If you want cheap goods go to Powell's.

Fayette Jones made a trip to the lower part of the county last week. He reports considerable improvements going on in the southern part of the county.

Pure California soap, also imitation California soap. S. L. Ogle.

Many persons in Texas have large red ants about their yards. The cheapest way to get rid of these pests is to go to the drug store and get 25 cents worth of "London Purple." Put one teaspoonful in each hole. Repeat this every four days for several weeks and the last red ant will be gone.

We are the only firm that keeps a full assortment of groceries. S. L. Ogle.

THE STAR job office printed a fifty page pamphlet last week for Major Stanley M. Jones that would be a credit to any office in the State, if we do say it.

Low prices always gets there. T. E. Powell.

New dry goods, sold as cheap as those who sell below cost. Give us a chance at your trade and we will prove the above assertion. Moon & Crowder.

Callahan county could not spend $100 to a greater advantage than in collecting and displaying cereals, fruits, grasses and vegetables at the Texas-Spring Palace. Will she do it? If not, why not?

Try our own baking power. S. L. Ogle.

ALLEN QUARTERMAIN'S WIFE—The foreman in making up the forms last week left out a column in the new story. This is the reason part of the story is republished this week.

Cakes and crackers of all kinds. S. L. Ogle.

The success of strikes is a misnomer. The percentage of successful strikes run as low as eight or ten. When the laboring masses want better wages they will more often succeed in raising their wages by appealing in a friendly spirit to employers than by going out in anger hoping to force the employers to raise their wages.

Come one, come all, and price our goods. McLaury & Dean.

THE STAR last week failed to mention the visit of Captain R. S. Goss, formerly of Belle Plaine college, but now connected with the Fort Worth University. The captain came in on the 15th inst., accompanied by Harry Cook and Master George Parvin, of Baird. They spent a day or two in town with friends and returned to the Fort.

Try a gallon can of apple butter. S. L. Ogle.

W. H. Gilliland was elected president of the new national bank at Big Springs last week and Gen. F. W. James, president of the First National Bank of Baird, was elected first vice-president. Callahan county capitalists seem to be launching out into other fields. The bank at this place recently increased its capital stock from $75,000 to $100,000.

Onion sets by the quart or barrel. Will not be undersold. S. L. Ogle.

THE STAR begins an educational department this week, edited by Prof. F. E. Haynes, of the Baird school. The object is to awaken a more lively interest in educational matters in the county. Contributions to this department are solicited from teachers, trustees and patrons of the public and private schools in the county. Address Professor F. E. Haynes.

Prairie Flour canned corn at Mc-Laury and Dean's.

Late Monday night J. F. Patterson noticed a man in Mr. Joe Blair's yard, which is on an adjoining lot, and thinking it was a tramp or some one with evil intent, he hurled a stick of stove wood at the man. Mr. Patterson was considerably surprised to find out that the supposed tramp was none other than Mr. Blair himself. Mr. Blair was struck in the face and considerably bruised. It was a surprise party all around. Moral: "Be sure you are right then go ahead."

Don't forget that Ogle's is the only one place that keeps genuine Eupion oil, 150 degree test.

The Baird Drug Co. has a full and well assorted stock of drugs and are anxious to sell you goods. Call on them.

All wool jeans pants warranted not to rip, if so a new pair given in their place for $1.50 at T. E. Powell's.

A Patent Gate.

Judge T. J. Austin, of Belle Plaine, had a model of a gate on exhibition at Harry Meyer's hardware store last Monday that is the most complete thing of the kind we have ever seen. A person in a wagon or on horseback can open the gate or gates, for there are two gates, open in the center, after the person passes through he can, by pulling another cord, close and latch them. This model is entirely different from anything of the kind patented and if Judge Austin can succeed in having it manufactured at a reasonable price we believe it will prove a valuable invention. He has filed his caveat and will apply for a patent at once.

The White sewing machine has all the latest improvements and is the best in the country, and we can prove it in thirty minutes to any lady who wants the best. Moon and Crowder.

CORRESPONDENCE.

TECUMSEH.

February 22.—Divine services were held last Sunday at the new school house by Rev. Snoddy, of the M. E. church.

Our friend R. E. Richards had had luck with the well he undertook to dig close to his dwelling. He went down nearly eighty feet, but striking solid rock with no show for water, he decided to give up the expensive job. It is an old but true rule: First secure the water and then build the house.

Several social gatherings last week.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Dr. Shaphard, who left a few weeks ago for St. Louis, is seriously sick. The good lady had a trying time these last years. The protracted and severe illness of her sister, Mrs. Powell, the death of her niece and brother, and that all shortly after she had lost her husband, the lamented Dr. Shaphard, were events to exhaust even a strong constitution. We all would be glad to receive better news soon.

Miss Tillie Watters has returned to Abilene.

A young lady of this neighborhood—something like sweet sixteen—was asked the other day by a young man in a joking way if she would marry him. The darling answered blushing, but promptly: Yes, if mamma says so. The young man did not ask mamma.

As some of the kind readers may remember, I expatiated in one of my last letters a little about the true and sad feelings of a poor lonesome bachelor. To-day I feel better, even elated, on account of the single blessedness. There was among my mail a few days ago a letter postmarked in this county, but without the name of the writer. I am sorry for that, because I would like to make the personal acquaintance of the gentleman just for the purpose to swap experiences with him. The following is the condensed meaning of his writings: You seem to envy us married folks, but I think you would change your opinion if you had my experience. I carried the other day a two-gallon jug of molasses on horseback for eight miles to please the "old gal" and, bless the luck, that jug fell and broke just when I attempted to carry it from the horse to the house. I shall say nothing about that norther with thunder, hail and lightning that greeted me from these sweet lips, I was perfectly willing to stand that, being already a little used to it, but that the old woman treated me to cold biscuits for three days makes my bile boil, etc. Well, my dear lady I declare cold biscuits for three days is an aggravated crime against your lord and husband whom you vowed to love cherish and obey. Indeed it shows that the feminine heart can develop depths and abysses which the deepest sea explorers never have dreamed of. The husband has my unmeasured sympathy. As to the other anonymous note from Baird I feel very much obliged to the kind writer for his, or her, encouraging and flattering words, but would appreciate it much higher, if there was no mask. I love to know my friends as well as my foes.

John Day, of Belle Plaine, passed through our town last Tuesday on his way to Runnels county.

H. BUCHAN.

Churns, jars, crocks, jugs and flower pots to arrive. Will be sold at bed-rock prices. S. L. Ogle.

Floor paint at the Baird Drug Co's. It dries over night, and you are presented with a brush with which to do the work if you buy a one-gallon bucket.

Call and see all my new goods. No trouble to show you through, and I will thank you to come and get my prices. T. E. Powell.
