

Car wash project decision delayed

Mayor says city, builder both made mistakes

Confusion concerning a proposed car wash on West Highway increased during a called meeting of the Iowa Park city council Monday evening, and it appears no light will be shed on the subject until three or four weeks from now.

Cecil Longley is attempting to build a car wash on the northeast corner of West Highway and Third Street. He was issued a building permit, started work, and was told he was not in compliance with the city's building code.

Prior to commencement of construction, two neighbors on the north side of Alameda complained about traffic hazards, noise, trash and other problems the business would inflict on them and the area if it is allowed to be built.

Longley complained Monday that he had gone through all the proper channels in obtaining his permit to build the car wash, and said he was told by Mayor Johnny Crawford that he had to stop work until Monday's meeting.

Three minutes after the meeting opened, the council excused about a dozen persons in the audience, to permit council members to hold an executive session. The closed meeting lasted 59 minutes. It was called to permit council members to discuss possible litigation, apparently concerning the car wash project.

Crawford told the audience that he felt the "...builders' and owners' actions have all been in good faith, but also the actions of the city... both have been negligent in some areas."

He said the car wash was not in compliance with the city's building code, that it was not set back 50 feet from the property line.

The builders were given two options: what work that has been done can be torn down and moved to meet the building code; or the builder can apply to the board of adjustment for a variance from the setback requirement.

Wichita Falls attorney Gene Douglass, representing Longley, posed several questions to the mayor concerning legal aspects, but mainly pointed out that plans for the structure had been approved not only by the planning and zoning commission, seen and approved by the city council, the building inspector had been on the site when the project was staked out, and he couldn't understand how his client could be made to stop the project, especially since it was in a properly zoned area.

Crawford admitted that the city had made mistakes, but once they had been discovered, they could not be allowed to continue.

After a lengthy discussion, primarily between Crawford and Douglass, the mayor received an emergency call and he explained he would have to leave.

The meeting was ended when it was pointed out that in the mayor's absence, only aldermen Lita Watson, Bud Thompson and Bill Gilmore remained, and with Watson chairing the meeting, a quorum was not present to transact business.

VARIANCE APPLIED

Longley filed for a variance from the front setback requirement. Paperwork was turned into the city hall Tuesday morning.

Steve Morath, city administrator, said yesterday he was notifying the members of the board of adjustment, which is composed of the city council. The group is to meet Monday, its regularly scheduled time, and consider whether to call a meeting July 6, or wait until their next regularly-scheduled meeting of July 13.

Two appeals will be considered whenever the board of adjustment next meets. Longley will be appealing for the variance of the setback requirement, and the two neighbors will be seeking relief and reconsideration about the permit to build at the location.

James Morris and Mrs. Kenneth Garrett are appealing to the board to withdraw the building permit for the car wash on six points.

City council sets meeting

Besides sitting as the board of adjustment Monday night to set a hearing time on appeals concerning a proposed new car wash, city aldermen will also take up at least three items on their agenda.

To meet at 7 p.m. in council chambers, council members will consider employing an auditing firm for the 1981 fiscal year; hear cost estimates for demolition of the old water plant on Kamay Road; and consider changing stop signs to yield signs at the intersection of Corinne and Lincoln.

LARGE CROWD TURNED OUT FOR MONDAY'S CITY COUNCIL MEETING

Ma Bell seeks major increase

Pointing out that local telephone service is far from paying its own way, Southwestern Bell today proposed significant increases in local monthly rates for Texas customers.

The Company asked the Public Utility Commission to approve increases of $5.45 per month for one-party residence service, and increases up to $14.40 per month for one-party business service.

Local increases are about 87 percent of the company's total request for $469.8 million in new rates.

In addition to local rates, the company also asked for increases in private line services, TouchTone services, and Custom Calling charges. Also requested was implementation of a new measured service plan for local calling. The optional plan would measure each local call on the basis of the distance, duration and time of day. The present call allowance plan, which counts only the total number of calls, would be continued to existing customers.

No increases were proposed for long distance, WATS, coin calls, Directory Assistance charges, telephone instruments, terminal equipment, one-time service connection charges, or telephone answering services.

Long distance rates provide significant subsidy to basic local telephone service, said M.C. McGee, Wichita Falls District Manager. "Right now in Texas," he said, "rates for one-party residential service would have to be about $16 per month higher if residence service did not receive subsidy, primarily from long distance."

"In fact, intrastate long distance rates eventually should be reduced," said McGee.

McGee said that competition in the long distance market will begin to drive long distance rates more toward the actual cost of providing long distance service.

"Long distance currently is priced well above cost in order to subsidize local rates," he said. "But competition in the market will eventually do exactly what it's supposed to do - drive the price of long distance service toward the cost of providing the service."

McGee said that regulators years ago made the decision to price local service well below cost, and subsidize it with revenues from other services - especially long distance.

"So long as the telephone company provided all telephone services, the major concern in setting rates was to recover the total cost of service," McGee said. "Thus, the rates for basic local service were kept low, while rates for other services - including long distance - were set at levels to assure that we met the overall cost of doing business. With introduction of competition, that concept began to change."

The ultimate answer, McGee added, is that local rates must begin to bear their own costs, while long distance rates will decrease.

"Substantial local rate increases are inevitable," said McGee. The time is here for local service to begin standing on its own."

"Increases in local service have not kept pace with increases in other goods and services," McGee pointed out. "The Consumer Price Index for Texas has increased 46 percent in the last four years, while local telephone rates have increased only seven percent in the same period."

"In fact, the basic local rate in Wichita Falls today is three percent less than in 1976, Burkburnett is 10 percent less, Iowa Park seven percent less, and Henrietta 10 percent less than in 1976," McGee added.

McGee said that continuing exceptional growth in Texas, inflation and changing economic and regulatory factors in the telecommunications industry create the need for increased rates.

"We have an intrastate investment of almost $7 billion in Texas," McGee said.

The Company is asking the PUC to authorize a return of 17.1 percent on equity and 12.72 percent on the company's total intrastate investment in Texas.

The rate increases would produce an overall increase of 15.8 percent in intrastate revenues.

Valley View school reunion Saturday

Former students of the Valley View School will reunite Saturday.

Their visitation will begin at 4 p.m. in the Iowa Park High School cafeteria, and the meal will be served at 6.

Former students who traveled the farthest and the oldest graduate will be recognized. Some of the older students will speak, recalling events and names from the school's past.

Chamber discusses plans

Monday's monthly meeting of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce board of directors was devoted primarily to planning ahead for special events in the community.

Directors discussed plans for the annual Whoop-T-Do celebration Oct. 3, Crazy Day retail promotion July 25, and uniform blazers for directors participating in ribbon-cutting ceremonies.

Linda Merrick suggested the possibility of having a skydiving team parachute into the area where the Whoop-T-Do will be held. She is to check on restrictions because of structures surrounding the possible land site. She also said a clown team has been obtained to entertain the crowd.

Tommy Key, chamber president, said he hopes merchants in the community participate in Crazy Day sales activities. He discussed having a prize paper plate toss, similar to one held three years ago.

Members of the chamber's board make up the ribbon-cutting crew which attends ceremonies whenever a special event or new business opening is held.

The board voted to purchase green blazers, individually, for uniforms to be used at those activities, as well as others in which the chamber participates.

The committee is to function at 10 this morning, when Superfine Foods initiates its grand opening.

Court orders Bell to make refunds

Area telephone users may receive a break on their Southwestern Bell phone bills starting in August if Ma Bell decides to go along with the mandates of the Texas Supreme Court.

According to Don Butler, attorney for the Texas Municipal League, the state's Supreme Court ruled that the utility must refund $22.5-million plus 10 percent interest to its Texas customers.

That is, if Ma Bell doesn't contest the ruling, which it has indicated it might.

The state court rejected Bell's request to extend the company's bonded rates past a June 1 deadline, set earlier by the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals. The ruling means Bell will now charge rates granted by the Public Utility Commission Jan. 28 rather than the higher rates in effect since Nov. 11, 1980.

According to Butler, "...The PUC entered an order allowing an increase of $114-million per annum on Feb. 28, 1981 and ordered a refund of the excessive collections by Southwestern Bell.

"The cities had recommended an increase of $74-million per annum, and the PUC staff had recommended an increase of $154-million per annum. The company has been able to keep its larger increase in effect through various orders of the District Court and the Court of Civil Appeals through the past months."

Still, Butler said the case was "far from being over." He noted Ma Bell intends to continue its effort to overcome the decision of the PUC and to impose a rate retroactive to Nov. 11, 1980.

An area Bell official said it was highly likely that the refund would be in the form of a credit on the customers' bills, and may be spread out over more than one month, starting in August.

Rains halt wheat harvest

Although this area has not been swamped with rainfall like Texans in the southern and central parts of the state, weather has still played an important part in farming activities locally.

Less than an inch of precipitation seldom makes much difference in activities locally, but when it comes atop more than three inches, it brings farming activities to a standstill.

Rainfall Sunday and Monday amounted to less than an inch, as recorded by the Experiment Station. But harvesting crews were sent to the fencerows because the fields were just too wet for combines to do their work in harvesting wheat.

The .82 of an inch brought June's official rainfall measurement to 3.53 inches. For the year, the station has measured 17.76 inches, more than double the 7.99 inches recorded by the same date in 1980.

The cold front that brought the light rains lowered temperatures to a record level. The weather bureau recorded 55 degrees as Wednesday morning's low, breaking a record which has stood for that date more than 30 years.

Some people were seen walking in the downtown area wearing jackets Tuesday and Wednesday, but it wasn't raining then.

Barge, Reynolds nuptials exchanged Saturday

At three o'clock Saturday afternoon, nuptial rites of impressive dignity were performed to unite Miss Donna Kathryn Barge and Roy Leonard Reynolds. The ceremony took place at Our Lady Queen of Peace in Wichita Falls with Father Dave Johnson, pastor of the St. Paul's Catholic Church in Electra, and Christ the King Catholic Church in Iowa Park, officiating minister.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Barge of Iowa Park and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Reynolds of Wichita Falls.

Members of the bridal party entered the church to stand at an altar keyed with lofty dignity in the decorations highlighted by seven-branched candelabra and a kneeling bench entwined with sprengeri fern. An altar bouquet consisting of one dozen yellow roses, purple statice and baby's breath was offset by a grouping of palm fronds. The church pews were bedecked with yellow satin bows, trailing English ivy, purple statice and baby's breath.

Kerry Johnston, organist, offered "Peace Be With You," "Benedictus" and "Beautiful Savior" and accompanied Mrs. Patrick Loehlein, vocalist, who sang "Wherever You Go" and "The Wedding Song" for the prelude music, and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony. The organist heralded the approach of the wedding party with the processional by Wagner and backgrounded their departure from the church with Mendelssohn's recessional.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father who presented her in marriage for her parents. The first impression of her loveliness was observed in her hairpiece, a beautiful cascade of white silk sweetheart roses, stephanotis, fresh gypsophila and English ivy accented with white lace and ribbon streamers, which complimented her long hair.

She chose a formal gown of white Qiana with a fitted bodice adorned with reembroidered lace appliques. The design of the bodice featured a Queen Anne neckline, long fitted sheer illusion sleeves cuffed and closed with pearl buttons. A sweeping chapel length train graced the back of the full skirt to give the gown an extra touch of distinction.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of fresh yellow and sweetheart roses, purple statice, gypsophila and English ivy with a lace background. Providing further interest in the wedding costume, the bride carried a "something new" lace handkerchief made and embroidered with names of the couple and their wedding date by her mother. She carried the white Bible that her mother had carried at her wedding, using it for "something old" and wore a pearl necklace that belonged to Miss Denise Reynolds, sister of the groom for "something borrowed". Her "something blue" was a garter, also made by her mother.

A quartet of bridal attendants included a matron of honor and three bridesmaids dressed identically in delicate lavender lace gowns designed with off-the-shoulder peasant-style bodices, empire waistlines hugged with lavender ribbon and three-tiered skirts terminating in wide flounces above the floor. They wore hair combs embellished with silk flowers of purple statice, yellow almond blossoms and baby's breath. The same colors were reflected in their nosegays consisting of yellow starburst poms, purple statice and baby's breath complemented with white lace.

Mrs. Stephan Garmon of Abilene, sister of the bride, participated in the wedding as matron of honor. Miss Denise Reynolds of Norman, Okla., sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Kevin Wright of Iowa Park and Mrs. John McLemore of Amarillo.

The groom wore a boutonniere formed of yellow sweetheart roses, yellow and purple statice and baby's breath with his all-white tuxedo. Male members of the wedding party wore navy blue tuxedos and white shirts trimmed in navy blue.

Roy L. Reynolds attended his son as best man. Groomsmen were Wally Underwood of Ft. Worth, Mike O'Connor of Wichita Falls and Steve Kinnard of Luling.

Mrs. Barge, mother of the bride, wore a lavender cattleya orchid with her rose-colored Qiana gown styled with empire waist, accordion pleated skirt and sheer capelet, and Mrs. Reynolds, the groom's mother, chose a white cattleya orchid to wear with her turquoise accordion pleated gown.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School and attended Hardin-Simmons Univ. and Midwestern State Univ. The groom was graduated from Notre Dame High School in Wichita Falls and attended MSU. They will establish residence in Victoria where she will be working for an investment firm and he will be employed as a chemical engineer for NL Treating Chemical Corp.

The reception following the wedding was hosted by the bride's parents in the Colonial Room of the NCO Club at Sheppard Air Force Base.

The bride's table was covered with white satin overlaid with draped white lace accented with yellow bows and flowers. The colors emphasized in the bridal attendants' gowns and nosegays gave dignified accent to decorations and appointments.

A three-branched silver candelabrum in the center of the table was ornamented with yellow roses, purple statice, starburst poms and baby's breath. The four-tiered white cake was set off with exciting frosting wonders done in unusual Australian scrolls and pale orchid violets, and three sets of Grecian pillars. The top ornament was a gold cross accented with interlocking wedding bands uprising from a circle of fresh flowers in the bride's colors.

The white napkins on the bride's table were lettered in gold with the names "Roy and Donna" linked together by a ring, and "June 13, 1981." The silver punch service was an additional appointment.

The groom's table was laid with beige lace over white satin. It held the interlocking rings-shaped chocolate cake, one ring scrolled with the groom's name and the other bearing the bride's name, the two joined together at the date of their wedding. The brown napkins were personalized with "D-R-R" and the silver coffee service was another appointment.

Refreshments were served by Mmes. George McDowell of Pittsburg, Pa. Mrs. Dale Diehl of Irving, aunts of the bride, Kenneth Cluley, Steve Worley and Miss Robin Collins.

Mrs. Grady Graves secured signatures of the guests at a table appointed with a yellow candle framed by a hurricane globe resting on a brass stand surrounded by roses and greenery, the book and yellow feather pen.

Other tables in the room held an assortment of buffet foods.

Mr. and Mrs. N.R. Diehl of Irving, grandparents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. W.F. Wedman of Yukon, Okla., grandparents of the groom, were special wedding guests. Others from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bellinghouser of Columbia, Mo. and Mrs. Marie Dausch of Fairview Height, Ill.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner in Underwood's Crystal Room of the eve of the wedding.

Wayne Cornitius, brother of the groom, was best man. Joe Dixon and Sam Mascarro of Dallas were groomsmen, and the ushers were Jim Beasley, Shawn Mahler, David Glavy and Sean Riley.

Bradley, Brown vows recited Friday

The altar setting for the Friday evening wedding of Miss Judy Carol Bradley and Jimmy Don Brown Jr. in the First United Methodist Church was serenely beautiful in order and design.

A 15-branched arch candelabra traced with sprengeri fern with a large peach satin bow setting amidst the foliage at the top center of the arch formed the background for a gold cross flanked by gold candlesticks and candles, and an open Bible on the altar table. Tall white baskets holding pots of Boston fern touched with apricot ribbons, and potted ferns arranged at vantage points along the altar rail completed the setting. Church pews were decorated with peach silk bows.

The Rev. Michael Jackson, pastor of Elmwood Methodist Church in Dallas, officiated the double-ring ceremony to join in holy wedlock the daughter of Mrs. Bill L. Guthrie of Iowa Park and the late James H. Bradley, and the son of Mrs. Don McWilliams of Little Rock, Ark. and Jimmy Don Brown Sr. of Wichita Falls.

Kerry Johnston, organist, Mrs. W.F. Brasfield and Garry Lyon, vocalists, provided the prenuptial music. The organist's renditions were "Psalm," "Peace Be With You," "Aria" and "Whither Thou Goest." Mrs. Brasfield sang "Evergreen" and the male vocalist sang "If by Bread" and during the ceremony they were featured in a duet number, "The Lord's Prayer." They were accompanied by the organist who also included the time-honored marches in his offerings.

The lovely bride was a romantic picture in her formal gown of white chiffon and Venise lace as she walked gracefully to the altar with her stepfather, Bill L. Guthrie, who presented her in marriage for her mother and for himself.

The lace enhanced the slightly raised bodice of the gown at the high neck and in appliques on the English net yoke, then formed the cuffs of the long sheer bishop sleeves. The full flowing skirt formed a chapel train to complete the picture.

The bridal veil of fingertip length illusion was secured to a camelot cap covered in Venise lace showered with pearls. The bride carried a cascade-style bouquet befitting the delicacy of the gown and veil created of fresh peach miniature carnations, gypsophila and sprengeri fern.

She wore a gold bracelet engraved with the couple's wedding date, a gift from the groom for "something new" and carried her late great-grandmother's Irish linen lace-trimmed handkerchief in her white Bible for "something old." She wore her matron of honor's antique gold necklace for "something borrowed" and completed bridal traditions with the "something blue" garter and sixpence in her shoe.

The bridal attendants, junior bridesmaid and flower girl wore flattering apricot knit gowns designed with deep ruffles framing the scoop necklines and extending over the shoulders. White satin sashes encircled the waists and the long skirts terminated in deep flounces above the hemlines edged in lace. They wore sprigs of baby's breath in their hair.

Mrs. Mike Prewitt was the matron of honor, and Mrs. Mike Dunn, Miss Elizabeth Grant and Miss Tena Fink, all from Wichita Falls, were bridesmaids. Each carried three long-stemmed peach silk roses with matching streamers. Miss Peyton Parkerson, the junior bridesmaid, carried a small peach silk rose with streamers. Rachel Jordan, niece of the groom, the diminutive flower girl, carried a white basket holding a white net umbrella filled with miniature carnations and baby's breath.

Christopher Williams of Little Rock, Ark., nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer.

The groom wore a slate gray tuxedo with a peach rose boutonniere. The best man, groomsmen, ushers and fathers of the couple wore slate gray tuxedos. Tommy Jeter was best man. Wayne Radcliff, Marcus Jordan, the groom's brother-in-law and Randy Byrd were groomsmen. Ushers were James Bradley of Dallas, brother of the bride, and Billy Brown, the groom's uncle.

Mrs. Guthrie and Mrs. McWilliams, mothers of the couple, wore gardenia corsages trimmed with apricot ribbons with the gowns they selected for the wedding. The former wore a spaghetti-strapped ivory crepe dress overlaid with a lace bodice peplum cape that made the sleeves and featured a satin ribbon band with a silk rose in front around the waistline. The latter wore a pink ensemble consisting of a long skirt, camisole top and lace jacket.

The new Mrs. Brown, who is assistant director of recreation at the Presbyterian Manor, was graduated from Rider High School. She attended East Texas State Univ. and received a degree in recreation administration from Midwestern State Univ. She is a member of National Parks and Recreation Association and Texas Recreation and Parks Society.

The groom was graduated from Iowa Park High School where he was captain of the football team and class officer. He is a student at Midwestern State Univ. working toward an associate degree in chemical technology. He is in charge of the chemical department at SMI-Bros.

The couple went to Dallas for a short wedding trip and they are planning a delayed honeymoon to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. When the couple left the reception, she was wearing a white polyester dress with an embroidered yoke and white accessories.

The bride's parents honored the newlyweds at a wedding reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Upon entering the room, guests were invited to sign the bride's book by Mrs. Vanesa Johnson, sister of the groom. The book and apricot plume pens were placed on a table laid with beige lace over beige polyester. Nearby the book, two white alabaster doves seemed to be cooing their approval. White net bird seed bags tied with apricot ribbons were handed to guests from a brass bowl accented with a butterfly on the handle.

Tradition and beauty were artfully intermingled in the design of the bride's table where Mrs. N.E. Guthrie Jr. and Miss Irma Spell presided.

The bride's three-tiered cake captured the elegance of the table draped with an ivory satin cloth set off with a floor length gathered skirt. The rich and floral frosting embellishments covering the confection consisted of apricot daisies, roses, petunias and bridal trumpets, pale blue forget me nots and white stephanotis. A set of sugar pillars raised the top tier centered with an ornament in the romantic mood. Under a beaded white lattice arch interwoven with white apple blossoms, stood a bride and groom, she in a white wedding gown and he in formal black attire, in a garden of the sugar flowers.

Other table appointments were a five-branched silver candelabrum holding tall apricot candles, the silver punch service and bridal napkins bearing the names of the bride and groom and their wedding date.

The groom's table was covered with a floor length apricot crepe cloth and highlighted with a unique centerpiece representing his profession, a brass musical oil well pump surrounded by white silk daisies, peach tiger lilies and white German statice. The chocolate cake, tastefully decorated with colorful marzipan fruits and vegetables and the silver coffee service lent further decorative interest to the table.

Mrs. Marcus Jordan, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Billy McDonald served at the table. Mrs. Allen Guthrie of Bowie and Mrs. Allen Cletcher were houseparty members.

The groom's father hosted the rehearsal dinner Thursday evening at the Trade Winds Motel.

Other wedding guests from out-of-town were Messrs. and Mmes. Joe Wilson of Borger, James Wilson of Amarillo, J.A. Norwood of Rhome; Mrs. Jane Lawrence of Rhome; Lee Quick of Bedford and Allen Guthrie of Bowie.

Boutwell gets new assignment at MSU

Dr. Louis J. Rodriguez, MSU president, has announced the reassignment of two Midwestern State Univ. administrators effective Sept. 1.

Walter M. Martin, director of student financial aids, will become director of personnel, and Roy K. Boutwell, director of personnel, will assume duties as director of student financial aids.

"The university is currently in the process of automating its personnel operation, and we believe Walt Martin's extensive background in personnel management will be extremely helpful, not only during this transition but in the future development of personnel administration at Midwestern," said Rodriguez in announcing the new assignments.

"Roy Boutwell previously has indicated a desire to serve in an administrative post within the university that would allow him to work more closely with MSU students," Rodriguez continued. "As director of student financial aids, he will be given the opportunity to work directly with students as they seek assistance in financial matters relating to their education."

"Both are high qualified professionals, and I know that they are looking forward to the challenges of their new assignments," he added.

Boutwell went to Midwestern in 1969 as associate director of university affairs from E.F. Hutton and Company, Inc. in Wichita Falls. He had been an account executive with the company for three years.

At Midwestern, he was appointed director of admissions in 1972 and served in that capacity until 1977 when he became director of personnel.

Boutwell was graduated cum laude with a bachelor of business administration degree from Midwestern in 1964 with a major in general business administration and a double minor in economics and military science. He received the master of business administration degree from Midwestern in 1971.

He currently is working on an Ed. D. in higher education administration in a field-based program with Nova University in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He is expected to complete requirements for his doctorate in December.

Boutwell is a member of the College and University Personnel Association and Personnel Association of Texas Senior Colleges and Universities and has been a member of the Texas and the American Associations of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers.

He and his wife, Jolyn, live in Iowa Park, where he is president of the Iowa Park Consolidated Independent School District's board of trustees. He also is active in community programs and projects and youth activities.

The Boutwells have two sons, 16 and 13.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

How many times have I heard it? "If it wasn't for the parents, we'd have a real good league, without any problems."

I guess that ever since Little League baseball was originated, coaches have been making that observation. Parents want to coach, tell the coach who should be put in as pitcher, who should be the pinch hitter, why a player shouldn't have tried to steal base, just about anything there is about the game.

Coaches object because they've put in their time not only at the game, but all those extra hours at practice, working with the kids.

Parents are also a real burr in the saddle of game umpires. Man, they can really get down on them, and sometime their language isn't what the complainer would use in their own homes.

But, there's another side of the parent participation thing. Some coaches complain that they've become unpaid babysitters, that parents just drop off the kids at workout or game and drive away.

I don't know which is worse nor which is right. These are just comments I've heard from Little League people.

Shucks, Iowa Park has turned to paid umpires for the games, because they couldn't find enough local people willing to take all the lip the fans were giving them for their donated services.

What this is all leading up to, in case you haven't heard the story from neighboring Electra, is just how much trouble you can get into at a Little League ball game.

It seems a week ago Monday, a fight started among some of the kids. Wouldn't you know it, some parents got into it. Shucks, what's good for the kids is good for the parents, I've always said.

Well, they were hauled down to the justice of the peace and three paid a $62 fine each. But one woman apparently hadn't had all her say, and the judge found her in contempt of court and assessed her an additional $100.

The woman apparently still had some fight in her.

She went home and, according to the Electra newspaper account, got a shotgun, drove back to the judge's office and fired a blast into the front door. No one was inside at the time.

I can just hear her now, explaining to the occupants of the Electra city jail, and later the inmates at the county jail: "When I'm right, no dadgum game official, police officer or justice of the peace will get me to shut up."

No, she didn't say that, but I still have an imagination.

Anyway, Electra can always say they have someone who can outdo Billy Martin at a ball game.

Letter the Editor

To The Editor:

I have tried through regular channels (calling City Hall) several times, now I ask you, how do I get a dumpster moved from my back gate? It has pushed my fence in and has bent my gate so that it cannot be closed properly. I have asked the city to repair my fence and gate, to no avail.

Last week I asked that the dumpster be moved but got no response. Also, it is a health hazard. Normally I do not "visit" the dumpster very often as I have a trash compactor, but I have been home for over a week "on vacation," cleaning, etc., so I have made numerous trips to empty trash. I was greeted each time with a terrible stench, and at least a million flies. Once more I called City Hall, but again got no response.

I realize the alleys have been wet and the trucks unable to get down them, but when this happens, the dumpster gets full and the trash is set all around it on the ground. The dogs that are allowed to run loose get into the garbage and as a result it gets all over the alley right at my back gate. This being the case, something needs to be done to the alleys so the tracks can make their runs regularly.

People pile limbs, etc., (anything that will not fit into the dumpster) against my fence and the truck does not pick them up.

I have had to "rig" my gate to close it, as I have dogs that could get out, but what can I do? No one seems to care!

Does anyone else in Iowa Park have this problem?

Mrs. Ray D. Cook

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

We would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank all the people who made the 1981 Phillies T-Ball team a success. Our special thanks to J&J Oil Well Service for sponsoring us, to Desmond Mayfield for umpiring our games and to Les Maple for keeping those kids in line. We would also like to thank all those Moms who helped in the concession stand and to all our fans who cheered us on. Most important, thank you Justin, Cody, Casey, Scott, Robbie, Greg, Stephanie, Robert, Patric, Chris, Brett, Jennifer, Kristin, Brian, Greg, and Timothy for adding something special to our lives. You have made us very proud.

From the Ones that Care

Sure, sunshine is free, but . . .

let's be realistic.

We Americans tend to be skeptical of cure-alls. And rightly so. They're seldom realistic.

Some people think sunshine is a free and easily available cure-all for our energy problems. Sunshine is free. Solar power isn't.

Equipment is now on the market that uses direct heat from the sun to help warm our houses and heat our water. In some areas these installations are economical. But collecting, concentrating, converting, storing and using solar energy to generate electricity is not economical. It's many times more costly than using coal or nuclear fuels, and much more expensive than using Middle East oil.

At your electric company, we're supporting the development of solar technology. Some day it may become a more viable source of electrical energy

... but not today. Until it, our job is to keep you supplied with dependable electricity, generated with the most plentiful and economical fuels we can use.

We think you'll agree: that's realistic.

Cook of the Week

A better title for the couple, Mr. and Mrs. John Hopkins, 410 E. Ruby, who occupy the Cook of the Week spot in this issue of the Leader would probably be Canners of the Week. Right now, when there is such a bountiful assortment of vegetables growing in so many gardens, there seems to be a renewed interest in canning, and we are lucky to find a couple that enjoys gardening and canning together.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins feel that living on the farm is one of life's greatest blessings. For the past two years, they have lived in Iowa Park, but they continue to grow their own gardens and do a lot of canning, turning out many colorful jars of vegetables, fruits, pickles, jams, jellies, etc. that will spell "good eating" during the winter months.

Both grew up on farms, he in Palo Pinto County and she in Kaufman County. After they married they chose, or perhaps did not even consider any other kind of life. They owned a farm in Wichita Valley Farms 28 years and before purchasing it they had owned a farm south of the Texas Experiment Station.

Mrs. Hopkins said her father always had big fruit orchards. She remembers how her mother dried fruit by cutting it in halves or quarters and placing it in a clean sheet on top of the smokehouse. She would bring it in at night to protect it from the dew, then put it out again the next day, continuing the procedure until the fruit was dried. The dried fruit today is somewhat of a delicacy because of its cost.

One of the luxuries Mrs. Hopkins enjoyed during her years at home was having fresh apples the year around. Her father stored them in barrels and layered them with sand and the family enjoyed them all year. Some of the Hopkins' canning recipes today show that there are unusual things that one can do in the 20th century to give added zest and flavor to canned goods that pioneers did not know about. The two recipes for canned green beans are good examples.

Speaking of canning being a joint venture at the Hopkins', just last week he put up 20 jars of Sunshine Pickles. He also has canned beans and beets this year. Another thing that the couple enjoys in common is to share their produce with friends. They love people and their home radiates warm hospitality to all who enter.

He has gained outstanding recognition as a farmer during the years. He received a plaque in 1967 and a monetary gift of $250 in 1969 from the Texas Community and Improvement Outstanding Farms program. He also received numerous certificates from Bridwell Soil Builders.

They are faithful members of the Faith Baptist Church. They have one son, Johnny, who is manager of Johnson's Magnavox in Wichita Falls.

4 cups water

Bring the above mixture to a boil. Pour over sliced cucumbers that have been washed, drained and packed in quart sterile jars with dill and garlic. Set out in sunshine 21 days. If sun does not shine do not count that day in the 21 days. It is a must that they be in sunshine for that many days.

Boon, Bowling wedding held in Mineral Wells

Miss Janet Lee Boon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boon of Mineral Wells became the bride of Mikel Fain Bowling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bowling of Holliday, in a ceremony performed in the First Baptist Church in Mineral Wells June 6. Officiating for the double-ring nuptials was the Rev. Bobby Moore.

The altar setting was pure candlelight provided by approximately one hundred candles glowing in arched-fan candelabra in the center flanked by heart-shaped, seven-branched and tree candelabra. Fern balls were placed on either side of the steps leading to the altar.

MRS. MIKEL BOWLING

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Nell Morgan, organist, and Michael Martin, vocalist, who sang "Longer," "More," "Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's father escorted her to the altar and gave her in marriage for both parents. Chantilly lace and crystal pleats enhanced the beauty of her white organza wedding gown featuring a bodice sculpted with pearl-encrusted lace, Queen Anne neckline and long lace sleeves. Attention in the gown was strongly turned to the long skirt that swept to a chapel train through dexterous touches of the lace and crystal pleats around an apron affect in front.

Her two-tiered waltz length illusion veil banded in satin and applied with lace flowers fell from a camelot cap of lace. She carried a large nosegay of white silk roses, English ivy and gypsophila with attached eggshell ribbons.

The bride selected her gown for the "something new," and a 1958 penny worn in her shoe for "something old." She wore Mrs. Bill Jones' pearl earrings and necklace for "something borrowed" and a garter given to her by Mrs. L.L. Winton for "something blue."

Mrs. Michael Lindbloom of Milsap served as matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Michael Segars of Palo Pinto, Mrs. T.J. Jones of Mineral Wells and Miss Debbie Cannon of Houston. They were attired in formal grass green crepe gowns made with blouson bodices, split sleeves and accordion pleated skirts. They wore matching baby's breath in their hair and carried votive candles encircled with green silk flowers in a brandy snifter from which the flowers fell forward.

Miss Mindy Lindbloom, niece of the bride, carried green silk flowers in a white basket as she served as flower girl. Jake Felts was ring bearer and was dressed like the groom. She wore a white organdy frock featuring short puffed chiffon sleeves, a bow at the front of the waistline, a hooped skirt flounced at the hemline and trimmed with tiers of lace in the back.

The groom wore an all-white tuxedo and a white rose back-grounded with baby's breath white silk rosebud corsages.

The bride's parents hosted the wedding reception at Holiday Inn.

The bride's L-shaped table was covered with a white knit cloth featuring a white lace skirt. The white three-tiered cake towered splendidly over a splashing green water fountain in table decorations. Staircases descending on either side from top to the base were entwined with white silk baby's breath. Green silk roses, white ceramic doves and one set of pillars were used effectively to achieve a storybook look for the confection. Crystal and gold punch services and bridal napkins were other table appointments.

The groom's table was laid with a brown cloth skirted with brown lace. It held a round chocolate cake topped with frosted grapes and the silver coffee service.

The couple's gold-framed wedding invitation rested on a gold easel on the table which held the bride's book and white plume pen. The cloth duplicated the one on the bride's table. Miss Janie Bryant assisted guests with registering.

Reception assistants were Mmes. Tommy Brown, Lynn Reasoner, Jackie Kerr, Bobby Bazzell; Misses Jan Cutshall, Tena Lee and Rhonda Wade.

The newlyweds went to Ft. Worth on their wedding trip, the bride wearing a lavender crepe two-piece dress and a white silk rose corsage. They are now at home in Holliday.

The bride was graduated from Mineral Wells High School and Texas A&M Univ. She was a teacher in the Mineral Wells Schools System during 1980. The groom was graduated from Holliday High School and Tarleton State Univ. He works for Gearhart Industries in Wichita Falls.

The groom's parents gave the rehearsal dinner at K-Bob's Restaurant in Mineral Wells.

Other out-of-town guests included Messrs. and Mmes. Mark Patterson of Wichita Falls, Bill Hoffman of Iowa Park, Steve Alsop of Archer City, Billy Daure and Jackie Kerr of Weatherford, Curtis Butler Sr. of Ft. Worth, Curtis Butler Jr. of Keller, Terry Stephens and Amy of De Leon, Ron Ching and Alison of Garland; Miss Faye Roy of Ft. Worth; Rickey Clayborn and Duke Reynolds of Newcastle.

Holliday policeman resigns; ambulance workers approved

Holliday policeman Larry Spencer submitted his letter of resignation to Holliday city councilmen and the new rescue unit's drivers and attendants were approved during Monday night's regular meeting of the council.

After Spencer read his monthly police report to councilmen, which explains in detail the previous month's police activity, mayor James Cook read the letter of resignation from Spencer, which councilmen accepted after a brief meeting in executive session.

After the executive session, Spencer was asked if he wanted a letter of reference from the city, at which time he replied, "Yes, I am planning on getting in it (law enforcement) again when I can afford it."

He said he will be working for a private security firm in Wichita Falls.

Spencer was hired in February of 1980 after former policeman Don Pennington resigned. His resignation is effective next Thursday.

Drivers and attendants for Holliday's new rescue unit were okayed by the council. Requirements for drivers included holding a chauffeur's license and having a clean driving record, while attendants were required to be trained in both CPR and first aid.

Drivers approved were Bob Bryan, Melvin Bills, James Bryan (EMT), John Harrigal, Eric Thompson, Dave Wiley and Spencer.

Attendants named were Spencer, Bob and James Bryan, Bills, Rod Dolberry and Curtis Dolberry.

According to coordinator Bob Bryan, Spencer asked to be added to the list even though he was resigning as policeman. Council amended the list to add his name.

In other business, council okayed the hiring of two high school youths for summer employment, and in Cook's bi-monthly report learned of the city making its final payment for the civil defense sirens, and renewing the city's participation in the Texas Agriculture Extension Service's "Outstanding Older Texan."

Council hired high school freshmen Thomas Hamill and Eugene Whitting for summer labor at minimum wage, with the stipulation that each boy obtain a minor's release from his parents. According to councilman Jim Virdell, it has been customary in the past to hire high school students to take some of the workload off the full-time employees.

Long-time Holliday resident and civic leader Bill Stegall was chosen by a nominating committee to represent Holliday as the Texas Extension Service's "Outstanding Older Texan." According to Cook, Holliday failed to choose a representative after 1977, when Mrs. Mary Wilmut was chosen by a committee. Members of the committee this year are Janine Hodge, Doris Stone and Cecil Hamady.

Requirements for "Outstanding Older Texan" include being at least 50 years of age, and resident of the city for at least 10 years.

Stegall operated a pharmacy in Holliday several years, and chartered Holliday's Lion Club with Dr. D.L. Ligon of Wichita Falls. Stegall also set up an endowed scholarship to Hardin-Simmons Univ. for a qualifying senior from Holliday.

Councilman Fred Daume told those present he has known Stegall all of his life, saying, "I think we have a fine gentleman representing Holliday."

Stegall will be honored at an awards ceremony on the Archer County Courthouse lawn at 1 p.m. Thursday.

Mayor Cook informed the council the city had paid City National Bank the final installment on a loan for the civil defense sirens, in the amount of $21,050.

"We ought to have a note burning deal," replied Daume.

boutonniere. His attendants wore forest green tuxedos and white pleated shirts.

Burle Bowling, brother of the groom, acted as best man. Roy Baggett of Nocona, Mark Patterson of Wichita Falls and Brent Noles of Stephenville were groomsmen, and the ushers were Terry Stevens of De Leon and Mike Ayres of Holliday.

The bride's mother wore a long apricot Qiana dress styled with long sleeves, accordion pleated skirt and lace jacket. The groom's mother wore a pale yellow Qiana gown featuring a chiffon blouson bodice with split sleeves and A-line skirt. Both wore

Holliday surpasses Iowa Park sales tax

For the first time since the two cities began collecting the one percent sales tax, Holliday has now exceeded Iowa Park in taxes collected and returned by the state comptroller office.

Through May, tax rebates for Holliday have amounted to $45,314 and Iowa Park $41,467.

Holliday's rebate for May was $7,300 and Iowa Park $2,030.

For this same period last year, Iowa Park had received $41,388, .19 percent less than the same period this year. Meanwhile, Holliday's rebates through May of 1980 were $31,604, which was a whopping 43.38 percent less than has been collected this year.

Bowling graduates

Burle Bowling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Bowling of Holliday, received his degree in Dental Laboratory Technology from TSTI (Texas State Technical Institute) in Waco recently.

Bowling was graduated from Holliday High School in 1977, and attended Midwestern State Univ. and Tarleton State Univ. before entering TSTI. He will reside in Dallas, where he is an associate with Florance Dental Ceramics Laboratory.

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas effective July 21, 1981, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 15.8 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs.

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 21 de Julio de 1981, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 15.8 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública.

Shower fetes bride elect

The home of Mrs. Doyle Parks was the scene of an attractively appointed informal reception and pre-nuptial miscellaneous shower Saturday evening complimenting Miss Tammie Robertson, bride-elect of Mark Patterson.

Serving with Mrs. Parks as hostesses were Meses. Larry Latimer, Gus Rich, Joe Singer, Jim Adams, Alton Hunter, Bill Curry, Robert Mellroy, Vern Horsky, Jimmy Banks and John Cummings.

The honoree's chosen colors of pink and white were particularly emphasized on the refreshment table covered with a glossy cloth of white polyester rayon bordered with wide lace. Pink silk carnations and white silk anemones were arranged artistically with baby's breath and two white ceramic angels in a stemmed silver bowl for the centerpiece. The pink napkins inscribed with "Tammie and Mark" and crystal punch service added grace to the table decor.

The registry table carried out the same color scheme and the colors were repeated in silk corsages fashioned of roses and daisies presented to the honoree and mothers of the betrothed couple, Mrs. Jerry Robertson and Mrs. J.R. "Bud" Patterson.

Miss Robertson was assisted with unwrapping her lovely assortment of gifts for display by Miss Mickie Gregg and Mrs. Russell Yarbrough.

Special guests were Mrs. Clyde Robertson and Mrs. Fred Toler, grandmothers of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Floyd Boyd, grandmother of the groom-elect.

The couple will be united in marriage July 11 at First Baptist Church.

A REAL SURRY? - "Curly," right, tries to win a date with "Laurey," center, to the "box social" by telling her tall tales of a surry with the fringe on top as "Aunt Eller" chaperones in "Oklahoma!" "Laurey" is played by Carrie Cole of Iowa Park. "Aunt Eller" is played by Sara Nell Summers of Waco and "Curly" is played by Michael Morgan of Lubbock.

Carrie Cole of Iowa Park has a leading role in the summer production of "Oklahoma!" at Texas Tech Univ. The show will be performed at 8:15 p.m. June 19-20 and July 3-4 at the Lubbock Civic Center Theater.

Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Cole, will play the central female character "Laurey" in the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical which portrays folk character on the Oklahoma frontier.

"Oklahoma!" includes vocabulary and phrases of everyday speech and imagery drawn from the subjects on the frontier and is based on the play, "Green Grow The Lilacs" by Lynn Riggs. The classic musical opened on Broadway in 1943.

Cole is a senior music education and applied music major at Texas Tech. She is a member of the Texas Tech choir and music theater and serves as librarian for the choir.

Cole has had parts in "Die Fledermaus," "Little Red Riding Hood," "My Fair Lady" and "La Perichole" productions at Tech.

Nolens observe 25th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Nolen were honored Sunday afternoon at a surprise reception held in the Silver Square in commemoration of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the event were her parents, Mr. and Ms. W.T. Crawford Sr., and her brother and sisters and their spouses. These included Messrs. and Meses. Andy, Du and Johnny Crawford, Larry Pond, David Styles and Cecelia Miley.

The serving table was covered with a floor-length candlelight moire taffeta cloth and centered with the beautiful anniversary cake (four tiers decorated artistically with apricot, blue and green flowers and grapes. Flanking the cake were three-branched silver candelabra holding apricot candles backgrounding an arrangement of apricot exotililies, blue agapanthus, yellow and white gerbera daisies, peach sonia carnations and white baby's breath cascading onto the table. A silver punch service and silver samovar completed the table decor.

Enhancing interest in the setting was a buffet table holding a silver epergne filled with greenery and holding four apricot candles, a wedding picture of the couple and an anniversary candle imbedded with their reception invitation. A silver tray filled with heart, rose and leaf-shaped marzipan candy mints in the chosen colors and a silver nut dish completed the appointments.

The circular guest registry table, also covered with a floor length candlelight moire taffeta cloth, was highlighted with a crystal and silver bud vase holding a single yellow rose and baby's breath, the silver anniversary guest book and a silver tray filled with the rolled scrolls from the Nolens expressing their thanks to the guests for their presence at the reception. Presiding at the table were their nieces, Millie Crawford, Mona Miley and Ami Whitaker.

Mary Ann Crawford and Robert E. Nolen, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Nolen, were married June 16, 1956, in Wichita Falls. They have two sons, Robert E. Jr., a student at the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston, and Jeffrey of Wichita Falls, who is employed by Styles

Tank Trucks. Mrs. Nolen is employed by Dr. Roger Humphrey in Wichita Falls, and he is chief estimator for Crawford Painting and Dry Wall, having been with the company 23 years.

A large host of relatives and friends attended the reception and shared the happy occasion with them.
