

HAZARDOUS DRIVING signs went up early Sunday morning when a freezing drizzle moved over Iowa Park. Motorists were warned of ice on overpasses. Unlike surrounding communities, no accidents were reported due to the conditions that day.

HAMILTON SUSPENDED

City without police chief

For the third time this year, Iowa Park is without a police chief. Chief Billy Hamilton was suspended, with pay, Tuesday morning by James Barrington, city administrator. At a meeting earlier that morning, between Hamilton, Barrington and Mayor Charlie Lee, the "consensus" of the city council was expressed to Hamilton that he should resign.

The suspension, according to Barrington, was because "I had reason to believe that it was in the best interest of the city."

If Hamilton has not submitted his resignation by the close of business today, a notice has already been prepared to be posted, notifying the public of a special called meeting at 5 p.m. Monday by the council, Lee said.

Hamilton did not express his intentions when interviewed by telephone Wednesday.

"All I am doing as far as my attorney is concerned is checking to see that, if I resign, whether I can still receive medical and workman's compensation until I am completely well, due to my work-related injury," Hamilton said.

His injury apparently stems from an accident he sustained while responding to the scene of a suicide earlier this fall.

The police department has been the subject of numerous executive sessions by the city council, with the latest being held Monday night.

The feeling of the council is that Hamilton is "unable to supervise people," Lee said. During Monday's meeting, aldermen decided to take a more definite route and ask for the chief's resignation.

Hamilton, at Tuesday morning's meeting, did not give a definite yes or no to the suggestion that he resign, according to the mayor. It was then he was told about today's deadline and the called meeting for Monday if there was no response.

"I don't understand all of this," Hamilton said yesterday. "My attorney is checking on the legalities to see where I am at.

"Actually, there have been no charges against me. Gathering from my talk with the mayor and city manager, it seems there was some dissension among some officers. But I have seen no written complaints, from officers or the public," Hamilton

During the last two months, there have been numerous executive sessions held by the council. At two in particular, one was held with individuals of the police department being called before the council one at a time. At the other, every member of the department with the exception of a part-time radio dispatcher met for some two hours together with the council.

"I don't want to stay anywhere that I am not wanted. But I feel I have been effective in Iowa Park.

"Ihave a family to feed and support and I feel it is unfair to be put in this predicament at this time of year with the medical problem and all," Hamilton said, adding that the economic situation and his back problem could make finding a job a problem.

"I am not bitter towards Iowa Park," he said. "I love this town, and I love law enforcement. I feel me leaving will not solve the problem." Hamilton's tenure as chief has been a stormy situation from the start. His

Vol. 14, No. 16 IOWA PARK, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS 76367 THURSDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1982 Iowa Park participation in housing plan in limbo

Iowa Park's participation in the North Texas Housing Finance Corporation remains in limbo following Monday night's council

The major issue stalling the city's joining with eight other area municipalities and two counties is "who is liable" for the money.

Council members have indicated they would like to participate in the corporation, which is designed to provide low-interest financing for home construction, but they want to know more details than are provided in the charter.

As alderman Bud Thompson stated, "I want to see something in writing and not act on heresay." Representatives at two meetings of all the entities report they were told none would be liable for the money. but it was never stated who would be.

Entities proposed to make up the corporation include Iowa Park, Wichita Falls, Burkburnett, Henrietta, Olney, Graham, Bowie, Electra, Vernon, and the counties of Wichita and Clay.

Time for signing the contracts to be forwarded to the state is drawing near. Jan. 15 is believed to be the deadline. Aldermen agreed to hold a special meeting if necessary, once complete information is obtained by James Barrington, city administra-

Barrington said yesterday he has received no more information than he had Monday.

OTHER BUSINESS

The council instructed Barrington to determine if Wichita Falls is interested in a reciprocal agreement involving electrical licenses.

Such an agreement has been considered in the past, Barrington was told, but never resolved.

At issue was disclosure that a Wichita Falls electrician was doing work on equipment at the city water plant who does not hold an Iowa Park

1982 IN RECAP

Major news centered on Gilmore

There was no particular major news story during 1982 in Iowa Park, but rather a series of events all centered on one figure. . . Bill Gilmore.

Less than two months after the January announcement by the Chamber of Commerce that he was the Outstanding Citizen for 1981, Gilmore, a major figure on the city council, was indicted on 10 counts of mail fraud by a federal grand jury.

Those indictments were to be followed in April by three more from the county grand jury.

The final assessment of the Gilmore saga was his resignation from the city council and interment in the federal prison at Texarkana.

An offshoot of the situation was a special election to name two city aldermen. The election, which attracted 13 candidates, almost didn't come off because it required state approval, and that was so late in coming that the whole proposition was almost shelved until the next regular election in April.

Other major stories included situations concerning appointment of a police chief, a wife's shooting to death of her husband, and the opening of a major chain discount

An extremely brief recap of the year, on a month-by-month basis, follows:

JANUARY

Investigation by Iowa Park police led to recovery of five locally-stolen motorcycles. The highway department announced intentions of locating two truck weighing stations just west of the city on highway 287. First Baptist Church music director Glenn Schell suffered a stroke. Cold weather forced curtailment of natural gas service to local industries. High winds blew down the north wall of the Wal-Mart building while it was under construction. Gene F. Wilson, 38, was shot to death by his wife. Wichita County Young Farmers were runner up as the state's outstanding chapter. More than 300 persons attended the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet at which four citizens were honored: Bill Gilmore, "Outstanding Citizen;" Barry Mahler, "Agriculturist of the Year:" Bob Dawson, "Educator of the Year," and Mrs. James Sewell, "Senior Citizen of the Year."

FEBRUARY

Iowa Parkan Darlene Mahler, 21. was crowned Miss Wichita County. All teachers received contract extensions, with raises $1,000 above state scale, and a $300 bonus. Wichita County Young Farmers honored all county volunteer fire departments, as well as Holliday's, with a steak dinner. The Goetze home, northwest of the city, was burglarized as items valued at several thousands of dollars were discovered missing. Twentyfive inductee of IPHS National Honor Society tied the school's record of 25. Former mayor and civic worker Arch Hughes died. Four-year-old Kevin Pace, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Pace, was severely burned when a grassfire ignited his clothing. Joyce Wilson was indicted for killing her husband. Steve Page was named all-district and Steve Smith all-district as well as the league's most valuable player. Former city secretary George Trammell died. Several homes in the east part of town were without electricity and cable television for a period of time as a result of a one-vehicle accident; both male occupants of the car were naked, according to police. Seventh grader Brett Hale was clocked at 5:20 in the mile run at the Iowa Park Junior High Relays.

White Auto Store became White's Super Store with the addition of a complete supermarket to its inventory. The county grand jury indicted Bill Gilmore on three counts of theft. The city's zoning ordinance was amended to establish three categories which applied to location of mobile homes. Johnny Coker was appointed to fill Charlie Lee's unexpired term as city alderman after Lee was elected mayor. Rose Soell and Wayne Watson were named by the 23 Study Club the yearf's Outstanding Senior Girl and Boy. The fiberglass covering of the high school greenhouse, and most of its contents, were destroyed in a fire of unknown origin; uninsured loss was set at $25,000. The Hawk Band earned the coveted Sweepstakes Award in UIL competition. Connie Heard, Melaine Mason and Terry Escue qualified for the state UIL literary contest in their respective events, top award winners of the Iowa Park Future Farmers of America Chapter for the year were Rowdy Robertson, Dana Hicks, Tracy Taylor and John Marcom. Chief of Police Charlie Whittingstall announced his retirement as of June.

MAY

Local youngsters and adults alike were treated to a five-ring circus and one of the largest elephant acts in the nation. A major fund-raising project, on the format of Whoop-T-Do, was held to benefit the library building fund. The city council experienced a major rift when three aldermen, Bill Gilmore, Herman Mahler and Bud Thompson demanded the resignation of city administrator Steve Morath, and Mayor Charlie Lee responded by saying he not only didn't agree but said the trio might have violated state meeting law in reaching their decision. Rose Soell and David Staber were named valedictorian and salutatorian of the Class of '82. Eric Birk and Connie Heard were named recipients of the Modern Music Study in many and the second of the Club scholarships. Ordaining services were held for Bruce Hammonds. Rehab Center obtains new tester for hearing

A $10,000 computerized audiometer, which allows faster, more accurate hearing testing, recently was purchased for North Texas Easter Seal Rehabilitation Center, Wichita Falls, through contributions from donors throughout North Texas.

As a replacement for the seven-year-old audiometer, the new unit is microprocessor based and updates the already well-designed and modern audiology suite that is the most comprehensive one in the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma

The audiometer, a Grason Stadler GS 10, has three distinct advantages over the old unit, Karen Watkins, audiologist said: 1. Calibration is programmed into the machine and calibration levels should not change. If they do, the machine automatically records the discrepancy. This ensures more accurate hearing testing; 2. The audiometer can be interfaced with a computer that allows easy storage of test results; 3. The machine is easily serviced--a repair may be as simple as replacing a circuit board and the rehab center would not have a long repair time as in the past when the old audiometer required repair.

"I like the new machine because it is logically organized and easy to operate. This allows me to spend more time watching my patients than watching the machine. I will be ordering new tests to be used with the audiometer that will give me much more specific information about hearing impaired children than I've had before," Miss Watkins said.

An audiometer basically is a tool used in the evaluation and diagnosis of hearing loss. It can be used for hearing evaluations, hearing aid fittings, site of lesion test batteries and central auditory testing, Miss Watkins said.

The rehab center audiology suite is an acoustically treated doubled walled sound proof suite with two rooms--one for the audiologist and one for the patient. The suite is built on its own foundation so that it doesn't get vibrations from other rooms in the center. It is constructed of two walls of insulated material separated by dead air space and is "truly a sound-treated room," Miss Watkins said. It also has a heavy metal door.

The suite was added to the rehab center building in 1974 at a cost of

Other equipment in this department includes an impedance bridge instrument which assesses middle ear function--an objective measurement useful when testing children. The unit is portable so that it can be used for offsite screening.

Another device used in the audiology department is the COR (Conditioned Orienting Reflex) for testing children too young to give a subjective response to a tone or stimulus. Children are trained to respond to a flashing light when they hear a sound.

The audiologist, Miss Watkins is a graduate of Texas Tech University with a B.A. degree in psychology and from North Texas State University with an M.S. in audiology. She came to the rehab center in 1980 and is certified by Texas Board of Hearing Aid Examiners and has a Certificate of Clinical Competence from the American Speech and Hearing Association.

An average of 17 patients a week are seen in the audiology department. In the past year 571 treatments have been given in this department. No doctor's referral is necessary for hearing evaluation at the rehab center, although all other evaluations require a doctor's referral.

An appointment in this department may be obtained by contacting the rehab center, 817-0771.

problems experienced by the air control workers who struck, I'll be satisfied. And what the national media does, the lesser media follows. Newspaper and television reporters from cities as small as Wichita Falls try to localize situations presented by the national > media. What we need right now is optimism, in large doses!

In their stories about these troubled times, reporters want to compare the present with the depression of the '30s.

The times are not the same. But if they were, those same reporters should be doing what was being done in the past, and that's being enthusiastic and optimistic. They should look for the good things and the bright signs.

"Happy Days Are Here Again," "There's a Bluebird On My Shoulder," songs like that didn't come out of good times. They were born in the depths of the depression. They gave people. . . . who were in far worse situations then. . . . hope and a brighter look at life.

So, here's a wish for our national media to give the people brighter reports. . . at least on equal time. . . and that you have a really happy and prosperous new year!

SOCIAL SECURITY TIPS

STUDENT BENEFITS

The gradual elimination of student benefits is one of the major ongoing concerns of the Social Security Administration. Changes in Social Security law by Congress in 1981 mandated the end of this benefit category over a three-year period through a phasing-out plan.

Monthly Social Security checks were first paid in 1965 to certain fulltime students ages 18 to 22. A young unmarried person was eligible if a parent insured under Social Security died or began receiving retirement or disability checks. Reduction in and ultimately the elimination of student benefits will be realized through three main changes in the law.

First, starting in 1982, no student checks were paid for the months of May through August even if the student beneficiary was in school during those months. When a student's checks resume in early October, the benefits received will be reduced 25 percent. This reduction will be increased to 50 percent when benefits resume in 1983 with the September check (payable Oct. 3) and then to 75 percent for the September 1984 check.

No student benefits will be payable at all after the checks due for April 1985 are paid. As well, cost of living increases which are usually applied to all Social Security benefits each year will not be applicable to student checks. Of course, these reduced benefits are only payable as long as the student beneficiary is in fulltime school attendance.

'82 Holliday news recalled

The passing of 1982 in Holliday reflects a growing community with the formation of a stable Chamber of Commerce, and the prospects of the city's first bank in recent memory. Dramatic changes were also noted in the schools, with long-time superintendent Ray Coe reassigned to an advisory position, elementary principal Dan Owen elevated to superintendent, Durhl Caussey leading a changed school board, and the death of Louis Hodge.

JANUARY - Holliday's City Council starts the year off agreeing to purchase a used Department of Public Safety vehicle to replace the existing car. The council also okayed a water tap request outside the city limits, adding a stipulation that further requests would be tabled until a study could be made to determine whether the use of the water line on Eagle Drive was within state guidelines. Ray Coe submitted his resignation effective June of 1983, ending his reign as head of Holliday Schools. The city agreed to join several Wichita County entities in a cooperative purchasing plan to cut costs on materials and supplies purchased by the city.

FEBRUARY - Holliday city officials filed suit against the city of Wichita Falls in 97th District Court of Archer City after Wichita Falls City Council voted to raise the price of water sold to Holliday almost 200 percent. School trustees extended contracts for high school principal Bill Lee, elementary principal Dan Owen, vocational agriculture instructor Cal Gaulden and athletic director Don Lucy. High school librarian Patricia H. Schulte's resignation was accepted, and Linda Thompson was hired to replace Schulte for the remainder of the school year. H.H.S. seniors Suzan Dillard and Joe Chase are named Miss and Mr. Holliday High School for 1982. The Eagle basketball team loses to Nocona 50-44 in a one-game playoff to decide the District 13-AA champs. The city election was officially called.

MARCH-- Senior Shannon Owen and juniors Mike A. Parker and Kevin Lilley are named to the All-District basketball team for District 13-AA. Council approves Chuck and Carol Parker, Billy Jean Simmons. Floyd Thompson and Betty Tanner as ambulance drivers and attendants. Holliday P-TA holds a "Meet-the-candidates" forum at the high school cafeteria featuring the strongest competitive field in recent elections. H.H.S. tennis teams take top honors in their own tournament. Western Texas College president Don Newbury is named as speaker for the all-sports banquet. Band director Tom Woody questions the procedures of the school board in not reviewing his own contract with other administrators, and a public hearing is held with a TSTA representative accompanying the director, with the board taking no final action.

APRIL- Susan Parker wins her third straight district tennis title, while the doubles team of Carla Cottrell and Milissa Parish capture their first. The Eagle band earns sweepstakes honors by placing first in both concert and sightreading in Vernon and a first in marching contest. Six incumbents and one newcomer are elected by Holliday voters in city and school elections. Larry Lilley is newly-elected to the school board, while incumbents Larry Finnell, W.T. Mankins, Gene Harmon in the school and Leon Addision, James Cook and Fred Daume in the city elections are returned to new terms. Eight HHS. students advance to the regional literacy meet. The Eagle tennis team captures district Mike A. Parker winning the singles title and Todd Stevens and Brad Lawson beating back Teammates Kevin and Kurt Lilley in the doubles final. School trustee Durhl Caussey is named president and Larry Finnell vice president of the school board. The Eagle track team takes first place in the district track meet with a good showing in the sprints by sophomore Chris Toliver.

MAY - City receives notice Nortex Regional Planning Commission has approved grants totalling $4,480 for the police department. Joel Mankins is named valedictorian and Cindy Davis salutatorian of the 1982 class at HHS. Pat Capps places second at regionals in the high jumps, and advances to the state meet in Austin. Trustees agree to hire teachers on a one-year term contract and pass band and athletic budgets. Policies for corporal punishment, substitute teachers and student transfers are implemented. City officials designate streets in Holliday to be resurfaced, with most located in the north part of town. Marguerite Wilson meets with city officials to discuss forming a Chamber of Commerce. Fifth-five seniors graduate from HHS.

JUNE - Joe Chase, Jeff Belcher, Steve Hill, Brad Harmon, Kevin Blankenship and Mike A. Parker make All-District in baseball.

The city changes its liability insurance coverage from St. Paul's Insurance to U.S. Fire Insurance. A run-off is scheduled between Holliday residents Betty Tanner and Greg Roberts for Archer County commissioner, and Tanner wins 75-49. Approximately 150 school district members attend a school board meeting to voice their disapproval of the reassignment of Ray Coe to an advisory position in order to hire a new superintendent. Between 400-500 persons attend the biennial Holliday High School reunion. Dan Owen unanimously elected as the school's new superintendent. The county appraisal district's budget is rejected by both the school and city boards. Marguerite Wilson is elected president of the newly-formed Holliday Chamber of Commerce.

JULY - Holliday School Board accept the resignation of math teacher Gordon Turner, and hire Leo Cook to replace him. Carol Magee is hired to replace Owen as elementary principal. Also hired as teachers were Sam Atkins, Paula Hall, Diane Collins and Donna Case. Homestead exemptions were also lowered. City council adopts the 1983 budget, and sets a 45-cent tax rate which is less than a three-percent increase over the previous year.

AUGUST - Don Lucy coaches the Texas team in the 45th Oil Bowl, including Holliday's Joe Chase and Iowa Park's Steve Harris. Water rates for non-city residents are increased by the city council, and plans for a new fire station are discussed. Eagle football prospects meet in two-a-day drills. Larry Ayres and Jay Miller take over as new owners of Dugan's Spee-Dee Food Store. Fred Daume quits as Holliday City Council member, walking out of a regular meeting. School trustees change eligibility for bus riders, and students living within two miles of the campus no longer are able to use the service. Overall enrollment at Holliday schools is 22 over the previous year.

SEPTEMBER -- Holliday School Board sets a 50-cent rate, an increase of eight percent. Holliday City Council receives letter from Fred Daume stating his intentions of resigning because of conflicts with his work. School officials announce their intentions of appealing a state appraisal they contend is $40-million above the actual figures. City officials discuss the possibility of financing a new fire station and city hall with county and local funds. Laura Lowder is named football queen and Patti Hewitt band queen during Round-Up Week festivities, capped by the crowning of Kim Blankenship as Round-Up queen.

OCTOBER - Elizabeth Gorman is named to fill the unexpired term of Fred Daume on the city council. School trustees change heart on ending senior trips, and, instead offer an alternative of spending time in Branson, Missouri or a series of one-day trips inside the state. A bank charter is sought by Holliday businessmen Bill Finnell, Freddie Crampton, Billy Lindemann and Don Talley. A senior citizen center receives the endorsement of the city council, and Elizabeth Gorman is named to chair a committee to seek funding. Holliday school officials learn their appeal of the state tax appraisal is accepted, saving district taxpayers over $30,000. The Eagle Band captures a "Division I" in marching contest.

NOVEMBER - The Eagle football team captures first place in District 11-AA, and wins 51-16 in the first playoff against Ranger. On a picture-perfect November night in Wichita Falls, the Eagles lose a heartbreaker to statistics and the Eastland Mavericks, eventual state champions, 7-7. City Council halts all future water sales to persons living outside the city limits.

DECEMBER - Tax assessorcollector Louis Hodge, collector for Holliday for more than a decade, dies of a heart attack suffered at his home. School trustees accept a bid from St. Paul Lloyd's Insurance for a three-year liability contract. The Eagle football team garners five of seven all-district selections, and 13 in the first team unit for District 11-AA. City employees are given a $100 Christmas bonus. The resubmitted budget for the Archer County Tax Appraisal District is approved by both the city and school. The Eagle basketball team wins its own tournament, while the Lady Eagles place third.

Pipelines... make good neighbors

America has over 220,000 miles of petroleum pipelines carrying crude oil and products to refineries and storage terminals across the United States. Each day, more than 1.5 billion ton/miles of crude oil and products move through this network. These pipelines have a safety record second to none in the transportation industry . . . and we want you to help us keep it that way.

When you see signs like those shown above, they tell you that there's a pipeline nearby. If it's underground, you can't see it, of course. But it's there, working quietly to provide energy for you and other consumers throughout this nation.

Some of these signs list the commodity transported in the pipeline, the name of the operator, and a telephone number where the operator's representative can be reached at all times.

Although pipelines have an exceptionally good safety record. once in a while a leak can occur.

 Avoid creating sparks or sources of heat which could cause the liquids or vapor to ignite and burn. If you find yourself in a suspected vapor area, do not light a match. start an engine or even switch on an electric light.

 Notify the pipeline operator as soon as you reach a safe area. Call collect. Give your name, a description of the leak and its location. If you do not know who the pipeline operator is, call your local fire, police or sheriff's department, or the state police.

Borman joins Angus group

Landfair Cattle Co., David Borman, of Iowa Park, has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice-president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Mo.

The American Angus Association, with some 38,000 active life and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on nearly 10 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American Angus Association.

IRS Tax

MOVING EXPENSES MAY BE DEDUCTIBLE

Individuals who have changed their job locations may be able to deduct their moving expenses the Internal Revenue Service says. They may qualify for this moving expense deduction whether they are selfemployed or an employee. However, the expenses must be connected with starting work at the new job location, and there are certain tests of distances and time to be met.

More information about moving expenses appears in the free IRS Publication 521 which is available by using the handy order coupon in the tax package or by calling the Tax Forms/Information number listed in the telephone directory under U.S. Government.

REWARDS, BONUSES

ARE TAXABLE INCOME

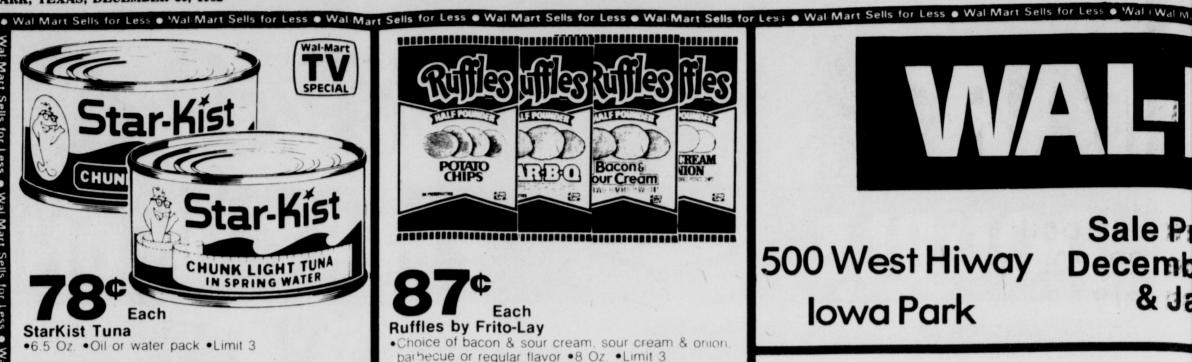

Taxpayers who were fortunate enough to earn awards or bonuses this year are being reminded by IRS that these amounts should be included as income on their 1982 federal income tax returns.

The IRS says rewards and bonuses include prizes such as a paid vacation trip awarded for attaining sales goals. If the prize or award is in the form of goods or services, its fair market value is the amount the taxpayer must include as income.

If the employer pays the bonus or award at a future time, it is not taxable until it is received by the employee, the IRS says.

If an employer distributes holiday remembrances such as turkeys, hams, or other items of nominal worth, the value of these gifts is not taxable. However, if cash, gift certificates or similar items that may be easily exchanged for cash are given, the value of the gifts is taxable.

Further information is detailed in Publication 525, "Taxable and Nontaxable Income." It can be obtained free by calling the IRS Forms/Information number listed in the telephone directory under U.S. Government.

Winter best for tree pruning

The winter months are the best period for pruning of trees and most ornamental shrubs. Life processes of plants are greatly slowed during cold Services for Addie Anderson, 92, weather. For this reason, pruning a former resident of Iowa Park, were causes the least amount of "shock" to held Wednesday morning at Tannerthe plant during this period.

> Pruning of yard shade trees by Sammy Risner of Wichita Falls has multi purposes. His pruning is aimed at removing any deadwood, branches which point downward, limbs which cross another, those which contribute to the development of narrow (weak) croches, and low hanging branches interfering with walking under the Proper tree pruning is actually a thinning operation. It involves removal of unwanted branches. The tree keeps it's basic shape and height, and the appearance is enhanced by removal of ugly and weak limbs.

Dehorning is a "no-no" in tree pruning. This involves cutting a tree actually causes permanent damage.

The tree develops 10 to 12 sprouts from each stub. Heavy sprouting keeps the stub from healing. The group of sprouts are weak, overcrowded, and they can never develop into strong, branches.

Renovation of a dehorned tree can be accomplished only with follow-up pruning. One sprout is allowed to grow from each stub. All of the others are removed. Even the remaining sprout is pruned back so it will not grow too fast. Excessive growth creates too much weight, and the sprout is unable to support itself.

This follow-up pruning involves too much work and time for the average home owner. For this reason, follow-up pruning is almost never done. The end result is a ruined tree. The basic rule is to never "dehorn" a

A free publication on tree and shrub pruning is available at the county Extension office, 766-0131. "Before" and "after" pictures along with written instructions show the proper pruning techniques.

The Hawks, about three inches shorter per man, gave the larger school all they wanted, but finally fell, 69-59. Kevin Biddy was high for Iowa Park with 16 and Jeff Lawson had 13. The JV lost, 60-49.

HAWKETTES WIN - Lisa Yeakley, 21, often had problems getting shots off Tuesday against the Lady Coyotes of Wichita Falls High.
