One adult course already filled

One of the six adult vocational courses being offered by the Iowa Park school district has already been filled to capacity, according to Richard Davis, coordinator.

The course on small gasoline engines is restricted to 14 enrollees,

Year's permits top $1-million

December's building permits, issued at the city hall, amounted to only $51,600, but permits still exceeded the $1-million mark for the year.

The last month of the year had only four permits issued, but it was still the seventh largest of the year. Four other months had smaller totals, including April's $3,616.

Inflation and high mortgage interest rates are the major blame for the lack of construction in the city.

July loomed as the biggest month for permits in the city, $344,700. Most of that was new home construction, too.

By the month, permit amounts were: January, $188,854; February, $98,032; March, $42,907; April, $3,616; May, $17,690; June, $104,300; July, $344,700; August, $63,675; September, $47,150; October, $147,354; November $97,693; and December, $51,600.

Permits issued in December included:

- A.K. Beall, 1209-1211 N. Pacific, duplex, $40,000;
- Dean Maxwell, 1008 Foley, addition, $6,000;
- Arlen Shook, 207 W. Alameda, addition, $2,600;
- Conrad Martin, 1001 Foley, addition, $3,000.

and more than that number has registered. Davis said registration was on a first-come, first-serve basis, and those who registered late would have their deposits returned.

Another small engines course possibly will be offered next year, Davis said.

Two other courses have adequate enrollment to be held, but more can register for them, Davis said.

The tune-up and emission controls course, to be instructed by Robert Sumner, has eight students already.

The class will be limited to 12. It is to begin Jan. 20, and will be held in four two-hour sessions.

Seven have enrolled in the three office skills and procedures course which will be taught by Bonnie Medlinger. To be limited to 16 in each class, the first of the sessions will begin Jan. 20.

Classes in spray painting techniques and furniture finishing and refinishing are still questionable. Three have enrolled in the spray painting class and five in the furniture class. Each will be limited to 14 students and each will begin Jan. 20.

Davis said there had been no indication of interest in the course entitled "Kids about to drive you up the wall... what can you do? Join a study group for parents and others who want better communications with children."

An enrollment and registration information is being published in an advertisement in this issue of the Leader.

FATAL TREE-CUTTING SCENE
... Jerry Padgett died of injuries.

Tree-cutting accident takes Padgett's life

Iowa Park and Wichita County are still recovering from the shock of an accident Saturday which took the life of Jerry Don Padgett.

The popular lifelong local resident was cutting down trees on land owned by the family on north Johnson Road, by himself, when a tree apparently struck him with a fatal blow on the head.

According to County Medical Examiner Eloy Virgil, who arrived at the scene shortly before 7 p.m., Padgett had been dead approximately 10 hours.

The body was discovered by his wife, Nancy, and daughter, Debbie, who notified the Iowa Park Police Department at 5:53 p.m. Sgt. Kurt Cullum responded to the call and kept a vigil over the body, along with members of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department, until Virgil arrived.

Cullum said the victim was dead when he arrived.

Mrs. Padgett reportedly had become concerned about her husband earlier in the day, and had gone to the farm to see about him. Padgett's pickup, however, was parked in an area where it could not be seen from the road, and she thought he might have returned home but their paths had not crossed in between.

His body was found in a small ravine about 100 yards east of Johnson Road. Several tall trees had been cut before the accident. The pickup truck was about 60 feet away.

After being hired in the county clerk's office in 1964, Padgett was appointed chief deputy in 1969. He continued to serve in that position until he ran for the vacant clerk's office in 1978, when he was elected by a landslide and took office in January of 1979.

County commissioners met in an emergency session Tuesday and named Vernon Cannon, 45, who had served in the clerk's office three and a half years, over a field of 17 other applicants to fill the post until the 1982 election.

An indication of Padgett's popularity was, when his services were held Monday at the First Baptist Church, those in attendance said it was one of the largest turnouts of mourners in the community's history. Every available seat in the auditorium, including those in the choir section, was taken and people lined the walls and stood throughout the ceremony.

QUESTIONNAIRE

Rep. Finnell asks citizens to list opinions on issues

In the near future, registered voters in Archer, Clay, Wichita and Young Counties will receive a questionnaire through the mail from 53rd District State Representative Charles Finnell.

The questions focus on topics likely to come before the 67th Legislature, scheduled to convene Tuesday at noon, according to Finnell. He added "... knowing your views on vital issues and subjects will be very valuable to me during the coming months at the capitol."

The 67th Legislature will face approximately 500 pieces of legislation, with education and energy likely to be the main topics.

In the questionnaire, questions are arranged under sub-topics, including education, state finance, energy, health care and general.

Probably the two issues in education to get the most attention will be raising the salaries of Texas public school teachers to the national average, and state competency tests for teachers before licensure to teach in the public schools in Texas.

The first question in the questionnaire under the sub-topic "Energy" is "... Should Texas consider its energy needs and fulfill those needs before transporting its gas and oil to other states in the nation?" The second question under "Energy" is probably the most controversial, asking if the constituent is in favor of the development of nuclear power plants in Texas.

Topics under "General" deal with a wide-range of topics, including wiretapping by law enforcement officers, retaining the "Right-to-work" law, the state legislature holding annual sessions in order to appropriate state funds on a yearly basis, and the continuation of a Texas primary.

"Of course, not all topics facing the 67th Legislature are in the questionnaire," remarked Finnell, interviewed at his office in Holliday Tuesday. "But, after speaking with several representatives, I felt that these questions focused on the most important issues facing us."

"But the questionnaire shouldn't be viewed as the only way for the people in my district to let me know their views on matters," continued Finnell. On the front of the questionnaire, Finnell included the mailing address to his office in both Holliday and Austin, and his phone number in Austin.

At the end of the letter to his constituents, Finnell added a note of optimism for Texas and its future. "... Texas enjoys a unique posture as we face the decade of the 80s," wrote Finnell. "Our state government will remain strong and our quality of life will remain excellent only if all of us do our part as good citizens in our governmental process."

Finnell pointed out another reason for his questionnaire being sent to voters in his district. "Congress convenes near the same time as the Texas Legislature," commented Finnell, "and the focus in the media tends to center around activity in Washington D.C. Therefore, the letter serves as both a reminder to the people in my district that the state legislature is to convene, and the issues most likely to dominate the session."

Finnell's return address is printed on the reverse side of the questionnaire, which can be returned with postage to Finnell's Austin office. According to Finnell, results will be known from three to four months after the questionnaires are returned.

DRUGS, MONEY TAKEN

Burglars strike at clinic

A small amount of money and an undetermined amount of drugs were taken in a burglary sometime Thursday night from Park Clinic.

Sometime between 3 p.m. Thursday and 7:59 a.m. Friday, one or more burglars apparently broke into the clinic through a window on the south side.

When clinic personnel arrived

Friday morning, they found almost every room of the building had been rifled and items were strewn on the floors. The clinic's small safe was lying on the floor with its combination knob knocked off, but still intact.

A small metal cash box had been forced open and yielded $33, according to the police report, and approximately 30 different kinds of drugs were missing. An inventory was still underway at presstime to determine how much drugs were taken.

In addition, a portable black and white Panasonic television set and a calculator were also reported missing.

Police Sgt. Kurt Cullum, who investigated, said he found four latent finger prints which he hopes will lead him to the burglars. The police department also received a criminal mischief complaint Monday.

Chuck Rinehart, 301 E. Garden, told police he had been on a vacation since Dec. 24, and when he returned home he found a 4x6 foot glass patio door shattered. Nothing was reported missing.

Banquet tickets go on sale here

Tickets for the annual Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce banquet went on sale this week, three weeks before the Jan. 31 date.

Priced at $6 per person, this year's ticket covers not only admission to the event, but a steak dinner, hearing a speaker who is an advocate of free enterprise, and being on hand when several local citizens are honored.

Tickets are available at the Chamber office or from any of the organization's directors.

Contract, gas rate on meeting agendas

Among the important topics the city and school will take up at their meetings next week will be a natural gas rate increase proposal and the superintendent's contract renewal.

The city meeting will begin at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers and the school board meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building.

Lone Star Gas Co. has filed for a rate increase, and Bud Burch, local office manager, will appear before the council to explain the proposal.

Another item on the agenda will be for the aldermen to consider a 120-day delay in action on the rate proposal, for more study.

Another personal appearance at the meeting will be A.W. Bedford, who is proposing to purchase some property on East Pecan which is owned by the city.

A public hearing will take up part of the meeting's time, giving citizens the opportunity to make suggestions on how federal revenue sharing funds might be spent here during the coming year.

Besides reviewing and acting on the 1979-80 city audit report, the only other item on Monday's agenda at presstime was a proposal to authorize the mayor to enter into an agreement with Gilmore Welding Inc. for the demolition of the old Park Hotel.

January is traditionally the month when the Iowa Park school board considers renewing the superintendent's contract for another year. All school employees are on one-year contracts. Key personnel contracts are considered in February and all others are in March.

Also on the meeting's agenda will be discussion of the proposed Bradford physical education facility, the high school gymnasium, a program for improvement and replacement of band equipment, and consideration of a proposal to initiate a course on welding in the vocational department at the high school.

Historical group discusses home

Members of the Wichita County Historical Committee held their regular meeting yesterday at the Iowa Park Recreational Activities Center.

An Iowa Park home, built in 1922 by the late J.N. George and currently the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bates, was the principal topic of the meeting's program. The committee will seek state designation for an historical marker for the structure which is located at 700 N. Jackson.

Rip Smith, one of the home's four different owners, renovated the house when he purchased it in the early 1970s for his own residence, explained the work done and condition of the structure.

UMW meets

The United Methodist Women held the first meeting of 1981 Tuesday morning and concluded it with a luncheon. Mrs. H.W. Carter, president, was in charge.

Mrs. George Trammell, vice president, gave the devotion on "Faith Is the Key."

During the meeting, Mrs. Gene Owens, immediate past president, presented life membership pins to Mrs. James Owens and Mrs. Don Beals.

Mrs. Beals, chairman of Christian Social Involvement, reported on the ministry of love for three families during the Christmas season. Mrs. Trammell distributed the new yearbooks.

Mmes. Carter, James Owens, David Springer, Allan Bennett and C.L. Thompson were in charge of arrangements for the luncheon and of decorating the tables. Thirty-two were present.

Night WMU has meeting

Mrs. Riley Thompson was hostess Monday for the meeting of the Night W.M.U. of First Baptist Church. Mrs. V.I. Woodfin opened the meeting by recognizing missionaries on the birthday calendar for the day and spotlighting the work of Irvin Childress, an Arizona missionary.

Mrs. Elmer Singleton presided during the business.

"Black/White Relationships - The Ties That Bind" was the title of the program directed by Mrs. Roy B. Smith. She introduced the study by giving a scene in a typical Sunday morning worship service in a typical Southern Baptist Church located in a typical Southern city prior to the Civil War in which the blacks outnumbered the whites.

Mrs. Woodfin discussed the topic, "Interwoven History" and emphasized that the histories of the black

To collect and exchange recipes is an age-old custom. To share a favorite symbolizes friendliness and good will, as well as pride in one's culinary performance.

Annie (Mrs. Freddie) Smith admits that collecting recipes is almost an obsession with her, and that it has filled her files and cabinet drawers to overflowing. Some of her favorite recipes are down-home favorites that were prepared by her grandmother. She is showing her friendliness and good will to the Leader readers today by sharing two of those, "Homemade Yeast Cakes" and "Poor Man's Chocolate Cake".

Mrs. Smith attended Electra High School. She and her husband, who is employed by Birdwell Well Service at Kamay have lived in Iowa Park three years. She is a member of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church and assistant leader of Girl Scouts Troop 29. In addition to collecting recipes, she enjoys doing embroidery painting.

The Smiths have one daughter, Rebekah, a fourth grade student, and a son, Kevin, a first grader.

HOMEMADE YEAST CAKES

2 cups boiling potato water
2 medium potatoes, peeled and boiled until tender
1 cup flour

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Freddie Smith

4 tsp. salt
1 1/2 Tbsps. ginger
1 cake dry yeast
2 Tbsps. sugar
Corn Meal

Pour boiling potato water over flour, sugar, salt and ginger; mix. Add potatoes which have been mashed while hot. When this is lukewarm, add the yeast which has been soaked in a little warm water. Let the mixture work for about 18 hours in a warm place, then stir in corn meal and the batter becomes thick enough to mold into cakes.

Dry the cakes as quickly as possible in dry air, but do not let them become too hot. Use as any other dry yeast. These cakes may be put into a paper bag when almost dry. When completely dry, store in glass jars. Two of the cakes, softened in a little water and made into a sponge by adding 3 cups water and flour to make a medium batter, can be fixed in the evening and bread made in the morning; or mixed in the morning and bread made in several hours.

Makes 48 small cakes. Be sure to save the last cake out of each batter to use as a starter. If not, it will be necessary to buy a commercial cake each time.

POOR MAN'S GERMAN CHOCOLATE CAKE

(Recipe does not call for chocolate)

1 cup oatmeal
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups flour
1 tsp. soda

Pour boiling water over oatmeal and let stand 20 minutes. Cream shortening and sugar; add eggs and beat well. Sift flour, salt and soda. Add creamed mixture to oatmeal mixture and stir well. Then add sifted ingredients and beat well. Pour into greased and floured pan and bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes. Pour topping below on warm cake and return to oven and bake until topping bubbles.

TOPPING:

1/2 cup oleo
1 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup milk
1 cup coconut
1 cup chopped nuts
1 tsp vanilla

Combine all ingredients in saucepan and bring to a boil, then pour over cake.

HOMEMADE YOGURT

Pour 1 pint warm water into a bowl. Sprinkle 1 1/2 cups powdered skim milk into the water. Let mixture stand for a minute or two and then whip with egg beater. Next add:
1 large can evaporated milk
1 quart warm water

Add 1/2 cup previously made or commercial yeast. Beat this mixture smooth and pour into individual glasses; set them in a large pan containing enough warm water to reach nearly to the top of the glasses. Then set the pan with a lid on it over a warming unit or pilot light. Maintain an even temperature of heat for about 2 1/2 hours. By that time, the yogurt should be firm and of the consistency of custard.

Chill glasses in the refrigerator for 6 hours. The yogurt is now ready to serve plain or with sugar and cinnamon sprinkled over it.

STICKY BUNS

(Microwave Oven)

1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
3 Tbsps. margarine
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 can (8 oz.) refrigerated biscuits

Combine brown sugar, butter and 1 Tbsp. water in an 8" glass baking dish. Cook uncovered on roast for 2 minutes or until butter melts.

Stir mixture and spread over bottom of pan. Sprinkle nuts over top. Place biscuits on top of mixture. Bake uncovered, on roast, for 4 to 5 minutes, or until biscuits are firm and no longer doughy.

Let stand about 2 minutes. Invert onto a flat serving plate.

This can also be fixed by the conventional method by adding more liquid.

BEEF STROGANOFF

(Microwave)

1 large beef steak, cut in very thin strips
1 large onion, chopped
1 beef bouillon cube
1 Tbsp. flour
1 tsp. catsup
1/2 tsp salt
1/2 tsp. mustard
1/4 cup red cooking wine
1/4 cup water
8 oz. sour cream

Combine beef strips, onion, bouillon cube, flour, catsup, salt, mustard, red wine and water in a 1-quart microproof casserole dish; stir well. Cover and cook on Hi for 4 minutes; stir well. Cover and cook on 70 (roast) for 6 minutes or until meat is tender. Stir in sour cream. Cook on 10 (warm) for 3 minutes. Let stand 3 minutes. Serve over rice or noodles.

Aerobics meeting subject

Beverly Bohannon conducted a program on aerobics for the Tuesday evening meeting of Epsilon Eta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha held at the ASCS building.

She explained how aerobics strengthens the heart and lungs and enables one to gain stamina, tone muscles and lose inches. She described aerobics as simple choreographed movements and exercises to music which increase oxygen to the bodies, make people feel better, have more energy and improve their health. She demonstrated several routines in which members participated following her lecture.

During the business conducted by Mrs. Roy Johnson, president, plans were discussed for the meeting Jan. 20 at First Christian Church which will be a St. Jude's social event. Chapters from Wichita Falls and Burkburnett have been invited, and all inactive members and interested persons are invited to attend.

Tentative plans were also made for a Skate-A-Thon to be held in March for St. Jude's Hospital.

Mrs. Charles Dudley and Mrs. Larry Motl were hostesses for the meeting. Eighteen members attended.

Seven members of the chapter, Mmes. Bill Hrncirik, Bud Mercer, Phil McDonald, Luther Shaw, Steve Turner, Roy Johnson and Larry Whitaker will attend the District VI meeting Sunday at Helen Mall Community Room in Fort Worth that will be hosted by Sigma Epsilon of Crowley.

IRS Publications Answer Farmer's Tax Questions

Today's modern farmer has many unique tax situations, and a free publication from the Internal Revenue Service can help answer the questions that arise from these situations.

IRS Publication 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," covers a wide range of subjects, such as soil sales, crop destruction, chicken purchases, casualty losses and share farming. Examples of how to prepare the Form 1040 and related schedules, and listings of important tax dates which affect farmers throughout the year are also included.

"Farmer's Tax Guide" is written in a clear, understandable style and can be a source of valuable information for today's farmer, according to the IRS. This handy reference can be ordered on the order form in the tax package, or by calling the IRS Tax Forms/Information number listed in the local telephone directory.

Widows, Widowers May Qualify For Special Tax Benefit

A taxpayer who became a widow or widower in 1978 or 1979 may be entitled to a special tax benefit. The benefit allows the taxpayer to use the "Married Filing Jointly" Tax Table or a Tax Rate Schedule in computing the tax liability, a tax rate significantly lower than those in the "Single" category.

To qualify for the benefit, the taxpayer (1) must have been entitled to file a joint return with the deceased spouse for the year of death, even if one was not actually filed; (2) must have a child or stepchild who qualified as a dependent; and (4) must have furnished over half the cost of maintaining a home which was the principal residence for the dependent child or stepchild for the entire year.

Taxpayers who take advantage of this benefit should file Form 1040, check Block 5 under Filing Status, "Qualifying widow(er) with dependent child," and figure the tax using the "Married Filing Jointly" tax table or tax rate schedule.

The IRS adds that the last year a taxpayer may file jointly with, or claim an exemption for, a deceased spouse is the year of death. The special tax rate benefit is available only for the two tax years after the spouse's death.

W-2 Forms Should Be Received by February 2

Employees who have not received their Wage and Tax Statements

(Form W-2) from their employers must still file their tax returns by April 15, the Internal Revenue Service advises.

To avoid delays in receiving the W-2, employees should furnish their employers with a current address, the IRS says. If employees do not receive the statement by February 2, they should first contact their employer. After February 15, 1981, the employee should ask for help by calling the IRS toll-free number listed in the telephone directory.

The IRS reminds taxpayers that they must have a W-2 form from every employer they worked for during the year. Even if an employee is unable to get a W-2 before the filing deadline of April 15, a timely return must be filed. Report all income and attach a statement explaining the tax computations for the missing wage and tax information, the IRS says.

Our community has a new resident who has not been included in the "Look Who's New" or "New Meter Connection" announcements of this publication.
It's "Ms. Iowa P. Leader," according to the computer handling all the direct mailing of this year's Reader's Digest sweepstakes prize selection department.

Not one, but two different mailings from the computer, one of which has the name printed several times, have been received in the mail.
They tell us that computers don't make mistakes, only the people programming the machines do. But, certainly, this time they are wrong. No human would make such a stupid mistake!

Letter

Dear Santa
Thank you for all the nice toys that you gave me you are the nicest man.
Love,
Michelle Roberts

We're convinced that the new year will be one of unlearning what we already know.
Speeding up a process that began a few years ago, all of us will probably unlearn more than we learn in 1981.
We remember a time many years ago, sitting in a Baylor classroom listening to a professor explain how the textbook was all wrong—the atom wasn't the smallest thing in the world.
And in 1980 stories abounded on the possibility that the neutrons and protons of the atom nuclei—of which all matter is composed—is probably broken down into dozens of even smaller components.
Remember when your mother cautioned you not to put that burned finger under the running tap water—or to put it in your mouth to cool the hot spot? Now, we've unlearned to the point that not only is running water good but ice is much better.
In 1980, we unlearned to the point that not all cholesterol is bad, jogging can be harmful, dairy products may actually be beneficial, heating pads gave way to ice pads for most injuries, saunas gave way to live steam, and smaller cars at 55 mph may be more dangerous than big cars at 70.
The unlearning process is even changing the geography in Texas.
Every schoolboy in Texas has been taught that the highest point in Texas is Guadalupe Peak at 8,751 feet.
Well, we got to unlearn that!
It's shrunk two feet, evidently. The U.S. Geological Survey has come along with its fancy new radar-laser transits, and some other gadgets, and has pronounced that the peak is two feet shorter or 8,749.
We've got to unlearn about freezing to death, too.
You may have missed the story over the holidays... about the 19 year old teenager who froze solid—and lived?
Jean Hillard was literally frozen stiff-like a piece of meat out of a deep freeze—when a friend found her in the snow after a night of 22 below zero temperatures. And she lived.

Her case may prompt a lot of unlearning in the future.
The teenager was frozen after a midnight car accident in rural northwestern Minnesota. Her bizarre ordeal began late Dec. 20 as she was returning to her parents' home near Lengby, Minn. The family car skidded off the road and stalled in the windy, frigid weather.
Clad in western boots, a coat and mittens, she began walking to Wally Nelson's home some two miles away and collapsed only 15 feet from his door.
Nelson found her as he walked out the door at 7 the next morning. "Her face was ghost-like. I figured she was dead," he said.
Her body was so stiff that Nelson loaded her "diagonally" in the back seat of his car and headed for the hospital. There she was wrapped in water-type heating bags, receiving oxygen.
She took breaths only two or three times a minute, about one-fifth the normal rate. Doctors were unable to give her intravenous feedings because "she was frozen too solid to penetrate the skin." Her pulse, hardly registering through her frozen skin, was about 12 beats per minute. And her temperature was too low to register on a thermometer.
Her eyes were solid and didn't respond to light. "I can't explain why she's alive. She was frozen stiff, literally, Dr. George Sather, who helped treat the teenager said. "It's a miracle!"
According to Sather, by late that evening, the teenager was lucid and tests revealed her heart, kidneys, and blood chemistry were all okay. She has patches of gray on her legs and her toes are blistered, but there is no talk of any amputation.
"At worst," said the doctor, "she may lose a couple of toes!"
There's just no telling what we may have to unlearn in 1981.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Back in early December, I was in the police station checking on reports for a story, and Chief Charles Whittingstall mentioned during a conversation that I should warn the people that they should start locking up their vehicles and homes. It was stealing time.
The chief was right, because in checking back in our files, there always is a rash of thefts about that time of year. No one knows if the thieves are wanting money to buy presents or if there are going to be a lot of parties and cash will be needed.
But it seems, during that time of year, nothing is safe if it's not locked or nailed down.
There are other times of the year when a rash of thefts are predicted. The summer time has become popular, because people don't lock their garages, or they leave boats and lawnmowers, and even bicycles, out for a burglar.
And when money is its tightest, you will usually find the most stealing going on.
Up on the plains of the Panhandle, we always knew to start locking things up if cotton chopping, cotton picking, or vegetable harvest was late. Crews that moved from one area to another to work in the fields would be there, but no work was available. So they would steal, or at least some would.
In the industrial areas, when workers are laid off and no paycheck is coming in, you will also find a lot of stealing going on during that period.
I've often said that, should this nation be thrown into a deep financial depression, as it was in the 1930s, today's culture wouldn't be able to survive it. Law and order would be lost and no one would be safe.
Back in the depression, a large percentage of our population still lived on or near the farms, and they could at least raise food to live on. Not nearly the number of people, then, lived from paycheck to paycheck.

Of course, there was a lot of stealing went on in those days, but no more than goes on today. For one thing, hardly anyone had anything worth stealing. And if a thief stole something he couldn't use or eat, there wasn't anyone he could sell it to.

I don't guess we can help our standard of living today. But one thing that would help would be, when you are outside, in the yard or driving in the neighborhood, and you see someone walking around you don't recognize, call the police. They don't mind checking the person out, and it just might save you or your neighbor a major loss.
With the cost of replacement today, we need to help each other as best we can to deter thieves.

Dirt can hurt

...in your filter, on your bill.

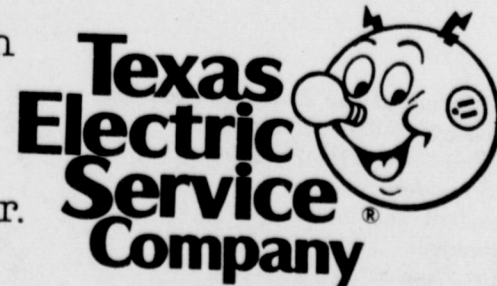

The filter in your heating and cooling unit is there to collect dust and lint. But when the filter's full, the unit has to work longer to force air through. And that forces up your energy bills.

It's a good idea to check your filter once a month. A dirty filter should be cleaned if it's a permanent filter or replaced if it's a disposable. And that's an easy job ... to overlook.

To help you remember when you checked your filter, we've included a filter checklist with your December bill. You can tape it right to your unit.

At Texas Electric, we think the more you know about using — and saving — energy, the better.

Worth Quoting

It is not uncommon for conversation these days to turn to the topic of snow skiing. Lots of folks from this area venture to the mountains of New Mexico and Colorado for vacations between Christmas and Easter.

I enjoy the sport myself although my abilities remain quite unrefined. All of my ski trips have been short in duration, and about the time I get the hang of things it is always time to come home.

It's really a wonder I ever returned to the slopes considering my first encounter. It was back in the early 1970s when two buddies and I piled into my Volkswagen Beetle and traveled to Red River, N.M., to sample this fast growing sport.

We hadn't been on the bunny runs for an hour when I took a tumble. The ski binding failed to release, and my knee was twisted like a pretzel. I spent the remainder of the vacation nursing my swollen knee alone in our rented cabin.

Unfortunate as it was, my disaster was relatively minor as compared to the story a friend tells about what happened to his teenage niece.

As young women often do, her anticipation of the trip was predominated with hopes of finding romance in the Rockies.

Although she was a novice, she found herself talked into the challenge of a chair lift ride to the top of the mountain.

Once atop the mountain, she was petrified with fear. The sheer slope provided the only descent from the mountaintop, and there was no way she intended to risk life and limb to pursue that route.

You see, chair lift operators will not let you board the lift to ride down the mountain. If you ride up, the only means of getting down is to ski down.

So she scooted off to the apron of the unloading area to ponder her predicament. She stood awhile, and she stood there a little longer. And then she stood there some more.

She was standing there with a grimaced look on her face, shifting her weight from one foot to the other, when another woman skier swooshed her way to inquire about the distressed look on her face.

She had been standing there so long that her kidneys and Mother Nature began to complain. Unfortunately, the only restroom facilities were at the bottom of the mountain, and she already had determined that she had no intentions of taking that route.

The older woman suggested that she utilize the privacy afforded by a cluster of nearby trees. Desperate for relief, the young novice skier carefully tromped over to the trees.

She had her pants somewhere down around the vicinity of her knees when her skis began to slide across the snow. Before she could regain control, she found herself sailing down the mountain with her pants at half mast.

There she was, sliding down the mountain - unable to stop and unable to get her pants up.

To make matters worse, her trip was brought to an abrupt halt when she collided with a tree and broke her leg.

She was still trying to get her pants up when the ski patrol arrived to carry her by sled down the remainder of the slope.

The prospect of having to spend the rest of her vacation in the hospital had her quite depressed. All of her thoughts of finding romance in the Rockies were dashed until she spied a young man hospitalized in a room across the hall.

She hobbled over to meet the young man and eventually their conversation turned to skiing. She asked him how he broke his leg.

He said it was the result of a dumb accident. He said he was a good skier, and that there was no rational explanation for what had happened.

He said he was skiing down the mountain one afternoon when he noticed this attractive girl ski by with her pants down around her knees. He was watching her and not paying attention to what he was doing when he collided with a tree and broke his leg.

When he asked the young woman how she broke her leg, she quietly returned to her own hospital room, too embarrassed to explain.

Mean Green suffers back-to-back losses

The Hawks suffered through a freezing cold first half Saturday when they played the Wichita Falls High Coyotes, and their rally in the second half fell short, to lose 55-49.

Playing only their second game since Dec. 16, the Hawks couldn't keep up with the scoring of the Coyotes, who doubled Iowa Park's points in each of the first two quarters.

The hosts outscored Iowa Park 14-7 in the first frame and 20-10 in the second to hold a 34-17 halftime lead.

But the Hawks outscored the neighbors 11-10 in the third quarter and 21-11 in the fourth as they pushed hard to overcome Wichita Falls.

Ken Thomason, who finished with 12 points, was the only Iowa Parkan to score a field goal in the first quarter, and he had two.

Steve Page, who was high for the night with 17, didn't hit a basket the first quarter. But he was the only Hawk to hit a field goal in the second quarter, when he sank two along with three free throws to account for seven of Iowa Park's 10 points in that frame.

The Hawks found the charity line to their liking, hitting 17 of 21 attempts.

The junior varsity lost a close, 50-48, decision.

In their only other game since the Christmas break, Dec. 30, the Hawks were shot down by perennial powerhouse Bowie, 52-38.

The Jackrabbits held a four-point lead at halftime, 23-19, but extended that to 11, 36-25, after three quarters.

Iowa Park had 12 points to Bowie's 17 in the first quarter, when six different Hawks scored a field goal each.

The Hawk JV blew out their hosts, humbling the Bowie JV 57-28.

Cattle group seeks nominees

Deadline for submitting names for area brucellosis committees has been extended until Jan. 15, John Armstrong, Kingsville, chairman, Texas Animal Health Commission, announced.

Armstrong said about 500 names had been submitted as of the Jan. 5 deadline. "We are continuing to get more inquiries and interest from Texas' cowmen, so we decided to lengthen the time in which to present nominations," he explained.

Committees made up of cattle producers from 15 areas of the TAHC will be formed from names offered. "Individuals as well as livestock groups are requested to make suggestions," Armstrong said.

The names can be given to any of the 15 area TAHC offices or the Texas Animal Health Commission, Box 12966, Austin, TX 78711.

Duties of the committee members will be to advise and consult with TAHC commissioners relating to the Texas brucellosis program. Other commissioners of the TAHC are Bob Baros, Gonzales; Dr. Ben Hopson, Laredo; C.E. Knolle, Sandia; Charles Koontz, Olton; T. Euell Liner, Lubbock; Mort Mertz, Eldorado; Jimmy Owen, Tyler; and James D. Sartwell Sr., Sealy. Dr. John Holcombe is executive director.

"We are already indebted to cattlemen and representatives of the entire cattle industry in formulating the Texas brucellosis plan. Revised regulations went into effect in July, 1980. We want to continue to get the input of the cattle industry so that we can improve the Texas plan, making it affordable and practical and yet epidemiologically sound," Armstrong added.

Helpful tips on carpet care save time, money

The average person doesn't discuss dirty laundry, much less dirty carpeting, over a bridge game, at a cocktail party, or window shopping with the mothers-in-law.

But, you can be sure that if you're playing host or hostess for the evening, or having relatives in for the holidays ahead, you want your house to sparkle — and that includes sparkling clean carpeting.

Problem areas

It's a fact of life — carpeting gets dirty — especially in traffic paths. Actually, most of the dirt is confined to traffic paths.

Just take a closer look at your carpeting from the living room through the dining room and into the kitchen. Most likely you have a "pathetic pathway," suffering from dirt, matting and stains.

Typically, carpeting is not cleaned until the dirt shows. And, when an emergency arises, it's also typical to call in the professional cleaners.

For those who are fighting the edge of inflation, America's HOST now offers help on carpet care and advises the do-it-yourselfers on how to get superior results themselves.

New brochure

"Helpful Tips On Carpet Care" is a new, complete and concise brochure offering the latest information on carpet maintenance techniques.

This compact, easy to read guide takes frustration and alarm out of caring for your carpeting. It simply outlines (in step-by-step fashion) instructions for proper vacuuming, spills, spotting and emergency stain removal. The eight page brochure includes an explanation of why carpeting soils and what to do about it.

One "Helpful Tip" for maintaining a beautiful carpet includes a discussion of proper vacuuming — an essential ingredient. Pick out the carpeted areas where your friends and family usually walk or stand. That's a traffic path, and must be cared for in a planned fashion by regular vacuuming and removal of the noticeable stains before they're ground in.

Another tip analyzes the difference between soil-removal (extraction) systems, both wet and dry.

Dry extraction cleaning

HOST recommends dry extraction cleaning with absorbent compound for deep down soiling. Dry extraction cleaning is cost efficient, foolproof, and nearly effortless, resulting in time and money saved for the homeowner or apartment dweller.

"Helpful Tips On Carpet Care" has a detailed stain removal chart which provides explanations of procedures and solvent cleaners to use on the most common stains — ketchup, coffee, candle wax, ink, etc.

For your copy of "Helpful Tips On Carpet Care" send 50c to HOST Consumer Information Service, 1405 16th Street, Racine, WI 53403. Check your yellow pages for the nearest HOST dealer under Carpet and Rug Cleaning Equipment-Rental.

Rider dumps Hawkettes

Wichita Falls Rider continued its domination over the Hawkettes Tuesday night, thanks to the contribution of former Iowa Park players.

Rider dumped the Hawkettes, who are now 1-10 on the season, by a 66-32 margin, outscoring them 10-4, 18-10, 18-7 and 20-11 in each quarter.

Jill Watts and Kay Stevenson were high scorers for Iowa Park with nine points each.

Former Hawkettes Linda Rowell and JoAnn McClurg played a big part in the outcome, Rowell with her rebounding and eight points and McClurg scoring 10 before fouling out.

The Hawkettes and Hawks will be playing this weekend in the Wichita Falls High Tournament. Play will be at both WFHS and Rider campuses.

Monday the Hawkettes will open district play when they host Graham at 4 p.m.

Teams place in tourney

Both varsity basketball teams came out a winner in the Archer County Shortgrass Tournament held in Archer City over the weekend, with the Lady Eagles capturing third place honors and the Eagles winning consolation.

For the third time this season, the Lady Eagles had to fight tooth and nail with Electra to advance in the winner's bracket, winning 29-28. Kristi Lucy canned nine, Debbie Long eight, Cinda Grantham six, and Suzan Dillard, Jamie Smyers and Kristi Haney two apiece in the contest.

The Lady Eagles slipped in their second game, losing to a tough Olney squad 56-48. Grantham had 15 points in the game, while Lucy and Dillard each scored 10.

In their third place game, the Lady Eagles defeated Seymour 56-41. The win over Seymour was a first for the girls this year, with the last game between the two ending 47-36 in Seymour's favor.

Dillard had the hot hand in the game, shooting seven goals from the field and three free throws for 17 points. Smyers, the only Lady Eagle named to the all-tournament team, added 16, and Grantham 12.

The Eagles played Electra in the first round as they have played all year; close, with the Tigers coming out on top in overtime 51-50. Kent Lilley canned 12 in the game, while Mike Parker, Larry Boydston, Kevin Lilley and Brad Harmon scored eight each.

In second round action, the Eagles stunned Throckmorton, 48-46, behind Kevin Lilley's 14 points. Lilley was the only Eagle to make the all-tournament team. Larry Boydston added 12, while Gil Gilbert scored eight.

In the consolation game against Seymour, Holliday won 58-45. Kevin Lilley tallied 11, Harmon 10, Gilbert and Lindy Dolberry eight, plus Kent Lilley and Mike Parker seven each.

Both varsity squads travel to Chico tomorrow for a District 13-AA game. Tuesday, both squads stay at home to host Windthorst in another district matchup, with the junior varsity game beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Charles Finnell to be married

Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday and Miss Kay Fitzpatrick will be married next month in Austin.

Finnell, who serves the 53rd District, resumes work in Austin when the 67th Legislature convenes Tuesday. Finnell is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Finnell, Sr. of Holliday.

Miss Fitzpatrick is a native of Austin. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Fitzpatrick.

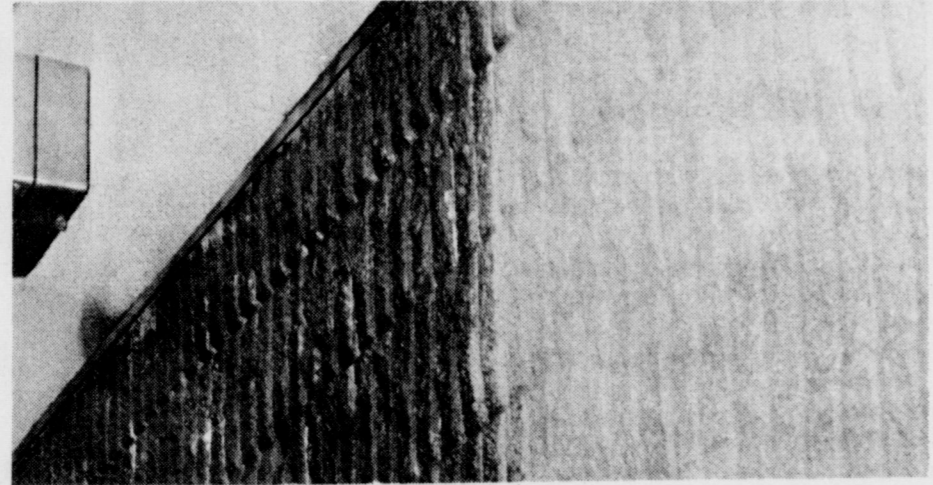

Following a small family wedding, the couple will make their home in Holliday and Austin.

Bowling receives teaching degree

Mikel Fain Bowling, graduate of Holliday High School, was graduated recently at Tarleton State University in Stephenville.

Fain earned a bachelor of science degree with a major in industrial education, and did his student teaching in Mineral Wells.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Bowling of Holliday.

WILL THIRD TRY WORK? Holliday school trustees will discuss current progress in sealing the high school's porous walls, which administrators believe is the culprit in the school's leaky walls. The school board's meeting begins at 7:30 p.m., with the textbook committee also to be named.

Announce engagement

Miss Brenda Gay Flatt and Scott Richard Reece will exchange vows of matrimony October 17, according to a recent announcement made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morris. The future groom is the son of Milton Reece and Mrs. George Seford.

Miss Flatt is a senior at Holliday High School, where she serves as vice president of FHA. She is also secretary of the student council, treasurer of the National Honor Society, and business manager for the 1981 Eagle annual staff. She was also named DAR Good Citizen. Her father is the late E.A. Flatt.

The future groom graduated from Holliday High School, where he played varsity football two years. He served as president of the National Honor Society, and vice president of the student council. He was also editor of the Eagle Express, the school newspaper, and a member of Quill and Scroll. He is currently employed by Finnell Oil Company.

MORE THAN 300 CHRISTMAS TREES went up in flames New Year's Eve in a vacant area south of Gordon Lake dam. The burning was sponsored by the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department, in an effort to help citizens get rid of their trees, which were considered a fire hazard, and to help the city's trash department. Firemen said they had anticipated more trees to be deposited there for the bonfire, but felt the practice would grow in popularity in the future after people got used to having it available. The fire lasted a little less than 10 minutes, showing how dangerous a tree can be after it's been drying in the livingroom one to four weeks.

Seeks public support to close 'head shops'

State Rep. Charles Finnell has asked for public support for the "Anti-Drug Paraphernalia" legislation he is co-sponsoring in the 67th Legislature.

The bill is designed to close down businesses dealing in drug-related paraphernalia, more commonly known as "head shops." Rep. Finnell views these types of operations as glamorization and blatant endorsement of the illegal drug trade. His concern is that the open sale of such items will only encourage individuals to experiment with cocaine, marijuana, and other drugs.

The bill, which Finnell has co-sponsored along with Reps. Bill Blythe, R-Houston, and Don Rains, D-San Marcos, has been prefiled as House Bill No. 1 and is ready for the consideration of the 67th Legislature which convenes in Austin Jan. 13.

The legislature in some states enacted penalties for selling drug paraphernalia as far back as 1975, but courts struck down many of the early laws on the ground that they lack clarity and comprehensiveness.

This bill follows closely the Federal Drug Enforcement Administration Model Act. This act has been modeled by several states and municipalities and has recently been upheld in a U.S. District Court in Ohio.

The proposed bill makes possession of paraphernalia when accompanied by an intent to use it with illicit drugs a crime. Manufacturing and delivering paraphernalia under circumstances which clearly indicate that it will be used with illicit drugs is also a crime.

The delivery of paraphernalia to a child by an adult is made a more severe offense. The publication of commercial advertisements promoting the sale of paraphernalia is made unlawful. A civil forfeiture section provides for seizure and condemnation of inventories of paraphernalia dealers.

Drug paraphernalia is defined as equipment, products, and materials either used, intended or designed for use to produce, package, store, test, or consume illicit drugs. To ensure that innocent objects are not classified as drug paraphernalia, the knowledge or criminal intent of the person is a key element in the definition. An object must be used, intended for use, or designed for use in connection with illicit drugs.

Rep. Finnell stated the bill is intended to strengthen Texas law to keep illicit drugs out of the hands of individuals, especially our children and young people.

Finnell and the other co-authors of this proposed legislation have asked other legislators and the public in general to join in this effort.

Take the guesswork out of pest control in your home

We have all been annoyed by or encountered some of today's most common insects, such as flies, mosquitos, wasps, spiders, ants, roaches, flying moths, to name just a few.

These nuisance pests can at times be numerous and troublesome and often find favorite hideaways in and around the home.

However, there are now ways to easily and effectively prevent outdoor bugs from coming inside, as well as controlling those that have taken up indoor residence.

Regular spraying with an insecticide is the simple, healthy and most economical answer. If you have noticed ants, silverfish or perhaps cockroaches in the kitchen area, spray beneath and within cabinets (first remove food packages), and under the sink, refrigerator and stove.

Don't forget to treat trash and storage rooms, baseboard moldings, cracks and crevices, and also direct some insecticide under the carpets where beetles and spiders like to crawl.

To help keep outdoor insects from entering the house, spray around porches, patios, garages, foundations, window frames, outside surfaces of screens, doors, under the eaves and in other dark corners that can be pest resting stations.

Spectracide® Professional Home Pest Control is an all-purpose insecticide containing a ready-to-use formulation of Diazinon that will kill the toughest indoor and outdoor insects.

Spectracide has no unpleasant odor and is designed as a do-it-yourself product.

Two sizes are available—the handy 18 oz. aerosol pressurized container with 2-way nozzle, and the half-gallon liquid with trigger sprayer. Both are easy to use.

Providing quick and long-lasting control of a host of crawling bugs, Spectracide takes the guesswork out of insecticides, and is part of Spectrum® Home and Garden Products, manufactured by the Ciba-Geigy Corporation, Greensboro, NC 27409. Consult your local hardware or other retail outlet for your pest control needs.

THEN and NOW

THEN: Hydrocortisone, a drug effective in the treatment of minor skin irritations, itching and rashes due to eczema, insect bites, poison ivy, soaps, detergents, cosmetics and other specified causes, was available only by prescription.

NOW: The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has approved for nonprescription sale a new hydrocortisone product manufactured by The Upjohn Co. To be sold commercially as Cortaid, it will be offered in three forms—cream, lotion and ointment. Upjohn has been doing research in hydrocortisone for 25 years.

HONEST JOHN LOAF

Honest John Loaf is the name of a bread with no secrets to hide. Ingredients that give it distinction, pimiento, muenster cheese and pieces of ham are baked on top and serve as decoration. It's a plain yeast bread with a slight yogurt flavor making it a delicious accompaniment for most foods. Warm it slightly and slice it thin, then wrap slices around sardines, ham, cheese, scallions or roasted sweet peppers for a superb accompaniment for beverages or soup.

Serving bread instead of crackers makes sense economically. A pound of homemade bread costs less than half the price of a pound of crackers and contains fewer calories to boot. It is also lower in fat and salt—a pound of saltines contains 54 grams of fat compared to 17 in a pound of enriched bread. And the sodium content of saltines is double that of bread. So there's a place for bread in every household concerned with palatable and economic ways to achieve nutritionally balanced meals. And the "Honest John Loaf" is an appealing way to extend hospitality too.

HONEST JOHN LOAF

Makes 1 large loaf

- 3/4 cup warm water (105° F. - 115° F.)
- 1 package Fleischmann's® Active Dry Yeast
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 cup plain yogurt (at room temperature)
- 2 eggs (at room temperature)
- 2 tablespoons Fleischmann's® Margarine, softened

- 3-1/4 to 3-3/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon milk
- 1 large piece pimiento, cut into a star
- 4 slices muenster cheese, cut into 4-inch triangles
- 4 1-inch square ham slices, about 1/4-inch thick

Measure warm water into large warm bowl. Sprinkle in Fleischmann's® Active Dry Yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in sugar, salt, yogurt, 1 egg and Fleischmann's® Margarine. Add 1-1/2 cups flour; beat until smooth. Add enough additional flour to form a soft dough. Turn out onto a lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8-10 minutes. Place in a greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down. Shape into a ball. Flatten to a 10-inch circle. Place on greased baking sheet. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Combine remaining egg and milk; brush surface of bread with mixture. Bake at 350° F. for 15 minutes. Remove from oven. Brush again with egg mixture. Place pimiento star in center of circle. Arrange cheese triangles in a cross pattern pointing outward. Place a ham square in between each triangle. Return to oven and continue baking for 15 minutes, or until done. Remove from sheet and place on wire rack to cool.
