Police charge Wichitan with delivering cocaine

The Iowa Park Police Department led in the arrest of a Wichita Falls bartender Tuesday evening on a charge of "delivery of a controlled substance (cocaine)."

Information gained earlier this year during a local narcotics investigator led to the arrest of 33-year-old Mark Lee Strain, as he was working at the ground floor bar at Century City.

He was taken before Justice of the Peace Arthur Bea Williams, who ordered Strain held under a $5,000 bond, and then taken to county jail.

"I feel safe in saying that a lot of drug trafficking goes on at Century City," Chief Alan Sheffield told the Leader yesterday.

Sheffield expressed "concern" that drugs are made available by people working at a place frequented by great numbers of teenagers and young adults.

The entertainment facility has several recreational activities, mainly a large bowling alley, video games and dance clubs.

The same narcotics investigation that led to Strain's arrest resulted in the arrests here last week of Donald Ray Williams, 28, and Cynthia Lynn Young, 27.

Other arrests stemming from the investigation, which was organized by the Iowa Park Police Department and financed by the City of Iowa Park, are eminent, Sheffield said.

PROJECT EXPLAINED

Prior to Monday night's meeting of the city council, Administrator James Barrington made a public disclosure of the city's part in the plan.

Several weeks earlier, during an executive session where an awareness of drug trafficking was explained to council members by Sheffield, aldermen approved a plan of financing the project.

An officer had been hired from a department of considerable distance from here, and the officer would be available for undercover work if the council would support it.

After agreeing to a draft of general fund monies to be placed in a different bank, for security reasons, the new officer was brought here, set up with a false identity, and placed in employment at an undisclosed local business.

The officer made numerous contacts, Barrington said, leading to two arrests last week and six to 10 more are expected, directly and indirectly, as a result of the investigation.

City funds expended, including payroll, expenses and "buy money," was $1,983.45, council members were told.

"We have another potential undercover agent available and hope to put him to work in the future," he said.

Barrington emphasized the city's auditor was involved at the outset, and every effort was made to be certain all money is accounted for, as far as possible.

"It's kinda hard to get a receipt when buying drugs," he commented.

Voters shun polls

In elections that drew the lowest number of voters in recent memory, Sheri Kennedy defeated Jerry Gholson for Place 3 on the Iowa Park school board, and both trustee incumbents as well as all three city incumbents were elected.

A total of only 211 votes were cast at the three school polls Saturday, while the two city polls drew a paucity 143.

Kennedy received 113 votes to Gholson's 97, as the two competed for the position given up by Martha Dudley, who chose not to seek re-election after 11 years on the board.

Kennedy edged Gholson at both the in-town polls: 81-64 at Kidwell and 26-20 at Bradford. However, Gholson won the Valley View box, 11-5, and had two absentee votes to Kennedy's one.

John Sibley was unchallenged in his bid to return to Place 1, receiving 168 votes.

Also unchallenged was Place 2 incumbent Wendall House, who drew the most votes in the election with 173.

There were two write-in votes cast.

Incumbent alderman Bud Burch narrowly edged out challenger Cecil Yoder for the Place 4 council seat, 77-63.

Burch won the box at Kidwell, 67-51, but Yoder had the edge at the Bradford Box, 12-10.

Neither Mayor Tim Hunter nor Place 2 incumbent Alderman Bud Mercer were challenged, and received 108 and 106 votes, respectively.

There was one write-in vote cast at the Kidwell box, none at Bradford.

All six were sworn into office after canvassing of votes was completed at their respective meetings Monday and Tuesday.

HONOR GRADUATES - Sheri Cravens, right, is the 1988 valedictorian and Lisa Cook the salutatorian of Iowa Park High School, Principal Richard Davis announced this week. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Danny Cravens and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cook. Graduation will be the evening of May 27.

Council okays bid to rebuild street

Students at Kidwell Elementary won't feel like they're riding a roller coaster while being taken to and from school next year.

Third Street will be rebuilt with concrete.

The city council accepted a bid to rebuild the street from Magnolia to a point somewhere north of Cornelia, and complete curbing along the way.

McGrath Brothers' bid of $120,738 was accepted during Monday night's meeting of the council. It was the lowest of four bids submitted.

The council had budgeted $135,000 for the project. The base bid to rebuild the street was $120,738, less than the amount budgeted.

Because both the alternates on the bid list was more than the remaining $14,000 budgeted, aldermen decided to let the contractor continue northward on Third Street, as far as the money allowed.

Highest of the four base bids was $166,225. The other two were $128,465 and $128,395.

The council, after hearing a request for some attention of the 700 block of West Clara from Mrs. Jake Jacobi, instructed staff to prepare cost figures to repair that area.

That block was not completed in paving on the north half of the street until houses were built by the school as vocational projects. The two paving projects added to problems on the street's condition, it was pointed out.

Public works director Mike Price said the cost for the project would be approximately $2,000.

No action was taken on bids to replace the sewer lift pump that services the highway department rest stops west of the city. Low bid on the project was $43,731.

That bid was tabled, as were bids to bore under the highway for sewer pipes to reach the lift pump.

Council members approved a 10-percent increase in premium rates asked by Blue Cross/Blue Shield for employees, as well as picking up half the increase for employee dependents.

The first in a series of required public hearings, aimed at demolishing two structures that do not meet city codes, was held.

Aldermen voted to continue the process to do away with a vacant house at 610 East Bank, owned by John Paul Jones, and the old Sisk Bullet structure at 201 South Bond, owned by Burge Smith.

Both structures have been declared a "public nuisance."

Other decisions of the council at the meeting were:

* Mayor Tim Hunter appointed himself and Alderman Virgil Woodfin to a committee to meet with the Chamber of Commerce concerning building a new office building in trade for the Chamber's office;

* approved a year's extension on a contract for service by Life Line Ambulance;

* set the council's annual goals workshop session for either June 4 or 18;

* approved travel expenses for the administrator and public works director to attend a meeting in Amarillo.

Prior to the meeting getting underway, Sue Manes was recognized as the city's "Employee of the Month."

Trustees deny appeal by teacher

Iowa Park school trustees Tuesday night denied an appeal of a teacher to be elevated on the career ladder, and to make no change in the school dress code concerning boys wearing ear studs.

Following a closed session that lasted more than an hour, trustees voted to uphold the decision of the (career ladder) committee and deny the request for an appeal requested by Gary Lyles.

The high school teacher reportedly was not recommended this year to be elevated from step one to step two.

Despite a recommendation of the high school dress code committee, which is composed of students as well as teachers, trustees voted to not make a dress code change.

The proposed policy change was to reword the policy from "Earrings are not acceptable for boys," to read "Stud type earrings are acceptable for boys."

Voting on the issue was not unanimous, however. It passed 4-1, with newly-elected trustee Sheri Kennedy voting against it.

During the annual reorganization of the board, which occurs following each election, Jimmy Howell was returned as chairman, Jerry Reed was named vice chairman and Kennedy secretary.

Trustees accepted a bid on one of two lots in the 700 block of W. Clara the school offered for sale.

A bid of $4,700 for Lot 1-A from Curtis Simmons was accepted. Trustees rejected Sam Hunter's bid on the second lot, however.

Three new employees were hired for next year. They were: Darlene Barrington, special education teacher at Bradford; Vickie Jordan, third grade at Bradford, and Patsy Jordan, whose name was left off last month's list as special education aide at Bradford.

Trustees also voted to eliminate a second and fifth grade teaching position, due to changes in enrollments, and create three new third grade openings next year, as well as an additional fourth grade place.

Students sell more than 300 Leader subscriptions

Members of the Junior Hawk Band have earned their organization some new instruments for next year.

When the youngsters made their report on Leader subscription sales Monday, more than 300 had been sold, and there were still several yet to be turned in.

Director Ed Hefti said he would have the final count late this week, and Publisher Bob Hamilton would be able to present the top salesman a color television, which was the grand prize for an individual, early next week.

Hefti said the money would be used to purchase needed instruments.

Final totals have not been tabulated, but the band has earned for itself "something in the neighborhood" of $1,500, Hamilton said.

He added that his students are ready to undertake the same fund-raising project next year, with permission of the administration and board of trustees.

NEWEST IOWA PARK SCHOOL TRUSTEE TAKES OATH ... Sheri Kennedy won election Saturday.

MARTHA DUDLEY gathers her plaque and other personal possessions Tuesday night to leave the school board meeting, where she has served the community 11 years. Actually, she has 18 years service to the local schools, including her years as secretary to the superintendent. Mrs. Dudley chose to not seek re-election this year, and is succeeded by Sheri Kennedy.

Philia Club hears Iowa Park history

Mrs. Lita Watson presented a program on the history of Iowa Park at the final meeting of 1987-88 club year of Philia Study Club held in the home of Mrs. Thomas Johnson. Mrs. Don Decker was co-hostess.

Mrs. Watson, past president of the Santa Rosa District, brought copies of the original plat of Iowa Park to enhance her program.

She highlighted moments of early day history of the town beginning with Iowa Park's and Wichita Falls' contest to be named the Wichita County seat, which was given to Wichita Falls in 1883.

When the railroad was being run through this area, 80 acres of land was bought on either side of the railroad site and the original plat of Iowa Park was filed in October 1888.

Land promoters General Dodge, David C. Kolp and Andrew Kolp formed the Iowa-Texas Land Co. and persuaded settlers to move to the new town.

The group promoted the new town in 32 newspapers, touting Iowa Park as a site "not surpassed for beauty; having a fine hotel and business area. It could be termed the ideal city. It is noted for its wide boulevards and many parks."

A large block was deeded to the Kolp bother, providing they built a hotel on the land. The Cameron Hotel was built and located near the site of the present day First United Methodist Church.

The hotel was the social center of the area, although it was rather common with 30 rooms, not running water and no heat on the second floor. For $30 a month, a room could be rented with meals included. The hotel burned down in the 1890s.

Mrs. Watson went on to say that the Dodge's and Kolp were originally from Iowa and had envisioned the town with many parks, hence the name Iowa Park.

She closed her program by reading a poem by W.H. Warner about Iowa Park.

Installation of officers was presided over by Mrs. Erwin Soell. New officers to hold two-year tenures include Mrs. Don Decker, president; Mrs. Jack Jordan, Jr., vice president; Mrs. Jimmy Kasperek, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Glenn Phillips, treasurer, Mrs. Jim Byrne, historian and Mrs. Thomas Johnson, parliamentary and critic.

In a special candlelighting ceremony, Mrs. Soell thanked the outgoing officers and charged the new officers to enjoy being club members.

Following the meeting, the fourteen members brought special dishes for the dinner.

Choir concert this evening

The Iowa Park High School A Cappella and Junior High Choirs will present their annual spring concert at 7:30 tonight in the high school auditorium. There will be no admission charge.

Under the direction of David McCullar, the choirs will perform a variety of music, including the A Cappella choir performing the three entries that received ones at the UIL Concert and Sightreading Contest.

Also, during the evening, incoming and outgoing officers of the choir as well as section leaders will be recognized.

times a week. The play will be a musical, "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown," and will be under the direction of Stacia Brown.

STORYTIME

Sue Hatcher, the local Animal Control Officer spoke with storytime children last week about how to care for their pets. Officer Hatcher brought a film for the children to watch and then let each child make comments about what they had seen. It seems the greatest concern of the children were ticks on their pets. Officer Hatcher explained about dips and sprays for pets and discouraged children from pulling ticks off pets with their fingers. She explained that the ticks carry diseases that could be transferred. Even the library staff learned something. Thanks Officer Hatcher.

Next week, Officer Hill will bring a police car and Bob Evans will bring a fire truck for storytime children to examine.

The library is in need of a person to conduct summer storytime. If you would like to be of service to the library and the community call Pat Raby, 592-4981.

VOLLEYBALL

A meeting is scheduled for 7 tonight in the conference room of the library for team captains of the volleyball teams.

SUMMER IN THE PARK

The Iowa Park High School Student Council will sponsor a "youth" street dance from 8 p.m.-midnight next Friday. The dance will have a beach theme.

The theme will carry over to Saturday for "Beach Day," to begin at noon and end at 4 p.m. Beach Day is open to the public (all ages). Dig out your beach clothes and join the fun.

Try-outs for the Summer Theatre will be at 2 p.m. June 7 in the conference room of the library. This is geared to involve our older youth in the third through eighth grades. Anyone interested in helping with props should also come to this meeting.

Poolside party for Amity Club

Amity Study Club members attended a poolside meeting Monday evening at the home of Amy Brown where plans for the next club year were made.

Members answered roll call by suggesting a program to be used during the year.

Newly-installed president Evelyn Ward, vice president Rita Worthy and immediate past president Marilyn Hale led members in planning programs for the 1988-89 club year.

Program chairmen and hostesses for the meetings were named, and fund-raising projects were discussed.

Judy Schenk gave the meditation entitled "Don't Quit."

During the business, it was voted that two of the books donated to the library will be in the name of Doyle Rice and Ruth Welch, the club's first two presidents.

Following the meeting, each member made her own banana split. Tea and soft drinks were also provided by Mrs. Brown and her co-hostess, Jeannie Baugh.

Miss Barr honored at bridal shower

Miss Wendy Barr, bride-elect of Derek Meador, was honored recently with a bridal shower in the home of Karen Beason of Iowa Park. Co-hostesses were Janelle Savage, Janice McWhorter, Amber Beason and Jodi Beason.

Miss Barr, formerly of Iowa Park, is the daughter of Susan Barr and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barr, all of Wichita Falls. Meador is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cody Meador of Wichita Falls.

The bride's chosen colors of shades of orchid were used throughout the decorations, particularly noted in a floral centerpiece standing in front of burning tapers on the refreshment table.

Special guests were mothers of the couple, and grandmothers, Gertrude Ferguson, Adele Callaway and Dorothy Riddles.

The couple will exchange vows June 4 at Faith Baptist Church in Wichita Falls.

Cook of the Week

Almost everyone, young and old alike, enjoy a good dessert occasionally. This week's cook of the week, Cindy (Mrs. Jerry) Clifton, says her family, particularly herself and daughter, is no exception.

Cindy said the family enjoys dessert, but she only makes them about every two weeks, for weight's sake, and added that the "3 in 1 Dessert" is one of her weaknesses.

All the recipes she submitted this week are for desserts, and for those who have been looking for new sweets, these promise to be refreshing.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton, have two children, Krista, 17 and Donnie, 11. The family are self-proclaimed outdoor addicts whose hobbies include fishing, camping, yard work, boating, skiing and gardening.

Cindy said every weekend her husband and son spend the days fishing and each year the family takes a trip to New Mexico for trout fishing. These excursions provide enough fish, she said, to have many outdoor fish fries for friends, plus enough to give away.

Cindy grew up in Wichita Falls and graduated Rider High School. She is employed at Video Library. Her husband is employed at Bill Bates Chevrolet.

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

This week's comments will be on discrimination in our local schools and the turnout, or lack of, by voters in Saturday's elections.

Did that discrimination issue catch your attention? Here's how it came about, as explained by Robert Palmer, assistant superintendent, at Tuesday's school board meeting.

A federal investigator was here a few weeks ago. This is not unusual, because any time a school accepts money from federal government, it will be visited from time to time by investigators.

This particular person wrote up Iowa Park schools as discriminating, and we'll just have to live with it.

As Palmer told it, a class of elementary students, before going to the cafeteria, was allowed to go to the restrooms, and then get into line to be served.

Well, the little girls were quicker than the little boys. And when they reported to their teacher, they formed their line. All elementary students form lines to do anything, you know.

The little boys took longer, and they, enmass, got into line, behind the girls.

That's what the investigator saw. Girls all together and boys all together. All in one line, but not mixed.

That's segregation, folks! It's in the official report.

Palmer says they make real sure the little boys and little girls are properly mixed whenever they do anything from now on.

And now to the election turnout.

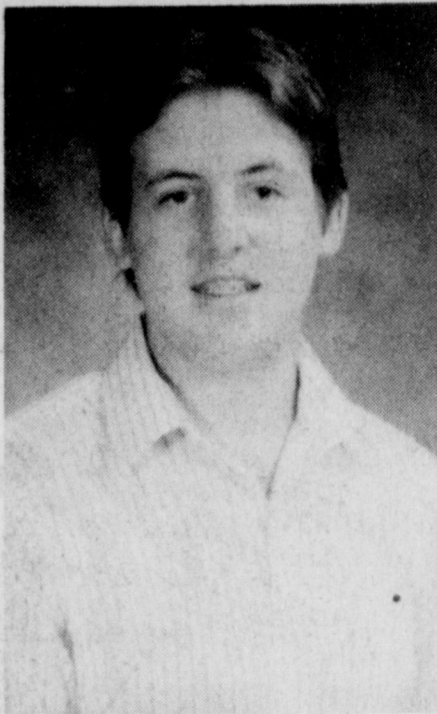

If I read the situation correctly, based on more than a couple of local city and school elections, the turnout was predictable and expected.

It's can't be charged to apathy. Our voters here are not apathetic.

The lack of voter show was purely a demonstration of confidence in how our city and schools are being run.

There were no complaints, no issues, no challenges.

The council and board received the voters' endorsement to continue things as they are.

ADAM CANTWELL

Cantwell 3rd at Austin

Iowa Park High School junior Adam Cantwell has bragging rights to a third place finish in accounting at the University Interscholastic League Academic State Meet held last weekend at the University of Texas at Austin.

Cantwell's finish marks the time an Iowa Park student has placed in accounting at the state meet.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cantwell was among more than 2,000 high school students competing in one or more of the 19 UIL contests who placed at district and regional contests to earn a berth in the state meet.

TYSON SPRUIELL, like all the other students of Bradford Elementary, competed most of Friday in the school's annual track and field meet.

Sheriff's Report

Wichita County Sheriff's Department had reports of theft over $200, burglary of a building and burglary of a habitation during the past week.

Thursday, Floyd Heard filed a report of the theft of one red heifer calf and one red bull calf from property on the south side of Goetze Rd. The animals were valued at $400.

Kenny Gilmore reported a burglary of a building. He told deputies that sometime over the weekend someone had broken into his sales office off US 287 and took a word processor typewriter, black and white television, personal home computer and a VCR. The estimated value of the items are $1,975.

Ann Taylor, who resides on FM 367, told deputies that someone had broken into her home early last week and taken a microwave, a Ruger .357 Magnum pistol and leather holster,

19-inch color television, electric guitar and amplifier. The estimated value of the items is $2,250

One of the reasons Barrington made public the city's participation in the investigation is a report of a petition circulating, calling for the resignations of Sheffield and the administrator because of misappropriation of funds.

No actual petition has been seen, however.

"We don't expect to arrest everyone dealing or in possession of drugs in Iowa Park," Sheffield told the Leader. "But we want to let them know they're not wanted here, and hopefully they'll move somewhere else to do their business."

Worth Quoting

Neighbor, as Snuffy Smith used to say, it takes the rag off'n' the bush.

The action by the Senate Wednesday in approving the bill to pay $20,000 each to Japanese-Americans interned during World War II convinces us that our Congress is no longer a rational, deliberative, legislative body.

For a national government that is over a trillion dollars in debt, cannot come within $175-billion in balancing outgo with income, can't come forth with a budget after two years of work, and can't keep its fingers out of foreign policy, the Senate action is ridiculous.

The move to pay those Japanese-Americans who were rounded up and placed in camps after the Japanese attack on Pearl harbor will cost an estimated $1.3-billion.

The timing is great! Just as Americans wiped out their savings in order to pay taxes April 15th and rationalizing that perhaps their check might sustain the government for an hour or two, the Senate blows $1.3-billion on a 40-year-old wartime action.

Congress is second-guessing an order issued by a president 40 years ago. In the months following Pearl Harbor, this nation fully expected the Japanese to invade the U.S. through California. And they could have because the sneak attack at Pearl Harbor effectively wiped out our navy in the Pacific.

Moving a possible subversive population away from the coast was not considered racist or cruel in 1942. It was part of our effort for national survival and Congress did not oppose the move then by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

And not all the internists were red-blooded Americans. Over 5,000 of the internists refused to swear allegiance to the U.S. and professed continued allegiance to the Japanese emperor. Do those 5,000 also get the $20,000?

Consider this scenario?

A rebellion put another government backed by Russia in charge of Mexico and our intelligence shows a massive gathering of both tanks and divisions across the Rio Grande. All evidence points to an invasion of Texas by Mexico armies.

And a U.S. president orders all citizens with Hispanic surnames removed from a 100-mile area this side of the Rio Grande.

Would a Congress 40 years from now second-guess our president and order $20,000 paid to every Hispanic moved from the possible war zone?

If Congress is going to second guess the action taken by every U.S. president in the past, we've got a lot of paying up to do.

What about the action of uprooting the settled Cherokee Indians from their farms and homes in the South and starting them on that infamous "Trail of Tears" to a new reservation in Oklahoma? Are we to pay their descendants $20,000 each?

The Pilgrims took over land owned by the Arapahoe Indians. Do we second guess John Adams and owe their descendants $20,000?

And what about the Chinese coolies? They were brought to this country to help build the railroads to the West. And after the railroads were built, the coolies were shunted into district camps and confined. Do we pay their descendants $20,000 each?

Here in Andrews, we uprooted blacks and moved them to "The Flats" in northeast Andrews back in the late thirties and early forties. Does the city owe their descendants $20,000 each?

What about the nine-million Americans who were taken out of college, out of cities and villages across this nation, out of jobs and away from families, and sent overseas to fight Japan and Germany. Have we compensated those folks for their uprooting? Have we paid them and their families $20,000 each for the disruption in their lives? If a son or daughter was killed fighting Germans or Japs, our benevolent government paid the beneficiary $10,000 --- if the soldier or sailor had bothered to take out GI insurance -- nothing if he hadn't.

How come the Japanese-Americans are worth $20,000 in reparations and the family of the GI worth only $10,000?

That same Congress recently passed a bill that would give military personnel held captive by Germans or Japanese in a prisoner of war camp a POW medal. We give POW's a medal and Japanese-Americans $20,000. That's Justice?

What we need in this country is an electorate willing and able to second-guess the actions of a Congress that is hopelessly, pitifully, woefully, inadequate to serve another day in Washington.

An elderly man and his slightly younger girl friend made an appointment with a doctor.

They explained to the doc of certain problems, and would he please watch them do some smooching. The puzzled doctor agreed, didn't find anything wrong but charged $32 for the office visit.

The scene was repeated several weeks in a row. The couple would make an appointment, come in, sit down, smooch up a storm, pay the doctor, and leave.

Finally, the doctor, thoroughly puzzled, asked the question: "Exactly what are you trying to find out?"

The old gentleman replied: "We're not trying to find out anything. She's married and we can't go to her house. I'm married and we can't go to my house. The Holiday Inn charges $60 for a room, the Hilton charges $78. We can smooch here for $32 -- and then get a $28 refund from Medicare."

There are a lot of slick ways to make money these days and a lot of it is by mail.

We received this week at the Herald what appeared to be an invoice for Yellow Page advertising in the telephone directory. However, upon closer examination, the simulated Yellow Page invoice was from the Yellow Page Consumer Guide which has nothing to do with the GTE Yellow Pages.

Our invoice was for $99.60 for which we could be listed on a telephone directory cover and also receive two of the covers. This is a mighty high price to pay for this sort of thing and we took heed of the statement at the bottom which said "This is not a bill. This is a solicitation. You are under no obligation to pay the amount stated above unless you accept this offer." Which we did not.

Completes course

Spec. 4 Tommy G. Saffery, son of Shirley A. Saffery of Holiday, has received the parachutist badge upon completion of the three-week airborne course at the U.S. Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

During the first week of training, students underwent a rigorous physical training program and received instruction in the theory of parachuting. The second week they received practical training by jumping from 34-foot and 250-foot towers. The final week they made five static-line parachute jumps including one night jump.

Home equity loans discussed

The largest investment many Americans have ever made is in their home. Advertisements claim that this represents an untapped source of wealth which can easily be drawn on in the form of a home equity loan. Very similar to a second mortgage, this is a loan where a consumer uses his or her home as collateral.

In a second mortgage, consumers borrow a fixed sum, whereas in a home equity loan, consumers have the option of either borrowing a fixed sum or opening a line of credit up to a certain amount with flexible payments. Consumers then access the money with checks and in some cases credit cards. Under the terms of a HEL contract, lenders will usually provide a loan of up to 75% of the mortgage. Other lenders set their own limits of between $100,000 and $500,000.

The opportunity may sound very good and be the right solution for some. Families have been able to pay for such things as education and home improvements with such a loan. But before signing any papers, there are several things to consider.

Interest Rates...
In most cases, lenders will tie their interest rates to the prime rate—the published interest rate charged by lenders for loans to their most favored customers. The rate on home equity loans is often one or two percentage points higher than the prime rate. Not all lending institutions follow such a formula, however, and it is very important before taking out a home equity loan to find out what the rate is, how much it could go up or down (if variable), and what factors, if any determine the rate and how often it changes.

Consumers should think twice about exchanging low interest or no interest debts, like medical or utility bills, for a high interest home equity loan. They should also consider whether it makes sense to pay off a fixed interest debt with a home equity loan which has a variable interest rate. If the interest rate becomes quite high, the consumer is losing. Paying off such things as a car loan with a home equity loan may not be a wise move.

Monthly payments need to be considered also. But, a bank cannot always tell a consumer exactly how much the payments will be, only how they are calculated.

If the client has chosen an open line of credit at a variable interest rate, the monthly charge will depend upon how much money has been borrowed and the variations of the interest rate.

Looking at Home Equity Advertisements -

Home equity advertisements need to be closely scrutinized. A Consumer Federation of America review of HEL advertisements pointed out that certain information about costs associated with the loans is not available in ads.

For example, many claim "low monthly, interest-only" payments, but fail to mention there may be a large balloon payment at the end of a certain number of years. The payment is usually equal to the entire amount of money borrowed. This means the consumer has been making monthly payments without beginning to pay off the principal of the loan.

Banks may offer to refinance the balloon payment when it is due, but not necessarily at the same terms as the original loan. And, consumers will be required to pay a whole new set of "up front" costs. The Consumer Bankers Association warns that only those homeowners who know that they will be able to come up with a large sum of cash should consider the balloon payment option. Others should consider paying off both principal and interest in monthly payments to retire the debt.

Many home equity advertisements will state the teaser rate of interest as opposed to the final rate of interest on the loan. The former is only the initial rate, valid for a few weeks or months. It will change to the final rate, usually variable and higher than the initial rate.

Another question to ask is whether the bank charges an annual fee. This is not always disclosed in advertisements. Although it may not cost much, consumers should know before signing that they are expected to pay this additional charge.

One last unexpected charge may be an inactivity fee; a charge for not using the line of credit over the course of a year. It is charged to cover the lender's administrative cost of keeping the account open.

Reverse Mortgage also known as Home Equity Conversion Mortgage (HECM) -

HECMs are a variation of a Home Equity Loan. The difference is that they are available only to those people who own their homes free and clear.

An agreement can be set up between the home owner and a lending institution wherein the home owner takes out the loan using the home as collateral. The consumer receives the loan in the form of tax-free monthly payments. This gives people the opportunity to benefit from the money invested in the house without selling it and moving. When it comes time to repay the loan, consumers must sell the house, refinance the debt or pay off the entire loan in one lump sum.

The loan can increase the cash flow of the owner of a mortgage free house. The disadvantage is people could end up losing their homes by having to sell them to pay the loan back.

TERMS USED BY LENDING INSTITUTIONS

Usury limit - This is the maximum interest rate a bank can charge, usually variable from state to state. The usury rate may also depend upon the type of loan offered.

Up front costs also called closing costs - These are all of the original costs of the loan. It includes the appraisal fee, the attorneys fees, fee for a title search, mortgage recording fee, mortgage tax and title insurance. Understand exactly how much you will need to pay before signing the contract. The lender is not required to factor in the costs for you.

Appraisal fee - This is the cost of appraising the home, or judging its market value.

Mortgage insurance - The lender may require that you purchase insurance in case you default on the loan. Some lenders offer the insurance themselves, some suggest that you go to another company to purchase it.

Broker's fee - If somebody is arranging the financing for you, they will want a fee for their services. Ask to have it in writing so that there will be no surprises on closing day.

Title search fee - The lender will look up the title to the house to double check that there are no liens against the property.

Points - A "point" is equal to one percent of the loan amount. Each "point" adds between about one-eighth to one-fourth of one percent to the interest rate the consumer pays. Comparison shopping of "points" as well as the interest rate is advisable. An institution which offers no points may charge a higher interest rate and vice versa. For the shopper, it is a decision of how much money he wants to pay up front, as points are included in the "up front" fees. A lower amount up front may require slightly higher monthly payments.

Lenders may offer to finance the points rather than have the consumer pay them off up front. In this case, there are finance charges on the points which increase the monthly payment.

Insecurity clause - This gives the bank the right to change the terms of the loan. The bank simply informs the consumer of the changes of the loan. The bank's clients can refuse to go along with it, but must pay off the entire loan first.

Credit reevaluation clause - A provision which permits the lending institution to close or lower the line of credit if it finds that the consumer no longer meets the institution's credit standards.

Legal protections - In December 1987, federal legislation went into effect which requires lending institutions to set rate caps - a ceiling above which the interest rate cannot rise (public law 100-86, sec. 1204). The sponsors of the bill agree that such a provision lets consumers know the maximum interest rate they can be charged for a HEL and how it would be reflected in their monthly payments. Enforcement of the rule is under the Federal Truth in Lending Act.

There is a disadvantage to legislated rate caps, however. If the prime rate should increase to a point above the rate caps such that the lender could exercise its right to change the terms of the loan.

Some banks offer a rate floor, a minimum interest rate below which the bank rate will not fall, should the prime rate decrease significantly, consumers will not be able to take advantage of the low rate with a rate floor established by the bank.

Truth in lending - Under the Federal Truth in Lending Act, a person has three days to cancel a mortgage contract after certain disclosures. Should these disclosures not be properly made or if the notice to cancel is not given, the borrower may rescind the contract up to three years later.

The disclosures which must be made describe all the terms of the loan - the exact amount being financed, the finance charge, the Annual Percentage Rate (APR), the total number of payments, the payment schedule, and the total cost of the loan.

Conclusion -
Using the equity in a home is a serious proposition in that if a person cannot meet payments on the loan, the lending institution has the right to take possession of the house. Although bankers maintain that foreclosure is not a profitable move for a lender and would be a last resort option, the risk is still with the consumer. The BBB advises against putting a home in jeopardy to pay for such nonessentials as a vacation. The money is most wisely used to pay for major expenses such as education or remodeling, which increases the value of a home.

Tips for consumers -

1. Think twice about a company which actively solicits your loan either over the telephone or by door-to-door sales.
2. Beware if the company claims that there is no credit check. A company should be interested in your credit history. Some classified advertisements claim you can get money with a bad credit rating if you own a house. These might be brokers who will charge large up front costs and maybe never get the loan.
3. Be sure you are not signing the deed to your house over to the lender.
4. Does the company have an office, or does it claim that a representative must come to your house to work with you?

Tennis trio to play at state tomorrow

Three Iowa Park High tennis players will compete Friday morning in the first matches of the state University Interscholastic League tournament in Austin.

The boys' doubles team of Bill Chandler and Marc Johnson, believed to be the first male tennis players from here to reach the state level, are to take on a team from Gilmer at 9 a.m.

And girls' singles Jenny Bowerman will be making her second consecutive appearance, at Austin, when she faces off against three-time state champion Amy Ryan of Springtown at 11.

Both the first and second rounds of the Class AAA tournament will be at the Univ. of Texas intramural courts, where Bowerman played last year.

Finals Saturday will be at the Pennick Allison Courts on the TU campus.

Seniors Chandler and Johnson won both the district and regional titles. Bowerman was district champion, but qualified for state by finishing second in the regional tournament, which she won as a junior.

Weight room to be open to students this summer

The weight room at the football field house on Iowa Park High School campus will be open each weekday through the summer for the general student body.

Athletic Director Len Williams said the room will be open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, as long as rules are respected.

The facility will be open to male and female students enrolled in Iowa Park schools.

Rules, posted on the wall, include:

1. Stack and rack all weights when through.
2. Do not drop weights on floor.
3. Keep chalk on table.
4. No food or drink in room.
5. No horseplay in room (a weight room is a work room).

Entry into the field house is by the north door on the east side of the building. At times, the west door will be used, but a note will be posted on the east side when that occurs, Williams said.

The University Interscholastic League has set guidelines concerning off-season use of school equipment by an athlete, so eligibility will not be jeopardized. In general, rules state:

"The purposes of UIL athletic programs include encouragement of participants to be prepared mentally and physically for competition. During the summer months when school is not in session, the task of conditioning belongs to the individual student. Organized workouts or required conditioning during the summer is contrary to the expressed objectives of League member schools.

"A bona fide recreational program is one which is sponsored by a community agency or by the school. It must be open to all youths in the community, on a strictly voluntary basis, and all students must understand that attendance is never required. School equipment, funds, personnel or facilities may be used only with the approval of the superintendent or his designated administrator.

"Please note that open means actual participation by more than just school team members. It could be considered a violation if only athletes or members of a specific athletic team are using the facility at any one time.

GUIDELINES

"Written school policies should be approved by the school administration and given to all staff and students. The following principles should guide schools in student athlete involvement in bona fide summer recreational programs, and these guidelines should be incorporated into the written local policies.

"1. School coaches and personnel should make every effort to insure that student athletes realize that participation is strictly voluntary and never required.

"2. All students must be notified of the times the facility is available.

"3. When open, facilities and equipment must be continually and equally available to all interested students.

"4. Supervision of facilities for safety and security may be provided by either a faculty or non-faculty member.

"4. Supervision of facilities for safety and security may be provided by either a faculty or non-faculty member approved and hired by the school. Supervisors may not provide skill instruction or keep track of attendance.

"5. Students may train on their own but members of an athletic team may not practice as a team or hold an organized workout.

"6. If there is a report of a possible violation, the burden of proof rests with the school or school employee.

"Supervisors may: provide instruction for proper lifting, spotting, care of and placement of weight apparatus, provide a general, sequential weight schedule, and permit students to keep individual progress charts.

"Supervisors may not: provide specific team skills instruction, require participants to lift specified amounts or to complete prescribed sets, provide students with individual workout schedules, specify a number of workouts, designate groups for specific activities, or allow students to turn in progress charts.

Choir member is supported

Fourteen members of the Friendship Class of First Baptist Church attended the monthly meeting held Monday night at the church. The hostesses were Mrs. A.A. Simmons and Mrs. Leo Fletcher.

Mrs. Elmer Singleton directed the business when it was voted to give a love offering to Debra McLemore, who will be on tour with the All-State Youth Choir.

Mrs. E.T. Patterson gave the devotional program on unnamed women of the Bible who rendered service to the Master with no thought of recognition or reward. She read "Pioneer Mothers" by Grace Nowell Crowell.

Hawks clinch playoff berth

The Hawks clinched a return to the state playoffs with a 4-2 win here Tuesday over Bowie.

Friday's regular season finale at Bridgeport will have nothing to do with the Dist. 6-AAA second half standings.

Bridgeport went undefeated in all four of the first-half games, but has lost at least two in the second half.

Iowa Park, finishing 2-2 in the first half, is 3-0 in the second half, and 17-5 for the season.

Coach Daryl Frazier said he and the Bulls' coach will decide Friday when and where the championship showdown will be played, though he said it possibly would be Tuesday.

The Hawks lost both their first half games to the Bulls, 7-6 and 9-0, but two weeks ago knocked off the Wise County bunch 6-0.

Bridgeport opened the second half of play with a 10-8 loss to the Jackrabbits.

Hawk pitcher Billy Kenyon struck out 15 batters, but gave up four hits and walked six.

Observers in the stands blamed the senior's shakiness, especially in the third inning when he walked three, to the fact that a scout from the Texas Rangers was clocking his pitches with a radar gun.

Jeff Huff had the big bat for the Hawks, earning two hits. He had a single in the first inning, and beat out a perfectly-laid bunt in the third.

Kenyon had a double in the first to score both that inning's runs, and Jerry Flesner's double in the fourth accounted for another run.

Craig Rickman and Bernstein

also had singles.

Bowie tightened the score in the sixth inning, after trailing 4-0, when the first two batters singled and an error at second base allowed both the runners to score.

In all, seven Rabbit runners were left on bases, and only three Hawks.

WMU celebrating 100th anniversary

By OLIVE BLALOCK

The Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention is celebrating its centennial year in 1988, and the Woman's Missionary Union of the Iowa Park First Baptist Church is celebrating 98 years of mission education and service this year.

A centennial celebration will be held Sunday at the church to reflect on the rich missions heritage of both organizations and to reaffirm the mission purpose. The theme of the service will be "Century to Celebrate—A Future to Fulfill."

The interest center arranged by Mrs. Joe Singer in the foyer will feature a mannequin dressed in costume and bonnet representing the WMU woman of 1888, and old-fashioned fans.

During the service members of the WMU organizations of the church will be recognized by Mrs. Clyde Patterson, WMU director. These include Day Baptist women whose president is Mrs. Howard Marlar; Night Baptist Women led by Mrs. V.I. Woodfin; Baptist Young Women led by Mrs. Kevin Wells; Acteens directed by Karen Muncy; Girls in Action who are directed by Mrs. Sam McIlroy; and Mission Friends and director Mrs. Robert McIlroy. Dr. Derrell Monday, pastor, will also be recognized for his support in making the celebration a success.

The high point of interest in the morning worship service will be the reading of a brief history of the local WMU by Mrs. Patterson. The history was compiled by her and Mrs. Homer Blalock.

According to the history, the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention was organized May 14, 1888 during a meeting of the SBC in Richmond, Va. and Miss Annie Armstrong served as the first executive secretary, serving 18 years without pay. The woman's work in the local church started in Sept. 1980 after the first Baptist Church was organized in March of that year.

The first meeting was held at the home of F.D. Harris. The first name of the organization, where both men and women were members, was Willing Workers, and the dues were five cents per week.

The object of the organization was "advancement of religious feeling and brotherly love, and keeping up the good work done by the church." Mrs. M.D. Bardwell was the first president. A pump organ for the church was purchased by Willing Workers in 1891, and it was used for many years until the church voted to purchase an electric organ. At the suggestion of the women the pump organ was sent to Rev. and Mrs. F.A.R. Morgan, missionaries sent from the church to Brazil.

The purpose of all WMU's today is to teach missions, support missions through praying and giving, involvement in missions through mission actions and personal witnessing, provide and interpret information regarding the work of the church and the denomination.

The history includes the names of 46 women who have served as presidents of the local WMU. The names of others were perhaps omitted because of lost records, and several of the ones named served as presidents more than once.

After several years, the Willing Workers name was changed to the Ladies Aid Society, then the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society, and lastly to the Woman's Missionary Union.

The first organizations of the WMU were: Woman's Missionary Society composed of Mary Ruth Carney, Sallee Morgan, Ruth, Blanche Groves, Mary Martha and Gleaners Circles (also the Mission Circle and the Rocky Point Circle); Young Woman's Auxiliary, Girls Auxiliary, Sunbeams, and the Royal Ambassadors until the Brotherhood took over the sponsorship of them in 1954.

In 1970, the names of the organizations were changed to Baptist Women, Baptist Young Women, Acteens, Girls in Action and Mission Friends. Their magazines today are Royal Service, Contempto, Accent, Discovery, Aware and Share and Start.

The minutes of the Ladies Aid Society between 1911 and 1917 written by the late Maggie (Mrs. Will) Burnett, secretary contain a treasure trove of information about the work of the women during those early years. The minutes were salvaged from a church fire during the 1930's. They reveal that missions (state, home and foreign) were definitely the motivating purpose of the women from the beginning. In 1911, they gave $10.60 to a missionary in Africa, $10 to a county missionary, $5.70 to state missions, and paid $2 on the pastor's salary.

In 1952, the WMU expanded the missions churchwide, and the offerings have increased steadily through the years. At present, the WMU along with the Brotherhood recommend to the church council the goals for the offerings and the goals are approved by the church. In 1987, the goals which were $4,500 for home missions, $3,900 for state missions, and $8,000 for foreign missions were met and exceeded.

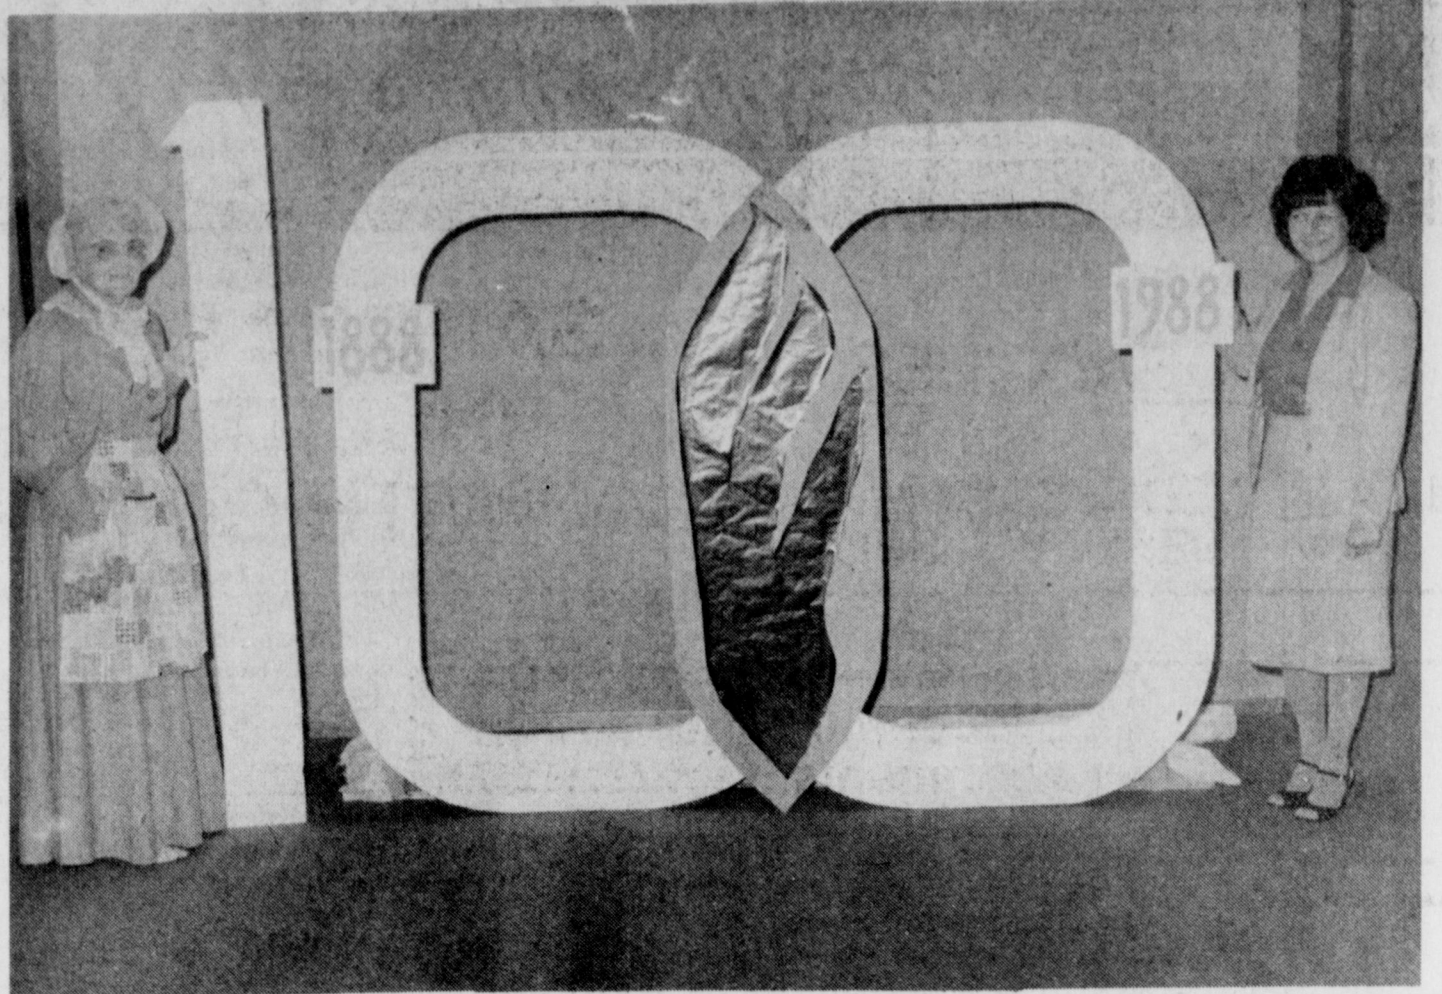

During the first years of the WMU, the women sponsored various projects to raise money to help meet the needs of the local church, orphans' homes, and missionaries. One of the first of these was an ice cream supper. For many years, they served dinner downtown on Thanksgiving and election days, and served meals to the Noon Lions each week and did many other things.

An appreciation of their heritage and the sacrifices and dedication of the earlier day WMU members has inspired those who have followed, and are still following, to give of their "Best to the Master." When the present education building was erected for a sanctuary, offices and class rooms, the women paid $1,500 on the building, placed two stained glass windows in the sanctuary, and completely equipped the kitchen.

In 1940, upon the recommendation of the WMU president, the bell that had called people to worship in the first little church building was brought out of storage and placed on a permanent tower so that it might toll on March 17 for the Golden Jubilee Celebration. The WMS served as hospitality committee for the celebration. At the recommendation of the late Mrs. O.E. Lochridge, the church voted to purchase an electric organ for the church, and she served as organist 25 years.

One of the most important things the women have done for missions is sending cards to missionaries on their birthdays over 25 years. The church bore the expense of the cards and postage, and Mrs. E.W. Sumrall and Mrs. Carl McKinnon were responsible for addressing and mailing them. A letter from a missionary or missionary couple was read each Wednesday night at prayer meeting.

The many things that the women have done "for the glory of the Lord" during the 98 years would fill many volumes. They have given love offerings and gifts to many who have been sent out by the church for special services. Some of these are Rev. and Mrs. F.A.R. Morgan, missionaries to Brazil; Dick and Lahoma Greenwood, missionaries to Guatemala; Jimmy and Peggy Hooten, missionaries to Africa; Keith and Marjorie Blalock, tentmakers to Alaska; Burl Lovelace and Gary Mayfield, missionaries to Japan, and Eleanor Bell, volunteer home missionary to American Samoa. They have sent clothing and food to Faith Mission, Salvation Army, North Broadway Ministry and the local food pantry.

Showing their interest in young people, the WMU sponsored beautiful banquets for all of the high school seniors, their sponsors and faculty members for many years.

Through the years, they have expressed appreciation for the pastors and their wives by presenting them with handmade quilts and other gifts. They recently presented all of the staff members of the church with quilts. In September 1987, the WMU members made cloth dolls and purchased school supplies for children in Saragosa, Tex., whose homes were destroyed in a tornado.

Today, the Woman's Missionary Union of First Baptist Church consists of the Night Baptist Women, Day Baptist Women, Baptist Young Women, Acteens, three Girls in Action and three Mission Friends organizations whose goals are to learn from the past and fulfill the future.

The hallway of the church lends itself to a "walk through the past down a lane replete with memorabilia." Tables and wall posters hold pictures of Annie Armstrong, first secretary of the Southern Baptist Woman's Missionary Union, Lottie

Moon, missionary to China 40 years, letters, pictures and book marks from missionaries on foreign fields, magazines and literature, both old and current.

The wall posters and "century corner" are highlighted with pictures of G.A. coronations for many years. Also on display are articles worn by the girls to signify the honors that they had achieved. Two of the girls pictured won the highest award in G.A., Queen Regent. They are Brenda Patterson Burnett of Austin and Glenna Miller Via of Iowa Park.

One of the wall posters is marked "Our Hats Off To You" and features a large picture of some of the outstanding WMU leaders through the century accented with popular hats of yesteryear.

A reception will be held in the Fellowship Hall Sunday at 2 p.m. The theme "A Century to Celebrate—A Future to Fulfill" will be carried out in room decorations and centennial cake made and decorated by Mrs. Gary Zeitler.

The high point of decorations will be "100" formed of tall white foam board. One "0" representing the past will be linked to the other "0" representing the future with the WMU insignia center with the flame.

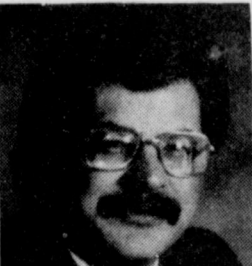

Mrs. Earle Denny will offer thanks for the past heritage and Dr. Derrell Monday will bring the challenge for the future. A narration skit will be presented by four women and during the afternoon emphasis will be given to Mission Friends and G.A. recognition.

DID YOU FORGET?

Due to an error on the staff of the newspaper, we did not have our ad and column in the paper. Each of us are human and make our share of mistakes. The day we quit making mistakes someone will take us and bury us in the cemetery. To err is human, to forgive divine. We want to be Christlike in all of our actions.

Our Savior knew we were a forgetful people so He taught observance of His Supper. In Matthew 26:26-28 "Take eat; this is my body...for this is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for forgiveness of sins. In 1 Cor. 11:24, 25, and 26 we do so "in remembrance of me for as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until He comes." The New Testament church did this upon the first day of the week for the purpose of breaking bread. (Acts 20:7). The churches of the New Testament were "continually devoting themselves to the apostles teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and prayer" (Acts 2:42).

Isn't it odd that people of today give upon the first day of the week (1 Cor. 16:1, 2) and yet forget to partake of the Lord's Supper? Why not come worship with us at the Church of Christ where we observe the Lord's Supper every Sunday and follow the pattern of the New Testament Church? We look forward to seeing you.

Welcome To The Church of Christ
