Tornado blows gym bid out of reach

Iowa Park school trustees took a stunning blow last week on bids to build the high school gymnasium, and decided to take a wait-and-see attitude on whether to re-advertise for more bids.

Also at the Thursday meeting, which was postponed from the regular meeting date in order to receive bids, trustees also wanted additional time of a proposal to give five office employees a $1,000 annual salary increase.

Trustees felt there was no question that the tornado in Wichita Falls the week before had affected both the number of bids and the amount bid for building the second gym at the high school.

Though officials said interest had been running high among contractors before the tornado struck the neighboring city, only one contractor submitted a bid by opening date.

Bill Buchanan submitted a bid of $298,000, which was said to be approximately $75,000 higher than the most liberal estimate made by the architect.

The bid was for a concrete slab, steel frame and walls, all electrical work, insulation, site work and roughed-in plumbing. As an alternate, the bid form called for concrete block walls, and Buchanan's bid on that option was $320,000.

"We were having a lot of activity (from prospective bidders) when we first started. In fact, I was getting concerned about how many sets of plans we were going to have to print. But after the tornado, there just wasn't any (interest)," commented Don Daugherty, architect on the project.

He said the Monday before the tornado it looked like eight or 10 contractors were going to bid on the project.

Board members voted to reject the bid, and wait a few months before advertising for bids on the gym again. They had wanted the structure shell ready by opening of school next fall, where physical education classes could be held.

SALARY INCREASES

Trustees approved salary increases for building maintenance and custodial personnel, bus drivers and cafeteria personnel, but they wanted more time to consider how much salary increase they would give five workers in the business and tax office.

New salaries approved included hourly rates of $6.10 for the head maintenance position, $6.05 for first assistant, $5.75 and $5.50 for maintenance workers, $4.10 to $4.60 for building custodians, $4.10 for athletic complex maintenance, and $4 for substitutes.

Cafeteria employees were raised from $2.75 to $3 per hour, and managers from $3.65 to $3.85.

Salary increases for bus drivers varied from $5 monthly to $50. New salary schedule includes: route 1, $300; route 2, $300; route 3, $260; route 4, $300; route 5, $260; route 8, $320; route 9, $265; and route 10, $340.

Estimated increase in cafeteria salaries was $8,190 and $2,500 for transportation.

While making his cafeteria report, Bill Steger told trustees it has become very evident that rates for meals would have to be increased next year. He blamed minimum wages and food costs, and mentioned it had been about four or five years since the last meal fee hike.

BOARD REORGANIZES

After canvassing election results, trustee J.O. McCullough administered the oath of office to Bill Spruiell, Martha Dudley and Roy Boutwell, who had been declared winners.

Spruiell, McCullough and Dudley were re-elected to the offices they held last year, president, vice president and secretary respectively.

Board members approved a proposal setting hearing dates for the tax equalization board, 2 p.m. July 23 for oil and related industry, and 9 a.m. July 24 for local property, both meetings in the administration building.

Named to the equalization board were Clarence Mahler, Connie Rowell and Bud Mercer, all of whom served on the board last year.

In reporting on the transportation department, Steger said fuel had been in adequate supply, but was costing 57.7 cents per gallon, 12 cents more than at the start of school. The March fuel bill was $2,200, he said.

SUMMER SCHOOL

Bob Dawson, high school principal, said the teaching load for one teacher and an aide was too great in the summer school classes which have been offered here the past few years.

With one teacher instructing grades seven through 11 in both math and English, all in the same room, the teacher could not afford enough time for proper instruction, and he recommended increasing the instructors or eliminating the program.

Should the board approve more teachers, Dawson recommended the fee be increased accordingly.

"The teacher does the best job possible under the circumstances, but it's just not satisfactory. But we should charge enough so we can have adequate teachers to make it (summer courses) worthwhile," Dawson told the board.

Dawson said he would have a feel of how many students would be attending summer school at the next board meeting, and could then recommend how many teachers would be needed and how much to charge per student.

Another recommendation expected from Dawson at the next meeting is how much cutback should be made in student extracurricular activities.

He told board members that extracurricular activities have continued to increase over the years to a point where they were interfering with student classroom instruction.

To show his point, he told the board of having 30 percent of the student body away from campus on various activities on the same day six weeks tests were scheduled. Another point made was having 13 teachers away on trips with students on a single day. He said on some days, rooms with 25 to 30 students on normal days would have as few as seven to 10, making instruction impossible.

The principal blamed no particular activity or organization, but said it was just a problem overall which should be looked into by the board.

CITY-WIDE

Clean-up Week starts Monday

Iowa Park's annual clean-up week will begin Monday and climax May 5, according to Keith Aulds, chairman.

The event is sponsored each year by the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce.

Residents and businesses are encouraged by the Chamber to clean up their property during clean-up week. Residents with items too large to be picked up in normal trash service can call the Chamber office to schedule it being picked up.

On the final day, Saturday, volunteers will gather at the Chamber office at 8:30 a.m. and be assigned to various areas of public properties, such as roadsides and parks, to be cleaned.

Volunteers can call the Chamber office during the week to give Aulds an indication of how much help he will have Saturday.

TIME CHANGE NEARS - Time change in Texas will officially take place at 2 a.m. Sunday, which may create a few problems for Kathy Nault and her hour glass. Unless you want to be late for church Sunday, set your clocks ahead an hour when you go to bed Saturday night. But don't fret over the lost hour of sleep. You'll gain it back when the time changes again next fall.

Aldermen take action to speed up trains

City aldermen Monday night passed an ordinance shortening the time for a railroad train to pass through the city, approved hiring an intern to help in the city office on a temporary basis, and gave a business 30 days to remove equipment from city-owned land.

The meeting was initiated with two aldermen being sworn into office following the recent election. Administering the oath to Bill Gilmore and George Hammonds was O.N. Newman, city attorney.

Following a train-car accident here last year, the council passed an ordinance requiring trains to reduce their speed through town to a maximum of 15 miles per hour.

Because the railroad company has been exceptionally cooperative not only in speed restriction but in cleaning its property for proper care, according to Mayor Johnny Crawford, an ordinance was proposed to shorten a train's time passing through the city.

The ordinance, which was approved, permits the train to resume normal speed once the engine has reached the last grade crossing. The engine must maintain the required 15MPH at each crossing, but once it reaches the last crossing, it can start speeding up, rather than waiting for the end of the train to clear the city limits.

Aldermen also approved a resolution permitting Mayor Crawford to sign an agreement with Midwestern State University to hire a graduate student majoring in political science under an intern program. The work would apply to the student's graduation requirements.

The student, David Lewis, will work four months, and receive $250 per month. Steve Morath, city administrator, said he would use Lewis primarily in preparing data to be used for next year's budget.

Morath explained the student would have the time to do lengthy, in-depth studies of costs for each department which he would not have time because of normal workload. He said the information would be beneficial to the aldermen when preparing their budget for the coming year.

BUSINESS MOVING

The meeting climaxed a problem which has faced the council more than two years.

Carl Catlin's Well Cementing business has been reported repeatedly to the council for having faulty equipment which permitted cement dust to spread over the neighborhood. Virgil Woodfin, who lives near the plant, has been the complainant.

Catlin's business has been on city property for a number of years, and two years ago, after complaints had been registered, Catlin agreed to a continuing three-month lease with the provision he would keep the dust within the equipment.

Due to an oversight, the lease ran out in March of 1978, and Catlin was never sent a contract, he told the council. So, as Mayor Crawford pointed out, the city never had a signed contract, nor its lease money.

Catlin acknowledged he had received a letter informing him he must halt his operations of the plant April 12. But following the letter, a load of cement was hauled here, and he was given permission to have it unloaded.

But Catlin said he was stopped from unloading it, costing about $5,000 in business per week, and he would have to get the cement out before he could move the equipment. He said he plans to relocate on FM 367.

Catlin was given 30 days to unload the cement and have the equipment cleared from city property, and he agreed that would give him adequate time.

In other business, aldermen approved changing the city's pay policy for personnel; agreed to schedule a tour of all city facilities in the next couple of weeks; and scheduled for topics for the next meeting the receiving of bids for remodeling the city hall and whether to permit TV Cable of Iowa Park to extend its service to the police department at no cost to the city.

First step taken for disaster plan

The first step toward developing a comprehensive disaster preparedness and action plan for Iowa Park was taken during an informal meeting following Monday's city council meeting.

Bud Thompson, who has been appointed Civil Defense coordinator for the city, met with members of the council and other visitors to outline his plan of organization.

Thompson is following a format of disaster preparedness prepared by the Department of Public Safety.

Pointing out the areas of responsibility and naming individuals he proposes to head most of them, Thompson said he would contact each of those he named and hold a second meeting, at 7:30 p.m. May 7 in council chambers.

The meeting is to be attended by invitation only, according to Thompson, due to the earliness of organization and limits of seating in the building. He will call for a meeting of volunteers in the future.

The plan will call for various types of action by the committees depending on what disaster takes place. Though it is primarily in case a tornado should strike the city, it will also take into account all types of disasters, from major fires and hazardous material catastrophes to nuclear explosions.

Sidney Smith, county civil defense coordinator, complimented Thompson's plan after it was outlined, and said the community will be well ahead of most once it is organized and ready for action should such a need arise.

Smith also spoke in favor of involving as many citizens as possible, both to develop the help needed in disaster situations, as well as developing city-wide interest in such a program.

PARALLEL PARKING? - The unfortunate owner of this vehicle left the car's engine running while he was shopping at a business along the 100 block of West Park Monday afternoon. The car mysteriously became engaged in the reverse gear, backed out of the parking slot, cut a half moon, jumped the curb and finally came to rest in this position only a few feet from the store fronts. No persons nor buildings were struck by the vehicle.

Locals contribute to Easter Seal

Contributions to the Easter Seal Mail Appeal and Telethon from Iowa Park total $1,414.50 to date.

Of this $747.50 has been pledged to the Easter Seal Telethon, and $720 has come from the mail-in appeal.

Iowa Park Easter Seal Chairman, Bob Birk, is pleased that people are continuing to send in contributions. He expressed his appreciation to the Epsilon Eta Chapter Members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha for their efforts in coordinating the Mail Appeal and the Iowa Park Easter Seal Telethon Pledge Center.

All money raised goes toward operation of the North Texas Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center in Wichita Falls where handicapped children and adults from an eight-county area receive therapy.

The grand total raised to date in the eight-county Easter Seal Appeal this year is $79,981. Mail-in contributions to date total $20,010. $24,652 has been received so far of the $32,643 which was pledged during the Telethon. In Wichita Falls, an Easter Seal Special Gifts Appeal was conducted which totals $35,319.

Betty Wages, executive director of the rehabilitation center, said the facility's budget this year is $321,401. "We are most appreciative of all the help we have received in raising money to meet our expenses," she said.

Children and adults receive therapy at the center for such handicapping conditions as cerebral palsy, strokes, hearing disorders, learning disabilities, speech problems, arthritis, and laryngectomies.

Birk is a member of the Board of Directors of the rehabilitation center.

4-H Clubs set Omelette Rodeo

The Wichita County 4-H clubs are sponsoring an Omelette Rodeo, Friday from 5:30 - 8:30 p.m. at the Iowa Park Junior High.

Tickets are $2.25 and this includes a three egg omelette with choice of either ham, cheese, or jalapeno pepper, with salad, toast, and tea.

Advance tickets are available at the County Extension Office, 1626 Midwestern Pkwy. Tickets are also available at the door. Proceeds go to support 4-H activities during the year.

Cook of the Week

Kathy (Mrs. Jack) Richardson, owner of Iowa Park's newest business, The Goodie Shop, is indeed a very busy person taking care of her business which is open six days per week and her duties as a homemaker, wife and mother.

Her hobbies are arts and crafts and cooking. In planning her menus, she relies a lot on recipes that are easy and quick to prepare and salads. She shares four of her salad recipes with us this week; two fruit and two vegetable salads.

One of her vegetable salad recipes is Kraut Salad. Kraut has been around for many years. Some 2,000 years ago, laborers at work on the 1,500 mile Great Wall of China were fed a diet of rice and cabbage pickled with wine to preserve it - the first sauerkraut. Genghis Khan brought it from China to Europe where it was preserved with salt instead of wine - a thousand years later. When Captain James Cook, who discovered Hawaii, set sail in the 1770's he served daily portions of sauerkraut to his men.

A graduate of Vernon High School and Draughon's Business College in Wichita Falls, Mrs. Richardson and her husband moved to Iowa Park nine years ago. He works for London Martin Construction Co. She has worked for TG&Y Store in Iowa Park. They attend Faith Baptist Church. They have two daughters, Dori, a high school freshman, and Jennifer, three years old.

Sorority plans project

A national goal of $1,000,000 has been set by Epsilon Sigma Alpha International to benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tenn., according to Mrs. Kennie Jones, chairman of Epsilon Eta's Circle of Life project. In support of the nationwide effort, Epsilon Eta is sponsoring "The Great Texas Holdup", which will consist of a balloon release and CB Coffee Break May 5 at the rest area west of Iowa Park on 287.

In cooperation with the ESA chapters in Texas, Epsilon Eta will release many colorful balloons at 12 noon May 5 at the rest area. The date was selected because it coincides with the traditional ESA Founders Day celebration and it is also Cinco de Mayo, (fifth of May) a Mexican holiday celebrated in parts of Texas. The CB coffee break will run from 1 to 5 p.m. Donations will be accepted for the refreshments and all money received will go to benefit St. Jude's Hospital.

New officers are elected

A program "Mexico in the Summer" was presented through the use of slides and narration by Mrs. Sam Hunter for the Iowa Park Lioness Club in a meeting held at her home Tuesday evening. Mrs. D.O. James was co-hostess.

Mrs. W.E. Karstetter used "Cure for Fear" for the title of a devotion and Mrs. James read a poem by Emily Dickinson for the arts number.

During the business, officers for 1979-80 were elected. Included in the slate were Mmes. Hunter, president; Keith Aulds, vice president; Homer Blalock, secretary and reporter; L.E. Brooks, corresponding secretary; Sam Hill, Lioness tamer; James, tail twistess and chaplain; Hill, Blalock and Karstetter, directors. Mrs. Hunter appointed Mrs. Faris Nowell historian and Mrs. Karstetter parliamentarian.

It was voted to climax the year's activities with a covered dish supper May 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks.

Celebrating its 50th anniversary, Epsilon Sigma Alpha International has pledged to raise $1,000,000 for the hospital. This is the sorority's biggest fund-raising effort in that the money will be raised within 12 months. "The goal for this year is a 100 per cent increase over the amount raised last year", Mrs. Jones said.

St. Jude Children's Hospital is devoted to the research and treatment of child-related cancer and other catastrophic diseases. Founded in 1962 by Danny Thomas, the hospital offers total medical care (without cost) to children without regard to race, creed or religion. ESA International has raised $2,000,000 for the hospital since 1972.

Beginning in 1929, ESA has been devoting its energies to benefit mankind through its volunteer efforts. Thirty thousand women in 1700 chapters make up the organization.

The Rewarding Rack
Windfall Wonders! $1⁰⁰

Worth Quoting

We watched and listened to President Carter Thursday night while surrounded with stacks of documents, bills paid, receipts, and all the other guff needed for preparation of an income tax return.

And when the President turned for a moment from the nation's desperation over soaring oil prices to talk about "windfall profits" of the oil companies we wanted to throw up.

As pap to the northeastern portion of the country, the president wants to tap any "windfall" profits accruing to the oil companies over deregulation of crude oil.

Windfall to the average American

And if anyone in this country ought to know about "windfall" it's the federal government. The president did not get around to the fact that Uncle Sam will benefit much more from windfall profits than will the oil companies.

After all expenses are paid by a company, that which remains theoretically is profit...and Uncle Sam steps in and takes roughly half of any profit made by any company, oil or otherwise. That should leave 25 percent, right? Wrong. When the company pays out dividends to its owners or stockholders, Uncle Sam is waiting in the wings to tap the same dollar again and take away another slice from the hands of the stockholder.

And if the stockholder manages to salt any of his dividends away in savings, Uncle Sam is again awaiting to take still another bite out of interest earned on savings.

In other words, Uncle Sam hits the same dollar three times with income taxes. Then our president has the gall to talk about windfall profits.

The federal treasury, along with the treasuries of the state, county, and school district will be the biggest winner of any hike in the domestic price of oil.

And since inflation pushes everyone into higher and higher brackets each year, Uncle Sam has been the recipient of more windfall money than any company or individual in history.

We feel about like that old boy who left instructions in his will for his body to be cremated, the ashes swept into a shoe box, and the package mailed to the Internal Revenue Service with the enclosed message: "Now you got it all!"

Humor 'n Whimsey

Fred seemed capable of forgiving Celeste for anything she did. Well, almost anything. The only thing she did, which really upset him, was to conduct her weekly garage sale.

Of course when you come right down to it -- they weren't really sales. Because she didn't sell the stuff she piled in her carport, each Friday, for cash.

Celeste thought money was crass. Anything piled in her driveway on Friday was bartered for trading stamps. When Monday arrived, she generally had enough books of stamps to visit the redemption center and trade them in for anything from a table lamp to an electric razor for Fred.

She finally reached a point in her bartering that worried him. That is, he got worried when he returned from an out-of-town sales trip to learn Celeste had put his grandfather's heirloom watch on the stack of items up for trade.

He grabbed the watch and shoved it into his pocket. Celeste knew he was displeased. The entire weekend passed in total silence. Monday morning he gave her a perfunctory peck on the cheek and left for his weekly sales trip.

By the time he was at the city limits he was tempted to stop. It suddenly occurred to him his woodworking tools were in a locked closet in the carport. But, then he laughed at his fears.

"Celeste wouldn't trade my woodworking tools," he told himself. "Of course not. It's foolish to even think about it."

But doubt crept into his mind with each mile of highway he covered. By Friday morning he couldn't hold back the doubt any longer. He finished packing his clothes for the trip home and then called Celeste. After the usual chit-chat about his week on the road he asked the question which was on his mind.

"Honey," he said hesitantly. "You wouldn't trade my woodworking tools for stamps, would you?"

Celeste laughed.

"Of course not, silly."

Then she bid him goodbye, hung up the telephone and went to the carport where she took the tools off the stack of bartering material.

Students to compete in state UIL meet

Two students have qualified for the May 4-5 state University Interscholastic League literary meet in Austin.

Competing in the Region I competition at Odessa last week, Jeff Shaw placed second in persuasive speaking and Jo Lyn Duckette was third in shorthand.

As I See It....

A few years ago, I did a column about how dumb I thought snake hunts were and how I'd never go on one. Of course, I caught all kinds of comments from those who enjoy such an activity, but I've never changed my mind.

I don't like snakes, any part of them, and hunting them is dumb.

Now I've come up with a hunt I think I'd enjoy, and would be every bit as beneficial as the harvesting of rattlers.

Let's start holding annual skunk hunts.

Skunks, as you probably already know, are the major carriers of rabies. They cause a problem which comes right into our yards here in town and are certainly dangerous in the rural areas.

A recent report from the state indicates rabies cases in Texas were at an all-time high in 1978, and the first quarter of this year is running ahead of the same period last year.

One confirmed rabid skunk was killed on the outskirts of Iowa Park last month, which is considered way early for this time of year. Montague County has reported seven confirmed cases. Brown County 13 and Grayson County 17.

The skunk bites the dog, the dog bites the human, and we've got a real and serious problem.

One authority reports that the instance of rabies is greater when there is an overpopulation of skunks, for some reason.

So why not hold down the skunk population?

Well, some do-good outfit, individual or governmental body would probably come up with reasons why skunks shouldn't be killed.

We'd probably raise a big stink if we killed off the skunk population in this area.

Maybe some of our local, energetic hunters will get something going on skunk hunting. Heck, maybe the Chamber of Commerce will get some national publicity about Iowa Park hosting the world's largest annual Skunk Hunt.

Letters to the Editor

Bob,

The Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Dept. is proud of the way people showed up at our fire station and offered their help in the wake of April 10's devastating tornado. Each day as we prepared to send a crew to Wichita Falls, Iowa Park people of all ages came by to volunteer their assistance. This just shows what a fine community we live in, and how our neighbors are willing to help anyone whenever the need arises.

We also want everyone to know that Danny Skinner, Fire Chief of Iowa Park, had crews out spotting the clouds coming into Iowa Park and just minutes after the tornado touched down in Wichita Falls, had a crew and equipment from the Fire Department rolling to Wichita Falls. He coordinated the people from Iowa Park in search and rescue, made sure that people were standing by at our fire station because of the water shortage, and stayed on the job coordinating his people in Wichita Falls, and Iowa Park for several days. We are proud of Danny and the job he did and will continue to do to serve his community.

Again, thanks to everyone for their assistance and each one of us can be thankful for the kind of concerned people who live in Iowa Park. Paul Shea, President Carl Davis, Asst. Chief Richard Logan, Captain Members of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Dept.

Alderman post run-off added to special election

The Holliday City Council Monday night called a run-off election for the Place 5 council post to be held in conjunction with a special mayor's race May 22.

The council also voted to dissolve discounted water billings, hired a new city attorney and adopted a resolution that will require homeowners to place their garbage containers in front of their homes for street pick-up.

The first item on the agenda was to canvass the April 7 election results. A total of 367 Holliday residents cast votes.

Jimmy Willis won the Place 1 seat with 237, Jim Virdell took the Place 3 post with 169 and Leon Addison won the Place 4 slot with 146 votes.

Virdell, Addison and Willis were sworn into office by County Judge Bill Holder, who presided over the election of officers.

Virdell was re-elected mayor pro-tem and councilman Mike Parker was re-elected treasurer to serve until the special election.

The council voted to hold the Place 5 council run-off election between Rodney Hodgkins and John Goforth in conjunction with the special mayor's election May 22. Hodgkins and Goforth each received 123 votes in the regular election for Place 5.

Candidates who filed for election to the mayor's post include Mary Nell Killian, Leo Chappell, Mary Denney and Tom Hall.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

On a motion by Willis, the council unanimously voted to begin requiring Holliday residents to place their garbage containers in front of their homes for street trash collection.

The primary argument for the change was to lessen wear on the trash truck traveling down muddy alleys and to avoid confusion during wet weather.

The change will become effective Monday.

The council also voted to abolish discounted water billings for those previously on a "welfare" list.

Effective for the May billings, all customers inside the city will be charged the $6.15 minimum. The change will affect nine accounts.

The council set May 19 as the annual animal rabies clinic. A veterinarian will be at city hall from 9 a.m. - 1 p.m. to vaccinate dogs and cats for a $5 charge.

Disgruntled with the performance of the previous city attorney, the council voted to use the legal services of James Cook of Holliday, who is with the Wichita Falls legal firm of Smith and Douglas. His first assignment was to Holliday's dog ordinance.

Councilmen also voted to purchase a check writer for $79.95 and accepted the $200 bid by Bob Bryant to paint the inside of city hall.

ATHLETIC STANDOUTS HONORED TUESDAY NIGHT
...Two dozen Holliday athletes recognized at sports banquet

Holliday's top athletes honored

Two dozen of Holliday High School's top athletes received special honors Tuesday night during the annual all sports banquet.

Among male contenders, Dennis Holt was named the best all-around athlete, while Kristi Lucy received the same honor from among the school's female sports figures.

Breaking from tradition on several occasions, six of the awards were shared by more than one athlete as testimony to the athletic program here and the wealth of talent available to the coaching staff.

One of the largest rounds of applause came when coach Cody West presented the award for outstanding track girl to the varsity sprint relay team who earned a berth in the state finals track meet. Members are Nancy O'Neal, Cathy Halencak, Suzan Dillard and Laura Holt.

For the award for best defensive lineman in football, the award was shared by Dennis Holt and Kent Lemons.

James Porter and Rusty McDaniel shared the award for best back in football, while Steve Parnell and Doug Stevens split the honor for best lineman in football.

The honor for best academic athlete was shared by Katie Williams and Stanley Craddock, and Larry Denney and Barry Lawson jointly were named ideal athlete.

For the third consecutive year Gerry Graves was named outstanding in boys track.

Also presented awards by the coaching staff were:

Ellen Parker, volleyball; Mike Haggerty, golf; Mark Wells, tennis; Kirk Styles, most valuable boys basketball; Kent Lemons, Fighting Heart boys basketball; Tommylu Lavender, most valuable guard girls basketball; Minday Lowder, outstanding forward girls basketball; Kirk Styles, boys basketball king; Tommylu Lavender, girls basketball queen; Gerry Graves, best defensive back football.

In addition to the expected annual awards, several special "thank you" gifts were presented.

Gary McKay, manager of the Eagles, received a gift from the varsity football players, who also gifted the cheerleaders.

The cheerleaders presented gifts to their sponsors, De Cottrell and Kay Lucy, and to the head cheerleader, DeDe Leonard. Members of the coaching staff received humorous statues relating to their particular sports by the Booster Club.

Speaker at Tuesday night's catered banquet in the high school gymnasium was Burton Lawless of the Dallas Cowboys. He was introduced by Don Lucy, head coach and athletic director. Coach Bill Lee was master of ceremonies.

Invocation was offered by Larry Denney, and Stanley Craddock gave the benediction.

First step taken for disaster plan

Melvin Bills was appointed Monday night by the Holliday City Council to serve a two-year term as director of a civil defense unit here.

Bills, who will have the authority to appoint persons to head specific phases of disaster relief, said he plans to have regular meetings to insure Holliday would be prepared to handle a disaster should it occur.

He said he had researched the cost and possible placement of warning sirens. He said the equipment most suitable to Holliday's needs would cost about $18,000 plus installation. That would include three sirens placed geographically in Holliday.

Bills said Holliday would be eligible for a 50 per cent matching grant, but that governmental red tape and paper work could delay installation for two to three years. He indicated additional government grant requirements would consume whatever savings the city might be able to realize by requesting the funds.

The new civil defense director advocated securing a Farmers Home Administration loan so that the sirens could be purchased and installed within a few months.

Bills said his first project would be to complete the necessary paper work so that Holliday's civil defense unit will be recognized by the Federal Civil Defense.

Holliday residents last Friday night began considering methods of implementing a civil defense unit here.

Mark Wilson, Wichita Falls civil defense director, recounted the events surrounding the tornado that struck Wichita Falls on April 10. He also explained that city's civil defense framework and how some of those plans might be altered to fit Holliday's needs.

Wilson said Wichita Falls had not made adequate plans for alternate communications during the power failure, water for medical care facilities and how to distribute outside help.

Holliday residents must be willing to accept the responsibility of a civil defense unit and be willing to pay for what it costs to prepare the city for a disaster, Wilson said. He said Holliday residents must be willing to sustain support of a civil defense program.

He said Holliday would need to designate a city official to sit at the top of the civil defense structure, someone in which authority could be vested.

Holliday needs a system or warning, Wilson said.

Wilson credited Wichita Falls' warning system which is coordinated with the National Weather Service in only 44 persons being killed in the tornado in Wichita Falls.

He emphasized the value of amateur radio operators, who work with the National Weather Service in spotting and reporting threatening weather conditions.

One of the primary items Wilson stressed was a need for an organizational framework where certain persons would be responsible for specific areas of disaster assistance.

Although Holliday would depend on Wichita Falls and other governmental agencies in other towns for medical care and other auxiliary aid, Holliday needs an organization so it could control the resources made available in time of disaster, Wilson said.

He said Holliday need not worry about help being made available. The problem faced in Wichita Falls was how to effectively dispatch the relief help.

Organization is the key to direction and control, Wilson said.

Hawks 4th in district meet

Iowa Park's Hawks finished in fourth place in the District 4AAA track and field championships here Saturday.

Three Hawks qualified for the regional meet, to be held Saturday at Odessa. Two of them went to the region last year, and for one, it's his third trip.

Vernon fought off Mineral Wells for the district team title, with 125 points, while the Rams earned 111. Graham's 92 points placed the defending champion Steers third. Burkburnett had 57, Hirschi 22 and Weatherford 21.

Hawk weightman Kip Fuller led all mean Green thinclads in point earning, capturing first place in both the discus and shot put.

Fuller was figured to have the best chance of the field to establish a new record. He had thrown 171 two weeks earlier at Amarillo, well above the 156-4 standard set by P.D. Shabay of Graham back in 1964. But the winds hindered, instead of helping, and the senior Hawk could reach no further than 153-0.

His distance with the shot was more than four feet beyond the second place finisher. Fuller's first place put was 55-8, slightly under the 56-9 district record set in 1966 by Warren Hart of Breckenridge.

Fuller won the district discus title last year with a 154-3, when Iowa Park finished in seventh place among district teams. As a sophomore he placed second in district, 138-1, but came roaring back to win the region championship with 162.

Should he qualify first or second at Odessa Saturday, he will be back in Austin for the state track meet for the third time. Many athletes feel qualifying for the state meet once in their careers is a major accomplishment.

Returning to the regional meet for the second time with Fuller is miler Anthony Crittenden.

Also a senior, Crittenden has become a shadow of Burkburnett's Andrew Daniel, as he has never beaten the Bulldog distance runner. They finished first and second in 1977, also.

In the district meet Saturday, Crittenden ran a 4:31.2, about four seconds slower than his record set earlier this year. Daniel ran a 4:30.1.

Crittenden, who won the freshman mile four years ago, 5:02.7, the year no varsity Hawk qualified for the region, qualified for the region as a junior with a 4:33.30 clocking.

The third Hawk headed for Odessa is high jumper Dennis Dillard, another senior. Dillard broke a height he has been fighting all season, 6-2, and went out after clearing 6-6.

Though he had to settle for second place to Graham's Kyle Haerne, he said he was happy to get out of his 6-2 rut.

Dillard was officially given 6-5 for the record.

because Haerne's jump was measured at 6-6 after his final jump. But the standard was set at 6-6 when Dillard jumped, and 6-7 when Haerne made his winning leap.

This will be the first year Iowa Park has gone west for the regional meet, and contrary to conflicting news stories, the Hawks will be in Odessa Saturday for the Region I championships, not Denton.

Athletes placing first or second at regional qualify for the state meet in Austin May 11-12. Since there are four regions in the state, no qualifying races are held, and eight athletes in each event are in the finals.

Iowa Park's freshman team finished in third place Saturday behind Vernon, 170, Graham, 106, Iowa Park 67, Mineral Wells, 57, Weatherford, 51, and Burkburnett, 43.

Looking for Help?

We have students available for part-time work after school, on weekends, and during the summer vacation.

Some of the Senior Class will be available for full-time employment at the end of May, while others will be attending college this fall and are looking for full-time employment this summer and part-time starting in September. If you need part-time or full-time help in any of the following areas, give us a call:

AUTO MECHANICS -- YARD WORK -- STOCK CLERKS -- BABY SITTERS -- PAINTERS -- WELDERS -- CLEAN-UP WORK -- WAREHOUSE WORKER -- RETAIL SALES -- CLERICAL WORKERS -- HOUSE CLEANING -- ALL BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION TRADES -- HORTICULTURE -- AUTO BODY REPAIR -- OIL FIELD WORKER -- AGRICULTURE WORKER -- SERVICE STATION ATTENDANTS -- LICENSED COSMETOLOGIST -- OR if you have needs in other areas, we might be able to help.

The Placement Coordinator has interviewed 195 students seeking employment and recorded their training abilities, work experience and interest. Their attributes will be matched with request from employers for needed workers for both full-time and part-time work, and one or more students will be referred to the employer for final selection. This is a free service.

If the Placement Service can be of any help to you, please telephone Richard Davis at 592-2371.
