CLASS B SEMI-FINALS

Wheeler-Italy game slated here Friday

Two Class B football powers will meet in Hawk Stadium at 7:30 Friday night in the state semi-finals, to determine which will advance into the championship game the following weekend.

The Wheeler Mustangs, who earned the state crown in the same stadium last year, will be returning with a gaudy 11-0 record and a string of 24 consecutive victories.

Worthy opponents of the Mustangs, the Gladiators of Italy, are no newcomers to the playoffs. This is their third consecutive year to advance beyond the district level.

Both schools are expected to bring a large following. Wheeler is located 16 miles north of Shamrock. Italy is located 65 miles south of Dallas.

Wheeler, though a young team with only nine seniors on the roster (seven are starters), has been outscoring its opponents on a 10-1 basis. They've amassed 612 points while allowing only 51 by their opponents.

The Mustangs knocked off Shamrock 46-6 in the season opener and then clobbered Chillicothe 71-7. In district play they humiliated Phillips 37-7, Texline 62-0, Miami 48-0, Groom 28-0, Follett 49-18, McLean 48-0 and Booker 54-7.

Wheeler then shot down Valley 43-6 for the bi-district title, and last week shut out Jayton 26-0 to earn the quarter-final trophy.

According to new head coach Joe Allen, only three touchdowns have been scored against his starting platoon. One was on a pass, one running and the third on a kickoff return.

Italy opened the season with a 29-0 shutout over Wortham, but was set back 14-18 by Meridian in the next outing. The last non-conference game was an 8-0 decision over Grandview.

When the Gladiators got into district play, they defeated Rio Vista 22-12, Frost 35-0, Bynum 48-6, Dawson 44-8, Palmer 41-13, Scurry-Rosser 50-0 and Godley 46-0.

Italy bested Prosper 29-13 in bi-district play, and last week in the quarter finals put down Robert Lee 28-14, giving them 392 points on the season against 84.

The Gladiators tied Era in bi-district, 26-26, and lost on penetrations. But the year before they edged Era 8-3 and then lost to Gorman 14-6 in the quarterfinal.

Physically, Wheeler looks to be the larger of the two clubs, with nine players over 180 pounds. Oddly, the four largest Mustangs are underclassmen. One is a 220-pound freshman. The other three are sophomores, one 220 and the other two at 200.

Wheeler has 39 players on its roster.

Among the 27 players listed by Italy, only five are 180 pounds or heavier, and the two heaviest are 194-pound seniors.

College credit courses to be offered here

College credit courses and non-credit continuing education courses have been scheduled by Vernon Regional Junior College for the spring semester in Iowa Park.

The American political system will be taught on Monday at 6:30 p.m. by Phillip Anderson, who taught for several years at Holliday High School and who has taught for VRJC on a part-time basis for the past two years. Real Estate Law also scheduled for Monday at 6:30 p.m. will be taught by Carol Campbell, a Wichita Falls attorney.

Credit courses scheduled for Tuesday evenings include horticulture, real estate principles and practices, and general psychology. Horticulture will be taught by Jimmy Howell an Iowa Park horticulture instructor.

Real estate principles and practices will be taught by Don Campbell, a Wichita Falls real estate broker, and general psychology will be taught by Silvia Mahler from Iowa Park, who is employed as a psychologist at Vernon Center.

Registration for the college credit courses is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Jan. 11 at Iowa Park High School. Two college credit courses (six credit hours) may be taken for $50.

Two non-credit continuing education business courses are also scheduled to meet at Iowa Park High School. Basic bookkeeping, taught by Jim Hall, CPA from Wichita Falls, will meet from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Mondays beginning Jan. 7 and ending May 10. Beginning Typing II, taught by Barbara Brewer from Electra, will meet from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Thursdays beginning Jan. 18 and ending May 10. The registration fee for each of the two business courses is $5. Interested persons may register in advance with Harold Cowley at the Iowa Park School Administration Building or by calling Dr. Jim Fritze, VRJC Continuing Education Administrator at (817) 723-0921.

No grades will be given, but persons completing the continuing education courses will have Continuing Education Units (CEUs) recorded on a permanent record in the office of the Registrar. CEUs do not constitute academic credit and are not intended to meet the requirements for college degrees. However, CEUs allow organizations and professions a standard unit of measurement by which they may grant the proper credit to their members for participating in continuing education programs.

Safety Council views engineering plan

The Citizens Traffic Safety Council Tuesday night reviewed the preliminary copy of a recently completed traffic engineering plan.

The 90-page document prepared by an Austin consulting engineering firm includes eight sections with surveys and growth projections ranging from traffic control devices, accident analysis, railroad crossings and pedestrian safety.

It was the consensus of council members to study the document until its next meeting, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Jan. 4. At that time the citizens advisory group will solidify its recommendations to be forwarded to the Iowa Park City Council.

Also at Tuesday night's meeting, Steve Morath, city administrator, told council members that federal money is available for city governments needing assistance to correct roadway problems.

Funding would be available on a 70-30 basis, Morath said, with the federal government financing 70 percent of the project with the city picking up the remaining 30 percent tab.

Morath said even if one of Iowa Park's projects was approved for federal funding, it would bind the city into accepting if local finances are not available.

The council instructed Morath to apply for the grant, listing as priorities:

-The reconstruction of the intersection at Pacific and Alameda to improve vertical alignment and straighten the route of FM 368 north of West Highway. Total cost is estimated at $50,000.

-Construction of sidewalks on S.

Student not seriously injured

An Iowa Park High School student narrowly escaped serious injury last Thursday when he sustained an electrical shock while playing on the practice football field.

Russell Willingham was admitted to Sheppard AFB Regional Hospital after the incident, but was back in school Monday morning, said Principal Bob Dawson.

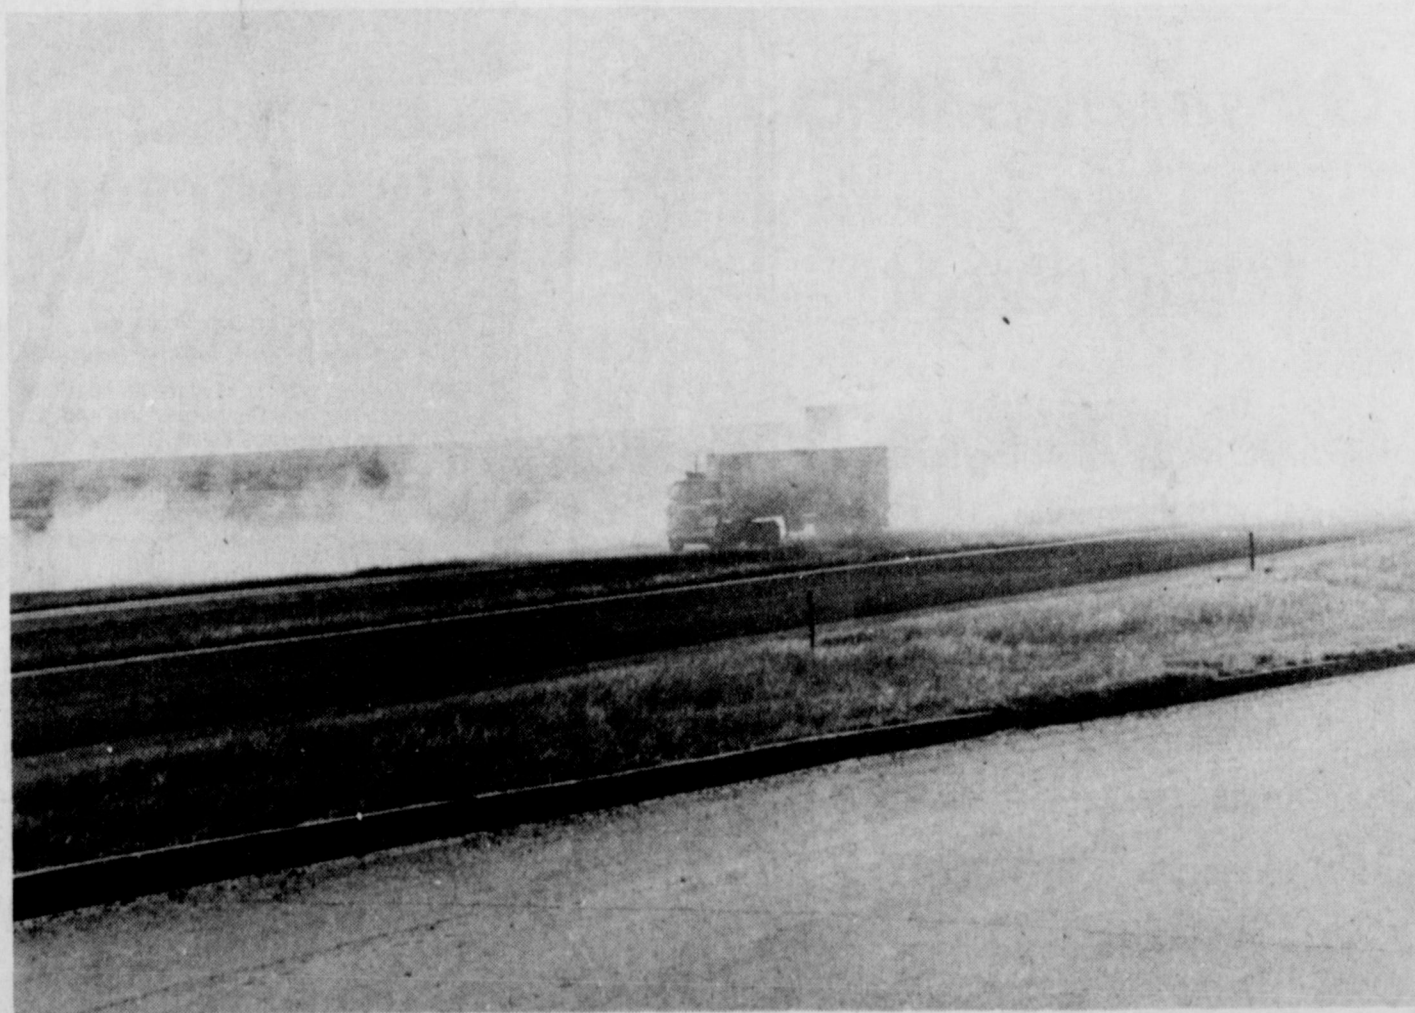

Dawson said Willingham was on the practice football field playing with a large section of irrigation pipe shortly after noon last Thursday.

Texowa, S. Victoria and Diamond to provide greater safety for children walking to Bradford School.

Willingham was trying to balance a section of the pipe on its end when it came into contact with an electrical highline.

The incident also resulted in a grass fire west of the high school where Iowa Park volunteer firemen battled the blaze whipped by strong southerly winds.

Iowa Park police also were called to the scene to help direct traffic through the thick smoke that encumbered motorists traveling in the southbound lanes of U.S. 287.

BLOWING SMOKE - A semi tractor-trailer rig emerges from a thick cloud of smoke covering U.S. 287 west of Iowa Park Thursday afternoon. Firefighters were busy fighting the grass fire west of Iowa Park High School which was started when a student sustained an electrical shock from a power line while playing in the high school practice football field.

Permits near record total

Though November was considered a good month for building permits issued at city hall, the total for December must be somewhat higher to break the all-time record for the year.

Three permits accounted for most of the $102,500 in permits issued last month. Two were for homes and one for a commercial building addition.

November's permits brought the year's total to $1,622,955, only $112,795 shy of the 1962 record of $1,735,750. Through the first 11 months of 1977 permits had amounted to $1,202,036.

Permits issued during November included:

- J.O. McCullough, State National Bank, addition, $30,000;
- Bill Swann, 1303 Blue Jay, new residence, $35,000;
- Bill Swann, 1305 Blue Jay, new residence, $35,000;
- Richard Schroeder, 521 W. Clara, $800;
- Durwood Martin, 811 Vogel, storage shed and patio, $1,000;
- Fredrick Eke, 1009 Van Horn, storage shed, $700.

Cook of the Week

It is apropos that some of the recipes shared by Mrs. Fred Hinrichs this week suggest that it is time to start thinking of Christmas baking. This comes easily and naturally with her since one of her talents is baking and decorating cakes for Christmas, weddings, birthdays and many occasions. In fact, she is now taking orders for Christmas baking.

Her Kris-Kringle cut-out cookies remind us that Christmas cookies are a specialty in the homes of almost every family in America. But they have been for many years, and still are, an important part of the Yuletide celebration in many lands.

Since Mrs. Hinrichs' husband is of German heritage, it is interesting to observe that the Germans are noted for their delicious Christmas cookies and the housewives take great pains in their preparation.

Almost every community has its own favorite kind of cookie. In Saxony, for instance, the long narrow cookies called "stollen", full of currants and sprinkled with sugar, are most popular. In the city of Hamburg, spice and honey and gingerbread cookies are the favorites. Some places are known for Christmas loaves called "Christstollen", bursting with crispy crusts with fruit, citron and nuts.

Susan Hinrichs was graduated from Tascosa High School in Amarillo and North Texas State University with a degree in music education, voice being her major instrument and piano her minor.

She and her husband were married in Germany when he was in the Air Force. He is now mechanical foreman for the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad. They are two-year residents of Iowa Park.

Mrs. Hinrichs is a member of the sanctuary choir at Faith Baptist Church where the family are members. She also teaches a Sunday School class of high school age and belongs to the Woman's Missionary Union. She gives voice and piano lessons and belongs to the Modern Music Study Club. Her hobbies are headed by music. Others are baking, cake decorating, sewing and crocheting.

The couple's children are Troy 10, a student at Kidwell Elementary School, J.J., four years old, and Jennifer, six months.

Vial of Life program designed to be helpful

The local chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons has voted to sponsor the Vial of Life program, which is being used extensively across the country, for a 1979 project. As chairman of community service in the chapter, Mrs. T.M. Clark will be the person in charge, and Mrs. Margaret Archer will be publicity chairman.

Vial of Life forms are now being distributed to senior citizens' centers and AARP members in Wichita Falls and will be distributed in Iowa Park Jan. 10-11 from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church.

The filling out of the form requires name, address, name of doctor, hospital preferred, insurance carried, person to notify in case of emergency, data for medication being taken and descriptions of allergies and others.

The form is then deposited into a vial and placed inside the refrigerator in a prominent place. The information would be most valuable to paramedics, doctors, neighbors, firemen, policemen if a person is found unconscious. People who live alone can especially benefit from filling in the form and placing it in a vial. Along with the forms will be brightly-colored, easy-to-see identification stickers which can be placed anywhere to let others know that there is a vial in the house.

Humor 'n Whimsey

Joe Riordan

It's a wonder Dick and I ever became close friends. We are really opposites. He is tall, slender, and has a doctorate degree in the field of mass communications. On the other hand, I am medium in height, stylishly stout and was once offered a refund of all my college tuition if I would return my diploma.

In addition to these differences -- Dick is a man who loves sailboats. I not only loathe boats and water sports -- I can get seasick crossing a bridge over the Pecos River during a drought.

So now, he writes a letter to say he plans to compete in a sailboat race from Los Angeles to Honolulu. Not only that -- he had the audacity to invite me along on the trip.

The letter was written in jest -- I am sure. This is because Dick knows that I heard the story about his last sailboat race across the Pacific. In addition to burning sun and frightening storms -- one of the boats in this convoy of sea-going masochists sank to the bottom. While the crew was rescued without injury or death -- a $60-thousand sailboat became part of the armada which makes up Davy Jones' fleet.

In addition, he reported the crew went for days without hot food, rest, or the proper bathing facilities required by civilized people. "When we finally arrived in Honolulu," he said, "we looked like something Jonah's whale had thrown back. We were cold, wet, dirty and half seasick. In addition, we were depressed because of the loss of Charles' sailboat."

So, now my good friend invites me to make a trip like this. Of course, I plan to refuse. With my luck I would sink and the boat would make it to Hawaii.

However, I'm going to offer a counter proposal.

"Dick," I will say by return mail, "here is how you can get the same results as before and never leave home. Don't eat anything but water-logged bologna sandwiches. Turn the stereo up so loud you can't possibly sleep. And then to achieve the final effect which a voyage like the one you suggested provides -- throw one hundred dollar bills down the toilet."

Christmas seal display slated

A collection of 72 years of Christmas Seals will be displayed at First Wichita National Bank in Wichita Falls from Dec. 1 to 29. The exhibit, which is the property of Roy P. Thompson of Wichita Falls, will be on view in the bank lobby from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Thompson's collection contains seals dating from the first year of issue, 1907. Since that time the seals, issued annually by the American Lung Association, have played an important part in the Association's campaigns to raise funds for the fight against lung disease.

Piggly Wiggly store is sold

The Piggly Wiggly store in Iowa Park has been sold, according to information given employees through their union.

Employees reportedly were told Piggly Wiggly will continue operating the store here through Dec. 30, at which time it will be closed for takeover by the new owners.

Though it has not been yet confirmed, the JRB chain, headquartered in Brownwood, has purchased the Piggly Wiggly stores in Iowa Park, Burkburnett and Olney, according to reports.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

It's had enough when the federal government tells us what and how we must do and live, but when the government's directions are completely out of reality and in touch with the world, it is sadly humorous.

Two glaring cases came to light during the past week.

The first was when the head of HEW said the schools of medicine should slow down on turning out physicians because the nation was facing an excess of doctors. The second was when EPA told Hereford it had too much fluoride in its drinking water.

HEW chief Califano indicated, to those of us in this part of the country anyway, just how far out of touch with reality he really is, when he said a slowdown on producing doctors was necessary.

It is obvious he knows absolutely nothing about the tremendous shortage of doctors that actually threatens medical care in some parts of the southwest.

No one apparently has informed Califano that hospitals in Texas are importing physicians from India, the Philippines, Viet Nam and anyplace else they can be found to join local staffs. Communities are financing many of these doctors not only to move, but during their required studies so they can qualify to practice in the United States.

There are a number of hospitals and many more clinics in Texas which have been closed, because no doctors are available to staff them.

Right here at Park Clinic, they've been recruiting, without success, for another family practice doctor ever since Dr. Gordon Clark retired some four years ago.

The Environmental Protection Agency has determined that Hereford's water, containing 2.4 milligrams of fluoride per litre is too much. It should be 1.8, where some parts of the country only 1.2 parts are allowed.

Apparently the EPA has never heard of Hereford's slogan "The Town Without A Toothache", much less read the intensive study carried out by the American Dental Association in the late 1930s.

A Hereford dentist, who by the way was a relative of Floyd Heard of Iowa Park, discovered and, with the assistance of the ADA, proved there were no healthier teeth in the world than those of Hereford natives.

The cause was determined to be the local underground source of water.

I attended school there right after the study was completed, and saw films made of the study. I know for a fact none of the children who were born and raised there ever had a toothache. For that matter, those who practiced the minimal dental care of daily brushing even developed cavities.

But it's apparently unhealthy to have healthy teeth.

If the city of Hereford fails to win its fight with the EPA, it will be forced to spend millions on equipment to remove the excessive amount of fluoride in the water.

I guess then those doctors who will be in excess can take additional dental training and move to Hereford, and take care of the poor teeth they'll have.

Auto burglaries reported here

Iowa Park police investigated two auto burglaries earlier this week.

Kenn Kuckenbecker reported the burglary of his vehicle Tuesday at 394 E. Texas. Stolen from his vehicle was a brief case, books, candy, pens and pencils valued at $70.

Kuckenbecker notified police Tuesday afternoon that his brief case had been located in Gordon Lake. The candy, pens and pencils were missing, and the brief case and the remainder of the contents were damaged by water.

On Monday police received a report that a pickup truck had been burglarized at Bates Chevrolet, 216 N. Yosemite.

Four wheel covers and two side rails valued at $193.50 were taken, according to police reports.

"Last year, using lignite coal saved Texas Electric's customers $48 million. It's a step in the right direction."

"Prior to 1972, Texas Electric made all your electricity by burning natural gas and oil. By last year, lignite coal had replaced gas as boiler fuel for about a third of this. In dollars and cents, here's what that meant to you, our customers:

The cost of lignite burned in 1977 was about $20.5 million. Had that same amount of electricity been generated using natural gas at then-current market prices, it would have cost $107.7 million. That's $87.2 million more than the lignite cost!

Even after deducting the annual cost of the new lignite plants, Texas Electric saved its customers $48.4 million last year because of the switch to lignite.

And that's just the beginning. As gas prices continue to rise, Texas Electric plans to become less and less dependent on this increasingly scarce fuel. By 1983, lignite coal and nuclear-fueled plants are scheduled to provide more than half of our customers' electricity.

It gets harder all the time to provide dependable, economical electricity. But this has always been Texas Electric's goal. And it always will be."

W. N. HOUSE, Manager, Phone 592-4149

Texas Electric engineer Damon Holditch: "We burn 55 pounds of lignite to generate the electricity to run a three-ton air conditioner for a day."

Street repairs given priority

The Holliday City Council Monday night reiterated its concern over deteriorating streets and approved a change in its personnel policy.

Water Supt. James Sellers was called to the meeting to re-emphasize upon him the need for street repairs.

Although the council approved a plan several weeks ago whereby high school boys can be used on Saturdays to help regular city workers repair streets, Sellers was told not to delay the street work until Saturdays when the high school boys are available.

Sellers, who supervises all the city's general maintenance employees, said bad weather and other projects have delayed efforts to patch chug holes.

The council reiterated its stand that garbage collection and major water leaks are the only items to receive priority over street repairs during good weather.

Also at Monday night's regular meeting the council voted to enact a policy that if an employee gives two weeks notice of leave and resigns his post with the city, that he can return with reinstated longevity within two weeks after he left.

Whether or not to bill consumers for not needed garbage collection created a split in councilmen's thinking Monday night.

It was reported that Kenneth Addison operates a small shop here. His operation does not need garbage collection and he uses less than the minimum allowance of water monthly. Addison requested the city not bill him for garbage collection since he doesn't need it.

Councilmen Mike Parker and Mary Denney voted to cease billing Addison for the trash pickup he doesn't receive. Aldermen Melvin Bills and Fred Maier voted against the idea, fearing the council will be flooded with similar requests.

The tie vote was broken by Mayor Pro Tem Jim Virdell, who sided with Parke and Denney "since we do not pickup his trash."

Mayor Ben Ezzell was absent from Monday night's meeting.

Councilmen also approved a $50 Christmas bonus for employees who had been with the city for at least a year and a $25 bonus for employees who have worked for the city less than a year.

A stolen boat recovered by Holliday police whose owner never claimed it will be sold by sealed bids, the council decided. Bid opening will be 10 a.m. Jan. 12 at city hall.

Councilmen approved the extension of a six inch water line to a new home being built by T.H. Stone and approved the purchase of 12 new water meter boxes.

Parker Savings applies for branch in Holliday

Parker Square Savings and Loan Association has filed an application for a branch office in Holliday.

A spokeswoman for the financial institution said she could add little to information contained in a legal notice published in a Wichita Falls newspaper.

She did not indicate a proposed site or opening date. The spokeswoman said initial hearing on the application is scheduled for 9 a.m. Jan. 2 at the Texas Savings and Loan Department in Austin.

Contingent on possible protests and additional hearings, she said outcome of the request would be held in limbo until after the first of the year.

Worth Quoting

I'm tired -- and have been for quite a while. In fact, I think I can pinpoint the exact minute at which I first felt the weariness begin. I had been teaching for three years at a community college. I had, for quite a while, overlooked ignorance, dismissed arrogance, championed fairness, emphasized laziness. I was, in short, the classic modern educator.

One day a student, Marylou Simmons, dropped by my office. She had not completed a single assignment and had missed perhaps 50 percent of her classes. Her writing, what little I saw of it, was illogical, grammatically incorrect and sloppy. "Can I help you, Marylou?" I said cheerily, ever the understanding and forgiving teacher.

Her lips began to tremble; her eyes grew teary. It seemed she had been having trouble with her boyfriend. "I'm sorry, but what can I do?" I asked. Suddenly all business, Marylou said, "Since I've been so unhappy, I thought you might want to just give me a D or an incomplete on the course."

She smiled encouragingly, even confidently. That's when the weariness set in, the moment at which I turned into a flaming conservative in matters educational. Whatever Marylou's troubles, I suddenly saw that I was not the cause, nor was I about to be the solution.

When I read about declining SAT scores, the "functional illiteracy" of our students, the namby-pamby courses, the army of child psychologists, reading aides, educational liaisons, stary-eyed administrators and bungling fools who people our school systems, my heart sinks.

Public schools abide mediocre students; put 18-year-olds, who can't decide what to wear in the morning, into independent study programs; excuse every absence under the sun, and counsel, counsel, counsel. A youngster in my own school system got into a knife fight and was expelled for one week. I noticed in the paper that bus drivers regularly see riders smoking marijuana and drinking wine on the bus at, for God's sake, eight in the morning. I could go on, but the public knows well enough the effect of a system of education gone awry.

Consider for a moment what caused the mess. A few years ago people began demanding their rights. Fair enough. They wanted equal education under the law. I'm for it. Social consciousness was born. Right on. Now, enter the big wrong turn, the one that sent our schools into never-never land. We suddenly, naively, believed that by offering equal opportunities we could (1) make everybody happy, (2) make everybody well-adjusted, (3) forgive everybody who failed, and (4) expect gratitude to boot.

When students were surly, uncooperative, whiny and apathetic, educators decided they themselves didn't know how to teach. So they made it easier on the poor, disadvantaged victims of broken homes, the misfits, the unloved. Well and good.

But the catch to such lofty theories is evident. Poverty, ignorance and just plain orneriness will always abound. We look for every reason in the world for the declining test scores of our children, except for stupidity and laziness.

I'm perfectly aware that I sound like an old curmudgeon and it frightens me more than it offends you. But I have accepted what educators can't seem to face. The function of schools, their first and primary obligation, is not to probe tender psyches, to feed and clothe the homeless, nor to be the papa and mama a kid never had. The job is to teach.

The teacher's job is to know his subject, inside out, backward, forward and every which way. Nothing unnerves a student more than to have a teacher who doesn't know his or her stuff. Incompetence they cannot abide. Neither can I.

Before educators lost their way and tried to diversify by getting into the business of molding human beings, a teacher was, ideally, someone who knew a certain body of information and conveyed it. Period. Remember crochety old Miss Dinwiddie, who could recite 40 lines of the "Aeneid" at a clip? Picture Mr. Wassleheimer, who could give a zero to a cheating student without pausing in his lecture on frog dissection. Every student knew that it wasn't wise to mess around with a teacher who had the subject down cold. They were the teachers we once despised and later admired.

I want them back, those fearsome, awe-inspiring experts. I want them back because they knew what a school was for and didn't waste any time getting on with the task at hand. They were hard, even at times unjust, but when they were through, we knew those multiplication tables blinfolded with both trembling hands tied behind our backs.

Before the schoolmasters and the administrators change, they will have to shake off the guilt, the simpering, apologetic smiles and the Freudian theories. Which is crueler? Flunking a kid who has flunked or passing a kid who has flunked? Which teaches more about the realities of life? Which, in fact, shows more respect for the child as a human being?

Just today I talked to a big loud bruiser of a football player who wants to learn the basics of grammar. I didn't tell him it was too late. You see, he was a very, very good football player, so good that he never failed a course in high school. He had written on a weekly theme, "I want to go to the prose and come fames."

He may become a pro, may even become famous, but he will probably never read a good book, write a coherent letter or read a story to his children. I will, however, flunk him if he does not learn the material in the course. My job means too much to me to sacrifice my standards and turn soft. Suppose that every time my student played football badly, the coach said it was "just a game." Suppose the coach allowed him to drink booze, stay up all night, eat poorly and play sloppily. My student would be summarily dismissed from the team or the team would lose the game. So it goes with academic courses.

The young people are interested, I think, in taking their knocks, just as adults must take theirs. Students deserve a fair chance, and, failing to take advantage of that chance, a straightforward dismissal. It has been said that government must guarantee equal opportunity, not equal results. I like that. Through the theoretical fog that has clouded our perceptions and blanketed our minds, we know what is equitable and right.

Mother put it another way. She always said, "Life is real; life is earnest." Incidentally, she taught me Latin and never gave me air in a jug. I had to breathe on my own. So do we all.

LVN patient care backbone

"Licensed Vocational Nurses are the backbone of patient care," so say hospital and Nursing Home administrators. At the L.V.N.A. convention of Texas, recently held in Wichita Falls, Mrs. Margaret Jarrett, R.N., MEd, director of Bethania School of Vocational Nursing (administered from Vernon Regional Junior College) who gave the keynote address, stated, "We cannot keep up with the demand for competent LVNs."

These two statements constitute a summary of the status of Licensed Vocational Nurses in our community, as well as in the nation.

Prepared by a one calendar year intensive course of study, the LVN today can almost choose her own preference as to for whom she will work, and the Where is a wide open field from Florida to Hawaii, Maine to California. Bedside nursing skills are augmented with some administrative duties as well as the dispensing of medications. In many areas, the LVN is the sole source of nursing care.

Forty seven out of 1500 schools of Vocational/Practical Nursing in the United States are nationally accredited by the National Association of Practical Nurses Education and Service. Bethania School of Vocational Nursing, located at Bethania Hospital and administered by Vernon Regional Junior College is one of these 47.

Seventy-six students are now enrolled in this school, with 45 of them due to graduate in January 1979. At that time, another class of students will be admitted.

SAVE TAX DOLLARS AND EARN 8% TAX FREE INCOME, TOO.

THE INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT PLAN FOR EMPLOYED PERSONS WITHOUT A PENSION PLAN

If you have no other retirement program you can set aside up to $1500 per year (15% of your gross earned income) in an IRA account and earn 8% per annum (Yield 8.33%) tax free. You pay no tax on principal or earnings until you reach retirement age and withdraw the funds. By then, you are probably in a lower income tax bracket.

If your spouse is not employed outside the home, you can deposit an additional $250 (total deposit of $1750) deductible from your 1978 income tax return.

THE KEOGH RETIREMENT PLAN FOR SELF EMPLOYED PERSONS

You may deposit up to $7,500.00 (or 15% of your earned income, which ever is less) each year. You may deduct that from your earned taxable income. We pay you 8% (effective yield 8.33%). No tax on principal or interest until you retire and start drawing the money.

Weather ideal for greenbugs

By DON D. DECKER
 County Agent
 Cool nights and warm days - the ideal ingredients for the increase in greenbug populations. Some wheat growers have already sprayed for the control of this pest and others will want to keep a watch on their fields as long as these weather conditions continue. The infestations appear to be more serious to the south of Wichita Falls. For example, Robert Wolf of Windthorst has just sprayed one of his fields. Wheat can tolerate some greenbugs without causing economic damage. This young wheat can stand up to 25 to 50 greenbugs per linear foot before plants warrant treatment.

We normally consider greenbugs to be an early spring pest, however, these spring-like weather conditions can bring on a late fall problem. In checking fields growers will want to wait until the temperature is above 50 degrees, making sure the greenbugs are on the plants rather than at the soil line. Spraying is also recommended at temperatures above 50 degrees.

Recommended chemicals include Cygon, De-Fend, DiSyston, Methyl Parathion, and Parathion. Most of our aerial applicators use a Methyl - Ethyl Parathion mixture. Several livestock producers in the area are interested in becoming certified as a private applicator for using M-44's in the control of coyotes, after participating in the recent Coyote Control Field Day.

A private applicator certificate meeting and test for M-44's is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Research and Extension Center near Vernon. Those who complete the training and testing will be certified by the Texas Department of Agriculture to purchase sodium cyanide or potassium cyanide capsules to be used in the spring loaded M-44 for coyote control.

The M-44 certification is the only testing being offered at this session. Approximately 64 stockmen received in-depth training on the use of the M-44 along with traps and snares at the recent coyote control field day. However, this training did not certify them as private applicators to purchase the pesticide for the M-44. The training received will enable most of the participants to complete the testing satisfactorily.

The Texas Department of Agriculture now has a Ranch Scale Testing Unit available to livestock producers in Wichita County. Certified scales can be particularly helpful to stocker cattle producers who sell their cattle using the ranch scale weights.

A seal will be affixed to the ranch scales which meet the requirements of the Texas Weights and Measures Law and Handbook 44. The cost of testing is $10. If the scales do not meet the necessary requirements, there will be no charge.

You can send your request for this service to the Texas Department of Agriculture, 2004 4th Street, Lubbock, Texas 79415, telephone 806-747-1656.

Vo-Ag popular among students

Vocational Agriculture apparently is the most popular course offered at Iowa Park High School.

During a presentation on the department at the Noon Lions Club meeting Tuesday, Jimmy Howell said 113 students are enrolled. That means one out of every seven students at IPHS is in Vo-Ag.

Howell presented a film slide view of department activities, including production, horticulture and cooperative programs.

Additionally, Howell said students have held a record of 100 percent membership in the Future Farmers of America organization.

With Howell as instructors are Dennis Brooks, who instructs production, and Jerry Gholson, coop and production. Howell instructs horticulture.
