Light vote expected

Voting in Saturday's Democratic Party primary runoff is anticipated to be so light, the 60 voting precincts in Wichita County have been consolidated into 23 boxes.

Only three positions are to be decided. Two are candidates for criminal appeals court judges and the third, which is anticipated to have the most appeal to voters, will decide the party's candidate for U.S. Senator.

Precincts 32, 33, 34 and 60 have all been consolidated into one box, which will be located at the County Agricultural Building here in Iowa

Voters of five precincts, 36, 37, 38, 39 and 49, will all cast their ballots at O.A. Lee Motor Co. in Electra.

Five other precincts, 18, 42, 44, 53 and 55, will vote in the box at City View School.

The race that probably will steal the day's showing is the one to select which of two candidates will represent the party to vie for Sen. John Tower's seat in Washington.

Contesting for that position are Lubbock's Kent Hance and Lloyd Doggett of Austin. The victor will face Republican Phil Gramm in the general election next November.

In the runoff for Place Two on the criminal appeals court are W.C. Davis and Roy E. Greenwood, while Bill White and Thomas B. Thorpe are vying as candidates for Place Three. Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at

Voters who did not cast ballots in the first primary are eligible to vote in the runoff, according to Vernon Cannon, county clerk. However, anyone who voted in the Republican Primary cannot vote Saturday in the Democratic Party Primary, Cannon said. Republicans are not having a runoff primary this year.

Only in the general election can one vote for one party in a primary and then vote for a candidate from another party, cross-over voting.

Young Jimmy had disappeared to the bottom of the pit with Rusty, 10, watching. He yelled to his father, who was about 40 feet away, and the equipment was shut down immediately.

Emergency personnel from the fire department were dispatched and they, with the help of the others, dug the youngster out.

He was unconscious, scratched and bruised, but breathing.

Aldermen table action on golf course proposal

City council members Monday night tabled action on a golf course proposal, but approved bids offered for surplus equipment and hiring of summer help and also held the first of two public hearings needed to apply for grant funds.

At its May 14 meeting, council members agreed to discuss city participation with developer Rip Smith in the construction of a golf

Results of those discussions were that the city might pay approximately $56,000 for a water line to the course site, Smith personally borrow the $250,000 required to build the course, and the city be reimbursed for the water line from part of the green

During open discussion on the proposal, Mayor Tim Hunter said the "presentation we have, I don't like." He explained, in effect, the city would be loaning money toward the project, but has no time frame for repayment.

Hunter then offered a solution. He said if the city were to put in the line, own and maintain it, the affluent from the sewer treatment plant could be sold to the course, insuring

Another hearing will be held at the next meeting concerning an application to the Department of Housing and Urban Development for a grant to replace water lines in the older parts of town.

Administrator James Barrington told the council he intended to ask for a grant of $100,000 to replace the lines and also add valves so the entire city's water supply would not be interrupted when repairing a break.

Hodges' car was impounded and they spent the night in jail. After being taken before Justice of the Peace Virgil Hill Tuesday morning. they were taken to the county jail on charges of criminal mischief. Both were released that afternoon after posting $750 bond each.

Copeland, Schreiber vows are exchanged Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alan Schreiber, who were married Saturday evening at the New Life Cathedral in Wichita Falls, departed from the church on a wedding trip to Dallas and Las Vegas. The bride changed from her wedding gown into a burgundy three-piece suit for travel, wearing with it a pink shirt and an ivory rose and wine azalea corsage.

The bride is the former Lori Ann Copeland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Veasey and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Copeland of Wichita Falls, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Speybroeck of Iowa

Rev. Jerry Kay performed the double-ring ceremony at an altar

Two named life members

The Iowa Park Garden Club closed activities for the year Friday morning at a brunch held in the home of Mrs. China B. Smith. Co-hostesses were Mrs. George Boles and Mrs. R.L. Good. The tables were beautifully appointed with floral arrangements, napkins and place mats in a refreshing spring motif.

During the business directed by Mrs. Good, it was voted to honor Mrs. Arch Hughes and Mrs. James Sewell with life memberships and to sponsor a fund for Linda Deason, a former member. Club members contributed to a monetary love offering for her.

Mrs. Frank Harlin conducted an impressive installation ceremony and used "Poems" for her theme. Those installed were Mmes. Vernon Gilbert, president; Charlie Lee, vice president; Roman Bartosh, secretary; George Bowles, corresponding secretary; Jimmy Gilmore, historian; and Robert Illingworth, treasurer.

Mrs. Gilbert named her committee chairmen and members, and Mrs. Good, the retiring president, was presented with a scrapbook. Mrs. Jerry Brooks and Mrs. Jerry Reed were guests.

centered with a brass archway entwined with greenery, dusty rose and wine flowers and topped with a crown of votive candles. On either side stood seven-branched candelabra decorated in the same theme, and the unity candlestick completed the decor. The brass aisle markers featured matching flower baskets.

Terry McNeil, who served as organist and pianist, presented a medley of prelude music, played "Just You and I" during the lighting of the unity candle by the bride and groom, and the traditional marches. He provided accompaniment for Miss LeiLoni Bugg of Three Rivers who sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The bride was presented in marriage by her stepfather. She was glowing with joy as she walked down the aisle in a lovely gown of white polyester sheer, Chantilly and Venise laces embellished with seed pearls and sequins. The gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice trimmed in Venise lace, stand-up neckline, V-shaped front and back yokes accented with the jewelled trim, leg-of-mutton sleeves of Chantilly lace. The sheer skirt was gathered and draped over a hemline of lace tiers that formed a chapel train.

Her full length veil bordered with Chantilly lace and the rolled edge blusher fell from a camelot cap adorned with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of ivory roses, azaleas, small flowers and fern leaves made distinct with mauve silk and ivory lace streamers.

The bride kept traditions by wearing her mother's cultured pearls for "something borrowed;" carrying a handkerchief for "something old," and a white Bible for "something new;" and wore the "something blue'

She wore white lace pantaloons trimmed with wine bows and a hairpiece of white lace and wine ribbons. She carried a white basket with trailing mauve ribbons filled with the flowers and accents chosen for the bride's bouquet.

Brandt Fulfer of Wichita Falls carried the ring pillow and was dressed like the groom who wore a white classic tuxedo with tails, matching flares, white pin-tucked shirt, pearl studs and cuff links, white tie and cummerbund.

Darvl Schreiber of Huntsville, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Kenneth Copeland and Kenny Copeland of Midland, father and brother, respectively, of the bride, and Richard Huff. The ushers were James Beall and Louis Flores. All wore silver classic tuxedos with matching flares, white pin-tucked shirts, silver ties and cummerbunds. They wore wine roses with baby's breath for boutonnieres. The bride's stepfather wore identical attire.

The candlelighters, Tommy Copeland, brother of the bride, Bobby Van Speybroeck, brother of the groom were dressed like male members of the wedding party, and Brandi Biddy, who wore a long wine-colored dress made with empire waist, puffed sleeves and her headpiece contained the same flowers and accents that were used in the bridal attendants' bouquets.

The train of the bride's gown was carried by Kendra Copeland, her sister, who wore a full length dusty rose dress and head wreath in the style of the one worn by Brandi Biddy.

Sitgreaves, Bozeman marriage vows exchanged Friday evening

A double-ring ceremony was officiated Friday evening at Faith Baptist Church by the bride's brother-in-law, Rev. Val Fowler minister of the Trinity Presbyterian Church at Denton, to unite Miss Aimi Carol Sitgreaves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Sitgreaves, and Charles Allen Bozeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Durham R. Bozeman.

Andy Sitgreaves, brother of the bride, escorted her to the altar and presented her in marriage for her parents. She chose a youthful bouffant gown of white silk organza fashioned with an appealing band of Rachel lace forming a capelet effect around the on or off-the-shoulder scoop neckline, modified ruffled and cuffed bishop sleeves and cummerbund. The flowing A-line skirt was delicately accented with a deep flounce of ruffles that swirled into a chapel train.

Her two-tiered lace-edged sheer veil fell from a cap of lace and pearls closely fitted to the back of her head, and she carried a striking silk bouquet of peach and baby blue silk roses, white gypsophila, lace and ribbon streamers in the bride's colors

Strength is vital

A strong Bell is good for Texas. It has a nice ring, and it's true. When I meet with many of you at meetings and on the street, I usually talk about how important it is for Texas to have a strong and financially sound Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

My message is simple: The strength of Southwestern Bell Telephone is vital to the strength of a growing Texas.

Texas always has been a leader in telecommunications and Texas must remain a leader. Top quality communications service is imperative to attract and hold the high technology, "clean" industry which is an integral part of the state's economic future.

And Texas must have a strong framework to assure that the state draws those high-tech firms. Education and transportation, for instance, are essential aspects. Telecommunications, a must in that framework, cannot be a second-class partner in the future of the Lone Star State.

Our state's high-tech companies thrive on communications. We know we must be able to meet their needs, and the needs of every Texas customer, efficiently and quickly. However, our ability to take care of the needs of every Texan we serve is in direct relationship to the revenues we have available.

Our partnership

We are in partnership with this state, and all Texans. We must have the dollars necessary to keep up and keep Texas in the forefront of telecommunications.

The demands of Texas as a high-growth area put intense pressures on our resources. That's why every one of the company's employees has to take on the personal responsibility of assuring that our revenues stretch as far as possible. Why am I telling you all this?

Because we feel our message of service and financial strength is one for all Texans. Texans for Texans. It's what Southwestern Bell Telephone is all about.

A good value

Your service. Take a closer look — it's a value!

Even though your rates for local telephone service will be going up a few cents, compare your monthly bill in relation to many other items. I think you'll find that it's a bargain.

Just think about some of the items you buy every month. The average cost of cable television is about $33 (basic package and two movie channels) and the cost of a fast-food meal for a family of four once a week for a month is about $40. Even a carton of cigarettes a week will run you about $32. And if you are like most Texans, you probably purchase about 800 gallons of gas a year. That's about $75 a month — just for one car. Residential customers in Texas with basic, one-party service now pay an average of $10.35 per month for telephone service. When you think about it - and compare - it's so little for 24-hour, 7-day-aweek service that gives you access to your friends across town, across Texas and to any of the world's 450 million telephones.

He was born April 22, 1929, in Ennis. He and Emma Pearl Dickey were married Dec. 29, 1962, in Wichita Falls. He lived in Iowa Park 49 years and was a field superintendent for Galaxy Oil Co. He was a veteran of the Korean War and a member of the Baptist Church.

Jimmie D. Brown

Services for Jimmie D. Brown, 51, who died of a heart attack at his Lake Arrowhead home, were held Friday at the Faith Baptist Church with Rev. John Klappenbach of Vernon officiating. Burial was in Crestview Memorial Park under direction of Hampton-Vaughan Funeral Home.

He was born Jan. 20, 1933, in Wichita Falls. He was president of Smi-Bro Chemical & Equipment Co. He was a member of Texas Association of Business and National Federation of Independent Business.

He is survived by two daughters, Karen Diane Jordan and Venisa Gail Williams, both of Wichita Falls; a son, Jimmy Don Jr. of Iowa Park; his mother, Verna Mae of Wichita Falls; a sister, Nelda Stoneking of Oklahoma City; two brothers, Bobbie of Oblong, Ill. and Billie of Iowa Park; and two grandchildren.

As I See It....

There's never a good time to raise taxes, but there have been few times when the economy of rural Texas were worse than now.

West Texas farmers have experienced two consecutive busts as rainfall fell far below average, and things aren't looking much better this season. Coupled with poor prices for crops and livestock, and farmers just aren't in much of a position to pay higher taxes.

Those in the oil business are pretty much the same. Sure there are some who have big producing wells who could afford more without going under, but borderline operators and especially those in the drilling and servicing business are about in the same position as the farmers.

And then, those whose livelihood depends on either or both reflect exactly the same financial conditions. If a farmer isn't doing well or a driller's rig is stacked, they don't buy trucks, clothing, cut back on foods and certainly eliminate non-necess-

For this reason, there are millions of Texans looking toward Austin, where the state legislature convenes in special session Monday to consider raising almost $5-billion in new taxes.

Gov. Mark White called the special gathering to raise the money for higher teacher salaries and highway repairs.

Wasn't it White, during his campaign to get elected, who said teacher salaries could be raised 24 percent without any new taxes?

And wasn't it just a few months ago that the federal government increased gasoline taxes to be used for highway repairs?

White used teachers and those who support public education to get elected, by making promises he could not fulfill and either lied or exposed ignorance that new taxes wouldn't be needed to fund more for education.

Another problem, from my estimation, is that when people of a school district support the proposal for more money, they might not get any of the additional funds, and could. in fact, get even less from the state than they now get.

This comes from a proposal that "poorer" districts should get a greater share than "richer" districts. It's the old philosophy of taking from the haves and giving to the have-nots.

Problem is, some school districts that may be in poor shape building or staff wise might have as much money as those better off, but the local boards intentionally held down local tax rates, thereby limiting funds for education.

Personally, I doubt seriously the legislature will raise the $4.8-billion in new taxes White is seeking. But my doubt may be based more on my own financial situation than what will take place at the capital.

Looking at the situation from another standpoint, I can see very easily how the proposal could pass. and maybe even be higher.

Most elected officials are going to reflect the desires of their people back home. Since a majority of legislators come from border counties and metropolitan areas, it just might be White will get his wish. I say the border counties, because those areas are really financially depressed this year after the crop freeze. A high percentage of these counties' population is Hispanic, and all three best-known organizations representing the Hispanic population have encouraged the proposed education bill.

Then you have the people living in the big cities. I think it's safe to say a major part of those populations know little about taxes, especially property taxes, since they live in apartments. They do pay taxes, but in the form of rent, and thereby have no realization what property taxes are. Also, residents of big cities often get the feeling "someone else" does things, like paying taxes, and they vote along liberal lines.

Rarely have I ever agreed with anything said by Bob Bullock, state comptroller, but a recent news release from his office certainly struck home.

"Billion dollar tax bills are rare, to say the least, but we've seen them in states that run big deficit spending. But figures like $4.8 billion are what you usually hear coming out of Congress." Of course, Bullock is doing what anyone with an eye on the governor's seat does, take pot shots at the

But, as I see it, Texans just aren't ready for $4.8-billion in new tax dollars, and I don't think the legislature should approve the package as presented.

Grates in the bottom kept him from becoming entangled in the conveyer, but also prevented his extraction through the lower openings.

His legs extended through the opening, which his father could see from the lower tunnel. Reeves explained he couldn't continue dumping the gravel because the boy's legs were on the conveyer, however.

Three points, besides the prompt response of help, contributed to the youth's safety.

First of all, he had fallen into the gravel pit, rather than into the one holding the sand. Emerged over hie head almost 30 minutes, the larger rock permitted at least some air. He could have suffocated had he been in the sand that long a period.

Secondly, he was wearing a helmet because he and Rusty had been riding a three-wheel motor vehicle. Reeves credited the helmet with resisting any damage to the boy's head due to the weight of the rock and his rescuers.

The third, and possibly most important point, was the fact that the father was operating equipment from the exterior control panel. The interior panel is located several yards more distant, and precious time would have been lost while Rusty was trying to notify his father.

Reeves said he had never had a problem like that before, but added he intended to cover the pits with grates similar to those, covering dumping pits at grain elevators.

Rusty, after he had calmed down with the knowledge his young brother was safe, admitted he was anxious for school to start again. "I'll have a lot to tell my classmates," he

PLAQUE POINTERS

Plaque is probably the biggest cause of tooth decay and eventual loss of teeth. What is it? How do you get it, and what do you do?

Plaque is the sticky, practically colorless film that builds up continuously on the teeth. The main parts of the plaque are bacteria. . . one milligram (not very much) plaque can contain as many as a half billion bacteria. Bacteria ferment sugars in the mouth (why not to eat sweets), changing them to acids which then eat away at the enamel - then "Look, Ma I have a cavity. As the plaque creeps below the gum line, it mineralizes and becomes sharp and rough deposits of tartar attached to the sides and root of the teeth. This is the beginning of periodontal (gum) disease which is by far, the major cause of tooth loss in adults. Plaque must be removed daily by "Proper" flossing and toothbrush. Be sure that your dentist has shown you the proper way to use both. After all we weren't born with this knowledge. The best way, if not the only way, to remove the tartar and long established plaque is to have a professional cleaning at regular intervals. Remember plaque will start to form again and you are the only one that can remove it

Thompson, Holland wed in United Methodist Church Friday

The chapel of First United Methodist Church was the setting for a wedding ceremony characterized by beautiful simplicity officiated Friday evening by Rev. George Topper to unite Miss Theresa Kay Thompson and Ernest Paul Holland.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Thompson of Iowa Park and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Holland of Wichita Falls.

The couple stood before an altar table centered with a long silk arrangement of lavender mums and white daisies banked around three clear hurricane globes holding white candles. The chapel pews were marked with white silk bows.

Don Owens, organist, presented a prelude of traditional wedding music and played the familiar marches. He accompanied Paula Mashburn and Jay Yeakley for a duet number, "Endless Love."

MRS. ERNEST PAUL HOLLAND

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a dainty floor length gown befitting a spring wedding of white sheer and Chantilly lace over white satin. The gown featured a natural waist bodice with a high neckoine and a yoke bordered with a deep lace ruffle, long sleeves cuffed at the wrists, and a satin waistline sash. The skirt was especially attractive with its wide lace hemline flounce.

She wore a waistlength illusion veil edged in lace and seed pearls with a blusher, both caught to a headpiece of white silk flowers dotted with seed pearls. She carried a silk bouquet of lavender roses and white daisies accented with lavender and white lace streamers. For "something old" and "something borrowed," the bride wore her mother's white wedding gloves. Her dress was "something new," and she used a penny covered with blue satin for the "good luck" and "something blue" sentimental accessories.

Miss Lori Ann Barr attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a modish waltz length lavender Qiana dress with spaghetti straps, off-theshoulder ruffles and cummerbund. She carried a nosegay of lavender roses and baby's breath with matching ribbons.

The groom wore a satin-lapelled gray tuxedo with bow tie and cummerbund. He was attended by his father as best man who wore a light blue western suit. Charles L. Thompson of Austin, brother of the bride, served as usher.

The mothers of the bride and groom wore white rose corsages and white accessories with their dresses of street-length. Mrs. Thompson wore a rose polyester dress with pleated skirt and Mrs. Holland wore a pastel floral print polyester dress.

The reception following the wedding was hosted by the bride's parents in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The fine distinction of the setting was noted in the refreshment table draped to the floor with a pleated skirt. Silk ivy accented with lavender bows and streamers extended around the top of the cloth

The graceful centerpiece was a four-branched silver candelabrum adorned modestly for the occasion with an arrangement of white snapdragons and leatherleaf and white candles. A silver compote filled with lavender double wedding bell mints and the lavender napkins lettered in silver with "Ernest and Theresa, May 25, 1984" appointed the foreground of the table, and the extremities were marked with the silver punch bowl and cake.

The bride's chosen colors of lavender and white were detailed to excellent advantage in the cake of three tiers. The deep sculptured garlands were accented with tiny pale lavender roses at intervals. Grecian posts lifted the top tier to give extra height to the confection and to afford a better view of the second tier decorated with lavender roses and white lilies of the valley. A formally dressed bridal couple stood in front of a trellis covered with stephanotis and lilies of the valley for the top ornamentation.

Miss Susan Piatt presided at the

Guests registered at a round table covered with white satin encircled with English ivy at the top, holding a candle encased in a hurricane globe, the book and plume pen. Mrs. Vance Walck directed their signatures.

The bride and groom were both graduated from Iowa Park High School and are students at Midwestern State Univ. He is employed at Cryovac. They went to Dallas for a short wedding trip and will live in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Al Denton

Cakes play an important part in the most significant moments of people's lives, whether they are towering wedding cakes, children's birthday cakes blazing with many candles, anniversary or just cakes for special occasions.

The cake that Connie (Mrs. Al) Denton is pictured with today is one of her own creations, and made the family reunion given to honor Mrs. Nannie G. Morris a more festive and special occasion. The reunion was held Saturday at the Recreational Activities Center and attended by 84 relatives, including her 10 children, and all declared Connie a "master cake artist.'

The three-tiered white cake with two sets of columns featured delicate pipe and scroll icing around each tier, cascades and clusters of roses tinted blue at the sides and on top of the

The cake decorations held special appeal for the Morris children because Mrs. Cornell Evans, one of the children, had placed figurines representing the work or profession of each of them on the cake. These included construction, oil field, needlework, poodle grooming, nurse, book worm, grocery clerk, farmer's wife, teacher and babysitter. The top piece depicted Mrs. Morris and her late husband, C.C. Morris in the garden, an important place in their lives when they were rearing their children. He had a hoe in his hand and she had laid her implements aside and sat down to rest.

Connie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Morrison, and she gives her mother, who is truly a cake artist, credit for the talent that she has. In fact, she says that she learned all the tricks that she knows from just watching her mother decorate cakes through the years.

The "like mother, like daughter" pattern is true not only in the lives of Dema and Connie in cake baking and decorating but also in their social lives. For years, Mrs. Morrison was an active member of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, and Connie has just completed her year as a pledge and is now a full fledged member of the Connie was graduated from Iowa Park High School. She is a member of New Life Cathedral and active in Little League baseball. She and Al, who is employed at Cryovac, have three children, Robert, 10, Timothy, eight, and Kristi, three. Her hobbies are sports and cake decorating.

Neely, Wilson wedding held in Wichita Falls

A double-ring ceremony was performed Friday evening in the Kiva Inn Ballroom by Rev. Doyle Henderson, a Methodist minister, to unite Laura Lynn Neely and Ronald Wayne Wilson.

The bride is the daughter of Eunice Neely of Vernon and Tom Neely of Wichita Falls, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson of Dallas.

For her wedding, the bride, who was presented in marriage by her father, chose a formal ivory gown of summer satin and embroidered lace and pearls.

The natural waist bodice was covered in lace and designed with a high neck and sheer yoke of English net accented with embroidery and pearls and encircled with a two-tier flounce of satin. The full skirt featured panels of lace all over forming a ruffle flounce in front that draped up one side and continued in the back. A hemline flounce swept into a chapel train.

She wore a hat of matching lace with silk flowers and bridal illusion flowing to waltz length in the back. She carried a cascade of ivory roses and baby orchids, mauve phlox with rose and ivory ribbons. For her jewelry, the bride wore pearl earrings and her mother's cross necklace with diamonds. She carried her grandmother's blue antique handkerchief for sentimental interest.

The nuptial space was decorated with votive crescent candelabra traced with boxwood greenery flanked by spiral candelabra. Brass stands on either side held arrangements of gladioli, carnations and fern. An arrangement of the same flowers centered with a candle was used on the piano top.

Cowley, Cockburn are recognized

Two Iowa Park students attending East Texas State Univ. have been recognized for their studies during the spring semester. James Cowley was named to the President's Honor Roll and Brian Cockburn to the Dean's List. To be eligible for the President's Honor Roll, a student must score a straight A or 4.00 grade point average on a minimum of 12 semester hours. Dean's List students must post a minimum of a 3.25 grade point average on a minimum of 12 hours.

Whisnand receives President's Award

Craig Whisnand has been named a recipient of the President's Leadership Award for 1984-85 academic year at Abilene Christian Univ., according to Bitsy Roberts, admissions counselor.

"This is a significant honor and represents our confidence in Craig's abilities and character," Roberts said of the son of Mr. and Mrs. L.S. Whisnand.

MRS. RONALD WAYNE WILSON

For prelude musical numbers, Noni presented Dressler, pianist, "Wrapped Around Your Finger," "My Love and You Are," "Faithfully," "Leather and Lace," and "Beast of Burden." As the wedding party and bride walked to the nuptial area, Glen and Claudia Veteto sang "Love Lift Me Up," theme song from "Officer and a Gentleman.'

Lindley Neely of College Station, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Teresa Miccuci of Wichita Falls and Daniele Edwards of San Francisco, Calif. were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of rose taffeta fashioned with fitted bodices, low cut backs, three quarter length sleeves and intermezzo length skirts. They carried hurricane globes accented with rose ribbons and filled with ivory roses, and baby orchids, mauve phlox and shell fern.

The groom wore a pearl grey tuxedo, white shirt, grey vest and cravat with studs. The male members of the wedding party were dressed the same except for wearing grey bow ties instead of cravats.

Glen Veteto served as best man, and the groomsmen were Tommy Neely of Vernon, brother of the bride, and Glen Wilson of Dallas, brother of the groom. Kevin and Mark Schiwart of Vernon were the ushers.

The bride's mother wore a formal miramist gown styled with a natural waist bodice, square neck of Schiffli embroidery, three quarter length sleeves, waistline sash, A-line skirt with a deep hem border of the embroidery. The groom's mother wore an A-line dress of rose chiffon designed with a high neck and long sleeves. Their corsages were composed of ivory roses, mauve phlox with touches of rose ribbon.

Sunny Schiwart was seated at the round registry table covered with ivory taffeta holding the wedding book, plume pen and a brass candle.

A reception hosted by the bride's father followed the wedding. The bride's table was covered with ivory satin draped around the top with English ivy caught to ivory bows. The centerpiece was a brass candelabrum arrayed with silk gladioli, carnations, mums and roses in her colors and

A brass punch bowl, brass mint dish filled with pink mint hearts, gray napkins engraved with names of the bride and groom and their wedding date completed the table decor. The names of the couple were also lettered on the rose-colored match holders given for favors. Brenda Underwood and Cheryl Hall of Carbondale, Ill. served refreshments during the reception.

Following a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will live in Wichita Falls.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School and summa cum laude from Midwestern State Univ. where she received the bachelor's in theater arts. She was president of Alpha Psi Omega. She also earned the master's in theater directing from Southern Illinois Univ. She is employed by Tom Neely's law office.

The groom was graduated from Brian Adams High School in Dallas and earned the degree in theater arts from MSU. He was a member of Alpha Psi Omega and was the recipient of the Moran scholarship. He is manager of O'Phelan's Restaurant. This summer he will be resident actor with the Oklahoma Shakespeare Festival.

Couple sets July date

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Andrew Smith of Windthorst are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Lisa Michelle, and Steven Jeffrey Page, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Page of Wichita Falls.

Miss Smith was graduated from Windthorst High School and is a student at Midwestern State Univ. The prospective groom was graduated from Iowa Park High School in 1982 and attended Mary-Hardin Baylor at Belton.

The couple will be married July 6 at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Windthorst.

Some people don't know their electric bills can be about the same all year round.

Some do.

The Average Payment Plan will put you in the know; and just in time to take the heat off your hot weather bills.

You'll still pay for all the electricity you use. But under the Average Payment Plan, your bills will be more even all year round.

The plan is based on a 12-month average that's refigured each month. So you can pay less during the months you use the most electricity, by paying more during the months you use less.

The Average Payment Plan is available to Texas Electric residential customers. So look into it today. It's definitely worth knowing about.
