

Annual project show cancelled

Although the 1979 Iowa Park FFA and 4-H Project Show has been cancelled, many local youths will participate in the Wichita County Junior Livestock Show beginning Sunday.

"Much to the displeasure of the students of vocational agriculture, the vo-ag teachers and the Wichita County Young Farmers there will not be a local FFA and 4-H Livestock Project Show here this year," according to Jimmy Howell, Iowa Park High School instructor.

Due to a rule written by the Texas Pork Producers and enforced by the Texas Department of Animal Health, a non-terminal show such as the one held in Iowa Park cannot be staged because of the threat of pseudo-rabies disease, said Barry Mahler of Iowa Park, Young Farmers state vice president.

"This means that there could not be a project show unless all the hogs at the show were slaughtered or all the hogs were tested prior to the show," Howell said.

"The test would be an added expense to the students plus it is said that the mortality rate could run as high as 20 per cent when blood is taken from the heart cavity for the test," Howell said.

And since swine have comprised the largest area of participation in the Iowa Park show, Mahler said it would not be feasible to have the show without the hog divisions.

"The vo-ag teachers and Young Farmers are working with the Animal Health Commission to get this rule changed for next year," Howell said. "If this rule is not changed all the hogs will be tested and the students will know in advance that their hogs will have to be tested in order for us to have the FFA and 4-H Project Show."

"In the meantime, we ask that you support the Iowa Park community 4-H and FFA members at the premium sale at the Wichita County Project Show," Mahler said.

Council faces light agenda

Only three items were on the agenda as of yesterday for Monday's 7 p.m. meeting of the Iowa Park city council.

According to Steve Morath, city administrator, four members of the library board will have terms expiring, and appointments will be offered for council approval.

Morath said he was preparing an ordinance for council consideration which would place a $5 service charge on any citizen giving the city a check which was returned by the bank. He said 52 such checks were returned during 1978.

To be discussed will be a proposal to hire a consultant to perform work required in a contract with Texas Community Affairs to update the city's long range plans.

Also expected to be discussed, during a segment of Monday's meeting, will be Iowa Park's purchasing of water from Wichita Falls.

Board meeting date changed

Iowa Park school trustee meeting which is regularly held on the second Tuesday of each month has been moved to next Thursday, according to Supt. Faris Nowell.

The change of meeting date was made so the meeting would not conflict with the county stock show sale which has been set for Tuesday, Nowell said.

Weather Report

Weather reports are officially compiled for Iowa Park at the Texas Experiment Station, southeast of town.

Rainfall for week	.32
Total for month	.32
Total for year	3.53
Total last year	4.29

The county show will begin at Sunday and continue through Tuesday at the 4-H barn on Midwestern Parkway in Wichita Falls.

The horse show will kick things off at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Rabbits and broilers will be judged at 10:30 a.m. Monday with judging of turkeys to follow immediately.

Market lamb judging will begin at 2 p.m. Monday, followed by breeding sheep judging at 4:30 p.m.

Hog judging will begin at 7 p.m. Monday.

Judging of beef steers will begin at 9 a.m. Tuesday, followed by beef heifers and dairy heifers. Dairy goat division will follow the cattle judging.

Wichita County Young Farmers will sponsor a chili feed at 6 p.m. Tuesday for prospective buyers.

Premium sale for top placing animals in the show will begin at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

"The owners of companies and businesses in Iowa Park are to be commended for their support of this sale in the past and the response given so far this year," Howell said.

"For this support all the FFA and 4-H members would like to thank supporters and invite anyone interested in the show to come by the 4-H barn in Wichita Falls to view the animals and watch the show and sale," he added.

WARM WELCOME - Visitors to Bradford Elementary Tuesday night, as part of Texas Public Schools Week, were greeted by this classroom door, on which each student in the class was represented in the figures. Other open houses thus far have been at Valley View and high school. Tonight, open house will be held at Kidwell Elementary and the junior high school.

Local beauties enter contest

Darlene Mahler and Cindy Flanagan, both of Iowa Park, are among the dozen entrants in the 1979 Miss Vernon Regional Junior College Scholarship Pageant.

The pageant is slated for 8 p.m. March 16 at the Wilbarger Memorial Auditorium in Vernon.

Miss Mahler is a 1978 graduate of Iowa Park High School and is currently a freshman at Midwestern State University. She is 5'7" with blonde hair and blue eyes. She hopes to earn a degree in drama.

Her talent will be a vocal solo, and her interests include ceramics, biking, and swimming.

While in high school she won numerous honors including choir sweetheart, best thespian girl, all-region choir, and drum major for the band for two years.

Miss Flanagan, an auburn-haired, hazel-eyed student who graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1978, has attended Vernon Regional Junior College and is presently a student at Midwestern State University.

Her talent will be a vocal solo. She lists the Wichita Falls Civic Chorus, A Cappella Choir, drama productions, and traveling as her hobbies.

She has won numerous awards in high school and college including four scholarships. Her ambition is to teach drama at the college level after completing her Masters degree.

Sandi Miller, Miss Texas 1978, will be a featured performer at the Miss VRJC Pageant, as will the reigning Miss VRJC, D'Yon Hawkins of Vernon. Emcee for the evening will be Miss Oklahoma, Keni Brown, of Wichita Falls. Also appearing will be Miss Susan Jones of Paducah, the 1977 Miss VRJC.

DOOR PRIZE-Mrs. Donald Hale and Mrs. Richard Lufney hold a beautiful afghan that will be given away for a door prize Saturday during the Iowa Park Band Booster Club bean and cornbread supper at the high school cafeteria from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. The school bands will provide entertainment. Admission will be $2 per person and tickets will be sold at the door.

City unsure about water

Wichita Falls apparently will continue selling water to Iowa Park, but how much is not yet certain.

At a meeting of the Wichita Falls city council, Manager Gerald Fox was instructed to draft an ordinance setting rates for selling water to area communities.

Iowa Park's rate would be 50 cents per 1,000 gallons, since the city has built a transmission line to one of Wichita Falls' treatment plants.

Treated water carried through Wichita Falls distribution lines, such as is purchased by Burburnett, would be 60 cents per 1,000 gallons. Untreated water rate would be 14 cents through private line, or 20 cents per thousand through Wichita Falls lines.

The Wichita Falls council disapproved sale of raw water to Electra.

However, it was unclear whether an additional amount of water would be available to Iowa Park, Morath said.

Iowa Park has requested that its maximum amount of water be increased from a million gallons per day to two million.

It is understood a committee of the Wichita Falls city council had recommended increasing Iowa Park's ration to 1.5 million.

During discussion on sale of water outside Wichita Falls, Alderman Hardy McAlister and former mayor J.C. Boyd said they were against any sale of water outside Wichita Falls.

One of the points being driven home, in discussions, is that communities purchasing water from Wichita Falls must join with that city in a dam construction plan at Ringgold, if any additional water is to be purchased.

No formula has been approved on community participation, but Wichita Falls council members have repeatedly mentioned that the new water source was needed, and they didn't want to put the money up to build it, and then sell it to those who had nothing invested in its construction.

Communities purchasing water from Wichita Falls, other than Iowa Park and Burburnett, are Holiday, Henrietta, Archer City, Pleasant Valley, Lakeside City, Olney, Scotland, and Dean Dale Water Supply Corp.

Other purchasers include Archer County Municipal Utility District No. 1, Red River Authority No. 2, Wichita Valley Water Supply Corp., Bridwell Oil Co., Fagadau Oil Co., North Central Oil Co. and State of Texas.

Contests develop in elections

The political pot started boiling in earnest as filing deadline for the April 7 city and school elections rolled around.

With still a few hours between press time and office closing time yesterday, which was the deadline to file for places on the two ballots, each had drawn a host of contestants.

In the city council race, two incumbents, C.A. Hicks and Floyd "Bud" Adams, had filed. Also competing for the three council seats will be Lloyd Smith, Loy Williams and Bill Cook.

The third position is the seat vacated by the death of Eldon Thompson Jr.

Two of the three current school trustees have filed for re-election. They are Martha Dudley and Bill Spruiell. C.A. Myers has announced he would not run this time.

Other school candidates who had filed by noon Wednesday were Bud Mercer, John Stewart, Christy McKenzie and Dan Nethery.

Terms being sought in both elections are two years. Both elections are voted on at-large, with the top three candidates in each election to be declared winners.

Burglars swap tools for loot

Iowa Park police Saturday investigated a burglary of a building at 608 E. Bank.

Burglars entered the building through a boarded up window and pried open coin boxes to two pinball machines. An estimated $80 in change was taken, according to the police report.

Police said the burglars left behind the tools of the trade—a screwdriver, hammer and jack handle.

February slow for permits

As in the past, February was not a good month for building permits to be issued at city hall.

Last month's permits amounted to only $30,500. That is only slightly less than the $40,000 in permits issued during February of 1978.

This year's two-month total for permits now stands at $194,750, as compared with $219,735 for the same period last year.

Permits issued during February included: Grace Baptist Church, 509 S. Colorado, alteration and repair, $20,000; Dean Henderson, 1103 Lincoln, enclose garage, $3,000; Lewis Hedrick, 1316 Emma, addition, patio, $7,500.

Area man in accident

An Iowa Park area man had his problems recently, when attempting to drive through Graham.

According to the Mar. 1 issue of the Graham Leader, Don Richard Portman, 34, who's address is listed as FM 367, was involved in an accident in that city Feb. 24.

Traveling south on S.H. 16 as it approaches the U.S. 380 intersection, the article says Portman's pickup "apparently hit the curb, according to the tire tracks at the scene, clipped a telephone pole, flattened a stop sign and then jumped a 24-inch curb and wall in front of Miracle Glass and Mirror at 164 N. Elm St. before coming to rest inside the building.

"Officers had trouble locating the accident when they arrived at the scene because only the back 18-inches of the pickup bed and camper were sticking out of the front of the business."

According to the article, approximately $5,000 damage was inflicted to the building and contents, and Portman was later charged by Graham police with driving while intoxicated.

Travis Little Merit finalist

Iowa Park High School has received notification that Travis L. Little, a senior, is a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition, according to Bob Dawson, principal.

More than a million high school juniors entered the competition during the 1977-78 school year and now the field has been narrowed to 14,000 students. Of this group approximately 4,000 will receive various scholarships.

Travis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Little.

Undefeated Lions vs. Old Fog Coaches

The undefeated Iowa Park Evening Lions round-batters will try to make it three in a row when they dash with the "Old Fog Iowa Park Coaches" at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the high school gymnasium.

A door prize will be given. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Diet TOPS program topic

A program on "Try These Diets" was given by Mrs. Era Mae Baxter for the TOPS Club in Monday night's meeting.

Mrs. Randy Heidrich was first prize winner in a weight loss contest that ended Monday. Other winners were Mmes. Don Wynn A.O. Beall, George Boles, Charlie Helms, Robert English and Lloyd Lowe.

Mrs. James Bowerman was welcomed as a new member. New officers will be elected during next week's meeting.

guests and the president conducted the jewel pin ceremony for the pledges: Mmes. Jim Gossett, Larry Hall, Barry Mahler, Carter Pirkle, Marty Maxwell, Terry Hayley, Richard Hicks and Phil McDonald.

The ceremony took place before a table covered with white linen and centered with a bouquet of spring jonquils, greenery and blue ribbon. After the ceremony, each pledge was pinned with a jonquil from the arrangement.

Cook of the Week

"Real joy comes not from outward circumstances, but from inner reality of devotion to the Lord" is a quote that best describes the devoted Christian and is especially applicable to a minister's wife. She lives a very busy life and yet it is one of the most rewarding and fulfilling that one could wish for.

Mrs. Howell (Sue) Farnsworth, wife of the new pastor of First Baptist Church, will no doubt attest to the truth of the above statement. She considers it a high honor to be the wife of a minister and she is a constant source of inspiration and encouragement to her husband. Her affection for members of the congregation and desire to please and help them has already been a boon to many lives even within a few short weeks.

The former Sue Tate, she was graduated from Sunset High School in Dallas. Her church, being the kind of helpmeet to her husband that the Lord expects her to be, and her home come first in her life. Being a very energetic person, she has worked as receptionist for doctors in the Southwestern Medical School in Dallas and in Duncaneville. In Groesbeck, she filed medical insurance for a hospital.

She enjoys crocheting, sewing and working in the yard.

Rev. and Mrs. Farnsworth have one son, Phil, a high school junior, and a daughter, Holly, a sixth grader.

23 Study Club holds guest day

Decorations and entertainment for the 23 Study Club's annual guest day observance Thursday were carefully wrought out to emphasize a "Friendly Fashions" main theme.

Mrs. Homer Blalock, leader, in comparing guests and program participants with the colorful flowers and singing birds of springtime, endeavored to pierce the long hard winter that had surrounded everyone with a bright and fresh note for a secondary theme.

The luncheon meeting was held in Fellowship Hall of the First Christian Church. The table decorations, planned and arranged by Mmes. Joe Singer, Earle Denny, C.L. Metz, arts chairman, assisted by Mrs. Chauncey Weiler and Mrs. Rollins Woodall, stimulated interest in the main theme.

Colorfully-dressed Barbie dolls standing upright down the center of the tables were positioned amid a scattering of "paper dolls" modeling the newest in 1979 spring fashions. Program covers in assorted colors were centered with fashionable paper dolls and place cards were marked with little lady decals.

Fashions of yesteryear and treasured antiques were displayed around the room to enhance interest in the setting. A copy of the club's first constitution and by-laws and a picture of the late Mrs. O.L. Woodall, who had preserved the copy, and a lifelike pictorial representation of a 1923 fashion girl, were prominent in the head table decor.

Mrs. E.F. Soell, club president, and also scholarship chairman of the Texas

Federation of Women's Clubs, welcomed guests. She introduced women of the Philia Study Club and 23 Study Club who are serving as officers of Santa Rosa District, including Mmes. Earl Watson, president, Singer, secretary, and Deryl James, treasurer.

Mrs. W.G. Steele offered the invocation.

The outstanding program following the luncheon featured special music by Danny Parkerson and a style show which afforded the group a taste of the charm of new fashions for spring. Mrs. O.N. Newman sponsored the show featuring the Velfree Shop's newest arrivals in casual, evening, party and all-occasion wear, bathing suits, lounging apparel and lingerie.

The eight "irresistible" models were Pat Aulds,

Cindy Bernstein, Lynn Compton, Judy James, Melba James, Joan Robinson, Wanda Singer and Lita Watson.

Emphasizing the spring-time theme, the leader presented Mrs. Newman as the most beautiful and fragrant flower, and Danny Parkerson as the songbird with the sweetest voice of the season.

The vocalist sang by taped orchestration "I Write the Songs," "Can't Smile Without You" and "I've Got to Be Me" following the luncheon. He displayed another one of his talents when he narrated the style show, then sang "Love, This Is My Song" for the finale when models were brought back for the audience to get one more look at the exquisite clothes they were wearing.

Sixty-two club members and guests attended the function.

Assisting with the program were Mmes. C.L. McKinnon, Wm. Nunn, V.I. Woodfin and Miss Helen Reed.

Mrs. Howell Farnsworth was a guest.

Hawk strength in field events

After dominating the field events, Iowa Park's Hawks were narrowly edged for the large school championship of Vernon's 12th annual invitational track and field meet Saturday.

Host Vernon, a team which has been a AAA power in track for a number of years, and Wichita Falls High tied for first place with 107 points each. Iowa Park placed third with 101, well ahead of fourth place Graham, 59, Hirschi, 40, Burkburnett, 36 and Rider, 36.

The Hawks will be running in the Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham Saturday, as will the Hawkettes.

Of the four first places earned by Iowa Park, three were in field events. Kip Fuller, facing a strong northerly wind of about 30 miles per hour, won the discus with a respectable 150-1. Dennis Dillard took the high jump with a leap of 6-2. And Troy Linthicum won the pole vault, going 13 feet.

Anthony Crittenden took first in the mile run, being clocked in 4:46.0.

Though none of the performances were records at the meet, all were considered outstanding because of the weather, as well as being the first competition of the season. The wind had the chill factor well below freezing, making it especially difficult for the thinclads.

The Hawks failed to finish the 440-yard relay and missed points in other events they had figured to place in, or they might have won the meet. They were ahead going into the mile relay, but could finish no better than sixth, while Wichita Falls and Vernon got their double points for first and second, putting them ahead.

Hawk results in the meet: Long Jump - 3. Thompson, 19-1 1/2; 5. Brown, 18-2 1/2. Discus - 1. Fuller, 150-1; 2. Willingham, 137.

Shot Put - 2. Fuller, 43-7 1/4; 3. Ray, 50-8; 5. Ross, 48-3.

High Jump - 1. Dillard, 6-2; 5. Nolen, 5-8.

Pole Vault - 1. Linthicum, 13.

High Hurdles - 4. Nolen, 16-0; 5. Dillard, 16-8.

100 Dash - 2. Sitgreaves, 10.3.
440 Dash - 4. Guyette, 57.1.
220 Dash - 6. Brown, 25.5.
Mile Run - 1. Crittenden, 4:46; 3. Calahan, 4:55.2.
Mile Relay - 6. Iowa Park, 3:47.

The freshmen placed seventh in their division with 19 points.

Hawks impressive in big turnaround

The Hawk baseball team made a big turnaround Monday. Iowa Park defeated Bowie, 12-10.

Winning a game isn't particularly significant for an Iowa Park team, but considering they had lost their season opener to the same team just last Thursday by a whopping 17-1 decision, would have to be considered an improvement.

Sandwiched in between the Bowie games was a narrow, 2-0 loss to Wichita Falls Friday.

Monday's battle at Bowie was a see-saw affair. Iowa Park took command in the first inning, 4-1, with a grand slam home run by Roger Combs.

Each team scored in the first five innings, but Bowie zoomed into the lead 9-8 with a five-run surge in the fourth inning. After matching runs in the fifth inning, both teams went scoreless in the sixth.

Iowa Park punched three runs across the plate in the top of the final frame, and then held the Jackrabbits scoreless to earn their first victory of the young season.

The Hawks matched their hosts on hits, seven each, but had four fewer errors, 2-6.

Lack of control by pitchers in Thursday's opening game was Iowa Park's major problem.

A considerable improvement was shown Friday against Rider, when the Wichita Falls team won by an official 2-0 score.

The game was shortened when rain struck Hoskins Field in the bottom of the sixth inning. Actually, Iowa Park had scored a run in the top of the sixth, but when the Raiders couldn't finish their turn at bat, the score reverted to the fifth inning.

The Hawks are scheduled to play in a three-day tournament in Wichita Falls, starting today and finishing Saturday, Tuesday they will host Rider, and Next Thursday travel to Electra.

Tournament continues

In girls' competition, National bracket, Hawkettes 29 - Rocketts 12, Slick Chicks 17 - Texas Trotters 14; American bracket, Angeletts 18 - Hot Shots 17, Troublemakers 26 - Rocketts 10.

National (5th graders) standings: Slick Chicks 2-0, Angels 1-0, Hawkettes 1-1, Texas Trotters 0-1 and Rocketts 0-2.

American (6th graders) standings: Angeletts 2-0, Rocketts 1-1, Troublemakers 1-1, Hot Shots 0-1 and Sizzlers 0-1.

Griffith named to second team

Champion Mineral Wells and Hirschi dominated the 4-AAA All-District basketball selections, chosen recently by conference coaches.

Iowa Park placed one player, Randall Griffith, on the second team, along with five other players, and four were named honorable mention.

The 6-2 Griffith, a senior, was Iowa Park's leading scorer for the year. Honorable mentions were Harry Hutchins, Jimmy Richardson, Travis Little and Dennis Dillard, all seniors.

Darrell Milton and Rory Nowak of Mineral Wells, Kelly Edwards and Laramie Mergerson of Hirschi, and Willie Brown of Weatherford made up the first team selections. All are seniors.

With Griffith on the second team were Jesse Kimbrough of Mineral Wells, Robert Sigman and Mickael Burk of Weatherford, Ireland Scott of Vernon and Danny Brennan of Burkburnett. Scott is the only sophomore on either team.

McClurg, Watts are recognized

Jo Ann McClurg and Jill Watts were named to the 11-player 4-AAA All-District girls' team by vote of the coaches.

Both are sophomores, as is Regina Kimbrough of Mineral Wells, another selection.

Joining the three underclassmen are Loreha Herron and Kala Henry of Hirschi, Paula Jefferson and Carrie Larkin of Weatherford, Laurie Lampkin of Mineral Wells, Lisa Manley of Graham, Kim Lindsey of Vernon and Teresa Williams of Burkburnett.

Tammie Richardson, an Iowa Park freshman, was an honorable mention selection.

McClurg and Watts were unanimous choices by the coaches to the honor team.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Bob:

Your recent "As I See It" column, dated March 1, 1979, is an unjustified and blatantly insulting attack on me and many other public servants. Generalizations, such as this article, which lump all government employees together, is usually derogatory. You are either ignorant of many facts or totally misinformed. Are you aware of how many years civil service employees have "set the example" in the inflation fight when the President limited pay raises to five percent?

Your use of news release volume as a thermometer of how worried we are about holding onto our jobs is unbelievable. I recently mailed you two releases of vital importance to the farmers of Wichita County. You chose not to print either, (which is fine, since you own the paper). Maybe I should sit at my desk, worry about my job and not use newspapers, TV, and radio to inform the farmers of laws Congress has passed for their benefit. The farmers of this county will be informed whether you help or not.

You didn't use ASCS as an example; therefore, you must consider us in the category of not being "out in the public, the one who really eat up tax dollars". Maybe you should become acquainted with the Work Measurement System ASCS has pioneered and which several private companies are imitating. We know how much work is accomplished; and salaries and employees are adjusted each year as a result.

ASCS is presently assisting the Small Business Administration in informing farmers of the availability of emergency loans due to crop losses. By not printing any releases, you have not only falsely accused SBA, but have directly hindered rural subscribers of your paper of the knowledge of a new and important program.

Things must be slacking off at your office! Otherwise, you could utilize your time and space for some constructive writing, and let us civil servants do the jobs we are paid to do. Besides, don't you think we pay the very same taxes you do?

Sincerely,
V. David Robnett
County Executive Director
Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

Bravo! Your editorial qualifies you for honorary membership in our organization. Our local group, FAT (Fight Against Teachers), is nationally affiliated with HEAD (Help Education Achieve Defeat). I realize that such an intelligent and broad-minded man as you needs no further information, but for the benefit of some of your less well-informed readers, I would like to restate our goals.

1. Undermine education and educators at every opportunity. Most of the attitudes that a youngster will carry into adulthood are learned at home, therefore, we should continually tell our students that school is not important. Sympathize with every bad thing that they tell us about school or teachers and encourage them to look for more faults.

2. Do everything possible to see that education is not considered an honorable profession. After all, doctors have the care of our children's health in their hands, but teachers only care for our children's minds.

3. Keep teachers humble. Everybody knows more about how a child should be educated than does a teacher, so why should we acknowledge their years of training for this important task and pay them accordingly? Inflation is helping us achieve this goal by rising at twice the rate of teachers' pay. Teachers' buying power is less today than it was in 1967.

4. Encourage experienced teachers to drop out of the profession and discourage prospective teachers from entering. Encouraging a defiant and careless attitude in students helps to achieve this goal. Pay scales below those of industry and other professions also helps. Texas now ranks 33rd out of the 50 states in teachers' pay rates, and with the help of Governor Clements and other members of our organization, we hope to drop below the 17 remaining states in the near future. We have already made it necessary for almost all of our male teachers to take a second job or to put their wives to work in order to make ends meet. We should also force teachers, by law, to undergo inservice training, but we should not pay them for the time they spend in this training. After all, they are public servants and they should be willing to donate their time even at the expense of their families. They should not be allowed any workdays without students present in order to grade papers, average grades, make rooms attractive, confer with parents, etc. This work should be done at night or on weekends.

Our organization is achieving more victories daily, and we sincerely appreciate your frequent thrusts in support of our cause.

Still friends,
Mr. & Mrs. Keith Barrick

Dear Editor,

Three cheers and hurrah! I totally agree with your editorial in last week's Leader, especially the part about teachers. Being a teacher myself, I can see that I am "guilty" of the very thing you wrote about, i.e., doing everything I can to "propagate" my job and prove the need for a salary increase.

Well, it's time for a change. This teacher doesn't want to be part of the problem. Our "profession" is a dinosaur, who needs us?! The search for Beauty, Knowledge, Wisdom, Understanding, and Truth can go on forever without us. There is no need to train succeeding generations of chemists, biologists, geologists, doctors, lawyers, mechanics, secretaries, pilots, truck drivers, artists, musicians, teachers, newspaper publishers and editorial writers etc.

So, Mr. Hamilton, here is one teacher who agrees with what you may have been trying to say; that education in the long run is wasteful and unimportant, even though a "few" teachers may be dedicated professionals and be concerned with what they consider our most precious natural resource, the minds of our children!

Sincerely and with intent to act,
R. Mark Cartwright

Some people once believed that mountains were formed by an enormous underground serpent moving about.

As I See It....

One can hardly pick up a newspaper, turn on a radio or television, or sit down in the coffee shop without being exposed to the subject of energy shortage and rising cost of fuel.

It's everywhere! It's everywhere! We're all concerned in this area about the cost of gasoline, while folks in the northern tier of the nation are sweating out heating oil prices.

This has all been coming on for a number of years. It isn't the child of Iran's problems. Some may remember my quoting a Texas Electric Service Company spokesman about five years ago, that gasoline would soon reach a dollar a gallon.

Well, that's the forecast for the future now. Within a year, some say.

Much of the current problem is caused by well-intentioned government interference. And that same government is going to have to make some important decisions in the near future, or the situation could well be real rough.

In an effort to clean up the air around the major cities of the nation, legislation was passed which requires energy-consuming devices to be put on automobile engines to control emissions. That not only cost additional fuel, but did a heck of a job increasing the cost of automobiles and gasoline at the same time.

In the same effort, legislation was passed to control emissions from industrial plants, as well as changing their sources of fuel.

Industries are being forced to switch from coal, which this country has, to heating oil. Really, they can continue to burn coal, if it's low sulphur, and if the plants add "scrubbing" equipment costing millions of dollars to extract the sulphur from the smoke.

So, when many of the industries started switching to heating fuel, they were in direct competition with homeowners where natural gas is not available.

Of course, both these processes cost industry, and these costs had to be passed on to the consumer in higher prices for their products.

As you've probably learned, similar legislation has actually promoted an excess of natural gas here in Texas. The cause was the requirement that all boiler systems are to convert to oil or coal, from natural gas. Now there is gas to spare, I'm told.

The national news media has really picked up on the topic of rationing gasoline, even though energy czar James Schlesinger has assured the American public that rationing would be an avenue of last resort.

Might it be that Schlesinger doesn't like to talk about rationing, since under his direction millions of dollars were spent on printing ration cards three years ago and put into storage just in case they were needed. And now, according to reports, they can't even be used because of a mixup in numbering, and size. Amazing, isn't it?

They're talking about rationing Americans to gallons of gasoline a day. Right away, Bob Bullock, Texas' state comptroller, came up with a comment that such a program would cost Texas about $75 million in lost fuel tax revenues a year and "turn major urban freeways into permanent parking lots."

All the reasons against a gasoline shortage are obvious, but I came up with a thought of another reason. It's unjust to our younger generation.

Consider, now. You are a teenager just arriving at the age where you can drive the family car, or maybe buy your own. You've grown up, admiring your older friends who have had the use of cars, and that's what you've been looking forward to, more than anything else.

Then, all of a sudden, you find that it is virtually impossible to drive, because of a gasoline shortage or the high price. You've been robbed of your dreams.

Any way you look at it, this energy shortage is going to be rough on everybody.

Personnel, ordinance dominate city meeting

Personnel matters highlighted Monday night's Holliday City Council meeting along with adoption of an anti-pornography ordinance. Councilmen met with Betty Sue Willis and James Sellers in executive session to discuss their possible employment with the city. The council also approved $25 monthly salary hikes for Elvin Hoover, water superintendent, and Don Pennington, city police officer. Gil Peters, minister of the Holliday Church of Christ, appeared before the council urging their adoption of an anti-pornography ordinance.

Two weeks ago the council was presented a proposed ordinance that would regulate the sale or exhibition to minors of objectional publications, pictures or articles. The proposed ordinance was accompanied by petitions bearing the names of 139 persons who endorsed its adoption.

After making changes in the penalty clause, the ordinance was adopted Monday night.

Violation of the ordinance will be punishable by a fine of not less than $50 and not more than $200.

In other action Monday night the council passed a resolution joining the Water Quality Management Plan for the Red River Study Area, and abled action on a one per cent sales tax on residential natural gas and electric bills.

A delegation of residents approached the council concerning repairs to Oak Street, and the council approved water service to C.D. Ayres east of the city.

Four named All District

Four Lady Eagles landed on the 13-A All-District roundball team, said coach Cotton Davis.

Mindy Lowder headlined the Holliday group by being named to the first team.

Kristi Lucy and Donna McGill were named to the second team, and Tommy Lavender was named honorable mention.

BOOK FAIR—Connie York, Holliday school librarian, and Ann Bills, Holliday PTA member, exhibit some of the volumes in a book fair during Tuesday night's school open house. The PTA sponsored the project designed to boost the number of books in the school libraries through purchases and donations.

Fund raising auction set

Holliday Cemetery Association is planning to hold an auction May 5 to help finance the erection of a new fence around the cemetery.

A dozen members of the association met last Friday night to discuss the auction to be held in the building next to Holi-Text Supply.

Excluding clothing, donations for the auction are being solicited by association members. Persons with donations may contact association members at 586-1620, 586-1142, 586-1518, 586-1443, 586-1328 or 586-1403.

Next association meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. April 23. Association memberships are available for $1 annually. The group now has 84 members.

Mankins and Ayres both have filed for re-election.

Other school board candidates are James Sellers, Tommy Sadberry, Larry Finnell, Jo Bynum, Sammy Lawson and Charlotte Johnson.

The only uncontested race is for Place 3 on the city council. Incumbent Jim Virdell has filed for re-election to that post.

Incumbent Melvin Bills will be challenged by Jimmy Willis for the Place 1 seat.

Incumbent Mary Denney will face Bettye O. Tanner and Leon Addison in the Place 4 race.

The most populated city council race is for Place 5. Apparently incumbent Fred Maier does not intend to file for re-election, explaining the large number of hopefuls who have filed.

Place 5 candidates include Hershel McDaniel, John A. Goforth, Rodney Hodgkins and J.B. Burk. City council and school board elections will be April 7.

Fire protection meeting subject

Seymour Highway residents located west of the Wichita Falls city limits and east of the Holliday city limits will meet tonight to discuss fire protection, according to Dan Owen.

Any residents in that area are invited to meet at 7:30 tonight at the Adams New Supply Building located east of the Kamay Y and south of Seymour Highway.

Primary topic of discussion will be possible methods of securing a fire truck for residents in that area, Owen said.

"All persons living in that area are urged to attend," Owen said.

Mrs. Nellie Crampton of Holliday and Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Fancher of Wichita Falls are the grandparents, and Mrs. Bessie Fancher of Wichita Falls is the great-grandmother.

Water topic of Finnell

Water resources for the future and upcoming tax relief legislation were the main topics concerning Rep. Charles Finnell during last week's state legislative activity.

Rep. Finnell is sponsoring the Red River Compact Bill, HB 1331, which seeks to ratify the Red River Compact tentatively approved between the states of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas in May of 1978.

"The Red River Compact is a permanent, major compromise which will allow for the orderly progress of water development plans in the Red River Basin area without the intervention of the U.S. Supreme Court," Finnell said.

bill has been referred to the House Committee on Natural Resources.

Regarding the tax relief amendment which was passed by voters in last November's election, Finnell noted that the tax relief legislation bill should reach the house floor by Monday.

"A top priority of mine this session is the passage of legislation implementing the tax relief amendment for the benefit of taxpayers in the 53rd District, and the State of Texas as a whole," Finnell said.

Finnell stated that forthcoming actions on tax relief and other matters of importance to the district would be followed closely by his office as they develop.

The plan also allows for equitable apportionment of water among the four states involved in the compact, as well as water pollution and conservation programs.

Fruit seminar on tap

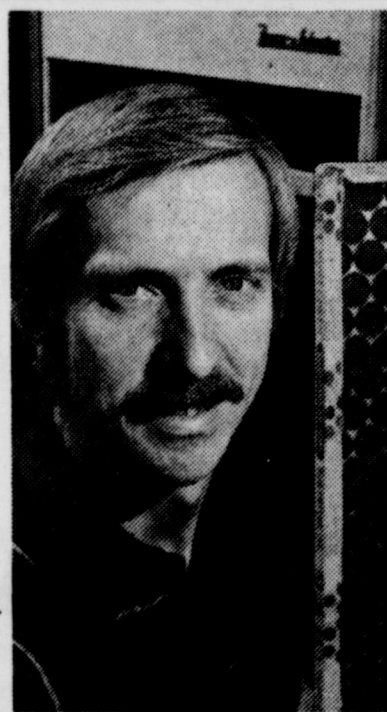

A Home Fruit Orchard Seminar is scheduled for 7 p.m. on Friday in room 101 of the science building at Midwestern State University. The purpose of this event is to assist home gardeners in selecting and caring for fruits adapted to this area.

Variety selection and recommended cultural practices for fruits in the home landscape will be presented by Dr. Sammy Helmers, Extension horticulturist. His information will cover peaches, plums, apricots, pears, apples, sour cherries, figs, persimmons, and small fruits such as grapes and berries.

Many of these fruits are highly susceptible to insect damage. The control of home fruit insects will be given by Emory Boring, Extension entomologist. He will show how to use control measures without contaminating the fruit.

There are several herbicides available which can make tree care a lot easier for the home gardener.

Recreation Activities Center offering courses

Disco dancing, silk flower making, first aid and a flea market include activities at the Recreation Activity Center.

FIRST AID

A multi-media first aid course tonight will begin being offered at the RAC.

The course will be offered from 7-10 p.m. Thursdays at the RAC.

"There are a few openings left in this three session course," said Kenn Kuckenbecker, RAC director.

The course will include written and practical examinations and a certificate will be awarded by the Red Cross upon satisfactory completion.

SILK FLOWERS

Another class in silk flower making is being planned, contingent on interest shown. It would be offered Monday evenings. Cost would be $15 for RAC members and $17 for non-members.

The course would consist of four two-hour classes with a different flower being demonstrated at each session. All materials would be furnished. Deadline for registering is March 16.

DISCO DANCING

A new disco dance class is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. March 20 at the RAC.

The course would consist of six lessons lasting an hour and 15 minutes each. Cost will be $10 for members and $12 for non-members. Deadline for registration is March 17.

FLEA MARKET

The RAC has scheduled a flea market for April 28. Donations for items to be sold and booth rentals are being accepted.

Registration for classes or additional information on any of the events may be had by contacting Kuckenbecker at the RAC, 304 E. Texas, or by calling 592-4471 from 2-9 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays or from 6-10 p.m. Fridays and Saturdays.

Obituaries

Mrs. Lydia Hudson

Services for Mrs. Lydia Hudson, 80, a 60-year resident of Iowa Park, were Monday afternoon in First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Mike Jackson officiating.

Burial was in Highland Cemetery under direction of Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Wayne House, Miles Thompson, Otis Gay, Jay Farmer, Gene Owens and Bill Robinson.

Born Oct. 3, 1898 in Jack County, Mrs. Hudson was a retired nurse. She was a member of First United Methodist Church.

She is survived by one daughter, Johnie (Mrs. Harroll) Brown of Iowa Park; three granddaughters, Sherrie Nicks of Amarillo, Jeri McCann of Wichita Falls and Tracy Friday of Iowa Park; a brother, Rev. Frank Smith of Waco; a sister, Mrs. Lenora Clingman of Wichita Falls; and two great-grandchildren.

Shower fetes bride elect

Miss Sheryl Posey, bride-elect of Bruce Hammonds, was honored at a lingerie shower Monday evening. Miss Judy Aulds was hostess for the courtesy. Blue and white, colors that will be emphasized in the couple's wedding Saturday evening, governed decorations in the party suite and on the refreshment table which was covered with white lace over blue.

The centerpiece featured five white candles based with white daisies tied with blue ribbons. The white sheet cake was divided into squares centered with blue frosting rosettes.

The honoree was presented with a corsage of white silk flowers trimmed with blue silk streamers. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. C.B. Posey, in unwrapping her gifts.

VICA students earn placings

Several students in the Iowa Park High Building Trades class earned honors at the District II Vocational Industrial Club of America contest held last weekend at Hurst.

Of seven contestants who entered from Iowa Park, three earned firsts, and the other four were placed second.

Scott Hartgrove was a first place winner with his coffee table entry, as were Earl Bennet, hope chest with drawers, and Dickie Ashton, six-sided table.

The winners qualified to enter the state contest at Houston April 5-7.

Placing second were Jeff Nolen, entertainment center; Dale McCreary, gun cabinet; Ron Taylor, book shelf; and Darwayne Wilson, coffee table.
