Lisa Yeakley named to All-State team

Post-season honors continue to roll in for Lisa Yeakley, the 5-6 point guard for Iowa Park's Dist. 3-AAAA co-champion Hawkette basketball team.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Yeakley has been named All-State by the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches, according to a story in Tuesday's Wichita Falls Record News.

Announcement in the paper is the only notification anyone here has received, however. Neither the senior star, her coach Ray Sefcik nor her principal Bob Dawson has received any correspondence or contact from anyone as yet.

She said the first she heard about it was when Dawson made his usual morning announcements over the school's public address system Tuesday.

According to Dawson, Yeakley is not only the first girl named All-State from Iowa Park, but the first basketball player from here so honored. Nor has any athlete from Iowa Park been named All-State in any sport since 1970, and that was in football.

She was listed with three other athletes in the area as being selected, but the story was headlined about a Graham athlete being selected.

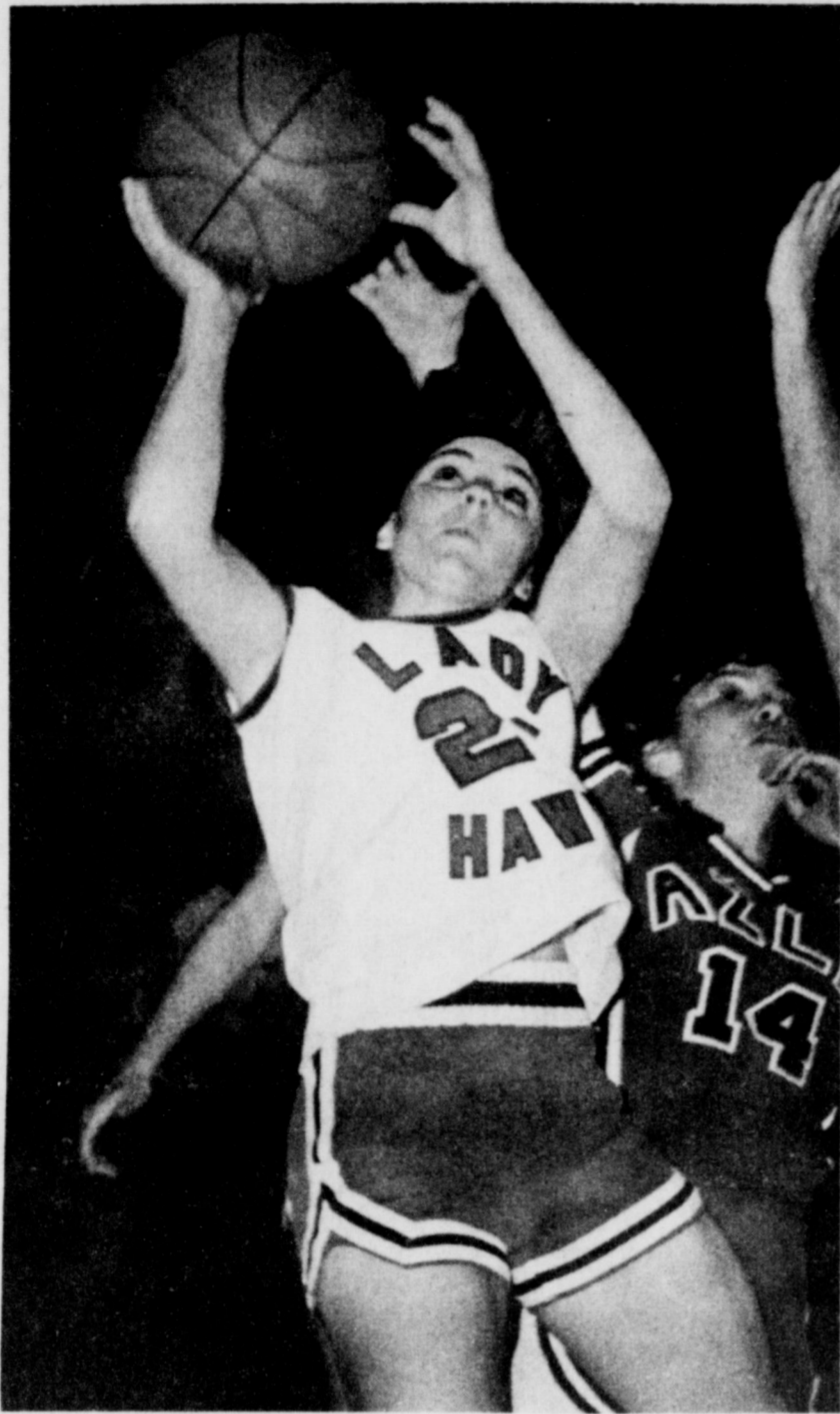

Others named were Ron Ranger of Graham, Curtis Knobloch of Megargel and Dana Brown of Byers.

Yeakley was named outstanding player of the conference by Dist. 3-AAAA coaches. Her name was apparently submitted to the state organization for consideration, but Sefcik said he was never contacted.

Other post-season honors include being named first alternate for a north-south all-star basketball game to be played in July in Lubbock, and offer of a scholarship to play for the Lady Indians of Midwestern State Univ.

The honors are well-deserved, because Yeakley averaged 18.6 points per game this past season, but in the 14-game district schedule, she averaged 19.8 points.

She canned 196 field goals and 148 free shots over the year and 98 field goals and 81 free shots against league opponents.

ALL-STATE LISA YEAKLEY

From the free shot line, she had a 63.5 percent average for the season and 60.9 percent in the 14 conference games.

No information is available on the number of assists credited her, nor on the number of steals. She was feared by district coaches because of her defensive play ability.

Her highest point production of the season was Dec. 20 against Wichita Falls High, a 5-A team, when she scored 31 points.

Her high game against district teams was against Gainesville, when she canned 26 points. She also had 25 points against Boswell and Burkburnett.

Yeakley was held to only two points in the bi-district game against Granbury. But she scored 22 points, and the Hawkettes lost 55-54.

In the first game against Gainesville, played on the road, the opponents held her to only two field goals with their tight zone defense. But she still emerged with 16 points, canning 12 of 16 shots at the charity line.

A popular student on campus, Yeakley is a cheerleader this year and was also selected homecoming queen. She is currently competing on the track team, specializing in the 800-meter run.

BAZAAR SATURDAY - Mrs. Mae Roby exhibits some of the items to be sold or given away between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Saturday at the annual Friendly Door Spring Bazaar. Besides giving two handmade quilts, home-baked goods, canned goods, Easter baskets and numerous other handmade items will be sold. Friendly Door is located at the corner of Cash and Wall.

Library, street bids on council's agenda

The city council is to discuss the means of funding renovation of the Will Burnett home for a library and also policies of the board of adjustments when it meets at 7 p.m. Monday in council chambers.

Also on the agenda is consideration of bids for reworking two blocks of Park Street, approval of an ordinance concerning personnel, appointing a health officer and hearing a presentation from a telephone company representative.

The council is still reeling from bids submitted by two contractors to paint the exterior woodwork of the Burnett home. Both were twice as high as predicted.

Because of the bids, aldermen and members of the library board have been looking at alternate ways of providing improved library facilities.

A discussion of the city's zoning ordinances as they relate to the board of adjustments will be held, according to James Barrington, city administrator.

Bids have been received for resurfacing the east-bound lane between the shopping center and Yosemite. They were submitted for both asphalt and concrete.

Dan Adams, public relations representative of Southwestern Bell Telephone, has requested time on the agenda to speak to the council.

This will be the third time the personnel ordinance has been before the council. The first time, members delayed consideration because of lack of study time. At the Mar. 14 meeting, it was sent back for revision.

Chamber sets Clean-Up Week dates

Directors hear report on Community Council purpose

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce set April 11-16 as Clean-Up Week and heard a report on efforts of the Community Council, during their monthly meeting Monday.

The Chamber annually co-sponsors the week-long, community-wide clean-up effort with the city.

While residents and businesses are encouraged to clean up their immediate areas throughout the special week, the greatest emphasis for cleaning roadways, vacant lots and parks is on the final day, which is a Saturday.

Organizations in the community will be contacted to participate, and they will be given areas of responsibility.

The city traditionally opens the landfill for free dumping of trash, trimmings and debris, but that is restricted to residents of the community only. City crews also work an extra day on Saturday to pick up bags filled by volunteers.

Linda Merrick, Chamber president, said more complete details on the project will be announced in the future.

Jerry Fisher, director of Community Council of Greater Wichita Falls, explained that the organization was chartered in 1976 to benefit all of Wichita County, not just the county seat.

He admitted, however, that most of the organizations' efforts had been centered in Wichita Falls and that his board was interested in increasing its aid to the rest of the county.

Community Council receives most of its funding through United Way.

He asked the Chamber to appoint a representative to the organization's board.

The purpose of Community

"Community Council was organized to benefit all of Wichita County, not just Wichita Falls."
— Jerry Fisher

Council, according to a brochure Fisher distributed, "is to provide a medium through which interested citizens, organizations, agencies and departments of government can work together effectively to determine community service needs in the Greater Wichita Falls area, and to aid in bringing an orderly development of services and adequate programs to meet such needs.

"To further such general purposes,

the Council may:

"1. Conduct research on community needs in health, welfare, recreational and other conditions relating to community services.

"2. Plan and/or assist with or facilitate planning for appropriate patterns of health, welfare, recreation, and other human services to meet the needs of the community.

"3. Coordinate, through communications and cooperation, the activities of health, welfare, recreation and other human services agencies to the are not performed or appropriate for performance by individual agencies.

"7. Provide and/or obtain consultation and information services for agencies and/or community groups on health, welfare, recreational and other human services and/or appropriate patterns of service.

Four absentee ballots cast

At least four people plan to be out of town Easter weekend, because that's the number of absentee ballots that have been cast in both city and school elections.

An extremely light turnout of voters is anticipated in the April 2 balloting. Poll watchers make the prediction based on the number of absentee ballots cast. Also there being very few issues for candidates to campaign on. And election day is the day before Easter, when many people travel to visit relatives.

Tuesday is the deadline for absentee voting.

Candidates for the three city alderman positions are incumbents Tim Hunter, Lita Watson and Johnny Coker. They are challenged by newcomers Jim Voyles and Freddie Simmons.

Two school trustees are to be elected. Incumbents Rusty Rusk and Jimmy Howell are being challenged by Tom Venhaus.

In both elections, winners are decided at large, with those receiving the greatest number of votes taking office.

Easter Service set this Sunday

The Community Easter Service, sponsored by the Iowa Park Ministerial Alliance, will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday Mar. 27 at First Baptist Church.

Rev. Ole Olds, pastor of the Church of God, will deliver the message. Choir members of all churches will fill the choir loft and special music will be provided by a male quartet. The public is invited.

Spray paint damages cars

Four cases of criminal mischief were reported to police during the past week, the most serious being two vehicles damaged by spray paint.

Both vehicles were in the same neighborhood and apparently were damaged by the same culprits, described as boys approximately 15 years of age.

About 2 p.m. Saturday, a witness reportedly saw the pair spraying paint on the right rear fender of a car belonging to Billy Hacker. It was parked at 1013 Lincoln.

Approximately an hour later, the left doors and quarter panel of an auto belonging to John F. Dodd and parked at 128 Wood Circle was also painted black.

Junior high principal Jimmy Alsop was parked in the 900 block of West Highway getting a haircut about 1 p.m. Thursday, and while he was inside, someone took five pot shots at his pickup windshield with a pellet gun.

Debbie Cooper said someone cut a hole in the middle of her bed in her 412 Valley Drive home between 12 and 1:30 a.m. Thursday.

Wright, Crim wedding held Saturday in Abilene

Miss Kathryn Sue Wright and Wade Crim exchanged double-ring nuptial vows Saturday afternoon in the Women of Abilene Christian University Museum building. Kale Martin, minister of the Petrolia Church of Christ, was the officiant for the ceremony performed in front of the fireplace.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wright of Iowa Park, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Crim of Coleman.

The bride presented an exquisite picture in her wedding gown of candlelight silk taffeta embellished with Chantilly lace when she was given in marriage by her father. The fitted bodice was fashioned with long sleeves of the lace and a low neckline framed with lace scallops accented with iridescents and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt was especially attractive with a back panel of lace that extended down the skirt and covered the chapel train.

Her illusion veil fell softly to fingertip length from a pearl-covered headpiece. She carried a 127-year-old family Bible and a silk bouquet of dusty rose and navy blue roses surrounded by antique white Victorian lace to complete her costume.

Mrs. Mike Collins of West Columbia participated in the wedding as matron of honor. She wore a formal toast taffeta and chiffon gown designed with an embroidered bodice, full chiffon sleeves, cummerbund waist and full skirt. She carried a smaller version of the bride's bouquet.

The groom and best man, Bob Ahlstrand of Abilene, were attired in western suits.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School and Abilene Christian Univ. with a B.A. degree in elementary education. She received a M.A. degree from ACU as a reading specialist and is employed as a teacher in the Wylie Independent School District. The groom was the wedding. Mrs. David Lawrence presided at the bride's book which was placed on an antique table that held a picture of the bride and groom.

The bride's cake of three tiers trimmed with dusty rose and powder blue floral ornamentation was served by Mrs. Don Harrison and Mrs. John Nettles, sister of the bride, from an antique round table covered with ecru lace accented with rose satin bows.

Laura Whitson and Susan Graham served the groom's three-tiered chocolate cake at an antique table covered with an antique crocheted cloth.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at the home of Douglas Wright, uncle of the bride.

The newlyweds will live at Abilene following a trip to San Antonio and Port Mansfield. For travel, the bride wore a three-piece dusty rose suit and white blouse.

Study club fetes guests

The worth of friends and the aesthetic was accentuated at the 23 Study Club's annual guest day and luncheon held Thursday in the Fellowship Hall of First Christian Church. The meal was served by the Christian Women's Fellowship.

The room and tables were decorated in a St. Patrick's Day theme by Mmes. Earl Watson, Earle Denny, Riley Thompson and Joe Singer. Shamrocks, violets, jonquils, leprechauns, and elves figured prominently in the decor.

Mrs. D.O. James, club president, welcomed guests and Mrs. Riley Thompson offered the invocation.

Following the meal, Mrs. Singer served as program co-ordinator for the cultural arts program which was introduced with a piano duet by Mrs.

Jimmy Alsop and Mrs. Bill Bates, who played "Fiddle-Fiddle" by L. Anderson.

Mrs. Bates then offered "My Tribute" by Andrea Crouch, "Excerpts of Warsaw Concerto Medley" by Addinsell, arranged by Dino for a piano solo.

Mrs. Delbert Todd, a member of the Back Door Theater, brought the program to a delightful climax with a reading, "The Ten Worst Things About A Man," taken from Jean Kerr's book, "The Snake Has All The Lines."

Cook of the Week

Food and cooking, two things that have helped to shape the development of society for many, many years.

Reay Tannehill in his book "Food in History" says that food has dictated population growth, influenced economic, social and political theory, widened the horizons of commerce, inspired wars, played a large role in creation of empires and discovery of new worlds, had a part in religion, in science and technology.

Cooking has been described by one as an element of civilization, and by another as the possible decisive factor in leading man from a primarily animal existence into one that was more fully human. There are differences of opinion as to when cooking was first discovered, but the satisfaction it gives has remained steadfast down through the years and still retains its glamor for both experienced and novice cooks.

Micki (Mrs. G.A.) Benesh especially enjoys the part cooking plays in the role of a homemaker and says that her grandmother taught her to cook.

She spent most of her early life in Breckenridge but was graduated from Wichita Falls High School and attended Midwestern State Univ. She worked in accounting at the Wichita Falls State Hospital for three years. She is presently teaching china painting in her home and at MSU in the continuing education program.

Her husband is an attorney in Wichita Falls and the municipal judge for the City of Iowa Park. They have five sons, Gregg, an instructor at Baylor Univ., Bruce, who is in public relations in Dallas, Steve, a student at Texas Univ. in Austin, Richie and Jeff of the home, who are students in the Burkburnett schools.

Micki belongs to St. Stephens Episcopal Church, the Wichita Falls Porcelain Art Club and Burkburnett Art League. Her hobbies are china painting and gardening, but her chief delight in life is that of a homemaker.

Mrs. G.A. Benesh

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

It hasn't been very many years since the world watched as the black residents of Rhodesia overthrew the white rule government of Ian Smith and installed majority rule, meaning black rule, to a country with a heavy black majority. The leaders of this revolt were Robert Mugabe and Joshua Nkomo, Marxist trained terrorists who were supported by the Soviet Union with arms and material in this successful overthrow of the Smith government. The World Council of Churches supported the revolt and it was popular in most countries where human rights and racial equality were viewed as a fundamental right of people everywhere. The Smith government was pictured as oppressive and discriminatory against the blacks.

The new government was organized with a black Methodist bishop as the first president. He lasted about 90 days, then Robert Mugabe took over. Rhodesia became Zimbabwe. Despite assurances that white farmers would be allowed to continue owning their land, the government soon began a system of confiscation without compensation and white farmers began to flee Zimbabwe. We talked to several of them on our visit to South Africa a couple of years ago and they were understandably bitter about losing everything they had. Robert Mugabe made a lot of changes in his new nation, among them the systematic disposal of his political enemies. This past week the news surfaced about the Mugabe troops killing as many as 3,000 civilians during the past few weeks, many of them women and children, as he disposed of political enemies.

The Mugabe government is now showing residents of Zimbabwe just what it means to have an oppressive government. The government has a brigade of North Korean trained soldiers who have been accused of looting and raping and pillaging as they covered the country. The followers of Joshua Nkomo, the president's former friend, are being killed off and Nkomo himself is under government arrest. Sooner or later he is likely to disappear. Under the Mugabe government there is a shortage of food because the white farmers no longer grow enough food and black farmers have not been able to produce what is needed. The electric generating plants are in disrepair, the railroads do not operate on schedule, the currency is practically worthless, there is widespread unemployment, hunger and disease. Those who praised Robert Mugabe as a fine gentleman who would create peaceful and prosperous country when he got rid of the white government have not yet had the courage to admit they were wrong.

In Southwest Africa, the SWAPO organization, also a Marxist trained group, is trying to take over that country which has been under a protectorate of South Africa since World War I and the same story is being told about how great it would be if the SWAPO movement could replace the present government. South Africa has repeatedly said that their troops would be removed once truly free elections are held and when the Cuban Communist troops are moved out of Angola where they make regular forays into Southwest Africa. World opinion is on the side of the Marxists here as it was in Rhodesia and eventually this will become a Communist government just like most of the other African countries who have exchanged the yoke of colonialism for the worse yoke of Communism.

We never thought much about the situation in Africa and South Africa until we were exposed to some current events and some recent history during the past few years. Since making that trip to South Africa we have done considerably more study than we ever thought we would and it is obvious that the Soviet Union is making inroads around the globe, not through military conquest alone as in Afghanistan, but from within as in the case of Zimbabwe and now Southwest Africa. It is a long way from the United States to the continent of Africa but in this complicated world, events there have an effect here and we need to be aware of it.

In recent weeks there has been an article in the Readers Digest and a CBS program on "60 Minutes" which accuses the National and World Council of Churches for supporting Marxist movements around the world, and citing some examples to prove this charge. Response has been quick and loud from these two church groups and both "60 Minutes" and Readers Digest have been accused of distorting the facts. It has never occurred to the National and World Council of Churches that they, too, have distorted the facts regarding such events as those in Zimbabwe and South Africa. It was surprising to us that a liberal program such as "60 Minutes" would take in after the National and World Council of Churches and while no doubt the program was tailored to prove the theme advanced by CBS, the fact remains that neither the National nor World Council of Churches should be immune from criticism.

Our own Methodist Church has reacted almost violently to the television program and in our church newspaper last week the editor listed all of the sponsors of "60 Minutes" and asked Methodists to contact these sponsors to complain about the program. The implication is that good Methodists should let the sponsors know that there will be a boycott of their products for having sponsored the program. This tactic is what other church groups have condemned for along time. We are a regular viewer of "60 Minutes" and while we know that it is a program which slants its news, it does expose a lot of activities that other news media refuse to touch. We don't know that their program, "The Gospel According to Whom" is all that accurate but we feel that neither the National nor World Council of Churches should be immune to criticism.

Criticism of the National Council of Churches is nothing new, of course. Church members across the country have complained about the liberal leanings of the NCC for a long time. A few years ago the First Methodist Church of Lubbock publicly announced its refusal to pay anything into the conference treasury that would go to the National Council of Churches and thus withdrew its support. Other churches followed their example even though the United Methodist Church is a member of both the National and World Council of Churches.

A church bureaucracy is not much different from a government bureaucracy in that the larger it gets the farther removed from the individual it becomes. We doubt if the majority of the laymen in the churches comprising the membership of the NCC agree completely with its program, but they are so far removed from it that their protests are never heard. The National Council of Churches and the World Council of Churches do have a program of dispensing money around the world to feed the hungry, treat the sick, help the unfortunate victims of war and economic upheaval. It is just when these charitable programs get mixed into political problems that their own problems develop.

Todd remains in hospital

Monty Todd, a former resident of Iowa Park and a frequent visitor in the homes of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Robertson and Mrs. Cornelia Todd, is in the Harris Methodist Hospital, 1300 W. Cannon, Ft. Worth, suffering from injuries sustained when he was struck by a pickup Jan. 18 in Wichita Falls. He had been a student at Midwestern State Univ. during the fall term.

He has undergone three operations and remains unconscious in the intensive care unit. His family feels cards from his friends will mean much to him when he regains consciousness.

When I was writing last week in this space about the sure signs of spring, I forgot one thing: the Easter cold spell. But I didn't forget long.

Only on rare occasions have we ever missed the annual chilling about Easter time. Normally it comes within 10 days, before or after Easter. This one was either a little early, or we've got another yet to experience.

It was a pity to know that the killing freeze was hitting right when a great number of our fruit trees were in full bloom. If your tree was in full bloom, forget it this year. The fruit is dead.

Those whose trees had passed full bloom and had small fruit starts already set, there might be hope for some of them. Tim Hunter, who directs activities at the Texas Experiment Station here, says only a few days will tell whether those small starts will die and drop off.

Trees yet to bloom have no problem, unless there is a later freeze while that is going on.

Also a lot of gardens suffered in the freeze, even those with protective coverings. The time the temperature stayed below 28 degrees was the important point, Hunter told me. Of course, there will be a few exceptions, but not many.

But gardens can be re-planted. It's duplicated work, but not a lost cause like the peach and plum trees are for the year.

You can never tell about when that last winter storm will hit, or how severe it can be. One of the worst blizzards I've ever experienced was about this time of the year, while we were living up in the Panhandle.

That one came March 13, as I recall. And it was a booger. The snow fell and the wind blew two days, stranding people on the road, freezing cattle to death in the pastures and isolating towns everywhere until heavy equipment could dig them out.

We were at Dumas at the time. I remember helping dig three men out of their snow-covered car. They had been there almost 48 hours, without anything but a bar of candy and couple packages of chewing gum.

They were sure upset when they stood up beside their car, too. It was less than 150 yards from a row of houses that marked the east side of the city, but couldn't see it because of the snow.

Of course, even if we are out of the winter storm period, that only means we have another season of weather with which to contend: tornadoes.

Meteorologists in Dallas have been quoted by the Associated Press as predicting this will be a tough year in Northern Texas. They are crediting an anticipated shift in the upper-level jet stream which will not only bring more storms to this area, but draw more moist air up from the Gulf to feed the storms.

Isn't that the dickens? We just get over the recession problem and high interest charges, and then we have Mother Nature to start worrying about.

Oh, well. Those who always seem to want something to worry about should be in hog heaven the next couple of months.

Kill weeds in wheat now

By Don D. Decker
County Agent

It is time to stop weeds in wheat now rather than at harvest time. Field inspections indicate above normal weed infestations, particularly with wild mustard, henbit, pepperweed, and sheperdspurse. Waiting until harvest for weed control is kinda like "closing the gate after the horses get out." The weeds have already done their damage to wheat yields. Then it becomes an expensive salvage operation to kill the weeds just to harvest the crop.

Glean is a new material which is very effective for weed control in wheat without damaging the crop. Jessie Flick and Brockriede Brothers have already sprayed some of their wheat with Glean. In most cases the Glean is added to the greenbug insecticide. This combination saves an application cost.

A lot of growers are waiting to see if they get a greenbug infestation before spraying for weeds. Greenbug activity to this point has been light. For this reason, many wheat growers will want to go ahead with weed control alone.

Emory Boring, Extension area entomologist, says, "If the greenbug population is not built up within the next two weeks, the threat of an infestation should be over. Beneficial insects survived the winter, and they are present in large numbers very early in the season."

Glean at the rate of 1/6 ounce per acre kills all of the growing weeds. A demonstration with Fred Dwyer last year indicated very little soil carry-over from this rate. Glean at the rate of 1/3 ounce per acre gives soil carry-over, and it will control sunflowers when they emerge later in the season. Growers with sunflower problems may want to use this 1/3 ounce rate which will run slightly less than $5.00 per acre for the chemical. Glean at the rate of 1/2 ounce per acre gives a definite soil carry-over control on both annual weeds and grasses well into the summer. Growers would not want to follow cotton behind fields treated with 1/3 or 1/2 ounce rate.

MCCP was used by Terry McAlister for weed control in wheat. After reading the label on Glean, he was a little afraid to use Glean on a field to be followed by cotton.

We have a definite lack of experience on the Glean carry-over effects on cotton. For this reason, Larry McAlister will be doing a demonstration with plots treated with Glean at the rate of 1/6 ounce, 1/3 ounce, 1/2 ounce, and 2/3 ounce. Cotton will be planted behind all of these rates next year to measure carry-over effect.

The Prescribed Burning Demonstration on 150 acres of coastal bermudagrass with Sam McGee went very well. This pasture was burned on March 9 with a humidity of 24 percent and a north wind at 18 miles per hour. Sidney Smith, County Civil Defense Coordinator, was on standby in the event anything went wrong.

The county crops committee is redirecting some of its efforts this year in order to do more demonstration work on minimum tillage. We are hearing more and more about less tillage to conserve moisture while producers here have always used tillage as a moisture-conserving practice. Minimum till or no till has never really been tried.

The committee headed by Freddie Daume is establishing a tillage demonstration on the farm of Fred Dwyer. Ten acres will be no till from wheat harvest to planting time. A 1/2 ounce of Glean will be applied in March for residual weed and grass control.

Another plot will be plowed 1 time in August with anhydrous ammonia applied in September before planting. Glean will also be used at the rate of 1/2 ounce per acre on this plot.

The third plot will be swept immediately after harvest with no other tillage until midAugust. Anhydrous ammonia will be applied in September. The glean will be applied after wheat harvest at the rate of 1/3 ounce per acre. These will be compared to maximum tillage with a moldboard plow. It will be plowed by Clarence Mahler right after wheat harvest. Glean will not be used on this plot.

The final plot will be tilled with the usual four to six conventional chiselings using duck feet and sweeps. This will be fertilized with anhydrous ammonia in September. There will be no Glean used.

Control of the dreaded nightshades will be presented at the Nightshade Control Seminar scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday at the ASCS Office building in Iowa Park.

Dr. Al Alexander, Extension agronomist, will show the practices aimed at controlling perennial weeds such as the nightshades. Purple nightshade (choke cherry), and silver nightshades are the main problems here. These methods include spraying with 2,4-D prior to cotton planting or using Banvel after the bolls open.

Terry McAlister obtained good control of purple nightshade last spring by spraying with 2,4-D 2 weeks before planting. Silver nightshade is a little harder to kill.

IRS Tax Tips

FIRST QUARTER ESTIMATED TAX PAYMENT DUE APRIL 15, 1983

Some wage earners and other individuals who have income other than wages may be required to file estimated tax payments, the Internal Revenue Service says.

You are liable for filing a declaration of estimated tax if you have income not subject to withholding of more than $500 and you expect to owe at least $300 on next year's return. The IRS states that you are also liable if you expect to owe at least $300 and your gross income is more than:

$20,000 if you file as single, head of household, or qualifying widow or widower;

$10,000 if you are married, can file a joint declaration, and both of you have received wages for 1982;

$5,000 if you are married and cannot file a joint declaration.

Just like withholding by employers, the IRS says, estimated taxes are paid in advance of the actual tax return, Form 1040, due for the year. Estimated taxes are normally paid in four installments, and there is a substantial penalty for underpayment of estimated taxes.

For 1983 returns, the four estimated tax installment dates are: April 15, 1983; June 15, 1983; September 15, 1983; January 16, 1984.

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri paper. One day he received a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his paper, and asked if this was an omen of good or bad luck. Twain replied: "Finding a spider in your paper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Dean named chairman of Spring Bike-A-Thon

Robert D. Dean has been appointed chairman of the Spring Bike-A-Thon in Iowa Park, sponsored by the North-East Texas Chapter of Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

The appointment was announced by Fred Greene, chapter president.

who noted that the funds raised in the event will help find a cure for CF, the country's number one genetic killer of children and young adults.

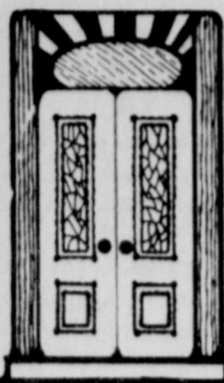

"We urge the full participation of all our residents in this event," said Dean. "Researchers are still trying to find the cause of this disease. We also need broader education of the medical community and the public so that CF can be diagnosed and treated earlier. We need improved medical therapy to further extend the lives of the young victims of CF. . . and, ultimately, we need a cure. All of this, obviously, requires money, and only the community can provide it. As we all work together with hundreds of volunteers across Texas and the nation, we can make a strong impact on the struggle to control cystic fibrosis."

The North-East Texas Chapter is one of 72 Cystic Fibrosis Foundation

Chapters in the U.S. The Foundation supports a nationwide network of 127 treatment centers, with four of these centers located in Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston. The Centers specialize in diagnosis and medical care for patients as well as services for CF families.

Council, Chamber slate April 11-16 clean-up

Holliday City Council Monday night agreed to aid the Chamber of Commerce in a city clean-up campaign the week of April 11-16. City fathers gave their verbal support to chamber president Margarette Wilson at the council's regular bi-monthly meeting, where council members also dealt with an amendment to a water ordinance in regards to the number of water taps per square footage of land, and met with General Telephone representatives to discuss the company's recent rate increase request.

Mayor James Cook said the date of the cleanup campaign, where city residents and groups will be asked to assist, will coincide with Texas' "Keep America Beautiful" campaign. "If we all put an effort in this project this year, then maybe we will have a better response in the years to follow," Wilson said. She also thanked the council for assisting the chamber since its formation less than a year ago, and announced that the organization had banked $494 from the benefit basketball game between locals and the Channel 6 "Sixers" last weekend. Wilson also said this was the first Chamber project, and was successful. Council also discussed amending a water ordinance with regards to the minimum square footage of land required to justify placement of a standard water meter. Cook said the ordinance needed to be amended because of some existing lots in the city having two or three meters. Alderman John Goforth suggested 5,000 square feet as the minimum, explaining that would be approximately the minimum of each lot. Goforth also said if by chance a lot met certain requirements, then a one-time only permit could be issued upon inspection. The amendment, Goforth said, would prohibit future misuse of water meter allowances. City attorney Gary Southard said the ordinance would have to be retroactive to the date the amendment was added in addition to a grandfather clause. The grandfather clause, said Southard, would protect those now in violation of the proposed amendment unless the person chose to sell or renovate the premises.

Council agreed to table the request until the next meeting. Gerald Bennett, division service and facilities supervisor for GenTel and Ray Krueger, installment manager from Olney, met with council to discuss GenTel's proposed rate increase and the companies service. Bennett said the two were currently checking various problems in the area with a team of technicians and craftsmen, and was meeting with several local councils to discuss his companies rate hike request of $85-million now before the Public Utilities Commission (PUC). Bennett said the increase is needed because of the recent deregulation of the telephone industry, and more competition as a result of the deregulation. He also said the company is seeking to maintain a

A-bond rating while needing a revenue return of 12.5 percent. The increase will also help pay for advancement in systems and service technology. Reporting the cost of bringing the dial-tone to a person's home costs $9,000, Bennett also said extensive repairs are being made on the system after past management allowed it to deteriorate citing one example where over $100,000 was spent on repairs to toll-service between Holliday and Wichita Falls. When asked what the increase would be for the average customer in Holliday if the full amount is awarded to GenTel, Bennett said the basic service would increase from $7.45 to $11.20 per month.

Eagles edge Childress to cop meet

Signup starts for softball

Registration forms for girls' softball were distributed through the schools this week.

Girls in the second through ninth grades are eligible for local league play, but the registration forms should be returned to the student's school by Monday, according to Paula Hatcher, league secretary.

Using the response of forms, teams will be formed and coaches will contact the players regarding practice times, which will be in the third week of April.

League play will begin the first week of June and continue through July 1.

A fee of $12 is required for registration, which assists in offsetting the cost of uniforms, insurance and team picture.

Parents interested in assisting with the program are encouraged to contact Mrs. Hatcher at 592-4828.

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS

Great Annuals for Spring & Summer Color

Flowers provide the color and beauty every yard needs. You can ensure an abundance of color well into the summer by planting varieties that are suited to the changing weather each month brings.

To help in your planning, here are 5 of the best plants for annual color in Texas landscaping, arranged in a month-by-month format to take you through the summer. Exact timing varies from one part of Texas to another, but this is a general guide.

April: Coleus. Height: 12 to 30 inches, depending on variety. Shade or part shade. Leaf colors include red, yellow, white, pink, orange and violet. Grown for foliage. Flowers should be removed. Coleus provide landscape color from first day of planting through summer and well into fall.

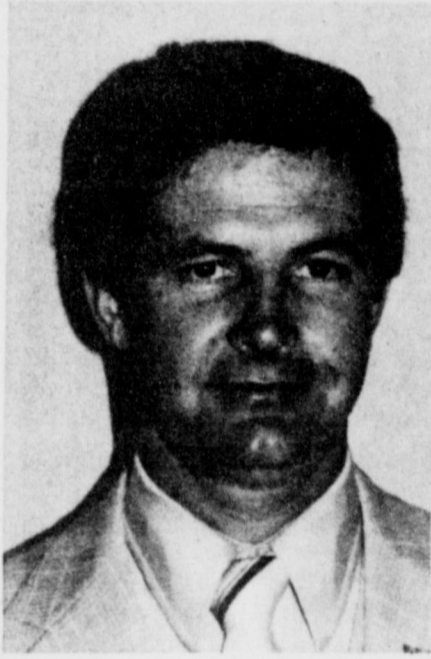

May: Marigold. Height: 10 to 36 inches, depending on variety. Sun or part sun. Colors include yellow, orange, mahogany, and near white. Smaller French types are best as low flower bed borders. Use taller types for background flowers and cutting. They are prone to spider mites (prevent with regular applications of kelthane or other miticide). Plant after danger of frost has passed for color during summer. Replant in midsummer for fall color.

June: Caladium. Height: 12 to 20 inches. Shade or part shade. Colors include red, pink and white. Grown for spectacular foliage. Flowers should be removed immediately as they form. Light-colored types stand sunlight better. Plant bulbs in midspring, once soil has warmed considerably. Avoid high-nitrogen fertilizer to prevent excessive greening of foliage.

July: Hybrid Portulaca. Height: 4-6 inches. Sun or part sun. Colors include red, pink, orchid, orange, yellow and white. A low-growing relative of common moss rose, this may be the most outstanding new plant of the '80s. It stands all of Texas' heat and is easy to grow. It blooms from spring until the first frost of the fall. Be sure to plant some.

August: Periwinkle. Height: 6 to 18 inches. Sun or part sun. Colors include white, pink and rose-red. Plants are usually rounded and compact, with dozens of flowers at all times. Trailing types are available. Perhaps our most heat-tolerant annual flower. Blooms from early spring through first frost.

4-H CLUB NEWS

4-H CLUBS "BAKCBONE" OF 4-H PROGRAM

Wichita County presently has 13 4-H clubs which are located in every corner of the county. Some clubs have been in Wichita County for a decade or so like the Electra 4-H Club in Electra or the Iowa Park 4-H Club in Iowa Park. Others have just started like the Lucky Leaf 4-H Club in Wichita Falls or Uncle Sam's 4-H Club at Sheppard Air Force Base.

Most 4-H clubs name identify something about the club. The location of clubs meeting place is where many clubs get their names, such as the City View, Friberg-Cooper, Martin Luther King, and Valley View 4-H Clubs. Some clubs use a compass direction or a geological feature to identify themselves like the North Texas, Southwestern, and Red River 4-H Clubs. The 4-H Horse Club and the 4-H Shooting Sports Club selected their names from the members main area of interest.

WICHITA COUNTY 4-H LEADER TO HEAD STATE YOUTH TRAP SHOOTERS

Freida Ragland was recently chosen Texas State youth director for the Texas State Trap Shooters' Association. Freida and her husband Howard are the leaders and coaches of Wichita County 4-H Shooting Sports Club.

The 4-H Shooting Sports Club has grown the past 4 years due to the leadership of Freida and Howard and the cooperation of the Northwest Texas Field and Stream Gun Club. They have coached 2 4-H state champion 4-man trap teams at the State 4-H Trap and Skeet Shoot.

Correction

Jason Young was awarded Grand Champion Pen in the rabbit division of last week's Iowa Park 4-H and FFA Project Show, instead of Robert Cole.

Also, Clyde Webb instead of Frank Webb was the judge in the rabbit division.

The Leader regrets both errors.

Texas Food and Fiber

EGG CONSUMPTION in Texas and the nation is up, as consumers take advantage of eggs and egg products to provide a valuable, reasonably priced protein supplement to their menus, says Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

"Alternative fuels, especially fuel alcohol produced on the farm, can help farmers break their dependency on expensive and sometimes scarce petroleum fuels," Brown said. "If we can insulate ourselves against OPEC, the result will be a healthier agriculture industry. We must work toward the day when fuel production will be just another part of farming."

Last year, Texans consumed about 3.8 billion eggs, with about 2.5 billion of these produced in Texas. This is up substantially from only two years ago.

"Nationwide, each American consumed an average of 282 eggs last year, an increase of 10 eggs per capita from 1977," said Commissioner Brown. "With inflation continuing to erode food budgets, homemakers are finding that eggs are a relatively inexpensive, nutritional addition to any diet."

Brown noted that the Texas Department of Agriculture encourages greater use of Texas eggs through marketing and promotional activities. But, just as important, TDA inspectors constantly check to make sure all eggs sold in the state conform to strict grading, sizing, quality and packaging standards.

"In effect, we act as the eyes of the homemaker," said Brown. "Using special egg candlers, we look at the inside as well as the outside of all eggs sold to the general public."

He pointed out that egg quality has improved markedly in Texas since the passage of the Texas Egg Law in 1957. "Prior to that time, most consumers were afraid to break an egg directly into the frying pan, because there was a chance it would not be edible," said Brown. He explained that out-of-state producers were responsible for the problem in large part by dumping surplus, low quality eggs in Texas.

"Today, Texas is considered by the egg industry to have some of the toughest egg regulations in the country," said Brown. "Our goal is to make sure all eggs sold in Texas conform to the same tight standards, no matter where they are produced."

AMERICAN FARMERS depend on petroleum fuels for 93 percent of their total energy needs, and this further

Though property taxes are a necessary burden, how high can they justifiably be raised? As concerned citizens, each of us can help prevent unjustified taxation by keeping a sharp eye on the way tax dollars are spent, and on the performance of officials who control the spending. I urge every citizen to be involved in the appropriate uses of property taxes.
