Collecting items for Paris victims

The First United Methodist Church has set up a collection point for blankets, linens, towels, clothing and other articles for the Paris tornado victims.

Articles may be left in the Fellowship Hall between 8:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. until Tuesday.

The Salvation Army is acting as the distribution agent and will be responsible for getting the items to Paris, according to Rev. George Topper, minister of First United Methodist Church.

Today is deadline to file IRS taxes

In case you may have overlooked it, today is the deadline to file your income tax with the Internal Revenue Service, unless you are planning to file a late return, which requires an extension notice.

Postal workers are expecting a last-minute rush of those who waited until the last day to file their returns.

The regular pickup time for outgoing mail will be observed at the Iowa Park Post Office: 5:15 p.m. at the outside box, according to Wayne Williams, assistant postmaster.

Theft, vandal cases reported

Cases of theft and vandalism were reported during the past week to the police department.

Sometime over the weekend, contents of a tool box on a welding pickup parked at Woodbriar Apartments were taken. Kenneth Berry, who listed his residence as Burkburnett, reported the items were valued at $1,060.

Between 6:30 and 7:23 a.m. Friday, someone threw two rocks, breaking windows at Discount Food Store, inflicting $400 in damage. It was the second time in two days vandals hit the store.

Zoning ordinance okayed; church construction halted

The city council Monday night approved a major revision in the city's zoning ordinance, and rescinded a waiver on street improvements for Missionary Baptist Church.

The actions were taken prior to the takeover of the new administration. Adoption of the zoning ordinance revision came some 16 months after work was begun on the project by the Planning and Zoning Commission. It had been first presented to the council last fall, and was delayed to await inclusion of maps and certain revisions of wording.

The major importance of the new ordinance, is that it provides for areas in the city where mobile homes can be located without first receiving permission from city council. The old ordinance made no provisions for mobile homes.

A second residential zoning will permit location of mobile homes, but requires council action, while a third zoning does not permit mobile homes.

Rescinding the waiver granted to the Missionary Baptist Church in effect halts construction of the church building at Coleman and Pacific. Larry Washburn, pastor, was told his congregation could complete the exterior work, to get it into the "dry," but no future inspections would be made.

The waiver was granted earlier, to not require the church to make the required improvements on Coleman until a later time. However, since then, property owners on the south side of the street have indicated they want to pave.

Washburn, in earlier discussions with the council, said his group has no objections to the city's invoking one section of the city charter which would assess the costs to the owners.

Mayor Johnny Crawford, however, pointed out that if that route were taken, additional expenses would be incurred by retaining a special attorney to do the legal work, increasing the cost by about one-fourth.

Crawford also objected because the city would be required to pay one-third of the total cost. He pointed out improvement of personal property is the responsibility of the owners, not the city's taxpayers.

Washburn has said his congregation didn't feel it had the funds to do the paving, and that was why they sought the waiver in the first place.

Coleman is not paved and guttered between Pacific and First Street. One home has already been constructed on the block, and the owner received a waiver from paving with the intention of paying his part when the rest of the block was to be paved by the other owners.

Since then, developer Rip Smith has acquired the balance of the lots on the south side, and has said he was ready to pave the street. The church owns all the property on the north side of the street.

Council members told Washburn they didn't want to create a hardship on the congregation by not allowing the exterior work to be completed. Inspections on utility installations in the structure will not be done until the paving is agreed, nor will any utility connections to the structure be permitted, it was said.

HIRE OFFICER

Following a 36-minute executive session, aldermen voted to hire Teresa Ann Spruill of Burkburnett as a police officer.

The 30-year-old officer is expected to join the force in early May. She is presently a dispatcher for the Department of Public Safety, and has been a detention officer for Wichita County Sheriff's department and dispatcher for Burkburnett police. She has her certification to work as a law officer.

Vol. 13, No. 30 IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367 THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1982

IOWA PARK CITY COUNCIL MEMBERS TAKING THEIR OATH OF OFFICE
... Aldermen George Hammonds, mayor Charlie Lee, alderman Bud Thompson.

Trustees session active

In an extremely busy called meeting Thursday, the Iowa Park school board covered almost every phase of the school district, buying and selling, hiring personnel, giving pay increases to support personnel and hearing three reports.

But that all took place after canvassing results of the recent election and electing officers for the year. Following the canvassing of votes, Roy Boutwell was named board chairman, Jerald Brown vice president and Martha Dudley secretary.

After opening bids from four firms on band instruments, and noting a considerable number of alternates offered in the bids, trustees decided to allow Supt. Harold Cowley and instructor Miller to decide on the instruments desired, limiting the purchase at $10,000, which was budgeted for this year.

Both Cowley and Miller expressed their pleasure in the bids submitted. Cowley said the bids appeared to be lower since more firms were offered opportunities to bid, than just two businesses in Wichita Falls. "We can now buy more instruments for the same money," he said.

Shaw Motor Co. was low bidder on a 1982 model pickup, at $8,196.94. The other bid was almost $400 higher.

Sale of the building trades class house at 710 W. Clara to Leroy Ruth for $45,000 was approved. The school is to pay the closing cost.

Cowley and Bill Steger were appointed by the board to negotiate future sale of homes constructed by the high school students.

Following a 15-minute executive session, trustees approved a new slate of salaries for supporting personnel, and hiring of three staff members.

Salaries for maintenance and custodial personnel next year include: Jack Blagg, $7.25; C.E. Hopkins, $7.50; Gary Steger, $5.40; Wendell Atkins, $5.35; Dave Bridgers, $5.45; Santos Garrizales, $5.25; M.L. Hodges, $5.90; Gerald Hopkins, $5.25; William Partney, $5.45; Earl Chessner, $7.50; and substitutes, $5.

Cafeteria managers will receive an hourly salary next year of $4.85, and cafeteria employees $3.95.

Daily salaries for bus drivers will be $21 for those on routes one through five, $23 for route eight and $23.50 for route 10. Extra curricular driving pay locally will be $5 per hour. Revisions will be made in case of route changes and if funds are available, it was noted.

Pat Davis was hired as elementary counselor, a new position on the school staff. Armilda Hickey was hired for the Bradford campus next year, as was Barbara Padgett for the Kidwell campus. Both are unassigned until fall, Cowley said.

Tuition for transferring students into the Iowa Park district will increase next year from $70 monthly to $90, based on a 10-month period.

It was pointed out that transfers for the 1982-83 year must have their applications in the administration office no later than April 30.

Reporting on a study of the district's kindergarten scheduling, Mrs. John Sibley said there appeared to be no valid reason to change.

She reported on a statistical

Major council changes noted

Though the faces of the city council are familiar to those who attend the twice-a-month meetings, there was a considerable change took place Monday night.

Two faces on the scene the past six years are no longer there: mayor Johnny Crawford and alderman Lita Watson, who was the city's first female alderman. Neither sought re-election for a fourth term.

New mayor is Charlie Lee, who moved over from the alderman seat he had occupied the past year. He was the only candidate on the ballot for mayor in the election.

Lee's taking over the city's top executive position opened a place on the council, and it was filled for the remaining year by the appointment of Johnny Coker.

Coker, who was only 12 votes shy of being elected in the April 3 voting, was Lee's choice for the position, and he made the recommendation. The selection was unanimous among all aldermen.

Council members then voted unanimously to accept Lee's recommendation to appoint Coker mayor pro tem.

Explaining his reason for nominating Coker to serve as mayor pro tem was that all the other aldermen were experienced council members, and he would like that experience doing the voting in case Coker were to be chairing a meeting and an issue needed to be decided. The chair has no vote under the city's charter.

SWEESTAKES CELEBRATION - Officers of the Iowa Park choir pose with trophies and their celebration cake, after having earned the coveted U.I.L. sweepstakes for concert and sightreading last week. Additionally, the male chorus earned a first division for sightreading. Iowa Park's choir was the only entry to receive first division ratings from all six judges.

April 19-24 designated annual Clean-up Week

Next week is "Clean-up and Fix-up Week" in Iowa Park.

The first official business undertaken by new mayor Charlie Lee, during Monday's council meeting, was to sign a proclamation designating April 19-24 as the annual cleaning week.

Through the week, no fee will be charged for dumping rubbish and junk at the city landfill at Buffalo Lake. But that free dumping is for city residents only, according to Lee.

Residents and businessmen are being encouraged to clean up their own areas first, and then turn their attention to their neighborhoods and vacant areas.

City workers are already noticing in alleys all over the city that residents have been pruning trees and shrubs and stacking the branches in the alleys in anticipation of city crews picking them up.

The city hasn't enough workers to carry off all the piles of branches in the alleys now, and it will take several weeks to clean them up after next week's anticipated efforts by residents. In fact, the trash trucks are finding it difficult to make their way through some of the alleys now.

Therefore, residents are being asked to take their trimming refuse to the vacant area between Burnett baseball field and Lake Gordon dam, where Christmas trees are dumped each year. From there, the city will haul them away.

With the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce, volunteers are being encouraged to work April 24 in cleaning up roadsides and vacant lots. Volunteers will be assigned areas of work through the Chamber.

Edwards, Miller nuptials are solemnized Saturday

Miss Kamela Rae Edwards and Gary James Miller were married Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Edwards. Parents of the groom are James Miller of Littleton, Colo. and Mrs. Walter Goehring of Alta Loma, Calif.

Rev. James Heckathorn, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in Wichita Falls, performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of family members. The living room where the couple exchanged the marriage vows was decorated with arrangements of greenery accented with orchid bows and illuminated with candles burning in brass candlesticks.

The wedding was characterized by family intimacy, closeness and love. Mrs. Edwards, mother of the bride, provided the piano selections and marches and accompanied Miss Kerri Edwards, sister of the bride, for her vocal rendition of "The Lord's Prayer."

When the bride's father presented her in marriage for her parents, she was wearing a formal gown of candlelight organza enriched with Alencon lace. The slightly raised bodice featured a V-neck accented with lace appliques and pearls and long bishop sleeves cuffed and trimmed in lace appliques. The full skirt flowed into a chapel length train.

The bride's fingertip illusion veil cascaded from a headpiece fashioned with rows of tiny lace matching the lace that edged the veil. She carried a white wicker basket filled with orchid daisies, white pixie carnations and gypsophila with long white and orchid silk streamers.

Miss Kerrie Edwards, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a floor length lilac sheer gown designed with spaghetti straps, blouson bodice and a peplum jacket of point de' esprit lace featuring a front and back yoke ruffle trimmed in satin ribbon, ruffled neck, long sleeves and satin tie at the waist. She carried a cluster of orchid daisies, greenery and baby's breath with matching streamers.

The groom and Kevin Edwards of Bethany, Okla., brother of the bride, who served as best man, wore three-piece navy blue suits.

Following the wedding, the bride's parents honored the couple at a reception when a host of the couple's friends were invited.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth from which a lilac silk skirt fell to the floor and appointed with silver candelabra and punch bowl and miniature needle-point Easter baskets, and a three-tiered cake which was the focal point of interest in the decor.

The cake was artistically decorated with frosting garlands, pink, purple and white daisies, tiny white doves and small wedding bells. Tall lace filigree pillars accented with doves nesting on purple Easter grass surrounded with purple flowers separated the second and third tiers. The top ornament featured two white doves holding silver wedding rings as they sat on satin bells filled with tiny purple flowers.

Refreshments were served by Mmes. Kevin Edwards, Keith Edwards, sisters-in-law of the bride, and Dan Biggs, her sister.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School and attended Bethany Nazarene Junior College. The groom was graduated from Alameda High School at Lakewood, Colo. He is presently stationed in the U.S. Air Force at Warren Air Force Base in Cheyenne, Wyo. where the couple will live. When the couple departed from the reception, the new

Mrs. Miller was wearing a lilac chiffon dress styled with a lace-trimmed round neckline, long sleeves with ruffled cuffs, and a full gathered skirt. Out-of-town wedding guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Jim Miller of Denver, Colo., John Miller of Parker, Colo., Kevin Edwards of Bethany, Okla., Dan Biggs and Dana of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Birk Circle meets

The Lucy Birk Circle of First Presbyterian Church met in the home of Miss Titia Belle Blanks Tuesday morning for a Bible study taught by Rev. Norman Nettleton.

The title of the study was "Study of the Scripture as an Act of Stewardship." Rev. Nettleton said that "Christians are called to be good stewards of God's word as written in the Old and New Testaments, and a careful study of it has a legitimate claim on our lives and our times."

He stressed that God's children should accept with thanksgiving and joy their calling to love God with all their minds, and once again be seen in the world as people who know how to use the Bible faithfully and intelligently as a guide to faith and conduct.

Assisting with the study were Mmes. Edna Lemond, Gale Lowrance, Lois Holloway, Norman Nettleton, Rick Preston, a new member and C.E. Birk. Mrs. L. Shelton presided during the business. A salad luncheon followed the Bible study.

Cook of the Week

The favorite course at lunch or dinner with most Americans is dessert, and that is certainly true of the Jerry Floyd family in Iowa Park. In fact, Mrs. Floyd said she spends a great deal of time each Sunday baking cakes, cookies, etc. for the busy family to have to eat during the week.

One of Sandra Floyd's hobbies is collecting cookbooks and she delights in trying out new recipes.

There are many types of chocolate and cocoa made from cocoa beans available today. Just when the beans were discovered is not known but they have some interesting history.

Cortez, the Spanish conquistador, was the first European to taste chocolate. Montezuma, the Aztec emperor of Mexico, gave a big feast and served "chocolati" to his guests in a golden goblet. Cacao beans had been roasted, ground, then mixed with corn meal and spices, vanilla, pepper and herbs. He learned that the beans were used as money among the Indians.

Soon Dutch, Italians, Austrians and French were experimenting with the beans. In 1657, a notice in the London newspaper announced that a Frenchman was offering an excellent West Indian "jacolette". Chocolate houses sprang up where society gathered afterwards to drink the delicacy. Soon chocolate was being served by English colonists in America.

Sandra Floyd was graduated from Seymour High School and attended Midwestern State University where she majored in business education. She is employed as secretary at Kirby Middle School, and her husband is band director at Zundy Junior High School and assistant band director at Wichita Falls High School. They are Baptists and have two children, Vicki an eighth grade student and Jeff a fifth grader.

Mrs. Floyd is a member of and secretary of the Philia Study Club, and she is entertainment chairman of the Band Boosters. In addition to collecting cookbooks, her hobbies are cooking, bowling and reading.

State National ranked among tops in nation

State National Bank of Iowa Park is one of the nation's top banks in terms of financial performance based on analysis conducted by Bank Administration Institute (BAI).

The 1,200 top banks were cited from among those 14,000 U.S. banks with assets under $150 million. "We felt that the performance profiles of these banks could be indicative of unique management practices worth examining and analyzing," said Joseph Ciaburri, president, Bank of New Haven, New Haven, CT., and chairman of BAI's High Performance Bank Assembly.

"These banks have strong capital base that mark them as outstanding; they've managed to maintain a significant edge in an increasingly competitive market, and we think it's worth finding out why," said Ciaburri.

The Institute's researchers used their 1980 Index of Bank Performance (based on information required by the FDIC) as a statistical base, weighing three factors: return on assets, return on equity and deposit growth. Using these criteria, the top 10 percent of banks in each state were selected.

As a result of the study, plans are underway for an exclusive High Performance Bank Assembly, June 1-4 in Denver, with enrollment limited to the chief executive officer of cited banks. "We anticipate high involvement in the assembly, since it is a unique opportunity for 'thinkers' to meet and discuss the future of their business and management techniques that contributed to their success," said Johnette Beacham, program manager of Community Bank/Executive Leadership at the Institute.

A survey of CEO's eligible for participation in the assembly has indicated strong topics of interest, said Beacham. "Profit planning and finance, strategic planning, marketing, lending, operations and data processing are areas which the group has identified as their priority issues."

The High Performance Bank study and assembly were developed by Bank Administration Institute, headquartered in Rolling Meadows, Ill., in keeping with its goal to provide timely education and research for the financial services industry.

Caussey elected board president

Voting results for the April 3rd Holliday school elections were canvassed during Monday night's regular meeting of Holliday school trustees, and oaths of office were repeated by three incumbents and one new board member.

But the election brought about some significant changes in the board besides the addition of Dr. Larry Lilley, when trustees began nominations for positions on the board.

Four-year board president Tommy Mankins was outvoted by trustee Durhl Caussey, 4-2, in secret balloting for board chairman. Caussey, serving his second term, was nominated by Terry Parnell, while trustee Alice Carver nominated Mankins.

Mankins was nominated for vice president, but was again defeated, this time by trustee Larry Finnell.

Carver was named secretary after the board moved to cease nominations following her nomination.

Lilley, Mankins, Gene Harmon and Finnell were sworn in to new terms on the board.

The result of inter-board reorganization is an entirely different power base for Holliday trustees, ending four years of Mankins' leadership as well as former vice president Jack Ayres, who chose not to run for re-election.

In his acceptance comment, Caussey praised Mankins for his role in the past, and added that he would be looking to the former president for advice in the future.

Caussey then said he would like to see more of the board's responsibilities handled in committees, in order to shorten discussion during regular meetings and to give trustees a chance to study various issues at greater length.

Saying he would be studying the school's finances carefully the next few weeks, Caussey asked that a finance committee consisting of himself, trustees Parnell and Carver, superintendent Ray Coe and principals Dan Owen and Bill Lee, be formed "in order to meet with the proper people" before acting on proposed pay raises for school employees.

"We can have only three trustees in each committee, in order that we are not accused of violating the open meeting's law," Caussey stated.

In other business, trustees discussed and tabled action on proposed changes in the school's transfer and absentee policies.

Both Lee and Owen told the board problems were evident in the transfer policy, with some students moving into the school district temporarily in order to attend Holliday's schools, and then moving out of the school district later in the year.

"The student will move into the school district with their parents or a legal guardian, and then move out of the district," Owen said. "But, at the same time, they will continue to stay in here, which directly violates our current transfer policy."

The board changed the transfer policy last year to disallow future transfer students. Transfer students already enrolled were not affected.

Also, Lee informed the board an absentee policy needed to be passed, after a number of students in the school failed to show 25 or 30 days in a school year. "State law requires that a student must attend 165 or 175 school days in a year," said Lee. He proposed that two days be added to the minimum 10 days a student can miss. "We will more than likely lose a certain percentage of our ADA (average daily attendance), but I think it will more than even out when we eliminate excessive absences," said Lee.

RECENTLY ELECTED Holliday school trustees are sworn in Monday night. Earning full terms are incumbents Tommy Mankins, Larry Finnell, and new board member Dr. Larry Lilley. Gene Harmon garnered the most votes for the one-year unexpired term.

Region events this week

Regional competition in both U.L.L. literary and athletics begins tomorrow, with eight H.H.S. students travelling to Stephenville to compete in various literary events.

The two-day affair will be held on the Tarleton State University campus, where qualifiers in tennis and golf will meet Tuesday through Thursday of next week.

Holliday students entered in literary events are: Robert Rasmussen, ready writing; Denise Rogers, prose interpretation; Terri Davis, poetry interpretation; Lori Gulley, prose interpretation; Sandy Brown, persuasive speaking; Leslie Mankins, calculator application; Rasmussen and Steve Snider, debate; and, Eric Neal, feature writing.

Representing Holliday in tennis are Mike A. Parker, boys singles; Susan Parker, girls singles; Brad Lawson and Todd Stevens, boys doubles; Kevin and Kurt Lilley, boys doubles; Melissa Parish and Carla Cottrell, girls doubles.

EDITORIAL

Emergency help is available

The all-volunteer ambulance service in Holliday has proven to be one of the city's greatest assets after two years of operation, as was witnessed during last week's city council meeting.

week before. The only gripe, she said, was that city workers were not allowed to volunteer as drivers or attendants.

City administrator Jim Hamill would never willfully tell a city employee he or she couldn't offer assistance when needed," Hamill said.

When the city first obtained the rescue van from Archer County, several concerned citizens stepped forward to volunteer as drivers or attendants. Strict state laws require these persons to be trained in either CPR or first aid, and several took of their own time and resources to acquire the necessary training.

No, there is no pay, but everyone of them are offering themselves for much more.

Ask any of them why they volunteered, and they will probably tell you, "... well, somebody has to do it."

But, behind the modest explanation, you will find a person who is content that his or her generosity has a good number of Holliday citizens sleeping much easier at night.

The EMERGENCY number for Holliday, not listed in the telephone directory, is 586-1225. That's - EMERGENCY - 586-1225

Keep this number by your phone at all times. One never knows when it will come in handy.

Holliday News

A concerned citizen appeared at the meeting to praise the ambulance service, saying she was speaking from personal experience after having to call for assistance only a explained that a sufficient number of volunteers have already been approved to man the ambulance after careful screening by the council.

Kindergarten registration near

Registration for pre-kindergarten students in the Holliday School District will be held in a few weeks, and officials at Holliday Elementary are now in the process of sending out information to the prospective students.

Owen said the school is now sending out information to concerned parties which officials know of, and that anyone with a qualifying child not contacted in the next few days should call him at the elementary school. His number is 586-1986.

"Any five-year-old child as of Sept. 1, 1982 living in the Holliday ISD is included," said Dan Owen, elementary principal.

"We haven't set a date yet for the pre-school signup, but it will definitely be within the next few weeks," he added.

How do you measure EFFECTIVENESS in a state representative?

• RESPONSE-ability. For example, the citizens of Graham, Texas, urgently needed a bill enacted in record time. The skeptics said it couldn't be done. Rep. Finnell responded by authoring HB 2330, creating the Graham Water Supply District and enabling the city to build a new water treatment plant. Result: significant savings in the cost of water to the people of Graham. (Reference: Larry Fields, City Manager, Graham, Texas)

• COMMITTEE APPOINTMENTS. As chairman of the House General Investigating Committee (HGIC), Rep. Finnell is one of only 31 persons chairing standing committees, among the 150 members of the House of Representatives. HGIC is the guardian committee against corruption in all our state government operations. Its broad statutory powers include the power of subpoena in cooperation with local and state law enforcement officials. Only a representative who has earned the highest confidence of his House colleagues would be entrusted with this unique and sensitive position.

• INVOLVEMENT with the people and communities he represents. Ask the people he has served in Archer, Baylor, Clay, Jack, Montague, Throckmorton, Wichita and Young counties. They will tell you he involves himself in local interests from 4H to senior citizens, from P-TA to water resources, from humane society to public school concerns.

Absentee voting is in progress at your County Court House.

Senior thinclads opt for prom

Iowa Park's Hawks would have scored more points in Vernon's annual track meet Friday, but there was one problem.

Vernon this year changed the format of the meet, to run the preliminaries in the afternoon and the finals in the evening.

Friday evening was senior prom for IPHS, and so that left only underclassmen in the finals.

As it was, the Hawks finished only six points behind sixth-place Burkburnett, 36-30. Host Vernon edged out Rider 122-120 for the title, followed by Hirschi 76, Altus 72, and Wichita Falls High 64.

Marc Klinkerman placed second in the high jump and fourth in the intermediate hurdles. Steve Stewart was fourth in the shot put, Robin Combs fourth in the discus, and Kevin Parker fifth in the 100-meter dash. Combs was the only senior to earn afternoon points.

John Henderson, after running the two-mile event and apparently going to win his first race of the year, was edged at the finish line by Vernon's Frank Gonzales, and finished second.

Russ Hayley had one of the fastest qualifying times in the high hurdles, but passed the finals for the prom.

Both relay teams were sidelined without their senior class members. The freshman team finished in seventh place, besting Wichita Falls High by one point, 17-16.

Outstanding performances were turned in by junior Hawk Perry, who won the discus with a heave of 150-4/2, and placed second in the shot put.

Other points came from Hill, third in the pole vault, and Kent, sixth in the 100-meter dash.

Frederick, Bounds vows are exchanged here Friday

The altar decorations for the Friday evening wedding of Miss Johnna Sue Frederick and Stephen Howard Bounds at First United Methodist Church were skillfully planned and executed to focus a gold cross and open Bible flanked by tall white candles aglow in low seven-branched candelabra banked with leather leaf greenery on the altar table. The couple stood before the table to repeat their matrimonial vows.

Heart-shaped votive candelabra centered with arrangements of silk blue and white mums, snapdragons, carnations and leather leaf, and tall brass baskets filled with the same flowers and greenery in the lower altar lent beauty to the total effect. Potted palms marked altar rail extremities.

A three-branched candlestick accented with a plaque of leather leaf centered with a large soft blue silk bow held the unity candle that the couple lighted with pride to seal their vows after they had been pronounced man and wife.

Members of the bridal party approached the nuptial space along an aisle with pews marked with votive candles draped with greenery and satin bows with streamers.

Candles were lighted by Bridget Creech of Oklahoma City and Melodie Begis of Duncan, Okla.

Rev. Michael Jackson, minister of the Elmwood United Methodist Church in Dallas, a former pastor of Iowa Park First United Methodist Church, officiated the double-ring ceremony to unite the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick of Iowa Park and the son of Mrs. Mildred Bounds of Bellevue, and the late Mr. Gaston Bounds.

The pre-nuptial music presented by Mrs. Michael Sargent, organist, and Joel Hastings, vocalist, set the mood for the joyous occasion. The organist played "Adagio," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Always and Forever," "Sonata #2," "Largo in G," and "Just the Way You Are." She accompanied the vocalist for his solos, "There Is Love," "Colour My World," and "What A Difference You've Made In My Life" before and during the service. Mrs. Sargent played "Prince of Denmark" for the wedding attendants to take their places in the nuptial space, then changed to Wagner's traditional march for the bride and her father to walk the path to the altar, and concluded her offerings with Mendelssohn's recessional.

Escorted by her father who presented her in marriage for her parents, the bride chose a formal gown for the most memorable time in her life that pictured the excellency of

MRS. STEPHEN HOWARD BOUNDS

Chantilly lace in the ornamental silk fabric itself and in ruffles and accordion pleats. The natural waist bodice with a high lace neck featured a sheer yoke encircled with a wide ruffle that dropped over the shoulders. The full skirt depicted the lace at its prettiest in layers of accordion pleated ruffles that formed an apron effect in the front and in a hemline flounce that swirled into a chapel train.

Her waltz-length bridal illusion veil drifting from a Juliet cap and her cascade bouquet of white silk roses and stephanotis, blue sweetheart roses and gypsophila added charm to the gown. The bride had the privilege of carrying an heirloom Bible that belongs to her grandfather, Glen Cipperley of Holstein, Iowa for "something old." The Bible dated 1861 had originally belonged to her late great-grandfather. She wore heart-shaped diamond ear rings, a gift from the groom, for "something new" and completed the rhyme by using the Bible for "something borrowed," wearing the "blue" garter and sixpence in her shoe.

During the service, mothers and grandmothers of the couple were honored when the bride presented them with red roses, to hers before and to his after the exchange of vows.

Miss Carolyn Copas participated in the wedding as maid of honor. She was attired in a long light blue voile gown imprinted with dark blue floral designs over acetate taffeta. In style, the bodice featured a ruffled front and back, a scoop neckline with bow trim, and capelet sleeves. The modish flared skirt was finished with a flounced hemline that was secured with a hoop in the back for a bustle effect. She wore a comb of blue daisies in her hair and carried a white lace fan clutching a bouquet of blue sweetheart and cabbage roses, white carnations, forget-me-nots and stephanotis.

Bridesmaids were Miss Cheryl Frederick and Mrs. Blaine Horton, sisters of the bride, Mrs. Doug Dray of Wichita Falls, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Len Dulaney of Waurika, Okla. They wore light blue voile gowns without floral designs styled identically to Miss Copas' gown, and their headpieces and fans were the same as hers.

Amy Holcomb of Wichita Falls, the groom's niece, and Jonathan Horton of Iowa Park, the bride's nephew, had the roles of flower girl and ring bearer, respectively. She wore a long white organdy frock with blue floral designs trimmed with ruffles and white lace threaded with blue ribbon. The bodice was styled with ruffles around the high neck and yoke and a raised waistline. The skirt terminated in a lace hemline. She carried a white basket of blue silk flowers and baby's breath.

The groom and ring bearer were formally dressed in gray jackets, dark pants, vests, white shirts and ascot ties. The groomsmen wore solid gray vested tuxedos and ascot ties, and the ushers wore bow ties with their gray attire. The bride's father wore a silver gray tuxedo.

Kent Healer of Bellevue stood next to the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Randy Bounds, his brother, Mark Coker and Glenn Moss. Ushering duties were assumed by Blaine Horton, Doug Dray, Rodney Agnew and Donald Biehl.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School and is employed by Town and Country Mobile Homes in Wichita Falls. The groom, a graduate of Bellevue High School, is employed by Pierce Sales in Henrietta.

The bride and groom were honored at a reception following the wedding given by her parents in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride's cake table was decorated in excellent taste and stood out beautifully in the setting. In keeping with the two shades of blue noted in nuptial decorations and the bridal attendants' gowns, the table was covered with white Chantilly lace featuring drapes caught up with blue silk ribbon and lace bows at the top, over blue satin. The centerpiece was a breathingly-beautiful cake and table extremities held tall white candles burning in five-branched silver candelabra accented with silk bouquets of blue and white carnations, blue anemones, springer fern and leather leaf. Also on the table were the bridal napkins of light blue set off with picture of a bride and groom and "Johnna and Steve, April 9, 1982."

Tall white columns raised the four-tiered "wonderland" white cake decorated with cascades of hand-moulded frosting white and blue roses clinging to pale green leaves and intricate sculptured designs. Staircases descended from the top tier with a kissing bride and groom standing inside a gazebo to smaller cakes flanking the fountain splashing blue water underneath the tall cake. Mrs. Ann Davis of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Ricky Aaron served the delicacy during the reception.

The round table that held the silver punch bowl encircled with springer fern and blue silk flowers was covered like the cake table. Miss Celeste Glenn presided at the punch service.

Mrs. Paul Tyson and Miss Malinda Reaves served at the groom's table laid with a floor-length dark blue satin cloth. The appointments included a silver epergne holding an arrangement of light and dark blue carnations, statice, eucalyptus and dark blue bachelor buttons, silver coffee service, a horseshoe-shaped chocolate cake topped with a miniature cowboy slinging a rope, and an assortment of hors d'oeuvres.

Signatures of guests were secured by Judy Spears and Mrs. Randy Bounds at a table duplicating the design of the bride's cake table. In addition to the blue plume pen and wedding book, the table held a silver dish filled with the couple's wedding scrolls.

The gift table was attractively draped with light blue lace accented white lace and blue flowers. Baskets of blue net-covered rice bells were a part of the decor. During the reception, the scrolls and bells were handed out by Darla Cornman and Jennifer Eiben.

The pleasing touches to the gowns worn by mothers of the bridal couple were blue and white sweetheart rosebuds accented with pearls, net and ribbons. Mrs. Frederick wore a long blue Qiana gown fashioned with a blouson bodice, scoop neckline, split sleeves, a silk belt that tied in front and pleated skirt. Mrs. Bounds selected a long gray crepe dress styled with a fitted bodice, V-neck, long sleeves, A-line skirt pleated in front and a wide belt fastened with a gold buckle rimmed in pearls.

The groom's mother was hostess for the rehearsal dinner held Thursday evening in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Special guests were Mrs. Bertie Mae Tyson, grandmother of the groom, and Mrs. Vic Frederick of Ida Grove, Iowa, grandmother of the bride.

Guests from Iowa included Messrs. and Mmes. Roger Jensen, David Lucas and Amber, Michael Jensen and Jennifer, David Brown, all of Cherokee, Lloyd Brown and Darla, Doyle and Dale of Kingsley, Michael Beckman of Storm Lake; Mrs. Joan Lawler of Greenwood, Mrs. John Crawford of Holstein, Miss Janet Cipperley of Independence and Stephen Cipperley of Holstein. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tyson, Jamie and Richard of Arlington.
