

MILLION-DOLLAR BOND

Johnson remains in Wichita jail

Iowa Park agribusinessman Bobby Johnson has been returned to Wichita county to face charges of interstate transportation of stolen grain and aiding and abetting.

Johnson was returned to Wichita County last Friday afternoon following his arraignment that morning in Fort Worth. He is being held in Wichita County jail in lieu of $1-million bond.

A preliminary hearing on his case is scheduled for 9 a.m. August 15 in the Wichita Falls federal courtroom of U.S. Judge Eldon Mahon.

Earlier this week U.S. Magistrate Gene Richie appointed Wichita Falls lawyer Barbara Crampton to represent Johnson. But yesterday afternoon Mrs. Crampton withdrew from the case when it was learned Johnson's family had secured the services of attorney Gene Douglass.

It was an overcast, cloudy day in Fort Worth last Friday when Johnson was ushered into the Federal Courthouse for his formal arraignment.

Confronted by a host of newspaper and television photographers, another prisoner being escorted with Johnson quipped, "Well, that's the last time I'm riding with you, Bobby." Several members of the Johnson family arrived early at the courthouse, anxious to see their fugitive relative who disappeared 2½ years ago in the heat of an investigation of his business dealings that revealed area farmers had been defrauded of almost $2-million in grain they had stored in Johnson's facilities.

Most of the family members were seated in the courtroom when Johnson's handcuffs were removed and he was escorted inside. Johnson was able to touch several family members as he walked past them.

Dressed in boots, jeans and a short sleeve western shirt, Johnson was smiling and apparently happy, then he turned to look haggard and forlorn as he looked at his family members including a small child thought to be his grandchild, the baby of his daughter, Kim. Others in the audience included his parents, Henry and Ruth Johnson, and his sister LaJuana Vanek.

Johnson stood before the judge as Asst. U.S. Atty. R.H. Wallace presented the indictment charging Johnson with 13 counts of interstate transportation of stolen grain and four counts of aiding and abetting.

The judge told Johnson that if he is convicted on each count he could be sentenced to 170 years in prison, fined $170,000 or both. That is the maximum punishment Johnson faces, the judge said.

Because Johnson had not obtained an attorney at the time of the arraignment, the judge entered a plea of not guilty for Johnson.

The judge set the trial date for 9 a.m. September 4 in Wichita Falls; however, there have been reports that Johnson's attorney will seek a change of venue.

Johnson was allowed a brief visitation period with members of his immediate family before being transported to Wichita Falls.

He was processed early Friday afternoon at the federal building in Wichita Falls by U.S. Marshal Eddie Crittenden. The marshal dispelled earlier reports that Johnson had had his fingerprints removed.

About 2:50 p.m. Friday Crittenden transported Johnson from the federal building to Wichita County jail. In belychains and handcuffs, Johnson was much more haggard looking than he had been earlier in Fort Worth.

Confronted by reporters, Johnson said, "I'm glad to be here...I'm just glad to be home."

Asked where he had been, Johnson replied, "With the Lord...I'm just glad to be home."

What will happen next, someone asked.

"I just don't know," Johnson said.

City council wants opinions

What's your opinion about conditions and situations in Iowa Park?

That's what the Iowa Park city council wants to know. A survey form is being published on page six in this week's Leader. The public is urged to complete the form and return it to city hall, for future consideration by the council.

Aldermen want donation advice

The Iowa Park city council Monday night heard a request for funds to help remodel a building which would be used by a senior citizens' organization, passed ordinances designed to improve traffic flow in the area of the bank, and heard an engineer's report on how flooding can be corrected in Country Hills Estate.

Before an audience containing some 19 members of The Friendly Door, Wayne House, representing the Evening Lions Club, asked the city to contribute $2,000 to $3,000 to help restore the Koonce-McCullough Building, 100 West Cash.

House explained that his civic organization proposed the structure would be for the primary use by the senior citizens' five meetings per week. Another portion of the building would be used for meetings of several civic organizations, including his own club.

The Evening Lions purchased the building and are presently remodeling it. House told of furniture, kitchen and eating equipment, air conditioning and heating and other equipment already bought and ready to install.

Though members of the council indicated they would not be against contributing assistance, they agreed that a legal question of whether the city can contribute to a private organization needs to be ruled on by the city attorney.

House made a point that the project was going to be completed, with or without city assistance. "It will just take a little longer if you can't help us," he told the council.

PASS ORDINANCES

One of the ordinances approved by the council prohibits vehicle parking in areas of West Park Avenue. Parking restrictions are in the west-bound lane only.

Parking is prohibited on the north side in front of the bank annex building, and on the south side, 100 feet from the east corner.

To expedite traffic through the drive up windows, the bank has paved a route straight north to Bank Street. Through traffic in the alley from Wall to Yosemite has now been closed, by the second ordinance approved by the council.

DRAINAGE ANALYSIS

Roger Clements, representing a Wichita Falls engineering firm, Brannon and Clements, made a detailed report on a study he was commissioned to do concerning draining of Country Hills Estates.

Rainfall collected from a watershed of 208 acres is carried through the housing addition north of the expressway, Clements said. Breaking down the acreage, 111 acres is on the east side of Johnson Road, and 62 acres on the west side.

On a frequency of two years, approximately 370 cubic feet per second (cfs) of water flows through the addition, and about once every 10 years, as much as 530 cfs washes the addition.

Recognizing the streets are not adequate to handle that amount of water, Clements says two alternatives are available to carry most of the water. After collecting the water on the north side of the addition, two types of waterways can be built in the alley between Rita and Douglas streets.

Eyebrows of aldermen were raised when he estimated the cost of an underground system at $160,000, and a concrete lined drainage ditch in the alley at $84,000.

A ditch could be cut on the west side of Johnson Road to carry part of the water which flows through the addition. However, a 20-foot right of way would be required to handle a ditch cut three feet deep and eight feet wide, he told council members.

The council will consider the report in making future plans.

In other business, Steve Morath, city administrator, was instructed to advertise for bids to demolish two uninhabitable houses.

Members also discussed changes which have been requested for consideration by the Sereno Lago housing project at Horseshoe Lake, and need of a public survey on needs of the city.

Street dance nets $1,300

The recent street dance and related activities raised more than $1,300 for the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department, according to Paul Shea, president.

The department held the benefit dance to raise money toward purchase of a van which will be used to transport emergency and rescue equipment.

Shea said some $1,600 was raised in one evening, and expenses were about $300.

With profits from the dance, the department now has about $6,000 of the $8,000 needed to purchase the van. Shea said a committee is in the process of drafting specifications needed in the vehicle, which will probably be ordered in August.

BIG ENGINE ROAR-Wichita County Young Farmers entertained capacity crowds during both performances of their fourth annual tractor pull. With proceeds directed toward various charities, this year's contest attracted some competitors with machines powered by alcohol and airplane engines.

Major events recalled

The following is a chronological review of the major events surrounding the Bobby Johnson investigation.

December 1976-Geronimo Elevator Co. in Wichita Falls, one of the Johnson family businesses, lost its U.S. Department of Agriculture approval for grain storage.

January 1977-On Jan. 3 Bobby Johnson allegedly fell from a pleasure boat and drowned in the Gulf of Mexico. Proceeds totaling $100,000 from the sale of Johnson's grain receiving facilities at Geronimo, Grandfield and Cookietown, Okla., also disappeared. Family mourners attacked newsmen outside the First United Methodist Church here where memorial services for Bobby Johnson were held. Port Aransas constables Ben Cash and Charles Titus take their search for Bobby Johnson to Belize in South America. Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings are brought against the Johnson family businesses. Investigators determined 400,000 bushels of grain were missing from Geronimo Elevator Co.

February 1977-A federal grand jury begins its investigation into Bobby Johnson's disappearance.

May 1977-Bobby Johnson was indicted by a federal grand jury on 13 counts of interstate transportation of stolen grain.

June 1977-Reports surface that Bobby Johnson was seen alive in Iowa Park in February after having undergone plastic surgery to his face and removal of his fingerprints.

September 1977-A federal grand jury returns a 26-count indictment involving alleged interstate trans-

SPREADING THE WORD - Mrs. Robert Nolen has been waiting a long time to celebrate her brother's 50th birthday, and she did it up big. Special bumper stickers were printed for the special event and the message yesterday was carried far and wide. She pastes a sticker on a car in front of city hall, where her brother, Johnny Crawford, offices as mayor.

Merrill-Shierry nuptial vows recited Saturday

Miss Lori Michelle Merrill and Jeffrey Scott Shierry were united in marriage Saturday evening in a double-ring ceremony performed at the Lamar Baptist Chapel in Wichita Falls by the Rev. Robert Norseworthy, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Paula Merrill and Lawrence Merrill of Wichita Falls, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs.

Darell Shierry of Iowa Park. Vows were exchanged in a candlelight ceremony before candelabra entwined with ivy intermingled with blue and yellow ribbons in which tall white tapers were aglow.

Mrs. Dusty Hill, aunt of the bride, provided the piano wedding music. Her prenuptial selections included "I Only Have Eyes for You", "Never My Love", Theme from Romeo and Juliet and "Love Story". Her offerings also included the traditional processional to herald the approach of the wedding party, and the recessional of long-continued practice to background their departure from the chapel.

The bride's father presented her for marriage. She chose a formal gown of white organza lined in taffeta designed with an empire bodice featuring a stand up collar and dainty yoke of Venice lace. Appliques of the lace ornamented the front of the bodice and wide, horizontal rows of lace accented the long sheer sleeves. The full skirt trailed into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion trimmed in Venice lace was attached to a Juliet cap adorned with seed pearls. The bride carried a nosegay of yellow and white daisies and blue-tinted baby's breath.

Remembering the importance of bridal traditions, she wore a strand of pearls that belonged to Mrs. Jack Judd, a close friend of the family, for "something old"; earrings loaned by her sister, Mrs. Richard Pace, for "something borrowed"; the customary "something blue" garter, and the lucky sixpence in her shoe.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Richard Pace of Waco, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a yellow polyester knit gown with the modish spaghetti straps, crystal pleated skirt and matching capelet. Her bouquet was a smaller version of the bride's bouquet.

The groom wore a canton blue after six tuxedo, a white ruffled shirt and yellow daisy boutonniere. The best man, ushers and fathers of the bride and groom wore formal light blue coats and vests and dark blue pants.

Richard Pace was best man, and Larry Merrill and Donnie Shierry, brothers of the bride and groom, were in charge of ushering wedding guests to their seats.

Mothers of the couple wore white orchids with their long gowns they chose for the wedding. Mrs. Merrill was attired in a blue floral print dress with a capelet and Mrs. Shierry's turquoise Qiana dress was also fashioned with a capelet.

The newlyweds were both graduated from Iowa Park High School, he in 1977 and she in 1979.

The groom was a member of the varsity golf team and president of VICA Building Trades. He is employed by M.A. Vordenbaum & Sons General Contractors. In high school, the bride was a member of National Honor Society, pep squad mascot, captain of the varsity volleyball team, and received Who's Who in Spanish and business. She is employed by Southside Girl's Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hill, grandparents of the bride, were hosts for the postnuptial reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. They were assisted by Misses Brenda Pace, who sat at the bride's book table, Leslie McDonald, Leah Hill, Laura Hill and Angie McDonald.

Each table in the setting was covered with white linen. Appointments on the bride's table included a centerpiece of white and yellow daisies flanked by single white candles in crystal holders, the cake and punch service at table extremities.

The three-tiered white-iced cake was beautiful with its flowering side trim of yellow and blue frosting roses, one set of filigree dividers, and the familiar bride and groom surrounded by an arch of daisies chosen for the top ornament.

The groom's table held a bouquet of yellow and blue daisies, the German chocolate cake topped with flowers and names of the couple in the chosen hues, and the silver coffee service.

The registry table was set apart with the wedding book and feather pen, a bud vase of yellow and blue carnations and a silver tray holding the net rice bags.

Mr. and Mrs. Shierry, parents of the groom, hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Big Jim's Steak House.

The new Mrs. Shierry wore an ivory cotton dress embellished with pink roses when the couple left for a short wedding trip to Dallas. They will live in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Mary Merrill, Lawton, Okla. grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pace, Waco, and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Shierry, Refugio, were out-of-town guests at the wedding.

Bennett family reunion held at Port Aransas

The children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Mrs. Alma Bennett and the late W.B. Bennett held a family reunion at Port Aransas July 8.

One daughter, Mrs. Gene Spyres of San Jose, Calif. was unable to attend. Mrs. Bennett's sons and daughters and their spouses who were present were W.A. (Boy) Bennett of Victoria and D.A. Hill of Iowa Park. Daughters and their husbands who attended were Beatrice and D.R. Brookshire, Shirley and Charles Mowery, Iowa Park, Ima and Jack Long of Alvin, Delores and Ron Radford of San Antonio. Mrs. Vivian Adams of Alvin, another daughter, was also present.

Grandchildren and great-grandchildren present from Iowa Park were Mrs. Audrey Duggins and Christy, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Armstrong, Jessica, Keith De Edra and Brent Mowery, Tray, Benny and Jeff Brookshire, Alma Lynn and Jolene Hill.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Terry Brookshire, Wichita Falls; Mrs. Cynthia Hessel-tine, Glenn, Gary, Graig and Grant, Paula, Mary Beth and Bruce Radford, San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Adams, Jake and Jerimie, Mr. and Mrs. John Seale, Trisha and Amy, Mrs. Bobby Schovsky, Alvin.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hill and Denise, Miss Diana Hill, Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Patterson, Aron and Caleb, Mr. and Mrs. William Fortenberry, Houston; Mrs. Jimmie Smith, Refugio; and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bennett, Paul and Chris, Victoria. Forty grandchildren and great-grandchildren were unable to attend.

Cook-Esquibel wedding held in Wichita Falls

Our Lady Guadalupe Church in Wichita Falls was the setting Friday evening for the wedding of Miss Tenna Sheryl Cook and Louis Samuel Esquibel. The double-ring ceremony was officiated by Father John Mitchell.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Cook of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Esquibel of Wichita Falls.

The altar decorations for the wedding consisted of two large all-white arrangements of gladioli, roses, peonies and mums on stands, and church pews were designated with blue satin bows.

A concert of prelude music was presented by Mrs. C.E. Jackson, organist. She played "He Touched Me" and "If I Could Help Somebody" for spiritual emphasis, and "O, Promise Me", "Just a Song at Twilight", "O Solo Mio", "Because" and "Indian Love Call" for romantic flavor. Included in her offerings were the traditional marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn.

When the bride was presented in marriage by her father, she was wearing a white satin bridal gown and a mantilla-inspired fingertip headdress of guipure lace. The empire gown was fashioned with a high neckline, sheer sleeves closed at the wrists with pearl buttons and loops, and a full skirt bordered in wide lace that drifted into a chapel train.

She carried a nosegay of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath centered with a corsage that lifted out for her going away costume. She observed the sentimental traditions to add interest to her gown.

Mrs. Patrick Cooke, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a floor length baby blue satin gown designed with a low neckline, short sleeves and empire waist. She carried a single stem white carnation with blue ribbon trim.

The groom wore a light blue tuxedo and a boutonniere consisting of white roses and stephanotis. Andy Garcia, the best man, wore dark pants and a light blue coat.

Mrs. Cook chose a two-piece light blue Qiana gown for the wedding, and Mrs. Esquibel wore a long green nylon dress complemented with a matching lace jacket. Their corsages were fashioned of white carnations and baby's breath.

The reception following the wedding was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church and hosted by the bride's parents.

The refreshment table was draped to full length with blue satin. The centerpiece, cake, silver punch service, and blue bridal napkins engraved with the names of the bride and groom blended with the cloth to form a pleasing picture.

Five-branched silver candelabra holding white candles, blue and white miniature carnations and cushion poms was the graceful centerpiece. The two-tiered cake was iced in baby blue was placed on a ruffle of blue net, and each tier was decorated with cascading white roses and borders. The top ornament featured two white doves standing beneath two white wedding bells that centered an archway covered with blue and white net.

Mrs. Jesse Torress and Mrs. Ifren Escobedo, sister of the groom, served refreshments to the guests.

Mrs. Wayne Cook presided at the bride's book table which held a small arrangement of blue and white pixie carnations and cushion poms.

The newlyweds departed from the reception for a honeymoon trip to points in South Texas. She traveled in a two-piece pink Qiana

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School where she was in National Honor Society, pep squad and belonged to FHA three years. She is employed at TG&Y Family Center. The groom, a graduate of Hirschi High School, is employed by PPG Industries. They will live in Wichita Falls.

Out-of-town relatives attending the wedding were Mrs. Vesty Cook of Springfield, Tenn. and Mrs. Wardell Price of Cotton-town, Tenn., grandmothers of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Esquibel of Graham, Elizabeth Cook of Dallas and David Cook of Springfield, Tenn.

Cook of the Week

A booklet "Facts about Ham" states that people have been enjoying it since 7,000 B.C.

Pat (Mrs. Richard) Davis shares her recipe for Ham Croquettes this week. The recipe calls for mustard, a condiment that has also been around for a long time.

Both Greeks and Romans called mustard "sinapsis". When the Duke of Burgundy entertained King Phillip of France, many gallons of mustard were used at a single meal. Another big mustard eater was King Louis XI in the 15th century, who took his own mustard with him when he made surprise visits to his friends. Louis XIV was so fond of the nippy flavor that he made a Coat of Arms to the spice.

Mrs. Davis, a second grade teacher at Kidwell Elementary School, was graduated from Gilmer High School. She attended Kilgore Junior College and East Texas State University before her marriage to Richard, who is job placement coordinator for the Iowa Park High School. She received a bachelor of education degree, summa cum laude, from Midwestern State University, and plans to start working on her masters at night this fall.

She is director of the five-year old Sunday School department of First Baptist Church. She served as vice president of Kidwell P-TA two years, and she is a former member of the Philia Study Club. Her hobbies include sewing, reading and macrame.

Pat and Richard have two children, Scott a fifth grader, and Karie a fourth grade student.

Mrs. Davis' recipes today include three weight watcher recipes and three of her husband's favorites, which are the first three.

HAM CROQUETTES

3 T butter or margarine
1/2 cup flour
1/2 t salt
1 cup milk

Melt butter and blend in flour; add salt and stir in milk. Cook quickly, stirring constantly, till thickened. Cool.

2 cups coarsely ground (or finely chopped) cooked ham
1 T finely chopped onion
2 T prepared mustard

Add to butter-flour mixture; mix well and chill. Shape into croquettes; dip in one egg, beaten, then 1/2 cup fine cracker crumbs. Let stand a few minutes.

Fry in deep hot fat 7 to 8 minutes or till brown. Drain on paper towels. Makes 12 croquettes. This is good served with pickle relish and broiled peach halves.

REFRIGERATOR WHITE ROLLS

1 pkg. active dry yeast
1/4 cup warm water
3/4 cup milk, scalded
1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup sugar
1 t salt
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 egg

Soften the yeast in warm water. Combine milk, shortening, sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup of flour and beat well. Beat in yeast mixture and egg. Add remaining flour and mix well. Place in greased bowl and grease surface. Cover; store in refrigerator at least 2 hours or till needed.

About 1 1/2 to 2 hours before serving time, shape dough on well-floured surface. Let rise in warm place till double (about 1 1/4 hours). Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 16 medium rolls.

Shower fetes bride elect

Decorations and appointments for a miscellaneous bridal shower given Thursday evening feting Miss Teri Shoemaker, bride-elect of Gary Hunter, presented beauty in a most pleasing fashion. The general effect was achieved through the skillful combination of pink, burgundy, gray and white, colors chosen by the honoree for her wedding.

The party took place in the home of Mrs. W.A. Black. Co-hostesses were Mmes. Dick Weber, Arch Hughes, Gerry Thurlo, Leroy Stankewitz, G.L. Cleveland, China B. Smith, James Todd, Miles Thompson, John Kibler, R.E. Waters and Roy Sawyer.

Miss Shoemaker and Mrs. Sam Hunter, mother of the groom-elect, were presented with corsages formed of three pink silk roses, the handiwork of Mrs. Thurlow.

The refreshment table was laid with an exquisite cloth from Colombia featuring alternating squares of hand embroidered Irish linen and lace. The center attraction was a low five-branched white candelabrum banked with pink silk roses and leaves holding slender white tapers.

The white sheet cake characterized by a florid style of ornamentation was decorated with pink frosting roses, shellwork and names of the betrothed couple. The refreshments and napkins repeated the pink and white colors with burgundy and gray accents.

The couple will be married August 4 at the First United Methodist Church.

PATRICIA BROWN and SCOTT HARTGROVE

Announce engagement

He played football two years, served as reporter of Building Trades when he was a junior and as president during his senior year. He works for St. DenHart Construction Co.

VRJC slates dance Friday

Vernon Regional Junior College will host its annual midsummer dance Friday night for area high school 1979 graduates.

Admission to the dance will be evidence of being a 1979 graduate, such as a senior ring, said Don Lamb, VRJC dean of students.

The dance will be from 9 a.m. until midnight Friday at the VRJC student center. "New Day" will provide music ranging from country and western to disco.

TOPS meets

Mrs. Don Wynn, TOPS leader, conducted the business and read excerpts from "Grins and Chuckles" for the program at the Monday night meeting.

Mrs. Lloyd Lowe was KOPS Queen and Mrs. Wynn was TOPS Queen for the week.

Mrs. George Boles, contest chairman, announced that Mrs. Rivas, registered dietician at Sheppard AFB, would be the speaker for the meeting next week.

Twelve members weighed in.

Contrary to popular belief, turtles do not live for hundreds of years. Between 120 and 150 years is the average.

Now that temperatures and electric bills are up, your air conditioner needs all the help it can get.

Hot summer temperatures make your air conditioner work longer and harder. That's what drives up your electric bill.

But there are some things you can do to help. Change or clean your air conditioner's filter to let air flow freely. And trim grass and weeds from around the outside unit for good air circulation.

Inside, close blinds and drapes to help keep out the heat. And try to cut down on the number of times you open doors — an open door lets hot air rush in. Keep your thermostat set at 78° or higher.

To feel cool at this temperature, use a small portable fan to circulate air in the room.

For more ways to cut down high summer electric bills, get Texas Electric's free energy tips booklet. Just call Texas Electric or ask for the booklet on the comment portion of your bill.

Foundation grant announced

A thousand-dollar grant to be used by the Private Enterprise Development Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to award excellence in the teaching of free enterprise was announced last week by the West Texas Chamber Foundation.

A foundation spokesman stated that the grant carried with it a great deal of significance since it is the first grant made by the foundation which was chartered in 1971. In making the grant the directors of the foundation felt that there was no better way to formally activate the foundation's efforts on behalf of West Texas than through recognition of the free enterprise system as it relates to future generations that must be depended upon to perpetuate the free enterprise system.

Bob Corkins, WTCC president, accepted the grant on behalf of the regional chamber. Corkins stated that the money would be used to encourage the achievement of excellence in the field of free enterprise education in the public school systems of West Texas.

Fred Barrington, chairman of the Private Enterprise Development Committee, responsible for administration of the funds said that an awards program would be announced at the beginning of the 1979-80 school year encouraging teachers actively engaged in teaching the required course on the "American Free Enterprise System" in public school systems to enter competition for an award.

The awards program will be open to secondary level teachers representing a public school located within the WTCC service region.

Award recipients will be announced at the 62nd Annual Meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held in San Angelo in April, 1980.

The West Texas Chamber Foundation was created to conduct research, accumulate and disseminate information of a charitable, scientific, literary and educational nature which will result in solutions to urgent problems facing West Texas.

Donations and memorials are encouraged. For complete information write West Texas Chamber Foundation, P.O. Box 1561, Abilene, Texas, 79604, or call 915-677-4325.

Finnell to conference

State Rep. Charles Finnell will be representing the State of Texas and the people of the 53rd District at this year's meeting of the National Conference of State Legislatures.

Rep. Finnell will accompany House Speaker Bill Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby as part of the Texas delegation to the national conference.

The National Conference of State Legislatures (NCSL) is the official organization of the country's 7,500 state legislators and their staffs.

The NCSL has three basic objectives: to assure states a strong voice in the federal decision-making process; to improve the quality and effectiveness of state legislatures; and to foster interstate communication and cooperation through assemblies such as the NCSL annual meeting.

Finnell noted that among the items of interest to him slated for discussion this week will be sessions on education, law and justice, rural and urban development, and transportation.

Editors' reactions to energy speech

The problem here is that no one really knows what will be needed by whom, or how it should be produced. The only way to determine the "need" for a commodity is by a person's willingness to put his own money on the line. That is called the free market.

The price system is, in fact, the most efficient and adaptable rationing system. If gasoline becomes especially scarce in one area, the price normally would rise relatively more in that area, thus attracting gasoline from places of relative plenty. Government allocation and price controls would only prevent that adjustment.

Why not let dealers and jobbers charge whatever price they choose? The fellow setting his price highest would discourage many customers, but draw others who prefer not to wait in line. Lower prices would increase another dealer's volume. The price incentive would encourage some dealers to stay open evenings and Sundays. And paying a slightly higher price would certainly not be any more burdensome than paying for the 1,700 employees of the Department of Energy, whose jobs depend on the continuance of the energy crisis.

JACK A. MCGAUGHEY
Nocona News

The President is right when he couples the present energy shortage with what he calls "a confidence crisis."

Historically, Americans have been a confident people. They gained this confidence from facing hard problems and solving them, almost always without outside help. There was always a new frontier to settle, a new territory to explore, adversity to be overcome, something to be invented, scientific discoveries to be made.

Americans accomplished these things and emerged as the strongest nation in the world, the leader in all fields of human endeavor.

Then we began, imperceptibly, to grow fat on our own successes. We wanted all the goodies in the world and we wanted them without working for them. Let the Germans develop the automobile, the Japanese the electronics and optical equipment, the Swiss the fiscal policies, the Arabs the oil. All we asked was to sit around and enjoy the benefits of all these things. Little did we note that our waning initiative was sapping away our independence.

We sat around and grew fat and we grew morally soft and we grew cynical. Why shouldn't we be cynical? All our prerogatives were being preempted by those who worked harder than we, by those who would take advantage of a nation which had lost its drive.

Personally, I am excited by the challenge. I plan to use a little less electricity, a little less gasoline, and to be a little less critical of those who are working to solve the problems.

And I pray God to grant President Carter the wisdom and the strength to follow through on the swing of the bat that he started Sunday night.

BOB MILLER
Hamilton Herald

In the sermon part, the president echoed the sentiments of most West Texans in believing that Washington, D.C. is isolated from the thinking of the rest of the nation. We applauded at that point.

But, after declaring that Washington was too isolated, too removed from problem-solving, too distant from the people, the President flip-flopped and declared his intentions of creating four new bureaucracies to spend $140-billion of our money to make us energy sufficient.

But we would prefer that private companies spend that $140-billion to make this nation self-sufficient...and give the freedom to explore, develop experiment, and reap the benefits of their efforts, the private sector of our economy could do it faster, cheaper, and more efficient than any branch of government.

The Department of Energy, four years old with 20,000 employees and a budget of $10-billion, has not created one additional barrel of oil for use in this nation.

We have little hope that any new bureaucracy can do any better.

As I See It....

Iowa Park, along with about every community in the nation, suffers from a serious infection of "me first".

Probably the most visible evidence of this is the trash we see in the ditches and roadsides throughout the town.

"Me first", I should define, is when a person has no consideration of another person's property, and deposits his trash whenever and wherever he wishes.

There doubtlessly is not a person in town who would drop their empty cup, empty beer can or bag of trash in their own driveway, when parking the car. Why then should they do it while driving along the street?

And for some reason, there seem to be certain streets, and parts of streets, where this dumping of trash takes place. I've been back over streets the day after I know they've been cleaned of trash, and they are just as bad the next day.

Certainly, I don't believe any person who has ever worked on a cleanup detail, here or anywhere else, would think of throwing trash out their car window.

I don't know what we're going to do in Iowa Park in the future. For a number of years, we've been successful in getting volunteers to clean up the major street sides once a year during Clean Up Week. But this year there were so few, three, workers to show up that the Chamber of Commerce has decided not to try to continue the project in the future.

Right now, I can show you a street where, if all the trash were picked up in a 100-foot stretch, at least two large plastic bags would be overflowing.

We've got ordinances for ordinances which prohibit throwing or depositing trash anywhere except the proper receptacles, but they apparently don't do the job. Probably the main reason is because the violators have to be caught.

If this won't work, maybe then we should search our own selves, to see if we are the culprits. And if we're not, look to our neighbors.

I have no patience with a person who does not respect the rights and possessions of other persons. Such people are a drain on the society.

In my opinion, I don't think we should attach a fine to a city ordinance for littering. That person should be given an area of responsibility, such as a street or park, and he should be made to keep it clean for months or even a year.

Such a penalty would not only teach him to not litter, but it would help clean up what other litterers deposit.

Vandals hit auto, home

Police here received a report Tuesday from Mrs. Dorothy Small, 602 W. Manes, that someone had broken a window at her residence.

Police said the window valued at $160 was broken by a thrown rock or BB gun.

Last Thursday police received a report from Marcie Spears, who said her son's car had been vandalized while parked at an abandoned service station near the intersection of East Highway and Victoria.

One of the car's windows had been broken in an apparent attempt to steal stereo tapes and the tape player unit.
