SIGNALING VACATION'S END

School doors to open Monday for new year

School's opening Monday is like the child's game of hide and seek: "Here it comes, ready or not."
When the 8:30 a.m. bell rings Monday, it will signal a succession of rings that will not end until the final week of May, 1979.

Iowa Park District teachers began their four-day in-service training Tuesday in preparation for commencement of classes.

High school students will be reporting to their campus today and tomorrow to pick up their schedules and locker assignments, according to Bob Dawson, principal.

Seniors will receive theirs this morning, Juniors this afternoon, Sophomores Friday morning and freshmen that afternoon. Freshmen are to report at 1 p.m. for orientation, to be held in the auditorium.

All other students are to have already registered. Those who have not should report as soon as possible to their respective campuses, Supt. Faris Nowell, said.

KINDERGARTEN

All children who will be five years old or before Sept. 1 are to be screened prior to the beginning of the school year.

Screening at Kidwell Elementary will begin at 8:30 a.m. Friday, and those at Bradford are to be there at 12:30 p.m.

Parents are requested to bring their children and remain until the screening is completed. It will be necessary to have at the screenings the child's birth certificate and immunization record.

A full year "Plan A" kindergarten program for children three and four years old is available if they have a physical or learning deficiency, as determined by sight, hearing, speech, mental maturity or a physician's diagnosis.

Parents who feel their child may be eligible for the program are requested to have their child at Bradford Elementary next Tuesday, at 8:30 a.m., for screening.

Police plan crackdown on traffic sign violators

Iowa Park Police Department is planning a crackdown on traffic violators, especially those who run stop signs.

"Too many people are running stop signs, and it's not all the teenagers doing it," said Sgt. Charlie Whittingstall.

"We've been warning them, but that's going to stop. Citations are going to be issued," said Chief Jim Voyles, who added most of the violations occur in the north part of town.

"We're just going to have to tighten down on it. We don't want to, but with the beginning of school the public is going to have to start observing the stop signs," Voyles said.

Also with the beginning of classes Monday, police urge drivers to be especially careful in the mornings and afternoons when students are on their way to or from school.

One-way traffic designations at all schools will go into effect Monday morning along with the 20 mile per hour blinking lights on East Highway.

In other police action, Joe Robertson of 806 N. Jackson told police yesterday that someone had broken his vehicle's windshield while it was parked.

Jimmie Via, 309 S. Victoria, told police Sunday that someone had stolen the wheel covers from his vehicle.

City agenda said light

General house cleaning chores were the only early items scheduled for Monday's 7 p.m. Iowa Park City Council meeting.

Councilmen are expected to formalize with an ordinance action taken two weeks ago to eliminate the one cent sales tax on utilities authorized by the special session of the Texas Legislature.

Bids for grazing rights at Lake Buffalo and the wastewater treatment plant will be opened, and the council is slated to amend its ordinance concerning purchasing procedures.

The council will be asked to approve a contract for personnel to perform a job classification study of municipal staffers, funded by a state grant, said City Administrator Gene Britton.

To follow the Hawks, follow The Leader

ELDON PATTERSON found his front yard like so many others this week, almost knee deep in grass. Yards, pastures and all other growth is responding to the recent rains, making the area appear more like May than August. Iowa Park's official rainfall Friday night was .75 of an inch, but several reports indicate as much as two inches fell from the heavy thunder and lightning storm.

Friday is deadline in sales contest

With only one day remaining in the Leader's subscription sales campaign and contest, participants are fighting like cats and dogs for the top two prizes.

Doug Arnold continues to hold the lead in the contest, but Kelli Moore did a bunch of catching up during the past week, and is nipping at his heels.

All sales are to be reported by 4 p.m. tomorrow, and the contest winner will be determined at that time. Both first and second place finishers will be announced in next week's issue of the Leader.

Doug turned in 3,725 worth of points Friday, to hoist his total to 14,825, to maintain his lead.

But Kelli reported 5,875 new points, giving her a total of 12,875, well within striking distance of Doug for the grand prize.

Both will be working overtime until tomorrow's reporting deadline.

James Riddlehuber is not out of the contest by any means, nor are Mrs. Clayton Ellis, John Burns, Jerry Stansbury nor Vicky Lewis.

James has 8,375, Mrs. Ellis 5,400,

Leader receives three press awards

The Iowa Park Leader received three awards for excellence Saturday at the annual summer convention of the West Texas Press Association, held in Kerrville.

Certificates for second place in news pictures and advertising composition, and third place in newswriting, were awarded to the Leader.

John 2,450, Jerry 2,650 and Vicky 2,350.

Others who have thus far turned in their subscription reports include: Sharon Baston 1,975; Tammy Yarbrough 1,900; Jeff Stansbury 675; Jeff Brookshire 675 and Carolyn Sidlauskas 600.

Together, they have sold a total of 378 subscriptions, of which 245 were new subscribers.

Contestants are vying for the grand prize of a stereo set and second prize of a television set.

Additionally, they receive 150 points for a new subscription and 75 points for each renewal. They are awarded a bonus of 400 points for every 10 subscriptions sold.

The points are valued at a penny each, all redeemable at Parkway TrueValue Hardware and Furniture.

Sales tax receipts up 17% over 1977

Sales tax rebates to the City of Iowa Park continue to grow with the first seven months of 1978 showing a 17 per cent increase over 1977 payments.

Rebates to the city for sales taxes collected by local merchants in 1978 have netted the city $41,588, according to the state comptroller's office.

For the first seven months of 1977 Iowa Park was reimbursed $35,444.

July's payment was for $3,109 which compared to $2,880 rebated to Iowa Park during the same payment period in 1977.

second year, according to Ray Clymer, campaign chairman.

Aulds, a veteran in United Way work, will be working with four other local division leaders, as yet unannounced, in Iowa Park to seek the $1,235,560 goal needed to fund 33 community service agencies.

"We're very pleased Keith has undertaken this job for a second year, it's a tough one, but with his leadership we know the campaign will be a success," Bill Steger, local chairman said.

Scrimmage at Electra is changed to tonight

The Hawks' first pre-season scrimmage has been moved from Friday to this evening, Coach Tommy Watkins announced Tuesday.

Iowa Park will travel to Electra, where the junior varsity will scrimmage at 6 p.m., and the varsity will take the field immediately afterward, about 7:30.

Following that, the varsity will take the road next Thursday, for a scrimmage against Sweetwater. That event will take place at 7:30 p.m. in Haskell, but there will be no workout for the junior varsity.

Watkins said he is trying to find a team for the freshman team to scrimmage, but has not yet been successful. A scrimmage has been arranged for the junior varsity, however, Sept. 1 here against Goree.

The Hawks put on their pads Friday for the first time, and they've been getting in a lot of hitting since then. They hold intersquad scrimmages at least once a day.

The coaching staff is anxious to see how their team functions tonight at Electra. And so is their following.

Watkins' new style of workouts and scrimmages differ greatly from those when he was here a few years ago. He keeps his JV and varsity on the same field all the time, and when the varsity is on offense in a scrimmage, it's against the JV defense. And visa versa.

He explains this practice keeps his coaching staff together, and all players work with the same coaches throughout their last three years in high school.

Speaking to the Hawk Booster Club Tuesday evening, Watkins wasn't real happy about his offensive team's moving the ball that day. He explained his starting center was ill, substitutes were filling in at the position, and snaps to the quarterback were not up to par.

Workouts have been hampered by high temperatures and humidity. But though, he explained, it looked like the players were moving in slow motion, they were doing a lot of hitting.

"The kids we're working with right now want to be a good football team. We couldn't ask for a better group," he stated. Depth continues to be a problem but if the team can continue relatively free of injuries, Watkins feels the club will be competitive through the season.

The Head Hawk speaks of improvement in the play of his youngsters. He quickly points out that this is mainly due to the youth of the team, and it's easy to see that Watkins has a hard time not looking toward the 1979 season.

"We're really enthused about the possibility of the team, especially next year. We've got some real good sophomores and juniors," he commented.

The number of players has dropped somewhat since two-a-day workouts were begun last week. The staff started working with about 100 candidates for both the varsity and junior varsity. That has been cut by about 20, though none of the dropouts have been key players.

GETTING READY - Iowa Park High's football teams are getting ready for another season in two-a-day practices. The varsity and junior varsity will see action in their first pre-season scrimmages this evening in Electra. The date was changed from Friday, according to Head Coach Tommy Watkins.

Summer Reading Club program winners named

A party ending the Summer Reading Club program was held at the City Library Monday morning when winners in the 1978 program were announced.

Winners in the first division were Jami Ming, Mark and Jeffery. Second division winners were Lynn Crawford and Wendy Trantham. Winners in the third division were Tracey Hall and Gregg Patterson. Junior high winners were Kevin Obnett and Alisa Cain. Prizes were donated by the Philia Study Club, 23 Study Club and Friends of the Library.

Others attending the party and receiving certificates were Phillip and Jill Jackson, Melissa Soloman, Diane and Dawn Miller, Deborah McEmore, Chris and Keith Gullidge, Tommy Neely, Jenny Bowerman, Carol Crawford, Pam Conner, Sharon Wynn, Lynn Crawford, Eric Whitman, Lana Beverage, Paula and Deanna Mashburn, Terry Taylor, Michele Crittendon and Andrea Quillen.

Others receiving certificates were Angie Springman, Alisa and Stephanie Compton, Chad Patterson, Daniel Lightsey, Pam Rollins, James Ikey, Angela Troutman, Jay and Jack Jordan, Rachel Jones, Debbie Richard and Stan Coker. Refreshments for the party were furnished and served by Mrs. Harold Barlow, Mrs. Erwin Soell and the librarians.

Mrs. Billy Mashburn, librarian, stated that workers were still needed for the Story Hour and that anyone interested could call the library for information. She also said that voter registration cards were now at the library for persons who have never registered to vote.

Mrs. Birkman has birthday

Mrs. Esther Birkman was honored at a party celebrating her 80th birthday August 20. The party, hosted by her daughters, all former residents of Iowa Park, took place in the honoree's home.

Hostesses were Mrs. John A. (Edith) Manfolk of Arlington, Mrs. Robert C. (Evalyn) Storm of Knoxville, Tenn., and Mrs. Lee Roy (Helen) Weiss of Lakewood, Colo.

The refreshment table was draped in white lace and centered with a bouquet of yellow silk roses flanked by yellow tapers. Mrs. Dave Barry of Wichita Falls served the birthday cake decorated with yellow frosting garlands, roses and lettering "Happy Birthday Mom 80". Donna Kay Barry presided at the punch service.

The honoree was presented with a white orchid to complement her yellow and white pant suit.

Other relatives and friends attending the affair were John A. Manfolk, Jeffery David and Nancy of Arlington, Robert C. Storm, Susan and Timothy of Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. Clara Klinkerman of Burkburnett, Dave Barry of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Lydia Klinkerman of Electra, Mrs. Erna Holtzen of Burkburnett, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Prechel, Mrs. Olga Kaspar, Mrs. Oscar Goetze and Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Huebel.

The ancient Egyptians were probably the first people to bake yeast-raised bread.

Cook of the Week

Two of the recent newcomers to Iowa Park are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fields, who moved here from Haskell. He is Farm Bureau Insurance agent here and was engaged in the same business in Haskell. Before that time, he was a longtime coach and coached at Blackwell, Stanton, Seagraves, Dimmitt and Kress. They have lived here four weeks.

When asked to be the Cook of the Week, Jo Fields said that her cooking was in accordance with the regular order or run of things and that none of her recipes were "piece de resistance". After all, when it is simmered down to the substance, good eating does not have to consist of glamorous or even expensive dishes.

All of Mrs. Fields' recipes certainly sound like good eating. The Sour Dough Biscuits recipe is sure to be a palate tickling aid for many people as the bread seems to be gaining in popularity consistently. Incidentally, the biscuits were one of the four specialties in the recipe files of the early cowboy chefs.

Mrs. Fields, a native of Jones County, was graduated from Sylvester High School. She worked as bookkeeper for Ford Motor Co. and a food store at Dimmitt and as bookkeeper and secretary of Kress Independent School District 13 years. Her hobbies include sewing and crewel embroidery.

Mr. and Mrs. Fields are members of the Church of Christ. They have two sons, Alton, who is head coach at Ralls, and Larry, city manager at Abernathy. They have two granddaughters.

School's beginning signal for caution

Maj. C.W. Bell, regional commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety at Lubbock, said today, "There are hundreds of thousands of good reasons why Texas motorists should use extra caution while driving near schools this month."

"Many of our youngsters will be going to school for the first time and will not be aware of the many hazards existing on Texas' busy streets and highways."

"Precautionary measures, such as traffic signs and signals, safety zones and pedestrian crosswalks, are virtually useless if your children have not acquired good pedestrian safety habits."

Children's responsibilities to and from school include: observing all traffic signs and signals, walking against the flow of traffic when no sidewalk is present, crossing streets at designated crosswalks, and maintaining orderly conduct while enroute to and from school.

"As parents, we must be absolutely sure our children have a clear understanding of traffic dangers. In addition, as drivers, we must always be on the lookout for school children. It's our responsibility -- as a parent -- as a motorist -- as a citizen," said Major Bell.

Bob Dawson is speaker

Bob Dawson, high school principal, will be the featured speaker at the annual Iowa Park High School Alumni and Ex-Students banquet Sept. 23, according to Harrel Sullivan, president of the group.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson, corresponding secretary, stated this week that she had mailed 900 invitations to out-of-town graduates and ex-students and would mail local invitations within a few days.

Other officers of the organization are Robert Wilcox, first vice president; Danny Parkerson, second vice president; Eva Nell Clements Cook, recording secretary; Ruth Dorris Gard, treasurer.

A meeting will be held Sept. 5 at the Sullivan home to finalize plans for the banquet.

Asian Moon tour told

Mrs. R.A. Tanner presented the program through lecture and slides for the monthly meeting of Christian Workers Class of First United Methodist Church Thursday evening.

She portrayed the Asian Moon tour which she made in the spring that took her around the world. She concentrated on the Hawaiian Islands, New Delhi, Isle of Borneo, The Phillipine Islands, Okinawa, Nepal, the Himalayan Mountain Range. Putting major emphasis on Nepal with a population of twelve-million, Mrs. Tanner told of the customs, occupations and religions. She described the fascinating scenery of the Himalayan Mountain Range stating that the ice formations atop the mountains were so hard that snow will not stick.

Guests from Sheppard AFB were 2nd Lt. Joseph K. Arap and 2nd Lt. Aggrey Omolloe Nyambalon from Kenya, Sgt. Ahmed El-Harad from Morocco, Mrs. Iline Swadley and Mrs. Rosemary Beck.

The Rev. and Mrs. Mike Jackson and children were other guests.

Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Denny, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harrison, Mrs. Emma Gauntt and Miss Jane Gauntt.

Other members present were Messrs. and Mmes. Walter Adams, Floyd Boyd, Carroll Hester, Neil Johnson, Roy Lakey, Earl Logan, Herman Mahler, J.C. Ralston, Carl Sullivan, R.M. Thompson, George Trammell, George Warner.

Others were Mmes. Kathleen Hatten, Cleo Hines, Katherine Sue Jacquart, Bertha McDonald, Ida Parker, Swan Reaves, Winnie Trigg, Effie Winfrey and Miss Ethyle Kidwell.

Boosters set garage sale

The executive board of Hawk Band Boosters held the first meeting of the new school year Tuesday night, with David Robnett, president, in charge.

It was voted to have a garage sale as the first fund-raising project Friday and Saturday of this week at 602 W. Coleman. Anyone wishing to donate items to the sale may do so by dropping them off at this address by Thursday night. The first general meeting will be held Sept. 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school band hall.

Corps of Engineers making progress to stop salt flow

The first low-flow dam in a massive multi-million dollar program to control natural salt pollution in the upper reaches of the Wichita and Red River basins is scheduled for completion around Aug. 1 some 21 miles southwest of Truscott, a small Knox County Community.

But it may be as long as four years before water starts flowing through a pipeline from the damsite in west Knox County on the South Fork of the Wichita River to a brine evaporative reservoir planned 2 1/2 miles northwest of Truscott.

Yet indications of the construction work are evident throughout this community.

Vacant areas in this unincorporated town a mile west of Texas Highway 6 some 17 miles south of Crowell have been literally covered with stacks of 24-foot-length plastic mortar pipe which is manufactured under the trade name of Techite.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has set up its construction office a block south of Main Street to provide offices for an authorized staff of 10 persons, which is headed by project engineer Phillip Lutz of Vernon.

Lutz transferred to this area from the massive Tulsa district office, where perhaps as many as 600 persons are employed by the U.S.

The Leader is indebted to the Vernon Daily Record for this article, considered to be the most comprehensive report on progress by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to stop contamination by salt springs flowing into the Wichita River and Red River. The project is of vital interest to all residents along both rivers. For Wichita Valley, salt-free water could be taken from Lake Kemp and Lake Diversion both for human consumption and irrigation of the fertile valley. Irrigation water this year, it is reported, is contaminated with 4,000 parts per million salt.

Army Corps of Engineers in one of the most innovative and productive districts within the nation, to direct Corps' brine control construction program here. The Corps of Engineers' staff here works from two joined mobile homes, surrounded by a high chain link fence and marked by a radio tower for communication with vehicles at remote project areas.

The radio communication is needed because it is 45 miles by automobile through Benjamin to the low-flow damsite on the Bateman Ranch in west Knox County, which is known to the engineering staffers as the Bateman Pumping Station.

It is one of two such pumping stations scheduled for construction in this vicinity that will direct salt water from natural salt springs on the Wichita River to the 3,000-acre-foot evaporative reservoir near Truscott.

An earthen dam some 2 1/2 miles long that will create a lake roughly two miles wide and five miles long here is expected to provide sufficient space as a repository of the salt sedimentation for at least 100 years, on the basis of calculations of engineers of the Corps.

The second pumping station, with a low-flow dam similar to that at the Bateman project, is scheduled some 13 miles west of Truscott. Contract is yet to be let on this station on the Lowrance Ranch, although the design has already been completed. It will take some eight miles of pipe to link this project to the line from the Bateman Pumping Station to the Truscott brine lake.

The pipeline linking the Bateman Pumping Station will feature sizes ranging from 24 to 27 and 30 inches in diameter, and are of a material that will resist traditional corrosion which salt water causes.

Cost of the Bateman Station will be about $75,000, including some specification changes since the project was started. Contractor for the project is R.R. Tway of Oklahoma City.

Lutz estimates that the contractor is probably 85 percent finished with the project, which was to have been completed by mid-June according to the original construction schedule.

A variety of problems have resulted in the delay.

The unique project features an inflatable dam bolted to a concrete base. The dam is five feet high and 40 feet wide at the base, designed in such a way that if rains flood the Wichita River's south fork to the extent that they would dilute the level of salt in a minimum ratio, pressure of the rising water would automatically cause the dam to deflate and allow the floodwaters to flow on undisturbed to Lake Kemp.

But during periods of low flow, the polyethylene dam would remain inflated, permitting the pumping station to move the natural flow

Obituaries

Travis Smith

Services for Travis Smith, 70, of Wichita Falls, who died Wednesday morning in a Wichita Falls Hospital, will be Friday at 3:30 p.m. in Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home.

The Rev. Mike Jackson, pastor of First United Methodist Church in Iowa Park, and the Rev. Don Youngblood, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Archer City, will officiate. Burial will be in Crestview Memorial Park.

Born Jan. 27, 1908 in Tom Green Co., he was a retired post office employee. He was a member of the Retired Letter Carriers National Association and the First United Methodist Church in Iowa Park.

He is survived by his wife, Pauline; two sisters, Mrs. J.N. Fields of Kennedale and Mrs. Vance Wadlington of Grandview. Nephews will serve as pallbearers. Honorary pallbearers will be members of the Christian Workers Class.

The family suggests that memorials may be made to favorite charities or to the Iowa Park First United Methodist Church.

BRINE PUMPING STATION

from salt springs in the area to the evaporative reservoir near Truscott.

Cost of the Lowrance Ranch pumping station west of Truscott is expected to run about the same as that on the Bateman Ranch with some allowances for inflation.

Pipeline contractor R.B. Potschick of Cape Girardeau, Mo., has already started clearing of a 100-foot access right of way through some seven ranches separating the Bateman Station from the Truscott brine reservoir.

He has brought in a giant ditcher used on the Alaskan pipeline project, dug some test trenches and started moving the big pipe segments from the stockpile in Truscott to locations along the pipeline right-of-way.

Heavy equipment has also been used to cut through embankments and to clear the pipeline route.

The pipeline contract, the biggest part of the project to this point, will cost about $6 million.

No contract has been awarded on the Truscott reservoir, which is scheduled to receive the first flow of salt water shortly after pipelines and other pumping stations are completed.

Funding hasn't even been provided for the Lowrance Pumping Station and the costly eight-mile segment of line.

But it is rumored by unofficial sources to be included in President Carter's upcoming budget, along with funding for some other areas.

A part of the massive project also includes plans for a large brine evaporative reservoir on Canal Creek north of Crowell near Copper Breaks State Park.

The engineers, of course, who conceived the plans to make the water of the Wichita and Red Rivers wholesome enough for domestic use, were visionaries.

They have been working on the project since about 1957. So it is no wonder that it will be many more years before it is completed.

The overall cost of cleaning up the salt pollution of the Red River basin alone has been pegged at $147 million. So the $6.5 million involved in the Bateman pumping station and the pipeline to Truscott is only the beginning.

But that beginning -- along with the remainder of the completed work when it is financed -- is expected to provide a major economic benefit to the entire region when it is completed because water here may eventually be destined to become more valuable than oil.

Some writers keep diaries. I keep notes. I write notes to myself on match book covers, paper napkins, and pieces of paper torn from scratch pads.

Sometimes I leave them lying on top of my dresser. Then the Lifetime Helpmate puts them in a cigar box I keep there for odds and ends. About once a month I go through the box and review the notes. Sometimes I forget what the cryptic note means.

For example, there is one note there with a telephone number of a local funeral parlor. Since I can't recall making any plans to die in the near future I don't know why I wrote that number down.

But, sometimes, the notes pay off. Last night I found one that said, "Fort Stockton -- two cherry popsicles." I started to throw it away when the incident came back to me.

It was hot that day. I was working an assignment for the company magazine along with a free-lance photographer from Dallas. His name was Bart Somethingorther. I guess one of the reasons I don't remember his last name is that I didn't like him very much. He is a cynic and proud of it. I am a closet-dreamer. The two don't always mix.

As I said, it was hot in Fort Stockton that day and I wasn't looking forward to the long drive back to Lubbock in a company car with no air-conditioning. Bart spotted a neighborhood grocery about a half block from where the car was parked.

"How about something cold to drink before we hit the road?" It sounded good. We stored the camera gear in the trunk and walked to the store.

I was about half way through a Coke when they came in -- two little kids. One was about five years old. He was clutching another one by the hand. It could have been his little brother. He walked up to the counter and put a dime in front of the clerk. "We want two cherry popsicles."

The clerk never changed the expression on his face. He pushed the dime back toward the kid. "You haven't got enough money. If you want two popsicles -- you need two dimes." The kid stared at him for a couple of seconds. Disappointment crept across his face.

Bart finished his Coke and belched like a hippo with stomach problems. I slipped my empty bottle into the case. The kid picked up his dime and reached for the smaller child's hand. Bart had reached the door and was looking over his shoulder to see if I was coming.

I started to follow, then turned around and threw a dime on the counter. "Two cherry popsicles," I said. Bart was waiting for me to catch up before he started for the car. We must have taken a dozen steps before he said anything.

"What did you do that for?" I looked at him for a second.

"If you don't know -- I couldn't explain it to you in a million years."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Maybe you would write an editorial on the danger of children playing with fire. This incident that happened yesterday made me more aware of it:

I looked outside my front door and saw a little boy, about 8 years old, pouring something out of a can onto the gravel by the barrow ditch. Immediately a flame would appear. He would then stomp it out and start another. I called to him to not do that. When he paid no attention to me, I started out to the street to see exactly what he was doing.

About that time he saw a car coming. He quickly extinguished the blaze, threw the can and something else into my yard, and got into the car with a woman and several small children.

What the boy had discarded was part of a can of lighter fluid and a small box of matches.

No harm was done, but in dry weather it could have started a big fire, besides being dangerous for the child.

Lucile Holm

(Editor's Note: Thanks Mrs. Holm, for your letter. I hope the child's mother reads this, notices your address, and recognizes the child of whom you write.)

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Our family took our second and final segment of our annual "summer vacation" over the weekend to attend the summer convention of the West Texas Press Association.

It was in beautiful Kerrville, and we thoroughly enjoyed it.

Someone has yet to explain to me how it can be cooler in an area 300 miles south of here, but it sure is. Daytime temperatures were pleasant, and the evening breeze was so comfortable, I just didn't want to go back to the motel room.

We saw all kinds of weather conditions on the trip, from one extreme to the other. From De Leon to Llano the pasture grass isn't brown, it's almost grey. Stock tanks are dry, and you don't see any livestock except goats, hardly.

Things start greening up south of Llano, and Fredericksburg is glowing green. Highway 16 runs along the Pedernales River a few miles south of Fredericksburg, and signs of the recent flooding are most apparent. Three sections of the highway were washed out, and have already been repaired.

Rarely do you find one of those huge, beautiful trees along the Pedernales bank that's not been damaged. They were all ripped up by the roots, or broken off about halfway up the trunk, or at least leaned over about 45 degrees.

Kerrville, as far as we could see, survived the flooding rather well. You can see signs of high water, when following the Guadalupe River west of town, but nothing like the destruction along the Pedernales.

On the way back home Sunday, we took a short drive in the western part of Graham, and saw where homes and automobiles were completely covered by the back-up floodwaters. Noticed a flat bottomed boat still tied to a tree in front of one home.

Along all the streets in the severely flooded areas of Graham, household furnishings were piled next to the pavement, apparently waiting to be picked up and carried to the dumpgrounds by city crews. Very few fences were without carpets and other items, hanging out to dry.

Surprisingly, there are still a lot of Texans who've not yet discovered the Kerrville-Fredericksburg area. I suspect a lot of our people who travel out of state, to Colorado and Arkansas and elsewhere, would be delighted with what they can find down in that country.

Especially the weather!

I'm happy to report that the Texas Highway Department is aware of the traffic problem at Alameda and Pacific, and is working on resolving it.

A spokesman said Tuesday that, in taking a further look into the problem after reading last week's editorial, the Department had goofed in more than one way. And he admitted it.

The problem came to light when the route of FM 368 was changed. Instead of following Alameda between Yosemite and Pacific, it was re-routed to connect West Highway and the expressway, all along Pacific.

Besides inadequate signs to warn of danger, and not giving enough advance notice of the re-routing, the spokesman said proper channels had not been taken for the city to turn over that stretch of Pacific between West Highway and Alameda, thus it could not yet be officially routed at FM 368.

More study is to be put in on the dangerous intersection, and remedies applied, I was assured. And in the meantime, the present route would continue to be used as part of FM 368, and not changed for fear of even more confusion to drivers.

I was told the present route would probably be maintained and the old route, from Pacific along Alameda to Yosemite and south to West Highway might eventually be designated as a loop.

This is the second time the Leader has editorialized about traffic problems on 368. Some time ago we pointed out the dangerous culvert crossing south of Wichita River bridge.

In both cases, quick action was taken by highway personnel, and I think they should be complimented. They are the only governmental group I know that makes such quick response, if any at all.

Worth Quoting

What else is new? Postal authorities the past couple of years have acknowledged that postal volume dropped off every time rates went up, which is plenty of times. They shouldn't be surprised.

Last week I was thumbing through files of the 1925 Hamilton newspaper and came across a story in an April issue that postal rates were being increased on a sliding scale of 50 percent for a first class letter to more than 100 percent for third class, or junk, mail. Prior to that increase it cost one penny to mail a letter in the United States, but after the increase it cost 1 1/2 cents.

In a July issue I found a story about what the price rise had done to postal volume. National authorities were worried because, after one full quarter, fourth class volume had decreased 4.6 percent, first class volume had dropped 4.4 percent and second class volume had dropped 2.4 percent.

For some reason, junk mail had increased despite the fact that it had undergone the greatest rate increase. Junk mail still seems to be increasing.

The J.W. Adams family of Hamilton County bought a Komondor puppy in February, 1975, and gave it a few weeks of training before turning it out to pasture to guard their goat kids. On Dec. 11, 1975, The Herald-News ran a story about their experiment which reported that not a kid had been lost in the six months the dog had been guarding the flock.

Since that time Mr. and Mrs. Adams have continued to experiment with Komondors and have continued to be free of losses to predators. Chances are they would have supplied the government with information for half the amount granted to Colorado State.

Take along useful supplies to make hunting pleasant

When preparing for a day in the fields to hunt dove, don't forget to take water and shade.

Late afternoon shooting when dove hunting often is at its best can be a miserable experience for the unprepared novice being cooked by lingering summer scorers.

Many hunters prefer a wide-brimmed straw western hat to shade their heads. A lightweight folding camping stool can be toted easily to your favorite hunting spot and provides more comfortable waiting if the birds don't arrive when you do.

An experienced dove hunter would no sooner leave his water jug at home than he would his shotgun. A one-quart canteen can be carried easily and is preferred by many hunters, who have been forced to make a trip back to the car for a drink about the same time the doves start to fly.

And don't overestimate your shooting ability by taking too few shells. Nothing's worse than running out of shells when they're coming in like kamikaze pilots and you've got an empty game bag.

Conscientious hunters should report vandals

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has introduced a new way to make it easier for conscientious outdoor enthusiasts to report violations of game laws.

The new violation report forms can be found on the back cover of the 1978-79 Texas Hunting and Sport Fishing Regulations.

The 24-page booklet is available at most sporting goods stores and where hunting and fishing licenses are sold. The booklet is free and also will be mailed to sportsmen who write for one at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, 78744.

"Only with the participation of concerned citizens and their testimony can Texas Game Wardens apprehend those who vandalize private property and steal our wildlife resources," the regulations guide states in introducing the new violation report form.

The form includes space for sportsmen to report the specific type of violation, type of vehicle the violator used, location, date and a description of the violator.

"If you witness a game law violation, do not attempt to apprehend the violator. Fill in the blanks on the violation report and give it to a game warden" or mail it to TP&WD, the booklet warns.

Sportsmen who report violations must agree to appear in court and testify against the accused game violator.

For additional information concerning hunting and fishing regulations, the TP&WD maintains a toll free number, 1-800-252-9327, available from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. weekdays.

FITTING TRIBUTE - Richard Davis received the Distinguished Service Award of the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas from President U.D. Adams recently. Presentation took place in Fort Worth, in recognition for his work with newspapers in his area. The evening of the presentation, here at home, Davis' career as a Voc Ag teacher ended, when he was reassigned to a newly-created position as student employment placement officer.

Farmers doubling as statisticians

Farmers in Wichita County have been doubling as statisticians in completing questionnaires which become essential links in the sophisticated economic structure of Texas agriculture, Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said today.

The county's producers were part of some 30,000 farmers across the state who recently responded to the mid-year survey on summer acreage and production conducted by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The results of the survey will be issued in an Aug. 10 crop report which is available free of charge.

"Without the availability of unbiased, accurate figures through cooperation between Texas farmers and the Reporting Service, business and government agents from one end of the state to the other would suffer in their ability to predict coming trends and act accordingly," Commissioner Brown said.

He explained that farmers themselves use the estimates as working tools in determining upcoming production decisions. At the same time, the information is used by farm organizations and legislators in planning and administering programs, by extension economists and private farm management consultants in advising farmers, and by almost every link in the agriculture service industry in allocating resources.

Banks and investment corporations also round out their economic profiles of counties through the use of the crop and livestock statistics.

"And at the bottom line, of course, is the agricultural product consumer, who reaps the benefits of a more informed agricultural industry, better able to minimize the drastic ups and downs which can translate into unpredictable supplies and prices," Brown concluded.

Quick action saves spoilage

The key to minimizing spoilage is to gut doves within 10 minutes after killing, recommends outdoor writer V. Lee Oertle.

"Remove entrails, wipe out carcasses with dry rag, keep in shade. Don't carry them around in a gamebag or store them in car trunk. The most important factor is gutting them within five or 10 minutes after killing," Oertle stated in the July issue of October Life.

Oertle said the same recommendations hold true for waterfowl and quail where daytime air temperatures hover above 80 degrees.

Lucy Dubuis, Texas Electric Information Dept.: "Check your air conditioner's filter monthly to make sure it's not blocking the air flow."

"Now that temperatures and electric bills are up, your air conditioner needs all the help it can get!"

"Hot summer temperatures make your air conditioner work longer and harder. That's what drives up your electric bill.

But there are some things you can do to help. Change or clean your air conditioner's filter to let air flow freely. And trim grass and weeds from around the outside unit for good air circulation.

Inside, close blinds and drapes to help keep out the heat. And try to cut down on the number of times you open doors—an open door lets hot air rush in.

Keep your thermostat set at 78° or higher. To feel cool at this temperature, use a small portable fan to circulate air in the room.

For more ways to cut down high summer electric bills, get Texas Electric's free energy tips booklet. Just call Texas Electric or ask for the booklet on the comment portion of your bill."

Dove season nearly here

ANXIOUS HUNTER - Udell Frazier of 301 W. Crystal is ready for dove season as he takes a few practice shots with his Smith & Wesson 12 gauge auto loader. Many hunters prefer to hunt near sunflowers like those behind Frazier, who said doves and sunflowers go right together since it's a favorite on the bird's menu.

Whether using a black powder double barrel or a fancy new auto loader, this is the time of year when North Texas hunters start to champ at the bit.

Dove season is nearly here.

First half of the North Zone split season on mourning doves runs from Sept. 1 through Oct. 21. Second half of the season will be Jan. 6-14.

Daily bag limit is 10 mourning doves with a possession limit of 20. Once again, Texas hunters can enjoy all-day hunting from 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset.

In both North and South Zones white-winged dove season in counties bordering Mexico will be Sept. 2-3 and 9-10. Shooting hours are shorter, noon until sunset, but the same bag and possession limits apply to white-winged doves as to mourning doves. In addition to a valid hunting license, a $3 white-winged dove stamp is required.

Hopefully, most hunters have already taken care of the necessities.

That favorite bird gun should be given a careful cleaning and inspection after being propped up in the hall closet all these months.

If you've spotted what you think will be an excellent hunting spot, get permission from the land owner before hunting on land that doesn't belong to you.

And by all means, buy a hunting license.

It's hard to have a productive day in the field when you're on the lookout both for birds and game wardens.

If you're planning on wetting a hook sometime during the year it's best to go ahead and purchase a combination hunting and fishing license.

The cost for a Texas resident combo is $8.75 and is cheaper over the long haul considering bought separately a hunting license is $5.75 and a fishing license is $4.50.

Wherever you purchase your license, ammo and other supplies be sure and pick up the 1978-79 version of Texas Hunting and Sport Fishing Regulations. The booklet is free, and no hunter should be without one.

Ignorance of the law is no defense in court for a hunter nabbed with his car trunk full of doves.

As always, the hunting and fishing regulations guide published by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is full of useful information.

Regulations and season dates for various fish and game are listed by the county covering everything from black bear to javelina.

Here's a sample of published hunting regulations as they apply to Wichita and Archer counties:

DEER - Archery, Oct. 1 - Oct. 31; regular, Nov. 18 - Jan. 1; 2 bucks.

SQUIRREL - No closed season; 10 per day, 20 poss.

QUAIL - Nov. 18 - Feb. 18; 12 per day, 36 poss.

TURKEY - Archery, Oct. 1 - Oct. 31; regular, Nov. 18 - Jan. 1; 2 gobblers or bearded hens; spring season, April 21 - 29; 1 additional gobbler.

The regulations booklet also contains a section on what types of weapons may be used and easy-to-follow instructions on how to properly tag a trophy turkey or deer.

Five rules for hunters

There are five basic rules graduates of the Texas Hunter Safety Course pledge to observe.

1. Treat every gun as if it were loaded.

2. Point the muzzle in a safe direction.

3. Be certain of target and backstop before shooting.

4. Practice courtesy and self control.

5. Obey the law.

The Texas Hunter Safety Course is given under the auspices of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the National Rifle Association of America.

For a nominal fee the course is offered several times during the year in the Iowa Park area. Taught by active hunters, it covers all the pitfalls of hunting with emphasis on safety.

Although it is not required in Texas, many states require hunters to pass similar courses before a hunting license will be issued.

There are indications Texas will join other states in the requirement in the future.

BLACK POWDER AT BLACKFLAT

A hunt where time stands still

They'll be turning back the clock Sept. 1-3 near Blackflat when the Red River Renegades team up with David Williams to host their annual black powder dove hunt.

But a word of caution: don't come armed with a modern shotgun -- single shot, stack pole or otherwise -- because black powder shotguns are the name of the game at this annual dove hunt and hootennay.

The $3 registration fee will guarantee some of the best hunting, eating and fellowship to be found at any price.

For anyone interested in muzzle loading weaponry and pre-Civil War lifestyles, it will be an excellent opportunity to discover Renegade hospitality.

To reach the campground, take U.S. 82-277 west. From Mankins go west 2.9 miles and turn south on F.M. 368. Travel five miles south and take a dirt road west. Signs will mark the remainder of the way, easily accessible by automobile.

With the exception of vehicles, campers and ice, it will appear a place lost in a time freeze.

Frontier clothing will abound, and a novice to old timey living might even get a peek inside a teepee or learn how to start a campfire with flint and steel.

A shot pouch, hunting bag and plaque will go to the first hunter to limit out on Sept. 2.

There'll be a big feed that night on Renegade Stew or some such concoction followed by a campfire sing-a-long to the music of guitars, fiddles and maybe a French harp or two.

Early reports from Williams indicate the hunting will be good with plenty of birds, but he warns participants to bring their own water and shade to the rustic campground.

Olney to host one arm hunters

The 7th Annual One Arm Dove Hunt is scheduled Sept. 22-23 at Olney.

What began as a coffee shop joke has now mushroomed into a unique hunting event which annually attracts hunters from across the United States.

Conceived and directed each year by Olney's two one-armed Jacks, Jack Northrup and Jack Bishop, they claim "It's the only hunt of its kind in the world."

"This two-day event is filled with good, clean family fellowship, including good food, entertainment, prizes, one-arm tales and one-arm talent."

Registration for this year's hunt may be made by contacting Northrup or Bishop during business hours weekdays at (817) 564-2747 or writing to One Arm Dove Hunt, P.O. Box 582, Olney, Texas, 76374.

Camping facilities will be available upon request.

This year's festivities will kick off at 1 p.m. Sept. 22 with registration at the Olney Community Center.

Activities centering around the competition dove hunt include a trap shoot, cow chip chunking contest between amputees and politicians and a high school football game.

Customized shotguns used by some of the amputee hunters are both unusual and inventive.

Mary Denney

Holliday's first woman councilman

FIRST COUNCILWOMAN— Monday night Mary Denney became Holliday's first woman city council member when she was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by her husband's death. "I accepted the Place 4 position that my husband Eugene 'Red' Denney held because I care about the city, the people in it and their welfare," said the 36-year-old mother of six children. "I am thinking about my children's future as citizens in this town, a town they will be proud of. I hope to do a job of serving on the council that Red would have been proud of."

Mary Denney became Holliday's first woman city council member when she was appointed Monday night to fill the vacancy left by her husband, who died unexpectedly two weeks ago.

Following a 3-1 vote to appoint Mrs. Denney, she was sworn into office by Mayor Ben Ezzell.

She assumed the same chair which had been occupied by her husband, Eugene "Red" Denney, who won a landslide victory during the last municipal election as the only incumbent returned.

Mrs. Denney will serve until next April when the final year of her husband's term as Place 4 councilman will be filled by someone selected by the electorate.

Although it was next-to-the-last item discussed at Monday night's regular council meeting, Mayor Ezzell said finding a replacement for Denney was the most important item on the agenda.

He introduced discussion by pointing to "that vacant chair right here."

Alderman Fred Maier indicated he favored postponing action on a replacement, and several times said a special election might be the best method of filling the vacancy.

According to state law, the council had two options. It could appoint a replacement or hold a special election.

But the mayor pushed for Mrs. Denney's appointment. "I don't think the council would be making any mistake by appointing her to fill the remainder of his term," Ezzell said.

Citing his favorable impression of Wichita Falls Alderman Carol Russell, Ezzell maintained a woman on the Holliday City Council would give the panel a different viewpoint. Mrs. Denney said she would accept the task, he said.

At the request of several councilmen, Ezzell telephoned Mrs. Denney to ask her to come to city hall to meet with the council.

During the brief interview, the mother of six children said she did not plan to work, so there would be no job conflict. She said she would vote her conviction, would have plenty of time to perform her duties and it would be no burden on her home life.

Mrs. Denney left the meeting, but before she reached home the mayor was telephoning her residence to request her return to city hall.

The council had voted 3-1 to appoint her to replace her husband.

Alderman Melvin Bills made the motion to appoint Mrs. Denney and it was seconded by Alderman Jim Virdell. Maier joined Bills and Virdell, and Alderman Mike Parker voted against the proposal.

Mrs. Denney was sworn into office by Ezzell, who welcomed her, "Thank you very much. Happy to have you aboard."

In other action Monday night the council set into motion the legal process for annexing into the city limits Holliday Estates Subdivision.

Don Talley, one of the owners, appeared with the legal paperwork and proposed schedule of public hearings and ordinance approval dates necessary to finalize the property annexation.

To be annexed in three phases, one-half mile at a time, the area is located east of FM 368 south of the school and north of FM 1954.

Fourteen homes are located there now with 42 tracts platted. The area holds a potential of more than 70 homesites and a commercial area at the intersection of the two farm roads, Talley said.

The first hearing on the annexation was set for 7 p.m. Sept. 11, and the council approved an ordinance on the first phase of the annexation.

Result of a city employee asking for a pay raise, the council decided to study the salaries of all city employees and work on a policy to determine vacation eligibility.

City worker Timmy Teafatiller made the request for a salary hike and vacation.

With budget approval to confront the council in coming weeks, the council opted to postpone Teafatiller's request and to study possible pay increases for all city employees.

Alderman Virdell suggested the council formulate a written policy concerning employee benefits and vacations with regard to their length of employment.

It was noted Junior Akers had resigned his post with the city for a municipal job at Electra.

The council voted to purchase a $39 cat trap to be used by Elvin Hooper, animal control officer, who said, "I believe I could better my job for the city if I had one."

He said he had been successful with a cat trap borrowed by the Wichita County Humane Society, last week catching nine cats in the borrowed trap.

No comments were received when the council sat as the tax equalization board.

A bid of $3,772 submitted by Haggerty Plumbing Co. of Wichita Falls on a sewer line extension project was approved.

Big Red scrimmage tomorrow

Holliday gridiron fans will get their first look at the 1978 Big Red Machine when Knox City comes to town to scrimmage the Eagles tomorrow night.

Freshman, junior varsity and varsity units will begin popping leather at 6 p.m. Friday in Eagle Stadium.

Head Eagle Don Lucy and his coaching staff are nearing the second week of conducting two-day workouts in preparation.

Although the scrimmage will not affect either team's district record, it will give coaches a chance to study how players react under battle conditions.

Texas Football magazine didn't have many good things to say about Knox City which competes in District 7-A and finished 5-5 last year.

P-TA meeting slated Friday

A meeting to organize a Parent-Teacher Association here will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Holliday High School.

Mrs. Hal Rasmussen will chair the meeting, and she urges all parents to attend.

Mrs. James Wingham of Bowie, chairman of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, will assist in forming the Holliday organization.

Also assisting will be three officers from District 13 which includes Wichita and Archer counties. They are John Sibley of Iowa Park, president; Mrs. Roy Pittard of Burk Burnett, vice president; and Mrs. D.O. James of Iowa Park, corresponding secretary.

Friends help finish work

Something along the line of an old fashioned barn raising is taking place in Holliday.

A building fund in the memory of the late Eugene "Red" Denney has been established by his many friends who have indicated an interest in helping complete an addition to their home that Denney had started.

Doris Stone, one of the organizers, said jars will be placed in Holliday business ses or contributions may be sent to the Red Denney Fund in care of the First Baptist Church at Holliday.

Anyone interested in donating their time may contact Jim Farr, B.W. Stone or T.H. Stone.

A work day has been planned for 8 a.m. Saturday at the Denney home at 506 S. Boise D' Arc.

Denney, a Holliday City Council member and father of six children, died unexpectedly two weeks ago.

HOLLIDAY NEWS

34% increase in sales tax

Sales tax receipts to the City of Holliday are up 34 per cent over last year, according to the Texas comptroller's office.

Through July the city has received $19,585 in sales taxes collected by local merchants. During the same seven months last year, Holliday was rebated $14,608.

Holliday's July payment was for $2,655 as compared to $1,548 received during the same month in 1977.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank all our friends, relatives and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy, visits, cards, flowers, food and prayers during the unexpected death of our beloved husband and father, Eugene "Red" Denney.

Attention: Parents or Guardians of school children

Dear Parent or Guardian:

The Holliday Schools serves nutritious meals every school day. Students may buy lunch for .50 and .60 cents, breakfast for .25 and .35 cents.

Children from families whose income is at or below levels shown on the attached scale are eligible for free or reduced-price meals. The reduced price for lunch is .20 cents and for breakfast .10 cents. If your income is greater than those shown, but you have unusually high medical bills, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of your income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, or disaster or casualty losses, your children may still be eligible.

The school children of parents or guardians who become unemployed are eligible for free or reduced-price meals and free milk during the period of unemployment, provided that the loss of income causes the family income during the period of unemployment to be at or below the levels shown on the scale.

To apply at any time during the year for free meals and free milk or reduced-price meals for your children, complete the attached application and return it to the school. Within ten days of receiving your application, the school will let you know whether or not your children are eligible. If you do not agree with the school's decision you have a right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing W.T. Mankins, SB President, Box 224, Mankins, Tx. 76308, phone 586-1606.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If you have foster children living with you and wish to apply for such meals and milk for them, please notify us or indicate it on the application.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin.

If we can be of any further assistance or if your family size or income changes during the year, please contact us.

Sincerely,
Ray Coe

Superintendent of Schools

Letters and applications will be distributed to students August 28, 1978.

Boosters meet to kick off season

The Hawk Booster Club, meeting for the first time this season, set its sights on projects and activities for the year.

Meeting Tuesday evening, Bill Maupin, president, said all future meetings would be held at 7 p.m. on Mondays, so they would not conflict with junior high games on Tuesdays. Meetings are held in the high school cafeteria.

Head coach Tommy Watkins introduced his coaching staff, and guaranteed members interesting programs through the season. He said at future gatherings staff members would explain the new formations being used by the Hawks, player responsibility, and other finer points of the game.

Also at the meetings, films of previous games will be shown, including those of the junior varsity when their games are recorded.

Both Watkins and Maupin emphasized the need for greater participation at the meetings, especially by parents of all football players in high school and junior high.

Alton Hunter is vice president of the Booster Club and Peggy Potter is secretary-treasurer.

Numerous fund-raising projects were outlined during the meeting, to help pay the cost of the annual football banquet and also to purchase needed equipment for the athletic department.

Memberships are $2 per person. Shirts and caps are being sold, with more than $800 in merchandise paid for and available for sale.

Besides giving away a shotgun again this year, members voted to have a project at the Whoop-T-Do, with Greg Ross chairman; and operate the concession stands at the Burk Burnett game, and possibly one more.

Besides purchasing a tripod for the camera and a light meter, Maupin said the banquet is the club's major expense. He pointed out the activity cost some $1,250 last year.

At least three members will be available to serve on the sideline chain gang at all home games, including varsity, junior varsity and freshman.

Members voted to have the scoreboard sign repainted. In addition to repainting the two state championship signs, a suggestion by Bob Dawson that an additional line recognizing the school's 1960 state track title be added was also approved.

Option ticket holders have until Sept. 1

Season football ticket option holders have but one more week in which to exercise their options before tickets are put on sale to the general public Sept. 5.

Option holders are those fans who contributed toward the construction of Hawk Stadium in 1970, and have renewed their options each year since by purchasing season tickets.

Over 100 have been purchased to date.

Principal Bob Dawson said option season tickets will remain on sale through Sept. 1 in his office at the high school.

A book of reserved seat tickets for five home games is $10, according to Dist. 4-AAA policy. General admission tickets are $2.50 and single game reserved seat tickets are $3.

The five varsity games to be played in Hawk Stadium this season are Bowie Sept. 8, Bishop Lynch of Dallas [homecoming] Sept. 22, Mineral Wells Oct. 6, Hirschi Oct. 20 and Burk Burnett Nov. 10.

Four locals to graduate

Four Iowa Parkans are among the seventy-six graduates of Midwestern State University's two-year nursing program who will be honored Sunday during stripping ceremonies scheduled for 3 p.m. in Clark Student Center Ballroom.

Those from Iowa Park to be honored are Rosalee

Beason, Karen Chaney, Jerrie Gray and Mary Willingham.

Nursing instructors Sandra Church and Cynthia Youtzy will preside and Robert Brown, Chaplain at Wichita General Hospital, will be the featured speaker. The ceremonies will be followed by a reception.

PP&K signup is underway

Registration is underway for the annual punt, pass and kick contest for boys and girls ages 8-13.

Interested youths may register at Shaw Motor Co.

Trophies will be awarded in each age division for the first three places and will be eligible to advance to zone competition.

Registration will continue through Sept. 29.

MDA donation site announced

Shaw Motor Co. will serve as the site for local telephone pledges and donations during the forthcoming Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA), which will be seen live from Wichita Falls and Las Vegas over KAUZ-TV, channel 6, Sept. 3 and 4.

The ESA will man the pledge center for the duration of the 22-hour spectacular, under the direction of Martha Dudley. A special telephone number has been assigned to the center, 592-4106.

"We're looking forward to this event, and we know the good people of Iowa Park will unite and help us in our fight against this people-wasting disease," Mrs. Dudley, Iowa Park chairman, said.

MDA is a national voluntary health agency which funds extensive patient service and research programs throughout the world for those afflicted with muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular disorders.

Hunter joins Lions Club

Tim Hunter, superintendent at Texas A&M Experiment Station, was voted a member of the Evening Lions Club Tuesday and later presented the program, reviewing briefly some of the projects of the station since it was established in 1924 by the Legislature to study irrigated farming in the area.

He said that the station comprised 162 acres with 101 acres under cultivation and noted that during the past 10 years considerable experiments had been given to dry land farming.

In discussing the development of new crops at the station, Hunter emphasized gear and the work done by L.E. Brooks for whom one of the varieties is named. Other contributions include two high-yielding wheat varieties and barley development.

In closing, Hunter stated that the station was currently involved in several small projects which include water management studies, improved cropping systems, adaptation of new vegetable varieties.

During the business meeting conducted by Wayne House, Gordon Griffith was presented with a five-year perfect attendance pin. Others who received one-year pins were Sid Grant, Mel Moulton, Randy Underwood, Sam Hunter and R.E. Waters.

Steve Mahan was elected secretary to replace Underwood who will be moving to another city in the near future.

Visitors were Elizabeth Thornberry from Teaneck, N.J. and James Dickerson. Dinner music was furnished by Mrs. E.L. Gallop and Mrs. G.W. McWilliams.

Spraying time nears to control pecan weevil

By DON D. DECKER
County Agent

Spraying of pecan trees for the control of the pecan weevil is at least a week away, according to orchard inspections. However, the exact time cannot be accurately determined until the nuts change from the water to the soft dough stage. Spray dates will be announced when the pecans make this change.

The female weevil is smart. She knows eggs deposited into the water of a kernel will never develop into a grub. So she waits around until the pecan begins to go into the early dough stage. Since we know her egg laying habits, we can apply control measures just before any egg laying occurs. Incidentally, we use this same technique in the control of the cotton boll weevils.

Growers and home gardeners can check their own trees by cutting pecans in half every other day. The kernels are still in the water stage; however, the water will soon change into a cloudy solution. Then the cloudy water will develop into a jelly-like formation. In a matter of hours, the kernel will be in the soft dough stage.

We can start our applications when the jelly forms. A second application is needed 10-14 days later. Sevin is the only chemical which has been effective in weevil control. It is used at the rate of 2 pounds per 100 gallons of water or 2 tablespoons per gallon of water.

I do not like to use Sevin alone. It controls the weevil, but has no effect on the black pecan aphid. Since beneficial insects are destroyed by the Sevin, aphids can reproduce with no interference from parasites and predators.

For this reason, either Malathion or Zolone can be added to the spray. It takes 3 pints of Malathion in 100 gallons of water or 2 tablespoons per gallon. Zolone is used at the rate of 1 1/2 pints per 100 gallons of water. Either of these can be mixed in the sprayer with the Sevin for a joint application.

Knocking out Johnson-grass and careless weeds which have grown above the cotton is being accomplished by Wayland Jinkins in the Wichita Valley with his recirculating sprayer. Roundup herbicide is being applied over the top of the cotton to the tall growing grass and weed. The cost is running about $3 per acre.

The recirculating sprayer it may be necessary to go because spray is only used when plants stick above the cotton. If there are no weeds, the machine catches the unused spray and recirculates the material back through the system. Other sprayer types apply material continuously whether weeds are present or not. Jinkins mixes 1 gallon of Roundup with 40 gallons of water. Even though the Roundup costs nearly $60 per gallon, the recirculating feature enables him to accomplish this tough control at a nominal cost.

A 50 acre field sprayed about 7 days ago indicates a good control. Jinkins says, "It may be necessary to go over some of the fields twice. The cost will still be acceptable at a total of about $6 per acre. Two treatments should give fairly good root Johnsongrass control."

The recirculating sprayer has nozzles which spray over the top of the cotton from one side of the row. A pad and reservoir on the other side of the row catches and recirculates the unused spray. A bar drags the weeds or grass through the spray pattern which virtually wets all of the plant growing above the cotton.

His sprayer is a 4 row and the height can be adjusted with the power lift. He skins the top of the cotton with the frame of the sprayer. The nozzles are spraying about 6 inches above the cotton.

His cotton land was treated with Treflan or Tolban. The preplant control was good until a hail nearly defoliated the cotton. This eliminated ground shading by the cotton, and the weeds and grass grew fast.

Wheat sowing is only a few weeks away. Growers are advised of the loose smut possibility, especially on Sturdy wheat. If any smut was noted last Spring in seed wheat fields, growers will want to treat their seed with Vitavax.

William Morton reports less dampening-off of seedlings and improved stands from the use of this material. The chemical is hard on the handler of the seed wheat in the bins and at the grain drill, according to Morton.

Wage survey underway

The Department of Defense Wage Fixing Authority, Washington, D.C., has authorized a locality wage survey to be conducted in the Wichita Falls - Southwest Oklahoma locality beginning Aug. 23, according to Leon T. Little, Sheppard Air Force Base civilian classification chief.

Purpose of the survey is to determine the wage rates paid key "blue-collar" jobs by various firms in the community. This information will be used by the Department of Defense Wage Fixing Authority to establish wage rates for federal wage employees in this locality.

Letters have been mailed to the firms expected to participate in the survey, and each firm will be contacted by data collectors soon after the start date Aug. 23.

In announcing the survey Little expressed appreciation for the very fine cooperation received from the participating firms during previous wage surveys.

"We cannot fail in following nature." Montaigne
