Council in (tabling) rut

Approved, tabled, tabled, tabled, tabled, approved, blank. Those were the reporter's notes of Monday night's city council meeting.

The council took action on two of the seven-item agenda topics, which were the minutes of the previous meeting and budget adjustments.

Items tabled were acceptance of the audit report, resolution on expenses for council members, ordinance increasing the vandalism reward, and possible painting of the city hall exterior.

The blank was an executive session on personnel, closed to the public, which lasted more than an hour and a half.

After receiving comments on the published audit of 1977-78 city finances, the council voted to table any action that members might further study the 47-page booklet and take whatever action is required at the next meeting.

When some additions were made to a proposed resolution concerning expenses for council members when they make trips to meetings and seminars concerning municipal management, the item was tabled until the resolution could be presented in final form.

The city has for many years had an ordinance which offers a $25 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone destroying city property. A proposal has been made to raise that amount to $500, similar to a new policy recently adopted by the school board. But action was deferred until the city judge and attorney could be contacted on the subject.

Two years ago, Mayor Johnny Crawford offered a three-phase program for upgrading the city hall. Now that the first phase, remodeling the room used for council meetings and municipal court, is complete, the mayor asked that the council approve undertaking exterior painting of the building.

"The outside of this building is a disgrace to this community," he told council members. He explained that he already had an agreement with the Chamber of Commerce to pay its prorata share of the project.

But when the issue came to a vote, Alderman Johnny Lee moved to table the proposal for further study, and Alderman Eldon Thompson seconded. They voted for the motion, Alderman Bud Adams against, and Alderman Lita Watson abstained. With Alderman C.A. Hicks absent, the motion to table passed.

Apparently miffed at the action, Mayor Crawford said "You can be assured that's the last time I will bring it before this council."

The budget adjustments were bookkeeping formalities, suggested by the auditors.

When the council chambers was cleared for the closed executive session, one visitor remained at council request. He left 25 minutes later, 8:55, but the meeting was still in session at 10.

TRAIN STRIKES CAR - Seventeen-year-old Laurie Arlene-Mae Tatom is removed from her demolished car after it was struck broadside by an east bound Burlington-Northern coal train about 6 p.m. Monday and pushed 1,894 feet from the Victoria Street crossing. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tatom remains in Wichita General Hospital where her condition Wednesday afternoon was termed by a relative as stable, but in a comatose state. Members of the Volunteer Fire Department and Police Department aided Gold Cross Ambulance personnel in removing her from the crushed vehicle. Miss Tatom, a junior at Iowa Park High School, was alone at the time of the accident, traveling south.

Overflow crowd attends meeting of school board

A crowd of more than 30 persons sat and stood in the school board room, and many stood in the hallway, to hear an appeal to trustees to approve a project to send the high school band to Mexico City.

Nine of the visitors were parents and the rest were students, but only Director David Mooney spoke.

Following the presentation, J.O. McCullough, vice president of the board sitting in place of president Bill Spruiell, pointed out that the board would violate its own policies to take any action on the proposal at the meeting. He said Mooney had not gone through the proper channels before appearing before the board.

The band director told board members he had not purposely avoided the proper channels, but was trying to avoid waiting until next month's regular board meeting before learning whether or not to start working on the project.

Mooney said the band had been recommended to participate in the Eighth Invitational Mexican Band Festival June 2 in Mexico City. He read from a prepared statement his proposals to raise the money, how much money would be required, and how the event was carried on.

The letter of invitation was written by Sam S. Fox, general chairman of the festival, officed in Miami, Fla. It stated, in part, "Your band has been selected as one of the outstanding bands in the United States. Concert tours, hotel rooms, and board, and round trip jet airline are included at a minimum cost, due to the moral support the the Mexican Minister of Tourism. The Festival consists of your evaluation by outstanding judges from the United States and Mexico"

Mooney said he wanted to take his entire band, and would have 30 chaperones, at least one for every six students.

In his list of projects to raise the funds for the trip, he proposed candle sales, bake sales, MUH bumper stickers and t-shirts, a haunted house, sell aluminum cans, paper drive, carwashes, talent show, slave day, cake walk, sell cakes to teachers, a walk-a-thon, stage band concerts, hand concerts and donations.

The cost, per person, would be $215, plus taxes, which Mooney estimated $27,000, but some estimates made by one listener was $39,000, not including spending money.

After McCullough explained the board's policy, which requires a teacher to first receive approval of his principal and then the superintendent before approaching the board. Mooney said he would "go back and start from the proper place."

OTHER BUSINESS

Reports were made by Bradford and Kidwell elementary principals George Taylor and Bob Cole.

Taylor said he had 268 enrolled and "We're having a good year, getting started smoother than ever," at Bradford. Kidwell's enrollment is 336, down 10 from last May.

John Sibley, director of the West Wichita Cooperative which includes Iowa Park, Holliday, Electra and City View, explained the workings of the special education project.

In other business:

- * The board approved expenditure of $1,205, the school's share, of additional funds to build the Bicentennial Swimming Pool bath house;

- * Took no action on hiring an architect for construction of another high school gymnasium;

- * Approved new fees to be charged for renting school facilities;

- * Heard reports on taxes, transportation and cafeteria from Bill Steger, who sought and received approval to raise cost per mile to use buses for extracurricular activities from 55 cents to 70 cents;

- * Approved a field trip request to allow members of the Home Economics cooperative class to attend the State Fair in Dallas Saturday.

Wreck victim scheduled to undergo more surgery

Earl Scheffe is scheduled to undergo surgery for the second time this afternoon, as result of a two-vehicle collision Oct. 3.

Scheffe, speaking by telephone from his Wichita General Hospital bed yesterday afternoon, said today's surgery would be on his left leg. The leg was broken in three places, and a pin is necessary, he said.

Physicians worked on Scheffe some four hours after he was taken to the hospital last week, on his right ankle.

A resident of No. 17 Wichita Valley Farms was hauling a load of cattle on FM 367 when he collided with a Texoma Fertilizer truck.

A dramatic rescue followed, during which two sets of "Jaws of Life", one each from Wichita Falls and Electra, were required to release Scheffe from the crumpled pickup cab.

"I've had lots of company, and I really appreciate it," he told the Leader. He also commented on how many flower arrangements he'd received, and "I even heard from some folks in Colorado who read about it in the Leader," he said.

He mentioned that he would probably be feeling the after effects of surgery until Sunday or Monday and probably wouldn't be very receptive to company until then.

Other than the injuries to his legs, he suffered only numerous minor abrasions and contusions, Scheffe said.

Arson attempt at Bradford

School buildings were the targets of criminal mischief and attempted arson, according to Iowa Park police.

Police here investigated a possible case of arson Monday at Bradford Elementary School where they found homemade fire bombs had been exploded at three locations outside the school. Fires did not result, however.

The fire bombs had been set off at the south side of the school near the main entrance, at the east side of the school and at the north side near the Wall entrance.

Police also discovered an alcohol bottle filled with paint thinner, a disposable butane cigarette lighter and some homemade wicks that had been dipped in gasoline.

Last Friday police discovered a window had been broken out at the junior high school band hall. The intruders also broke an office window, police said.

Hawks look to corral Steers for loop win

Graham, with an explosive offense and stingy defense, awaits invasion of the Iowa Park Hawks in Steer Stadium tomorrow night for the second Dist. 4-AAA contest for both teams.

Both clubs will be trying to get into the conference's win column after dropping their openers last week. And both reportedly will have healthier teams than took the field last Friday.

The senior-loaded Steers have had a rough time after winning big in their season opener, when they stomped Stephenville 40-6. They lost two key personnel, center Bubba Moody and fullback Chad Hammond, and it had a drastic effect on the team.

After the Stephenville route, the Steers lost to Breckenridge 21-42. Hammond received a broken arm in the second quarter, after gaining 71 yards on 14 carries. The following week the Buckaroos lost 7-0 to Stephenville, giving some indication of Hammond's worth.

Castleberry jumped on the Steers in game three, 23-13, also indicating the loss of Moody, a 188-pounder who was replaced with a 152-pound substitute.

In their final pre-conference tuneup, the Steers shot down a fast-improving Sweetwater by a 20-10 margin. But last week they lost to Weatherford 30-17 in the district opener.

Well, Moody is back, according to reports from Graham, and it's made a big difference. Hammond reportedly will be out until possibly the last couple of games of the season.

SPEED BURNERS

Without their 185-pound fullback, the Steers count heavily on the speed and quickness of their backs and receivers, and they've got plenty of that. Coach Tommy Watkins says overall, Graham has more quickness than any team the Hawks have faced this year, including Mineral Wells.

Key player in the triple I formation is quarterback Chris Williams. Watkins rates Williams, son of a former coach who is now a principal in the Graham system, an outstanding athlete who can run and is an outstanding passer.

Through their first four games,

Graham was right behind Mineral Wells in offensive statistics. The Steers had averaged 320 yards total offense, even though losing 25 seniors, without Hammond, on the roster.

Defensively the Steers were equally impressive, allowing only 307 total yards in those same four games. The Steers are carrying 25 seniors, without Hammond, on the roster. There's not a sophomore or freshman on the 39-member varsity.

TWO STARTERS RETURN

A somewhat healthier Hawk club will be making the trip tomorrow, according to Head Hawk Watkins.

Though tackle Billy Maupin is still out with mononucleosis, end Steve McCord has recovered with his bout with the same problem, and fullback Calvin Sampley has recuperated from his problem with the chicken pox. All three missed the Ram game.

But a player Watkins has counted heavily on, sophomore runningback Mike Ray, will miss tomorrow's game. Ray reportedly has been ill at home all week, and has not attended classes.

A win against Graham would be a real feather in the cap of the Hawks. They've not beaten a Steer club, or any other district member for that matter, since the 1974 season.

Reserved seats on sale here

Two hundred fifty reserved seats for the Graham game are available at the high school office, according to Bob Dawson, principal.

The tickets, $3 each, will remain on sale until 3 p.m. Friday, at which time they will be returned.

'Learning to Serve' club's theme for year

The stimulating address by Mrs. E.F. Soell, president of the 23 Study Club, was the highlight of the first meeting of the club for the new year and also an incentive for members to take seriously their "Learning to Serve", the president's theme for the year.

The theme of her address was "Effective Citizenship" based on the topic for the day, "We Learn to Be Good Citizens in Order to Serve Our Community".

The activities for the year were inaugurated at a breakfast Thursday hosted by Mrs. Homer Blalock and Mrs. Rollins Woodall in the home of the former.

"We are all citizens, and it behooves each to exert much effort to attain the qualities of good citizens. The cards we carry in our purses, such as Social Security, drivers license, library, credit and membership indicate our citizenship of nation, state, and community", Mrs. Soell remarked. She stressed that good citizenship entailed continuous dedication of each person learning and improving the mind and supporting educational, moral and spiritual training for all others.

"As club women, we are citizens of General Federation of Women's Clubs, an organization of over 600,000 women in the U.S., the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Santa Rosa District and our own club, and this privilege carries with it the responsibility of serving others through what we learn in study and programs," she continued. The president concluded with an appropriate poem, "What This World Needs" by Evelyn Gage Brown.

Miss Ethyle Kidwell was program leader for the morning. Mrs. Earle Denny offered the invocation before the breakfast.

Mrs. Keith Aulds was welcomed as a new member and presented one of the arts features, an anecdote about Abraham Lincoln, "Rubbing Abe's Nose" by John Duckworth.

Mrs. Joe Singer presented the second arts number which was a vocal solo, "Behold Us, Lord, a Little Space" by Ellerton sung to recorded organ accompaniment by Mrs. Kenneth Via.

Mrs. Earl Watson, president of Santa Rosa District and federation counselor of the club, explained Federations Role in Enterprise Economy.

During the business, plans for the Santa Rosa Board Meeting and Workshop to be held at First United Methodist Church in Iowa Park Oct. 21, and a reception honoring Mrs. Watson

Interior decorator speaks at Philia Study Club meet

Mrs. John Kidwell of Wichita Falls, an interior decorator, gave a program on "Do's and Don'ts of Interior Decorating" with visual aids for the Philia Study Club meeting Monday evening.

following the workshop were discussed.

Miss Ethyle Kidwell was elected to serve as secretary due to a vacancy created when Miss Titia Belle Blanks resigned the position and as a club member. It was voted to make Miss Blanks an associate member.

Mrs. Singer, chairman of the recent Arts and Crafts Show, reported that a check for $461.62 received from the sale of Jack Stevens picture and commissions on arts sales had been given to Iowa Park Library.

As chairman of the arts committee in the club, Mrs. Singer gave a resume of the arts numbers for the year, and Mrs. Blalock, program chairman, gave a report.

Other members present were Mmes. W.G. Steele, C.L. Metz, Fred Widmoyer, T.M. Thaxton, T.M. Clark, D.O. James, Travis Smith, Sam Hill, L.E. Brooks and C.A. Hicks.

The Oct. 19 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Thaxton will be co-hostess.

GIFT OF APPRECIATION - Mrs. Harrell Riggins, left, president of Kidwell P.T.A., presented the teachers and principal of Kidwell Elementary School with an electric copying machine during the meeting Thursday night. The surprise gift was made during Teacher Appreciation Week.

Optimist, Opti-Mrs. Clubs hold joint installations

The Iowa Park Optimist and Opti-Mrs. Clubs held a joint installation banquet Saturday evening at the Town and Country Motor Hotel in Wichita Falls. Special Optimist Club guests were Ralph Waller, governor, and Eldon Dean, assistant governor of zone 3, and John Larson, a member of the Burkburnett Optimist Club.

The new officers installed included: James Richter, president; Jim Grove, 1st vice president; Danny Parkerson, 2nd vice president; Allen Shewmake, secretary-treasurer; Robert Sumner, editor; Thomas Green, Tommy Key and Paul Hubner, two-year directors; Robert Sumner, Steve Holder and Jim Sargent, one-year directors.

Perfect attendance pins were presented to Danny Parkerson and Eldon Thompson, two-years; Allen Shewmake, three-years; Jim Sargent and James Richter, four-years.

Eldon Thompson, Jr. received the outgoing president's award of appreciation and James Richter was recognized for his outstanding work as secretary-treasurer of the club during the past year.

Mrs. Thomas Green was installed as president of the Opti-Mrs. Club. Others assuming offices were Mmes. Danny Parkerson, 1st vice president; Jim Sargent, 2nd vice president; Eldon Thompson, Jr., secretary - treasurer; Robert Sumner, editor.

Perfect attendance pins were given to Mmes. Jim Sargent, one year; Tommy Key, Eldon Thompson, Jr. and Robert Sumner, two-year. Mrs. Hoffman received an award of appreciation for service to the club during her presidency.

Birk Circle has meeting

The Lucy Birk Circle of Women of First Presbyterian Church met Tuesday morning with Mrs. Lois Holloway.

Mrs. C.E. Birk presided during the business period and also gave the denominational emphasis. She discussed the new literature for the Bible studies for the new year.

Carrot Cake - just the mention of it and everyone who has ever eaten a slice of Mrs. Carlton (Shirley) Hicks' Carrot Cake immediately thinks of her. Her recipe has been the "once tried, always used" one of many people since it appeared in a P-TA cookbook several years ago. It has more recently been included in the First Baptist Church cookbook.

The carrot has an interesting history. In the beautiful gardens of King Merodach Baladan in ancient Babylon, the lacy ornamental plant grew among the scented herbs. In Elizabethan England, ladies wore the wispy leaves to adorn their hair. Perhaps the king did not realize that his pretty plant had such a delicious root, but the carrot has been cultivated as a much-loved food for centuries.

"Little girls eat carrots to make their hair curly; pilots eat them to make their eyes sharper; many eat them because they are low in calories and high in taste appeal." Mrs. Hicks, who belongs to Weight Watchers, can attest to the vegetable's popularity and wide use among those who are weight conscious.

The former Shirley Ann Donley of Grandfield, Okla. was graduated from high school there and from Cameron State Agricultural College in Lawton. She also attended Oklahoma State University at Stillwater.

The Hicks moved to Iowa Park in 1951. Carlton is CVAE instructor at the local high school, and she is employed as secretary-office manager for Crawford Painting & Drywall Co. They are members of First Baptist Church. She is a member of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority and her hobbies are oil painting, sewing and outdoor activities.

Friendship Class has annual salad supper and installation

The tang, glory and tantalizing colors of the autumnal season were reflected in the table decorations featuring floral arrangements, fruits and vari-shaped candles Monday evening for the annual salad supper and installation service of the Friendship Class of First Baptist Church. The meeting was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Mrs. C.L. Metz, class president, was mistress of ceremonies. The Rev. Kenneth Flowers offered the invocation.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson was program chairman. She introduced Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Flowers, Norman, David and Sheryl Flowers who sang "The King is Coming". Mrs. Kenneth Via provided piano accompaniment for the quintet and also for Mrs. Flowers who sang "The Lord's Prayer" to conclude the program.

Following the presentation of "The King is Coming", Mrs. Patterson contributed a devotion on "The Manner of His Coming".

During the business, officers and chairmen gave their annual reports.

Mrs. Howard Marlar, president of the Day Baptist Women, conducted the installation service using "The Praying Hands" for her theme. The interest center was draped with apricot crepe and held a matching candle in an Aladdin lamp-shaped holder, ceramic praying hands and a bouquet of apricot silk roses which Mrs. Marlar gave to the officers as she installed them. She likened the duties of each office to different kinds of hands.

Those installed were Mmes. C.A. Hicks, teacher,

James L. Fenner

Services for James L. Fenner, 65, a former resident of Iowa Park, and the brother of May Dell Banks of Iowa Park, were Wednesday afternoon in Auld's Funeral Home in Archer City.

Clay Mims, minister of the Lincoln Street Church of Christ in Wichita Falls, officiated. Burial was in Highland Cemetery in Iowa Park.

Born June 18, 1913, in Kosse, he was a retired mechanic. He died Monday at his Lake Kickapoo residence where he moved two and a half years ago from Wichita Falls.

Survivors include his wife, Marge; two daughters, Mrs. Dennis Johnston of Long Beach, Calif. and Mrs. Frankie Spradlin of Fort Worth; a son, James A. of Fort Worth; six sisters, Mrs. Banks of Iowa Park, Eva Fenner, Lela Brummett and Fern Norwood of Wilmington, Calif., Mildred Kelley of Fort Worth and Rena Archer of Wichita Falls; two brothers, Aubrey of Santa Fe, N.M. and Weldon of Wilmington, Calif.; eight grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Alathean class meeting is held

The Alathean Sunday School class of First Baptist Church held the monthly luncheon and business meeting Tuesday in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The Rev. Kenneth Flowers gave the invocation. Mrs. D.O. James based her devotional thoughts on Psalm 23.

Mrs. Guy Morgan described highlights of a recent scenic tour through the eastern states, and Mrs. J. Louis Quick read the poem "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer for the program.

Members voted to start a fund toward beautification of Chaparral Baptist Assembly as one of their projects.

Guests attending were the Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Flowers and Karen, N.E.

Blue Bird group adopts name

The Sunshine Blue Birds of Valley View, all third grade students at Bradford Elementary School, met Tuesday at the Recreational Activity Center for their first meeting. They worked on crafts and voted on their group name and uniforms.

Girls present were Stacy Boren, Jerri Brown, Christy Cravens, Sheri Cravens, Dee Dowell, Keva Hunter, Barbara Heidrich, Lisa Hodges, Sheila Moore and Deidre Sadberry.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jerry Hodges, leader. Mrs. Danny Cravens is co-leader and Mrs. Ronny Cravens is group sponsor.

Lions view film slides

Film slides taken in the nation of Nepal were shown and narrated Tuesday at the Noon Lions Club by Mrs. Buddy Tanner.

She told of her tour in that country, made recently on a trip that took her 42,000 miles over 36 days to several Asian countries.

The Kingdom of Nepal is situated between China and India, and was of particular interest to Mrs. Tanner because of the mountains.

NHS elects Travis Little

Officers of the National Honor Society of Iowa Park High School were elected Thursday in a meeting held in the high school library. Jeff Taylor, retiring president, presided.

Included in the new slate were Travis Little, president; Chuck Thompson, vice president; Kellie Richter, secretary; Teresa Kibler, treasurer; Jill Koonce, historian.

A short discussion of possible activities for the year was held.

Other members in attendance were Cheryl Dowell, Tenna Cook, Ernie Holland and Sherry McDonald. Mrs. Harold Cowley is sponsor.

32 attend UMW meeting

Thirty-two attended the meeting of United Methodist Women Tuesday morning for the Bible study taught by Mrs. S.B. Keeter who was assisted by Mrs. M.L. Hines.

"Women of the Bible" was the topic of the study and Mrs. Keeter used the Bible and "Women in the Bible" by Sharon Neuffer for reference materials. In emphasizing the role of women, she used Sarah and Rebecca as examples of the Hebrew women who were characterized by intelligence, beauty, impetuosity and independence of mind.

Reminding her listeners that the Israelite culture emphasized a strong male role as patriarch and head of the home and women's chief role was to bear children, she stressed how Christ's harmony and equality liberated both woman and man and that one did not have dominion over the other.

Names chairman

Gubernatorial candidate Bill Clements today announced that Needam Steed is serving as the Wichita County chairman for the Bill Clements for the Governor Campaign.

"Clements campaign organizations have now been established in all of the state's 254 counties. This is an unprecedented accomplishment in a Republican gubernatorial campaign in this state," Clements said.

Christmas parade entries sought

Plans are underway for the annual Christmas parade, to be sponsored by the Retail Merchants Association, Dec. 2.

The event was termed highly successful last year, according to Danny Parkerson, president of the organization, and it has become an annual event.

The Association is now seeking participants in this year's parade, which will be held at 11 a.m. Participation is open to all organizations and businesses, and is not restricted to Iowa Park persons alone.

Awards will be presented to the three best entries.

Those interested in entering may contact the Chamber of Commerce, 592-5441, or Parkerson, 592-2641.

Joe Riordan

This time I can't blame it on the Lifetime Helpmate. It was my fault and there's no doubt about that.

Of course knowing where to place the blame doesn't make my hand hurt any less. And if anyone thinks its fun to type a column with five fingers instead of ten - I'd like to meet him. I know I could make that person a fabulous deal on some land in New Mexico. Of course now that I've gone this far -- I might as well tell you the rest of the story.

My hand is bandaged because of another incident at a local dance emporium. After the last times I swore I would never go back to the Silver Saddle or the Fabulous Forties. I mean one black eye and a busted coccyx is enough for any man. Besides Blue Cross was starting to wonder if I was faking this stuff and splitting the fee with the hospital.

But I went back to the Fabulous Forties. You know that one -- it's the one with separate rest rooms for men and women -- the kind where you don't have to lock the door when you step inside.

But, I digress. You want to know how it happened.

You see it was the Lifetime Helpmate's birthday, and she likes to dance. So, I visited with the local parish priest and arranged for three masses to be said for my safe journey. From the results I got -- he must have held them in a massage parlor. This time I didn't even get through the front door of the Fabulous Forties before the accident happened.

It was my fault -- of course. How did the guy ahead of me know my hand was on the door jamb of the dance hall when he let go of the door to wave to a friend?

And how could the Helpmate understand I wanted the door opened when I was shouting all of those four-letter words I learned from my U.S. Army First Sergeant who never graduated from the eighth grade?

Well, we finally got the door opened and I took my hand out. It looked like a pizza covered in purple anchovies and hurt like a case of gout being treated with a vibrator.

The doctor at the emergency room was nice. He just looked and said, "Been dancing again?"

The Lifetime Helpmate's spirit was crushed. "I don't suppose we'll ever go dancing again," she said.

"No," I replied. "I plan to just stay home and die a natural death."

Early reports made in UW fund drive

Iowa Park United Way workers and those from Burkburnett and Wichita Falls have turned in their first donations.

A total of $238,632 was accounted for from the seven divisions that work the annual campaign.

The largest division report came from Advanced Gifts which reported $136,974.

The annual drive to collect funds for 33 service agencies in the North Texas communities of Iowa Park, Burkburnett and Wichita Falls has a goal of $1,235,560, and each division has a percentage increase of from 11 percent to 14 percent to achieve over what was raised last year.

Bill Steger, Iowa Park chairman,

In case you've been worrying about when to change your clock back to standard time, you've got a little over two more weeks.

Daylight Savings ends at 2 a.m. on Oct. 29.

Why is it that a small segment of our society, apparently the younger generation, wants to destroy things?

I've brought the subject up several times, but the situation gets worse, rather than better. Not that I figure something I write will keep people from tearing up things, but hopefully, our other citizens will become more alert and conform to their duty to report acts of vandalism.

We're to a point now, people, that the school and city are willing to offer you hard cash, $500, to give them information leading to the arrest and conviction of vandals.

That's bad!

Oh, you don't think that's so terrible? We have a story in this edition about someone doing their best to burn down Bradford Elementary. Child's prank, you say?

A fire is a fire, regardless of who sets it.

Your taxes could be cut, maybe a few pennies, but cut from what they are now, if we didn't have to repair the damages of vandals. They did more than $2,400 in damages to the swimming pool bath house, just while it was under construction.

The windows in the doors at the front of the high school building aren't just windows. They're now bullet proof! Not to protect the students from an advancing army, but just to keep the windows from being shot out again.

Vandals, in their cute little way, rendered the fire alarm system at the high school useless a couple of years ago. Such a quaint little trick could have cost the lives of real, living people, had the proper situation taken place.

I'm certainly not smart enough to offer a solution of correction or to prevention. Anyone who has a sure cure could bottle it and sell it to every governmental agency, and even common citizens, in the nation.

The cause could be lack of supervision, proper atmosphere at home, striking back at school or authority of all kinds, want of activity, lack of responsibility, mental illness, or maybe it could be our society's standard of living, that everything is temporary such as toys, cars, homes, etc.

I suggest that some examples of authority and punishment are needed. Some vandals need to be caught and punished, holding them up to the rest of the vandal element as a warning that they, too, are subject to the same.

Any society must have authority. If it's not respected, there is no society.

If we witness vandalism, or even suspected vandalism, and do not report it to the authorities, we are only contributing to the problem. And we're paying through the nose, with our dollars and a decaying society, until we do.

As I See It....

Bradford P-TA program loaded with highlights

Plans for the Halloween carnival set for Oct. 28, a program on drug abuse, a musical program presented by third grade students, honoring two teachers of the month and a business meeting conducted by Mrs. Garland Lehman were important highlights of the Bradford P-TA meeting Oct. 3.

Announcement was made that room mothers had chosen their projects for the carnival and that Mrs. Thurber would be in charge of the king and queen contest.

Candidates include Kristy Strain and Devin Henley, early childhood; Angelina Taylor and Clint Snow, kindergarten; Stephanie Thurber and Jimmy Duggins, Mrs. Cole's first grade; Kelly Hickey and Sammy Wolfe, Mrs. O'Donnell's first grade; Elizabeth Aaron and George Tucker, Mrs. Coe's second grade; Kelly Fullerton and Shane Onstead, Mrs. Escue's second grade; Theresa Binon and Bobby Weston, Mrs. Nunn's second grade;

Others are Paula Fuller and George Howell, Mrs. Bell's third grade; Stacy Boren and Bryan Hayley, Mrs. Welsh's third grade; Lisa Grace and Doug Onstead, Mrs. Moore's fourth grade; Lisa Reeves and Steven Stiles, Mrs.

Schnieder's fourth grade.

Mmes. Jerry Hodges, Herman Daymude, James Conner and Lehman were named in charge of counting the money collected for the contest, and Mrs. Darrell Johnson was named to be in charge of tickets and posters to advertise the carnival.

Mrs. Lehman reminded members to participate in the Campbell Label Drive to acquire school equipment. She announced the fall P-TA workshop at Seymour Oct. 26 and the state convention at Waco Nov. 14-16.

In other business, Mrs. Conner gave a report on the Whoop-T-Do project, a check was presented to the teachers for playground equipment at recess periods.

Teachers who received special recognition were Mrs. Arlene Welsh, a third grade teacher and Mrs. Renabelle Otten, a special education teacher.

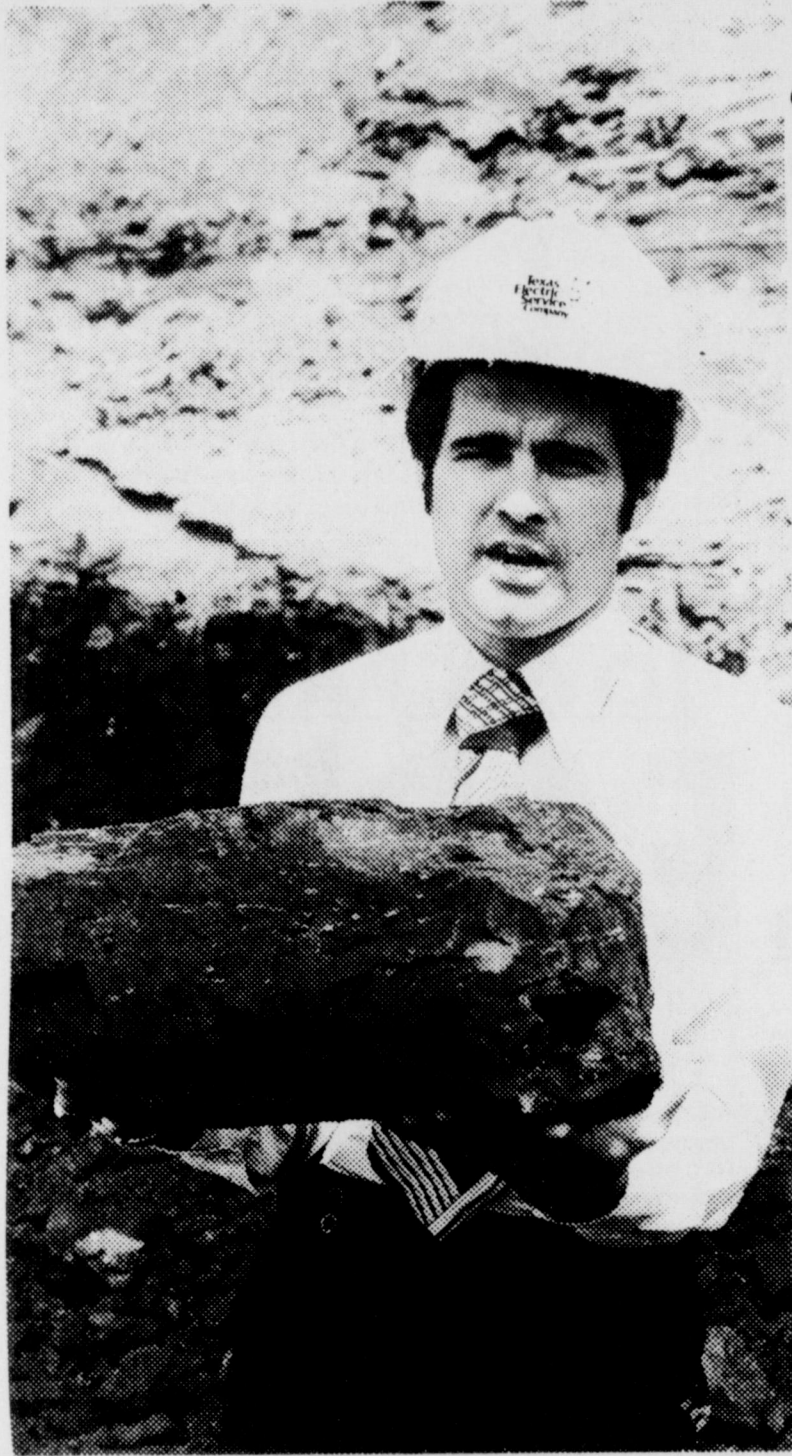

Mrs. Welsh has taught at Bradford for four years. She has three children and one grandchild. She attends the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and her hobbies include reading, sewing, baking and arranging flowers.

Mrs. Otten, a seven-year teacher at Bradford, has 23 years of teaching experience. She has two sons and belongs to the First Presbyterian Church in Wichita Falls. Her hobbies are sewing and crafts.

Mrs. Ronnie Cravens, program chairman, introduced Mrs. T.J. Luney, who showed a drug abuse film "Almost Everybody Does." The third grade classes presented a musical program "Sing Out" under the direction of Miss Karlene Eastman.

"Last year, using lignite coal saved Texas Electric's customers $48 million. It's a step in the right direction!"

"Prior to 1972, Texas Electric made all your electricity by burning natural gas and oil. By last year, lignite coal had replaced gas as boiler fuel for about a third of this. In dollars and cents, here's what that meant to you, our customers:

The cost of lignite burned in 1977 was about $20.5 million. Had that same amount of electricity been generated using natural gas at then-current market prices, it would have cost $107.7 million. That's $87.2 million more than the lignite cost!

Even after deducting the annual cost of the new lignite plants, Texas Electric saved its customers $48.4 million last year because of the switch to lignite.

And that's just the beginning. As gas prices continue to rise, Texas Electric plans to become less and less dependent on this increasingly scarce fuel. By 1983, lignite coal and nuclear-fueled plants are scheduled to provide more than half of our customers' electricity.

It gets harder all the time to provide dependable, economical electricity. But this has always been Texas Electric's goal. And it always will be."

W. N. HOUSE, Manager, Phone 592-4149

Texas Electric engineer Damon Holditch: "We burn 55 pounds of lignite to generate the electricity to run a three-ton air conditioner for a day."

Travis Little is recognized

Travis Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Little, was named Student of the Month by the Rotary Club and presented with a plaque at the meeting Wednesday noon.

A senior at Iowa Park High School, he was selected as semifinalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition and is presently competing for finalist. He was chosen for membership in the National Honor Society during his junior year and was named high junior at Midwestern State University math field day.

Travis was valedictorian of the junior high school graduating class.

Thompson re-elected

Roy Thompson, Jr. of Iowa Park was re-elected Thursday to the Wichita Soil & Water Conservation District board of directors, representing Zone 5 of the district.

The purpose of the Wichita SWCD, headquartered in Iowa Park, is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes. As one of five individuals serving on the district board of directors, Thompson will be responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas soil conservation district law.

Thompson is married to the former Ernestine Plugger. They have three sons, Roy, David and Gene.

Farm Bureau supports tax relief amendment

"Nearly everyone would benefit from the proposed state tax relief amendment," according to Fred E. Dwyer of Wichita Falls, president of the Wichita County Farm Bureau.

"Passage of this amendment on Nov. 7 would also send a message to Austin that Texans are concerned about state and local taxes," Dwyer said.

Farm Bureau on both the state and county levels supports the amendment and urges all concerned citizens to vote "yes" on the amendment, the farm leader said.

Dwyer listed the following ways Texans would benefit:

(1) Homeowners - The $5,000 homestead exemption would reduce school taxes paid by homeowners.

(2) Elderly - The Legislature can exempt up to $10,000 of the school tax value of homesteads of persons over 65 whose taxes may be stabilized.

(3) Disabled - Persons on fixed or reduced incomes may be given an exemption up to $10,000 based on economic need.

(4) Farmers and ranchers - Valuation of agricultural land for tax purposes would be limited to productivity.

(5) City dwellers - They would receive an unlimited exemption on household goods and personal effects.

(6) School systems - The Legislature has appropriated $450 million to reimburse school districts losing revenue because of the homestead and agricultural use reduction.

(7) All property taxpayers - The appraisal of property would be left up to local districts where market values can be better established.

Dwyer said there would be no reduction in public services if the amendment passes.

He said that future state spending and tax increase would be based on the growth of the state's general economy and that more land would be retained in agricultural production, resulting in lower food prices.

State revenue for school districts would ease the burden of local property taxes, Dwyer commented. Failure to pass the proposed amendment, Dwyer noted, would have adverse effect in many instances. He listed these possible results:

(1) Some families would have difficulties owning a home.

(2) Some elderly persons would be forced to sell their homesteads.

(3) Present tax policy would continue to be a burden on the disabled.

(4) Some farmers and ranchers would continue to bear unfair tax burdens, forcing many to sell out.

(5) Local control of property tax valuations could be lost to statewide appraisal in Austin.

(6) Citizen taxpayers might not be alerted to all types of tax increases by public notices and hearings.

"A negative vote would indicate that the people of Texas are not concerned and have no desire to limit taxes or state spending," president Dwyer said.

Touted Rams edge Hawks

If there's such a thing as a moral victory for a team that loses, Friday night was a big win for the Iowa Park Hawks.

The decided underdog going into the game based on this year's record and competition, shorthanded without three starters, younger, slower and smaller, the Mean Green pushed the Rams.

Mineral Wells finally won, 21-14.

But the outcome was never for sure until the final buzzer sounded. In fact, the Rams purposely killed time as the scoreboard clock wound down its final seconds, to make sure the pesky Hawks didn't get their hands on the ball one more time.

The Rams had good reason, for twice during the scoreless final quarter, Iowa Park had been knocking on their door, once inside the 10 and the other inside the five.

It was the Mean Green defense which gave the offensive platoon its opportunities, shaking the ball loose of pressuring bad pitches, and covering three Mineral Wells fumbles.

Though a defense usually would shudder knowing it had given up 295 yards on the ground and 60 more passing in a game, such was not the case Friday night. Mineral Wells, against four larger schools than Iowa Park, had been averaging 343 yards rushing alone. The Rams were leading all Dist. 4-AAA members in rushing with 1,563 yards.

Mineral Wells was forced into the role of playing catch-up a good portion of the game. Iowa Park led 7-0, 14-7 and 14-13 before the Rams finally pulled ahead in the third quarter.

On their first series of plays, neither team could cross the midfield stripe. Then, after Ron Taylor put the Rams back on their own 17 yard line with a 41-yard punt, and Mineral Wells was unable to gain a yard on three plays, the Ram punter shanked his kick only 12 yards downfield.

Troy Linthicum picked up four, but the Hawks were next set back to the 30 on an off sides penalty. Then Linthicum was cut down two yards short of the line of scrimmage.

Quarterback Gary Black-

erby on the next play took advantage of the stunting Ram defenders, lobbed a pass over their heads to Robert Hastings, and the sophomore split receiver scampered 32 yards behind outstanding blockers into the end zone.

Taylor's kick sent the Hawks into the lead, 7-0, with 2:02 remaining in the first quarter.

Mineral Wells came roaring back with a 63-yard drive in eight plays to score on a 30-yard pass, and kicked the extra point to tie the score with 10:55 remaining until halftime.

The Hawks drove to the Ram 48 yard line on the next series, but punted on a fourth - and - one situation. Taylor sailed the ball to the seven, where Curtis Martin tackled the receiver as he was trying to pick up his blockers.

Two plays later the Rams fumbled and Ray Willingham laid claim to it on the Mineral Wells 11. And on the next play, while the Rams were trying to adjust to their fast-changing situation, Blackerby skirted his left end to score. Again Taylor kicked the extra point.

The visitors again stormed toward Iowa Park's goal line, eating up yardage on big plays, and aided with a personal foul that set the Rams up on Iowa Park's 12 yard line. It required Ram quarterback Jesse Kimbrough, who has averaged over 100 yards per game this year, four plays to pick up a first down on the Hawk one yard line.

Mineral Wells scored on the next play, but what took place immediately afterward drew the faithful Hawk fans to their feet. Ram kicker Mark Herrington pulled the ball to left of the uprights, allowing the Hawks to go to the locker room at halftime with a 14-13 lead.

Late in the third period the Rams mounted their final successful drive, a 92-yarder. Kimbrough had a 28-yard run and threw a 30 yard pass to eat up most of the distance, before sending runningback David Moore over from the two yard line.

Kimbrough ran for the two-point conversion, giving the visitors a 21-14 lead with 1:34 yet showing on the scoreboard clock in the third period.

Starting from their own 29 yard line, the Hawks marched steadily to the Ram nine yard line. Big play in the series was another screen pass to Hastings, good for 38 yards.

But when they reached the nine, Blackerby was thrown for a five-yard loss on third down, and field goal kicker Jeff Nolen was sent onto the field.

The Ram defenders didn't give Nolen an 'A' for his faking, however, because they poured in on Troy Thompson, who took a pitch and tried to go around right end but was cut down on the 19.

Three plays later, Taylor captured another Ram fumble, on the Mineral Wells 45 yard line. Two pass plays, including a 13-yarder to Hastings and another to the sophomore receiver on which defensive interference was ruled at the 14, aided in the Hawk march to the Ram five yard line.

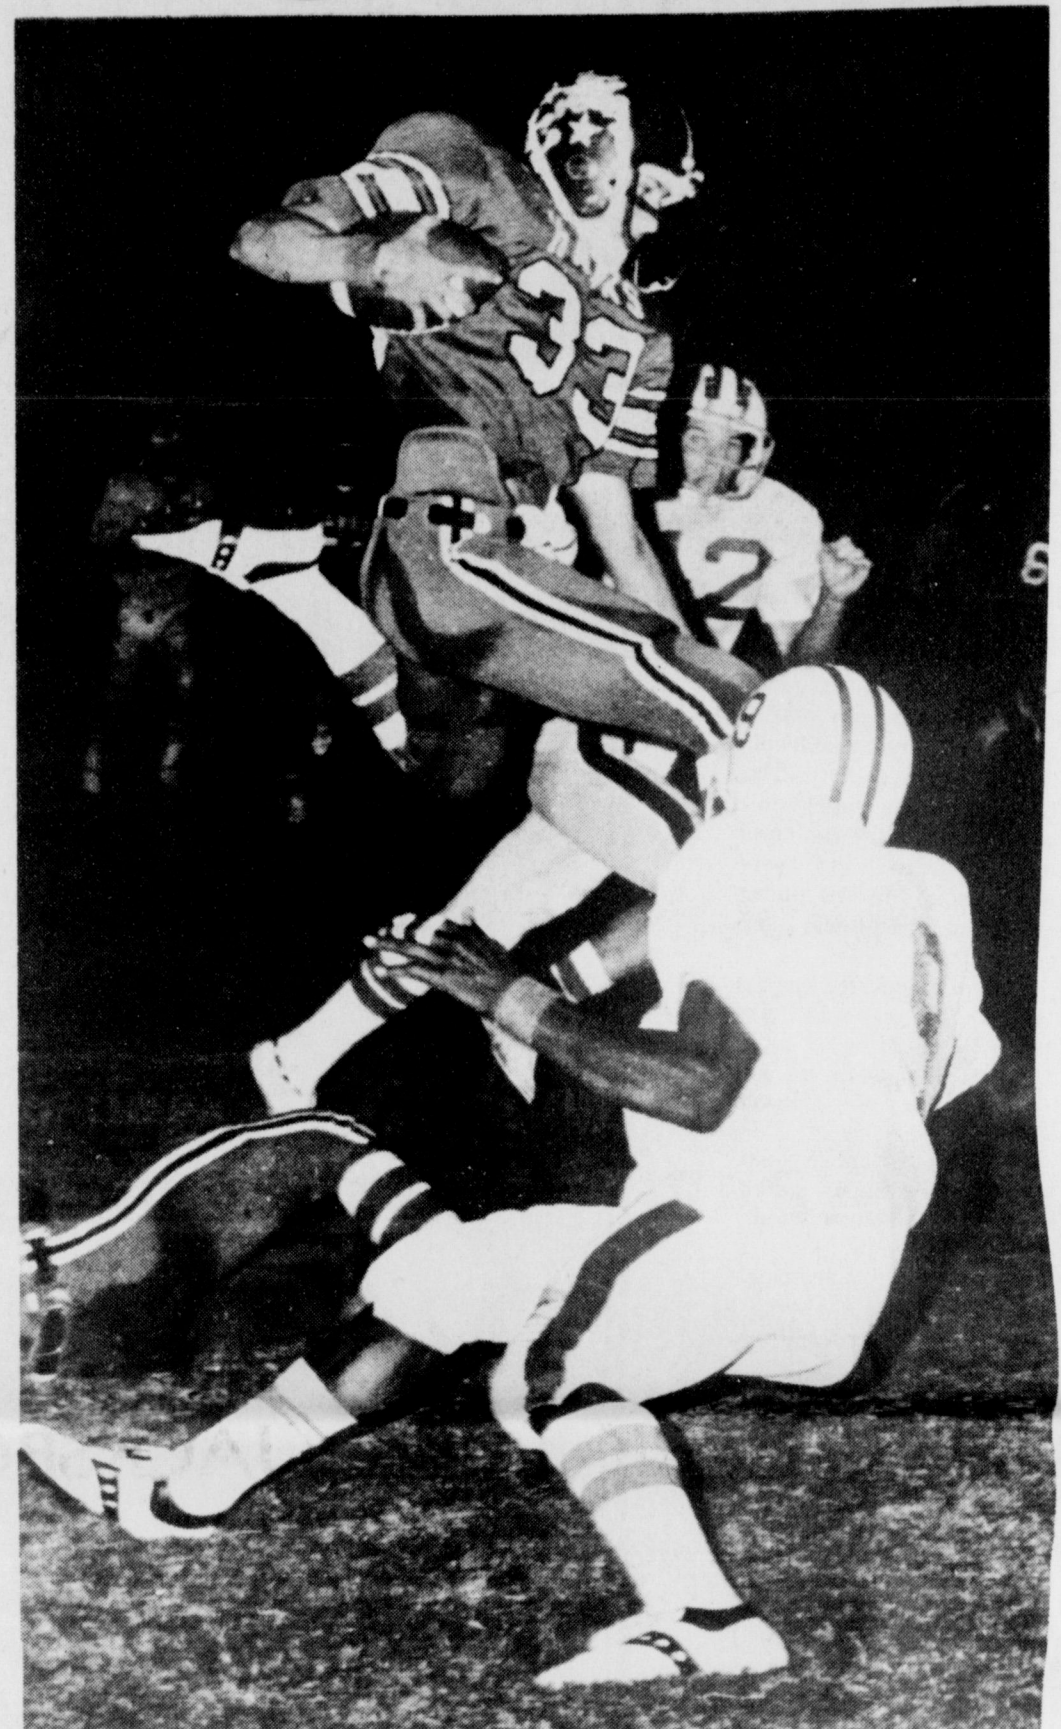

There, with 4:25 remaining on the clock, Blackerby tried right end for a yard gain, but a chain measurement of the fourth down play indicated the Hawks were half the length of the ball short of a first down.

The Rams ran out the clock with four first downs to earn their fifth victory of the season.

Blackerby was the leading carrier for the Hawks, 58 yards on 18 carries. Thompson was 11 for 25 and Linthicum 8 for 19.

The senior Hawk signal caller also completed four of 10 pass attempts, with Hastings on the receiving end of all four.

Students want vocational courses

Holliday junior high and high school students would like to see welding, auto mechanics and vocational agriculture added to the curriculum offered here, according to a survey conducted by principal Bill Crabbs.

At the request of the

MRS. RICHARD HOEPFNER

Couple weds

Miss Jo Ann Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker, and Richard Lee Hoepfner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoepfner of Wichita Falls, were married Saturday in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trainham, in Wichita Falls.

The Rev. Weldon Frazier, pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was graduated from Holliday High School where she was active in track and basketball activities. The groom attended Rider High School and works for Foster Cathed. They will live in Wichita Falls.

school board Crabbs made the survey and disclosed his findings at Monday night's regular trustee meeting.

He said 350 survey forms were sent out and that 283 were returned.

The multi-page survey asked if students would be interested in taking one of the vocational training courses described.

Crabbs said 245 students responded they would be interested in taking one or more of the courses described. Thirty-nine responded they would not be interested in taking any of the vocational training courses listed.

The largest response was to welding with 81 students saying they would like to take a welding course. Auto

Rape prevention seminar Monday

A rape prevention seminar is scheduled to be presented here at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the high school auditorium.

The seminar will be conducted by the Wichita Falls Police Department. "Recent events in our area emphasize the timeliness for such a program," according to Mrs. Gil Peters.

"The presentation is designed for adults through junior age, through fourth grade. The public is invited and urged to attend this free public service meeting," Mrs. Peters said.

Reception Sunday to honor retiring Postmaster Adams

A public reception to honor retired Holliday postmaster Genevieve Adams is planned for 2:5 p.m. Sunday.

Iona Ford will host the reception at her home at 700 mechanics drew responses from 76 students.

Crabbs said there was considerable interest shown in vocational agriculture and general wood shop.

In order for the responses to be counted in the tabulations of the survey, both student and parent had to sign a cover sheet.

Crabbs said he and Superintendent Ray Coe would use the survey as the basis for a recommendation concerning vocational education training offered Holliday students to be presented at the next school board meeting.

Six parents were among the 15 visitors at Monday night's meeting and had come to discuss a wide variety of topics.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wood posed questions concerning first aid for students, the dress code, school supplies and athletic shower floors.

Wood said he would like to see a nurse hired to man the school's sick room, and asked to have a copy of the dress.

But his primary complaint concerned supplies required for second graders. He said second graders are required to have three different types of writing tablets. Why all this writing apparatus, when school is supposed to be "semi-free," Wood asked.

Coe said the different types of writing tablets were all used in the education process for different types of assignments.

"Schools don't furnish pencil and paper. They never have," Coe said.

"It's the principle of the thing. Every year it gets more and more," Wood said, complaining about the cost, adding what's wrong with a student carrying a handkerchief instead of bringing the required box of facial tissue.

Wood also recommended the school paint athletic shower facilities with a non-skid type substance. David Kucinski expressed a similar concern.

Coe said all the non-skid devices he was familiar with provided a breeding ground for athlete's foot. He said he was unaware of the non-skid paint Wood suggested, but assured the audience he would investigate the product.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Seel appeared before the board concerning the treatment and education being offered their son, Mark.

Seel said his son needs additional help and that his son was not the only one to blame for his being suspended from school last year.

The student did not enroll for classes this year.

Coe said a special class for Mark Seel was set up to help him with his reading and mathematics.

"Your child was to blame for that being stopped," Coe said, adding he would not tolerate a student verbally abusing a faculty member.

Coe said Mark Seel was suspended with the understanding he could return to school when he had learned to act proper.

If the student is cooperative, Coe said, "You send him up here right now and we will provide a program for him."

Seel complained that his son had been threatened with a paddling if he did not pass tests which contributed to his problem.

Pat Holt, superintendent's secretary, reported the formal dedication of the high school auditorium to the memory of the late Erma Barton was scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Nov. 12.

The date was picked to make it convenient for Mrs. Barton's children to attend the ceremonies. State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday will be primary speaker.

In other action Monday night trustees voted to table the purchase of doors for the bus barn.

P-TA sets election

Officers are slated to be elected at the next meeting of the Holliday chapter of the Parent-Teacher Association.

The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Oct. 23 at the high school library, according to Joyce Rasmussen.

Included on the agenda will be approval and adoption of bylaws and the election of officers.

Membership dues also will be taken at the meeting.

District 13 PTA president John Sibley will be on hand to install the new officers.

The only membership requirement is that the dues must be paid.

For additional information persons may contact Mrs. Chuck Parker at 586-1497.

HOLLIDAY NEWS

Where's Millsap???????

The most popular topic of conversation concerning tomorrow night's Holliday-Millsap gridiron clash is not how good the Bulldogs are, but where they are.

The subject was brought up before Monday night's school board meeting, and undoubtedly some Eagle fan Friday afternoon will be scratching his head over a Texas road map trying to find where the 8 p.m. kickoff will transpire.

Millsap is located south and between Mineral Wells and Weatherford. By most estimations, it will be a 110 mile trip one-way.

The best way to reach the home turf of this District 13-A newcomer is to travel east out of Mineral Wells on U.S. 180.

About seven miles east of Mineral Wells U.S. 180 intersects with FM 113 at Cool Turn south on FM 113 to reach Millsap.

To find the stadium, you're on your own, scout.

COMING TUESDAY -- Country and western recording artist Joe Paul Nichols and His Five Pennies will present a concert here next week to benefit the Holliday Volunteer Fire Department. The concert is scheduled from 8-10 p.m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium. Recording artist Dale Lay also will appear.

Proposed '78-79 Holliday Budget

In its 1978-79 budget, the City of Holliday proposes to spend $197,243 with revenues anticipated to total $206,878.

The proposed budget was approved last week by the city council by a 4-1 vote. Councilman Mike Parker voted against the proposed budget's adoption because income and expenses from federal revenue sharing were not reflected.

A complete breakdown of the budget as adopted is given below. Percentages in parenthesis indicate increases as compared to last year's actual expenses and revenues.

BILL CLEMENTS WILL CUT TAXES AND GOVERNMENT SPENDING

Texas was built by men with the vision to look ahead and the grit to get things done. Bill Clements is the man to keep this tradition alive for the future of Texas.

Bill Clements will bring a strong, fresh and tough approach to our government in Austin. He is a businessman, not a politician.

Bill Clements started with nothing and built a successful, worldwide company with hard work and the skill to manage men and money. And now Bill Clements wants to preserve the future of our state and he wants the working people of Texas to have the same opportunities he had.

With his proposed "Taxpayers' Bill of Rights," Bill Clements is committed to protecting Texans from excessive taxation and runaway government spending. He is pledged to cutting taxes and returning that money directly to the taxpayers.

As former Chairman of the Southern Methodist University Board of Governors, Bill Clements knows how to make education in Texas the best in the Nation. He's for discipline in the classroom and "back to basics" quality education.

As the son and grandson of farmers, Bill Clements knows the frustrations that an indifferent government can cause people who make their living off the land. He will use the strength of the State Government to fight burdensome Federal restrictions.

"I believe that Texas has always had more promise than problems, but the balance is more delicate each year. We need to get to work now."

JV, Frosh sweep Burk

Holliday's junior varsity and freshman football teams made a clean sweep of Burk Burnett while the Eagle junior high teams traded wins with City View.

Today all four Eagle units will collide with Seymour. The seventh and eighth grade teams will travel to Seymour for the 6 p.m. opener, while the freshmen and JV squads will host the Panthers to a doubleheader beginning at 6 p.m.

Holliday's JV dumped Burk 22-9.

The Eagles pulled out ahead in the opening quarter when Johnny Jones ran in a TD from one yard out climaxing a 70 yard offensive effort. Larry Boydston ran in the extra points.

The Bulldogs edged ahead in the third period on a 20 yard field goal, but the Holliday offensive game opened up in the final stanza when Tony Mahan picked up a blocked Burk punt and returned it to Burk's one yard line.

Boydston scored on a one yard plunge and followed up with the extra points.

Jones clinched the game for Holliday when he scored on a 45 yard run.

Holliday's freshman team sailed past Burk 50-0.

Joe Chase began the rout with a 33 yard TD run in the first period.

Eddie Flowers ran in Holliday's second TD from two yards out in the next quarter with Mankins passing to Brad Hardin for the extra points.

Joe Chase covered 55 yards for Holliday's next TD, giving Holliday a 22-0 margin at the half.

Flowers returned a Burk Burnett kick 60 yards to open up third period scoring. Johnny Craig provided the extra points.

Flowers returned in the same period to run in a 35 yard TD with Craig good for the extra points.

Craig completed a 55 yard TD run early in the fourth quarter, and John Dyer capped Holliday's offensive effort with a two yard TD sprint.

Holliday eighth grade Eagles also came out ahead 50-0, this time over City View.

Mike Parker opened things up with a 21 yard TD sprint in the first quarter, followed by Jeff Belcher's run for the extra points.

Belcher blocked a City View punt and Kevin Lilley recovered to set up the next touchdown, this time on a five yard romp by Belcher, who also supplied the extra points.

In the second period Gill Gilbert ran in a 2 yard Eagle TD set up on a 20 yard pass from Parker to Kevin Blankenship. Belcher delivered the extra points.

Before the half had ended Parker ran in another TD from a yard out, and Gilbert lighted the scoreboard with a 54 yard TD scamper.

Brad Harmon passed to Kevin Ferguson for a 22 yard TD aerial in the third quarter, and Parker was good for the extra points.

Allen Henson ran in an Eagle TD from 10 steps out to end Holliday's scoring.

Holliday's seventh graders were edged out by City View 6-0.

Rabbit's foot figures to overcome the 13th

If the gridiron forecasters are correct, the evil spirits of Friday the 13th will succumb to coach Don Lucy's lucky rabbit's foot when he takes his Eagles to Millsap tomorrow night.

The Eagles were ranked No. 10 among Class A teams in Texas last week, according to the Harris Ratings, and are in a three-way tie with Boyd and Petrolia for the District 13-A lead.

The Eagles upended Chico 55-6 in their district opener, while Petrolia dumped Millsap 37-6 and Boyd edged out Nocona 12-6.

District standings, with season records in parentheses are as follows:

Petrolia 1-0 (4-0), Holliday 1-0 (4-1), Millsap 0-1 (3-2), Nocona 0-1 (1-4), Chico 0-1 (0-5) and Archer City 0-0 (1-3).

Big Red manhandles Chico

Holliday and Chico lived up to the expectations Friday night in a display of the good and the bad of District 13-A football.

Holliday manhandled Chico 55-6 in the conference debut.

It didn't look all that great for the Eagles in the opening seconds, however, with Holliday fumbling on the second play from scrimmage.

Faced with a fourth and four situation, the Dragons were soon forced into a punting situation, Holliday's Kent Lemons was there to foul things up for Chico, causing a fumble and a 20 yard loss for the Dragons.

With Barry Lawson at the helm, the Eagles took possession 28 yards from paydirt. Rusty McDaniel broke loose for a 22 yard gain. He picked up two more yards, then Stanley Craddock garnered another two yards before McDaniel pushed it across from a yard out.

Mark Wells split the uprights, giving Holliday a 7-0 advantage with 8:06 left in the first quarter.

Unable to claim a first down after taking Holliday's kickoff, the Dragons punted, giving the Eagles possession on their own 40 yard line.

On the running of Conray Chase, Craddock, James Porter and McDaniel, Gerry Graves guided the Eagles the distance with Chase scoring on a three yard plunge.

Wells was on target putting the Eagles out front 14-0 with 3:23 remaining in the first period.

On the next play from scrimmage Chico went to the air. Jody Collier and McDaniel had the Dragon receiver covered and Collier came down with the interception which set up Holliday's third TD. McDaniel and Porter supplied the momentum with Craddock capping the 27 yard drive on a seven yard TD plunge.

Wells' toe couldn't miss and the Eagles were ahead 21-0 as the clock showed 1:35 remaining in the initial period.

Two plays after the ensuing kickoff Chico fumbled and Graves was there to give Holliday possession 35 yards from paydirt.

Lawson hit Shayne Owen for a 32 yard aerial and Porter iced the cake with a three yard TD run.

Wells provided the PAT and with less than a half a minute left in the first quarter, the Eagles had built a 28-0 lead.

The Dragons fumbled again on their first possession and Jim Ezzell was there to recover for Holliday.

Despite a nine yard pass play from Lawson to Owen, penalties kept the Eagles from gaining a first down.

The Dragons finally earned a first down, but soon were forced to punt. Larry Denney brought the punt back up to midfield, setting up the next Eagle TD.

Freshman Ray Looney, Craddock and Chase provided the leg work with Looney capping the drive on an 11 yard touchdown sweep.

Owen missed his mark on the PAT, but the Eagles sat on top of a 34-0 margin with 4:38 left in the half.

The Dragons got a slice of luck early in the third stanza when one of Graves' passes was intercepted, but two plays later the Dragons fumbled and Lemons was there for the Eagles.

Eighty-six yards away from paydirt, the Eagles unraveled a momentous offensive effort gaining four first downs including a 30 yard gain by Chase and a 24 yard run by McDaniel. Graves capped it with a keeper from four yards out and Wells was good for the PAT. Holliday was out front 41-0 with 5:21 left in the third period.

Four plays from scrimmage later Chico again fumbled on a punt play and Chase recovered for the Eagles.

After taking Chico's punt, the Eagles scored on a 32 yard drive with Craddock crossing the goalline from three away. Wells' PAT was good, and the Eagles jumped out front 48-0 with 10:12 remaining in the contest.

Graves broke up Chico's next attempt to go to the air, but a flag on Holliday kept the Dragon offense alive.

The Dragons caught the Eagle defensive secondary looking to complete a 43 yard TD pass. Chico attempted to go for two points, but the pass missed its mark bringing the game to 48-6.

From 69 yards out,

Holliday set up housekeeping after the Chico kickoff.

Looney, Chase and Kirk Styles kept the drive alive on the ground with Looney scoring from three yards out. Wells kicked the PAT as the score stood 55-6 midway into the final stanza.

Chico's final attempt to score was ended when Joey Kincade hauled in a Dragon aerial miscue.

Everyone on coach Don Lucy's roster got into the show Friday night with Looney emerging as the leading rusher with 99 yards, followed by Chase with 97, Craddock with 86 and McDaniel with 71.

October utility bills may still reflect tax

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday said Texas homeowners and renters should not be alarmed if their October gas and electricity bills continue to carry the state and local sales tax.

"Under the law, the utility companies will continue adding the tax on their October bills if their billing cycle begins before Oct. 1," Bullock said.

The Texas Legislature voted in special session earlier this year to repeal the four percent state sales tax on residential gas and electric bills effective Oct. 1.

In addition, some 125 Texas cities have also eliminated the local-option, one percent city sales tax on those bills effective the same time.

Under the law, the repeal of the sales tax actually is effective with the start of the utility companies billing period on or after Oct. 1.

This means, Bullock explained, that a customer whose billing period is October 3 through November 3 will get advantage of the tax break as of October 3.

A customer whose billing cycle is September 25 through October 25 will continue to pay the sales tax through October 25, he said.

Bullock said that homeowners and renters needn't jump on their utility companies about the sales tax on the October bills.

"They are only following the law," Bullock said.

He said elimination of the state sales tax on gas and electric bills will save homeowners and renters $150 million a year.

The Virginia blue laws enacted in 1619 required men to dress according to their rank.

Trees, like humans, can hurt

Over-loaded pear production can result in broken branches especially on older trees. Too much fruit usually results in smaller fruit size. This condition can be overcome by pruning the trees and thinning fruit early in the spring.

W.B. Allen of Wichita Falls is pruning his older pear trees in an effort to combat the problem of broken or deformed branches caused by the weight of the fruit. His pruning method features the removal of about one-third of the fruiting branches each year and the cutting back about one-third of the growth on the remaining fruiting branches. The pruning will be performed during the dormant season - December through February. Another one-third of the old wood is removed next year.

A bud is left at the base of each fruiting branch which is removed. This allows the tree to regrow another branch next year to replace the one removed this year. This technique allows the tree to renew strong and healthy fruiting branches within three years.

The death of countless trees during the severe drought this summer has caused much concern and alarm regarding the possibility of new tree diseases causing this loss.

Observations of dead and declining trees, along with laboratory examinations of tree specimens indicate a combination of factors are involved in tree deaths.

A tree, like a human, can hurt... hurt in the sense of injury, damage or wounds, but of course not in the sense of feeling pain. A tree has ways of healing its wounds and curing, or at least living with, the wound diseases that afflict it. But often the wound provides an entry for the organisms that cause diseases, bacteria, fungi and virus. Once these organisms get into the tree, a very complex succession of events take place. The tree may die, it may decay inside or it may suffer no more damage than discoloration of its wood.

The age and condition of a tree, soil environment, root development and cultural practices all relate directly to tree vigor and ability to survive. Foliage losses due to insects or diseases can reduce tree vigor.

Weed killers applied to lawns is another factor causing root and foliage damage, thus contributing to tree decline. Adverse effects to trees are gradual and usually go unnoticed until the root system becomes stressed for lack of water or oxygen. Resulting systems then become apparent in the form of yellowing or browning of the leaves, from leaf tips and margins inward, followed by die-back of branch ends and eventual loss of limbs or the entire tree.

Proper fertilization, prompt removal of damaged branches and sealing of pruning cuts, adequate water, control of defoliating insects and leaf diseases and aeration of soil under dripline of trees when soil compaction is a problem, all help in maintaining tree vigor. Careful consideration should be given to special root aeration techniques when portions of existing root systems are to be covered with pavement or when grade levels are changed with fill soil.

Frosh win, JV loses

Iowa Park's freshmen virtually ran over Mineral Wells Thursday, 27-13, but the junior varsity was shut out 14-0.

The Frosh amassed 307 yards, 218 rushing and 89 more passing, while holding the host Rams to 177 yards, all on the ground. Iowa Park claimed three Mineral Wells fumbles, but lost one themselves.

Mineral Wells dominated the JV game, gaining 296 yards total offense while holding Iowa Park to a scant 53 yards, 40 rushing and 13 passing. Iowa Park lost the ball five times, four fumbles and one interception. The teams will host Graham in Hawk Stadium this evening, with the Frosh tilt starting at 5:30 and the JV at 7:30.

Junior teams 1-2-1 Tuesday

Iowa Park's junior high football teams traveled to Graham Tuesday and returned home with a win, two ties and a loss.

The eighth grade A squad defeated Graham 12-8, while the B unit tied Graham 6-6.

The Mean Green seventh grade A team tied Graham 0-0, and the B version was defeated by Graham 14-0.

Hawk junior high teams will host Olney next Tuesday.

Kidwell teams clinch titles

Both Kidwell teams clinched Top O' Texas zone championships with identical 8-6 victories over previously undefeated Seymour Saturday.

The clubs play Bunker Hill Saturday, and the following Saturday they will play for the league championship.

Public notices required for new air pollutants

Effective Monday (Oct. 2), a major change in the Texas Air Control Board (TACB) permit procedures to require public notification of intent to construct new sources of air pollution.

As adopted by the TACB this past spring, the rule change (Rule 131.08.00.010, Regulation VI) requires companies applying for a construction permit for a new source, or for modification of an existing source, to publicize specific information regarding the proposed facility.

The statement must run in two successive issues of a newspaper having general circulation in the area in which the source is to be located. Further, the statement must appear in both the public notice section of the paper and elsewhere in the same issue as a notice measuring at least three by five inches.

A public comment period of 30 days from the last date of publication allows interested citizens to submit written comments to the TACB concerning the permit application.

The TACB expects the new rule to broaden public participation in its permitting procedures and to help eliminate any element of surprise to citizens when a new facility is constructed in their area.

Controlling animal damage

By DEENA PATILLO

Have you ever seen those brown animals that when they come out of the ground, look like dogs? They are called prairie dogs but really belong to the ground squirrel family. Most of the time they inhabit areas that possess short grass type plants, because if the grass was too heavy or too tall, the prairie dog could not see as well as he would like.

You never see one prairie dog. They live in groups, thus giving the name "Prairie Dog Towns". A home can have several entrances, and each entrance looks similar to a miniature crater. This serves as a lookout point and also prevents flash floods in the home. Prairie dogs are most active in the morning and evening. Their diet consists mainly of low growing weeds and grasses.

It is really questionable as to whether prairie dogs cause damage. There does exist a relationship between prairie dogs and livestock. When prairie dogs move in, they eat down all the grass around their home in order to see. Because there is no grass, the livestock leave the area. As the grass gets out of control, the prairie dog leaves and the livestock move in.

Also, if the prairie dogs eat down the existing grasses, the next group of grasses may not be of as good a quality as the original grasses. Thus, there may be some competition between prairie dogs and livestock, but it has not really been proven. Prairie dogs may be in a position to damage cultivated crops also.

Under any of these circumstances, control may be needed. Strichnine can be used to control prairie dogs by placing untreated bait at the entrance of each hole until they begin regular feeding. Then place out the treated bait (1 tablespoon) at each hole for one night. Be sure to follow the directions on the Chemical Label. Carbon Tetrachloride, a type of fumigant, may be used by injecting a small amount into a dried gorde and rolling it into the hole. You can also wrap a rock with cotton and then cover it all in foil. Before closing up the foil, pour a small amount of carbon tetrachloride on the cotton.

Mold which may develop on natural cheeses is not harmful, and is easily scraped or cut from the surface.

YEAR-ROUND GRAZING

Bermuda, wheat in same field

By DON D. DECKER
County Agent

Overseeding coastal pasture with wheat is being tried by Gene Harvey at Kamay. Coastal has the disadvantage of being dormant for about six months during the winter. It is the first grass to go out in the fall and the last grass to begin growth in the spring. Overseeding with an annual winter forage can help to overcome the problem associated with the long dormancy.

Harvey is using several practices aimed at getting the wheat started in the sod. His first step was removal of all top growth by baling. Then the surface was scratched or scarified by going over the field with a tandem disc. This provided some loose soil for covering the seed. Plowing tends to retard fall regrowth of the coastal and does not damage the bermuda sod. Wheat is sowed by placing a lot of pressure on the disc springs in an effort to get the seed well covered.

Fertilization is withheld until the wheat gets established. Fertilizing too early stimulates regrowth of the bermuda rather than going for development of wheat forage. However, heavy fertilization of the wheat is essential to overseeded grazing.

When the soil is moist, Harvey has been able to drill directly into the clipped sod without plowing. When soil conditions are right, the disc can be pushed into the soil deep enough to get adequate coverage of the seed.

Most of the grazing will come late in the winter or early spring. With good fall growing conditions there can be some winter grazing. Growth retardation chemicals on the bermuda have not been tried in this area.

Frank Wolf prefers to overseed late in the winter. This provides early spring grazing which extends well into June. Late winter sowing prevents the wheat from heading later in the spring.

Cotton can be successfully grown in the Wichita Valley under irrigation according to the demonstration by Rufus King. There is a lot of pessimism in the Wichita Valley about the use of low quality irrigation water on annual cash crops. King has demonstrated proper use of the irrigation water can produce a bumper cotton crop. Boll counts on the recent cotton tour indicates his demonstration on field can be expected to yield about 1 1/2 bales per acre.

The cotton was irrigated three times. The amount of water applied was the key to minimizing the effects of the salts in the water. He applied the amount of water needed by the cotton plus an additional 25 percent more water to leach the salts out of the feeder root zone. The peak water used by the cotton plant is during peak bloom at which time it uses about 1/2 inch of water per day.

Other management practices used in King's cotton production was early land preparation, application of Prowl for grass and weed control, planting on May 20, with SP37 variety, rotary hoeing the cotton up to a stand following a heavy rain, watering three times and cultivating four times. This crop is early, and it will be ready for defoliation within a couple of weeks.

Other cotton growers in the Wichita Valley including Junior Jenkins, Gene Harvey, and Fred Daume are optimistic about the possibility of irrigated cotton.

The recent cotton tour indicated the uniform planting date on May 20, coupled with the hard winter, was very effective in cultural control of the boll weevil. The cooperation of all growers to prevent the planting of any early cotton plants for the overwintering weevils to reproduce has really paid off. Most of the cotton crop in the county was made after the early August rains. If the weevil had been present, this late crop could never have been made.

The tour also revealed there is a tendency for growers to plant cotton too thick. Best results have been obtained with two to three plants per foot.

When The Government Offers You A Tax Break, Grab It.

If you're self-employed, you can put a substantial amount of tax-deferred dollars into a retirement plan. The new maximum is 15% of your earned income, up to $7,500 a year. And you can take a current income tax deduction on amounts you set aside for retirement within these limits. A tax deduction now and a retirement income later. Sound good? And that's not all. You can select a waiver of premium benefit, so that your retirement fund will keep growing even if you become totally disabled and unable to work because of an accident or illness. If you're self-employed, talk to someone from the Rock. Find out how a Prudential tax-deferred retirement plan can help you. Talk to:

CARD OF THANKS
To all of my wonderful friends who did so many, many nice things for me and my family during my two weeks stay in the hospital, I express my deepest thanks. The lovely flowers brightened my room, the cards with their inspiring messages, visits and calls generated so much encouragement. My thanks, too, for the food that was brought in to my family. They join me in expressing gratitude.
