MONDAY NIGHT

Council to name new police chief

The Iowa Park city council is expected to name its choice for the new chief of police at Monday night's meeting.

Selection of a new chief heads a lengthy agenda which also includes setting of the tax rate and budget for 1984-85. The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

The school board agenda for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building is not nearly so lengthy as is the city's.

Filling the head slot in the police department has been a major consideration since the June resignation of Tom Fenley. Aldermen recently narrowed the field of applicants to five, and held interviews with each in order to make their decision next week.

During the interim, Capt. Robert Dean has served as temporary chief.

Aldermen are expected to approve a $1.9-million budget and set the tax rate at .7582-cents per $100 valuation.

The budget, which includes $1,174,255 for the general fund and $759,000 for the water and sewer department, is the result of some half a dozen work sessions held by council members.

An ordinance will also be considered which would reorganize two city departments into one, and create the position of public works director, according to Administrator James Barrington.

In an effort to streamline the efforts of workers in the street and water departments, the two departments would be merged into one. Instead of having a superintendent over each department, the public works director would administer over the combined department, Barrington explained. Workers would then be able through cross training to work either on streets or water works jobs, as needed.

The North Texas Housing Finance Corporation is on the agenda twice. The first is to appoint a representative to the organization, probably former mayor Charlie Lee, who has been serving in that capacity the past year.

Also a resolution will be considered to authorize amending the corporation's articles to include Holliday, Quanah and the county of Wilbarger as sponsors.

Three bids are to be considered. One is for construction of the street in the 700 block of West Louisa.

Another would authorize Barrington to enter into a contract for engineering services at the waste water treatment plant.

The third bid involves authorizing the administrator to advertise for phase two renovation of the city hall. This would be financed partly by surplus funds and the balance by federal revenue sharing funds.

Also on the agenda is the appointment of one electrical board member and two to the parks board; discussion of street improvement priorities and discussion of testing procedures for electrical licensing.

SCHOOL MEETING

School trustees are to hear the annual tax report; discuss track facilities at the high school; hear a report from athletic director David Baugh concerning the golf program; hear a report on the value of undeveloped lots owned by the school, and also hear a report on construction of the music building at Bradford Elementary.

IT'S OFFICIAL - Iowa Park is now an official Texas 1986 Sesquicentennial Community, and has a flag and plaque to prove it. Jo Ann Starr, presented Mayor Tim Hunter with the plaque Friday, while other members of the local organization, Keith Aulds, Robert Palmer and Joni Whitis exhibited the new flag, which is to be flown over city hall. Mrs. Starr is a program development officer from Austin.

IN PENNSYLVANIA

Iowa Parkan captured following crime spree

A young Iowa Park man is facing numerous serious charges in Pennsylvania following a series of incidents last week in that state.

Joe Lynn Kinney, 19, of 1108 W. Cornelia, is in the McKean County jail under $250,000 bond and facing a hearing today. Kinney attended Iowa Park High School but did not graduate.

Why Kinney was in the northeastern state is unknown, but a companion, Donald Felix Biauce, 27, is said to have relatives living in Wichita Falls.

The Iowa Parkan and his companion are charged with attempted murder, kidnapping, burglary, conspiracy, unlawful restraint, motor vehicle theft, aggravated assault, criminal attempt and resisting arrest.

Various charges have been filed by four different police departments located in the northwestern part of Pennsylvania.

According to an officer at one of those departments, who asked not to be identified, said the series of criminal events began early week, when Biauce, of Kane, Penn., and Nick Peterson, of Union City, Penn., were "involved in an attempted theft and other violations" in the Millcreek Township.

Police gave chase and the two suspects were involved in an accident. The car in which they were riding was apparently registered to Kinney.

Peterson was arrested and placed in Corry County Jail. Biauce was sent to the Erie hospital. But before treatment was completed and he was released, Biauce escaped. Millcreek PD alerted all departments in the area.

A search of the Corry area was held Wednesday and Thursday, but to no avail. Neither were the police aware of Kinney at that time.

However, Thursday, Kinney and Biauce entered a residence in Union Township. John Kennedy, the owner, and his family were not at home at the time.

The first of the family to arrive were the son and mother, who were bound and gagged, as was the sister when she arrived and later the father. Two other persons, visiting the Kennedys over the Labor Day holiday, arrived and also were captured.

The two men, taking a quantity of cash and some weapons, left some six hours later in a stolen pickup, heading into Warren County.

It was in Corry that a medically-retired officer was driving in his vehicle, and he had learned of scanner. The description was put out when the elder Kennedy man had broken loose from his bonds.

The former officer, Dennis Crosby, spotted the duo and began following. On the outskirts of Warren, the two suspects opened fire at Crosby, striking him three times. He was able, however, to drive himself to a hospital where yesterday he was reported as improving.

The subjects fled into a wooded area outside Warren, where a search and roadblock was set up by lawmen.

Not found, Kinney and Biauce broke into another home, taking a couple captive. From them, a yellow Trans Am was taken, and the pair headed toward McKean County.

There, they ran a road block, exchanging gunfire, and another pursuit ensued. At the intersection of Pennsylvania Route 59 and 770, another gunfight broke out between the fugitives, and at least three civilians were wounded, but not killed.

Kinney and Biauce went to one more residence, capturing a woman and daughter. From them, they took a four-wheel drive vehicle, which was found abandoned near a golf course near the Allegheny National Forest.

Biauce was captured by a civilian at Lewis Run early Saturday morning, and Kinney that afternoon nearby.

The trail of violence left over a four-day period, plus the fact the two men were near the wooded camping grounds of Allegheny Park, prompted

Hawks open season Friday

Junior Varsity, Freshmen play here tonight

When the Hawks travel to Breckenridge tomorrow evening, they're hoping to launch the longest season a Mean Green team has had since 1970.

But football doesn't begin Friday. The Junior Varsity and Freshman teams do that this evening, in Hawk Stadium, with the Frosh kicking off at 6 and the JV game following about 8.

Not since 1970 has a Hawk team advanced to the state playoffs. Since 1971, Iowa Park has been a small school in a large classification. But they've dropped back into a class they ruled during the late 1960s, and they're hoping to resume a position of respect.

Breckenridge is the first of five non-conference games for Iowa Park. Following the Buckaroos, the Hawks take on Burk Burnett, Holliday, Stamford and Haskell, before the Dist. 5-AAA opener with Bowie.

Playoff hopes are high, for players, coaches, students and fans, for three reasons. First, because the Hawks will be playing schools of similar enrollment. Second, because of UIL changes which allows both the first and second place teams of each district to advance into the playoffs. And thirdly, because Iowa Park has a good team.

But the playoffs are a long way off, in mid-November. And before then the Hawks must earn their way. That starts at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

This will be the fifth meeting in a series between the Hawks and Buckaroos. Like their school colors, school song and history of success in football, they're evenly-matched.

Both teams have won two of the past four games, making this a "rubber match" to break the tie.

The Buckaroos didn't have a .500 season last year, but despite a 5-6 record, they still made it to the playoffs, losing 35-14 to Coleman.

Breckenridge is undergoing a lot of change, adjusting to a new coach. The Bucks are now under the guidance of Bill Grissom, who guided the Hamlin teams to a succession of successful seasons.

Scouting reports of their two scrimmages indicated considerable confusion in the first scrimmage, but marked improvement last week. "They looked completely different. Real good," commented one coach.

The Bucks are to be a much better team than the club that suffered a 27-7 loss to the Hawks in the 1983 season opener. They have two offensive and three defensive starters from last season, including both skilled positions and big linemen.

Hawk mentor David Baugh is still undecided which of his two quarterbacks will start tomorrow. He must choose between senior Van Hedrick and junior Ray Sefcik. Both gained a lot of experience last year.

But if one is starting as signal-caller, the other won't be sitting on the sideline. They exchange as starters in the defensive secondary.

Baugh likes the experience he has in the kicking game, also. Kicking off and place kicking will be handled by Jerry Allen, while he has two punters in James Beebe and Sefcik.

Experience is a major plus for Iowa Park this season, needing to replace only a center and guard on the offensive line and a host of backs who saw lots of playing time last season.

HOME CONSTRUCTION is booming in the Quail Valley area, where four new residences are presently under construction and land has been cleared in preparation for yet another. These two homes are on either side of the housing addition entrance off the access road.

Canada, Hayley vows are exchanged Saturday evening

When Mrs. Michael Sargent swelled the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March on the organ at First Baptist Church Saturday evening, Miss Selena Kay Canada entered the sanctuary and started her walk to the altar to exchange marital vows with Russell Jack Hayley, her betrothed. She was escorted by her uncle, Don Scott, of Childress who presented her for marriage.

Rev. Howell Farnsworth was the officiant for the double-ring ceremony to unite the daughter of Janet Canada of Iowa Park and D.L. Canada of Amarillo and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hayley of Iowa Park.

The bride chose a beautifully flowing gown of white organza delicately accentuated with rich Venise lace that complimented her youthful beauty. The natural waist bodice of Venise lace appliques and pearls was distinguished with a modified Queen Anne neckline encircled to the back with a small ruffle. The long bishop sleeves were cuffed at the wrists with lace. The full skirt enhanced the beauty of the gown in a draped hemline flounce of crystal pleated lace and semi-cathedral train.

Her lace-trimmed bridal illusion veil drifted from a Juliet cap to fingertip length. She carried her lovely silk bouquet of white open and sweetheart roses, blue carnations and forget me nots, greenery, blue and white picot-edged satin ribbon on the groom's mother's Bible that was given to her when she was a young girl.

The bride chose the Bible for "something borrowed;" her mother's pearl necklace for "something old;" her gown for "something new;" and a garter for "something blue" in following bridal traditions.

As she walked to the altar, she paused to present her mother with a long-stemmed red rose and remembered the groom's mother with a duplicate floral token after the ceremony.

The altar decorations for the wedding were characterized by beautiful simplicity in featuring an arch flanked by tall tapers burning in spiral candelabra, each piece neatly traced with boxwood greenery. The large wooden cross hanging above the baptistry in the background and the meaningful unity candelabrum in the lower altar cast a hushed reverence over the setting. Church pews were

For the organ prelude selections, Mrs. Sargent played "Truly," "Just the Way You Are," and "Endless Love." Her other selections included the traditional processional and recessional compositions, and she furnished accompaniment for a vocal duet number, the "Lord's Prayer" by Mrs. Vance Nault and Buddy Mercer.

During the ceremony, Miss Cindy Harper, pianist, provided accompaniment for three numbers by the vocalists. These included a solo rendition of "We've Only Just Begun" by Mrs. Nault, and two duet selections, "Just You and I" and "Our Love" by Mrs. Nault and Mercer.

The bride was attended by Miss Sherry Boss as maid of honor, Miss Misty Canada, her sister, Miss Bobby Britt and Miss Jayne Elliott as bridesmaids. Little Miss Alisha Franklin of Wichita Falls had the role of flower girl.

They wore identical Riviera Blue gowns designed in a light and airy draped chiffon with a taffeta underskirt. The necklines were scooped in front and dropped in the back, and the sleeves that elegantly covered the shoulders were formed of double layers of chiffon that started at the neckline. The full skirts fell from gathered waistlines hugged with satin ribbon.

The attendants carried single red roses accented with baby's breath and blue ribbon streamers. The flower girl carried a white basket of small white mums, carnations, red sweetheart roses, baby's breath with touches of blue ribbon added to give it extra beauty.

The groom wore a white classic tailed tuxedo featuring shimmering satin-peaked lapels, white wing-tipped shirt with pearl studs and cuff links, a white banded tie, matching cummerbund and flared pants. He completed the ensemble with a boutonniere formed of a red rose, baby's breath and greenery.

Jim Smith, the best man, and the groomsmen, Dale Hayley, brother of the groom, Les Smith and Mark Wheeler of Wichita Falls wore silver classic tuxedos in the style of the groom's with black studs and cuff links.

Nathan Mowat of Burkburnett, the ring bearer, James McLemore and Jon Sitgreaves, the ushers, wore silver classic short coats with the same accessories as the attendants in silver classic tuxedos.

The mother of the bride wore a formal peach chiffon gown fashioned with a slightly raised bodice, a high neck, full skirt that flowed into an A-line style, and an attached beaded jacket with long sheer sleeves. The mother of the groom chose a formal toast chiffon gown designed with a natural waist bodice, V-neck, short dolman sleeves, and A-line skirt featuring a small ruffle flounce down the side. Their corsages consisted of peach mini carnations, white roses and peach ribbon accents.

The Fellowship Hall of the church was the scene of the wedding reception given by the bride's mother.

The bride's table reflected a pleasing combination of beauty and good taste. The floor length white taffeta cloth that covered the table was defined with garlands of grape ivy caught to white silk bows at the center front and corners around the top. The centerpiece was a four-branched silver candelabrum where blue candles shone with flickering light amid a spreading arrangement of white gladioli, carnations, mums, blue carnations and leatherleaf.

The traditional three-tiered cake with two sets of Grecian posts featured decorations of blue rosebuds against a snowy white background, garland and scroll designs around each tier. Three satin wedding bells dotted with pearls on the top accentuated the distinctive look of the confection.

The table appointments were completed with a silver punch bowl, trays of blue rose-shaped mints and blue napkins accented with the names of the bride and groom and their wedding date printed in silver. Refreshments were served by Misses Lisa Yeakley, Carey Roberts and Kim Costello.

Mrs. Steve Fairchild and Miss Gina Duncan presided at the groom's table covered with full length white taffeta. It held a chocolate cake decorated with blue and white grapes, silver coffee service and chocolate boot-shaped mints.

Wedding guests were invited to register by Miss Susie Cameron who sat at a white taffeta-covered table appointed with a white candle burning in a hurricane globe encircled with greenery, a white plume pen and the wedding book.

The groom's parents hosted a catered rehearsal dinner Friday evening at the church.

A daughter, Jessica Leann, was born Aug. 29 to Mr. and Mrs. Brad Costello, weighing eight pounds, four ounces. Birth of their first child was in Wichita General Hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Cummings and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Costello, all of Iowa Park. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L.F. Knowles of Bedford and Mrs. Ora Cummings of Iowa Park.

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

Repeatedly during the past four weeks, people have asked me how good our varsity football team is this week.

Well, I've held off answering, wanting to see the second scrimmage session here Friday night. Now I have an opinion.

The Hawks are a very good team, and I think we should all expect a lot from them. Let me put that another way. The players themselves expect to do very well.

As Head Hawk David Baugh has said, however, this new district is no "cake walk." It's one of the toughest in the state and will be hard to place in either of the top two places, in order to advance into the playoffs.

But I think they are good enough to go through the regular 10-game season without a defeat. Yeah, I'm including a win over Vernon, which is ranked among the top 10 in the state by virtually every poll I've seen.

How good are the Hawks?
Let me put it this way. They have as much talent, they're larger, just as quick and experienced, as the great teams of 1969 and 1970 that brought home state titles. They do not have the winning tradition however.

Will they win state? There are a lot of unknowns here, and frankly the odds are great against any team. Certainly, the team depth will go a long way for them. But looking over the state, a lot of big names in the AAAA circles have dropped back to AAA along with us and Vernon.

Class AAA is probably stronger now than when it was AA and Iowa Park ruled the roost.

Is this a one-year thing for the Hawks?

Looking at the athletes in Iowa Park High this year, I don't think so. We have several good juniors, but I'm very impressed with the sophomore and freshman classes.

Let me put it this way, one of the best teams Iowa Park ever had was the team of 1974, even though it went only 8-2 for the season. In my opinion, this sophomore class has as good athletes as that class of seniors had, and maybe better at this point in their careers.

The freshman group this year will provide outstanding support to the sophomores as they advance through the grades.

There may be those who say I'm expecting too much from these young men, that I'm putting too much pressure on them.

I would respond with a quotation of former Hawk mentor Tommy Watkins, who said, "The players and the coaches want the people of the town to expect great things from them. It's an incentive for us to live up to. If we lose, we want you to be disappointed and upset. But just don't pick on any one individual if there's a problem. We're a team, playing as a team, winning and losing."

Will the fans of Iowa Park become the avid followers of the Hawks as they were for the 10-year period of 1964-74?

You bet your life. Fans follow winners, especially big winners. Those who bring home the district titles and advance regularly into the playoffs.

Based on the number of fans in the stands at last Friday's scrimmage, I look for a big, big delegation of Mean Green supporters tomorrow night at Breckenridge.

It could be the beginning of another great sports era for Iowa Park, its school and its young athletes.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

Thank you so much for your continued interest in me and for the write-up in your paper. Although I've been away at school for the past two years, I've continued to feel encouraged and supported by friends in Iowa Park.

There was one omission in last week's article that I would like to include - that is the fact that I was sponsored for my Rotary scholarship by the Iowa Park Rotary Club. It takes a lot of time and effort to sponsor a Rotary Scholar, and I am deeply appreciative of the efforts of the Iowa Park Rotarians. They have provided encouragement and support to me and to other Iowa Park students for years - as have other Iowa Park organizations. In fact, the first three scholarships I received when graduating from high school were from the Iowa Park Rotary Club, the Opti-Mrs. Club and the Modern Music Study Club.

It means so much to live in a town where people "care," and I would be very remiss if I didn't express my heartfelt thanks.

Sincerely,
Cindy Flanagan

To the Editor,

We Iowa Park people would like to know why? When we don't have a Police Chief? Robert Dean does just fine filling in for Chief. If he is able to do the job part time why can't he do the job all time,

Thank you
Ruth Gensler and Dean Hodge

Yard of the Month for August is at 1609 Wagonwheel, home of David Hale. It was selected by a committee of the Iowa Park Garden Club, chaired by Mrs. Raymond Good.

Yards chosen for monthly recognition are finalists for the Yard of the Year award, announced at the end of the season.

Phone improvements

A number of Southwestern Bell Telephone projects in Iowa Park will expand and improve phone service, according to Dan Adams, community relations manager.

"In all, we're spending $145,950 to maintain and improve local service," said Adams. "A large portion of that amount is being sent to upgrade our switching center. These improvements will provide facilities that help switch local calls promptly and accurately. It also will help us pinpoint repair problems as they occur and restore service faster."

Adams said the remainder of the company's local investment is allotted to provide new and improved phone cable and other equipment outside the switching center.

"The new cable will replace older cable which will insure fewer phone outages. Also, the cable will help us provide service to new customers in the area.

"The end result of these projects is that local customers will get better transmission of local and long distance phone calls as well as seeing fewer outages."

"The projects are part of a statewide program to make sure that Southwestern Bell Telephone telecommunications are adequate as new, high-technology companies come to Texas and as existing companies expand their capabilities. We're committed to a healthy growing state economy as well as to Iowa Park's economy," Adams said.

Cook of the Week

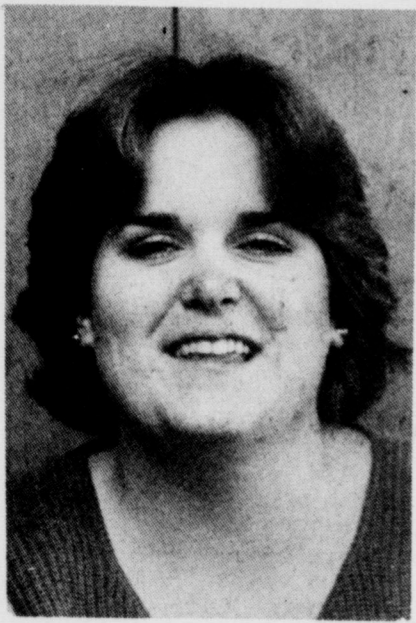

Many young women today are kept busy by attending college and at the same time, maintaining a household. This week's cook, Lou Ann (Mrs. Brian) Baugh, is a prime example.

Both she and her husband are attending Midwestern State Univ., and he also works at Cryovac.

The couple, married a year, has learned to plan meals to accommodate shift work and school schedules. "I like recipes that are easy and flexible," she says, "so I can prepare dinner at an earlier time for myself and have it ready for Brian when he gets home."

She says the hardest part of cooking when you are first married is learning to cook for two. "I've always liked to cook," she says. "Before I got married, I helped my mother cook for a family of six, so when I got married, it was hard to adjust the recipes to cook for two."

Lou Ann's hobbies are ceramics, swimming, golf and tennis.

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS

Start Planning Now For Gifts For Gardeners

When it comes to gift buying, it's never too early to start planning for Christmas. This year, consider giving gardening-related gifts to friends and relatives who garden; they'll probably appreciate that kind of gift more than just another tie or pair of socks.

New gardening tools would make a welcome addition to almost any gardener's tool shed. You might check what your friend needs first by peering in his garage or shed, or by subtly interrogating him. A set of hand tools or a line trimmer make great gifts, for example. Just make sure you buy quality tools—this is not the time to skimp on money and quality, because a good tool will last longer and do a better job than its cheaper-made counterpart. Here's a gift idea that costs no more than a few stamps to carry out, yet will bring a smile to any true gardener's face. Visit the library a couple of months before Christmas and go through their supply of seed catalogs, or look up several seed companies' addresses. Write to a range of seed companies and ask them to send you their catalogs.

Choose an interesting assortment, like Sunrise Enterprises, an Oriental seed company; Rocky Mountain Seed Company, a Western seed company; Porter & Son, Seedsmen, a Texas seed company; and Wayside Gardens, an ornamental plant company.

When you've received all the catalogs, tie them together with a bow and present them to your gardening friend. They will give him hours of enjoyment in the winter months. You might also include gift certificates from a couple of the seed companies so your friend can indulge and buy a few of the more enticing varieties from the catalogs.

Another gift any gardener will appreciate during the winter months is a Texas Gardener Planner & Calendar. This guide will help your friend plan what varieties he should plant, when he should plant them in his area of Texas, and how he can get a bountiful harvest. They cost $5.95. Write Calendars, P.O. Box 9005, Waco, TX 76714.

Other gifts you might give include bird houses for beneficial birds like purple martins; hummingbird feeders; fluorescent light fixtures for starting transplants; gardening books; subscriptions to gardening magazines; and your written pledge stating you will help with weeding come spring.

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS

Lettuce Basics: Know Which Types to Plant

There are basically four types of lettuce: leaf lettuce, which has leaves that grow up and out and don't form a head; butterhead, which makes a loose head with soft, pliable leaves that barely overlap to form the head; romaine, which produces upright, elongated heads; and crisphead, known commonly as head or iceberg lettuce.

Our suggestion is to grow leaf, butterhead, and romaine lettuce here in Texas and let the grocery store and California supply the head lettuce. Head lettuce is the hardest of the four to grow in Texas, and the other three types should more than satisfy your needs.

Timing is extremely critical if you expect success with lettuce. In the spring, garden seeding or transplanting should occur about 4-6 weeks before the last anticipated frost in your area.

You can make continuous plantings to ensure a steady crop of young, tender lettuce, but stop spring plantings when your lettuce will have to mature at temperatures averaging much above 80°.

Prepare your garden soil by working it deeply and, if necessary, incorporating in 1 to 2 inches of organic matter. Lettuce responds well to liberal amounts of fertilizer, so scatter about 1 pound of a complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 over each 10 feet of row when you till the soil and work it in.

If you garden in East Texas and your soil is acid, you'll need to add some lime, since lettuce does poorly when grown in soils having a pH of less than 6.

Prepare beds about 6 inches tall and 18-24 inches wide. You can plant several rows of lettuce on this bed, or you can broadcast the seed over the whole surface for a wide-bed planting. Sow lettuce seed thickly to insure a good stand. Cover the seed with about 1/4 inch of soil, never exceeding 1/2 inch.

If the soil is dry, water the planting area several days prior to planting to ensure adequate moisture. If extra water is necessary, make frequent, light applications with a sprinkler.

When the plants are about 1 inch tall, thinning is an absolute must. Adequate soil moisture throughout the growing season is also extremely critical for success. And don't forget to side-dress your crop a week after thinning with 21-0-0 for optimum production.

Homecoming parade entries, former queens sought

Oct. 12 may be a long way off for most people, but when you're making plans for a parade and trying to find all the previous homecoming queens, time is short.

That's where the members of Iowa Park High Student Council find themselves. They're enlisting participation in the annual homecoming parade and trying to locate all the queens who've been crowned since the activity was begun back in the 1940s.

Theme of this year's parade is "Soaring with Hawk Pride." Competition has been established for each of the classes in high school, and now businesses and organizations are being sought to pledge entries.

And while the Student Council has the maiden names of all past homecoming queens, they need the (assumed) married names and addresses of all former queens, because they want a reunion of those who've been crowned in the past. Five members of the Student Council can be contacted, both for names of former queens and parade entries. But contacting them is more a problem now than in previous years.

Telephone contact with the students while they are at school is no longer possible, under the school reform program which prohibits their being called out of class for any reason other than emergencies.

To contact one of the Student Council leaders, persons should call one of the following after school or on weekends: Jay Yeakley, 592-2534; Becky Brown, 592-4371; Lisa Holloway, 592-5667; Holly Farnsworth, 592-5729, or Becky Roberts, 592-4091.

IRS Tax Tips

TIMELY TAX DEPOSITS REQUIRED

The IRS reminds employers of the deposit requirements for social security and withheld income taxes. Briefly, these requirements are:

Deposits of $500 or more but less than $3,000: Accumulated withheld income and social security taxes of $500 or more, but less than $3,000, in any one month must be deposited by the 15th day of the next month.

Deposits of $3,000 or more: When withheld income and social security taxes amount to $3,000 or more in an eight-month period, the taxes must be deposited within three banking days after the end of the eight-month period.

Deposits of less than $500 are not required.

Publication 509, "Tax Calendar for 1984," and "Information About Depositing Employment and Excise Taxes," are helpful references when making deposits. Both can be obtained by calling the IRS Forms/Tax Information number listed in the local telephone directory under U.S. Government.

TAXPAYERS CAN APPEAL TAX EXAMINATION RESULTS

Taxpayers who are not satisfied with the outcome of their federal income tax examination have the right to appeal within the Internal Revenue Service, or through the courts, or both.

According to the IRS, after the tax examination, the first step for a dissatisfied taxpayer is to request an immediate meeting with the examiner's group supervisor. The supervisor may be able to resolve the issue at that point.

If no agreement is reached with the supervisor, taxpayers have 30 days to appeal through administrative channels. It works this way: An informal conference can be arranged in any of the over 800 offices throughout the country with a representative of the Regional Director of Appeals, who has the authority to settle the case, regardless of dollar amount.

The Appeals Division is independent of the Examination Division, and the role of the appeals officer is to bring an unprejudiced and unbiased point of view to the case. The appeals officer is responsible for trying to reach a mutually satisfying settlement so that the case will not have to go to court.

Additional information on taxpayers' rights of appeals is available in the free IRS Publication 556, "Examination of Return, Appeal Rights, and Claims for Refund," which can be obtained by calling the IRS Forms/Tax Information number listed in the telephone directory under U.S. Government.

Tips On Dental Health

RICHARD CARVER, D.D.S.

DENTURE CARE

Dentures profit most from a good scrubbing. Use a brush with soap and water or some toothpaste. Soaking with the drug store tablets should always be followed by brushing. If possible they should be brushed after each meal and certainly at bedtime.

An inexpensive solution to use to help get the tartar off is household vinegar. Soak the dentures overnight then brush and wrinse thoroughly. Always fill the basin part way with water so that if you drop the denture the water will cushion the fall. Some of the newer metal alloys and all of the new vinyl permanent soft liners will react with chlorine bleach. Be sure you do not soak your denture in bleach if it is of this type. If you don't know... ask your dentist. However, if your denture does NOT contain these materials, certain stains such as tea, coffee and tobacco stains can be removed by soaking the dentures in a solution of 1 part bleach and 2 parts water for 1 hour... then brushing.

It is advisable to hold the lower denture by one side at a time while brushing... some people will tend to squeeze harder and harder as they brush until the denture snaps in the middle.

FARMERS' GRAIN & FERTILIZER, INC.

WINTERIZING LAWNS

Winterizing the home lawn includes late summer fertilization and winter weed control. Gene and Patsy Jordan used 15-5-10 with 1/2 pound of iron for fall fertilization of their lawn in Valley Farms. Winter weeds and grasses can be controlled by mixing Balan herbicide with the fertilizer. The advantages of mixing Balan are accurate control over the rate of herbicide application and less cost than premixed herbicide-fertilizer materials.

Some wheat planting has already started, and D.B. Green is being used by most growers for the control of soil borne insects and seedling disease. D.B. Green is also available for the first time this year with Vitavax for smut control, particularly on TAM 101. Louis Sawyer and Clarence Mahler have planted some wheat for early grazing, and both of these producers used D.B. Green. They used it at the rate of 2 ounces per bushel as a seedbox treatment.

It is pecan weevil time with the first spraying due now, with another due 10-14 days later. Mrs. G.F. Richter was in the store buying Sevin which is recommended for pecan weevils. It is used at the rate of 3 tablespoons per gallon of water. I suggest adding Zolon to the second spraying in order to prevent a buildup of Black Pecan aphids in the fall.

Bill Steger is going after early winter grazing on his place south of Iowa Park. He is early planting a mixture of wheat, rye, and triticales. This combination provides grazing well into June.

Rye provides early grazing while triticales and wheat come in strong in the winter. We also have a pasture mix containing oats, wheat, and rye. The rye provides early grazing; the wheat gives winter grazing; and the oats come on with spring grazing.

QUARTERBACK RAY SEFCIK TAKES SOME CUB PRESSURE

VAN HEDRICK HANDS OFF TO JAMES BEEBE

Hawks overwhelm Olney

Playing in their second and final pre-season scrimmages, all three Iowa Park High football teams showed improvement Friday night against Olney.

The varsity scored twice with the first unit and once with the second offensive unit, holding the Cubs scoreless.

In fact, Olney didn't cross the goal line all evening, because the freshmen outscored the visitors 2-0 and the junior varsity was a 6-0 walkaway.

James Beebe, the 195-pound fullback who is the workhorse of the Hawk backs, scored once on a seven-yarder. For the night, he carried 16 times and gained 87 yards.

The other first-unit touchdown was a nine-yard pass from Van Hedrick to tight end Rocky Martin.

Scoring for the second-unit offense was a 27-yard pass from Ray Sefcik to Phillip Davis.

Sefcik completed one of five attempted aeriels, and had one interception. Hedrick was three-of-five on the evening.

The Hawks looked shaky in the early going on offense. Beebe fumbled the ball on the first play from scrimmage, and on the fourth play, Sefcik's pass was stolen.

But first-unit offense gained 204 yards in 34 ground plays and picked up 13 first downs. The second unit gained 49 yards on eight rushing plays and had four first downs.

Olney found the going rough against both the first and second Hawk defensive units.

The starting Cub platoon gained 51 yards on the ground, including one play that covered 34 yards, and completed one of five pass attempts for an additional nine yards. They gained four first downs.

While the second units were competing, Olney had a net 11 yards rushing and 12 more passing, completing one of four attempts.

Other big-yard gainers for the Hawks were Lee Roach, four carries for 55 yards including a 49-yard scamper, and Jerry Allen, who picked up 39 yards on four totes.

The first-unit Hawk defense forced five fumble losses and stole two passes.

During the junior varsity scrimmage, Iowa Park not only outscored the visitors 6-0, but out-gained them in first downs 16-3.

Game ticket prices told

Prices for Dist. 5-AAA football games have been set by the district executive committee. They are the same as previously announced for season tickets.

Varsity game admission is: $3.50 per game for reserved season tickets; $3 adult general admission pre-game and $2 for students sold pre-game.

All tickets sold at the game, adult general admission and student, are $4. No reserved seats are sold at the gate.

All junior varsity and freshman games are $2.50 for adults and $2 for students.

Pre-game student and adult general admission tickets to varsity games will be on sale each Friday at the high school principal's office. The pre-game ticket will be sold on Friday only.

No pre-game tickets will be sold for freshman and junior varsity games.

Watkins needing two for 200th

Former Hawk mentor Tommy Watkins needs only two more victories to reach the 200-win plateau in Texas high school football.

Watkins, now head coach at Uvalde, a member of Dist. 14-AAAA, had a 7-4 season last year.

He was the head coach of the Hawks from 1963 through 1971, and again the seasons of '78-'79, and led the Mean Green to the Class AA state championship in 1969 and a share of the title in 1970.

Local man files $16-million suit

An Iowa Park man has filed a suit in excess of $16-million against the state, a state department, school and numerous individuals alleging the wrongful death of his 16-year-old daughter.

A.L. Miller, administrator of the estate of Phyllis Jane Miller, and his former wife are the plaintiffs in a suit filed Aug. 26, 1983 in the U.S. Western District Court in Austin.

Among the defendants in the case are "the State of Texas; Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation; Abilene State School" and numerous others.

Sought from the court are:

"Grant declaratory judgement that Plaintiff's rights were violated as stated with this Complaint.

"Award compensatory damages in the amount of not less than $3,000,000 to Phyllis Jane Miller and $2,000,000 to A.L. Miller and $2,000,000 to Jo Betsy Miller.

"Award exemplary damages to the three Plaintiffs in the amount of not less than $3,000,000.

"Award Plaintiffs their attorneys' fees and costs.

"Grant such other relief as may be proper, just and equitable."

The suit also asks for a trial by jury.

Phyllis Jane Miller, described as a person with retardation, was allegedly "denied habilitation and training and was subjected to oppressive, inappropriate, unhealthy, abusive and restrictive living conditions and to severely injurious and cruelly inhumane treatment."

After being placed in the Abilene State School April 11, 1979, she died at the age of 16 on Oct. 13, 1981. The suit alleges death was "through pneumonia, professional negligence and misuse of drugs."

Miller said he is to be in Austin today to give depositions to be used in the trial. He is being represented by Virginia Schramm of the Austin law firm of Gibbins, Burrow and Bratton.

Also named in the civil action as defendants are: L. Gray Beck, individually and in his capacity as chairman of the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation; Roger Bateman, Rush Record, Sam Rhodes, Mrs. Melvin Selig and David M. Shannon, members of the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation; John J. Kavanaugh, James A. Adkins and Gary E. Miller, each individually and in his present or former capacity as Commissioner of Acting Commissioner, Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation;

Also Lonnie Willis, Deputy Commissioner, Dept. MH/MR; L.W. Cain, superintendent, Abilene State School; Bill Williams, assistant superintendent; Dr. M.C. Bessire, medical director at the school; Dr. Lee Williamson, Dr. J.M. Estes and Dr. M. Mikeska, staff physicians; Dr. Gregory L. Goates, school radiologist, and Paul Nelson, unit director at the school.

Miller told the Leader he expected final action in court on the case in either November or February.

4-H CLUB NEWS

LEADER, COUNCIL TO MEET TUESDAY

The Wichita County 4-H Leaders Association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the ASCS building. At the same time, the Wichita County 4-H Council will also meet, according to Donna Hodges, reporter.

VOLUNTEERS PLAY IMPORTANT ROLES

4-H isn't just for kids. It thrives on adult volunteer leadership, said Cheryl Mapston, County Extension Agent. As the youth program of the Cooperative Extension Service at Texas A&M Univ. and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, 4-H relies on the help, resource and expertise of 74 volunteers locally who work with over five thousand 4-H members. These volunteers are among the more than 620,000 volunteer leaders nationwide, who work with nearly five million 4-H members throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands.

"In 4-H, adults also can gain valuable training and learn new skills," Mapston said. "Youth learn by doing in 4-H. They plan what they want to learn and then put the plan into action through 4-H projects and activities under the guidance of adult volunteers and parents."

Volunteers need not be experts in a specialized subject, Mapston explained. They just need a willingness and desire to work with youth in helping them learn life-long skills. Many training opportunities exist for leaders to learn new skills. The kinds of training available locally to leaders, said Mapston, include leadership, organization, 4-H club management, and training in both agricultural and home economics related subject areas. On regional and national levels, volunteer leader forums provide 4-H leaders an opportunity to share ideas with others and learn skills related to specific project areas.

In Wichita County, some volunteers serve as "general" or "organizational" leaders to make the county's ten 4-H club run smoothly throughout the year. Other volunteers serve as project leaders, camp counselors, trip chaperones and judges. Project leaders for example, share their skills with 4-H members in a variety of subject areas. Volunteers particularly are needed in the following subject areas: food and nutrition; clothing, small animals; show animals; and leathercraft.

To find out how you might be involved in 4-H, as a volunteer leader, contact Cheryl Mapston, 1626 Midwestern Parkway, 766-0131.

Stadium lights signal start of new season

Annual Eagle-Wildcat clash here Friday

Stadium lights on the horizon signal the beginning of high school football in Texas, the bright glow acting as a beacon for the visiting fans, anxious to get to their seats before the playing of the national anthem and ensuing battle.

The visitors won't have to travel too far to catch the Holliday-Archer City matchup at 8 tomorrow night in Eagle Stadium. Both towns are in the same county. But, after that, all similarities between the two end.

The Wildcats were placed in Class A after a Cinderella season last year in District 11-AA, with 13 lettermen and four starters returning from a team that placed second in the toughest Class AA district in the state and finished 8-4 for the season, 6-2 in conference play.

Holliday remains in Class AA this season, but it won't take a pep talk to get the Eagles mentally prepared for the season opener; there is a revenge factor involved for the Big Red after losing its last game of the season to the cross-county rivals 10-7, only the second loss Eagle mentor Don Lucy has suffered to A.C. in his nine years at the helm.

The Eagle coaches have been pleased with the team's overall performance since the first of two-a-days, and Lucy feels the players have made a good deal of progress, witnessed by two impressive scrimmages the past two weeks against Knox City and Munday.

"Overall, we were pleased," Lucy commented, adding, "As a matter of fact, the offense has probably progressed more than the defense over the past week." That is good news to Eagle fans, because the Big Red defense once again looks to be a major stumbling block for its opponents this year.

Archer City will feature basically the same offense and defensive formations from previous years, running a veer offense out of a pro set with plenty of straight dives and options around the corners. As for the defense, the Wildcats will show a 5-2 formation with standup defensive ends. Wildcat coach Mike Wood lists his backfield as the major strength for A.C. this year, including running back Robert Stalleup, who, as a junior last year, kicked a 25-yard field goal against the Eagles in the 10-7 upset. Along with Stalleup are backs

Mark Teichman, Junior Malone, Bobby James and Bea Henry. Southpaw quarterback Steve Wright will lend experience to the offense, with tackle Doug Fox the only returning starter on either offensive or defensive lines. Stalleup and Fox will anchor the defense at the linebacker positions.

EAGLE STARTERS

Holliday, with 12 starters and 22 lettermen returning for action this year, will count heavily on a talent-laden senior bunch, 19 in number. Most all of the returning lettermen saw action last year against A.C., with defensive back John Smyers forcing two Wildcat turnovers, a fumble and an interception; and, returning place kicker Kelly Carver booting the only extra point conversion for Holliday that night.

On offense, Lucy will start Ronnie Fellhauer at quarterback, with Danny Hinsley at tailback and Mark Parker at fullback. The line will include center Steve Molone, guards Kevin Nichols and Dee Moer, tackles Marc Fleming and Scott Dyer, and wingback and ends Bill Cook, Jim Rogers, Gradlin Franks and Les Dolberry.

On defense, the backfield will consist of Pat Parker, Tom Hamill, Smyers, linebackers Kelly Coats, Parker and Eugene Whitting, and linemen Charlie Featherston, Cook, Rogers, Franks and Dolberry.

According to Lucy, the key to tomorrow's game is, "... eliminating mistakes on our part, playing heads up ball; that should just about do it."

Let's do it.

House numbers could save life

Residents of Holliday are being asked to mark their homes with the address for proper identification in case of a fire or other emergency, in order to assist the members of the Holliday Volunteer Fire Dept.
 Residents are being asked to view their home from the street to ensure that the numbers of the address are clearly visible.

City hires attorney and new police chief

Holliday City Council, minus the presence of Mayor Mike A. Parker at its regular bi-monthly meeting Tuesday night, hired a new city attorney and chief of police, and granted pay raises to key city personnel.

Item No. 3 on the meeting's agenda called for an executive session for discussion of personnel matters, which included hiring of the attorney and police chief, annual salary review and personnel performance, and, finally, the Mayor's resignation.

The present controversy regarding Mayor Parker climaxed during the council's Aug. 27th meeting when, after a lengthy closed executive session reopened into regular session, Mayor Parker called for a vote of confidence from each of the aldermen. The four council members present, including John Goforth, Elizabeth Gorman, J.R. Franklin and Jim Virdell, each responded by saying, "I have no confidence in your abilities as Mayor."

Mayor Parker then said, "I accept your decision and will turn in my resignation."

However, Parker, serving his first term as Mayor of Holliday, remained absent from city hall the following two weeks, and was not present when Tuesday's meeting began. Mayor pro-tem Gorman took charge of the proceedings in his absence.

HIRING
 Council returned to open session following a closed executive session lasting over three hours, and motions that followed carried unanimously for the hiring of new city attorney Ann McClure on a 90-day trial basis, and Juel Colbert as chief of police beginning Sept. 20.

McClure, a resident of Lakeside City, has been active recently in politics, running unsuccessfully for Wichita County Attorney earlier this year. In addition to her law practice, McClure teaches criminal justice courses at Midwestern State Univ. Council agreed to place McClure on a similar retainer it extended to former city attorney Gary Southard at $500 per month for the 90-day trial period.

Colbert, currently serving as sheriff's deputy in Archer County, will begin his new job Sept. 20 at $1,200 per month.

RAISES GRANTED
 Council also granted the following raises to city personnel: Carol Brown, water clerk, to $850 per month; Laverne Slatton, city secretary and city tax assessor/collector, 10-percent raise; Morganna Thorn, public works superintendent, 10-percent raise; Jim Hamill, city administrator, 10-percent raise; City workers Amos Teafattler, Allen Monroe and Tony Wood, 50-cent per hour raise.

OTHER ACTION
 Other items discussed at the meeting included a lingering problem with the city's solid waste disposal, and condemnation proceedings with the city's fire marshal.

Hamill informed the council that trash hauling in the city had slowed recently, with the only trash truck badly in need of a new transmission. The city administrator said garbage pickup was being conducted with a flatbed truck at present. Council instructed Hamill to contact the City of Wichita Falls concerning the possible use of its landfill on a contractual basis, and to check into the possibility of lease/purchasing a new garbage truck.

The city's fire marshal cited two pieces of property in the city limits which had received complaints, one located on Easy St., and the other on Olive St. belonging to Lavender Estates.

After discussion, council agreed to send registered letters to the land owners citing violations of City Ordinance 78-1 which pertains to the maintenance and upkeep of vacant lots and dangerous structures, and asking them to clean the lots so that they may be mowed.

Council also met with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conway concerning a previous request for sewer service to their home at 401 Cherry St.
