Adjustments board to hear disputed firm appeal

Final action, as far as the city is concerned, on a proposed new car wash business for Iowa Park is expected tomorrow night when the board of adjustments meets.

To begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers, the newly-appointed board is to hear two appeals, one from the contractor for a variance from the city building code, and the other from neighbors not wanting the business to locate across the street from them.

Businessman Cecil Longley is expected to appear before the board, requesting that he be permitted to resume construction of the car wash where it is staked out and construction already begun.

He will ask for a variance from a regulation which requires his building to be set back a minimum of 50 feet from West Highway.

James Morris and Mrs. Kenneth Garrett have requested that the business not be allowed to locate at the corner of West Highway and Third Street, but if it is allowed, to require the contractor to adhere strictly to the building code, including construction of a fence on the north

Construction was begun the second week of June, but was held up when violation of the building requirements for that zone were noted.

At the last meeting of the city council, Mayor Johnny Crawford named a new board of adjustments, noting his opinion that for the city council to continue sitting as the board of adjustments would be, and had been, illegal.

He named, and the council confirmed the appointments, Charlie Lee, John Brown, Donald Hill, Rip Smith and David Padgett. Hill was elected president during an organizational meeting of the new board.

The board met last week for a work session concerning the car wash. During the meeting, background on the dispute was given members in preparation for tomorrow's meeting.

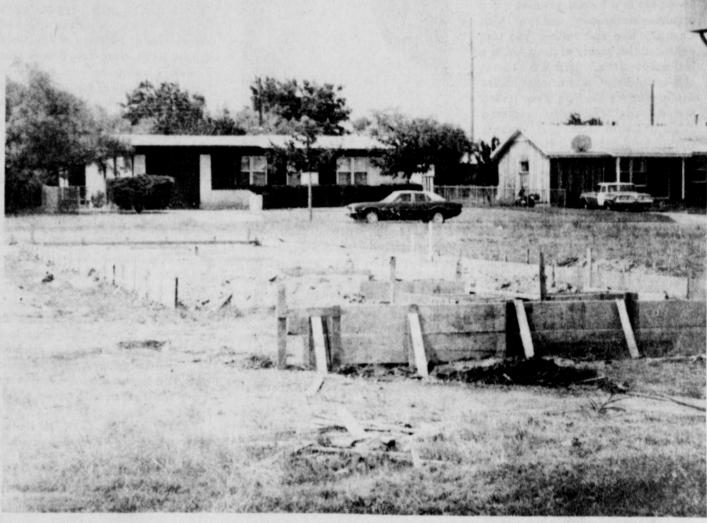

However, naming of the new board was not unanimous. Two aldermen voted against changing the board and another abstained. Two voted for the change, and the mayor's tie-breaking vote was brought into action.

Aldermen voting against the change said they did not oppose the change nor the appointees, but rather wanted to continue on the car wash issue intil it was completed, and then make the change. Whatever action the board of adjustments takes tomorrow is the final say, as far as the city is concerned. The city council has no privilege of review or change, it has been pointed out.

Any action on the subject, regardless of how the ruling is made, beyond tomorrow night will have to be in the courts.

IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367

THURSDAY, JULY 9, 1981

A FEW July 4th celebrators took advantage of volunteer firemen's offer to watch over their explosions to prevent grassfires. . . .

. . . . BUT MORE apparently went to Lake Iowa Park's shoreline to set off their fireworks in a safe, but cluttering atmosphere.

Firemen given holiday rest

Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department members, and officers of the police force, heaved a sigh of relie? when July 4 ended without a single fireworks fire being reported.

Chief of the firemen, Danny Skinner, said his crew answered only one fire Saturday, and it was unrelated to fireworks.

Though police officers were called several times to neighborhoods where firecrackers were being set off, no tickets were issued. Some fireworks were reportedly confiscated, however.

One reason given for no fires was the fact the firemen set up an area at Gilmore Welding where the public was permitted to set off fireworks, under the watchful eye of volunteer firemen.

Another reason offered was that apparently great numbers of people went to Lake Iowa Park to set off their fireworks on the shore of the lake, and none of the missiles came down in grass.

Because of heavy rainfall during June, pastures are greener than this time last year, and if fireworks did fall on the grass, it was too green to burn.

Whatever the reason, firemen relished their duty of watching fireworks being set off, instead of speeding in all directions to fight grassfires, as they did last year.

SURVEY SHOWS

Marijuana not hard to find in most Texas towns

Most Texas communities have marijuana available for $30-$45 an ounce, and one out of every three adult Texans knows where to get it.

These are among the findings of a recent study on marijuana and alcohol use done by the Texas Criminal Justice Center at Sam Houston State University.

"Not only is marijuana readily available in Texas communities, but citizens probably know where to get it and regard such knowledge as commonplace," said Dr. Frank Williams, who conducted the study.

Results came from questionnaires mailed to 2,000 Texans aged 17 and older. Participants were selected at random from a list of licensed Texas drivers. A total of 1,306 returned completed questionnaires.

In the age group surveyed, Williams found, only 3.5% said they use marijuana at least once a week. Once-a-day users accounted for less than 2% of the survey.

Of those answering the survey, one quarter (25.6%) said they had used marijuana. Of that number, 70.7% said they no longer use it.

Williams concluded that first exposure to marijuana use is largely a youthful experience. The most common ages of first use were the late teens, 16 to 19, which accounted for 40% of those responding. Only 18% said they were 24 or older when they first tried marijuana.

The reason given most often (70.7%) for trying marijuana was "to satisfy my curiosity about what it was like." "To experience something new and exciting" was selected 42% of the time, and 21.1% said "friends and acquaintances pressured me into it."

Those who said they had used marijuana but had quit were asked why they quit. Over half said "I lost interest in it" (54.5%) or "It's illegal" (52.1%). Less than 1% said they quit because they started using other

Of all those surveyed, including ones who had never used marijuana, "fear of damage to the mind" was the reason most often given (57.3%) for not using the drug, followed by "it's illegal" (55.4%) and "fear of damage to the body" (54.1%).

"Most of the reasons were about equally divided between morality on one hand and perceived physical effects on the other," said Williams. Despite the fact that over half felt that its illegality was a reason for not using marijuana, 60.1% felt that being arrested for so doing was "very unlikely" (30%) or "somewhat unlikely" (30.1%). Only 39.8% felt arrest was "very likely" (18.8%) or "somewhat likely" (21%).

Only one in four (25.2%) felt that courts handle properly those arrested. A total of 46.6% said courts were "somewhat easy" (36.1%) or "very easy" (10.5%) while 28% felt courts were "very severe" (9.9%) or "somewhat severe" (18.1%).

Respondents were asked their opinion of penalties for possession of marijuana. An ounce of marijuana will make from 10-25 cigarettes, and two ounces or less is considered legally to be an amount likely kept for personal use as opposed to sale.

About one in three felt the penalty for possession of two ounces or less, $1,000 fine and/or 180 days in jail, was about right, and 44.4% felt the penalty was not harsh enough.

The penalty for possessing more than four ounces of marijuana is a fine of $5,000 and/or 10 years in prison. A total of 39% said that penalty was about right, while 37.1% said it was not harsh enough.

"When coupled with the low estimates of the percentage of marijuana users that the police catch, a picture emerges which suggests that marijuana use is not generally too likely to result in contact with the legal system" said Williams.

"Perhaps as a result of this general picture, there is a tendency for Texans to feel that sentences should be a little more severe than they are at present."

Only 17.7% said that use of marijuana should not be against the

Two-thirds of all surveyed (66%) and three-fourths of users (75.6%) felt that use of marijuana does not lead to use of stronger drugs.

The survey also determines that three out of five Texans use no tobacco products, while 31.4% reported they smoke cigarettes.

Almost three in ten Texans surveyed (28.3%) do not use any drugs, including aspirin. The most frequently used drug was aspirin (48.9%) followed by vitamins (44%).

Fulfer, Lovelady vows are recited here recently

The exchange of double-ring nuptial vows by Miss Judy Carol Fulfer and Joel Rene Lovelady took place June 20 at First Baptist Church. Rev. Howell Farnsworth officiated the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Charles R. Fulfer of Valley View and Joyce Bridges of Waurika, Okla. and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Steve O. Lovelady of Iowa Park.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, was the essence of loveliness in a formal gown of white organza elaborately trimmed with Chantilly lace and ruffles. The lace enhanced the beauty of the gown in a ruffle around the V-neck in both front and back of the natural waist bodice and in trim for the long sheer bishop sleeves. The full skirt captured attention with lace and organza ruffles in the back that formed a chapel length train. From her Juliet cap of lace floated a waltz length veil of bridal illusion bordered in wide

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of roses, carnations, daisies in shades of pink, mint green, yellow and blue, gypsophila, stephanotis, purple statice and trailing English ivy. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the groom for "something new," a gold bracelet that belonged to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Grady Long, for the "old and borrowed" bridal traditions; and chose the garter for "something blue."

The couple repeated their vows before an arch enwrapped with fern accented with pink, blue, yellow, green and orchid flowers emphasizing the bride's chosen colors. On either side stood heart-shaped votive candelabra flanked by bouquets of roses, gladioli, daisies, carnations and mums in the pastel colors. The altar setting was completed with the three-branched candlestick centered with the unity candle.

Church pews were marked with hurricane globes raised by white standards trimmed with pastel flowers and white ribbon cascades.

Wedding music was provided by Denny Anderson, who presented organ prelude selections and the traditional marches. He also furnished piano accompaniment for Miss Deana Hefner, vocalist, who sang "I Honestly Love You" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Paula Fulfer, cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a modish pink organza gown designed with a ruffle-trimmed natural waist bodice and full skirt defined with a deep hem flounce that formed a ruffle up the side. She carried a nosegay of spring flowers in pastel hues complemented with pink ribbons falling floorward.

Bridesmaids wearing identically styled gowns in shades of yellow, mint green and blue, respectively, were Miss Linda Powell of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Keith Latimer and Miss Sharon Miller, who also served as a candlelighter. Their nosegays were fashioned of flowers duplicating the ones in the maid of honor's nosegay and finished with streamers to match their gowns.

Heather Lovelady, the groom's niece, was flower girl. She wore an orchid frock overlaid with white lace accented with a satin sash clasping her waist that fell in streamers in the back. She wore matching silk flowers in her hair and carried a basket of silk

Randy Lovelady, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Mike Davis, who served as candlelighter, Brad Smith and Anthony Crittenden. The groom wore a white ascot tuxedo with tails and a pink sweetheart rose for a boutonniere. Male participants in the wedding wore gray ascot tuxedos with tails and cummerbunds and shirts to match the bridal attendants'

The bride's mother wore a long pink Qiana dress and the groom's mother was attired in a baby blue Qiana gown. Each wore fresh and silk pastel carnation corsages.

The bride and groom were both graduated from Iowa Park High School. After a wedding trip to Corpus christi and Austin, they are at home in the Camelot Apartments in Wichita Falls. She is employed by Best Products in the camera department. He is a sophomore student at Midwestern State Univ. and is manager of the men's department at K-Mart.

The wedding reception was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Glasgow and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulfer in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Mrs. Randy Lovelady, the groom's sister-in-law, secured signatures of the guests at a table laid with white lace over apricot crepe. The table held two wicker baskets, one filled with pastel rice bags and the other with the couple's wedding scrolls, the book and yellow plume pen.

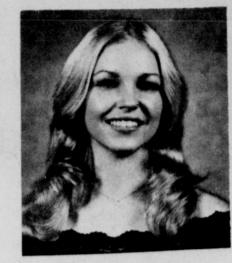

The impressive bride's cake was chosen to center her table covered with white lace. The petitely-tiered white stucture was strewn with pastel frosting roses and lilies of the valley for refreshing and decorative touches to the sides. The ornament on the second tier lent a sweet tradition to the confection. A bride and groom stood between Grecian pillars that had lifted the top tier under a lace-covered arch dotted with satin

The cake was encircled with fern and pastel flowers trailing from flanking three-branched candelabra holding white tapers. The crystal punch service, dainty bridal napkins and trays of mints made especially for the occasion were other table appointments. Mrs. Sonny Fulfer and Miss Teresa Harrell presided at the

Mrs. Johnny Fulfer and Miss Joy Fulfer, sister of the bride, served at the groom's table laid with white lace over apricot, holding a silver vase of pastel silk flowers clinging to green leaves, and silver coffee service.

Delorse Lovelady of Seattle, Wash., sister of the groom, was an out-of-town guest.

Cook of the Week

Young housewives and cooks learn early in their married life that "home is where the heart is and the heart of every home is in the kitchen." They have a love for cooking and their creativity sets the flavor for heart-warming meals, so it is always a mountaintop experience for the Leader to be able to feature one of that caliber as the Cook of the Week.

Mrs. Joe Howard Williamson's (the former Debora Dorris of Stephenville) enthusiasm for home, cooking, gardening, farm and ranch life shows how easily one can adapt to life style changes and love every minue of it. However, as she and her husband work with and show paint horses, she probably did not have to cultivate a love for animals since her father is a veterinarian and she was a member of the Rodeo Club at Tarleton State University.

Local school no place for dogs

Vernon Daily Record's columnist Orlin Brewer received an exciting revelation recently from Holliday board member Durhl M. Caussey: both Holliday and Vernon schools may well be "going to the dogs."

"Going to the dogs" has to do with the use of trained dogs in locating hidden drugs, a program administrators in this area are seriously considering after a series of demonstrations in Wichita Falls early last month.

Brewer justified local interest in Caussey because of his affiliation with the Vernon Drug Project four years.

Brewer met Caussey at a demonstration of "sniffer dogs," where Caussey said he was attending as a representative of the Holliday school board. Caussey did mention to Brewer he had other interests for being there as well, as a result of his position as superintendent of Northwest Christian Academy.

Concerning the response of other trustees present at the demonstration. Caussey said, "I think you will find there was a very positive response from the members that were there. . . a very positive response from the superintendent of Holliday."

Caussey further added that, although the use of dogs to control drugs on campus is not on the agenda for the next board meeting, he expects to make a motion to participate and anticipates a second-and likely approval.

Security Associates International of Houston, the company using drug-detecting dogs, suggested a program for the Wichita Falls school system costing $50,000, about $30,000 more than Wichita Falls superintendent Dr. Lee Williamson was anticipating. He is holding conferences with representatives of other "drug-sniffing dog firms" in hopes of finding something more economically

Concerning the Holliday schools, it is imperative that the school's trustees research both positive and negative aspects of this program extensively. The most crucial questions to ponder include: Does Holliday have an obvious drug problem which is inhibiting the education of the students? Do the taxpayers in the district want to pay for such a costly program?

We think the answer is no on both questions.

School trustees to discuss administrators' salaries

Both Holliday city council and Holliday school board will hold their regular meetings at 7:30 p.m. Monday, with the school board slating discussion of administrators' salary increases, initiating a baseball program and hiring three additional teachers.

As of Tuesday, the tentative agenda for Monday's school board meeting also included discussion of vocational agriculture instructor Cal Gaulden, cafeteria and transportation, selection of bank depositor, report on TABS test results from guidance counselor Walter Lemons. meeting with Don Talley on football insurance, and season football tickets.

School administrators, including superintendent Ray Coe and principals Dan Owen and Bill Lee, received an additional $600 increase above state base to their salaries during the board's March 12 meeting. At the same meeting, classroom teachers received a $200 increase to $700 above state base, athletic director Don Lucy $500 to $5,200 above base, and his assistants $400 to $4,000. Auxiliary personnel received

10-cent hourly raises. Two months later, during the board's May 14 meeting, 28 Holliday classroom teachers were present as trustees extended them a second raise of $300 to $1,000 above state

Kamay pastor to graduate

Rev. Frank Robinson Ashby, pastor of Kamay Baptist Church, will receive the Master of Divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary during summer commencement exercises July 15.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Ashby, and his wife, the former Sue Thompson, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, all of Wichita base for the 1981-82 school year. Administrators' salaries were not discussed.

Trustees will discuss the possibility of beginning a baseball program at the high school level. Currently, Petrolia, Windthorst, Chico and Boyd have baseball programs in District 13-AA, while Holliday, Archer City and Millsap do not.

Results of the TABS test results, given to third, fifth and ninth grade students in February, will be explained by Lemons. The test consists of reading, writing composition and mathematics. Third graders were given the test for the first time this year, according to Coe.

The school's aggregate (average) scores will be reported as a whole, while individual scores are available to the student, parents or legal guardians and school personnel directly involved.

Listed on the tentative agenda for the city council's meeting is confirmation of new police chief

Lomax Campbell's salary, and renewal of liability insurance with St. Paul Insurance of Arlington, represented by Don Talley, who will explain the policy and its current rates to aldermen.

As I See It....

Whether or not you are a history buff, it'll be worth your time and the space consumed to save a copy of yesterday's newspaper report about Mrs. Sandra O'Connor being nominated by Pres. Reagan as the first woman on the United States Supreme Court.

I'll guarantee you, 30 years from now you can dig out the article and chuckle to yourself. These changing times are coming often and fast in our society, and the naming of a woman to the nation's highest court is one of the more significant of the changes.

I suppose everyone has a place, like a box or drawer, where they put mementoes. I certainly do, and always have. One drawer in our bedroom dresser is designated specifically for such collections. Of course, every year or so I have to cull the items, trying to decide which ones are worth keeping and which can go to the trash. I don't like to do it any more often, because making decisions of that magnitude is tough on the

But what I did keep is precious to me now. I can go through the cigar boxes of those keepsakes and recall specific times and events of years far past.

Of course, some collections can turn into dollars, though I could never cash in my items for money. Others have, selling old eyeglasses which become collector's items, or chalk boards, or hand-me-down guns, and reap huge

It's tough to throw away something you know full well you will someday need. That's one reason why my office looks like the aftermath of a tornado. It's not neat, nor does it look very businesslike. But I relish what I've collected.

26 varieties in demonstrations conducted over the past three years in Wichita County.

Rall was in second position with 35.4 bushels per acre. This is a Scout selection made in Oklahoma. This variety fell badly this year. Texred stood up better than any with a zero percent lodging while Sturdy came in a close second with only five percent

TAM 106 held third position with 31.7 bushels per acre. This was somewhat of a surprise as this variety was developed more for irrigation. Other varieties and their yield in bushels per acre included TAM 101 -26.7, Maverick - 26.6, Newton - 26.4, TAM 105 - 26.0, and Vona - 24.9.

Tascosa - 23.2, Improved Triumph -21.3, Texred - 19.2, Sage - 17.6, Larned - 14.2, and Concho - 10.7. All of the last three varieties were tall and they fell badly 90 to 95 percent lodging.

My thanks goes to Clarence Mahler for harvesting this demonstration with his New Holland combine. This is a rotary machine which thrashes better under full load. This characteristic makes plot harvesting more difficult. I did not get to ride with Mahler, so I cannot testify as to his smooth operation. However, he sure does cut a straight swath when cutting off the ends of the demonstration.

Results from a single demonstration should not be a basis for others to change a practice. The more demonstrations considered, the more creditable the results. For example, averaging both Barbour's and Hicks' demonstration is more creditable than considering either one individually. For this reason, I have averaged both their demonstrations. An average of the two demonstrations still places Sturdy in the number one spot with 35.0 bushels per acre. Average of the other varieties and their yield in bushels include Rall 30.7, TAM 106 - 29.22, Vona - 28.0, Maverick - 27.9, TAM 105

- 25.5, and Improved Triumph - 25.2. Other varieties and yields are TAM 101 - 24.1, Texred - 22.9, Newton -22.5, Sage - 20.8, Tascosa - 20.6, Larned - 15.1, and Concho - 14.1.

Tax notices to be common

Kenneth E. Graeber, executive director of the State Property Tax Board (SPTB), today said a number of local taxing units throughout Texas will be publishing advertisements titled "Notice of Tax Increase" within the next two months.

Graeber said the notices, which include the percentage of proposed tax increase, are required under the state's "Truth-in-Taxation" statute. The notices, he added, are intended to insure that taxpayers have notice that a jurisdiction's tax revenue is likely to increase, and that the taxpayer has a right to appear at a public hearing to speak either for or against the increase.

The notice is required whenever a jurisdiction proposes to adopt a tax rate which is three per cent or more above a maximum tax rate calculated by the jurisdiction's assessor. This maximum tax rate is a rate which would provide sufficient revenue for the current year's debt service and provide operating revenues equal to those of the prior year.

"It is important that taxpayers be aware that the percentage of increase shown in the notice relates to the jurisdiction as a whole. A specific individual's taxes may increase at a greater rate, may remain the same or may decrease," Graeber said.

"The tax bill on an individual piece of property will depend upon the value of the property less any exemptions, multiplied by the jurisdiction's tax rate," he added.

In jurisdictions throughout the state, compliance with truth-in-taxation follows this sequence:

-- After the Board of Equalization certifies the jurisdiction's total assessed valuation, the tax assessor will calculate the maximum tax rate and publicize it by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the iurisdiction:

-If the governing body determines that a rate which exceeds the three percent limit must be adopted, the members must give notice of a public hearing on the intent to adopt a higher rate. The jurisdiction must publish a notice no smaller than one-quarter page of a standard-size or tabloid newspaper, and must set the date of the public hearing at least seven days from the date the notice is published.

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas effective July 21, 1981, unless otherwise determined by the

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 15.8 percent increase in the company's intrastate

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 21 de Julio de 1981, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 15.8 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañias de Teléfono

El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio tambien afectarian a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell.

PLUMLEE EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICE INC.

1404 11th Street Wichita Falls, Texas 76301 (817) 322-5560 Emergency Number 911

To help keep the cost of ambulance service down, and to upgrade our service to Advanced Life Support System (ALSS) which would allow your City and County to have Paramedics on our ambulances; Plumlee Emergency Medical Service, Inc. is offering to the residents of the cities and county with which we have contracted, a membership program for ambulance service.

This program is for Emergency and Doctor ordered ambulance service to Wichita General Hospital and Bethania Hospital only. Transfers and non-emergency ambulance service will remain the same.

At this time, the base rate for ambulance service to the hospital is $65.00. The base rate for service from the hospital is $55.00 plus $1.50 per loaded mile.

However, if you become a member, you will join at a rate of $50.00 for a single membership (individual) or $65.00 for a family of four (including two dependents under the age of 18 living with you). If you have more than two dependents living with you, there will be an additional charge of $10.00 for each dependent. There is no limit on the number of emergency or doctor ordered calls you may have during the year.

. As a member, you will be charged 75¢ per loaded mile instead of the regular price of $1.50 per loaded mile. We would still have to charge for supplies that are used during the call. If you have Medicare or other insurance that would pay the ambulance charge, as a member

we will file one claim so that you could be reimbursed for your membership fee. For transfers to other hospitals, as a member you would be charged one half the regular cost

In order for this membership to be made available, we must have a minimum of 15,000 members. All memberships that are received will be put in escrow and at the end of the deadline, if our goal has not been reached, your money will be refunded.

Farmers hire cotton scout

By Don Decker County Agent

Cotton producers tin the Wichita Valley and Iowa Park area have decided to employ a cotton scout to monitor insect activity. Other cotton growers in the Wichita Valley of Iowa Park area who would like to have their cotton scouted for insects, can contact Rex Wells, chairman of the county field crops committee, at Iowa Park or the county Extension office.

The purpose of the scouting program is to gather more information for making better judgement toward cotton insect control. Actually, it is aimed at making fewer spray applications.

The cotton scout will check each field at four locations weekly. During critical bollworm flights inspections will be made more often. The cost of the scouting will be $2.50 per acre.

The scout will be employed on a contract basis. If there is any money left over at the end of the insect season, it will be returned to the cotton producer on a prorata pro rata

The insect scout will be trained by Emory Boring, Extension Area Entomologist. A report data sheet will be left with the producer each week showing the amount of insect

Time is short and there is a rush on producers signing up for this program. Cotton growers will need to sign up and deposit their check with the Wichita County Field crops Committee by July 3. A few growers have already committed enough acres to definitely go ahead with the scouting program. Other producers who would like to participate are invited to do so before the deadline

The cotton variety demonstrations planned by the county field crops committee have been planted and are up to good stands. The purpose of these demonstrations is to keep cotton growers informed on the best performing varieties for this area. The trials have been established on two different type soils.

GIVE THE GIFT OF SIGHT

Last year, more than 10,000 people had their sight partially or fully restored in corneal-transplant operations using eyes provided by eye banks throughout the world sponsored or supported by Lions Clubs.

In the United States alone, 65 Lions eye banks reported a total of 10,176 transplants. In this operation, clouded corneas are replaced with clear ones taken from eyes donated by concerned individuals.

Eye banks are usually supported by a group of Lions Clubs in a locality, state or region. Lions ask their neighbors to sign a donor card that will ensure that their eyes, upon death, will be available for transplant, research or other

Lions Clubs have long been known for their assistance to the blind and sightimpaired. At their 1925 Convention, Helen Keller urged the Lions to become "Knights of the Blind in the Crusade against darkness.

They responded with enthusiasm and today-in addition to operating eye banks-Lions support glaucoma screening units, dog guide training, eye research and treatment centers, used eyeglass collection and distribution facilities and a wide variety of other sight-related activities.
