AFTER 21 YEARS

Hawk-Eagle rivalry awakens Friday

MRS. LITA WATSON
520 W. CLARA
IOWA PARK, TX 76367 112

The football rivalry between Iowa Park and Holliday schools has lain dormant 21 years, but will be revived at 8 p.m. Friday in Hawk Stadium.

Because the series, which had been running almost as long as the two schools had organized football, ended on a sour note for Holliday, a better year couldn't have been picked for the reunion.

That game back in 1963, the first year of Tommy Watkins' reign at the Hawk helm, ended: Hawks 50; Eagles 6.

Both teams enter the game with identical 2-0 records. But there's more similarities to the game than the records. A lot more.

THE WATKINS FACTOR: Both head coaches, David Baugh of the Hawks and Don Lucy of the Eagles, have served as assist coaches under Watkins. Baugh joined Watkins at Andrews and came here as his offensive coordinator. Lucy began his coaching career under Watkins at Iowa Park Junior High and moved up to high school before taking the Holliday job in 1974.

THE LUCY FACTOR: While DON Lucy is head coach of the Eagles, his oldest son, BARRY, is an assistant coach under Baugh, working with the defensive backs. Barry played freshman and junior varsity ball at IPHS and finished his career at Holliday.

Both teams opened their 1984 seasons with wins over long-time opponents: Iowa Park defeated Breckenridge 24-13; Holliday shut-out cross-county rival Archer City, 18-0.

Then in their second games, each bested impressive opponents: Iowa Park rolled 35-6 over larger and old foe Burkburnett; Holliday shut out the 1983 Class AA state champion, Boyd, 13-0.

Also in last week's games, the fullbacks of each team played important parts in the victories.

Iowa Park's James Beebe was handed the ball 19 times, gained 191 yards, scored two touchdowns (one a 69-yarder), a pair of extra point runs, and was credited with a 46-yard punt.

Holliday's Larry Krob had a seven play, 89-yard performance, including a 66-yard touchdown.

Well aware of Holliday's defensive prowess, Baugh is more concerned about the winning tradition of the Eagles. "They have a winning tradition and winning record. I just hope we can stay with them. I think they ought to be considered the favorite Friday night," he commented.

The Head Hawk thinks Holliday is the best team Iowa Park will play during the regular season, from looking at films of the two games this year. "They're aggressive... do lots of things both offensively and defensively," he said.

"We will have to play our game, and play heads-up ball against the Hawks in order to win," stated Lucy. A similar trait is demonstrated in the coaching of the two mentors, resembling the teams of Watkins during his heyday here: strong running game and good defense.

The Hawks have averaged 312 yards rushing in their two games thus far, and given up 103 on the ground. Holliday has averaged 303 rushing, and allowed an average of 184.

Both teams boast of big, experienced lines which explains in part the success of the runners on offense and lack of yardage by the opponents on defense.

Tickets cheaper sold in advance

Pre-game tickets for tomorrow night's game between Iowa Park and Holliday are on sale at the high school principal's office. Tickets purchased early are $2 for students and $3 for adults, general admission.

All tickets sold at the gate are $4, whether student or adult.

Season reserved seat tickets will remain on sale through Friday. A book of four tickets, only four games will be played here this year, is $14.

Friday's game a father-son battle?

Is tomorrow night's reunion of football teams from Iowa Park and Holliday really a father-son battle? It could be, in one sense.

Holliday head coach is Don Lucy, and Iowa Park assistant coach is his son, Barry. Is there any type of competition felt between the two as their teams take the field?

"I've played lots of games against him, but never football," commented Barry.

Well, how about coaching his players against his alma mater? Barry was ineligible to play his junior year, after moving from here to Holliday, but as a senior quarterback, led the Eagles to the quarter-finals in 1975.

"It's a weird feeling," he admitted. "I don't like to be in competition against Barry in football or anything else," Don said. "I'm not really fond of that fact."

But Don's dry humor came out when he said "In case Iowa Park was to win, he can find another place to eat Sunday dinner."

JUBILATION - Any victory earned by the Iowa Park Hawk football team is a time for celebration, but when it's a 35-6 decision over arch rival Burkburnett, everyone gets into the act. Fans poured onto the field Friday night after the final gun to congratulate the players, as well as themselves.

Drivers arrested on liquor charges

Three motorists were arrested for operating vehicles while under the influence of liquor over the weekend.

Officers took Melvin James Smith, 38, into custody in the 900 block of West Highway at 9:32 p.m. Friday on a charge of public intoxication, driving. He was released after posting bond.

Jeffery Carl Armstrong, 20, was arrested at 2:38 a.m. Saturday in the 100 block of East Magnolia and charged with DWI. Efforts were made to obtain breath tests at Wichita Falls and Burkburnett, but their machines were out of order, according to the report.

He was held in city jail and then transferred to Wichita County Sheriff's Office.

Officers and Emergency Medical Technicians responded to a reported accident atop the expressway overpass at FM 368, at 2:21 a.m. Sunday, and found a truck had heavily damaged about 10 feet of railing.

Harvey Bernard Stepanski, of Bay City, Mich., the driver, refused to be transported to a Wichita Falls hospital, but submitted to treatment by the EMTs.

He was then arrested for driving while intoxicated and sent to county jail.

Police arrested Phillip Layne Farnsworth, 22, in a local convenience store at 1:03 a.m. Wednesday on a theft warrant. He was transferred the following morning to the county courthouse.

Farnsworth is alleged to have cashed a $500 check at King's Foods which was intended as a customer's payment to Sid Stengel Chevrolet in Vernon, where Farnsworth was employed. He was released after posting a $500 bond.

Burnett recalls battles of World War I

By KEVIN HAMILTON

Clifton C. "Shorty" Burnett's childhood days in Gonzales County of Texas were filled with productive activities taught by experienced frontiersmen. Hard work on the family plot and frequent coon hunting escapades prepared him for a personal destiny all men pray to avoid. War.

In his case, World War I provided Shorty with over 280 days of combat action in the gruesome, often fatal trench warfare common to the era. He returned home alive, and a true-blue hero.

September 3rd marked the retired oil pumper's 65th anniversary of his return home to America, and, despite ticker tape parades in New York and Washington D.C. alongside General Pershing, Shorty's return to Gonzales County was as quiet and unannounced as his departure to Europe two and one-half years before.

Shorty left Gonzales County in his early twenties to seek fame and fortune elsewhere in the Lone Star state. A stint with the old 6666 Ranch in West Texas lasted a season, and he soon found himself in Texarkana, where he witnessed the first doughboys of the young war passing through in railcars.

A burst of patriotic spirit moved Shorty to the point of enlisting in the border town between Texas and Arkansas. His choice was the First Division, and his first days of training took place at Jefferson Barricks, Missouri, though only for ten days.

Moving for 28 days to Douglas, Ariz. to fill the regular army regiment to war strength, Shorty and his comrades were then sent to the eastern port of Hoboken, N.J. to board a ship set to sail to the battlefield.

Unlike the well-publicized sending off of American troops to Europe from fellow countrymen, the first troops from the First Division were boarded under a cloak of secrecy on ships anchored in the harbor. For four long days, the men spent on the U.S.S. Finland, their nerves brittle from the boring wait and uncomfortable conditions.

Finally, they sailed, and, 14 days later, landed on the French shores at St. Dazaui. Ten days of training followed, then the troops were placed in railcars for a long ride to Grandecourt. "They weren't the fancy Pullman cars they rode in back home," Shorty remembers. "Instead, we rode in the kind that would accommodate eight horses or 40 men."

At Grandecourt Shorty and his comrades received the toughest training period of their lives. They soon became the first Americans on the front.

"We went in the trenches on the 20th day of Oct., 1917," he says. "We were between Luneville and Nancy on the Sommerviller front."

Relieving the French close to 11 that night, he says the soldiers' nerves were a bit jumpy, especially a Polish coalmining soldier assigned with Shorty to a watch post. The Texan stood watch first while the Pole slept, and sometime later Shorty saw movement in front of his post in No-Man's Land. "They told us to shoot anything we saw move in front of us," he recounts today. "It was a very dark night and misting rain, and we were straining our eyes and not knowing the lay of the land ahead.

"I was just peeping over the edge of the trench trying to sky-light a German, when all of a sudden, I saw something right in front of me," Shorty says. "I kicked my buddy and he jumped up and I soon had him thinking the Germans were almost on us. We were both ready to shoot but very quiet for a few minutes, and soon we heard the noise again, but it was only a big wood rat running across in front of us. That was the enemy."

It was on the Sommerviller front where the first American casualties were claimed, and the first German prisoner captured. "He was a mail carrier trying to deliver mail to the men in the front lines," Shorty says. "He lost his way and was over near our lines when he was shot and wounded. He talked good English and had been to New York, but he only lived a few hours."

Relieved on his first front Jan. 5, 1918, the First Division was put right back into training in the snow and cold, readying the men for any front.

The longest, most miserable front Shorty experienced was the second, in the Ansaerville Sector near Toul. Everywhere was mud and numbness. "We must have stayed on this front 80 or 90 days," he says. "It was all trench war here except the big raids we pulled, as did the Germans."

At this front Shorty found his first German grenade, or "potato masher." It was laying some 30 yards out in No-Man's Land, and he eventually claimed it when the allied movement reached that point. He first tried to blow it up with a shot from his rifle, but with no result. While carrying a message to headquarters, he brought the grenade along, and did a number of other things to attempt to discharge the live round. All failed until Shorty discovered the coil spring in the handle. Luckily, he threw the grenade after pulling the coil, and it exploded near the command post, sending soldiers scurrying for cover.

Another tool of WWI, nerve gas, was also introduced to Shorty on this particular front. The gas was used constantly during the first German Offensive March 21, 1918, where 545 American casualties attested to its effectiveness.

Each of the following fronts Shorty saw action in seemed worse, including his next stop, the Contigny Sector April 25. "The French had just checked the drive on this front and we had to dig out own trenches, but when there are plenty of shells and bullets popping overhead, you don't have to be made to dig, you just will," he attests.

The scenery also changed on the Contigny Sector. No-Man's Land was a beautiful wheat field instead of earth and craters. One incident probably accounted for Shorty to be discovered for his unique skills of tracking and surviving. Sent on a patrol with four others to scout the enemy lines, the group was caught in the dreaded middle ground by enemy flare lights. Fortunately, Shorty and an Indian comrade led the men back to friendly ground before any were killed.

On May 3 and 4, the 18th Infantry of the First Division was barraged by a gas attack, and 850 men lost their lives. Starvation became a sudden worry for the men, after orders were made to discard the rations, supposedly poisoned. Shorty stood all he could, then decided to open a can of meat balls and shave off the first couple of inches. While the other soldiers looked on with anxious eyes, Shorty bit into the meat, with no side effect. After a few more minutes he said he felt "much better" to his comrades, and soon everyone was eating away.

His second patrol duty came during his stay on Contigny Sector, in a group numbering 12. The officer-in-command had a German accent, which worried Shorty. His distrust grew even more when the men encountered an enemy machine-gun nest. Diving into a shell hole previously assigned by Shorty himself, the men waited, and discovered that the first nest was being protected by a second nest located behind and above the first. Starting out once again, with no orders for action, the officer somehow lost his bearings, and, instead of retreating, was leading his men directly to certain doom. At first

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

When the legislature met in special session to pass the now infamous school reform bill, a tax bill was passed to fund the major part of the increase in costs to public schools. Right?

Then a formula was drafted in the bill which would offset the increase in costs to those districts that had a tax rate higher than the state average of 57-cents. Right?

The senator from Hereford said he approved the bill because most of the increase costs would be carried by the major cities of Dallas, Houston and San Antonio. Right?

Virtually every elected official said the increase in costs wouldn't hurt the small districts. Right?

Wrong, Bullock breath!

I've been keeping up with the tax rates set by 38 school districts across the state, representing all sizes but primarily smaller schools.

Of the 38 districts, three reduced their tax rates and four held the same rate as they had for the 1983-84 year. All the others raised their's, including Iowa Park, in order to meet their budgets.

The three districts that reduced their rates could afford to. Nocona was one, lowering its rate from 84.5-cents to 83. That, dear friends, is 30-cents higher than Iowa Park's 53 cent rate, yet to be set but on which its budget was set.

Friona dropped off four-cents, to 93-cents.

The other was Boyd. They were able to lob off a whopping eight cents, down to a mere $1.02!

Okay, how did those other four hold their rates? Primarily because of increased values in their districts, and also because of the high (compared with our's) tax rates.

Perryton added $30-million to its oil and gas values, and stayed at 76-cents, while Slaton maintained its 97-cent rate due to increased values.

That leaves Wichita Falls, whose trustees were proud to stay at 73.8-cents. But a bond election Tuesday, if approved, would necessitate an 11-cent increase next year, because our neighbors must build 66 more classrooms to meet requirements of the reform bill. And I'll just about bet a steak dinner it won't stop at 11-cents, unless major changes are made when the legislature meets in regular session this winter.

Now how about those other districts? In some cases I'll give a percentage of increase, others the amount to what the rate will be. But watch closely for those rate figures, and compare them with our's.

Burkburnett up 28.64-cents, to 62.5; Electra from 68 to 76; Decatur from 61 to 91; Alvord up 18% to 81.4;

Bridgeport from 69 to 71; Hamlin from 85 to 94; Slidell from 71 to 79.75; Chico up 6.65-cents to 52.62.

Fort Stockton from 57 to 62-cents; Graham from 76 to 79; Brownfield from 52.9 to 59; Wellman up 7.99%; Refugio up 8.44%; Jacksboro up 8%; Granbury up 9.84% after a 35% evaluation increase; Bowie from 63 to 75 and Bellevue up 33% to $1.06.

Lampasas raised its tax only .01%, to $1 even; Carthage up 4.5% to 69-cents; Weinert up 17.49%; Rule up 8.68%; Hamilton from 50 to 57; Grand Saline from 52.36-cents to 55; Queen City up 12-cents to 54; Atlanta up 2-cents to 61; Midway up 18-cents to 70; Quitman up 8.6% to 65; Andrews from 41 to 45.5; and Woodsboro from 96-cents to $1.16.

Notice how all those small schools benefitted from the bill?

And by the way, remember that series of articles that appeared in Wichita Falls' Brand X back in January of 1975, the one that claimed Iowa Park's taxes were so much higher than any other in the county the real estate salesmen couldn't sell here? The one no one could get a retraction even after proving the figures incorrect?

Well, the reporter claimed the school tax on a $10,000 home in Burkburnett was only $5.

I said in this column back then that the Burk school people would have to face up to realism some day, that all those federal bucks wouldn't keep pouring in. And they didn't.

Compare, now, Iowa Park's proposed 53-cent tax rate with Burk's 62.5. And folks, you can look for an even larger increase next year.

Chamber makes activity plans

Plans for the Whoop-T-Do and annual banquet were discussed during Monday's monthly Chamber of Commerce board meeting by Dr. Erwin Soell, chairman of both events.

Letters have been mailed to all organizations in the community, asking if they want to reserve booth space for the Oct. 13 Whoop-T-Do, he reported. Concerts by the high school band and choir, as well as the Friendly Door rhythm band have been scheduled.

A new wrinkle will be a group of representatives to greet people arriving at the area, asking them to register and drawings for gifts to be donated by businesses.

Dr. Soell received permission from the directors to extend an invitation to Martha McSteen to be the featured speaker at the annual chamber banquet. The Iowa Parkian is serving as commissioner of the Social Security Administration.

Dr. James Edwards, president of the Chamber, discussed his observations of a West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting held last week in Wichita Falls, and also plans for soliciting memberships for the local chamber.

Public hearing Tuesday on tax rate

A public hearing on the proposed 1984-85 Iowa Park school tax will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the administration building.

Trustees voted earlier this month to increase the tax rate from 48-cents to 53-cents, and the higher rate was used to calculate the year's budget of

An increase in total taxes will be 15.9483 percent over last year, according to school calculations. However, it was pointed out not all individual taxes will be increased by that amount, depending on evaluations set this year by the Wichita County Tax Appraisal District.

JANA KETCHERSID AND LARRY PERRY

Announce engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Cheston Ketchersid announce the engagement of their daughter, Jana, to Larry L. Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Perry of Kamay.

Miss Ketchersid is a graduate of Iowa Park High School and is employed at Southwest National Bank in Wichita Falls. Perry was also graduated from IPHS and is employed at Certain-Teed.

The couple will exchange vows Oct. 13, at the Iowa Park Church of Christ.

Mrs. Reaves finishes review

Mrs. S.B. Reaves completed the review of the home mission book, "We Spell Missions-America" by Everett Hullum, for the Night Baptist Women of First Baptist Church in a meeting held Monday at the church. She concentrated on spending money and sending missionaries, two responsibilities of the Home Mission Board, which she described as the "totaled actions of hundreds of individuals who express their Christian commitment by carrying out the full spectrum of Christ's Great Commission and His Great Commandment."

Mrs. Reaves stated that risks in establishing and maintaining new churches and programs is the greatest challenge of the Home Mission Board and called for boldness, an important part of its heritage. She gave interesting examples of pioneer church starters, comparing their methods to those of modern home missionaries, and concluded by showing that there was unity in diversity among Southern Baptist churches today.

Mrs. V.I. Woodfin directed the business and Mrs. E.T. Patterson was in charge of special prayer for missionaries on the birthday calendar for the day. Fourteen members and two guests, Mrs. W.E. Karstetter and Mrs. Buster Reaves were present.

Bible study series begins

Mrs. Don Owens, coordinator of Christian Personhood of the United Methodist Women, gave the first of a special Bible study on "The Great Physician" by Lindsay Pherigo for the meeting of the group Tuesday morning.

She stated that according to the author, Luke's purpose for writing his gospel was to set forth an orderly and accurate account of the origin and early years of the Christian movement. "The Book Luke is addressed to Theophilus, friend of God, and was probably written late in the first Christian century," she said.

Mrs. Owens further stated that all of the early traditions about Jesus in his earthly life remember him as one vitally concerned about the total well-being of an individual. She also said that Luke's Gospel gives special attention to the concern of Jesus for total health.

In conclusion, she said "complete wellness for each of us involves mind, body and spirit; good health depends on the wholeness of the persons, and wellness is a way of living, a life-style. It is a process of ever expanding experience self-created and self-directed with the help of God."

Twenty members attended the meeting.

Palmers observe 40th anniversary

Roy and Clara Palmer, 910 W. Highway, Sunday celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary at a reception in Iowa Park's Recreational Activities Center, hosted by the couple's two daughters, Patsy Lawson and Ann Cajrbouneau.

Some 53 guests attended the afternoon reception honoring the couple.

The Palmers are 18-year residents of Iowa Park, and were married Sept. 18, 1944, in Seymour, while living in Megargel.

In Iowa Park, the two have operated an oilfield equipment company on Bell Road.

groups, is in the plans of newly-appointed Chief of Police Bob Dean.

He told the Noon Lions Club Tuesday he hopes to establish stronger relations with the citizens through personal contact. "Our (police department) job will be a lot easier if people know and understand our purpose," he said.

Though drug abuse may not be a problem of epidemic proportions yet, the problem is growing here. Dean says he is aware of it through comments by youngsters.

He showed two display cases of drugs and paraphernalia and also kits used for on-the-scene testing to determine if charges are to be filed when suspicious substances are found.

Dean also said he wants to promote crime-prevention programs, primarily on drug awareness and burglary awareness, as well as keeping alive the Neighborhood Watch program.

Garden Club resumes meetings with program

The Iowa Park Garden Club held its first meeting of the 1984-85 year Friday with a salad luncheon in the home of Mrs. Frank Gossett. Mrs. Jerry Reed served as co-hostess.

Mrs. Vernon Gilbert, president, presided for a short business meeting before the luncheon.

Mrs. D.O. James, chaplain, gave the thought for the day on "Friends." Mrs. Gilbert introduced the new members and guests. New members are Mmes. Don Owens, Dave Davis, Jerry Reed and Jim Pendergrass. Guests were Mmes. Pam Hanson, Eva Hicks, Charlie Metz, Gene Owens and Cecil Jarvis, and G.A. Benesh of Wichita Falls.

It was announced that a member, Mrs. Raymond Good, is in the Wichita General Hospital and seemed to be doing better.

Mrs. Michael Hodson gave a report on the fund for Mrs. Linda Deason, a former member of the club. Mrs. Deason had surgery which resulted in blindness. She is 35 years old, with a husband and two children to care for. Her doctor bills are extensive, so a fund was set up at United Savings.

Anyone wishing to make a donation may contact Mrs. Michael Hodson, 592-2550 or send to United Savings.

The "Yard of the Month" went to Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Hale, 1609 Wagon Wheel.

Mrs. Charlie Lee, vice president, passed out the new yearbooks and outlined the programs and activities for the coming year.

Mrs. Bobby Illingworth, treasurer, presented the budget for the year.

Mrs. W.A. George, community service chairman, told the club that "litter" will be one of the club's projects. The Garden Club is making litter bags to give away at their "Trash to Treasures" booth at the Whoop-T-Do.

Mrs. George presented life memberships to Mrs. Arch Hughes and Mrs. James Sewell.

Mrs. Gilbert showed members the Texas State Garden Clubs "Director's Citation" award won by the Iowa Park Garden Club for activities in the community.

Twenty-three members and six guests participated in the fellowship at the luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Sargent of Altus, Okla. announce the birth of their first child, Tiffany Dawn, born Sept. 16, weighing six pounds, 15 one-half ounces.

The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Sargent of Iowa Park, Doris Neeley of Burkburnett, and Lloyd Wismar of Michigan. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas of Burkburnett. The great-great grandfather is Jessie Barr of San Angelo.

REPORT CARD CHANGES

School reforms have been very evident in the elementary schools, as well as junior high and high schools, this new school year. Changes most apparent to the parents of elementary students may be the slightly lengthened school day, and a noticeable change in the reporting of grades.

Report cards for the first 6-week period will be sent home with students on October 11. Previously, all kindergarten grades, as well as grades for certain subjects (such as science and social studies) in grades 1-3 have been reported only as satisfactory or unsatisfactory. Because of new state requirements, this year grades for all subjects in grades K-5 will be reported as specific number grades.

Another change parents need to be aware of is that any grade below "70" is now failing. Until this year, a "D" (65-69) was considered a passing grade, though below average. However, beginning with this school year, grades must be "70" or above to be passing.

Another new requirement is that students failing any solid subject will be expected to attend a tutorial program. Beginning with the second 6-weeks, these students will be expected to remain at school one hour longer on Tuesdays and Thursdays for tutoring in the subjects in which they are failing. School-provided transportation will not be available for students in the tutorial program.

Presbyterians set workshops

Area Three of Palo Duro Presbytery will hold its fall workshop from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Saturday at the First Presbyterian Church. It will include six different classes.

Rev. Davis Price from Lubbock will lead a discussion on helping with the efficiency of session meetings. Eula Rae McCown of Austin will hold sessions on ministry to the older adult.

Rev. Roy Byrd from Colorado City will show how to develop an

JUNIOR HIGH ORGANIZING FIRST STUDENT COUNCIL

Iowa Park Junior High School has a new student council organized and sponsored by Mrs. Karen Whisnand, eighth grade science teacher. It will be composed of approximately 34 students, one representative and one alternate from each homeroom. Officers will be elected from the eighth grade representatives. This organization will be beneficial in several ways: the students will feel more involved in our school, giving them a greater pride not only in the physical appearance of our campus, but also in the behavior and reputation of the student body. The election process involved will provide a valuable learning experience for all students of our school. A number of projects are being planned for the year.

SEVENTH GRADERS SCORE HIGH ON TEST

Twenty-one seventh grade students have been identified as eligible to participate in a Talent Identification Program (TIP) sponsored by Duke University. Eligible students must score in the upper 3 percent of national age-grade norms on acceptable math and/or verbal section and/or the total composite score on an in-school achievement test battery. The primary goals of TIP are the identification and development of this group of extremely able youths. Eligible students may take the SAT (a standardized test designed for older students) during the December and January testing dates. The top scoring students will be sent invitations to recognition ceremonies in their home state where they will receive scores. They will also be invited to a Grand Recognition Ceremony at Duke University, where they will receive such awards as hand-held computers, books, and scholarships from some of the leading universities in the Talent Search area.

Hawks spoil Burk's homecoming, 35-6

There weren't many Bulldog fans left in Burkburnett's stadium at the end of the game Friday night, celebrating their 1984 homecoming. They started leaving early.

In fact, the stands started unloading with precisely 5:39 remaining in the game. That's when Iowa Park's Hawks scored their final touchdown and the scoreboard read: Iowa Park 35, Burkburnett 6.

It was the widest margin of victory for Iowa Park since the 1982 game with Electra, won by the Hawks 41-0.

The score was almost exactly the same as in 1974, when the Hawks beat the Bulldogs 34-8, which wasn't nearly as impressive as the 1969 contest, won by Iowa Park 44-7.

Some Bulldog fans were convinced the 48-minute contest was the "Beebe, Biddy, Allen Show."

Big James Beebe handled the ball 19 times, amassed 191 yards offense, scored two touchdowns and a pair of two-point conversions.

Biddy caught one of Van Hedrick's passes for 38 yards, intercepted a Bulldog pass and then picked up a blocked 'Dog punt and returned it 22 yards for the final score of the game.

Allen, besides playing a stellar hand defensively as linebacker, scored a pair of touchdowns on runs of 19 and one yards. For the night, he carried eight times and gained 51 yards.

It was also a big night for Phillip Davis. His number was called only three times, but he gained 89 yards for the evening. He was also credited with a tackle that cost the hosts six yards.

The Burkburnett game was similar, in one respect, to the season opener with Breckenridge. There was a stiff wind blowing from one end of the field, and it made a big difference in several plays.

The Hawks took the wind to their backs during the first quarter, figuring to use it for passing as well as field possession. And it worked. Taking the ball on their second possession at their own 41, following a 20-yard punt by Burk, the Hawks mounted their first scoring drive.

On the first play, Hedrick passed to Biddy. The ball was tipped into the air by a Burk defender, and Biddy alertly waited for it to come down, catch it, and then ran to the Bulldog 21.

Following a two-yard run by Lee Roach, Allen slanted inside his right end, stumbled slightly at the line of scrimmage, but gathered himself and crossed the goal line untouched. He then added the extra point for the 7-0 lead that lasted from 4:26 remaining in the first quarter until 1:21 showed until the half.

The fans were still buzzing about Beebe's touchdown in the second period, which covered 69 yards.

Met at right guard by two tacklers, he shook them off, only to be met by three more at the 29 yard line. Two of them slid off, while the other was knocked backward by the fullback's strength. The senior carrier just jumped over the fallen 'Dog and outraced everyone to the end zone.

Allen missed two tries at the extra point kick, the first going wide right and the second, after an offsides penalty against Burk, to the left. But the Hawks went to the dressing room with a 13-0 lead.

It was almost higher. Davis broke for a 65-yard jaunt, but was pulled down from behind at the Bulldog 15. The remaining five seconds ran out on one more running play.

Burkburnett drove the ball steadily toward Iowa Park's goal line, after taking the second half kick-off. But after reaching the Hawk 19, Davis made his big tackle back on the 25.

And then Burk tried to make up lost ground with a pass. But Ray Sefcik made a diving catch, taking the ball about two feet off the turf, ending the drive and giving the Hawks possession on the nine yard line.

Twelve plays later, Beebe went in for his second TD.

The drive was spectacular in several ways. Beebe carried seven times and gained 57 yards; a Hedrick pass was tipped by Scott Young and caught by David Dietrichson, covering 20 yards; and the game was delayed more than 15 minutes while injured Bulldog back Richie Walker was attended to and finally carried away in an ambulance.

On the second play following the ensuing kickoff, Burkburnett scored on a 79-yard scamper which included a lateral. A pass for extra points failed, and Iowa Park led 21-6 with 1:01 yet remaining in the third period.

Apparently miffed by having given up a touchdown, the Hawks quickly added more lights on the scoreboard.

Scott Weaver, sophomore playing his first varsity game, returned the kickoff to the 27. On the play, Burk was charged the first of two major penalties which were called on the drive, giving the Hawks the ball on their own 42.

Roach gained three, and Beebe scampered 30 for another first down, which was followed by the second big penalty against the 'Dogs which put the ball on the 13.

Then the big fullback rambled 12 more yards, to the one, from where Allen scored on the second play of the fourth quarter by zipping around right end.

On the following extra point kick attempt by Allen, the officials were ready to hold their arms into the air to signal the kick good, but the hard northerly wind held the ball until it fell two yards shy of the goal posts.

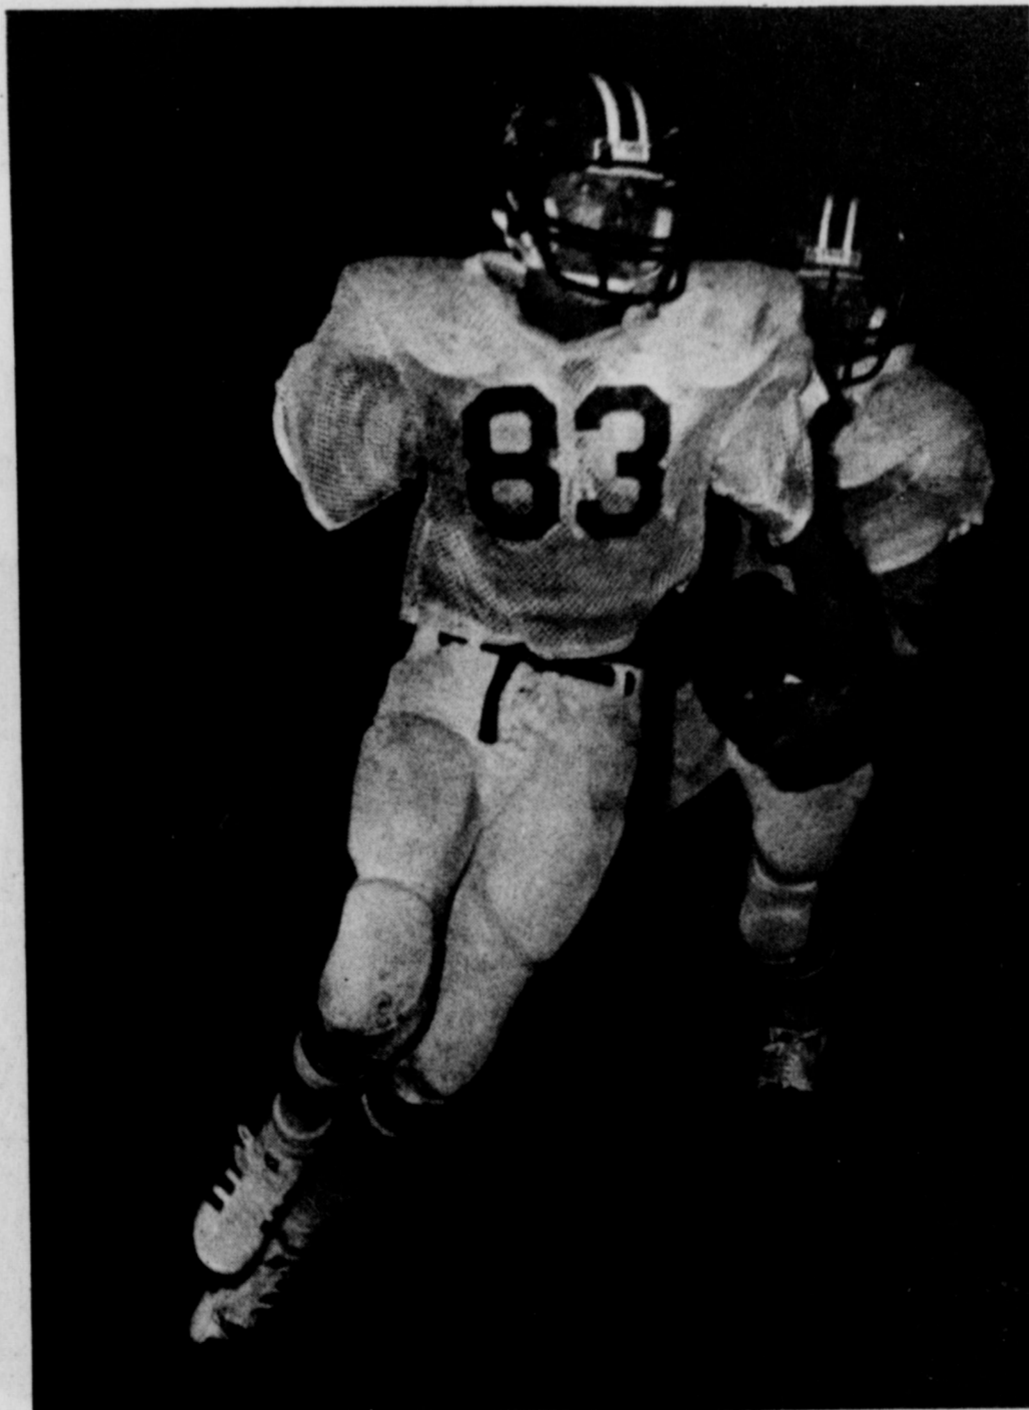

With the wind to their backs, the Bulldogs attempted to punt from their own 22 yard line after another drive failed. But the ball was partially blocked.

One defending Bulldog was near the ball as it bounced the first time into the air. Seeing he was apparently waiting for the ball to roll dead, Biddy snatched the ball out of the air and raced 36 yards to the end zone to score.

Playing errorless ball themselves, the Hawks claimed three miscues by the Bulldogs. Besides the interceptions by Sefcik and Biddy, Kirk Martin covered a Burk fumble on the 'Dogs' last possession.

So completely did the Mean Green defense dominate the hosts, Burkburnett had a minus eight yards offense, lost a fumble and a pass interception in the final quarter.

The Hawks amassed 380 yards rushing, while Hedrick completed three of five pass attempts for an additional 88 yards, to finish with a 468-yard offensive show. That was the most yardage by a Hawk team since the 1979 game against Jacksboro.

A RECORD NUMBER of horses were sold Saturday at the fifth annual 2-J Horse Farm production and consignment sale. Eighty, about the number normally offered, were sold, averaging $3,742. 2-J, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Williamson on FM 369, has the high-selling mare, Red Sonny Dear, bought by R.B. Shield of Saginaw for $30,000. Total of the sale was $378,350, according to Joe Howard Williamson, who operates the farm.

EXPENSIVE VANDALISM - Someone caused several thousand dollars worth of damage the weekend of Sept. 8-9 to the triple-door entrance on the east end of the new high school gymnasium. Officials say a dual-wheeled truck, possibly with a welding bed, destroyed the doors and framing. Replacement will require a new door framing to be built, doors and equipment replaced, and numerous workers' hours to replace it. The same vehicle also is suspected, because of tracks and mud left at the scene, to have damaged two trees in front of Bradford Elementary.

Junior high wins, loses

The Junior High Hawks and the Junior High Eagles played two games Tuesday afternoon, each winning one game.

The seventh grade Hawks were winners by a score of 18-0.

Chad Patterson scored two touchdowns for the Hawks. Marc Cruz scored the other touchdown on an eighty yard punt return.

Good defensive plays were turned in by Jimmy Nicholson, Chad Patterson and Chris Cook.

The seventh grade Hawks are unscored on in two games.

The eighth grade Eagles outlasted the Hawks 22-18.

Will McCarthy had an outstanding night, scoring all three of the Hawks touchdowns. Two were runs from scrimmage for 45 and 75 yards. The other was a kick off return for 65 yards. He also made four unassisted tackles. The Eagles scored three touchdowns and two extra points.

Shannon Pearson for the Hawks had two interceptions. Gary Tatum led the defense with six unassisted tackles. Both Cody Barnett and Brad Lewis were injured, but are recovering.

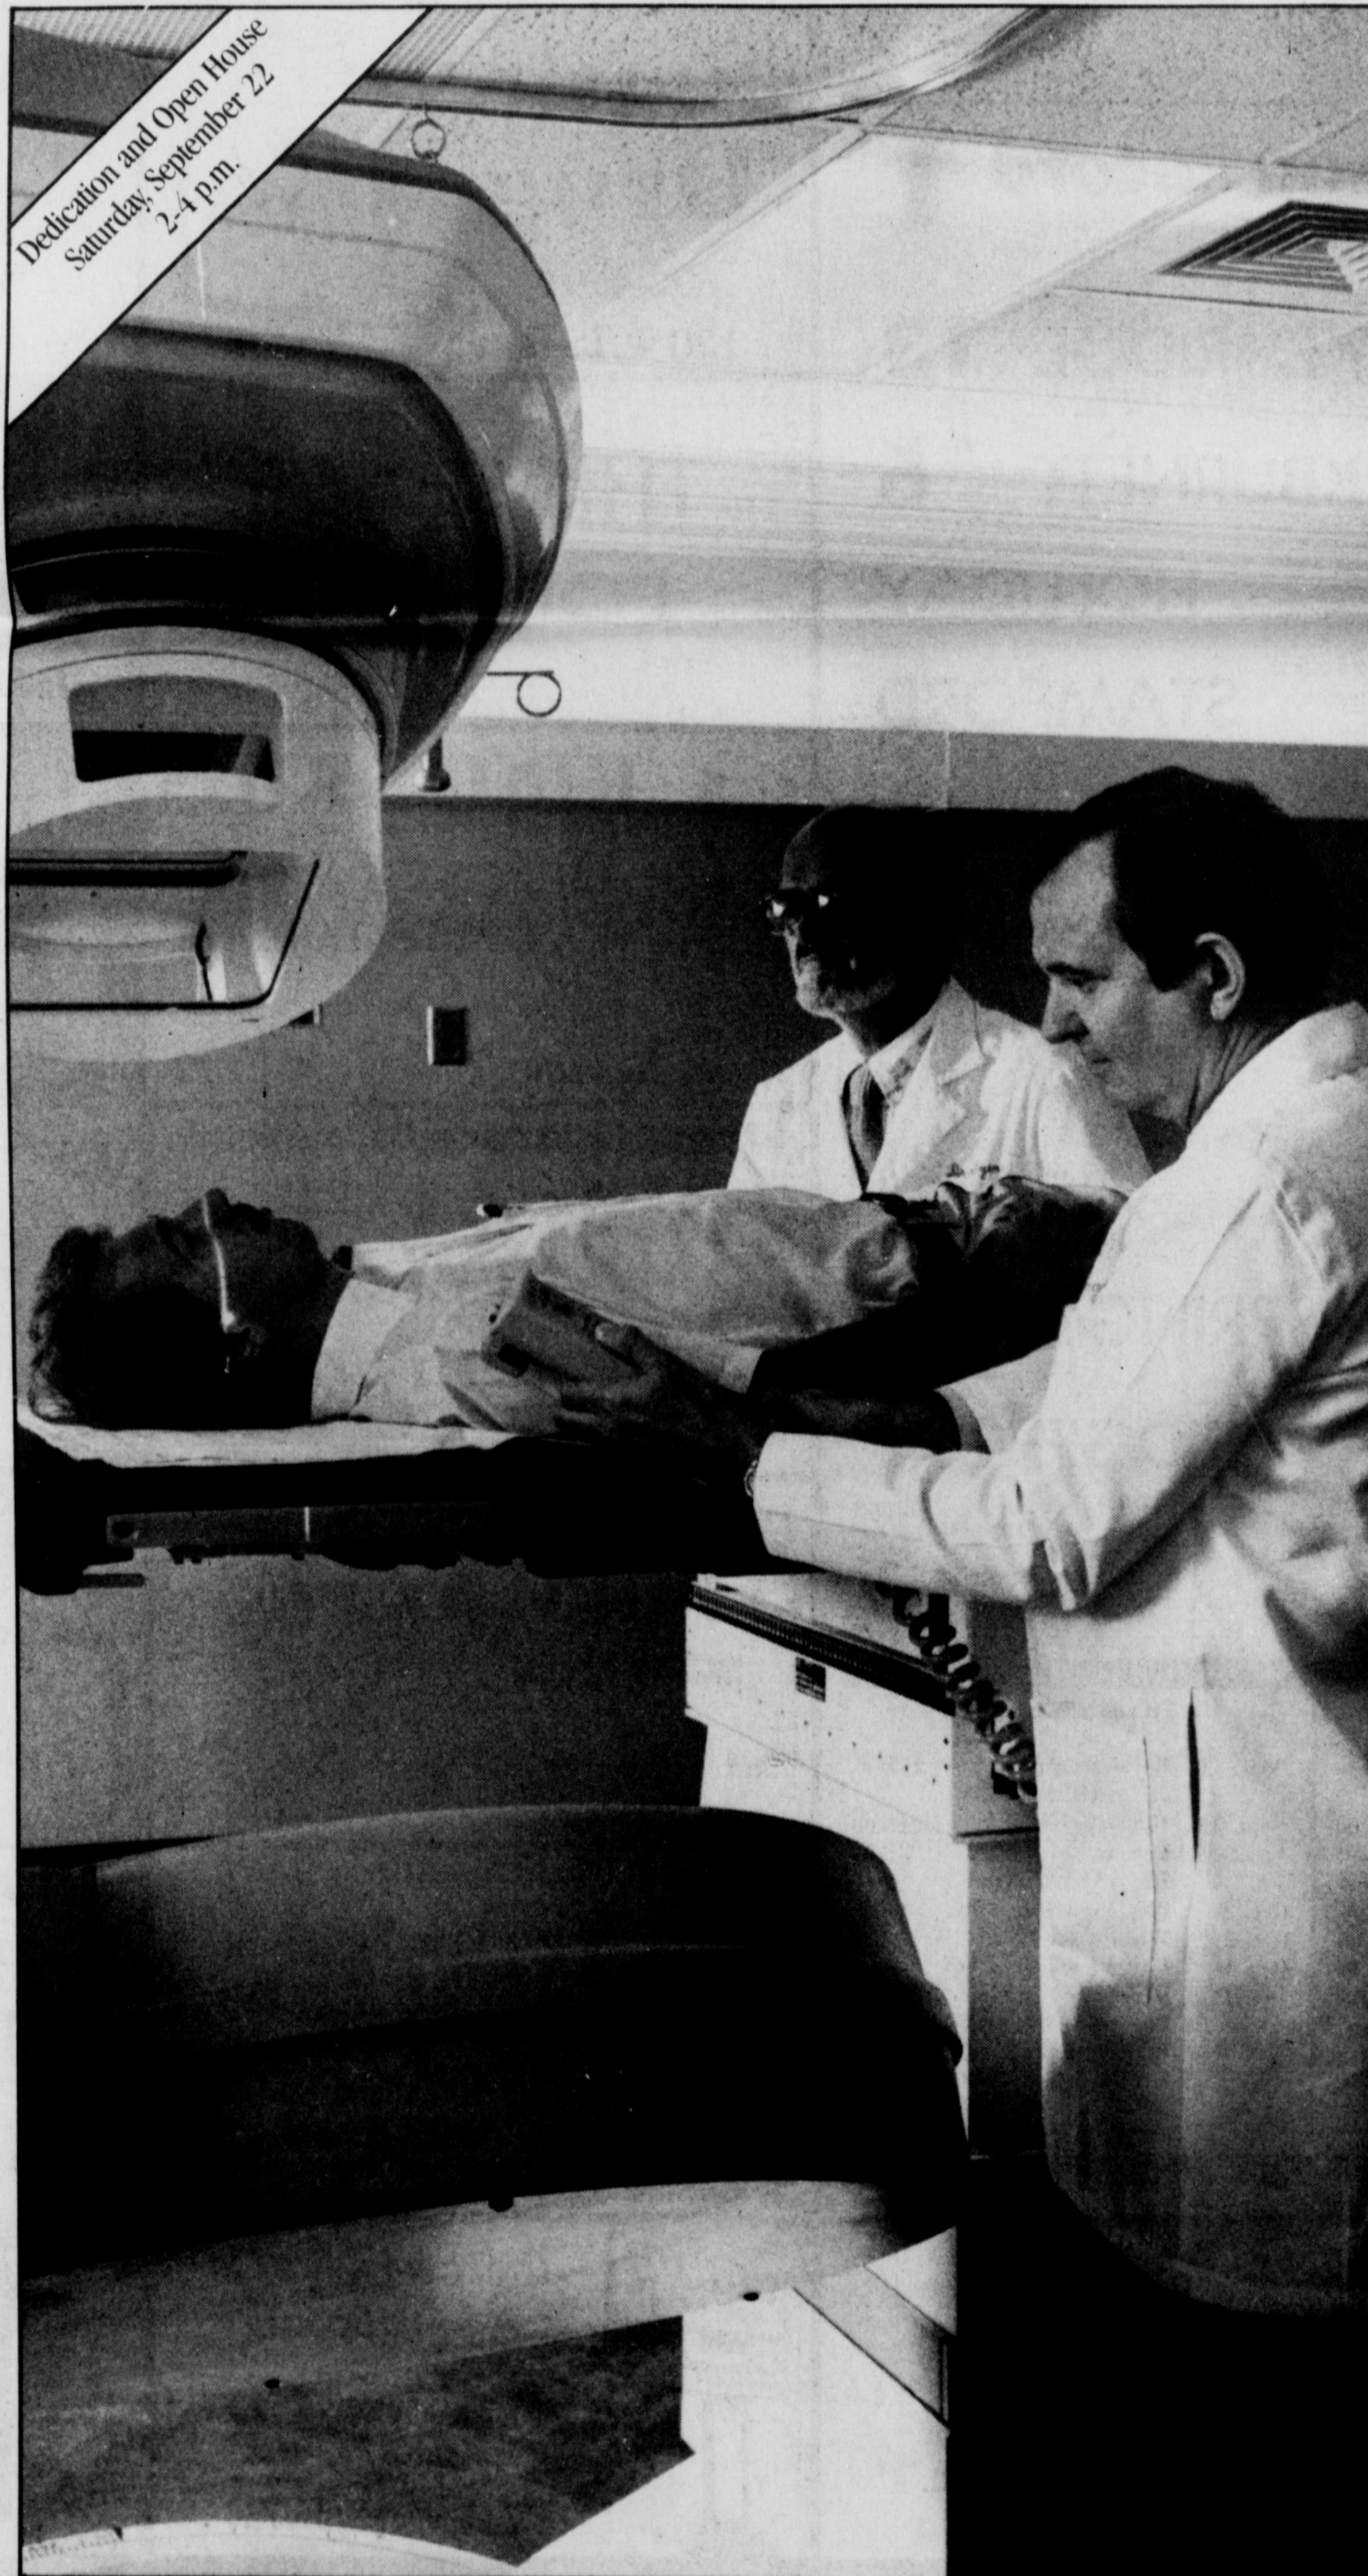

The Hawks travel to Vernon next Tuesday. The first game will start at 5:00 p.m. at the high school stadium in Vernon.

Junior Varsity plays tonight

The Hawk Junior Varsity will try to get back on the winning track this afternoon, when they travel to Holliday for a 7 p.m. contest with the Eagle JV.

No Freshman game has been scheduled, so Iowa Park's Frosh will take a breather this week in preparation for next Thursday's game here against Notre Dame. The JV will have an open date that night.

Burkburnett swept the JV and Frosh last week, 21-10 and 16-0, respectively. The losses gave both Iowa Park teams 1-1 records.

The latest technology... and good, old-fashioned care.

★ Now there's no need to travel out of town for the finest in modern medical care. Thanks to strong community support, Wichita General is at the forefront of sophisticated radiation treatment. It's a community asset of which we can all be proud.

The General's new, modern Radiation Oncology Center offers expanded capabilities and includes the very latest radiation therapy technology for cancer treatment. Located across from the hospital, the Center is easily accessible, comfortable and fully staffed by highly qualified physicians and technicians.

The brightest star in The General's new treatment center is the linear accelerator. It is among the most advanced equipment available for radiation treatment and permits us to serve the entire North Texas/South Oklahoma region with the kind of care not previously available here.

Our accelerator teams up with a computerized treatment planning simulator which locates, isolates and measures tumors. Using this information, the simulator automatically determines the most effective treatment level. It allows physicians to treat patients with lower doses of radiation over a shorter time period.

In addition to making sophisticated treatment available to area residents, The General provides meeting/education facilities for use by the support groups which work with patients and their families. It's all part of our commitment to providing complete medical care in a pleasant, reassuring environment.

The General. Thanks to your support, Wichita Falls has the region's finest radiation therapy center.

Cook of the Week

This week's cook, Mrs. Rod (Reba) Dolberry of Holliday, keeps as busy as a wife-mother-business-woman-volunteer can be these days. And, somehow, she manages to keep abreast of local activities and participate.

"But now I am becoming more of a family-oriented woman than club woman," she admitted. "But I still manage to have a little bit of both worlds."

Her husband manages a backhoe-winch truck business, while acting as fire chief for the Holliday Volunteer Fire Department, in addition to earning an E.M.T. license and working with the local ambulance service.

Mrs. Dolberry doesn't ignore her husband's activities, but, rather encourages him and actively participates. She has dispatched for the fire department the past three years, "and I say '10-4' more than 'thank you', while talking over the radio," she says. "You make mistakes."

Owner and operator of Reba's Gift Shop on Bois 'd Arc, Mrs. Dolberry sells many of her own works, including embroidery, some ceramics, and articles she sews. Also, she is a member of the Holliday Art Association, and, helps with the Eagle Band Club.

The couple has three children: Tammy, 15; Kenneth, 13; and Dennis, eight. Tammy and Kenneth are active in band while Kenneth also participates in junior high football.

Born in Fresno, Calif., Mrs. Dolberry moved with her family, which included four brothers and a sister, to Trulock, San Jose and Campbell, where she was graduated from Campbell High School. She met Dolberry while he was stationed at Ft. Hood. The couple married in San Jose, and eventually located in Holliday.

"It took me the longest time to learn to cook for two people instead of a bunch," she says. "But now, I am learning again how to cook for a family."

Eagles earn 13-0 win over '83 champs

... sparked offense with runs.

Holliday's Eagles blanked defending Class AA state champ Boyd 13-0 in front of a capacity homecoming crowd last Friday in Eagle Stadium, remaining undefeated with a 2-0 record.

The spirit of celebration was in the air beginning with the crowning of this year's football and band queens. The Eagles put the icing on the Round-Up cake, however, with the sweet victory which avenges last year's 21-12 Yellowjacket win.

The Big Red didn't waste any time putting points on the scoreboard, driving 72 yards in six plays, the biggest gainer a 40 yard pass completion over the middle to Gradlin Franks from quarterback Ronnie Fellhauer to Boyd's three yard line. Two plays later, Danny Hinsley carried over from the one for the score. Kicker Kelly Carver added the point after to give Holliday a 7-0 lead two and one-half minutes into the game.

For Boyd a team unable to score in its first game against Decatur in which the Jackets offense coughed up six fumbles - the going was roughly the same against the Big Red. Three times the Jackets fumbled the ball away, on potential scoring drives. And not once did the Boyd offense manage to find paydirt during the game, despite a 99-yard rushing performance from Boyd's Jimmy Price, helping the visiting team to tally more first downs, 13-12, than the Eagles.

Boyd failed to record a first down until the first play of the second quarter, on a 12-yard quarterback keeper. Four plays later, Eagle defensive back Tom Hamill recovered a Jacket fumble at Boyd's 34. Later in that same period, the Jackets managed to drive to Holliday's 22, but Hinsley jumped on another Boyd fumble to kill that potential drive with less than two minutes left before halftime.

SECOND HALF

Both teams traded possessions until late in the third period, when Boyd turned the ball over after driving to the Eagle 33. On the first play on offense, Larry Krob was handed the ball and provided with a large hole on the right side of the line. Sixty-six yards later, Krob crossed the goal line for the final score of the evening. Carver's kick was wide, but the score read 13-0 Holliday.

Holiday News

Early ticket purchase saves

Advance tickets for tomorrow night's tilt between the unbeaten, Holliday and Iowa Park, will be on sale until 12-noon Friday at Holli-Tex Supply on US 277, and until 2 p.m. in the superintendent's office at Holliday Elementary.

You pay less for the advance tickets, which are $2 for students and $3 for adults, than if you wait to pay at the gate, superintendent Dan Owen said. Tickets there will be $4 each.

House numbers could save life

Residents of Holliday are being asked to mark their homes with the address for proper identification in case of a fire or other emergency, in order to assist the members of the Holliday Volunteer Fire Dept. Residents are being asked to view their home from the street to ensure that the numbers of the address are clearly visible.

Look Who's New

Tips On Dental Health

RICHARD CARVER, D.D.S.

ORAL CANCER -- A SELF EXAM

1. Look at your face and neck. Feel both sides of your neck and the area under the jaw. Do both sides look and feel the same?
 2. Check your lips by looking at and feeling the outside. Pull the lower lip out and feel the inside and outside. Do the same for the upper lip. Do you feel any lumps or see any color changes?
 3. Pull your lip out, and using your forefinger feel of your gums and look at the color. Do they look the same as last month?
 4. With your mouth slightly closed--pull your cheek away from your teeth and look at and feel the inside of the cheek. Does it have a nice healthy pink look? Any changes? Check both sides.
 5. Take a piece of gauze and pull your tongue out--look at the sides, top, and down under it--look on the floor of the mouth. Do you find any lumps or growths anywhere?
 6. Say "AH" and look at the very back of your mouth. Look at the roof--Look at the tonsil area. Feel of it. Do you find anything unusual on one side? Do you see any white scaly patches?
- If you see something that doesn't look or feel right--see your dentist--soon. Prepared in the interest of better dental health. RICHARD CARVER, D.D.S., Phone 592-5141.

hesitant. Shorty soon decided to risk the possibility of being court martialed by asking the second officer of his intentions. "I told him what I thought, but he was not sure about the direction, and said if I was right someone should talk to the officer."

"Well, I knew if he was going to try to capture a machine gun he would give us special orders for a formation, and by this time I had about half the patrol wise to my belief. So I crawled to the officer and asked what his plans were, and if he was going to try to capture those guns. He said 'No, we are going back to A Company,' and I said, 'Like hell you are, you are taking us straight into the German lines.'" Shorty remembers. By this time all the men huddled together, and the officer asked him if he knew the way back to their company. Shorty nodded, and he led them racing back to safety.

Concerned about the way he had talked to an officer, Shorty was afraid he would be reported at headquarters. The officer did send a report. However, it was to say he was one of the best guides for a patrol the officer had seen. The reward for his chivalry was not very welcome, though, when he was assigned to patrol guide for eight consecutive nights.

At Cantigny the Americans mounted their first counter attack. Shorty and his friends fought continuously for the next 48 hours, and the enemy made six attempts to retake the lost ground. "But each assault was met with a brave 'All-American Line' that they could not break through, and they never did break the good old 'First Division Line.'"

General Pershing wrote of the battle, "The Commander-in-Chief has noted in this division a special pride of service and a high state of morale never broken by hardship of battle." "Oh, just show me a First Division man that does not swell just a bit with pride each time he reads that," Shorty says. "But there always has to be a sad part after each battle, and the First Division had 5,928 casualties on that front."

Speaking after the war to a German soldier, Shorty was told that the German General in charge of the enemy on the Cantigny front had his rank taken from him and was tried by a general court martial for not retaking the front. The charges were dropped when the prosecuting officers witnessed the American assault.

Moved to a location near Cantigny, Shorty was put on special duty as "Division Observer." "I might thank the officer I suspected of being a German spy," he claims. "He put my name in at headquarters as OK, and I thank him for being here today, because chances of getting through on the lines was slim."

Indeed, it was. Shorty lost his best friend, John J. Cheatham, on this front. A steel-car conductor from St. Louis, Cheatham had always volunteered for patrol duty, then talked Shorty into volunteering.

Apart, Cheatham still volunteered, and he soon met his ending. While on patrol, his men were ambushed, and Cheatham chose to return again and again to drag his injured comrades to safety. A fragment bomb dashed his hopes and his life, which greatly saddened Shorty.

Shorty's most glorious days as a soldier soon came. The First Division was ordered to break a hole in a great enemy pocket known as Norme Salent, situated dangerously near Paris. Five days of intense battle saw a victory for the First Division, with Shorty acting as observer with his important set of field glasses. At this battle, Shorty saw American tanks blown to pieces, the old bulky machines a good friend to infantrymen behind it, not inside it. "I could count 19 big tanks that had been hit a death blow," he remembers. "They were full of ammunition, oils and about 35 men, and it all goes up together, the men torn to pieces by their own shells and then the oil burns them." Shorty quickly lost his taste for tank battles.

Moved later to the Gaizerais Sector northeast of Toul, the 18th Division spent a beautiful early spring with only 50 casualties. "I was still on special duty observer, and after there was such few of the old men left in the line companies following heavy losses, a general order was issued for all men on special duty to be called back to the front," he says. "But, before I could return to my original duty, I was ordered to report to Regimental Headquarters, where I was promoted a Sergeant and placed in charge of 75 men."

On Oct. 9, Shorty was in charge of an observation post on top of Hill 240. Other posts lined the hill, and, before the day's end, his was the only post left, and out of six men in his detachment, only two were still alive, including himself. "My helmet had been split open on my head with a bullet," he relates.

"I was decorated for my day's work, and faithful service," he proudly says.

A copy of his actions goes as follows: "Clifton Burnett, Sergeant, First Division H.Q.D. 1st Infantry Brigade, for Extraordinary heroism in action near Montrefagne, France Oct. 9, Sergeant Burnett volunteered and established liaison between battalion commanders and brigade headquarters under heavy artillery and machine gun fire.

On the same day he twice volunteered and carried messages and acted as guide across fields subjected to shell and machine gun fire. He repeatedly repaired telephone wires when no linemen were available, and continued to work through shell fire and gas bombardment although four of the men working with him were wounded or lost."

Shorty later accompanied the First Division on a march towards Germany, and across the Rhine River. After crossing the German river, the troops remained for "nine long months" before finally being relieved.

"On the day I was getting on the boat to start for home, there was a big barbecue in my home country for the boys who had been to war and by the time we got back to the good old homeland, everyone was getting tired of the soldiers so it was easy to see I had left for the front too early, and come back too late to receive a very big reception," he recounts. Shorty's compensation, though, came in the way of two medals for his heroism. Today the two, the Victory Cross and the Distinguished Service Cross presented to him in France by General Pershing, are Shorty's most treasured possessions. He has already outlived the original ribbons and one replacement, with another replacement of the cloth ribbon in store.

Returning to his home in Gonzales County, Shorty met his wife, Polly, and the two set out to North Texas to make a living in the oilfields. "The wild and woolly days," he remembers. Now retired, the two live comfortably in their home situated between Kamay and Kadane Corner. Next to it is a draw which was once a flowing tributary of the Wichita River, which has long since gone dry.

"Me and my wife spend a lot of time at the Friendly Door in town (Iowa Park) these days," says the local hero. "We enjoy the people, and the food, very much."

The couple also boasts a daughter, Billy Jean McCoy of Monahans. And Shorty will tell you no matter what hardships the couple experienced in those lean years of the 1920s, it was still just like Heaven after hell in France.

IRS Tax Tips

UNDERSTANDING TAXES PROGRAM OFFERED

High school teachers and administrators across the country are again being offered teaching aids and materials from the Internal Revenue Service to help teach their students how our nation's tax system works.

The free instructional program reaches millions of students each year. The program typically lasts four to six weeks. The IRS says students can be expected to finish the course with an understanding of how to handle their own tax matters and a clearer concept of the economics of our tax system.

Study guides, teacher's manuals, and films are supplied by the IRS free of cost to schools participating in the program. School personnel interested in presenting an Understanding Taxes program should contact the IRS.

CONSUMER ALERT

If you are asked to invest, ask to see the investment's IRS registration number. The new tax act passed in July requires that almost all investments be registered with the IRS. The registration number of the investment must then be filed with the tax return claiming any deductions or credits for the investment.

But an investment that has an IRS registration number does not have the IRS "stamp of approval." "The whole purpose of the registration process is to give IRS a new tool in deciding which tax shelters to audit," said Glenn Cagle, IRS Director, Dallas District. "This provides a system for linking the promotion, the promoter, and the investors."

Cagle explained that the new provision is Congress' answer to the growing number of abusive tax shelters. "While there are many ways to legally minimize the tax one owes - a home mortgage is an example of a legal tax shelter - only the imagination limits the number of illegitimate schemes that can be tried," he said. "IRS is meeting this challenge head-on. We have a very active audit program. With the average additional assessment for a return claiming an abusive shelter running at $21,336, we feel we're making some impact."

"The buyer beware" are good watchwords where tax shelters are concerned. Cagle advised, "Our best advice to taxpayers who wish to invest is to evaluate any proposal on its overall profile. If the tax consequences did not exist, would this still be a worthy investment? If you cannot answer yes to this question, say no to the sale."

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 6, 1984

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 29 proposes a constitutional amendment that provides to state-chartered banks the same rights and privileges that are or may be granted to national banks of the United States domiciled in this state. For example, if national banks become authorized to maintain branch offices, this amendment would extend the same privilege to state banks.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide state banks the same rights and privileges as national banks."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 19 proposes a constitutional amendment that restructures the Permanent University Fund to provide: (1) for the expansion of the institutions eligible to participate in the bonding capacity of the fund to include the components of The University of Texas and Texas A&M University systems that have been added to those two systems of higher education since the Permanent University Fund was last restructured by constitutional amendment; (2) for the expansion of the purposes for which bond proceeds can be expended from new construction to include major repair and rehabilitation projects and the acquisition of major capital equipment (e.g., computers and laboratory equipment) and library books and materials; (3) for an increase in the bonding capacity from 20% (1/5 for The University of Texas System and 1/3 for the Texas A&M University System) to 30% (20% for The University of Texas System and 10% for Texas A&M University System) of the value of the assets (exclusive of real estate) in the Permanent University Fund in order to provide sufficient bond proceeds to care for the addition of 10 new institutions to those authorized to participate in the Permanent University Fund bonding program and to care for the expanded purposes for which the bond proceeds can be spent; and (4) for the dedication of the dividends, interest, and other income from the Permanent University Fund remaining after payment of principal and interest due on bonds and notes issued, to the provision of support and maintenance (over and above normal legislative appropriations) for Texas A&M University in Brazos County, Prairie View A&M University, and The University of Texas at Austin.

House Joint Resolution 19 also annually appropriates $100 million in each fiscal year, beginning September 1, 1985 (from the first money coming into the state treasury that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution) for the use of those agencies and institutions of higher education which are not included in The University of Texas or Texas A&M University Systems and, therefore, not eligible to participate in the Permanent University Fund bonding program. The amount of this appropriation could be adjusted every five years by a 2/3 vote of the Legislature, but could not be adjusted in such a way as to affect outstanding bonding indebtedness. Each institution of higher education that is eligible to participate (i.e., those institutions of higher education outside The University of Texas and Texas A&M University Systems) would be authorized to expend directly its share (such share to be determined pursuant to an equitable formula) of the $100 million appropriation for the purposes of acquiring land, constructing and equipping buildings or other permanent improvements, major repair and rehabilitation of other permanent buildings or improvements, and acquisition of major capital equipment (e.g., computers and laboratory equipment) and library books and materials. Additionally, each institution would be authorized to issue bonds backed by a pledge of up to 50% of its share of the $100 million annual appropriation for the purpose of land acquisition, new construction, and major repair and rehabilitation projects.

Except in the case of fire or natural disaster and in other extraordinary cases, verified by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature, all institutions of higher education would be precluded from receiving appropriations of general revenue funds for the purposes of land acquisition, new construction, and major repair and rehabilitation projects.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to create from general revenue a special higher education assistance fund for construction and related activities, to restructure the Permanent University Fund, and to increase the number of institutions eligible to benefit from the Permanent University Fund."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 65 proposes a constitutional amendment which authorizes the legislature to provide for the payment of assistance to the surviving dependent parents, brothers, and sisters of officers, employees and agents of the state or its political subdivisions, including members of organized volunteer fire departments and members of organized police reserve or auxiliary units authorized to make arrests, who die in the course of performing hazardous official duties. Payments to surviving spouses and dependent children of such officers, employees, and agents are already authorized by the Constitution.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for payment of assistance to the surviving dependent parents, brothers, and sisters of certain public servants killed while on duty."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 20 proposes a constitutional amendment which abolishes the office of county treasurer in Bexar and Collin counties if a majority of the voters in each of those counties vote in favor of abolishing the office of county treasurer in a local election to be held on the issue. All the powers, duties, and functions of the office of county treasurer in each of these counties would be transferred to the county clerk.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county treasurer in Bexar and Collin counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 22 proposes a constitutional amendment which provides a new method of filling a vacancy in the office of Lieutenant Governor. The amendment requires the President pro tempore of the Senate to call together the committee of the whole Senate within 30 days after a vacancy occurs in the office of Lieutenant Governor. The committee would be required to elect one of its members to perform the duties of the Lieutenant Governor until the next general election. This individual would continue his duties as Senator at the same time that he performs the Lieutenant Governor's duties. If the Senator who is elected ceases to be a Senator before the next general election, another Senator must be elected according to the above procedure to perform the Lieutenant Governor's duties. The President pro tempore would be required to perform the Lieutenant Governor's duties pending the election of one of its members by the committee of the whole Senate.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the state senate to fill a vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that permits the use of public funds and credit for payment of premiums on non-assessable life, health, or accident insurance policies and annuity contracts issued by a mutual insurance company authorized to do business in this state. The constitutional prohibition against a grant of public money to an individual, association, or corporation or against becoming a stockholder in a corporation, association, or company has limited life and health group policies of political subdivisions to non-mutual insurance companies. The amendment would permit mutual insurance companies to bid for those policies.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: The constitutional amendment to permit use of public funds and credit for payment of premiums on certain insurance contracts of mutual insurance companies authorized to do business in Texas."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment to change the membership of the State Commission on Judicial Conduct to include one Judge of a Municipal Court and one Judge of a County Court at Law, who shall be selected at large and appointed by the Supreme Court with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The amendment also provides additional grounds for removal from office of judges or justices of Texas courts, and provides additional disciplinary actions that could be taken in lieu of removal or censure. The amendment would extend the Commission's disciplinary authority to masters, magistrates, and retired or former judges who hear cases by designation. The amendment creates a tribunal to review recommendations of the State Commission on Judicial Conduct for removal or retirement of a judge or justice. The review tribunal would be composed of seven (7) Justices or Judges of the Courts of Appeals selected by lot by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The amendment also provides for appeal of the review tribunal's decision to the Supreme Court of Texas and grants an accused judge the right to discovery of evidence.

The proposition will appear on the ballot as follows: The constitutional amendment relating to the membership of the State Commission on Judicial Conduct and the authority and procedure to discipline active judges, certain retired and former judges, and certain masters and magistrates of the courts."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 22 proposes a constitutional amendment which increases the per diem of members of the Legislature. The amount of per diem allowed during a calendar year would be equal to the maximum amount set in federal income tax statutes as of January 1 of that same year as a deduction for ordinary and necessary business expenses incurred by a state legislator. Current per diem is $30; the maximum deduction is now $75.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide a per diem for members of the legislature equal to the maximum daily amount allowed by federal law as a deduction for ordinary and necessary business expenses incurred by a state legislator."
