School personnel receive salary hike

Iowa Park school teachers were given a salary increase, all personnel received a year's contract extension, and the trustee election date was set during Tuesday's trustee meeting. All teacher salaries were raised to $1,000 above state scale, and the $300 bonus for those residing within the school district continued. The increase did not lift the salaries to the level paid in Wichita Falls, but they are competitive with other schools of the area, according to Supt. Harold Cowley. Salaries for all supporting personnel were also increased from $375 to $750 above state scale. In addition, trustees gave Georgia Kincade a $1,000 raise. Four of the six trustees rejected a proposal to raise her pay grade to four, which would have meant a $3,000 increase. They agreed to add $900 to a $300 bonus already approved, however. She will undertake a new duty now required by the state, of teacher certification. Contracts for all key personnel were extended for the 1982-83 school year. They include principals Bob Dawson, James Alsop, James Ward, Robert Cole and assistant principal Kenneth Davis; counselors Carl King, Herman Escue and Colleen Roberts; placement officer Richard Davis, athletic director David Baugh and tax collector Bill Steger. West Wichita Cooperative personnel were also approved: John Sibley, director; counselors and diagnosticians Opal Beall, Sue Paschall and Florence Sibley, and psychologist Sylvia Mahler. April 3 was set for the trustee election date. Polls will be Kidwell Elementary for precinct 32, Bradford Elementary for precincts 33, 42 and 60, and Valley View for precincts 34, 35, 59 and 9 of Archer County. Terms expire this year for trustees Martha Dudley, Roy Boutwell and Ray Hicks.

SCHOLARSHIP ESTABLISHED
Trustees approved acceptance of $1,000 from Mike King of Commerce, to be placed in an interest-bearing account and the proceeds to provide an annual scholarship for Iowa Park graduates. To be named the "Ricky Alsop Scholarship," the fund is to honor the late son of junior high principal Jimmy Alsop. A $150 scholarship for the first semester at a college of the graduate's choice will begin next fall. The recipient will be chosen by the local faculty. Donor King is the photographer for pictures in the local school annual, as was his father before him, trustees were told. The 1982-83 school calendar was approved, and a "spring break" will be initiated for the first time locally. Classes are to begin Aug. 30 and end May 26. The spring break will be Mar. 14-18, and Christmas vacation will begin Dec. 23 and classes resume Jan. 3. Cowley explained a five-year program proposed by the curriculum committee, but said details will not be completed for presentation until the March board meeting. Basically, the proposal is to have "measurable objectives," to aid in determining achievement. "Our teachers are doing an outstanding job," Cowley said. "But I feel they could do better with more coordination." Trustees approved a trip for the girls' track team to compete in a meet at Stephenville, but denied a proposal to allow the team to stay there overnight. Board members will hold two meetings, instead of one, next month, it was decided. Because of the length of time required when teacher contracts are considered, members decided to take up that subject Mar. 2 and then attend to regular business Mar. 9. Also approved was the establishment of the position of a counselor for the elementary grades.

City election called; three positions open

The city election was officially called by council members Monday night, and ordinances were also approved which increased fees for plumbing inspections and landfill dumping.

Precinct 32 poll will be at Kidwell Elementary and precinct 33 at Bradford Elementary, when the election is held April 3. Terms expire this year for mayor, Johnny Crawford, and aldermen Lita Watson and Bud Thompson. None have officially indicated as yet whether they will seek re-election. The pumping inspection fees were increased to where construction of a house under the former fees were averaging $9 will now be slightly over $12, according to Steve Morath, city administrator. Inspections are required on all new construction, as well as yard sprinkler system installation and water and natural gas line replacements. New rates for dumping at the city sanitary landfill, without a permit, were increased as follows: pickup truck, $6; single axle trailer, $6; pickup truck and trailer combination, $12; bobtail truck, $15; and all larger equipment, $25. Rates are set per load. Persons residing or owning businesses in Iowa Park can still purchase a $2 vehicle sticker, good for a year. Vehicles which can exhibit the sticker are limited to a pickup truck, car or car-pulled trailer. Larger vehicles will be charged on a per-load basis, according to the ordinance. Holders of landfill stickers and permits will be required to furnish, upon request of the landfill attendant, the address from which the refuse was removed. Anyone found in violation of the ordinance will have their permit revoked and be barred from further entrance to the landfill, and assessed a fine. Because of a request to abandon a portion of Hawthorne, Jefferson and Smith streets, where a home has been built, Morath was instructed to negotiate a lease on the property, rather than abandon it. Leasing was recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission. The land is located east of property owned by McClendon Elevator. Morath was also instructed to research what portions of Smith Street have been abandoned. Smith parallels the railroad on the south side.

Members of the volunteer fire department of Wichita County and Holliday will be honored at a steak dinner Saturday night. The event is sponsored by the Wichita County Young Farmers and will begin at 7 p.m. in Iowa Park High School cafeteria. Fire departments are honored annually by the Young Farmers because of the efforts by the volunteers to battle rural fires. Money which has been donated by property owners, and earned by the Young Farmers, will be divided among the departments to help defray operating expenses.

News in brief

Steak dinner for firemen

Members of the volunteer fire department of Wichita County and Holliday will be honored at a steak dinner Saturday night. The event is sponsored by the Wichita County Young Farmers and will begin at 7 p.m. in Iowa Park High School cafeteria. Fire departments are honored annually by the Young Farmers because of the efforts by the volunteers to battle rural fires. Money which has been donated by property owners, and earned by the Young Farmers, will be divided among the departments to help defray operating expenses.

Thefts from vehicles reported

Thefts from two vehicles were reported during the past week to the Iowa Park Police Department.

Some time between 2:30 and 8 a.m. Jan. 30, Robert Merritt said the Barbour Trucking Co. tractor he was driving was burglarized. It was parked in the 200 block of S. Victoria when someone reportedly broke out the glass of a door and took a CB radio, radar detector, Lenior, flashlights, cigarette lighter, box of tools, external speaker, comfort and whisk broom, all valued at $1,147. Between 5:30 and 8:40 p.m. Monday, John Michael Kelly said the vent window of his vehicle was broken to gain entry, and a Pioneer cassette stereo and Pioneer equalizer, each valued at $200 were taken. Robert Brian Atkins told police the windshield of his automobile was broken, apparently with a rock, parked at Barbour Trucking west yard between 8 and 10 a.m.

Local firm's license suspended

McClendon Grain Co. Inc. is apparently without a Texas Agriculture Department license to do business, but as of mid-day Wednesday, no official notification had been received. Bruce Martin, attorney for owner Jim McClendon, said he could not comment on the situation because the case reportedly is to be turned over to the district attorney for investigation. However, Martin and McClendon each said they had not been officially notified by the state office. According to a story in yesterday's Wichita Falls newspaper, records of the grain firm were not being kept "complete and accurate." State Commissioner Reagan Brown was quoted as saying the records are "... for the protection of farmers and others who store grain in warehouses." Darrel Ketchum, supervisor of the grain warehouse program, said inspectors did not suspect any grain stored for farmers was missing. Some grain, between 50,000 and 60,000, was sold that records did not indicate to have been purchased, Brown reportedly told the city newspaper. McClendon reaffirmed a quote from the article, that he "did not owe a farmer a dime." The company's license was suspended Jan. 6. A hearing was held last week in Vernon. Martin attended, but McClendon did not. "I have no idea how or why this thing was investigated," Martin said.

DARLENE MAHLER, MISS WICHITA COUNTY FOR 1982 ... with Sheri Ryman, Miss Texas, and Lolly Hatcher, 1981 Miss Wichita County

Iowa Parkan claims Miss Wichita crown

Darlene Mahler, 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Mahler of Iowa Park, was crowned the new Miss Wichita County in Iowa Park High School Auditorium Saturday night.

Miss Mahler, the only Iowa Park entrant in the Iowa Park Optimist-sponsored pageant, was chosen over 18 other contestants by a panel of five judges. She was sponsored by Louis' Jewelry. The elated Midwestern State University senior was crowned by the outgoing Miss Wichita County, Lolly Hatcher of Burkburnett. In addition, Miss Mahler will receive a $1,000 scholarship, a $2,500 wardrobe, $1,500 in travelling expenses, a personal decorator phone, the crown and a Miss America pin, diamond watch and personal appearance contracts, as well as a shot at the Miss Texas title.

First runner-up in the pageant was Shaunette Hildabrand, 19, of Enid, Okla., sponsored by Parkway Furniture. Second runner-up was Risa Morton, 18, of Bowie, and sponsored by the Phone Booth. Third runner-up was Sonia Carter, 20, of Knox City. She was sponsored by Taubert and Steed Oil Co. Fourth runner-up was Marion Cooper, 19, of Wichita Falls, sponsored by O'Donohoe Oil Co.

Danny Parkerson, a former Iowa Parkan, served as master of ceremonies. Parkerson, who has been involved in the local pageant since 1964, lost the bottom of his 1920's swimsuit while announcing the judges and special guests. Luckily, Parkerson was appropriately dressed underneath, and turned a potentially embarrassing situation into a hilarious ad-lib routine.

Judges for the pageant were Bob Horan, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Miss Texas Scholarship Pageant Corp.; June Mirike, associate director of the Miss Texas pageant; B.F. Hank Carroll, a member of the Miss Texas board of trustees; Jean Jones, president of the state association of local Miss Texas Scholarship Pageant franchise holders, and; Jim A. McClelland, president of AAA Advertising Specialties of America.

Other awards presented were: Miss photogenic, Gerri Cozart, 19, of Wichita Falls; Swimsuit division winner, Miss Morton; Talent division winner, Miss Hildebrand; Special director's award, Kim Darnell, 20, of Wichita Falls, and; Non-finalist talent award, Bridgett Hague, 17, of Wichita Falls.

The pageant was dedicated to the late Eddie Stolper, former vice-president of the Iowa Park Optimist Club. Theme of the pageant was "All That Jazz."

Assisting Miss Hatcher was Sheri Ryman, Miss Texas 1981. Miss Ryman also performed a gymnastic dance routine for the full crowd.

Parkerson's daughter, Peyton Parkerson, performed a song for the audience to help fill a void due to the absence of special entertainer Thom McGehee. Weather forced the cancellation of McGehee's trip to Iowa Park, as well as outdoor functions planned for the pageant preliminaries, according to Parkerson.

Goetze home burglarized

Wichita County sheriff's office is investigating a burglary of Miss Lina Goetze's home, southwest of Iowa Park, sometime late Friday or early Saturday.

A $700 reward has been posted for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the burglar who took numerous antiques from the home.

Miss Goetze is a patient at the local rest home.

Max Goetze, nephew and caretaker of the property, reported the incident. A barbed wire fence at the entrance gate had been cut and an oil line broken by a truck passing over it was discovered by a pumper.

Among the items taken from the home were a rare German Bible, an antique victrola, a pot-bellied stove, china closet and a 1895 edition of German encyclopedias. They were valued as high as $6,000.

The Goetzes were one of Wichita County's earliest settling families, moving here in the late 1800s.

Chapman, Toller wedding held here Saturday evening

The large wooden cross hanging above the choir loft in First Baptist Church was spotlighted at the altar Saturday evening to cast a hushed reverence over the setting for the wedding of Miss Jtoy Ruth Chapman and William Scott Toller.

The restrained decorations below the cross deepened its meaning. The couple repeated their vows before a brass arch gently threaded with boxwood, and candles glowed in flanking seven-branched candelabra decorated with the same greenery. On either side of the steps leading to the altar brass stands held crystal bowls filled with light and dark blue silk roses, white carnations and baby's breath. Blue silk bows marked the church pews.

Rev. Howell Farnsworth performed the double-ring ceremony to unite the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Chapman and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Toller.

Wedding musicians were Miss Sandy Clappitt, pianist, Miss Lisa Dietrichson and Miss Linda Latimer, vocalists. As guests assembled in the sanctuary for the wedding, Miss Clappitt played "If," "Bless the Beasts and the Children," "Gentle Shepherd," "Wedding Song," "With This Ring," "He Has Chosen You," and "God, a Woman and a Man." She accompanied Miss Dietrichson for her rendition of "Make Us One, Father" after the mothers had been ushered and seated, and Miss Latimer who sang "Looking Through the Eyes of Love" just before the couple exchanged their rings, and "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony. The wedding party approached and left the altar while Miss Clappitt played the time-honored marches.

April Jagger, sister of the groom, secured signatures of guests for the wedding memories book as they entered the church foyer. The book rested on a round table covered with white dimity overlaid with white lace featuring drapes caught with light blue bows and white silk carnations at the top. The couple's decoupage wedding invitation flanked by tall porcelain "Pinky and Blue Boy" figurines were special table appointments. A framed picture of the bride and groom was seen on a table nearby.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father who gave her in marriage for her parents. She chose a formal gown of white chiffon marked by dignified gracefulness of style for her wedding. The natural waist bodice was traced with Chantilly lace, and the deep scoop neckline was outlined with silk Venise lace embroidered with pearls and iridescents. The lace was repeated on the sheer fitted sleeves. The beauty of the full skirt and chapel train was enhanced with two rows of wide Chantilly lace.

She wore a white picture hat of chiffon and Chantilly lace with one side held up with silk flowers. A large trailing bow of imported bridal illusion was the finishing touch to her "conversation piece" headdress. To complete the all-white total effect of her costume, the bride carried a cascade bouquet of white silk roses with white silk ribbons extending floorward.

To observe bridal traditions, she wore a necklace set with a diamond from her late paternal grandmother's wedding ring for "something old," and her mother's diamond earrings for "something borrowed." In her wedding slipper, she wore a lucky Indian head penny that had been given to her father by his aunt, Mrs. Ruth Gardner of Skiatook, Okla. For the "something new" and "something blue" additions, she chose her gown and a garter.

Miss Marian Lunsford took part in the wedding as maid of honor and Miss Teresa Rich was bridesmaid. Their identical long gowns of light blue cotton featuring dark blue floral print were made with natural waist bodices, spaghetti straps, off-the-shoulder wide lace-trimmed ruffles and hemline flounces. Matching sashes hugged the waistlines and tied in bows in the back. They wore garlands of light and dark blue and white roses accented with touches of blue net on their heads and carried single white silk roses with cascading streamers.

In keeping with the shades of blue chosen for emphasis in the wedding, the groom wore a light blue suit and masculine participants and fathers wore dark blue suits. Each wore a light blue silk rose in his coat lapel.

Rev. Tommy Bragg of Wichita Falls was best man for the groom and his brother, Rev. Larry A. Toller of Fort Worth was groomsman. Wesley Toller and Kent Chapman, brothers of the couple, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a light blue street-length dress designed with a V-neck accented with a tie bow, long sleeves, matching belt and A-line skirt. The groom's mother was attired in a dusty rose street length dress made with puff sleeves and stylish pleated skirt. Their corsages were fashioned of blue silk roses, matching net and ribbon.

The Fellowship Hall of the church was a place of delicate beauty and charm for the reception hosted by the bride's parents following the wedding. The decorations brought out pleasing and exciting color combinations in shades of blue.

The wedding cake, baked and decorated by the bride's mother, presented cake artistry at its best and attracted strong interest in the setting. The confection featured three white tiers based on three small cakes, and one set of Grecian pillars. Iced in white, each layer was set off with frosting designs of deep shells and scallops, cascades of blue roses clinging to pale green leaves. The third tier was further ornamented with trailing green vines. The unusual top ornament, also made by the bride's mother, was a white porcelain bell lettered with "Scott-Judy." A heart-shaped cut-out in front held a smaller bell where the wedding date was told on the clapper. White porcelain doves were perched on top of the large bell and blue lace surrounded its base.

The table was covered with lace-edged ecru muslin and overlaid with blue crepe set off around the top with swags centered with white net puffs and blue silk carnations. The blue napkins were personalized with names of the bride and groom in white.

The long table that held the silver punch and coffee services was draped with blue crepe overlaid with a white lace cloth that was used on the refreshment table at the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Harpie Morris of Chillicothe, the bride's maternal grandparents. The centerpiece was a four-branched silver candelabrum holding an imposing bouquet of silk roses and carnations in shades of blue and white and baby's breath.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jim Rinehart, April Jagger and Miss Michelle Baker. Houseparty members were Mrs. O.S. McLemore and Mrs. Alton Hunter.

The white net rice bags tied with blue ribbon were handed out from blue glass bowls at extremities of a table laid with blue linen cloth that showed a white lace skirt. The centerpiece was a blue basket filled with flowers and colors emphasized in the wedding.

The bride and groom were both graduated from Iowa Park High School. She is engaged in child care at a registered home in Wichita Falls and he works for Trinity Engineering Testing Corp. They will live in Wichita Falls.

Special wedding guests were Mrs. Nina Graves of Iowa Park, Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Higgins of Olney, the groom's grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. Harpie Morris of Chillicothe, the bride's grandparents.

Whiteacre, Norris vows are exchanged in Nocona

Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Whiteacre of Kamay announce the marriage of their daughter, Robin Ann, and John William Norris, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Morris of Nocona.

The wedding took place Saturday in the minister's study of the Church of Christ in Nocona. Guy Orbison was the officiant.

The bride wore a white satin dress designed with a lace bodice, high neck, long sleeves inset with lace and a hemline flounce. She carried a lace handkerchief that had belonged to her late maternal grandmother. Her full length lace veil was secured to a lace bandeau, and she carried a silk bouquet composed of orchids, purple statice with green centers backgrounded with green lace.

Miss Ellie Covert was the bride's attendant. She wore a long floral print sheer dress. Larry Ritchie was the groom's attendant.

A reception was held at the church following the wedding. The refreshment table was covered with white lace and centered with a bouquet of silk flowers.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1977 and is employed by Pleasant Haven Nursing Home in Nocona. The groom was graduated from Nocona High School in 1977 and is presently employed by Scott Brothers in Nocona.

Shower honors recent bride

Mrs. Duncan Spruiell was honored at a postnuptial shower Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Mark Stephens in Wichita Falls. Mrs. Harold Newton and Miss Jayne Morrison were co-hostesses.

Orange and yellow were the colors carried out in decorations on the refreshment table which held a dried floral arrangement.

Twenty guests attended the party and Kay Mahan of Dallas, sister of the honoree, was a special guest.

March date is selected

Dr. and Mrs. James Ford of Arkadelphia, Ark. have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jennifer, and Tony Singer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Singer of Iowa Park. The couple will exchange their nuptial vows March 6 in Arkadelphia.

Miss Ford was graduated from Henderson State University and is employed as a sales representative for Copy Products Center in Shreveport, La. The groom-elect, who works for ITT Finance Corp. in Shreveport, was graduated from Quachita Baptist University.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Singer hosted a reception Saturday afternoon to honor the betrothed couple and to introduce Miss Ford to her fiance's Iowa Park friends. The four formed the receiving line to greet the large number of friends who called between two and four o'clock.

Mrs. Bill Bates secured signatures of guests for the book that was placed on an antique iron and wood music stand.

The refreshment table where Mrs. Vern Horsky, Mrs. Grover Cleveland, Mrs. Stanley Hoyer, Mrs. Jack Railsback and Miss Teri Singer, sister of the groom-to-be, presided was a pleasing blend of heirloom and contemporary appointments. The

Radical change seen for future education

Predictions for "education in the future" were heard by 23 Study Club members Thursday afternoon in an address by Miss Ethyle Kidwell, a well-known educator of the area. The title of her address was "Teaching in the Year 2001."

The talk was based on predictions that the National Institute of Education at Washington came up with on the subject of teaching in general at the turn of the century. Miss Kidwell used information from a reprint of the findings in Voice, May 1980, a newspaper of the Pennsylvania State Education Association in Harrisburg, Pa.

"The key to the future is technology," the speaker stated. She further stated that the computer age will have exploded and changed everyone's way of living by the year 2001, according to the futurists, and that computers will be as common as pencils are now in the classrooms.

"The predictions are that education as we know it today will be totally outdated and that electronics will permit individuals to have their own educational needs met by simply tuning in pre-programmed lessons at home on the television set. Also that learning will be individualized and a solitary experience shared by students of all ages and the computers and video display," Miss Kidwell remarked.

Giving further predictions of the futurists, she said that teachers would be dealing with "human aspects of the child's development," rote learning would be by machinery, and testing and evaluating by computers. A decline in need of classroom teachers is expected, and there will be more behind-the-scenes educators and teachers who will compose electronic tapes beamed into schools and homes. Colleges will gear their programs toward maintaining computer and media programming.

Continuing, Miss Kidwell gave predictions for the future of education to include textbooks being replaced by tv terminals, library shelves being filled with computer terminal plugged into a master computer system instead of books. She mentioned the predictions of centralized school buildings, very little political influence in the school system, increased power and decision making by the school community, increased emphasis on adult education where home tv screens and video display terminals will be utilized.

In conclusion, Miss Kidwell observed that futurists have not come up with any ideas on how to build computers and pre-programmed tapes that will take the place of human aspect in learning, which she considers very important; and if they do, funding them will be astronomically high.

The meeting was held in the home of Metz was co-hostess.

JENNIFER FORD and TONY SINGER

things of yesteryear that captured attention were crochet doilies that the table was laid with and a pair of two-branched crystal candelabra that held white candles, handed down to the host by his late grandmother.

Orchid, the future brides chosen color was emphasized in the decorative scheme. The floral centerpiece fashioned of orchid silk sweetpeas, baby's breath intermixed with lacy white wedding bells was arranged in a crystal basket that Mrs. Singer used in her wedding. The solid orchid napkins were imprinted with "Jennifer and Tony" and the white cake squares were topped with orchid forget-me-nots. The handsome silver coffee service and crystal punch service and bell-shaped mints completed the decor.

Miss Ford was presented with a permanently preserved orchid from her hostess.

CARD OF THANKS

How can we ever adequately express our thanks to all the wonderful people who were so kind to our dear son and brother during his illness and to us after his death? So many shared with us in our sorrow and expressed love and sympathy through food, flowers, cards and visits, and we want you to know that we appreciate every gesture of concern far beyond our ability to express.

Lovingly,
Ray, Beatrice, brothers and sisters of

begin computing your federal income tax now to be sure you can pay any tax due by the deadline. This is especially good planning in light of the increase in the annual interest rate IRS charges on overdue tax bills to 20 percent.

According to R.C. Voskuil, Director of the Dallas District of the Internal Revenue Service, the annual interest rate charged on delinquent tax accounts and paid on overpayments rises from 12 percent to 20 percent effective Feb. 1, 1982. In addition, if tax due on this year's 1040 is not paid by the April 15th deadline, payment penalty accrues at the rate of one half of one percent per month for a total of 26 percent in addition to the tax due.

Letter to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:

It is true what Mr. Hamilton said about persons being ejected from 2 freshman basketball games, recently, but he failed to mention a few facts. At the Burk game the referees were calling very one sided, first, with the girls game & continuing to do so during the boys game. The outburst came when a fan merely said "You Blew it ref" after a bad call, the ref then told the fan to leave and if he didn't do so, a technical would be given, at which time I stood up and objected to this action and was told to leave & given the technical. Until that time very little had been said by the fans and I feel this ref was very prejudiced against the Hawk teams.

I do apologize for my outburst and did apologize that night to Coach Davis, but I do wish the Referee Association could provide us with unbiased referees. It's pitiful to watch our children play their hearts out, only to have the majority of the fouls called against the Iowa Park teams. I feel these outbursts wouldnt be made, if our children were first treated fairly.

Sincerely,
Susie Bates
Concerned Parent & Hawk Fan.

To the Citizens of Iowa Park

I don't know how to say all the things I feel about being chosen as Citizen of the Year. When Frances got up to present the award, I was thinking that someday I'd like to be worthy of that honor. When I realized she was talking about me, I couldn't believe it. Then I started thinking of all the things I was going to say, thanking all of you for an honor I know I don't deserve, and I couldn't say any of it. One thing I want to say is that my brother, Bud, was the real bread winner when we were kids. I did work and help him with it, but that credit goes to him. Of course he was older - 14!

Anyway, I love all of you and I'll try to be worthy of the honor. God bless each & every one of you.

Bill Gilmore

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

I've often mentioned how little respect I have for most of those working in the big media, which would include the major newspapers, radio, television and magazines of our nation. They're just too liberal for me.

If the national media people represent the average American, we're in big trouble.

Public Opinion magazine editors recently spent an hour each with 240 members of the "media elite."

These are the "bigwigs" of the national media -- television commentators, syndicated columnists, news executives, bureau chiefs, producers and film editors, and reporters. It was a collection of people who decide what we hear and read of public affairs, particularly in Washington. The results are interesting.

The study shows that not once in four national elections did even 20 percent of these people support the Republican party. They went 4-1 for Carter over Ford, 7-1 for Humphrey in 1968, 16-1 for Johnson over Goldwater, and 81-19 for McGovern over Nixon.

Only eight percent regularly attend church, and 86 percent said they attend church seldom or never. There were 54 percent who said they see nothing wrong with adultery. They believe that big business runs the country, followed by the news media in second place, and labor unions in third.

These media people in the survey believe that they are best qualified to run the country by directing its policies. They believe in redistribution of income, government-guaranteed jobs, affirmative action, heavier taxes on rich individuals and government control of large corporations.

Most of these media people are liberals in their political philosophy and would rather spend government money on social programs than on national defense. They are much more fearful of big business than big government or big labor.

It is no wonder that the Washington press corps is opposed to the Reagan philosophy of government, and no incident that the national media works in countless little ways to plant the seeds of distrust and dissension toward the Reagan policies.

Daniel Schorr, former network newsman now with an independent television group, is a journalist who stood up to federal court and refused to expose a confidential source. He felt that strongly about the First Amendment of our constitution.

Schorr spoke last week at Midwestern State Univ. He is also critical of his former big media associates and is quoted in the MSU newspaper as saying:

"At one time our picture of the press was that it served the interest of the public, it exposed corruption and it did things on its own. When we spoke of the press, we were speaking of something considered to be good. Now, when one speaks of the press, we are speaking of something a little bit less favorable.

"The proto-type of the journalist today is the television anchor man, sitting at a desk surrounded by a corps of assistants of various kinds, making an awful lot of money, more than Americans are comfortable with. He really isn't a reporter anymore, he is more like an actor," Schorr said.

When I read a story written by one of the major wire services, copy-written from a big metropolitan newspaper, or watch a network news broadcast, I have to hold a big salt shaker in one hand, and use it.

Electricity is costing more in 1982, but...

You can help hold down winter bills.

Electricity is costing more this year because the fuels we need to make it cost more. But here's what you can do to help hold down your heating bills and save money:

No-cost suggestions

- Set your thermostat at 68° or lower. Remember, the lower you set it during the winter, the lower your bill.
- At night and when you're going to be away from home, set your thermostat at 55° or lower.
- Open drapes and blinds during the day to let in sunlight, then close them at night to hold in warm air.
- If you have a dishwasher, set water heater to 140°; otherwise, set temperature to 120° or lower.
- If away for two days or more, turn down water heater thermostat.
- Try to minimize traffic through outside doors.
- Economize when doing kitchen or laundry work; for example, wash and dry only full loads of clothes and plan meals so several dishes can be cooked in the oven at the same time.

Cost-effective suggestions

- Install water-flow devices in showers and faucets to limit flow.
- Repair water leaks in pipes and faucets, and seal air duct leaks.
- Check the filters in your system at least once a month. Clean permanent filters or replace disposables as needed.
- Caulk and weatherstrip around doors and windows to help prevent excessive heat loss.
- Add insulation to ceilings, walls and floors.
- Insulate ducts, especially in the attic.
- Insulate hot water pipes in attic.
- Install insulation blankets on water heaters, especially in garage or basement.
- Use scrap insulation to plug air leaks in attic and around fireplace dampers.
- Investigate cost-effectiveness of storm doors and windows.

Cook of the Week

Cherries are perhaps the fruit most often associated with February because it is the month when the birthday of George Washington is observed, but they are tasty and popular during every month of the year. The question "Can she bake a cherry pie, Billy Boy," asked a young man about his future bride suggests the place of the fruit in providing first-rate dessert for the family.

English settlers brought the cherry tree to America as early as 1629 and today they are grown in every state. They arrived in Italy about 100 B.C. and within the century, cherry trees were found growing throughout the Roman Empire. The Romans took the cherry tree as far as Britain, but it seemed to disappear from there in the Dark Ages. It was introduced later by Henry VIII, and Robert Louis Stevenson wrote "Up Into the Cherry Tree, Who Should Climb but Little Me?"

Cherries are a versatile fruit and popular ingredients in pies, cakes and salads. Estalene (Mrs. J.W.) Manning shares one of her cherry salad recipes with us this week.

Mrs. and Mrs. Manning have lived in Iowa Park about a year and a half, moving here from Knox City. He retired from farming and she gave up her work at Brazos Valley Care Home where she worked for 15 years to move here to be near their daughter, Mrs. Bob Ray, and family. They are members of Faith Baptist Church. They have two grandsons, Mike and Billy Ray, both students at Midwestern State University.

Mrs. Manning's hobbies are reading, cooking and piecing quilts.

Shelter for abused persons explained to church group

A representative from First Step Inc. was a guest and speaker Monday evening at the monthly meeting of the Friendship class of First Baptist Church held in the home of Mrs. C.A. Hicks. Co-hostess was Mrs. Herman Kight.

The speaker gave a brief history of the organization in Wichita Falls which was started in 1976 out of concern for the number of family violence cases reported. She said that a shelter was purchased for abused wives and children in 1979 and the shelter was lost in 1981. She stated that a house has been purchased for another shelter which will be ready by early May.

She said that the shelter received between 300-400 calls per year from battered women in all walks of life seeking safety and emotional support, and she described the services rendered at the shelter which includes providing food, clothing, a place of safety, counseling.

When asked to give the needs of the shelter and how individuals and organizations could help, she mentioned food, paper goods, bed linens, toys for children, baby furniture, and money to help defray utility bills.

During a business meeting later conducted by Mrs. D.H. Ford, the group voted to buy two pillows and contribute staple food items and paper goods for the shelter.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson was in charge of the devotional part of the meeting. She used "What Is Love" for a theme and told what love meant to people in different walks of life. She told a story "Lift of Love" by Mary Ruth which exemplified in many different ways.

Twelve members were present.

Schedule for:

Recreational Activities Center

Do you have a hobby you'd like to share with others?

The RAC is planning a hobby show Saturday, Mar. 20. No entry fee nor admission will be charged, but hobbyist should call the RAC to reserve a display space.

A new aerobic exercise class will begin at 7 p.m. Monday. Classes are held each Monday and Wednesday for a six-week period.

The RAC's ceramic group meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. New lighting has been installed in the auditorium, making adequate space for more interested in the activity.

A non-denominational Bible study is held at 7 p.m. each Wednesday.

Country-western dance lessons are held Thursdays and a new class is to begin soon.

RAC board meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday.

Shower fetes bride elect

Appointments on the refreshment table covered with white lace over blue included a centerpiece of blue silk roses and baby's breath arranged in a white basket, crystal hurricane globes holding blue candles, and silver services.

The table that held the book where guests registered with a blue feather pen was laid with blue linen and the gift table was covered with white linen.

Among those who attended the party from out-of-town were Mrs. George Holder, grandmother of the groom-elect, Mrs. David Holder, both from Altus, Okla.; Mmes. Dick Haas, Jack Hollingsworth, Bill Murphy of Wichita Falls; and Donna Beals of Fort Worth.

Parents of the betrothed couple who will be married March 6 are Mr. and Mrs. Thurmond Allison of Round Rock, formerly of Burkburnett and Mr. and Mrs. James D. Beals of Iowa Park.

Birk Circle meets

Eight members of the Lucy Birk Circle of First Presbyterian Church attended the meeting Tuesday morning at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Norman Nettleton.

Rev. Nettleton moderated the Bible study, "Love for God and Love for Neighbor." He pointed out that it is impossible to express love to God without demonstrating love for other persons. He said that some people mistakenly believe that love for God can be shown in acts of worship alone. He stated that the Bible teaches that love for God will be shown in attitudes and actions toward others.

Lester retires

Orange Lester of Iowa Park has retired from federal civil service after 35 years.

Lester worked as an aircraft mechanic with the 3750th Consolidated Maintenance Squadron at Sheppard Air Force Base prior to his retirement.

Dustin Wayne, the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Shierry of Wichita Falls, was born February 3. He weighed 10 pounds and eight ounces. Mrs. Shierry is the former Lori Merrill.

Three games remain for basketball teams

With the regular season to end Tuesday, both Iowa Park varsity basketball teams have three games remaining. They are to travel tomorrow evening to Burkburnett, host Mineral Wells Saturday and then Tuesday, Hirschi is to play here for the schedule finale. Saturday's game with Mineral Wells will be a makeup, after the scheduled game last Friday was postponed due to bad road conditions.

The first Mineral Wells game, between the girls' teams, is to begin at 4 p.m., with the boys' following about 5:30. The junior varsity teams will not play Saturday.

Both the boys' and girls' JV teams will play at Burkburnett and here against Hirschi, however. First game tomorrow and Tuesday will begin at 3:30 p.m.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service will participate in a test pilot program with the National Needlework Association.

Mrs. Johnnie Mitchell, Friberg Cooper 4-H Club, and Mrs. Elida Heinart, Horse Club, attended a weekend workshop at the Texas 4-H Center in Brownwood. Kay Lind, director of education of the National Needlework Association, and Barbara Johnson, a member of the association, conducted workshops with approximately 125 adult leaders, 4-Hers and county extension agents.

The National Needlework Association will provide all materials necessary for various projects. These supplies will be donated by members of the National Needlework Association. 4-Hers will complete the projects and then submit an evaluation of the materials to the National Needlework Association. The association will use these evaluations as a basis for revision and improvement of project materials.

Project objectives are to develop interest and have fun while learning a new skill, at the same time completing a finished product of esthetic and educational value. Basic project objectives include:

- to teach fundamental skills
- to build on these skills by adding more difficult variations
- to relate to other skills such as reading comprehension and mathematics
- to learn to read and follow instructions
- to develop creativity
- to develop a sense of color, proportion, etc.
- to complete a useful product
- to make the entire process "fun"

The National Needlework Association with the Cooperation of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in this pilot program hope to develop projects that meet the above objectives.

Steers upset Hawks here Tuesday

Graham's Steers upset the Hawks here Tuesday night and cast a dim light on Iowa Park's chances for repeating as champions of Dist. 3-AAAA.

The Steers avenged a first-round loss to the Hawks, played at Graham, by defeating Iowa Park 46-42.

It was the second loss to Graham. The two clubs met in December in Wichita Falls and Graham won that one, 62-56. But Jan. 22, Iowa Park bested the Steers 48-42 in district play.

Tuesday's loss was an exercise in frustration for Coach Earnie Reusch's club. Graham drew its zone defense tightly under the basket, taking away any chance of an easy layup. Forced to shoot from the outside, the Hawks were unusually cold from 15 to 18 feet away.

When the Steers took an early 14-9 lead by the end of the first quarter, it was nothing unusual. The Hawks always have a hot period during which they normally come from behind.

They picked up four points on the Steers in the second quarter, and trailed by only one point, 19-18, when the teams went to the dressing rooms for halftime.

Both teams were equal in point production in the third frame, 10-10.

But it was Graham in the fourth and final quarter, outscoring the defending district champions, 17-14.

Steve Smith was high scorer for Iowa Park with 15, and Steve Page was held to 11.

The loss dropped the Hawks to 1-1 in second half play, along with Graham. Hirschi won the first half, and is undefeated in the three games of the second half.

Iowa Park must now count on the Steers losing at least one game, to Burkburnett, Vernon or Mineral Wells, and then the Hawks must win the rest of their games, in order to have a shot at a playoff with the Huskies for the right to represent the district in bi-district.

Iowa Park jumped out to a big 16-8 lead in the first quarter. Graham narrowed the point spread by three during the second and third periods, but the Hawkettes still led, 32-27, going into the final quarter.

That's when Iowa Park put its victory together, outscoring Graham's girls 17-13.

Tammie Richardson led Iowa Park scoring with 16 points, and Kay Stevenson contributed 12.

Vernon and Hirschi are leading the second half standings, with 2-0 and 2-1 records respectively. Both remain on Iowa Park's schedule, giving the Hawkettes an opportunity for a playoff berth.

The Eyes Of Texans

JAMES EDWARDS Optometrist

SPOTS, FLOATERS AND LIGHTS IN THE EYE (PT. 2)

To continue our discussion of spots, floaters and lights in the eye, a person may see a brief flash of light sometimes usually when in a dark room and after they move their eye quickly. This is due to the displacement of gel-like fluid of the eye pulling on the retina in one spot when the eye is moved quickly. That is, anytime the retina is stimulated either by light or pressure you will see light. This quick flash occurs in older people usually and is not particularly serious.

However, if a "meteor shower" of lights are seen that last off and on for hours or days, it indicates retinal irritation and may be due to a retina that is about to detach and an eye doctor should be seen right away. If the retina has become detached a black cloud or blanket will be seen over half of one eye. This is a real ocular emergency. If the eye is seen in time the retina can be "welded" back in place with a laser or photocoagulation.

Muscular Dystrophy topic of Epsilon Eta speaker

Mrs. La Veta Wise, a representative from the area Muscular Dystrophy Association, gave the program Tuesday evening for Epsilon Eta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha. She was introduced by Mrs. Bill Hrncirik.

Mrs. Wise stated that muscular dystrophy is a non-contagious disease and is genetically contracted and causes wasting of muscles accompanied by weakness and deformity.

During her talk, she concentrated on Duchenne, the most common type of the disease that affects young boys and appears between the ages of two and six. She gave the first symptoms of the disease as difficulty in doing a standing jump, a waddling gait, difficulty in rising from the floor and tiredness. Later signs mentioned were difficulty in rising from a chair, inability to climb stairs in a normal manner, and difficulty with balance in a wide gait.

The speaker explained that the Duchenne strain is transmitted from mother to children, with the male child being affected but the female child being able to be a carrier. She stressed the importance of daughters in an affected family being tested to determine if they are carriers before bearing children.

Mrs. Wise said that amazingly there is little pain associated with muscular dystrophy. When it does occur, it is found to be the result of long periods of inactivity, such as sitting too long in a chair or lying in bed.

She told the group that there are two new patients from Iowa Park at the Wichita Falls Clinic which provides clinical services, wheel chairs, beds and aids for daily living. She also mentioned the summer camp available for muscular dystrophy patients where speech and physical therapy are available.

In addition to her duties with patients' service at the Wichita Falls Clinic, Mrs. Wise is in charge of fund-raising and she mentioned some of the projects planned for spring.

Following the program, Mrs. Jimmy Spears conducted the business session. Mrs. David Parkey was selected the Outstanding Member and Mrs. Larry Whitaker, the Outstanding First-Year Member for 1980-81. Mrs. Parkey, who gained special recognition for her work at Pace Park, announced that a nice-sized tree had been purchased for the park and would be planted when the weather permitted.

Hostesses were Mmes. O.L. Tucker, Larry Motl and Roy Johnson.

Trustees extend contracts; set election for April 3

Contracts were extended to four Holliday school administrators and March 4 was set as the date to draw for a place on the April 3 trustee elections.

After returning to open session after a lengthy executive meeting, the board extended contracts to last school principal Bill Lee, elementary principal Dan Owen, vocational agriculture instructor Cal Gauden, and athletic director Don Lucy for the 1983-84 year.

RESIGNATIONS ACCEPTED

The board also added personnel to the agenda to accept the resignation of Patricia H. Schulte, high school librarian, and extend a leave of absence for Cozette Marek. Mrs. Schulte is returning to Kentucky with her husband, who has been transferred.

Linda Thompson was hired as the new librarian for the remainder of the current school year, and Claudia Ruth Veteto was hired as a Title One classroom aide for reading and math. Eva Nell Cook was hired to replace Mrs. Marek for the remainder of the school year.

Trustees set the drawing date for 10 a.m. Thursday, Mar. 4 for a place on the election ballot and accepted the list of election judges, clerks and absentee officials.

Elections judges and clerks are as follows:

DUNDEE: Peggy Debler, judge; Eunice Gibson, assistant judge; Capp Blair, clerk.
HOLLIDAY: Carol Parker, judge; Erma Dillard, assistant judge; Bobby Haney, clerk.
BOWMAN: Mary Carlton, judge; Delores Trainham, assistant judge; Janis Loftiss, clerk.
LAKESIDE CITY: Caroline Wood, judge; Betty White, assistant judge; Margaret O'Brien, clerk.

 Jana Goforth was named absentee judge and Sherry Roland absentee clerk.

In other business:
 * trustees approved two itineraries for the senior trip, with the senior class to choose between the Arkansas-Missouri trip, or the San Antonio-Houston-Galveston trip.

* voiced their disapproval over the county appraisal board's budget for the next fiscal year, stating that the school has not received an equal share of services rendered from the board in light of the school's financial responsibility to them;
 * agreed to requisition a 19 and 71-passenger bus; and,
 * moved the next meeting of the school board from Mar. 8 to Mar. 15.

JOE CHASE AND SUZAN DILLARD
 ... Mr. and Miss Holliday High School 1982

HHS yearbook honorees told in honors program

Twenty-two students were honored in various categories at the 1981-82 Holliday High School honors program recently.

The following students were chosen by their peers after voting last week. They are: Mr. and Miss H.H.S., Joe Chase and Suzan Dillard; All School Beau and Beauty, Chase and Dillard; Wittiest, Eddie Flowers and Cookie Ezzell; Most Likely to Succeed, Joel Mankins and Cindy Davis; Most Studious, Mankins and Davis; Friendliest, Flowers and Ezzell; Best Dressed, Morris Davis and Laura Lowder; Most Courteous, Brad Hardin and Ezzell; and, Busiest, Mankins and Davis.

Class Favorites for the 1981-82 school year are: Seventh Grade, Tim O'Brian and Stephanie Fleming; Eighth Grade, Pat Parker and Cindy Snider; Ninth Grade, Kelly Coats and Kristie Martin; 10th Grade, Robert Weing and Melissa Craig; 11th Grade, Kevin Lilley and Debbie Long; and, 12th Grade, Eddie Flowers and Jill Bynum.

Holliday will be zoned with Olney, Archer City, Henrietta and Petrolia next year when basketball season rolls around, as a result of a recent meeting of District 11-AA Rules, Regulations and Schedules committee.

Because of the addition of Olney, Henrietta and Jacksboro to the present District 13-AA next year, committee members, headed by Nocona superintendent Dr. Jim Rogers, decided to draw up east and west zones to ease scheduling problems, cut back on travel, and involve a new U.I.L. rule which will see two district representatives in the state playoffs.

Holliday was placed with Olney, Archer City, Henrietta and Petrolia in the west zone, while Nocona, Boyd, Chico and Jacksboro will make up the east zone.

Beginning next fall, second place teams in football, volleyball, boys and girls basketball and baseball will advance in the state playoffs at the other end of the regional bracket from the district winner.

Because of the change, state playoffs will begin a week earlier than in the past, which will reduce the number of games on Holliday's schedule. Traditionally, the girls' state tournament is held one week before the boys', therefore, the girls will finish district play a week earlier than normal.

The new District 11-AA is the only Class AA district in the state with an odd number of teams, which creates scheduling problems if the present round-robin schedule was attempted next year with the nine teams. Competing in a home-and-home format in district would have required nine weeks of district action.

Because of these problems, the nine superintendents and athletic directors voted to zone basketball next year.

A district champion will be determined with the first place team of the east zone hosting the second place team of the west, while the west zone champion hosts the east zone runner-up.

Winners of the first round playoffs will play at a neutral site to determine the district representative, with the loser advancing as district runner-up.

A double round-robin format with four teams needs only three weeks of play, therefore, Holliday's 1982-83 district schedule will begin on Jan. 21 and conclude Feb. 8. The girls' district playoffs will be held Feb. 11 and 12, 1983, while the boys' playoffs will be held a week later.

While the Lady Eagles began district play a week earlier than the Eagles this year, next year district will start at the same time for both teams, and the two varsity squads will be able to play the same schedule on the same dates, cutting down drastically on travel expenses.

With an odd number of teams in the west zone, the schedule will be a little more complicated, with the girls teams playing games on Jan. 7 and 11 without their varsity boys' teams. Then, while the girls are involved in their district playoffs, the varsity boys will complete their schedule on Feb. 11 and 15.

Boys' title on line here

A standing-room-only crowd is expected to be on hand tomorrow night in Holliday High School's gymnasium to witness what should be the second-half District 13-AA title bout between Holliday and Nocona.

The Eagles and Indians are both 5-0 in the second half, with the Indians the winner of the first half of round-robin play. A win for the Eagles would set up a district playoff between the two teams at a neutral site, with the winner advancing to the regional playoffs.

Holliday was assured at least a tie with Nocona in the second round thanks to wins over Windthorst and Archer City over the past week.

The two wins were worlds apart, however, the Eagles coasted to a 60-40 win over the Trojans last Friday night, but had to rally in the second half of the game against the Wildcats Tuesday night in Archer City in order to maintain a perfect slate coming into the Nocona game.

Mike A. Parker continues to dominate the Eagles' scoring, canning 36 points in the past two games. Parker shared the top honors with Shannon Owen against the Wildcats with 20 each, while Kevin Lilley accompanied Parker with 16 each against the Trojans.

The Eagles outscored Archer City 19-2 in the third period on the Wildcats' home court after falling behind 33-18 at halftime. The two teams traded buckets in the final stanza, but the Eagles held on at the end to win 55-53.

LADY EAGLES FALL BACK

The Lady Eagles encountered problems with Windthorst and district co-leader Archer City over the week, losing both games.

The girls came from a 4-10 first quarter deficit to lead at half against the Lady Trojans 24-21. But, after increasing their lead in the third period 36-29, the Windthorst team rallied in the final period, outscoring the Lady Eagles 17-7 to clinch a 46-44 win. Debbie Long gave the Lady Eagles a competitive edge throughout the game, ending with 21 for the night, tied with B. Zotz of Windthorst for the leading scorer of the game.

Archer City's girls increased their second-half record to 6-0 and season record to 24-4 with a 44-34 win over Holliday. Long continued to lead the girls in scoring with 20.

First aid, drug abuse program set

Wichita Falls Police Department's crime prevention unit will conduct a drug abuse program at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the First United Methodist Church of Holliday, according to coordinator Mrs. Betty Tanner.

The program is held in conjunction with Mrs. Tanner's first aid classes, which are taught to area fire departments in Wichita and Archer Counties.

"This program is open to the public," said Mrs. Tanner, American Red Cross first aid instructor. "We want to help the families in learning to identify certain drugs and drug abuse."

She is currently holding first aid classes each Tuesday and Thursday for the Holliday VFD.
