Iowa Parkan heads Sheppard school

By BOB HAMILTON

Ross Roberts leans back in his chair and recalls vividly his first few days at Sheppard Air Force Base. He was fresh out of basic training at Lackland and was to enter aircraft maintenance training.

It was just about 30 years ago, in 1951.

Now he sits at the desk of an office, and above the office door's entrance a sign states "Senior Training Advisor." His new position makes him responsible for a faculty and staff of some 1,300 personnel, including approximately 390 civilians.

"Most people don't seem to realize that we (3700th Technical Training Wing) operate one of the largest and most complex vocational/technical training schools in the country and that we are fully accredited member of the Commission on Occupational Educational Institutions of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools," Roberts said.

The school's curriculum consists of approximately 165 courses conducted in four major divisions: aircraft maintenance, civil engineering, communications and missiles, and comptroller and transportation, plus having its own faculty development training.

At present, there are approximately 3,500 students in training, producing approximately 28,000 graduates each year in a wide variety of skills.

Following his graduation from Bryson High School, Roberts attended and was graduated from Abilene Christian College before enlisting in the Air Force. Because of his education, he was assigned an instructor at Sheppard. One of the major decisions he ever had to make came near the end of his four-year tour of duty, Roberts recalls. At the same time he received word of his acceptance into Officers Cadet School, he was considering entering into an educational program at Midwestern State Univ. called "Operation Bootstrap."

The new program provided for an enlisted man to be assigned on temporary duty and attend school the final six months of enlistment. In making the decision to attend MSU, he became the first "Operation Bootstrap" graduate at the Wichita Falls institution.

When asked why he took his discharge after attaining the rank of staff sergeant and entered Civil Service, Roberts gets a gleam in his eye and recalls that "... a little dark-haired school teacher in Wichita Falls influenced my decision, considerably."

He and the teacher, Coleen, who is a student counselor for Iowa Park schools now, were married eight months after his discharge. In fact, they celebrated their 25th anniversary last August.

If young people should ask how to get ahead in life, Roberts simply advises them to take advantage of every educational opportunity and work hard.

"The educational opportunities available to our young people here at Sheppard are almost unbelievable, Roberts says. "You should hear some of the success stories related by Georgia Flanagan (another Iowa Park resident), of Sheppard's Base Education Office."

Roberts was also a member of the first graduating class of Midwestern's graduate school, receiving a master's degree in school administration. He has taken additional work on his Ph.D. at North Texas State Univ.

"Most of us are not any smarter than the next guy," Roberts says, "but some of us are willing to work harder to succeed. A sign I saw in Houston a few weeks back which said 'Genius is actually perseverance in disguise' is one I can really relate to."

The Roberts reside at No. 1 Wichita valley Farms, where he farming. They have three children: Kelly Ross, a senior at Midwestern; Risa Joy, Midwestern transfer from Texas Tech; and Kent O'Neal, Iowa Park High sophomore.

From his beginning at SAFB as a guy who "marched up and down these streets just like everyone else," Roberts became a Civil Service instructor, then chief of curriculum for computer technology, then three years as principal instructor of the 3780th Technical Training Group, and for the past three years was branch chief of the plans and requirements division.

His current Civil Service rating is GS 14, equalled only on the base by one other civilian who is head of the health care training school.

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Harold (Ann) Smith, the Cook of the Week, is giving us a taste of Espana cuisine as she shares three of her recipes taken from a cookbook compiled by the American Women's Club of Madrid, Spain, and another recipe that a Spanish friend gave to her.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith returned to Iowa Park in January, 1981, after spending four years in Spain where he was in civilian work at Torrejon, AFB. She was not a member of the club that compiled the recipes, both in Spanish and English, but she was a frequent guest and closely associated with many of the women. The recipes that she shares with us this week have been tried and tested by Mrs. Smith and her family and they are among their favorites.

She said that the methods of cooking and serving foods in Spain differ from American ways, but it is easy to adjust to them. Meals are served in courses, with each course complementing the other, and foods vary from vicinity to vicinity.

The suckling pig is one of the food delicacies of the country, and Pan, their crusty bread, is one of the big things with the natives because they eat a lot of bread. Lamb, fish, soups, spices, fruits, wines and vegetables are also important parts of the cuisine. In the region around Granada where the fragrance from the groves of almond trees join that of the blossoms of the carnations and jasmines, almonds are used in abundance in cooking with unique and delicious results.

Mrs. Smith noted that there are many differences between the Spanish and American methods of preparing and cooking vegetables. The Spanish choose to use olive oil, garlic, pimento and serrano ham to cook theirs while the Americans embellish theirs with butter, different herbs, lemon juice and sauces.

Omelets are a popular and varied dish in Spain. They will appear on the menus of most restaurants and are very often eaten before the entree of the main meal or for the late supper with a soup or salad. One thing that Mrs. Smith did not get a craving for like many Americans, once they get used to them, was the angulas, baby eels, which the Spanish Basques adore and consider them one of the delicacies before going to Spain, the Smiths had lived in Iowa Park 13 years where she operated Kiddy Korner. Ann is a native of Manchester, N.H. They are members of the Church of Christ, and her hobbies are sewing, ceramics, reading and cooking.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Randy Alsup of Iowa Park, and Lori, a senior at Iowa Park High School, one son, Chip of Wichita Falls, and one grandchild.

SPANISH POTATO OMELET

In Spain, this is a favorite picnic food. Cut into small squares, it is served with Spanish bread as a canape. In the interest of saving calories or purely for reason of custom, it is common for many cooks to reduce the quantity of oil when a large amount is required in a recipe. This is one time when the result will not be satisfactory and thus, no adjustments should be made. One of the secrets of this delicious dish is to have the potatoes moist and soft, so use the amount of oil required and forget the calories, customs and cholesterol just this once, advises Mrs. Smith.

- 1/2 cup oil
- 1 lb. sliced potatoes
- 1/2 lb. sliced onions
- 4 eggs
- 1/4 t. salt
- Dash pepper

Heat oil in 8 inch skillet. When oil begins to smoke, add potatoes and onions. (The potatoes must be sliced very thinly). Cook over medium heat until soft, stirring often. Drain off excess oil. Beat eggs and seasonings. Stir potatoes and onion into egg mixture; pour into pan with just 1 T. oil. Cook over low heat until set. Invert large dish over skillet holding the two firmly together. Turn skillet over so that omelet ends up on plate. If there is no oil remaining in skillet, add a very small amount and let it heat. Slide omelet back into pan browned side up and continue to cook over low heat for another 2 minutes. Serve immediately.

- (Famous at Restaurante Botin)*
- 1 suckling pig, 2 weeks old, open and clean (about 10 lbs.)
 - 2 bay leaves
 - 1 sprig parsley
 - 2 cloves garlic
 - 1 small onion
 - 1 sprig thyme
 - 1 lb. lard
 - Salt, paprika, white wine and water.
- Put the suckling pig, spread flat, open side up in a roasting pan. Chop bay leaves, parsley, garlic, onion and thyme and sprinkle over the pig. Rub with shortening. Season with salt and paprika. Pour in pan, 1 glass white wine and 3 glasses of water. Place in oven. After 45 minutes remove excess juice and fat from pan.

Return to oven for another 45 minutes. Turn skin side up, rub with brush soaked in the juice. Roast for another 30-45 minutes until the skin is golden brown and crisp. Strain juice into a gravy boat. Serve with baked potatoes or salad.

ANDALUSIAN COLD SOUP

(6 servings)

- Restaurante Botin
- 6 slices bread, diced
- 3 ripe tomatoes, chopped
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 medium cucumber, chopped
- 4 T olive oil
- 4 cups water
- 2 T wine vinegar
- 2 t salt
- 2 cloves garlic, mashed
- Ground cumin

In large bowl, mix all above ingredients. Let stand for one hour. Puree in electric blender 15 seconds. Strain through fine sieve into large bowl. Chill in refrigerator 1/2 hour or more. Serve in well-chilled bowls. Individual dishes of diced red or green peppers, tomatoes, cucumbers, onion, diced bread are served as garnishes for sprinkling on top of the soup.

FLAN

[A popular dessert]

Bring 3 cups of milk, 1 tsp. vanilla and a pinch of cinnamon to a boil. When the milk has cooled, add 8 egg yolks and 2 egg whites, 9/16 T sugar and a pinch of salt. Beat well. Boil 4 T. of sugar with 4 T. of water in a flan mold, stirring constantly until the syrup turns into caramel. Let cool. Pour the egg mixture in the mold and cook in double boiler (the mold set in a pan of water) for 1 hour. Remove the mold from the water; when the mixture has set let it cool. When cold, turn over on a plate to remove the flan from the mold, taking care not to break the custard.

CHICKEN ROAST

- 1 fresh plump chicken, about 3 lbs.
 - 2 cloves garlic
 - Salt and pepper
 - 1 large onion
- with garlic. Place in heavy roasting dish, preferably crock. In cavity of chicken, place one clove of garlic, cut in half, and half the onion, salt and pepper to taste. Bake well-covered for about 50 minutes at 350 degrees. Take out and baste well. Add sliced potatoes and onion around the chicken, baste potatoes with juice from the meat. Cover well. Return to oven for about 45 minutes or until done. Carrots are good added to pot.

The colors of blue and white, chosen for emphasis in the wedding of Miss Wendy Johnson and David Carender June 6, were featured in decorations for a miscellaneous shower given Saturday afternoon to honor the bride-elect.

Mrs. Eldon Dowell and Mrs. David Wahl were hostesses for the courtesy which took place at Texas Electric Reddy Room. Guests were registered by Mrs. Ruppert Beebe of Crowell, sister of the honoree.

Seated with Miss Johnson while she opened her gifts were Mrs. C.G. Johnson, her mother, and Mrs. Walter Carender, mother of the groom-elect, each wearing a corsage of white carnations tied with blue ribbons. Joining the trio were Mrs. J.L. Johnson of Perrin, grandmother of the honoree, and Miss Dianne Smith, the latter holding the position of listing the gifts and names of donors.

The refreshment table was laid with blue polyester with an overcloth of lace applied-white sheer. The focal point of interest on the table was the white sheet cake decorated in the color scheme featuring clusters of white and blue roses with pale green leaves. Two white ceramic doves were perched on one cluster of flowers, and the message "Best Wishes, Wendy and David" added the finishing touch to the confection. The bridal napkins and other refreshments repeated the favored colors.

She is currently serving a two-year tenure as district vice-president and is the first division secretary for the auxiliary.

Mrs. Farnsworth has attended many leadership colleges held by the Department of Texas, received the Certificate of Merit from the Le Chapeau Departmental 8/40. She has served as Girls State chairman in the area for the past five years; was appointed to the grievances and appeals committee by the department president to serve at last year's convention; and she has served as page for the past three years.

MDA opens clinic in Wichita Falls

The Muscular Dystrophy Association recently opened a new outpatient clinic, bringing the total number of MDA-sponsored facilities to 231 nationwide.

Located at the Wichita Falls Clinic in Wichita Falls, the clinic offers free diagnosis and follow-up care to children and adults with muscular dystrophy and related diseases, according to Krzysztof Myszkowski, president of the Red River Chapter of MDA.

In addition, patients attending MDA clinic sessions at Wichita Falls will receive physical and occupational therapy, genetic counseling, orthopedic aids and flu shots, all free of charge. MDA is unique in the health agency field, Myszkowski said, because it offers all of its authorized medical services free to patients and their families, with no means test required.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Normally, in this space, I like to discuss my opinions on one, and sometimes two subjects. But this week, there are so many topics of special interest, none of which warrant an entire column. So, this week's offering will be one-paragraph observations.

Hats off to the Corpus Christi state representative, Ken Riley, who proposed a resolution at the legislature calling for congress to impeach U.S. Dist. Judge William Wayne Justice. He was the judge, you will recall, who was my subject recently because of his "rulings" on 12-grade bilingual education and the state's prison system.

If someone is looking for a summer job, the way things now appear, there will be lots of work for lawnmower repairs, and mowing of lawns. With the outstanding rainfall we've enjoyed, some of our old machines won't last the season. Nor will some of us old operators.

We noted with interest that the Wichita Falls city council decided not to pay its share of indigent patient care at Wichita General Hospital. Their reason was that their residents are paying twice for the hospital: city taxes and county taxes. Does this mean that residents of Electra and the Electra Hospital District might follow their example?

Someone commented yesterday that Ireland's Bobby Sands didn't starve himself to death because of his dispute with England, in his demand to be termed a political prisoner. The reason for his self-imposed fast was because the jailers were feeding him a diet exclusively of McDonald's hamburgers.

Can't help but comment about an article in yesterday morning's issue of the Wichita Falls newspaper. On page two, Lake Diversion was said to be "still considerably low." Two paragraphs later, the article stated "Lake Diversion is only about eight inches below its spillway." Even after the Corps of Engineers raised the spillway at the lake a few years ago, the reporter must think Diversion has a considerably low spillway.

The Hawk track team finished fifth among six teams at the district track meet. But the cream came to the top. Two of the four district representatives to the state track meet are Hawks, Troy Linthicum and Mike Ray. And Vernon, which won the district title with 176 points, 90 ahead of the second-place team, failed to qualify a single athlete for the Austin meet.

This summer electricity will cost at least 50% more than last summer.

Here's why:

- All the fuels we use to make electricity are more expensive. As longstanding contracts for low-cost natural gas expire, new gas costs a lot more, and the price keeps climbing. Even lignite coal, our most economical fuel, is becoming more expensive.
- Since last summer, a rate increase has been approved and gone into effect.
- You'll see the full effect of these increases — fuel costs and the rate increase — this summer when electricity usage is at its highest level.

Here's what you can do to help hold down your bill:

- Leave your air conditioner off unless you really need it. It probably uses more electricity than your lights and all your other appliances combined.
 - When you're away from home, turn it off.
 - Unless it's really hot, turn it off. Try opening windows and using a fan to circulate the air.
- Turn off anything that's not in use.
- Live a little warmer. The higher you set your thermostat, the more electricity you'll save.
- Use fans to keep air moving. It feels cooler.
- When the air conditioner is on, keep your cool inside. Close windows, doors, blinds, draperies and fireplace dampers.
- If you're installing or replacing an air conditioner, be sure it's energy-efficient. Use the "Energyguide" on every new unit to compare. It may cost more, but it will help you hold down your electric bills.
- Weatherstrip, caulk and insulate. Call us for free booklets that show how to do it, or to learn when we'll have an "Operation Tighten-Up" workshop in your neighborhood.

Thirteen Wichita County 4-H'ers will attend the Rolling Plains District 3 4-H Teen Leader Lab this weekend at the Texas 4-H Center in Brownwood. The theme of the weekend lab is "Conservation of Your Environment." Workshops will include canoeing, fisheries, entomology,

Stallion succumbs

Top Yellow, one of the top stallions in the Paint Horse breed, died Apr. 26 due to a ruptured artery, according to Mrs. Stanley Williamson of 2-J Horse Ranch.

The 10-year-old was triple-A rated, having recorded the highest speed index of any Paint Horse stallion, Mrs. Williamson said. Top Yellow has earned numerous prizes in shows.

Iowa Parkans are recognized

Two Iowa Parkans were among the outstanding Midwestern State Univ. students who received recognition during the annual honors night convocation held Thursday at the MSU Fine Arts Center.

Leonard Berbee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Berbee, was recipient of the 1981-82 Cicero H. Bernard Scholarship, and Kevin Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hamilton, was a Vinson Award recipient for placing second in feature writing during the past year.

Student award winners were recognized by chairmen of the division of business, education, fine arts, humanities and social services, life sciences and mathematical and physical sciences.

Named co-recipients of the Hardin Scholar award were political science major Victor M. Boyer and chemistry major Ajai Cadambi. For only the third time in the 20-year history of the university's highest academic award, it was presented to co-recipients. Both have grade point averages of 4.00.

Also named was the 1981 Clark Scholar, Tamera Wolfe, who is a piano major with a 3.90 gpa.

UMW meets

Thirty members of the United Methodist Women were in attendance at the meeting Tuesday morning in the chapel.

Mrs. Jimmie Kasperek used "Friends of all and enemies of none" for the theme of a meditation in which she emphasized the need for Christians to practice their ideals in all areas of living.

The history of the Rachel Circle was presented by Mmes. James Owens, Jim Rinehart and Larry Parks.

Mrs. George Trammell, vice-president, directed the period devoted to business when department officers reported on activities for the year.

Announcement was made concerning the Fellowship meeting next Tuesday. Mrs. James Owens will be hostess for the Mary group; members of the Rachel circle will meet in the church library and Mrs. Linda Drissel will serve as program leader; Mrs. Gene Owens will be hostess for the Rebecca members; and the meeting of the Ruth Fellowship will take place in the home of Mrs. Bertha McDonald.

Large audience hears noted book reviewer

By MRS. EARNIE REUSCH
 "The Covenant" by James A. Michener termed "one of the most significant of this century" was reviewed by Mrs. Ermance Rejebian of Dallas Saturday for the First Annual Amity Study Club Book Review and Luncheon.

Mrs. Rejebian told approximately 100 guests at the First Christian Church that a Michener book is always a collection of ideas—a semi-historical guide for civilization. "The Covenant," best seller for the six months since its publication, presents the story of South Africa, the hostilities of the world and the doctrine of the apartheid (apartness).

She said the book contained 14 chapters with 200 characters. The first 10 chapters give the history of South Africa and the last four, which were condensed by Reader's Digest, carry the story line. Each chapter is a story in itself, she said.

Speaking in an animated style totally from memory, Mrs. Rejebian recounted the history, the struggles for supremacy between the races, the rule of the English, and the final passage of the laws of separation.

The novel is about real and imaginary people caught up in history, a story of adventure and heroism, love and loyalty, cruelty and betrayal. It portrays the tragic results of wrong decisions made by fundamentally decent, religious people in the supreme belief that they are right.

Mrs. Rejebian said, "Michener brings forth the present state of men and women in South Africa and the unbelievable humiliation and degradation of human dignity."

Michener described South Africa as "the most lovely land in all the world - twice as large as Texas with endless plains, a treeless landscape and a blazing sky."

He suggested that two possible solutions exist - a peaceful solution or violent war, but, if it comes about at all, it will take a long time - perhaps not until the twenty-first century.

Mrs. Rejebian, a native of Turkey, has given 45 years of her life to becoming known as the foremost book reviewer of the nation. She has given more than 9,000 reviews of books that inspire and enlighten as well as many studies of the Bible. To her, it is fulfillment of a debt of gratitude to this country she devoutly loves. These "privileges" as she identifies her reviews "could not have happened anywhere except in this country."

The luncheon consisted of hot turkey salad, fruit salad, vegetables, rolls, lime pie and tea, served in a garden of irises which graced the tables.

Mrs. Phil Welch, vice-president was emcee. The proceeds of the project will be given to the Iowa Park Library Building Fund.

Special guests at the luncheon were the outstanding senior students from the speech, drama, and English departments at Iowa Park High School. Those students included Douglas Arnold, Wendell Burnam, Denny Anderson, Kevin Davis, Laura Dowell, Bill Jeffress, Tracy Hale, Deena Hefner, Kari Hatcher, Frances Sampley, and Vanessa Stucki. These students' names will be engraved on a plaque to be presented to the library when the new library building is completed.

A donation to the Library Building Fund in the names of these seniors was made by the following Iowa Park businessmen: Dr. J. Edwards; O.N. Newman; L.W. Teel, Park Pharmacy; Sam Fairchild, Sam's Body Shop; Phil Welch, State Farm Insurance; Luther Shaw, Shaw Motor; State National Bank; Keith Aulds, Tanner-Aulds Funeral Home; Sue Garrett, The Special Touch; Kenneth Via, Video Care; and Mike Robertson, Whites.

Council approves highway project

Holliday city councilmen Monday night approved a right-of-way contract with the Texas Highway Department after months of negotiations on financing the project.

The project calls for right-of-way and easement adjustments along US 277-82 from the Kamay Y to the city limits of Holliday.

W.C. Snodgrass, right-of-way engineer for District 3 which includes Archer and Wichita counties, presented adjusted cost estimates which councilmen found to be more favorable than previous estimates indicated. In addition, Snodgrass gave councilmen the alternative of paying a lump sum estimate or actual costs.

The lump sum estimate, which councilmen agreed on, is a set estimate made before work begins, with the city responsible for the lump sum estimate only, and not any cost overruns. According to Snodgrass, this will save the city "...a few hundred dollars."

Snodgrass also mentioned that work on the project could be staggered, so that bills would reach the city through an extended period.

In April, the council sent a letter to the Highway Department asking if the city could put 10-percent of the estimate in escrow, which was refused by the department, according to Snodgrass. In a right-of-way contract, the city pays all costs for construction, and is then rebated 90-percent by the state upon completion.

Snodgrass admitted that this places an unwarranted amount of stress on small cities and counties with little population. "But you should have seen how it was when the state asked 50-50 for the work," Snodgrass remarked.

The first estimate submitted by Snodgrass earlier this year was for $20,300, of which Holliday was to pay $2,300. "By trimming a little here, trimming there, and excluding the city's line at Jeter's, the cost to the city is now estimated at $1,400," Snodgrass said. He further added that if the line near Jeter's has to be moved, the cost will increase up to $1,800. Snodgrass reminded the city that the figures were based on engineering estimates, and the actual costs could fluctuate either direction.

Councilmen, expressing the advantages the project will bring Holliday, agreed on the adjusted estimates and signed the contract.

In other business, the new rescue unit was discussed at length, councilmen accepted the resignation of water superintendent Don Stewart hired a backhoe operator, and appointed a new city attorney.

The council discussed manning and equipping the rescue unit at length before appointing Bob Bryan and Jim Hamill co-coordinators in screening applicants for both drivers and attendants.

Qualifications for driver include owning a chauffeur's license, having a clean driving record, and council approval. Attendants are required to have a CPR and first aid training, with a EMT or RN degree preferable. Several councilmen voiced approval of a list of potential drivers and attendants who have already volunteered their services, including registered nurses, EMT's and persons with both CPR and first aid training.

The council also voted to purchase equipment for the unit, including blankets, pillows, pillow cases and sheets.

Water superintendent Don Stewart's resignation was accepted for May 15. Stewart is in the process of accepting a position as water superintendent for a west Texas town.

Following a short executive session, council also hired Roy Lee Prater at $4.75 per hour as fulltime backhoe operator.

Mayor James Cook introduced his choice for new city attorney, Gary Southard of Wichita Falls. Southard has been in private practice in Wichita Falls since 1978, after serving as first assistant city attorney for Wichita Falls two years. He is experienced in non-criminal law, Cook said, and will be effective in the collection of delinquent and ad valorem taxes.

Other action taken by the council included:

- * Tabling action on a Lone Star Gas Co. amendment to an ordinance which would give LSG the right to repair lines on personal property;

- * presented Mrs. Lucille Hall with a certificate of tribute and sympathy for former mayor Tom Hall's work with the city;

- * agreed to purchase 350 feet of fire hose at $1.87 per foot;
- * changed meeting dates to the first and third Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m.;

- * discussed the possibility of obtaining the corner lot of Main and Myrtle streets as a possible site for a future municipal building; and

- * motioned to add to next meeting's agenda setting a speed zone ordinance for emergency vehicles in Holliday.

Three departments fight house fire

Seven units and 28 volunteer firemen from Holliday, Lakeside and Bowman fought a house fire six miles south of Holliday late Saturday night, finally controlling the blaze early Sunday morning.

No one was injured in the fire which was reported by Neil Brackeen at 11:15 p.m. Saturday. Three units and 16 men from Holliday, two units and five men from Lakeside and two units and seven men from Bowman fought the blaze for over two hours before controlling it around 1:50 a.m. Sunday.

"The Holliday Volunteer Fire Department and men would like to thank the members of the Bowman and Lakeside Fire Department for their quick help in getting the fire under control," Bryan said. "We would also like to thank Neil Brackeen for calling the fire to the fire department."

Correction

Suzan Dillard and Debbie Long were named to the honorable mention list of the District 13-AA girls' basketball team, Cody West, girl's coach, said.

The Leader earlier reported that Kristi Lucy and Jamie Smyers were named to the first team, and Cinda Grantham to the second team, but inadvertently omitted Dillard and Long. The Leader regrets the error.

EDITORIAL

Funds needed for rescue unit

Holliday residents were left in an uncomfortable situation recently when the new ambulance contract with Plumlee Ambulance Service and Wichita County and its various entities stipulated the Plumlee could not answer calls outside of Wichita County.

The previous ambulance service, Bob Coburn's Gold Cross, answered numerous calls here in the past, and only now are people beginning to understand the measure of quality and efficiency with which Coburn ran his business.

But, thankfully, there are certain people in Holliday who were well aware of the upcoming dilemma, and steps were taken to get a rescue van for the city from Archer County commissioners. Namely mayor James Cook, city administrator Jim Hamill and fire marshal Bob Bryan, who all worked diligently to get Holliday some form of ambulance service when there could have been none at all.

A list of volunteers for both drivers and attendants for the unit was overwhelmingly supported and appreciated by the city council. Several potential volunteers on the list are experienced in CPR and first aid, which is required by the state for ambulance attendants.

The new rescue unit is being fitted with equipment on loan from Coburn, who has been most helpful in the city's time of need. And, if the city wishes to purchase the loaned equipment from Coburn, he has promised to ask a reasonable price.

But the most important issue at hand is financing the purchase of equipment for the van, estimated to run from $1,500 to $2,000. The city coffers are running low, and a contract signed with the Texas Highway Department has assured the city of a low overhead for at least the next year.

So the city council is asking those who wish to contribute to this very worthwhile cause to send their donation to Holliday Rescue Unit Fund, in care of the City of Holliday, Box 508, Holliday, TX, 76366. It will be worth it.

Ray's 56-6 1/4 effort in the shot put was his second-best effort, and earned his second trip to the state
