'Trick or treat' night changed to Saturday

On a split decision of the city council, Halloween will be officially recognized Saturday night in Iowa Park, rather than the regular Oct. 31 date, which is on Sunday. The change is apparently being observed by most communities over the state.

Mayor Charlie Lee signed a proclamation during Monday's council meeting, encouraging "... every citizen, old and young alike, to support Saturday night as trick or treat night and to participate in the school carnivals and through diligent supervision of our young children help make this the best and safest Halloween ever."

Four of the aldermen, in response to Lee's inquiry of their opinions, agreed with changing the observance to Saturday. All four were the male members of the council.

Lita Watson, recalling reaction from some citizens when the council did the same thing a few years ago, said she could not support it.

One woman had told her changing Halloween from Sunday to Saturday had ruined the day for her child, Alderman Watson recalled.

The Parent-Teacher Association at Kidwell Elementary will hold its annual Halloween carnival Saturday evening.

Kidwell's carnival will begin at 6:30 p.m. and end at 9.

Nachos, corn dogs and soft drinks can be purchased in the cafeteria. Each room will have its own entertainment, including dish toss, spook house, toy and cake walks, costume contest, fortune telling, dart throw, duck pond, apple dunk and bean bag toss.

Mrs. Jimmy Kaparek Jr. and Mrs. Desmond Mayfield, home room coordinator, are chairmen of the event.

Additional police will be working the streets that evening to cut down on speeding and encourage safe driving, especially while the youngsters are visiting in neighborhoods on trick or treat excursions.

A watchful eye will also be kept by police for vandalism, according to Chief Billy Hamilton.

Halloween, all All Hallows' Eve in medieval times, is kept on Oct. 31, the eve of All Saints' day, the Celtic festival held at the end of summer.

Since November ushers in the darkest and most barren half of the year, the autumnal festival acquired sinister significance with ghosts, witches, hob-goblins, fairies and demons of all kinds roaming around.

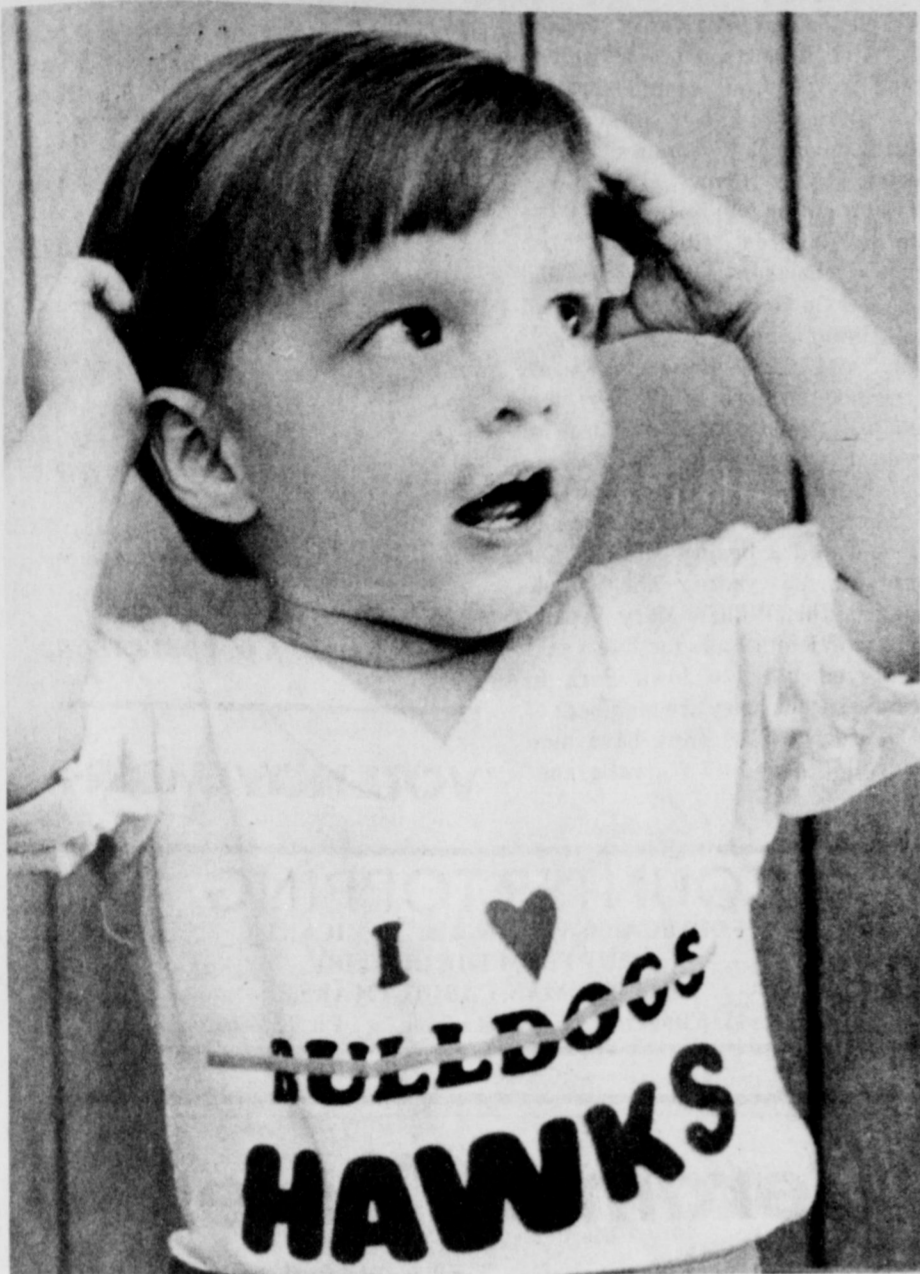

The Celtic festival was basically a pastoral observance, and some of the rites associated with the harvest home and the killing of the corn spirit at the reaping of the last sheaf found a place in the festivities.

Therefore, the crops, flocks and herds had to be protected from demonic influence that were ripe at the turn of the year.

Bobbing for apples became a part of Halloween as a superstition derived from the one who succeeded in extracting either an apple or a sixpence from a tub of water with his mouth without using his teeth was destined to have a lucky year.

The common symbol of Halloween, the jack-o-lantern, is a hollowed-out pumpkin carved in the appearance of a demonic face with a lighted candle inside. In Scotland a turnip was used for the jack-o-lantern, but the native pumpkin was soon substituted in the United States.

The Halloween spirit is usually celebrated by small children who dress as spirits and goblins. The saying of "trick or treat" is usually a treat given and the trick hardly played.

HE LOVES THE HAWKS - Fifteen-month-old Joshua finally made his decision, and he loves his Iowa Park Hawks. ... just like his father, Paul Arrington. Mrs. Arrington had some problems switching her allegiance from her hometown school of Burkburnett. But when it became apparent the youngest resident in their Coleman Road home had made up his mind, she had a shirt fixed just for him. And he'll be sitting on the home side tomorrow night.

Vol. 14, No. 7 IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367 THURSDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1982

Bulldogs hope to play spoilers Friday

Featuring an unheralded defense and deceptive record, Burkburnett's Bulldogs will invade Hawk Stadium at 8 p.m. tomorrow looking for a chance to make deciding the Dist. 3-AAAA representatives in the playoffs a little easier.

Titles and records never mean much when Iowa Park and Burkburnett meet on the football field. It's one of the oldest rivalries for either school, and like the Texas-Oklahoma annual clash, a victory pretty well makes the season for the victor.

But this year the win is especially important to the proud Mean Green, because for the first time in many years, the Hawks have a chance to advance into the state playoffs.

Iowa Park threw the conference championship into a three-way tie last week by defeating state-ranked Gainesville, 7-6. The Hawks are now tied with Gainesville and Hirschi.

Should all three teams finish out the regular season as they now stand, they would draw to determine which two schools advance and which one stays home.

Should any of the three suffer another defeat, the drawing wouldn't be necessary, however.

As Burkburnett and Iowa Park have demonstrated the past two seasons, either team can beat the other on a given night. The past two years, they met twice, one game not counting in the district standings and the second game counting.

Both years, the Bulldogs won the first game, but the Hawks won the second. In 1980, Burk won the third game of the season, 14-7, but the Hawks closed out the season with an 18-0 decision. Last year, the Bulldogs won 7-6 in the non-conference meeting, but the Hawks claimed the second game, 21-18.

Burkburnett's defense has been outstanding all season, but the 'Dog offense sputters once in a while.

After taking a 3-0 lead last week against Vernon, the 'Dogs were knocking on the Lions' door once more. But a pass was picked off and returned 95 yards, giving the host Lions a 7-3 lead. Both teams matched touchdowns after that, and Vernon won.

Against Gainesville, the touted Leopards were held scoreless three quarters before finally taking the upper hand.

And when the Bulldog defensive front takes control of the running game, Burk's secondary becomes dangerous. Cornerback Tim Cornelius intercepted four passes, returning one 60 yards to score, when the 'Dogs defeated Mineral Wells 24-14.

Only three of the defensive front are big: Mac LeBorde, noseguard, 205; and ends Joe Kelly, 215, and Kendall Ware, 200.

But their linebackers have admirable size: Steve Patty, 175, and James Whitmore, 176.

The Bulldogs stand 4-3 on the season, and 2-2 in league play.

All of Iowa Park's players are apparently in good physical condition following the Gainesville contest. Guard Raymond Tyler left the game for a few minutes with a sore ankle, but finished the contest.

Commissioners court meets here

Only eight persons, including three from the news media, were in the audience Monday when Wichita County Commissioners Court was held in the county agriculture building.

Though the court has been moving its meetings to other communities in the county "to let the citizens have an opportunity to see their court in action," attendance was limited to only three Iowa Parkans because of an oversight in announcing the meeting would be here.

Judge Tom Bacus apologized for the oversight and said more attention would be given to proper notification in the future.

Commissioners approved bids for road materials for the oncoming quarter, made a change in employee group health insurance, authorized a change in telephone service to the juvenile department and approved the city-county health unit contract.

The court has changed its calling for road material bids from annual to quarterly.

Coverage of employee dependents under group health insurance was changed from four years service to two years, and was included in the 1983 budget.

A request was tabled from Family Court Services to establish a trust account for holding of monies of juveniles who were detained, and cannot be located after reaching maturity. The judge explained the money has to be accounted for, but a ruling from the county attorney on how best to set up an account has not yet been provided.

Commissioners also approved bids to purchase a truck chassis and dump body with installation and a mower tractor, but rejected bids to dismantle two county buildings in Wichita Falls.

Sixteen agenda items were approved on one motion, including appointment of commissioners as receiving board for the Nov. 2 election, naming Jacque Allen as absentee canvassing judge, designating the county judge as presiding election judge, designating Jo Helen Stapleton as manager of the central counting station and designating the county clerk as supervisor in charge of electronic election equipment.

Fireman receives minor burns

An Iowa Park volunteer fireman received minor burns Tuesday afternoon when the local department and three others fought a grassfire six miles south of Electra on highway 25.

Gerald Simmons had part of his beard burned away, but was back at work yesterday. He had shaved the balance of the growth, and his face was tender from minor burns.

Simmons was riding on the back of one Iowa Park truck when a gust of wind sent flames almost engulfing the entire vehicle.

Started by a truck backfire, the blaze consumed approximately 450 acres before it was brought under control.

Four rings were reported missing, according to Jody Johnson, 1611 Yucca. She told police one was a pinky ring with some 20 stones, two men's rings and one gold ring with more than 20 points of diamonds.

printing cost $90.20 and pay for seven election officials was $338.50, according to Ithama Jolly, city secretary.

A special election was called after two aldermen, Bill Gilmore and Herman Mahler, resigned.

Burnes, Ashton nuptials exchanged in Michigan

Double-ring wedding vows were exchanged Oct. 8 in Trinity United Methodist Church in Roseville, Mich. by Barbara Gayle Burnes and Richard Arthur Ashton Jr., under the direction of Rev. Thomas Badley, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Florence Burnes Warren, Mich. and the late Thomas C. Burnes, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Ashton Sr. of Iowa Park.

The decorative setting included twin candelabra holding tall white candles and an arrangement of white chrysanthemums on the altar.

Alice Stenic provided the organ music, playing "Trumpet Voluntary" for the processional and the traditional recessional.

The bride entered the church with her brother Mark Burnes who presented her for marriage. She wore a formal white satin gown daintily trimmed with lace. The gown was designed with an illusion neckline, petal point sleeves closed with tiny French buttons. The buttons were repeated on the back of the bodice to enhance the gown's beauty, and the full skirt and chapel train were bordered with lace.

The bride's fingertip illusion veil cascaded from a cap of lace and she carried a colonial silk bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, carnations and baby's breath to complete her costume.

Annette Souillier of East Detroit, Mich. was maid of honor. She wore a long gown of teal blue satin styled with fitted bodice, flared skirt and bow-trimmed sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white and blue carnations intermixed with baby's breath.

James Burnes, brother of the bride, was best man. The groom, best man, usher and father of the groom wore identical light brown tuxedos with beige ruffled shirts and bow ties and rosebud boutonnières.

Mrs. Burnes, mother of the bride, wore a floor-length apricot gown styled with long sleeves, and Mrs. Ashton, the groom's mother, was attired in a dusty rose floor-length gown designed with a pleated skirt and lace bodice. They wore rosebud corsages on their wrists.

A dinner dance reception following the ceremony was held at Penna's Restaurant in Warren, Mich. Music for dancing was provided by the bride's uncle's Walter Pompei's orchestra.

The three-tiered cake was covered with frosting roses in teal blue and decorated with spiral stairways and candles. The top held a ceramic bride and groom on a music box that played "Love Song." The table was draped with a white cloth and appointed with the maid of honor's bouquet and the bride's throw-away bouquet.

The refreshment table was draped in the same fashion as the cake table and centered with twin candelabra holding arrangements of mums, carnations and baby's breath in fall colors.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Hoffman House in Warren on the eve of the wedding.

The bride, an honor graduate of East Detroit High School, attended Macomb Community College where she was employed. The groom was graduated from Iowa Park High School and is associated with his father in the oil business.

Immediately after the wedding, the couple flew to Miami, Fla. where they boarded the M.S. Southward for a cruise to Cozmel, Mex., Grand Cayman, B.W.I., Ocho Rios, Jamaica and Stirrup Bay, Bahamas. They are now at home in Iowa Park.

Relatives attending the wedding from Iowa Park were Mrs. Roy Stancliff, sister of the groom, Mrs. Bill Spruiell and Mrs. Jim Clapp, his aunt and cousin, respectively. Another cousin, Mrs. Armon Smith, of Gainesville, was also present. Attending from other towns in Michigan were Mr. and Mrs. Drabek of Adrian, Wendy Drabek of Ann Arbor, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Shinkle of Temperance.

Bonsai Art highlighted

Mrs. N.D. Hodson gave an interesting and informative program on Bonsai Art to highlight the Friday morning meeting of the Iowa Park Garden Club held in Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Bonsai (pronounced "bone-sigh") is the art of miniaturizing trees, shrubs, such as firs and citrus trees and numerous shrubs. According to Mrs. Hodson, the plants can be dwarfed, but there is no way to dwarf the fruit. She demonstrated the cutting of roots and branches of Natal Plum, then planted it, giving the proportions of soil mixture, size of containers, fertilizing and general care of the plant.

During the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Frank Harlin, plans were finalized for the bake sale at Superfine the Tuesday before Thanksgiving. It was voted to send a monetary gift to Volunteer Services at Wichita Falls State Hospital to apply on purchasing presents at Christmas for the patients.

Cosmo officers are installed

Officers of the Cosmetology VICA Club were installed Tuesday evening during a regular meeting.

Those assuming office were Vonnie Guyette, president; Sandy Gullatt, vice president; Pamela Horton, reporter; Roxa Reusch, secretary; Lori Cosstick, sergeant-at-arms; and Sylvia Hill, parliamentarian.

The group discussed the field trip which will be held Nov. 22 at the Fairmont Hotel in Dallas, and the officers training camp that will be held in Weatherford Saturday.

In lieu of the Thanksgiving dinner previously planned it was voted to have a luncheon in Wichita Falls for the holiday social. Mrs. W.A. George community services chairman, announced that the Yard of the Year recipient would be chosen this month and that the plaque would be presented at a later date.

Mrs. Charlie Lee, chaplain, gave the thought for the day. Hostesses were Mrs. James Sewell and Mrs. R.F. Bartosh.

Cook of the Week

The avocado, thick-skinned, pear-shaped fruit of the laurel family, is very popular in a variety of dishes, including salads, cocktails, soups and dips. Nancy (Mrs. Mark) Camp realizes that they are very important to her Mexican dip.

Avocados, sometimes called "alligator pear" is a native of tropical America. It was described in 1519 in the Sumade geografia of Martin Fernandez de Encisco who discovered it near what is now Santa Marta, Colombia.

The fruit used to be called midshipman's or (subaltern's) butter in England, which leads one to believe that it first became known to the British when it was taken aboard ship as food for crews or petty officers.

Henry Perrine is reputed to have first planted avocados in Florida in 1883, but culture of the fruit did not get underway on a commercial scale in the U.S. until almost 1900, when fruit growers became interested in its possibilities.

Mrs. Camp, a graduate of Seymour High School, worked for two years at Russell-Newman in that city after graduation. She and her husband, who is a welder, have lived in Iowa Park for seven years. They were in Germany for two years while he was in the U.S. Army. They have two children, Chrystal, a second grader at Kidwell Elementary School, and Eric, three years of age.

She is a member of the Kidwell PTA and Faith Baptist Church. She enjoys playing pinochle and cooking.

Scratch board technique told

David Fowler, a local artist, presented a program on scratch board painting for members of the Iowa Park Arts and Crafts Association Tuesday evening during a meeting held at Texas Electric Reddy Room. He explained that scratch board painting, which is exactly opposite to pen and ink, is an old technique now being revived.

During the business, officers were elected to serve during the new year. The slate included Mmes. F.E. Schmidt, president; Jean Richardson, vice-president; Carlton Hicks, secretary; Roy Smith and Richardson, program committee; Howard Marl, publicity chairman; Jack Railsback, advertising; and Miss Helen Reed, telephone chairman.

Burk HD club is entertained

The Park Area Home Extension Club entertained 11 members of the Friendly Hardin Club of Burkburnett Wednesday at a salad luncheon at Texas Electric Reddy Room. Mrs. Nancy Henderson, president, was in charge and gave the devotion.

Barbara Cornelius, Wichita County extension agent, gave the program following the meal on "How Small Appliances Can Save Energy" and gave instructions for baking a cake in an electric skillet.

Announcement was made that the club will give away an applique quilt Dec. 11 and that the quilt will be on display at Verna's Apparel until that time.

Two door prizes were given and white elephant gifts were given to the guests and 15 members of the host club.

Disappointed subscribers

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

As a subscriber to my home town newspaper and a former alumni class of '37 - I'd like to express my heartfelt disappointment in the news that was printed about the recent reunion. Being unable to attend this year as I have in former years, I expected a full coverage of the events and was greeted with one picture - no names and no report of events. Surely such a local celebration deserves more prominence. Maybe next year?

A disappointed alumni
Wynogene Wigley Day

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

Just a note to let you know how disappointed I was to receive my Iowa Park paper and not a thing in it about the reunion.

Our paper is a week old by the time we receive it in San Diego. I could hardly wait to see how many of my old class mates were there. That's the only way I have of knowing where everyone is - through the paper.

I enjoy the paper so much. I've spent a lot of happy years in the town where I was born, started to school and finished there in 1936.

Hope next year some one there will be interested enough to write an article in the paper for the ones who weren't able to attend.

Erschell Wigley Davis

[EDITOR'S NOTE: To the Sisters Wigley, every year since we've been in Iowa Park we've attended the reunion banquet and taken pictures. This year I was informed that someone in the organization would both take pictures and submit a report, so I did not attend. When the packet was offered some two weeks later, I rejected it for lack of timeliness. Maybe this is a mistake on my part, but we try to be as timely as possible in all our reporting. We'll try to work out something better next year. Thanks for the letters and interest.]

People should vote

Dear Publisher:

I would like to once again take this opportunity to urge all eligible voters to vote in the State's November 2 general election. It is essential to the foundation of our system of government that eligible voters throughout all parts of the State appear at the polling places on election day and vote free of fear or intimidation. Any Texan who is legally eligible to vote and who is registered to vote, is eligible to vote in the November 2, 1982 general

Worth Quoting

The oil patch needs to circulate one more petition.

Our federal government labors under the benevolent theory that any extra cash generated by any means for any reason rightfully ought to go into the federal treasury to help with transfer payments.

It was under such thinking that the oilpatch was tabbed with the onerous windfall profits tax on crude oil. The infamous tax was broken down into three classifications: Tier One for old oil wells, Tier Two for stripper wells, those producing ten barrels of oil or less per day; and Tier Three, for new oil wells.

Tier One oil pays to Uncle Sam 50 percent or 70 percent of anything over $13.00 per barrel. Tier Two or stripper wells pay 60 percent or 30 percent over $15.20 per barrel with the difference being whether the oil is produced by an independent or major oil company.

And Tier Three pays 30 percent of anything over $16.55 per barrel.

With those classifications in mind, we believe the people in the oil patch ought to circulate a petition calling on Congress to levy a windfall profits tax against professional football players.

When the owners grant the players the $1.6 billion increase for a new five-year contract, a windfall profits tax ought to apply.

If Uncle Sam can step in and take 20 percent off the top of the jackpot that little old lady on welfare won at a slot machine in Atlantic City, New Jersey, then they ought to take a windfall profits tax on the windfall that drops in the laps of pro football players.

If the plan of the Dallas Cowboy general manager Tex Schramm is adopted in the agreement with the players, a real windfall is in store for the pro's. He wants to award each player $10,000 extra per year, retroactive back to when the player first entered the pro ranks. A ten-year veteran would receive $100,000 within 15 days of the signing plus another $10,000 extra per year for each year he stays in the league. That's a windfall in any language.

Of course, the windfall levy would have to be made more complicated in order to fit the federal picture. We would have to have Tier One, Tier Two, and Tier Three players.

Tier One pro's would be the old timers, the veterans, the offensive and defensive linemen who would pay 50 percent of any extra money received over the $86,000 average now paid.

Tier Three could be the new players, players in the league less than three years, the quarterbacks, tight ends, wide receivers, and tailbacks. They would have to pay only 30 percent of any extra revenue above the $145,000 average they're receiving now.

And Tier Two players, the strippers, could be taxed as specialty team players - the pro's who are not seasoned enough, who haven't the quality or experience of the veterans - they would pay only 30 percent on everything above the $60,000 average.

Equality and a sense of fairness dictates that any $1.6 billion paid out in extra funds to pro players ought to have a windfall profits tax of some kind.

If it's fair to take the money off the top of a barrel of crude, if it's fair to take $180,000 off the top of a $900,000 slot machine jackpot in Atlantic City, then it's fair to skim some off the top of any windfall falling into the laps of the pro players.

And just to keep everything fair and equal, a similar windfall needs to be levied against the owners and their new multi-billion dollar television contract.

Oil shouldn't have to carry the full load of new transfer payments. . . there's lots of windfalls yet to be taxed. . . especially those strippers.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

To be honest with you, I'm still scratching my head, trying to do what I told you in last week's column, that everyone should study the candidates and issues in the general election.

That will be Tuesday, in case you've forgotten, and the polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

I'm not having much trouble with the candidates themselves, making those selections is pretty easy.

It's those constitutional amendments that's giving me the trouble.

No. 1, eliminating the state property tax. Even if it is set at 10-cents per $100 assessed value, I'll jump at a chance to do away with just about any kind of tax.

No. 2 would increase welfare ceiling from $80 million per year to $160 million. I'm often hard on most forms of welfare, because I don't think the programs are administered properly. But in the meantime, those truly needy recipients are caught in the middle, so I'll probably vote for that one, and hope for improved supervision in the future.

No. 3 would exempt farm implements from property taxes. This one is the toughest for me. There is no question our farmers are in the roughest time they've experienced since the Great Depression. They're failing all over. Exemption from property tax would give them, or could give them, the boost they need to ride out the current situation.

But this is a constitutional amendment. When times become good in the future, does this mean we should vote on another amendment that would put the machinery back on the tax rolls?

The farmer already has a tax break on land, paying on its productivity. No other segment of the economy has that break.

I guess the question would be, should a farmer not have to pay taxes on a $40,000 tractor if I have to pay taxes on a $4,000 typesetter?

It's a tough one, and I'm just going to have to study the proposal more between now and Tuesday before I make up my mind. And to be for sure, I am very knowledgeable about how important a strong agriculture is to our community, state and nation.

No. 5 would eliminate the county treasure office in Tarrant and Bee counties. I couldn't care less.

No. 6 would increase the maximum interest rate payable on state general obligation bonds from six to 12 percent. I don't find any problem there, realizing money will probably never be as cheap as it was when the limitation was set.

Back on that state property tax subject. I do not agree with a proposal that the state set up a fixed fund for financing construction at state colleges. I've seen some of what can happen on the campuses at Bryan and Austin.

Americanism is club's program

The program presented Thursday afternoon for the 23 Study Club's Americanism meeting lent itself to the theme for the day "Working Together to Enhance Appreciation of Our American Heritage."

Mrs. Charlie Lee was program leader, and the participants were Mmes. Homer Blalock, Joe Singer, John Rentschler and Sam Hill.

Mrs. Blalock used an address given by Staff Sergeant Steven L. McLeary at a General Federation of Women's Club convention for the meditation. The theme was "America The Beautiful" and the sergeant broke the song written by Katherine Lee Bates down line by line to give his interpretation of it.

For the visual arts feature, Mrs. Singer discussed and displayed Early Americana. Along with her exhibit of crocks, churns, butter molds, rolling pins, bread bowls and spoons of yesteryear, she gave an interesting talk on "From Hearth to Cook Stove" showing how the recipes, utensils, gadgets of each age give a view of the homes and societies they were used in as surely as a study of the furniture, clothing and politics. She referred to buttermilk as one of the things that has been a necessity in American households since "way back when" up to the 20th century for making hot biscuits, cakes and Buttermilk Pie that the Nutt House in Granbury is famous for.

The topic of Mrs. Rentschler's discussion was "Old North's Bells Keep Alive-Link with History." She described the glorious edifice of Old North Church in Boston, a focal point of American heritage, the place where the lantern signal on the night of April 18, 1777, triggered the start of the American Revolution, and one of its greatest treasures, the unique ring of bells.

The eight bells in the tower, which apparently came out of their mold perfect musical instruments, were cast by Abel Dudhall in Gloucester, England in 1744 and a year later brought to America. They predate the Liberty Bell and have played an important part in American history. Paul Revere at age 15 and seven of his friends signed a contract to ring the bells once a month two hours at a time.

Mrs. Rentschler stated that after Revere's time the art of ringing went into decline, and except for a resurgence at the turn of the century the bells were simply "clocked" by striking the stationary bells. They were rediscovered in 1975 in time for the Bicentennial to be marked with the active voice of the Revolution. Years of neglect now necessitate restoration which will be done by White Chapel Bell Foundry of London.

Mrs. Sam Hill climaxed the program by giving a review of "Back Roads America," a book prepared by Special Publications, National Geographic Society. The book is a medley of the sights and sounds along the country's beguiling backroads as found by Tom O'Neill, writer and Ira Block, photographer, who were assigned to take the back roads of the United States, avoiding the sprawls of the cities, and monotony of super highways, just wander through the nation's countryside and produce a book about what they found.

According to Mrs. Hill, during the nine months the men met and chatted with a potpourri of Americans: a dairy farmer in the Berkshires; a North Carolina fisherman, a Texas cattleman, gold miners and archeologists in the Southwest, an Alaskan bush pilot, a sculptor in the Black Hills, carnival workers in Iowa.

They harvested ice in the Green Mountains of New England, fished for lobsters off the Coast of Maine, visited debutantes in Mississippi, cruised with Mexican-American "lowriders" in Calif. and picked corn in Ill.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. D.O. James and Miss Ethyle Kidwell was co-hostess.

Preceding the program, Mrs. James conducted an initiation ceremony for a new member, Mrs. H.W. Carter. Twenty-two club members were present.

FULL HOUSE - The MuleSkinners' MuleBarn was packed to the walls most of the two-hour serving period Saturday evening, when the local civic organization put on a free feed for senior citizens of the community. More than 150 were fed.

Tues., Nov. 2 - Pizza, meat or cheese sandwich, soup, tossed salad, buttered corn, chocolate & plain milk, dessert.

Evening Lions hear Stevens

Jack Stevens told the story of his life and how he had been led by the Lord to devote fulltime to his sculpturing and painting for the Evening Lions Club Tuesday. He also displayed some of his most recent pieces of sculpture.

During the business conducted by George Blackwell, it was reported by Riley Thompson, secretary, that the club had recently bought glasses for four elementary students. He also read letters of appreciation from the students and their teachers and principal.

Gary McCain was recognized as a new member and Frank Gossett was a guest.

Dinner music was provided by Mrs. Otis Gay, pianist, and Mrs. Jimmy Spears, vocalist.

Save tomatoes from frost; let them ripen in garage

By Don D. Decker
County Agent

Tomatoes on the vine can be saved from a frost or freeze with a simple harvest procedure. They can be ripened on the vine in the garage by pulling the vines the day before a predicted freeze or frost.

Tomato vines belonging to Jan Stillson of Wichita Falls will be pulled from the soil the afternoon before a predicted frost. She will place the tomato vines with green tomatoes in the garage. They will be hung by the roots in an upside down manner. This will allow the green tomatoes to complete their ripening without being lost to the frost.

Tomatoes ripen from the inside out. Once the ripening process starts, it will continue. There is enough food reserves in the plant to go ahead and develop the green tomatoes to the start of the ripening process.

After the tomatoes have ripened and been picked from the dead plant, the vine can be destroyed. Most of the fruit will ripen within a week to 10 days. The other alternative is to pick the green tomatoes the day before a predicted freeze. They can be prepared into a chow-chow or a green relish.

County wells rank 55th over state

The sale of crude oil and natural gas from Wichita County wells in 1981 enriched the county's economy and accounted for $198.4-million of the $44-billion value placed on Texas petroleum production last year.

In a report on the economic impact of oil and gas industry operations in the significant producing counties of Texas, Dallas-based Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association said the county ranked 55th among Texas' 254 counties on the basis of value of its marketed petroleum production. This production includes condensate and casinghead gas.

The county's wells produced 5.7-million barrels of crude oil, valued at $197.8-million, and 317.6-million cubic feet of natural gas, valued at $567,568. Owners of royalty in the county received $24.8-million as their share of the output, the Association noted.

"Although the oil and gas industry is suffering through a slowdown in drilling -- attributable in large part to a worldwide decline in demand for petroleum products -- it continues to be the cornerstone of the economy of Texas and many of its counties," said the Association's chairman, Avery Rush, Jr., of Amarillo. "Oil and gas producers operating in Texas remain committed to the drilling of every well that is economically feasible," Rush added.

In addition to paying local, county, and state property taxes, producers in the county supported state government through production tax payments estimated at $9,142,233, according to the Association. Crude oil taxes amounted to $9,099,665, while natural gas levies totalled $42,568.

Based on Texas Employment Commission figures, some 4,892 oil and gas industry employees in the county received wages of about $102.4-million in 1981.

Pol. Ad Pd. by Mark Wicks

If you're concerned about rising grocery costs, here's something you can do about it.

On November 2, you can make a positive step toward helping hold the line on rising grocery costs

Proposition 3, one of six proposed Constitutional Amendments which will be offered on the ballot, would correct the tax exemption for agricultural machinery and equipment. The effect of passage of this amendment will be to lower production costs for food and fiber. In the long run, this will be a positive step we can take to help hold the line on grocery price increases

For you and for your family, both now and especially in the future, this may be one of the most important votes you'll ever cast.

VOTE FOR 3.

Full-strength council makes first decisions

Iowa Park city council, back to full strength for the first time in more than three months, approved use of city-owned land for soccer fields, took no action on a request to hire a second full-time employee for the parks department, and spent almost an hour in executive session.

At the request of Jerry Inman, representing the local soccer association, council members said the group could make improvements on a six-acre tract formerly used for a water treatment plant.

However, no long-term agreement would be given the group, because at some point in the future the city might want to use it for housing equipment, Inman was told.

Inman said the group plans to hold invitational tournaments in the future, and the two fields at Oscar Park would not provide adequate space.

Jimmy Alsup proposed the city approve two full-time employees for the parks department and each could serve as a supervisor for two school students who work in the summer months.

The department has enough budget, some $25,000, to hire two full-time people, Alsup said, but some additional funding would be necessary for the student salaries and other purchases.

Mayor Charlie Lee said "I don't see it," and asked why the parks board did not make the appeal a couple of months earlier, when the budget was being approved. The city's fiscal year began the first of this month.

Alsup said the additional funds from the city could be justified by utilizing the full-time employees on other departments of the city during the winter months, when parks work was at a standstill.

Council members adjourned to the Chamber of Commerce office from 7:49 to 8:38 for a "couple of personnel and one legal items," Lee explained after the meeting was reopened.

He told the audience there are nine applications in his office for city administrator, and a called session would probably be held in the near future to narrow the field to a number which would be invited for interviews.

Council also heard Lee report that Roger Lee, who has served some six months as legal counsel for the city, had requested to be relieved of that duty Nov. 1. Lee said a search for a replacement is now underway.

Aldermen took no exceptions to the mayor's appointment of three individuals to fill unexpired terms on volunteer boards. He named Darrell Gunderson to the electrical board, Johnny Crawford to the board of adjustments and Herman Escue to the planning and zoning board.

A proposal was tabled to install a private telephone line to the police department.

An automatic dialing device has already been purchased at a cost of $73, but before it can be used a private line without a listed number must be installed. The automatic dialer would be used in times of emergencies, eliminating mistakes in dialing, it was explained. It would be particularly helpful when a storm is in the area and public calls to the office tie up the lines, the council was told.

Neither chief Billy Hamilton nor former chief Charlie Whittingstall said they knew who ordered the automatic dialer.

The council became full strength after the recent special election returns were canvassed, declared accurate, and Mayor Lee administered the oath of office to the two winners, Lita Watson and Tim Hunter.

Junior high splits games

Iowa Park Junior High split a doubleheader Thursday with Henrietta.

The seventh grade shut out Henrietta 22-0, but the eighth grade was edged 30-32.

Defensive leaders were Brett Barrick, Stan Coker and George Storey.

Eighth grade scoring was by: Danny Forman, 60 and 64 yards; Jerry Mays, 20 and 50 yards and a PAT; Scott Weaver, PAT; and Robert Adams blocked a punt for a two-point safety.

Defensive standouts were Adams, Greg Feltman, Dennis Phillips and Robbie Wilson.

Holliday 80 Chico zilch

The biggest sin a sportswriter can commit is redundancy, so, if you don't mind, take last week's Holliday-Petrolia story and insert "Chico" in place of Petrolia.

Holliday 80, Chico zilch.

One remarkable point, though, is that Chico actually racked up 43 yards on the ground, 75 yards more than the Pirates (minus 32). The only thing Holliday's two previous opponents can hope for is a quick end to their gridiron season.

Jeff Belcher eight-yard run [Parker kick]
 Mike W. Parker 38-yard pass from A. Parker [Parker kick]
 W. Parker four-yard run [Parker kick]
 Kevin Blankenship 35-yard pass from A. Parker [Parker kick]
 Neal 48-yard run [kick failed]
 Danny Hinsley 47-yard run [kick failed]
 Rogers 16-yard run [kick failed]
 Don Long 18-yard run [kick failed]
 Hinsley 76-yard run [Kelly Carver kick]

HOLLIDAY	CHICO
16 First Downs	4
380 Yards Rushing	43
82 Yards Passing	19

3-4 Passes	3-17
6 Interceptions by	0
1 Fumbles lost	2
0-0 Punts	9-24
3-40 Penalties	4-35

Coach Matt Robinson and the second and third team players on the Eagle squad should be commended for maintaining a serious attitude the entire game. It wasn't easy.

The scoring, with Holliday taking a 42-0 first quarter and 61-0 halftime lead, went as follows:
 Brad Harmon 55-yard run [Mike A. Parker kick]
 Erick Neal 20-yard interception return [A. Parker kick]

3-A Commerce next opponent

Holliday's Eagles will host a formidable opponent tomorrow night when Class AAA Commerce arrives for a 7:30 p.m. showdown.

And, according to head mentor Don Lucy, the Eagles will have to play top-notch football to pull this one out.

The East Texas team, currently 7-1 for the season, is quick, big, and with speedy backs. They have won games against North Lamar, Quinlan, Cooper, Whitesboro, Sanger, Princeton and Lake Dallas while losing only to Bonham in District 10-AAA play.

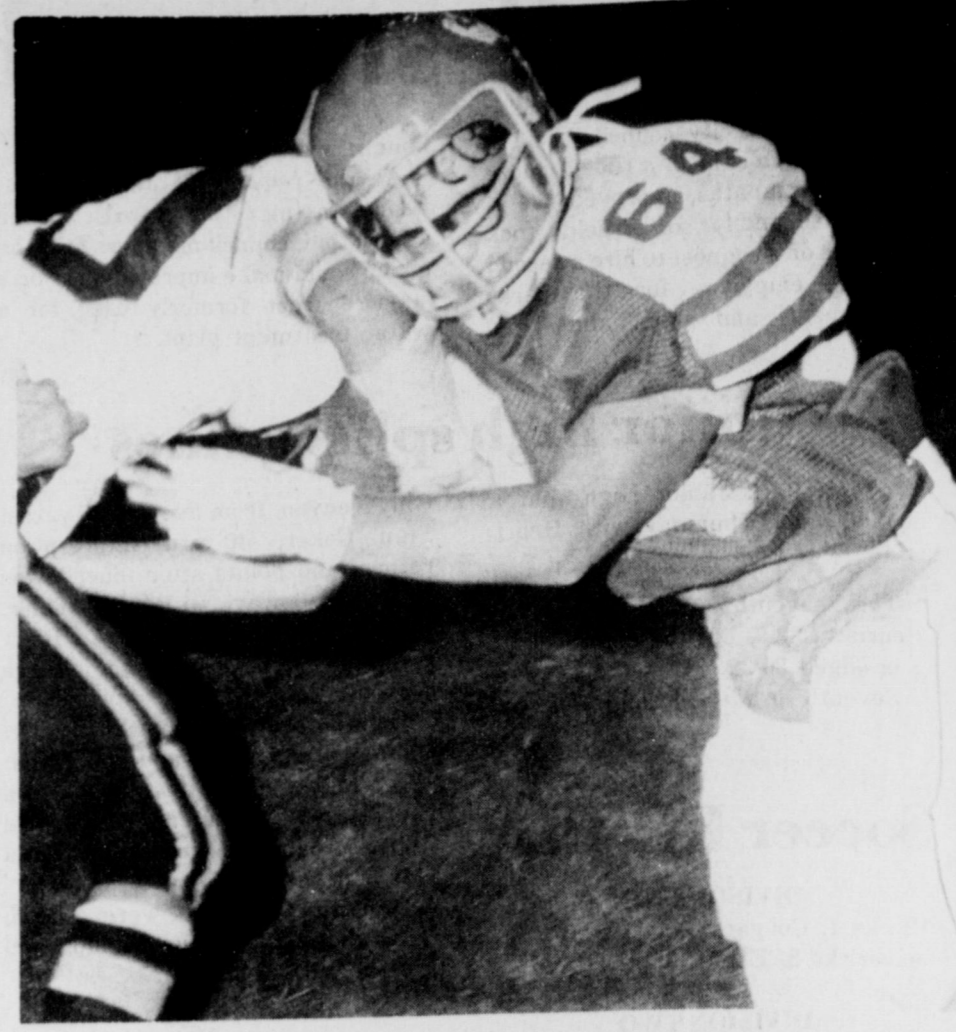

"We feel like they are a good football team, with good speed, quickness and size," Lucy said Wednesday. "We are going to have to contain them to win."

Commerce's talented backfield consists of seniors Vincente Galloway (150), at fullback, D.A. Morrison (210) at tailback and quarterback Kevin Bryant (180). Offensive end Bruce Smith has exceptional moves, returning punts and kickoffs in addition to receiving Bryant's aerials.

According to Lucy, their line is well balanced, especially the strong side, which averaged close to 200 pounds per player. He singled out center David Dumas and guard Carey Parnell, who Lucy said was also exceptional at defensive guard.

"We feel and have felt all along that having a tough game at this particular part of the year will help our team," said Lucy.

INJURY REPORT
 Gill Gilbert (knee), Clint Lee (kidneys), and Timmy Stubblefield (ankle) have all been given a clean bill of health, and will be used in the Commerce game, according to Lucy.

School wins appeal, tax appraisal cut

If you happen to see Holliday Superintendent Dan Owen or tax assessor/collector Louis Hodge on the streets, be sure to stop them and shake their hands. They have just saved you over $30,000.

The two went before the State Property Tax Board Oct. 13th in Austin to appeal the value of acreage and land based on the state's appraisal. The state panel okayed approximately $20-million less than their original appraisal of $74,259,016, which would have cost school district taxpayers several thousand dollars for the 1983-84 school year.

"The appeal is based on the premise that the value assigned this property does not reflect the true market value of farm and ranch land in the district and the value assigned is excessive based on values assigned other comparable districts," the appeal read.

State appraisers reportedly based their figures on the sale of Black Flat land, which is prime farm land, that sold for $700-$800 per acre. The school countered by saying the average should have been based on sales of land in Big Frey and T-Bone which went for $200-$300 per acre.

In addition, the average per acre cost for Holliday School District was $568.99, according to state figures, while land in Archer City School District was $419.38, and Megargel $415.82 per acre.

ADDITIONAL CORRECTION

Owen said Monday a letter was received by the school from the board stating an error in utilities had been made, and corrected, changing the original figure of $10,045,544 to $8,679,350. Owen responded by letter stating his appreciation.

Midgets have outside shot

Holliday's Midget Eagles still have an outside shot at making the playoffs in the Top of Texas league despite a heartbreaking 20-14 loss to Quanah recently.

Quanah took the hard fought win with less than two minutes to play in the contest, scoring the winning points on a 25-yard run.

But, by virtue of a coin toss Sunday, the Eagles can still advance to the playoffs if Quanah defeats Henrietta in Iowa Park Wednesday.

Quanah's 8-0 lead in the second quarter was matched by Holliday when fullback Jason Whitworth scored on a nine-yard run. Quanah again took the lead late in the same quarter, but the Eagles again made a game of it with Whitworth scoring from 30 yards out. On the play, he received good downfield blocking from Jim Denney, Mike Richards, and Terry Stewart. The extra point attempt ended one yard short.

Line coach Tim Wallace praised his linemen, citing marked improvement in their play. They are Denney, Craig Smith, Ronnie Molina, defensive ends Scott Belcher and Robert Lindley, and linebacker Ronnie Kucinski. Whitworth led all tacklers with 11.

C of C sets meeting

The Holliday Chamber of Commerce will hold its monthly Board of Directors meeting at 1 p.m. next Thursday in the Ponderosa Restaurant.

Lone Star Specialist Pam Hacker uses a hot-air balloon to get her message across. The message is that new high-efficiency* gas water heaters can help you stretch your energy dollars.

We used a hot-air balloon to make a point about hot-water efficiency.

77,000 cubic feet.
That's how much gas this balloon holds.
That's enough gas for 7,700 five-minute showers. That is, if your water heater was built ten years ago.
With a new high-efficiency* water heater, 77,000 cubic feet of gas goes a lot further... more than 20% further.
You can still take 7,700 five-minute showers. With the gas left over, you can wash 1,022 loads of dishes and dry 785 loads of clothes.

Gas has always been your most efficient fuel. High-efficiency appliances make it go even further.

If you'd like to stretch your energy dollar, talk to your local appliance dealer. Find out how much a high-efficiency water heater could save you.

Hawks 7, Gainesville 6

State-ranked Leopards humbled by Mean Green defense

There was no celebrating in Mudville when the Mighty Casey struck out. . . and there was no celebrating in Gainesville when the Mighty Leopards were shut down.

Iowa Park's Mean Green forced a hush over a packed stadium of Gainesville homecoming celebrators by holding off a determined rally and defeating the state's second-ranked team, 7-6.

The Hawks took advantage of a Leopard turnover early in the opening quarter, scored, and then played a game of defense Gainesville didn't think was possible.

The entire game was one of big plays, both offensively and defensively, by the proud Iowa Parkans. In fact, it was such a team effort that the coaching staff gave the Players of the Week honors to the entire squad.

One player, however, figured in on three spectacular and important situations.

Wayne Hodges kicked the extra point that was to eventually spell the difference in the game's outcome. He then blocked the Gainesville extra point kick which would have tied the score. And late in the final period, it was Hodges who tipped a pass away from a receiver in the end zone.

But it was the entire Mean Green defense that held Gainesville's vaunted offense to only six points, 16 fewer than it had been averaging in the six previous games.

And it was the defense that set up Iowa Park's score.

On their second series with the ball, and starting from their own 19 yard line, the Leopards lost the ball when blue chipper James Calhoun fumbled a pitchout and defensive end Greg Untalon fell on it at the Leopard 13.

Tailback Kevin Parker lost two yards on the first play, and wingback Lynn Fulfer was held to no gain.

Then, with the Hawk linemen trapping the stunting Leopard linebackers, fullback Paul Rogers shook off an outstretched arm at the line of scrimmage, wrestled out of the grasp of a secondary tackler at the three, and dove into the end zone to score with 7:57 still remaining in the opening period.

Iowa Park's offense actually out-gained Gainesville in the first half, picking up 86 net yards to the Leopard's 58.

But Gainesville was noted as a particularly strong second half team. It wasn't unusual for the Leopards to be tied or even trailing when the second half was started. And they played like that.

Most of the second half was Calhoun left, Calhoun right, or Calhoun passing. For the game, his number was dialed 31 times and he responded with 169 yards, as well as Gainesville's only touchdown.

But it was Calhoun's mistakes that aided the Hawk effort. His fumble that led to the Hawk TD was his first. He fumbled away the ball early in the third stanza as the Leopards were driving, and Mac Weaver captured it on the Hawk 18.

A few minutes later, after punting the ball to the Hawk six-inch line, a Gainesville player made another mistake which aided the IP cause.

Rogers picked up a couple of yards over the goal line lineup, but was roughed up after landing on the turf. For that, the Leopards were assessed a 15-yard penalty, and the Hawks had some breathing room to function.

Gainesville scored on its next possession. But it wasn't on a patented Leopard big play. Calhoun punched his way over from two yards out.

The ensuing snap from center to the holder was slightly high. The holder had to take a little extra time to get the ball down on the tee, throwing off the timing of Calhoun, who also does the kicking. That slight delay was just enough for Hodges to dive into the path of the ball, knocking it to the grass and preserving Iowa Park's lead.

It was Hodges who, the week before with Iowa Park leading 3-0 against Vernon, who broke through and blocked a "chip shot" field goal attempt by the Lions.

On their next to final possession, The Leopards appeared to be heading for another score. From their own 36 yard line, they drove to a first down on the Hawk 26.

The Gainesville crowd was standing as time was called, apparently responding to gestures from their players on the field who were holding their arms outstretched skyward and one finger extended in victory signs.

But three running plays netted three yards, and on fourth down Hodges knocked the ball away from the intended receiver in the end zone, thwarting the scoring effort.

With 3:44 still showing on the scoreboard clock, Coach David Baugh went to work with his time-consuming strategy. Parker picked up 11 yards on a sweep and Rogers one more before the clock was stopped and Iowa Park assessed a delay penalty.

Fulfer scooted six yards. But then the clock was stopped for a suspicious injury to a Leopard lineman. The same thing happened after Parker ran two yards on the following play.

Then, with 1:14 remaining on the clock, Weaver punted from his 36 to Gainesville's 45, where the ball rolled out of bounds.

The Leopards were penalized 15 yards after the ball was whistled dead when Gainesville's frustrated Tollie Royal fouled one of the covering Hawks.

Four fruitless pass attempts by Gainesville ran the clock down to 12 seconds, and all quarterback Marc Klinkerman had to do when possession changed was go down on one knee and time expired.
