AFTER 2½-YEAR SEARCH

Johnson arrested in Idaho

Dr. Carl Watson
520 W. Clara
Iowa Park, Tex.

By LEWIS SIMMONS
The 2½ year search for fugitive Iowa Park agribusinessman Bobby Johnson ended early Saturday morning when a simple traffic violation resulted in his arrest in a small Idaho community not unlike his hometown. Johnson is scheduled to be flown from Idaho to Fort Worth for an 11 a.m. Friday arraignment on 13 counts of interstate transportation of stolen grain and four counts of aiding and abetting. If and when he is returned to Wichita Falls remains to be decided. The 43-year-old fugitive allegedly fell off a pleasure boat and drowned in the Gulf of Mexico Jan. 3, 1977. The FBI launched its investigation after it was determined about $2-million worth of grain was missing from Johnson's grain handling operations in North Texas, Southern Oklahoma and Colorado.

The 54-month investigation into Johnson's disappearance took several strange turns, but possibly none more unlikely than what happened last Saturday morning when he was apprehended in Rexburg, Idaho. Johnson had been living there about two months with his female companion, Irene Mary Olson and her 10-year-old son. Johnson was working for a large trucking firm headquartered in Idaho Falls and presumably was returning home after making a haul. Here is an account of events surrounding Johnson's arrest, related by Blair K. Siepert, chief of the Rexburg Police Department:

Officer Randy Lewis was on routine patrol in a middle-income section of Rexburg when he saw a large semi tractor-trailer run a stop sign. The officer stopped the truck and the driver handed him a license bearing the name of Donald Duane Colter. The driver was released after receiving an oral warning. This occurred about 12:12 a.m. Saturday.

Officer Lewis had requested the police dispatcher run Colter's name through the National Crime Information Center's computer in Washington, D.C.

The truck had moved down the street but the officer still had it in view when the dispatcher came back over the radio with the computer report that Colter was an alias for Bobby Johnson, who was wanted in

Texas by the FBI. (Johnson earlier had used the alias Darrell Dean Olson, but the FBI learned in June that he had assumed the name Donald Duane Colter.)

The officer requested a backup unit and followed the truck until it stopped at a rent house a few blocks away.

When Officer Lewis and his backup arrived Johnson was standing on the front lawn of the rent house. Johnson was detained by the officers and searched while Johnson continued to deny that he was the wanted fugitive.

Johnson and Mrs. Olson were separated and interviewed at the home. The officers determined that something was amiss, and Johnson was handcuffed and taken to the Rexburg Police Department for detention. It was later that the officer learned the fugitive was listed as "armed and dangerous." Johnson was apprehended without incident.

Mrs. Olson's name also was run through the computer in Washington, but no warrants or wanted were returned, so officers allowed her to stay at the home.

For his customary telephone call, Johnson dialed the house where he and Mrs. Olson lived. "Do as we planned," he told her.

About 4 a.m. Saturday—four hours after Johnson's arrest—Rexburg police ran Mrs. Olson's name through the computer for a second time. This time it showed a complaint on her for harboring a fugitive had been filed in Yakima, Washington.

But it was too late. When officers returned to the home they found Mrs. Olson had fled the scene in her station wagon. She surfaced in Iowa Park on Monday and on Tuesday she surrendered herself to federal authorities in Wichita Falls.

In the meantime, Johnson had been transferred from Rexburg to Idaho Falls, where the nearest FBI office is located.

On Monday he was moved to Pocatello, Idaho, for an identity hearing. After determining Johnson's identity, his bail was set at $1-million and he waived removal to Texas, paving the way for the 11 a.m. Friday arraignment in Fort Worth.

Although he has been arrested, the same questions remain to be answered? Where has he been and what has he done the past 2½ years? What happened to the wheat he allegedly swindled from North Texas and Southern Oklahoma farmers?

Perhaps those questions will surface in trial, but about all that is known at this time is that he apparently led a very quiet life with Mrs. Olson and her son.

Their last home as a fugitive couple was there in Rexburg, population 11,000. It is a farming community with a Mormon Church supported college and is located 90 miles down Yellowstone National Park.

They were living in a rent house that Chief Siepert described as a "mediocre type home. Nothing special. Just a middle class house for our area."

IOWA PARK LEADER

VOL. X, NO. 46 THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1979 20 CENTS

IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367

Johnson's companion surrenders Tuesday

Focus of the Bobby Johnson saga once again found its way back to North Texas this week when Johnson's female companion mysteriously released herself into federal custody Tuesday in Wichita Falls, four days after Johnson was apprehended in Idaho.

Irene Mary Olson, who apparently spent more than a year posing as Johnson's wife, appeared at the Wichita Falls Federal Building Tuesday afternoon. She was accompanied by Iowa Park attorney O.N. Newman and Wichita Falls attorneys Henry Anderson and Hank Anderson. She was arraigned before U.S. Magistrate Gene Richie.

In addition to what she might know about Johnson's activities as a fugitive, Mrs. Olson was being sought on a complaint out of Yakima, Wash., alleging her with harboring a fugitive.

During the identity portion of the arraignment, Mrs. Olson gave her address as 801 Van Horn, Iowa Park, and she gave an Iowa Park telephone number.

The short, chunky 40-year-old Mrs.

Olson answered the judge through her attorneys. She was calm as she appeared in the courtroom dressed in beige slacks, a print blouse and carrying a light colored shoulder bag.

After explaining the complaint against her, the judge told Mrs. Olson that the U.S. attorney's office had recommended her bond be set at $50,000.

Henry Anderson argued that the bond be lowered because Mrs. Olson voluntarily submitted herself to the court, because of finances and because she has a 10-year-old son living with her.

The judge reduced Mrs. Olson's bond to $7,500.

Mrs. Olson posted bond and was released after processing by U.S. Marshal Eddie Crittenton.

A source close to the investigation who asked to remain unidentified, said Mrs. Olson made the trip from Idaho to Texas in her station wagon, arriving in Iowa Park on Monday.

She contacted Newman Monday and asked him to make arrangements for her to surrender herself to authorities on Tuesday, the day she thought Johnson would be returned to Wichita Falls.

Other sources agreed that the reason Mrs. Olson surrendered herself was so she could be closer to Johnson.

"She really likes Bobby. She likes him a lot," one source said.

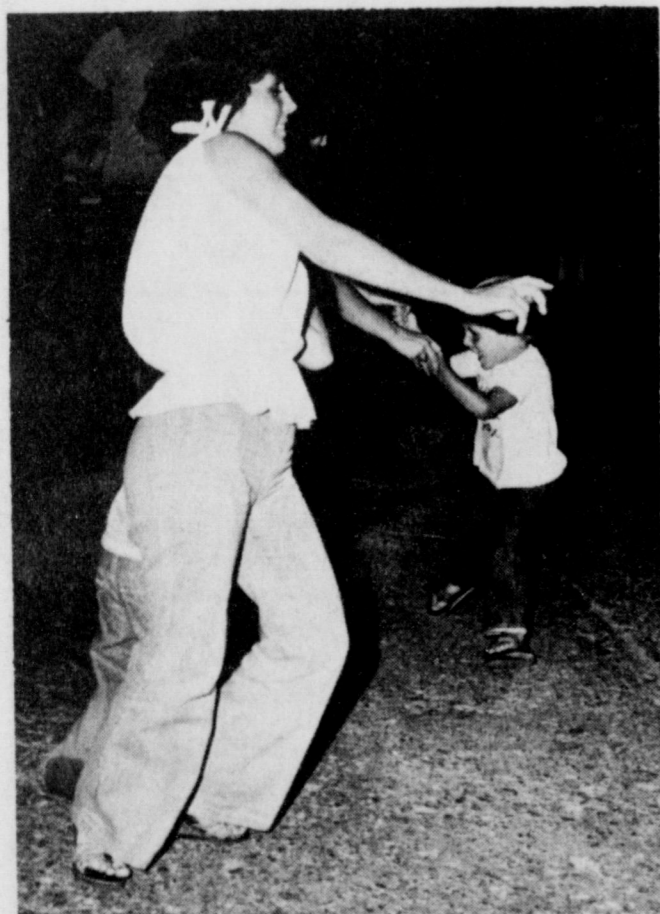

Ironically, Mrs. Olson's timing was somewhat premature since Johnson is not scheduled to be returned to Texas until today when he appears before a judge in Fort Worth at 11 a.m. for formal arraignment.

If and when Johnson will be returned to Wichita Falls remains to be determined.

Scenes from Saturday's street dance

WELL OVER 1,000 PERSONS turned out for the street dance Saturday night, sponsored by the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department. They enjoyed dancing, eating, contests and putting up money to throw a pie in someone's face. On the far left, dancers of all ages participated. On the far right, Jackie Gee took his turn dancing with Shirley Kissner. In the two middle photos, City Alderman Billy Gilmore and Publisher Bob Hamilton took turns with the pies. Both seemed to enjoy their aim. Firemen have not yet reported how much money was raised toward purchasing a van to be used for transporting emergency and rescue equipment.

Stith-Frye wedding vows solemnized Friday evening

The marriage of Miss Paula Rexene Stith and John David Frye II was solemnized Friday evening at Grace Baptist Church. The Rev. Jimmy Johnson, pastor and grandfather of the bride, was the officiant for the double-ring service. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Kay Peddy of Wichita Falls and Bill Stith of Austin, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Jean McLaughlin and Willard Frye of Wichita Falls.

The embroidered bride's book on parchment was placed on a lectern in the church foyer for guests to sign with the blue plume pen when they arrived for the wedding. Attached to the front of the stand was a heart-shaped plaque covered with white net decorated with lilies of the valley and a white satin wedding bell rimmed with pearls. Miss Misty Peddy, sister of the bride, presided at the book.

The focal point of interest in altar decorations was the significant prayer bench where the couple knelt for the benediction. On either side fifteen-branched brass candelabra entwined with gypsophila shed soft illumination. Pews for family members were designated with white silk bows.

Mrs. Stuart Schroder, pianist, contributed the prelude selections which included "Twelfth of Never", "Always" and "Whither Thou Goest". She accompanied

Mrs. Tommy Smith, soloist, who sang "Wedding Song" and played the wedding marches most often regarded with particular favor.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a long white chiffon gown which flowed into interesting hankiechief lines. The fitted bodice was accented with a band of silk appliques hugging the waistline, and she wore a sheer cape to enhance the overall picture.

She wore a Juliet cap of chiffon and Venise lace which held her blush veil and fingertip veil of illusion edged with two rows of lace appliques. The bride's nose-gay was fashioned of blue pixie carnations, white roses, baby's breath, blue and white silk streamers against a lace background.

She observed bridal traditions by wearing a wedding band that belonged to Mrs. Jimmy Johnson, her maternal grandmother, for "something old"; "something borrowed" was Mrs. Bill Johnston's earrings; and a sixpence was attached to her blue garter to complete the sentiments.

Mrs. Bill Johnston served as matron of honor. Mrs. Toby Peddy, sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Tova Ruetsch, both of Wichita Falls, were bridesmaids. They were attired in long blue crepe gowns styled with high waists, spaghetti straps and blue lace vests. They wore blue silk roses in their hair and carried single white carnations with long stems trimmed with baby's breath, leatherleaf and tiny blue and white satin bows.

Shelly Mills, the flower girl, wore a blue crepe frock and carried blue and white carnations and baby's breath in a white woven basket. Mark Thames was ring bearer.

Toby Peddy, brother of the bride, was best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Bill Johnston and Robby O'Neal. The groom wore a white tuxedo with tails and a blue carnation centered with a white rosebud for a boutonniere. Other male participants wore black tuxedos and light blue shirts.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School, attended Midwestern State University, and is presently employed at Cloth World in Wichita Falls. The groom is co-owner of Willard Frye Dozier Service.

The wedding reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church where the blue and white colors governed decorations.

The refreshment table laid with white lace over blue stood apart in the setting. The center appointment was a bouquet of blue poppies, sweetpeas and baby's breath arranged on a base of blue net in a tall stemmed crystal compote tied at the base with blue ribbon.

MRS. JOHN DAVID FRYE II

The three-tiered white cake was deftly frosted in drapes of tiny white rosettes, each centered with a blue rose, around the layers rimmed with small white doves. Swan dividers raised the top tier to give a full view of the second tier covered with a cluster of blue roses with pale green leaves.

The top ornament featured a bride and groom in formal wedding attire standing on a dais covered with white lace touched with silk leaves and wee love birds. The couple stood in front of a crescent moon studded with rhinestones that curved to hold wedding bells, silk flowers with silver centers over their heads.

Mrs. Toby Peddy, Miss Tova Ruetsch and Miss Misty Peddy served at the cake and punch services.

Guests took the white net rice bags from a large white basket with a handle decorated with a large white satin bow, love birds and baby's breath. The basket was placed on a separate table covered with blue lace over white.

Chamber wants president names

Who were presidents of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce, serving from 1921 through 1949? That question was brought up Monday during the monthly meeting of Chamber directors by Mrs. Ray Pittman, secretary. She says a plaque has been obtained on which past presidents names will be inscribed, but Chamber records go back only as far as 1950.

Anyone knowing the names and years served by Chamber presidents during those years is asked by Mrs. Pittman to call her at 592-5441.

The Chamber was solicited to support and cooperate with formation of a Better Business Bureau, to be located in Wichita Falls. The request was in the form of a letter from Noros Martin, who will be invited to the September board meeting to explain the project.

A group of volunteers are planning to paint the outside of the Chamber office building Sunday. H.M. Nipper said he, Tommy Cantrell and others will provide the labor, but they are seeking supplies for the project. A report on responsibility assignments for the Whoop-T-Do was made by Helen Rich, this year's chairman.

City council sets meeting

Members of the Iowa Park city council are expected to take action toward demolishing two dilapidated structures when they meet in regular session Monday evening.

A request to advertise for bids to demolish two unoccupied houses, 207 S. Wall and 303 W. Jefferson, will be made by Steve Morath, city administrator.

Morath said the owners had been notified by Bud Thompson, fire marshal, July 10 and that nothing had been done by the owners toward razing the structures, which have been deemed unsafe and hazards.

Two individuals had notified Morath prior to presstime that they wanted to speak before the council. Wayne House, representing the Evening Lions Club, will seek city funds to assist in remodeling the Koonce-McCullough Building, part of which will house the Friendly Door.

Also to appear before the council will be Dan Spruiell, co-owner of Spruiell Drilling Co., seeking to lease city-owned property which has previously been leased by Catlin Cement.

Police investigate two theft reports

Iowa Park police investigated two thefts this week.

Monday police received a report from D.A. Hill, 314 E. Pecan, that two wheels and tires had been stolen from a house trailer. The property taken was valued at $50.

On Saturday police received a report from Richard DiVildiss of Burkburnett, who told police someone stole a briefcase from a pickup truck parked at 1014 Foley.

DeVildiss said the briefcase contained business papers valued from $2,000 to $3,000.

Sales tax rebate takes big jump

Iowa Park's July sales tax rebate was for $5,382, representing a sizeable increase when compared to last year's July payment of $3,044.

Sales tax rebates still are behind two percent.

So far 1979 sales tax rebates have netted the city $37,325 as compared to $38,478 received by this time last year.

As I See It....

Coffee is worth more than oil this week.

No, I'm not referring to the pending increase in coffee prices. Rather, it's the sale of coffee in the coffee shops around town, brought about by news events.

You know, whenever something happens and it catches everybody's interest, they go straight to the coffee shops and sit around tables talking about the big event.

Well we had the big events this week. First was the arrest of Bobby Johnson, followed by the surrender of his alleged housemate of the past couple of years, then the president's cabinet submits resignations, we got some welcomed rains, and if that's not enough, Little League all-star baseball teams were in tournaments and we had a street dance that attracted hundreds of persons.

Of course, Johnson's disappearance has probably sold more coffee than anything that ever happened around Iowa Park. Coffee tables have been worn out with discussions concerning his whereabouts. In fact, some folks who didn't even drink coffee probably broke their ban on the caffeine loaded liquid, just so they could tell their ideas, or hear what everyone else had to say.

There doubtlessly will be several more gallons brewed and consumed before the saga of Johnson cools off.

Resignations from the president's cabinet was no surprise to me, but they probably boosted coffee consumption by at least 10 percent over the nation.

I've said all along that most of the problems Carter has are brought about by his advisers. Several years ago, I proposed that any candidate for president should, at the time of his party's convention, name his cabinet so those who nominate him would know what it was they were voting for. It's the cabinet that makes an administration, not that lone figure who sits in the president's seat.

The turnout we had Saturday night for the fire department's street dance showed me two things: our community supports the volunteers; and the people want more activities such as that in the future.

Those who turned out were generous with their financial support of the department, which is raising money to purchase a van in which emergency and rescue equipment will be transported.

And from watching the crowd, it was evident to me that our citizens want activities they can attend, here in Iowa Park, rather than having to go out of town to find something to do.

The firemen just simply came up with the proper formula: have a good cause and give the people what they want.

Admittedly, this is a shorter column than I usually write, but you see, I had neither the money nor the time to drink enough coffee to get anything more to write about.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

I have been requested by Mr. William E. Lane, to write you concerning your improper and highly prejudicial reporting. In your paper of June 14, 1979 under "Municipal Court Records" you show that Mr. Lane was found guilty of speeding and paid a fine of $28.50.

You need to set the record straight. Mr. Lane has, on his own, appealed the result of the Municipal Court proceeding to County Court. He did not plead guilty, nor did he pay any fine. Please be very careful how you indiscriminately adjudge people guilty.

appearance in this newspaper was exactly as it was reported in the municipal court records, that we did not say your client pleaded guilty, nor will we discriminate against all others who are found guilty by the municipal judge by leaving out your client's name from the report. I can also assure you that each and every time your client is tried in the Iowa Park Municipal Court, and found guilty, his name, offense and fine will be so reported, despite your letter which I consider intimidating and an attempt to persuade me from using my right under the First Amendment. Your's most sincerely, Bob Hamilton

In addition, Mr. Lane believes that a proper retraction is in order stating that he did not plead guilty and that no fine was paid pending his appeal.

In the future, should this event occur again, I trust that you will ascertain and print only the facts. If you choose to print news, do it accurately.

Dear Bob,

On behalf of the Lake Diversion Sportsman Club we would like to say thanks to you, the MuleSkinners and everyone else who helped make our July 7 barbecue a success.

Also would like to invite everyone to come to our Labor Day Fish Fry on Sept. 2, 1979.

Burk holds off rally to win tournament

Burkburnett defeated Iowa Park's Major League All-Stars 9-5 Tuesday night in the district Little League tournament finals played at Electra.

Iowa Park staged a four-run rally in the fifth inning, with two outs, but couldn't overcome the Burk lead.

The locals had beaten host Electra in the first game Monday, 6-3.

Burkburnett took a 1-0 lead in the first inning of the championship game, but Iowa Park came roaring back to even the score in the next inning. Iowa Park coaches protested an official's call, when he ruled Mike Kent had not touched home plate, which would have given Iowa Park a 2-1 lead.

Jerry Allen led Iowa Park batters, going two for three. Steven Bidy was two for four. Other hits were from Jake Fulbright, Mark Copeland, Van Hedrick, Kent and Darrin French.

Hedrick struck out nine Burk batters, while giving up 11 hits.

In Monday's game, Bidy hit a fifth inning home run to help Iowa Park rally past Electra. His shot into left field came with two on base and Iowa Park trailing 3-1.

Jerry Allen followed Bidy with a double, and was driven home by a triple off Copeland's bat. Kent sacrificed Hedrick home in the sixth for an insurance run.

Copeland went two for three at the plate against Electra. Kent picked up the win, pitching all six innings, giving up four hits, seven walks, and striking out 13 batters.

Finnell attacks governor's veto

Rep. Charles Finnell maintains that Gov. Clements' veto of appropriations for the Texas counties lateral road fund was "totally uncalled for, and should be corrected as soon as possible."

Finnell spoke in reference to the governor's veto of more than $7.3-million to be used for maintenance and operation of county roads statewide.

In the governor's veto message, Clements stated since "the Board (of County and District Road Indebtedness) was not reestablished by the Sixty-sixth Legislature...I am vetoing the 1981 appropriation because the duties of the board are no longer required."

Finnell said the governor's reasoning fails to take into account the fact that "board or no board, the fiscal responsibilities for road maintenance will still exist."

"The governor is not saving money with this veto," said Finnell, "because the funds involved come from road use taxes. The $7.3-million will simply be channelled out of the counties and sit idle in the state treasury."

Finnell said he will join with the Texas Association of Counties, and the Texas Good Roads Association in calling for Gov. Clements to restore these much needed funds when a special session is called.

And what if counties do not recover this state assistance?

"If this funding cannot be obtained," said Finnell, "the counties of our district will either have to cut back on maintenance, or raise new local taxes. I sincerely hope that neither of these alternatives is what Gov. Clements had in mind when he vetoed this money."

Hawks favored to win district in football

Are the Iowa Park Hawks really coming back as a football powerhouse?

Well, the 1979 edition of Texas Football Magazine thinks so.

TF figures the Hawks will be battling mainly with Mineral Wells, Weatherford and possibly Burkburnett for the District 4-AAA title.

Texas Football Magazine, edited by Dave Campbell of Waco, had become the favorite crystal ball of Texas high school football followers. Subscribers have received their issues, while fans are knocking at the doors of newsstands daily, anxiously wanting their copy.

This year's edition has Iowa Park as the 4-AAA favorite, which is quite a change after winning only five games out of 40 starts the past four years.

"Look for Iowa Park, Mineral Wells and Weatherford to fight it out for the crown in this North Texas district, and Burkburnett could present a serious challenge, too," states the article.

"IOWA PARK owns a wealth of experience and talent as 10 offensive and 9 defensive starters come back from last year's 4-6 edition. Tackle Tommy Ross

(6-1, 230, 5.0 speed), end Ronnie Reusch (6-2, 210) and RB Troy Thompson (4.5 speed) are good ones, joined by linemen Bill Maupin (6-1, 210), Joe Spruiell, Larry Merrill, Kent Fehr and Troy Linthicum. Backs Mike Ray, Robert Hastings and Toby Smith, SEs Randall Schram and Wes Klinkerman (6-2, 165) and QB Curtis Martin, Greg McLaughlin and Ron Taylor also give Iowa Park good skills, and NG Calvin Sampley (6-1, 190). Ends Tim Blackwell, Steve McCord and Robert Spears command respect," says the TF article.

HOLLIDAY FAVORED
Holliday's Eagles, as usual, are the favorites to win Dist. 13-A, though Coach Don Lucy's charges are not among the top 10 ranked teams in the state. "HOLLIDAY utilized its improved size to repeat as district champs last year and is depending on quickness to run off with a third straight crown this season. A total of 10 starters return, split evenly between offense and defense, from last year's 9-2 machine. Most of the speed comes from TB James Porter (5-9, 160), a 4.7 sprinter who led the loop in rushing last year. End Kent Lemons (6-2, 220) and tackle

Greg Dillard (6-2, 195) can both make 40 yards disappear in 5.0 Porter and his WB companion of last year, senior Jim Ezzell (5-11, 175) will be working with a new and undetermined signal caller, but they will line up behind some familiar steam-rollers, Dillard and center Jody Collier (5-11, 185). Senior Mike Bryant is a rerun regular at DT.

Billion barrels pumped; 2.1 more to go

One of the largest U.S. oilfields outside of Alaska has just produced its billionth barrel of crude. How much more oil can be recovered from Scurry County's famous Kelly Snyder field? That will depend largely on price and tax decisions by the federal government, not on the advanced technology so much in evidence here. Most of the field, discovered 30 years ago in an ancient limestone reef about a mile beneath ranch and farm land, was unitized in 1953 by the many original operators as SACROC (Scurry Area Canyon Reef Operators Committee). Chevron U.S.A. Inc., the domestic oil and gas subsidiary of Standard Oil Company of California, now operates the field for all of its owners. It was Chevron that completed the first discovery well on the computer printed performance data for the previous day. The computer indicated that the billionth barrel was produced by one of the field's 626 producing wells at about 1 p.m. on June 21, give or take 10 minutes.

Canyon Reef structure on Nov. 19, 1948. Confirmation of the billionth-barrel production milestone came on June 22 this year when a SACROC

Kelly Snyder used to be known as a "billion barrel" oilfield, based on estimates of how much of the original 2.1-billion barrels of oil "in place" could be recovered by "secondary" methods. But a sophisticated and costly carbon dioxide (CO2) injection project, the largest undertaking of its kind, was begun in 1972 and greatly increased the field's recovery prospects.

SACROC Unit Petroleum Engineer Stan Walker discussed the field's ultimate amount of recoverable oil as a matter of both technology and economics.

He said that only 19 percent, or 400-million barrels, of Nature's 2.1-billion barrels would have been recovered without fluid injection for maintenance of pressure in Canyon Reef's limestone. Because of a water injection project begun in 1954, possible recovery was boosted to 44 percent, or 930 million barrels. This would have been a good yield by industry standards. However, as a result of expanding the project and providing CO2 injection for enhanced oil recovery (the gas comes 200 miles by pipeline from natural gas fields where it is produced as a byproduct), the field has now yielded over 47 percent—one billion barrels—of the original oil in place. Without any new programs by SACROC, ultimate recovery could exceed 56 percent, or nearly 1.2-billion barrels. Production, through declining, would continue for many years.

"However," Walker added, "even greater recovery would be possible if government price and taxing policies permitted increasingly costly, diminishing-return investments at SACROC."

He explained that further infill drilling (spacing wells at closer intervals) could capture more of the original oil in place. Also, CO2 could be injected into wells now devoted exclusively to waterflooding, after waterflooding is complete. Such a "tertiary" recovery program might squeeze another six percent of original oil from the Kelly Snyder field.

Thus, total recovery from the field including tertiary flooding could approach 70 percent or nearly 1.5-billion barrels of crude. These last 300-million barrels would certainly be costly barrels, but would be comparable in price to equivalent energy from foreign oil and alternative energy sources.

Although SACROC could have applied to the Department of Energy for special pricing treatment, the field's owners have chosen not to do so because of the meager benefits available and because a virtual surrender to DOE of operational control would have followed. Nor can SACROC expect, in the near term, any benefit from President Carter's plan to phase out domestic crude oil price controls, because SACROC wouldn't be affected until sometime in 1980.

Even then, provisions of "windfall profits" tax legislation now being considered by Congress could prohibit additional development, Walker said.

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will begin at 9 a.m. on July 24, 1979, in the offices of the Texas Public Utility Commission in Austin, Texas, on a proposal by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to make certain changes in the format of selected Texas telephone directories.

The principal proposed changes are: (1) to separate business and residential listings in the white pages, with residential surnames listed once in boldface type followed by the alphabetical listing of the individuals' given names in regular type; and (2) to add, in addition to the "white pages" business and residential listings and the Yellow Pages business listings, a third set of "blue pages" listing the numbers of selected governmental and public service agencies.

Inquiries may be addressed to the Texas Public Utility Commission, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas 78757.

Mrs. Dub Taylor

Much of the excitement of being a hostess, or just cooking for the family, is planning and preparing for it. One can imagine the delight of preparing a dessert like Lucious Layered Blueberry Delight shared with us this week by Helen (Mrs. Dub) Taylor.

Cook of the Week

Blueberry, a favorite of so many people, is also called "bilberry". Most of the several species in North America are gathered in New Jersey, southern Michigan and eastern North Carolina.

Elizabeth White is given credit for "taming" the blueberry. She used to offer prizes for the largest wild blueberries. The Department of Agriculture got interested and started cross-breeding the winners in 1909.

A school teacher, wife, mother and grandmother, who likes to cook, read, do handwork and care for plants are just a few of the marks to identify and describe the versatile Helen Taylor, another newcomer to Iowa park. She and her husband, who is an engineer technician at Sheppard AFB, and their son Bryan, who will be a junior at Iowa Park High School next year, moved here a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Taylor was graduated from Collinsville High School. She attended Cooke County Junior College and received a B.S. degree in elementary education at North Texas State University. She taught fifth grade at Callisburg for nine years.

The couple's other children are Mike of Sweetwater, Ken and Vella of Denton, Marcia of Wichita Falls and Rhonda of Gainesville. They have five grandchildren.

TOPS meets

Fifteen members weighed in at the TOPS Club meeting Monday night. The TOPS Queens for the week were Mrs. Roland Putman and Mrs. Don Rice, and the KOPS Queen was Pauline Steele.

Mrs. Don Wynn directed the business. Mrs. George Boles, contest chairman, explained the new contests that started that night. The first will last for three weeks, and those who gain during that time will bring cans of vegetables or fruits for the losers to receive.

The second contest will run for six weeks. When one gains during that time she will be eliminated, and members who have not gained will receive gifts when the contest ends.

Mrs. A.J. Woods conducted a quiz for the program.

City officials indicated a need to expand office area and could use the joining garage for the enlargement.

Two fire trucks currently occupy the garage. City and fire department officials discussed possible alternatives at Monday night's meeting. The city officials indicated they would help finance the building of a new fire station that might include police department office space. The fire department still has an option to use land along FM 368 in the north part of town. Another possible location would be a city-owned lot in the south part of town.

They tabled action on renewing their insurance policy covering city vehicles and general liability. City National Bank representatives Dee Tate and Travis Reagan discussed the possibility of the city investing some of its money in time cash deposits.

Don Talley informed the council that the county was hunting for site to construct a new combination fire/police station. Talley was appointed to head a committee to investigate the county project and report back to the council at its next meeting.

In other business Monday night the council voted to contact the state highway department about installing a stop light and two caution lights on Seymour Highway.

Councilmen voted to hire two additional school boys to help with street patching.

Councilmen voted to allow a resident to cut up several old cars for removal. The individual will be responsible for any resulting damages.

Several councilmen are expected to meet with representatives of a sewage disposal system at noon Saturday at the Dairy Queen.

Councilmen also voted to advertise for someone to assume the post of municipal judge. Interested persons may apply in person at Holliday City Hall.

BATTERIES FOR MOST HEARING AIDS AND TIMEX WATCHES AT Park Pharmacy 115 W. Park

Try 78° this summer. You'll save on your electric bill.

Texas Electric recommends a setting of 78° or higher for energy efficiency. The lower you set your thermostat, the more energy you use.

For example, if you keep the temperature at 76° the energy used by your air conditioner will be 10% more; at 74° 20% more, and so on.

A 78° setting may be higher than you're used to, but when it's 90° or more outside, you'll still be comfortable inside. But the best part is that you'll notice a difference on your summer electric bills.

There are a lot of other ways you can cut down on summer energy use. For some good ideas, call Texas

Electric and ask for our free TIPS booklet. Or, ask for it on the comment section of your next electric bill.

The way we see it, the more you know about using... and saving... energy, the better.
