Plenty of candidates for April 7 elections

The 11th hour for filing yesterday afternoon brought competition at two levels in the city council race, every bit as competitive as the school board election.

Yesterday was the deadline to file for a place on the April 7 election ballots for both the city and school elections.

A drawing will be held at 10 this morning at city hall for places on the city's ballot. Places on the school ballot will be drawn at 8:30 a.m. Friday.

Two women filed this week as candidates for school trustee. They are Virginia Klinkerman, who filed yesterday morning, and Marilyn Hale, who filed Tuesday.

Also on the ballot will be incumbents Jerald Brown and Rex Wells.

Tim Hunter, first candidate to file in the city election, drew competition from the last candidate to file.

Opposing him for mayor is Freddie Simmons, who beat the clock by five minutes to get his name on the ballot.

If Hunter is elected, the council will have to appoint someone to fill his unexpired term because he has served only one year as alderman. Charlie Lee has decided not to seek re-election as mayor.

Another Wednesday afternoon filer was Don Decker, who will compete with Bud Mercer and incumbents aldermen Bud Thompson and George Hammonds for the two seats on the council.

All alderman and trustee elections are at-large, with those receiving the greatest number of votes being declared winners.

Absentee balloting will begin March 19 in both elections, and continue through April 3. Absentee polls for their respective elections are the school administration building and city hall.

CHARTER COMMISSION NAMED

Also on the city election ballot will be the issue of whether a charter commission should draft a new charter under which the city will

Replatting, annexation requests on city agenda

Two requests for replatting and a request to be annexed into the city are on Monday's agenda of the city council, which is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

One request for replatting concerns three lots on the northeast corner of Wall and Washington. The other request was discussed in the previous meeting, but was tabled. It has to do with some lots in Garden Valley.

Edward Sneller, owner of the mobile home park east of the city, has asked to appear before the council so he can request annexation of his property into the city.

Jim Isbell, who plans to place a mobile home on South Park, is to ask the city to abandon 15 feet of right of way.

Also on the agenda is the city's policy on alley maintenance, which has been discussed the previous two meetings but without resolve.

SIGNS OF SPRING SHOWING - It's not at all uncommon for fruit trees in this area to be fooled by warm spells in late winter, and that's what has happened. Beautiful blooming trees are evident all over Iowa Park, such as this one photographed Tuesday afternoon. Cold night temperatures had not done evident damage at that time to the blossoms. But if the buds are nipped by cold temperatures, all is still not lost. Bees are working overtime, and their hives will soon be dripping with honey.

News in Brief

$10,010 burglary reported here

Iowa Park police are continuing investigation of a home burglary late last week in which property, including some 20 guns, valued at $10,010 was reportedly taken.

William Roberts told police

Besides the guns, other property taken included a color television, Sears video recorder and camera, and assorted rings.

Purpose of the open house is to give the public an opportunity to inspect Refreshments will be served, Barrington said.

School board meeting rescheduled

The Iowa Park school board meeting, normally held the second Tuesday of each month, has been postponed until March 20, according to Roy Boutwell, board chairman.

Because of numerous conflicts, including school spring break and the county livestock show, trustees decided last month to delay this month's meeting one week.

Local project show Saturday, county show to begin Sunday

Largest classes for judging this year are market swine, 51, market lambs, 35, and breeding rabbits, 21.

Competition is limited to students enrolled in Iowa Park schools, either vocational agriculture or 4-H Club members.

Judges this year are: Jeff Watts, horses; Larry Berend, broilers and turkeys; Clyde Webb of Burkburnett, rabbits, and Rick Cunningham, vocational agriculture teacher from Ranger, judging the lambs, swine and steers.

Trophies will be awarded for each breed champion and reserve champion, grand champions, showmanship in each class and the coveted herdsman award.

Other numbers of entries by class to be judged include: market steers, nine; breeding heifers, one; meat pen rabbits, nine pens; turkeys, 10 toms and 10 hens; broilers, five; dairy goats, eight, and five horses.

All breeding and non-sale animals are to be removed from the barn by 4 p.m.

Wichita County Young Farmers will host a chili feed for prospective buyers at 6 that evening, and the premium sale is to get underway at 7.

Home additions top permit list

A lot of Iowa Park home owners are increasing the size of their homes, according to permits issued during February by city hall.

Of the 10 permits reported, five are additions. Only one permit is for a new residence, and that is for the Building Trades class which was requested in September but only approved last month.

Total permits reported were $53,690, which raises the year's permit total to $158,056.

Permits reported included: IPHS Building Trades, 704 W. Clara, new residence, $25,000; John A. Rains, 817 N. Park, addition, $5,000; Rick Pennyceuff, 502 E. "We expect some 400 runners to be at this race. We also encourage each of you to get pledges for the run."

Gilmore, Andrews unite in ceremony here

The Faith Baptist Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Jamie Lynn Gilmore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gilmore of Iowa Park, and Danny Ray Andrews, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Andrews of Wichita Falls.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Ken Cole, pastor, at an altar illuminated by tapers burning in two spiral brass candelabra entwined with greenery. Two large silk arrangements composed of yellow and white daisies, gladioli and baby's breath in crystal bowls were placed on the choir rail to complete the altar decor, and the brass unity candlestick was the center of interest in the lower altar.

Tim Adcock of Abilene presented an organ prelude concert, his selections including "O Perfect Love," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Wedding Prayer," "Savior, Like a Shepherd Lead Us," "Wherever You Walk," and "Clair de Lune." He played the traditional processional by Wagner, "You Light Up My Life" while the couple lighted the unity candle, and concluded his offerings with Psalms 19 for the recessional.

The bride radiated her happiness as she walked the aisle to the altar on the arm of her father who presented her in marriage for her parents. She chose a formal white gown of polyester sheer and acetate taffeta fashioned with a bodice featuring a slightly raised waistline trimmed in Chantilly lace and a Queen Anne neckline bordered with the same lace and simulated pearls. The full skirt was accented with scattered lace motifs and drifted into a chapel train. Her misty fingertip veil was caught to an oval-shaped cap of lace and pearls.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white and yellow daisies with matching ribbons and observed wedding day traditions.

MRS. DANNY ANDREWS

Miss Sheila Potter served as maid of honor for the bride. She was attired in a waltz length green taffeta gown overlaid with matching chiffon. The sleeveless dress featured a modish shoulder ruffle. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies cascading from an inverted crystal ball.

The groom wore a brown suit with matching vest and tie, light beige shirt and a boutonniere of yellow rosebuds and baby's breath. Ray Andrews, his father, served as best man. The ushers and candlelighters were Billy Gilmore and Clay Glasgow, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Gilmore, mother of the bride, wore a blue polyester street-length dress topped with a white lace cape, and Mrs. Andrews mother of the groom, was attired in a royal blue polyester crepe street length dress. She wore matching jewelry, and both wore white gardenia corsages.

The bride's parents honored the couple at a postnuptial reception held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The bride's table was draped to the floor with a white Chantilly lace cloth swagged with pale green and yellow ribbons. A natural wicker basket holding a small arrangement of the silk daisies and baby's breath used in the nuptial setting centered the table. The extremities were marked with a silver punch bowl and the bride's cake.

True to form, the cake was the focal point of interest on the table. The three-tiered octagon-shaped white confection was tastefully decorated with pale green and yellow scrolls and shellwork on the sides and between the divided tiers. A bride and groom sat in an octagon-shaped gazebo trimmed with flowers and greenery to provide the top ornament and lend a romantic mood to the occasion. The cake was served by Mrs. Douglas Letellier of Manitoba, Canada and Mrs. Clay Glasgow of Arlington, and Mrs. Bill Gilmore and Mrs. Billy Gilmore served the punch.

A table nearby held two white ceramic angels tied with green bows holding yellow candles.

The groom's table where Mrs. Michael Walker of El Paso, his sister, and Debbie Milbern of Wichita Falls served, was also covered with white Chantilly lace. The table held an octagon-shaped chocolate cake bordered with frosting scrolls, and the white napkins accented with a picture of a green car marked with "Just Married, Danny and Jamie, March 3, 1984."

Houseparty members were Mmes. Bill Glasgow, Howard Blevins and Van Gunnerson.

Miss Hope Gilmore presided at the guest registry table in the church foyer before the ceremony. The table was laid with a white lace cloth over yellow and appointed with a brandy snifter holding a candle uprising from a bed of yellow daisies, a white plume pen and book.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School, attended Vernon Junior Regional College and is self-employed. The groom was graduated from Rider High School and is employed at Cryovac. Following a wedding trip to Dallas, they will live in Wichita Falls.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Friday evening at the church.

Out-of-town guests not previously mentioned were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gooselaw of Pembina, N.D., grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Montette of Pembina, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lewis of Fort Stockton.

New Directions program topic

The Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church met in the home of Mrs. Faye McAllister Monday evening for the monthly meeting.

Preceding the business session, a program was presented by Mrs. Jean Scroggins from Mrs. Johnnie Wichita Falls. They were introduced by Mrs. Dewey Conley. The speakers explained that the New Directions program is for the displaced homemaker and other special groups and is designed to make them have positive attitudes and behavior about themselves and others that they come in contact with. It also encourages them to ask for help without hesitation, set reasonable goals for the future, gives them foundation to overcome obstacles and understand themselves.

In closing, Mrs. Threadgill showed slides and gave thought-provoking remarks on what money could and could not buy for the betterment of humanity.

Mrs. Dale Walling, president, directed the business. Plans were discussed for sponsoring the Study Club's guest day luncheon March 15. Mrs. Joe McDonald reminded the group of the church rummage sale in April. A work day was set for Saturday, and a nominating committee composed of Mmes. Frank Harlin, Dewey Conley and Ralph Finney was appointed.

The April meeting will feature an Easter program and will be held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Refreshments were served to 11 members and two visitors.

Howard, Karstetter vows are solemnized here Saturday evening

A double-ring ceremony of beauty and dignity was solemnized Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church by Rev. Howell Farnsworth, pastor, to unite Miss Kelly Lee Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Howard of Wichita Falls, and Keith Ray Karstetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm R. Karstetter of Iowa Park.

The altar decorations provided an impressive background for the ceremony. A 15-branched brass arch candelabra holding tall white tapers was entwined with boxwood greenery accented with white and pink mums, and gladioli and centered with a pink silk bow to form the center attraction. On either side were seven-branched candelabra decorated in the same style and filled with the tall tapers. The extremities of the altar were marked with basket arrangements of the large pink and white mums, gladioli, leather leaf and fern.

The unity candlestick in the lower altar added a special note of sentiment through the bride's mother's Bible that had been covered with white chiffon edged with lace and centered with a pink silk crocheted rose. The Bible was nestled in the center of a plaque of leatherleaf. Church pews were decorated with pink and white net bows accented with miniature tiger lilies and hyacinths and long pink silk streamers.

Mrs. Dwayne McKee of Iowa Park presented the organ prelude music. She accompanied Miss Debbie Morgan of Wichita Falls for her solo renditions of "The Wedding Song" before the service and "O Perfect Love" during the lighting of the unity candle. Jerry Morgan of Wichita Falls furnished accompaniment for his vocal solo "It's a Beautiful Thing" during the ceremony, and Mrs. McKee played the wedding marches to complete the music.

The bride wore a white designer gown of organza designed with a demure V-neckline edged with Chantilly lace when she walked the aisle to the altar on the arm of her father who presented her in marriage for her parents. The sleeves, also adorned with Chantilly lace, were three-quarter pouf in styling. The natural waistline touched off a full triple-flounced skirt enhanced with matching lace that drifted into a Miss Lisa Allison of Wichita Falls took part in the wedding as the maid of honor. She wore a pink chiffon gown featuring a low rounded neckline edged with two rows of loosely gathered ruffles, and a scoop back. The fitted bodice was caught at the waist by a pink satin ribbon, and a softly gathered skirt fell to the floor from the waistline. Her haircomb complemented her handheld bouquet of three pink roses and greenery tied with pink and white satin ribbons.

The bridesmaids, wearing identical gowns and haircombs and carrying the same bouquets as the maid of honor, were Mrs. Robert Faulkner of Wichita Falls, sister of the bride, and Miss Karrie Culpher of Burkburnett.

Miss Julie Faulkner of Wichita Falls, the bride's niece and flower girl, wore a long pink chiffon dress featuring puffed sleeves, an overlay of white eyelet and a pink satin sash that encircled the waistline. She wore a comb in her hair to complement her waltz length frock and carried a white lace basket trimmed with pink and white ribbons that contained the bride's toss away bouquet.

The groom wore a white classic tuxedo with narrow notched lapels and trim, matching white vest, white pin-tucked shirt with wing-tipped collar, pearl studs and cuff links. He also wore a banded bow tie and a boutonniere of pink roses circled with baby's breath.

The best man and groomsmen wore silver classic tuxedos with notched satin lapels and trim, vests and banded ties. They wore white pin-tucked shirts with wing-tipped collars and black studs and pink silk rosebud boutonnières.

The ringbearer and ushers wore the same attire except for pink carnation boutonnières, and fathers of the bride and groom wore satin-lapelled black tuxedos, white pleated shirts, matching vests and ties and white rosebud boutonnières.

Brad Petrek served as ring bearer in the wedding. Dan Williams of Wichita Falls was best man and groomsmen were Roger York and Randal Wilson, both of Iowa Park. The candlelighters were Cole Whitehurst of Wichita Falls and Steve Hamilton of Burkburnett and they also served as ushers with Jeff Gregg of Seymour and Lee Gwinn of Lubbock.

Mrs. Howard, the bride's mother, wore a corsage of pink and white sweetheart roses and greenery to complement her floor length pink chiffon gown designed with a round neckline bodice overlaid with a sheer capelet, empire waistline accented with a silver beaded ornament. Mrs. Karstetter, mother of the groom, was attired in a formal pink gown of chiffon and Qiana. The bodice featured a V neckline in both front and back, a tie at the waist, and a chiffon cape attached to a yoke that formed a V in both front and back. Her corsage was composed of pink and white three time roses and greenery.

The Fellowship Hall of the church was the scene of the attractively-appointed wedding reception given by the bride's parents.

Exquisite grace was accomplished in the design of the bride's table draped to the floor with pink satin overlaid with white Chantilly lace featuring swags at the top caught to white lace bows centered with pink and white forget me nots, tiger lilies and white satin pearl-rimmed bells.

Special charm was added to the table by a centerpiece of white and pink mums, tiger lilies, hyacinths, rosebuds and fern banked around an eight-branched silver candelabrum holding slender pink candles. The crystal punch bowl at one extremity was complementary to the lace cloth, and the decor was completed with the cake at the other side, pink napkins engraved in silver with "Kelly and Keith, March 3, 1984," toasting glasses and mints.

The bride's white cake was the perfect cake for the occasion. Each tier was decorated with draped garlands and shells, and cascades of pink rosebuds with pale green leaves. Two sets of Grecian pillars lent an air of grace to the stately confection which was topped with a white net heart trimmed with lily of the valley and small pink heart-shaped, baby's breath bells filled with lily of the valley and poufs of net raised by a dais. Miss Tammie Peterson and Miss Janet Walker served refreshments at the bride's table.

The groom's table was draped with a pleated silver satin cloth. The appointments included a silver candelabra holding pink votive candles amidst an arrangement of pink and white mums, rosebuds, tiger lilies and fern, silver coffee carafes, china cups, nuts and napkins to match those on the bride's table. The chocolate cake featured a ring-shaped cake bordered with two hearts, each topped with pink frosting roses and the hearts were lettered with names of the bride and groom. Miss Lea Whitehurst and Miss Debbie Morgan presided at the table.

Miss Angela Allison secured signatures of wedding guests as they arrived at the church for the wedding. She sat at a table draped like the bride's table that held the wedding book, pink plume pen and a silver epergne holding white tapers and pink roses.

The bride was graduated from Rider High School. She received a B.S. degree in December from Midwestern State Univ. in elementary education. At the university, she was Sigma Nu Little Sis and belonged to Childhood Education Association. The groom was graduated from Iowa Park High School and Midwestern State Univ. with a B.S. degree in geology. He was a member of Phi Sigma Kappa, the Geology Club and tennis team. They will live in Wichita Falls. When the couple left on their wedding trip, the bride was wearing a cream pleated skirt with cream silk shirt topped with a dusty blue sweater vest. She wore dusty blue and cream accessories.

In connection with rehearsal for the wedding, the groom's parents hosted a dinner at Frontier Steak House.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James McKee, Mitsi and Michelle; her aunt, Bobbie Zoffka of California.

MRS. KEITH KARSTETTER

graceful cathedral length train. Her distinctive headpiece was an imported pearlized orange blossom wreath mounted on a Chantilly lace tiara to which her matching Chantilly lace-edged two-tiered waltz length illusion veil was gathered.

The bride's traditional cascade bouquet was arranged with pink and white roses, white stephanotis, pink and white cascading ribbons to complement her gown to the best advantage. Completing her costume with bridal traditions, she wore her gown and carried a handkerchief from Mrs. Harry Allison for "something new." She wore pearl earrings that belonged to Miss Karrie Culpher, a close friend, for "something borrowed;" carried her mother's Bible for "something old;" and wore a garter for "something blue."

Friendship topic of AEO speaker

Linda Gould, a fourth grade teacher at Notre Dame, gave a program on Friendship for the meeting of Alpha Epsilon Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Gene Bond.

The teacher gave members a quiz on friendship to introduce her talk, then asked them to give characteristics of a friend. Their response included dependability, intelligence, consideration, loyalty, acceptance, honesty and cheerfulness.

The speaker said that yellow was the color used for friendship, and that tulips were originally the flower for friendship but due to its unavailability it has been changed to the rose. She gave the recipe for Friendship Cake and closed with a poem "My Dearest Friend" by Grace E. Easley.

During the business directed by Janna Barry, plans were made for a rush party March 19 and for making Easter baskets and corsages for expectant mothers at the Maternity Cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Pittman of Santa Clara, Calif. announce the birth of their first child, Marcella Marie, a seven pound, nine ounce daughter, born March 6.

The new baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pittman of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. Vince Vasconi of San Jose, Calif.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

What is a poor neighbor?

It most likely depends on your own likes and dislikes. But in communities where homes are built closer together because of land costs, this subject has come mind more often lately.

I've held off using the topic, for fear of hurting the feelings of my own neighbors. But realizing I've got as good a set of neighbors as you could ever want, I know they will understand that it is not them I mention.

Really, this is a combination of neighborhoods I've seen, heard about, lived in and wondered about, for several years.

Since all of us know what a good neighbor is, let me tell you what a bad neighbor is:

- * he thinks his home has nothing to do with the rest of the world, a place where he can pile junk anyplace and everywhere, irregardless of what it looks like to anyone else.

- * he parks his car on the front lawn because he only has a one-car driveway and doesn't want to park it at the curb because he has to walk the extra distance to the house.

- * his wife is always over at your home visiting, and doesn't realize you want some privacy.

- * he and his wife never say a word to you, even looking the other way if you wave.

- * his kids make more noise than the entire fifth grade during recess, even though there are only two of them.

- * someone always has the stereo turned up loud, for fear someone two blocks away won't hear it.

- * he always has a lot of company, and they are coming and going at all hours of the night, slamming car doors and gunning the motors.

- * he works endlessly in his yard and makes your yard, which gets mowed and trimmed once a week look like a pasture.

- * he never mows his lawn, trims his hedges and couldn't care less if the snakes sneak from his back yard into yours because it scares your wife.

- * he can't afford the time or money to paint his house, even though it was looking ragged five years ago, because he's too busy with his expensive hobby.

- * he has a hobby that attracts visitors all the time, and does his work on his hobby so it will attract more and more to stop and watch.

- * he delights in filling the neighborhood trash container with large, unbroken cardboard boxes so you can't put your trash in it until the next dumping.

- * he does an overhaul on his car motor, while it's parked in the street in front of the house, and puts two wheels on the curb to get more working room, and doesn't mind if it takes two months to complete.

- * he's a deep sleeper, so his dog's barking in the back yard, hour after hour, doesn't bother him, and then he gets upset with you if you try to get the situation changed.

- * he's always standing at the window, holding the curtain back, to watch you walk from the car to the house, but when the burglars kicked in the door and loaded your console television into an out-of-state van, he didn't see a thing.

Luckily, none of these examples live in Iowa Park. Or do they?

Worth Quoting

Electra is booming. . . a quiet boom, but none-the-less a boom.

Look back one year.

Nucorp Energy had shut down Dorland Pipe. . . gone were 300 jobs. C.E. Nateo had trimmed its labor force to stay in line with an unstable oil industry. Area drilling company yards were full of idle equipment. Sales tax receipts were declining 30%. This community was in a state of shock and wonderment about what the future held.

Let's look around today.

Bill and Benny Dorland have re-purchased the original Dorland site. Back in business six months, the young company has 70 employees and a bright looking future.

Lincoln Tank Company is diversifying and adding a new dimension to the long time Electra plant site. This company now employs 23 and again the future looks bright.

Sales tax receipts are climbing again.

The largest building undertaking in the history of this community is now underway in a 54-unit apartment complex in South Electra. This project will especially give young Electra workers an opportunity to enjoy affordable, quality housing while they sink their roots into this community.

A 24-unit apartment complex also got underway this week with Electra Housing Authority breaking ground for the new low-rent Parkview Addition alongside Eastview Homes.

Dean Moeller has begun a new undertaking in the wind generator market. . . a relatively new industry that's just scratched the surface.

You bet! We've got our own boom in Electra. We've got a lot to look forward to and, yes, there's still much work to do.

What we need now is a realization that things are happening. People are finding work in Electra and now we, citizens of this community, need to see to it that these workers find and want to make their homes in our town.

To do that we need a concentrated effort in the traditional areas of "Clean Up, Paint Up and Fix Up."

And, as important as any of the above, we need a dedicated alliance between local consumers and local businesses to depend on each other.

A strong local retail economy is a must to accomplish the goals we want for Electra.

operate, and a list of candidates to serve on the charter commission.

If the charter proposal is disapproved, the charter commission will not function.

However, if it is approved, the commission will draft a new charter which will be submitted to the voters of the city for study, and another election will be held to decide whether or not to accept the new charter.

The city council met in a called meeting Monday and selected 15 names which will appear on the ballot as proposed charter commission candidates. Fifteen is the maximum number for a commission in a city Iowa Park's size.

Confronted with 27 names as prospects, aldermen voted and those prospects receiving the greatest number were appointed to the commission.

The list includes Johnny Crawford, Donald Hill, Margaret Soell, Faye McAllister, Don Decker, Buck Voyles, Virgil Woodfin, Terry Davis, Jerry Williams, Annetta Reusch, L.W. Teel, Dolores Hamilton, John Brown, James Edwards and Susan Streich.

There will also be space on the ballots for write-in candidates for the charter commission.

A LOOK AT FRUIT TREES

Home orchards are becoming more popular with those who have room in their yard for 6-7 trees. Buddy Davis on FM 367 in the Wichita Valley selected fruits and varieties which will provide fresh fruit all summer for his family.

We have the best selection of the top varieties for fruits in this area. Apple varieties include Mollies Delicious, Red Chief, and Smoothie while Ayres, Moonglow, and Orient make the top list for pears.

Peaches are a favorite for this area, and we have Bicentennial for early June ripening, Ranger - early July, Loring - mid July, Denman - late July, and Jefferson for early August ripening.

Bryan and Morpack apricots tend to bloom late enough to escape most spring freezes. They enhance each other in cross pollination insuring bumper crops. Plums do especially well here, and three mouth watering varieties include Morris, Ozark Premier, and Methley.

The two most "overlooked" fruits are persimmon and fig. Our Eureka persimmon and Celeste fig promise top production. Cherry tree lovers can have their wishes fulfilled by planting a Montmorency which is the only variety adapted here.

Pecans make excellent shade trees, and they produce nut crops too. Our Mohawks and Wichita make an abundance of large, quality pecans.

Small fruits require very little space for a lot of production. Planting 2-3 Venus grapes or Brazos berries or Raspberries can provide more fruit than a family can use. Sandy flower beds can be well utilized with the planting of Surecrop or Ozark Beauty strawberries. Both are the everbearing type.

Time is short on getting fruits planted. See us for the best varieties at the lowest prices.

Tips On Dental Health

RICHARD CARVER, D.D.S.

PAINLESS BONDING

Mary and June were talking about going out that wintery night. As Mary turned to leave she slipped, fell, and broke a large corner off her very front tooth. While not otherwise hurt, she felt she just couldn't be seen in public with her broken tooth.

WHAT TO DO?

Luckily her dentist was trained to use the new bonding materials and was able to repair the tooth in time for her to go about her business.

Bonding is the popular name for this technique and is used to repair fractured teeth, fill in gaps and chipped areas, cover defective enamel, and even correct teeth stained by certain antibiotics.

Many times it is not necessary to use anesthetics or drill on the tooth unless it is decayed. Also called "acid etching", these new materials can be molded and tinted to match the surrounding teeth. When the dentist is ready, many times he will focus an ultra violet or visible light on the restoration which will harden in seconds. The tooth is then repaired after the final polishing is completed.

One of the nice things about this type of tooth repair is that it costs only about 1/3 to 1/2 as much as the more conventional treatment. It is quick, usually painless, and is reversible. . . that is, if you don't like it, the more conventional porcelain crowns [caps] can still be used.

The Eyes Of Texans

This is Save Your Vision Week -- SO WHAT?

Since this is the 67th observance of National Save Your Vision Week I thought it would not be amiss to touch on a few of the more important aspects of your eyes. Saving your vision doesn't just mean selling you a pair of glasses, it also means having your eyes examined periodically to find out if your eyes are healthy. A routine visual exam should include an evaluation of the external and internal parts of your eyes. A look inside your eyes can tell if there is any hardening of the arteries or cataracts among many other possible diseases. A glaucoma check should be done especially if you're over 40.

If glasses are needed then the best lens for you can be recommended, e.g., if you need bifocals do you need a big one or would a smaller bifocal segment be better? If you are a carpenter or an airline pilot a lens with a bifocal on top as well as the bottom is desirable. Maybe contact lenses would be better than glasses. However, contacts are not for everyone. Who knows? Your vision care professional knows.

How much does visual care cost? Well, if you wear bifocals, about 40c a day or less than 3c per waking hour.

Addison, Moser wedding ceremony Friday

The sentimental intimacy of a home wedding characterized a double-ring ceremony performed Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Addison in Holliday when their daughter, Angela Irene, became the bride of Timothy Scott Moser, son of Lt. Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. Don Moser of Burkburnett. Gil Peters, minister of the Holliday Church of Christ, was the officiant.

Jo Lynn Chazarreta, cousin of the bride, secured signatures of the wedding guests in the entry way of the home at a table covered with a peach silk ruffled cloth and appointed with a peach floral arrangement, plume pen and wedding memories book. On a wall in the area, peach tapers glowed in a five-branched silver candelabrum decorated with peach flowers and greenery.

The couple repeated their vows before the fireplace where the mantel held candles to illuminate the setting. Peach tapers burned in a five-branched candelabra trimmed with greenery in the center and on either side three shed their light in brass candlesticks. Green plants flanked the fireplace hearth, and the unity candlestick, representing the union of the bride and groom and the permanence of marriage, completed the improvised altar decor.

A divider shelf between the living room and kitchen held eight peach tapers in a brass candelabrum, and a center shelf held a brass basket of peach and beige flowers.

Jeanne Moore presented the wedding music which featured her in vocal selections that included "The Wedding Song" after the mothers of the couple were seated, "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony, and "We've Only Just Begun" while the bride and groom were lighting the unity candles.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an exquisite wedding gown of white sheer polyester enhanced with sequins and ribbon trim. The Queen Anne-Chantilly lace-ruffled bodice featured a high neckline and sheer sleeves with lace insets that terminated in points over the wrists. The beauty of the gown was enhanced in the full skirt adorned with scattered lace motifs and multiple baby Chantilly lace ruffles caught with tiny bows above the floor that extended around the chapel train.

The bride's Chantilly lace veil cascaded to fingertip length from a simulated pearl-trimmed bandeau. She carried a bouquet of apricot and white roses and carnations arranged on white lace with white silk streamers. For sentimental additions, she wore her maternal grandmother's wedding ring on her right hand, and her mother's diamond earrings.

Miss Nancy Todd of Lakeside City, the maid of honor, was attired in a formal gown of apricot crepe, styled with a bodice overlaid with sheer, a natural waistline and a softly pleated skirt. She carried a bouquet of apricot tiger lilies and roses with matching streamers.

Jodi Ray Moser of Burkburnett, niece of the groom, the flower girl, carried a white lace basket filled with peach and white flowers. She wore a long beige frock featuring ruffles and puffed sleeves.

The groom wore a white tuxedo and cut-a-way jacket with tails. The bride's father and best man, Ronnie Needham of Burkburnett, wore brown tuxedos. Their boutonnières were white carnations centered with apricot rosebuds.

The bride's mother chose a formal pink polyester dress designed with a bodice overlaid with matching sheer caught at the high waistline with pearls, and an A-line skirt. She wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a full length gray Qiana dress fashioned with V-neck, pleated waist and gathered skirt. Her corsage was formed with roses in a deep rose shade.

Decorations for the reception that was held in the bride's parents' home followed the color combination carried out in the wedding.

The bride's table, covered with white lace over apricot, was set apart with a three-tiered white cake over a fountain of punch attractively decorated with peach, apricot, brown and beige roses and grapes, a silver punch bowl, crystal toasting glasses, and a silver candelabrum decked with peach candles and flowers.

The groom's table held a silver coffee service, hors d'oeuvres, and a two-branched candlestick trimmed with flowers in peach hues.

Houseparty members were Kim Robertson, sister of the bride, Judy Moser, sister of the groom, Carla Cottrell and Gerri Gilliland, cousins of the bride, Natalie Todd and Bobbye Haney.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at the Sheppard Air Force Base Officers Club.

The bride was graduated from Holliday High School where she was most valuable golfer and All District volleyball and basketball. She is employed at Texhoma Christian Care Center. The groom was graduated from Burkburnett High School and is employed by Wellco Well Service of Holliday where the couple are now at home after a short wedding trip. The bride wore a purple, mauve and turquoise dress when they departed from the reception.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Cottrell of Wichita Falls, the bride's grandparents, Muffy, Chris and Kelly Eastham and Karen Moser of Kansas City, Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Reco Chazarreta of Crowley, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Cottrell of Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Ervin and Eileen Addison of Wichita Falls.

Others were Daryl and Kristin Jonsson, Wendy Deason, Karrine McMains, Ron Needham, Ronny Robertson, Angie Payne, Tommy Beaver, Judy and Jodi Ray Moser, all of Burkburnett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Todd and Nancy of Lakeside City.

Immunization clinic slated

An immunization clinic, sponsored by the Texas Department of Health, will be held from 10 a.m. until 12 noon Monday, March 12 at the Holliday Elementary School, according to Zandra Underwood, public health nurse.

Immunizations against DPT, polio, measles, mumps, and rubella will be offered. Underwood asks that persons utilizing this service bring immunization records to the school at that time.

ADDED INCENTIVES

The board, in a move to add incentives to current teaching personnel, agreed to award teachers with master's degrees an additional $300 in pay beginning the next school year. "We decided to add this incentive because of the very small percentage of teachers with master's degrees," superintendent Dan Owen noted.

Teachers working towards a master's degree will be paid $10 per semester hour taken towards the degree plan.

ADDITIONAL SUPPLEMENTS

OTHER BUSINESS

Trustees set the driver's education fee at $70 (formerly $45), adopted the textbooks for the 1984-85 school year, and heard a report by Owen in which the superintendent said a possibility exists which will make a school day for high school students seven periods, and eight periods for junior high.

Cook of the Week

South-of-the-Border dishes hold intriguing interest for many Texas families as the recipes of Mrs. Rick Gonzalez of Holliday for this week indicate.

In Mexico, the main meal, comida, that corresponds to our evening dinner, is eaten around 2 p.m., and is traditionally followed by the siesta.

According to Great Recipes of the World, contrary to popular opinion, Mexican cuisine, is not all fiery, heavy and indigestible. Rather, it is subtly flavored and only as incendiary as one chooses to make it. Tortillas, tacos, enchiladas, guacamole and mole have become so popular in our country, but the range of Mexican gastronomy reaches far beyond these foods.

The incredible variety of foods and creative flair for preparing them that is part of Mexican culture stems from three great schools of cooking - Aztec, French and Spanish. When the Spaniards arrived in Mexico more than 300 years ago, they were intrigued by the native cuisine and strange foods there. Chocolate, corn, chilis, peanuts, tomatoes, avocados, beans, squash, and papaya are purely New World foods.

Cortez and the Spanish conquistadores brought with them oil, wine, cinnamon, cloves, rice, wheat, peaches, apricots, cattle for beef, milk and butter. The sophisticated dishes of Austria, France and Italy came via the chefs of Maximilian.

Authentic Mexican specialties once meant hours of preparation, but the blender and food processor have taken over the tasks of grinding, mixing and other hand-processing that was once the work of rough black stone mortar and pestle invented by the Aztecs.

Mrs. Gonzalez, the former Iva Ezzell, and her husband, Rick, who is a welder for Ezzell Metal Products, have two daughters, Bambi and Nancy. She is a member of First Baptist Church, bulletin chairman for American Women's Business Association, charter member of the Holliday Chamber of Commerce and has worked for Charles Fennell as an administrative assistant three years.

Mrs. Rick Gonzalez

soft. Place 2 tablespoons of cheese and 1 teaspoon of onion on each tortilla and roll it up. Place in greased serving dish; top with enchilada sauce, remaining onion and cheese. Bake in 250 degree oven 20 minutes. Serve hot.

SUNSHINE BEAN CASSEROLE

16 oz. cooked pinto beans
12 oz. cooked ground beef - crumbled
4 oz. chopped onion
1/2 clove garlic, minced
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon cumin
1/4 cup catsup
2 tablespoons water
4 teaspoons wine vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
Salt and pepper to taste

In a 2-quart casserole, combine beans and meat. In a non-stick saucepan, combine onion and garlic. Cover and cook over low heat until tender. Add remaining ingredients; Mix well. Place mixture in casserole and mix. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Serves 4.

As we read and typed Mrs. Gonzalez' favorite Mexican dishes, it occurred to us that we rarely, if ever, have any of the country's dessert recipes submitted, so we did a bit of searching and came up with one that is reputed to be a perfect sample of Mexico's love for sweets. The dessert is rich, so for starters, serve small portions.

CHOCOLATE-ORANGE CREAM

3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa powder
2 1/2 teaspoons plain gelatin
2 1/2 cups milk
3/4 cup heavy cream, whipped
Additional whipped cream, sweetened
1 pint orange sherbet
Colored candy sprinkles

In a saucepan, combine sugar, cocoa and gelatin. Stir in milk gradually. Cook, stirring until mixture begins to boil and gelatin is dissolved. Cool until slightly thickened. Blend in softened sherbet and fold in whipped cream. Pour in fancy six-cup mold. Chill until firm. To serve, unmold onto platter. Pipe whipped cream around outside edge and pat a dollop on top. Garnish with candy sprinkles. Serves 6 to 8.

WITH PUPPETS

Church revives fading art

A group of young adults at the Church of God have done it again. Yep! They have come up with a fresh, new way to share Jesus.

Saturday evening at 7:30 the "Super Gang" will take the stage. As Becky, Tim, Jeff, Sonshine, Pam and Mr. G. ride on their rickety bus to their concert they will attempt to lead "Hairy the Hitchhiker" to Christ.

The colorful puppets charm the young and old alike. Their cherubic faces and endless enthusiasm carry out a simple message of truth and life. Their laughter and song is contagious to all who watch.

The program is under the direction of Dennis Herder and Teresa Firestone. Those handling the puppets are Eric Olds, Chuck Beggs, Clinton Loggins, Pam Cope, Tillman Firestone and Robert Cook.

Many hours of dedication and preparation have gone into the program.

As an added feature, clowns will be giving free balloons on Saturday evening following the program.

The puppet program will be a regular feature at the Church of God. There will be segments on Wednesday evening during Family Training Hour, also periodic appearances on Sunday morning during children's church.

Many dollars have gone into the purchase of the various puppet personalities.

Parents unable to attend, but would like their children to attend, may obtain a ride on the church van by calling 592-9082 before 6 p.m. Saturday.

The Hawk baseball team opened its season on a winning note Friday, defeating Notre Dame 5-2.

Senior Dale Hayley was credited with the win, working three full innings and turning over the mound

4-H CLUB NEWS

The Valley View 4-H Club met Monday night with Donnie Peters, assistant county agent who gave the group some informative ideas for new projects.

The next meeting will be held March 19 at the Pat Cravens home.

NATIONAL 4-H CITIZENSHIP SHORT COURSE AND HERITAGE TOUR

Texas 4-H'ers and adult leaders will have an opportunity to participate in the National 4-H Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour again this summer.

A total of 80 youth and adult leaders can participate in the program, notes Cheryl Mapston, county Extension agent.

The tour group will depart from Dallas on June 19. Delegates will tour historical points of interest enroute to Washington D.C. The Heritage Tour takes four days and will be highlighted with the Citizenship Short Course at the National 4-H Center. There will be four more days of return travel studying American heritage, with the tour ending in Dallas, July 3.

Points of interest to be visited include the Kennedy Center, Arlington National Cemetery, the Capitol and Library of Congress, memorials to great Americans, Mount Vernon, Williamsburg, Monticello and the Museum of Atomic Energy.

The National 4-H Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour is designed to supplement the citizenship education and leadership development training young people receive through the home, school, church and other organizations, notes Mrs. Mapston.

Citizenship short courses for 4-H members of senior high school age are conducted at the National 4-H Center to supplement the ongoing citizenship training currently provided by local clubs. Listening, sharing, receiving, caring and touring are all a part of the two week personal learning experiences the 4-H'er and leaders will have. Citizenship topics relating to the individual's concept and responsibilities of citizenship are covered in assemblies and mini courses at the National 4-H Center. Foundation personnel, summer staff and guest speakers provide a broad spectrum of resources in the program. The nation's Capitol, the many branches of government, and memorials to great Americans enhance the daily citizenship learning experiences.

Citizenship short courses help young citizens in their personal development:

-Realize their potential as effective participants in our democratic system of government.

-Gain leadership training to help implement newly realized abilities, responsibilities and programs back home.

Alcohol-related deaths declining

Representative Charles Finnell expressed delight today that reports from the Department of Public Safety indicate that accidents with injury related to alcohol are showing a marked reduction.

Finnell said all indications are that the drop is because of tougher DWI legislation which he supported last session of the Legislature and which went into effect Jan. 1.

"The law itself has had a strong impact because the penalties for those convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol are now more severe. The publicity that has surrounded the enactment of the new law has made people more aware of the stiff penalties that they face," Finnell said.

He said statistics show that drinking and driving don't mix. Finnell said that nearly half of all traffic deaths in Texas each year have been related to alcohol. Costs of motor vehicle crashes in 1981, including health care, mortality and productivity costs totalled $907 million.

Finnell said that in 1981, 89,466 Texans were arrested for DWI and in 1982 there were 112,407 DWI arrests.

Finnell adds "in 1983 there were 36,474 alcohol-related traffic accidents, resulting in 1,066 deaths and 17,429 injuries. This is an enormous cost to the people of Texas. In reality it makes drunk drivers the leading threat to public health in the state. It is a situation that has been out of hand. The Legislature saw its responsibility to take strong action to keep the drunk driver off the road and the law that we passed is the result of that concern."

Missionary fund goal set

The Night WMU of First Baptist Church observed the Home Missions Week of Prayer Monday in a meeting held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. A finger foods meal preceded the program.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson directed the program titled "New Visions and New Frontiers" which emphasized work of missionaries in the homeland and goals for the future. She said that the offering goal for the local church was $3,434.34 and $29-million for the Southern Baptist Convention. The work of Lowell Lawson in Detroit, Mich., Glenn Harada in Honolulu, Thomas Kelly, worker in Black relations, Rene Shuler, US2 missionary, and Benny Clark in Park City, Utah was reviewed by Mrs. Patterson. Assisting her were Mmes. S.B. Reaves, D.O. James, J.A. Berg, H.E. Cummings and Riley Thompson.

Mrs. V.I. Woodfin was in charge of business. Mrs. W.F. Booher, missions in action chairman, reported on the needs of a family who lost their home and possessions in a recent fire, and it was voted to make a monetary donation to them.

District officers attend meeting

Two District Six officers of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Mrs. Tommie Prouty, president, and Mrs. Ted Martin, coordinator, were special guests at the Epsilon Eta chapter meeting Tuesday evening. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Phil McDonald, and Mrs. Steve Turner and Mrs. Darrell Gunderson, pledge captains, were the hostesses.

The meeting was highlighted with the Jewel Pin Ceremony which was directed by Mrs. Prouty for the pledges: Mmes. Al Denton, Marvin Robertson, Robert Bumgardner, Bill Burns and Joni Whittis.

During the business, the Easter Seal Telethon for March 31 and April 1 was discussed. Announcement was made of fingerprinting at Fowler P-TA March 31 and City View April 14. Emphasis was placed on the Charity Dance which will be held March 24 at the Wichita Falls Activity Center to benefit the Tom Burnett Memorial Library. Further business included discussion of plans for the annual youth awards given to outstanding students at Iowa Park Junior High School.

CORRECTION

Four errors were made in the Leader's story about Howard Davis' candidacy for Wichita County Sheriff.

Davis served 18 months, not 18 years, on the Burkburnett police force; he is currently serving in elected office, constable of precinct one; he did not run as a candidate against John Gibson, and his wife teaches business, not math, at Iowa Park High School.

The Leader regrets the misinformation and is happy to correct the errors.

State's history is program topic

The Texas Heritage program was presented by three club members dressed in pioneer costumes or modern cowboy attire at a meeting of the 23 Study Club held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earle Denny. Mrs. Riley Thompson was the program leader.

Mrs. Erwin F. Soell presented an appropriate devotion by using excerpts from "Diaries of the Women of the Western Journey." The arts number featured Mrs. Joe Singer in a vocal rendition of "Lovest Thou Me More Than These." Mrs. Bill Bates provided piano accompaniment.

Mmes. Rollins Woodall, H.W. Carter and Homer Blalock composed a panel on "The Remarkable World of Texas."

Mrs. Woodall's topic "Talk of Texas" contained facts gleaned from What's in a Name? American Folklore and Legend, and Footnote to History. She said that the name Texas probably evolved from several tribes, instead of the Tejas Indians, who were allies against a common foe long before the first Spanish explorer landed on the Gulf Coast. She said that the name had been spelled Texia, Thecas, Techan, Teytas and Techsas long before it was spelled out as it is today.

UMW meets

Mrs. Larry Parks read Helen Steiner Rice's poem, "Heart Gifts," to open the meeting for the United Methodist Women Tuesday morning.

During the business directed by Mrs. Parks, the group voted to send specific gifts needed in the Mutumbara Hospital, Mutumbara, Zimbabwe, as a follow-up to the recent study of Africa led by Mrs. H.W. Carter. It was also voted to make a monetary gift in honor of Mrs. Bobbie Mankey, the four year president of the North Texas Conference of UMW.

Mrs. Eldon Thompson used for an interesting meditation "People Is Like Onions" by S.D. Matthews taken from Guidepost Treasury of Faith, which is the story of a black woman's quiet faith that overcame all obstacles. Quoting the author, she concluded with "happiness in life is not so much a matter of achieving a goal as it is reaching for one with a great deal of love."

Twenty four members were present.

From the second source, she gave Davey Crockett's impression of Texas as the best climate, prettiest women and bravest men in contrast to what others thought about the state who said that "Gone to Texas" was the fugitives' forwarding address.

From Footnote to History, the main point of interest was how Mexico offered to sell Texas to Great Britain in 1837 for the cancellation of a 68 million dollar debt even though Texas had won her independence at San Jacinto.

She concluded with three items under the title "You Might Like to Know." One dealt with the origin of the Frito, another with the author of Roberts' Rules of Order, who was the engineer that designed the original seawall at Galveston; and an invention by Charles Goodnight, legendary Texas, that upgraded trail cooking.

Mrs. Carter's topic, "Animal House, Texas Style" told the story of the Y.O. Ranch of 50,000 acres on the highway between San Antonio and El Paso which remains a part of 550,000 acres acquired in 1880 by Captain Charles Schreiner, who drove more than 300,000 head of Longhorn cattle along the Western Trail to Dodge City, amassing his fortune.

The ranch is owned and worked today by Charles Schreiner III and his four sons. It has more than 500 Longhorns now, comprising the largest registered herd in the country and many other breeds of cattle, sheep and goats. Unlike many Texas ranches it has no oil or gas spewing from its soil, and it is a working ranch in the truest sense with the ranch deriving about half of its income from ranching activities.

Mrs. Carter explained that there are no running creeks or rivers on the ranch, and that water for all purposes is furnished by 52 wells with regular windmills. After a devastating drought in the 1950s when the ranch had no rain for seven years, the Schreiners determined that a second source of income was necessary for the ranch's survival. The rock terrain that bore a strong resemblance to Africa made them decide to stock it with exotic animals for hunting. This became a reality when game was imported from parts of Africa, Asia and Europe to augment the already herds of native animals and flocks of wild turkey. "Today, the Y.O. is world renown for its hunting program and is, in fact, larger than some of the most noted places in India and Africa," Mrs. Carter said.

Included in the animals from other countries are Axis deer and blackbuck antelope from India and Sika deer from Japan. There are also many endangered species to be looked at and photographed only. Other attractions include hunter cabins built out of abandoned stone and wooden structures, a century old school house, stage coach stop, country post office, all furnished in antiques.

According to Mrs. Carter, some of the special facets of Y.O. include year round hunting, a photo safari and outdoor awareness programs. Many wildlife photographers and National Geographic have taken wildlife shots, several films have been produced on the vast area of the ranch, and many Mariboro ads have been made there.

"Pioneers in Petticoats" was the topic of Mrs. Blalock's talk which she introduced with "From beneath the brims of sunbonnets have gazed the steady eyes of the most courageous and compassionate women who ever rocked cradles on the lonely frontier." She described how the pioneer women of Texas were able to make happy, livable homes out of dugouts and log cabins through their make-do ingenuity, dogged endurance, self-reliance, an abiding faith in God and their husbands, and used three women for examples.

The first of these was Jane Long, the Mother of Texas, whose courage at Bolivar Point in 1891 was a lingering light to be caught by the daughters of Texas who followed her. The second was Cynthia Ann Parker, who was captured and whisked away on the back of a fleet of Indians when she was a nine-year-old girl. The speaker spotlighted her for her inspiration to her son, Chief Quannah Parker, who became a major force in bringing peace between the Indians and the settlers, both of whose blood he carried.

The third pioneer woman given consideration was Frenchy McCormick, who lived in a "dobe" house for more than 50 years and in a ghost town all alone for more than 20 years simply "to be near her man who preceded her in death and to keep a pledge." Her life was one of the sweetest love stories of the times, according to the priest who officiated at her funeral rites.

Mrs. Blalock used French's words, "my man was a good man; he was a gambler, but everybody had to gamble in those days" to emphasize how the pioneer women of Texas took on giant-sized gambles in making their homes. Removing the old-fashioned bonnet that she had worn during her talk, she held it high and concluded with "Those sunbonnet girls left Texas a heritage worth living up to."

Mrs. D.O. James directed the business following the program. The projects for 1984-86 were adopted, plans were made for attending the Santa Rosa District Convention March 16-17. Mrs. China B. Smith gave out nomination forms for the 1984 Iowa Park High School Senior Girl and Boy for members on her committee to distribute.

During the social hour, refreshments were served from a table laid with pink linen and appointed with a centerpiece created of pink and white silk spring flowers topped with china doves, silver and crystal services.

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS

Planting Potatoes—On Top of the Ground

Potatoes are a favorite eating crop, but they are not widely grown in Texas gardens. Why? Perhaps because gardeners think they are too hard to grow.

If this notion has kept you from planting potatoes, you may be interested in this alternative approach. Though it sounds unusual, this technique involves planting your potatoes on top of the soil, and it is really quite simple.

Plan on planting your potatoes about 3 to 4 weeks prior to the last anticipated freeze in your area. About 3 to 4 days before this date, cut your whole, certified seed potatoes (do not use table-stock potatoes) into pieces weighing 1-1/2 to 2 ounces each, with at least one eye in each piece. Dust the seed pieces with a fungicide like Captan and cure the pieces in a warm, humid place until planting.

Prepare the soil by tilling it as deeply as possible, working in a complete fertilizer and liberal amounts of organic matter. At planting time, set the seed pieces firmly into the top of the soil, about 8 to 10 inches apart. Rows should be at least 3 feet apart.

Now comes the part that explains how you can grow potatoes "above ground." Cover the seed pieces with 3 to 4 inches of compost, well-rotted hay, grass clippings, or some other organic matter.

Within 3 to 4 weeks, the potato plants will emerge through the covering of organic material. When the plants are 3 to 4 inches tall, apply another 2 inches of organic matter around them. This is the equivalent of "dirting" traditionally grown potatoes. You may need to add another layer in a week or two as the organic matter settles.

Stop adding the organic material when the seed pieces are covered to a depth of 6 to 8 inches—this is the optimum depth for potato production. The potatoes will develop right in this layer of organic matter, which means there will be less chance of soilborne disease and cracks in the potatoes.

Within 90 days, you will be able to reach down into the compost around your plants and pull out your first above-ground-grown potatoes—smooth, clean, and trouble-free.
