Benefit football game will have fan appeal

A football game will be played in Hawk Stadium Dec. 1, but it won't be a high school state playoff contest. It'll be fully-grown men participating.

Part of the proceeds will go toward establishment of a scholarship fund, in honor of possibly the all-time Hawk fan: Bertha McDonald.

The 1 p.m. kickoff on the first Saturday of December will be between the IPHS Alumni Association and the Hawk Booster Club.

Names of players on both rosters will not be released for a couple more weeks, but the captains will give fans some idea of the players they'll be watching.

Captains of the Booster Club will be

Dr. Roy Boutwell and John Stewart. Leading the Alumni will be Jimmy Gilmore, Mark Thompson, Ray Willingham and Jerry Spruiell.

No, it won't be "flag" football. It'll be full-pads tackle.

Admission will be $3 for adults if purchased in advance, or $4 at the gate. All public school students will be $1, with tickets available only at the gate.

Tickets are available at Dairy Queen, Dr. Carter Pirkle, City Cleaners, Gilmore Inc. Harvey's, Iowa Park Florists, O.N. Newman Law Office, Parkway, Salt Lick, Scobee's No. 1, Shaw Motor, Shirley's Kuntry Kitchen and Thompson Tool.

A chili feed will be put on following the game, prepared by the MuleSkinners.

The Bertha McDonald Scholarship is a project of the Alumni Association. Final details of scholarship amount and criteria of recipients are yet to be completed, according to Jerry Spruiell, one of the originators.

Mrs. McDonald taught full time and as a substitute after retirement several decades in Iowa Park schools. She has been recognized by numerous teams at being their most staunch supporter.

Alumni willing to volunteer work in the concession stand at the game are asked to contact Joni Carter Whitis at 592-9034 or 592-2684.

Trustees change policy for future elections

Beginning next spring, Iowa Park school trustees will be elected by position, rather than at-large.

Board members Tuesday night approved a resolution changing the election policy. And according to Supt. Harold Cowley, the change is permanent and the board is prohibited by law from ever changing back to the at-large system in the future.

In the past, trustees were running against fellow board members attempting to be re-elected, as well as all other candidates, for a place on the board.

Under the new system, each trustee has a numbered position, and as an incumbent seeking re-election, will only campaign against new candidates. The candidate for a given number receiving the greatest number of votes will be the victor.

After passage of the new policy, which was opposed by Rusty Rusk and Ray Hicks abstained during the voting, numbers were drawn by all board members.

The numerical order held by trustees is Hicks, Roy Boutwell, Martha Dudley, Rusk, Jimmy Howell, Rex Wells and Marilyn Hale.

Another policy change approved but receiving more of a split vote than the election policy was one permitting the superintendent's contract to be extended up to three years.

Opposed by Rusk, Hale and Boutwell, the resolution states, "After a two-year probationary period, the Superintendent's contract shall be renewed for a term of one to three years."

Board policy for a number of years has been to limit contracts for the superintendent to the same as all other contracted employees, one year.

AUDIT PRESENTED

Wichita Falls accountant Nayland Smith told board members the district is "still in good financial condition, with nearly $2-million in the bank," despite spending more from the general operating fund than it took in.

He termed the bank balance as "very ample."

While the board had a deficit built into the budget, in order to cut down on reserves, the school actually spent less of the budgeted deficit than it intended, and the overall budget was underspent by $328,000.

Smith told the board he had found that the tax collection department had violated the school's contract with the city, which prohibits collection of taxes "with prejudice."

He explained the term means that taxes, under the contract, cannot be collected for one party while still owed to the other.

Tax collector Allen Shewmake explained that he had some taxpayers who had made partial payments on their accounts to both the city and school, and at the time when penalty would be assessed and the taxpayers didn't have enough to pay all taxes to both entities, he would accept full payment to one and allow the other to remain unpaid.

Smith suggested the contract should be changed, or discontinue the practice. Trustees said they would seek to change the contract.

The accountant repeated his suggestion made last year, that the school change its checking account over to the interest-bearing NOW account at the bank, in order to use the balance better.

Supt. Cowley explained the school was in the second year of a two-year contract with State National Bank, which did not permit the checking account to draw interest, and he would attempt to negotiate a change for the balance of the contract.

Trustees said if the present

Original city streets may be made narrow

The city has launched a study concerning the width of Emerald Street that could have far-reaching ramifications throughout the original townsite.

During Monday's meeting of the council, a request was made by developer Bill Swan for the city to abandon 20 feet off Emerald, which would permit him to construct four homes on property he owns, instead of two.

The request was made because without the extra land, his lots would not meet the required minimum of 6,000 square feet per lot.

Requests for abandonment of right of way has been an ongoing problem for present and previous city councils. They've been requested both because homeowners have built onto right of way or because original townsite streets in many cases are far wider than those in newer portions of the city.

In some cases, street right of way is as wide as 150 feet, and 60 feet is considered adequate.

Councils have usually approved abandonments on extra-wide streets. But this has caused zig zag property lines in the neighborhoods, which affects setback requirements for structures.

In some cases, when entire blocks were to be abandoned, to satisfy one person's request, neighbors resisted accepting the additional property, in fear it would increase property value, hence higher taxes.

But, at the suggestion of Alderman Lita Watson, Emerald may be a test that could affect all extra-wide streets in the city.

If resistance is slight, to giving the unneeded right of way to the respective property owners, all such streets in the city may be cut down in width. This would alleviate all abandonment requests in the future.

OTHER BUSINESS

The council also approved sale of the old Park Hotel site, purchase of a new police car and equipment for the sewer treatment plant, and awarded a cable tv franchise.

But members disapproved a second request by Swan to replat half a block of undeveloped property on West Louisa.

Sam Hunter's bid of $6,600 for the corner lot north from city hall was accepted by the council. It was the highest of two bids, and aldermen

Police investigating tire slashings

Police are continuing to investigate a series of tire slashings that caused some $1,000 in damage to owners of the vehicles.

Someone, possibly using a hunting or fish-cleaning knife, slashed tires on vehicles at 1016 Van Horn, 1011 Louisa and on Foley at 900, 902, 921, 1006, 1018 and 1021.

Believed to have taken place between 9 p.m. and midnight Saturday, Chief Bob Dean is asking citizens who may have noticed any unusual activity in those neighborhoods to contact him or one of the officers in his department.

A one-vehicle wreck on the railroad track, several blocks away from any crossing, Saturday night resulted in DWI charges against a 44-year-old Iowa Park man.

Victor Richards reportedly was driving his car when it wrecked on the railroad tracks in the 800 block of East Highway, approximately in front of Ken's Gulf, at 6:10 p.m.

The police dispatcher had to call railroad officials to have an approaching train stopped, so the damaged vehicle could be removed from the tracks.

Richards, after refusing the attention of Emergency Medical Technicians, was transported to Wichita Falls police department for a breath test and later turned over to the Department of Public Safety for charges to be filed, according to police files.

At 2:13 Saturday morning, local police began pursuit of a motorcycle on North Johnson Road. The chase continued until the vehicle stopped about four miles north of the city.

Steven Ray Bowen, 17, was arrested, but a 16-year-old male juvenile riding with him was released to his mother.

Bowen was charged with evading and reckless driving, and placed under a $500 bond on each charge.

Friday evening, Karen Duffy filed a complaint at the police department that her purse had been stolen that day at Iowa Park High School.

A 10-speed bicycle was found abandoned in a vacant lot and turned into police. The owner can have it returned by properly describing it, Chief Dean said.

Bushfield, McNeely vows are exchanged Saturday

Following a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas LeVan McNeely, who were married Saturday evening at the First Christian Church in Wichita Falls, will live in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. McNeely is the former Miss Lydia Bushfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sefcik of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. G.M. Bushfield II of Dallas.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, Rev. Wayne Naugher, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Wagoner, Okla. The altar decorations featured a brass arch entwined with red roses and ivy flanked by seven-branched candelabra decorated in the same flowers and greenery that held tall white burning candles. On either side of these further illumination was provided by the candles aflame in three-branched candelabra.

The bride was presented for marriage by her brother George M. Bushfield III. She was a charming picture in a gown of white sheer, Venise and Chantilly laces. The bodice was embellished with Venise lace and fashioned with an off-the-shoulder neckline and shepherdess sleeves that reflected unusual treatment of the sheer and lace. The full skirt that formed a short train featured multiple ruffles of Chantilly lace, the ruffles at the floor level accented with a hemline of Venise lace.

She wore a stylish white derby hat to which her illusion blusher and waistlength veil were attached. The picture was completed with a bridal bouquet of red silk roses and ivy with a background of tatting done by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Onie Klemmon of Temple.

The bride kept traditions of the day by wearing her baby ring for sentiment and "something old," a diamond heart necklace, the "something borrowed" from her stepfather; and her gown for "something new." For the "something blue" touch, she carried a white handkerchief embroidered in blue.

The musical background for the wedding was provided by Kenny Carroll and Judy Diltz, vocalists, who sang "The Rose," "Up Where We Belong," and "To Me," by Cynthia Compton, pianist, who provided accompaniment and played the marches for the entrance and departure of the wedding party.

The bride was preceded to the altar by her sister, Audrey Bushfield, the honor attendant, and two bridesmaids, Mrs. Jeanna Perez and Miss Darlene Mahler. They wore red taffeta ankle-length gowns designed with off-the-shoulder neckline and short puffed sleeves. Each wore a wreath of baby's breath in her hair and carried a candle in a brass vase covered with a clear hurricane globe encircled with red roses and ivy.

The groom and male members of the wedding party wore black tuxedos with red bow ties and cummerbunds. Jeff Ashlock of Wichita Falls stood by the groom as the best man. The groomsmen were Dave Elswick of San Antonio and Randy Gibson of Fort Worth. The ushers were Joe McNeely, Bob McNeely of Burkburnett, brothers of the groom, and Dr. Ed Thornton of Holliday.

Mothers of the bride and groom complemented their street-length dresses with corsages of white silk baby orchids accented with seed pearls. Mrs. Sefcik wore a coral and green water print Qiana dress designed with a jeweled neckline, pleated shoulders and long sleeves. Mrs. McNeely wore a grey silk dress styled with long sleeves, a soft bow that tied at the neckline and belted waist.

The Fellowship Hall of the church where families of the bride hosted the post-nuptial reception was a lovely place wrapped in beauty and good taste. The hosts were assisted by Mmes. James Chaffin, Dave Elswick, Mark Zellner and Bob McNeely, who served refreshments, and Mrs. George Bushfield III, who registered guests.

The refreshment table took captive the hearts of the guests and will forever be one of the most vivid memories of their wedding day for the bride and groom. It was draped with white lace and swagged with white net and highlighted by a three-tiered white cake with two sets of pillars at one extremity. The fantastic patterns of frosting designs and a top ornament of two white doves dextrously arranged with red silk roses and ivy, and a base of the roses, baby's breath and ivy lent special interest to the confection.

The centerpiece featured an antique gold epergne filled with red and white silk baby orchids and baby's breath, and the crystal punch bowl resting on a gold pedestal base at the extremity opposite the cake completed the table decor.

The round table where guests signed the wedding book was covered identically to the refreshment table. It held a red plume pen in an antique brass holder, a centerpiece that matched the one on the refreshment table, and antique baskets filled with the red net packets of bird seed.

The bride was graduated from Iowa Park High School and the groom was graduated from Lytle, Texas High School. Both attended Midwestern State Univ. She is employed at KAUZ-TV, and he is employed by White's Inc. Advertising Agency.

Special wedding guests were Mrs. W.P. Morgan of Iowa Park, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Onie Klemmon of Temple, the groom's grandmother. Out-of-town guests included Messrs. and Mmes. Karl Pace of Red Oak, Don Wright of Electra, Henry Sefcik of Punkin Center, Marion Baker of Petrolia; Mrs. Dovey Wright of Electra and Mabel Benable of Waxahachie.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at their home in Burkburnett.

FURNITURE HARDWARE

As I See It....

By BOB HAMILTON

This is going to be one of those weeks when I take some short shots at several unrelated subjects.

The city will close the Wall Street railroad crossing about 9 this morning to do some badly-needed repairs.

It seems some letters Mayor Tim Hunter wrote the Burlington people got some response, after he carbon copied to elected officials, and they agree our situation is worse than bad.

They apparently agreed, because they will pay the city for the materials used to do the crossing repairs, which is the reason for the temporary closing of the crossings. More to come on that subject in the near future.

A "news release" from Gov. Whoo-e-e White's office informs the public that the "Governor Urges Cut In Teacher Paperwork."

Ole Whoo-e-e is apparently feeling the heat from teachers across the state. It's been in the news quite a bit lately.

Question: why is Whoo-e-e wanting to change the reform bill so soon? Could it be he just now read it? Or did his ex-teacher wife explain to him what it all meant?

Iowa Park High School may have the best football team in the state, having to stay home and not competing in the playoffs.

I'm pretty sure of one other thing: there's not another team in the state made up of young men with more character.

Would you like to have a sure-fire formula on how to have your city and school taxes increased?

It's simple. Just do all your shopping outside Iowa Park.

That way your city won't get any sales tax, and the businesses will all close, leaving your property to generate the revenues needed to continue operating the city and school.

Letters to the Editor

Disputes charges

Readers:

This letter is written in regard to the grossly erroneous Letter to the Editor printed in the Iowa Park Leader, 11/8/84 Edition. I have no intention of getting down on Susie McKerley's level of mud slinging, but to show the readers where she made her errors.

Soccer came to Iowa Park more than a few years ago, let's try more than ten years ago.

Next, we have no select teams in the Greater Wichita Falls Soccer Association at this time.

The children considered to be "good" players by Susie did not start out that way. Neither have the boys of this team been together since day one. Thus, we have "good" players that were taught to be "good" players.

Each season there are officers of The Iowa Park Soccer Club out searching and searching for coaches. There are very few volunteers that give their time and efforts for keep them out of trouble. Keep their bodies physically fit. Usually the ones that volunteer are those that come back season after season to help. We may pick-up one or two assistant coaches or exceptional parents who want to help every season, but this usually doesn't cover the ones we lose.

Each season we usually come-up with parents to which this letter is referenced. Those that don't want to help, don't want to get involved, don't want to talk, just want to see how much trouble they can stir-up for the children. That is, taking the coaches' mind away from the children and on trying to get everything straight with the parents, which is impossible to do when you have thirty or more parents to please. You can only spread yourself so thin.

If Susie had been to the two games the Saturday before the Sunday she mentioned, she would have known that the Chiefs lost both games. We like to win, yes, do we want to teach our children to lose?

Disciplinary actions are being used by the coach, Danny Skinner, to get the boys to come to all practices and to all games. This has been explained to the boys on more than one occasion. They understand that if they don't come to practice or to games, they will not get to play as much as the boys that are there on a regular basis.

Susie's son missed one practice and two games in that week, thus he was not playing as much as usual. If Susie had stuck around long enough, she would have noticed that there was another boy sitting right next to hers under similar circumstances; but he did attend one game the day before. Danny Skinner usually substitutes them the same amount of time. He carries a stop watch around with him every game to be as fair as possible.

Susie did not stay fifty-eight minutes out of a sixty minute game that Sunday, but took her son and left at least fifteen to twenty minutes before the game was over. At this time she was taking a son that did not want to leave.

Let's spend our time positively, not negatively, for our children.

Nikki Inman

No 'super team'

Dear Mr. Hamilton

McKerley in your Nov. 8 issue, I would like to express my gratitude to the Iowa Park Soccer Club. Thanks to coaches like Danny Skinner, my child has learned a fun sport and to be a good sportsman. My child was a member of a championship team when her inexperience and inadequacies would have kept her off of Susie McKerley's allegedly "hand-picked super team."

As a former Secretary and Treasurer of the I.P.S.C., I can assure Mrs. McKerley that I never recorded such a team and that these teams do not exist in Iowa Park or the Greater Wichita Falls Soccer Association.

As for fees, if Mrs. McKerley had been financially unable to afford a uniform and registration, the I.P.S.C. would gladly have carried her child as a subsidized player, in which confidentiality is maintained.

I have only praise for the I.P.S.C. and for the parents who volunteer their time as coaches, team mothers, officers, referees and spectators. These are the people who make the I.P.S.C. the fine organization it is.

Respectfully,
Mary LaBrier

Supports coach, team

In response to Susie McKerley's letter about Danny Skinner Chief's in last weeks paper, I am a parent of one of the Chiefs and very proud of it (Win or Loose).

The only thing I agree with Susie is the boys should be taught sportsmanship. But for a child to learn good sportsmanship he has to have a parent to back him up all the way. Your coach is not a baby sitter but how many parents are at practice and at their child's games. No matter how you feel, what you would rather be doing, or how cold or windy it may be. Your coach gives up alot of his time and patience to teach your son a sport so any child that signs up should take the responsibility of being at practices and games. She said she packed up her family on Sun for a 60 min game. We played two games on Sat where was Bryan, the Chiefs were there all day but don't recall seeing her or her son, and also where was he at several practices we didn't see him at. That should answer her question to why he set on the bench every game for the 60 mins and my son is one of them but when you are interested enough in the sport to learn any position on the field and if the coach says play it, you do and not say a word whether you want to or not and give it all you got you are a good sportsman and dedicated. My son had a jammed toe last week but he forced a shoe on and went to practice and played three games over the weekend and that is what I call dedication to your team and team mates. And to me if you give it your all, you earned a starting position.

The Chiefs and Danny Skinner are all considered Champs in interested parents minds. Win or Loose, if they give there all from start to finish. Not one or two boys are Champs, every boy on the team is! If parents would set back at the next soccer game they would see, we as parents of the Chiefs, are for every boy on that team and not only our child.

Likes coach

Dear Sir:

I am writing you in regard to a letter, which appeared in the November 8th edition, concerning the game of soccer and Danny Skinner, Coach of the Iowa Park Chiefs soccer team.

My son has been a member of Danny Skinner's team for four years. This has given me time to know Danny well enough to judge him as a coach. I have found Danny not only to be a good coach, but a good person. One of his finer traits is the patience he has with the boys on his team, some of whom are often unruly and uncooperative during practice sessions, and who do not always have the proper attitude. It is unfortunate, but apparently an undesirable attitude is sometimes acquired from a parent.

I have enjoyed the game of soccer and have been pleased with what my son has learned being a member of Danny Skinner's team. Danny has given of his time and efforts and my son has benefitted greatly.

With Appreciation,
C.R. Luney

Study clubs in joint meeting

The three GFWC federated study clubs of Iowa Park, the 23 Study Club, Philia Study Club and Amity Study Club held the annual joint meeting Monday evening at Texas Electric Reddy Room. Amity Study Club members were responsible for hostess duties.

Mrs. Keith Aulds, president of the 23 Study Club, was program leader and introduced Mrs. Dean Maxwell and Mrs. Jerry Denton, presidents of the Philia Study Club and Amity Study Club, respectively.

Mrs. China B. Smith, a TFWC trustee and member of the 23 Study Club, brought the inspirational thought to set the mood for the meeting. She used two poems "The Praying Hands" and "Confession."

Mrs. Joe Singer introduced Mrs. L.W. Teel, a guest artist, who presented the creative art feature showing how china, glassware, candles, cloths and accessories that are in the home can be mixed and matched for holiday entertaining. She had on display four basic place settings and demonstrated how they could be combined in almost unthought of ways to create order and design.

"Use things that reflect yourself when decorating for special occasions and your guests will feel more at home," she said. One arrangement that beautifully expressed the art of mixing and matching where each piece harmonized in perfect taste was a centerpiece arranged on a basic red cloth created of bronze deer, candlesticks, red candles, odds and ends of china and glassware.

The highlight of the Federation Day part of the program was a film shown by Mrs. Erwin F. Soell and narrated by Mrs. Keith Aulds, depicting the history and accomplishments of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs since it was organized in 1897. It also emphasized the special projects for 1984-86 which include Save the Children, M.D. Anderson Hospital and Girlstown U.S.A.

The film stressed the involvement of Texas clubwomen in the areas of education, legislation, conservation, community improvement and volunteer services. For the finale, a picture of the stately home of TFWC in Austin was shown and Mrs. Smith described the renovation that has been done in recent years and plans for future renovation.

During the social hour, refreshments were served by the hostesses from a table that beautifully expressed the harvest theme in decorations. It was covered with brown linen and centered with an artistic candle, hurricane globe, floral fall arrangement.

Christmas gifts are club project

The Modern Music Study Club held the November meeting Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Ed Hefti.

During the business conducted by Mrs. Kenneth Davis, it was voted for each member to bring two unwrapped Christmas gifts for patients at Wichita Falls State Hospital, and a monetary gift for a local deserving family to the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Keith Aulds Dec. 13.

Mrs. Larry Thompson gave the story of "We Worship Thee, Almighty Lord," the hymn of the month and some interesting facts about the composer Johann Olaf Wallin.

The musical program for the evening featured Mrs. Mary Wallace who sang "The Miracle of Faith;" Mrs. Davis who sang the seasonal "Bless This House;" and three-part harmony selections by the club members. Mrs. Michael Sargent furnished piano accompaniment.

Drugs are topic of P-TA speaker

Chief of Police Robert Dean gave a talk on "Drugs and Your Child" at the monthly meeting of the Bradford P-TA held Nov. 6.

Chief Dean stated that drug abuse affects people of all social levels. He also gave information on types of drugs and signs of drug usage and also had informative pamphlets available.

An executive board meeting was held before the regular P-TA meeting.

The fourth grade class held a musical program entitled "I'm Proud to be an American," prior to Dean's program.

MRS. DONALD BRUCE DOWELL

Townsend, Dowell nuptials recited Nov. 3

The Crestway Baptist Church at Birmingham, Ala. was the scene of the Nov. 3 wedding when Miss Donna Jo Townsend became the bride of Donald Bruce Dowell. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Townsend of Somerset, Ky. and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Dowell of Iowa Park.

The candlelight ceremony was officiated by Rev. Terry DeFoor in a decorative setting featuring spiral candelabra from which tall white candles entwined with pink ribbon and baby's breath arose, and palm fronds. The church pews were marked with pink ribbon and baby's breath.

The bride was presented in marriage for the double-ring service by her father. She chose an ivory organ green enhanced with applied lace that covered the bodice with a Queen Anne neckline, formed the tight long sleeves and bordered the hemline of the gown. She wore a wreath of silk flowers to hold her waistlength illusion veil trimmed with seed pearls. Her airy bouquet was composed of rubin lilies, stephanotis, fern and ivy and completed with ivory ribbon streamers that tied in love knots and extended to the floor. She wore a gold necklace, a gift from the groom, and kept bridal traditions.

The bride's attendants included Mrs. Michael Moseley of Pleasant Grove, Ala., the matron of honor, Miss Laura Dowell of Iowa Park, sister of the groom, and Mrs. James Newman of Birmingham, the bridesmaids. They were attired in identical formal dark pink polyester gowns accented with matching jackets. They carried bouquets centered with white rubin lilies encircled with pink gladioli and eucalyptus complemented with light pink lace streamers threaded with darker pink ribbon.

The groom and his attendants wore basic black tuxedos by Earl West, cream-colored cutaway shirts, vests and bow ties. Eldon Dowell served as his son's best man. The groomsmen and candlelighters were Michael Moseley of Pleasant Grove, Ala. and Kermit Farmer of Pelham, Ala.

The bride's mother wore a long emerald green silk dress with split sleeves, and the groom's mother wore a dusty rose polyester crepe dress topped with a pink lace jacket. Their corsages featured a rubin lily surrounded by stephanotis and baby's breath.

Following a wedding trip to New Orleans and the World's Fair, the newlyweds are now at home in Memphis, Tenn. where he is employed by Griffith Laboratories. She was graduated from high school at Birmingham, Ala. and he was graduated from Iowa Park High School and Texas A&M Univ.

The bride's parents were hosts for the reception following the wedding at the church. They were assisted with duties of serving by Misses Sarah Moody, Linda Daulton, Carol Sanders and Shelia Vaughn.

The bride's table was draped with white lace trimmed with pink silk bows and was appointed with two silver candelabra holding candles and silk flowers in her colors. The five-tiered cake held special interest in the table decor because of its height and strawberry filling between the layers. The two top layers were separated with swans and pink silk flowers, and the top was ornamented with pink and burgundy silk flowers and greenery.

Interest on the groom's table was also focused on the cake, a four-tiered chocolate delicacy with luscious nut filling and a cover of fresh strawberries and grapes. Also on the table were a gold punch bowl with strawberry punch, coffee service, cream mints and fancy mixed nuts.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Steak & Ale Restaurant.

Other out-of-town relatives attending the wedding were Mrs. Kit Loveless of Somerset, Ky., grandmother of the bride, and Cheryl Wahl of Wichita Falls, sister of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Dowell are planning a reception for Dec. 15 to honor the newlyweds and have the opportunity of introducing their new daughter-in-law to Iowa Park relatives and friends. The reception will be held at Texas Electric Reddy Room.

My family and I deeply appreciate the support the voters of the 13th Congressional District have given us over these past ten years during my service in Washington. It has been an honor to serve you. Together we have accomplished a great deal for the Panhandle and Northwest Texas, and for our country. I have said many times that this area is blessed with great people. As your Congressman since 1975, I have dealt personally with thousands of constituents and have thoroughly enjoyed this relationship. I will always do my best to be worthy of your friendship.

Cook of the Week

Most women stay busy, by either choice or necessity. This week's cook, Ginger (Mrs. Larry) Beisch, keeps herself busy, out of both.

Ginger, a 15-year veteran of the classroom, has taught sixth grade math and reading at Electra Junior High for most of those years. She is currently president of the Classroom Teacher's Association in Electra.

As well as teaching, Ginger also helps out quite a bit with her husband, Larry's, farming and ranching. The couple and their two children live on Clear Lake Ranch, near Lake Diversion. Ginger does most of the bookkeeping for the operation and works most all of the frequent team calf-ropings Larry holds.

Their children, Ross, 13, and Anginette, 10, also help out on the farm and in the home, but require a lot of time, as do all children.

Ross has muscular dystrophy and must attend weekly therapy. He is manager of the seventh grade Electra football team and an avid sports fan. Aside from all this, he enjoys helping his dad work cattle.

Anginette is in the fourth grade in Electra Elementary. She enjoys helping her mother in the kitchen as well as making her own recipes. She also contributed one of her recipes this week.

Just as the farming is kept in the family, so is the teaching. Larry is a former principal of Electra Junior High where he also taught and coached. At one time, he was both teaching and farming.

The couple are both active members of the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

In Ginger's spare time, she enjoys oil painting and tennis.

Alathean members approve donations

The Alathean Sunday school class of First Baptist Church had a luncheon and business meeting in the Fellowship Hall of the church Nov. 6.

Mrs. Gladys Bridges gave the devotional. During the business meeting it was announced that the Christmas party will be in December at the home of Mrs. Floyd Heard. Members voted to give candy to the patients at Heritage Manor and to donate $25 to Girls Town.

Twenty members and two visitors, Corliss Wallace, and Mary Sue Dustin of Denton, were present.

UMW meets

Mrs. Gene Owens directed the United Methodist Women in their annual Pledge Service and World Thank offering in their meeting Tuesday morning.

In the pledge service, she used a common and familiar object - bread - in keeping with the words of Jesus "I am the Bread of Life." The bread was placed on the altar as a symbol of the pledge the members were making as their promise to share what God had given them. She said "We can display our love and faith in God by using our talents, time and money in service to others." She continued by saying that true faith and true living demand that we know and acknowledge that we belong to the kingdom of God, and that we produce acts of love toward our neighbors.

The World Thank offering taken each year by United Methodist Women is undesignated. It is an expression of commitment to the whole gospel and enables those who give to be faithful to the command of Jesus and "go into all the world."

Beebe in elite group by carrying 1,000 yards

He only needed 46 yards going into Friday night's final season game against Bridgeport to break the 1,000-yard mark, and he did it.

In doing so, Hawk senior fullback, James Beebe became only the sixth Iowa Parkan to gain over 1,000 yards rushing in a season.

Beebe had carried 176 times and gained 954 yards through the first nine games.

His number was called 19 times against the Bulls, and he responded with a whopping 156 yards, his second-best effort of the season, not to mention a pair of touchdowns.

That gave him 1,110 yards rushing for the season, an average of 5.7 yards for each of his 195 carries.

He also had six pass receptions for the year to add 131 more yards on his total offense. And with the 224 yards he gained on 53 carries as a junior, he finished his varsity career with 1,465 rushing.

Who were the other five Hawks in the past 16 years to break the 1,000-yard mark?

Well, one of them did it twice. He was all-stater Jeff McDonald, who amassed 1,481 yards as a junior in 1969, and added 1,714 more his senior year. But, of course, those were 15-game seasons, as the Hawks won the state title his junior year, and shared the crown when he was a senior.

McDonald actually had only 844 yards through the regular season in 1969, but stood at 1,058 after 10 games the following year. He averaged 6.4 yards per carry as a junior and 5.7 as a senior.

McDonald had running mates both years who broke the 1,000 mark, also.

Gary Williams carried the ball only 146 times during his senior year in 1969, and gained 1,481 yards, a 10-yard average. He exceeded the coveted mark through the regular season, also, by averaging 11.4 yards to gain 1,065 in 10 games.

Steve Webb was McDonald's other running mate in 1970, and he gained 1,158 yards in 14 games, having missed the championship game due to an injury.

Webb was a junior in 1970. He was credited with having gained 862 yards as a sophomore.

He was well on his way toward the 1,000 plateau his senior year, until the sixth game. On the last play of the first quarter against Stephenville, he was knocked out the rest of the season with a knee injury. He finished with 612 yards, giving him a career of 2,632 yards playing on the varsity.

David "Red Hoss" Ross was another Hawk to break the magic mark, and he did it in both 1973 and 1974. As a junior, he gained 1,486 yards on 244 carries. His senior year, he carried 239 times and gained 1,406.

Then, after a five-year lapse, Troy Thompson joined the elite group of Hawk backs. His number was called 231 times, and he gained 1,151 yards. As a junior, he carried only 130 times and turned in 731 yards.

JV, Frosh beat Bulls

The Hawk Junior Varsity and Freshman football teams wound up the season on winning notes.

Iowa Park humbled Bridgeport's JV with a 48-8 dribbling, eventhough the Bulls went into the game with a 3-1 district record.

In the Freshman game, Bridgeport pretty well had its way offensively, accumulating almost 200 yards, but couldn't score. Iowa Park was held to only three first downs, but scored on a long pass for its victory.

Basketball games set

Basketball gets underway for Iowa Park High School athletes this evening.

The Hawkette Freshman, Junior Varsity and Varsity will host Archer City in a scrimmage, with the first game starting at 4:30 p.m.

The Hawk and Hawkette Freshmen and Junior Varsities will see action Monday, but in different locations.

The boys will travel to Burkburnett, where the first game is slated to get underway at 6 p.m. The girls will be in Bowie, with the same starting time as the boys.

The Hawks and their JV are to host Burkburnett Tuesday, with the JV game starting at 6:30 p.m.

First game for the Hawkettes, according to the schedule, is not until Monday of the following week, when they host Burk.

Elms' name omitted

The name of one senior on the Hawks football team was omitted from the list printed in last week's edition of the Leader.

He is Jimmy Elms. The Leader regrets the omission.

Tips On Dental Health

RICHARD CARVER, D.D.S.

HAPPY GAS

The use of nitrous oxide in combination with oxygen (happy gas) has been important for dentistry since 1844. Horace Wells demonstrated its anesthetic properties and possible use in dentistry. The early trials were motivated by a need to control pain and anxiety in patients. This same desire to maintain patient comfort accounts for the current popularity.

In the United States, "Happy Gas" is used by dentists as a sedative or as an adjunct to general anesthesia. As a sedative, the inhalation of low to moderate concentrations effectively relieves dental anxiety. The use of conscious sedation is increasing, and it is estimated that it is used by 25% of all practicing dentists.

In the general dentist office the patient is not "put to sleep," but just enough of the gas is used to help relieve the nervous tension. Many times it is not necessary to have a "shot" for the dentist to repair small cavities.

If you are one of those people that have been putting off necessary dental repair because of excessive nervousness—Why don't you ask your dentist about the use of "Happy Gas"?

Hawks have fun winning final game of season

The Hawks closed out their 1984 football season Friday night with a 35-13 "fun win" over Bridgeport.

While most coaches give their underclassmen as much experience as possible in the final game of a season in which they have no opportunity to advance into the playoffs, Coach David Baugh gave his seniors most of the playing time, and more.

Knowing fullback James Beebe needed 46 yards to break 1,000 for the season, he let the senior have the ball 19 times. And Beebe responded with 156 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

And then there was halfback Jerry Allen, who ask Baugh every time he saw the mentor during the second half. . . and it was considerable because he followed Baugh every step while not on the field. . . if he could get in a couple plays as quarterback.

With less than a minute to play, Baugh gave in. Allen called his own roll-out play and picked up 24 yards. Then he tried a pass, but missed the receiver, and retired happily.

Non-senior Scott Weaver scored the game's first TD, on a 20-yard pass from Van Hedrick. Weaver touched the ball three other times in the game. He picked up 27 yards on runs, both in the first period, and in the second, caught another pass for 73 yards.

So, for the evening, sophomore Weaver averaged 8.5 yards on runs and 46.5 yards as a receiver.

Two other non-seniors also got to touch the ball during the game. Reserve quarterback Ray Sefcik got in a few plays as signal-caller, throwing one incomplete pass. But he also intercepted two Bridgeport passes.

The other non-senior was sophomore Robert Adams, who played his usual position as defensive nose guard. But he had a perfect night as place kicker, splitting the uprights on all five extra point attempts.

Beebe's first touchdown came less than three minutes following Weaver's TD. The 60-yard drive was set up by Sefcik's initial aerial steal.

Iowa Park made it 21-0 early in the second quarter on a 13-yard sprint, by highlighted by a Hedrick pass to Kendell Hill that covered 44 yards.

The host Bulls completed three consecutive passes in the last minute of the first half to score and narrow the score to 21-7.

But Beebe widened the point spread again on the first Hawk possession of the second half, capping a 55-yard drive with a 24-yard gallop up the middle of the defense.

A couple of minutes later, Phillip Davis scored on a spectacular defensive play.

On the fifth play by Bridgeport following Beebe's TD, the Bull quarterback was rushed by defensive end Scott Young. The ball was pitched to the trailing back, who bobbled it into the air.

Davis scooped it up before it touched the ground, and raced, untouched, 48 yards to the goal line to extend the score to 35-7 with 7:44 yet remaining in the third period. He also claimed one other Bull fumble, as did Rocky Martin.

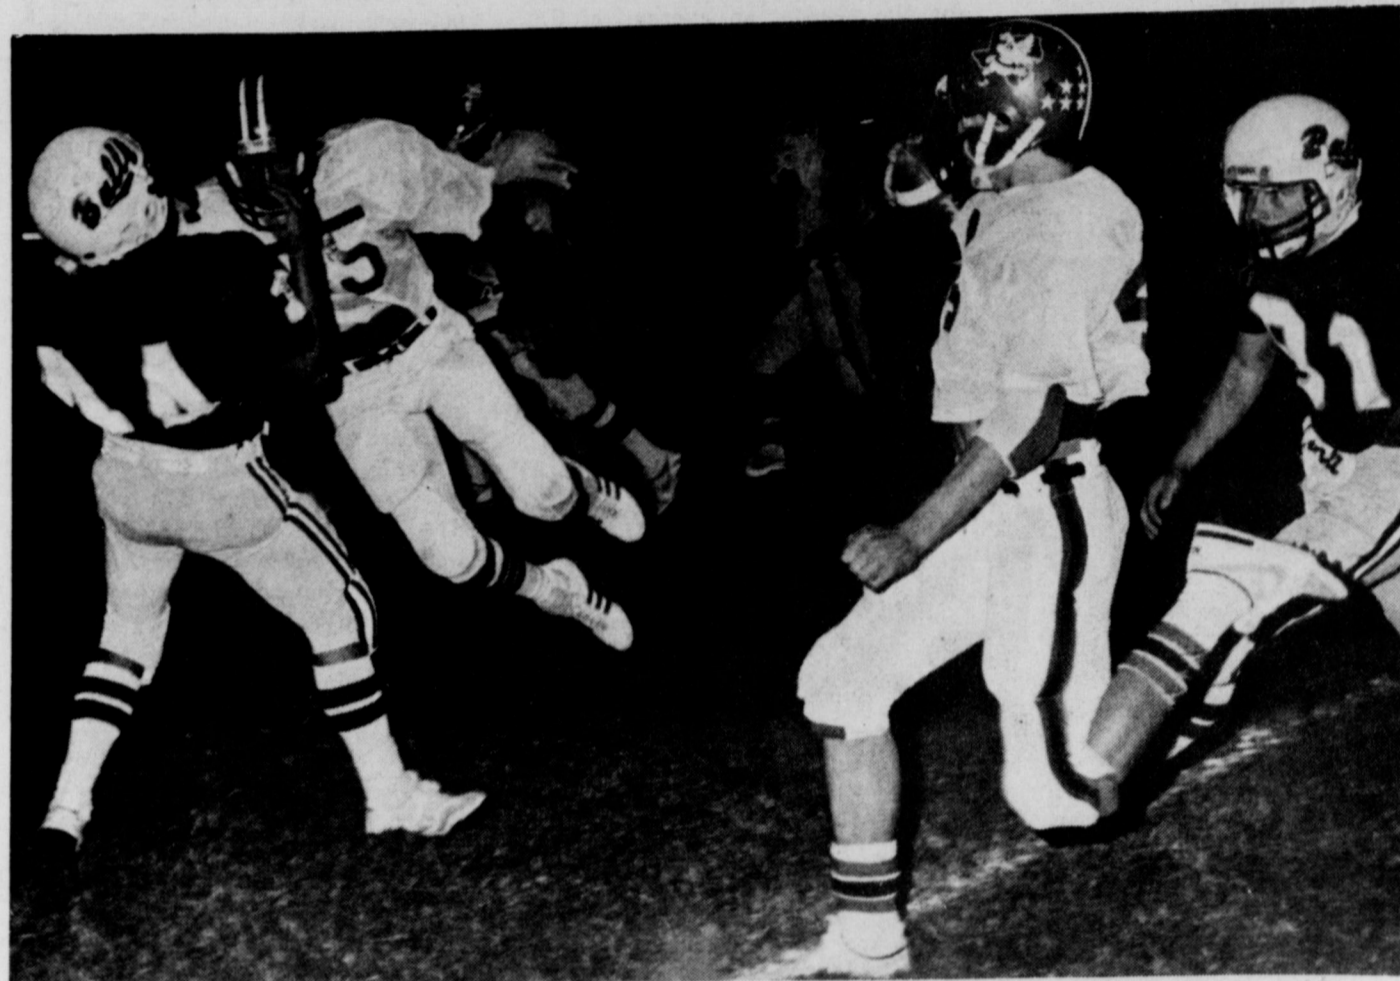

Bridgeport scored on the first play of the final period, capping a drive that started on the Hawk 41 following an interception of a Hedrick pass.

Five other seniors got to carry the ball Friday night. Roach got to carry it nine times for 54 yards, Hill eight for 44, Davis three for 31, Allen five for 40 and Charles Adams twice for 20.

Hedrick finished the night completing four of eight pass attempts, gaining 162 yards. Two aeriels fell incomplete, but the remaining two were intercepted.

The Hawks, who finished the season with a record of 7-2-1, and fourth in Dist. 5-AAA with a 2-2-1, may have established a record not many future teams will want to break.

The team gave up more yardage in penalties than the defensive team allowed to its 10 opposing teams running.

VICIOUS BLOCK BY SERGIO ARRENDONDO [75] SPRINGS SCOTT WEAVER LOOSE

The Mean Green defense allowed only 699 yards rushing the entire season. But Iowa Park was penalized 79 times for 736 yards.

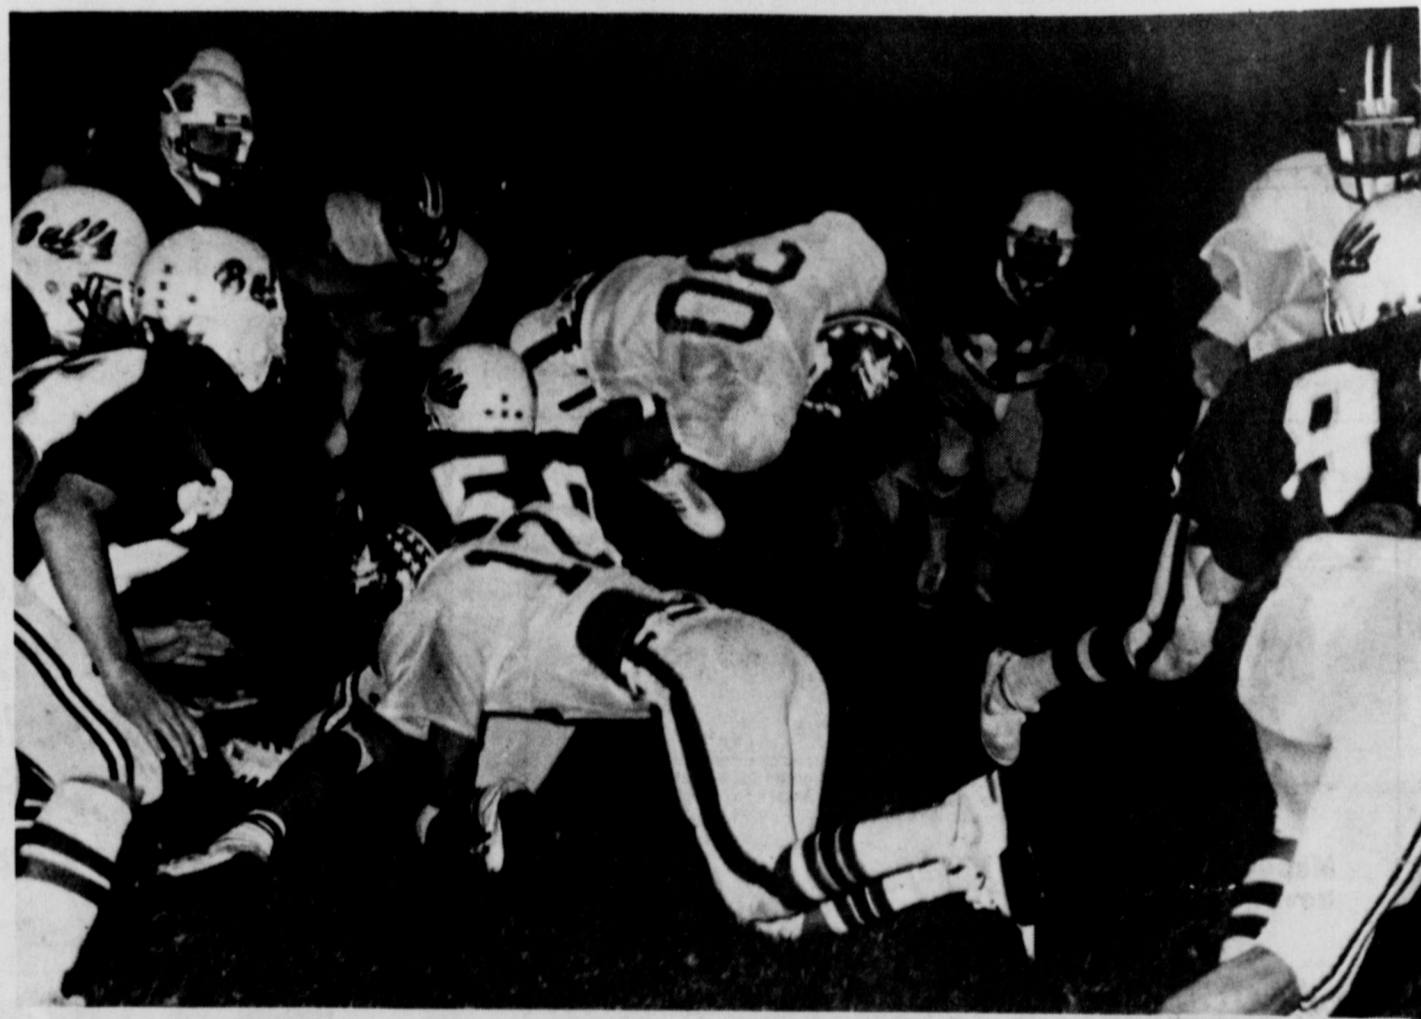

In the past 16 seasons, only the teams of 1973, 1970 and 1969 exceeded those penalty figures, but all three allowed more rushing yardage.

The 1973 Hawks were penalized nine fewer times, 70, but were charged 790 yards. Both the 1969 and '70 team figures are for 15 games, with the '69 Hawks penalized 89 times for 866 yards and '70 Hawks the same number of penalties, but for only 786 yards.

Playoff-bound Cubs edge Eagles in finale

Holliday's Eagles put up an admirable fight against the playoff-bound Olney Cubs Friday night, but in the end it was the Cubs that prevailed 16-10.

Two deciding factors in the game became obvious towards the end; one being the effectiveness, however, erratic, that Cub quarterback Tom Enloe had on the Stonewall Defense, and second it was equally obvious that Olney was not going to allow a lag in concentration to permit an Eagle rally late in the game.

Enloe, once again haunting the Eagles with his quickness and cleverness on the field, raced 20 yards late in the first quarter to give Olney a 6-0 lead, and kicker Mike Myers added the point after kick to increase the lead to 7-0. For the remainder of the night, Enloe could manage only 55 yards in 14 carries, well below his average this season, as the Stonewall Defense kept Holliday in the game time after time with crucial play-making.

However, the senior signal caller finally took his toll, completing a 20-yard pass to John Gill late in the first half to pull away from the Eagles and coming up with three interceptions at his safety position on defense.

Enloe was not without his faults, though, as he set up Holliday's first score of the game with his second interception of a Pat Parker aerial, giving Olney possession deep in its own territory at the three.

Two plays later, Enloe mishandled a snap from center, and was swamped in the end zone by Mark "Whitey" Parker, giving Holliday a safety and closing the gap at 7-2.

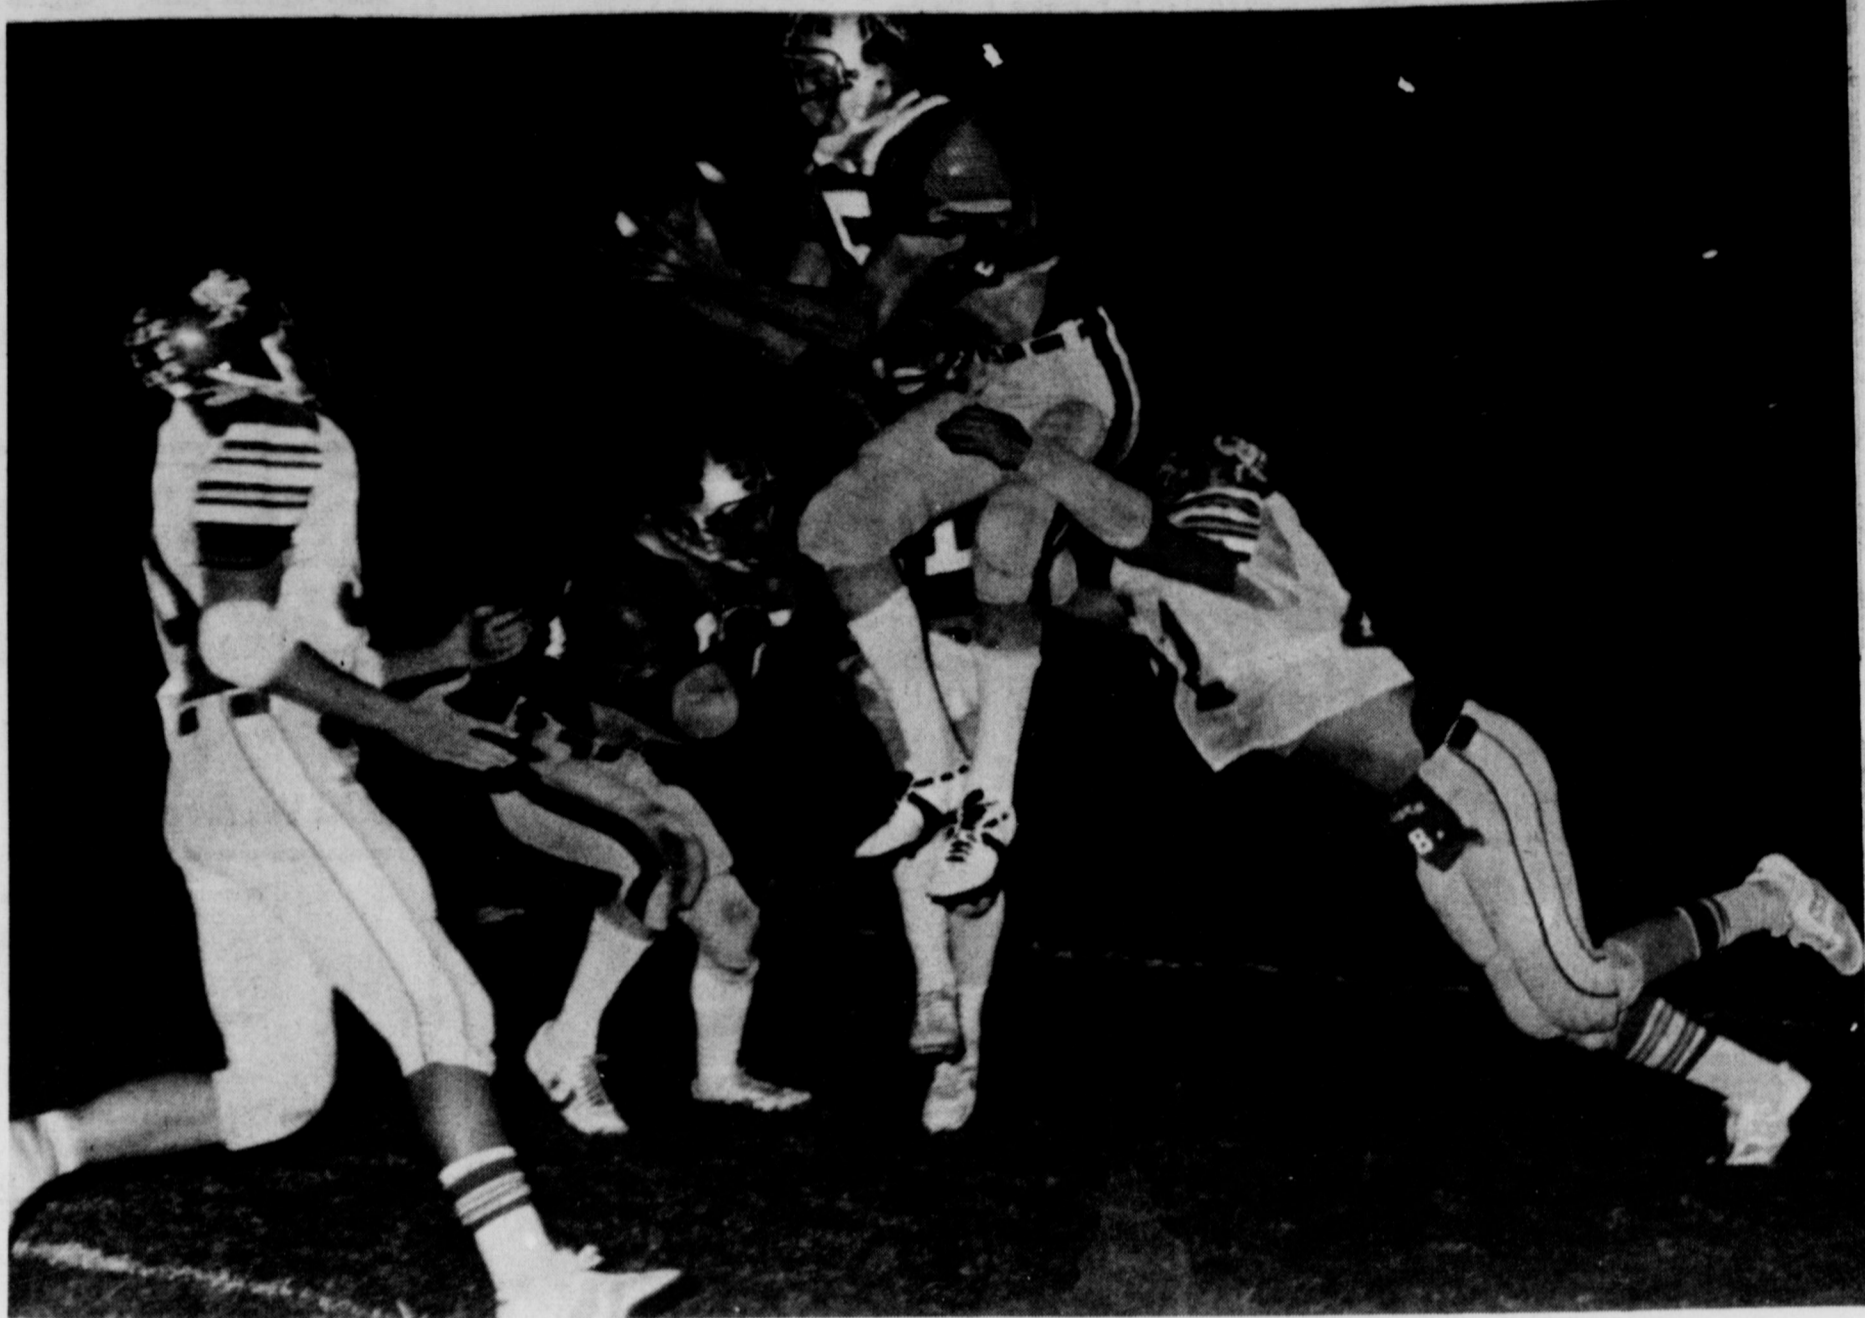

The Cubs immediately went to work on the ensuing kickoff, driving 52 yards for the score capped by Enloe's pass to Gill. An attempt at a two-point conversion came up short as Enloe was nailed behind the line of scrimmage, leaving the score at 16-2 at the halftime gun sounded.

Fans in Cub Stadium were treated to a hard-hitting third quarter as both the Stonewall Defense and the Cub defense provided the fireworks and prevented each from mounting much of an effective offense.

It was Holliday that finally found the groove, driving 47 yards in seven plays capped by Larry Krob's one-yard blast for the score. Going for the two-point conversion, Parker rolled to his right looking for a receiver then scrambled up the middle, diving over the goal line for the two-points and drawing the gap to 16-8.

Twice more Holliday was given possession in the final minutes, but an inspired Cub defense prevented either drives from going too far.

Holliday ends the 1984 season with a record of 5-5, 3-4 in District 9-AA. Olney journeys to Maverick Stadium in Arlington Friday for an 8 p.m. showdown with Pilot Point.
