School's costs, taxes dominate trustee session

Though budgeting for the 1979-80 school year is still a couple of months away, school costs and financing figured heavily in Tuesday evening's monthly meeting of the board of trustees.

Major issues confronting the board were energy conservation and impact of recently-passed legislation on agricultural land taxes.

Additionally, the board hired a new band director, Greg Miller, and accepted resignations of three teachers and three West Wichita Cooperative employees.

Making a report on utility costs were Richard Davis, who is Job Placement Coordinator for the schools and has been hired to do extra work on the energy conservation project.

Davis said he had attended workshops and meetings in the area concerning energy conservation in public schools. He said the board had three alternatives: apply for a federal grant for matching funds to increase efficiency; do the work within the school's own financial capabilities; or ignore the situation and continue as is.

He did not make recommendations, but pointed out various utility costs on a per-building, per-student study. Concerning the grant money, he told board members there would be the usual red tape with ongoing inspections by governmental people and annual reports.

Using utility costs for the 1977-78 school year, probably the most significant figure presented was the cost per square foot in each building or campus. Figures ranged from 27 cents to 51.

Most surprising was the high cost per foot for the newly remodeled and supposedly most efficient structure, the junior high. Davis' figures indicated the 32,760 square foot structure costs 51 cents per square foot to heat and air condition.

At the same time, Kidwell Elementary, which reportedly has more windows than any school structure in the system, had the lowest cost of 27 cents per square foot.

Other buildings included: 34 cents at the high school; 28 cents for Valley View, which includes West Wichita co-op offices; 30 cents for Bradford Elementary; 30 cents for the administration building and outside buildings at the junior high; and 32 cents per square foot for both the vocation buildings at high school.

Total cost for gas and electricity for 1977-78 when the average daily attendance (ADA) was 1,908 pupils, was $104,799. Projected cost for this fiscal year, with 1,811 ADA, is $127,135. Though the ADA is not projected for the 1979-80 school year, projected utilities are $150,400, without any conservation measures being taken, Davis reported.

The board told Davis to continue his work, obtaining cost for materials to implement several conservation measures, and report at the next meeting. However, unless the board

City delays action on utility increases

Both local utility managers appeared before the council Monday evening to formally present their requests for higher rates.

Wayne House, Texas Electric Service Co. manager, said his company was asking for a 16.1 percent increase, while Bud Burch, manager of the Lone Star Gas Co. office, said his company is asking for a 15.3 percent increase.

Since the TESCO appeal is system-wide, the city will join with others served by the same company to oppose the increase before the Texas Public Utility Commission.

But council members indicated they would seek the services of an independent rate consultant in opposing the Lone Star case before the Texas Railroad Commission, because the rate sought does not apply system-wide at the present time.

Both managers cited inflation and cost of fuel for basic reasons their companies seek increases.

Other major issues faced by the council Monday were the purchasing of a backhoe, passing two ordinances, writing off bad debts, considering a rate increase for sale of water and hearing a request for purchase of additional emergency equipment.

After delaying taking action on bids for a new backhoe at the only meeting held in May, council members approved the low bid, $19,152 with trade, by Case Equipment Co. Four other firms bid on the sale.

The two ordinances approved included one to prohibit unauthorized persons from dumping trash in city trash containers, and the other changes the dates of the city's fiscal year.

The trash ordinance establishes a fine of from $1 to $200 for any unauthorized person, defined as "any individual who does not pay garbage and rubbish rates to the city" if found guilty in municipal court of dumping trash in city containers.

Alderman Lita Watson abstained from voting on the ordinance, explaining fear it would encourage more dumping of trash in ditches and roads.

The city's fiscal year has always begun July 1 and has now been changed to Oct. 1. Included in the ordinance was a provision setting a short, three-month term to carry the city's business along during the change.

A separate budget is being prepared for the short term, and then a full 12-month budget will be presented prior to start of the new fiscal year. Council members will hold a work session at 7 this evening to consider items which will be in the short term budget.

BAD DEBTS

Aldermen approved a bookkeeping procedure of writing off $2,341.08 in bad debts owed the city for water and trash service.

It was pointed out that the procedure does not relieve the debtors of their obligation to the city.

City Administrator Steve Morath explained that some of the high amounts owed, such as one for $184, was the reason he sought and received permission to install a new billing and cutoff procedure a couple of months past. He pointed out that service would be cut off if payments are not made by the prescribed deadline, which would not allow high bills to accumulate by individual customers.

Mayor Johnny Crawford was authorized by the council to negotiate a new water rate for sale of water to the Wichita Valley Water Supply Corp.

The corporation has a contract which will expire in January to purchase water at 40 cents per thousand gallons. Since Wichita Falls has raised its price for water to Iowa Park to 50 cents per thousand, the council agreed an adjustment in the selling price should be made.

Bud Thompson, Civil Defense coordinator, proposed the council consider an $11,951 expenditure to upgrade the city's storm warning system.

Basically, Thompson's proposal included increasing the number of sirens in the city so the signal could be better heard in some areas, and changing all sirens from a telephone line connection to a radio control. A portion of the cost could be saved from a fee paid for private lines installed by the telephone company to the sirens, Thompson explained.

He also proposed that the only siren which would be used to notify firemen of fires would be the unit at the city hall.

No action was taken by the council, which indicated it would study a proposal by the mayor to have radio equipment installed in all city vehicles, and all the equipment might be purchased at the same time, saving money.

Council members approved a proposal by the Volunteer Fire Department, represented by DeWayne McKee, to accept ownership and responsibility of a van the department proposes to purchase for emergency use.

McKee explained the department is raising money for the van's purchase, but it would become city property and all responsibilities connected with ownership once it was bought.

Two bids were received on the sale of a 1977 Plymouth police car, and the council accepted the high bid of $510 from Deryl James Auto Repair. Billy James Garage had also bid on the vehicle, which had more than 100,000 miles on the speedometer.

During a discussion period, topics included vehicles driving on city lake dams, flooding in the recent rain storms, and clearance of a burned home.

Action is expected, according to Morath, before the end of next week to clear remains of a burned home in Garden Valley, and possibly two other unoccupied structures.

Holliday sets Clean-Up Week

The City of Holliday will observe Clean-Up Week June 17-23. Mayor Tom Hall stressed the need for volunteer workers to help pick up the trash and for trucks to haul it off.

He has requested those who can assist with the project to get in touch with the City Hall office.

SUNDAY IS FATHER'S DAY - L.S. Whisnand, his wife and son dramatize a typical scene to be replayed in many yards Sunday, which is designated nationally as Father's Day. Whisnand plays the part of the pampered head of the household, being waited on hand and foot by his loyal wife, while son Craig does the yard work. Like most other husbands and fathers, Whisnand probably will be hustling his own ice tea and mowing the lawn for the next year, starting Monday.

Vandalism reported to police

Two cases of vandalism were reported to the Iowa Park Police Department during the past week.

A window screen was torn at the Quikie Food Store, either in an act of vandalism or attempted entry, some time during Saturday night.

Brian McWilliams reported two tires on his vehicle parked at Jiffy East were slashed with a knife between 11:20 p.m. and 12:15 a.m. Saturday.

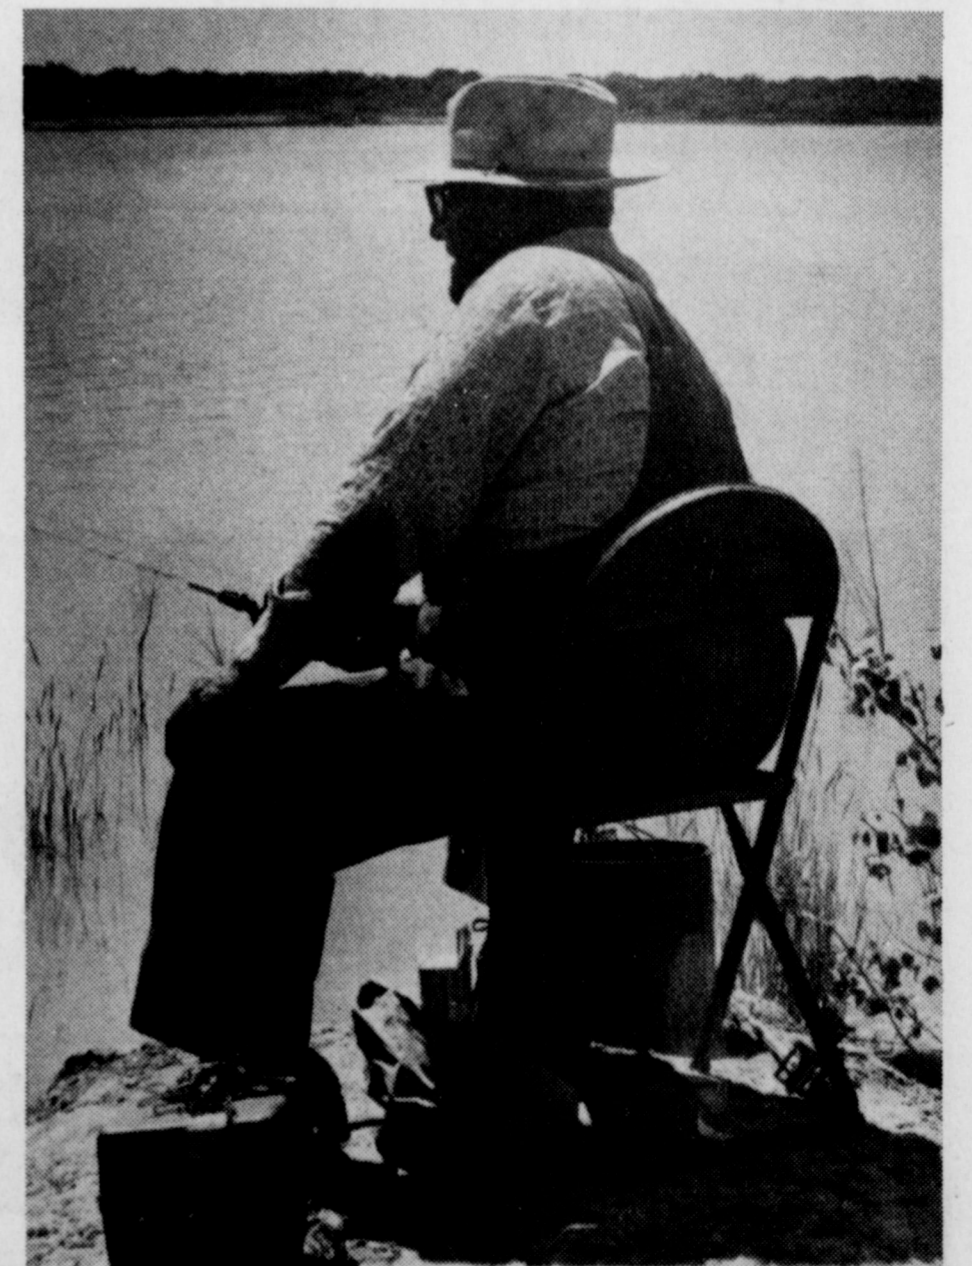

Yearbook staff earns honors

Iowa Park High School's yearbook staff took sweepstakes honors at a workshop last Friday at Midwestern State University.

Seventeen schools were represented at the workshop. The sweepstakes honor awarded the IPHS staff was the highest given based on accomplishment and material learned during the workshop.

Ten members of the 14-person IPHS annual staff attended the workshop, said Carol Venhaus, advisor.

They included Carrie Mahler, Valorie Ward, Deena Hefner, Tracy Hale, Mike Ray, Dana Dunlap, Linda Rowell, Teresa Siddle, Mike Feltman and Thomas Johnson.

LIKE OLD TIMES - Iowa Park fisherman L.C. Harris, a retired, railroad employee, says Iowa Park lakes are as good as ever for fishing after the recent rains. While he was wetting his hook at Lake Iowa Park Monday afternoon, the water was lapping at the bottom edge of the overflow spout next to the dam.

Shower fetes bride elect Tuesday

Miss Ruth Robertson, bride-elect of David Wagoner, was honored at a prenuptial shower Tuesday evening. Hostesses for the affair held in the home of the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Clyde Robertson, were Betty Robertson and Tammie Robertson, sister and cousin of the honoree. The colors of yellow and white were used in accenting the decorations and were highlighted on the refreshment table which was centered with a bouquet of bright yellow roses. The bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. Joe Robertson, and the prospective groom's mother, Mrs. Hank Wagoner, were presented with yellow and white silk rose corsages.

Twenty guests called during the evening. The couple will be married June 25 in Wichita Falls.

Cook of the Week

One of the greatest gastronomes in history, Anehelme Brillat-Savarin said "A dessert course without cheese is like a beautiful woman with one eye". He would surely be pleased with both seasoned and novice cooks in the 20th century who rely heavily on the use of cheese not only in desserts but in a variety of dishes.

Mrs. Billy Moon, a young matron, would be sure to delight the heart of the gastronome who lived during the 18th and 19th centuries with her cheese cake, a dessert recipe, if he were living today.

It is reputed that the average American eats one half ton of cheese during a lifetime. There are thousands of varieties of cheeses to choose from including fresh like Ricotta, dessert like Bria, heavily-cooked like Swiss, to uncooked like Camembert; hard, grating Parmesan and Romano to various kinds of adulterated "process cheese foods."

The former Patricia Honaker lived in Iowa Park when she was very young and attended school here in the first grade. She and her husband, who is employed by Zack Burkett Road Construction, were both graduated from Graford High School. They have a month-old daughter, Angela Diane, shown with her mother in the picture. They are members of Graford Baptist Church.

Patricia likes to cook, sew, do ceramics, and camp and fish with her husband.

Musicians win awards

Four Iowa Park High School Hawk Band students received medals in the Texas State Solo and Ensemble Contest held in Austin at the University of Texas campus last week.

They are Vanesa Stucki, who earned a Division I medal on her twirling solo; Tim Adcock, Denny Anderson, and Eric Birk, who earned Division II medals on their piano solos.

Other Iowa Park entrants included a brass quartet that earned a Division III. The quartet members were Dave Perry, Mike Perry, Russell Shawver, and Chuck Thompson.

Over 15,000 students from around Texas earned the right to participate in the event by earning a Division I rating at the Regional Solo and Ensemble Contest. Competition at the state meet was stiff, as only about 10 percent of all entrants earned Division I ratings, and about 25 percent earned Division II ratings. There are five divisions on the rating scale.

Sponsors for the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Herb Adcock, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stucki, Bob Birk, and the Jimmy Banks family.

Church group has installation

Mrs. Keith Aulds conducted the installation ceremony Monday night for the L.L. L. Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church. She used "Love Seeds" for the theme, comparing each new officer and her duties to a particular plant in the garden of life.

Those installed were Mmes. Alton Hunter, president; Wesley Davis, vice president; Floyd Heard, recording secretary; Art Brown, class teacher and financial secretary; Joe Singer, assistant teacher; Steve Lovelady, Carlton Hicks, Everett Stephenson and E.H. Howard, group captains; and Donald Hill, devotional chairman.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Singer and Mrs. Davis was co-hostess. Mrs. Hill presided during a short business meeting and Mrs. Bob Dawson gave the devotional thought.

Eleven members and two guests attended the meeting.

IOWA PARK, TEXAS

Former residents' daughter married recently.

Miss Teresa Lynn Rogers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jerry Rogers of Starkville, Miss., former residents of Iowa Park, became the bride of Aberdeen Wilson Stewart III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aberdeen Wilson Stewart Jr., in a double ring ceremony May 18. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. B.A. Rogers of Iowa Park.

The Starkville Church of Christ was the scene of the nuptials officiated by Mr.

Steve Grubbs in a setting of candlelight and greenery. An altar candelabra holding white tapers was flanked by matching candelabra against a background of Boston fern. White ribbon bows and sprays of greenery marked reserved pews.

Nuptial music was provided by Miss Amy Howell and Mrs. Jane Stewart, pianists, and Miss Mollye Stewart, Miss Lisa Blackwell of Reston, Va., Drew Ramsey and Rob Maher, vocalists. Their selections included "Annie's Song", "Because," "Evergreen" and "O, Perfect Love".

Dr. Rogers gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a formal wedding gown in candlelight chiffon with Victorian styling. The bodice of her gown featured a high neckline detailed with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The sheer bishop sleeves were accented with lace medallions and ruffled at the wrists. Defined at the waistline with a wide sash, the slightly gathered skirt swept to a full chapel train edged with a deep ruffle.

The bride's sheer veil was attached to a laced hat decorated with seed pearls, and used by her mother 26 years ago at her wedding. She carried a nosegay of yellow and white roses, daisies and baby's breath attached to an antique Bible, which had belonged to the bride's great-great-grandmother.

Miss Karen Rogers, sister of the bride, attended her as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Mollye Stewart, sister of the groom, Miss Beth Wellborn and Miss Marsha Goodwin. The bride's cousin, Amy Davis of Fort Walton Beach, Fla. was flower girl, with Jeffery Davis of Fort Walton Beach, also a cousin of the bride, serving as ring bearer.

The maid of honor wore a formal gown of yellow eyelet in Victorian styling with the high neckline featuring lace detail. Her flowers were a nosegay of roses, daisies and gypsophila.

The other attendants wore gowns fashioned identically to that of the maid of honor, being in rainbow pastel solid colors of blue, green, lime and apricot. Their flowers were similar with ribbon ties to match their gowns.

The flower girl wore a yellow ruffled eyelet floor length dress with matching bonnet and carried a small basket of roses, daisies and baby's breath.

The bridegroom's father was his best man. Grooms-men and ushers were Lawrence Ramsey of Anniston, Ala., Bozo Stanford of Jackson, Tim Spencer, Mark Rogers, brother of the bride, and Lawrence Stewart, brother of the groom, all of Starkville.

The bride's mother attended the wedding in a lavender chiffon formal and wore a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a formal green chiffon with a white orchid corsage.

The reception after the wedding was held in the University Christian Chapel, the bridal couple being assisted in receiving by their family members, Dr. and Mrs. Johnnie Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. Drew Ramsay.

A lace cloth over yellow covered the bride's table which was centered with an arrangement of roses, daisies, Dutch iris, gypsophila and greenery, flanked by paired candelabra holding lighted yellow tapers. The three-tiered cake was decorated with rainbow-colored daisies. Other refreshments repeated the chosen colors.

The first woman dental school graduate was Lucy Hobbs Taylor, who first practiced in 1861.

At the groom's table, covered with a cloth of lace, a silver bowl held an arrangement of red roses. The groom's chocolate cake was served with coffee.

Assisting as circulating hostesses were Meses. Bailey Howell, Roy Creech, Bascom Allen, W.W. Littlejohn, Dan Massie, Leroy Phillips, Floyd Cheeney and Lee Miller.

Tea girls were Meses Kim Swinson of Auburn, Ala., Lisa and Deborah Blackwell of Reston, Va., Laura Patton, Karen Sullivan and Mrs. Steve Grubbs. Rice girls were Meses Anne Howell, Heather Thomas and Beth Thomas.

The couple went to Gatlinburg, Tenn. on their wedding trip. The bride chose for travel a yellow pant suit with a corsage of yellow rosebuds. They will live in University Village in Starkville.

Among the long list of out of town relatives and guests was Mrs. J.H. Entekin of Wichita Falls, grandmother of the bride.

Worth Quoting

Every family needs a skeleton in the closet to serve as a grim reminder to the other members as to the dire consequences of straying.

Every joker must have an Aggie or a Pole as the subject for dimwitted jokes. And every nation must have a collective cat to kick around.

And our collective cat nowadays upon which to heap the blame for everything from inflation to Billy's falling health is the domestic oil companies.

It's convenient, it's politically expedient, it's surefire at the polls for our elected representatives, the bureaucrats, the media, and the consumers to use the oil companies as the scapegoat for a miserable situation.

But take a look at the record and see if the bile doesn't boil at the unfairness of it all:

The Arabs created their embargo in 1973 and have been steadily hiking prices ever since -- from $4.78 that year to spot prices today hitting $24.20 per barrel.

The resulting price of crude is beginning to show up at the gasoline pump in the form of 83c per gallon. Do you hear a gigantic outcry against the Arabs? Or Canada? Or Venezuela?

Nope, it's all the fault of those mean old oil companies!

President Nixon and later President Carter warned that a gasoline crunch was imminent and consumers were urged to conserve. Yet demand has risen an average of 3 to 5 per cent every year since 1973.

Imports rose to a record 50 per cent of consumption this year but demand never slackened or faltered. Conservation? Nah! The whole thing is a conspiracy by those mean old oil companies.

California has led the nation, followed by Oregon and Washington, in a deliberate policy of discouraging new refineries, new drilling, new pipelines, new plants, new growth of any kind. And that policy has been approved time after time by the voters in those states.

In the past three years, over $1½ billion in new energy-related construction has died because of the stifling suffocation of bureaucratic red tape in those states.

Yet when gasoline lines formed the past month in California, did the natives blame their own six-year policy of thumbs-down on energy projects? Did Gov. Jerry Brown admit their policy was counter-productive?

You guessed it. The whole situation is the fault of the domestic oil companies.

The Environmental Protection Agency has clobbered more projects, stopped more dams, shut down more mines, stymied more energy drilling, plant building, pipeline construction, oil development than Hitler.

And all of it was done in the interest of backpackers, snail darters, loose geese, clean air, clean water, and cleaner citizens. Have they stood up and taken any of the responsibility or blame for the current mess? Don't be silly.

Everyone knows it's all the fault of the domestic oil companies.

This summer, brownouts are probable in California, Virginia, New York and other northeastern states. Wanna Bet who gets the blame for the crisis? Certainly not Jane Fonda, Ralph Nader, or any of the anti-nuke nuts.

Naturally, everyone knows it's a conspiracy between the utilities and the domestic oil companies.

Four years ago, we created the monstrous Department of Energy with a $10 billion budget and 20,000 employees with a goal of increasing domestic production, curbing imports, and conserving fossil fuels.

Half of the employees are still trying to find their way to the bathroom and the other half have so saddled the oil industry with so many allocations, regulations, price differentials and rules that a savings certificate will return more money than an oil well.

The DOE has proven again the old adage about the harm of the cockroach: It's not what he eats and carries off but what he falls into and messes up.

Has anyone in the DOE admitted that the current gasoline crunch is the direct result of their allocations and priority assignments?

They know, as we do, that's its all the fault of the oil companies.

Above all, we have those noble, stout-hearted, visionary congressmen in Washington who for six years have tried to come to grips with the energy problem. . . but the problems keep getting in the way of the next election.

Do you hear any of them telling their constituents of their errors in controlling crude prices? We can spend twice as much for half as little on a 1979 automobile and never hear a peep out of Congress. But then they know, as does their milk-fed constituency, that the current mess is not the fault of Congress but of those mean old price-gouging oil companies.

And finally, there's that little peanut-picking presidential pipsqueak that couldn't make a decision and stand by it if the Archangel Gabriel was propping his backbone up with a horn.

Has he admitted any blame or fault for the current mess? Of course not, he's known every since his election that the crisis in energy was due to the windfall profit-seeking of the oil companies.

If Senator Ted Kennedy decides to toss his hat into the ring for president next year, it will be because he's found out the real cause of the accident at Chappaquiddick.

It wasn't booze or fellowship that caused that girl to drown. New evidence shows that she slipped on an oil slick caused by a domestic oil company. It'll guarantee his election!

We only wish that a giant West Texas whirlwind would scoop up the Jane Fondas, The Ralph Naders, the John Dingells of Michigan, the members of the Sierra Club, Congress, EPA and DOE and deposit the lot amidst those millions of wilderness acres set aside in Alaska.

There, surrounded by the no drilling, no mining, no lumbering, no building, no roads, no improvement signs of the Department of Interior, they could breathe clean air, drink clear water, converse with nature, and freeze off their collective you-know-whats!

And even then as sure as God makes green apples and acorns, the freezing would be the fault of the mean old oil companies of the nation.

As I See It....

Loyd Lowe was sitting in Settle Drug Tuesday morning, sipping coffee with me. "Well, I lost a good friend this morning," he commented.

I knew immediately to whom he referred.

John Wayne was a friend to all of us who grew up in the movie era. The Duke was everything a man wanted to be, and everything women wanted in a man.

Television will never have such a representative. Stars of that medium just don't last very long. Today's public is too fickle.

Just imagine, being a star, hero, image, you name it, for 40 years.

That's almost twice as long as television has been on the public market.

Wayne was a man's man and a conservative citizen's saint. I don't ever remember of any bad publicity ever directed his way. He lived, for the most part, the good, clean, All-American roles he played on the screen.

Save one point. Wayne was married three times, as I recall, and that soiled his image to some.

The Duke was a flag waver, bless his heart. We need more like him, and I see precious few, who has the nation's attention when he opens his mouth and says "God Bless America", and you want to repeat his words instantly, with a quiver in your words, a lump in your throat and a hint of moisture in the edge of your eye.

Those of you who missed Wayne in his roles as a fighting service man during World War II might not have the same image as the rest of us. It's understandable. But he did as much to help our morale during those terrible years as anyone. We identified with him.

Loyd and I are not alone. Millions suffer with us in our loss of a good friend. But thank goodness his image remains in the dozens of excellent films he made during his tenure in Hollywood.

If congress has done anything really good, it was the recent approval of striking a medal for our friend. The wording simply reads, "John Wayne, American."

So long, Duke. It's been good to know you.

calls a special meeting, that will not take place until the second Tuesday of August, as the board does not usually meet in July.

FARMLAND TAXES

District Tax Assessor/Collector Bill Steger introduced an ordinance, which was adopted by the board, delaying for one year implementing agriculture production as a basis for taxing farm and ranch property for school tax purposes.

Steger told the board the formula required by the new law requires so much documented information, by the property owner, that it will take a year to prepare for the new taxing program.

Basically, he said the taxing formula is based on net income, and documents which are seldom kept must be provided. These documents include a full year's records, per tract of land, all costs of production (which include man hours, investment in production seeds, travel, and income) to arrive at net income.

Steger received permission from the board to work with the Iowa Park Leader in a public information program for the next few months, so property owners could adequately be informed on the new methods of establishing farm and ranch values.

All homesteads will receive a $5,000 exemption, if applications are filed with the tax offices, under the new bill. Homeowners over 65 years of age will receive that, plus a $10,000 exemption, as well as the local $5,000 exemption granted by the board.

Steger, reporting on the cafeteria finances, said cost of meals would have to be increased for the coming year.

Watson, Cowley speech winners

Two members of Boy Scout Troop 38 earned the right to advance to the area level of the Boy Scout Readers Digest 1980 Speakers Contest.

Wayne Watson won first and James Cowley second in a contest held here Monday evening. They will now compete in Oklahoma City in September on the area level. Two other steps are the region and national.

Makes Dean's List

Mary Shaw was named to the Dean's List for maintaining a grade point average of 3.25 or higher during the spring semester at East Texas State University.

To be eligible, a student must be enrolled for a minimum of 12 semester hours.

Watson is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Earl Watson, and Cowley's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cowley.

In the contest, contestants can select any subject they wish, but it must be told through the eyes of a Scout. Speeches are to be five to seven minutes in length.

Two other contestants in the 13-county council level contest were Frank and Thomas Johnson, also of Iowa Park.

Four make dean's roll

More than 5,300 students at Texas Tech University qualified for dean's honor rolls during the spring 1979 semester by achieving grade point averages of 3.0 or more on a 4.0 scale. Of that number four were from Iowa Park.

They included: Carla K. Cole, 1503 Rita Lane; Kathryn J. Johnson, 505 W. Clara; Michael L. Nipper, P.O. Box 848; and Kenneth F. Scheffe, Rt. 2, Box 28D, Texas Tech University, one of the four major Texas universities, has an enrollment of 22,500 students in six colleges and three schools. These include the colleges of Agricultural Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education, Engineering and Home Economics and the Graduate School, School of Law and School of Medicine.

Special guests attend meeting

Special guests at the meeting of the Women of First Presbyterian Church Tuesday were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Copeland. He is interim pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Wichita Falls and taught the Bible lesson for the meeting in the home of Miss Titia Belle Blanks.

The topic of the Bible lesson was "Enduring to the End". Dr. Copeland remarked that the coming of Jesus occupied an important place in Mark's understanding of the meaning of Jesus' career. "The setting of a last testament of Jesus just prior to his arrest and crucifixion makes clear that the vision of the second coming has from the beginning been a matter of ultimate importance," he said.

Mrs. Mae Shelton presided during the business.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon. Others present were Mmes. Gale Lowrance, Lois Holloway, Edna Lemond, Kenneth Young, C.E. Birk and Miss Frances Park.

Old buildings are interest

L.E. Brooks, who has a genuine interest in stone buildings and their preservation and says he is especially pleased that the Evening Lions Club has recently purchased the "Old Tanner Building" at the corner of Wall and Cash Sts., gave a program for the club Tuesday that focused attention on the building and its history.

He showed slides of the building taken in 1946 and of the late Mr. Dodge, who forded the river with the stones taken from a quarry, the exact location of which is not known, that were used in constructing the building in the 1890s, according to Gale Lowrance, an oldtimer. He gave some interesting side stories relating to the building to enhance interest.

Brooks, a past district president of District 2 E-1, also conducted the induction of Tim Hunter, Norman Hodges and Dan Griffith into the club.

Gordon Griffith gave a report on the recent state convention at Odessa. George Blackwell was a visitor. Mrs. Fred Hinrichs and Mrs. G.L. McWilliams furnished the dinner music.

Canning workshop on tap

If you have never canned before and would like to know the recommended methods, food preservation workshops are being offered to answer your questions.

Barbara Cornelius, County Extension Agent will be demonstrating canning techniques at the Lone Star Gas Company in Wichita Falls, from 1:00 - 4:30 on Wednesday, June 13th and Lone Star Gas in Electra on June 14th from 10 a.m. - 2:30 p.m. Those attending on June 14 need to bring a sack lunch.

Another feature of the program will be the testing of pressure canner gauges. Those wishing to have their gauge tested need to bring only the LID to the pressure canner. The testing will begin at 3:30 on Wednesday and at 12:30 on Thursday.

There has been a tremendous demand for information on food preservation. These workshops will give people the opportunity to learn how to water-bath can, pressure can and freeze foods.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

CANNING BERRIES

It is berry season again. Do you have a surplus or can you purchase them at a reasonable low price? You can have berries for cobbblers in the middle of winter or for jelly making by canning them.

How are they canned? Just wash, drain and cap them as though you were preparing them for eating fresh. Fill clean jars to 1/2 inch of the top of the jar, shaking the berries down for a full pack. Cover them with boiling syrup; made with 2 cups sugar and 4 cups of water—a thin syrup or add more sugar if you prefer them sweeter. Leave 1/2 inch space at top of the jar. Wipe off the sealing surface of the jar and close according to the type of lid being used following the manufacturer's directions.

Place the jars in a water bath canner which is a large container with a rack in the bottom to hold the jars about one inch from the bottom. It should be tall enough to have space to cover the jar with about one to two inches of water and about the same amount of space above the water. The water should be hot but not boiling when you place the filled jars in the canner. Place lid on canner and bring the water to a rolling boil, but reduce the heat, just to boiling. This prevents the juice from being drawn out of the jars.

Boil pint jars 10 minutes and quart jars 15 minutes. Remove the jars from the water bath and let them cool.

The berries may be canned without sugar if you prefer. Then sugar can be added according to the way they are to be used—cobbliers or jelly.

LORRE MOSER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Don Moser, Rt. 1, was crowned Petite Queen of the Olney Rodeo held last week. The nine year old will be in the fourth grade at Kidwell Elementary this fall.

Winners named

Winners of the annual Iowa Park North Texas Youth Baseball benefit were announced recently.

Winners were F.J. Cheek, microwave; Dyoil Hill, stereo; Wayne Marshall, portable radio; Pete Walls, oil, lube and filter change; and Gerald Brown, oil and lube.

Selling the most tickets were David Holland, who earned a $100 savings bond; John Teel, $75 bond; and Jason Nardley, $50.

Rangers dial Frazier's number

Daryl Frazier, one of the most accomplished athletes to ever graduate from Iowa Park High School, has been drafted by a professional baseball team. Holder of almost all the pitching records for Mid-western State University, Frazier was the 763rd pick in the recent baseball draft.

And it was the Texas Ranger organization which dialed his number.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Frazier, 1003 Lincoln, Daryl has made a life of sports, and has geared his college education toward becoming a coach.

He was an outstanding player in high school in football, basketball, track and baseball.

Frazier was the quarterback of the last Hawk winning team, 8-2 record, in 1974, and went on to Fort Lewis College in Colorado on a football scholarship. He threw, he kicked field goals, and he also was a starting defensive safety.

In basketball he was on the varsity all four years, earning honors in free throwing, rebounds and scoring.

He was a high jumper in track, clearing 6-8 as a senior, and earning a trip to the state meet in Austin.

And in baseball, he was the star pitcher on the only Hawk team to ever make it to the state University Interscholastic League tournament.

Daryl made an all-star team tour in the Far East last summer. He was the only member who had not been selected to the NAIA All-America squad.

As to whether he will sign a contract with the Rangers, only negotiations in the future will determine that. He's talked with representatives of the organization, but contracts weren't among the topics at the time.

All Realtors have to offer is service. We pledge equal effort, interest and fairness to both buyer and seller.
