MONDAY NIGHT

Council to begin work on next year's budget

Though the city council's agenda for Monday is a short one, the meeting could be lengthy. The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers. A public appearance has been requested by Wayne Schroeder, who is requesting the city abandon a portion of the city's 75-foot-wide street easement in the 800 block of East Bank. An ordinance will be considered on the topic after the appearance and discussion. The lengthy portion of the meeting is the first of several workshops in preparation of next year's budget. Administrator James Barrington has asked each department head to prepare a list of equipment and facility purchases and additional personnel, from which the council will make a study and recommend for future action. Included in Barrington's report are proposed purchase of a new pickup for the parks department; a pending Texas Municipal League meeting in June; and a discussion on whether the council wants the Burnett home designated as an historical structure. Barrington elaborated on the historical structure designation, explaining restrictions which are placed on such structures for renovation projects which change the exterior appearance, such as metal window frames and doors and other such changes, being prohibited. Most of the council members have indicated they were aware of some restrictions, but have never indicated whether they wanted to attempt to maintain the library with such strict guidelines. An application has been submitted to designate the home, but a final indication by the city is necessary before the state historical group completes its part of the project.

QUICK ON THEIR FEET - Three members of the Iowa Park Friendly Door earned first-place ribbons Saturday at the North Texas Fitness and Fun Day for Senior Adults, held at Sheppard AFB. Margarette Archer, right, placed first in the 50-yard walk and third in both the mile walk and basketball throw. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Reece placed first in both the polka and jitterbug, and second in waltz.

Sales tax receipts up Iowa Park only bright spot in County

Iowa Park continues to be the single bright light for commercial sales in Wichita County, according to information reported at Monday's Chamber of Commerce director's meeting. Mayor Charlie Lee told the board Iowa Park is the only city in Wichita County showing an increase in sales taxes collected. The city received a check for $13,500 from the state comptroller's office, reflecting local taxable sales for April. That is a 29 percent increase over the same month in 1982, he told the comptroller's office which indicated Burk Burnett was down three percent, Electra 32 percent and Wichita Falls 11 percent for the month of April. Other business discussed during the meeting included the possibility of updating the community brochure which has been used since 1968; possible new activities for this year's Whoop T Do, and unused equipment the Chamber has for sale. Lee read figures from the Ray Pittman, President Linda Merriek announced. Mrs. Pittman, who has been the Chamber's only full-time worker the past eight years, has announced her intentions to retire this summer. Mrs. Merriek said she will appoint a committee to interview applicants for the position and intends to fill the position "within the next couple of months."

Included in the 1,229-square foot home are six rooms, including three large-closet bedrooms, two baths, and family dining room. It also has a two-car garage with raised storage area. During construction, one-inch styrofoam siding was installed over fully-insulated walls and the attic is insulated to an R12 factor and includes two turbo vents in the roof. Aluminum storm windows were installed, and a high-efficiency Carrier heat pump/cooler unit was included. Carey Roberts and her second and third period home furnishing classes selected the carpet, lights, wall paper, entry tile, paint, congoeum floors, paneling, counter tops, marble tops and even papered the bathrooms and kitchen. ### Police initiate program to curb traffic accidents

The Iowa Park Police Department has introduced a traffic-watch program designed to decrease the number of traffic accidents and injuries in the city. Beginning this week, patrol officers are given a specific traffic violation to watch for during their shift. This program is called "Selective Traffic Enforcement Program," or STEP. The STEP violation for this week is "Failure to Yield Right of Way," which was chosen due to the significant number of accidents that have been reported due to violation of this traffic law. Chief Tom Fenley stated motorists should be especially cautious of potential violations of this nature, as officers will be paying close attention to anyone not yielding the right of way. He said no accident is required for this violation to be cited, even a near accident could result in the violator being issued a citation. Fenley has advised that the STEP violation for next week will be speeding.

Suspension hearing results are pending

The outcome of a hearing for suspended police officer Randy Russell is not expected to be released until late this week or early next week.

An unofficial source indicated the suspension was related to Russell's private affairs, and has no relation to former officer Pat Hannah or former chief Billy Hamilton.

Russell's suspension was effective May 6. A hearing was held, closed to the public, Tuesday morning between the officer, Chief Tom Fenley and Administrator James Barrington.

A new officer has been hired to fill the vacancy left by Hannah. He is Tom Stephens, a resident of some three years in Iowa Park who recently completed certification training, Fenley announced.

Should the suspension be upheld, action will be required by the city council.

Rosland Carl was also recently hired as a police radio dispatcher.

Library meeting changed to tonight

Friends of the Library changed a meeting which had been announced for last Thursday to be held at 7 tonight in city council chambers. Representatives of all local organizations have been asked to attend the meeting, at which bylaws will be adopted, officers elected and improvements to the Burnett home will be discussed.

Police investigating burglaries, damage

Four burglaries and one criminal mischief case were reported to police during the past week.

$65 were reportedly taken from 300 W. Washington between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Thursday, Diana Dudley Hicks reported.

A gold bracelet with six cut diamonds, valued at $2,900 was reportedly taken from No. 3 Surrey sometime over the weekend of May 7-9, according to Sandra Pautsky.

Sometime Friday night someone wanted a bag of ice badly enough to break into an outdoor container at Superfine and take it. The ice cost only 79-cents, but damage to the container was set at $50.

Also about that time, May 9-10, $850 worth of tools were reportedly taken from 202 E. Poe. Craig Stuart Boyd of Wichita Falls said two paint guns, an air grinder, air drill and tool box were missing.

That same evening, lights at the Burnett home, 400 W. Alameda, were found to be on in the upstairs floor at

York, Yarbrough vows are exchanged Saturday

The soft glow of candlelight shed a hushed reverence over the setting arranged Saturday evening in First Baptist Church for the double-ring exchange of wedding vows by Miss Marianne York and Joe Randell Yarbrough. The altar of the church was centered with a lighted brass archway flanked by spiral candelabra, each holding tall glowing white candles and entwined with boxwood greenery. Votive heart-shaped candelabra at outer areas of the altar accentuated the serenity.

The aisles that led to the altar where the Rev. Howell Farnsworth performed the ceremony were lighted by candles burning in hurricane globes atop tall brass posts wrapped with fresh English ivy and accented with orchid bows with streamers.

The parents of the bride and groom are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. York Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. James Arthur Yarbrough, all of Iowa Park.

The wedding music, a meaningful part of the service, was provided by Mrs. Glenn Schell, organist, Miss Alisa Cain and Buddy Mercer, vocalists.

Mrs. Schell presented a concert of favorite wedding selections as guests assembled, then accompanied the vocalists for their prenuptial selections. Buddy Mercer sang "Truly" and Miss Cain sang "Surround Me With Love." The organist played "Trumpet Voluntary" for the processional and recessional. She accompanied Mercer for a solo rendition of "The Wedding Song" immediately before the couple exchanged vows, and at the close of the service played accompaniment for a duet number "The Lord's Prayer" by the vocalists.

When the bride entered the sanctuary with her father, who escorted her to the altar and presented her in marriage for her parents, she was wearing a most elegant gown of white silk organza over peau de soie.

The bodice of the gown that dipped into points at both front and back waistlines was enhanced with Chantilly lace appliques generously sprinkled with seed pearls and fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and bishop sleeves that terminated in ruffled lace cuffs. The appliques were beautifully expressed throughout the full skirt, and special of ruffles above the hemline in front that became a part of multiple ruffles at the back to grace the semi-cathedral train.

The bride wore a flattering Juliet cap of Chantilly lace and seed pearls to secure her misty illusion veil that cascaded to fingertip length. Her "joy to remember" bouquet was composed of white silk roses and seed-pearl-centered stephanotis, English ivy, fresh gypsophila with satin streamers adding the finishing touches.

Following bridal traditions, she wore her mother's pearl ear rings for both "something old" and "something borrowed," chose her lovely gown for "something new," and a garter for "something blue."

The bride presented long stemmed red roses of love to mothers of the couple during the service, to hers as she neared the altar and to his after she stepped down from the altar to leave the church with her husband.

Miss Risa Roberts took part in the wedding as maid of honor. Mrs. Anthony York, the bride's sister-in-law, and Miss Connie Stiles were cups holding orchid gladioli and baby's breath accented with matching ribbons which emphasized the beauty of their identically-styled gowns of orchid organza over peau de soie. The dresses were daintily trimmed with white Chantilly lace ruffles, some threaded with orchid silk ribbon, around the scoop necklines, short puffed sleeves and above the hemline of the long billowy skirts.

The diminutive flower girl was Rachel Wolter of Houston, niece of the bride. She carried a white lace basket filled with flowers duplicating those in the bridal attendant's cups. She wore a white flocked sheer pinafore over an orchid dotted swiss dress patterned with a tight bodice, short sleeves and hemline flounce ruffled with eyelet embroidery. To complete the ensemble she wore orchid pantaloons.

Bodie Joe Yarbrough, nephew of the groom, dressed like the other masculine participants in the wedding, was the ring bearer.

The groom wore a fresh white rose encircled with baby's breath for a boutonniere with his black tuxedo with tails, white ruffled shirt and black bow tie. His attendants, ring bearers, doorman, ushers and fathers wore black tuxedos without tails, white shirts and bow ties.

Russell Yarbrough, brother of the groom, served as best man. Mark Patterson and Rowdy Robertson, his cousins, were groomsmen. Ken Johnson acted as the doorman, and the ushers were Anthony York, brother of the bride, Keith Hilliard, David Hilliard and Greg Wallace.

Mothers of the couple graced the gowns they chose for their children's wedding with orchid silk gladioli corsages. Mrs. York wore a long burgundy Qiana dress designed with high ruffled neck, matching lace yoke and bishop sleeves terminating in wide cuffs closed with buttons and loops, and a narrow self belt. Mrs. Yarbrough wore a flowing formal dress of orchid lusterlo with an over jacket of Chantilly lace. The natural waist sleeveless bodice was fashioned with a scooped neckline and the jacket that hung loosely to the waist had a high neck and fitted sheer sleeves.

Preceding the wedding, Miss Gloria Schmidt secured signatures of the guests in the church foyer at a white lace-covered wrought-iron table with a matching fan chair. The table was appointed with a vase of tall orchid gladioli and white stephanotis, the white plume pen, a framed picture of the bride and groom.

The Fellowship Hall of the church was the scene of the postnuptial reception hosted by the bride's parents.

The bride's table, gracefully draped with a beautifully designed white lace cloth over white crepe, was a picture of exclusive taste. Its special beauty was stressed in the cake centerpiece, silver punch bowl and silver epergne at extremities, orchid napkins printed with "Marianne Y Randell, May 14, 1983," and silver trays filled with mints and nuts.

The cake, an ethereal structure of three tiers and two sets of sugar pillars, sparkled with perfection in a florid ornamentation of orchid and white frosting petunias, sweetheart rosebuds, bridal trumpets, stephanotis and roses and very pale green leaves. A bouquet of the flowers on the top tier gave the perfecting touch.

The epergne was centered with an orchid pillar candle covered with a large clear hurricane globe banked by orchid silk anemones and baby's breath.

Misses Susan Streich, Leslee Phillips, Janie Dickey and Jane Elliott served at the table.

The groom's table was covered with white lace over orchid silk. The pleasing appointments were a five-branched wooden candelabrum holding orchid candles, the silver coffee service and a large round chocolate cake made by the bride. Respecting the taste of the groom, the cake was not ornately decorated, and the chocolate icing that covered the confection was broken only with the names of the couple and their wedding date in orchid lettering.

Mrs. Russell Yarbrough and Mrs. Mark Patterson presided at the table.

Houseparty members were Mmes. Larry Latimer, Jimmy Banks and Terry Roberts.

A gift table in the room was covered with orchid silk and held a tall arrangement of orchid silk lilies and poppies, a large wicker basket trimmed with orchid bows that held the net rice bags. These were handed out by Michael York and Rachel Wolter, nephew and niece of the bride.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the Steak and Ale Restaurant in Wichita Falls.

Following the reception, the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to San Antonio, the bride traveling in a purple velvet suit. Both were graduated from Iowa Park High

Worth Quoting

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Now that the April 15th deadline to the Internal Revenue Service has passed and you're blood pressure has returned to normal, we'd like to tell you about J.J. Jones.

Mr. Jones makes more money each year than you do - 35 percent more.

While you have to wait until age 65 to retire with full pension benefits, J.J. can retire with full benefits under his system ten years earlier, at age 55.

And another thing, Jones' pension will be 56 percent of his pretax salary-yours, more than likely, will be only 30 percent.

His office is larger than yours. It is almost impossible to fire J.J. and he isn't the least bit afraid of losing his job because of the recession or foreign competition.

By the way, J.J. would like to thank you for paying his salary and his handsome pension plan.

As you might guess, J.J. works for the federal government. He's a bureaucrat. And this year, before you can begin to pay the rent, put food on the table, or make the car payments, Uncle Whammy withholds enough of your money to pay J.J. It takes you working full time through May 9th of this year to take care of the J.J.'s of this nation.

Actually you and your neighbors finance the high salaries and unbeatable pensions of some 2,853,863 J.J. Joneses. That's how many federal bureaucrats the average taxpayer must support nowadays...and that number doesn't count military personnel nor military retirees - that's an even better pension system.

It may cause you gnashing of the teeth in these days when the family budget is so tight, to pay the salaries of the bureaucrats who make more money than you do.

But there's more. The pensions paid out to retired federal employees are indexed to rise with inflation. Only half of the workers in the private sector, that's us, have any pension at all, and for those who do, only three percent are indexed to inflation.

Uncle Whammy's pension plan is so generous that more than 100,000 retired bureaucrats are now getting more money in their retirement checks than they ever made while working.

It's not that private employers are pinching pennies when they fail to match the generous pay and pensions of federal employees. Private employers have to earn every dime of an employee's pay by selling goods or services. The federal man is a little different - he simply reaches out into the taxpayers' pocket and takes what he needs.

With all those nice salaries and pensions, it should come as no surprise to anyone, that the metropolitan area of Washington D.C. has the highest per household income in the nation - and has a higher proportion of households earning more than $50,000 a year than any other city in the country.

While the rest of the country is shelling out over $61 billion a year to pay for civilian federal employees - and that excludes postal workers who average more than $22,000 per year - another $21 billion goes for pension and disability payments.

But there's more.

In spite of our present payments, we can look forward to the fact that the Civil Service Retirement System is shy of $500 billion - that's billion dollars - needed to fund all the retirements in the future.

Kinda makes you wonder whose working for whom, doesn't it?

to watch for, plus how to report suspicious activities to the police.

"Basically, citizens will find that about the only thing required is that they watch for the same things they have always watched for, and that the only significant change in their actions will be that they will be better organized.

"Hopefully, this organization will result in the desired decrease in crime in the city," Fenley said.

The police department will assist in the initial organization as well as providing training and literature. Following next week's organization, the department will serve only in an advisory capacity, Fenley said.

The new police chief encouraged citizens of Iowa Park, as well as others from surrounding communities to attend the meeting.

He was standing there, helplessly watching flames destroy the contents of his father's barn and the frantic but controlled efforts of firemen pouring water over the blaze in an effort to save what they could.

He commented, "You know, we never really appreciate these guys until something like this happens."

Barry Mahler had made similar observations at previous events at which the Wichita County Young Farmers had honored volunteer firemen of the area with big feeds. He had been helped previously when grassfire swept more than one of the Mahler places.

But he couldn't help but be impressed by the efforts of the Iowa Park volunteers. There they were, three units and at least seven men on the scene less than 15 minutes after the alert was radioed by the police dispatcher.

And it was 4:40 in the morning! That wasn't all the help that arrived. Only a few minutes later, two units, one a large water tank truck, arrived from the West Wichita Volunteer Department.

Mahler's observations have been repeated numerous times by lots of people, but I don't think it has soaked in to some folks.

Members of the department had to climb out of their warm beds, way before their normal waking hour. That was tough enough, but they had to go on to work when they were through, and that makes a long, long day of it.

But fighting fires is only part of their activities. Earlier in the evening... in fact until about three and a half hours before they were awakened to battle the blaze, several members had been out watching the threatening clouds with the purpose of warning city residents in case a tornado were approaching.

That really makes a long day out of it, when you get such a time-consuming combination.

Lots of people don't know the volunteers do anything but fight fires and watch clouds. They aren't aware their neighbors give of their time for regular department meetings and then attend lengthy programs on how to more effectively fight fires. Such programs are held on a local, county and state level.

And let's not forget that several department members are schooled not only in first aid, but are certified in emergency medical technician procedures. They give aid and comfort to people prior to the arrival of the ambulance.

I know Barry and his father made an effort to express their appreciation to the volunteers for fighting yesterday morning's fire, and they'll doubtlessly make other efforts in the future.

It wouldn't hurt any of us to do the same. The next fire might be our own property, and it's a comfort to know we'll have trained, competent and interested men there to battle the blaze.

Average Billing can help smooth out high summer electric bills.

In the summer, intense Texas heat can make your air conditioner work longer and drive your electric bill up in a hurry.

Our Average Billing Plan can help by "averaging out" your payments. You still pay for all the electricity you use, and your payments will still vary from month to month. However, in high-use months you pay for less electricity than you use, and in low-use months you pay for more.

Average Billing can help smooth out high summer electric bills. It's available to both residential customers and churches.

Large-leaf trees need moisture

By Don D. Decker
County Agent

Leaf scorch is beginning to affect many of the large leaf trees in the area. Ron Toler of Wichita Falls has both Silver Maple and Mulberry being affected by this physiological condition.

Leaf scorch is evident when the margins of the leaves or lobes of the leaves begin to turn brown. Eventually the leaves yellow and fall from the tree, particularly on Fruitless Mulberry. This condition is affecting the trees earlier this year than normal, however, we are drier than normal in both April and May.

The trees are in a transition condition from favorable spring growing conditions to hot, dry, summer conditions. Soil moisture is depleting rapidly, and the high winds have caused the trees to transpire a lot of the water into the atmosphere. This results in the trees losing water through transpiration of the leaves faster than the roots are taking on water. This causes part of the leaf tissue to die plus leaves falling from the tree. Lawn grasses compete with the trees for available soil moisture. Competition tends to complicate the leaf scorch problem.

Scorch is much more prevalent on large leaf trees such as Mulberry, Catalpa, Maple, Boxelder, and Sycamore. Small leaf trees such as Cedar Elm, Red Oak, and Live Oak are seldom affected by this condition. Their small leaves do not lose as much moisture to the atmosphere.

Toler is combating this problem by thoroughly watering the trees. He is adding enough water to moisten the soil profile to a depth of 8 to 10 inches. This requires a large amount of water applied in the feeder root zone or drip line area of the tree. Irrigation is needed at 2 week intervals during the drouth periods.

Soil temperature has reached 70 degrees, which is the cue to plant okra in the garden and bermuda grass lawns. A quick stand of okra can be obtained by soaking the seed in water overnight and planting into the warm soils. Okra seed is planted to a depth of 1 inch. It is advisable to plant the seed at 4 inch intervals, however, it needs to be thinned to 12 inch intervals after emergence.

A quick stand of bermuda is being obtained by Don Thomas at Jolly by planting on a firm, moist seedbed. Placing seed on a loose soil usually results in a poor stand. Water droplets tend to carry the tiny seed too deep into the soil for good emergence. This is the reason the seedbed must be firm.

Thomas distributed 1 pound of seed per 1,000 square feet. It was necessary to add sand or corn meal to dilute the tiny seed. The seeds are raked into the soil immediately after planting. He is in the process of sprinkling the area every day, realizing one day's sun dries the soil below the seed zone. This daily sprinkling insures a good stand within 7 to 10 days. Frequent watering is continued until runners begin to develop. When runners form, the grass is well established.

SOCIAL SECURITY TIPS

APPLYING FOR A SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBER

If you are planning to work this summer, you will need a Social Security Number. It is very easy to apply for your Social Security number. If you are not yet 18 years old, you may call your local Social Security office and request an application. When you receive it, you should complete it carefully and return it along with evidence of your citizenship and identity. Acceptable evidence is listed on the back of the application.

If you are 18 years old or older and have never had a Social Security number before, you must visit a Social Security office to apply for your Social Security number. You should bring a birth certificate and one other document which proves your identity - such as a driver's license, report card or shot record. If you do not have one of these documents, you may call the Social Security office to learn what other documents can be used.

There will be many applications for new Social Security numbers this year; to avoid delays in receiving your number, you should apply for it at least eight weeks before you believe you will need it.

REALLY GOING PLACES...
Most people are climbing some sort of ladder: social, economic, corporate, religious, political, and so on. You've heard it said - possibly by you or of you - "That person is really going places!" The question is: Where are you going?
Where is the ladder leading? What is it that you're seeking to acquire or accomplish? Will that position, or thing, or person prove to be an adequate source of meaning, purpose, and hope?
Questions like these may leave you uneasy or with an inner discontent. That's because there's a part of you that only Jesus Christ can satisfy. When He becomes the basis of your life the reason for it is revealed, the quality of it is restored, and the possibilities are unlimited!

Wichita Falls artist speaks

Mrs. L.A. Thurlo, program leader for the United Methodist Women's meeting Tuesday morning, read the poem "Creation" as an introduction to an impressive program given by Mrs. Walter Robbins, artist, reader and writer of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Robbins presented the story of creation in dry brush, water color and narration and gave scriptural references as she presented each painting.

The first painting represented Genesis with the tree of life and knowledge of good and evil. ## Baccalaureate services Sunday

Baccalaureate services for the 1983 graduating class of Holliday High School will be at 8 p.m. Sunday at Erma Barton Auditorium. The fifty-nine prospective graduates will be addressed by Dale Lantz, pastor of the Assembly of God Church. Mike Gresham of First Baptist Church, Bob Bryan of First United Methodist Church, and Roy Stewart of Faith Tabernacle Church will also lead the service. The Triumphant March for the processional will be played by Fern McAllister and Clay Morgan, and special music will be provided by the Hand Bell Choir of the First Baptist Church.

1983 HOLLIDAY HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL TEAM ... falls to third in district with 2-1 loss Tuesday.

Nocona sends Eagles home

Holliday's playoff hopes in Class AA baseball were dashed Tuesday afternoon at Hoskins Field in Wichita Falls when Nocona, a team the Eagles defeated twice in regular season, rallied in the final frame to win 2-1.

Coach Jake Cottrell knew before the game his team was in a compromising position, and that an earlier loss to one of District 11-AA's cellar dwellers, the Petrolia Pirates, would come back to haunt them.

And it did. With the Eagles losing 14-6 to district titleist Boyd by committing 10 errors last Friday, Nocona edged the Pirates by one run, forcing a one-game playoff between the Indians and the Eagles.

Senior Eagle Jeff Belcher was the losing pitcher, but kept the Eagles in the running with a three-for-three performance at the plate. Tim Richardson turned in the winning performance at the mound for Nocona.

Nocona now meets Junction and Boyd will meet Wall in bi-district play. Holliday ended its season with an 8-4 district record.

CAPPS SETS SAIL ... clears 6-8 on second attempt

Housing addition disclosed

Renewed progress in home construction in Holliday was evidenced during Monday night's Holliday City Council meeting, when Don Talley met with city fathers to discuss plans for new home construction south of Holliday High School to FM 1954, to be called Holliday Estates Addition.

"We are in the early stages of this project," Talley informed the council, adding that his intentions were to discuss plans with them, in order to receive input on what the city expects in terms of water and sewage service to the subdivision.

Talley said a six-inch line runs south along FM 368 from the corner of Eagle Drive and would be connected to an eight-inch line on FM 1954, with fire hydrants placed at appropriate intervals. To serve the north side of the road, Talley proposed to tie three two-inch lines to the six-inch line at intervals.

In respect to sewer service, Talley said he was investigating several proposals, including several types of septic tanks. Talley also indicated that city administrator Jim Hamill had discussed the possibility of installing a lift station and including the new homes, which will be inside the city limits, with the city's waste water treatment service.

"Speaking for myself, I am not too hot on the idea of more septic systems," Mayor James Cook said, adding that he would like to see into the feasibility of sewage service from the city. Talley agreed, but added the use of sewage service from the city would mean a cost of from $2,000 to $3,000 more than for septic tanks.

In addition to receiving input from the city for reasons of realizing personal costs and the realization of the project, Talley also said that future development of other property adjacent to and owned by him will hinge on the success of the current project.

VARIANCE GRANTED

Representatives from Holliday High School received a variance to an ordinance restricting the placement of livestock pens inside the city limits, clearing the way for the construction of a livestock barn adjacent to the vocational agriculture building on the HHS campus.

Vo-ag advisors Cal Gauden and Jim Bob Wallace, along with superintendent Dan Owen and trustee Larry Finnell informed the council of their intentions of constructing the barn to house animals for students in vo-ag that have no facilities to raise projects. To be named after the late Johnny Andrews, a former HHS student, the barn will be constructed in such a way that proper maintenance and cleaning will ensure no sustained odors from the animals.

"We are proud of our students, they really work hard," Gauden said, adding that 25 trophies were taken in over the year in only the second year of vo-ag at HHS.

Stating that mostly turkeys, which bring in more of a profit than most other project animals, Wallace stated, "We try to encourage our students to raise a market animal for the short term."

Council granted a variance to Ordinance 79-4 regarding placement of the livestock pens, renewable once every year, depending on the condition of the complex.

In other business, council renewed the city's general liability, fire and property insurance with Talley, tabled a request by Rudy Molina for installation of curb and gutter on West China St., and set a hearing for revenue sharing budget at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 31.

6-8 AT STATE

Capps places third

Holliday's Patrick Capps made his way through last Saturday's Class AA high jump competition with a more confident tone than a year before. And it paid off. The junior placed third with a 6-8 jump at the state track meet in Austin.

Unable to clear the opening height of 6-0 until his third jump last year, Capps made it look all too easy when he cleared the same height three times, before competition began.

And when it did come time for the jumps that count, Capps cleared 6-0, 6-2, and 6-4 on his first jumps, before running into problems with 6-6.

On his first two attempts at 6-6, Capps skinned the bar with his legs, but, on his last attempt, made the jump with room to spare.

Three of the eight finalists in Class AA fell out of competition when the bar was raised to 6-8, and Capps, the first to jump, looked as if he would meet his match at that height. But on his second jump, Capps gave his best

Piano recital Friday

Piano students under the direction of Deborah Wylie will be presented in recital at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Erma Barton Auditorium at Holliday High School.

Students performing classical and contemporary works include Julie Maier, Kelly Young, Rickey Hogue, Ronnie Molina, Shannon Wilson, Anginette Beisch, Tina Morrison, Kit West, Katha McAllister, Deanna Segler, Tammy Segler, Shayde Hogue, and Lacey Hogue, all of Holliday.

Also performing will be Scott Webb, Lisa Hodges, Jolene Hodges, Sheri Cravens and Stacy Finely of Valley View; Christy Cravens of Iowa Park and Jenny Watson of Wichita Falls.

Practice awards will be presented to students, and those performing in the recent Baroque festivals will be recognized.

The public is invited to attend.

effort, and cleared the bar to the delight of the dozen or so fans from around Holliday there to cheer him on.

Making 6-8 on his second jump secured Capps with a third place medal when Mart's Willie Williams missed on his second attempt but made his third attempt to secure fourth. Rodney Terry of Hawkins placed first and set a conference record 6-10.

Capps gave all he had to clear 6-10, and was close to making it on his first attempt, but to no avail.

Music scholarship recipients named

Alisa Cain and Kent Roberts, two graduating seniors of Iowa Park High School, were selected by the Modern Music Study Club for the recipients of the annual music scholarships. They were honor guests at the Thursday evening meeting held in the home of Mrs. Delbert Todd, and Mrs. B.G. House presented the scholarships.

Alisa, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cain, has been in band seven years. She was in the Flag Corps in the 10th grade, a drum major and in Band Council during her sophomore and junior years, and a member of the All-District band during her freshman, sophomore and senior years.

A six-year member of the choir, Alisa has served as secretary and first soprano section leader during her senior year. She made the All-District and All-Region choirs, belonged to the girls' quartet and Chamber Choir during her junior and senior years, and in addition, made division one in UIL solos and ensembles. She will be a member of the Texas Baptist All-State Choir during the summer months.

In addition to her musical accomplishments, she is a two-year member of the National Honor Society, serving as secretary during the current year. She was named by the Opti-Mrs. Club an outstanding student of the month in both her junior and senior years. She has been an office worker this year. She placed third in UIL spelling and plain writing in the 11th grade and has made the honor roll through high school.

Alisa is a member of First Baptist Church, the sanctuary and youth choirs. She has taught in Vacation Bible School for three summers and went on a mission trip to Colorado to assist with a VBS.

She has belonged to the Red River Revue two years, Explorer Post 213 at Sheppard AFB and served as secretary for one year. She has studied piano for six years and has won numerous awards in Guild Auditions, Sonata and Baroque Music Festivals. She has also participated in the Backdoor Summer Youth Musicals for two years.

Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Roberts, won numerous honors in junior high school, one of the highest honors was that of valedictorian of the eighth grade.

In high school, he has been a four-year member of the band, stage band and Band Council and served as president of the band one year. He made All-District four years, All-Region two years, and All-Area one year.

A three-year member of the choir, he has belonged to the Chamber Singers and made the All-District Choir each year. His choir participation also includes one year as vice-president, a two-year member of the council, two years as section leader, two-year member of the All-Region Choir, and he has received numerous first division honors on solos and ensembles.

Kent is a two-year member of the National Honor Society where he served as president one year, and a Student Council representative one year. He played varsity tennis four years and placed third in district this year, and played basketball one year. A member of the Thespians, he was named the best actor in zone one and named best novice boy of the year.

He attended the American Legion Boy's State in 1982 and was elected associate justice of Texas' Supreme Court in Boy's State elections. He was one of 10 finalists on the ballot for consideration to attend Boy's Nation.

Kent is a member of Edgemere Church of Christ in Wichita Falls

where he is active in the youth group, has taught a Sunday school class, served as song and devotional leader at the church and a convalescent home. He has worked at White's Home and Auto and Weeks Park Tennis Court. He plans to attend Abilene Christian Univ. and has auditioned for the instrumental scholarship there.

At the club meeting where the scholarships were presented, Alisa and Kent participated in the program for the evening. Accompanied by Jay Yeakley, she sang two vocal numbers and he played two trumpet numbers.

The entertainment featured the president's program planned by Mrs. J.W. Farmer.

Mrs. B.G. House introduced the musical program with a piano solo, "The Butterfly" by Grieg, followed by a clarinet solo by Mrs. Alan Pfeffer who presented "The Continental." For the last musical number, Mrs. Kenneth Davis sang "Oh What a Beautiful Morning" by Rogers and Hammerstein. She was accompanied by Mrs. John Rentschler.

To conclude the program, Mrs. Todd entertained with a selection from "The Snake Gets the Best Lines" by Jean Kerr.

Davis is finalist

Steve Davis has been named a finalist in the "Ken's Pizza World's Greatest Pizza Maker" contest to be held Saturday in Tulsa, Okla. He is a pizza cook at the Ken's Pizza restaurant at 902 W. Highway.

Davis won $50 and a trip to the final competition by making the winning pizza at the regional contest here. He will compete against nine other finalists from across the country for a $500 first prize, $350 second prize and $200 third prize. Finalists also will receive commemorative gifts.

The "Ken's Pizza World's Greatest Pizza Maker" contest was designed to recognize the best Ken's pizza makers from among the 137 Ken's Pizza restaurants and to emphasize the skills involved in making a Ken's pizza correctly. Judging is based on speed of preparation, appearance of the pizza and adherence to specification.

Davis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Davis of Iowa Park. He is a freshman accounting major at Midwestern State University. He hopes to become an accountant with Ken's Pizza upon graduation.

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS

Fertilize Wisely For a Healthy, Green Lawn

Following a good fertilizer program is important in attaining and maintaining a lawn you can be proud of. Lawns that are under-fertilized tend to be thin and have poor color, while lawns that are over-fed tend to develop excessive thatch and are more prone to insect and disease damage.

Before seeding and when just establishing your turf, use a fertilizer that has a Nitrogen-Phosphorous-Potassium (N-P-K) ratio of 1-1-1 or 1-2-2. For a mature, established turf, the best N-P-K ratio is 3-1-2 or 4-1-2.

The rate at which you apply fertilizer to a lawn and how long you wait between applications depends on the form of nitrogen in the fertilizer. Nitrogen comes in quickly and slowly available forms. Quickly available forms include: urea; ammonium sulfate; and ammonium nitrate. Slowly available forms include ureaformaldehyde (UF) and sulfur-coated urea (SCU).

In general, do not apply a quickly available fertilizer at rates greater than one pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet per application. The slowly available type may be applied at higher rates.

Quickly available fertilizer should be applied every 4 to 6 weeks, while slowly available fertilizers should be applied every 6 to 8 weeks during periods of active growth.

Do not fertilize your lawn during periods of dormancy or environmental stress. Dormancy occurs during the winter for the warm season grasses such as bermuda, St. Augustine, buffalo, centipede, and carpet. You should start fertilizing these lawns in the spring after they have "greened up." Their last fertilizer application should be made in North Texas about Sept. 1 and in South Texas about Oct. 1.

The cool season grasses, such as tall fescue and bluegrass, should be fertilized during their active growth periods in the spring and fall, but not during periods when they are under stress, such as during hot weather.

In order to prevent dark and light stripes from appearing in your lawn from uneven fertilizer application, divide the total amount of fertilizer needed for the lawn into two equal amounts. Using either a "cyclone" or a drop-type spreader, apply one-half of the total in one direction and the rest at right angles to the first application.

Summer goodness saved
 by canning green beans

By Barbara Cornelius
 County Agent

Do you have a surplus of green beans or can you buy them at a reasonably low cost? Try canning them so that you can have summer goodness in the middle of winter.

You haven't canned green beans before? Here is how.

Prepare the beans just as you would for cooking — by snapping or cutting them into 1 or 2 inch pieces — or you might leave them whole. Pack them tightly into clean jars to 1/2 inch of the top of the jar while still raw. Cover them with boiling water leaving 1/2 inch space at the top of the jar. If salt is desired, add 1/2 teaspoon for a pint and 1 teaspoon for a quart. Wipe off the sealing surface of the jars and close according to the type of lid being used, following the manufacturer's directions.

Place the closed jars of hot beans in a pressure canner, which has 1 1/2 to 2 inches of boiling water and a rack to hold the jars off the bottom of the cooker.

Place the lid on the canner and fasten securely. If the lid has clamps, tighten opposite clamps moderately at first. Then go back over the whole set to tighten each pair as much as possible, with your fingers only.

Leave the petcock open until the steam escapes steadily for 10 minutes so that no air is left in the cooker then close the petcock. If air is left in it causes a vacuum and draws the liquid off the beans.

Count the processing time as soon as the pressure reaches 10 pounds. Keep a uniform pressure by adjusting the heat or by moving the canner carefully.

Process the snap beans 20 minutes for pints and 25 minutes for quarts. At the end of the processing time, remove the canner from the heat.

Allow the canner to cook until the gauge registers zero. Open the petcock gradually, and remove the cover. Leave the beans in the canner about 5 minutes. Take them out of the canner and place them right side up on a rack far enough apart to cool quickly. Do not place them in a draft or on a cold surface to prevent them from breaking.

Remember — no better beans will come out of the jars than went into them, so be sure to use good quality beans. If you do this and follow the directions carefully, you will come out with beans that are olive green in color and have the flavor of freshly cooked green beans.

If you want more information on canning, call or write Barbara Cornelius, Wichita County Extension Agent for a copy of B-194, "Home Canning Fruits and Vegetables."
