

FUEL SHORTAGE

Local stations hit with allocations, prices

Gasoline could become hard to find, and will certainly be increasing in price, in Iowa Park during the coming months.

All service stations are now on an allocation from their suppliers, though the basis of allocation varies from one supplier to another.

Basically, what the service station operators say is that they can handle their present customers, but some will find it hard to take on any new business.

Some stations in the community have already experienced the frustration of having sold out their reserves and had to close, though few stayed closed long.

What the operators are saying is that they will take care of their regular customers, and when they start running low, they will start dosing earlier in the day, and possible on Saturdays along with Sundays.

Jim Sargent at E&S Exxon said his supplier notified him of being on an allocation Mar. 16. He is to receive 90 percent of his purchases for the same month in 1978.

E&S has the lowest prices in town. Sargent explains that he maintains his same margin of profit, passing through only the increases his supplier makes. Though he has no self-service pumps, his prices are 66.9 regular, 69.9 unleaded and 72.9 high test.

Price has brought a landslide business to the Exxon station, forcing Sargent to state that he must now start holding back so much of each week's allocation for the government diets and retail businesses who regularly trade with him, as well as his regular customers.

Sargent receives shipments Monday, Wednesday and Friday. After running out Saturday, he closed Sunday. Within an hour and a half of receiving his supply Monday morning, he had sold 1,050 gallons of gasoline, what is normally considered a good full day of business for most service stations. It is also close to what he gets per load.

Sargent said he would start restricting sales to the public to 1,000 gallons per day. The rest would be saved for such customers as the post office, fire department, police department, ASCS and several commercial customers.

The station will be closed on Sundays, but will continue staying open 7-8 weekdays and 7-6 Saturdays.

Some Exxon dealers in Wichita Falls have not received any gasoline since March 16, having already received and sold their entire month's allotment, Sargent said.

What the operator fears most is reaction to a customer who is refused service after another customer, who buys there regularly, is serviced. "When you get to the point where you can't take care of your regular customers, you're in trouble," he said.

Iowa Park School District buys its gasoline in bulk from Gulf. The school is allocated gasoline on the basis of its 1977-78 school year purchases, according to a notice received two weeks ago, says Bill Steger, who oversees the transportation department.

Gulf has raised the price of bulk gasoline about seven cents since the start of school, and more increases are expected.

Mobile put its station customers on an allocation the first of March, according to Leroy Foix. Stations are also allocated on the basis of purchases made a year before.

Though he barely will have enough to finish this week out, Foix said he could. But he added if he picks up any new customers, he probably will not have enough to keep up with his regular customers.

Mobile has been increasing its prices twice a month regularly for the past three months. Increases have mostly been a cent per gallon at a time, but once it was five cents.

All but the last two increases have been passed on to the customers, Foix told the Leader. He absorbed the last two.

Self service price for Mobile regular is 69.9 cents, and 73.9 premium grade. Full service price is 74.9 regular and 77.9 at his only unleaded pump.

To control his supply, Foix says he will probably close earlier in the evenings and probably on Saturdays, if he starts running short. That hasn't happened yet, he added.

Junior's Conoco allocation is based on 1972 purchases, and for that reason the station is in good shape. Junior said Johnson Elevator was running strong that year, buying from him, and for the reason he has had no problem running short of supply.

Conoco went up a penny per gallon last week and again yesterday morning. The local station now charges 76.9 per gallon unleaded and 71.9 regular.

Ayres Fina on Johnson Road has been put on a 75 percent allocation of last year's purchases, and the station ran out of regular gas Monday.

Ron Carpenter said "I don't know how bad it's going to get or whether it will loosen up next month. Hopefully we will be able to allocate to the rest of our customers so we don't run out again."

Fina has not put wholesale customers on an allocation as yet. The station had a price increase Tuesday on both gasoline and diesel. One-cent increases were imposed on Ayres twice earlier this month and twice in February.

"It looks worse now than in did in 1974," commented Jack Ayres. He pointed out the nine percent OPEC increase which will cause a two-cent hike for finished gasoline products.

Ayres also said he felt he could supply his regular customers, but will not take on any new customers.

CROSS ARMS IN PLACE - Protective railroad crossing equipment was recently installed at the Johnson Road crossing of the railroad. It was funded by a federal agency for rural road crossings. That intersection is outside the Iowa Park city limits. Mayor Johnny Crawford said he was as yet unaware of any plans by the railroad to install similar crossing protective devices at the other crossings inside the city.

Council promises to condemn burnt home

An appeal to the city council Monday night to have a partially destroyed home condemned and cleared away received a response of understanding and a pledge of quick action.

Janice Glass asked council members for help in having the former home of Howard Hill on Hope Lane, destroyed in a fire last July, leveled. She alleged the remains had become rat infested and was creating a hazard for young children in the neighborhood.

Council members were told contact had been made months earlier with former city administrator Gene Britton but nothing had yet come of it.

Steve Morath, city administrator, told council members a minimum of 120 days is required for legal action, which entails hearings and notices.

It was pointed out, however, that the time could possibly be shortened through the health hazard angle, and the city health officer, Dr. Earl Watson, would be contacted in an effort to clear the land in less time.

No one present at the meeting said they had seen a member of the Hill family since the fire.

OTHER BUSINESS

Aldermen accepted a bid to sell the city's wrecked police car, authorized Mayor Johnny Crawford to sign agreements seeking park assistance funds, and approved an ordinance changing due and delinquent dates of the utility billing.

After twice rejecting bids on the wrecked patrol car, aldermen approved sale of the vehicle to Deryl

James Garage for $750, which was approximately $200 higher than any bid rejected. One other bid was received from Shaw Ford for $600.

The park planning assistance funds will be sought from Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, which is available to communities in the state under 7,500 population for securing public park land, implementing public park development projects, and budgeting assistance for development of public park land.

The council was told by Morath that the funds would be sought for assistance in implementing development projects for existing parks as opposed to securing additional park land.

The revised billing ordinance now reads: "Such taxes and charges hereby fixed and prescribed shall be paid monthly by the users of the waterworks and the sanitary sewer system to the city administrator and shall carry a due date of 15 days after the billing date. If such bill has not been paid by the billing date of the succeeding month's bill, then the succeeding month's service will be discontinued without further notice unless full payment is made on or before the due date of the second month's bill."

Council members received a bill from Wichita Falls attorney Perry Westbrook in the amount of $1,457, for his representation of the city in a suit brought by John Foley.

The case was referred to Westbrook by City Attorney O.N. Newman, due to his own case load, aldermen were told.

The suit concerns alleged city negligence in maintaining its water mains and caused damage to the pavement of the Johnson Road Jiffy shortly after the pavement was laid.

Westbrook, in a letter, said he felt the city could settle with Foley for $1,000, but in his opinion the city could win the case in court, if council members wanted to undertake more expensive action.

Mayor Crawford sought, and received, permission from aldermen to talk with Foley and offer to drop the suit at this point, with each side paying its own legal expenses.

Virgil Woodfin approached the council once more to complain that Carl Catlin was not complying with his agreement to properly operate his concrete business on East Jefferson, and asked that the city cancel Catlin's lease to operate on city property.

Upon studying Catlin's contract with the city, Crawford said the contract was apparently void, as it had expired last March. He told Woodfin no action could be taken at the meeting, because it was not on the agenda, but it would be at the next meeting.

Woodfin told the council "I fell like I've been very patient. I brought this up some two years ago and it's no better now than it was then. If the city doesn't take any action, then I'm going to have to go to higher authority."

He was referring to seeking help from the Environmental Protection Agency to stop the blowing of cement dust onto his property.

Early in the meeting, Donald Hill was presented a plaque from the city for his many years service on the Planning and Zoning Board.

Juvenile charged in pickup theft

An Iowa Park juvenile was booked Sunday in connection with the theft of a pickup truck.

The police report said officers recovered the pickup here. It had been stolen in Petrolia.

Two other juveniles also were questioned concerning the theft, and all three were released to their parents, the police report said.

On Friday police received a report that a tool box and tools had been stolen from the bed of a pickup parked at 706 W. Manes.

Last Thursday police investigated the theft of a newspaper rack from the Quickie Food Store at 208 James.

Certification completed by volunteer firemen

Eighteen members of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department now have their firefighter's certificates under a new program required by the state.

Fourteen members have averaged 210 hours of instruction, well above the 162 hours required by the state.

The other four received their certifications under the "grandfather" clause, having been members five or more years.

Also, in updating department qualifications, two members, Paul Shea and Dewayne McKee, are enrolled in an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) course at Midwestern State Univ., and will graduate the 200-hour course in May. One member, Doug Davidson, is election, very few plan to go to the polls April 7 to vote in the city and school elections.

As of noon Wednesday, only nine absentee ballots had been cast in the school trustee election, and none in the city council race.

Tuesday is the deadline to vote absentee in either election.

Ithama Jolly, absentee election judge for the city, said she had received no absentee ballots, and knew of only one voter who might be intending to use one by deadline time.

Three trustees and three aldermen will be voted on in the election.

Contesting incumbents Bill Spruiell and Martha Dudley in the school election are former trustee Roy Boutwell, Bud Mercer, John Stewart, Dan Nethery and Christy McKenzie.

C.E. Myers, who has served on the board since Iowa Park and Valley View districts merged some eight years ago, did not seek re-election.

already a certified EMT, as he is an instructor in the course at Sheppard AFB.

Those completing their firefighter certification requirements are Shea, McKee, Danny Skinner, GERALD Frazier, Larry Beard, Gus Rich, Vern Horsky, Preston Leath, Jerry Hatch, Davidson, Walter Spruiell, L.F. Davis, Carl Davis and Richard Logan. Previously certified were C.E. "Bud" Thompson, Wayne Williams, Bill Gilmore and Donald Hill.

A regulation is currently being considered on the state level, that the number of certified firefighters on a volunteer department will affect the insurance key rate of the community by lowering it on a points-per-man basis.

Floyd "Bud" Adams and C.A. Hicks have for re-election on the city council. The third position was vacated by the death of Eldon Thompson, Jr.

Other alderman candidates include

21% decrease in sales tax

Iowa Park's city sales tax record for 1979 reflects the statewide trend as it dropped to 21 per cent below last year's figures.

The March rebate check to Iowa Park was for $7,779 which compared to $12,325 during the same period last year.

George Hammonds, Bill Gilmore, Bill Cook and Lloyd Smith.

Voting in both the school and city elections is at large. Those receiving the majority of votes will be deemed the winners.

Junior rodeo slated

Wichita County Mounted Patrol will sponsor a junior rodeo April 5, 6 and 7 at the patrol's arena on FM 369.

Each performance will begin at 7:30 p.m.

There will be three divisions for boys and girls: 12 and under, 13 through 15 and 16 through 19. Six all-around belt buckles values at $50 will be awarded in each division.

Fifteen rodeo events will be featured including an open team roping for boys and girls 19 and under. A team trophy will be awarded to the school with the most entries, said Johnny Cooley, chairman.

As in the past, a queen's contest will be held. All area schools are invited to select a candidate and enter, Cooley said. Points will be accumulated on advance ticket sales only.

Tickets will be $2. Attached to the ticket will be a stub and be included in a drawing for a $50 gift certificate to be given away at the Saturday night performance.

The girl chosen will reign as Miss Wichita County Junior Rodeo until next year's rodeo. She will be eligible to attend the Miss Rodeo Texas pageant in San Antonio in January 1980.

Last year's winner, Helen Morgan representing Wichita Falls High School, attended the pageant and was selected Miss Rodeo Texas Teen.

There will be a free calf scramble for boys and girls 11 and under each night with a $10 cash prize for the winner.

A dance will be held at the rodeo club house after the Saturday night performance.

For further information contact Cooley at Wichita Western World, 3709 Call Field, Wichita Falls, or telephone 692-0931.

'Careers' is program topic for AEO

Gloria Bond read a paper prepared by Penny Veal on "Careers" for the program when Alpha Epsilon Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi members met at her house Monday evening. The paper emphasized that "whatever we work for, the joy of working can, and should be, part of the reward, and the most important employment contract is the one we make with ourselves". As affiliates answered roll call they told something about themselves and what Beta Sigma Phi meant to them.

Mrs. Bond explained the purpose and history of the sorority and issued invitations to membership to Linda McFarland, Jill Dorman, Barbara Bied, Debbie Stubbs and Kay Alderson.

Karen Fullerton conducted the business. Reservations were made for the Faith City Council tea April 8, and plans for the white elephant sale Monday were made. Mmes. Bond, Fullerton, Gayle Cleghorn, Marge Compton, Lela Garrels and Lavonne Stogner were named delegates to the Texas State Convention June 8-10.

AEO chapter sponsored a covered dish supper and bunco party Saturday evening for members and their husbands at the ASCS building. Prizes were won by Sue Owens, Wilbur Garrels, Edgar Todd, Debbie Stubbs and Gayle Cleghorn.

Mrs. Billy Hamilton, who moved to Iowa Park from Vernon with her husband the last of February when he joined the local police force, said that she and her family were very fond of chocolate and that she used it generously in cooking. In selecting her recipes for this week, she included Hot Fudge Cake and Instant Hot Chocolate.

Delicious and nourishing chocolate beverages are very popular in America now and have been served here since the time of the English colonists. Cortez, the Spanish conquistador, was the first European to taste chocolate. He learned that the cocoa beans were used as money among the Indians so he procured some.

Soon the Dutch, Italians, Austrians and French were experimenting with the beans. In 1657, a notice in the London newspaper announced that a Frenchman was offering an excellent West Indian drink "jocolatte". Chocolate houses sprang up where society gathered afterwards to gossip and drink the new delicacy. Soon afterwards chocolate was being served by English colonists in America.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton attended school at Vernon. He was in the Air Force 21 years and when he retired they moved back to Vernon where he was on the police force three and a half years. They are members of the Church of God. Mrs. Hamilton likes to sew and play the piano.

The couple's children are Norman of Vernon, Kelvin, a junior at Iowa Park High School, and Starla, and eighth grade student.

10 members tour garden

Ten members of the Iowa Park Garden Club toured the Japanese Garden in Fort Worth Friday. The garden is the site of an old gravel pit in which additional tons of stone and trees have been added.

Those from the local club who toured the garden were Mmes. John Bernstein, R.B. Faulkner, W.A. George, Frank Harlin, Kathleen Hatten, Michael Hodson, D.O. James, Charlie Lee, Raymond Phillips and Thurman Reitz.

According to club members who made the tour, some of the most impressive sights were the three gates symbolic of heaven, man and earth; the Tea Garden in full bloom of spring flowering trees and shrubs in quiet shades of green and various textures composing an atmosphere of peacefulness.

Other spectacular sights included the Meditation Garden area characterized by perfect harmony of balance; the moon viewing deck for viewing the garden by moonlight. Adding to the beauty of the garden are the ponds where mandarin ducks and Koi (Imperial carp) in unique coloring and size, the result of hundred of years of selective breeding, can be seen at times.

City receives planning grant

Omar Harvey, Executive Director of the Texas Department of Community Affairs has announced the award in the amount of $6,800 has been made to the City of Iowa Park, for improving its planning and management capacity. The program requires a local match of one-third of the program cost and is to be completed by October 31, 1979.

The Texas Department of Community Affairs will administer the grant made available through the '701' Comprehensive Planning Assistance Program from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

George Bernard Shaw won the Nobel Prize for literature in 1925.

City government needs interest

"The quality of government is in direct proportion to the interest of its citizens," stated City Alderman Lita Watson, when she spoke to the Noon Lions Club Tuesday.

Mrs. Watson refreshed memories of the members as to the structure of Iowa Park's city government, and then pointed out the good and bad situations facing the community.

On the good side, she listed the hiring of a city administrator, the new containerized sanitation system, financial standing, combining the tax office with the school, water plant renovation, volunteer fire department, police protection and progress in improving the offices in city hall.

Problem areas, according to Alderman Watson, include water supply, need of a new sanitary landfill in the next two years, sewer improvements, more city hall renovations, police station improvements, code enforcement and work on city streets and street signs.

While Mrs. Watson called for more citizen involvement, she encouraged citizens to study the facts alleged by candidates for city offices and whenever issues face the citizens, such as on referendums. She said facts should be checked out, and not taken for face value "just because someone said that was the way it was."

Citizens, to improve community government, should vote, and she gave considerable emphasis on that, attend city council meetings, and express opinions and observations.

The public is invited.

Frank Farnsworth was named District chaplain.

Mrs. Farnsworth was elected vice president and Betty Bowman sergeant at arms.

"A clean filter can save on your electric bill, so I check mine once a month."

Darrell Bevelhimer, Texas Electric engineer.

"At Texas Electric, where I work, our job is to provide you with the electricity you need.

But higher construction and fuel costs are making it more expensive to do.

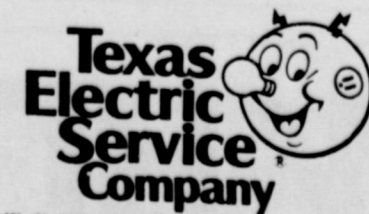

I can tell just by looking at my electric bill.

One thing I do at home is to keep a checklist right on my heating/air-conditioning unit. I have the months listed, and every time I clean the filter I check off that month—so I make sure I check it at least once a month. I couldn't remember it otherwise, and it's important.

A dirty filter limits the air flow through there—and that uses more energy."

Worth Quoting

It doesn't seem too long since we were spell-bound by the experience of our first competitive sports activity. But, now we have a little feller who is undergoing his first such experience, in the form of soccer. Sure enough, the soccer rolls for the little fellers filled to overflowing and in a moment of desperation, the soccer association approached us to see if we would be willing to coach one of the teams. "Practice what you've always preached," our mind echoed as we were tempted to refuse -- "Remember, if your kid is involved -- you better get involved too." Well, the old sermon emerged and we agreed to coach the team -- even though we have never played the game, don't understand much more than the fact that you kick the hound out of the ball and try to get it to one end of the field and inside a little cage with a man in front.

Fortunately our partner in crime, Tom Kelly, came to our rescue. Tom offered his assistance, even though his experience with the game is identical to ours.

Now we have 14 little fellers, and five want to play with the stray dogs that roam on to the field, six want to play with the dirt, and the remaining three want to wave at their mothers on the sidelines. Our oldest little feller is amongst the 14, and his main concern is in trying to figure out why he can't be first string just for the taking. When he found out we were his coach, he automatically started asking who would be our number one player -- "Whoever is the best player," we answered. His nose wrinkled, but after a mild session under the front yard tree he finally accepted the fact that athletes must prove themselves before they can be the best. And sure enough -- he is one of the five that wants to play with the stray dogs on the field.

As I See It....

I've felt for a long time that volunteer help, on anything, was hard to come by in Iowa Park. But maybe it's just the job they're being asked to do.

But looking at all the boards citizens are asked to serve on for the city, and the work those people are doing, makes me take a second look at my thoughts.

Saturday was a good example, too. Iowa Park High hosted a track meet which attracted teams from as far away as Oklahoma City. At first thought, one wouldn't think many people were required to put on a meet. But it does.

More than 60 volunteers worked on Saturday's meet, and that doesn't include the lunchroom personnel who fed the several hundred athletes and workers.

Though there won't be anywhere near as many teams and athletes at the District 4-AAA meet in Hawk Stadium April 21, most of these same people will be asked to work on that meet, also.

A community is no better than its citizens who volunteer to do the work necessary to make it what they want. If they don't do volunteer work, they either have nothing, or must pay professional people to do it. Either way, paid or no programs at all, they can't take much pride in what they have.

I think people who do volunteer work in their community are actually paying their dues.

Iowa Park has a lot of people who have paid, or are paying, their dues to their community. And I hope it continues.

What Texas community established the record of having a married couple coaching the same sport, and their teams won state championships, in the same year?

Before I tell you, it happened this year, in basketball.

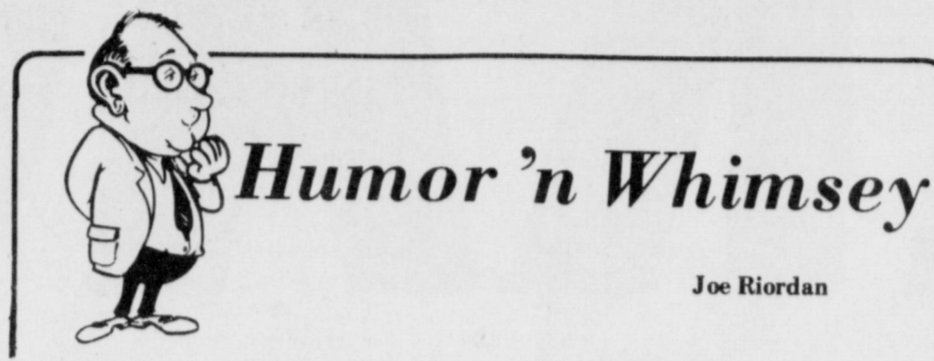

The community is Hale Center, about 15 miles south of Plainview in the Panhandle.

Joe and Babs Lombard both coach girls' basketball.

Her Hale Center team captured the Class A championship in Austin recently.

Joe commutes at Nazareth, 44 miles away, and his team won the Class B title. Nazareth is very similar to Windthorst, a German-Catholic community.

Their story has absolutely nothing to do with Iowa park or Wichita County, but I thought it interesting enough to tell you about it.

Humor 'n Whimsey

Joe Riordan

I guess the news was a shock to everyone. It certainly was to me.

Ben had committed suicide - just ran a hose from the exhaust pipe of his Cadillac into the front seat and sat there until he died. Of course you wouldn't know him. He was a high school friend and a college classmate.

I remember what the editor of the high school yearbook wrote about him in the graduating seniors' "Predictions For the Future" column. It said, "Ambitious, realistic, not a candidate for a fool's paradise."

The editor was sure right about one thing. Ben was ambitious. He was vice president of the company he worked for when he died.

But he wasn't a realist. I remember sitting in a college dorm "bull session" one time when one of the guys said, "Shakespeare was right. There is a fool in everyone of us. That's the reason we do stupid things."

"Not in me," Ben snapped. "Because if I find a fool in me - I'll kill him." It hit me pretty hard when he said it. I guess it was because he sounded as if he really meant it.

Now, 30 years later, he's dead from deliberately breathing carbon monoxide. He didn't leave a note. No one seems to know why he killed himself. But I wonder. Did he find the fool in himself and keep his promise?

I don't know - but after I heard the news I remembered something I put in my file several months ago. It's a quote from Theodore I. Rubin's book, "Thoughts From A Psychoanalyst's Notebook." Dr. Rubin wrote:

"I must learn to love the fool in me - the one who feels too much, talks too much, takes too many chances, wins sometimes and loses often, lacks self-control, loves and hates, hurts and gets hurt, promises and breaks promises, laughs and cries. It alone protects me against the utterly self-controlled masterful tyrant whom I also harbor and who would rob me of humanity, aliveness, humility and dignity, but for my fool." I had clipped it from a newspaper, made a note on the margin and filed it. I read Dr. Rubin's excerpt first - then I glanced at the note on the margin. I had written it to myself. "Make a xerox of this and mail it to Ben."

Now, I must learn to love the fool who never got around to sending it to him in time.

GARAGE SALE

Here's a handy sign for your garage sale!

And here are some helpful hints for holding a successful sale:

1. When you're rounding up those usable but no-longer-used items for your sale, be sure to check all the storage areas in your home -- the basement, garage, attic, closets, seldom used cupboards.
 2. Saleable items include outgrown bicycles, lawn and patio furniture, small appliances, dishes, kitchen utensils, toys, golf clubs, and other sports equipment, lawn mowers, decorator items, books, records, musical instruments -- your "extras" may be "extra-special" to someone else!
 3. Visit a few garage sales before you hold your own. You'll get great ideas, and maybe pick up a treasure or two.
 4. Once you've picked the date for your sale, call the Iowa Park Leader Classified Department at 592-4431 and place your Garage Sale ad. Your ad will reach 7,360 people in Wichita County and surrounding areas. Just 5 cents a word.
 5. When you're clearing out your garage, you'll probably discover that some of the items in there will have to stay there -- even though you won't be selling them. Try to cover these "not-for-sales" or push them out of the way.
 6. Use tables to display as many of the sale items as possible. Items on the floor of the garage, especially small items, may be overlooked by prospective buyers.
 7. Make sure there is enough walking space through the garage, and that sale items are easy to reach.
 8. Put a price tag on everything! Prospective buyers will appreciate it, and you'll find it makes things easier for you.
 9. Before your sale begins, be sure you have change and some sort of cash box on hand. Set up a "check-out" table just outside the garage.
 10. Be ready for rush at opening time -- garage sale shoppers like to come early, and with your ad in The Leader, you'll have plenty of shoppers!
- (You may cut out and use the sign on this page. Just paste it on heavy cardboard and post it by your house.)

Three records fall in Hawk Relays

Three meet records, all in field events, were established Saturday in the annual Hawk Relays, as Childress, Lawton MacArthur and Wichita Falls High claimed division championships.

Hawk strong man Kip Fuller led the Hawks to second place behind the speedy Oklahoma team in Division II. Fuller earned a pair of first place medals, and established one of those new meet standards.

Even though the meet was moved some three weeks later into the spring, weather still was not the best for a track meet. Temperatures varied through the day, depending on cloud cover, and winds up to 20 miles per hour were constant the day long.

As has been the pattern through this season, the Hawks dominated the field events, and held a wide margin lead when the afternoon's running event finals got underway. And even though the Hawks did score more points running than in other meets, they still could not hold off the MacArthur club which earned double points winning both sprint and mile relays.

MacArthur finished with 119 points, while the Hawks had 98. Vernon, hampered without sprinter Earl Wilson who pulled up lame in the sprint relay, finished third with 91 points.

Fuller, on his first throw in the preliminaries, let loose a heave of 165-4 to set his new record. Preliminary measurements count in field events.

The senior Hawk's shot put of 51-4 was good enough for the division win, but Rider's John Blue set a new meet record in that event, competing in Div. III. Blue's toss was 58-8, breaking the record of Hirschi's Don Carlson set in 1975, by six inches.

The third meet standard raised was by Rider's Brad Robertson, who cleared 13-9 in the pole vault. His performance bested the meet standard held by Iowa Park's Jim Dooley, 13-3, set last year.

Runners picking up most of the points in the finals for Iowa park were miler Anthony Crittenden, sprinter Andy Sitgreaves and hurler Jeff Nolen.

In the only controversy of the meet, Sitgreaves was overlooked in the 220-yard dash, and was given sixth place. Observers had him finishing either third or fourth.

Childress humbled the Div. I opponents, amassing an amazing 155 points to more than double the second place points by Electra, 73 1/2. Wichita Falls' Coyotes displayed depth in earning Div. III, outscoring Oklahoma City Moore 129-101.

Hawks 1-2 in district

Iowa Park's young Hawk baseball team got Dist. 4-AAA play started in good fashion, defeating Burkburnett Friday afternoon.

But then the roof fell in. After edging the Bulldogs at Burkburnett 7-6, Graham jumped on the Hawks for a 17-7 rain-delayed decision here Monday, and then the following day they suffered a 3-0 shutout at the hands of Vernon's Lions.

Keith Mowery went the distance in the Burk game, allowing only six hits, but Tuesday he gave up six hits and Vernon beat him behind Ricky Foust.

Gary Blackerby was charged with Monday's loss to the Steers, as Graham batters collected 14 hits, including four for extra bases.

Tuesday's loss left the Hawks with a 2-6 season record and 1-2 conference play.

Council fires office staff

City Council on Monday fired Mayor Jim Virdell and 14 other city employees, including City Clerk, E-on assistant Judy Pro Tem Jim said the two office employees were dismissed because of "general disregard and disrespect in carrying out their duties."

The vote to fire the two women came at the end of a two-hour special council meeting last Thursday morning.

Virdell, who inherited the mayor's post in the wake of Ben Ezzell's resignation, said he called the special meeting to gain "peace and unity" and to straighten out difficulties among municipal employees.

City employees Evon Carter, Don Pennington, Elvin Hoover, Pete Snyder, Danny Teafatiller and Joe Conway were at the meeting along with all councilmen and Jimmy Willis, Linda Willis and John Goforth.

When Virdell asked for comments from employees Police Chief Pennington cited what he considered a lack of cooperation between the office staff and the police department.

Water Superintendent Hoover expressed similar displeasure with the office staff.

The council voted itself into executive session and called each employee in to talk with them individually.

At the end of the executive session Alderman Mike Parker motioned to dismiss Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Nichols and grant Mrs. Carter two weeks severance pay. The motion was seconded by Alderman Mary Denney and received unanimous approval.

Virdell said the executive session revealed a consensus among other municipal workers of displeasure with the two women office workers.

The city's auditor was called to city hall Thursday afternoon to audit cash on hand before Mrs. Carter formally left office. She had been city secretary since 1966.

Virdell said the problem among city employees had existed several months and had been at the "critical stage" for 90 days.

He said the council had discussed the problem with Ezzell, who told aldermen he would take care of the problem.

However, Ezzell resigned the mayor's post March 19 "and consequently the problem still existed," Virdell said.

Although Mrs. Carter was at last Thursday's meeting when the action was taken, Mrs. Nichols said she was not notified of the special meeting and had not been formally notified of her dismissal.

Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Nichols said they jointly visited with a Wichita Falls attorney concerning possible litigation.

"I think it's small-town politics," Mrs. Nichols said.

In the meantime Virdell hired Betty Wallace, a bookkeeper, to serve as city secretary. Her hiring and $650 monthly salary will be contingent on the council's approval at its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Thelma Morrow, a former city office worker, also is helping conduct business at city hall.

Virdell said Mrs. Morrow is working without pay, however, he indicated the council probably would reimburse her for her help.

Water system rumors untrue

Mayor Jim Virdell said rumored reports are untrue that Holiday's water system is operating in violation of state health department guidelines.

The controversy apparently stems from the fact that Water Superintendent Elvin Hoover possesses a Class D water license.

"He (Dixon) said that anyone who has a D license could act and operate as Water Superintendent legally for one year as long as he was preparing and making progress toward getting his C license," Virdell said.

The mayor also said that Hoover is continuing work toward the upgraded Class C license.

Leader corrects error about Maier's removal

The Leader erred in its report of what occurred during a portion of the March 19 Holiday City Council meeting.

Contrary to what was reported, the council did not vote to remove Alderman Fred Maier from office.

Maier in effect removed himself, some councilmen contend, under conditions outlined in the "Handbook for Mayors and Council Members in General Law Cities."

"If any councilman is absent for three regular consecutive meetings-unless because of sickness or without first having a leave of absence at a regular meeting-he shall be deemed to have vacated his office," the guidelines state. Using that law for the basis of their decision, the council voted 3-1 to replace Maier with Alderman Mike Parker as secretary-treasurer.

Voting on the motion to have Parker handle the secretary-treasurer duties until after the April 7 election were councilmen Jim Virdell, Mary Denney and Parker. Alderman Melvin Bills cast the dissenting vote.

"Obviously, I made a mistake interpreting what occurred at the meeting," said Lewis Simmons, the Leader reporter who covered the meeting and wrote the story. "There was no malice intended on my part. It was just an honest mistake."

Gospel concert set Saturday

"The Believers" gospel singing group will perform a concert at Holiday High School at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The group is available to sing in local churches and civic programs.

Members of the group, all from Wichita Falls, include Beth Arinder, Karen Glennan, Joel Hastings, John Lamberth, Woody Boyd, Jerry Douthitt, Betty Beagle and Jay Wilson.

Scout-O-Rama dates set

The 44th annual Kiwanis sponsored Scout-O-Rama will be held Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5, at the Fed Mart Building on Jacksboro Highway in Wichita Falls.

Announcement of the dates and location of the annual display of scouting skills was made today by Dwight Berry, chairman of the Wichita Falls Kiwanis Club Scout-O-Rama committee. The club sponsors the event in cooperation with the Northwest Texas Boy Scout Council.

Scout-O-Rama gives each Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer in the 13-county council area an opportunity to participate in a council-wide show. Not only is each unit invited to take part in the show, they are also given an opportunity to raise funds for unit and council activities through the sale of tickets to the Scout-O-Rama.

In making the announcement, Berry stated, "Theme for this year's event is 'Scouting Galactica.' Each scout selling ten tickets will receive a Scouting Galactica patch, which has been designed especially for this Scout-O-Rama."

Ticket sales start Saturday.

Other prizes will also be available to top ticket salesman.

The Northwest Texas Council is comprised of 130 units with approximately 2,600 registered youth members. The 13-county council area stretches from Childress to Throckmorton to Saint Jo. All unit leaders have received the Scouting Galactica 1979 Scout-O-Rama Guidebook which outlines both the ticket sales campaign and the requirements for unit participation in the two-day show.

Unit leaders have a wide variety of scouting skills from which they can choose a topic for their unit's display. Last year 70 units participated and about 9,000 people witnessed the event.

BILL GILMORE

CANDIDATE for IOWA PARK CITY COUNCIL

Bill Gilmore is the son of the late Jim and Mae Gilmore, who came to Iowa Park in the early 1920's. He has one sister, Mrs. Bill Glasgow of Wichita Falls, and a brother, James, who is now living at the homestead of their parents, at 701 S. Park.

Bill married his high-school sweetheart, the former Maryanne Chambers, in 1950. They live at 514 W. Washington, and have four sons, all of whom live in Iowa Park. The three married sons are all home owners here.

The eldest son, Cecil, is married to the former Debra Blizzard. They have a boy, Cecil Joe, Jr., and a girl, Hope Elaine. They are expecting a baby in April.

Jimmy and his wife, the former Vicki Illingworth, are expecting their first child in June.

Kenny is married to the former Becky Willis. Their children are Angela Dawn, Kenny Glen, Jr., and Kelly Joe Calvin.

Billy is engaged to Denise Wooten.

As a native son, born here in 1932, Bill Gilmore is most concerned with all areas of city government that affects the welfare of permanent residents. He understands the frustrations of the elderly and low income citizens. Growing up in a poor family, Bill began working for wages at 13, stocking shelves at Black's Market, clerking for Jerrell's Grocery, washing dishes for Charlie Metz's Cafe, and, later, scooping manure at Spruiell's dairy.

The founder of GILMORE, INC., Bill literally began his business in the backyard of his home seventeen years ago. He spent several years on pipeline construction overseas to earn the capitol to erect the first building at the present site on the expressway. With the help of his four sons, who are now his partners, he has expanded the original welding company into a full-service truck center, serving many nation-wide firms. GILMORE INC. now employs 33 people. Last year, Bill helped Maryann in opening COUNTRY COLLECTIONS Art Gallery, also on the expressway.

As the head of the corporation, Bill is familiar with current costs of materials and labor, and has had responsibility of managing large expenditures to best advantage.

Having served six years on the council previously, Bill is aware of local problems, and experienced in dealing with them. He has the first-hand knowledge that is vital in making decisions for the best interest of the people.

Bill is a charter member and past director of Iowa Park Rotary Club, Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Dept. member, and attends First Baptist Church.
