

Vandals at Gordon Lake raise ire of officials

Police patrols will be increased and vandals nabbed will be prosecuted, city officials incensed by a rash of vandalism at Lake Gordon disclosed

During the past several days vandals have caused widespread damage to new picnic area improvements located along the western shores of Lake Gordon.

A survey of the park yesterday indicated the new picnic pavilion has been the primary target of vandals who broke an electric meter and overhead lights.

One of the new picnic tables had been hacked on with a knife. Large slices of wood were scattered on the cement floor of the pavilion.

Garbage barrels had been tossed into the lake, and seedling trees had been broken.

"It is sickening to see people abuse things like they have done there," said Mayor Johnny Crawford. helped organize the improvements,

Alderman Lita Watson who had said there was no firm estimate on what repairs would cost because most of the work and materials for the improvements had been donated.

"I have very little patience with that kind of thing," said Crawford, who is supporting Police Chief Jim Voyles in increased efforts to nab the Nighttime patrol of the area will be increased, and anybody caught "is going to be prosecuted," Voyles said.

Crawford said he hopes anyone caught and found guilty will be assesserd the maximum penalty. He hopes to make them an example to the community.

Voyles said police investigations indicate the vandalism is the work of vouths, judging from the angle rocks were thrown causing the majority of damage at the pavilion.

If vandalism at the lake and park facilities does not cease, Crawford said it may be closed to nighttime use.

"I'm considering (having the park closed at night) very strongly. I hesitate to do it," he said, adding it may be the only effective method of curbing vandalism.

OTHER INVESTIGATIONS

In other action police are investigating a home burglary and several other acts of vandalism.

Sunday police received a report from Wayne Ferguson, 201 Hope Lane, that burglars had taken a $450 television set, a $175 coffee table, a $75 watch and an end table.

Also on Sunday police received a report from Katherine Jacquart, who said someone had broken into her mother's home at 514 W. Alameda. Intruders entered through a window and scattered bedding and other items throughout the home.

Kathy Hutto, 1004 Cornelia, told police Sunday that someone had tried to break into her home. Someone had tried to pry off window screens and two doors, police said.

Police worked a trio of reports Tuesday.

Patricia Kiser, 205 E. Garden, told police someone had shot a sliding glass door with a BB or pellet gun. Bill Bates, 216 N. Yosemite, reported the burglary of a pickup truck starter and outside mirror. Mrs. Ruben Copeland, 208 N. Seneca, reported the theft of a half tank of gasoline and a hubcap.

FIRST-DAY FIGURES

Enrollment drops 96

Enrollment on the first day of school was down drastically from the first day of the 1977-78 school year, according to a report given by Supt. Faris Nowell.

There were 96 fewer students enrolled Monday than the first day of last year, when 1968 students reported for classes.

All campuses except Bradford Elementary showed a decrease, Nowell said. While Bradford's students raised 12 on the first day, Kidwell declined 19, Valley View by two, Junior High 38 and high school

The superintendent pointed out, however, that the schools always pick up more students during the first couple of weeks, especially following the Labor Day holiday.

He commented that 56 high school student schedules had not yet been picked up, and that could possibly offset the 32 fewer students in that building.

After starting last year out with 1,968, the schools hit their peak enrollment of 2,020 as the year the end of the year.

"Every building in the system could absorb 100 more students before we would be overcrowded," Nowell told school trustees Tuesday night. He added the high school's physical education gymnasium is beyond capacity, as the only exception.

The following is a breakdown of students enrolled by grade, as compared with those enrolled the first day last year. It should be noted the kindergarten figures are for half year and whole year students.

Grade	'78	'77
Kindergarten	63	59
First	121	138
Second	131	148

School staff shrinks

Iowa Park school staff was cut by two Tuesday night, when 10 resignations were accepted and only eight

The meeting was called to amend the 1977-78 budget, but personnel was one of three other topics on the Resignations included Tom Venhaus, occupation orientation; Cherrie Miller, Valley View teacher; Darrell Dick, choir; Vicki Miller, Valley View teacher; Pat Ratcliff, Pat Raby and Sue McCarthy, teacher aides; LaRue Slack, high school teacher; and Ann Dick and Tommie Smith, Kidwell teachers.

Those hired included: Jo Ann Ratcliff, junior high history; Karla Wallace, Valley View physical education; Rebecca Bishop, Kidwell teacher; Sharon Winstead, physical education; Linda Gayle Burgoyne, teacher aide at tax office; and West Wichita Co-op aides Alberta Adams, Amber Davis and Nancy Gholson.

In estimating the 1977-78 budget, the amount was short by $94,702. However, estimated income was also short by $94,836, almost offsetting.

Final expenses for the year, still estimated until the audit, was $3,165,429, while the amended income budget was $3,160,402.

The major increase in expenses were in instruction salaries, $88,071, of which $30,000 was through the federally-funded CETA program and the rest in additional teachers and salary increases granted after the budget was fixed, according to Harold Cowley, business manager.

Trustees discussed plans to create more gymnasium space at the high school, where physical education classes are cramped and six basketball teams are forced to use the single gym at all hours in order to practice.

Two costs are to be investigated and reported at the next board

One is the fee charge of architects, figured to be a major expense in all construction. This would be considered should the board decide to call a bond election to construct a second

The other course of action is to tear down the metal building at the Valley View campus and move it to the high school. It would be used for PE exercise, or possibly enlarged for a full basketball four capacity.

Also discussed was the rental fee for using school buildings. Trustees asked that a study be made on costs to the school district before a new fee rate is established, since the old fee rates were based on costs six years

City takes final action to rescind utility tax

The city council Monday night voted for the second time to rescind the one per cent sales tax on natural gas and electricity bills.

Though the vote came out the same as a meeting two weeks ago, it was necessary because no ordinance taking the official action was prepared for the first voting.

Prior to the voting, Mayor Johnny Crawford suggested the issue might be brought before the public in a referendum. That might still be in the mill, because Alderman Johnny Lee suggested the cut be made now, and put the issue before the public in the Lee, C.A. Hicks and Bud Adams voted for the ordinance rescinding the tax, while Lita Watson and Eldon Thompson voted against it.

Crawford explained the problem facing the city was that the tax had been figured into the year's budget, and it should be done prior to adoption of a budget.

Aldermen accepted the highest bids submitted for grazing rights to Lake Buffalo and the waste water treatment plant.

Charlie Helms was the high bidder for the treatment plant site, at $20 per acre. Other bids included Bobby Griffith, $15.01; Thompson Cattle Co., $4.25 and J.T. Watson, $7.50.

Vier K. Milch Farms was successful bidder on the Lake Buffalo location, at $6.27. Griffith was the only other bidder, offering $1.01 per acre.

Also approved was a resolution to apply for a $3,000 grant through the Department of Urban Affairs to finance a personnel study.

City Administrator Gene Britton said with the funds a consultant could be hired to furnish three major items: job descriptions for every position within the city; a recommended personnel policies and procedures; and a recommended employee compensation plan.

The bride's father escorted her to the altar where he answered "Her mother and I' to the minister's question, "Who gives this woman in marriage?

For her wedding, the bride chose a formal gown of white organza and Venise lace with the slightly raised bodice completely covered in appliques of the lace. Adding further distinction to the gown were the high neckline above a sheer yoke trimmed in lace threaded with pink satin ribbon and short sleeves trimmed in the lace. The lace and pink satin ribbon ornamentation were repeated around the chapel length train.

Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion drifted from a cap of lace and pearls with light touches of pink ribbon and her cascade bouquet consisted of pink roses, white daisies and baby's breath. A single accessory, her mother's garter, carried out the

"something old, something borrowed and something blue" traditions.

The bride was attended by a matron of honor and two bridesmaids who wore identical formal pink satin gowns overlaid with dotted swiss styled with Empire bodices featuring square necklines and double ruffles over the shoulders. The matron wore a pink picture hat and bridesmaids wore white hats. Each carried a nosegay of pink and white daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Mickey Schmidt of La Veta, Colorado was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Phyllis Scheffe and Miss La Veda Paschall, sister of the bride.

Male participants in the wedding wore blue tuxedos, the groom wearing an all-white ruffled shirt with his and the others wearing white ruffled shirts trimmed in blue.

Mark Bottles was best man. The groomsmen were David Bottles and John Joplin, father of the groom. Dr. William Barber was usher.

Mothers of the couple wore gowns to carry out the bride's chosen colors. Mrs. Paschall wore a long blue knit gown and Mrs. Joplin wore pink. Each was styled identically and topped with a sheer capelet imprinted with pink and blue flowers.

The bride and groom are living at 918 Falls Drive in Wichita Falls following a wedding trip to Dallas. Both were graduated from Iowa Park High School. She attended Midwestern State University and is employed at Wilson Mfg. Co. He is attending MSU and is Lumber Co.

Start spraying pecan weevils

The improved moisture conditions have made pecan trees more succulent, and it appears we will start the pecan weevil spray program on Sept. 1. A second application will follow on Sept. 10-14.

"We have a good pecan crop set over the county, and we sure don't want to let the weevils ruin the prospects this late in the year," says County Agent Don Decker. "Timing is critical with the first application made just as the pecan changes from the water stage into the jelly formation (early dough). Growers and homeowners can cut pecans regularly to make this determination. As soon as anyone finds pecans with the jelly formation in the kernal area, I would appreciate your giving me a telephone call." "The recommended chemical for weevil control is Sevin. However, I do not like to use Sevin alone. It does a good job in weevil control but has no effect on black pecan aphids. Since the beneficial insects which feed on aphids are destroyed, the black pecan aphids can reproduce without interference from their natural predators and parasites. For this reason I think it is advisable to add Malathion or Zolone to the spray for the control of any aphids which might be in the trees. The rate is 2 pounds of 80 percent Sevin per 100 gallons of water (2 tablespoons per gallon) plus 3 pints of Malathion per 100 gallons (2 tablespoons per gallon). Zolone is used at the rate of 11/3 pints per 100 gallons of water," Decker

Rape charges filed against local

An Iowa Park man has been charged with rape in connection with an offense that allegedly occurred here last week.

Iowa Park police requested the two adults involved go unnamed since the case remains under investigation. It has been referred to District Attorney Tim Eyssen for possible grand jury action, said Police Chief Jim Voyles.

The alleged rape occurred about midnight Aug. 22 at the home of an Iowa Park woman.

A 23-year-old Iowa Park man was apprehended after a warrant for his arrest was issued. He was arraigned about 9 p.m. Aug. 23 before Justice of the Peace Virgil Hill, who set bond on the man at $5,000.

The woman recognized the man as a friend and let him inside her home on the night of the alleged offense, police said.

Efforts to secure materials necessary to examine the woman for rape caused a controversy to surface. It appears rape examination "kits" were in short supply on the night of the alleged offense.

It remains an unresolved question as to which agency is responsible for supplying the rape examination kits: the hospital or the law enforcement agency working the case.

When he found out on the night of the alleged offense that Wichita General Hospital did not have one of the kits, "I was pretty surprised," said Voyles.

The kits which cost about $5.50 are used to examine the pubic area in efforts to preserve evidence of rape.

Although officials at both Wichita Falls hospitals reportedly said they would furnish rape examination kits for future use, the Iowa Park Police Department isn't going to chance another hassle similar to last week's.

"To be on the safe side, I think we better have a couple of them," Voyles Mayor Johnny Crawford said he would make sure some kits are

Alderman Lita Watson, whose

Chamber hears report on golf course project

The possibility of state aid in securing property on which to build a golf course was discussed Monday at the monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

Rip Smith, chairman of the project committee, said there was a possibility of financial aid from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, he had learned through the Nortex Regional Planning Commis-

The Department has a program which puts up matching money for the acquisition of recreation property, Smith told the group. But first there must be an appraisal of values from three independent appraisers, and there lies the first catch.

Cost of the appraisers is of a concern because directors don't know how much the final bill would be, nor where the money could be raised. But they directed Smith to look into the details further and report at the September meeting.

Proposed is a golf course, initially nine holes, to be built east and south of Lake Iowa Park. A portion of the property is city-owned, and the rest, according to Smith, would be donated by adjoining owners.

In his report on the Sept. 23 Whoop-T-Do, Bill Bates said organizations wishing booths should make their reservations in the immediate future. There was still plenty of space, but allocations of locations need to be made now.

Bates said a new addition this year would be appearances on stage by gospel and barbershop singing groups, to entertain the crowd. Other features will be much like those in the

He added he had been assured a free blood pressure testing booth will be set up this year, however.

Directors voted to be the sponsoring entity for Jill Koonce when she travels to New York in November to vie for the Teen Queen American Dream title. She has already been named Texas winner.

A fund to finance her trip was set up at State National Bank by the Iowa Park MuleSkinners, starting it off with a $100 donation. Several merchants have a ready donated to it.

Local school officials are concerned about the mysterious "case of the missing children." Well they should be, because their's is the difficult task of planning ahead to keep up with enrollment and provide space and personnel for their education. Enrollment Monday, the first day of the new school year, was down 96 pupils from the first day of school last year. That's a big drop, and one that causes concern to the trustees and administration.

The 1,872 figure is the lowest enrollment here since 1968, when enrollment was reported at 1,813. Our schools reached their all-time peak of 2,292 in 1970.

The missing children case is not one of Iowa Park's alone. It is a subject faced by educators all over the nation. And the primary reason is simple: the Families are just not as large as they used to be. Far from it.

Harold Cowley said it was only a

Park district. Last year, to estimate how many students we would have, he used the figure of .75, and missed the total enrollment by 19.

few years ago that he was using a

residential household in the Iowa

This year he's using a figure of .6 children for each household, and he'll be just about on the target.

But, here we are, building homes like they're going out of style. We have at least 300 more homes inside the city limits of Iowa Park than we had back in 1970, and that doesn't include the 72-unit Woodbrian Apartments. But still we're losing school enrollment.

There's another factor which many people don't consider when they're looking for children. Our population is growing older, on the average.

Approximately 20 per cent of the homes in Iowa Park are occupied by persons 65 years and older. This figure comes from the 321 who applied for homestead tax deduction.

Then, Iowa Park is a popular place for military retirees when they get out of the service. We have dozens upon dozens of such families, most of whom have already raised their children, or have only one or two remaining at home.

So, a combination of the pill and older families seem to be the principal reason for smaller families, hence, fewer children in our classrooms.

Oh, there's one other reason. Our young couples, those who've been married six or seven years, were experiencing inflation at the time they were wed. They could see what was coming, and apparently have held down the size of their families, just to make their budgets fit ... with both parents working.

Using Cowley's figures, in order to get our enrollment back to the 1970 figure of 2,292, we're going to need in the neighborhood of 800 homes ... unless something happens to change things as they are now.

And so it goes

Pilot escapes uninjured

A local crop duster pilot escaped serious injury Sunday morning when he was forced to land his small aircraft in a field south of Bradford

H.L. "Duke" Abernathy of Rifle Range Road was spraying farm land about 8 a.m. Sunday when his single engine Piper Brave crop duster ran out of fuel, said Iowa Park Police Chief Jim Voyles.

Voyles said the fuel gauge apparently malfunctioned, indicating a partially full fuel tank.

Abernathy was forced to attempt an emergency landing in a field about a quarter of a mile south of Bradford Elementary, according to police.

Voyles said the field was soft and just before the plane came to a stop the tail section flipped up, overturning the aircraft.

Abernathy escaped serious injury, Voyles said.

There was some good under the critical eye of the news, and some bad news, but most of the news out of Thursday's scrimmage against Electra last week was not good, according to Head Coach Tommy Watkins.

Winding up the evening in a 15-minute game-type play, Electra rolled off five first downs to two for Iowa Park.

But it's still early in the season, with yet another scrimmage to help tune up the Hawks before they kick off the 1978 season here against Bowie Sept. 8.

Iowa Park travels to Haskell this evening to scrimmage Sweetwater. That action is slated to begin at 7:30, for the varsity only. The JV is to scrimmage Class B powerhouse Goree here at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

Big Red scrimmage at Bowie

Tomorrow night's scrim- day night when they hosted mage between Holliday and Bowie will not be intended for the record book, but the Jackrabbits may be out to set the record straight.

It was in September 1975 that the Eagles and Jackrabbits last confronted each other in a scheduled non-conference tilt.

Holliday sneaked past Bowie 15-14.

The Eagles can expect a fierce workout Friday night against the Jackrabbits, magazine to finish second in Distirct 10-AA behind Brid geport.

Bowie finished fourth in its district last year with a 6-4 mark, and this year's version will headline five offensive and three defensive holdovers.

Bowie has a couple of 200-pound tackles who will be going both ways Friday night and the Jackrabbit center tips the scales at 210, according to the annual gridiron publication.
