Justice of the Peace, Precinct 3, unexpired term - Bill G. Robinson (D), unopposed.

The three constitutional amendment proposals are:

1. "The constitutional amendment and/or clarification providing that federal reimbursement of state highway dedicated funds are themselves dedicated for the purpose of acquiring rights-of-way and constructing, maintaining, and policing public roadways."

2. "The constitutional amendment establishing an economic stabilization fund in the state treasury to be used to offset unforeseen short falls in revenue."

3. "The constitutional amendment to provide for the investment of the permanent university fund, the permanent school fund, and public employee retirement systems in the Texas growth fund created by the amendment, which will directly create, retain, and expand job opportunity and economic growth in Texas."

Half inch rain measured here

Though the rain varied in amounts over the area, Iowa Park received half an inch over the weekend, according to Virgil Woodfin.

And no one could have been happier than the farmers, who have their wheat sowed and were badly in need of moisture.

Some producers feel the rain was adequate to get the young wheat crop growing enough to allow grazing in the near future.

Centennial certificates available at Chamber

The Chamber of Commerce still has a large supply of Centennial certificates for those who either failed to pick their's up at the Whoop-T-Do, or did not attend, according to Susan Dillard, Chamber secretary.

The certificates are for residents who have lived in the Iowa Park school district 10 or more years.

There are four classifications of certificates: 10-24 years; 25-49 years; 50-74 years, and more than 75 years.

Trustees postpone meeting to Nov. 22

The Iowa Park school board will not meet the second Tuesday of this month, Supt. Glen Mitchell announced this week.

Instead, trustees will meet Nov. 22, a date that had previously been scheduled to hold a called meeting.

Police investigating burglary here Sunday

Though they have a suspect, police have made no arrests and are continuing their investigation into a Sunday morning burglary of an Iowa Park home.

Approximately $6,000 worth of possessions, including jewelry, a new VCR and a handbag were taken from the Carl Catlin home at 603 W. Clara, while the Catlins were at church.

Entry was through an unlocked garage and forcing the door into the house.

Police did recover a stolen motorcycle this week, however.

Officers investigated a citizen's tip of seeing juveniles riding a motorcycle in a field on the east edge of town Sunday, and recovered the vehicle that had been reported stolen from South Texowa Saturday.

After finding the motorcycle at 910 E. Cash, two male juveniles were referred to the county juvenile probation officer. The youths were about 12 years of age.

In an unrelated case of a stolen motorcycle, police arrested Eric David Gronquist, 27, on a warrant from the Denton Police Department.

That case stemmed from a stolen motorcycle found in the parking lot of Woodbriar Apartments about a week earlier. Gronquist was transported to county jail.

Another stolen vehicle was recovered Friday by police.

Checking on a suspicious-acting man in a van at Johnson Road and US 287, police learned the 1979 model Ford was reported as stolen from Albuquerque, N. Mex.

The van was confiscated and the driver, Rick Wayne Ransom, 29, was arrested and transported to county jail.

Greg Hardin told police someone took several cassette tapes from his vehicle Saturday, while it was parked at 1314 Westridge.

Another arrest noted on the past week's police blotter was that of Jay Allen Franks, 18. He was taken into custody Saturday at Yosemite and Jefferson on a Wichita County warrant, and transported to county jail.

Allsup's reported that someone left the store at 2:19 a.m. Tuesday without paying for $5.75 worth of gasoline.

Other than one car egging, loud noise and an attempted theft of a mannequin from a porch, police said Halloween was very quiet and uneventful.

Disgruntled residents to get their answers

Some Iowa Park property owners who are openly upset with an ordinance restricting improvements on their land should receive answers they've been seeking Monday night.

City Administrator James Barrington said he received confirmation Friday that at least one representative from the Federal Emergency Management Administration (FEMA) will be here that night.

The meeting is to begin at 7 p.m. in council chambers.

Residents, primarily in the northeast part of town, have been seeking relief from the city council several months from an ordinance that virtually prohibits them from making any improvements to their homes or other buildings on their property.

Before a building permit can be issued by city hall for any work, a study is required by an engineer to determine if that work will affect the flow of water onto neighboring property.

An engineer said such a study would be prohibitive in cost, and few if any engineers would agree to do such a study if asked.

The area has been designated by FEMA as a floodway.

The ordinance was written and offered to all governmental bodies in the county by FEMA, for adoption. Iowa Park passed the ordinance after it was first approved by county commissioner's court.

Failure to adopt the ordinance would, in effect, forfeit any assistance from the federal government in case of an emergency, such as a tornado, Mayor Tim Hunter explained to property owners at earlier meetings.

Without the ordinance, also, no property owner in the city would qualify for federal flood insurance.

Property owners have approached the council with such problems as: a garage is leaning and about to fall; no repairs on hail-damaged roofs; tax appraisals on some properties have increased, but owners say their property is virtually worthless because no one would want to buy land under the present conditions.

One owner asked that the city reimburse the owners for the property, if the city will not void the ordinance.

Several of the property owners attended the council meeting last week, after having been told a FEMA representative would be there.

However, that information had been given by someone other than from the FEMA office.

Upset over the failure to show up, Mayor Hunter assured the property owners he would launch a telephone campaign the following day to let state and federal elected officials know of the situation, and seek some assistance in getting a FEMA representative here.

"We (the council) are here taking the heat for something that's not our fault," Hunter told the group.

IOWA PARK'S SENIORS WILL PLAY FINAL GAME OF HIGH SCHOOL CAREERS FRIDAY ... 17 of 20 were available for picture; those in street clothes sidelined with injuries.

Hawks could be spoilers for Lion playoff hopes

Since the Hawks are out of the running for the district football title, for the first time since 1985, they have been cast in the role of spoiler in Friday's season finale here against Vernon.

Kickoff will be at 7:30 in Hawk Stadium.

Vernon, the heavy favorite to win the Dist. 5-AAA crown going into last week's contest with Decatur, is now fighting for its survival after losing 24-10 to the Eagles.

With the victory, Decatur holds the inside edge on the championship with a 3-0-1 conference record. Vernon is 3-1-0, and Graham is 2-1-1.

A win by the Hawks tomorrow, coupled with an expected victory by Decatur over Bowie and an also expected win by Graham over Bridgeport, would send Decatur and Graham into the state playoffs.

Scores of games between Iowa Park and Vernon are usually close, and even the lop-sided ones are interesting.

The two schools have been more evenly matched, over the past 20 seasons, than any opponent the Hawks play.

Going back to 1970, Iowa Park has won nine games, Vernon eight, and they've tied once.

Vernon pulled from behind last year in Lions' Stadium to win 16-14 before a packed homecoming crowd.

The Lions have been enjoying considerable success in Class AAAA, and have dropped down to AAA this year because of a decrease in enrollment.

They've won five games this season, lost two and tied two. One of the losses was to Oklahoma powerhouse Altus, and the two ties are against strong AAAA teams.

The Lion line is big, averaging 202 per starter, including tight end Patric Dillard, 6-4, 220. A bevy of fleet backs have been kept fresh with frequent exchanges of personnel during the games.

Eric Knight is a poised passer and also rated as a very good runner from his quarterback position.

While Coach Len Williams knows he will be without the help of Jimmy Nicholson, Ken Allen, Robert Johnson, Ronnie Berry, Steve Catlin, Frankie Chacon and Pete Armstrong, all with season-ending injuries, he really will not know until kickoff time who will be suited out for the game.

As late as Tuesday, the coaching staff was working on player moves to fill vacated positions.

Starting offensive tackle Armstrong was lost at Graham when he dislocated a shoulder.

Marc Cruz also dislocated his shoulder, but he reportedly will be back at his tailback position.

The moves are not unusual, however, because there are at least three other starters, like Tony Taylor, Mike Lubinski, Chuck Brown and Dan Fannin, who have missed two or more games during the season because of injuries.

Many of the new faces on the team are sophomores from the junior varsity. At one time last Friday, there were five sophomores on the field in green and white.

Coach Williams had to cancel the JV schedule recently, after calling up several players to fill in.

Building permits reported

Building permits issued by city hall during October amounted to $152,236, raising the year's total to $2,622,005.

The permits included: Buster Reaves, 516 W. Magnolia, repair, $1,500; Bill Bates, 216 N. Yosemite, repair, $500; Greg Potter, 103 E. Garden, repair, $600; Blaine Horton, 102 Westview, addition, $384; Eula Johnson, 701 E. Washington, repair, $800; Ray Sawyer, 401 W. Clara, repair, $564; Don Sidlauskas, 501 E. Ruby, repair, $500; Garland Gandy, 1305 Edgehill, repair, $600; Robert K. Cook, 609 W. Coleman, addition, $2,000; Mrs. J.E. Sewell, 1009 E. Ruby, repair, $1,331; Bob Knecht, 409 W. Lafayette, new,

Library's history recalled

Mrs. W.A. George gave a brief and interesting history of the Tom Burnett Memorial Library Thursday for the Evening Lioness Club in a meeting held at the library. She was introduced by Mrs. Allen Bennett.

Mrs. George paid tribute to the Evening Lions for realizing in 1961 the need of a public library and taking steps immediately to establish Wayne House, who was president of the club, with a committee of three other members began visiting libraries in neighboring towns to learn how a library could be established. They then sought the advice of Judge Calvin Ashley who presented the idea of establishing a Wichita County Free Library to the Commissioners Court.

In March 1962, the commissioners voted to establish the library in Iowa Park, and its first home was in the southwest corner of the Chamber of Commerce building. The formal opening of the library, with eight board members, was held April 14, 1962, and for the first five years operated with volunteer help.

Mrs. George continued by saying that in March 1967 the name of the library was changed, and in 1969 the Iowa Park City Council voted to accept jurisdiction of the library. The first full-time librarian was Mrs. George Bludnick.

The Friends of the Library was organized later, and the speaker said that it was largely through their dreams and continuous efforts that the Tom Burnett Memorial Library became a reality.

Continuing, she said that the library was moved from the Chamber of Commerce building in 1970 to the former Iowa Park High School home economics cottage, where it stayed until moving to its present permanent home.

Mrs. George told how the mansion that Tom Burnett built in 1924 came to be the site of the library. She said that his granddaughter, Mrs. Ann W. Phillips, presented it to the City of Iowa Park for a library in 1981, and with the presentation came a gift of $240,000 from the Tandy Foundation to help pay for the structural changes.

She held her audience enrapt as she described the "trials and tribulations" and the joys of those structural changes which began after enough money was raised. The Tom Burnett Memorial Library was opened to the public in Jan. 1986, and the formal dedication was held March 15, 1986.

Mrs. George paid tribute to many people who played important roles in establishing a library of first rate quality, importance and size in Iowa Park. Among those were Mrs. James Sewell, Miss Ethyle Kidwell and Friends of the Library.

Mrs. Gerry Thurlo used "Beginnings" for the theme of the devotion which included a poem "Creation," author unknown.

Mrs. Sam Hunter directed the business meeting following the program. Mmes. T.C. Berry, Herman Daymude and Don Decker were voted in as new members.

The next meeting will be the Christmas party Dec. 8 at the Lions building and members voted to bring gifts for First Step in lieu of gift exchange.

Mrs. Kenneth Via and Mrs. D.O. James were hostesses for the meeting. A Halloween theme was noted in refreshment table decorations.

Fletcher, McClure vows exchanged recently in double-ring ceremony

Miss Rita Gayle Fletcher and Hugh Edward McClure III exchanged wedding vows recently at Iowa Park Church of God. Rev. Robert Fletcher, father of the bride, officiated the double-ring ceremony.

Miss Fletcher is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Fletcher of Lubbock, formerly of Iowa Park, and McClure is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Hugh McClure Jr. of Wichita Falls.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant on her special day wearing a gown made of white miramist, enhanced with Venice lace, schiffli embroidery and pearls. Lace appliques and pearls covered the basque bodice, and the full skirt was strewn with schiffli embroidery and featured a lace hem extending into a cathedral-length train. A teardrop bridal cap trimmed with embroidered lace, simulated pearls and sprays of flowers featured a pouf of net extending into a fingertip-length veil and blusher to complete her attire.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white and peach roses and English ivy accented with falling strands of pearls and white and peach ribbons.

In keeping with bridal traditions, she wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the groom, for "something new," carried a necklace her paternal great-grandmother wore in her own wedding, and a handkerchief her maternal grandmother carried in her wedding for "something old;" wore diamond earrings belonging to her paternal grandmother for "something borrowed;" and the traditional "something blue" garter.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedos with tails, a white bow tie and cummerbund.

Miss Melissa Wilson of Iowa Park attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a peach satin dress overlaid in lace with a low V-cut in the back to a large bow, and carried a single white rose with peach streamers.

Matt Howell of Waco, best man, was attired in a gray tuxedo with tails, and a white bow tie and cummerbund.

Decorations in the altar area where the couple exchanged vows included green ivy with white water lilies and baskets of peach roses intertwined with ivy.

As the bride entered the foyer, before being escorted to the altar, the bridegroom sang a solo, "If," in her honor.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony.

Amidst baskets of white water lilies, the bride's table featured a three-tiered white cake highlighted with peach roses and rows of icing ruffles. Valerie Hedrick presided.

Miss Carol Fletcher directed signatures in the bride's book, which sat atop a table covered with satin and lace, and also held a bowl filled with clear marbles and white water lilies.

House party members were Shelly McQuerry, Rachel Gates and Lisa Fletcher, sister of the bride.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Gordon Bohannon and Carol Fletcher, all of Lubbock, Mrs. C.L. Hacker of Knox City, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bohannon of Guthrie, Mrs. Roxie Lawson, Mrs. Donald Givens and Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClure, all of Electra, and Marian Baird of Williamsburg, Va.

The bride is a senior at Iowa Park High School, and the bridegroom is a graduate of Friendswood, Tex., High School, and attended Alvin Community College in Alvin.

The couple have made their home in Iowa Park.

As I See It...

By BOB HAMILTON

At last! Tuesday, election day, is almost here.

It's not that I am particularly sleepless, waiting to cast my ballot. I just get tired of lengthy campaigns, like the presidential race, and all the stuff that goes along with it.

I also get tired of finding more than half my mail each morning contains "news releases" from candidates. I've got a box all that "stuff" goes in. I'm anxious to weigh it this year.

I've been asked by several which candidates will receive the Leader's endorsement this year. Well, the simple fact is, the paper doesn't attempt to endorse anyone.

Now in some big papers, and others influenced by those big papers, candidates are endorsed. But I don't feel I have the dictatorial power to do that here.

I'll not attempt to speak for the staff, because we're each individuals.

But, by golly, I've got some strong feelings about some of the candidates and issues. And I reserve the right to express my opinion in my own column!

The top of every voting ballot has a "Straight Party" place which can be marked. That means, you can vote once, and every candidate in that party on the ballot gets your vote.

But I don't like that. I judge the candidates for themselves, and not just the party under whose banner they run.

I must admit, however, that this year I will be voting mostly for the Republican candidates. Not because of party affiliations, but because I plainly don't like some candidates on the Democratic ticket.

Dukakis is one. The main one. I could use as many pages as we had in the Centennial Issue to list them all. But the fact that I don't like him will have to do here.

I resent the Texas legislature having given a candidate the right to run for more than one office at a time, also.

I didn't like it when they did it for Lyndon Johnson, and I feel just exactly the same way with Lloyd Bentsen this year. Talk about having your cake and eating it too.....

My vote will be on the line with Beau Boulter's name on it.

To tell you the truth, I'll probably not make up my mind until I mark my ballot on the US Representative race between Larry Milner and Bill Sarpalius. Milner never felt the need to visit here, and there are some bills Sarpalius voted for, like school reform and 9-1-1 emergency phone, that lacked some common sense.

In the Railroad Commissioner race, I don't like one incumbent, Jim Nugent, whom I consider a political hack, but I do, and always have, liked Kent Hance, who isn't running against Nugent.

One of the Supreme Court candidates is a joke: Lloyd Doggett. This ultra liberal was turned down for the U.S. Senate slot when he was running against Phil Gramm, and I look at him as another political hack who wants to stay on a government payroll.

And even though Jack Hightower has been a friend of mine more than 25 years, I can't vote for him as a Supreme Court Justice. A man who has for all these years been a state representative and senator, and then a U.S. representative can't have spent the time I would want of a candidate in a court room.

On a more local level, I hope you all remember what I wrote about former Electra school superintendent Bill Hudson, who is running for the state board of education. He's a good'un, even if he is a Democrat. His Republican opponent, Donald Ray Dorsett is a big wig in the Texas State Teachers Association, and we could do well not to elect union people to that body.

I'm going to vote for Democrat Steve Carriker for state senator, too. I didn't care for the campaign Bobby Albert of Wichita Falls carried on, and I'm not too sure he'd do very well in Austin, unless everyone in the legislature belongs to the Rotary Club.

Another race in which experience carries a lot of weight in making my decision is that of county sheriff. Tom Callahan hasn't hurt anything, but I don't think Ray Cannedy's background in private security service is what it takes in that position. Ray, you may remember, used to be a barber here in Iowa Park.

On the constitution amendments, I have no problem with the first two, but can't go along with the third. I'm well aware that there's a lot of money lying around in various funds, but I'm also aware that I don't trust the legislature to borrow it and then pay it back. If the legislators can pass bills without funding them, and pass on the costs to local levels, can they be trusted to borrow and pay back?

Oh, and as I've said before, if you don't want to study the issues and vote with knowledge and confidence, don't vote.

We got a criminal elected to the state supreme court with that kind of voting one time.

Letters to the Editor

Thanks people

Dear Mr. Hamilton,

There are many people in Iowa Park who deserve a big "thank you," for making this Halloween a fun and safe one for the children of Iowa Park.

The First Methodist Church provided a four hour party that entertained dozens of teens and preteens. The small fee that they charged could scarcely have covered their expenses for refreshments, decorations and door prizes. Those who attended seemed to really enjoy themselves.

The First Baptist and Faith Baptist churches went to a lot of trouble and expense to create "Halloween Funlands" that thrilled the younger children. The only obvious problem at these parties was one of parents trying to convince their children it was time to go home.

Special thanks is also due to Marsha Thomas, who gave up her only day off to open the Game Gallery for our teens. Marsha let them play all of her games as often as they wanted as her treat.

I know there are other individuals and churches that I am not even aware of that put out a great deal of effort. As a parent I would like to say "Thanks" to all who made this Halloween so much fun for our children. B. Bohannon

Says 'Thanks!'

Dear Editor Bob:

THANKS! . . . for a truly fascinating look at the history of the "Town of Friendly Living."

We have been looking forward to it eagerly ever since it was first announced, but the actual product has far exceeded expectations!

Through the kindness of my brother Bill, we keep up with Iowa Park through the weekly Leader.

You do a remarkably interesting job of keeping the "flavor" of the town I first knew as a youngster, and later as a young businessman.

I would very much like to read the work on the Fair history by Olive Blalock. I heard a good many of the early-day Fair details from Nellie Cowart Jones, former city clerk, and "Anna B." Van Horn, formerly the Chamber of Commerce and Fair secretary-manager.

Again, congratulations on a great job!
Ted Overbey

Wants papers

Please mail me 3 copies of your Centennial issue, 10-20-88.

My wife, Evelyn Lowrance, and I were married there in her parents home on June 5, 1944 while I was in service at Sheppard Field. We still keep up with Iowa Park and our relatives there, Mary Anna Birk, Bob Birk, Frances Park, Linton Gale Lowrance. The list gets smaller thru the years, tho.
Thanks,
Carl M. Leggett
Memphis, Tenn.

Appreciates issue

Bob,

Just a word to say how much I appreciate the work you did on the Centennial issue of The Leader.

I know it was a lot of work but it was an edition that all of Iowa Park can be proud.

Thanks for your continuing support of our school system. You help make it one we're all proud of.
Jerry Reed

Salutes staff

Bob....

A special salute to you and your staff! Your 100th Birthday issue was super fine. You guys did a great job. I know the people in your community appreciated the contribution it made to a very special event.

Again, congratulations on a great issue.
Sincerely,
Larry L. Crabtree

Cook of the Week

Mrs. Kevin Coffman and Haley

Being a "domestic engineer" is a tougher job than most realize.

Preferring the term "domestic engineer" to housewife, this week's featured cook, Sherry (Mrs. Kevin) Coffman, is just that.

She says keeping up a home, cooking, and taking care of her daughter is a 24-hour a day, seven-day-a-week job with few vacations. But Sherry says she prefers to stay at home with her daughter, Haley, two and a half, to reap the benefits of watching her grow up.

She and her husband of four and a half years, Kevin, are expecting another child in mid-February. Kevin works at National Linen, and is also self-employed as a custom hay hauler.

Sherry likes to try any type of craft "at least once," but especially enjoys woodwork, sewing and ceramics.

The couple are members of First Baptist Church where Sherry teaches Mission Friends and the children's choir, each involving four and five year old children.

Kevin is active in Wichita County Young Farmers, and is state vice president for the Area Four chapter. This, combined with the work she does at the church, keeps the couple on the go when each aren't at their respective jobs.

The former Sherry Barnett grew up and graduated high school in Chillicothe.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Terry Goin of Iowa Park, and Jane Blaine and Jere Jones, both of Paducah, Ken. Great-grandparents are Eula Rivers and Elmer Earl Goin, also of Paducah.

"Alternative Gift Fair" slated Saturday at Methodist Church

Some gifts offered will include handmade Christmas items, jewelry, folk art, baskets and leather goods from such countries as Kenya, India, Taiwan, Philippines and Haiti.

During the fair, the United Methodist Women will serve a chili and stew lunch.

The items sold this year will not have to be ordered as they were last year, but will be in stock in limited quantities.

Iowa Parkans will have the opportunity to enjoy a homemade lunch and shop for unusual Christmas gifts from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday at First United Methodist Church.

The church's second annual "Alternative Gift Fair" will offer gifts and crafts from third-world countries, bazaar items, a bake sale, and greeting cards from M.D. Anderson Children's Cancer Hospital and Interfaith Ministries in Wichita Falls.

Wreath making is Homemaker's Club program

The Park Area Extension Homemakers Club heard a program on Holiday Wreath making Wednesday morning during a meeting and luncheon at the home of Nancy Henderson.

Reba Snow gave the program, instructing members on how to make their own wreaths using pine branches, ribbon, craft wire or hot glue, bells and jointed teddy bears.

The business session was conducted by Stella Cheek, president, who brought a crocheted afghan and pillow to show. Members voted to have a workday to teach crocheting.

The opening exercise was entitled "Heaven's Grocery Store," and the thought for the day was "Thanksgiving Should Be a Daily Habit, Not a Seasonal Ritual."

Roll call was answered by eleven members who gave her most memorable Thanksgiving dinner.

The next meeting will be Nov. 16, with a lunch outing.

Graham waxes
Hawks 40-0

Graham's Steers jumped on Iowa Park's Hawks Friday night, and didn't get off until the final seconds of the game, to earn a 40-0 Dist. 5-AAA victory.

The story of Graham's dominance is indicated by the fact the hosts punted only once in the entire game, and the Hawks' deepest penetration was the Steer 35.

It was a costly game, besides the score. Two more green and white players were sidelined with injuries, to join a growing host of their team mates. Starting tackle Pete Armstrong and starting back Marc Cruz both left the game with shoulder injuries.

Friday was so much Gramahs, that the only Steer fumble the entire evening was covered for a touchdown. The hosts didn't even draw a yellow flag all night long.

Unlike any game this season, however, the Hawk defense did not give up a big play. Graham's longest gain of the evening was 29 yards. But the Steers controlled the ball throughout the evening, getting off 61 rushing plays and seven passing, and allowed the Hawks only 37 offensive plays.

Iowa Park managed only 14 offensive plays the first 24 minutes of the game. The Hawks' two first downs of the first half came immediately after Graham scored its 20th point, 5:17 before halftime. They were on runs by Mathew Blackman, 10 yards, and Glen Gordy, 19.

Blackman gained 46 of the Hawk's 62 rushing yards on 11 carries. Gary Tatum, who entered the game with a 4.1-yard average after 98 carries, was handed the ball only six times, and wound up with a minus six yards. He suffered a 15-yard loss on a play designed for him to pass the ball, accounting for the minus yardage.

Iowa Park got off three rushing plays and one punt the entire first quarter, and had four yards total offense.

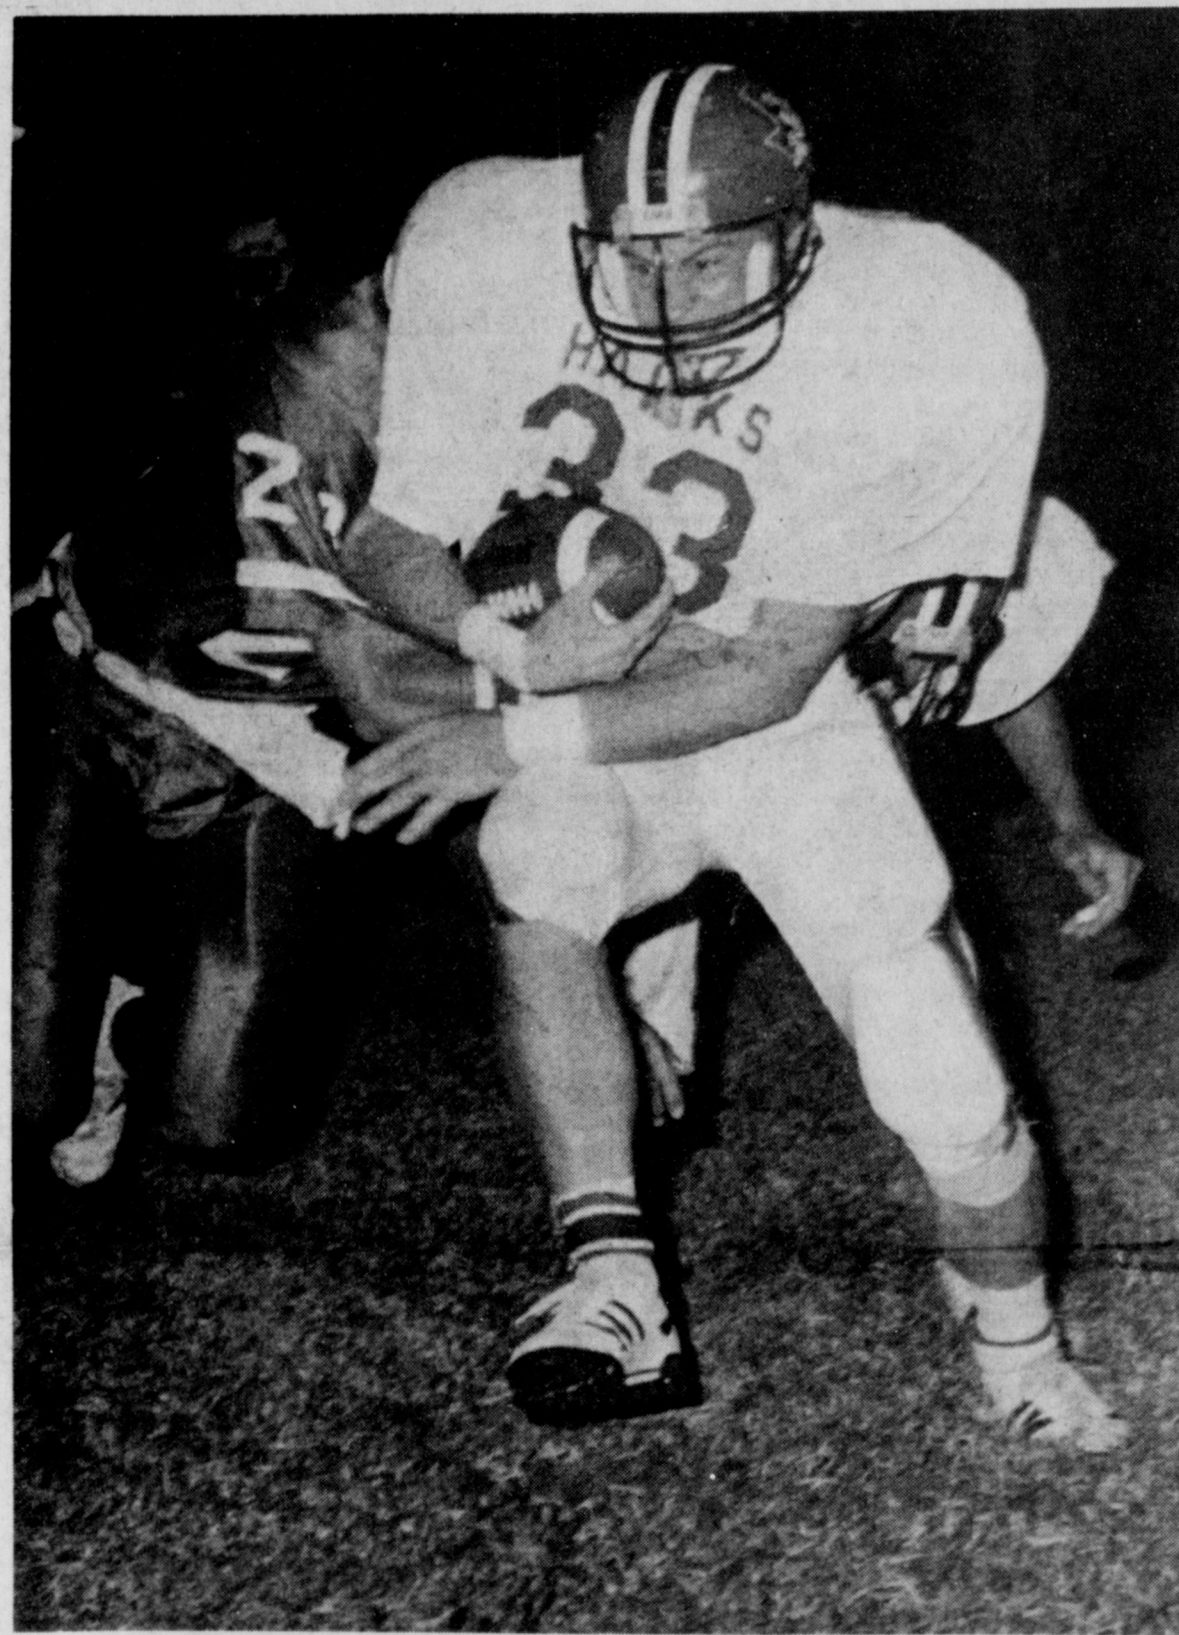

Quarterback Jimmy Duggins didn't complete any of his four pass attempts in the second quarter, but found four of his seven targets in the third period, gaining 25 yards. He connected on two of four in the fourth for 24 more, and then suffered an interception. That was the only turnover of the entire game for the Hawks.

Making catches in the second period were Brian Luney, for 12 yards, Bruce Palmer and Tatum, three yards each, and Michael Johnson, seven. Palmer caught a 16-yarder in the fourth, and Blackman caught the other for eight.

The Steers were caught behind the line of scrimmage only three times during the game, two running and once on a screen pass. Brian Smith and Gary Green caught a runner for a 13-yard loss in the first quarter, and Chuck Brown set back a Steer two yards. The screen pass loss, two yards, was smelled out by Tatum, who made the tackle.

Luney's punting average for the evening was only 16 yards, because all three kicks were partially blocked. Tatum punted the fourth time, a 33-yarder, from a quick kick formation.

Methodist Women discuss gift fair

The United Methodist Women held a business meeting Tuesday morning in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

During the business session, conducted by Laverne Owens, items to be sold in the "Alternative Gift Fair" this weekend were displayed and Rev. Mollet gave a brief history of some of the articles.

The fair, which will feature crafts from third world countries, Christmas greeting cards made by Interfaith Ministries in Wichita Falls and patients at M.D. Anderson Children's Cancer Hospital, and handmade items, will be held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday at the church.

In addition to the fair, a chili and stew lunch will be served by members, and a bake sale will be held.

It was announced that fellowship circle meetings will be held next week with Robbie Smith, Ruth Thompson, Jerry Waters and Evelyn Thompson as leaders; and that the pledge service was changed to be held Nov. 15.

Gerry Thurlo read a letter of thanks from the Wichita Falls State Hospital and reminded members that she would be taking cakes and other items to the facility on Nov. 15.

Kay Mashburn accepted the office of secretary and publicity chairperson for the coming year.

Kathryn Bricker gave the devotion for the meeting from the Upper Room publication.

Young Farmers have meeting

A program on gun safety was presented following a meal at the monthly meeting Tuesday of the Wichita County Young Farmers.

Plans were made for a Christmas party on Dec. 3.

The organization meets the first Tuesday of each month at the Iowa Park High School vocational agriculture building.

Iowa Park School Scene

Twenty-four seventh grade students at Iowa Park Junior High have been identified as eligible to participate in a Talent Identification Program (TIP), sponsored by Duke University.

Eligible students must score in the upper three percent on the Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills (CTBS) taken in the spring of their sixth grade year.

Top students include Trey Barnes, Matthew Bowden, Carissa Carroll, Tim Denton, Christina Duggins, Kacey Gray, Cathy Harris, Wendy Hollenbeck, David Hollis, Gina Inman and Ashley Kelly.

Also, Heather Krause, Ronda Morath, Brandon Onstead, Diana Orender, Brande Overman, Leanna Preston, Jason Priddy, Matt Scholl, Candi Shephard, Mindy Vanek, David Warren, Ronny Berry and Don Ellis.

The primary goals of TIP are the identification and development of this group of extremely able youths. Eligible students may take the Scholastic Aptitude Test or the ACT Assessment. These tests are normally administered only to high school juniors and seniors.

If the students score high on the advanced tests, they will receive special recognition in ceremonies in Austin. A Grand Recognition Ceremony will be held in May at Duke University.

Boys win district in crosscountry

Though Iowa Park High is out of the running for a district championship in football, the school now has a title in its trophy case.

The boys' crosscountry team won the Dist. 5-AAA meet held here Saturday, and will be competing in the regional meet at Lubbock Saturday.

The girls' team placed third. Only one other school, Decatur, fielded a boys' team. But there were four teams in the girls' division, and Iowa Park placed third in it.

Johathan Imboden was first in the boys' competition, which covers a three-mile course. His time was 17:46.

Kent Kyle was fifth, 19:11; Bunkie Imboden sixth, 19:16; Bruce Palmer ninth, 20:15; Chris Trivland 10th, 20:16; Paul Bata, 11th, 20:18; Cecil Gilmore, 13th, 20:27, and Greg Steger, 16th, 20:42.

The team, with the exception of Kyle who has a prior commitment, will compete at 11:20 a.m. Saturday at Lubbock. Qualifiers for the state meet will be the top three teams and best 10 individuals at region.

Bowie won the girls' division with 33 points, Decatur had 53, Iowa Park 59 and Bridgeport 65.

Brandi Cretsinger placed eighth over the two-mile course with a time of 15:34. Melody Gray was 10th, 15:39; Jodi Meisel, 11th, 15:44; Cortney Kirkpatrick, 17, 16:09; Dee Ann Warren, 20, 16:30, and Pam Imboden, 21, 16:45.

Bowie's Alice Weaver was the top individual with a 14:14 clocking.

Basketball season just around corner

It's almost "roundball" season in Iowa Park.

High school boys' and girls' teams began working out Oct. 17, which is the earliest permitted by the University Interscholastic League.

The Lady Hawks, under new head coach Jimmie Cain, will scrimmage Byers here next Thursday, but the girls' freshman and junior varsity teams will travel Monday to Electra for scrimmages.

The Hawks, again under Coach Earnie Reusch, will take the court Nov. 15 here against Henrietta. Three games, freshman, JV and varsity, will be played that evening.

Coach Cain will travel Nov. 15 to Henrietta for a triple header.

The Lady Hawks will compete in a special, three-game event Nov. 19 at Midwestern State Univ.

They are to take on Burkburnett, followed by a varsity boys' game between Burkburnett and Archer City.

Those attending the games will also have the opportunity to watch the new professional basketball team, the Wichita Falls Texans, take on Tulsa, all three games for the price of one ticket.

Both Iowa Park varsity teams are slated to play in tournaments at Graham, Dec. 1-3; Holliday, Dec. 8-10, and Archer City, Dec. 29-31.

The Lady Hawks will open Dist. 5-AAA play Jan. 6 here against Bowie, and the Hawks host Graham Jan. 13 in their conference opener.

The Lady Hawk freshmen will play in a tournament Dec. 8-10 at Vernon, and then with the junior varsity play in the District tournament Feb. 9-11 at Graham.

The Hawk JV will compete in a tournament Dec. 1-3 at Wichita Falls and the District tournament Feb. 16-18 here, along with the freshmen.

Association of Retarded Citizens taking Christmas evergreen orders

The Association of Retarded Citizens (ARC) are taking orders for a variety of fresh Christmas evergreens as a fund-raising effort.

The association is offering 20-inch Alpine Christmas Wreaths packaged with red ribbon, pine cones, wire ties and instructions; a seven-foot Western Cedar Garland made of firmly woven lacy cedar tips for indoor or outdoor use; and a Decorator Kit that include nobel and alpine fir, western cedar lacy, long needles pine and snow and ponderous pine cones, along with red ribbon, ties and a brochure with illustrated ideas.

The items range in price from $8-$12.

The non-profit organization will be taking orders by either mail or phone until Nov. 21, with the merchandise expected to arrive the first week in December.

Those ordering will be notified by mail or phone when orders arrive.

With approximately 4,000 persons in Wichita County with mental retardation, the ARC helps several individuals and families in the Iowa Park area, and cite three families seeking help in having their needs met for after-school care, in-home care and emergency care.

Three from the area attended the organization's summer camp program, and at least six have sought genetics screening and referral.

Four Iowa Parkans serve on the Special Olympics Volunteer Team, and another individual from here is active in "People First," an active group of individuals that are their own self-advocates.

The agency provides its services free of charge.

Those wishing to order may call 766-1592, or write 1501-D Kemp, Wichita Falls, 76309. Samples are also on display at their office on Kemp.

AREA OIL & GAS NEWS

Drilling operations are nearing the 6,000-ft. mark at the No. 1 Davis in a Hardeman County wildcat location. Spudded on October 4, the venture is in a lease four miles east-southeast of Quannah with Farrex Inc.

Students at Bradford participated in an attendance contest during October.

The class from each grade level with the highest percentage of attendance for the week received a prize, and each student with perfect attendance for the entire month was eligible to win a bicycle.

A drawing for bicycles was held in each grade level, and the winners were Andy Wright, third grade; Kurtis Hickey, fourth grade; and Kevin Pace, fifth grade.

All students with perfect attendance for the month were treated to a soft drink party Friday afternoon.

But now, Lloyd Doggett's back, this time running for the Texas Supreme Court. Again, his qualifications just don't add up. Good thing we have a qualified choice: one of Texas' most honored judges, Justice Paul Murphy. Experience? He serves on our 14th Court of Appeals with 7 1/2 years of judicial experience. He has authored over 700 judicial opinions. His colleagues have rated Paul Murphy one of the best justices in Texas. Integrity and experience for the Texas Supreme Court.

RAY CANNEDY FOR SHERIFF

Ray Cannedy is a lifetime resident of Wichita County, Texas. He is a self employed businessman, well aware of the needs and concerns of the responsible citizens of this county, because he experiences those same needs and concerns.

"I filed for the office of Wichita County Sheriff on December 31, 1987. My campaign officially began on June 19, 1988, a day that is very special to me because, not only was it Father's Day, that day also marked the 12th anniversary of my marriage to my wife, Mary Cohn Cannedy."

Why RAY CANNEDY will be Your next SHERIFF

"It is my strong belief that the Sheriff's office of Wichita County can become a crime deterrent and crime prevention agency that teaches strong family, friends, churches and schools as crime deterrent factors.

My years of experience in the field of Private Investigations, Private Security, transporting of valuables and persons under my protection and my years in the barber business dealing on a very personal level with my clients leads me to believe that I am in tune with my friends and neighbors' hopes and dreams. I understand our feelings concerning erosion of family, infiltration of drugs and the crime that results.

The only way to become crime deterrent and crime preventive is:

- A strong family leader
- Confronting drug use through knowledge
- Helping schools and churches
- Understanding where the law enforcement community can help you - not the criminal
- A Sheriff that will bring this program to you
- This is the only way to have Responsible Citizen Control of law enforcement - not law enforcement oppression of law abiding citizens.

WILL YOU SUPPORT ME BY:

1. Yard Signs? _____
2. Volunteer Work? _____
3. Contribution? $ _____
4. May I use your name as an endorsement? _____

Name as you wish it to appear on endorsement _____

Worth Quoting

Lloyd Bentsen has received generally high marks from the oil industry during his tenure in the U.S. Senate but since he became the Democratic vice presidential nominee he has shifted his stance, no doubt because he now has to follow the party line. Thus he spoke in Oklahoma City last week and laid the entire current energy slump on George Bush. He pointed out that Oklahoma had 755 active rigs in 1981 compared with 129 now. "That's what George Bush has done to energy states," said our Texas senator.

Lloyd Bensen knows better than this and it is ridiculous for anyone to suggest that the United States has an energy problem because of anything the current administration did or did not do. The crisis was caused by the OPEC cartel which is capable of controlling world markets and depressing domestic oil prices and there is nothing that anyone in the United States can do about it. It is interesting to note that Lloyd Bensen does not mention that the Democratic party spearheaded the efforts to enact the windfall profits tax as well as legislation that removed most of the drilling incentives. Bensen did not vote for these things which hurt the oil producing states but he is now the leading spokesman for the party which did.

Another Bensen shift came on his visit to Hale Center where he came out in favor of helping rural hospitals, even proposing a $100-million plan to bolster rural health care. While no doubt Lloyd Bensen is now a friend of rural hospitals and doctors, we in this community remember that when Dr. Claude Betty was unfairly sanctioned by Medicare, along with some other rural doctors, Senator Bensen sat on his hands while Rep. Beau Boulter took the ball and ran with it to correct the unfair situation. Of course, politics change things.

George Bush has no doubt made some political mistakes and naming Dan Quayle as his vice presidential nominee may be one of them. I am not enthused about young Dan Quayle and wish that Bush had named someone like Jack Kemp, but the die is cast and the campaign is on. While Dan Quayle lacks experience in political matters, he has never changed his conservative stance and did not have to do so in order to take the nomination. In this campaign, the choice is between a liberal Michael Dukakis and a conservative George Bush and the vice presidential candidates are cast in supporting roles.

When George Bush called attention to the fact that Michael Dukakis is a "card carrying member" of the American Civil Liberties Union and stated publicly that he was proud of it, critics jumped on Bush for reviving McCarthyism of the 1950s when lots of people were labeled as a communist whether or not they were. It is different with ACLU membership. There is nothing wrong with the ACLU as an organization because it is quite legal. A lot of people, including this newspaperman, object to just about everything the ACLU stands for and that's what Bush called attention to in the debate.

The ACLU is the outfit, staffed with lots of lawyers, which sues at the drop of a hat. The ACLU wants all laws banning the sale and distribution of pornography declared unconstitutional. The ACLU has filed a lawsuit challenging the tax exempt status of churches, namely the Catholic church. The ACLU is the outfit that successfully removed the Christmas Nativity Scene from public buildings and parks. The ACLU has challenged laws against prostitution, arguing that it should be legal. It argues that the words "under God" in the Pledge of Allegiance are unconstitutional, violating the principle of separation of church and state. There are many other stands that the ACLU takes and most Americans do not agree with them and cannot understand them. Apparently Michael Dukakis sees nothing wrong with the ACLU program.

The presidential campaign has evolved into a battle of personalities as much as anything else and it is obvious that all the speeches made by Dukakis and Bush will do nothing to change the minds of voters who long ago picked their candidate. How much effect these speeches and appearances will have on the voters who do not claim either party remains to be seen. In the final analysis it might be a lot of hot air wasted because based on past voting records, about half of the registered voters won't even bother to cast a ballot. Those who are not registered are out of the ball game and can safely be ignored by both candidates.

HAROLD HUDSON
Perryton Herald

For some reason or other, we keep getting nervous every time we think of the presidential election coming up in November.

We have never been a banner-waving fan of George Bush, even though we think he is a good man.

We remember his daddy, Senator Prescott Bush of Connecticut. We thought he was a good man, too, but we didn't like his liberal philosophy.

I'll have to admit that in recent years, George has become much more conservative than he used to be.

When I think about the prospect of Michael Dukakis being elected president of this country, it scares me to death. He's about as socialistic as they make 'em, in my opinion. He would almost make Teddy Kennedy look like a conservative.

Dukakis brags about being the son of a Greek immigrant, and says he plans to pass a law that will provide free health care for all workers in this country.

Now, that sounds pretty good. But, really, I don't think there is any such thing as free health care. I think somebody has to pay for it.

And I think we all know who that's going to be.

He also indicates that he will see to it that adequate low-priced housing will be built so that everybody in this country will be able to buy a house.

Do you want to build some low-priced houses?

I don't. If I build some houses, I want to make a little profit on them, so I can buy some high-priced groceries.

I probably shouldn't feel this way, but every time I hear some of the promises made by Mr. Dukakis, it reminds me of something I read in a history book years ago, where somebody said, "Beware of Greeks bearing gifts."

HARLAN BRIDWELL
Bridgeport Index

"I'm for the Democratic ticket, but I guarantee you I wouldn't be if Lloyd Bensen wasn't on there."

There are still some Southern conservatives saying that. But they sound to me a little bit like the good ole boy telling his buddy about the new car he has just bought:

"It doesn't run too good, the motor knocks, it gets rotten gas mileage, the seat hurts my back, I keep banging my head against the roof, it's ugly as sin, the color's wrong, and there's nobody within a hundred miles of here who can fix it when it breaks down."

"Well," asks his friend, "why'd you buy the danged thing then?"

"Because," explains the good ole boy, "it's got the greatest spare tire I ever saw."
