developing it for an exclusive housing project met with the council.

Though the sale of water to the development was approved by the council months ago, no contract has yet been drawn. Also, provisions for a maximum amount of water the development might purchase could be specified in the contract, from comments made during the discussion.

It was brought out during the discussion, also, that the residents could use as much as two-million gallons in peak consumption months.

The development plat calls for 60 lots at the present time.

FEBRUARY 10

Chamber maintains tradition of humorous banquet speaker

Following a successful precedent established a few years ago, a humorous speaker will be featured at the Feb. 10th Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

Gill Stricklin of Dallas will appear at the 7 p.m. event, to be held in the high school cafeteria.

Stricklin comes from a profession where seriousness is expected to prevail more than humor - the clergy. But he proves that wrong. He is a denominational executive for the 2-million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas in Dallas.

His humor - personally and in speeches - has prevailed through his years as a military officer, newspaper reporter, public relations practitioner for Evangelist Billy Graham, and a Southern Baptist minister.

He has taken his "laugh with a lift" philosophy before some 600 banquets and conventions around the U.S., and in foreign countries.

The native Texan was graduated from Baylor Univ., Texas Christian Univ., Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, the Army Chaplain's School, and the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College.

Stricklin considers his humorous speeches as more than just an entertainment vehicle, because he's good for a laugh and he's good for his audiences.

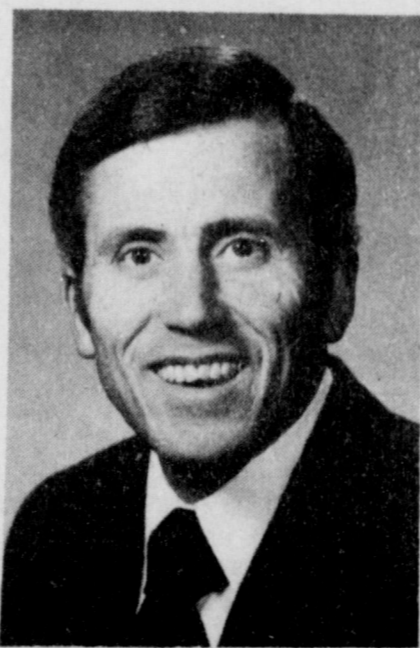

"I am a humorist, seriously," he said. "That means 80 percent humor and 20 percent serious."

He has been described as "tossing out some workable methods for happy and successful living, always underlining these with fast-rolling humor."

In his clergy capacity, Stricklin trains hundreds of laypersons around Texas to share their Christian faith in everyday situations. He has also preached in 37 foreign countries.

Tickets for the banquet are $5 per person, unchanged the past three years. They are presently on sale at the Chamber office, Iowa Park Leader, State National Bank and Texas Electric Service.

Food for the banquet will be a charcoaled steak with all the trimmings, prepared by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners. Service will be by members of the Future Homemakers of America. Decorations will be provided by the Iowa Park Garden Club.

Climaxing the evening will be the awarding of four plaques to local individuals, in recognition of their efforts during the past year. Added to the annual presentations to the Outstanding Citizen of the Year, Senior Citizen of the Year and Agriculturist of the Year will be the new recognition to the Educator of the Year.

Trash containers being exchanged

Some residents have expressed confusion, in areas where small trash containers replaced larger containers, according to Steve Morath, city administrator.

He explained the smaller containers, 1.5 cubic yard size, were originally ordered when the system was purchased, but the manufacturer could not furnish them at that time.

So during the period from delivery to now, the larger, three cubic yard, containers have been provided by the manufacturer for use.

The city's order of 700 smaller containers arrived recently, and city crews have been placing them in the areas where they are to be used.

The larger containers being replaced are then being picked up and set in a gathering location, to be hauled off in the near future.

The smaller containers will be used in neighborhoods where fewer than four homes are served by a single container, as well as some businesses.

SMILES AND TAXES - Charlie Lee, manager of Cryovac, manages a smile while handing over his company's 1979 school taxes to Bill Steger. Cryovac is the largest individual tax payer in the Iowa Park school district. Lee made note the check was for $59,664.60, a considerable increase over the $32,796.72 paid last year. But he explained it was primarily due to the huge expansion made at the plant during the past year.

MARY'S LEANING PLUG - Mary Drive has the distinction of having a fire plug that leans more than any other in town. About 45 degrees tilt. The plug, at the corner of Douglas, apparently was knocked over by a skidding vehicle during the recent bad weather. No leaks were apparent, however, and the water department was not notified until Wednesday.

Two accidents here result in DWI charges

Two multi-vehicle accidents this week resulted in charges of driving while intoxicated being filed against two persons.

One of the mishaps occurred about 6:22 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of East Highway and Victoria.

Police said a car being driven by Jerry Paul Hatcher was east bound on East Highway when it struck a car operated by Belinda Suzanne Davis. The Davis car was stopped at the four-way stop intersection, police said.

Impact caused the Davis car to collide with a car driven by Steven Paul Baker, which also had been stopped at the stop sign in the second east bound lane.

The accident also caused an estimated $500 to a nearby John Barbour Trucking Co. building, police said.

Hatcher was transferred to Bethania Hospital in Wichita Falls by Gold Cross Ambulance for treatment of injuries. He was charged with driving while intoxicated, police said.

About 2:22 a.m. Tuesday police received a report of an accident in the 800 block of Van Horn.

When officers arrived they found a pickup truck parked in the yard of the residence at 811 Van Horn. Police reports said it was apparent that the pickup had collided with a car parked at that residence.

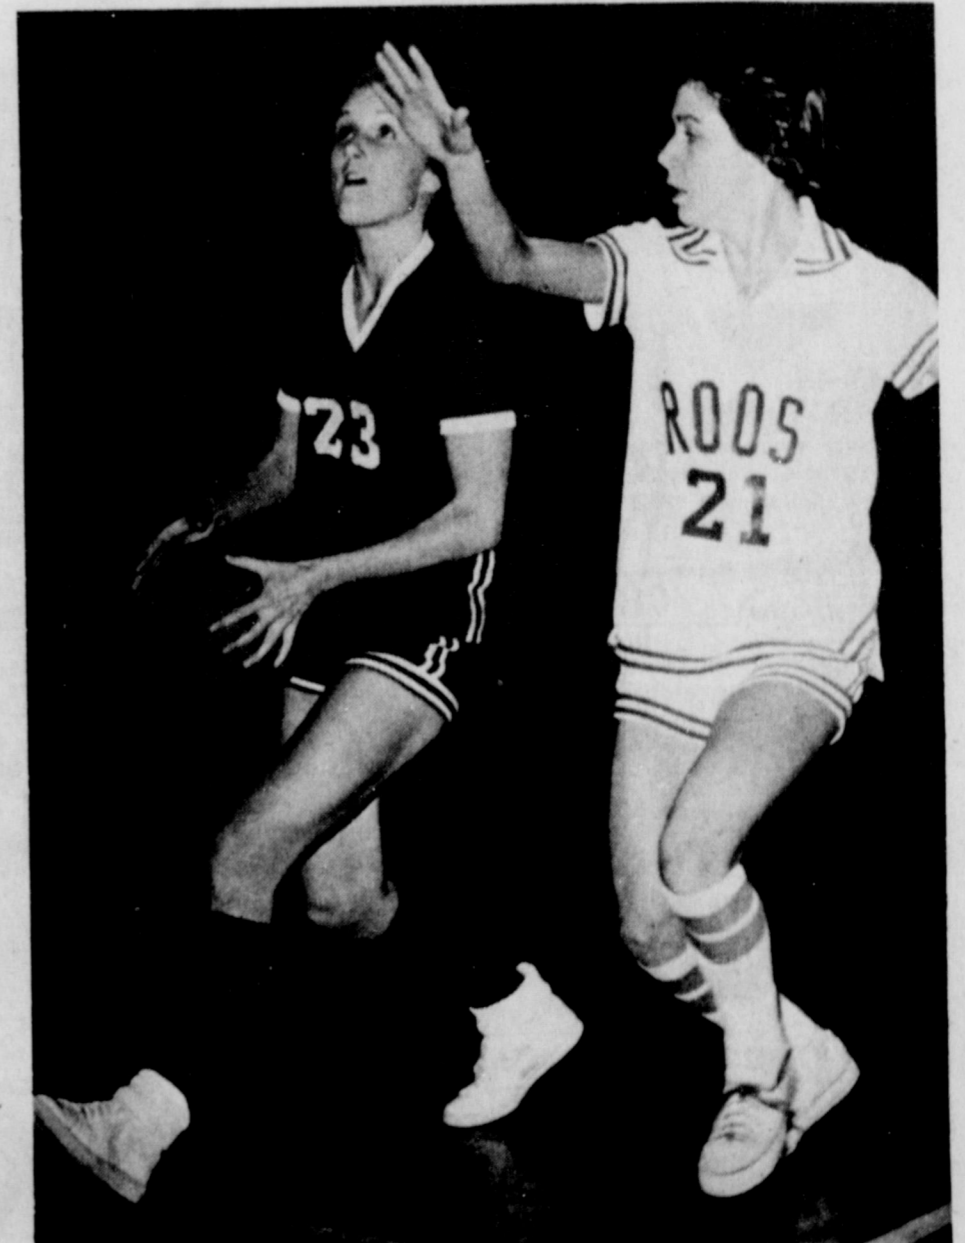

Police said they found a male subject about 20 years old and later identified as Eugene Stephen Swedberg in the pickup.

While police were investigating the mishap a resident from 1004 North Fourth walked to the scene and told police the pickup had collided into a car parked at that address. Police said the pickup's grill was laying near where the car had been struck on North Fourth.

Swedberg was taken to Bethania Hospital for treatment of minor lacerations to his chin and was charged with driving while intoxicated, police said.

Police received a report last Thursday from R.A. Ashton that his vehicle had been burglarized while parked at 710 E. Highway. A shotgun and a rifle valued at $150 were stolen, according to the police report.

DRIVING FOR GOAL - Hawkette guard Penny Baker drives for the basket during Tuesday's 51-38 win over Dist. 4-AAA opponent Weatherford. Iowa Park's girls are undefeated in conference play and will face Mineral Wells, also unbeaten, in IPHS gymnasium Friday night.

Hawk Leadership Day Friday

The second annual Hawk Leadership Day, sponsored by the Iowa Park High School Student Council, will begin at 1 p.m. Friday, and come to a climax that evening.

Designed to call attention to all organizations in the high school, chairmen will explain their organizations and introduce members during the afternoon assembly in the auditorium.

All former members of Hawk basketball teams are encouraged to attend the assembly also, at which time they will be recognized.

Former players will again be recognized during the basketball game that evening, when Iowa Park will host the defending Dist. 4-AAA boys' team, Mineral Wells.

Prior to that game the Hawkettes will have their shootout with the Mineral Wells girls. Both are undefeated in conference play thus far.

Ervin-Skelton nuptials are exchanged Saturday

The Hillcrest Baptist Church in Wichita Falls was the scene of a ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Patricia Ann Ervin and Mark Dean Skelton Saturday afternoon.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mike Dean, pastor of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ervin Jr. and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Skelton, all of Iowa Park.

The nuptial space featured heart-shaped candelabra swathed with pink carnations and white gladioli. Candles were lighted by Jimmy Ervin and Ricky Ervin, brothers of the bride, who also served as ushers.

Musical selections played by Mrs. James Sluder, organist, were favorites of the bride and groom and included "My Cup Runneth Over," "Let It Be Me" and "The Twelfth of Never." She played the traditional professional and recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Victorian-style gown of silk organza trimmed in lace and seed pearls over satin. The ornamentation added distinction to the bodice and chapel train and self-covered buttons with loops closed the bodice in the back. Her fingertip illusion veil and Juliet cap were made by her mother. She carried a cascade of blue and white carnations showered with baby's breath and satin streamers.

Mrs. Harry Halstead III attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a pink silk crepe gown designed with a blouse overlaid with lace. She wore a pink lace picture hat trimmed with matching satin ribbon and carried one long stem pink carnation.

Steven Skelton, brother of the groom, was his best man.

Following the wedding, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The refreshment table was covered with lace and featured a centerpiece of pink carnations. The two-tiered cake was decorated with pink frosting roses and topped with the traditional bride and groom.

Reception assistants were Mrs. Craig Shook, Miss Lori Skelton and Miss Cindy

Skelton, sisters of the groom, and Mrs. Vincent Rains, the groom's cousin. Darel Ervin, brother of the bride, passed out rice bags.

The mother of the bride wore a pale blue street length dress with an accordion pleated skirt and a blue orchid, and the groom's mother was attired in a pale yellow floral full length dress complemented with a white orchid.

The bride and groom were both graduated from Iowa Park High School. She works for Phideaux Pizza in Wichita Falls and he is self-employed.

The couple went to Dallas on their wedding trip and the new Mrs. Skelton traveled in a beige and brown pant suit. They will live at 2902 Boren in Wichita Falls.

MRS. MARK DEAN SKELTON

Holland School personnel speak

The Education Department of General Federation of Women's Clubs stimulated interest in the 23 Study Club's program Thursday afternoon. W.I. Johnson, principal, and Mrs. Betty Harper, English and reading teacher, at the Holland School in Wichita Falls, were the speakers.

The educators were selected to appear on the program because, as teachers of maladjusted children, they are qualified to observe that in the realm of education far-reaching curriculum changes will be required to prepare children to function in this world of change.

Mr. Johnson, who has been principal of Holland School since its inception in 1968, said that the Wichita Falls school pioneered for other schools in Texas in serving emotionally disturbed children. He said the first students were referred from the Wichita County Probation Department.

"Holland School was built, and still functions, upon the philosophy that there is worth in every child. The goals are to assist children in becoming useful citizens and assist human beings in being more humane," the principal remarked.

Continuing, he said that Holland School is becoming more and more an alternative school geared to meet the needs of children. Approximately 1,000 children who have been referred from other schools in the county, the Probation Department or families, or in some instances have come themselves seeking help, have passed through the school during its existence. At present, there are 10 teachers, all with degrees and some with special accreditation, completely dedicated to helping junior high and high school boys and girls to become assets to society.

It was evident that Mrs. Harper realizes the importance of making children feel that they are loved, appreciated and capable of living, happy, useful lives, some even excelling scholastically and professionally. She said that too often the children who are referred to the school have been abused through beatings, vehement chidings, etc. so "we spend a lot of time preventing need for discipline."

She described the levels of frustration, orientation, individualization and peculiarity that students coming into the school progress through. She described how the use of the merit card make students conscious of their wrong doings and encourages them to do their best. "As principal and teachers, we expect reasonable things from the young people by being realistic," she stated with obvious sincerity.

An informative question and answer period followed the talks.

Mrs. Joe Singer was program leader for the meeting held in the home of Mrs. D.O. James. Her co-hostess was Mrs. Travis Smith.

In keeping with the educational theme and anticipating the talks of the guest educators, Mrs. Keith Auld used "Chosen to Clap and Cheer" for the title of her devotion. She emphasized how club members should take seriously their responsibility to both encourage and applaud the things of life that are ennobling for young people and adults alike.

Mrs. W.G. Steele presented a piano solo, Tango "Manzanillo" by Robyn for the arts number.

Mrs. E.F. Soell directed a short business meeting.

The refreshment table was draped with a beautiful white handkerchief linen cloth accented with colorful embroidery that Mrs. James purchased in Puerto Rico. The appropriate appointments included a miniature school house, bell and classroom objects. Mrs. Soell presided at the tea and coffee services.

The next meeting will be Feb. 1 in the home of Mrs. Steele and Mrs. China B. Smith will be co-hostess.

Others present were Miss Ethyle Kidwell; Mmes. Earl Watson, Sam Hill, Chauncey Weiler, O.E. Lochridge, T.M. Clark, T.M. Thaxton, C.E. Birk, C.L. Metz, Fred Widmoyer, Earle Denny, James A. Sewell, L.E. Brooks, Rollins Woodall and Homer Blalock.

Six to attend state meeting

More than 700 members of the State Association of Young Homemakers of Texas are expected for the 17th annual state meeting in Waco Friday and Saturday. The convention theme will be "From Self to Others."

Those attending from the Iowa Park Chapter will be Mmes. Charles Barr, R.L. Redcliff, Harrell Riggins, Mike Williams and chapter advisors, Cindy Mannas and Linda Ayers.

The distinguished speakers for the convention will be Grant Teaff, head football coach at Baylor University, Dr. Marjorie Barlow and Harold Bryson, representative of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Special entertainment will feature music by "The Polyfoniks," a singing group from Temple High School and a style show scheduled for Friday night by "Wendy Ward" from Dallas Montgomery Ward.

Young Homemakers of Texas achievement awards will be presented during the convention, and the outstanding chapter, outstanding new chapter and State Future Homemaker of YHT will also be recognized.

During the Saturday session, a new state president will be elected to succeed Mrs. Phyllis Rogers of Krum, and the annual meeting will conclude with the installation of officers.

MR. and MRS. MICHAEL LEE KING

Pennington-King wedding held Friday at Sheppard

A ceremony was performed Friday evening in Chapel 2 at Sheppard Air Force Base uniting in marriage Miss Teena Marie Pennington and Michael Lee King. Chaplain Jerry C. Foghtance officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Pennington and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James King, all of Iowa Park.

The bride's chosen colors of white and peach were used in an arrangement of carnations, gladioli, daisies and mums on the altar. Candelabra flanked the steps leading to the altar and candles were lighted by Jeff Martin and David Andrajack, both of Wichita Falls. The kneeling benches were placed by the steps in the lower altar.

The bride wore a gown of organza over taffeta trimmed in pearls and iridescents. The tiered skirt of lace was trimmed in ruffles and extended into a chapel train. A Camelot cap of lace and pearls held her illusion veil and the bridal bouquet consisted of white and peach carnations, daisies and gladioli.

Miss Vivian Krajcik, the maid of honor, wore a peach-colored formal gown trimmed in white lace and carried a long stem peach rose.

"Try lowering the temperature in your home to 68° this winter. You'll save on your heating bill!"

"A setting of 68° during the winter is the one Texas Electric recommends for both comfort and energy efficiency.

For each degree above 68° the energy used for heating your house is increased by approximately 4% per degree.

As shown by the chart the difference between the recommended thermostat setting and 74° is 24%. At 78° the increase in energy usage is 40% or more.

Clearly, the lower you set your thermostat the lower your heating bill is going to be. And after last winter, one of the coldest on record, we think a lot of people are going to be trying their best to use less energy.

Remember to change the filter in your heating system regularly, too. A dirty filter causes your heating system to work longer and that costs you more. Check the filter at least once each month.

All forms of energy are costing more these days. If you're serious about saving energy and money, request a copy of our energy efficiency tips booklet on the comment portion of your electric service bill."

For most folks, Saturday was just a fine day for staying home where it was warm and where one could curl up on the couch with a hot cup of coffee and watch one of three football games on the idiot box.

Well, Saturday this writer got real ambitious and decided to go on an excursion with banker-friend Herbie Adams and his son Kurt. Herbie, along with his father and brother raise about 200 head of cattle as a side business to their regular professions. I figured their operation typical of many such operations and I wanted to see just how that $1.29 a pound hamburger meat was raised.

Their cattle are spread around ten different locations from West of Harrold to Windthorst. During the past week of icy weather, the Adams' have been feeding their cattle every day and Saturday made a real believer out of this writer that what cattle raisers must go through is more than worth the price they got.

Carrying hay to ice covered pastures and chopping ice on frozen tanks in sub-freezing weather made this writer appreciate the opportunity to be able to purchase the meat at the grocery store and thus being able to stay home on Saturday morning where it was warm.

My brief four-hour excursion Saturday wasn't long enough to see every problem faced by the cattlemen, both large and small, in this country. But, it was long enough to see, even for this layman, that the cattle business is extremely risky ... one that you can loose it all quick if you're not careful. Every where we went we saw tanks that were virtually dried up ... a problem that the cattlemen has no power over. It means either selling out or hauling water if things don't change and neither is very attractive to the cattlemen who operates on an already small margin of profit.

The somewhat romantic howl of a distant coyote is another problem for the cattlemen who must leave his defenseless calves at the mercy of the predator.

They say three strikes and you're out, but Saturday I counted at least three strikes against the cattlemen... bitter cold, dry tanks and natural predators. But there is also sickness, grazing, high prices of hay, costly equipment, and transportation costs to mention just a few ... yet the cattlemen of this country still hang in there making what they can.

I appreciate them!

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Now where are all those people who were complaining about how hot it was last summer?

Eventhough I know full well we have hardly entered the really cold part of winter, I've had about all I want. It's been colder than I like for longer than I like.

Of course it's always nice to have a change of season. You get to wear those different outfits you've got hanging in the closet. And you have something to look forward to ... yard work, that is.

All that sleet, ice and snow we've had since New Year weekend has made me aware we are now in the winter season, and I'm ready for spring.

Remembering the snows we had in late March last year makes me aware, however, that spring surely is some time off. So I'm going to keep on cutting fire wood, and leave my short sleeve golf shirts in the drawer.

There's nothing wrong with the moisture we've received, despite the form in which it came. The ground is pretty well saturated.

What we need now, before it all dries up, is a five-inch rain. In a five-hour period.

It we don't receive some really appreciable amounts of moisture between now and summer, this area could be in for a rough time. Take a look at the lakes, if you don't believe me. And while you're on the way to the lakes, look at the dried-out stock tanks.

You have to admire the situation of all those farmers along Interstate 35 from Fort Worth to San Antonio. Every stock tank is running over!

I don't want to sound choosy, but when the moisture comes ... if it ever does ... I just hope it's in the form of rain. We certainly don't need the kind of snow those poor folks up at Chicago have been getting.

I not only don't have a snowmobile, I don't even own a shovel.

And besides that, I'm out of firewood.

Things aren't always what they seem to be. I guess after a profound statement like that -- I should attempt to prove my case. Let's take the matter of kite flying.

You see, the Number One Son was an avid kite flyer when he was growing up. But, I was always too tired or too busy to fly kites with him.

This came to mind a short time ago when the toy store in the local shopping center filled their window with a kite display. They caught my eye as I walked by one evening. I stood and looked at them for several minutes. Then I remembered. I never had time to fly kites with my son. The realization hit me hard and I slinked away from the window like a teenager caught peeking at a Playboy centerfold.

Several days later the Number One Son and his bride paid a visit. After dinner the Lifetime Helpmate suggested a trip to the shopping center. Once we got there the women decided we should go one way while they went another, I headed for the tobacconist while the Number One Son went to the hardware store. We agreed to meet in the center of the mall -- near the toy store.

I had forgotten about the kites in the window. He was standing there staring at them when I arrived. A wave of regret descended. I slipped my arm around his shoulder.

"Bring back some memories for you?"

He nodded.

"It sure does. West Texas was a great place for flying kites."

"Yeah, you didn't have to worry about wind out there."

"Hey Dad -- know what I liked best about flying kites?"

I told him I didn't.

"It was the fact that you always let me fly my own kite."

Regret became a heavier load.

"What do you mean?"

"Well, all the other fathers would come along with their kids and when they got the kites up, they didn't want to let go of the strings. A lot of kids never got a chance to fly kites themselves."

I have a hunch he must have been reading my mind. But, I have hope that things aren't always what they seem to be.

This new job with the chamber of commerce has put us in contact with some very interesting people and projects around the state.

The most recent, and one of the most exciting to date was a visit to Glen Rose Thursday at noon for the purpose of discussing the possibility of working to establish a triangular bicycle trail which would link Granbury, Glen Rose and Stephenville.

Lou Brooks, our local bike leader, is one of the king pins in the move and Carroll Gann of Glen Rose is every bit as excited as Lou.

The pair generated so much interest that over 50 people from the area made the trip to Glen Rose for a luncheon. First National Bank president Jim Crane was kind enough to pay for the lunch on top of all that.

At any rate, we were surprised to learn that bicyclists are fast becoming a major tourist crop. With over eight million Americans on bikes, bike trails are being constructed across the country on a daily basis.

We'll have to admit that the idea of a bike trail is a catchy one to us too. At present, there is no way that we would brave U.S. 144 to Glen Rose on a bike, but were there a designated bike path, we figger that would make for a fine weekend adventure.

With all the harping over energy conservation, we think that bike trails would be a fine investment, and at the same time we can see that a tri-county trail in this area would be an added boost to the already growing tourism industry.

Cook of the Week

Many cooks find themselves succumbing to a postholiday slump in cooking, and that is not always necessary because there are so many palate tickling aids available. These can even be found in recipes that transform what's left of a big turkey or chicken into a taste sensation, or by starting from scratch with fresh or frozen poultry and deviating from the ways it was prepared during the holidays.

Mrs. James Gossett offers some excellent suggestions this week. Poultry seasoning is an ingredient in her Turkey Tetrazzini and Chicken Casserole recipes. The spices found in the seasoning: thyme, sage, marjoram, nutmeg and pepper give added zest, no doubt, to the dishes.

Of the above spices, marjoram, a very versatile herb in the kitchen, belongs to the mint family. Derived from two Greek words meaning "joy of the mountain," it has been popular since ancient times. The Greeks used mar-joram for medicinal purposes. The Romans spread it throughout most of Europe as they conquered the continent. In Medieval days, it was highly prized and used as an air freshener and for strewing flowers on grand occasions, one of these was the coronation of James II of England.

Shakespeare praised the delicate flavor of marjoram and Elizabethan women loved to carry the fragrant herb in the nosegays because of its sweet scent. Today, women prefer to use it in meat dishes, soups, stews, stuffings and sauces to enhance flavor.

The former Mary Margaret Murphy of Quanah was graduated from high school there and attended Navarro Junior College at Corsicana. She and her husband, who is employed at Cryovac, and two sons, Corey and Justin, ages four and one, respectively, moved to Iowa Park from Wichita Falls in November. They are Baptists.

Mrs. Gossett is a pledge of Epsilon Eta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. Her hobbies include sewing, foil art, ceramics and playing the piano.

Hawks drop heartbreaker to Weatherford

A 54-52 heartbreaking loss Tuesday to Weatherford dropped the Hawks to 2-4 in Dist. 4-AAA play. They had defeated Graham 66-49 Friday. Iowa Park took a quick 6-2 lead early in the first quarter, then the visiting Kangaroos zoomed past the cold-shooting Hawks to lead 16-6 at the end of the period. The Hawks came roaring back in the second period and led, 21-20 briefly, but settled for a 22-22 tie when they went to the dressing room for a halftime break.

It began to look like a home club routing of the visitors in the third period, when the Hawks built up a 12-point lead, 38-26 with 2:12 remaining in the quarter, but from that point on, turnovers and players in foul trouble gave the Kangaroos the boost they needed. Harry Hutchins, starting forward, fouled out with 3:05 remaining, and the score was tied at 48-all. Neither team could manage more than a two-point lead from that point on.

Travis Little tied the score at 52-52 with 32 seconds remaining on the clock, but Weatherford responded with another field goal 13 seconds later with what proved to be the winning score.

Iowa Park had two more shots by Russell Guyette and Jim Richardson which could have tied the score and sent the game into overtime, but they bounced off the rim.

Hutchins was the leading Hawk scorer with 15 points. Richardson and Dennis Dillard each finished with 10.

DEFEAT GRAHAM

After taking a 15-10 lead in the first quarter, the Steers saw only Iowa Park's heels the rest of the game. Though leading only 26-22 at halftime, the Hawks sailed ahead 44-31 by the end of the third period and finished with a 66-49 win.

Graham's inability to hit the free shot spelled doom for the visitors. They made only 21 of 41 shots from the charity line.

Randall Griffith hit 10 of his 15 points in the third period to lead the Hawks in scoring. Richardson followed with 13 and Dillard had 12.

JUNIOR VARSITY WINS

The Hawk JV not only beat Graham 61-47 Friday night, but came back Monday and bested touted Bowie 72-61. That same evening the Freshmen also bested Bowie, 57-47.

The Hawks will host Mineral Wells' Rams, who are currently ranked second among Class AAA teams in the state, Friday.

Mineral Wells handed the Hawks a 67-51 defeat in the conference opener back in December. Since then the Rams have built a 7-0 district and 23-3 season record. Iowa Park and Mineral Wells met in a district title shootout last year after each had won their respective zones. The district is not zoned this year. The Rams went on to finally lose in the state tournament championship game.

Tuesday the Hawks travel to Wichita Falls where they will take on the Hirschi Huskies.

Mayor discusses city services

Mayor Johnny Crawford brought the Evening Lions up to date on the present status of the city's sanitation, water and sewage departments in an informative talk at the Tuesday meeting. He discussed some of the major problems in those areas in the past and how they had been greatly improved or rectified through the cooperation of the citizens of the community.

Mayor Crawford told how the present containerized system had facilitated garbage collection and of the benefits derived at the sanitation landfill from the new bulldozer and steel building to house it. He reminded the group that the present landfill site would be adequate for only a short time and of the need for about 40 acres which would last the community 20 to 30 years.

He discussed some of the problems that the city had had in the water production system during his administration, but reported that it was in good shape at the present time having undergone an upgrading, painting and cleaning job.

"Water is becoming more and more a critical problem, not only here but everywhere," Crawford said in reminding club members of Wichita Falls' proposed rate restructuring which, if it materializes, would increase water rates in Iowa Park 30 per cent.

In closing, he discussed the improvements that needed to be made in sewage treatment both to adequately take care of the present needs and to allow for continued growth. In expressing a desire to see areas of the business district restored and beautified, the mayor said that it would necessarily take a lot of money but with "everyone working together it can be done."

Wayne House introduced the speaker and conducted the business. He announced the mid-winter conference at Comanche Saturday and a directors meeting Feb. 6.

Steve Mahan, who is coaching the basketball players for the game with Channel 6 Prime Time Players, distributed tickets for them to sell.

Dinner music was furnished by Mrs. Otis Gay and Mrs. Delbert Todd.

committee by Speaker of the House Bill Clayton.

Finnell was also named vice-chairman of the Transportation Committee for appropriate matters.

The Appropriations Committee has jurisdiction over the allocation of funds from the state treasury, and thus affects every state agency and all the people of Texas. "I for one will be supporting those essential state agencies which do supply first-class services to the people I represent," Finnell said.

Finnell explained that "in a time when tax relief is a major concern to the people of our district, it is significant to remember that this committee (Appropriations) decides where state funds are spent, and where state funds can be saved." The appointment of Finnell to the Appropriations Committee marks the first time in more than a decade that the people of this district have had a voice on this committee.

SHOOTOUT

Undefeated girls' teams meet Friday for district lead

The big shootout between District 4-AAA's undefeated girls basketball teams will take place in Iowa Park High gymnasium Friday night.

Both Iowa Park and Mineral Wells won their games Tuesday, and will enter the contest with perfect 5-0 and 6-0 conference records, respectively.

Tip off will be shortly after 6 p.m., following the boys' junior varsity game.

Mineral Wells carries a gaudy 20-3 season record after defeating Graham 57-44 Tuesday night. Iowa Park is 17-2.

While Mineral Wells boasts the highest scoring average in district play, 51.7, the Hawkettes have moved into the lead defensively, holding their five opponents to an even 35 points per outing. Mineral Wells is averaging allowing 35.8 points, and Iowa Park is averaging scoring 42 points in their five district games.

Reginia Kimbrough is leading all district players in scoring. Through her first five games she was averaging 20.8. But Jo Ann McClurg counters for Iowa Park. She is second among district players with a 17.8 average.

Tomorrow's game winds up the first half of district play for the Hawkettes. They weren't scheduled to play Mineral Wells in the Jan. 29 district opener for the boys. The two teams are slated to meet for the second time in the season finale Feb. 15 in Mineral Wells.

STILL UNDEFEATED

The Hawkettes posted a

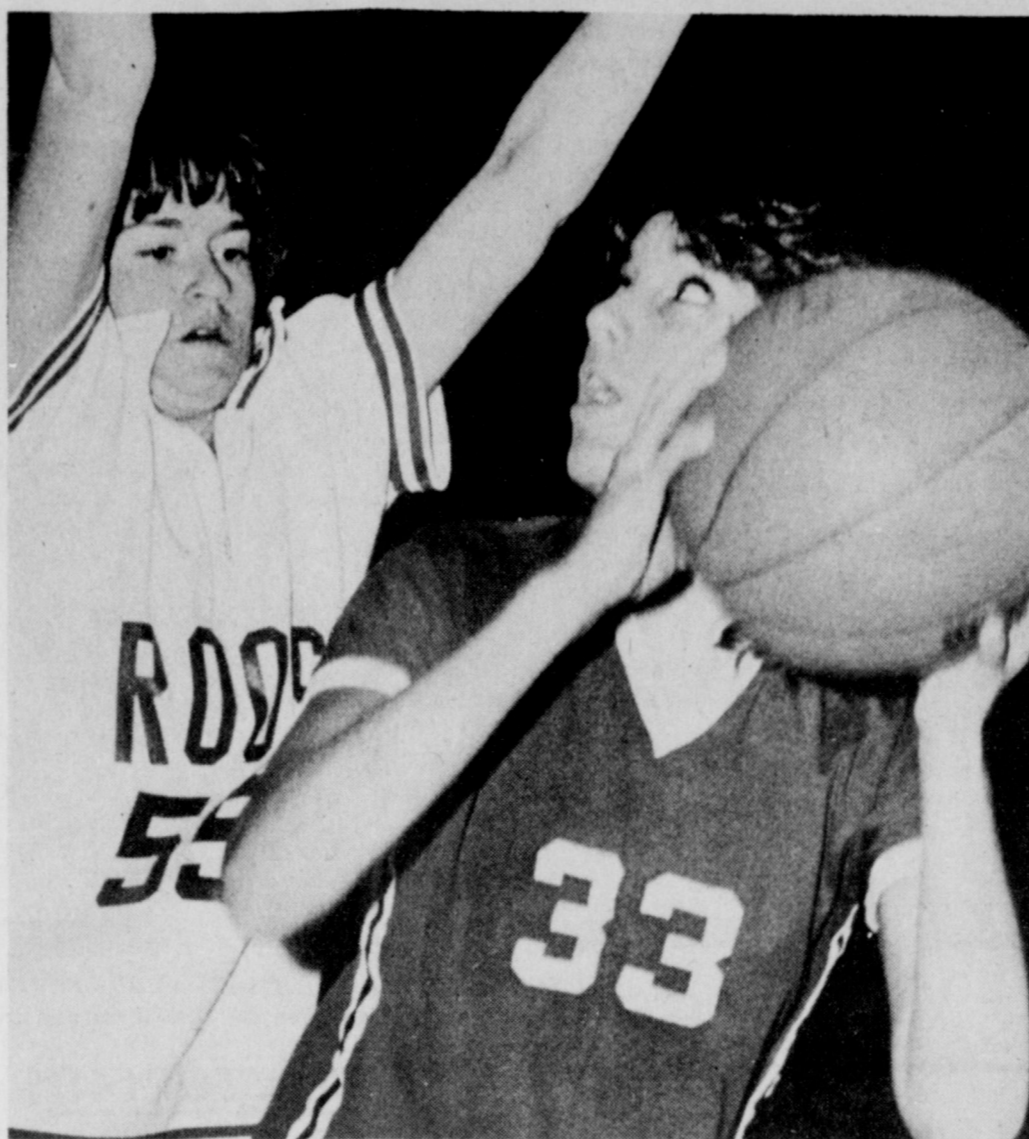

41-28 decision over Graham Friday, and then came from behind to beat Weatherford 51-38 here Tuesday.

McClurg scored 21 points to lead the Hawkettes past the hapless Graham team, which has not won a district game yet.

In Tuesday's game against a strong Weatherford club, the lead bounced back and forth through the first quarter, but the Hawkettes started taking command in the second period to lead 26-21 at halftime. They stretched the lead to 38-29 by the end of the third quarter.

McClurg finished with 20 points, Jill Watts canned 14 and freshman Tammie Richardson had 12.

Weatherford won the junior varsity game, 35-27.

TWO FOR JILL - Despite the efforts of a Weatherford guard, Jill Watts put this twisting jump shot in the basket to help Iowa Park win its fifth district game without a loss Tuesday. She contributed 14 points toward the Hawkettes total of 51, and helped control the backboards to hold the visitors to only 38.

IPTA sets 1st meeting

Election of officers and plans for the coming season will highlight the meeting of the Iowa Park Tennis Association and Booster Club Friday, starting at 7:30 p.m. in Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Among topics during the business session will be plans for the coming year's activities, tournament play for members, and sponsoring the second annual junior high tournament.

Guest speaker will be Dick Wineinger, tennis coach for Iowa Park schools, who will discuss tennis programs in the schools, tournament schedule, Booster Club support, and an outlook of players and possibilities for advancement in UIL play.

Current annual membership dues, open to all residents of Iowa Park, are $5 per person or $7.50 per family. Membership information can be obtained from Phil Corless, 592-2016, or Pansy Bowerman, 592-5726.

Six complete degree work

Four students from Iowa Park and two from Kamay completed degree requirements during the fall semester at Midwestern State University.

Graduates from Iowa Park include Stanley Dean Blair, Randy Thomas Jameson, Phillip Wayne Johnson and Sherrie Sue Staber.

MSU graduates from Kamay are Paula Kay Fulfer and Vicki Diann McFadden.

Their degrees will be conferred during May 12 graduation ceremonies.

Sports around District 4-AAA

The Mineral Wells boys jumped to a 31-2 lead in the first quarter and went on to a 93-59 win over Vernon to capture the first half championship last Friday night.

Iowa Park and Mineral Wells remained undefeated on the girls side and the two will meet Friday in Iowa Park. The game will count as a second round game and not a first round game. The first round champion will not be decided until Feb. 15 when the two teams meet at the Rams' Dome.

Robert Sigman of Weatherford has had an unusual week to say the least. In his last three games he has scored 55 points, but those points came in only two games. He had 34 points against Burkburnett and 21 points last Friday against Hirschi. Against Graham the previous Tuesday, Sigman went scoreless.

Speaking of Graham and Weatherford, they had a most unusual game last week. Sixty-three fouls were called in the boys game with seven players fouling out. Four other players had four fouls each in a game that Weatherford won 55-50.

Kelley Edwards of Hirschi continues to lead the boys scoring with a 28.6 average while Reginia Kimbrough of Mineral Wells leads the girls with a 20.8 average.

Turning to football, Head Coach Ron Dupree of Graham turned in his resignation this past week to the Graham school board. The board was unable to act on the resignation since it was not on the agenda, but according to one source close to the board, the resignation will not be accepted. Dupree has one year left on his current contract.

The regional track meet for 4-AAA has been changed to Odessa this year in Region I instead of Denton. District 4-AAA regional track qualifiers will be competing against only three other districts with one half as many schools compared to Region II. It should be a big advantage for this district.

Coach Beverly Hogg of Weatherford caught a mistake in last week's column and we appreciate the help. Weatherford will play Burkburnett girls on Feb. 5 at Burkburnett instead of Feb. 11.

Talent show is planned

Plans are being finalized to hold a talent show here Feb. 24 to raise money for the American Heart Association.

Auditions will be held Feb. 11, 12 and 13 at a place yet to be designated. Those interested in auditioning can telephone Mrs. Erwin Soell, 592-5027, or Mrs. Charlie Lee, 592-5858, for additional information.

All proceeds from ticket sales to the talent show will be turned over to the American Heart Association, according to Mrs. Soell.

Friendly Door meal is changed

The Friendly Door will have a covered dish luncheon Monday instead of the regular menu scheduled for that day, according to Myrna Robinson, site manager.

The Iowa Park Branch of Lucille Doran Dance Studio will perform Friday at 11:30. The performers will be pre-school students.

AC teams coming to gym Tuesday

Eagle Fieldhouse is expected to be bulging at the seams with fans for Tuesday night's rematch between Holliday and Archer City roundballers.

Both boys and girls varsity teams will have a break from district action Friday night when they

First course starts tonight

Registration and the first night of classes for short-hand and bookkeeping courses offered here by Vernon Regional Junior College will be at 6:30 tonight in the Holliday High School library.

The typing class began Tuesday night.

If it will not conflict with their curriculum, high school students as well as adults are eligible to attend the non-credit continuing education courses.

travel to Aspermont.

Tuesday night's rematch with Archer City will begin with the girls' game at 6:30 p.m. here. Earlier in the loop season AC's girls sneaked past the Lady Eagles 57-42, while the Wildcats blasted the Eagles 67-33 in the county seat court.

Both Holliday teams sport 5-3 district records.

The girls upended Petrolia 44-36 last week with Mindy Lowder leading the way with 20 points. They traveled to Boyd where they were defeated 42-24. Kristi Lucy was highpoint with 14.

The Eagles were edged out by Petrolia 49-45. Kirk Styles and Greg Dillard shared highpoint honors with 10 each.

The Eagles rolled over Boyd 84-59 in their latest district outing. Kent Lemons was highpoint with 28. Dillard put in 18 and Styles had 14.

Holliday school administrators fielded questions from the public Monday night in what was billed by the Holliday PTA as "Everything you always wanted to know about your school but haven't had the opportunity to ask." About 30 persons attended the public forum hosted by the PTA in the cafeteria. Questions posed by the audience ranged from kindergarten to finances.

School board president Tommy Mankins, elementary principal Dan Owen and high school principal Bill Crabbs fielded about 25 questions submitted from the audience.

"I'm glad to see there's a good turnout here tonight, I hope there's more in the future," said Jon Rivkin of Lakeside City, who served as moderator.

Asked how absenteeism affects funding, Owen said the average daily attendance is multiplied by a prescribed amount of money to determine how much state funding Holliday receives. The average daily attendance is designed to reflect the average number of students who come to class each day throughout the year.

On another question, but along the same lines, Owen said the school's overall funding is about 75 percent state money and 25 percent local money.

In addition to average daily attendance allocations from the state, more money from Austin comes based on personnel units. Holliday is funded for 35 personnel units, Owen said, or one personnel unit for every 20-25 average daily attendance. A personnel unit does not necessarily indicate one faculty person, Owen said, since principals count more and auxiliary persons count less.

He said title and federal funds are negligible.

He said the 75-25 split may seem deceiving because all building funds come from local sources.

Asked whether the school system was operating in the black or red and whether it maintained a large bank account, Owen said the school is operating in the black. But during summer and early fall months administrators must be careful to have enough money in the bank to cover expenses until property tax and state revenues are received.

The monthly budget at Holliday ranges from $70,000 to $80,000, Owen said.

Mankins added that since he has been a trustee, the school has never had to borrow money to operate on during the lean months.

Asked about the test exemption policy for students in grades 7-12, Crabbs said students could be eligible for exemption only for quarter tests.

"The exemption policy at Holliday is not detrimental ... it really shouldn't be such an issue as far as preparing students for college ... and it works," Crabbs said. He said it was an incentive for students to work harder.

Asked if counseling is available, Crabbs replied, "At the high school level the counselor is mainly me." He said he is trained as a counselor although "the sign on my door says principal." Problems he cannot handle are referred to the counselor with West Wichita Co-Op which Holliday helps fund. He said Holliday students are afforded "adequate" counseling facilities.

Owen said counseling is available at the elementary level. "It may not be excellent, but it is available," Owen said.

Crabbs said he counsels with all juniors and seniors "to find out which way they want to go" and helps them plan their curriculum accordingly.

What is offered at Holliday in the way of arts? Owen said Holliday offers an excellent music program starting in kindergarten with band introduced in the fourth grade.

In addition to high school band, choral music has just been introduced to the curriculum along with a new drama elective. As far as literature goes, Crabbs said Holliday is one of the few schools in the state which still requires four years of English as opposed to three. If Holliday is lacking in any field, it is in art, per se, Crabbs said.

Asked who is in charge of planning the curriculum, Owen said the Texas Education Agency prescribes courses that must be offered to provide a basic education. Additional courses are decided by the principals and superintendent. "They have a better idea of what we should have. That's what they're hired for," Mankins said.

What is Holliday doing to prepare students who are not interested in attending college?

Crabbs said the regular academic program is designed to prepare students for the work force. "We don't have vocational education here as such," he said, adding students here who qualify may attend the vocational technical school in Wichita Falls which offers everything from "animal husbandry to butchering to welding."

Crabbs estimated between 35 and 40 percent of the Holliday graduates continue to attend college. He said he did not know how many graduated from college.

Asked if school board members are receptive to calls from the public, Mankins said he usually refers these matters to the superintendent, principals or introduces them for discussion at board meetings. He said he refers complaints if they are significant, "but not these nit-pick things."

What if a parent is dissatisfied with a teacher? Who should they complain to?

Owen said the best route is to first contact the teacher in question. Sometimes small children do not tell the whole story, he said.

If the problem is not resolved with the teacher, the principal should be contacted. If that doesn't work, they should go to the superintendent, and as a last resort to the school board.

Crabbs said it usually works in reverse, which is a waste of time because complaint takes time to filter back down through the channels to its original source.

On money available for library purchases, Owen said it is budgeted for $2,000.

Why must a student be failing in order to qualify for special education in its "resource room"?

Grades have nothing to do with it, Owen said. A child's ability, background and home environment weigh heavily in the decision, he said.

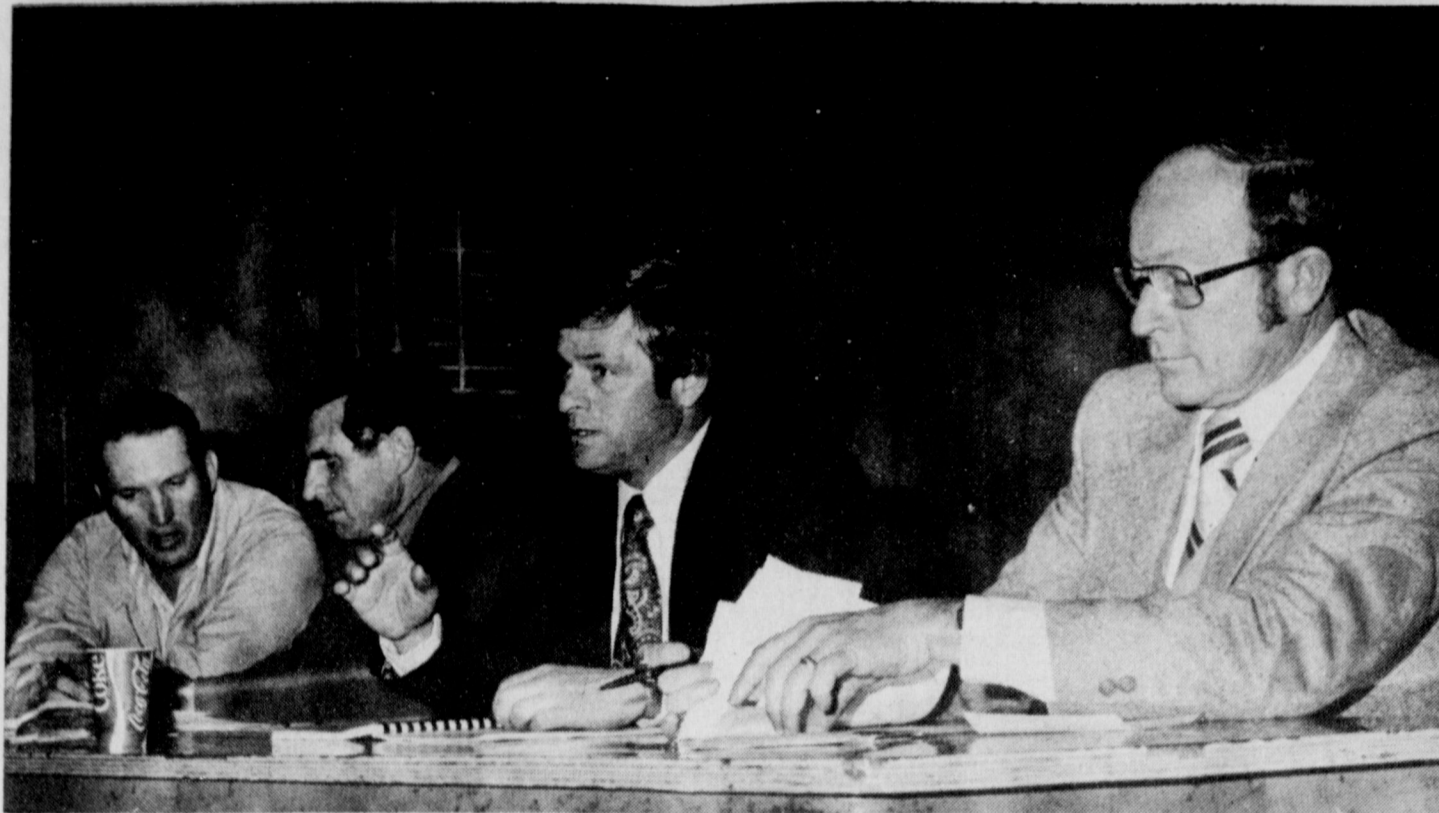

Why doesn't Holliday offer year-round kindergarten?

Holliday receives state funding to provide each student with a half a day of kindergarten all year. Instead, Holliday splits its large kindergarten group into two sections. Each section attends all day for half a year because of transportation problems posed on rural parents. If Holliday opted to send all students all day throughout the year it would require the hiring of another full-time kindergarten teacher to be funded from local sources.

All students complain about cafeteria food, Owen said. If Holliday hired a full-time dietician it would have to come from local funding. Better food? "We're working on it," Owen said.

What are the advertising procedures for filling a teacher vacancy? Holliday does not advertise because it has a large supply of applications already on file, Owen said.

EDITORIAL

No falls taken

Nothing exciting happened at Monday night's public forum on school operations hosted by the Holliday PTA. That's the way it had been designed, and thank goodness it worked. It was somewhat of a minor milestone.

For several years there has seemed to be some sort of alienating force between school officials and the public leaving both groups on the defensive.

When the Holliday PTA surfaced several months ago there came a third group susceptible to suspicion. Everybody crawled out on a limb together Monday night and nobody fell off.

The Holliday PTA crawled out on the weakest end of the branch. They hosted the meeting. If it had developed into a verbal blood bath any prospects of future discussions would have been lost for years to come.

The public was out there on the limb also. Two dozen intelligent questions were posed, thus proving the public sometimes is unfairly portrayed as a blood lusty mob when it comes to interrogating officials.

The three school officials who climbed out on the limb were without exception responsive to the questions asked. They gave simple answers to simple questions and didn't hesitate to point out shortcomings as well as areas of excellence.

Nobody could have asked for a more productive meeting. Let's do it again sometime.

New doctor at hospital

Dr. Shelton Jackson will be moving to Archer City next month to set up a practice at Archer County Hospital, said hospital administrator Windell McCord.

Jackson will be coming to Archer County from Anniston, Ala. He is scheduled to be here on the weekend of Feb. 10 for planning and possibly receptions in communities within the county.

Jackson, 32, is expected to return to Archer County with his family Feb. 24. His wife, Sarah, is a high school English teacher. They have a 3-year-old daughter. After his license to practice medicine in Texas is approved, Jackson expects to begin work here in early March. He will maintain an office in a clinic located at the hospital, McCord said. Jackson, who was here earlier for interviews and tour of hospital facilities and Archer County, holds bachelor's and master's degrees from New Mexico University. He was graduated from the University of Mississippi School of Medicine at Jackson.

Driving course being offered

Reservations are being taken from persons interested in taking a defensive driving course to be offered here Feb. 3 and 10.

The course is being sponsored by the Holliday PTA and a minimum of 25 persons are needed to be able to offer the course. Reservations may be made by contacting Linda Carr at 692-3228.

It will be an eight-hour course offered from 8 a.m. until noon Feb. 3 and 10.

Cost will be $10 per person. Persons completing the course will be eligible for a 10 per cent discount on their auto insurance.

Superintendent returns to desk

Holliday school superintendent Ray Coe has returned to work on a part-time basis.

Coe has been recovering from a heart attack he suffered in October.

Persons interested in seeking a spot on the April 7 Holliday City Council ballot have about six weeks to file for election.

Deadline for filing is March 7. Four council spots will be up for election. The two-year terms up for election currently are filled by Melvin Bills, Place 1; Jim Virdell, Place 3; and Fred Maier, Place 5.

Holliday residents also will decide who will fill the year remaining on the term of deceased councilman Red Denney from Place 4. Mary Denney, his wife, was appointed to fill the vacancy until April 7.

Dallas Ralston elected to head group

The election of officers for 1979 highlighted the business meeting of the Highland Cemetery Association Sunday afternoon at the First Christian Church. Officers elected were Dallas Ralston, president; Hoyt Watson, vice president; Mrs. E.T. Patterson, recording secretary; Mrs. Otis Gay, corresponding secretary; and Roberta Hill, treasurer.

A committee composed of Dallas Ralston, Taylor George and Mrs. Gay was elected to recommend the type lawn mower that would best suit the needs of the cemetery and to report at the next meeting the first Sunday in April. The duties of the committee included finding the place where the mower and a small chain saw could be bought for the best price.

After hearing a report by Keith Auld, chairman of the committee on re-evaluating the lots at Highland Cemetery, it was voted to increase the price of single lots from the present $75 to $125; quarter lots from $150 to $250; and half lots from $300 to $500, effective March 1.

A vote of thanks was extended to George Richter, retiring president, for his two years of service to the association as president and in other capacities for several years.

PUBLIC NOTICE
TOWN OF PLEASANT VALLEY

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has announced that the Town of Pleasant Valley, Texas has been accepted into the National Flood Insurance Program.

This means, that property owners here are now eligible to buy flood insurance protection at affordable rates subsidized by the Federal Government. The policies can be purchased from any property insurance agent or broker licensed to do business in the area in which the property to be insured is located. Agents and brokers may obtain policy forms, rates, flood insurance manuals, and any other necessary information on the insurance aspects of the program from the servicing agent for the National Flood Insurance Program, at the following address: National Flood Insurance Program, P.O. Box 34294, Bethesda, Maryland 20834.

Since flood insurance is now available, owners of property in areas shown on maps by HUD as being flood-prone must, according to the law, buy flood insurance when seeking any form of Federal or federally-related financial assistance for the acquisition or construction of buildings in those areas.

This would include grants from Federal agencies, FHA, VA, and FMHA mortgage loans, loans from the Small Business Administration, and conventional mortgage loans from any federally-regulated or supervised banks and savings and loan associations.

While flood insurance is available to all residents of the community, the Federal requirements to purchase flood insurance as a condition for receipt of federally related financial assistance do not apply to property outside the danger zones.

Under the program, coverage can be obtained for all buildings and their contents. The available limit of insurance for single-family homes is now $35,000 and $100,000 for other residential buildings, at the subsidized rate of 25 cents per $100 of coverage. The rate goes to 40 cents per $100 for nonresidential buildings.

The contents of all residential buildings can be insured up to $10,000 per unit at 35 cents per $100 of coverage, and the rate goes to 75 cents per $100 for contents of all nonresidential structures up to a maximum of $100,000 in coverage per unit.

The Federal Insurance Administration will also prepare additional maps showing the elevation of the base flood (i.e., the flood having a one percent chance of being equalled or exceeded in any given year) in approximately 20,000 communities across the Country. When this Flood Insurance Rate Map is published for the community, an additional increase in the present limits of coverage will be made available under actuarial rates.

The program is designed to stimulate individual participation in it as protection against flood disasters, and to help promote sound flood plain management on the part of local governing authorities.
