Hawks must win playoff to defend district title

Any hope the Iowa Park Hawks had for defending their Dist. 3-AAAA basketball title without a playoff was shattered Friday night when they lost to Hirschi, 53-47. But they are still in the hunt, rebounding Tuesday night on the road with a 44-40 decision over Vernon. When the Hawks entered Hirschi's new gymnasium, they were the only undefeated team in the conference. But the Huskies, by virtue of their win over the Hawks, are the first winners even though they tied with Iowa Park in the won-loss column. A couple of offensive turnovers in the last couple minutes of play proved disastrous to the Hawks. After leading by as many as eight points in the third period, the Hawks' defense gave way to the hot-shooting Huskies, who tied the score at 41-41, and then took the lead at 43-41 with 2:29 on a pair of free shots. Bringing the ball down court in an attempt to tie the score, a Hawk pass was intercepted and Hirschi scored, giving the hosts a four-point lead. The ball was advanced to Hirschi's end of the court again, but knocked out of bounds under the Husky basket. On the in-bound pass, the ball was again intercepted, and the Huskies scored again, establishing a 47-41 lead with 1:35 remaining on the clock. Steve Smith was high scorer for the Hawks, with 19 points. Steve Page had 14 and Marc Klinkerman 10.

Tuesday's game was the first of the second half. Iowa Park has only one more game on the road, Feb. 12 at Burkburnett. The Hawks will host Mineral Wells tomorrow, and Tuesday Graham plays here. Final game on the schedule is Hirschi, here Feb. 16. In order to win the district championship, Iowa Park must win the second half, and then defeat Hirschi in a playoff. At Vernon Tuesday, the Hawks out-scored their hosts 5-4 in the first quarter, 17-13 in the second and 8-7 in

Page led the Hawks with 19 points and Smith had 16. The Hawk junior varsity lost 58-28 to Hirschi and 45-31 to Vernon. GIRLS' GAMES The Hawkettes wound up in fourth place in the first-half standings after losing 62-56 to Hirschi. They won two and lost three, but were 12-7 for the season. A fourth-quarter scoring blitz by host Hirschi turned the tables on the Hawkettes, who had led 16-10 after the first quarter, 31-29 at the half and 40-35 going into the final period. Tammy Richardson led Hawkettes scoring with 16, followed by Lindy Neely's 11. Vernon out-scored the Hawkettes in the second and third quarters to win 50-43 Tuesday night. Iowa Park led 15-10 after the first period, but Vernon outscored Iowa Park 11-6 and 14-6 in the next two periods. Three Hawkettes finished in double figures: Lisa Yeakley, 13; Richardson, 12; and Neely, 10. The Hawkettes junior varsity lost their third game of the season to Hirschi, 20-18 in overtime. But they came back Tuesday to edge out Vernon, 32-31, and extend their season record to 11-3. Hawkettes freshmen dropped a 35-26 decision Monday to Wichita Falls.

City, school to call elections at meetings

The city council and school board are expected to call their annual elections at meetings next week.

Aldermen are to meet in council chambers at 7 p.m. Monday and school trustees will open their meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the administration building.

'82 prospects look bright

If January's building permits is indication of what kind of year Iowa Park can expect for 1982, then it will be one of growth and construction. Permits were issued for construction of three new homes and a church, and the sum of the nine permits issued was $122,554. Permits issued during January included: Jack C. Witherspoon, 205 E. Aldine, new residence, $25,000; Viola Stewart, 707 E. Cash, demolition permit, $4; Missionary Baptist Church, 1400 N. Pacific, church, $42,000; Eldon Patterson, 409 W. Jefferson, moving in house, $1,000; Eldon Patterson, 409 E. Jefferson, moving storage building, $200; Vern Mikkelsen, 908 Dosia, addition, $4,000; Swan Construction Co., 703 Park Plaza, new residence, $25,000; Swan Construction Co., 701 Park Plaza, new residence, $25,000; Mark Wicks, 800 S. Wall, addition, $350.

April 3 will be the date the two bodies will hold their elections. When the date is selected, each will name election judges and clerks.

Three ordinances will also be considered by city aldermen, two of which will concern fees charged.

One ordinance would increase plumbing permit fees and the other would amend dumping permit fees at the sanitary landfill.

The other ordinance would permit budget amendments.

School trustees will consider annual extensions of contracts for principals, counselors, head coach and director of West Wichita Cooperative.

Salary increases for the 1982-83 school year will be considered, because the following month is when contracts for teachers will be acted on. In fact, the date for a second meeting to be held in March is to be set Tuesday.

Also to be considered during next week's meeting is the 1982-83 school calendar, proposals for curriculum changes and a proposal to name a counselor for the elementary campuses.

News in brief

Second hand gun theft reported

The second report of a hand gun theft in Iowa Park during the past month was received by city lawmen. Viola Grace Stewart said someone forced open the back door of her home at 707 E. Cash sometime Tuesday and took a .45 cal. Smith and Weston pistol from under the pillows of her bed. The gun was valued at $350. A week earlier, Wayne Roach told police his .22 cal. Colt Peace Maker revolver was removed from a bedroom at 104 W. Chestnut some time during January. Fred Hambright Jr. reported the theft of $4,500 worth of tools and tool box sometime during January. He was out of town when the box, secured by screws to the bed of his pickup and weighing between 275 and 300 pounds, was removed. The pickup was parked in his carport. Gregg Wallace said his car was hit while it was parked on Emma St. between 8 p.m. Saturday and noon Sunday, but he did not know who did it.

Tractor safety program slated

A Farm Tractor Safety Certification Program for Wichita County 4-H and FFA members ages 14 and older is scheduled for Feb. 13 and 20 at the Iowa Park High School Vocational Agriculture Department building. The program is being sponsored and taught by the Wichita County Young Farmers. The 16-hour certification program is required by the Dept. of Labor for youths 14 and 15 years of age before hiring out to drive a tractor. The two-day program will run from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. both Saturdays. Youth enrolled in the program will review eight hours of classroom instruction and about eight hours of training in the field. Classroom training will be in basic tractor operation, safety and maintenance. Field training will enable the youth to get hands-on experience with a tractor, plowing and hitching. The program is being made possible through the organizational efforts of Freddie Daume, president, Wichita County Young Farmers; Doris McKenzie, 4-H adult leader; George Brandt, Iowa Park Vo-Ag teacher; and Don Decker and David Tunmire, county Extension agents.

Students plan rockathon event

Members of the OEA discussed plans to participate in the Rockathon for Special Olympics during a meeting held Monday night in the home of Beth Wood. They will rock at Sikes Center in Wichita Falls between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Saturday. Snacks will be served. Darla Flick conducted the business meeting.

Cook of the Week

Ready-made foods and meals are important in today's living, but there is still plenty of room for creative cooking. Many cooks take time to prepare meals which bear their own cachet whether they are entertaining a house full of guests or just preparing a simple meal. These cooks are concerned not only with the food's great taste, but with its appearance.

Emily (Mrs. Ray) Sefcik shares some of her recipes with us today that seem to bear her distinctive mark and to meet the requirements of both family and people-pleasers.

Mrs. Sefcik was graduated from high school in Fort Worth and attended Texas Wesleyan University. She worked as a clerk/typist for Sperry-Hutchinson 12 years. She and her husband, who is assistant football coach and head girls' basketball coach at Iowa Park High School, have lived in Iowa Park two years. She is presently working as a clerk at Louis' Jewelry. Her hobbies are reading, cooking and sports.

The couple has two children at home, Lisa a sophomore at Iowa Park High School and Ray Jr. an eighth student; and a grandchild, Eric, a student at Kidwell Elementary School. Their other children, all of Fort Worth, are John, Karen, Liz and Kelei.

Former Iowa Parkan is cactus expert

[EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was published in the Jan. 23 issue of The Dallas Morning News. Written by Cynthia Henderson, Garden Editor of The News, it is about Iowa Parkan Dr. Bill Mahler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mahler. He was graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1947, received his bachelor's from Midwestern State Univ., his master's from Oklahoma State and his doctor's from the University of Tennessee.]

Cacti, along with cowboys, have become quite chic, but this popularity is causing some big problems for some of the plants. There are eight species of Texas cacti currently on the Endangered Species List published in the Federal Register. Texas has a total of 10 plants on the list.

Some action is presently taking place to protect the plants. In 1973 an act was passed to include plants and non-game animals under the protection of the federal government. The first chore that had to be accomplished was to create an accurate list of endangered and threatened plant species in the United States. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service was selected to coordinate these activities and they published a preliminary list that was compiled from plants that were shown in the literature to be limited. The initial list was quite long but proved to be a valuable starting point. This list was sent to many of the plant taxonomists - botanists who study the classification of plants - for their comments.

Dr. William Mahler, the curator of the Southern Methodist University herbarium and associate professor of biology in the Dedman College on the SMU campus, was one of the experts who became involved in the project.

Mahler reviewed the Texas plants listed and was familiar enough with many of the plant materials to know that although they had not been reported in the literature, they were abundant in Texas. He sent status reports back to federal officials to indicate that these plants did not need to be included on the list. Through collecting reports from taxonomists around the country the original list was revised and reduced.

MAHLER was then sent the second list that contained 110 Texas species among the plant species still being considered for inclusion on the list. Mahler took the species individually and investigated them.

For example, Brazoria pulcherrima was being proposed for the list since it was reported to exist in only two small areas near Centerville, Texas. Mahler studied the original information in the literature and found that this plant was reported to flower in April-May, so he planned several collecting trips to see exactly how many of these plants were still growing in the area around Centerville. His planned trips were failures since he found none of the plants. Based on this information, he was ready to recommend that this plant be considered for one of the Endangered Species.

However, Mahler made another collecting trip to Houston late in the month of May and decided to stop by the Centerville area for one last check. He found the Brazoria pulcherrima in full bloom and was about to chart many new areas that the plant had never been reported to grow. He also corrected the information about the actual blooming time for the plant. Based on this new information, Mahler sent in a status report that recommended that this prolific plant be removed from consideration for the list.

The current Endangered Species List contains about 50 entries. There are about 10 more species that are currently being proposed as additions to the list. The 10 Texas species already on the list include Ancistrocactus tobuschii (Tobusch fishhook cactus), Coryphantha minima (Nellie cory cactus), Coryphantha sneedii var. Sneedii (Sneed pincushion cactus), Echinocereus lloydii (Lloyd's hedgehog cactus), Echinocereus reichenbachii var. Albert II (Black Lace cactus), Echinocereus viridiflorus var. Davisii (Green Davis pitaya), Neolloydia mariposensis (Mariposa Lloyd's cactus), Zizania texana (Texas wild-rice), and Callirhoe scabriuscula (Texas poppy mallow).

NOW THAT the list is getting close to its final form, recovery teams are being appointed to take action on protecting these endangered species. Mahler has been asked to serve on the Texas Plant Recovery Team. This 9-member team will review the situations of these endangered plants and make recommendations on steps to be taken to prevent these plants from becoming extinct.

In some cases this will involve asking landowners to fence off areas where endangered species grow, to prevent wildlife and cattle from grazing on the plants. Officials hope within a few years after protective measures are taken, the plants will be able to reproduce themselves so that they are no longer threatened by extinction. Another solution may be to plant the seeds of these plants in a protected area in the wild to ensure their growth.

Mahler says that the ultimate objective of the Plant Recovery Team is to "delist" all the species that are currently endangered.

Mahler suggests people buy only cacti that have been grown from seed and not collected. This will help protect the cacti from becoming extinct, he concluded.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

The only persons who weren't surprised by all the snow that had collected on their cars during Saturday's Chamber of Commerce banquet were the MuleSkinners.

They had been outside cooking the steaks in the snow, that had been sleet, that had been rain. Despite the cold wind and precipitation, the serving lines were held up only twice to wait on the steaks to properly cook.

An act of God is unforgivable, but an act by Lone Star Gas is forgivable, according to the Texas Education Agency.

Remember those two days students were forced to stay out of school last month, because of gas curtailment by the utility? They don't have to be made up, according to written directions from the TEA received yesterday by Supt. Harold Cowley.

This year's calendar was cut from the required 175 days to 173.

But, had the weather been so bad it would have been too dangerous to take the school buses out for the students, and local authorities decided not to hold school . . . that would have to be made up with extra days.

If the federal government gives the Texas highway people trouble in the future, about not holding drivers in the state to 55 miles per hour, the federals should be told to police their own people.

I clocked two plainly-marked federal autos doing well over the speed limit last week.

One, license number G12-600-99, was doing 67 near Alvord Thursday afternoon. The second, license number G51-5880, was cruising at 64 MPH Friday near Austin.

What's good for the goose is good for the gander.

I hope we haven't got something started at some of our basketball games we will regret in the future.

At two different games, involving freshman teams, Iowa Park people have been ejected from the gymnasium by referees. The officials are well within their rights, when they feel the fans are getting too strong and loud with their criticism.

At one game, a group of students was ejected from the local gym. At another being played at Burkburnett, a woman was tossed out, and the Iowa Park team charged with a technical foul.

In case our more critical fans aren't aware, such demonstrations not only hurt their team, but it could become impossible to hire referees to work our games. It's not a very nice reputation for our community, either.

Your electricity will cost more in 1982 mainly because the fuel to make it will cost more.

In 1982, we'll have to pay more for the fuels used to produce your electricity. Partly this is because another contract for low-cost natural gas fuel has expired. But mainly it's because the price of all fuel continues to rise.

We spent about $200 million in 1980 for fuel to make your electricity. In 1981, the fuel bill was about $400 million. And in 1982, we estimate we'll have to spend $640 million for fuel.

Approximate Cost of Fuel

Year	Fuel cost paid by Texas Electric	Your average annual fuel cost per kilowatt hour
1980	$200 million	1 cent
1981	$400 million	2 cents
1982*	$640 million	3 cents

*Estimated

We buy all our fuels at the lowest price available. We charge our customers exactly what we have to pay for fuel. And each month, we show on the bill the "fuel" part of the total cost of electricity.

At Texas Electric, we're trying to hold down fuel costs by making as much electricity as possible in plants built to use lignite coal — a cheaper fuel. And we're building a plant to use uranium, the lowest priced fuel available to us.

You can help hold down your electric bill by conserving at home. To learn how, please call us.

Sheep ideal for area's small farms

By Don D. Decker
County Agent

One of the best enterprises for a small farm of five to 50 acres is sheep production. It is one of the few agricultural enterprises which can be profitable in a small farm situation. It is easier to develop a balanced program for sheep on a small scale than any other commodity. However, there are virtually no small sheep flocks in the area.

Granted, coyotes and dogs can play havoc with a farm sheep flock operation. Losses to predators can usually be controlled by putting the animals in a barn or pen each night. Sheep are easily trained to come up for penning each night. Another problem is the shearing. It is usually better for the owner of a small flock to learn how to shear.

Fred Pruner has one of the few farm flocks in the area. He raises registered Southdown sheep, however, he is in the process of converting to a cross breeding program. A flock of finewool ewes with a Suffolk ram is a hard combination to beat. The ewes breed early, their wool is high quality, and the crossbred lambs bring top prices.

Pruner's place is located near Henrietta where he lives. It is essential for the owner to live on the place where the sheep are reared because of the predator problem.

One of the main reasons sheep are adapted to a small farm is their ability to consume a wide variety of forage crops. They eat weeds as well as all types of grasses. Wintering costs are usually low compared to other animals. Income is produced from both the sale of the wool and the lambs.

Sheep do well on coastal bermudagrass. For this reason, sheep production by land owners in the Wichita Valley could be a profitable enterprise. They are excellent for utilizing traps, fields, and "out" land even in a large farm operation.

Information on farm flock production is available at my office, 766-0131.

experience in 1981. He fall seeded 15 acres of the new Apollo variety on Sept. 1. This is up to a good stand with good fall growth. Another 25 acres of Apollo alfalfa will be spring seeded sometime between Mar. 15 and Apr. 15.

One of the keys to his success was the marketing arrangement. In his location he was able to sell all of the alfalfa in the field without having to handle the bales. Horse owners in the area were his main customers. The hay brought $3 a bale in the field. His bales weighed an average of 62 1/2 pounds, which figures $96 per ton.

The harvest from the six cuttings totaled 150 bales per acre. This grossed $450 per acre. His expenses per acres included: baling, $110; water, $5; seed, $25 (annual basis); plowing, $22 (annual share); and weevil control, $7; for a total of $170 per acre.

IRS Tax Tips

IRS Telephone Assistance:

Taxpayers Find It Fast, Easy, Free

"People are pleased whenever you can save them time and money. I think that's one reason the toll-free telephone taxpayer assistance operation is so popular among Texas taxpayers," noted Bob Fonck, director's representative from Wichita Falls.

Last year over two-million taxpayers received help from IRS through the Dallas telephone operation. "Taxpayers appreciate the convenience of being able to stay at home and get tax help," he added. "They save gasoline; they avoid waiting in line; and they can sit and have a cup of coffee while they do their forms." The telephone tax assistance operation is available Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Holliday files suit

Holliday city officials Tuesday afternoon filed suit against the city of Wichita Falls in 97th District Court of Archer County after Wichita Falls city council voted to raise the price of water sold to Holliday almost 200 percent.

The action came after a decision by the Wichita Falls aldermen Tuesday to raise the water rate from 18 cents per 100 cubic feet to 46.83 cents per 100 cubic feet. Alderman Carol Russell asked the council to instigate a gradual increase, but city manager Stuart Bach responded by saying Holliday officials were not willing to negotiate any increase.

"We are definitely willing to negotiate the contract with Wichita Falls," Holliday city administrator Jim Hamill said recently, "but not until 1983 as the contract states." The contract, signed by both communities Dec. 1, 1968, states that rates can be raised only after every five years and rate hikes must be based on demonstrable increases in the costs of providing water, and not capital improvements.

Holliday officials maintain that the rates cannot be raised until 1983, and that the current rate hike request by Wichita Falls includes improvements to the Jasper Street water plant in Wichita Falls. Holliday gets its water from the Cypress Street plant in southwestern Wichita Falls.

Wichita Falls officials maintain that the Jasper Street plant is an integral part of the system, and would be used to pump water to Holliday if the Cypress Street plant was shut down.

In addition, they say rates for Holliday haven't been raised since the last five-year period, so it is legal to raise the rates for that period anytime afterwards.

"I don't think we have to apologize for not going to them and saying, 'We thought we would tell you it is time to raise rates for your water,'" Hamill said.

According to mayor James Cook, the city has filed suit under the declaratory judgment act, which gives the court power to settle a contract dispute. The city is asking the court to make a ruling on whether Wichita Falls can increase the price of water before 1983 and whether the rate hike approved by Wichita Falls council members is based on the actual increase in the costs of water.

Council approves purchase

In a short meeting Monday night, Holliday city council voted on the purchase of a sewer rodding machine from the city of Iowa Park and the selection of an "official hometown newspaper" for 1982.

Two items on the six-item agenda were tabled without much discussion. A request by Jim Clark for a 1 1/2-inch water tap outside the city limits of Holliday was tabled when Clark failed to appear at the meeting.

Also, authorization to place the city's tax roll on a computerized system with Pritchard and Abbott of Fort Worth was tabled until city officials can research the possibility further. Discussion is expected to resume at the council's Feb. 15th meeting.

Council agreed to purchase a sewer rodding machine from Iowa Park for $250. City administrator Jim Hamill told the council that Iowa Park allowed him to test the machine earlier, and the result was satisfactory.

Make Dean's List

Former Holliday High School graduate William Clifford Brackeen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brackeen of Holliday, was placed on the Dean's List at Sam Houston State University for the fall semester of 1981.

Brackeen, a senior finance major, compiled a 3.125 earned grade point average for the last semester.
